General Pieterus Jacobus Joubert, commandant of the Transvaal forces, was born about 68 years ago He was born in Cape Colony, but was taken by his parents when seven years of age to the Orange Free State. In consequence of the acquisition of Natal by the British, his family moved from Natal and settled in the Transvaal. Soon afterward he became a burgher of the South African republic and a daring fighter. He came to be so feared by the natives that the knowledge that he was at the head of an expedition, usually assured their surrender. It was during these wars with the natives that Joubert became acquainted with Kruger and the two men became bosom friends. He was elected vice-president of the Transvaal in 1896, defeated Sir George Calley at Majuba Hill in 1881, and acted as president of the republic in 1883-84, during Kruger's absence in Europe. Joubert was always in favor of using force instead of diplomacy and Kruger on several occasions had difficulty in repressing his hot headed colleague, notably in 1879, when Joubert, together with Kruger and Pretorius, was planning a rebellion to overthrow British rule in the Transvaal. The result was Majuba Hill and the practical independence of the Transvaal. It was Joubert who organized the army of the South African republic, later on dividing the country into seventeen military departments and each of these departments into small divisions with commandants, field cornets and lieutenants of various ranks in charge. According to the general's plans, every man became a trained soldier without leaving his farm and had his equipment ready at hand. To such a point of perfection was the system carried that within forty-eight hours after the present war was declared the Boer nation was under arms. It was also due to Joubert that the South African republics succeeded in amassing immense stores of war munitions and provisions, which stood them in such good stead during the conflict now in progress.

MACRUM TELLS HIS STORY.

Recounts Indignities Offered Him by British.

WASHINGTON, March 29.—Charles E. Macrum, American ex-consul to Pretoria, appeared before the house foreign affairs committee yesterday and told of the alleged indignities he suffered at the hands of the British during his incumbency. He explained that when he asked for leave of absence he desired to come home for private business reasons and also because he desired to place before the United States government certain facts which he deemed essential should be known here. He understood, he said, that the British had possession of our cable cipher. He was not certain of this, but he had since had information which convinced him that his suspicions were correct. He also desired information as to his course when a settlement came at the end of the war. Further, he had a petition from some American residents in the Transvaal asking that the United States maintain absolute neutrality, which he wanted to present to the state department. The petition he read to the committee. It was signed by Gordon, consular agent at Johannesburg. Pressed for specific information as to how he got intimation that the British were opening and delaying his mail, he replied that when the mail did not arrive he telegraphed our consul at Lorenzo Marquez, requesting him to inquire of Cape Town why it was being delayed. Consul at Lorenzo Marquez replied that he also had received no mail. Macrum said the delay of his mail created a conviction that the British authorities were responsible. The first actual evidence he had was the receipt of two opened letters. He produced the envelopes which he said contained these letters. Macrum also claimed the British authorities had possession of the state department cipher code and cited incidents which convinced him that such was the case.

RUSSIA'S WARLIKE PREPARATIONS

Ready to Enforce Demands Against Turkey.

LONDON, March 29.—The Standard gives prominence to the following special dispatch from Odessa:

There can be no longer any doubt as to the object of the warlike preparations now being completed in South Russia. Nearly 250,000 troops have already been mobilized for active service. The Black Sea squadron, with transports, is held in instant readiness. The tension in the relations between St. Petersburg and the sublime porte becomes every day more acute. The position is looked upon with the gravest apprehension. If the Ottoman government, supported by Germany, should prove stubbornly intractable with regard to Russia's concessionary demands in Asia Minor, serious complications must inevitably ensue. The Russian garrisons in the Caucasus and along the Armenian frontier have been increased fourfold and equipped for active service.

$18 PER WEEK.

A salary of $18 per week and expenses will be paid to man with one or two-horse rig to introduce our Poultry Compound and Lice Killer among Farmers. Address with stamp, Acme Mfg. Co., Des Moines, Iowa.

Infectious diseases are unknown in Greenland, on account of the dry, cold atmosphere.

You have heard of Swanson's 5 DROPS Rheumatic Cure, still you are suffering from Rheumatism and other diseases that this remedy so surely cures. Many of your friends have advised you to use it, and yet you hesitate before giving it a trial. Why delay any longer, and why waste any more money and time? You will certainly find what you have sought in vain for, and we are confident it will do for you what it has done for others similarly afflicted. If all knew what thousands know of the efficacy of 5 Drops as a curative as well as preventive of any ache or pain known to the human body, there would not be a family in all America without a bottle of Swanson's 5 DROPS Rheumatic Cure. You can try it for the small amount of 25c, on receipt of same will send you a sample bottle; or, send us a Dollar and we will send you a large bottle prepaid by express, containing 300 doses, 5 DROPS is the name and dose. Free from opiates in any form. Absolutely harmless, a child can use it as well as an adult. For further particulars write Swanson Rheumatic Cure Co., 160 Lake St., Chicago.

Seven counties in western New York received nearly $5,000,000 for their apple crop last year.

Send for Choice Recipes

by Walter Baker & Co., Ltd., Dorchester, Mass., mailed free. Mention this paper.

Eat small potatoes some if good and sell some of the large ones.

Almost Blind.

My little 4-year-old girl's eyes were so weak from birth that she could not stand any light at all. Was treated by several physicians without benefit. My neighbors induced me to buy Morley's Sarsaparilla and Iron from Mr. O. Daugherty, Banock, Ky. Three bottles not only restored her sight, but made her stronger and healthier than she ever was in her life.

DAVID KESSING.

Sold by agent in every town.

The happiest persons are those who have forgotten how to worry.

"Rates to North Dakota."

On March 20, 28, and April 4th the Iowa Central Railway will sell one way excursion tickets to points in North Dakota at very low rates. For information call on coupon ticket agents, or address Geo. S. Batty, G. P. & T. A., Iowa Central, Marshalltown, Iowa.

New York state has 9,321 officials on its regular pay rolls.

Piso's Cure for Consumption has been a family medicine with us since 1865.—J. R. Madison, 2409 42d Ave, Chicago, Ill.

Queen Victoria has had a handsome automobile regularly attached to her stables.

We refund 10c for every package of PUTNAM FADELESS DYE that fails to give satisfaction. Monroe Drug Co., Unionville, Mo.

When you pray for a revival, don't go to church with a long face.

Don't let the rubbish accumulate about the buildings. It looks slack. Pick it up and burn it.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.

Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

When a little man is lifted up everybody finds that he is little.

PERUNA PROTECTS OUR HOMES.

The Roberts Family, of Falls City, Neb., Are Healthy and Happy—A Rare Sight in These Days. They Say, "We Think Peruna Is The Greatest Medicine On Earth."

No man is better known in the State of Nebraska than Mr. Carl T. Roberts, contractor and mason. A typical American—active, shrewd and full of business sagacity. He is not only a provider for his family, but a protector. In a recent letter to Dr. Hartman he writes among other things, as follows:

"Our boy, James, had the membranous croup and repeated attacks of lung fever. Our boy, Charlie, was also subject to attacks of pneumonia and pleurisy. Our third boy, John, was subject to fever and ague (malarial) and liver trouble. Your remedy, Peruna, cured my boys entirely, and now I have three of the healthiest boys in the State of Nebraska, which I attribute to your medicine. My wife had a stomach trouble which Peruna also cured. Altogether for my whole family we have used nineteen bottles of Peruna, and have thus saved $500 in doctors' bills. I am a contractor and mason by trade, and am known all over Nebraska. I have had a stomach trouble, which has been greatly relieved by your remedy, Peruna, for which I am still taking it. We think it is the greatest medicine on earth."—C. T. Roberts, Falls City, Nebraska.

Hon. William Youngblood, Auditor for the Interior, writes from Washington, D. C., to Dr. Hartman, Columbus, Ohio, as follows: "I've often heard of your great medicine and have persuaded my wife, who has been much of a sufferer from catarrh, to try Peruna, and after using one bottle she has wonderfully improved. It has proved all you have claimed for it, and I take pleasure in recommending it to anyone who is afflicted with catarrh." Peruna has become, in a multitude of households, absolutely indispensable.

Hon. William Youngblood.

Mr. T. G. Walker, Carneiro, Kansas, writes: "It is with pleasure that I report that I am better than I have been for many years. I believe Peruna is without a doubt the best medicine that ever was used in a family. It has cured my nervousness, with which I had been afflicted for a great number of years."

It is a fact of ever-increasing astonishment that so many otherwise sensible and provident people will, for the neglect of so simple a precaution as to have a bottle of Peruna at hand, bring upon themselves the needless suffering and foolish expense that a practitioner of medicine is forced to witness every day.

As soon as the value of Peruna is fully appreciated by every household, both as a preventive and cure of these affections, tens of thousands of lives will be saved, and hundreds of thousands of chronic, lingering cases of disease prevented. Peruna is the household safeguard.

A complete work on chronic catarrh sent free to any address by The Peruna Medicine Company, Columbus, Ohio.

First impressions usually determine. Strive to make yours a good one.

Do Your Feet Ache and Burn?

Shake into your shoes Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It makes tight or New Shoes feel Easy. Cures Corns, Bunions, Swollen, Hot and Sweating Feet. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

Are you ready to jump into spring work when nature says jump?

Lane's Family Medicine.

Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

Sometimes a baby squirms so it is difficult for a man to hold his own.

A schoolmaster who had been telling of the doings of Caesar ended up with, "And all this happened about 1,500 years ago." A little boy, his blue eyes wide open with wonder, said, after a moment's thought, "Oh, what a memory you've got!"

$20 WEEK SURE We pay $20 week for men with rig to introduce our Poultry remedy in country. EXCELSIOR MFG. CO. Dept. "W". Parsons, Kas.

ARTICHOKES! Mammoth White French. A SURE PREVENTIVE of HOG CHOLERA. Enormous yielder, and the greatest root fattener for hogs, sheep, colts and cattle known. Write for circular telling all about them. This will not appear again. W. F. MANLEY, Richmond, Ind.

PENSIONS Get your Pension DOUBLE QUICK Write CAPT. O'FARRELL, Pension Agent, 1425 New York Avenue. WASHINGTON, D. C.

DROPSY. NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Book of testimonials and 10 DAYS' treatment FREE. DR. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Box E, Atlanta, Ga.

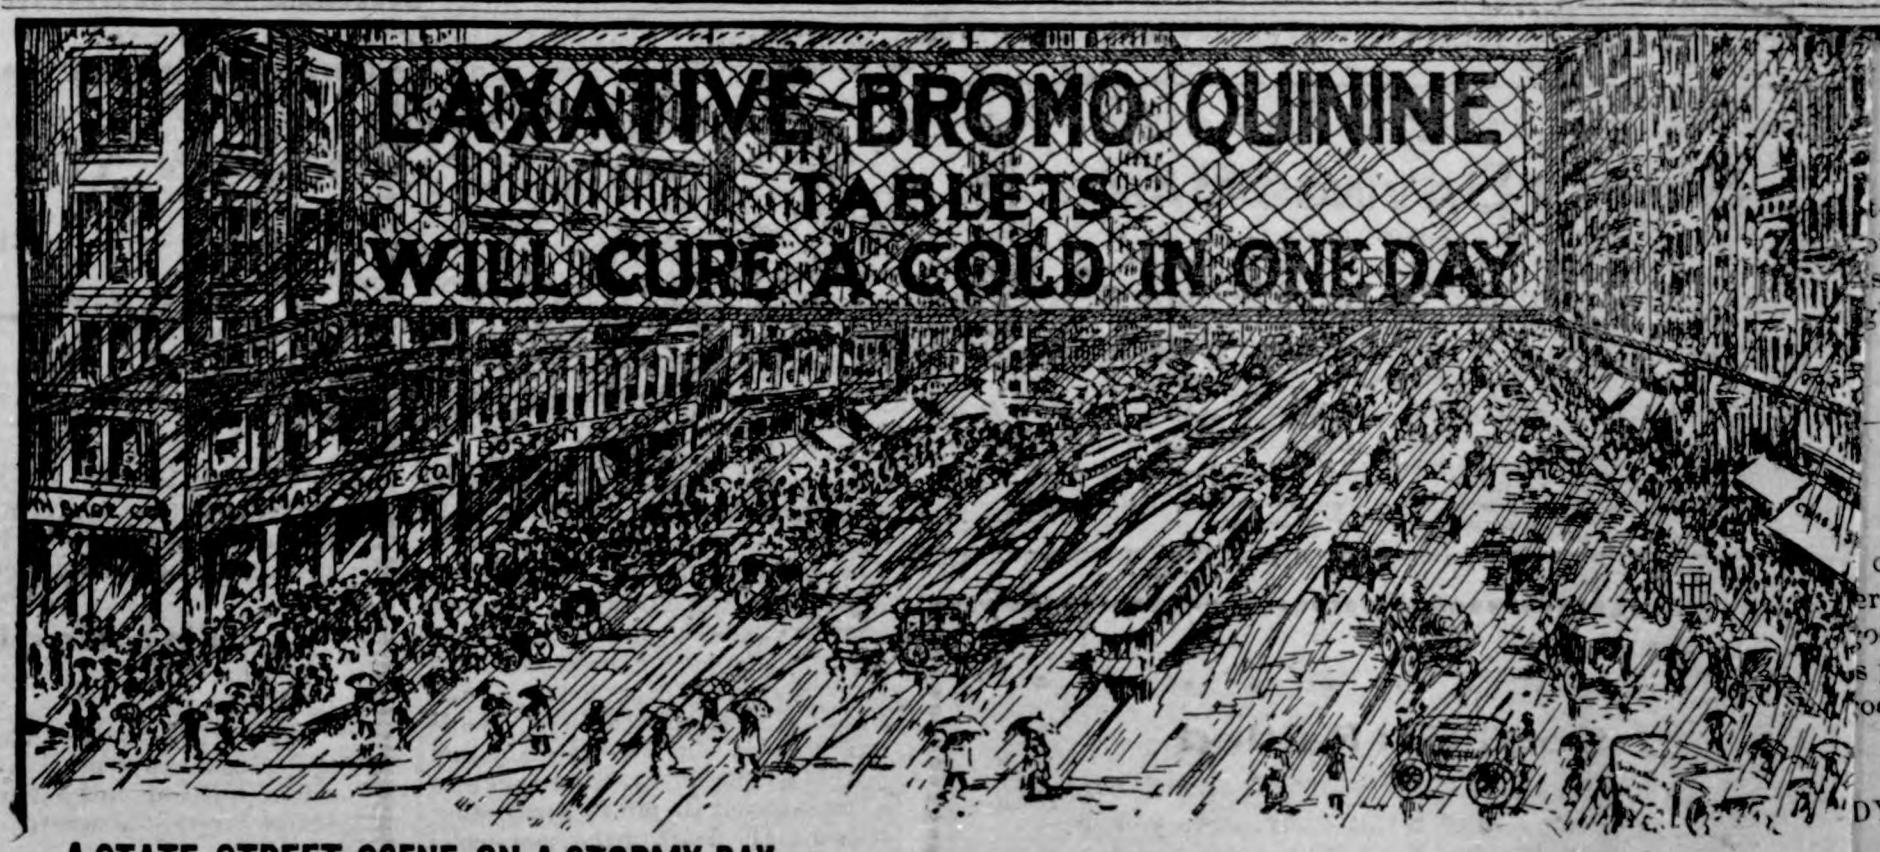
FOR 14 CENTS

We wish to gain this year 200,000 new customers, and hence offer

1 Pkg.	City Garden Beet,	10c
1 Pkg	Earliest Emerald Cucumber	15c
1 "	La Crosse Market Lettuce,	15c
1 "	Strawberry Melon,	15c
1 "	13 Day Radish,	10c
1 "	Early Ripe Cabbage,	10c
1 "	Early Dinner Onion,	10c
8 "	Brilliant Flower Seeds,	15c

Worth $1.00, for 14 cents. $1.00

Above 10 Pkgs. worth $1.00, we will mail you free, together with our great Catalog, telling all about SALZER'S MILLION DOLLAR POTATO upon receipt of this notice & 14c. stamps. We invite your trade, and know when you once try Salzer's seeds you will never do without. $200 Prizes on Salzer's 1900—rarest earliest Tomato Giant on earth, yes— JOHN A. SALZER SEED CO., LA CROSSE, WIS.



A STATE STREET SCENE ON A STORMY DAY.

NOTE—Laxative Bromo-Quinine which is advertised on the large banner over State Street, Chicago, as represented above, is the only exclusive cold prescription sold by every druggist in the United States, Canada and in England. This is the signature E. W. Grove of the inventor and plainly appears on every box of the genuine article. It is sold for 25c a box, and all druggists refund the money if it fails to cure.

See The Yankee

BICYCLES

The Best and Cheapest wheel on the market.

REPAIR YOUR WHEEL

Our Expert Tinner is able to put your old wheel in good repair quickly and cheaply.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

THE BEST GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS,

That can be purchased for money, you will find at my store. Bought in small quantities—We keep them coming every day—and they are always fresh.....

SHORT ORDER LUNCHES SERVED

YOURS FOR BUSINESS.

G. W. KLUCKHOHN, KLEMME IOWA.

WALL PAPER.

The largest stock and the very latest in Red, Green and Bronze colors.

PAINT.

We handle the Lion Brand. 1 gallon covers 300 square feet, two coats and it is guaranteed for five years. If it peals or cracks and comes off your building will be re-painted free of charge.

White Lead, Oils and Colors always kept in stock.

SHAFER & DOW.

General Merchandise Dealers,

KLEMME, IOWA.

...ES. C. H. WIEGMANN, V. P. F. A. ARNOLD, CASH.

...TE SAVINGS BANK,

OF KLEMME, IOWA.

... $25 000 00, LOANS $40 000 00,

...TEN, LOANS NEGOTIATED, EXCHANGE BOUGHT AND SOLD.

...st Paid on Time Deposits: Money ... on Real Estate: Foreign and Do... Exchange Sold.....

...FRED ARNOLD, C. H. WIEGMANN, H. W. GRUETZMACHER, ...CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, F. A. ARNOLD.

Don't Get Rattled

... Watch or Clock is out of order, but ... to me and I will guarantee you a ...b. Repairing of all kinds a specialty

...s. F. H. Suckow,

WATCHMAKER AND JEWELER.

THE KLEMME TIMES

By G. L. WELLEMEYER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme, Iowa, as second class matter

MAGIC TOWNS.

To one whose life has been spent in an old and thickly settled community, the sights and scenes attendant upon the opening up of a new country possess every element of novelty. Towns spring up in open fields or on unfenced prairie seemingly in a single night; elevators, lumber yards, farm machinery warehouses, stores of all descriptions, restaurants, banks, livery stables and residences appear as if by magic, and the traveler, returning after a short absence, can scarcely credit his own eye-sight.

Such has been the history of the new towns located along the Worthington-Wilmont-Hardwick extension of the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern, "Cedar Rapids Route" which line was projected and surveyed last summer and partially completed and equipped with train service the 16 of December. Two rapidly growing towns, Reading and Wilmot, are now located on this line and with the completion of the road to Hardwick, two more new towns will be built. The road penetrates the heart of Southern Minnesota's richest wheat belt in Nobles and Rock counties, the farming community through which it runs are exceedingly prosperous and the new towns which have come into being the past three months are assured from the very start of an excellent trade with a wealthy and well established farming community.

It seems almost incredible that these towns, started as they were in the dead of winter, should enjoy the growth which has been theirs. Within three months and with the frost not yet out of the ground, they have acquired all the essentials of prosperous business communities and have as well made provision for church, Sunday School and school work. The opening up of these new towns and of this new line of road, presents to the ambitious man many opportunities for advancement that are not to be found in the older communities. Hustling business men, talented professional men and experienced farmers are wanted in that section and will find it to their advantage to locate there. The opportunities are legion and force themselves on one at every side. There is no question but that this extension of the B., C. R. & N. will prove one of the most popular and profitable that the road has ever built, and Assistant General Passenger and Ticket Agent John G. Farmer is daily in receipt of letters of inquiry from those contemplating locating or investing in this territory.

News Of The World.

The 'St Paul Dispatch' Enterprise Gives It To Northwestern Readers.

If anything had been lacking to make a perfect metropolitan newspaper of the St Paul Dispatch, the want was entirely filled when it completed arrangements for the special foreign cable service which is now brightening its columns. It is really astonishing how the recent war with Spain has developed the American thirst for the news of the world. It placed America in a new position with regard to the rest of the earth and gave new importance to the events of the world at large. If the movements of foreign powers were once in interest, they became doubly so when America rose into place as a world power. The St Paul Dispatch recognized this when it secured this cable service, with its news from first hands. No longer is London the sole source of all European news, and no longer is the news of the world filtered through British channels and tinted with English ideas. It comes to the Dissatch straight from each European center and without bias or prejudice. This will be gratifying to all intelligent people of the Northwest, particularly so to that large foreign-born element which delights in information direct from the fatherland. The Dispatch has secured a resident correspondent in every large city on earth, who uses both cable and mail in sending in every news event of interest and all public gossip that is dear to the heart of the newspaper reader. In the past six years the Dispatch has made great strides to the front and is today recognized as the greatest evening newspaper of the Northwest.

The subscription price being so small it puts a daily paper in reach of everybody. Send 25c for one months trial subscription to St Paul Daily Dispatch, St Paul, Minn.

KOERNER BROS.....

CARRY A FULL LINE OF

Builders Hardware,

Tools, Hay Carriers and Tracks,
A fine line of Paints and Oils,
"Record" Bicycles.

GROCERIES, CHINAWARE, GLASSWARE

Every purchase you make of us invites you to another because of Fairness of Dealing, the quality of the Article, and the Lowness of prices.

A dollar saved

IS A DOLLAR EARNED.

When you want to save money and at the same time get the best bargains on

FARM MACHINERY

Wagons and Buggies

It will pay you to come and consult us. We handle a complete line and will sell them at

RIGHT PRICES.

RIDDER BROS.

CARY SAFE CO.

BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.

..Manufacturers..

FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES

VAULTS, LOCKS, ETC.

CONTRACTORS to UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

Buy Your

Drugs, Paints, Wall Paper, Toilet Soap, Perfumery Books and Patent Medicines

At Amsden's Pharmacy

GARNER, IOWA.

WHEN YOU BUY A WAGON

BUY THE

SMITH WAGON

THEY ARE THE BEST.

I have handled the Smith wagon for the past four years and have heard not one word of complaint. We also handle a full line of Farm Machinery, Pumps, Windmills and the best pulverizer in the market—the

The Rock Island Disc.
(37 sold last year.)

We sell the only Fanning mill made that will separate and clean grain perfectly. You may find other Owen mills, but our mill is the leader. If you give me your trade you get a square deal.

H. W. SCHOPER,

KLEMME, IOWA.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hogs wanted six days in the week. W. R. Bloom.

Chas. Warner, of Goodell was in town Tuesday.

Little Hazel Pietzke is very sick with measles.

Fresh garden seeds 8 packages for 25c at Harr's.

Ed Remer et al went hunting the other day—they got back.

Mrs. Kaste, of Charles City, is visiting friends in Klemme.

Lige Mulkins was up from Goodell on business Tuesday.

George Lein was visiting with friends in Klemme over Sunday.

Louis Weline was over to Corwith on business a few days last week.

Rob't Brisco, Goodells popular hotel man was in Klemme last Tuesday.

Henry Mauss will build an addition to his home in the near future.

Miss Lulu Merrick visited a few days this week with friends at Britt.

Miss May Best of Germania, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Charles Bracher.

Joe Fotheringham was in Klemme Friday and Saturday of last week.

Phil Ell and Fred Schwartz went to Garner Wednesday on business.

Tom Elder, of Goodell, was in Klemme on business several days last week.

Buy your wall paper and paint at Harr's. Better and cheaper than ever. Reliable.

Clare Dow was down from Garner Tuesday for a short visit with E. P. Dow and family.

Mr. ond Mrs. A. C. Flint and daughter were the guests of the editors' family over Sunday.

H. W. Schoper put up a fine geared windmill for Ernest Henschen Monday and Tuesday of this week.

Dr, Harvey has closed his pool hall and the town will use the building for a city hall. Quite a change for the better.

Frank Hanson was over from Kanawha last Thursday, and took in the school entertainment.

S. J Carlson returned yesterday from a trip to Des Moines, Pilot Mound. Marshaltown and Waterloo.

Otto Pringnitz, one of the industrious farmers from near Goodell was a pleasant caller at this offiice Tuesday.

Miss Sylvia Sage, who has been a guest at the editor's home for several weeks, returned to her home at Garner Saturday.

The last of this week you can see all the pretty hats you wish if pou visit the millinery parlors Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The new councilmen were duly sworn in Monday night and are ready to take the usual am't of back talk and 'sass' from disgruntled citizens.

Fred Greiman, one of the prosperous farmers near Garner, was purchasing farm machinery in Klemme last week, of our popular dealer, H. W. Schoper.

Gruetzmacher Bros. call your attention to their "Yankee" bicycles in their advertisement this week. Before you buy a wheel call and see them.

Aug. Lau was at Sioux Falls this week looking after his real estate interests near that place. If he finds anything to suit him he may buy another quarter section. Mr. Lau has faith in South Dakota.

Henry Straw advertised that he had some fine Buff Plymouth Rock cockerels for sale, and in a few weeks closed out nearly 30 fine birds at fancy prices. This week he has an ad and has eggs of the same fancy strain for sale.

Harry Plott, who has been working with Frank Reese, agt. B., C. R. & N. of this place, left Wednesday for Emmetsburg where he will act as second-man in the B., C. R. & N. office.

S. J. Carlson sold a car-load of steers last week. When Mr. Carlson does not make farming pay, and pay big—he just goes out and sells a few sewing machines. But his farming is the kind that always pays.

Frank Gruetzmacher, the popular shoe man, forges to the front this week with a new adv., and calls your attention to a few reasons why you should buy your shoes of him. Read and learn wisdom.

Miss E. Renziehausen will open a millinery store in the Hulsebus building at Meservey. If Meservey people want the best, Miss Renziehausen can furnish them as good as they will get anywhere for the money.

Work begins today on the remodeling of Tom Blank's house. Contractor Larson has the job and will rush it to completion as rapidly as possible. The house will be raised and converted into a two story structure, and other improvements added.

From further information in regard to the diseased meat deal at Goodell, it begins to look very serious for Mr. Steack. We hope he may prove himself clear of the charge, out of regard for the unfortunate people who purchased the meat.

Chas. G. Bracher is a few inches taller and he smiles just a little broader, all on account of a bright-eyed little baby girl that came to his home for an extended visit, Sunday morning. Chas. will recover. Mrs. Bracher and the babe are doing finely.

Lieut. John Ell, of Lincoln, Neb., is here visiting old friends. He is an old time resident of this county. He was with a Nebraska regiment in the Philippines; and prior to that, fourteen years in the regular army. It has been about 10 years since he visited relatives here.

Chas. F. H. Suckow, jeweler, has just received an elegant line of samples of the celebrated Rogers' Bros. (1847) silverware, including all the newest things. He will make a house to house canvass to advertise these goods and take your order if want the goods. The name on the goods is a guarantee of their quality.

The Goodell peeple draw the line at diseased meat. Butcher Stauck will be tried tomorrow for killing and attempting to dispose of meat from an animal claimed to be diseased, so we are informed. If the charge is true the full penalty of the law should be meted out to him.

F. L. Gillilan, the Knight of the Grip, who travels for the Miamisburg Twine & Cordage Co., was in Klemme Tuesday on business. Twine is a little higher than ever and there is an inclination for a further advance. Farmers who have not purchased their twine for this year, han better inquire into the matter.

The following clipping from an exchange may be of interest to some: "Heavy penalties have been assessed against a number of persons for purchasing notes without having licenses as brokers. Under section two of the revenue law no person has a right to buy notes without first having paid to the government a license of $50. One may loan his own money, but when he buys a note he becomes a broker under the law."

A little amusement was created at the special meeting of the council, Monday. The equalization of taxes was the business in hand. The assessed valuation of a certain piece of property comprising a block and a half was $600. The owner claimed it was much too high, and offered take $100 for the tract. Dr. Spooner happened to be present and promptly told the gentleman that he might consider the deal closed, and so it stands. The property is worth more than was paid for it, but think the assessvaluation was a little high.

Seed Grain!

I have a few hundred bushels of seed wheat, seed barley, seed flax and timothy seed. W. R. Bloom. tf.

Will Lawrence has sold wall paper to many of the best people in this vicinity, and will save you money if you buy of him. If you have not already purchased, see him for samples and prices. He will paint your house. 1w

Agents on salary of $15.00 per week and expenses; the greatest agent seller ever produced; every stock and poultry raiser buys it on sight. Hustlers wanted. Refference. Address, with stamp, American Mfg. Co. Terre Haute, Ind.

We printed last week a large poster for the Germantown Draft Horse Company, setting forth the good qualities of Mayfield Chief, the imported Clydesdale stallion, which they purchased this spring of Brown & Co. Farmers who desire to better their class of horses, would do well to see this horse.

Aug. Lau & Son have their new gasoline engine placed in their elevator, and started it for the first time yesterday. It is a Waterloo engine, 5 horse power, and works to perfection. Henry says it beats blind horses all around. Fred Ridder engineered the work by putting it in.

Prof. Blackmore lectured in Klemme, two evenings this week on art and tried to establish a school, but could not get more than 4 or 5 pupils. His work is good and seemed to give satisfaction to nearly everybody. He has a large class at Garner, and returned there yesterday to complete his work at that place.

Our implement dealers are having a good trade, and in fact there is a general good feeling among our business men over the volume of business being transacted in Klemme this spring. Every day for weeks, there has been many teams hitched on our streets, many coming long distances to trade here. Fair dealing, and enterprising merchants does the business.

J. I. Carson, Prothonotary, Washington, Pa., says: "I have found Kodol Dyspepsia Cure an excellent remedy in case of stomach trouble, and have derived great benefit from its use." It digests what you eat and cannot fail to cure. J. L. Harr.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN ONE NIGHT.

Or to quickly cure La Grippe take "Week-Break-a-cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

TO CURE A COLD WHILE YOU SLEEP.

Take "Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

ELL CENTER.

Mud, muddier, muddiest.

Miss Nellie Belt is visiting her sister, Mrs. Canon, in Dumont, this week.

George Pomplun visited his brother Clarence over Sunday, returning home Monday afternoon.

James Brozik sold a valuable horse to a person living near Duncan, whose name we were unable to learn.

Ernest Braund and sister Myrtle were in Ellington twp., last Saturday and Sunday, visiting friends and relatives.

Mrs. J. W. Allen attended the meeting of the Womens' Relief Corps, at Garner last Saturday, of which she is the president.

Charley Lewis and three of his companions were around here last week hunting ducks. We did not learn what success they had.

The clerk of the weather department must have been experimenting last week as the heaviest snow of the season fell, making out-deor life anything but pleasant.

Great opportunity offered to good, reliable men. Salary of $15 per week and expenses for man with rig to introduce our Poultry Mixture and Insect Destroyer in the country. Send stamp, American Mfg. Co., Terre Haute Ind.

GRAND Easter Opening

OF ARTISTIC MILLINERY,

Thursday, Friday, Saturday,

APRIL 5. APRIL 6. APRIL 7.

ALL THE LATEST DESIGNS IN

TRIMMED HATS

Miss Renziehausen's millinery store is creating a sensation among the ladies. The material used for fashioning the Spring headgear are extremely beautiful, and the variety is almost endless. Every conceivable color is represented, including the new pastel shades, which promises to be very popular. She believes in furnishing her patrons with up-to-date city styles—a practice which is all the more commendable from the fact that the prices are very low. The line of ready-to-wear hats is a large one, and the different styles shown very nobby and fetching in appearance. To have one of Miss Renziehausen's hats is to be well dressed, and above all the ladies can rely on getting the latest and most correct style.

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

LEADING MILLINER.

'Cresco.'

Since we advertised the introduction of the lustly popular 'Cresco' Corset, we have been most agreeably surprised at the result. Scores of our customers have availed themselves of the opportunity offered them to examine and have explained to them the peculiar merits of the only corset made that cannot break at the waist line.

When next you buy a corset, try a "Cresco". You'll thank us for the advice. Shafer & Dow, Klemme.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

STATE OF IOWA, Hancock County, } ss.

NOTICE is hereby given that on the 28th day of April, A. D. 1900, at 1 o'clock p. m., at the Court House in Concord and County aforesaid, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, the following described real estate, levied upon and taken by virtue of a Special execution, issued from the office of the Clerk of the District Court, within and for the county of Hancock, and State of Iowa, in favor of B. A. PUMMER, Plaintiff, and against the property of JOHN ROLLAND STEELE, et al., Defendant, for the sum of $681.65 and costs taxed at $66.68 and accruing costs, to-wit: Lots seven (7) and eight (8) in block twenty three (23) in the town of Garner, State of Iowa, the buildings thereon except one certain machine shed, or, warehouse erected, out of the materials furnished by J. H. Queal and Company to satisfy said writ of execution and accruing costs.

Dated 28th March 1900.

H. GARTIN,
Sheriff of Hancock County.

CAUCUS.

The Repvblicans of Ell Township will meet at the council room in Saturday, April 14, to select 5 delegates to attend the county convention to be held at Britt April 18, 1900.

CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, Com.

Buff Plymouth Rocks.

Cockerels all sold. I have two pens from the best stock in the country. First pen stores 93½, eggs $2.50 per 15. Second pen, as even in color, all fine birds, eggs $1.25 per 15. Book your orders now for future delivery.

HENRY STRAW, Jeweler.
tf. Garner, Iowa.

AIELT RIEKENS,

PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER. GERMAN OR ENGLISH.

Will cry Sales and guarantee satisfaction
Fine Stock Sales a specialty.
Call on or address at

PAULSVILLE, IOWA

The Place to Buy

SHOES

IS AT FRANK GRUETZMACHER'S SHOE STORE.

There are many reasons for this

FIRST.

Because we have the largest stock to select from in town and can fit anything from an infant to a giant.

SECOND.

Because our styles are the latest—you can find any style of toe or shape, in ladies, childrens' or for men—Black or tan, high or low.

THIRD.

We guarantee no dealer can sell cheaper, quality considered. Come in and look at our goods and buy if you wish, it costs you nothing to examine our goods.

FINE HOSIERY FOR EVERYBODY.

FRANK GRUETZMACHER

The Klemme Times.

G. L. WELLEMEYER, Pub.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

CAUGHT IN A TRAP.

Colonel Broadwood and Army Captured by Boers.

BUSHMAN'S KOP, April 2.—The British force commanded by Col. Broadwood, consisting of the Tenth Hussars, Household cavalry, two horse batteries and a force of mounted infantry under Col. Pilcher, which had been garrisoning Thaba N'Chu, was obliged, in consequence of the near approach of a large force of Boers, to leave. Col. Broadwood marched to the Bloemfontein water works, south of the Modder, where he camped at 4 o'clock Saturday morning. At early dawn the camp was shelled by the enemy from a near point. Col. Broadwood sent off a convoy with the batteries, while the rest of the force remained to act as a rear guard. The convoy arrived at a deep spruit where the Boers were concealed, and the entire body walked into ambush and was captured, together with six guns. The loss of life was not great, since most of the British had walked into the trap before a shot was fired.

WAY CLEAR TO BRANDTFORD.

British Dispatches Say a Big Battle Is Immiment.

LONDON, April 2.—The war office issued no further news last night and the few dispatches received from the seat of war bear evidence of having been delayed by the censor. According to a special dispatch from Pretoria Lord Roberts has commenced his advance northward. The dispatch says there are daily skirmishes and that a big battle is imminent This, however, may refer to the operations preceding the engagement at Karee siding, which has apparently cleared the way as well as secured an advantageous position, whence the next operations may be conducted. Tucker's division is now strongly occupying the Boer camp at Karee Siding, with the way clear to Brandtford, which is reported already evacuated. The Boer forces in the neighborhood of Paardeberg are reported to be actively engaged in marauding and in attempting to capture British horses left on the veldt, owing to their weak condition. Six hundred Berkeley refuges sent back from Cape Town are stranded, the Kimberly military authorities refusing assistance to allow them to proceed.

LONDON, April 2.—The war office has received the following from Lord Roberts, dated Bloemfontein, March 30:

"Reports point to the enemy's leaving Brandtfort and proceeding in a northerly direction. The casualties in yesterday's engagement are more numerous than first reported. Officers killed, two; wounded, 8; rank and file, killed, 10; wounded 159; missing 3.

AN OVERWHELMING FORCE.

English to Have 200,000 Against Alleged Boer Force of 15,000.

LONDON, March 28.—It is believed that Lord Roberts, when he is prepared to advance, will be able to turn the enemy's position without attacking it in front, and that the entrenching now in progress will be of no possible utility. General Buller's operations may be more costly, as the country in which he will operate is most unfavorable for an attack. The reasons for the long halt at Bloemfontein and at Ladysmith is not understood but it is evident there will be co-operation between the two forces, and it is also probable that the third column, from Mafeking, will be available. The strength of the Boers in the final campaign in the Transvaal is estimated by cool observers at 15,000, but these figures are considered too low by the military authorities here. They assume that President Kruger will have 30,000 burghers in arms for the fighting in the last ditch. This official estimate is not based upon the census or the election returns, but provides a more impressive background for the British operations with an army of 200,000 men.

TAKE FAURESMITH.

The Artillery and Ammunition Found in a Shaft.

LONDON, March 30.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts, dated Bloemfon- March 28:

"General Clements occupied Fauresmith today without opposition. One nine pounder and one Martini Maxim were discovered in the prospecting shaft of a mine, were a large quantity of ammunition was buried. Arms are being surrendered gradually and the inhabitants settling down. Colonel Pilcher visited Ladybrand March 26. On leaving the town he was attacked by a part of the enemy, and one of his force was wounded and five are missing. During the skirmish on North Modder river March 25th, five men were wounded and five men of that regiment were taken prisoners

THE NEWS IN IOWA

THE firm of Kolf & Fuller, of Dubuque, manufacturers of boots and shoes, have made an assignment. The assets are $7,500, with liabilities of $11,800, mostly to Dubuque creditors.

RECEIPTS of hogs in Sioux City for the month of March show an aggregate of 66,500, as compared with 40,700 a year ago. This is an increase of 65 per cent. So far this year almost 197,000 hogs have been received in Sioux City, or 78,000 more than the first three months of last year.

NORVAL CARR, of Clarion, was taken to the hospital at Independence a few days ago. He went crazy and attempted to cut his throat. His mother tried to get the knife away from him and was badly cut about the hands. He had been at the hospital before and was supposed to be harmless.

IDA FULLER, the serpentine dancer, whose childhood home was in Forest City, obtained a decree of divorce at this term of court from her husband, Frank Fuller, who is a brother of the famous Loie Fuller. Her maiden name was Ida Pinckney, and her two brothers are druggists in Forest City.

A PETITION is being circulated among the republicans of Ottumwa with a view of inducing Hon. H. L. Waterman to announce himself as a candidate for the nomination for congress from the sixth district. Mr. Waterman's name has already been mentioned as a candidate, but thus far he has not consented to the same.

IN the absence of the mother, the home of S. Tobias, in South Muscatine, was destroyed by fire. Three children, aged 5, 4 and 1 years respectively, were in the house. Repeated attempts were made to rescue them, but the smoke and flames drove back the firemen. When at last they were rescued they were nearly dead from suffocation. The two oldest will probably recover but the youngest cannot be saved.

DURING a severe wind storm a few days ago the two large seventy-foot smokestacks on the factory of the United States Filler Machine Company at Tama were blown down. One of the immense stacks fell first and struck the other, causing it to topple over. The roof of the building was quite badly damaged. owing to the weight of the stacks. which is about 8,000 pounds. The damage incurred is estimated at between $400 and $500. The elements seem to have taken a special delight in damaging the property of the company, as it was only a week previous that fire destroyed the large warehouse, filled with egg case fillers.

THE Farmers' and Merchants' Bank, at Hanlontown, was robbed recently. Some time before one o'clock a. m. the bank was entered, the knob on the big safe pried off, nitro-glycerine poured in and the doors blown off. The money chest was opened in the same manner, where $2,180, mostly in currency, was secured. The safe had previously been covered with quilting taken from a bed in the bank. A Northwestern handcar was secured, and at noon the next day it was found about ten miles southeast of the place where the robbery was committed. A boy was sleeping within ten feet of the place when the explosion occurred but heard nothing of it.

A DISPATCH from Fort Dodge says: After being out on a strike since December 11, all the miners in north central Iowa have resumed work as the result of an agreement just signed. This follows the recent state conference in Des Moines between the United Mine Workers of America and the operators, which left the adjustment of local grievances to the district committee. While the scale agreed upon in the state conference granted the miners an advance of 5 cents per ton, the local scale is only 1 cent in advance of the price paid when the strike was inaugurated for mine run. The average outpnt of the individual miners is three tons per day, the new scale thus making an increase of 3 cents per day as the result of fifteen weeks' lockout.

WILLIAM DAVENPORT was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Jones on a farm ten miles north of Mitchelville, taken to Des Moines and locked up in the county jail in default of $800 bail, to answer to a charge of bigamy. Davenport had been indicted by the grand jury. Sylvia S. Davenport, his first wife, who lives in Colfax, testified before the grand jury that she and Davenport were married in Des Moines by Justice Blake, April 10, 1895; that they lived together about a year, and that Davenport deserted her. She testified that she never sued for divorce and that there has been no legal separation. Davenport, when arrested, was working as a farm hand for Hugh Booney and his second wife was living with him. When brought to the county jail he expressed surprise that he had been indicted. He admitted that he had been told that she was dead and had relied upon this information when he married the second time.

HERRIOTT'S PROTEST.

His Position on the Railroad Assessment Set Forth.

DES MOINES, March 29.—State Treasurer John Herriott yesterday filed with the secretary of the executive council a statement of his views on the railroad assessment question and an exposition of what he declares to be the shameless subserviency of the other members of the executive council to the interests of the Chicago & Northwestern road. The document is very long. He charges that time and again the railroad assessments have been made in the private office of the secretary of state, in consultation with one or two railroad attorneys. He charges that his demands for an equitable assessment have been ignored because the other members of the council were anxious to preserve the advantage which has long been possessed by the railroad interests which they represent. Mr. Herriott's document was prepared for the records of the council in explanation of his relations to the recent sick-room assessment, in which he declined to take part. He says he did not want to meet with Mr. Merriam, prostrated by illness, because he knew a discussion would lead to a violence of denunciation which could not but grievously affect the nerves of a sick man. He takes up in detail the statement made by the governor and answers it, arguing that railroads do not pay more than other property, as the governor urges, and showing the lack of system in present assessment methods. He explains carefully his own plan and shows the alleged iniquities of the present distribution of taxation. In six years the Northwestern, he asserts, has been undertaxed $235,221.36, which has been made up by overtaxing the other roads. Mr. Herriott is unsparing in his denunciation of his associates in what he terms betraying the interests of the people and perpetrating a travesty on justice, for the sake of a corporation able to do political favors.

After the publication of Mr. Herriott's statement the majority of the executive council, consisting of Governor Shaw, Secretary of State Dobson and Auditor of State Merriam filed a reply to his protest with the secretary of the council. They declare that Iowa railroads are higher taxed in proportion to other property and in proportion to the railroads of other states, and defined their method of assessing the railroads. Answering the charge of partiality to the Northwestern the reply says:

"The treasurer charges that the council, as now constituted, is manifesting favoritism in behalf of the Northwestern railway. Since members of the present council have served thereon with the treasurer of state, the assessment of the Northwestern railway has been increased $356,000, while the aggregate assessment of the Rock Island road, on which the treasurer resides, has been decreased over $400.000. Let the facts speak for themselves."

A FEW days ago the Burlington officers captured an alleged bad man, who gave his name as John Nugent, of New London. He is said to be wanted in Mt. Pleasant, where he brutally assaulted a woman a few nights ago, robbing her of her watch and about $15 in money. The woman was a passenger on train No. 2, and had just left the train when the assault occurred. The woman's cries were heard by the crew of a freight train standing in the yards, and later on, finding a man riding on the draw bar, the conductor suspected him of being implicated, and invited him into the caboose to get warm. In the meantime the Burlington police had been notified to be on the watch for the man and were in the yards to meet him. All the stolen property was found on him, and also a loaded revolver.

ONE day last week Hon. Lore Alford, a leading attorney and prominent republican of Waterloo, and in 1880 speaker of the Iowa house of representatives, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. The evidence presented shows that he had carefully planned the deed. He passed a restless night, arisIng shortly before 7 o'clock. Going to the bath room in his home, he turned on the water until the tub was partly full. Then, placing a large towel over the sides of the tub, he kneeled before it and drew the razor's keen edge across his throat, completely severing the carotid artery. Mr. Alford had been a sufferer for years from a stubborn stomach disease, which led to despondency and melancholy. In May, 1896, he attempted to kill himself with a revolver, but the bullet glanced from his skull and he was not badly injured. For a few years afterwards he seemed to be regaining his health, but of late the old spells have attacked him with increased severity. He had a brilliant record for services in the civil war, enlisting in 1861 as a private in the Sixteenth New York volunteers, and being mustered out as captain in 1864. He was a member of the Iowa legislature in 1878 and again in 1880, being elected speaker of the house at the latter session.

ROBERTS MOVES FORWARD.

Advances Twenty-one Miles From Bloemfontein.

LONDON, March 31.—The head of the army of Lord Roberts is now about twenty-one miles north of Bloemfontein. It occupies a cluster of hills won from the Boers after a stiff fight, in which the British lost seven officers and 100 men. The Boers had been using these kopjes as a base for marauding bands that have been beating up the country adjacent to Bloemfontein for supplies, driving off cattle and forcing non-resistent Free Staters into their ranks again. The enemy must have been in considerable force, as Roberts sent 8,000 infantry and 3,000 cavalry against them.

The war office has the following from Lord Roberts to the secretary of war: "BLOEMFONTEIN, March 30.—Owing to the activity of the enemy on our immediate front and their hostile action toward the burghers who surrendered under the terms of my proclamation, I found it necessary to drive them from some kopjes they had occupied near the Karee Siding Station a few miles south of Brantford. The operation was successfully carried out by the Seventh (Tucker's) division, assisted by the First and Third cavalry brigades, under French and LeGallais' regiment of mounted infantry. The enemy retreated to Brantford and our troops now hold the kopjes. Our casualties were: Killed, Captain Going, Scottish Borders; wounded, Captains Sellar, Peebles, Curgonven and Edwards, Lieutenants Coulson and French, and about 100 rank and file."

BOERS TAKE AGGRESSIVE.

They Move South and Threaten Bloemfontein.

LONDON, March 30.—The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Morning Post, telegraphing Wednesday, says:

"President Kruger boasts his intention to retake Bloemfontein within a week and it appears probable that the Boers are advancing in force southward"

LONDON, March 30.—The Boers are concentrating in force about fifteen miles north of Bloemfontein, in the rear of Glen, and Lord Roberts is sending forward troops to engage them. The Seventh infantry division and part of Gen. French's cavalry have been sent up to join the Fourteenth brigade and the two cavalry regiments that are holding Glen and its environs. It does not seem probable that the Boers will give serious battle in the fairly open country north of Glen. Still, their evident strength indicates more than a corps of observation. In small affairs the Boers are daringly aggressive in all parts of the field of war. The Johannesburg mounted police, esteemed by the Boers as their best mounted commando, are raiding the country near Bloemfontein, harassing the farmers who have given up their arms to the British and carrying off cattle.

TO ARREST TAYLOR.

May Not Be Attempted Until Contest Case Has Been Decided.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., March 31.—There has been much anxiety and excitement throughout Kentucky over a report, which has gained widespread circulation, that Governor William S. Taylor is to be arrested on the charge of having been a participant in the plot to assassinate Mr. Goebel. It is the general belief that such a step on the part of the democrats would plunge the state into war. Detective Dee Armstrong, whose work on the case has brought about most of the arrests that have been made, was asked if it were true that Taylor was to be placed in custody. "Not at this time," replied the detective. "I cannot say what will be done in future, but the conditions prevailing in Kentucky just now are entirely too critical to attempt to arrest Mr. Taylor." Armstrong admitted later on that Governor Taylor was marked for arrest, and it was said by one of the democratic leaders that the governor would be taken into custody just after the gubernatorial suit has been decided.

HOSTILITIES ARE IMMINENT.

Russia and Japan Are Drifting Surely Toward War.

SEATTLE, Wash., March 31.—The government transport Garonne, from Manila, February 17, has arrived from quarantine with news of active preparations in military and naval departments of Japan for war with Russia. The Russian fleet has disregarded the harbor authorities and anchored where it pleased. The war spirit is said by Captain Conrad of the Garrone to be strong in Japan on account of the czar's secret attempt to gain influence in Korea in violation of the treaty. A grand assemblage of the Japanese navy, to be followed by maneuvers from which foreign newspaper correspondents and the public were to be excluded, was fixed for the last of this month.

Heavy Penalty for Portugal.

BERNE, Switzerland, March 30.—According to the Delagoa Bay railroad award, Portugal is condemned to pay 15,314,000 francs.

THE TEEMING WEST.

Western Canada Prairie Lands Being Filled with Excellent Settlers.

The salient fact that presents itself in taking a birdseye view of the Canadian West, is that of intense activity in every department. Whether the glance be turned upon the district east of Winnipeg, the Red River Valley south or north, the Dauphin and M. & M. W. district, the Southwestern, or whether it take in the great central division along the main line of the C. P. R., stretching away out to the Rockies and from there bending north and south to Prince Alberta and Edmonton, McLeod and Lethbridge—whether the examination be made in any of these directions the same activity, growth and hopefulness are observable.

The Canadian West is not only a good place to locate permanently, but it is also a good place to invite one's relatives and friends to come to. This is the spirit that seems to animate the West at the present time, and its effects are to be seen on every hand. To enumerate the towns where handsome and substantial blocks and residences have gone up this year would be simply to give a list of the towns and villages along the railway lines. And this movement has not been confined to these centers of population, but in many cases it has been overshadowed by the improvement in farm buildings.

So far as one can see, this is no passing phase, no repetition of any temporary boom following a period of good crops and fair prices. It is a movement more spontaneous, more general, more marked than anything that has gone before, and seems to indicate that the great West, like Samson, bursting the encompassing bands, has awakened to a period of activity and development that will surpass anything we have known in the past and which will only be paralleled by the opening out of some of the most fertile of the western states of the union.

Look at some of the figures. Over a thousand schools in Manitoba, and the number going up by leaps and bounds; something like 500 schools in the territories. Winnipeg as representing the gateway of the West, the third city in the Dominion in regard to bank clearings, postal business and probably in regard to customs, the customs return at Winnipeg running about 30 to 40 per cent greater month by month than in the fiscal year of 1897-8, the largest previous year for actual business entries, when over $900,000 was paid through the Winnipeg office for duty; the C. P. R. and Canada Northwest land sales together running over $1,500,000 for the year. These and a thousand more signs show how the West has leaped into new life.

This is an inspiring and cheering spectacle, but it brings with it great responsibilities. The business men realize this, the banks realize it and have spread their agencies through every bustling little town clear out to the coast; the churches realize it, and one denomination alone has opened an average of about thirty new stations in each of the past two years, and will increase this in the year now entered upon; the government departments realize it, and there is talk of redistribution and additional members. The educational branches realize it, and new schools are springing up everywhere. Over 12,000 settlers came in from the United States alone last year, and these, with the people who came in from the East, prove the most rigorous westerners. They lose no time in developing their farms, in filling their grazing lands with stock, and in every district is to be found evidences of thrift and prosperity.

No Proofs in Defense of Marsh.

Lansing, Mich., April 2.—After the prosecution rested its case in the Marsh trial Friday afternoon the defense moved for a continuance on the ground that they were not prepared to meet the unexpected testimony of certain witnesses who were permitted to testify. This was denied by the court, as was a motion that the prosecutor be directed to furnish the defense with a copy of testimony taken before the grand jury. The defense then sprung a surprise by announcing that they had concluded to offer no proofs.

Confesses and Falls in Fit.

Detroit, Mich., April 2.—In the deputy factory inspector's office Friday a woman was seized with a fit after having acknowledged that she had sworn falsely to the age of her son, who was applying for a working permit. She said the boy was 14. "You know that boy is not yet 14 years old," said Deputy Inspector Cox. "I know it," she acknowledged. With that she threw up her arms, rolled her eyes and fell sprawling on the floor in a fit.

Paul Ford and Grace Kidder.

New York, April 2.—The engagement of Paul Leicester Ford, the novelist, and Miss Grace Kidder, the only daughter of Edward H. Kidder, is announced. She is a tall brunette, well known in Brooklyn Heights society.

KING DON:

A STORY OF MILITARY LIFE IN INDIA.

.....BY MAVOR ALLAN.....

CHAPTER II.—(Continued.)

She looked up in his face with a little smile that would have appeased a very martinet in love.

"I am very sure that Roddy does not care a scrap nowadays for me," she said demurely, adding, with sweet contrition, "and I am not surprised, after the way I treated him. But I was only a thoughtless girl in those days, and I know he has forgiven me."

"How long ago is it since 'those days'?" queried Don, toying with a golden strand of her hair. Her words had restored his reassurance and calm.

"I try to think it is a long, long time, Don," she answered gravely, "for then I never thought of right or wrong, or how beautiful it makes life if we try to serve God rather than self. Oh," she broke off, with a thrill of emotion in her voice, "sometimes I pray I may live to be an old woman, just to try to make up for all those wasted years."

"And so I, too, pray that you may, though it were only to solace the declining years of a lost sinner like myself, sweet saint," he rejoined, lightly. "And now, my darling, since I know your heart is mine, beyond retraction, I can risk to tell you my news from home today. That faithless Roddy is about to be espoused to my sister, Di."

"Oh, I am so glad—so glad!" she exclaimed, and there was no mistaking the genuine warmth of her words. "You will tell him that when you write, won't you, Don? And I myself will write to Di. Oh, Don, I think Di is one of the noblest women in the whole world. But for her example I should never have learned to remember our lives are not our own."

Don rose from her side with a momentary flush on his cheek.

"You were not always such a little Puritan, Lillie," he rallied her, "or, don't you know, 'pon my word, I should have been afraid to think it possible you would ever look at such a reprobate as me, for—you know I am not a hypocrite, Lillie—I'm not a good fellow by any means, and, to tell the truth, I don't want to be one."

It was a bold thing for him to say in the face of her guileless professions of faith; but love made Lillie blind to everything but the bliss of knowing he had claimed her heart forever, and that into his hands had been put the wondrous power of making his chequered life blessed.

She rose, too, and put her hands out to him with a sweetness that banished all thought of alien opinion.

"Some day, Don, perhaps you will come to know, as I do now, that this world is not everything; and so long as you love me I am content to wait for I know that God will make it plain to you in His own good time."

Don's arms closed around her with more demonstrative tenderness than he had yet shown.

"My white Lily, I am perfectly certain we shall prove a model Darby and Joan, for, since you will have me, what do I care for anything else?"

And then he kissed her again, and murmured "sweet nothings" in her ear that brought the color flitting happily to her lovely cheek. Lastly he drew from his little finger a gold band, bearing a diamond ivy leaf, and inscribed inside with the single word "Bydand"—steadfast—the Gordon badge and motto.

And when he had placed it on the third finger of Lillie's fair hand, she repaid him by throwing her arms about his neck and giving him the first shy kiss of love.

"Oh, Don, may we be like the ivy, and always cling close to each other. May nothing ever come between us two!" she cried.

Those words of deepest love might mayhap have fallen more fitly from the man's lips than the girl's; but Don read in their sweet solemnity the hidden meaning of a hoped-for higher bond of union, and he only smiled considerately as he held her close and returned her kiss with liberal interest.

"I hope," he said playfully, "that means you never, never would be so cruel as to jilt me as you did old Roddy. There! forgive me, sweet, I'm a brute to have reminded you of those days when you were such a dear little coquette. Are you quite sure you are not afraid of giving yourself to such a jealous beggar as I am, Lillie? For you know I am jealous."

"Do you know why I didn't tell you of Roddy's engagement till I knew that I had won your dear heart? Because I didn't want to be taken out of pity."

"You need never be jealous of me any more, Don," she said, with sweet earnestness.

"What of His Highness Prince Clement Sing, who your father told me sent you lately a present of a certain cashmere shawl, and a champac necklace?" he queried, laughing.

But the question turned Lillie's blushing face for the instant pale. It had suddenly reminded her of Captain Derwent's favor of this would-be suitor for her hand. Prince Clement Sing, though a native of the Punjaub, had European blood in his veins, and had lived from boyhood in England, and graduated at one of the English universities.

"I would have returned the presents, but father explained to me it would give serious offense," she said deprecatingly. "It was unpleasant to have to accept them; but if it is the custom of the country to give costly things like that as we give flowers and trifles at home——" She stopped.

"I was only joking," Don interrupted her calmly. "But this reminds me, love. I shall have to get your father's consent, I suppose, before I can ask you to name the happy day? For you know of old I'm not a patient fellow, Lillie. I like things to be assured and smooth-sailing. I stick to the fine old maxim: 'If 'twere well 'twere done, then 'twere well it were done quickly'."

She looked up in her tall lover's face with a piquant, dubious smile.

"That sounds almost like getting over a disagreeable duty," she objected. "And I am sure my father won't want me to run away from him just yet—not till this disturbance on the frontier is over, and he is ready to take me home."

For to the heart of a Briton, in whatever foreign clime, the sacred name of "Home" belongs to the beloved British Isles alone.

For answer Don drew her once more within his arms.

"I can't wait for that, Lillie." And if his mastery arose more from the dogmatic will of the man than the impetuosity of the lover, there was no doubt about his earnestness. "If you ever go back home, it must be as my wife; but, Lillie, I won't promise you I would take you. I could not bear it, for I am a homeless wanderer now."

The quiver in his voice moved her profoundly.

"We will make a fresh home, Don, you and I, wherever you like in the whole world," she said.

Even Don, self-absorbed as was his nature, was touched by her devotion.

"You are very generous, my darling, and I am going to take you at your word by asking your father to give you to me before the summer. I hope to see him in a very short time, for I have just had orders to take a relief draft of our Derbys out to join his camp to-morrow."

She turned pale as her clinging gown.

"To-morrow? Oh, Don, why didn't you tell me before you were going to leave me to-morrow?"

"Because ill news is told all too soon," he answered gently. "But cheer up, child, I don't expect to be gone more than three or four weeks at the most."

But she clung to him, with the tears swimming in her beautiful blue eyes.

"Oh, Don, my dearest, I shall be dreading all sorts of things happening to you on the way! I used to feel so frightened when my father went out first; but now I know he is safely in camp it is different. Oh, Don!" she broke off, "if you never come back to me it would break my heart!"

"My darling," he reassured her, "the tribes have surrendered, and the war is practically over. There's really nothing to be nervous about."

"You must think of me killing time counting the hours which will bring me back to the dear little woman who is going to open a paradise for the poor outcast wanderer."

She put up her little hand to his lips.

"Don't call yourself that, Don. As we hope to be forgiven, forgive and forget the wrong your mother did you when she brought you up as Gadie's heir. Remember it was all for love of you she sinned."

"What then, sweet pleader, would you have it that love condones a sin?" he queried, capturing the hand and covering it with kisses.

"God forbid!" she answered earnestly; "but surely, because of that love, forgiveness should be easier?"

Ah! how both were to remember that conversation in a bitter day to come!

All too soon came the final moment for last caresses and parting words, for presently the red-turbaned native announced that "Gordon sahib's horse was at the gate as ordered, and his cloak also, as dew was falling."

Lillie picked up a silk coverlet from the divan, and throwing it over her shoulders, accompanied her lover to the veranda.

The moon had risen, and in its clear light her lovely face, with its aureole of golden hair, shone radiant with its love, but quivering with the pain which this moment of farewell brought.

The red fireflies were flashing, the perfume of rose and pink oleander wafted from the garden on the hot air. On the far-stretching terrace of the bungalow a great adjutant bird, with its head nestling under its wing, was silhouetted against the silvery expanse of sky.

From the prickly-pear hedge of the compound rose anon the melancholy howl of a jackal.

All unconsciously, scene and hour were to be fixed irrevocably upon Don Gordon's memory down to the veriest trifle.

He took his cloak from the native's hand, and, throwing it on, stood trifling with its clasp to prolong the exquisite fascination of the spell which had suddenly fallen upon him and held him in its grasp.

Was it the mystic secret of love which was coming to him there on the silvery wings of the tropic night.

He stooped at last and gathered the trembling girl in a lingering embrace.

"What message shall I take to the father, little one?"

"That I love you," she answered simply, "and that I only live for you both to come back to me."

He sealed the confession with a passionate kiss, and tore himself away, to spring lightly to the saddle.

For an instant he paused on his prancing steed with bared head, his brown eyes bent upon her, and a smile on his moustached lips.

"Till we meet again." He spoke softly then, as, kissing his hand to her, he resumed his helmet and galloped away into the moonlit night.

"Till we meet again!"

She lifted her tear-dimmed eyes to the star-spangled heavens in a mute supplication that the Father of all would watch between him and her till that day came.

Ah! she little knew what the interval held in store.

CHAPTER III.

"Impossible, my dear sir—impossible!"

It was Captain Derwent who spoke in that decidedly aggressive tone of decision, and he whom he addressed was Don Gordon, as they strolled in company along a narrow track by the side of a winding nullah, on their way back to mess at the Tirah camp.

It was nearly three weeks since the lover had bidden Lillie farewell, and she it was who was under discussion now.

Don's cheek was flushed, and his dark eyes glowed ominously as their glance followed the clouds of pale smoke from the cheroot he puffed for several minutes in proud silence.

That he had never contemplated Captain Derwent's blunt refusal of his suit was very certain, by the easy assurance with which he had courted and won Lillie's own consent.

"You say it is impossible your daughter should ever be my wife?" Don spoke at last, with painful distinctness.

It was characteristic of Don's nature that he was rarely roused to passion; but, once roused, it was deep and lasting; and by the pallor that had replaced the flush upon his face it was too evident he was moved to passion now.

"Perfectly impossible, my dear fellow, though I hate telling you so, don't you know?"

"Since you have told me so much, I should like that you will tell me more," said Don, in that calm voice that little betrayed the fire at his heart. "May I ask why it is perfectly impossible?"

"My dear sir," exclaimed the elder officer, somewhat sharply, "if your own common sense does not tell you my chief reasons, then you must pardon my being outspoken. You've said yourself you haven't a rupee beyond your pay and what your uncle, Colonel Gordon, chooses to allow you yearly. Now, honestly, do you consider you are at all a suitable match for my little girl, who, you must remember, is now an heiress. Had you been heir of Gadie——"

"Thanks," said Don curtly. "I do not need to be reminded of my reversed fortunes, and, I will confess, I should never have asked Lillie to share my poverty. It is only the fact of her being an heiress makes it possible she could ever become my wife."

"'Pon my word, sir, you're frank!" exclaimed Captain Derwent, irritated by what he deemed effrontery on Don's part. "My daughter should be honored to know that, had she been a 'tocherless lass,' as we say in the north, you would have had none of her."

He laughed, as if to pass the matter off as a joke; but he was genuinely annoyed.

(To be continued.)

Love's Playfulness.

"And there's nothing more between us?" he asked. "No, Harry, dear," she replied, nestling against his shoulder; "I can't get any closer to you."—Philadelphia North American.

CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Washington, March 26.—Davis, of Minnesota, introduced in the senate a substitute for the Porto Rican bill which provides for free trade between the United States and Porto Rico and extends the internal revenue laws with amendments over the island. The act is declared provisional and shall not continue longer than March 1, 1900. The Alaskan civil code bill was under consideration during the greater part of the session. An amendment was agreed to fixing a license upon almost every kind of trade and commerce in the district of Alaska, the licences ranging from $10 to $500 per annum. The measure had not been disposed of at the conclusion of the session.

HOUSE.

A number of pension bills favorably acted upon by the house in the committee of the whole last Friday were put through the final stages at the opening of the session of the house to-day and the army appropriation bill was then taken up. The house entered upon the consideration of the army appropriation bill, but the debate was without exciting incident being confined to the discussion of army matters. All efforts to reach an agreement as to the length of time general debate upon the bill should run failed. The bill carries $111,600,364. The estimates were $127,612,133. The last appropriation bill carried about $80,000,000, and there was a deficiency of about $47,000,000.

SENATE.

Washington, March 27.—Little progress was made by the senate to-day with the Porto Rico tariff and government bill. It was under discussion for nearly three hours, but the greater part of the time was consumed in the consideration of a free coinage amendment offered by Morgan. The amendment is still pending.

HOUSE.

There was some lively debate in the house during the consideration of the army appropriation bill. Little of it was pertinent to the measure. It covered a wide range of topics, Porto Rican tariff, the Boer war and the Philippines, and at times was quite heated. No action was taken.

SENATE.

Washington, March 28.—The senate to-day agreed to vote on the Porto Rican government and tariff bill Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Davis of Minnesota advocated free trade between the United States and Porto Rico. Morgan's free silver coinage amendment was defeated.

HOUSE.

The house to-day devoted practically the whole day to the consideration of the army appropriation bill. Several minor amendments were adopted and about half the bill was considered.

SENATE

Washington, March 29.—The conference report on the diplomatic and consular appropriation bill was agreed to. Consideration of the Porto Rican tariff and government bill was resumed. Senator Beveridge, of Indiana, addressed the senate in support of the proposition for free trade between the United States and Porto Rico. Later a direct vote was taken on the proposition to strike from the Porto Rico measure the provision levying 15 per cent of the Dingley law duties on Porto Rico products. The proposition was defeated, 46 to 33. While the vote is regarded as presaging the passage of the pending measure, it is not regarded as indicating the final vote on the bill.

HOUSE.

After four days of stormy debate the house passed the army appropriation bill. As passed the bill is only slightly modified from the form in which it came from the committee. One of the last amendments adopted opens the homes to the officers and men of the volunteer and regular armies incapacitated by service during or since the Spanish war.

SENATE.

Washington, March 30.—The Porto Rican tariff bill was again under consideration. An amendment by Morgan, providing that the United States, in exchanging the Porto Rican coins for United States money, should pay 100 cents instead of 60 cents for each of the Porto Rican pesos, was defeated. Another declaring that "the constitution and laws of the United States shall have the same force and effect in Porto Rico as in other territories of the United States," was also defeated.

HOUSE

The day was devoted to war claims and no important business was transacted.

SENATE.

Washington, March 31.—So far as the committee in charge of the measure is concerned, the Porto Rican bill was completed to-day, with the exception of two amendments. The final debate on the bill will begin at 11 o'clock Monday. At 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon the votes will be taken on the pending amendments and the bill. The feature of to-day's session was an exhaustive discussion of the pending measure by Fairbanks, of Indiana, which he supported vigorously and unequivocally.

HOUSE.

The house finished up a hard week's work by passing the fortifications appropriation bill. Not a single amendment was offered, and the bill was passed as it came from the committee It carries $7,093,488.

HORSE MEAT SOUP.

Principal Sustenance of Those Imprisoned at Mafeking.

LONDON, March 29.—The Daily Mail has received from its imprisoned correspondent at Mafeking, Lady Sarah Wilson, the following dispatch, which she by some means managed to get through the investing lines:

MAFEKING, March 14.—The news of the relief of Ladysmith was received here yesterday, but, while giving us the greatest satisfaction, it must be confessed that the civilian portion of the garrison feels disappointed at there being no immediate prospect of the relief of this town. These men have been night and day on trench duty for six months, and as the wet weather has contributed much to their discomfort, it is hardly surprising that the men have become worn out. The town remains closely invested, the Boers being reported as numerous and strongly intrenched between us and General Plumer's small force, of whose progress we know from native runners. The food question has received careful consideration, and a soup composed of horseflesh and meal is sold to the well-to-do and given free to the indigent; but some die of starvation owing to their prejudice against horseflesh.

SIX HUNDRED WERE KILLED.

French Victory Recorded in Attacking an Arab Army South of Algiers.

PARIS, March 31.—The official account has been issued of the victory of the French troops over the Arab army at Inrahr, which assembled with the object of attacking the French expedition which recently occupied the oasis of Insalah, southwest of Algeria. The French learned of the scheme and decided to storm the enemy's position, which was successfully carried March 19 by a column led by Lieutenant Colonel Eutown. The town was first bombarded and then stormed, the Arab warriors making the last stand at Mosques. They left 600 killed and wounded on the field and 450 prisoners were taken. The French losses were 9 native soldiers killed, 38 wounded and 2 officers wounded.

Immediately after the outbreak of war in South Africa, 211 French army officers resigned their commissions and enlisted with the Boers.

The Ideal Man.

There is much rivalry among colleges as to which will produce the ideal man. By this they mean a strong and intellectual man. Health will demand first consideration, for upon that depends all. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will keep the bowels regular and the stomach healthy by curing stomach disorders. It also prevents malaria, fever and ague.

Live to do good and you will never tire of your employment.

Spring

Annually Says Take

Hood's Sarsaparilla

In the spring those Pimples, Boils, Eruptions and General Bad Feelings indicate that there are cobwebs in the system. It needs a thorough brushing, and the best brush is Hood's Sarsaparilla, which sweeps all humors before it. This great medicine eradicates Scrofula, subdues Salt Rheum, neutralizes the acidity which causes Rheumatism—in short, purifies the blood and thoroughly renovates the whole physical system.

"We have used Hood's Sarsaparilla and it has given the best of satisfaction, especially as a spring medicine. It builds up the general system and gives new life." DWIGHT C. PARK, Whiteland, Indiana.

STERLING DUPLEX WASHING MACHINE.

Has double "washboard" rubbers, runs easiest, lasts longest, does faultless work. Most practical clothes washer made. Don't drudge. Use modern methods. If it's not at your dealer's write us.

THE EUREKA CO., Dept. H., Rock Falls, Ill.

ALABASTINE

LABASTINE is the original and only durable wall coating, entirely different from all kalsomines. Ready for use in white or fourteen beautiful tints by adding cold water.

ADIES naturally prefer ALABASTINE for walls and ceilings, because it is pure, clean, durable. Put up in dry powdered form, in five-pound packages, with full directions.

LL kalsomines are cheap, temporary preparations made from whiting, chalks, clays, etc., and stuck on walls with decaying animal glue. ALABASTINE is not a kalsomine.

EWARE of the dealer who says he can sell you the "same thing" as ALABASTINE or "something just as good." He is either not posted or is trying to deceive you.

ND IN OFFERING something he has bought cheap and tries to sell on ALABASTINE'S demands, he may not realize the damage you will suffer by a kalsomine on your walls.

ENSIBLE dealers will not buy a lawsuit. Dealers risk one by selling and consumers by using infringement. Alabastine Co. own right to make wall coating to mix with cold water.

HE INTERIOR WALLS of every church and school should be coated only with pure, durable ALABASTINE. It safeguards health. Hundreds of tons used yearly for this work.

N BUYING ALABASTINE, customers should avoid getting cheap kalsomines under different names. Insist on having our goods in packages and properly labeled.

UISANCE of wall paper is obviated by ALABASTINE. It can be used on plastered walls, wood ceilings, brick or canvas. A child can brush it on. It does not rub or scale off.

STABLISHED in favor. Shun all imitations. Ask paint dealer or druggist for tint card. Write us for interesting booklet, free. ALABASTINE CO., Grand Rapids, Mich.

EXCURSION RATES

to Western Canada and particulars as to how to secure 160 acres of the best wheat-growing land on the continent can be secured on application to Supt. of Immigration, Ottawa, Canada, or the undersigned. Specially conducted excursions will leave St. Paul, Minn., on the first and third Tuesday in each month, and specially low rates on all lines of railway are quoted for excursions leaving St. Paul on March 26 and April 4 for Manitoba, Assiniboia, Saskatchewan and Alberta. N. Bartholomew, 306 Fifth St., Des Moines, Iowa.

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS.

It Costs you Nothing

To examine our Complete Stock of Building Material and be convinced that you cannot do better elsewhere.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO.

L. G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

POSITIONS SECURED!

We aid those who want Government positions. 85,000 places under Civil Service Rules. 8000 yearly appointments. Prepares by mail for all Government examinations. Fees cash or instalments. A thorough and scientific course in all departments. Requires spare time only, Salaries twice as much as private firms for the same kind of work. The hours of labor are short, duties light, positions for life. Take our course of study and we guarantee that you will pass the Civil Service Examinations. Write, inclosing stamp, for our catalogue describing course to

BUREAU OF CIVIL SERVICE INSTRUCTION, WASHINGTON, D. C.

REMEMBER WE HAVE

A COMPLETE STOCK

OF LUMBER, POSTS AND ALL BUILDING MATERIAL.

J. H. Queal & Co.

C. G. BRAGHER, Agt. KLEMME, IOWA.

LAU BROS.

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE.

An attractive Grocery and Hardware Store is a place where, if you are well treated, you will be likely to come again.

We Treat Customers Right

and they are the come-again kind. Our stock is complete in every detail. Come and

Make a Trial Purchaes of us and be convinced that we have the

BEST GOODS

AND AT

RIGHT PRICES.

Gold Coin Stoves and Ranges. Hard and Soft Coal Heaters, Machinery, Corn Shellers. Cutters, Sleighs.

HIGHEST MARKET PRICE FOR BUTTER AND EGGS.

LAU BROS., KLEMME, IOWA.

Homeseekers Excursions.

Jan. 16, Feb. 6, 20, March 6, 20, Apr. 3. 17, 1900, via B., C. R. & N. Ry.

On above date Round Trip tickets, good 21 days, will be sold at rate of a single fare plus $2.00 to all points on this line in Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota, north of and including Shell Rock, Abbott Crossing and Waverly.

Tickets will also be sold at this rate to a large number of cities and towns in Northern, Western and Southern states. For further information call on B., C. R. & N. agents or address

Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A.,
Apr.17 Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma bronchitis, la grippe and all throat, chest and lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on J. L. Harr, the druggist, and get a free trial bottle. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed.

Lengthening days give evidence of approaching spring time when ambitious business men, surrounded by shrewd competition in the over-crowed older towns, are looking for new homes, broader and better business advantages. The Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway is extending its lines into the best portions of northwestern Iowa and southwestern Minnesota. This country is noted for its rich soil, social, educational and religious advantages. Four towns were located last fall and have made remarkable growth already. Several new towns will be located during the spring and early summer. If you desire to de a pioneer in a good new town in a well settled rich country which has long been in need of a railroad.

Address THOS. H. BROWN,
Sioux Falls, S. Dak.

MAY 1 Townsite Agent New Lines.

Spreads Like Wildfire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling". Abraham Hare a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 yrs. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, run down man or woman. Price 50c. Sold by J. L. Harr, druggist.

Playing Cards.

"The Cedar Rapids Route" Playing Cards are the finest quality and extra finish. For sale by agents of the B. C. R. & N. Ry at 15 cts. per pack, two for 25 cts. $1.50 per dozen. Call for them at depot or send stamps, coin or money order to General Passenger Department, B., C. R. & N. Ry., Cedar Rapids, Ia. and cards will be sent postage paid.

A Horrible Outbreak,

"Of large sores on my little daughter's head developed into a case of scald head" writes C. D. Isbill of Morganton, Tenn., but Bucklin's Arnica Salve completely cured her. It's a guaranteed cure for Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers and Piles. Only 25c at Harr's, the druggist.

NEW CHAIR CAR SERVICE.

Between Watertown, Ellsworth and Chicago via. B. C. R. & N. Ry. Commencing Sunday Nov. 19th, a free reclining chair car will be placed on trains Nos. 608 and 605 between Watertown and Chicago by the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. This car leaves Watertown daily, except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. arriving at Chicago 7:59 the following morning. This car runs to and from Sioux Falls Sundays, thus giving daily chair car service between Ellsworth and Chicago. Passengers going east from Chicago will have ample time to make any transfers to connect with all morning eastern trains.

These trains are very fast, and, with this new additional service, passengers can feel assured of first class accommodations. JNO. G. FARMER,
Cedar Rapids, Ia.

A Testimonial from Old England.

"I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best in the world for bronchitis says Mr. Wm. Savory, of Warrington, England. "It has saved my wife's life she having been a martyr to bronchitis for over 6 years, being most of the time confined to her bed. She is now quite well." Sold by J. L. Harr.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

QUICK RELIEF FROM PAIN.

All who use Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism are delighted with the quick relief from pain which it affords. When speaking of this Mr. D. N. Sinks of Troy, Ohio, says: "Some time ago I had a severe attack of rheumatism in my arm and shoulder. I tried numerous remedies but got no relief until I was recommended by Messrs. Geo. F. Parsons & Co., druggists of this place to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. They recommended it so highly that I bought a bottle. I was soon relieved of all pain I have since recommended this liniment to many of my friends, who agree with me that it is the best remedy for muscular rheumatism in the market." For sale by J. L. Harr.

The Petrified Man.

According to a Billings, Mont., dispatch in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat, John Johnson, known throughout the west as "Liver-Eating Johnson," a government scout and spy, and who is believed to have killed more Indians than any other man, either living or dead, that ever rode the arid wastes of the west, reached this city recently en route to the soldiers' home at Los Angeles. He recognized the ossified man found in the Missouri river, near Fort Banton about a year ago, as being the petrification of a man he knew at Fort Benton. The petrification looks as natural as life. It will go east from here, and then to the Paris exposition.

The Satire in Whittier's Slippers.

One evening as I sat with Mr. Whittier before his Franklin stove he hospitably brought forward a pair of slippers and laughed as he pointed at the satirical device embroidered upon them. He said Gail Hampton worked them for him when his wartime poems were being published. They represented a pair of belligerent American eagles, armed with the thunderbolts of Jove, and they were done in the soberest Quaker drab—thunderbolts and all! "Thee sees," he said, "she is as sharp with her needle as with her pen!"—Samuel T. Pickard, in Ladies' Home Journal.

The Tagalog Is a Wily Foe.

The hunted one is a barefooted little brown man, in cotton shirt and trousers, who, equally courageous, has more skill than the old foe of our army, the American Indian. Without infusion of foreign blood, the Tagalog mind is simple only to the white man, who looks upon the smiling Tagalog face for the first time. While it is an enigma to us, the half-breed leader, polite, subtle, often well educated, if not the graduate of a Spanish university, can play upon his moods as upon the strings of a harp.—From "White Man and Brown Man in the Philippines," by Frederick Palmer, in the January Scribner's.

When They Rise.

The kaiser rises at 5 o'clock, swallows a cup of coffee and then begins work. The Emperor Francis Joseph is about at 7 o'clock, and breakfasts on coffee and buttered toast. The king of Italy, the king of Sweden, the king of the Belgians, the king of Denmark, the sultan and the prince of Bulgaria rise at the same hour as ordinary mortals. The record for indolence is held by ex-King Milan. He retires to rest at peep of day, rises at midday and takes a long time over his breakfast.

Ice in Royal Residences.

The stores of ice at Windsor, Osborne and Balmoral are very large. At Windsor there is storage room for about 500 tons. There the supply is obtained from the lake beneath the north terrace, from Frogmore, and from the lake between Frogmore and Virginia water. Ice is not only lavishly used in the royal kitchen, but also for reducing the temperature of her majesty's apartments in hot weather. Then it is packed in pretty wooden buckets and stood in the fireplaces.

Their Own Ammunition.

A large amount of the small-arms ammunition now being used by the Boers against the English troops is of British manufacture. As late as 1896 a large English cartridge firm, the president of which is Mr. Arthur Chamberlain, the colonial secretary's brother, supplied the Boer government with millions of rounds of ammunition. This transaction was, of course, well known to the British at the time.

Funeral Reform in England.

Dickens would have been pleased with the title of the "Church of England Burial, Funeral and Mourning Reform association," which at its twentieth annual meeting has issued the following manifesto: "No darkened house, no durable coffin, no special mourning attire, no bricked grave, no unnecessary show, no avoidable expense, and no unusual eating or drinking."

Around the Earth.

The time required for a journey round the earth by a man walking day and night, without resting, would be 428 days; an express train, 40 days; sound, at a medium temperature, 32½ hours. a cannon ball, 21¾ hours; light, a little over one tenth of a second. and electricity, passing over a

Reduced Rates to the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Reduced round trip rates are now in effect to the nation's great resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas, owned, controlled by the United States Government for the cure of a score of human ills. Beautiful winter, 200 hotels and boarding houses of all grades. Ask nearest ticket agent for particulars, or Mr. John G. Farmer, A. G. P. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia. For illustrated books of information address Bureau of Information, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

1,000,000 DEATHS! From Cholera During the Past Year.

The Germs of this Fatal Disease are Lurking Everywhere! Thousands of Dollars Saved by this Wonderful Discovery.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars has been lost in the poultry business on account of the devastation among the flocks, caused by cholera, roup, gape and other fatal diseases. There have been many remedies advanced but none seem to be so successful as the American Poultry Mixture. This will cure chickens in the last stages of cholera or roup, and is excellent for gapes. Do your fowls suffer from violent diarrhea, dropping of the wings, stupor or excessive thirst? These are the first symptoms of cholera. Cholera is a germ disease and being infectious spreads rapidly through the entire flock. Take time by the forelock; don't stop to experiment with unreliable or untried remedies. Use this mixture at once and the sanitary measures they recommend in connection. Don't give the fowls up. Cholera is a terrible disease but this remedy cures it every time. It is also guaranteed for roup, which can be told by hoarse breathing, swelled eyes, discharge at the nostrils resembling catarrh. Fifty dollars is offered for any case the mixture will not cure. If some of your fowls are diseased it will prevent the rest from catching it. Try it. It is cheap, reliable and effective; a scientific preparation; goes more than three times as far as any other remedy: does more good than all of them combined. It is used and indorsed by the most experienced and largest breeders of plain and fancy poultry in all parts of the world. The manufacturers guarantee every package or refund purchase money. If your druggist don't sell American Poultry mixture, he's behind the age. In that case send $1.00 for sample box to American Manufacturing Co., Terre Haute, Indiana,

H. Clark, Chauncey, Ga., says DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him of piles that had afflicted him for twenty years. It is also a speedy cure for skin diseases. Aeware of dangerous counterfeits. J. L. Harr.

EUROPEAN EXCURSION.

The B., C. R. & N. Ry. will start an excursion from the Northeast and Northern part of Iowa to the Christian Endeavor Convention in London, England, and to the Paris Exposition.

Many business men, professional men teachers and those who wish to visit their fatherland will gladly avail themselves of this opportunity. That teachers in our schools and colleges may have the advantage of this rare educational privelege, arrangements have been made with the fine Dominion and Allan Line of steamers. The steamers selected on these lines are the 'Cambroman' of the Dominion, and the 'Tunisian' of the Allan. Both are elegant new steamers and sail direct from Montreal to Liverpool.

The remarkably reasonable rate of $75.00, second cabin, from Montral to London and return, is charged. It is to be remembered that the second cabin on these steamers is equal to first cabin on some other lines, and that the very best people will travel this way. Those desiring to sail from New York can take the 'Furnessia of the Anchor Line On this steamer a rate of $[illegible]9.84, first cabin, and $74.82, second cabin, from New York to London and return is charged. The 'Cambroman' and 'Furnessia' sail on June 23rd, and the 'Tunisian' on June 30th.

For about $14.00 additional a round trip ticket can be purchased by those wishing to visit the Exposition, from London to Paris and return. It will be necessary to apply at once in order to secure berths, as many will be going over.

Rev. D. W. Fahs, D. D. of Independence, who has had experience in excursion work, will have charge of the excursion. Those who contemplate going should address him at once at Independence, Iowa, for particulars

JNO. G. FARMER, A. G. P. & T. A.
Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and build up your health. Only 25c. Money back if not cured. Sold by Harr the druggist.

SAGE OF SAWHAW SAYS:

To avoid pains take pains.

Difficulties are more often damned than bridged.

Be careful that you don't do right in the wrong way.

Rambling old structures aren't supposed to move about.

Of course a bale of hay must be distinguished from straw bail.

A man hates to go down in his pocket when he is down in the mouth.

When a lawyer starts out to find an heir he seldom runs across a case of mistaken identity.

Most men can console themselves by the fact that their wives won't tell what they think of them.

The monkey world has never appeared interested in the missing link, thinking it probable that he would be forced into human society if found.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME V. KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, APRIL 12, 1900 NUMBER 34

B. C R. & N. TIME TABLE.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 708. B Pass.	7:55	p. m.
No. 796 A Stock	9:30	a m.
No. 742. B Freight	3:45	p. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 701. B Pass. -	1:32	p. m.
No. 741. B Way freight	9:30	a. m.

B—Daily except Sunday
A—Daily except Monday

☞"Freight trains shown above will carry passengers only when provided with tickets."

F. G. REESE, Local Agt.

WM. H. HUGHES
LAWYER.

Accounts and notes collected. Practice in all courts. Office in Schuler block.

GARNER, IOWA.

JAMES YOUNG
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER.

Will cry sales and guarantee satisfaction, 15 years experience. Dates and terms at office of Klemme TIMES.

Telephone or address

Garner, Iowa.

H. E. PEITZKE
BLACKSMITHING, WAGON SHOP.

General Blacksmithing. Repair work of all kinds. Wood work a specialty.

Klemme, Iowa.

J. N. SPROLE,
REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND ABSTRACTS.

Titles examined and corrected, Taxes paid, etc.

GARNER - - - IOWA.

A. L. SPOONER.
Physician and Surgeon.

Office first door west of Shafer & Dow's Store. Residence just back of the German Reform Church. Office hours 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.

Klemme, Iowa.

A. SNYDER,
DRAYMAN.

Having purchased the Bartholomew dray line I solicit a share of your work. Prompt attention given to all work: Charges reasonable.

KLEMME, IOWA.

JOHN BAUMGARTNER.
PROPRIETOR OF
CITY BARBER SHOP.
AN EASY SHAVE. - -
A SATISFIED CUSTOMER
FIRST DOOR EAST OF LAU BROS.
KLEMME, IOWA.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE
BETWEEN
DAUBING AND PAINTING.

We understand our business and guarantee our work.

JOE MILLER,
PAINTER and DEGORATOR.

JOHN JOSTEN
PHOTOGRAPHER
Gallery Fitted For Finest Work

In Miniature and Cabinet Sizes. Enlarging, View and Copying.
PHOTO BUTTONS A SPECIALTY.
☞Give me a call
KLEMME - IOWA.

Goods Worth $1.50 FREE
also our magazine. Send for information at once.
RECREATION POINTERS, Kansas City, Mo.

ELL CENTER.

John Zook was out here last week repairing the Center school house.

Wm. Lawrance, of Klemme, is painting and calcimining the school house.

Mrs. William Marshall, who has been on the sick list is improving rapidly.

Miss Tillie Cramer commenced her school in the Gilbert district Monday morning.

Morris Day and J. W. Allen attended the 'Post' of the G. A. R. at Garner, last Tuesday evening.

Ray Burman received a handsome badge from Silberman Bros. Chicago, where he shipped his wool last year.

Mrs. Harry Rice was on the sick list last week. Dr. Fraser was called and she has nearly covered at this writing.

Miss Larson closed a very successful term of school in the Marshall district last Saturday and returned to her home for a well earned vacation.

Artel Haskens purchased a dandy top buggy of Gruetzmacher Bros., last week. Now girls who will be the first one to ride in it. Don't all speak as once.

G. L. Wellemeyer, the hustling proprietor of the Klemme TIMES, was out to Wm. Guth's last Thursday evening looking over the scenes of the sad tragedy mentioned below.

There was a large number of friends and relatives at Mrs. Guth's funeral to pay their last respects. The funeral was conducted by the M. W. A. of which Mr. Guth was an active member. Rev. Brenner preached the funeral sermon and the remains were tenderly laid to rest in the Klemme Cemetery. The family have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

Suicide By Hanging.

This community was terribly shocked Thursday, of last week, when news was received that Mrs. William Guth had committed suicide by hanging herself in the barn. In company with several others we went to the scene of the tragedy, and found that the report was but too true. The circumstances, as near as can be learned, are about as follows: Mr. and Mrs. Guth lived on their farm 4½ miles north-east of Klemme, and were rapidly accumulating about them the comforts of life, and the average people would have been happy and contented. Six children were born to them, three girls and three boys. The girls, bright and attractive, are living, but the boys have always been claimed by death after a few short weeks or months of life. A couple of months ago when their last born, a son, was taken from them, the grief of the parents knew no bounds, and this is, supposedly, what led up to the fatal tragedy of last Thursday. Mr. Guth came to town after dinner, and the hired man was at work in the field. At the noon hour, while at dinner, Mrs. Guth seemed cheerful, and no act of hers fortold that she contemplated the rash act. What followed is best explained by the story of the little girl of seven years. After Mr. Guth and the hired man had left the house, the children were playing in the yard near the windmill, when the mother came out and asked for the hammer, with which they were playing. They were having a good time and refused to give it up, whereupon she proceeded to the well and attempted to take up the platform. Again she asked for the hammer, but the little one would not bring it, and was threat ened with death. Mrs. Guth then went into the barn, and went up the ladder into the hay-loft. The barn is a new, large structure, fitted with a hay fork, and far up in the gabel, about six and one-half feet below the hay carrier track is a platform, two feet wide and about six feet long. there is no ladder reaching this place, and to reach it, requires the agility and strength of man. How Mrs. Guth (she was a very large woman, weighing nearly 300 pounds,) succeeded in climbing to this platform will never be known, but she did, and then taking the trip rope, a quarter inch rope, she doubled it to seven strands, one end was tied to the track above, the other fastened about her neck, she stepped from the platform into—eternity. The little girls when they found what she had done, ran to the home of Jacob Bock, about a half mile away and summoned him. He came at once and cut the body down, but life was extinct. Others were then summoned and the body taken to the house. Mr. Guth was on his way home from town, when he was met and told of the death of his wife. What a sad blow to him! How much it means! The breaking up of the home; his little ones given over to the care of strangers. Apparently there was no cause, other than grief and melancholia over the loss of the son which led up to the rash act,—temporarily insane.

The coroner, Dr. A. J. Cole, of Britt was summoned and his verdict was, "that she came to her death by hanging," and everything went to show that she was alone when the act was accomplished. It is evident however that first she contemplated death by drowning in the well, but was frustrated in this by the children, although she did succeed in getting one plank up.

The funeral was held Saturday, the services being conducted by Rev. Brenner at the home.

The sympathy of the community is extended to the sorrowing husband, children, relatives and friends.

GOODELL

Elmer Kinney is in Wisconsin.

Mrs. Dr. Sowles returned from her visit at Marble Rock Saturday.

Mr. Floyd Williams' wife and little daughter are here visiting relatives.

Mrs. L. E. Butterfield visited friends at Garner and Concord Saturday.

Mrs. Oscar Garten visited friends at Garner the latter part of the week.

Seven families of our immediate vicinity moved to Canada, starting Monday, April 2nd.

L. J. Butterfield came over from Clarion to say farewell to his parents and sister's family.

The great law-suit is a thing of the past. Staack won the day, comments uncalled for. But who can withstand public opinion?

Mr. Candy sold his farm to Mett Avery. Wm. Burgess purchased 40 acres of Mett adjoining his farm, making it as fine a farm as can be seen in this section.

Mr. C. J. Boughton and wife, O. P. Butterfield, and wife and A. J. Weddle and wife were entertained at W. O. Butterfield's Monday evening. It was very sad for Mrs. C. J. Boughton to bid good-bye to some of her very nearest kin, as she is quite aged and has no hope of meeting them again in life. 1500 miles is a long journey. The trip was made in tourist car chartered for the occasion.

A CAR LOAD OF FURNITURE
JUST RECEIVED.

Call and see our new stock of FURNITURE.

E. P. SCHAEFER,
Klemme, Iowa

POSITIONS SECURED!

We aid those who want Government positions. 85,000 places under Civil Service Rules. 8000 yearly appointments. Prepares by mail for all Government examinations. Fees cash or instalments. A thorough and scientific course in all departments. Requires spare time only, Salaries twice as much as private firms for the same kind of work. The hours of labor are short, duties light, positions for life. Take our course of study and we guarantee that you will pass the Civil Service Examinations. Write, inclosing stamp, for our catalogue describing course to

BUREAU OF CIVIL SERVICE INSTRUCTION, WASHINGTON, D. C.

It Costs you Nothing

To examine our Complete Stock of Building Material and be convinced that you cannot do better elsewhere.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO.
L. G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST. ....SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

WALL PAPER,

Paints, Oils, Alabastine, Window Shades and Everything used to Decorate and Beautify the Home.

WATCHES, CLOCKS and JEWELRY.

DRUGGISTS' SUNDRIES. J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

The Klemme Times.

G. L. WELLEMEYER, Pub.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

Admiral Sampson knows how to sympathize with the Englishmen who want to give all the glory of "Bobs'" movements to "Tugela" Buller.

When John D. Rockefeller wishes to get even with a critical public he gives Dr. Harper a lump sum on condition that the doctor takes a similar sum out of Standard Oil company traducers.

How soon the electric car has become "the carriage of the people!" An official report says that in Massachusetts there are one thousand seven hundred and thirty-five miles of street railway, and that only four miles of track are now traversed by horses.

Congress is to be asked to appropriate a considerable sum for the Philadelphia mint, including boilers, engines, dynamos, pneumatic tools, lifts, telephones and machine tools, coal handling machinery, motors, etc., as well as a fine equipment of machinery connected directly with the coinage of money. It is thought that within a few years the mint may be relied upon to produce most of the machinery and appliances for all the United States mints.

After all, it takes a woman to show us how to do things. She knows. No one ever hears of her forming an organization of "woman" employes. Not any. She gets the right word. Her latest organization is the "Lady Bookkeepers' Union." Now let us have the "Amalgamated Association of Gentlemen Clerks," the "Brotherhood of Locomotive Firegentlemen" and other similar organizations just to show that the various trades, business and professional gentlemen are not behind the times.

An interesting question has recently been raised in the navy department and the comptroller for the treasury has been called upon to decide the same. Officers of the navy are undecided whether, under the naval personnel act, they are still allowed the privilege of having enlisted men of the navy act as their servants. Secretary Long has written the comptroller a long letter, in which he argues that there is nothing in the act which prohibits such service being accepted from enlisted men. The subject has not yet been decided in the treausry department.

It is not always possible to account for the fluctuations in the world of finance. Not long ago, without any apparent cause, the stringency of the foreign money market was so great that there was danger of disaster to some of the largest moneyed institutions of Europe. But as suddenly as the danger threatened, it disappeared and the rate of interest was lowered in Great Britain, France and Germany. These changes were inexplicable, but for the time being the American gold balance was drawn upon, and in fact the outward flow of gold has not entirely ceased yet. But this country is in a financial condition to sustain any drafts that Europe may make upon it.

In an article in the Comptes Rendus MM. Prevost and Battelli describe 270 experiments which were made upon dogs, rabbits and guinea pigs, the animals being inserted in a condenser circuit, charged by a Ruhmkorff. The number of fatal cases decreased with increasing weight and age; two consecutive discharges of 1,000 joules did not kill a dog of seven kilograms weight. Quickly consecutive discharges have an accumulative effect, but are comparatively less fatal than single discharges. Five phases are distinguished in the effects; general muscular contraction, convulsions, spasms, general inhibitions of the nervous system, stoppage of the heart's action; young guinea pigs cannot be revived even after the second phase by artificial respiration.

One of the Midway Islands visited by the United States expedition making surveys for the Pacific cable, is described as inhabited by an almost incredible number of sea birds. Upon fully one-half of the surface of the island the sand was literally covered with them, and the noise of the winged host astonished the visitors. A few land-birds were mingled here and there among them. The picture of abundant bird life will attract the notice of the ruthless destroyers who seem bent on exterminating our contemporaries of the air, and who soon will be sighing for more bird worlds to conquer. The Midway albatross, it seems, refused to retreat before the invader, and bravely faced the foe. If the power of defence were once given to the birds in fuller measure, their revolt against plumage-hunters might stop the threatened massacre.

Iowa News

THE body of Nels Nelson, a miner of Hiteman, was found hanging to a tree near that place a few days ago. It is supposed to be a case of suicide, but no cause therefor is known.

AT Cherokee in the case of the state of Iowa vs. Charles Mace, charged with rape, the jury, after being out for fifteen hours, returned a verdict of not guilty, and the defendant was discharged.

THE famous Lyons county bond case has been solved by the county supervisors issuing $145,000 of new bonds to settle all judgments. This ends the litigation which has been in progress for years.

JUDGE BURNHAM, of the district court of Marshall county, handed down his decision in the validity of the saloon petition, as appealed from the board of supervisors' ruling to the district court, and ruled it to be sufficient, thus establishing beyond a doubt the right of Marshalltown's eighteen saloons to operate without molestation.

A SERIOUS stabbing affray occurred at Fort Dodge a few nights ago in which Joe Fallon stabbed Will Ainsworth. The stabbing was the result of an election difference culminating in a street fight. Ainsworth was stabbed in the left side, just below the heart. Fallon waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury under $1,000 bonds.

THE long expected trouble between contractors and members of the building trades at Des Moines came to a head a few days ago and the carpenters, painters and building laborers renewed the demands for an advance made some time ago. In most cases the demands were refused and the men went out, refusing to work until the new scale is granted.

THE first boats of the season passed through the Dubuque draw a few days ago, all upward bound. There were five of them and all were after logs, for which there is great need at the saw mills at Dubuque and below. The lumber yards along the river were never so short of stock as they are at present, and all the mills will start up at the first opportunity.

LAST Saturday morning Riverton was visited by the worst fire in twenty years. Several business houses on Main street were totally destroyed. They were occupied as follows: M. O. Story, general store; John Smith & Co., clothing; J. F. Lewis, photograph gallery; Charles Boardman, barber; S. C. Hatton, physician; O. P. Gilson, restaurant. Most of the parties carried some insurance.

J. N. MILLER ceased his official relations with the state of Iowa as superintendent of the Industrial School for Girls at Mitchellville a few days ago. Mr. Miller is succeeded by an experienced institution man, Mr. Fitzgerald, of Eldora, for a number of years connected with the school for boys at that place. Mr. Fitzgerald has had over twenty years' experience in institution work. He was selected by the board as the best qualified man in sight and especially as one who has had experience with some of the problems presented at Mitchellville.

JUDGE PROUTY, of Polk county has filed for record his opinion in the contempt proceedings brought against a number of saloon keepers several weeks ago by the attorneys for the temperance people and J. D. Laws. The decision is one of the most important that has been rendered in the Polk county courts in years on account of its far reaching effect. It holds that all injunctions granted against saloon keepers in Polk county prior to the enactment of the new code on October 1, 1897, are invalid because of the changes in the liquor laws, and it follows that every one of the 7,000 injunctions in the ninety-nine counties of the state are invalid.

ONE night last week James Daugherty, one of the most prominent and well-to-do farmers of Webster county, was waylaid and brutally assaulted by robbers near the poor farm, south of Fort Dodge. He was returning from a business trip to Moorland and was confronted by two men walking in the road. One grappled the horses' heads and the other sprang into the wagon and began beating him. He was struck in the mouth and on the head with a club and his assailants tried to stab him. His clothing was searched for money, but only a small sum was obtained, as he had just deposited largely in the Moorland bank. Alone and half conscious, Daugherty managed to find his way home, where he is now lying in a critical condition.

A. L. RICHARDS fell off the top of a box car in the railway yards at Sioux City a few days ago and was run over by the cars and fatally injured. He arrived in Sioux City that morning with a car load of horses en route from the Black Hills to LaCrosse, Wisconsin. While in the city he drank a good deal, and was in this condition when the accident occurred. He is a young man and very little is known of him.

FIVE boys, 12 to 14 years old, were arrested at Dubuque a few days ago, charged with entering buildings and stealing metal fixtures and other goods. The robberies have been going on for months. The boys sold the goods to a junk dealer named Beyer, who shipped them to Chicago. He was jailed in default of bail. The robbers were also bound over. Thousands of dollars worth of goods have been taken.

THE three indictments which have been hanging over the head of E. P. Stone, the missing cashier of the Sioux City Savings Bank, have been dismissed on motion of the county attorney. In 1896 Stone skipped out from Sioux City, following the failure of the bank, and an examination showed that he had forged paper to the amount of $20,000. All efforts to find him were of no avail, and finally attempts were given up.

FIRE broke out in the coal sheds in the Northwestern yards at Council Bluffs a few days ago, and before the blaze could be extinguished it destroyed the coal sheds, the sand house and the water tank, causing a loss to the railroad company of several thousand dollars. The loss of the sheds full of coal and the water tank will also seriously inconvenience the supplying of the Northwestern engines that start their runs from Council Bluffs.

THE 14-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Wright, living near Old Mines, three miles from Colfax, met with a horrible death a few days ago. She was burning off the grass and rubbish about their grounds when her clothing took fire and her body almost burned to a crisp before the flames were put out, the flesh dropping from her neck and shoulders. Her face and head, however, escaped the flames. She lived about three hours after the terrible accident occurred

THE Monona county board of supervisors have dealt a fatal blow to the proposed Woodbury-Monona drainage ditch by voting not to permit the construction of the same. Governor Shaw and several large Woodbury county land owners were much interested in the scheme to drain the Missouri low lands, and they labored hard and often to carry the scheme through. Woodbury county had granted the desired permission, but Monona has set its foot down, probably until a new board of supervisors is elected.

IN the federal court at Cedar Rapids a few days ago Judge Shiras granted a permanent order in the habeas corpus proceedings against Agent Malin and Superintendent Nellis by Lelah-Puc-Ka-Chee for illegally restraining her of her liberty. Attorney Lamb, of Toledo, obtained a temporary writ from Judge Shiras last January and secured the release of Lelah-Puc-Ka-Chee from the Indian boarding school, where she alleged she was being held against her will. Under the order filed by Judge Shiras, the Indians are given their full freedom, and between the lines can be read an order to Malin and Nellis to proceed according to the instructions of the department hereafter.

LOUIS GAUDARD, aged 63 years, was probably fatally wounded by robbers one day last week. Mr. Gaudard lived alone in a small shanty seven miles southwest of Lenox. His shanty is situated near the timber in a lonely place a quarter of a mile back from the road. He has been carrying $1,600 on his person for some time, as he did not wish to invest it until after his property had been assessed. It is supposed that the robbers came to his house and meeting with resistance shot the old man and then fled. He remained in the house unconscious for twenty-four hours. On reviving he called at a neighbor's a mile away and told his story. The doctors say he will die. The burgiars failed to get his money.

ONE of the most stubbornly contested election cases ever known in north central Iowa was settled at Fort Dodge last week, when Judge Caswell rendered a decision declaring J. A. Lindquist treasurer of Webster county by a majority of seventy-four votes. Lindquist is the present incumbent and a republican. The contestant was Henry Cox, democratic candidate. The original count resulted in a tie, but the recount gave Lindquist thirteen majority. Cox then gave notice of an appeal, and for three days the district court canvassed the returns. The result was startling to the politicians, the court throwing out as illegal 1,100 ballots in a total vote of 5,000. Mr. Cox announces that he will accept the finding and not appeal to the supreme court.

CONGRESS.

SENATE

Washington, April 3.—The senate spent the entire day in discussion of the Porto Rican bill. Bate of Tennessee made the principal speech against the bill. Spooner, Cullom and Depew defended it.

HOUSE.

A possible reduction of the war taxes was foreshadowed in a resolution adopted by the house calling upon the secretary of the treasury for information as to the probable surplus existing revenue laws would create during this and the coming fiscal year. The day was devoted to District of Columbia business.

SENATE.

Washington, April 3.—The president to-day nominated Smith McPherson of Iowa to be United States district judge for the southern district of Iowa. The senate today passed the Porto Rican tariff bill by a vote of 40 to 31 All amendments except committee amendments were voted down, and the free trade amendment by Nelson was defeated, 33 to 41.

HOUSE.

A bill was passed to allow men who served during the Spanish war or Philippine insurrection in the army, navy, or marine corps, who enter lands under homestead act, to deduct time of such service from a period required to perfect the title. The house then went into a committee on the whole to consider the Hawaiian civil government bill. The debate was in committee of the whole and only three of the six speeches were pertinent to the bill.

SENATE.

Washington, April 4.—The senate agreed to take up the Quay case to-morrow and the Spooner Philippine bill was made unfinished business. Eighty-one pension bills were passed.

HOUSE

Debate on the Hawaiian bill again occupied the time of the house. The Kentucky situation was discussed by Wheeler and Pugh of Kentucky, and for a time there was great excitement and considerable feeling.

SENATE

Washington, April 5.—Gallinger of New Hampshire presented an argument against seating Quay. A bill to increase the efficiency of the subsistence department of the United States army was passed. Bill to incorporate the National White Cross of America was also passed. In executive session the Hay Pauncefote treaty was taken up and Davis, Platt of Connecticut, Stewart and Morgan delivered addresses.

HOUSE.

The house did not finish the bill to provide territorial government for Hawaii to-day. When the hour fixed for taking a vote, 4 o'clock, arrived, less than half the bill had been covered and so many amendments remained that it was agreed to continue the consideration of the bill under the five-minute rule until finished.

SENATE.

Washington. April 6.—During the greater part of the session the senate had under consideration the Indian appropriation bill. Sullivan, of Mississippi, delivered a speech in favor of the seating of Hon. M. S. Quay.

HOUSE

The house passed the substitute for the senate bill providing for a territorial form of government for Hawaii. Hill, of Connecticut, tried to secure the adoption of two amendments, one providing for a resident commissioner instead of a delegate in congress, and the other declaring that the act should be interpreted as a pledge of statehood. Both failed.

SENATE.

Washington, April 7.—During almost the entire session an amendment to the Indian appropriation bill offered by Jones of Arkansas, providing for the continuance of the government's employment of the contract Indian schools, in certain circumstances, was under consideration. The debate took a wide range, the whole question of sectarian schools being gone over at length. The amendment was pending when the senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

The house to-day paid tribute to the memory of the late Representative R. P. Bland of Missouri, popularly known as "Silver" Bland, who was a member of the house for twenty-six years. Splendid eulogies on the life and career of the great champion of silver were offered by members on both sides of the political aisle. At the conclusion of the ceremonies the house as a further mark of respect, adjourned.

THE LEGISLATURE.

SENATE.

Des Moines, April 6.—These bills were passed: Reducing the per capita support fund at Clarinda from $13 to $12, and providing for the using of this money saved at the Cherokee hospital and permitting the board of control to use an unexpended balance of $3,000 for water supply at the Cherokee hospital; extending the Australian ballot system to school elections; the omnibus appropriation bill, providing for the salaries of state officers and other state expenses and carrying an appropriation of $278,534.07. Resolutions were adopted thanking Lieutenant-Governor Milliman, Secretary Newman and the other officers of the senate for their faithful services and President Milliman then, in a brief speech, declared the senate adjourned sine die.

HOUSE.

Among bills passed were these: Prohibiting manufacture of pearl buttons and butter tubs in penitentiaries; increasing the amount allowed for conveying children to and from school in counties having the central plan from $5 to $10; providing that in case of failure to agree on arbitrators the insured may, upon giving 24 hours notice to the insurance company, appeal to the clerk of the district court, who shall name such arbitrator; providing that a creditor as well as an heir may be made a beneficiary in an insurance policy; permitting the board of control to use unexpected balances of appropriations as they may desire. The house passed a resolution of appreciation of the fair, impartial and inteligent manner in which Speaker Bowen presided over the work of the session and presented him with a chair. The speaker briefly thanked the members and wished them the blessings of the earth and a long happy life. A resolution by Eaton providing for the janitors and employes of the state house was passed; The employees of the house presented Speaker Bowen with a gold-headed cane, Mr. Temple making the presentation speech.

GATACRE ENGAGES BOERS.

Result of the Engagement is Not Known in London.

BLOEMFONTEIN, April 5.—General Gatacre had an engagement with the enemy at Reddersburg yesterday. Details of the affair have not yet been received here.

LONDON, April 8.—No news was issued by the war office last night. None was received from the front except that from Bloemfontein, dated April 5, relating to the engagement of General Gatacre at Reddersburg, which seems to have been held back by the censor. It will be remembered that Lord Roberts in reporting the "unfortunate occurrence" at Reddersburg said that General Gatacre had arrived there on the morning of April 4. Hence, he may have succeeded in engaging the Boers later in the day. It is strange, however, that General Gatacre's subsequent movements have not been mentioned in Lord Roberts's other dispatches, the last of which was dated the evening of April 6.

GENERAL OTIS WILL COME HOME.

Will Be Relieved of Command in the Philippines May 1.

WASHINGTON, April 9.—Gen. Otis has been formally relieved of the command of the United States forces in the Philippines and of the Eighth army corps. This action is taken in response to the request of Otis, who gave the urgency of private business as his reasons for asking to be relieved. General MacArthur will succeed Otis as military governor.

STORYETTES.

At a time of crisis in foreign affairs the Princess Mary Adelaide, Duchess of Teck, was seated at dinner next Mr. Disraeli. She was anxious to understand the apparent inaction of the government, and asked him suddenly: "What are we waiting for?" He took up the menu, glanced at it, and gravely replied: "Mutton and potatoes, ma'am."

Sir Augustus Harris once settled the pitch question in his own off-hand fashion. A famous prima donna of his opera company came to him complaining that the piano used for vocal rehearsals was too high, and asking that it might be lowered. "Certainly," replied Druiolanus, with a bow; "here, Forsyth, have a couple of inches sawn off the legs of this piano."

In the Plymouth congregation, during Henry Ward Beecher's pastorate, there was at one time a woman who had a harsh voice and a stiff manner of speaking, and her long-drawn-out, dull discourses wearied the congregation. At last Mr. Beecher, too, reached the limit of endurance, and one evening, when she sat down, after talking nearly half an hour, he arose, and in his deep tones said, slowly: "Nevertheless, I still believe in women speaking in meeting." She spoke no more.

The late Archbishop of York (Dr. Magee) made an eloquent speech in the house of lords in opposition to Gladstone's bill for the disestablishment of the Irish church. Incidentally he said that he "could not consider it as consistent with the salvation of his immortal soul to vote for the bill." A moment later, one peer who was coming into the house inquired of another who was going out: "Who is on his feet now?" The outgoing peer, who stammered, replied: "Archbishop M-M-Magee is t-t-talking against the d-d-d-disestablishment of the Irish church." "What does he say?" "He says he'll be d-d-d—d if he votes for the bill."

A new automatic machine gun is being tested by the United States army. It weighs only twelve pounds, can be carried by one man, and fires 450 shots a minute.

In museums the use of formalin as a preservative for specimens is increasing.

A Liverpool physician has discovered the baccillus of pinkeye in horses.

Duplicity of conduct will not win implicity of confidence.

Beware the fury of the patient man.

1900=1901

A DAILY PAPER FOR $1 A Year

The Des Moines Daily News

Is sent to mail subscribers for $1.00 a year, 75 cents for six months, 50 cents for three months, 25 cents for one month, cash in advance. It is always stopped when the subscription expires.

The Daily News

Is a member of the Associated Press and prints ALL THE NEWS of Iowa, America and the world, in condensed form for busy readers. Its market reports are received by telegraph every day and are the latest and most reliable.

This is Presidential Year and every intelligent Iowan, after subscribing for a good local paper, should have a first class daily paper, containing the state, general and foreign news. The Des Moines DAILY NEWS meets these requirements, yet costs less than one-third the price of other papers containing no more news.

The Des Moines News Junior

Is a department of Saturday's DAILY NEWS. It is the favorite children's paper of Iowa. The NEWS JUNIOR gives as prizes each week two large, handsomely framed pictures as prizes for English composition. One of these pictures goes to Des Moines and one outside of Des Moines, and they are hung in the school rooms of the winners, with cards bearing the names of the winners. Handsome buttons are presented to the successful writers. The NEWS JUNIOR is alone worth the price of the paper. The NEWS JUNIOR topics are used in hundreds of Iowa schools.

The Daily News

Will keep you well informed on all the events of the day. It is the best paper for the business man, the farmer, the professional man and the workingman and for their families.

Send $1.00 Today

and you will receive the DAILY NEWS for a whole year, postage prepaid. Address

THE NEWS,
Des Moines, Iowa.

KING DON:

A STORY OF MILITARY LIFE IN INDIA.

...BY MAVOR ALLAN.....

CHAPTER III.—(Continued.)

"Pardon me," said Don—and now he was so thoroughly in earnest it never occurred to him the accusation might justly have been brought against him not so very long ago—"I love Lillie too much to have dreamed of taking her from luxuries to which she is accustomed. She loves me, and I repeat my right to claim her."

He tossed away the stump of his cigar and turned to look at his companion with haughty defiance—that proud air of majesty which had put fear and trembling into the heart of many a raw recruit.

But Captain Derwent was no raw recruit, but a very veteran in affairs of love and war, and he could afford to meet Don's calm nonchalance with an equally calm smile.

"My dear chap, I'm extremely sorry; but the child is under age just yet, and as I happen to have mapped out a more brilliant career for her, I'm afraid I must emphatically veto that claim of yours."

"A more brilliant career?" repeated Don, with young indignation. "Even if you are callous to my feelings, Captain Derwent, have you no care for Lillie's happiness? For I tell you she loves me," attested the lover proudly.

"And, as frequently occurs, it's a lady's privilege to change her mind," rejoined Lillie's father, smiling. "As, for example, my little Lillie's short-lived affair with your Cousin Roddy, not so many years since."

"It is sufficiently long since to have completely changed the Lillie of those days to the Lillie of to-day," said Don, who, however skeptical himself of that faith whose belief had so transformed the thoughtless Lillie of the past, was sincere enough to acknowledge its charm in her.

"She loves me as she never loved Roddy," affirmed Don, in his imperious way; "and," he added, meeting Captain Derwent's eyes with a look that was like the flashing of crossed swords, "I mean to win her."

"Don't be too sure, my friend," said the Captain, laughing. "I give you the hint, you'll have Prince Clement Sing to reckon with as well as myself."

Don stopped and wheeled round upon his companion, fierce words bursting through his set teeth, an oath all the more vehement because Don's lips were not given to the utterance of them.

"What do you mean, sir? he demanded.

"That you are by no means the only fellow who has set his heart on possessing the white Lily," said Captain Derwent, uttering the pet name with airy jocularity.

But Don was in no humor for joking.

"I think," he said, in a proud scorn, "it is somewhat unfair to bracket me with Prince Clement Sing. I am in deadly earnest about my desire to marry your daughter."

"And so is he, my good fellow—so much in earnest, in fact, that he has my permission to pay his addresses to her—may be doing so this very minute, indeed," broke off Captain Derwent lightly.

For an instant Don glared at the speaker in speechless amazement.

"You cannot mean it!" was the hoarse exclamation which at last came from his white lips.

"And wherefore?" queried the other, with aggravating coolness. "Though an Indian, he is by no means a pariah. Truth is, he has Irish blue blood in him, and could hold his own with the best of us as far as classics go. Moreover he is as rich as Croesus, has immense influence at Court; he worships the very ground she treads on, and would make her a princess."

Again Don stopped short in his walk, and now his face showed pale as death. "I would kill him and you too before that should ever happen!" he cried.

CHAPTER IV.

Strange to say, it was almost at that self-same moment Lillie Derwent at Rawal Pindi, was listening to Prince Clement Sing's suit. The afternoon siesta, so general and necessary an indulgence throughout India, was over, and some hour and a half later Lillie was returning from a ride, attended by her native groom, when she was joined at the gate of the compound by the Prince, who was also on horseback, and escorted by two native troopers.

The fierce heats and moist seasons of India had not as yet robbed Lillie's cheeks of their English roses, and she was looking particularly fair in her plain brown holland habit, beautifully cut and braided with white, pleasantly suggestive of comfort and coolness.

Her hat was a large white straw, with a long, white ostrich feather, which suited to perfection her clear-cut profile and the thick coils of her fair hair. Her light riding gauntlets were of white deerskin, and the Prince's admiration of the hand so covered was only too evident by the pressure he bestowed upon it.

He himself wore white undress uniform and a sun hat, so like a mushroom that it would have been trying in the extreme to an ordinary wearer, but seemed to set off his dark, good-looking features with an air of distinction.

Indeed, Prince Clement Sing was an acquisition to society, both in personal appearance and high intellectual standing; and Lillie would gladly have welcomed the diversion of his company but that she was consumed by the fear that his visit portended to matters concerning herself.

And she was not long in discovering such to be the case.

"You did not honor the course, today, Miss Derwent. I looked for you in vain," he said.

"No. I was in a mood for a solitary ride," she answered.

"I trust that does not mean my presence is inopportune, dear lady?"

She smiled, blushing slightly.

"By no means, Prince, for now my ride is over," was her polite reply.

"Then I may venture to invite myself indoors, I hope," he queried.

'I am not quite sure if you will find Mrs. Franklin at home," she began. But Prince Clement Sing looked straight at her, with a glance from his black eyes that brought the color flooding to her face.

"Your presence is all-sufficient," he said, bowing low, as he swerved his horse aside to allow her to pass through the gate before him.

Arrived at the bungalow, he waved the attendant back and himself assisted her to alight, a condescension which embarrassed her all the more, as the prince took occasion to command that Mrs. Franklin should not be summoned for the next quarter of an hour, as it was with Lillie herself he desired a private interview.

Lillie passed into the drawing room, alarmed at what she instinctively knew was to be the subject of that interview; but fearful to give offense by refusing it.

And when the prince joined her it was apparent he meant to waste no time in going straight to her mission.

He had left his sword and belt in the vestibule and removed his gloves, and now he took his hostess' hand and led her to a seat, with a deferential ceremony.

"Ah, there is the evening gun!" she exclaimed, for the desperate sake of saying something to break the strain. "In ten minutes more it will be dark."

"Ah, yes; we have no enthralling twilight as you have in England, Miss Derwent," he answered softly, and with a tone of regret meant to be covertly flattering to her nationality. "Well, no matter, ten minutes will suffice me to say what—ah, what I would have said to you long before today, but that I feared to be precipitate."

"Then I am sure, prince, it is best left unsaid still," she answered, with great earnestness.

"Surely you do not forbid me to speak?" He regarded her haughtily.

"I should not presume to do that," she hastily rejoined. "I merely entreat—"

"What?" he asked, with cold displeasure, for she had stopped short, flushing.

"I feel sure your highness means to be kind and friendly and flattering; but—but—" Again she hesitated.

Prince Clement Sing looked down, frowning, and a dark flush swept his copper-tinted face.

"But you do not esteem it an honor, I presume, that I should love you?" There was asperity in his voice.

"Too great an honor," she averred.

His frown and flush passed. He bent towards her and took her hand.

"The honor is divided," he said gallantly. "If I give you the crown of a princess, you give me the fairest flower of English maidenhood—a flower that all the jewels in India could not buy."

She tried to withdraw her hand.

"Your highness flatters me too much; but what you ask is impossible," she said, very low.

He rose with an air of impatience.

"Impossible, you say, and to me?"

She rose also.

"I venture to hope to retain your friendship, prince, as I trust you will not reject mine?"

"Friendship?" he repeated.

He dropped her hand almost roughly and strode to the window.

At last he turned. "This is insufferable!" he said, and now there was passion in his voice. 'I have your father's permission to address you, and I demand a hearing!"

"But you have already addressed me, and I have listened," she said, trembling, but outwardly calm. "I am overcome by your highness' condescension, but I could never be your wife. I do not love you. And besides"—she looked down, blushing, at the gold band encircling the third finger of her left hand—"and besides, since my father left Pindi, I have become engaged to Capt. Gordon of the Derbys."

The instant her lover's name had left her lips she regretted it.

How might not a baffled suitor like the prince wield his high authority to wreak vengeance on another aspirant to her hand?

But Prince Clement Sing was regarding her with a look more akin to pity than anger in his piercing eyes.

"And you would relinquish the splendor I lay at your feet for Capt. Gordon?" he said, in tones of incredulity.

"Because I love him," she answered bravely, looking up into his face, while a wave of crimson color made her own fair features for the moment even more bewitchingly fair to look upon.

Prince Clement Sing was having hard work with himself to keep his admiration within bounds, and the sight of that blush all but overcame his self-control. But his English education had done much to subdue his naturally fiery spirit, and he knew success lay, not in passion, but perseverance.

"But, Miss Derwent, much as I admire your constancy—and, of course, so long as you consider yourself engaged to Capt. Gordon my lips are practically closed—still, I am driven to remind you love is not everything. Position and rank are something. A lady is privileged to change her mind." He stopped, and she seized the opportunity of speaking.

"I shall never change, Prince Clement. After my God, there is nothing ranks higher with me than love."

He took her hand, smiling a little to hide his chagrin.

"Then my only hope must be that love will yet take pity and yield your heart to my prayers."

"Again I repeat it is impossible; but I thank you for the great compliment you have paid me," she said. "I trust, Prince Clement, you will forgive and forget me."

"No, I cannot promise to forget you," was all his reply. He stood for an instant then, looking half away, half mortified, almost as if uncertain if he should part with her in this seeming friendliness or in open rupture.

The former course evidently prevailed, for he bent over the hand he held, and his thick, black moustache brushed its snowy whiteness.

"If I can ever be of service to you, you may rely on me," he said. And bowing low again in response to Lillie's farewell, he passed from the room with steady steps and head erect. But hidden deep down in his breast was the gathering fury of a maelstrom.

Within the drawing room, Lillie went to the window overlooking the terrace, and, screened by the bamboo and silk curtains, watched him mount and ride away.

Her heart was beating wildly, not with exultation at the honor the prince had done her, and which, not so many years ago, would have filled her coquettish vanity with delight—no; but with strange feelings of unrest, with regret, and with presentiment of evil.

She fell on her knees in the gathering darkness, and a great yearning came over her for the fair English home of her youth, and her father and Don by her side in its beloved sanctity. And, all unconsciously, whilst she prayed for their speedy return, hot tears welled up into her eyes and fell on her clasped hands. Alas! for she knew not how great was yet to be her need of those prayers and tears!

(To be continued.)

To Keep Glasses On.

"Isn't it strange," said Mr. Burton, while in a reminiscent mood, "how discoveries are made? Of course, that is a general statement, but to the case in question. I wear glasses, as you know, but I found great trouble in keeping them on. They were continually following the laws of gravitation and falling to the floor. The trouble was that I did not have a bridge of size, and I spent money and time experimenting with different kinds of springs and claps and nose pieces, but all proved failures. Now, the other night I had an idea (that's all right, I am guilty of an idea once in a while) that if I would put some powdered rosin on my nose that would hold 'em for a while, so I accordingly hunted up my friend, the violinist, and, getting some rosin, made a test. Was it a success? Why, I can turn a handspring backward and those glasses are still doing business at the old stand."—Richmond Times.

STORYETTES.

The Cosmopolitan Club, of London, is housed in Watts's old studio, on the walls of which is a fresco of a nude woman. It was a standing joke of Stirling-Maxwell's to say to any inquirer into the subject of the picture: "You have no doubt heard of Watts's hymns; this is one of his hers."

Ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed, while in Washington recently, rode up to the capitol in an F street car. "What do you think of the Porto Rico tariff muddle?" asked the man who sat next to him. "I refuse to be quoted," answered Mr. Reed; "I have a reputation for piety and chaste language to preserve."

Sir Robert Peel was once going through a picture collection with a friend where there was a portrait of a prominent Englishman who was famous for saying sharp things. "How wonderfully like!" said the friend; "you can see the quiver on his lips." "Yes," replied Sir Robert, "and the arrows coming out of it."

They are telling a story in Chicago about an advance agent for the Thomas Orchestra who recently went to New Orleans to book dates for concerts. He was told that it would be well for him first to talk the matter over with a wealthy woman who is a leader in the musical circles of the city. So he called at her residence, and a ring brought out an old negro, who took the caller's card, on which was printed the legend, "Representing the Thomas Orchestra." Presently a young woman came to the door holding the card in her hand. She did not seem to understand the object of the call. The agent attempted to explain, but was cut short by the young woman, who said: "I don't think we want any music to-day."

In the midst of one of General Forrest's campaigns a captured federal chaplain was brought to his headquarters. The man showed the deepest anxiety and depression, for stories of General Forrest's severity were rife in the union camp. A little later supper was announced, and Forrest, to the chaplain's surprise, invited him to share it; but his surprise grew to amazement when the general turned to him reverently and said: "Parson, will you please ask the blessing?" The next morning Forrest courteously gave him an escort through the confederate lines, for he wished no non-combatants for prisoners, and bade him good-bye with the remark: "Parson, I would keep you here to preach for me if you weren't needed so much more by the sinners on the other side."

How's This?

We offer One Hundred Dollars reward for any case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Props., Toledo, O.

We, the undersigned, have known F. J. Cheney for the last 15 years and believe him perfectly honorable in all business transactions and financially able to carry out any obligations made by their firm.

West & Truax, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, O.; Walding, Kinnan & Marvin, Wholesale Druggists, Toledo, Ohio.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Testimonials sent free. Price 75c per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Some people are radical in theory but conservative in action.

A MOTHER'S STORY.

Tells About Her Daughter's Illness and How She was Relieved—Two Letters to Mrs. Pinkham.

"MRS. PINKHAM:—I write to tell you about my daughter. She is nineteen years old and is flowing all the time, and has been for about three months. The doctor does her but very little good, if any. I thought I would try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, but I want your advice before beginning its use. I have become very much alarmed about her, as she is getting so weak."—MRS. MATILDA A. CAMP, Manchester Mill, Macon, Ga., May 21, 1899.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—It affords me great pleasure to tell you of the benefit my daughter has received from the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. After beginning the use of your medicine she began to mend rapidly and is now able to be at her work. Her menses are regular and almost painless. I feel very thankful to you and expect to always keep your Vegetable Compound in my house. It is the best medicine I ever knew. You have my permission to publish this letter if you wish, it may be the means of doing others good."—MRS. MATILDA A. CAMP, Manchester Mill, Macon, Ga., September 18, 1899.

PENSION JOHN W. MORRIS, Washington, D. C. Successfully Prosecutes Claims. Late Principal Examiner U.S. Pension Bureau. 3 yrs in civil war, 15 adjudicating claims, atty since.

THE NEWEST NOVELTY IN LINK BUTTONS

Put on or taken off in an instant. Does not soil the cuff or tear the button-hole. They retail for $1.00, sample pair direct from manufacturer 25 cents. Will send circulars of other patented specialties with order. Money refunded if not satisfactory.

Patented. Klein Mfg. Co., Milwaukee, Wis.

PATENT SECURED OR FEE REFUNDED. Patent advertised free. Free advice as to patentability. Send for Inventor's Primer, free. MILO B. STEVENS & CO., Established 1864. 815 14th St., Washington, D. C. Branch Offices: Chicago, Cleveland and Detroit.

PLEASE TRY Cascarets CANDY CATHARTIC REGULATE THE LIVER 10c. 25c. 50c. All Druggists.

JO-HE

A NATURAL MAGNETIC OIL FROM TEXAS.

The most wonderful discovery of the age and a puzzle to the medical world. Rheumatism, acute paralysis, spinal affections, stiff joints, erysipelas, catarrh, yield to this Oil like magic and positively cures in 8 to 20 days. Sample can 50c, postpaid. 1000 testimonials FREE. AGENTS WANTED!

H. B. JONES SONS, - DALLAS, TEXAS.

DON'T PAY THREE PROFITS

No. 199 BUGGY $37.20.

If you are going to pay for a carriage why not pay the least you can for the best vehicle? Get all you can in material and workmanship—pay as little as you can for handling and extras. You save the jobber's commission and the retailer's profit when you buy direct from the factory. You pay the cost of making with one moderate profit added. We are not agents but manufacturers of buggies, carriages surreys, phaetons, wagons, harness. Everything guaranteed. With our illustrated catalogue you can order easily and safely. If what you order does not suit, send it back and we will pay the freight both ways. First, get the catalogue. You are welcome to a copy.

BROWN CARRIAGE COMPANY, DEPT. X, - - - DES MOINES, IOWA.

DIPHTHERIA

A Terrible Scourge to Humanity

No other disease is so deadly in its effect on the human system as DIPHTHERIA. It often baffles the skill of physicians and carries off our loved ones in spite of them. Several years ago a world-famous Physician gave to suffering humanity A SURE CURE FOR THIS DREAD DISEASE. In 15 years' practice He Never Lost a Single Case. This wonderful remedy is called MUCO-SOLVENT and we Guarantee it to Cure all Cases of Diphtheria, Scarlet Fever, Croup, Whooping Cough, Catarrh, Sore Throat, Measles, &c., &c., or refund the money. Read what those who have used it say of Muco-Solvent:

We buried two of our children from Diptheria, before we heard of Muco-Solvent. Then our five-year-old child was attacked with malignant diphtheria. We used Muco-Solvent and the result was a perfect recovery. My wife used Muco-Solvent as a preventive to herself and nursing baby during the epidemic, with perfect success.
AUGUST RABE, Polar, Wis.

I have used many remedies for my catarrh without avail, but after having used several bottles of your Muco-Solvent I can smell for the first time in thirty-five years.
Nov. 20, 1893. MRS. M. H. MOORE, Neenah, Wis.

Since the disease robbed me of my wife and daughter, I take especial interest in Muco-Solvent, which cures diphtheria. I have many times inconvenienced myself by going to infected districts to recommend its use. I know of hundreds of cases where it succeeded, but not one where it failed. Under my personal observation it successfully withstood the severest test on record in that shockingly fatal epidemic at Polar, Wis. Whole families of children were being wiped out. Those in charge had given up, disheartened. I induced the use of Muco-Solvent, after which fatalities ceased. Everybody used Muco-Solvent as a preventive. The epidemic was quickly stamped out. What it did there it can do everywhere and for everybody. D. G. FREEMAN.
Representative of Thos. G. Plant Co., Lynn, Mass.

MUCO-SOLVENT is sold at $1.00 a bottle, but in order to introduce it in every home we will, for the next 60 days, send a trial bottle, postpaid to any address for 25c. We will also send..... FREE TO ANYONE our elegant book, "CHATS WITH MOTHERS," with hundreds of testimonials including those of 51 prominent ministers who have used it. Sit down now and write us today. It costs you nothing. Every woman should read it

WE WANT GOOD AGENTS EVERYWHERE. Address,

MUCO-SOLVENT COMPANY,

356 Dearborn Street, - - CHICAGO, ILL.

See The Monarch

BICYCLES

The Best and Cheapest wheel on the market.

REPAIR YOUR WHEEL

Our Expert Tinner is able to put your old wheel in good repair quickly and cheaply.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

THE BEST GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS,

That can be purchased for money. you will find at my store. Bought in small quantities—We keep them coming every day—and they are always fresh.....

SHORT ORDER LUNCHES SERVED

YOURS FOR BUSINESS.

G. W. KLUCKHOHN, KLEMME IOWA.

WALL PAPER.

The largest stock and the very latest in Red, Green and Bronze colors.

PAINT.

We handle the Lion Brand. 1 gallon covers 300 square feet, two coats and it is guaranteed for five years. If it peals or cracks and comes off your building will be re-painted free of charge.

White Lead, Oils and Colors always kept in stock.

SHAFER & DOW.

General Merchandise Dealers,

KLEMME, IOWA.

Buy Your

Drugs, Paints, Wall Paper, Toilet Soap, Perfumery Books and Patent Medicines

At Amsden's Pharmacy

GARNER, IOWA.

FRED ARNOLD, PRES. C. H. WIEGMANN, V. P. F. A. ARNOLD, CASH.

STATE SAVINGS BANK,

OF KLEMME, IOWA.

CAPITAL $25 000 00, LOANS $40 000 00,

INSURANCE WRITTEN, LOANS NEGOTIATED, EXCHANGE BOUGHT AND SOLD.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits: Money Loaned on Real Estate: Foreign and Domestic Exchange Sold.....

DIRECTORS: FRED ARNOLD, C. H. WIEGMANN, H. W. GRUETZMACHER, CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, F. A. ARNOLD.

THE KLEMME TIMES

By G. L. WELLEMEYER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme, Iowa, as second class matter

Republican County Convettion,

The republican voters of Hancock county will meet in delegate convention at Britt, Iowa, on Wednesday, April 18, 1900, at 1 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of selecting ten delegates to the State convention, called for May 10, 1900, and to select delegates to a congressional convention to be called, and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention. The representation will be one delegate for each township and one for every twenty voters or major fraction thereof cast for Governor in 1899. The townships will be entitled to representation as follows;

Amsterdam	7	Ellington	7
Avery	7	Ell	5
Britt	21	Erin	5
Bingham	5	Garfield	3
Boone	4	German	4
Corwith Prec.	2	Magor	8
Concord	12	Madison	5
Crystal	6	Orthel	5

Twin Lakes—4

It is suggested that the caucuses be called for Saturday, April 14, 1900.

W. H. GOWDY, Chm.

J. W. KNADLER, Sec.

W. H. Shipman, Beardsley, Minn., under oath, says he suffered from dyspepsia for twenty five years. Doctors and dieting gave but little relief. Finally he used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and now eats what he likes and as much as he wants, and he feels like a new man. It digests what you eat. J. L. Harr.

Dr. Expediency finally succeeded not only in quieting the Senatorial patient but in making it look pleasant as it swallowed that dose of Porto Rico tariff medicine.

"No family can afford to be without One Minute Cough Cure. It will stop a cough and cure a cold quicker than any other medicine", writes C. W. Williams Sterling Run, Pa. It cures croup, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles and prevents consumption. Pleasant and harmless. J. L. Harr.

Berlin has been having a squeeze in the money market. Same cause that periodically gets Wall Street in hot water—overspeculation.

Having received a car load of furniture and undertaking goods, I am in shape to supply you with anything in the line of furniture etc.

G. F. SCHULER, Garner, Ia.

According to the President of the Porto Rican Tobacco Co., skilled labor is higher in Porto Rico than in the U. S. That statement will be a surprise to most Americans.

Cleanse the liver, purify the blood, invigorate the body by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pill always act promptly. J. L. Harr

Three burglars locked up four employes of a Belleville, Ill. brewery, in a refrigerator car, while they looted the safe. Quite a cool piece of business, eh?

"I think DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the best pills in the world," says W. E Lake, Happy Creek, Va. They remove all obstructions of the liver and bowels, act quickly and never gripe. J. L. Harr.

Massachusetts G. A. R. men and Virginia Confederate Veterans have been fraternizing on the battle fields near Petersburg.

Otto Korb, Grand Chancellor, K. P. Boonevi le, Ind., says, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve soothes the most delicate skin and heals the most stubborn ulcer with certain and good results." Cures piles and skin diseases. Don't buy an imitation. J. L. Harr.

Brazil supplies us with more tropical imports than any other country, having taken the place once occupied by Cuba.

W. W. Mayhew, Merton, Wis., says: "I consider One Minute Cough Cure a myst wonderful medicine, quick and safe." It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, grippe whooping cough, pneumonia and all throat and lung diseases. Its early use prevents consumption. Children always like it and mothers endorse it. J. L. Harr.

An attempt is being made in the Indiana courts to break up the glass trust, which has so far proved less easy to break than its products.

Agents on salary of $15.00 per week and expenses; the greatest agent seller ever produced; every stock and poultry raiser buys it on sight. Hustlers wanted. Refference. Address, with stamp, American Mfg. Co. Terre Haute, Ind.

KOERNER BROS.....

CARRY A FULL LINE OF

Builders Hardware,

Tools, Hay Carriers and Tracks, A fine line of Paints and Oils, "Record" Bicycles.

GROCERIES, CHINAWARE, GLASSWARE

Every purchase you make of us invites you to another because of Fairness of Dealing, the quality of the Article, and the Lowness of prices.

CARY SAFE CO.

BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.

..Manufacturers..

FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES

VAULTS, LOCKS, ETC.

CONTRACTORS to UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

We have the SCREENS,
You have the Flies;
You get our SCREENS,
And live pleasant lives,

We have the LARGEST stock of LUMBER in the county----also sell Lime, Plaster, Brick, & Cement

J. H. Queal & Co.

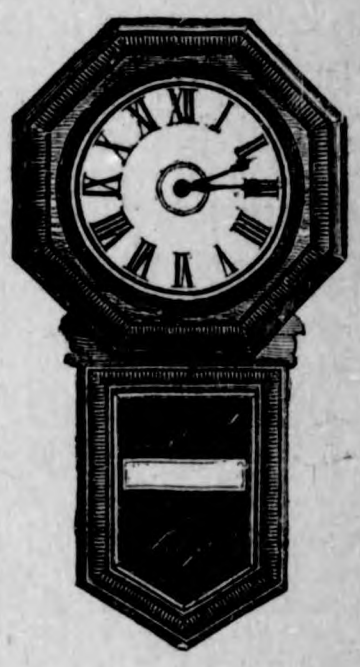
C. G. BRACHER, Agent.

SPRING SALE OF

CLOCKS

NOW GOING ON.

CLOCKS FROM $3.50 UP.



Notice!

Monday and Tuesday we are out of town canvassing for the Rogers Bros. Silverware. Balance of the week at the shop.

CHAS. F. H. SUCKOW.

H. W. SCHOPER,

FARM MACHINERY;

Buggies and Wagons, Corn Planters, Corn Plows, Champion Binders and Mowers.

TWINE.

RAT-SHOP PRINTING

does not give better satisfaction than does our own.

Who spends most money with U?

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hogs wanted six days in the week. W. R. Bloom.

Tom Blank's house is completed.

J. L. Harr was at Belmond Sunday.

Henry Lau was doing business at Garner Tuesday.

Aug. Lau returned Saturday from his Dakota trip.

Fresh garden seeds 8 packages for 25c at Harr's.

Harry Plotts is again helping agent Reese in the depot.

Bert Butterfield drove up from Goodell Monday morning.

Fred Wilkins, of Goodell, was a Klemme caller Saturday.

Get your screen doors and windows of J. H. Queal & Co.

Ed Haskin is working for Oscar Carlson in the livery barn.

Be sure and attend the caucus Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Gruetzmacher Bros. will soon erect a cottage for their tinner.

Buy your wall paper and paint at Harr's. Better and cheaper than ever. Reliable.

Frank Reese went to Belmond Sunday, for a short visit with home folks.

Geo. Erbes, of Burlington, Ia., visited a few hours with ye editor Saturday.

The first thunder storm of the season occured Sunday night; accompanied by a light rainfall.

The men about town wear a sort of woe-begone countenance these days—House cleaning time.

O. E. Schultz of Dunlap, Iowa, who visited his brother, L. G, Schultz for several days, returned home Tuesday.

W. O. Butterfield, of Goodell, is one of J. P. Larson's efficient carpenters. Mr. Larson has seven men at work.

Mesdames Henry and Charles Gruetzmacher and E. P. Schaefer are enjoying a visit from their mother, Mrs. Kaste.

Aug. Ridder is having a neat porch built on the east front of his house, which improves the looks of the place wonderfully.

Miss Lovering was at Meservey several days this week, with a large line of choice millinery, out of Miss Renziehausen's store.

Mrs. H. Kaste, who has been visiting her daughters in Klemme the past week, returned to her home at Charles City Monday.

Mrs. Ed Kluckhohn and children, of Garner, were visiting G. W. Kluckhohn and family a couple of days the fore part of the week.

Schroeder & Son have treated their butcher shop to a fresh coat of paint. It improves the looks of the building wonderfully.

The spasmotic effort of the Britt Tribune to keep pace with the Kanawha Record man is laughable. Come Bailey, ginger up!

J. F. Hartfelder and C. F. Clark have purchased the thoroughbred percheron stallion, Clampin, of Singmaster & Sons, of Keota, Iowa. See bills for particulars.

Great opportunity offered to good, reliable men. Salary of $15 per week and expenses for man with rig to introduce our Poultry Mixture and Insect Destroyer in the country. Send stamp, American Mfg. Co., Terre Haute Ind.

Oscar Carlson and Lewis Kaiser and their ladies drove to Garner to take in the show Tuesday evening.

Geo. Kluckhohn, Bert Crawford, Henry Schroeder and Art Gibbs took in the John Dillon show at Garner Tuesday evening.

A. M. Amsden, traveling representative of the Northern Lumber Co., was looking after the interests of the company at this place Wednesday.

Gruetzmacher Bros., have a new ad this week. Read it, and if you are contemplating getting a new bicycle, see them before you make your purchase.

Henry Lau of Klemme and G. Parks of Geneva, were at Garner Tuesday putting up a sample Milwaukee binder. If you are looking for a good harvester and binder, call and see this sample.

Joe Miller began painting last week, and we presume his smilface will be seen on our streets less frequent during the summer months. Joe is a good workman, and always has plenty to do.

If you are desirous of buying wall paper from sample books call at Harr's. He has samples outside of the trust, and will sell cheaper than any other parties in Hancock County, as he buys for cash.

The Epworth League entertainment at the church last Thursday evening was not very well attended. Too many other attractions was the principal cause, as the entertainment was aworthy one.

Lewis Weline has bought out a livery business at Kanawha. Lewis has many friends here who wish him the best of success. He is a first class young man, as the Kanawha people will learn, and is deserving of a share of their patronage.

We have placed a fine sample Milwaukee binder on exhibition at Garner, just south of Runzel's shoe store. If you want to see the best binder and harvester on earth, call and see this sample machine. See John Runtzel for prices. 1t. Lau Bros.

Through an oversight we failed to mention the school entertainment last week. The copy was written and as we supposed set up in type, and the omission was not discovered until the hour of going to press. The entertainment was a success in every way, and the library fund is richer by about $23.

The opening days of the millinery stores developed the fact that our ladies were pleased with the new styles of head-gear and many sales are reported. The designs are, indeed very beautiful, and nowhere can be shown better or more stylish designs, than in Klemme. Mrs. E. P. Schaefer and Miss Renziehausen are indeed to be congratulated on their individual successes.

Last Thursday evening Misses Huldah and Esther Gruetzmacher entertained a number of friends at their home, in honor of Miss Merrick, who was preparing to leave our town, after having very successfully managed our schools for two years past. There were about thirty young people present, and a very pleasant and enjoyable evening was spent with progressive crokinole, music and recitations. Light refreshments were served, and after it was no longer late, all departed, feeling sorry to lose Miss Merrick from their midst, and all agreeing that the Misses Gruetzmacher are charming entertainers.

Seed Grain!

I have a few hundred bushels of seed wheat, seed barley, seed flax and timothy seed. W. R. Bloom. tf.

GARNER.

Clarence Chase left for New York Saturday evening.

Some of the farmers hereabouts have begun their spring work.

Carrie S. Collins has gone to Chicago, to attend an optical college

The cold snap the first of the week reminded one that winter is not wholly extinct.

Miss Georgia Lamson has been elected assistant primary teacher of our public schools.

Dr. H. W. Smith was at Watertown, S. D. last week on a business trip, returning Friday.

The Milwaukee Harvester Co. has established an Agency in Garner, with John Runtzel in charge.

S. S. Williamson and Henry Le Valley departed Tuesday for a couple of weeks trip in Eastern Kansas.

F. W. Merten has bought the August Wellman property of Sam Thomas, and Sam and family expect to move to Oklahoma soon.

A number of his young friends gave Clarence Chase a spread at Bell Hall last Wednesday evening, just before he departed for New York.

D. J. Strauss has resigned his position as abstractor for Chas. Bailey and accepted a position with the C. R. G. & N-w R'y. in place of Mr. Chase.

The case of Smith vs. Collins occupied two days before Justice Bush and a jury last week. The attorneys were W. H. Hughes and E. B. Brockway.

Geo. Bush and Everett Howe started for northern Minnesota last Monday, where they expect to look up a location to go into the real estate business.

John Dillon was greeted with a full house Tuesday night. An excursion on the Klondyke helped to swell the number. Garner is getting to be a first-class show town.

Rev Mandus Barrett, of Nashua, preached at the Congregational church Sunday morning in exchange with Rev. Hanscom and at the Presbyterian church at a union meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Brownell returned from the Pacific coast Monday, where they have been since last fall. They expect to return soon and make the West their permanent home.

Sunday night there was a terriffic lightning and a very threatsky. There was however no rain or harm done. It was like Britt, a whole lot of bluster and blow attended with but little or no results, good, bad or indifferent.

GERMANTOWN.

A fine baby girl is reported at the home of J. J. Stillie.

Mr. Geo. Erbes, of Burlington spent Sunday with Rev. F. H. Wellemeyer and family.

Elizabeth Wellemeyer, who teaches in the public schools of Britt, spent her vacation at home.

Center school started last Monday after a vacation of two weeks. Edith Merten, of Garner, is the new teacher.

Mesdames Koehler, Schoeneman and Bucholz, were the relatives from abroad who attended the funeral of father Bredlow.

Old Mr. Bredlow, father of Wm, and Charles died last Sunday morning. The funeral was held Tuesday. We have been unable to learn any of the particulars.

GRAND Easter Opening

OF ARTISTIC MILLINERY,

ALL THE LATEST DESIGNS IN

TRIMMED HATS

Miss Renziehausen's millinery store is creating a sensation among the ladies. The material used for fashioning the Spring headgear are extremely beautiful, and the variety is almost endless. Every conceivable color is represented, including the new pastel shades, which promises to be very popular. She believes in furnishing her patrons with up-to-date city styles—a practice which is all the more commendable from the fact that the prices are very low. The line of ready-to-wear hats is a large one, and the different styles shown very nobby and fetching in appearance. To have one of Miss Renziehausen's hats is to be well dressed, and above all the ladies can rely on getting the latest and most correct style.

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

LEADING MILLINER.

Our Corset News.

There's solid merit in the "Cresco." There's economy and comfort in a "Cresco." There's more in a "Cresco" that a woman will appreciate than in any old style corset ever made, and they cost no more. Another shipment will be on sale when you read this. Call and see the "Cresco."

Shafer & Dow, Klemme, Iowa.

CAUCUS.

The Repvblicans of Ell Township will meet at the council room in Saturday, April 14, to select 5 delegates to attend the county convention to be held at Britt April 18, 1900.

Caucus called at 2 o'clock sharp.

Chas. Gruetzmacher, Com.

Republican Caucus.

There will be a caucus held at Center school house, Saturday evening, at 7 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of selecting delegates to the county convention to be held at Britt, April 18, 1900.

Clean Up!

Every property owner is requested to clean up all refuse from barns or other sources, within the next 15 days. Proper attention must be given to this notice or the work will be done by the town and charged up to the owner.

2 w. H. Terhufen, Mayor.

Caucus.

There will be a democratic caucus at W. R. Bloom's office Saturday night April 14, at 8:00 o'clock to elect delegates to attend the county convention at Britt, April 21.

By order of Com.

Buff Plymouth Rocks.

Cockerels all sold. I have two pens from the best stock in the country. First pen stores 93½, eggs $2.50 per 15. Second pen, as even in color, all fine birds, eggs $1.25 per 15. Book your orders now for future delivery.

Henry Straw, Jeweler.

tf. Garner, Iowa.

AIELT RIEKENS,

PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER. GERMAN OR ENGLISH.

Will cry Sales and guarante satisfaction
Fine Stock Sales a specialty.
Call on or address at

PAULSVILLE, IOWA

The Place to Buy

SHOES

IS AT FRANK GRUETZMACHER'S SHOE STORE.

There are many reasons for this

FIRST.

Because we have the largest stock to select from in town and can fit anything from an infant to a giant.

SECOND.

Because our styles are the latest—you can find any style of toe or shape, in ladies, childrens' or for men—Black or tan, high or low.

THIRD.

We guarantee no dealer can sell cheaper, quality considered. Come in and look at our goods and buy if you wish, it costs you nothing to examine our goods.

FINE HOSIERY FOR EVERYBODY.

FRANK GRUETZMACHER

NEW IOWA LAWS

MANY IMPORTANT CHANGES MADE

General Resume of Work of the Retiring Twenty-eighth General Assembly.

With the adjournment of the Twenty-eighth general assembly many new laws are left upon the statute books of Iowa. The number cannot be exactly ascertained at this writing, as the enrolling clerks of the two houses are still at work, but there will be between two and three hundred of them. Most important of the new laws are the ones relating to taxation, including the insurance taxation measure, the law applying the unit mileage system of taxation to express companies, and th others providing for the taxation of telegraph and telephone corporations as the railroads of the state are now taxed. Then there is the revision of the building and loan laws, including the measure restricting these associations as they have never before been restricted in Iowa.

Next to these in importance are the appropriation measures, the largest in years, because of the healthy condition of the state treasury and the large demands made. As nearly as can be estimated the amount of all extraordinary appropriations will exceed somewhat the sum of $1,400,000. Of course the biggest items are the board of control approriations, which aggregate $764,174.93 and those for the educational institutions amounting to $441,800. It is believed that the special appropriations can be met by a levy of 2.5 mills, exclusive of the levy of one-tenth of a mill for the State University and Agricultural college respectively. This is lower than it had at first been expected, but is due to the fact that some of the larger appropriations, including the $360,000 for Cherokee hospital, were made available in different years.

Among the important measures passed is the Titus joint resolution providing for biennial elections in Iowa which will go to the people next fall at the general election. The hunters' license law, the voting machine bill, the anti-prize fight measure, the two pardons granted, and the establishment of a reformatory for women are among the miscellaneous matters of state-wide interest. The NEWS prints a synopsis of the new laws this evening. Those containing publication clauses are already laws. The others will go into effect in July.

Building and Loan Bill.

S. F. 311—Recodifies the building and loan laws of the state. This bill provides that no building and loan association shall issue fully paid stock or guaranty stock. If these associations have any of this kind of stock out, they must retire it by January 1, 1901. All expenditures and expenses of these associations must in the future be taken out of the interests and premiums earned, the expenses in no case to exceed 3 per cent per annum on $100,000, nor more than 2½ per cent on sums between $100,000 and $300,000, and not more than 2¼ per cent upon amounts between $300,000 and $500,000. In no case shall such expenses in one year exceed $12,000. The new law also provides a very small fine for delinquencies. Withdrawing members shall receive all dues paid in unless there has been a loss, when it will be necessary for them to share in such loss as other members do. By a vote of three-fourths of the directors of any association, non-borrowing members may be compelled to withdraw by being paid book value. One of the most important provisions is the limit of 8 per cent which is placed on the interest rate which can be collected by those associations in the future. Associations of this kind may consolidate by a three-fourths vote, or may go into liquidation by some plan agreed upon. If a plan cannot be agreed upon, the attorney general must be applied to, and he will appoint a receiver. In both cases the action must be approved by the courts. All associations must change their articles to conform to this law by July 15, 1900.

Insurance Taxation Bill.

S. F. 352—Ways and means committee bill—Provides new law for the taxation of Iowa insurance companies. The bill leaves the one per cent tax of gross receipts of these companies, provided for under the old laws governing them. Aside from this a local tax is imposed on all companies, except corporations organized with capital stock, ficiary mutuals, and fraternal beneficiary associations, not organized for pecuniary prifit. For the purpose of the local assessment these companies are to furnish the district assessors on or before January 16 of each year, a statement which must be a duplicate of the statement required by law to be made annually to the auditor of state, viz., a detailed statement of all its property and assets and the amount of each item, including surplus, guaranty, and reserve fund and the amount of each. And all this property is to be assessed as the property of private individuals under section 1305 of the code. In taxing the moneys and credits of every insurance corporation, except county mutuals and fraternal beneficiary associations, not organized for pecuniary profit, the debts and liabilities are to be deducted as provided for in section 1311 of the code, but in ascertaining the indebtedness or liability of any such corporation, a debt shall be deemed to exist on account of its liability on the policies, certificates or other contracts of insurance issued by the company in question, equal to the amount of the surplus or other funds accumulated by such corporation pursuant to law, its contracts of insurance or its articles of incorporation for the purpose of fulfilling its policies, certificates or other contracts of insurance, and which can be used for no other purpose. All companies paying to the state treasurer by May 1, 1900, the amount which it would have been compelled to pay the treasurer had this act been in force prior to that date, will have its annual certificate reissued. The local tax, which may have been assessed against the companies before this law went into effect is to be corrected to meet the demands of the new law. On presentation of the receipt from the state treasurer that the one per cent tax is paid. Any company failing to do this is not relieved of any local or municipal tax heretofore levied. Publication clause.

State Department of Agriculture.

S. F. 165—Creates a state department of agriculture, under which is to be grouped the local agricultural societies that receive aid from the state, the weather and crop service, the dairy commission and the state veterinary department. The department is to be managed by a board called the State Board of Agriculture, consisting of a president, vice president, secretary and treasurer, and one director for each congressional district, in addition to the governor, president of the college of agriculture, dairy commissioner and state veterinarian. The board may hold state fairs, and stae farmers' institutes in connection with the annual convention in which delegates from each department under the department are entitle to representation. It is to have supervision over all kinds of agricultural interests, investigate all subjects conected therewith, and reports of contagious diseases among domestic animals, destruction of insects and diseases affecting vegetation. The Iowa agricultural experiment station is to co-operate with the department. It is to elect a secretary who receives an annual salary of $1,500. A year book is to be gotten out by the department. It is to be an elaborate affair, and contain much valuable information pertaining to the agricultural interests of the state. An annual appropriation of $2,000 is made for the department, $1,000 to be used for insurance on the stae fair grounds which are to be under the new department.

State Library Commission.

S. F. 32—Creates a library commission to promote the establishment and efficiency of free public libraries in Iowa, and to further the work of the state traveling library. The governor is to appoint four persons to serve on the commission, two of whom must be women, who with the state librarian, superintendent of public instruction and president of the State University shall constitute the commission. It is to give advice and counsel to all free libraries and public school libraries, and to all committees who may wish to establish them, and it may send its members to aid in organizing new libraries and co-operate with the trustees of the state library in developing the traveling library. All free and public school libraries are to report to the commission, and it is to furnish the secreary of state information for publication in the Iowa official register. The commission is to have a secretary with a salary to be decided upon by the members, and its office is to be with the stae librarian. Members of the commission receive only traveling and incidental expenses in prosecuting the work. The secretary is to be chosen outside the membership, and his salary is limited to $2,000 annually. The sum of $2,000 per annum is appropriated for carrying on the work of the commission.

Iowa Medical Students.

S. F. 43—Provides for a committee from the board of medical examiners to visit all the recognized medical schools of the state and examine graduates for admission to practice. Heretofore examinations have been held in Des Moines before the examiners. The bill also reduces the fee for admission from $20 to $10. Publication clause.

Soldiers' Pension Money.

H. F. 252—Provides that pension money shall not be withheld from inmates of Iowa Soldiers' Home in the future, except on two conditions. In case any member is twice convicted of crime or of a breach of rules of the Home, he is required to deposit his pension money with the commandant, who is to send half to any dependent relatives, and dispose of the remainder as the pensioner dictates, approved by the state board of control. When the depositor is discharged from the Home the money he has deposited is to be paid to him after thirty days. Any inmate of the Home having wife or minor children shall deposit half of his pension to go to them. Publication clause.

Hunter's License Law.

H. F. 132—Hunters' license law. It requires all persons not residents of Iowa who desire to hunt or kill game birds, or animals in this state, to procure a license from the county auditor, for which they shall pay ten dollars to the treasurer and fifty cents to the auditor. Having obtained such license they may hunt in the county issuing such certificates during the open season for not more than one year, the county auditor having power to revoke the certificate for good cause. Persons having this license may take from the state not to exceed 25 game birds or animals killed by himself and they must be carried openly for inspection. Penalty for violating this law is a fine of not less than $25, nor more than $100, or imprisonment in the county jail not more than thirty days. Fines and license money to be credited by treasurer to fund to be known as "game protection fund" to be used in enforcing the law. Publication clause.

Consolidation of the Libraries.

S. F. 218—Consolidates the miscellaneous part of the state library with the historical department after January 1, 1900, under the state librarian, the historical department to be under the curator, and the law library under an assistant. Salaries are fixed at $2,000, state librarian; $1,600, curator, and $1,200, assistant. Council is authorized to procure furniture and fixtures and pay for same. The sum of $10,000 is appropriated for the library and the historical department, and $2,500 for the law, each annually. Publication clause.

Election Laws Changed.

H. F. 8—Providing that the polls at state elections shall be kept open until 7 p. m. The old law provided that they close at 6 p. m. Publication clause.

H. F. 304—Authorizes the use of voting machines in Iowa.

H. F. 291—Provides that the writing of a cross opporite a blank space on the ballot without writing in the name of the candidate, or the writing of the name without the cross opposite it, or any marking in the squares below the circle on the ticket, shall not invalidate the ballot of the voter.

H. F. 343—Provides for registration of voters at all city or special elections, so that any voter coming in since the last general election may vote.

Some New Penalties.

S. F. 90—Makes train robbery, or attempt at it, punishable by imprisonment for from ten years up to life. Publication clause.

S. F. 88—Brings injury for posts for electric lights or electric railways within the purview of the statute punishing malicious mischief to public conveniences.

S. F. 35—Makes the use of blasphemous or obscene language a misdemeanor instead of an indictable offense as under the present law.

S. F. 194—Makes the passenger boat inspection law applicable to boats propelled by other power as well as steam. Publication clause.

H. F. 189—Brings the violation of laws governing steam threshers on the public highway within the jurisdiction of justices of the peace. This reduces the penalty, but it is believed will insure better enforcement of the law.

H. F. 9—Places steamboat owners under the same regulations as hotel and inn keepers now are. Publication clause.

H. F. 136—Prohibits "pantoriums" or other cleanig works where gasoline or other explosives are used for cleaning purposes, in any building which is used as a residence. Publication clause.

Pertaining to Cities.

H. F. 56—Gives Des Moines park commissioners control of the Des Moines river bed and banks between the Racoon forks and the upper limits of Union park. The board is authorized to use its funds in improving and beautifying the banks for use and pleasure, and may straighten, fill in the river banks and otherwise improve and preserve them, construct a low dam, bridges, landings, boathouses, bathshouses, etc. It has exclusive use of the water held between the two dams when the lower one is constructed, and may prohibit the taking of ice by riparian owners. The city of Des Moines is authorized to aid the park commissioners out of its general funds. Publication clause.

H. F. 39—Makes appaointments in vacancies occurring among waterworks trustees by district court on application of the board of trustees rather than the mayor of the city, as under the old law; also provides that all moneys collected by the board of waterworks trustees shall be deposited at least weekly by them with the city treasurer, and that officer shall be responsible for all waterworks funds, paying the same out only on order of the trustees. Publication clause.

S. F. 173—Empowers cities and towns to suppress, restrain and prohibit "gambling houses." At present they may suppress, restrain or prohibit gambling games or devices; may authorize the destruction of gambling devices, and may punish gambling. The new law goes a step farther. Publication clause.

H. F. 54—Makes the provisions for a two-mill tax for the maintenance of libraries, and a three-mill tax for the purchase of ground and erection of library buildings, applicable to all cities and towns. The two-mill tax has been limited to cities of the second-class and towns, and the improvement tax of three mills to cities of the first-class of 25,000 population or more. Publication clause.

S. F. 83—Requires that asssessment for building permanent sidewalks be certified to the county auditor for collection as other taxes. It further provides that in cities under special charter the clerk shall certify the assessment to the city collector or treasurer.

H. F. 6—Gives cities of 20,000 or over the power to elect park commissioners and pay them $100 a year. Present law limits this privilege to cities of 25,000 and over. Bill in the interest of Clinton, which has little less than 25,000 population. Publication clause.

H. F. 60—Authorizes an increase of the tax levy for park purposes in cities of the first-class from two to three mills annually, and grants to boards of supervisors the right to levy an additional tax in the years 1900, 1901, 1902, 1903. The bill was introduced in the interests of Des Moines parks.

S. F. 67—Amends the code in relation to the powers of library trustees. Extending the use of free public libraries in cities and towns to residents of rural districts.

S. F. 40—Grants cities and towns the right to sell heat from electric light plants and gas works.

S. F. 131—Makes minimum rate of interest which waterworks funds may draw 3 per cent. Moneys held in trust for the purchase of waterworks must now draw at least 4 per cent interest. The bill applies to cities under special charter.

H. F. 374—Makes a slight change in the limitations governing the revocation of permits in cities under special charters.

S. F. 344—Provides for the election of assessors in new towns by the council in ceratin cases.

S. F. 254—Authorizes cities to levy sewer taxes in one sewer district for maintenance of sewer system, instead of making entire city support one system, as now.

S. F. 140—Authorizes cities to build sidewalks of any material they may choose, providing the cost does not exceed 40 per cent per linear foot.

S. F. 39—Limits indebtedness of cities to one and one-fourth the actual value of the property returned by the last assessment list.

S. F. 115—Provides that special assessments in cities shall not exceed the benefits accruing to abutting property, and in no case shall exceed 25 per cent of the value of the property.

S. F. 229—Provides that city councils sitting as boards of registration shall be paid out of the city instead of the county funds.

S. F. 138—Requires the keeping of personal delinquent taxes in a separate record.

Some of the Appropriations.

S. F. 12—Appropriates $3500 to pay additional employes of the Twenty-eighth general assembly. Publication clause.

S. F. 59—Appropriates $2,000 for the support of the State Historical society of Iowa for next biennial period.

S. F. 72—Appropriates $2,500 for the purchase of 30,000 railroad commissioners' official maps to be distributed by members of the general assembly and the railroad commissioners. Publication clause.

S. F. 102—Provides for a commission of thirty-five to locate position of Iowa regiments in the siege of Vicksburg, and appropriates $2,000 for expenses. It is to report to the governor by the 15th of January, 1902.

S. F. 155—Appropriates $1,600 to pay state freight and express bills, including amounts past due. Publication clause.

S. F. 163—Appropriates $504.90 to defray the expenses of the inauguration ceremonies this year. Publication clause.

H. F. 101—Authorizes the state auditor to issue a warrant for $275 to Mrs. Mary E. McCully, widow of Hon. H. M. McCully, deceased, representative from Marion county in the Twenty-seventh general assembly. The money is the balance due him as member of the assembly. Publication clause.

S. F. 18—Appropriates $1,440 for the supreme court contingent expenses. Publication clause.

S. F. 305—Appropriates $2,245.53 for the Industrial Home for the Blind at Knoxville. Publication clause.

H. F. 76—Reimburses Jones county in the sum of $282.95 for expense incurred in prosecution of escaped criminals.

H. F. 261—Appropriates $1,000 for the further education of Linnie Haguewood the deaf, dumb and blind war of the state.

H. F. 106—Appropriates $50,000 to locate an build monuments to Iowa soldiers on the battlefield of Shiloh. Publication clause.

H. F. 355—Appropriates $2,000 for the completion of the classification of the state library. Publication clause.

H. F. 82—Provides that national guardsmen of the state shall be paid 10 cents per hour for attendanct at company drills, providing this compensation does not exceed 20 cents per week. Publication clause.

H. F. 406—Appropriates $764,174.93 for the support of the thirteen state institutions under the state board of control.

H. F. 409—Appropriates $441,800 for the support of the three educational institutions in Iowa.

S. F. 201—Appropriates $15,000 for fish and game.

S. F. 47—Appropriates $21,000 for the completion of the state historical building.

S. F. 50—Appropriates $5,000 for the erection of a monument to Sergeant Charles Floyd.

S. F. 45—Appropriates $2,100 for refurnishing the roms of the state board of control.

S. F. 258—Appropriating $500 to reimburse Judge John F. Oliver for legal services rendered the state in contesting the will of the late Baxter Whiting, who left a bequest to the Soldiers' Orphans' Home at Davenport.

S. F. 363—Appropriates $40,000 for the return of the Fifty-first Iowa to Council Bluffs from San Francisco.

S. F. 126—Appropriates $10,000 for Benedict Home, Des Moines.

S. F. 306—Increases the per capita support fund at Mitchellville from $10 to $12, and appropriates $300 for services of a chaplain.

H. F. 34—Appropriates $1,604 to the estate of William Parks, uninherited and escheated to, and now in the state treasury. Publication clause.

S. F. 292—Increases the support of the state historical department $4,000.

S. F. 348—Appropriates $300 to pay the expenses of a commission appointed by this assembly to look up needed repairs and improvements for the capitol building and report to the governor by the first of next December.

Changes in School Laws.

S. F. 109—Gives school corporations of more than 5,000 population the right to fix the number of voting precincts at any school election. Limit was formerly five. In the interests of recent West Des Moines school election. Publication clause.

H. F.—Enables school corporations to accept gifts and bequests. In the interests of Ottumwa, which wanted to accept a library from Andrew Carnegie. Publication clause.

S. F. 240—Requires treasurer of school townships and rural districts to withhold annually from school apportionment from five to fifteen cents for each child of school age, to be used for library purposes. In all other independent districts the boards may require the treasurer to dot the same. The amount to be withheld for this purpose up to fifteen cents is to be determined by boards.

H. F. 113—Provides that unless otherwise ordered by the board of education the county superintendent shall have charge of school text-books and their distribution among the depositories selected by the board, and shall render an account thereof to the board.

S. F. 116—Makes petition of one-third of school directors sufficient to secure an order for an election on the uniformity of text-books in counties outside of cities and town. The present law makes petition signed by one-half directors necessary.

S. F. 136—Gives counties authority to loan the permanent school fund in sums of $3,000 at no less a rate than five per cent. Old law provided for sums of $1,000 at 6 per cent interest, and gave the counties 1 per cent for handling it. New law allows them one-half per cent. Publication clause.

H. F 105—Authorizes sub-directors to employ teachers for the schools in his district.

S. F. 310—Authorizes boards of directors to call special meetings of the electors of school districts, with full powers. At present, this can only be done to make provision for rebuilding where house is "destroyed by casualty." Publication clause

S. F. 135—Authorizes the board of educational examiners to issue special certificates to teachers of music, drawing, penmanship, etc. It does away with the preference now given graduates of normal schools; and with the power to issue certificates or diplomas to teachers from another state on the standing there. This is the result of the agitation by the denominational schools of the state that the latter discriminated too much between the normal departments of the denominational schools and the state normal schobl.

H. F. 68—Requires vocal music to be taught in the schools of the state. Teachers must be examined in this branch, but failure to pass will in no way affect their certificates, position or salaries.

H. F. 186—Allows the secretary of the state board of examiners to hold state examinations without the presence of the board, or to appoint some one with authority to do the same.

S. F. 271—Authorizes school corporations to issu bonds for the purchase of school sites. In the interest of Davenport. Publication clause.

H. F. 204—Authorizes secretary of school cirporations to call special elections when boards are reduced below a quorum by resignation or otherwise.

Iowa Educational Institutions.

S. F. 10—Extends the levy of a special tax of one-tenth of a mill for the support of the State University for another five years.

H. F. 42—Levies a tax of one-tenth of a mill for the support of the State College of Agricfiulture and Mechanic Arts.

S. F. 6—Provides that the endowment funds of the State Agricultural college may be loaned at as low a rate of interest as the board of trustees of the college deem advisable. The limit was formerly 6 per cent, and the funds lay idle because of the high rate of interest. Publication clause.

S. F. 11—Gives the State University authority to erect any sort of a college building on a lot originally purchased for the erection of an observatory.

S. F. 364—Gives the Waterloo and Cedar Falls Electric Railway company authority to construct a street car line over the state normal school grounds to accommodate the school. Publication clause.

Legal Problems Determined.

H. F. 52—Amends the law in regard to the testimony of witnesses for the state so that notice of intention to introduce witnesses other than those whose testimony was considered by the grand jury may be served on defendant's attorney if defendant is not in the county. Law now requires same to be served on defendant.

S. F. 276—Requires officer selling realty on execution in a county other than that in which judgment is rendered to make return to district court of both counties.

S. F. 128—Provides that appeals from courts in cases of contested elections shall be heard and determined by the court instead of by a jury. Publication clause.

S. F.—Removes an ambiguity as to the notice of sales on execution for failure to give which notice sheriff or constable is liable to penalty.

S. F. 14—Relates to communications in professional confidence. Law now treats as confidential all communications in confidence to stenographers or confidential clerks of any person. This bill limits the law to such communications from attorneys, physicians or surgeons. Publication clause.

S. F. 13—Repeals the requirement that grand juries shall attach all minutes and exhibits to indictments. Publication clause.

S. F. 225—Requires non-resident attorneys trying cases to appoint some local attorney where the suit is pending upon whom notice can be served, the same as on the foreign attorney.

H. F. 129—Amends the law relating to redemption by providing that all redemptions made under section 4051 of the code shall be made in the county where the sale is had.

S. F. 156—Requires guardians, administrators, etc., to deposit trust funds with the clerk of the district court, when the residence of a ward is unknown.

S. F. 273—Gives the right of appeal from superior courts to district courts upon proper showing. Publication clause.

[TO BE CONCLUDED NEXT WEEK.]

LITERARY NOTES.

In McClure's Magazine for April Walter Wellman will describe, from his own recent experience, the novelties and hardships of house-building, house-keeping and general domestic life and daily work up under the shadow of the north pole.

Outing, which has passed into the hands of a strong company of enthusiastic sportsmen, headed by Casper Whitney, comes to us in April in a handsome new cover. It is a number like the bourgeoning spring, bursting with new life and the promise of a bountiful harvest. The number is illustrated by the pencil and brush of Ernest Seton Thompson, Arthur Heming, James L. Weston, Oliver Nugent, E. W. Sandys, and others.

The author of "Bandanna Ballads," in the April Ladies' Home Journal, is one of the newest singers of negro folklore. She is Miss Howard Weeden, and her ballads have elicited the highest praise of Joel Chandler Harris. She illustrates her own writings with pictures that are as felicitous, faithful and convincing as her verse.

No able-bodied men need be idle in New Zealand. The government gives every applicant work, and pays him at the rate of $2 a day.

England's Armored Trains.

The magnificent armored trains used by England in her war with the Boers will protect her troops in about the same way that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters drives dyspepsia from the human stomach, and then mounts guard that it does not return. The Bitters has won in every case of indigestion, constipation, liver and kidney trouble for fifty years.

The man who gets up in the world gets up in the morning.

The Penny Savings Society of Chicago last year received on deposit from the school children, through their teachers, the sum of $70,000.

Cleanse Your Blood

The thing most desired of a Spring Medicine is thorough purification of the blood. With this work of cleansing going on there is complete renovation of every part of your system. Not only is the corrupt blood made fresh, bright and lively, but the stomach also responds in better digestion, its readiness for food at proper times gives sharp appetite, the kidneys and liver properly perform their allotted functions, and there is, in short, new brain, nerve, mental and digestive strength.

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

Possesses the peculiar qualities—Peculiar to Itself—which accomplish these good things for all who take it. An unlimited list of wonderful cures prove its merit.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

PARALYSIS Locomotor Ataxia conquered at last. Doctors puzzled. Specialists amazed at recovery of patients thought incurable by DR. CHASE'S BLOOD AND NERVE FOOD. Write me about your case. Advice and proof of cures FREE. DR. CHASE, 224 N. 10th St., PHILADELPHIA, PA

INVENTORS

Send to-day for our handsomely engraved 38th anniversary work on patents FREE
MASON, FENWICK & LAWRENCE,
Patent Lawyers, Washington, D. C.

WANTED SOLDIERS' HOMESTEADS

The addresses of all Federal Soldiers, their widows or heirs, who made a HOMESTEAD FILING on less than 160 acres on or before June 22, 1874, no matter whether FINAL PROOF was made or not. I will buy Land Warrants. Address Comrade W. E. MOSES, Box 1335, Denver, Colorado.

A Swallow

is one of the earliest harbingers of spring—an equally sure indication is that feeling of languid depression. Many swallows of are best for a spring tonic—and for a summer beverage. 5 gallons for 25 cents. Write for list of premiums offered free for labels.

HIRES Rootbeer

Charles E. Hires Co.
Malvern, Pa.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND SLICKER

WILL KEEP YOU DRY.

Don't be fooled with a mackintosh or rubber coat. If you want a coat that will keep you dry in the hardest storm buy the Fish Brand Slicker. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

DO YOU COUGH

DON'T DELAY
TAKE KEMP'S BALSAM
THE BEST COUGH CURE

Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 25 cents and 50 cents.

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR 25 CTS.
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION

The Sarsaparilla that's used by Chinese and Hindu; in the bushes of Australia and the wilds of South America; the Sarsaparilla that braces British and Boer. and gives strength to French and German, Russian and Turk, —

That's AYER'S

The Sarsaparilla that has more than twenty pages of doctors' indorsements, extending over nearly sixty years, embracing every known disease which arises from impure blood; that's made on honor and made to cure. —

That's AYER'S

The Sarsaparilla that's made of carefully selected drugs, the best and purest and most expensive from the world over; that's made of a sarsaparilla root costing more than ten times as much as that which enters into the composition of any other Sarsaparilla, —

That's AYER'S

The Sarsaparilla manufactured by modern methods evolved from half a century of practical experience; that's made so carefully that every bottle is put up as if it were an individual prescription, and to whose laboratory any physician, any druggist, any pharmacist is cordially invited and welcomed, —

That's AYER'S

Ayer's Sarsaparilla brings exhilaration to the tired body and hope to all who are exhausted, depressed, discouraged. It removes all impurities from the blood, impurities which irritate the brain and nerves, and cause countless aches and pains. You can afford to trust a Sarsaparilla that has been trusted for over half a century, —

That's AYER'S

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Book of testimonials and 10 DAYS' treatment FREE. DR. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Box E, Atlanta, Ga.

IN 3 OR 4 YEARS
AN INDEPENDENCE ASSURED

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

If you take up your homes in Western Canada, the land of plenty. Illustrated pamphlets, giving experiences of farmers who have become wealthy in growing wheat, reports of delegates, etc., and full information as to reduced railway rates can be had on application to the Superintendent of Immigration, Department of Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to N. Bartholomew, 306 Fifth St., Des Moines, Iowa.

Highest Grade Moderate Prices

Schaeffer Pianos

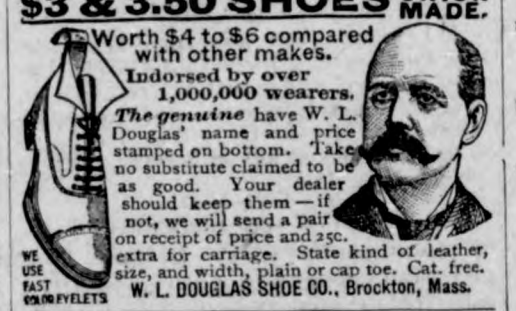
Secured only Diploma of Honor Paris Exposition, 1878.

BEST VALUE BECAUSE OF
Beauty of design,
Powerful singing quality of tone,
Extreme durability.

Write for catalogue and prices.

Schaeffer Piano Mfg. Co.
215 Wabash Ave.,
CHICAGO.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 & 3.50 SHOES UNION MADE.



Worth $4 to $6 compared with other makes.
Indorsed by over 1,000,000 wearers.
The genuine have W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on bottom. Take no substitute claimed to be as good. Your dealer should keep them — if not, we will send a pair on receipt of price and 25c. extra for carriage. State kind of leather, size, and width, plain or cap toe. Cat. free.
W. L. DOUGLAS SHOE CO., Brockton, Mass.
WE USE FAST COLOR EYELETS

STERLING DUPLEX WASHING MACHINE.
Has double "washboard" rubbers, runs easiest, lasts longest, does faultless work. Most practical clothes washer made. Don't drudge. Use modern methods. If it's not at your dealer's write us.
THE EUREKA CO., Dept. H., Rock Falls, Ill.

About one-fourth of the population of Porto Rico are beggars.

Faded hair recovers its youthful color and softness by the use of PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM.
HINDERCORNS, the best cure for corns. 15cts.

The unexpected seldom happens more than once.

Talk is pretty cheap, now that you can buy a phonograph for $1.28.

Important to Mothers.
Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Government employes do not have to be asked twice to quit work on a legal holiday.

Each package of PUTNAM FADELESS DYE colors more goods than any other dye and colors them better, too.

The hungry actor at the table is willing to take everybody's part.

I do not believe Piso's Cure for Consumption has an equal for coughs and colds.—JOHN F BOYER, Trinity Springs, Ind., Feb. 15, 1900.

A woman is more influenced by what she suspects than by what she is told.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

London has an asylum for lost and starving cats. Last year it cared for eight thousand of these animals.

W. N. U., Des Moines, No. 15.—1900

THE PLACE FOR A POOR MAN.

A Homestead Clear and Money Ahead in Two Years.

Alameda, N. W. T., Canada,
Dec. 22, 1899.

Mr. B. Davies, Canadian Government Agent, St. Paul, Minn.—Dear Sir: As I promised you about two years ago that at some future time I would let you know what I thought of western Canada and the chances of a poor man making a start and supporting a family at the same time, so will write a few facts concerning my own experience the past twenty-one months; and what I have done, any able-bodied man can do, provided he will work.

I left Traverse country March 20, 1898; landed in Alameda at noon the 21st with $3.55 in my pocket, a stranger and among strangers, and when my family came in October, 1898, my wife had nearly $10, or barely enough to pay freight on her stove, sewing-machine and clothes and beds. I commenced work March 28; also made entry for homestead same day (the man I started work for loaning me $15 to pay entrance fee), and I have earned or at least received $478.10 in wages since then and have been idle at least two months of the twenty-one since I came. The homestead I took had twelve acres broke by a former occupant. I paid $20 to have it replowed in July, '98, and the seed wheat for it cost me $8.25. I let it to a neighbor for one-half in elevator, clear of all expense except the seed, and this fall I received $70.10 for my part of the crops off the twelve acres, so my total receipts the past twenty-one months have been $548.10, and my expenses, besides living for self and family, have been as follows:

Entrance fee ($5 being paid for cancellation)	$ 15.00
Summer fallowing 12 acres	20.00
Seed for same	8.25
Cost of house, besides my own labor on same	75.85
20 acres of breaking and double-discing same	60.00
	$179.10
My half of wheat	70.10
Net expense on homestead	$109.00

We moved on our homestead July 10, 1899, have thirty-two acres in good shape for crops in 1900. My wife joins with me in sending best wishes to you and yours.

You can truly say to any poor man who pays a big rent to get a farm (somebody else's land) or works for wages to support a family, that I have personally tried both in Minnesota and tried hard to make a success of it, but found to my sorrow that after working hard a poor living was all I could get out of it, and after nearly two years of western Canadian life I will say that I am very thankful to you for helping me to decide to try it in Canada. Yours respectfully,

W. H. KINKADE.

A doctor in Breslau has been experimenting with hens, and he gave forty of them gout by feeding them on horseflesh without fat. Then he partially relieved them of the gouty pains by the administration of powered eggshells.

A popular remedy for the bite of a mad dog at the beginning of the 19th century was for the victim to take an ounce of the pulverized jawbone of the dog that had bitten him. After the administration of this remedy the animal was never known to bite any one.

In San Rafael, Cal., it is illegal to shoot game with a repeating or magazine shotgun.

Last year the mines of Montana yielded copper to the value of $40,000,000.

A Book of Choice Recipes
Sent free by Walter Baker & Co. Ltd., Dorchester, Mass. Mention this paper.

She who fain would guide must seem to follow.

Try Grain-o! Try Grain-o!
Ask your grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it, like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. One-fourth the price of coffee. 15c. and 25c. per package. Sold by all grocers.

Mr. T. Carson, of Brownsville, Tex., has been mayor of that town for twenty-one years.

VICTORY FOR BOERS.

Five Companies of British Troops Captured Near Bethany.

LONDON, April 7.—Roberts reports five companies of British troops captured by the Boers near Bethany. Following is the text of Roberts's dispatch to the war office announcing the capture of five companies of his troops:

BLOEMFONTEIN, April 5.—Another unfortunate occurrence occurred, resulting, I fear, in the capture of a party of infantry consisting of three companies of Royal Irish fusiliers and two companies of the Ninth regiment mounted infantry, near Reddersburg, a little eastward of Bethany railway station, within a few miles of this place. They were surrounded by a stronger force of the enemy, with four or five guns. The detachment held out from noon, April 3, until April 4, at 9 in the morning, and then apparently surrendered, for the reported firing ceased at that time. Immediately after I heard the news during the afternoon of April 3 I ordered Gatacre to proceed from Springfontein, his present headquarters, to Reddersburg with all possible speed and I dispatched the Cameron Highlanders hence to Bethany. He arrived at Reddersburg at 10:30 yesterday morning without opposition, but could get no news of the missing detachment. No doubt the whole party were made prisoners."

BOER SIDE OF STORY.

Nearly Four Hundred Men Captured in the Ambuscade.

BRANDFORT, April 6.—In the ambuscade near Sannas Tost the Burghers lost three men killed and ten wounded. Altogether the Burghers captured 389 prisoners throughout the day. The Free Staters are now desirous of marching on Bloemfontein, and the Transvaal officers are anxious to emulate the late success of their allies. All the southern Boer forces have now formed junctions with the main Boer army, forming a long force of veterans. Gen. Dewet sent the British guns, wagons and prisoners to Winburg. Perhaps of greater importance even than the victory was the capture of British secret papers, including maps and plans of 1897, 1898 and 1899, outlining elaborate schemes for the invasion of the Orange Free State and the Transvaal and giving a plan for reaching Johannesburg from Mafeking along Dr. Jameson's route, but amended so as to avoid his mistakes. Another gives a plan for a march from Bloemfontein to Kroonstadt via Brandfort.

WILL NOT YIELD.

President Steyn's Address to the Free State Raad.

LONDON, April 6.—In his speech before opening the Free State raad, President Steyn declared in spite of the surrender of Bloemfontein he had not lost hope in the triumph of the republican cause. War, he said, was forced upon the Transvaal and nothing remained for the Free State but to throw in its lot with the sister republics in accordance with the terms of the treaty. The war was begun with the object of maintaining by arms the independence bought with the blood of the forefathers of the nation and had been so successful that it caused the greatest wonder throughout the world and even to the Boers themselves. After paying a tribute to the memory of Joubert, Steyn said the British, notwithstanding their overwhelming numbers, were violating the flag of truce and the red cross, and that he was compelled to to report the matter to neutral powers. The attempt to create dissension among burghers by issuing a proclamation had failed, he said.

KENTUCKY DEMOCRATS WIN.

Court of Appeals Hands Down Decision on Governorship.

FRANKFORT, Ky., April 7.—The court of appeals has handed down a decision in the governorship case in favor of the democrats. The opinion is by six judges, four democrats and two republicans. One republican, Durelle, dissented. The opinion holds the action of the legislature in seating Beckham was final and the courts have no power to review it, that Governor Taylor has exceeded his authority in adjourning the legislature to London and that journals of the two houses of the legislature being regular cannot be impeached. The republicans will try to get a hearing before the United States supreme court. Thirty days must elapse before the mandate of the court of appeals in accordance with the decision is issued.

Dewey Confirms It.

WASHINGTON April 5.—Admiral Dewey has confirmed the interview published in the New York World to the effect that he will accept the presidency of the United States should the American people ask him to fill the office. He refused to make any further statement.

Russia and Korea Reach Agreement.

SEOUL, Korea, April 7.—An agreement has been concluded whereby Russia disavows any design to obtain a port in the island of Quelpart and Korea promises not to concede the same to any other power.

ALABASTINE

WHAT ALABASTINE IS.

Alabastine is the original and only durable wall coating on the market. It is entirely different from all kalsomine preparations. Alabastine is made ready for use in white or fourteen beautiful tints by the addition of cold water. It is put up in dry powdered form, in packages, properly labeled, with full directions on every package. It takes the place of scaling kalsomines, wall paper and paint for walls. Alabastine can be used on plaster, brick, wood or canvas, and a child can brush it on.

WHAT "KALSOMINES" ARE.

Kalsomines are cheap and temporary preparations, manufactured from whiting, chalks, clays, etc. They are stuck on the walls with decaying animal glue. Alabastine is not a kalsomine. It is a rock-base cement, which sets, and it hardens with age. It can be re-coated and re-decorated without having to wash and scrape off its old coats. Alabastine is utilized to a great extent in hospitals, as it prevents the accumulation of dirt and the congregating of disease germs, being disinfectant in its nature.

CHURCHES AND SCHOOL-HOUSES.

The interior walls of churches, school-houses and all public halls should never be coated with anything but the durable and pure Alabastine. So evident has this fact become, that hundreds of tons are used annually for this work. The genuine Alabastine does not rub or scale off. It is cleanly during the long period of its usefulness. Every owner of a building should use it. Ask your paint dealer or druggist for card of tints, and write for free copy of our interesting booklet to Alabastine Co., Grand Rapids, Mich.

REJECT THE "JUST AS GOOD."

The dealer who tells you that he can sell you the "same thing" as Alabastine or "something just as good," either is not posted or is trying to deceive you. In offering something he has bought cheap and is trying to sell on Alabastine's demands, he may not realize the danger to himself as well as to you. Beware of all new substitutes. Dealers risk a suit for damages by selling and consumers by using an infringement. Alabastine Co. own the right to make and sell wall coatings adapted to mix with cold water.

BIGGLE BOOKS

A Farm Library of unequalled value—Practical, Up-to-date, Concise and Comprehensive—Handsomely Printed and Beautifully Illustrated.

By JACOB BIGGLE

No. 1—BIGGLE HORSE BOOK
All about Horses—a Common-Sense Treatise, with over 74 illustrations; a standard work. Price, 50 Cents.

No. 2—BIGGLE BERRY BOOK
All about growing Small Fruits—read and learn how; contains 43 colored life-like reproductions of all leading varieties and 108 other illustrations. Price, 50 Cents.

No. 3—BIGGLE POULTRY BOOK
All about Poultry; the best Poultry Book in existence; tells everything; with 23 colored life-like reproductions of all the principal breeds; with 103 other illustrations. Price, 50 Cents.

No. 4—BIGGLE COW BOOK
All about Cows and the Dairy Business; having a great sale; contains 8 colored life-like reproductions of each breed, with 132 other illustrations. Price, 50 Cents.

No. 5—BIGGLE SWINE BOOK
Just out. All about Hogs—Breeding, Feeding, Butchery, Diseases, etc. Contains over 80 beautiful half-tones and other engravings. Price, 50 Cents.

The BIGGLE BOOKS are unique, original, useful—you never saw anything like them—so practical, so sensible. They are having an enormous sale—East, West, North and South. Every one who keeps a Horse, Cow, Hog or Chicken, or grows Small Fruits, ought to send right away for the BIGGLE BOOKS. The

FARM JOURNAL

Is your paper, made for you and not a misfit. It is 22 years old; it is the great boiled-down, hit-the-nail-on-the-head,—quit-after-you-have-said-it, Farm and Household paper in the world—the biggest paper of its size in the United States of America—having over a million and a-half regular readers.

Any ONE of the BIGGLE BOOKS, and the FARM JOURNAL 5 YEARS (remainder of 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903) will be sent by mail to any address for A DOLLAR BILL.

Sample of FARM JOURNAL and circular describing BIGGLE BOOKS free.

WILMER ATKINSON.
CHAS. F. JENKINS.

Address, FARM JOURNAL, PHILADELPHIA

LAU BROS.

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE.

An attractive Grocery and Hardware Store is a place where, if you are well treated, you will be likely to come again.

We Treat Customers Right

and they are the come-again kind. Our stock is complete in every detail. Come and

Make a Trial Purchaes of us and be convinced that we have the

BEST GOODS

AND AT

RIGHT PRICES.

Gold Coin Stoves and Ranges. Hard and Soft Coal Heaters, Machinery, Corn Shellers, Cutters, Sleighs.

HIGHEST MARKET PRICE FOR BUTTER AND EGGS.

LAU BROS., KLEMME, IOWA.

THE

$1 WEEKLY INTER OCEAN $1

LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ALL POLITICAL PAPERS IN THE WEST

Always American——Always Republican

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN SUPPLIES ALL THE NEWS AND BEST CURRENT LITERATURE

Every Column is Bright, Clean and Packed with News

The Literature of its columns is equal to that of the best magazines. It is interesting to the children as well as the parents.

THE INTER OCEAN is a WESTERN NEWSPAPER, and while it brings to the family THE NEWS OF THE WORLD and gives its readers the best and ablest discussions of all questions of the day, it is in full sympathy with the ideas and aspirations of Western people and discusses literature and politics from the Western standpoint.

—$1.00—PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR—$1.00—

$1 THE DAILY AND SUNDAY EDITIONS OF THE INTER OCEAN ARE THE BEST EVER SEEN IN THE WEST. $1

THE INTER OCEAN'S NEWS IS EXCLUSIVE.

Price of Daily by mail.....$4.00 per year
Price of Sunday by mail.....$2.00 per year
Daily and Sunday by mail.....$6.00 per year

Homeseekers Excursions.

Jan. 16, Feb. 6, 20, March 6, 20, Apr. 3, 17, 1900, via B., C.R.& N.Ry.

On above date Round Trip tickets, good 21 days, will be sold at rate of a single fare plus $2.00 to all points on this line in Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota, north of and including Shell Rock, Abbott Crossing and Waverly.

Tickets will also be sold at this rate to a large number of cities and towns in Northern, Western and Southern states. For further information call on B., C. R. & N. agents or address

Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A.,
Apr.17 Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma bronchitis, la grippe and all throat, chest and lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on J. L. Harr, the druggist, and get a free trial bottle. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed.

Lengthening days give evidence of approaching spring time when ambitious business men, surrounded by shrewd competition in the over-crowed older towns, are looking for new homes, broader and better business advantages. The Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway is extending its lines into the best portions of northwestern Iowa and southwestern Minnesota. This country is noted for its rich soil, social, educational and religious advantages. Four towns were located last fall and have made remarkable growth already. Several new towns will be located during the spring and early summer. If you desire to de a pioneer in a good new town in a well settled rich country which has long been in need of a railroad.

Address THOS. H. BROWN,
Sioux Falls, S. Dak.

MAY 1 Townsite Agent New Lines.

Spreads Like Wildfire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling". Abraham Hare a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 yrs. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, run down man or woman. Price 50c. Sold by J. L. Harr, druggist.

Playing Cards.

"The Cedar Rapids Route" Playing Cards are the finest quality and extra finish. For sale by agents of the B. C. R. & N. Ry at 15 cts. per pack, two for 25 cts. $1.50 per dozen. Call for them at depot or send stamps, coin or money order to General Passenger Department, B., C. R. & N. Ry., Cedar Rapids, Ia. and cards will be sent dostage paid.

A Horrible Outbreak.

"Of large sores on my little daughter's head developed into a case of scald head" writes C. D. Isbill of Morganton, Tenn., but Bucklin's Arnica Salve completely cured her. It's a guaranteed cure for Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers and Piles. Only 25c at Harr's, the druggist

NEW CHAIR CARSERVICE.

Between Watertown, Ellsworth and Chicago via. B. C. R. & N. Ry. Commencing Sunday Nov. 19th, a free reclining chair car will be placed on trains Nos. 608 and 605 between Watertown and Chicago by the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. This car leaves Watertown daily, except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. arriving at Chicago 7:59 the following morning. This car runs to and from Sioux Falls Sundays, thus giving daily chair car service between Ellsworth and Chicago. Passengers going east from Chicago will have ample time to make any transfers to connect with all morning eastern trains.

These trains are very fast, and, with this new additional service, passengers can feel assured of first class accommodations. JNO. G. FARMER,
Cedar Rapids, Ia.

A Testimonial from Old England.

'I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best in the world for bronchitis says Mr. Wm. Savory, of Warrington, England. "It has saved my wife's life she having been a martyr to bronchitis for over 6 years, being most of the time confined to her bed. She is now quite well." Sold by J. L. Harr.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

QUICK RELIEF FROM PAIN.

All who use Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism are delighted with the quick relief from pain which it affords. When speaking of this Mr. D. M. Sinks of Troy, Ohio, says: "Some time ago I had a severe attack of rheumatism in my arm and shoulder. I tried numerous remedies but got no relief until I was recommended by Messrs. Geo. F. Parsons & Co., druggists of this place, to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. They recommended it so highly that I bought a bottle. I was soon relieved of all pain I have since recommended this liniment to many of my friends, who agree with me that it is the best remedy for muscular rheumatism in the market." For sale by J. L. Harr.

The Rev. Charles M. Sheldon's new novel, 'Edward Blake: College Student," will be published in The Inter Ocean. The first installment will appear April 12. This story is worthy of the author of "In His Steps," and is a stirring tale, dealing with the struggles of a farmer's son who goes to a coeducational institution. Edward Blake represents the best type of the American youth, and he takes out into the broader world sturdy principles. He is a very human lad, and he succumbs to some of the temptations. His character is withal lovable, and he wins the reader's sympathy from the first page. He holds to his bigh ideals, and is steadfast to his earnest purposes, and in the end finds the right road to success. His sister, who accompanies him to the college, is a sweet, lovable, and natural character. Their efforts to support themselves afford the author opportunities to present certain economic and ethical problems. A whole-some love story runs through this well-told tale, which is fascinating, dramatic, and powerful. The Inter Ocean has shown its usual enterprise in obtaining this latest product of Mr. Sheldon's pen, whose recent experience as the editor for a week of the Topeka Capital has given him world-wide prominence.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

STATE OF IOWA, } ss.
Hancock County, }

NOTICE is hereby given that on the 28th day of April, A. D. 1900, at 1 o'clock p. m., at the Court House in Concord and County aforesaid, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, the following described real estate, levied upon and taken by virtue of a Special execution, issued from the office of the Clerk of the District Court, within and for the county of Hancock, and State of Iowa, in favor of B. A. PUMMER, Plaintiff, and against the property of JOHN ROLLAND STEELE, et al., Defendant, for the sum of $681.65 and costs taxed at $66.68 and accruing costs, to-wit: Lots seven (7) and eight (8) in block twenty three (23) in the town of Garner, State of Iowa, the buildings thereon except one certain machine shed, or, warehouse erected, out of the materials furnished by J. H. Queal and Company to satisfy said writ of execution and accruing costs.

Dated 28th March 1900.

H. GARTIN,
Sheriff of Hancock County.

J. I Carson, Prothonotary, Washington, Pa., says: "I have found Kodol Dyspep ia Cure an excellent remedy in case of stomach trouble, and have derived great benefit from its use." It digests what you eat and cannot fail to cure. J. L. Harr.

Pugilism is on the increase, in respectable quarters. An Indiana Congressman engaged in a scrap with a constituent, the other day, and there was another on the floor of the Maryland legislature.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN ONE NIGHT.

Or to quickly cure La Grippe take "Week-Break-a-cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

Admiral and Mrs. Dewey will start on a western tour in a few days, but the admiral will not again monkey with unfamiliar liquid decoctions. His southern experience cured him of that habit.

TO CURE A COLD WHILE YOU SLEEP.

Take "Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

The Senatorial Wits are all jealous of the sudden fame acquired by Senator Pettus, through one little speech. A little wit seems to go a long ways in the Senate.

Reduced Rates to the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Reduced round trip rates are now in effect to the nation's great resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas, owned, controlled by the United States Government, for the cure of a score of human ills. Beautiful winter, 200 hotels and boarding houses of all grades. Ask nearest ticket agent for particulars, or Mr. John G. Farmer, A. G. P. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia. For illustrated books of information address Bureau of Information, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

FOUND A GOLD MINE!

It Was in His Poultry Yard.

Man in Iowa Uses a Compound that Makes His Hens Lay Double the Usual Number Summer and Winter. Secret of His SUCCESS.

People in the neighborhood of Creston Iowa, are amazed at the number of eggs that this man drives to market with. When asked what was the cause of his hens being so prolific, he stated it was all in a certain compound he was using, that kept his hens in good condition and furnished them with the proper stimulus to egg production. American Poultry mixture is the name of it, and is made by American Mfg. Co. Terre Haute, Ind. Every man in the poultry business is interested in the health of his hens and their laying capacity. In the eggs lie his profits. This mixture is guaranteed to increase the production of eggs 100 per cent or money refunded. It will do more than three times as much as the same amount of any other compound. It is concentrated in form and the result of years of practical experience in the poultry business. There is absolutely no doubt as to what it will do, and you are invited to try it at the expense of the company. Send $1.00 for sample package and if it doesn't do the work you get your money back. This is fair and is made to induce practical poultrymen to give it a trial. It is also a sure preventive of such diseases as the terrible cholera and roup which create such havoc in all parts of the country. It acts directly on the craw and gizzard and is a thorough scientific preparation.

The manufacturers guarantee every package or refund purchase money. If your druggist don't sell American Poultry Mixture, he's behind the age. In that case order direct from American Manufacturing Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

H. Clark, Chauncey, Ga., says DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him of piles that had afflicted him for twenty years. It is also a speedy cure for skin diseases. Aeware of dangerous counterfeits. J. L. Harr.

EUROPEAN EXCURSION.

The B., C. R. & N. Ry. will start an excursion from the Northeast and Northern part of Iowa to the Christian Endeavor Convention in London, England, and to the Paris Exposition.

Many business men, professional men teachers and those who wish to visit their fatherland will gladly avail themselves of this opportunity. That teachers in our schools and colleges may have the advantage of this rare educational privelege, arrangements have been made with the fine Dominion and Allan Line of steamers. The steamers selected on these lines are the 'Cambroman' of the Dominion, and the 'Tunisian' of the Allan. Both are elegant new steamers and sail direct from Montreal to Liverpool.

The remarkably reasonable rate of $75.00, second cabin, from Montral to London and return, is charged. It is to be remembered that the second cabin on these steamers is equal to first cabin on some other lines, and that the very best people will travel this way. Those desiring to sail from New York can take the 'Furnessia of the Anchor Line On this steamer a rate of $119.84, first cabin, and $74.82, second cabin, from New York to London and return is charged. The 'Cambroman' and 'Furnessia' sail on June 23rd, and the 'Tunisian' on June 30th.

For about $14.00 additional a round trip ticket can be purchased by those wishing to visit the Exposition, from London to Paris and return. It will be necessary to apply at once in order to secure berths, as many will be going over.

Rev. D. W. Fahs, D. D. of Independence, who has had experience in excursion work, will have charge of the excursion. Those who contemplate going should address him at once at Independence, Iowa, for particulars

JNO. G. FARMER, A. G. P. & T. A.
Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and build up your health. Only 25c. Money back if not cured. Sold by Harr the druggist.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you eat.

It artificially digests the food and aids Nature in strengthening and reconstructing the exhausted digestive organs. It is the latest discovered digestant and tonic. No other preparation can approach it in efficiency. It instantly relieves and permanently cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Flatulence, Sour Stomach, Nausea, Sick Headache, Gastralgia, Cramps and all other results of imperfect digestion.

Price 50c. and $1. Large size contains 2½ times small size. Book all about dyspepsia mailed free

Prepared by E. C. DeWITT & CO., Chicago.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME V. KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, APRIL 19, 1900 NUMBER 35

B. C R. & N. TIME TABLE.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 708. B Pass.	7:55	p. m.
No. 796 A Stock	9:30	a m.
No. 742. B Freight	3:45	p. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 701. B Pass. -	1:32	p. m.
No. 741. B Way freight	9:30	a. m.

B—Daily except Sunday
A—Daily except Monday

☞"Freight trains shown above will carry passengers only when provided with tickets."

F. G. REESE, Local Agt.

WM. H. HUGHES
LAWYER.

Accounts and notes collected. Practice in all courts. Office in Schuler block.

GARNER, IOWA.

JAMES YOUNG
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER.

Will cry sales and guarantee satisfaction, 15 years experience. Dates and terms at office of Klemme TIMES.

Telephone or address

Garner, Iowa.

H. E. PEITZKE
BLACKSMITHING, WAGON SHOP.

General Blacksmithing. Repair work of all kinds. Wood work a specialty.

Klemme, Iowa.

J. N. SPROLE,
REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND ABSTRACTS.

Titles examined and corrected, Taxes paid, etc.

GARNER - - - IOWA.

A. L. SPOONER.
Physician and Surgeon.

Office first door west of Shafer & Dow's Store. Residence just back of the German Reform Church. Office hours 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.

Klemme, Iowa.

A. SNYDER,
DRAYMAN.

Having purchased the Bartholomew dray line I solicit a share of your work. Prompt attention given to all work: Charges reasonable.

KLEMME, IOWA.

JOHN BAUMGARTNER.
PROPRIETOR OF
CITY BARBER SHOP.
AN EASY SHAVE. - -
A SATISFIED CUSTOMER
FIRST DOOR EAST OF LAU BROS.
KLEMME, IOWA.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN
DAUBING AND PAINTING.

We understand our business and guarantee our work.

JOE MILLER,
PAINTER and DEGORATOR.

JOHN JOSTEN
PHOTOGRAPHER
Gallery Fitted For Finest Work

In Miniature and Cabinet Sizes. Enlarging, View and Copying.
PHOTO BUTTONS A SPECIALTY.
☞Give me a call
KLEMME - IOWA.

Goods Worth $1.50 FREE
also our magazine. Send for information at once.
RECREATION POINTERS, Kansas City, Mo.

SUDDEN DEATH OF REV. H. SCHULDT

The sudded death of Rev. Henry Schuldt has cast a deep sorrow and a universal feeling of regret over the entire community. Few men of his age were so thoroughly loved and respected. He had not an enemy; he practiced what he preached; the sun never set and found in his heart a feeling other than love for all mankind. Why be should come on this mission to Klemme, be taken sick and die, passeth understanding.

On Saturday, April 14, he left his home, in apparantly his usual health, and came to Klemme to secure some necessary repairs. The writer conversed with him, and to us he did not complain of feeling badly. At the request of Mr. Terhufen, a life long friend, he went to their home to stay over night. His intention being to attend the Quarterly Meeting service at German M. E. Church Sunday in the forenoon, and then drive to Hayfield in time to take charge of the Easter services of the Sunday School of which he was superintendent. He ate his supper, and then visited with old friends about town until time to retire, when he returned to Mr. Terhufen's for the night. His stomach has caused him trouble at different times, and just before retiring said that he was not feeling just right and asked for a glass af sweet milk, which would give him relief. It was nearly 11 o'clock when he was shown to his room. As near as can be learned, he was taken with cramps in the stomach shortly after retiring, which came on so suddenly and were so severe that he could not even call out to attract the attention of the friends in the house, until about 4:30 a. m. Dr. Richter was called and used his utmost skill for the relief of the sufferer. Later Dr. Gilbert of Goodell, was called in consultation, and Dr. Schneider of Garner, and the conference resulted in the opinion that the patient was suffering from ptomaine poisoning. Everything possible was did for the relief of the sufferer, but human aid could not save him; he had received a summons to come up higher, and at 5:30 p. m. the Soul of this good man, wended its flight to the Great Beyond.

A short service was held in the M. E church here, and then on account of the bad roads. the remains were take by train to Garner, and the regular service held in the German M. E. church, after which he was laid to rest in the beautiful Concord Cemetery. Peace be with him.

Rev's Brenner, Schuler, Kaste, Fiegenbaum, Merten and Wellemeyer carried him to his last resting place.

OBITUARY.

Henry Schuldt was born at Eldena, Mechlenburg, Schwerin, Germany, November 22 1854. His father died in 1868, leaving the large family in poor circumstances. In 1869, just one year after the death of his father, he, together with his mother, brothers and a sister, at the earnest solicitation and by the aid of his uncle, J. C. Schuldt, they came to America, to make their home with him at Colesburg, Deleware county, where they assisted him in working his large farm. Here he grew to manhood and by hard work and careful management, the family was kept near each other and prospered. In 1874 he came to Hancock county and again entered the employ of his uncle, who had disposed of his interest at Colesburg and come to this county the year previous. He was industrious, ambitious, saving, and held in highest regard by all who knew him. On October 17, 1877, he was united in marriage with Elizabeth Krueger. Shortly after his marriage he commenced farming for himself on what is now known as the Ed. Griffin farm, a few miles west of Garner. In all these years he has been a faithful worker and member in the German Methodist Church, and although he had not the advantage of a college education, he began to study with a view to entering the ministry. His hopes and plans matured to the satisfaction of his highest ambition and in the Autumn of the year 1882, he was given his firsl appointment as a minister of the Gospel. He continued in this work until 1895, when, to his great sorrow and grief, continued poor health compelled him to give up the regular work. He loved his work; was tireless in his endeavor to do his part faithfully, and how well he has succeeded is attested by the many, who live and hold his memory as that which shall be priceless. After giving up the regular work of the church he returned to this county and purchased a far near hayfield, where he has since lived. While he lived on the farm, he was ever ready to do his part in the church, and was superintendent of a flourishing Sunday School at the time of his death.

There remains a loving wife and eight children to mourn the death of a loving husband and father.

CARD OF THANKS.

Our hearts go out in inexpressible gratitude to the many warm friends, for their help and innumerable kind acts during the sudden sickness and death of our beloved husband and father. MRS. ELIZABETH SCHULDT AND CHILDREN.

W. H. Shipman, Beardsley, Minn., under oath, says he suffered from dyspepsia for twenty five years. Doctors and dieting gave but little relief. Finally he used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and now eats what he likes and as much as he wants, and he feels like a new man. It digests what you eat. J. L. Harr.

A lady is a gentlewomen on every occasion and under all circumstances she does not reserve fine manners for special people and special occasions.

Ladyhood is not an outside veneer or polish which may readily be rubbed off by contact or attrition with the world, but is ingrained, and is the result not only of good breeding, but of gentle blood and inherited rather than acquired tendancies. It takes several generations of refined ancestors to produce the natural gentlewoman or gentleman.

Acquired good manners are better than none, but unless there is a solid foundation of gentleness and kindness behind them they are apt to wear badly when subjected to strain.

When unpleasant dilimmas arise blood will tell: the woman who is to the manor born proves it by never forgetting what is due to herself and others under the circumstances; she does not lose her temper and make use of language to be regretted afterwards; she also makes allowance for the transgressor, and causes herself to be respected.—McCall'sMagazine.

W. W. Mayhew, Merton, Wis., says: "I consider One Minute Cough Cure a myst wonderful medicine, quick and safe." It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, grippe whooping cough, pneumonia and all throat and lung diseases. Its early use prevents consumption. Children always like it and mothers endorse it. J. L. Harr.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

STATE OF IOWA, } ss.
Hancock County, }

NOTICE is hereby given that on the 28th day of April, A. D. 1900, at 1 o'clock p. m., at the Court House in Concord and County aforesaid, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, the following described real estate, levied upon and taken by virtue of a Special execution, issued from the office of the Clerk of the District Court, within and for the county of Hancock, and State of Iowa, in favor of B. A. PUMMER, Plaintiff, and against the property of JOHN ROLLAND STEELE, et al., Defendant, for the sum of $681.65 and costs taxed at $66.68 and accruing costs, to-wit: Lots seven (7) and eight (8) in block twenty three (23) in the town of Garner, State of Iowa, the buildings thereon except one certain machine shed, or, warehouse erected, out of the materials furnished by J. H. Queal and Company to satisfy said writ of execution and accruing costs.

Dated 28th March 1900.

H. GARTIN,
Sheriff of Hancock County.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN ONE NIGHT.

Or to quickly cure La Grippe take "Week-Break-a-cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

A CAR LOAD OF FURNITURE
JUST RECEIVED.
Call and see our new stock of
FURNITURE.
E. P. SCHAEFER,
Klemme, Iowa

POSITIONS SECURED!

We aid those who want Government positions. 85,000 places under Civil Service Rules. 8000 yearly appointments. Prepares by mail for all Government examinations. Fees cash or instalments. A thorough and scientific course in all departments. Requires spare time only, Salaries twice as much as private firms for the same kind of work. The hours of labor are short, duties light, positions for life. Take our course of study and we guarantee that you will pass the Civil Service Examinations. Write, inclosing stamp, for our catalogue describing course to

BUREAU OF CIVIL SERVICE INSTRUCTION, WASHINGTON, D. C.

It Costs you Nothing

To examine our Complete Stock of Building Material and be convinced that you cannot do better elsewhere.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO.
L. G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST. ....SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

WALL PAPER;

Paints, Oils, Alabastine, Window Shades and Everything used to Decorate and Beautify the Home.

WATCHES, CLOCKS and JEWELRY.

DRUGGISTS' SUNDRIES. J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

NEW IOWA LAWS

MANY IMPORTANT CHANGES MADE

General Resume of Work of the Retiring Twenty-eighth General Assembly.

CONTINUED FROM LAST WEEK.

Of Interest to Miners.

H. F. 124—Requires mine foremen, pitbosses and mining engineer after this year to be examined by the board of examiners for state mine inspectors. Members of the board are to receive $5 per day and actual expenses for not more than seventy days in the yar for this work. Persons trying to discharge the duties of the above named workmen without certificates from the mine examiners are subject to a fine of $500 or six months' imprisonment or both. Publication clause.

S. F. 21—Requires monies earned by miners in the first half of the month to be paid them by the first Saturday after the 20th of the month, and that earned in the last half to be paid not later than the first Saturday after the 5th of the next month.

S. F. 38—Grants the right to bring suit against any coal mine operators or owners in the county where the mine is located.

H. F. 22—Repeals that part of the existing law that provides that payment shall not be demanded by the miner for "slack" loaded or found with coal.

Of Interest to Farmers.

H. F. 187—Authories notice to remove fences from highways to be served on agent of owner, as well as on the owner of the property in person.

S. F. 52—Amends the law regarding the trimming of hedges. The present law requires that owenrs shall trim them, and the new law provides that this shall be done by the owner only when ordered by the township trustees.

H. F. 29—Requires notice to be given to boards of trustees or county officers that Russian thistles have not been cut by the owner of the land upon which grown, without first notice being given the land owners, and such officers are to notify the latter.

H. F. 14—Restores the old law requiring the road supervisors to cut the weeds on public highways at township expense. Present law was passed two years ago, placing burden on land owners.

Special Privileges Granted.

H. F. 48—Gives registered pharmacists who are not permit holders, but are partners of the latter, the same rights and subject to the same restrictions as clerks in pharmacies, permit-holders respectively being responsible for the acts of their partners.

S. F. 112—Grants the authority to publish in pamphlet form portions of the code pertaining to any particular subject when authority is granted by the executive council. Publication clause.

S. F. 289—Extends the certificates of Iowa insurance companies from March 1 until April 1, so that a new taxation measure might be put through meantime. Publication clause.

H. F. 188—Gives the state auditor authority to issue his biennial insurance reports in two volumes, one of fire and the other of life insurance business. Requires statements of insurance companies to be made in detail and prepared for printing. At present the reports are required to be arranged in tabular form. Change would greatly increase cost of printing reports if present law had been observed. Publication clause.

H. F. 175—Permits stock or mutual companies to insure against loss or damage by burglary or robbery, and against loss of moneys and securities in transportation. Mutual companies may now insure any but banks, bankers, loan and trust companies, or county treasurers. It also allows companies to hold elections in July instead of January. Publication clause.

S. F. 8—Permits savings banks to accumulate a surplus and to receive deposits to the extent of ten times their capital stock and such surplus. Such banks may have hereafter sixty days' time on savings deposits only. Publication clause.

H. F. 78—Permits the annual publication of the Iowa Academy of Sciences to be illustrated at state's expense. Publication clause.

S. F. 274—Gives railroads additional powers in condemning grounds for yards, right of way, double tracking, reducing or straightening curves, changing grades, etc. Publication clause.

State Ground Relinquished.

S. F. 340—Cedes jurisdiction to the United States of the grave of Sergeant Charles Floyd, of the Lewis and Clerk expedition, who is buried not far from Sioux City. Publication clause.

S. F. 1—Surrenders the jurisdiction over grounds to be acquired by the United States for the erection of government buildings in the cities of Clinton, Creston and Oskaloosa. Publication clause.

H. F. 134—Relinquishes to Axel B. Erickson the undivided one-third of lot numbered 18 in block numbered 3 in Aiken's first addition to the city of Clinton, Clinton county, Iowa. Publication clause.

S. F. 253—Surrenders jurisdiction over grounds wanted by the United States for barracks, etc., which will be established in the Des Moines army post.

H. F. 288—Surrenders jurisdiction over ground in Boone for federal building.

Many Miscellaneous Changes.

H. F. 66—Provides for payment out of the state treasury by the state of the costs and fees incurred when criminals are prosecuted for the crime of escaping from the penitentiary. As the law now is the burden is on the county in which the prisoner is located.

S. F. 30—Provides for the choice of presidential electors by the state at large, and corrects an error, or at least an ambiguity, in the present law.

H. F. 89—Provides that corporations shall pay the same fee for renewing articles of incorporation which they pay for originally filing them. There has been a question as to whether the old law required any fee for this. Publication clause.

S. F. 148—Considerably enlarges the statement of facts to be made by sleeping and dining cars for taxation. Requires cars to be reported by divisions in the future.

S .F. 60—Makes township clerks collector and treasurer of all township funds. Publication clause.

S. F. 73—Requires clerks of the district court to make record of all funds deposited with them officially, and makes them liable for the same; requires them to report to board twice a year, and to turn the same over to the county treasurer if not called for within six months, unless otherwise ordered by the court.

S. F. 4—Makes the notarial seals of non-resident notaries prima facie evidence that the words theron engraved conform to the requirements of the law of the place where the ceritificate purports to have been made.

H. F. 157—Authorizes foreign corporations, one-half of whose stock is owned or controlled by non-resident aliens, which are prohibited from acquiring or holding title to real estate except on foreclosure to hold such property as they held July 4, 1888, or which has been acquired since on foreclosure, for ten years. A bona fide contract for the sale of such lands witain the ten years is to be considered a sale, sufficient to prevent the land escheating at the end of that time. The bill also legalizes all sales and contracts for sales of such lands since July 4, 1888. It is in the interest of a large number of land owenrs in northwestern Iowa. Publication clause.

S. F. 295—Provides that voting upon constitutional amendments or other public measures shall be by separate ballot.

H. F. 95—Authorizes the governor, with the approval of the regimental organizations, to select two flags from those in custody of the state to send to General Dodge to be placed on the Grant monument. Publication clause.

S. F. 230—Enables the trustees of the state library to use the appropriation for traveling libraries for other purposes than the collection of books and equipment for such libraries.

S. F. 178—Considerably enlarges the powers of the state superintendent and enables him lawfully to do what he has been doing without authority, for example, the issuance of leaflets and other printed matter from his department, which has been the custom for many years. It also authorizes the superintendent to send a man to make out the report of county superintendent, where the latter fails to do his duty. It increases the annual allowance of the superintendent from $250 to $300 for traveling purposes.

S. F. 33—Requires the bonds of pharmacists to be recorded as well as approved.

S. F. 260—Reduces the bonds required of wardens of the penitentiaries from $50,000 to $25,000, and the bond of the warden's clerk from $40,000 to $20,000. Publication clause

S. F. 281—Requires state warrants to bear on their face the purpose for which issued. Publication clause.

H. F. 144—Corrects the mistaken verbage on their face the purpose for which relates to the license of peddlers. Changes the word "certificate" to "license."

H. F. 21—Transfers Harrison county to the Fifteenth judicial district.

H. F. 145—Provides that the auditor may correct any error in the assessment or tax list for any omitted property, but before so doing the person directly interested must be notified and heard, and he shall have the right of appeal to the district court.

H. F. 193—Provides that all elections regarding superior courts and judges shall be at the same time as the general election. The governor is to fill vacancies instead of the mayor and council. The present law states when the first judge shall be elected. This is repealed and its place not supplied.

H. F. 260—Makes the same limitations apply to loan and trust companies doing a banking business as now apply to state banks.

H. F. 45—Denies insurance companies the right to rebuild when the amount of the loss is left at the company's request to arbitration. The present law makes void all stipulations in contracts of insurance where the company reserves the right to rebuild in case of total loss. The new law goes a step farther.

H. F. 119—Requires railroad companies to make provision for redemption of tickets; and makes void all conditions and limitations in tickets when such provision is not made, and notice is not posted that such redemption may be had.

H. F. 368—Provides that swamp land indemnity funds shall be paid directly to county authorities.

H. F. 219—Gives the state board of health stationery at the state expense.

H. F. 215—Amends the law governing the Girls' Industrial school at Mitchellville to conform with the new law creating the reformatory for women at Anamosa.

S. F. 326—Provides relief for transfers of shares of capital stock issued so long ago that it is impossible to tell what medium of exchange was paid for them, as the present law requires.

S. F. 325—Provides for uniform biennial reports of all state officers and commissions to the executive council. At present some reports are annual and others biennial, and all are made to the governor.

S. F. 346—Authorizes the executive council to reassess any property which may have been assessed heretofore under sections of the code held to be invalid.

S. F. 120—Provides that a homestead lying within a town but not within the town plat shall have the benefit of the exemption laws to the extent of forty acres.

S. F. 121—Prohibits the solicitation of liquor sales in prohibition counties.

S. F. 159—Makes it a misdemeanor for any person to publicly mutilate, insult, trample upon or defile any flag, standard color or ensign of the United States.

S. F. 322—Requires district and county agricultural societies to report according to law by the first of November each year, or be deprived of state aid and representation at the agricultural convention.

S. F. 257—Prohibits the charging of off balances of support fund for the state institutions, to make the balances during the summer months available for support during the winter months whehn expenses are heavier. Publication clause.

S. F. 347—Relieves the board of control from the law requiring that they purchase postage under a system of competitive bids. Publication clause.

H. F. 179—Creates a state board of veterinarians the same as the state board of health or other similar commission. Publication clause.

H. F. 396—Corrects the flaw in the hunter's license law by which fines were to be turned into a game protection fund. The constitution provides that they shall be turned into the school fund, and this bill allows half to go into the school fund and half to the game protection fund. Publication clause.

H. F. 389—Makes biennial legislative district apportionment required by law, and leaves apportionment as it now is.

S. F. 117—Makes it mandatory for superintendents of poorhouses or county asylums to turn over dead bodies of paupers unclaimed by friends, to the medical schools of the state. Publication clause.

Many Legalizing Acts.

S. F. 92—Legalizes the court house election in Polk county in January, 1899, and specifically authorizes the three things to be done for which the people voted at that election. Publication clause.

H. F. 375—Legalizes elections for erecting court houses, borrowing money therefor, and levying taxes to repay same, when all these questions were submitted as one, and authorizes all things to be done for which the electors voted, but does not affect pending litigation. Applies to two or three special counties. Publication clause.

S. F. 114—Legalizes the levy and collection of a one-mill library tax in the city of Council Bluffs for the years 1898 and 1899, which tax is authorized by statute only in cities of 25,000 population or more. Publication clause.

S. F. 224—Legalizes the incorporation of the town of Ocheyedan, Osceola county, Iowa, and all acts and ordinances of the city council. Publication clause.

S. F. 269—Legalizes the ordinances passed by the incorporated town of West Mitchell, Mitchell county, Iowa. Publication clause.

S. F. 345—Legalizes the incorporation of the town of Brush Creek, Fayette county, Iowa, the change of the name of the town to Arlington, the election of officers of the town and ordinances passed by the council. Publication clause.

H. F. 94—Legalizes the incorporation of the town of Athelstan, Taylor county, the election of officers, and acts and ordinances of council.

H. F. 289—Legalizes the levy made by the town of Bonaparte, Van Buren county, Iowa, and certain acts of the council.

H. F. 1—Legalizing the incorporation of the town of Pilot Mound, Boone county. Publication clause.

H. F. 181—Legalizes the resolutions, ordinances and proceedings of the council of the incorporated town of Primghar, O'Brien county, Iowa. Publication clause.

H. F. 33—Legalizing the resolutions and proceedings of the council and mayor of the incorporated town of St. Anthony, Marshall county, Iowa. Publication clause.

H. F. 33—Legalizes the acts of Isaac Matthews, C. H. Foster, W. G. Butler and J. H. Scrogum, justices of the peace in Mendon township, Clayton county. Publication clause.

S. F. 20—Legalizes school tax in Fayette district, Fayette county, Iowa, which was of doubtful validity. Publication clause.

H. F. 142—Legalizes the proceedings of the council and the mayor of the incorporated town of Milford, Dickinson county, Iowa. Publication clause.

S. F. 336—Legalizes the permits of pharmacists. Publication clause.

S. F. 325—Legalizes the acts and proceedings of incorporated towns which acted as if the provisions of section 894 of the code applied to them, and extends the provisions of this section in the future to incorporated towns. Publication clause.

S. F. 360—Legalizes the incorporation of the town of Wellman, Washington county, Iowa. Publication clause.

S. F. 354—Legalizes the change in the boundary lines of the independent school district of Rodman, Palo Alto county. Publication clause.

S. F. 343—Legalizes the organization of the independent school district of Rodman, Palo Alto county. Publication clause.

S. F. 359—Legalizes the acts of the board of directors of the independent school district of Goodell, Hancock county, in the levy of taxes for school house purposes. Publication clause.

H. F. 358—Legalizes the incorporation of the incorporated town of McIntire, Mitchell county, Iowa. Publication clause.

H. F. 310—Legalizes the incorporation of the town of Bussey, Marion county, Iowa, and the acts of the city council thereof.

H. F. 234—Legalizes liquor sales under void mulct petitions from October 1, 1897, to February 1, 1900, and also legalizes manufacturing petitions from October 1, 1897, to July 1, 1900. Publication clause.

H. F. 93—Legalizes the incorporation and ordinances of the town of Rodman, Palo Alto county, Iowa.

S. F. 333—Legalizes the organization of the independent district of Germania, Kossuth county, Iowa. Publication clause.

H. F. 283—Legalizes acts and ordinances of the town of Norway, Benton county, Iowa.

H. F. 407—Legalizes the incorporation of the town of Beaconsfield, Ringgold county, Iowa. Publication clause.

H. F. 387—Legalizes a change in the corporate name of Franklin Centre, Lee county, to Franklin. Publication clause.

H. F. 394—Legalizes the action of the board of supervisors of Delaware county in levying a one and one-fourth mill poor tax.

S. F. 365—Legalizes a drainage system in Pocahontas county.

S. F. 366—Legalizes $20,000 in bonds voted for school purposes in Emmetsburg, Iowa.

Joint Resolutions Adopted.

Joint Resolution, No. 1—Proposing to amend the constitution of the state so as to provide for biennial elections in the future. The resoltion has passed the legislature for the second time, and will go to the people next fall. The resolution provides that the first general election after the adoption of the amendment shall be held on the Tuesday next after the first Monday in November, 1902, and general elections shall be held biennially thereafter. In 1902 there shall be elected a governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of state, auditor of state, treasurer of state, attorney general, two judges of the supreme court the successors of the judges of the district court whose terms of office expire Dec. 31, 1902, state senators who would otherwise be chosen in thei year 1901, and members of the house of representatives. The terms of office of the judges of the supreme court which would otherwise expire in odd-numered years, and all other elective, state, county, and township officers whose terms of office would otherwise expire in the year 1901, and members of the general assembly whose successors would otherwise be chosen at the general election in 1901, are extended by the resolution one year and until their successors are elected and qualified. The terms of office of of senators whose successors would otherwise be chosen in the year 1903 are also extended one year or until thir successors can be elected and qualified. The general assembly is to make such changes in the law governing the time of election and terms of office of all other elective officers as shall be necessary to make the time of their election and terms of office conform to the proposed amendment, and shall provide which of the supreme court judges shall serve as chief justice. The general assembly is to meet in regular session on the second Monday in January, 1903, and biennially thereafter.

Joint Resolution, No. 5—Authorizing and recommending the pardon or parole of Thomas Kelly, formerly of Lucas county, Iowa, who died in Anamosa prison less than twelve hours after his pardon was granted.

Joint Resolution, No. 6—Authorizing and recommending the pardon or parole of Cornelius Moelchen, formerly of Dubuque county, sent up for life to Anamosa prison for the killing of his uncle.

Joint Resolution, No. 3—Authorizing the executive council to print and bind 2,000 extra copies of the first biennial report of the state board of control.

Joint Resolution, No. 2—Naming the additional employes of the Twenty-eighth general assembly, and their compensation, besides ordering a pay roll made out by the secretary of the senate and clerk of the house. The resolution provided for three policemen, two document clerks and eight janitors.

Joint Resolution, No. 4—Naming further additional employes for the Twenty-eighth general assembly, fixing their compensation and authorizing their pay-additional janitor and the filling of a vacancy.

Concurrent Resolutions Adopted.

1. Authorizing the secretary of state to sell and dispose of the session laws of sessions prior to 1886 at 10 cents per copy.

2. Directing the executive council to caue the custodian to move his office down with the labor commissioner in the basement, and that the state horticultural society be moved to the rooms vacated by the custodian, while the state board of health retains the former rooms of the state horticultural society.

3. Memorializing the Iowa delegation in congress to advocate legislation which may be necessary to provide for the delivery and collection of mail along public highways on all star routes, where residents provide suitable boxes, similar to the rural free delivery service.

Some Salaries Increased.

H. F. 166—Increases the salary of the superintendent of the Soldiers' Orphans' Home at Davenport from $1,200 to $1,500 per year. Publication clause.

S. F. 214—Gives the state dairy commissioner a deputy and three assistants at a salary each of $1,000 per year, and traveling expenses. This is to enable the commissioner to promote the dairy interests, and enforce the dairy laws throughout the state as he has never been able to do before.

S. F. 143—Allows secretary of the board of medical examiners compensation for services amounting to not more than $25 per month. He is allowed nothing for such services now.

S. F. 126—Increases the salary of state mine inspector from $1,200 to $1,500 per year.

Reformatory for Women.

H. F. 137—Establishes a reformatory for women at Anamosa, Iowa. This institution is to be under the state board of control, with the officers in charge selected by its members. It is to occupy the building known as the female department of the penitentiary at Anamosa, as soon as this building is completed. Any woman or girl committed or transferred to this institution is to be instructed in morality and piety, and in branches of useful knowledge as adapted to her age and capacity, and which promise best to secure her reformation. Schools for education and industrial training will be opened up to this end. No girl under 9 years of age may be sent to the reformatory. Any woman or girl over 14, who may be an inmate of Mitchelville and has become unruly or incorrigible, and whose presence there is dangerous to the other inmates may be removed by the board of the reformatory. The board of control may authorize the discharge or parole of any inmate of the reformatory. The board is to give due notice to the district, superior or police judges before the building is ready. The board may make any rules and regulations for the new institution which it sees fit to. The sum of $1,000 is appropriated to equip the institution, and $15 per capita for support of inmates. Publication clause.

Anti-Prize Fight Law.

S. F. 84—Prohibits any boxing matches or glove contests in Iowa in the future where a prize is given or an admission fee charged. Publication clause.

Dental Examinarion Board.

S. F. 160—Makes change in the laws governing the practice of dentistry. It provides that the dental board of examiners shall consist of five practicing dentists, who shall have been engaged in their practice in the state for at least five years preceding their appointment. The board is to be appointed by the governor for the term of five years, the appointment of one member to be made annually, his term to begin August 1. All dentists who wish to practice will have to pass an examination given by this board, after having graduated from some reputable dental school of the state. The annual commission of one dollar for renewal of certificates is done away with, and all persons wishing to enter practice are to hereafter pay $25 for a license, and there will be no charge for renewal. All fees after paying the compensation and expenses of the commission shall be paid into the state treasury. The commission is to make a biennial report to the governor. The bill also prohibits the practice of dentistry without compensation therefor.

Anti-Convict Labor Law.

S. F. 7—Prohibits the making of pearl buttons or butter tubs in the state penitentiaries, after present contracts are exhausted.

Telegraph and Telephone Taxation.

S. F. 29—Blanchard substitute provides that telegraph and telephone companies shall be taxed as railroads are now taxed in Iowa.

Law Course Extended.

S. F. 176—Extends the law course of the State university from two to three years, and requires an equivalent course in all the other schools of the state to meet requirements for admission to the bar. Publication clause.

Municipal Code Commission.

S. F. 323—Provides for a municipal code commission to recodify the municipal laws of the state and report needed changes to the next assembly. The commission is to be composed of three members from each house of the present assembly appointed by the presiding officers of either house. This commission is to serve without compensation, receiving only actual expenses.

Other Miscellaneous Changes.

S. F. 68—Provides that where insurance company and insured cannot agree on third appraiser, insured may, after giving 48 hours' notice, ask the clerk of the district court to appoint such appraiser. The bill practically wipes out arbitration.

H. F. 146—Reorganizes the Iowa National Guard, doing away with brigade organizations, and raising the salary of adjutant general from $1,500 to $2,000 in times of peace and to that of a colonel during war.

H. F. 135—Provides penalties for procuring liquors for minors.

S. F. 183—Increases the allowance for carrying children to and from school in districts under central systems from $5 to $10 per capita.

H. F. 316—Extends registration and Australian ballot to school elections in cities having 5,000 population or more.

Water Works Bill Killed.

The bill having for its purpose the transfer of the water works funds of the city of Des Moines to the public library fund, which passed the house, was killed in the sifting committee of the senate by a vote of 3 to 4.

Miscellaneous.

Omnibus appropriation bill—Carries the sum of $278,534.06.

Joint resolution—From committee on retrenchment and reform, fixing the salaries of employes at the state house, raising a number which were cut two years ago.

Concurrent resolution—Provides for the appointment of non-salaried commission by the governor to represent Iowa at the Pan-American exposition.

Senate bill—Provides new regulations for insurance companies known as stipulated premium organizations.

Ways and means committee bill—Provides for the general levy for state purposes. Authorizes the executive council to levy to the amount of $1,400,000 for 1900 and $1,500,000 for 1901.

Senate bill—Authorizes the state board of control to use the unexpended balance of the Cherokee hospital appropriation.

NOTES OF THE STAGE.

Otis Skinner will produce in Chicago a dramatization of Robert Louis Stevenson's "Prince Otto," about the middle of April.

Robert Loraine, Julie Opp's former husband, who was to have acted with Ada Rehan in England, has gone to South Africa.

M. B. Curtis is back in San Francisco after a two years' tour in the antipodes. He intends settling in the Golden Gate capital.

The suit brought by Author Israel Zangwill against the New York Evening Sun for libel has been dismissed, with costs on Mr. Zangwill.

In an English version of "Don Juan," which Richard Mansfield is to play, the last act is laid after the reformed hero's death, in spirit land.

Daniel Frohman has secured the American rights for a new comedy called "The Queen of Roses," by Alfred Calmour, a copyright performance of which was recently given in London.

"The Winter's Tale" was played nineteen times by the James-Kidder-Handford company in San Francisco. The receipts for their three weeks' engagement at the Golden Gate exceeded $23,000.

The present trouble in the Transvaal has resulted in the dramatization of Olive Schreiner's "The Story of an African Farm," which shortly is to be exploited under the management of Kirke La Shelle.

Julia Marlowe has set more than one fashion from the stage, and her revival of "Barbara Frietchie" costumes has set the ball rolling in the direction of the gowns which our mothers had on in war times.

Flo Irwin, the sister of May Irwin, is to star next season. She will use her sister's play, "The Swell Miss Fitzwell," and will be supported by Walter Tokyo and give a repertoire, including the Japanese version of "The Merchant of Venice."

A nose exactly in the middle of the face is abnormal. The general run of noses incline toward the right.

In museums the use of formalin as a preservative for specimens is increasing.

An orange hit in the exact center by a rifle ball will vanish at once from sight, scattered into infinitesimal pieces.

The Secrets of Planets Revealed.

The telescope which is now in process of construction is expected to bring the moon within a mile's eyesight of this world, and to reveal the secrets of the planets. It may cause as great a change in the world's thoughtas Hostetter's Stomach Bitters does to sufferers from dyspepsia, constipation, liver or kidney troubles.

Most of the phosphorus used in the world is produced from bones.

Stomach Troubles In Spring

Are THAT BILIOUS FEELING, bad taste in the mouth, dull headache, sleeplessness, poor appetite.

No matter how careful you are about eating, everything you take into your stomach turns sour, causes distress, pains and unpleasant gases.

Don't you understand what these symptoms — signals of distress — mean?

They are the cries of the stomach for help! It is being overworked. It needs the peculiar tonic qualities and digestive strength to be found only in

HOOD'S Sarsaparilla

The best stomach and blood remedies known to the medical profession are combined in the medicine, and thousands of grateful letters telling its cures prove it to be the greatest medicine for all stomach troubles ever yet discovered

A Boer shatters the traditions of his race if he weds an Englishwoman.

A HINT FOR SPRING.

When Housekeepers Are Brightening the Interiors of Their Homes.

Now that the backbone of this remarkable winter is broken, housekeepers are remarking the dingy look of the home interior. The question of new wall coverings is up. Paper is dear and short lived; kalsomines are dirty and scaly; paint is costly. The use of such a cement as Alabastine, for instance, will solve the problem. This admirable wall coating is clean, pure and wholesome. It can be put on with no trouble by anyone; there is choice of many beautiful tints; and it is long lasting.

The grinding trust is truly a grinding wheel monopoly.

$4.00 A DAY AND EXPENSES easily made by agents selling our goods — everybody needs them. Write today. Muco-Solvent Co., Chicago, Ill.

France has more persons over 60 years of age than any other country. Ireland comes next.

Any cough is serious enough to warrant prompt attention. It is what it may result in that makes a cough dangerous. For all slight or stubborn coughs, for grippe, lung fever, bronchitis, asthma and other throat and lung affections you can find no other remedy so agreeable and harmless, or so promptly effective, as Morley's Honey Pectoral. Price, 25 cents. Sold by agent in every town.

God's glory does not depend upon our glorias.

Lane's Family Medicine.

Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

A clock keeps right on working when it is on a strike.

Are You Using Allen's Foot-Ease?

It is the only cure for Swollen, Smarting, Burning, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

A very hot iron should never be used for flannels or woolens.

HAVE IT READY

Minor accidents are so frequent and such hurts so troublesome no household should be without a bottle of

St. Jacobs Oil

for instant use, as the world knows it is a

PERFECT CURE for

PAINS and ACHES

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

DES MOINES, April 16, 1900.

The state board of control is already arranging to put into effect the provisions of the new law, which gives it control of the county and private insane asylums of the state. The members of the board, after a conference on the subject, have adopted a plan for determining exactly what new responsibilities are involved under the new law. Secretary Wilkinson has been instructed to communicate with all the county clerks of the state and ascertain what counties have insane in their keeping, and whether they are kept in state, county or private asylums. If county or private asylums are maintained, the clerk will be expected to furnish information as to the number of inmates, the location of the institution, etc. As soon as this information is collected the board will make a tour of inspection, and investigate the condition of all the institutions. There are a few counties in the state which have no insane. There are about twenty-five county asylums in the state, however, and as soon as possible all of these will be visited.

The state auditor's office issued and sent out warrants to the 100 or more banks which advanced money to the fund for transporting the Fifty-first Iowa. While the legislature declined to pay transportation of more than this one regiment, there was a feeling among the members that this refusal would not be accepted as final. It is expected that the same question will come up again at each session of the legislature and, like the New Orleans claims, the John L. Brown claim and other Banquo's ghosts of former sessions, will ultimately secure recognition.

It is roughly estimated at the auditor's office that the legislative session this year, including salaries of of members and employes, printing, and all charges properly to be made to that account, cost about $135,000. This is a little more than the session of two years ago, because the late session was a few days longer, covering eighty-eight days.

The order for the reorganization of the governor's staff has been issued. All the old officers are re-appointed except inspector general, which had been held by General James Rush Lincoln until he became colonel of the Fifty-first Iowa. Major J. A. Olmstead succeeds him.

In view of the large number of cases of small pox in Des Moines and Iowa, the city council has authorized a committee to contract for the construction of a permanent hospital for contagious diseases, at a cost not to exceed $4,000. The building will be put up on the ground of Mercy hospital, to the north of the hospital building, and work upon its construction is to begin at once.

The Manchester & Oneida Railway Company has filed articles of incorporation with the secretary of state. The road will be built from Manchester to Oneida, both being in Delaware county. The capital stock is $75,000. The new road will give Manchester an outlet to both the Great Western and Milwaukee railroads. It was charged at Manchester that the Illinois Central influence prevented the Great Western building a spur down to Manchester from Oneida. Oneida is about ten miles north of Manchester.

Adjutant General Byers plans to have all of the Iowa National Guard regiments hold their camps in Des Moines simultaneously during the coming summer. He is working on the project now with hope of success. He is urging the government to turn over to the state the tentage which the Iowa guard is entitled to, and if this can be arranged, the arrangements for holding the camps in Des Moines, or near it, can be easily fixed. If this matter hitches, it will be difficult to secure the necessary tentage in Des Moines. It is believed that this will be one of the most enjoyable reunions of the guard ever held. Brigade encampments have been held heretofore but never until the time of Camp McKinley were all four regiments mobilized. Sixty per cent of the members of the reorganized guard were also members of the old guard that went into the Spanish-American war. The holding of the camps together will give the veterans unequalled chance for reunions. And General Lincoln, as senior colonel, would be in command, to the gratification of the entire guard.

Auditor of State Frank Merriam is at Colorado Springs and the department at the capitol is in receipt of a long letter from him canveying the intelligence that he is getting along nicely.

HARRISON IS NOT A CANDIDATE.

Refuses to Accept Democratic Nomination for Governor of Illinois.

CHICAGO, April 16.—Mayor Carter Harrison has come out unequivocally in opposition to his nomination by the democratic state convention for the governorship of Illinois and given his reasons at length. In giving his reasons, Mayor Harrison said that in case he should be elected he would have to take his seat as governor in January of next year and the city of Chicago would be without a mayor. "It would rest with the council to select my successor," he said, "and I do not believe the people who elected me to the mayoralty wish to leave the election of the next mayor to the present (republican) city council."

Almost Blind.

My little 4-year-old girl's eyes were so weak from birth that she could not stand any light at all. Was treated by several physicians without benefit. My neighbors induced me to buy Morley's Sarsaparilla and Iron from Mr. O. Daugherty, Banock, Ky. Three bottles not only restored her sight, but made her stronger and healthier than she ever was in her life.

DAVID KESSING.

Sold by agent in every town.

A shoemaker says banana peels make excellent slippers.

AGENTS WANTED.

Live, energetic men to take exclusive agency in every county in Iowa for the "Safety Carriage and Wagon Wrench." New. No competition. No capital required. A fast seller. Money maker for a hustler. Write for my proposition. It's a new one. Write H. W. Welch, 325 Dearborn St., Chicago, Ill.

Poets are born—and on rare occasions one is paid.

FITS Permanently Cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Send for FREE $2.00 trial bottle and treatise. DR. R. H. KLINE, Ltd., 931 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

God's rewards are often greater responsibilities.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.

Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

A polished hat doesn t go well with a shiny coat.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

No one ever heard a married man coax his wife to sing for him.

Carter's Ink.

Good ink is a necessity for good writing. Carter's is the best. Costs no more than poor ink.

Oranges are refreshing and feeding but are not good if the liver is out of order.

A vigorous growth and the original color given to the hair by PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM.

HINDERCORNS, the best cure for corns. 15cts.

Scotch divorces are rapidly increasing in number.

FREE GIFTS TO AGENTS.

We want 100,000 Agents, men and women, boys and girls all over the United States to sell our wonderful Lekko Scouring Soap, Lekkoene and other Toilet Soaps. Big profit, easy work. Prize with every cake. Write to-day. C. H. Marshall & Co., Dep't 10, Chicago, Ill. Factory 118-126 No. May St. Ref., any bank in Chicago.

There is no hope for a man who thinks he is good enough.

Send for Choice Recipes

by Walter Baker & Co., Ltd., Dorchester, Mass., mailed free. Mention this paper.

Kid boots are going up in price in England.

BIG MONEY FOR AGENTS

selling our household goods—everybody needs them—send for particulars. Muco-Solvent Co., Chicago, Ill.

It is well to keep lamps about two-thirds full of oil.

Country Publishers and Farmers and all who need power should get catalogue of Gasoline Engines issued by J. Thompson & Sons, Beloit, Wis. It is sent free to anyone. They also make a full line of farm implements. The firm is thoroughly reliable and you will make no mistake in writing them.

The cauliflower is a patrician among vegetables.

I am sure Piso's Cure for Consumption saved my life three years ago.—MRS. THOS. ROBBINS, Maple Street, Norwich, N. Y., Feb. 17, 1900.

Prince Albrecht of Prussia has bought a lot of land in the Markobrunnen Rhine wine district at $16,000 an acre.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES are fast to sunlight, washing and rubbing

Calicoes, ginghams and chinzes should be ironed on the wrong side.

FAIR WOMEN SPEAK.

Pe-ru-na Works Wonders for the Gentler Sex in Catarrhal Ailments.

MRS. COLONEL HAMILTON.

That Pe-ru-na has become a household remedy in the home of Mrs. Colonel Hamilton is well attested by a letter from her, which says: "I can give my testimony as to the merits of your remedy, Pe-ru-na. I have been taking the same for some time, and am enjoying better health now than I have for some years. I attribute the change to Pe-ru-na, and recommend Pe-ru-na to every woman, believing it to be especially beneficial to them." Mrs Hamilton's residence is 259 Goodale street, Columbus, Ohio.

Mrs. Margaretha Dauben, No. 1214 North Superior street, Racine City, Wis., says: "I feel so well and good and healthful now that pen can not describe it. Pe-ru-na is everything to me. I feel healthy and well, but if I should be sick I would know what to take. I have taken several bottles for female complaint. I am in the change of life and it does me good."

Have you catarrh of the head, throat, lungs, stomach or any other organ of the body? If so, write to Dr. Hartman at once. He will send you directions for treatment without charge. Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O.

MISS ANNIE WYANDOTTE.

Miss Annie Wyandotte, queen of the operatic stage and dramatic soprano, says:

"Fifteenth St. and Jackson Ave.,
"Kansas City, Mo.

"Dr. Hartman:

"Dear Sir—Pe-ru-na has been my salvation. It has given me back a beautiful voice, a gift of God; it has brought me once more to my old profession. I can talk now, and sing, where before I could scarcely whisper. Can you wonder at my delight? I wish every person who is suffering as I suffered might know Pe-ru-na. Only those who have been afflicted can ever know the intense satisfaction and gratitude that comes with a complete cure. My voice was completely gone. April 15 I felt so elated over the restoration of my voice that I inserted an advertisement in The Star for vocal pupils. The advertisement, which cost me 65 cents, brought me five pupils, and that was the beginning of my present large class. Yours gratefully,
"Annie Wyandotte."

A congestion, inflammation or ulceration of the mucous membrane, whether of the head, stomach, kidneys, or other organ, is known to the medical profession as catarrh. It is known by different names, such as dyspepsia, Bright's disease, female complaint, diarrhoea, bronchitis, consumption and a host of other names. Wherever there is a congested mucous membrane there is catarrh, acute or chronic.

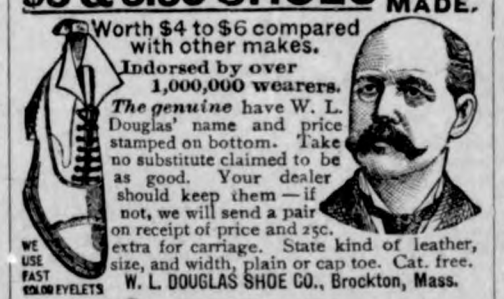
MISS CLARA STOECKER.

Miss Clara Stoecker says: "I had chronic catarrh for over a year. I tried many remedies, but found no relief until I saw an advertisement in the paper of your treatment for chronic catarrh. I tried it and I think I am now well. I recommend Pe-ru-na to all my friends who are afflicted with catarrh." Miss Stoecker lives at Pittsburg, Pa.

Mrs. Margareth Fritz, Wilcox, Okla., writes: "I extend my sincere thanks for the good advice you have given me. I do not believe I would be living now if it were not for you. I had suffered with flow of blood for four months, and the doctors could help me but little. They operated on me three times. It was very painful and I only obtained little relief. I was so weak I could not turn in bed. Then I applied to Dr. Hartman. I did not know whether he could help me or not, but I followed his advice, and used only three bottles of Pe-ru-na and Man-a-lin. Now I am well and as strong as I ever was, thanks to your remedies." Pelvic catarrh has become so frequent that most women are more or less afflicted with it. It is usually called female disease."

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Book of testimonials and 10 DAYS' treatment FREE. DR. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Box E, Atlanta, Ga.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 & 3.50 SHOES UNION MADE.



Worth $4 to $6 compared with other makes.
Indorsed by over 1,000,000 wearers.
The genuine have W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on bottom. Take no substitute claimed to be as good. Your dealer should keep them—if not, we will send a pair on receipt of price and 25c. extra for carriage. State kind of leather, size, and width, plain or cap toe. Cat. free.
W. L. DOUGLAS SHOE CO., Brockton, Mass.
WE USE FAST COLOR EYELETS

PENSIONS Get your Pension DOUBLE QUICK
Write CAPT. O'FARRELL, Pension Agent, 1425 New York Avenue. WASHINGTON, D. C.

IN 3 OR 4 YEARS AN INDEPENDENCE ASSURED

If you take up your homes in Western Canada, the land of plenty. Illustrated pamphlets, giving experiences of farmers who have become wealthy in growing wheat, reports of delegates, etc., and full information as to reduced railway rates can be had on application to the Superintendent of Immigration, Department of Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to N. Bartholomew, 306 Fifth St., Des Moines, Iowa.

FINE BUGGIES 1900
...Of All Kinds and Styles...
20 PER CENT DISCOUNT DURING APRIL ONLY.
GRANDEST - DISPLAY
Ever offered in Iowa.
Write or call on
J. D. KEYES & CO.
Fifth, Vine and Wagner sts., Des Moines - - - Iowa.

W. N. U., Des Moines, No. 16.—1900

LAXATIVE BROMO-QUININE TABLETS

Stops the Cough and Works Off The Cold.

CURES LA GRIPPE

A KLONDIKE SCENE.

NOTE—Every druggist from Klondike to Cuba sells Laxative Bromo-Quinine Tablets for Colds and Grip. In fact it is the only Cold and Grip prescription sold throughout this vast territory, which is striking evidence of its virtue and popularity. This signature E. W. Grove appears on every box of the genuine article. No Cure, No Pay. Price, 25c.

See The Monarch

BICYCLES

The Best and Cheapest wheel on the market.

REPAIR YOUR WHEEL

Our Expert Tinner is able to put your old wheel in good repair quickly and cheaply.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

THE BEST GROCERIES AND PROVISIONS,

That can be purchased for money. you will find at my store. Bought in small quantities—We keep them coming every day—and they are always fresh.....

SHORT ORDER LUNCHES SERVED

YOURS FOR BUSINESS.

G. W. KLUCKHOHN, KLEMME IOWA.

WALL PAPER.

The largest stock and the very latest in Red, Green and Bronze colors.

PAINT.

We handle the Lion Brand. 1 gallon covers 300 square feet, two coats and it is guaranteed for five years. If it peals or cracks and comes off your building will be re-painted free of charge.

White Lead, Oils and Colors always kept in stock.

SHAFER & DOW.

General Merchandise Dealers,

KLEMME, IOWA.

Buy Your

Drugs, Paints, Wall Paper, Toilet Soap, Perfumery Books and Patent Medicines

At Amsden's Pharmacy

GARNER, IOWA.

FRED ARNOLD, PRES. C. H. WIEGMANN, V. P. F. A. ARNOLD, CASH.

STATE SAVINGS BANK,

OF KLEMME, IOWA.

CAPITAL $25 000 00, LOANS $40 000 00,

INSURANCE WRITTEN, LOANS NEGOTIATED, EXCHANGE BOUGHT AND SOLD.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits: Money Loaned on Real Estate: Foreign and Domestic Exchange Sold.....

DIRECTORS: FRED ARNOLD, C. H. WIEGMANN, H. W. GRUETZMACHER, CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, F. A. ARNOLD.

THE KLEMME TIMES

By G. L. WELLEMEYER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme, Iowa, as second class matter

ELL CENTER.

Seeding is nearly a thing of the past in this vicinity.

Carr brothers purchased a fine bunch of cattle from Thos. Gauley Saturday.

Miss Tona Fialla who has been staying with Mrs. Rice during her illness, returned to her home Saturday.

Dr. Blair's medicine wagon passed through here Saturday. No need of anyone being sich for lack of medicine.

Edward Haskens is suffering from a severe attack of erysipelas in ths face. His many friends hope for his speedy recovery.

J. R. Whitaker of Goodell, was in these parts last Saturday supplying the people with Dr. Ward's popular remedies.

Ray Burman and the Misses Belt and Braund, attended the Easter Services of the Congregational church at Garner last Sunday.

Lew Lewis is helping Wm. Lawrence to paint the school house. The way Mr. Lewis throws paint would put a professional in the shade.

J. W. Allen sold a nice bunch of shoats to August Lau & Son last week for which he received $5 per cwt. Thanks to the McKinley anministration and prosperity,

Miss Belt and her pupils entered the school room last Monday morning, with smiling faces, which we think was caused by the neat and attractive appearance af the school house.

Quite a number from this place attended the Easter exercises at the Methodist church in Klemme Sunday. The services were all that could be desired and the number of beautiful Easter bonnets was enough to make any mans heart—glad.

Rev. Paterson and wife visited with J. W. Allen and family last Sunday, while on their way to Beulah, where Mr. Paterson preached a very able and interesting sermon on the death and resurection of the Savior. Although the sermon was so plain a child could understand it, it was so interesting he held the attention of the audience during the entire service. Those who stayed away missed a great deal.

Get your screen doors and windows of J. H. Queal & Co.

GARNER.

W. H. Simcox has been on the sick list for several days.

Editor Wellemeyer of Klemme, was on our streets Monday.

Miss Lily Gamm, of Whitimore is visiting her many friends in town.

Judge Kelly begins the April term of court at the court house next Monday.

Editor Hall of the Goodell Globe, was a Monday visitor to this metropolis on business.

Earl Brockway, Sam Schneider and B. R. Milbank returned from their eastern trip Tuesday.

Sam Williams started for Iola Tuesday, on another trip with men to invest in the riches of Kansas.

Last Friday evening the Garner Cornet Band gave a street concert that was highly appreciated by all.

The democrats of this township heid a caucus Monday and elected their delegates to the county convention.

Fred Bush is at home and will report the proceedings of the coming term of court in exchange with reporter Black.

Isaac Sweigard and A. L. Goodyear took the Tuesday noon train for Iola and other points in Kansas. Mr. S. expects to locate there in the banking business.

Rev. G. I. Findley, of Goldfield, will preach in the U. P. church tonight at 8 o'clock and also tomorrow afternoon at 2:30. Everybody is invited to these services.

We are pleased to announce that J. C. Ford, of Concord has received his merited appointment as census enumerator. He received his appointment and commission last Saturday.

Prof. G. L. Pinkham, of Iowa City, gave a very highly appreciated address Sunday afternoon, to audience in the United Presbyterian church. In the evening he delivered another interesting lecture, somewhat historical in its nature, but very instructive.

KOERNER BROS.....

CARRY A FULL LINE OF

Builders Hardware,

Tools, Hay Carriers and Tracks,
A fine line of Paints and Oils,
"Record" Bicycles.

GROCERIES, CHINAWARE, GLASSWARE

Every purchase you make of us invites you to another because of Fairness of Dealing, the quality of the Article, and the Lowness of prices.

We have the SCREENS,
You have the Flies;
You get our SCREENS,
And live pleasant lives,

We have the LARGEST stock of LUMBER in the county----also sell Lime, Plaster, Brick, & Cement

J. H. Queal & Co.

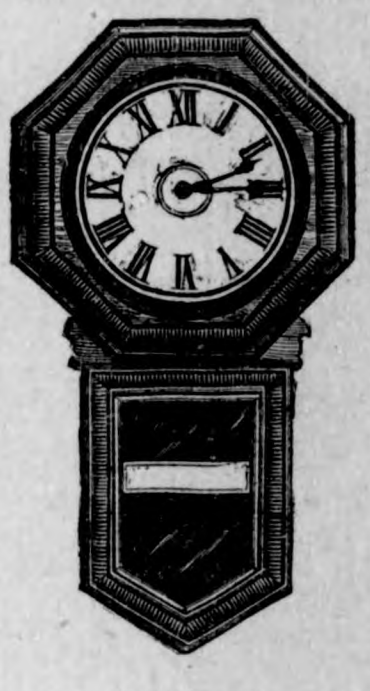
C. G. BRACHER, Agent.

SPRING SALE OF

CLOCKS

NOW GOING ON.

CLOCKS FROM $3.50 UP.



Notice!

Monday and Tuesday we are out of town canvassing for the Rogers Bros. Silverware. Balance of the week at the shop.

CHAS. F. H. SUCKOW.

H. W. SCHOPER,

FARM MACHINERY,

Buggies and Wagons, Corn Planters, Corn Plows, Champion Binders and Mowers.

TWINE.

BAISSEAU.

An Imported Percheron Stallion.

Weight abou 2000 pounds. A magnifficent horse in every way You will make no mistake .n you see him before promising elsewhere. He will be found at Terhufen's barn, Klemme, Wednesday's of each week.

$12 for colt to stand and suck.

BLACK DIAMOND.

Black Diamond is a standard bred COACH. Fine style and action. Light enough for carriage, heavy enough for hard work. Te see him is to appreciate the horse. Weight 1120. At Terhufen's barn, Klemme, Wednesday of each week. At Blackwell's barn, Garner, Saturday's. $10 for colt to stand and suck.

O. H. CUMMINGS, Klemme, Iowa.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hogs wanted six days in the week. W. R. Bloom.

Fresh garden seeds 8 packages for 25c at Harr's.

Miss E. Renziehausen has a advertisement this week.

F. A. Arnold transacted business at Garner yesterday.

John Mulkins was up from Goodell on business Tuesday.

Sheriff Gartin was down from Garner on official business Tuesday.

Mrs. Chas. Suckow was on the sick list the fore part of the weak.

Gruetzmacher Bros. new house in South Klemme is almost completed

Geo. Hall of the Goodell Truth Dispenser was a passenger north Monday.

Plow your garden; clean up your yard—try being a good citizen for a while.

Buy your wall paper and paint at Harr's. Better and cheaper than ever. Reliable.

J. C. Schuldt of Garner attended quarterly meeting services in Klemme Sunday.

FOR SALE:—Residence property in Barz addition to Klemme. Inquire of H. S. Swarz.

Editor Eil of the Meservey Messenger, spent Sunday with his parents in Klemme.

Mrs. S. L. Sage came down Friday evening for a short visit with the editor's family.

Bert Crawford and Julius Henschen were county seat visitors the fore part of the week.

There are quite a number that owe us on subscription and now would be a good time to pay it.

Rev. H. R. Fiegenbaum, pastor of the German M. E. Church at Garner, was a Klemme visitor Monday.

Mrs. R. M. Brisco, of Goodell, was transacting business and calling on friends in Klemme Friday.

Wm. Biers and wife and Aug. Ridder and wife left yesterday for Waterloo, to attend the funeral of a cousin.

Dentist E. H. Goodsell will be in Klemme Friday and Saturday April 27-28. Come in and have your work done right.

The heavy rain which fell on Sunday night and most of Monday will delay seeding some but will start the grass nicely.

John Henschen has gone to the Indian town on the west, at which place he will act as chambermaid in Weline,s horse hotel.

A. Snyder and Myron Haskin drove to Garner Saturday and brought down a load of supplies for the Klemme creamery.

Several of the young lads were fishing for "channel cat" in the river last week. They were quite successful, having caught 34.

Special Easter services were held in the Eng. M. E. Church Sunday. A large attendance and a splendid sermon was the result.

A. Snyder is improving his property in South Klemme. He is having his house sided and will also have it painted. Let the good work go on.

The band boys are arranging to give a home talent play in the course of a few weeks, entitled "Old Glory in Cuba," a four act drama. Particulars next week.

At the democratic caucus, held at Bloom's office Saturday night, H. A. Richter, M. R. Day and W. R. Bloom were chosen delegates to the county convention.

Agents on salary of $15.00 per week and expenses; the greatest agent seller ever produced; every stock and poultry raiser buys it on sight. Hustlers wanted. Refference. Address, with stamp, American Mfg. Co. Terre Haute, Ind.

If you see some of our business men examining the inside of their hands, just say nothing about the blisters—they have been pounding carpet or making garden.

Gilbert McGrady built a neat addition to the Newberger farm house, last week. He also has the contract to build a large barn for one of our permanent farmers east of town.

Joe Miller is putting on paint these days, and as he expresses it 'like dedickens.' Well, I guess rather, if there is a laboring man about town that is not at work we don't know who he is.

When you see fifty or sixty teams on our street at one time, as has been the case during the past week you may know that our merchants are enjoying a good trade. 'Rah for Klemme!

Ed Reamer went to Kiester, Minn., Tuesday, where he has a contract to do the finish work on a large hotel. Ed is a rapid and first class carpenter and will give the Kiesterites good service.

If you are desirous of buying wall paper from sample books call at Harr's. He has samples outside of the trust, and will sell cheaper than any other parties in Hancock County, as he buys for cash.

The ladies of LuVerne, Iowa, did not like the actions of a certain man and another mans wife, so they proceeded to bespatter them with live hen fruit. The news says the job was quickly and well done.

Dr. Gilbert, of Goodell was called to Klemme in consultation with Dr. Richter, in the case of Rev. Henry Schuldt. Dr. H. T. Schneider of Garner, was also called, but it was a case wherein human skill could not avail.

The republicans held their caucus Saturday afternoon as per call and the following named gentlemen were selected to attend the convention at Britt: J. Gruetzmacher, Chas Gruetzmacher, H. Terhufen, F. A. Arnold and G. L. Wellemeyer.

It is hard for a married man to arrive at any scientific conclusion in reference to why a four month's old bayby should be so much heavier at 1 o'clock a. m. than its mother used to be at precisely the same hour.

Great opportunity offered to good, reliable men. Salary of $15 per week and expenses for man with rig to introduce our Poultry Mixture and Insect Destroyer in the country. Send stamp, American Mfg. Co., Terre Haute Ind.

Repair Your Chimneys:—Every property owner is warned to inspect all chimneys and place the same in good repair. This must be attended to at once or the authorities will order the work done and tax the costs up against the property.

PER COM.

Walt Bloom has leveled down the ground about his house and seeded it to blue grass. When this begins to grow nicely, and W. R. takes a few lessons in pushing a lawn mower, we predict that he will wish the wide expanse of lawn was but half the size.

When you go away from town just tell everyone you see that Klemme is on the map. Two new residence houses completed so far this spring, and more to follow. The outside world should be kept informed of our boom, and more people will come and invest their money, engage in business, and Klemme will forge to the front. Don't be a kicker—unless you kick your kick in this direction.

The band limbered up and entertained the large crowd that was in town Friday with a number of choice selections of music. The band boys are working hard and under the present leadership are doing better than ever before. They need a little encouragement—they need a little money. In the near future they will give an entertainment and we want to see every one turn out and give them a helping hand.

Low excursion rates to Cedar Rapids. Call on nearest ticket agent B. C. R. & N. Ry for rates dates of sale, limits etc., for the meeting of Iowa Retail Grocers, Pure Food Exposition and the Knights of Khorisan at Cedar Rapids, April 23-28. Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids Iowa.

The north bound freight being late Wednesday, the delegates to the county convention could not get to Garner in time to catch the freight going west, so Ell township was not represented. What's the matter with the Britt fellows building us a direct line so we can go occasionally to the future (?) county seat.

There will be a wrestling bee at the Carlson livery stable next Saturday evening at which time Melvin Woodard of Waterloo, and Myron Haskin will measure their strength and skill. An admission fee of 25c will be charged. The bout will be best two in three. The parties are evenly matched and the event promises to be interesting.

Louis Weline and Dan Holland drove over from Kanawha Friday evening and returned Saturday. These two Klemme boys have, so to speak, struck it rich at the Indian town. Mr. Weline has engaged in the livery business, and Dan is running a short order lunch room and billiard parlor. We are glad to note that they are both well pleased with their business prospects.

The average person would not be guilty of going into a store or office and reading a letter which chanced to be lying on the desk but the same person would not hesitate to go into a printing office and read copy lying on the case. Neither would they attempt to carry on a conversation with a person adding a column of figures but they will sit around a printing office and talk to a compositor setting type and then wonder why the printer makes mistakes. It is probably merely a matter of education and some of the visitors at this print shop are liable to be e ducated unless they mend their ways.

Surprises are not always a surprise, as was evidenced in the case of the party planned by our good wife, for Howard Africa, Friday evening. About a dozen of his young friend were invited, and our humble home turned over to them. For several hours they made merry, with games of all sorts, until they felt like taking a rest. At 11:30 light refreshments were served, and all did justice to the occasion. After expressing their regrets that Howard was going away, the young people returned to their respective homes, all expressing themselves as having enjoyed a pleasant evening. Howard is very popular with the young folks here, as he is everywhere.

Last Saturday, Howard Africa, who for over a year has been the right hand man of the TIMES, stopped working for us, and has accepted a more lucretive position with the Garner Herald. Howard is one of the few young men growing up, in whom one can have explicit confidence. The affairs of the office, the books, or any part of the business could be left in his care and you could rest assured that all would be kept straight and proper. When you size up the average young man, of his age, and who have had as good or better chances in life, how many are there of whom you are willing to say, "they are thoroughly reliable." Such is the case with Howard, and we do not hesitate to give him the highest recomendation. We let him go, because we realized it was for his advancement and not because we did not wish to retain him in our employ.

We make a trip to the depot once in a while to watch the unloading of freight and every once in a while, we notice large consignments of goods of all kinds and descriptions, to prominent farmers in this vicinity. Are you doing as you would like to be done by? Along this line, we took occasion to inquire of our business men if the supply house really sold goods for less money? The invariable answer was—"If these parties will buy of us in the same quantities that they purchase in Chicago, and pay the cash, we will duplicate the orders." Now reader, just give this a moment of your thoughts. Our business men pay taxes here, to keep up the town, and every dollar of profit you put into the cash box of the supply house you steal away from your home merchant. Give the home man a trial and see if he can not save you as much on the same amount of goods, freight deducted, for cash in hand transactions.

Grand Display

Of all that is late, up-to-date and new in the line

OF ARTISTIC MILLINERY,

ALL THE LATEST DESIGNS IN

TRIMMED HATS

LADIES' AND MISSES WALKING HATS, SAILORS, TAMS, BABY BONNETS.

Miss Renziehausen's millinery store is creating a sensation among the ladies. The material used for fashioning the Spring headgear are extremely beautiful, and the variety is almost endless. Every conceivable color is represented, including the new pastel shades, which promises to be very popular. She believes in furnishing her patrons with up-to-date city styles—a practice which is all the more commendable from the fact that the prices are very low. The line of ready-to-wear hats is a large one, and the different styles shown very nobby and fetching in appearance. To have one of Miss Renziehausen's hats is to be well dressed, and above all the ladies can rely on getting the latest and most correct style.

We have Just Received

A fine new line of Pulley Belts—the latest thing out. Also Ladies Ties in all the new shades; Silk for Shirt Waists: Dress Trimmings.

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

LEADING MILLINER.

"Cresco"

The only corset made that cannot break at the waist line. A complete stock of Cresco Corsets may be found here at all times. Just one trial will win you. Shafer & Dow.

Clean Up!

Every property owner is requested to clean up all refuse from barns or other sources, within the next 15 days. Proper attention must be given to this notice or the work will be done by the town and charged up to the owner.

2 w. H. TERHUFEN, Mayor.

Buff Plymouth Rocks.

Cockerels all sold. I have two pens from the best stock in the country. First pen stores 93½, eggs $2.50 per 15. Second pen, as even in color, all fine birds, eggs $1.25 per 15. Book your orders now for future delivery.

HENRY STRAW, Jeweler.

tf. Garner, Iowa.

Seed Grain!

I have a few hundred bushels of seed wheat, seed barley, seed flax and timothy seed. W. R. BLOOM. tf.

"No family can afford to be without One Minute Cough Cure. It will stop a cough and cure a cold quicker than any other medicine", writes C. W. Williams Sterling Run, Pa. It cures croup, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles and prevents consumption. Pleasant and harmle s. J. L. Harr.

AIELT RIEKENS,

PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER. GERMAN OR ENGLISH.

Will cry Sales and guarante satisfaction

Fine Stock Sales a specialty.

Call on or address at

PAULSVILLE, IOWA

The Place to Buy

SHOES

IS AT FRANK GRUETZMACHER'S SHOE STORE.

There are many reasons for this

FIRST.

Because we have the largest stock to select from in town and can fit anything from an infant to a giant.

SECOND.

Because our styles are the latest—you can find any style of toe or shape, in ladies, childrens' or for men—Black or tan, high or low.

THIRD.

We guarantee no dealer can sell cheaper, quality considered. Come in and look at our goods and buy if you wish, it costs you nothing to examine our goods.

FINE HOSIERY FOR EVERYBODY.

FRANK GRUETZMACHER

The Klemme Times.

G. L. WELLEMEYER, Pub.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

PRESIDENT MAY DRAFT ROOSEVELT

McKinley Wants the New Yorker on National Ticket With Him.

WASHINGTON, April 12.—Theodore Roosevelt is in danger of being drafted into the service of the national republican party as a candidate for vice-president on the ticket with President McKinley. Governor Roosevelt is not willing to take this nomination and has made his wishes known in an unmistakeable manner. He says he wants to be re-elected as governor of New York. But President McKinley wants Roosevelt on the ticket and is inclined to insist that the governor yield his political preferences for the good of the party at large. There was discussion of this matter at the cabinet meeting yesterday, and as Senator Hanna has just returned from New York, where he had a conference with ex-Secretary Bliss, it was understood he had reported Mr. Bliss unwilling to take the vice-presidential nomination and advising that Governor Roosevelt be pressed into service. It cannot be said with truth that the question is irrevocably decided, but present appearances are that President McKinley will personally urge Governor Roosevelt to take the second place on the ticket and almost refuse to accept declination for an answer. Either this or the Philadelphia convention will be given the tip to go ahead and nominate Roosevelt, despite the governor's declaration of unwillingness. Those who advocate this course say Governor Roosevelt is too good a party man to refuse to respond to such a call, and that he will accept and take the stump.

ROOSEVELT SAYS NO.

Governor Positively Declines to Enter the Race for the Vice-Presidency.

WASHINGTON, April 14.—Governor Roosevelt shies at the vice-presidency, which President McKinley is so anxious he shall take. The president called up the governor on the long distance telephone and had a talk with him about second place on the ticket. The result was not encouraging. Governor Roosevelt told the president he did not want to be vice-president, and would not have the nomination under any circumstances. He used very strong language in expressing his unwillingness to be forced into an office which he doesn't want—rather stronger, it is reported, than the rules of the telephone company permit. For instance, he said his mind was made up, and that all hades could not change it. President McKinley urged the governor to reconsider, said the party needed his services, that it was his duty to sacrifice his personal inclinations, etc., but Mr. Roosevelt refused to capitulate.

TURKEY DOESN'T PAY.

Therefore What Is the United States Going to Do About It?

WASHINGTON, April 16.—It is learned on undoubted authority that the negotiations for the payment of indemnity for the destruction of American missionary property in Turkey during the Armenian massacres in 1895 have reached their logical conclusion. Minister Strauss secured the promise of the sultan that indemnity amounting to about $90,000 would be paid, and that promise having been twice renewed, the last time previous to Minister Strauss's departure from Constantinople, it was understood by the minister, as well as by the state department, that payment would be forthcoming. Sixteen months have passed since the promise was made, and it has not yet been fulfilled, and the question presents itself, what action will this government take to enforce its observance? Meanwhile, the president has refused to accept the resignation of Minister Strauss and has indefinitely extended his leave of absence.

END OF A DRINKING CAROUSAL.

Prominent Chicago Capitalist Mortally Wounded.

CHICAGO, April 16.—Rufus Wright, a millionaire, and treasurer of the firm of Morgan & Wright, bicycle tire manufacturers, is lying at the point of death in the Leland hotel, shot through the neck by a bullet from the revolver of Mrs. Louisa Lottridge, of Pawpaw, Mich. The shooting occurred in the apartments occupied by the woman. Mrs. Lottridge was placed under arrest. A friend who had spent several hours with her previous to the shooting was also arrested. She gives her name as Mrs. Ida Koss.

Paris Show Opened.

PARIS, April 15.—The exposition of 1900 was opened yesterday, but it will be at least a month before anything but buildings is to be seen. The day's ceremonies were a peculiar mixture of sumptuous splendor in the Salles des Fetes and widespread confusion elsewhere.

Iowa News

MISS JEANNETTE REED, a bright young girl of Montrose, placed the muzzle of a shotgun against her breast and pulled the trigger with her foot, tearing out her heart, killing herself instantly. The cause of the deed is unknown.

THE late Archbishop Hennessy's two wills, dated January 18, were filed a few days ago. One is like his probated will of January 17, giving his estate personally acquired to Catholic institutions. The other gives the estate inherited from his brother, David J. Hennessy, of St. Paul, to his relatives. There will be no contest, the amicable suit having been entered by his brother Michael to meet legal requirements.

THE extensive egg packing establishment of Shotwell & Davis at Perry was burned to the ground a few days ago, including several adjacent buildings. The fire department was not able to save any of the buildings belonging to the plant, but by splendid work stopped the spreading of the flames. The stock on hand is estimated at about $8,000 and the buildings at $4,000, with only about $3,000 insurance on all. The origin of the fire is not known.

TAX DODGERS of Webster county are now sitting on the anxious seat. The board of supervisors has just passed a resolution in which the concealment of personal property is stated to be a notorious fact and the refusal to list the same said to be carried on at a wholesale rate. The supervisors appointed a committee from its own body to enter into contracts with some reputable firm of tax ferrets and run tax dodgers to their lairs. The committee consists of Swan Johnson of Dayton, J. G. Ryan of Badger and C. O. Hillstrom of Callendar.

THE supreme court in a recent decision held the Fayette county saloon petition insufficient, sustaining the decision of Judge Fellows. The court also decided three important mooted points as to the sufficiency of petitions of this character and their treatment by the courts, as follows: First—That the signers have a right to withdraw their names from the petition until the supervisors declare the petition sufficient or not sufficient, not being barred from withdrawing at any time prior to the end of the ten days the board spends canvassing the petition. Second—That this class of cases may be tried to the court and not to a jury. Third—That it is the duty of the county attorney to appear against the petitions in whatever contest in court over their sufficiency.

AT Fort Dodge a few days ago O. B. Rehn was seriously stabbed by his brother-in-law, J. B. Hill. Rehn started out to celebrate recent Boer victories, but becoming noisily intoxicated, was about to be arrested, when Hill interposed and said he would take him home. Arriving there, Mrs. Rehn charged Hill with being responsible for her husband's condition. This precipitated a fight, in which Rehn was badly stabbed about the head and body. The wives of both men also became involved, and a riot call was turned in for the police. When they arrived, Rehn was unconscious from loss of blood and physicians were called to dress the wounds. Both women were cut and bleeding and Hill is also suffering from cuts about the head and face. Rehn may not live. Hill is in jail without bonds.

AT the home of John Sterling, a farmer living north of Bevington, hay was piled under the house and barn at 4 a. m. and set on fire. Mrs. Sterling and her children were awakened by the plunging of the horses in the barn and managed to save the house. The barn, stock and cribs and every outbuilding on the place were destroyed. Four horses and a number of hogs were burned to death. A month ago Mrs. Sterling applied for a divorce after having Sterling arrested for beating her children by her former husband, John McMichael. The justice gave Sterling time to get bonds and dismissed him. He was not seen afterward. After the fire his tracks were seen leading from the house. Two days later Thomas Casey, a farmer, discovered Sterling in a hole in straw stack on his farm. Casey ordered Sterling to come out and on his refusal to come, set fire to the stack. Sterling remained in the stack till the fire reached him and then cut his throat with a jack knife, plunging through the flames and falling at Casey's feet. The man was horribly burned and nearly bled to death before Casey could obtain medical assistance. The physicians say he will die.

COMPLAINT has been coming in that parties at the head of Clear lake were catching large quantities of fish. Deputy Fish Commissioner Lon Green made a flying trip up the lake and managed to capture five men with fish in their possession. They were taken to Clear Lake and had their preliminary hearing and were bound over, except two, who plead guilty and were fined $10 each and costs.

H. W. BYERS has withdrawn from the congressional contest in the Ninth district. The cause of the withdrawal of Mr. Byers is purely local considerations in Shelby county and out of respect for his friendship to Judge Macy, his fellow townsman. The candidates who are asking for the republican nomination for congressman from the district are Hon. T. B. Swan, of Atlantic; Judge Macy, of Shelby; ex-Congressman A. L. Hager, of Greenfield, and Judge Walter I. Smith, of Council Bluffs. Others have been mentioned, but these four seem to be the only ones who are actively in the field and asking for support.

THE jury in the case of Edward Doran vs. the Cedar Rapids & Marion Street Railway Company, which was tried in the district court at Cedar Rapids, found for the plaintiff and placed the amount of his recovery at $8,300. Last November Doran was at Cedar Rapids to help receive some horses that had been purchased. He was riding one horse and leading another. A street car came down behind him and frightened the horse he was leading. It began jumping around and while he was trying to quiet it the horse he was riding stepped across the street car track, directly in front of the moving car. The horse was knocked down and killed and Doran was thrown to the pavement.

GOVERNOR SHAW recently listened to insurance men arguing against the valued policy law. Having passed the legislature, the measure now awaits only the signature of the executive to become a law, and the insurance men are urging that it be vetoed. Fully a score of insurance men and lawyers occupied the governor's private office during the three hours devoted to the hearing. The advocates of the controverted bill were represented only by Senator H. H. Brighton, of Fairfield. At the conclusion of the hearing, Mr. Brighton expressed the opinion that nothing whatever had been brought out to warrant the governor in vetoing the bill. He said he was rather surprised at the weakness of the case made by so many strong men, who, as a matter of fact, did not present so strong a showing as they made before the committees and on the floor of the senate.

AN old Indian doctor whose name is unknown was struck by a Chicago Great Western north-bound passenger train near Berlin a few nights ago and instantly killed. The train does not stop at Berlin. The engineer says as he neared the station he saw a man walking on the track about 100 yards ahead of him. He whistled to warn the man and also applied the brakes. The man on the track paid no attention to the warning and before the train could be stopped the engine struck him, crushing his body in a horrible manner. The train was stopped a few feet from where the accident occurred and the body picked up and turned over to the authorities. Nothing is known of the dead man except that he was seen about Berlin during the day. He claimed to be an Indian doctor. In the evening he was under the influence of liquor and it is supposed that while in that condition he wandered onto the tracks.

AN injunction suit filed at Sioux City against W. C. McNamara, president of the Eastern Nebraska & Gulf railway, to restrain him from interfering with the property of his wife has led to the disclosure of a sensational adventure, in which Mrs. McNamara secured positive evidence of her husband's faithlessness. Suspecting her husband of infidelity, Mrs. McNamara drove hurriedly into the city from her farm at midnight, demanded the assistance of a police officer and, with friends, repaired to the Leader hotel, where her husband had taken a room for the night. Loudly she rapped at the door, demanding admission, but all was silence within. Satisfied, however, that her husband was there, she commanded the officer to break in the door. On his refusal, she armed herself with a chair, ran to an outside ground floor window of the apartments and dashed in the glass. In a moment more she was in the room, and a heart-broken cry and the confusion that followed gave evidence to her friends outside that she had but proved her suspicions. Occupying the room with McNamara was a handsome young school teacher of Dakota City, who comes from a prominent family and who has moved in the best society. Her name was not disclosed. Mrs. McNamara's attorneys have filed a suit for the partition of her property and divorce proceedings will follow later.

CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Washington, April 9.—After some further discussion the senate to-day rejected the sectarian school amendment to the Indian appropriation bill offered by Jones of Arkansas by a vote of 30 to 16. Without division the bill was passed. The measure carries about $8,414,000. An unsuccessful attempt was made to agree upon a date for a vote on the resolution relative to the seating of Quay as a senator from Pennsylvania.

HOUSE.

The agricultural appropriation bill was under consideration and was made the vehicle of considerable desultory debate on irrelevant political topics. Good progress was made with the bill after the close of the general debate, 25 of the 37 pages being covered before adjournment.

SENATE.

Washington, April 10.—Without objection from any source, the senate to-day agreed to take a final vote on the right of Hon. M. S. Quay to a seat as a senator from Pennsylvania on Tuesday, April 24, at 4 p. m. During its session to-day the senate paid its tribute to the late Richard Parks Bland, long a representative from Missouri.

HOUSE.

The house devoted the day to the agricultural appropriation bill, passing it substantially as reported. An animated discussion arose over the amendments offered by Cerliss of Michigan, restricting the distribution of free seeds and free vaccine. The amendments were defeated.

SENATE.

Washington, April 11.—With little debate of importance the senate to-day passed the Pacific cable bill, a measure appropriating $3,000,000 for the construction of a cable line between San Francisco and Honolulu. During the greater part of the day the District of Columbia appropriation bill was under consideration. It carries nearly $8,000,000.

HOUSE.

The long and bitter struggle over the Porto Rican tariff bill ended to-day, when the house, by a vote of 161 to 153, concurred in all the senate amendments. The bill now only requires the signatures of the speaker of the house and president of the senate before going to the president for his approval. Upon the final vote, nine republicans voted against the bill, two democrats were paired with democrats in favor of the bill, and one democrat voted for it outright.

SENATE

Washington, April 12.—An effort was made by Morgan to displace the present unfinished business—the Spooner Philippine bill—by the substitution in its stead of the Nicaragua canal bill. While Morgan's motion failed, 15 to 33, the Philippine measure had a narrow escape from being displaced by the Alaskan civil code bill on motion of Carter, the motion being defeated on a roll call, 22 to 24. Burrows of Michigan delivered a strong address against seating Quay.

HOUSE.

The house adopted a resolution to authorize the secretary of the treasury to designate depositories in Porto Rico, Cuba and the Philippines for the deposit of government funds. By the terms of the resolution it applies to Cuba only so long as the island shall be occupied by the United States. An amendment to include the Philippines in this provision as to Cuba, offered, as stated, to emphasize the desire of the opposition not to retain the islands, was defeated by a party vote. A senate bill which will permit the dependent mothers of soldiers or sailors of the Spanish war, even though they married confederate soldiers, to receive the benefit of the general pension law, was passed.

SENATE

Washington, April 13.—The senate was not in session.

HOUSE.

The house voted upon the joint resolutions providing for the submission of the constitutional amendment to provide for an election of United States senators by a direct vote of the people. The majority resolution left it optional with the states whether their senators should be elected directly or by legislatures. The minority resolution made it incumbent on each state to elect by direct vote. The minority resolution which was offered as a substitute was voted upon first and carried, ayes 135, noes 30. Vote was taken upon the adoption of the amendment, resulting ayes 240, noes 15. The remainder of the day was devoted to the consideration of private pension bills. During the course of the debate there were several sharp attacks upon Talbert (dem. S. C.) for his course in delaying action on bills.

SENATE.

Washington, April 14.—Beyond the passage of eighty-three private pension bills and some general measures of minor importance, the senate transacted little business to-day.

HOUSE.

After an hour of routine business the house devoted its session to hearing eulogies on the late Governor Oliver P. Morton, of Indiana, in connection with the acceptance of his statue, which has been placed in Statuary hall at the capitol by the state which he served. Fifty-three private pension bills were passed.

CALLS OFFICERS STUPID.

Outlook's View of Trouble in the English Army.

LONDON, April 16.—The unsatisfactory turn that has recently marked the campaign against the Boers is resulting in astonishing and sweeping criticisms by the English papers of their own army methods. When Buller struck snags in Natal, when General Methuen and General Gatacre made terrible mistakes, and before the British arms had secured any progress a somewhat similar wave swept over the press. But then it was directed at individuals and chiefly confined to papers which were willing to condescend to "slang" one or several generals. Now names are not mentioned, but there is widespread, deeply-rooted conviction that the method of selection of British army officers is altogether wrong. About this conviction there is no bitterness, nor is it based upon conclusions rapidly arrived at. "Our officers," says the conservative, common-sense Lookout, "are as brave as lions, but as a rule they are stupid." Vanity Fair, which formerly denounced vigorously any forms of criticisms, admits sorrowfully that "our officers seem to play at war rather than to carry on war. It is all wrong."

Great Ships for the Pacific.

President Hill of the Great Northern Railroad says that for his proposed transpacific steamship line he has ordered vessels that will carry 20,000 tons, or a measurement capacity of over 28,000 tons. In other words, he will have in operation, eighteen months hence, vessels equal in carrying capacity to the Campania and the Lucania combined. The deck room of each vessel will amount to over five acres.

Estimated Boer Losses.

LONDON, April 15.—The Daily Mail publishes the following dispatch from Lorenzo Marquez:

"The actual Boer losses to the end of March, including prisoners, are estimated at 12,000. At present there are several thousand Boers in Natal and 35,000 in the Free State."

Nothing in the Wide World has such a record for absolutely curing female ills and kidney troubles as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Medicines that are advertised to cure everything cannot be specifics for anything.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will not cure every kind of illness that may afflict men, women and children, but proof is monumental that it will and does cure all the ills peculiar to women.

This is a fact indisputable and can be verified by more than a million women.

If you are sick don't experiment, take the medicine that has the record of the largest number of cures.

Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

Go to your grocer to-day and get a 15c. package of

Grain-O

It takes the place of coffee at ¼ the cost.

Made from pure grains it is nourishing and healthful.

Insist that your grocer gives you GRAIN-O. Accept no imitation.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND

POMMEL SLICKER

The Best Saddle Coat.

Keeps both rider and saddle perfectly dry in the hardest storms. Substitutes will disappoint. Ask for 1897 Fish Brand Pommel Slicker—it is entirely new. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

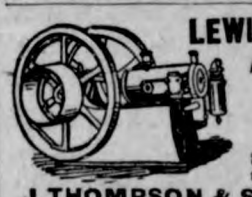
WORK WITHOUT WORRY

WASHED AWAY BY THE

STERLING DUPLEX WASHING MACHINE.

Has double "washboard" rubbers, runs easiest, lasts longest, does faultless work. Most practical clothes washer made. Don't drudge. Use modern methods. If it's not at your dealer's write us.

THE EUREKA CO., Dept. H., Rock Falls, Ill.



LEWIS GAS ENGINES

Adapted for All Purposes

SIMPLE . . . ECONOMICAL DURABLE . .

Send for Catalogue and state your power needs

J. THOMPSON & SONS MFG. CO. Box 501. BELOIT, WIS.

WANTED SOLDIERS' HOMESTEADS

The addresses of all Federal Soldiers, their widows or heirs, who made a HOMESTEAD FILING on less than 160 acres on or before June 22, 1874, no matter whether FINAL PROOF was made or not I will buy Land Warrants. Address Comrade W. E. MOSES, Box 1854, Denver, Colorado.

25 CTS PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS

KING DON:

A STORY OF MILITARY LIFE IN INDIA.

...BY MAVOR ALLAN.....

CHAPTER V.

The fair Isle of Wight was looking at its fairest on a glorious evening at the end of April, when the mail packet from Portsmouth steamed across the Solent towards Ryde Pier.

The green verdure of budding summer lay thickly on the far-stretching landscape and the tall trees dotted through the island town, rising so picturesquely upward from the sea, and capped by the lofty spire of the parish church.

The long promenade pier was gay with holiday makers, and eastward, the esplanade was bright with patches of spring flowers; while the soft melody of a brass band floated fitfully out over the azure sea.

There were two travelers on board the steamer who regarded the fair scene before them with enraptured eyes, for they were bride and bridegroom on their wedding tour—Roddy and Diana Gordon—and the veriest desert must have seemed a paradise to them in the all-satisfying happiness which union had brought to both. But the fashionable Ryde was not to be their destination.

Their young love as yet demanded the charm of solace of solitude, and it was southward, towards the great bluff white cliffs and the silver strands of Shanklin the island train was soon swiftly bearing them, to the rose-covered cottage which was to hold for them the first mystic name of home.

Home! What a talisman lay in that simple word! And as the young soldier led his happy bride across the threshold his heart swelled with gratitude to the God who had shielded him through perils of pain and bitter bloodshed in far India, to bring him to this haven of peace and perfect love at last.

And presently, as they lingered over dinner, reluctant to bring to an end that first delicious repast shared in their Eden together, they spoke of Don over whose welfare they yearned with all the tender sympathy born of their own happiness and large-hearted love.

Roddy had brought round his dessert plate and sat down by Diana's side, ostensibly to invite her to peel his walnuts, a task of which Roddy himself had no aptitude; but another diversion occurred by the arrival of the post, the last mail for the night.

One letter was from Don, which had been posted to Gadie Ha' and now forwarded by Roddy's father. And as Roddy tore it open and scanned its contents an exclamation of pleasure passed his lips.

"There, little wife, didn't I predict this?" he said triumphantly. And forthwith he read aloud a few hasty lines Don had penned to Roddy on the night of his betrothal to Lillie Derwent, previous to his departure for the camp of the Tirah force.

It was a wonderfully bright letter for Don, full of congratulation on Roddy's forthcoming marriage and calm satisfaction in his own engagement; and it ended with a postscript that stirred both Di and Roddy to the heart.

"I begin to think, old fellow, perhaps you are right, and life is worth living after all."

Happy tears had sprung to Diana's dark eyes, and, seeing them, Roddy's arm stole round her waist, and he drew her head to his shoulder and lightly touched its auburn locks with his lips.

"You are satisfied now, little woman, that Lillie has met her real 'hero' at last?"

She looked up in his laughing eyes with a tender smile, for she knew he was thinking of a time when she believed Lillie to be his own only love, and she answered with contrite sweetness:

"Ah, Roddy, how good God is, if we would only trust Him to shape our lives as He knows best!"

The silence of a deep content fell upon them, and by and by they strolled out to where the great chalk cliffs rose in dazzling whiteness up from the sea into the blue sky, over which the silvery stars of night were coming out one by one, twinkling like tiny globes of fire.

Behind them reared the rugged stretch of undercliff, down the wooded precipice of which the murmuring stream meandered from village to shore, and by whose side ran a series of gigantic steps—a mighty precipice that savored almost of Alpine sublimity.

The lovers—for they were lovers still—stood hand-in-hand and drank in the beauty of it all with that rapture which only comes when viewing some scene in the presence of one we love.

Even Gadie, lovely Gadie, with its silvery, shining waters was forgotten. They were here together, and it was the paradise of the world.

Yet ever and anon, as they gazed out on the deep ocean, the thoughts of each would turn to Don; and once Diana spoke, with a wistful little break in her voice.

"Surely, Roddy, you will forgive and forget the past now, and Lillie will bring him back to us once more?"

"Ah, surely, for

"My ladye fair can rule my soul,

And every thought and deed control."

Roddy quoted gaily. Then, with tender passion, he clasped the hand he held still tighter, and spoke more gravely, "What was that line you repeated a moment ago, Di?"

"'The waters swell before a boisterous storm; but leave it all to God.'"

As they slowly made their way along the esplanade homeward, the newspaper boys were calling the evening edition of the London papers, which had just arrived from Ryde by the last mail for the night, and Roddy called an urchin to his side, his cheek paling involuntarily as the lusty shout caught his ear: "Rebel firing into Bara Camp. British officer killed; orderly wounded!"

He hastily opened the sheet and stood still under a gas lamp to scan its columns; whilst Diana, with anxious eyes, looked over his shoulder. For, peaceful as it had been on the Indian frontier for some months now, her thoughts were ever quick to fly to Don and Lillie's father, of whom any hour might bring disastrous news.

A hoarse exclamation burst from the lips of both as, simultaneously, husband and wife caught sight of the fatal paragraph.

The name of the officer was Capt. Derwent of the Gordon Highlanders!

. . . . . .

And far, far away the red Afghan sun had set amid somber clouds above the snow-clad summits of Tirah and the white tents of the British camp in the Bara Strath.

There had been rain and thunder all day, and the clouds had gathered in dense masses, edged by the radiance of the hidden moon. And athwart the clouds now and then shot gleams of vivid lightning, falling with weird solemnity upon a coffin, draped with the Union Jack, carried shoulder high by stalwart Highlanders.

The cortege was preceded by pipers playing the low and wailing dirge of "Lochaber no more," and followed by a string of officers and soldiers wearing long, spectral-like cloaks, and walking with slow steps and heads downbent.

Soon—ah, how soon!—it was all over, and all that was left of their gallant comrade was committed to that lonely nullah, "In sure and certain hope of the resurrection of eternal life."

No farewell shots were fired; but the captain's own detachment presented arms, and the pipers awoke the dim valley once more with their pibroch; but it was "The Land o' the Leal" now that they played.

And as Don Gordon turned from that lonely grave, and pictured the image of her who held the dead so dear, for one wild moment he felt he would sooner, far sooner lie there, too, than face the anguish of Lillie's pure eyes; while in his heart rang the chaplain's words, like the cry of a lost soul:

"Deliver us not into the pains of eternal death."

CHAPTER VI.

It had been a morning of languorous heat, and now noon—the long, breathless Indian noon—was at its meridian, when, on a day in May, Don Gordon arrived at Rawal Pindi and rode out under a burning sun to Lillie Derwent's house.

The durwan met him with evident surprise and the intimation that "the gates were closed" (polite Hindostani for "not at home"), and for an instant Don's heart stood still, with a vague fear of he knew not what.

Then suddenly he remembered it was the hour of siesta, a time when visits are never paid in India; and, reassured, he dismounted from his horse, and, presenting his card with the observation that "the memsahib would be sure to see him on receipt of that," he passed through the vestibule with masterful step, and went unannounced into the drawing room to await Lillie's coming.

How long he waited he knew not. He walked to the window and noted, as the mind will note the veriest trifles at moments of tense excitement, that the great adjutant birds were still dozing in the sunshine, and the peacocks were spreading their gorgeous plumes on the terrace, as when last he looked out upon it from this same window.

The oleander, with its clusters of pink; the baubel, with its perfumed bells of gold; the jasmine and acacia, luxuriant in their wild beauty; the blue jays and the crested yellow sparrows, flitting from shrub to shrub; the brilliant butterflies, sailing through the voiceless air—all was unchanged, only the fair Indian home would know its master never more.

Never more! There was something terrible in the conviction, something appalling to Don to remember that death, chill and stern and awful, lay beyond this warm young world of budding beauty.

A sharp groan fell from his lips, stifled even as it escaped them; for the portiere had rustled, and he turned quickly to find he was no longer alone.

Lillie had come to him just as she had risen from her siesta. Her golden hair, let loose for coolness, streamed over her white muslin robe, and round her waist was a broad sash of black ribbon, the sight of which sent a fresh pang to her lover's heart.

"A great sorrow nobly borne is a great dignity." As Don looked at her he realized, almost with a feeling of awe, that such dignity had fallen upon Lillie now. The dire calamity she had so dreaded had come to pass, yet she had not sunk beneath the blow.

The passion of her grief was spent and resignation had come. Anguish had left its pallor on her cheek, but the hopelessness of despair was not past.

Don looked at her, marveling at her fortitude and calm; then the next instant his arms were closing round her like a vise and straining her to his beating heart, for her calm had given way, and she had flown to the shelter of his embrace, with a tender, sobbing cry.

"Oh, Don, Don, my all on earth now!" she cried.

He held her tight, and kissed her again and again. It was as if he dreaded the moment might come when he should never hold her thus any more, and he was drinking to the full this embittered cup of bliss. Presently she withdrew herself, for there was something almost fierce in the fervor of his caresses. She sank on a divan, and put out her hand to him to sit by her.

"Tell me," she said faintly, "all about it."

And Don told her, with low voice and averted eyes that story which the press paragraphs, so comprehensive, yet so cruel in their brevity, had already burnt like a searing iron into heart and brain.

It was shortly before the mess-hour. Several successive shots had been heard in the valley, and two had penetrated one of the mess tents and wounded an orderly whilst in the act of laying a table. Captain Derwent and himself were returning from a stroll along the banks of the nullah, when a bullet whizzed between them which struck Captain Derwent, and he dropped instantly at the narrator's feet, shot through the heart.

Every effort was being made to track the perpetrator of the crime and avenge the captain's death; but so far the rebels had escaped.

"And you yourself were the only one near when he died?" she said, through the tears which were now streaming silently down her pallid, lovely face.

"Yes. And owing to the dense undergrowth, it was impossible for me to follow the direction the shot came from. Directly he fell I did my utmost to stop the bleeding; but I saw at once it was useless. Death had been instantaneous. I got help from the camp then, and we carried him down to his tent. Next night we buried him close to where he fell." Don's voice was husky and strained, and suddenly, at sight of his ill-concealed emotion, she checked her tears and laid her golden head upon his shoulder with a trustful tenderness that went to his heart.

"My poor Don! how you, too, must have suffered!"

He caught her to him with a passionate caress, all the more passionate because the thought assailed him how once not love, but mere ambition, had urged him to lay siege to this confiding heart.

"I have suffered," he said, very low, "more than I can say, Lillie."

She looked up in his face and saw that he spoke truly.

His brow was lined and his cheek pale; his brown eyes had a haggard look she had never seen in them; and, remembering with a great rush of joy, he, too, might have never come back from that wild pass which had made her fatherless she returned his embrace with all the sweet naivete of a child who clung now to her sole protector.

(To be continued.)

A 110-ton gun, though it can fire only eighty full charges, can fire 190 three-quarter charges, and 320 half-charges.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON IV, APRIL 22 -- LUKE, CHAP. VII, VS. 1-10

Golden Text—"Like As a Father Pitieth His Children, So the Lord Pitieth Them That Fear Him."—Psa. 103:13

-Healing a Servant.

1. "When he had ended all his sayings." Those of the Sermon on the Mount. Both in Luke and in Matthew a series of miracles follows close upon the promulgation of the laws and principles of the kingdom of God. In Luke the Sermon on the Mount condensed into thirty verses (Luke 6: 20-49) is followed by two miracles and the summary of many more presented as a proof to John the Baptist that Jesus was the Messiah.

2. "He entered into Capernaum." By the Sea of Galilee, where he seems to have made his home during his Galilean ministry, and the center of his work in that whole region. "And a certain centurion was a Roman military officer. "All Palestine was under Roman military government; this centurion was probably connected with the garrison at Capernaum. "Centurion's servant, who was dear unto him." R. V. margin, "precious to him," or "honorable with him." "Was sick, and ready to die." R. V., "at the point of death." His disease, according to Matthew, was the palsy, and he was "grievously tormented."

3. "And when he heard of (concerning) Jesus," the words and the deeds which showed his character and his power. "He sent unto him the elders of the Jews." Not of the synagogue, for which another word is used, but of the people, the Jewish government, the leading men, heads of families. The centurion probably felt that Jesus, being a Jewish prophet, would be most influenced by the leaders of his own people, who were the centurion's friends.

4. "Besought him instantly," i. e., urgently, as in the phrase "continuing instant in prayer."—Cambridge Bible.

5. "He loveth our nation," attracted doubtless by the great superiority of their religion, their loftier hopes, their better morality. "He hath built us a synagogue," thus expressing his interest and faith in their religion.

6. "Then Jesus went with them," saying according to Matthew, "I will come and heal him." Some of the delegation seem to have hastened in advance to the centurion's house, "which was probably in the suburbs," in order to relieve his anxiety before Jesus could arrive. As they drew near to the house, "the centurion sent friends to him," with another message. He probably had heard of the healing of the nobleman's son in Capernaum while Jesus was at Cana (John 4: 46-53), so that he knew the presence of Jesus was not necessary; and he also felt, "I am not worthy that thou shouldest enter under my roof." This was an expression of his conscious sinfulness in the presence of a holy prophet, endowed with such wondrous power from God.

7. "Say in a word," as he had before to the nobleman's son.

8. "For I also (like Jesus, but in another sphere) am a man set under authority." He had power indeed, but it was authorized and delegated power, power derived from the powers above him, such as the tribunes or chief captains (Acts 21: 31) of the legion. Possibly he meant to argue, Although I am under authority, yet I command and am obeyed. How much more you, who possess authority yourself as the Messiah! "I say unto one, Go, and he goeth." My word is all powerful in the ranks which I command. Military service demands instant, unquestioning obedience.

9. "He marveled at him." "Only twice do we read in the gospel that the Savior marveled: once at the unbelief of his fellow-citizens at Nazareth (Mark 6: 6), once at the faith of this heathen."—Van Oosterzee. His faith was the more wonderful since so much depended on it. "Said unto the people," who needed the lesson on faith. "I have not found so great faith, no, not in Israel," where it would naturally be expected, for they expected their Messiah, they knew the true God, and that he was wrought miracles for his people in the past. In the report of Matthew (8: 11-13) follows an earnest warning to the Jews, and comfort to the Gentiles, based on this fact.

10. Jesus sent word to the centurion, "As thou has believed, so be it done unto thee." "Found the servant whole," restored to health. The authoritative word had gone forth, as the centurion had expected.

Headless People.

It is curious how often and how persistently, headlessness has figured in popular legend and in legendary history, secular and ecclesiastical. Among the men of the prehistoric age, in the very dawn of time, roughly drawn or scratched headless figures were symbols of the dead. Medieval romancing travelers wrote gravely of strange races of men who were said to be destitute of heads, and to have eyes in the breasts. One of the old chroniclers describes an apparition seen in the thirteenth year of King Edward IV.'s reign. There was a voice heard, he says, in the air between Leicester and Banbury, and "in dyverse other places, crying for a long time 'Bowes! Bowes!' which was herde of forty menne; and some menne said that he that cryed soo was a hedles manne."

Bloodstones.

Almost every jewel has a superstition of some sort attaching to it, and the bloodstone is not wanting in this particular. The story is told of it that at the time of the Crucifixion some drops of blood fell on a piece of dark green jasper that lay at the foot of the cross. The crimson crept through the structure of the stone, and this was the parent of this beautiful jewel. The dark red spots and veins were supposed to represent the blood of Christ, and many wonderful properties were attributed to the stone. It was thought to preserve its wearer from dangers, to bring good fortune and to heal many diseases.

ACTRESS MILLIONAIRES.

The United States can boast three actresses whose aggregate fortunes amount, at a moderate estimate, to $6,000,000 each. Of these Miss Crabtree, known to fame as "Lotta," owns no less than half, a fortune which yields her $200,000 a year. She owns property in Boston alone which is worth a million dollars and she has also a substantial stake in nearly all the leading cities of the states, from New York to Cincinnati. The remarkable thing about this colossal fortune is that Lotta owes every penny of it to her own industry and thrift. Her father was a small coal-dealer on Staten Island, and her name, "Crabtree," was associated only with coals sold by the hundredweight. Lotta's nearest rival in wealth among followers of the stage is Maggie Mitchell, who is a millionaire in dollars two and a half times over. Her large fortune was due in the first place to an accident. She was filling minor parts in a St. Louis theater, when that most popular play, "Fanchon, the Cricket," fell into the hands of the leader of the orchestra. He thought it peculiarly suited to the gifts of the promising young actress, and forthwith adapted it for her. The play proved a veritable gold mine to the lucky actress, and she is said to have made half a million from it alone. Miss Fanny Davenport, who forms the third in this trinity of wealthy actresses, laid the foundation of her fortune twenty years ago, when she came under Mr. Daly's auspices. Her great beauty, as well as her clever acting, made her the rage for many years, during which she acted Sardou's plays to enthusiastic houses. Unlike many actresses, she was as thrifty as she was fortunate, and invested her savings in real estate in Chicago and Denver, which is now of an estimated value of $500,000. In addition to this substantial fortune, she possesses jewelry worth $100,000.

Deduction Confirmed.

Miss Chatter—I knew you would be here today to see sister. Mr. Cuddler (interrog.)—Intuition? Miss Chatter—No; observation. You always appear on the same day that Ethel refuses onions at dinner.—Tit-Bits.

WISE AND OTHERWISE.

A man's past is the best prophet of his future.

The music of an accordeon is sweetness long drawn out.

It is hard for a man under a cloud to see the silver lining.

Necessity knows no law, and it's the same with extravagance.

The first lesson in charity is to give away things you don't need.

After man came woman; and she's still very much in the race.

A new spring dress causes a woman to walk with an elastic step.

There are yet some who would not rather be right than be president.

Executive ability is the faculty of getting some one to do your work.

The string a woman ties around her husband's finger is a forget-me-not.

The man who persists in doing his fellowman usually ends in doing time.

After a man's friends really know him they very often cease to recognize him.

A Woman's Weariness.

Women's sensitiveness makes them subject to more intense weariness than men. The melancholy, depression and exhaustion they suffer are due to sluggish action of their organs, which loads the system with impurities, poisons the blood and shatters their nerves. Morley's Sarsaparilla and Iron will cleanse the system, revitalize the nerves and give strength and energy. Sold by agent in every town.

The name of Shakespeare can be spelled 4,000 different ways. The poet himself spelled it 22 ways.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucus lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucus surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.

Sold by Druggists, 75c.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

There are thirty millionaires in Mr. Carnegie's new steel company.

Do Your Feet Ache and Burn?

Shake into your shoes Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It makes tight or New Shoes feel Easy. Cures Corns, Bunions, Swollen, Hot and Sweating Feet. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

In Java a small state exists which is entirely controlled by women, with the single exception of the sovereign, who is a man. He is, however, entirely dependent on the three women who form his state council.

$25.00 A WEEK AND EXPENSES made by good agents, men or women, selling our goods—write at once. Monco-Solvent Co., Chicago, Ill.

A light head makes an easy tongue.

BIGGLE BOOKS

A Farm Library of unequalled value—Practical, Up-to-date, Concise and Comprehensive—Handsomely Printed and Beautifully Illustrated.

By JACOB BIGGLE

No. 1—BIGGLE HORSE BOOK
All about Horses—a Common-Sense Treatise, with over 74 illustrations; a standard work. Price, 50 Cents.

No. 2—BIGGLE BERRY BOOK
All about growing Small Fruits—read and learn how; contains 43 colored life-like reproductions of all leading varieties and 106 other illustrations. Price, 50 Cents.

No. 3—BIGGLE POULTRY BOOK
All about Poultry; the best Poultry Book in existence; tells everything; with 23 colored life-like reproductions of all the principal breeds; with 103 other illustrations. Price, 50 Cents.

No. 4—BIGGLE COW BOOK
All about Cows and the Dairy Business; having a great sale; contains 8 colored life-like reproductions of each breed, with 132 other illustrations. Price, 50 Cents.

No. 5—BIGGLE SWINE BOOK
Just out. All about Hogs—Breeding, Feeding, Butchery, Diseases, etc. Contains over 80 beautiful half-tones and other engravings. Price, 50 Cents.

The BIGGLE BOOKS are unique, original, useful—you never saw anything like them—so practical, so sensible. They are having an enormous sale—East, West, North and South. Every one who keeps a Horse, Cow, Hog or Chicken, or grows Small Fruits, ought to send right away for the BIGGLE BOOKS. The

FARM JOURNAL

Is your paper, made for you and not a misfit. It is 22 years old; it is the great boiled-down, hit-the-nail-on-the-head,—quit-after-you-have-said-it, Farm and Household paper in the world—the biggest paper of its size in the United States of America—having over a million and a-half regular readers.

Any ONE of the BIGGLE BOOKS, and the FARM JOURNAL

5 YEARS (remainder of 1899, 1900, 1901, 1902 and 1903) will be sent by mail to any address for A DOLLAR BILL.

Sample of FARM JOURNAL and circular describing BIGGLE BOOKS free.

WILMER ATKINSON,
CHAS. F. JENKINS.

Address, FARM JOURNAL
PHILADELPHIA

LAU BROS.

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE.

An attractive Grocery and Hardware Store is a place where, if you are well treated, you will be likely to come again.

We Treat Customers Right

and they are the come-again kind. Our stock is complete in every detail. Come and

Make a Trial Purchaes of us and be convinced that we have the BEST GOODS AND AT RIGHT PRICES.

Gold Coin Stoves and Ranges. Hard and Soft Coal Heaters, Machinery, Corn Sheilers. Cutters, Sleighs.

HIGHEST MARKET PRICE FOR BUTTER AND EGGS.

LAU BROS., KLEMME, IOWA.

CARY SAFE CO.

BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.

..Manufacturers..

FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES

VAULTS, LOCKS, ETC.

CONTRACTORS to UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

$1 THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN $1

LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ALL POLITICAL PAPERS IN THE WEST

Always American——Always Republican

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN SUPPLIES ALL THE NEWS AND BEST CURRENT LITERATURE

Every Column is Bright, Clean and Packed with News

The Literature of its columns is equal to that of the best magazines. It is interesting to the children as well as the parents.

THE INTER OCEAN is a WESTERN NEWSPAPER, and while it brings to the family THE NEWS OF THE WORLD and gives its readers the best and ablest discussions of all questions of the day, it is in full sympathy with the ideas and aspirations of Western people and discusses literature and politics from the Western standpoint.

——$1.00—PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR—$1.00——

$1 THE DAILY AND SUNDAY EDITIONS OF THE INTER OCEAN ARE THE BEST EVER SEEN IN THE WEST. $1

THE INTER OCEAN'S NEWS IS EXCLUSIVE.

Price of Daily by mail .....$4.00 per year
Price of Sunday by mail .....$2.00 per year
Daily and Sunday by mail.....$6.00 per year

Homeseekers Excursions.

Jan. 16, Feb. 6, 20, March 6, 20, Apr. 3, 17, 1900, via B., C. R. & N. Ry.

On above date Round Trip tickets, good 21 days, will be sold at rate of a single fare plus $2.00 to all points on this line in Iowa, Minnesota and South Dakota, north of and including Shell Rock, Abbott Crossing and Waverly.

Tickets will also be sold at this rate to a large number of cities and towns in Northern, Western and Southern states. For further information call on B., C. R. & N. agents or address

Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A.,
Apr. 17 Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma bronchitis, la grippe and all throat, chest and lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on J. L. Harr, the druggist, and get a free trial bottle. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed.

Lengthening days give evidence of approaching spring time when ambitious business men, surrounded by shrewd competition in the over-crowed older towns, are looking for new homes, broader and better business advantages. The Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway is extending its lines into the best portions of northwestern Iowa and southwestern Minnesota. This country is noted for its rich soil, social, educational and religious advantages. Four towns were located last fall and have made remarkable growth already. Several new towns will be located during the spring and early summer. If you desire to de a pioneer in a good new town in a well settled rich country which has long been in need of a railroad.

Address THOS. H. BROWN,
Sioux Falls, S. Dak.

MAY 1 Townsite Agent New Lines.

Spreads Like Wildfire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling". Abraham Hare a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 yrs. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, run down man or woman. Price 50c. Sold by J. L. Harr, druggist.

Playing Cards.

"The Cedar Rapids Route" Playing Cards are the finest quality and extra finish. For sale by agents of the B. C. R. & N. Ry at 15 cts. per pack, two for 25 cts. $1.50 per dozen. Call for them at depot or send stamps, coin or money order to General Passenger Department, B., C. R. & N. Ry., Cedar Rapids, Ia. and cards will be sent dostage paid.

A Horrible Outbreak.

"Of large sores on my little daughter's head developed into a case of scald head" writes C. D. Isbill of Morganton, Tenn., but Bucklin's Arnica Salve completely cured her. It's a guaranteed cure for Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers and Piles. Only 25c at Harr's, the druggist.

NEW CHAIR CAR SERVICE.

Between Watertown, Ellsworth and Chicago via. B. C. R. & N. Ry. Commencing Sunday Nov. 19th, a free reclining chair car will be placed on trains Nos. 608 and 605 between Watertown and Chicago by the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. This car leaves Watertown daily, except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. arriving at Chicago 7:59 the following morning. This car runs to and from Sioux Falls Sundays, thus giving daily chair car service between Ellsworth and Chicago. Passengers going east from Chicago will have ample time to make any transfers to connect with all morning eastern trains.

These trains are very fast, and, with this new additional service, passengers can feel assured of first class accommodations. JNO. G. FARMER,
Cedar Rapids, Ia.

A Testimonial from Old England.

"I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best in the world for bronchitis" says Mr. Wm. Savory, of Warrington, England. "It has saved my wife's life she having been a martyr to bronchitis for over 6 years, being most of the time confined to her bed. She is now quite well." Sold by J. L. Harr.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

QUICK RELIEF FROM PAIN.

All who use Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism are delighted with the quick relief from pain which it affords. When speaking of this Mr. D. N. Sinks of Troy, Ohio, says: "Some time ago I had a severe attack of rheumatism in my arm and shoulder. I tried numerous remedies but got no relief until I was recommended by Messrs. Geo. F. Parsons & Co., druggists of this place, to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. They recommended it so highly that I bought a bottle. I was soon relieved of all pain I have since recommended this liniment to many of my friends, who agree with me that it is the best remedy for muscular rheumatism in the market." For sale by J. L. Harr.

City Dads Meet.

Regular meeting called to order by mayor Terhufen.

Members present: Kluckhohn, Lau, Pietzke, and Bracher. Absent: Suckow and Schoper.

In the absence of clerk Bracher was appointed clerk pro tem.

Bill of L. D. Womeldorf, for incorporation fees of $15.35 was presented and allowed,

Mayor Terhufen appointed O. Carlson marshall.

Informal ballot was taken on office of street commisioner and Philip Ell having received the most votes, was elected.

Moved and seconded that the clerk issue a warrant in favor of August Lau for $212 due in two years from April 11 1900, in payment of building for town hall. Carried by vote of all present.

Moved and seconded that the band boys be allowed to use the council room for band practice, when it does not conflict with any other business meeting. Good order must be preserved and none but band boys present. Carried.

It was moved and carried that the committee appointed buy 8 chairs and a table to be used in council room. Carried. On motion meeting adjourned.

H. TERHUFEN, Mayor,
Attest: C. G. BRACHER, Clerk Pro Tem.

Having received a car load of furniture and undertaking goods, I am in shape to supply you with anything in the line of furniture etc.

G. F. SCHULER, Garner, Ia.

Cleanse the liver, purify the blood, invigorate the body by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pill always act promptly. J. L. Harr

"I think DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the best pills in the world," says W. E. Lake, Happy Creek, Va. They remove all obstructions of the liver and bowels, act quickly and never gripe. J. L. Harr.

Otto Korb, Grand Chancellor, K. P. Booneville, Ind., says, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve soothes the most delicate skin and heals the most stubborn ulcer with certain and good results." Cures piles and skin diseases. Don't buy an imitation. J. L. Harr.

J. I. Carson, Prothonotary, Washington, Pa., says: "I have found Kodol Dyspepsia Cure an excellent remedy in case of stomach trouble, and have derived great benefit from its use." It digests what you eat and cannot fail to cure. J. L. Harr.

TO CURE A COLD WHILE YOU SLEEP.

Take "Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

Reduced Rates to the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Reduced round trip rates are now in effect to the nation's great resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas, owned, controlled by the United States Government for the cure of a score of human ills. Beautiful winter, 200 hotels and boarding houses of all grades. Ask nearest ticket agent for particulars, or Mr. John G. Farmer, A. G. P. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia. For illustrated books of information address Bureau of Information, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

A FREE PATTERN

(her own selection) to every subscriber. Beautiful colored lithographed plates and illustrations. Original, latest, artistic, exquisite and strictly up-to-date designs.

McCALL'S MAGAZINE 50¢ A YEAR

Dressmaking economies, fancy work, household hints, short stories, current topics, etc. Subscribe to-day. Only 50c. yearly. Lady agents wanted. Send for terms.

For ladies, misses, girls and little children. That certain stylish "chic" effect not attained by the use of any other patterns. Have no equal for style and perfect fit.

McCALL BAZAR PATTERNS 10¢ AND 15¢

Easily put together. Only 10 and 15 cents each—none higher. Sold in nearly every city and town, or by mail. Ask for them. Absolutely very latest up-to-date styles.

THE McCALL COMPANY,
138-146 West 14th Street, - - - - New York City, N. Y.

FOUND A GOLD MINE!

It Was in His Poultry Yard.

Man in Iowa Uses a Compound that Makes His Hens Lay Double the Usual Number Summer and Winter, Secret of His SUCCESS.

People in the neighborhood of Creston Iowa, are amazed at the number of eggs that this man drives to market with. When asked what was the cause of his hens being so prolific, he stated it was all in a certain compound he was using, that kept his hens in good condition und furnished them with the proper stimulus to egg production. American Houltry mixture is the name of it, and is made by American Mfg. Co. Terre Haute, Ind. Every man in the poultry business is interested in the health of his hens and their laying capacity. In the eggs lie his profits. This mixture is guaranteed to increase the production of eggs 100 per cent or money refunded. It will do more than three times as much as the same amount of any other compound. It is concentrated in form and the result of years of practical experience in the poultry business. There is absolutely no doubt as to what it will do, and you are invited to try it at the expense of the company. Send $1.00 for sample package and if it doesn't do the work you get your money back. This is fair and is made to induce practical poultrymen to give it a trial. It is also a sure preventive of such diseases as the terrible cholera and roup which create such havoc in all parts of the country. It acts directly on the craw and gizzard and is a thorough scientific preparation.

The manufacturers guarantee every package or refund purchase money. If your druggist don't sell American Poultry Mixture, he's behind the age. In that case order direct from American Manufacturing Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

H. Clark, Chauncey, Ga., says DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him of piles that had afflicted him for twenty years. It is also a speedy cure for skin diseases. Aeware of dangerous counterfeits. J. L. Harr.

EUROPEAN EXCURSION.

The B., C. R. & N. Ry. will start an excursion from the Northeast and Northern part of Iowa to the Christian Endeavor Convention in London, England, and to the Paris Exposition.

Many business men, professional men teachers and those who wish to visit their fatherland will gladly avail themselves of this opportunity. That teachers in our schools and colleges may have the advantage of this rare educational privelege, arrangements have been made with the fine Dominion and Allan Line of steamers. The steamers selected on these lines are the 'Cambroman' of the Dominion, and the 'Tunisian' of the Allan. Both are elegant new steamers and sail direct from Montreal to Liverpool.

The remarkably reasonable rate of $75.00, second cabin, from Montral to London and return, is charged. It is to be remembered that the second cabin on these steamers is equal to first cabin on some other lines, and that the very best people will travel this way. Those desiring to sail from New York can take the 'Furnessia of the Anchor Line On this steamer a rate of $119.84, first cabin, and $74.82, second cabin, from New York to London and return is charged. The 'Cambroman' and 'Furnessia' sail on June 23rd, and the 'Tunisian' on June 30th.

For about $14.00 additional a round trip ticket can be purchased by those wishing to visit the Exposition, from London to Paris and return. It will be necessary to apply at once in order to secure berths, as many will be going over.

Rev. D. W. Fahs, D. D. of Independence, who has had experience in excursion work, will have charge of the excursion. Those who contemplate going should address him at once at Independence, Iowa, for particulars

JNO. G. FARMER, A. G. P. & T. A.
Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and build up your health. Only 25c. Money back if not cured. Sold by Harr the druggist.

Kodol Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you eat.

It artificially digests the food and aids Nature in strengthening and reconstructing the exhausted digestive organs. It is the latest discovered digestant and tonic. No other preparation can approach it in efficiency. It instantly relieves and permanently cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Flatulence, Sour Stomach, Nausea, Sick Headache, Gastralgia, Cramps and all other results of imperfect digestion.

Price 50c. and $1. Large size contains 2½ times small size. Book all about dyspepsia mailed free

Prepared by E. C. DeWITT & CO., Chicago.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME V. KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, APRIL 26, 1900 NUMBER 36

B. C. R. & N. TIME TABLE.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 708. B Pass.	7:55	p. m.
No. 796 A Stock	9:30	a m.
No. 742. B Freight	3:45	p. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 701. B Pass. -	1:32	p. m.
No. 741. B Way freight	9:30	a. m.

B—Daily except Sunday
A—Daily except Monday

☞"Freight trains shown above will carry passengers only when provided with tickets."

F. G. REESE, Local Agt.

WM. H. HUGHES
LAWYER.

Accounts and notes collected. Practice in all courts. Office in Schuler block.

GARNER, IOWA.

JAMES YOUNG
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER.

Will cry sales and guarantee satisfaction, 15 years experience. Dates and terms at office of Klemme TIMES.

Telephone or address
Garner, Iowa.

J. N. SPROLE,
REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND ABSTRACTS.

Titles examined and corrected, Taxes paid, etc.

GARNER - - - IOWA.

A. L. SPOONER.
Physician and Surgeon.

Office first door west of Shafer & Dow's Store. Residence just back of the German Reform Church. Office hours 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.

Klemme, Iowa.

A. SNYDER,
DRAYMAN.

Having purchased the Bartholomew dray line I solicit a share of your work. Prompt attention given to all work: Charges reasonable.

KLEMME, IOWA.

JOHN BAUMGARTNER.
PROPRIETOR OF
CITY BARBER SHOP.
AN EASY SHAVE. - -
A SATISFIED CUSTOMER
FIRST DOOR EAST OF LAU BROS.
KLEMME, IOWA.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE
BETWEEN
DAUBING AND PAINTING.

We understand our business and guarantee our work.

JOE MILLER,
PAINTER and DECORATOR.

Hello There!
Where are you going?

To Pietzke's Blacksmith Shop, for he's the man to go to for good work and at right prices. At the old stand.

Klemme, Iowa.

JOHN JOSTEN
PHOTOGRAPHER
Gallery Fitted For Finest Work

In Miniature and Cabinet Sizes. Enlarging, View and Copying.
PHOTO BUTTONS A SPECIALTY.
☞Give me a call
KLEMME - IOWA.

The Porto Rico Act.

The change in public sentiment regarding the Porto Rican act, now that its principles and underlying motives are understood. People who a month ago were clammering for free trade with Porto Rico say frankly now that the act as passed is vastly better and for very important reasons. To have established immediate free trade with Porto Ricco would have taken away the easiest method of raising revenue which that island must have, and which it could otherwise only have by an internal revenue act—a tax which would have been extremely burdrnsome—or by direct contributions from the Treasurer of the United States. This absolutely necessary revenue will now be supplied from the collections under the Porto Rican act on all dutiable goods imported into the United States from Porto Rico or into Porto Rico from the U. S. If this system of raising money is unsatisfactory to Porto Ricans they can put an end to it within a few months if they desire, since the act authorizes them to elect a legislature and specifically provides that all tariff between the United States an Porto Rico shall cease when that legislature shall provide the necessary funds for sustaining the government of Porto Rico. An equally important result, however, of the enactment of this law, which retains a mere shadow of tariff duties between Porto Rico and the U. S., lies in the fact that the right to detirmin matters of this character as they are reached is retained by Congress, and thus no precedent is established by which anybody could claim or the democratic party successfully assert, that free trade with the Philippines or other posessions of that character must or would logically follow. It is only justice to the workingmen of the United States, whether on the farm, in the factory, the mines or elsewhere, that congress should retain in its hand the absolute power to determin these matters one by one, as they may offer themselver for detirmination.

Bishop Merrill of the Vermont conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, set at rest the much vexed question whether President McKinley did or did not drink wine. He stated that Bishop Walden had a long talk with the president on the subject and Mr. McKinley had said, that when he attended banquets he did not turn down the glasses, but left them standing, and they were filled by the waiters. He always had, however, a separate glass from which he drank appolinaris water, and that the wine always remained untouched.

The Trust was a creature of free trade many years ago. In June, 1888, there was recorded in London "the largest amalgamation of business firms which has ever taken place." It was a combination of "eighteen coffin furniture makers in England, Scotland, and Ireland." The capital was $2,000,000. This combine did not succeed in burrying the trust movement by any means.

Imports of foreign goods, admitted into this country free of duty, were 50 per cent greater in value in March, 1900 than in March 1898. This increase, however, is chiefly in material for manufactures which we do not now make at home. Hence, this increaced importations means increased activity on the part of our manufacturers and their employees.

As a kicker the democratic party is a screaming success. As a clog on the wheels of progress it beats the air brake. As a promiser it out promises the man who never pays his debts But when it comes to keeping its pledges the record is different.

The Hon. Frank H. Jones, who has been New Hamshire's most distinguished and influential democrat, having come to the conclusion that the democracy's attack of Bryanism is incurable, has moved into the republican party, bag and baggage.

Exports of American products and manufactures were almost $30.000.000 greater last March than in March 1899 That wall of protection is not too high to prevent our goods climbing over it and getting out into the markets of the world.

From the way the democrats seem to be worrying over the Constitution, it would appear that they have forgotten that there is a supreme court, whose chief duty it is to safe-guard that precious document.

The United States government is buying its Krupp armor, made in the United States, cheaper than any other country in the world. But of course some people are never satisfied.

The next measure to be taken up for consideration in the Senate is the Frye shipping bill. Its passage by a large majority seems assured whenever a vote can be reached.

—Whild the wage earners are on a strike and receive no pay the salary of the labor leader and agitator continues.

Lengthening days give evidence of approaching spring time when ambitious business men, surrounded by shrewd competition in the over-crowed older towns, are looking for new homes, broader and better business advantages. The Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway is extending its lines into the best portions of northwestern Iowa and southwestern Minnesota. This country is noted for its rich soil, social, educational and religious advantages. Four towns were located last fall and have made remarkable growth already. Several new towns will be located during the spring and early summer. If you desire to de a pioneer in a good new town in a well settled rich country which has long been in need of a railroad.

Address THOS. H. BROWN,
Sioux Falls, S. Dak.
MAY 1 Townsite Agent New Lines.

The Place to Buy
SHOES
IS AT FRANK GRUETZMACHER'S SHOE STORE.

There are many reasons for this

FIRST.

Because we have the largest stock to select from in town and can fit anything from an infant to a giant.

SECOND.

Because our styles are the latest—you can find any style of toe or shape, in ladies, childrens' or for men—Black or tan, high or low.

THIRD.

We guarantee no dealer can sell cheaper, quality considered. Come in aud look at our goods and buy if you wish, it costs you nothing to examine our goods.

FINE HOSIERY
FOR EVERYBODY.

FRANK GRUETZMACHER

A CAR LOAD OF
FURNITURE
JUST RECEIVED.
Call and see our new stock of
FURNITURE.
E. P. SCHAEFER,
Klemme, Iowa

POSITIONS SECURED!

We aid those who want Government positions. 85,000 places under Civil Service Rules. 8000 yearly appointments. Prepares by mail for all Government examinations. Fees cash or instalments. A thorough and scientific course in all departments. Requires spare time only, Salaries twice as much as private firms for the same kind of work. The hours of labor are short, duties light, positions for life. Take our course of study and we guarantee that you will pass the Civil Service Examinations. Write, inclosing stamp, for our catalogue describing course to

BUREAU OF CIVIL SERVICE INSTRUCTION, WASHINGTON, D. C.

It Costs you Nothing

To examine our Complete Stock of Building Material and be convinced that you cannot do better elsewhere.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO.
L. G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST. ....SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

WALL PAPER,

Paints, Oils, Alabastine, Window Shades and Everything used to Decorate and Beautify the Home.

WATCHES, CLOCKS and JEWELRY.

DRUGGISTS' SUNDRIES. J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

WANT TO SEE TURKEY PAY.

Europe Interested in American Indemnity Affair.

LEADING TOPIC IN BERLIN.

Not a Pleasant Innovation to Have America Make Demonstration in European Waters—A Paris Paper Says American Fleet Was Ordered Out.

Berlin, April 23.—The American-Turkish dispute is the leading topic, and there is no indication that the powers would undertake to prevent America from forcibly collecting the indenity, but an American naval demonstration in European waters is not regarded as a pleasant innovation.

The Tageblatt does not think the continental powers are ready to apply the Monroe doctrine to Turkey, but are watching developments closely. The Tageblatt's allusion to the Monroe doctrine seems hardly to the point, since America has never hindered the collection of legitimate claims against the Central or South American countries.

Paris, April 23.—La Patrie has a dispatch from Marseilles which declares that the American fleet has been ordered to Smyrna to attack the port if Turkey refuses full satisfaction for the massacre of the American missionaries. La Patrie says also that the Turkish differences are a mere blind and that America is acting on the behalf of England in order to get a fleet into the Mediterranean to prevent the practice mobilization of the Russian and French fleets. The Journal affirms that Turkey has placed large orders for cannon with Krupp.

Washington, April 23.—Ali Ferrouh Bey, the Turkish minister, said that he probably would hear from his government in a short time concerning the American claims. He insists that an amicable settlement can be arranged, and repeats his statement already published that in view of the high esteem in which he was held by the sultan, and the fact of his acting in a diplomatic capacity, Minister Straus was not justified in making the assertion that the sultan had broken his promise in regard to the settlement of the claims.

Constantinople, April 23.—The firm attitude of the United States government regarding the claims of Americans for losses and massacres in Armenia is entirely approved in political and commercial circles, and it is hoped that the United States will steadfastly maintain its demand, such a course being the only one likely to succeed. It is thought that all the powers should follow the same course, not only concerning indemnities, but also with regard to the increase of duty. Negotiations regarding American indemnity are now being conducted in Washington, owing to the presence there of United States Minister Straus. When the prohibition against American pork was issued Lloyd C. Griscom, American charge d'affaires, addressed an energetic note to the porte.

Prison for an Actor-Bandit.

Kansas City, Mo., April 23.—C. E. Moreledge, an actor who last winter "held up" two restaurants and a saloon in the center of the business district in order to get money sufficient to put his company on the road, has been found guilty in the Circuit court here and given a sentence of twenty-five years in the penitentiary. He pleaded insanity. Moreledge was one of the original promoters of the Topolobampo co-operative colonization scheme, and he originated a plan to dam the Missouri river at Bismarck, S. D., and to divert the entire flow of waters in a gigantic ditch that would flow southward through Nebraska and Kansas and have lateral ditches that would irrigate the whole of the western part of those states. Another scheme projected by Moreledge was to revive the Ancient Order of Magic, and still another was that to build a big co-operative apartment-house that would cover several blocks.

Say Taylor Will Return.

Washington, April 23.—The friends of W. S. Taylor, the republican claimant governor of Kentucky, deny that he is unwilling to return to Frankfort, where it is said an indictment has been returned against him for conspiracy in the murder of William Goebel. The governor is the guest of W. B. Catchings, and is engaged in supervising the preparation of the argument in his contest before the Supreme court. When this work is finished, his friends say, he will return to Frankfort.

Frankfort, Ky., April 21.—The clerk of the court still insists that there is no record on file of any Taylor indictment.

$5,000,000 Building for New York.

New York, April 23.—Work on a new $5,000,000 skyscraper for Lower Broadway will be commenced within a few weeks. Contracts were signed Friday by the Geoge A. Fuller Construction company. President Black of the Fuller company admitted the structure would be erected with Chicago capital. The building will be eighteen or twenty stories high.

Folding Bed's Victim Dies.

Cleveland, April 23.—Dr. A. B. Allyn, a prominent physician of Chardon, Ohio, who was badly injured a few days ago by being shut up in a folding bed, is dead. Dr. Allyn had been in Cincinnati for the past two months receiving treatment for nervous prostration.

HAVOC BY THE FLOOD.

Immense Damage Caused in Many Mississippi Towns.

New Orleans, April 21.—Advices from Pearlington say Pearl river has reached its highest mark since 1874. To-day the timber booms commenced breaking up, and thousands of dollars' worth of timber has been floated out to sea. All business on the river is at a standstill. The saw mills have had to discontinue operations. The water has reached the first floors of all stores along the river. The water is still rising and traffic of all kinds is suspended. Every bridge from Pearlington to Logtown has been swept away. People living on the Louisiana side have been forced to abandon their homes and fleet to the Mississippi side for safety. Hundreds of head of cattle and hogs have been drowned. Deer and other game are swimming across the river at every available point. All farms and gardens will have to be replanted.

New Orleans has ceased to regard the flood situation as a temporary inconvenience. As time has passed and as the full scope of the disaster which visited this section of the country in the excessive rains which began in the early days of the week and still continue has been learned the conviction has been irresistibly brought home that a calamity of appalling magnitude has been experienced, and that instead of the worst being over the evil has just begun.

There are within the gates of the city no less than 500 water-bound travelers who are not only unable to return to their homes now, who but do not know when they will be able to leave. Partial reports of the damage incurred in the storm belt have run the figures up into the millions, and, taking into consideration the losses, real and resultant, the amount foots up to an enormous figure.

The Illinois Central Railroad system has incurred damages which will amount to hundreds of thousands of dollars, figuring the loss of business, and the end is not yet. Not only was that road tied up today, but there is no telling when the trains will be able to run. The streams are rising and rains continue to fall. The tie-up is complete, both on the Illinois Central and Yazoo and Mississippi Valley roads. The train which departed for Chicago Monday morning was only returned to New Orleans Wednesday night, and with the delayed passengers came back two car loads of mail, which had to be taken in charge by the postal authorities and routed out as expediency.

Iowa Fight Law in Force.

Davenport, Iowa, April 23.—George Stead of Chicago and Art Simms of Akron O., advertised to box twenty rounds here for a purse of $1,500, did not get a chance to enter the ring. On receiving notice that the contest would not be allowed, in violation of the new Iowa prize-fight law, the match was called off. Alf Kennedy, who arranged the match; George Siler, who was to referee it; Eddie Santry, Harry Gilmore and other prominent ring followers had gathered here for the purpose of witnessing this first test of the Iowa law.

Chi Psi Fraternity Annual.

New York, Aphil 23.—The annual convention of the Chi Psi fraternity was brought to a close with a banquet at the Holland house. The matter of forming a grand alpha chapter among the alumni of the fratrnity was referred to a committee to be reported at the next convention. Elbridge T. Gerry was re-elected president of the fraternity, and it was decided to hold the next convention in Chicago under the charge of the Alpha Iota of the University of Wisconsin. Among the speakers was ex-Speaker Thomas B. Reed.

Japanese Anti-American Feeling.

London, April 23.—The Daily Mail publishes a letter from Yokohama describing the "growth of anti-American feeling" in Japan. The writer says: "This development is due to the harsh treatment the Japanese have received in Hawaii and to the belief that the United States will stop Japanese immigration to Hawaii. The feeling is calculated to lead to a deplorable war of tariffs and to retaliatory restrictions."

Awful Distress in India.

Simla, India, April 21.—The distress among the people is spreading, and 5,500,000 persons are now receiving relief.

A Book of Choice Recipes
Sent free by Walter Baker & Co. Ltd., Dorchester, Mass. Mention this paper.

Shadows sometimes come to the good, but they never have to be alone in the dark.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Sin got a foothold in this world by making itself look harmless and little.

Piso's Cure for Consumption is an infallible medicine for coughs and colds.—N. W. SAMUEL, Ocean Grove, N. J., Feb. 17, 1900.

Great victories are not always won on fields where great armies fight.

FREE GIFTS TO AGENTS.

We want 100,000 Agents, men and women, boys and girls all over the United States to sell our wonderful Lekko Scouring Soap, Lekkoene and other Toilet Soaps. Big profit, easy work. Prize with every cake. Write to-day. C. H. Marshall & Co., Dep't 10, Chicago, Ill. Factory 118-126 No. May St. Ref., any bank in Chicago.

In Hamburg dogs are taxed according to their weight—the bigger the dog the larger the tax.

It requires no experience to dye with PUTNAM FADELESS DYES. Simply boiling your goods in the dye is all that's necessary.

Only the godly can do good with money.

Half Rate Excursions.

The Minneapolis & St. Louis R. R. will sell Homeseeker's tickets at rate of one fare plus $2 for the round trip, on April 17, May 1st and 15th, June 5th and 19th to certain points in states named below: Alabama, Arkansas, British Columbia, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Indian Territory, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Manitoba, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

For rates, folders, etc., write any agent of the company or A. B. Cutts, G. P. A., Minneapolis, Minn.

To be afraid of your friend, is to lose him.

Lots of men try to live by their wits and are next door to starvation.

There Is a Class of People

Who are injured by the use of coffee Recently there has been placed in all the grocery stores a new preparation called GRAIN-O, made of pure grains, that takes the place of coffee. The most delicate stomach receives it without distress, and but few can tell it from coffee. It does not cost over one-fourth as much. Children may drink it with great benefit. 15 cents and 25 cents per package. Try it. Ask for GRAIN-O.

Though a woman be homely or handsome, modesty is her greatest charm.

STATE OF OHIO, CITY OF TOLEDO, } ss.
LUCAS COUNTY,

Frank J. Cheney makes oath that he is the senior partner of the firm of F. J. Cheney & Co., doing business in the City of Toledo, County and State aforesaid, and that said firm will pay the sum of ONE HUNDRED DOLLARS for each and every case of Catarrh that cannot be cured by the use of Hall's Catarrh Cure.

FRANK J. CHENEY.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence, this 6th day of December, A. D. 1886.

[SEAL] A. W. GLEASON, Notary Public.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, and acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. Send for testimonials, free.

F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O.
Sold by Druggists, 75c.
Hall's Family Pills are the best.

Men have even had hairbreadth escapes from becoming baldheaded.

Are You Using Allen's Foot-Ease?

It is the only cure for Swollen, Smarting, Burning, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

Only one-third of the population of Calcutta are females.

DO YOU COUGH
DON'T DELAY
TAKE KEMP'S BALSAM
THE BEST COUGH CURE

Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 25 cents and 50 cents.

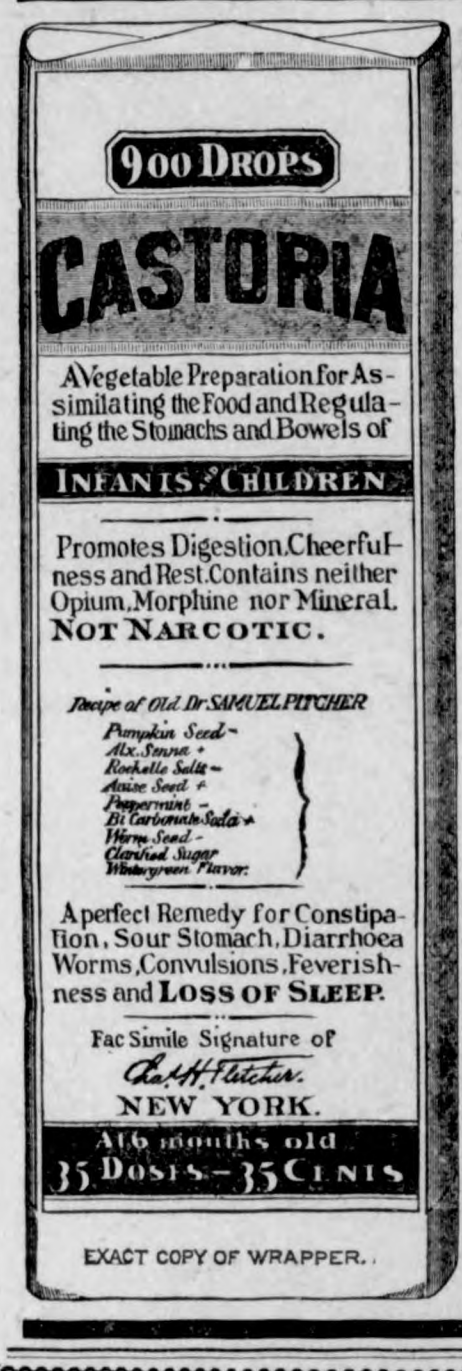
Save the Labels
and write for list of premiums we offer free for them.
HIRES
Rootbeer
The favorite summer drink
Chas. E. Hires & Co. Malvern Pa.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

DON'T PAY THREE PROFITS

No. 199 BUGGY $37.20.

If you are going to pay for a carriage why not pay the least you can for the best vehicle? Get all you can in material and workmanship—pay as little as you can for handling and extras. You save the jobber's commission and the retailer's profit when you buy direct from the factory. You pay the cost of making with one moderate profit added. We are not agents but manufacturers and dealers in buggies, carriages, surreys phaetons, wagons, harness. Everything guaranteed. With our illustrated catalogue you can order easily and safely. If what you order does not suit, send it back and we will pay the freight both ways. First, get the catalogue. You are welcome to a copy.
BROWN CARRIAGE COMPANY, DEPT. X, - - - DES MOINES, IOWA



EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 & 3.50 SHOES UNION MADE.

Worth $4 to $6 compared with other makes.
Indorsed by over 1,000,000 wearers.
The genuine have W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on bottom. Take no substitute claimed to be as good. Your dealer should keep them—if not, we will send a pair on receipt of price and 25c. extra for carriage. State kind of leather, size, and width, plain or cap toe. Cat. free.
WE USE FAST COLOR EYELETS
W. L. DOUGLAS SHOE CO., Brockton, Mass.

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives qu'ck relief and cures worst cases. Book of testimonials and 10 DAYS' treatment FREE. DR. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Box E, Atlanta, Ga.

INVENTORS
Send to-day for our handsomely engraved 38th anniversary work on patents FREE
MASON, FENWICK & LAWRENCE, Patent Lawyers, Washington, D. C.

PATENT SECURED OR FEE REFUNDED. Patent advertised free. Free advice as to patentability. Send for Inventor's Primer, free. MILO B. STEVENS & CO., Established 1864, 815 14th St., Washington, D. C. Branch Offices: Chicago, Cleveland and Detroit.

WANTED SOLDIERS' HOMESTEADS
The addresses of all Federal Soldiers, their widows or heirs, who made a HOMESTEAD FILING on less than 160 acres on or before June 22, 1874, no matter whether FINAL PROOF was made or not I will buy Land Warrants. Address—
Comrade W. E. MOSES, Box 1335, Denver, Colorado.

IN 3 OR 4 YEARS AN INDEPENDENCE ASSURED
160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE
If you take up your homes in Western Canada, the land of plenty. Illustrated pamphlets, giving experiences of farmers who have become wealthy in growing wheat, reports of delegates, etc., and full information as to reduced railway rates can be had on application to the Superintendent of Immigration, Department of Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to N. Bartholomew, 306 Fifth St., Des Moines, Iowa.

W. N. U., Des Moines, No. 17.—1900

HOW LONG HAVE YOU SUFFERED WITH CATARRH?

HOW LONG ARE YOU GOING TO CONTINUE TO SUFFER?

We will answer the question for you. Just so long as you neglect to get a bottle of MUCO-SOLVENT. In order to help every sufferer from this loathsome disease we will, during the next 30 days, send a trial bottle postpaid to any address for 25c. If you are not benefited after taking it write us and we will cheerfully refund the money. We guarantee it to cure Catarrh in any form, Croup, Measles, Diphtheria, Scarlet Fever, Tonsilitis, Quinsy, Sore Throat, Coughs, Colds and kindred diseases or refund the money, so why not try it. Read what others say of it:

"Muco-Solvent cured me entirely of Catarrh of the Stomach of three years standing. During that time we expended over $150.00 on the Doctors without favorable results." MRS. CLARA MILLWARD, Sturgeon Bay, Wis.

"About twenty-five years ago I lost the hearing of one ear. All these years I have been unable to hear through that ear. Twice during that time I have been treated by specialists with a view to regaining my hearing, but both attempts were unsuccessful, the specialists declaring the case to be incurable. About January 1, '96, I got a bottle of Muco-Solvent for my little girl who was suffering from tonsilitis. It was so successful with her that, on noticing it was recommended for catarrh, I tried it for that. I began to receive benefit at once. After a few days it occurred to me to inject the remedy into my ear. I did so, and much to my surprise and greatly to my satisfaction, within ten days my hearing was perfectly restored, and today I can hear as well as ever." GUST. MALMQUIST.
January 18, 1896. Washburn Greenhouse, Minn.
Subscribed and sworn to before me this 18th day of January, 1896. C. M. DEVOE, Notary Public for Hennepin Co.

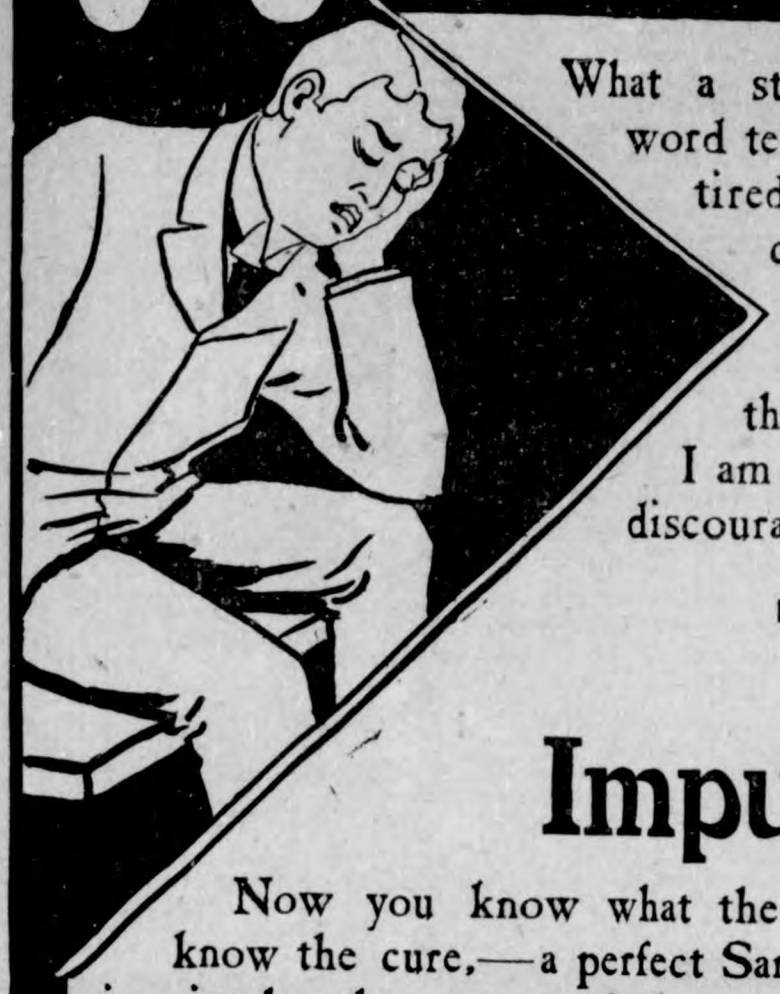
"My little girl has been subject to croup for years. After some persuasion I used Muco-Solvent and am amazed at its almost instantaneous action. In a few minutes she was entirely over the attack and sleeping peacefully. It is wonderful." T. W. PARKINSON, District Attorney, Waukesha, Wis.

Don't waste time and money on quack remedies, but get the genuine article. Price $1.00 a bottle, six bottles for $5.00, but in order to absolutely convince you of its wonderful merit we will for the next 30 days send trial bottle anywhere prepaid for 25c—your money back if it fails to help you. Our elegant book "Chats With Mothers" should be in every home. Free to Everybody. Send for it at once.

WE WANT 5,000 GOOD AGENTS IN IOWA. WRITE FOR TERMS.

MUCO-SOLVENT CO., 356 Dearborn St., CHICAGO

FAGGED



What a story of suffering that one word tells. It says: "I am all tired out. It seems to me I can hardly take another step. I haven't a particle of ambition. I can't do half the work I feel I must do. I am weak, nervous, depressed, discouraged."

That's Impure Blood

Now you know what the trouble is, you certainly know the cure,—a perfect Sarsaparilla. "Sarsaparilla" is simply the name of the medicine, for in a perfect Sarsaparilla there are a great many remedies. Some act by taking out the bad; others, by putting in the good.

You want a Sarsaparilla that will make your blood pure this spring, a Sarsaparilla that will make it rich and strong, a Sarsaparilla that is a powerful nerve tonic. You want the strongest and best Sarsaparilla that can be made.

That's AYER'S

"The only Sarsaparilla made under the personal supervision of three graduates: a graduate in pharmacy, a graduate in chemistry, and a graduate in medicine."

"Last July my oldest daughter was taken sick, and I was on my feet, it seemed to me, night and day for weeks taking care of her. I had no other help than that which my husband gave me, and by the time daughter began to mend I was down sick myself. I was discouraged, and did not care much whether I lived or died. My husband got me a bottle of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and its effects were magical. Two bottles of this medicine put me on my feet and made a well woman of me."—JANE M. BROWN, Bentonsport, Iowa, Jan. 19, 1900.

Spring Body Cleaning

Every spring you clean the house you live in, to get rid of the dust and dirt which collected in the winter. Your body, the house your soul lives in, also becomes filled up during the winter with all manner of filth, which should have been removed from day to day, but was not. Your body needs cleaning inside. If your bowels, your liver, your kidneys are full of putrid filth, and you don't clean them out in the spring, you'll be in bad odor with yourself and everybody else all summer.

DON'T USE A HOSE to clean your body inside, but sweet, fragrant, mild but positive and forceful CASCARETS, that work while you sleep, prepare all the filth collected in your body for removal, and drive it off softly, gently, but none the less surely, leaving your blood pure and nourishing, your stomach and bowels clean and lively, and your liver and kidneys healthy and active. Try a 10-cent box today, and if not satisfied get your money back—but you'll see how the cleaning of your body is

MADE EASY BY

Cascarets

CANDY CATHARTIC

BEST FOR THE BOWELS

10c. 25c. 50c.

ALL DRUGGISTS

To any needy mortal suffering from bowel troubles and too poor to buy CASCARETS we will send a box free. Address Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago or New York, mentioning advertisement and paper. 422

TURKEY DENIES THE CLAIM.

Ali Ferrouh Bey Gives Sultan's Side of Quarrel.

WASHINGTON, April 23.—Ali Ferrouh Bey, the Turkish minister, was asked to make a statement relative to the failure of the sultan to pay the claim made by the United States for indemnity on account of the destruction of mission buildings at Harpoot some years ago. In reply to the question whether he expected that his relations with this government would be terminated in consequence of the turn affairs have taken, the minister said:

"I must say I do not believe the Turkish government is or can be held responsible for the destruction of these buildings; for when the claim for indemnity was formally made upon the sublime porte an agreement to pay the sum asked as the damages—$90,000, more or less—was entered into by the sultan, conditioned on the proof of the fact that the buildings were maliciously destroyed by Turkish subjects and as a direct result of religious fanaticism and not as a result of the personal quarrel between the Christians and the Mohammedans. In fact, as I understand the matter, the Turkish government cannot rightly be held for this misfortune. Of course, we naturally regret the occurrence, and, if it is possible, will make some reparation, either in money or by punishing the offenders, if they can be found. But, you understand, a government does not willingly admit or pay a claim for damages unless very satisfactory and, indeed, unquestionable evidence of the justice of the claim can be established, and it does not appear that this is the case in the present instance."

ADVANCING TO WEPENER.

Chermsides and Rundle to Help the Colonials.

LONDON, April 22.—Dispatches from the seat of war, though meager and unsatisfactory, clearly indicate renewed activity at all points where the British and Boer forces are in striking distance of each other. Interest for the moment centers at Dewetsdorp and Wepener, where fighting evidently is in progress. A dispatch received from Aliwal North, dated April 21, says that there was heavy firing on the previous day between Dewetsdorp and Wepener and around Wepener on Saturday, but that no particulars have been received. A special dispatch from Maseru, dated Saturday, says:

"The investment of Wepener continues. The Boers seem determined to do their utmost to capture the garrison before relief arrives. Severe fighting appears imminent."

A dispatch from Swartzkopfontein, Josfontein, dated April 21 says;

"This morning 1,500 Boers made a determined attack on a convoy returning to Boshof. The British succeeded in repulsing the attack, and their fire became so heavy and well sustained that the Boers fell back with considerable loss. The British casualties were sixteen killed and wounded. The convoy reach Boshof safely."

UNCLE SAM AND ABDUL HAMID,

London Papers Keenly Watching the Result of the Controversy.

LONDON, April 20.—Keen interest is manifested in the threatened action of the United States against Turkey, particularly in view of the sultan's recalcitrancy in connection with the increase of the custom duties. The fourth collective note of the ambassadors objecting to an increase of three per cent in the duties on account of the bad condition of the Turkish finances, without a previous understanding with the powers, was handed to the Turkish government yesterday, but Turkey maintained such a firm attitude that the suspicion is growing that some covert intrigue is frustrating the effect of the notes.

CZAR AND BOER WAR.

French People Think Russia Unlikely to Intervene.

PARIS, April 21.—The supposition that Muravieff's journey to Moscow has any bearing on possible intervention by Russia in the Transvaal war is regarded here as unfounded. The statement that the czar is coming to Paris August 8 shows that Russian intimacy with France is still great, and that if the two countries did anything they would do so in common, but France has not officially declared what she will do.

CONVICTED AS GUERRILLAS.

Three Filipinos Sentenced to Serve Fifteen Years in Prison.

MANILA, April 21.—The military commission which tried three Filipinos at Leallambra for guerrilla warfare has found all three guilty and sentenced two of them to life imprisonment and one to thirty years imprisonment. Major General Otis has approved the findings but has reduced the sentence to fifteen years. Two Ladrones, convicted of murder, have been sentenced to be hanged at Odonnel.

Chicagoans With Boers.

LONDON, April 20.—According to a dispatch to the Daily Mail from Lorenzo Marquez, nearly half the members of the Chicago ambulance corps, when offered Mausers on their arrival at Pretoria, tore off their Red Cross badges. Adelbert S. Hay, United States consul, notified the Transvaal government that he must report the circumstance to Washington.

Woman's Refuge

when sick is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

No other medicine in the world has done so much good.

No confidence has ever been violated.

No woman's testimonial was ever published by Mrs. Pinkham without special permission.

No woman ever wrote to Mrs. Pinkham for advice without getting help. No man sees these letters. Her advice is free, and her address is Lynn, Mass. She is a woman, you can tell her the truth. No living person is so competent to advise women. None has had such experience.

She has restored a million sufferers to health. You can trust her. Others have.

Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

The cost of preparing the American exhibit at the Paris exposition has been $240,333. The largest item is salaries of experts—$72,045.

A double marriage of a somewhat unusual character was recently witnessed at Maplewood, W. Va. The grooms were Will and Wesley Thomas, twins, and the brides were the twin daughters of Jerry Tyree, ex-sheriff of McDowell county. The two pairs of twins were born on the same day, June 24, 1878.

A British soldier in South Africa thus wrote to a friend in Ireland: "We made a grand capture yesterday. A case supposed to contain a piano was opened and found to contain a lovely machine gun. It was addressed to a lady in the Orange Free State. Of course, we are going to play it ourselves."

Bishop Walsham Howe, like the mothers of Pierre and Thomas in the "Bab Ballads," was "of decent size, though not particularly tall." He gives his height as five feet nine inches, but on his first visit to Almondbury to preach, the verger came to him in the vestry and said: "A've put a platform in t' pulpit for ye; you'll excuse me, but a little wan looks as if he was in a toob."

Do Your Feet Ache and Burn?

Shake into your shoes Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It makes tight or New Shoes feel Easy. Cures Corns, Bunions, Swollen, Hot and Sweating Feet. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

The devil is always polite upon first acquaintance.

Beautiful hair is always pleasing, and PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM excels in producing it.
HINDERCORNS, the best cure for corns. 15cts.

As long as we let Christ lead, we shall have victory.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND SLICKER

WILL KEEP YOU DRY.

Don't be fooled with a mackintosh or rubber coat. If you want a coat that will keep you dry in the hardest storm buy the Fish Brand Slicker. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

WORK AND WORRY

WASHED AWAY BY THE

STERLING DUPLEX WASHING MACHINE.

Has double "washboard" rubbers, runs easiest, lasts longest, does faultless work. Most practical clothes washer made. Don't drudge. Use modern methods. If it's not at your dealer's write us.

THE EUREKA CO., Dept. H., Rock Falls, Ill.

KOERNER BROS.....

CARRY A FULL LINE OF

Builders Hardware,

Tools, Hay Carriers and Tracks,
A fine line of Paints and Oils,
"Record" Bicycles.

GROCERIES, CHINAWARE, GLASSWARE

Every purchase you make of us invites you to another because of Fairness of Dealing, the quality of the Article, and the Lowness of prices.

H. W. SCHOPER,

FARM MACHINERY,

Buggies and Wagons, Corn Planters, Corn Plows, Champion Binders and Mowers.

TWINE.

BAISSEAU.

An Imported Percheron Stallion.

Weight abou 2000 pounds. A magnifficent horse in every way. You will make no mistake n you see him before promising elsewhere. He will be found at Terhufen's barn, Klemme, Wednesday's of each week.

$12 for colt to stand and suck.

BLACK DIAMOND.

Black Diamond is a standard bred COACH. Fine style and action. Light enough for carriage, heavy enough for hard work. Te see him is to a preciate the horse. Weight 1120. At Terhufen's barn, Klemme, Wednesday of each week. At Blackwell's barn, Garner, Saturday's. $10 for colt to stand and suck.

O. H. CUMMINGS, Klemme, Iowa.

CARY SAFE CO.

BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.

..Manufacturers..

FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES

VAULTS, LOCKS, ETC.

CONTRACTORS to UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

M. W. LYNCH, :: M. S. GILMAN.

LYNCH & GILMAN,

STROUD, OKLAHOMA,

REAL ESTATE AND LOAN BROKERS.

WHY PAY RENT?
OWN YOUR OWN FARM!

It is the highth of folly for a man to pay exhorbitant rents when he can go to Oklahoma and buy a fine farm at from $5 per acre up. Well watered; near good markets; mild and healthful climate and crop failure unknown. Plenty of natural timber and coal. We qave for sale a well selected list of choice improved and unimproved farms and would like to talk with you. Excursions 1st and 3rd Tuesday of each month. NOW is the time before the "SNAPS" are all taken. For rater, terms, excursions etc., call on or address, M. S. GILMAN, Klemme. Iowa.

Goods Worth $1.50 FREE

also our magazine. Send for information at once.
RECREATION POINTERS, Kansas City, Mo.

PATENTS GUARANTEED

Our fee returned if we fail. Any one sending sketch and description of any invention will promptly receive our opinion free concerning the patentability of same. "How to Obtain a Patent" sent upon request. Patents secured through us advertised for sale at our expense.

Patents taken out through us receive special notice, without charge, in THE PATENT RECORD, an illustrated and widely circulated journal, consulted by Manufacturers and Investors.

Send for sample copy FREE. Address,

VICTOR J. EVANS & CO.
(Patent Attorneys,)
Evans Building, WASHINGTON, D. C.

'Cresco' Corset Selling.

No corset speiality ever came into this stock or store that has met with such a cordial reception from our duying public; our customers are our best advertisers.

Wearers of the Cresco Corsets are quick to see the economy of a corset that cannot break at the waist line. For Sale by Shafer & Dow.

THE KLEMME TIMES

By G. L. WELLEMEYER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme, Iowa, as second class matter

ELL CENTER.

Tree planting is the order of the day.

Miss Larson will begin teachtng in the Rice district Monday.

Ernest Braund gave a social hop at his place Saturday evening.

Dr. Fotheringham made a professional call out this way last Friday.

Miss Hubbard commenced her school in the Groesbeck district last Monday.

Philip Ell was out to Ell Center on a business mission Friday of last week.

State Supt. Barrett has named Friday as Arbor Day. It is also Grant's birthday.

J. W. Allen and family spent Sunday with their daughter, Mrs. Pomplun, near Swaledale, Jasper Kahl has accepted a position with the McAllister ditcher and will work in Minnesota this summer.

GOODELL.

It's a boy at Weck Robbin's of standard weight.

Mr. Dell Cram of Belmond was in town Saturday.

Miss Leah Kepner is at home from school duties at Toledo.

Dr. Goodenow has gone to Oklahoma on a prospecting trip.

Mrs. L. E. Butterfield visited with Klemme friends for a time last Saturday.

W. O. Butterfield is working for contractor Larson at Klemme this season.

E. J. Bauman intends to raise his store one story higher and finish as a residence.

Quite a number from Goodell took in the King Perkins show at Belmond Friday evening.

C. E. Butterfield and Chas. Wilkins returned from Mason City. They report a great many idle men at that place.

Mr. Larson, of Klemme, was here several days last week, finishing off Mr. Olson's neat and commodious farm house.

Mr. Groh, of Belmond, the new butcher is giving good satisfaction. He will move his family here as soon as he can rent a house.

This town was "blessed" by a very unique specimen of humanity, old and gray, riding a poor, scrawny pony, man and horse covered with—gray backs. One would expect nothing better of a Digger Indian, but a white man in that condition, in this day and age, there is no excuse. He was permitted to sleep in a woodshed at a farm house and given suit of clothes.

Garner's Mother Grundy has been most conspicuous the past few weeks, and some of the best familes are nearly estranged. If there is any one thing that deserves public contempt it is the voice of a slanderer. Hell is paved with their good(?)intent as it will be later with the dust of their bones. We have a few such in Klemme, that are looking for trouble, and the TIMES will act as a ventilator unless these parties attend to the affairs of their own home.

Highest prices for butter and eggs at Lau Bros.

The Burlington people have a gang of men at wor'k cleaning up the stockyards and putting everything in good shape. Another gang are putting in a new platform scales with suitable approaches and chutes, to facilitate the easy handling of stock. Klemme is recognized as one of the best shipping points on the line and the putting in of these scales is proof that the Company is aware of it.

A $3,000 CIGAR.

That's What This Smoke Cost a Philadelphia Dealer In Diamonds.

A cigar that cost $3,000 is rather an expensive luxury. That is what Theodore Kaempff, a jeweler of 46 South Third street, Philadelphia, paid for one the other day. The payment was not in money, either, but in diamonds.

A man entered his store, and, after making a purchase, stood talking with the proprietor. The customer invited Mr. Kaempff out to have a cigar. Mr. Kaempff accepted the invitation. They repaired to a nearby cigar store, leaving the jewelry shop in charge of Thomas Coffey, a boy of 10. The jeweler and his customer had just about reached the cigar store when a man entered Mr. Kaempff's place.

"How much are those diamonds?" he inquired of the boy.

Tommy did not know, but told the prospective purchaser that he would find out. The boy went in search of Mr. Kaempff. He was absent about half a minute and returned with Mr. Kaempff. When they were about five yards from the door, they saw the stranger leave the shop.

When Mr. Kaempff and Coffey entered the store, the boy saw that the door of the case on the counter was open, and a tray of diamond rings valued at $3,000 was missing.

Such Is Life.

The latest drama brought out in New York has for its central idea the illustration of the tendency on the world's part to heap fame on a dead artist after imbittering his life by cruel in appreciation and neglect. The artist whose work is receiving the plaudits of the public is supposed to be dead, but he turns out to be alive, and then the interest in his work ceases. The play is not of great dramatic interest, but its idea is so true to life that it has achieved a great popularity in New York. It is a rather strong indictment of the world's appreciation of the living.—Boston Herald.

She Didn't Thank Him.

I saw the chief justice of the United States give his seat to a pretty young lady in a Pennsylvania avenue street car. She took it, but she didn't thank him, and probably was a stranger and did not know who he was. Several who did know him, however, arose and offered him their seats, but he declined them and hung on to a strap for the remainder of his journey while he gossiped with Admiral Meade.—William E. Curtis in Chicago Review.

Not Half as Bad as Football.

Fred Price, the star center rush of the University of Georgia, who left several weeks ago to join the army of Gomez, writes from Pinar del Rio of an insurgent victory in which he participated, but does not seem to have a very high idea of the warfare in Cuba.

"It is not half as exciting or dangerous as football," he says.

Price says he is getting $24 a week in good American money for his work.

Buff Plymouth Rocks.

Cockerels all sold. I have two pens from the best stock in the country. First pen stores 93½, eggs $2.50 per 15. Second pen, as even in color, all fine birds, eggs $1.25 per 15. Book your orders now for future delivery.

HENRY STRAW, Jeweler.
tf. Garner, Iowa.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

STATE OF IOWA, } ss.
Hancock County, }

NOTICE is hereby given that on the 28th day of April, A. D. 1900, at 1 o'clock p. m., at the Court House in Concord and County aforesaid, will be sold at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, the following described real estate, levied upon and taken by virtue of a Special execution, issued from the office of the Clerk of the District Court, within and for the county of Hancock, and State of Iowa, in favor of B. A. PUMMER, Plaintiff, and against the property of JOHN ROLLAND STEELE, et al., Defendant, for the sum of $681.65 and costs taxed at $66.68 and accruing costs, to-wit: Lots seven (7) and eight (8) in block twenty three (23) in the town of Garner, State of Iowa, the buildings thereon except one certain machine shed, or, warehouse erected, out of the materials furnished by J. H. Queal and Company to satisfy said writ of execution and accruing costs.

Dated 28th March 1900.

H. GARTIN,
Sheriff of Hancock County.

TO CURE A COLD WHILE YOU SLEEP

Take "Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

Having received a car load of furniture and undertaking goods, I am in shape to supply you with anything in the line of furniture etc.

G. F. SCHULER, Garner, Ia.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN ONE NIGHT.

Or to quickly cure La Grippe take "Week-Break-a-cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

SPRING SALE OF

CLOCKS

NOW GOING ON

CLOCKS FROM $3.50 UP.

Notice!

Monday and Tuesday we are out of town canvassing for the Rogers Bros. Silverware. Balance of the week in the shop.

CHAS. E. H. SUCKOW.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

We have the SCREENS,
You have the Flies;
You get our SCREENS,
And live pleasant lives,

We have the LARGEST stock of LUMBER in the county----also sell Lime, Plaster, Brick, & Cement

J. H.
Queal & Co.

C. G. BRACHER, Agent.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hogs wanted six days in the week. W. R. Bloom.

Court is in sessien at the county capitol.

The farmers have nearly all finished seeding.

Fresh garden seeds 8 packages for 25c at Harr's.

L. G. Schultz made a business trip to Garner yesterday.

If reports be true, Belmond is harboring an open saloon.

G. W. Kluckhohn has a new advertisement in this issue.

Henry Lau was doing Garner in a business way yesterday.

Get your screen doors and windows of J. H. Queal & Co.

Schlei Bros, were shelling out corn for W. R, Bloom Wednesday

L. E. Wannamaker was doing Klemme in a business way yesterday.

Gilbert McGrady has added one story to his house in East Klemme.

A few settings of Buff Cochin eggs—pure bloods—75c per 15. H. E. Pietzke.

Lau Bros. have a different story to tell in their advertising space this week.

G. W. Kluckhohn and wife drove to Kanawha Sunday to visit his brother.

J. J. Stauffer and J. E. Hill, of Meservey, were seen on our streets, Tuesday.

Chas. Bracher went to Garner last Friday afternoon to dispose of an aching tooth.

Buy your wall paper and paint at Harr's. Better and cheaper than ever. Reliable.

F. A. Arnold and C. Gruetzmacher drove up to Garner on business Wednesday.

E. P. Dow is again able to be around after a weeks siege with sore throat and quinsy.

FOR SALE:—Residence property in Barz addition to Klemme. Inquire of H. S. Swarz.

Lau Bros. put up one of those splendid Geneva windmills for Willima Katter last week.

August Lau is putting in a lot of new side walk in front of his property in North Klemme.

John Henschen returned from Kanawha Saturday evening and will work for Oscar Carlson.

It is not unusual to see a number of hobos "hitting the grit" along the highways going north.

Sam Sturgeon, the real estate hustler, of Clarion, was transacting business in Klemme, yesterday.

Attorney's Bullard and Ripley were passengers north on the Burlington Tuesday—courting at Garner.

There are very few property owners in Klemme that has not or are preparing to plant shade trees this spring.

Horsemen will do well to note the advertisement of O. H. Cummings. Baisseau and Black Diamond are fine animals.

Dentist E. H. Goodsell will be in Klemme Friday and Saturday April 27-28. Come in and have your work done right.

For Sale!—240 acre farm three miles east of Klemme, all under cultivation, buildings, etc. For prices and terms, call on or address, M. S. Gilman, Klemme, Iowa.

Remember, boys, that the state values game fish at $10 each. Parties at Forest City and Clear Lake were caught last week, and assessed from $25 to $40 each.

Great opportunity offered to good, reliable men. Salary of $15 per week and expenses for man with rig to introduce our Poultry Mixture and Insect Destroyer in the country. Send stamp, American Mfg. Co., Terre Haute Ind.

The Spring term of the Klemme high school began last week Monday. Miss Stewart takes the place made vacant by the resignation of Miss Merrick.

Rev. Brenner went to Rockford Monday, where will visit his daughter for a few days. On his way home he will stop off at Charles City to visit friends and relatives.

E. P. Schaefer has planted a double row of shade trees around his block on Capital Hill. In a few years South Klemme will be the most beautiful residence portion of the town.

W. R. Bloom returned Friday from Chicago, whither he went on business. He also took in the McGovern-White glove contest. Mr. Bloom is of the opinion that it was a rather tame affair.

M. I. Long writes from Centrailia, Mo. and orders the TIMES sent to him. In his letter he asks "If the wheels of progress ceased to revolve when he left Klemme." A chromo for the best answer.

If you are desirous of buying wall paper from sample books call at Harr's. He has samples outside of the trust, and will sell cheaper than any other parties in Hancock County, as he buys for cash.

Assistant Ticket and Passenger Agent Farmer, of Cedar Rapids, went over this branch Tuesday. He is a pleasant appearing gentlema and we were glad of an opportunity to meet him. He was accompanied by Traveling Passenger Agent Spilman.

Go to Lau Bros for your Hardware.

Agents on salary of $15.00 per week and expenses; the greatest agent seller ever produced; every stock and poultry raiser buys it on sight. Hustlers wanted. Refference. Address with stamp, American Mfg. Co. Terre Haute, Ind.

Go to Lau Bros. for your Groceries.

Repair Your Chimneys:—Every property owner is warned to inspect all chimneys and place the same in good repair. This must be attended to at once or the authorities will order the work done and tax the costs up against the property.

PER COM.

Go to Lau Bros. for Machinery, wagons and buggies.

There is a marked increase in the volume of business transacted by the Klemme Creamery Co. over that of last year. Nearly a ton of gilt-edge butter was the output of last week and promise of yet a further increase. The Klemme Creamery is a good thing—tell your neighbor about it. Push it along.

Go to Lau Bros for pop, ginger ale and everything else.

The band entertainment is progressing nicely and will be sure to make a hit. The play is a good one and with wit and strikingly laughable situations, happy climaxes, pure cussedness, throughout the play, will suit the people generally. The cast of character has been well chosen. Watch these columns next week for dates.

Buy your garden seeds of Lau Bros.—two packages for 5c.

Quit a change has taken place in the residence property which Fred Ridder purchased last fall. If the anjacent property owners don't watch out, pedestrians will look right past to get a look at one of the neatest places it has been our lot to see for many a day. Keep it up Fred, "The Best" is a good motto.

Get your made-to-order suits of Lau Bros–they guarantee a fit.

The Iowa Valley Press at Belmond, under the management of the Ramsay Twins is much improved. The people of Belmond should appreciate the effort that is being made to give them a good, clean newspaper, and we believe they will. Success to you brethren. May you have to line your pockets with leather to carry the 'coin of the realm' you deserve to accumulate.

Piano-Forte Recital,

The following program will be renered at the Congregational Church, Garner, Friday evening, April 27th,

BY

MISS E. ESTELLA WELLEMEYER,

ASSISTED BY

MISS ELIZABETH WELLEMEYER, Alto.
MISS RUTH WELLEMEYER, Soprano.
MR. CARL WELLEMEYER, BARITONE.
MISS HULDA WELLEMEYER, Piano.
MRS. W. C. AMSDEN, Accompanist.

1.—Il Trovatore (Verdi) (4 hands) ..... Melnotte.
2.—Polonaise, op. 26, No. 1
Waltz, op. 70, No. 1.
Etude (Whirlwind) op. 10, No. 5 } Chopin.
3.—"Answers" ..... Blumenthal.
Elizabeth Wellemeyer.
4.—Rondo Capriccioso .. Mendelssohn.
5.—The Plains of Peace ..... Barnard.
Mr. Wellemeyer.
6.—Chant du Berger .. .. Colas.
The Flatterer ..... Chaminade.
7.—Piano and Voice Quartette, "The Crimson Glow" ..... Root.
8.—Melody in F ..... Rubenstein.
Two Larks ..... Lecehhtizky.
9.—"The Silver Ring" .... Chaminade.
Elizabeth Wellemeyer.
10.—Rhapsodie, No. 2 ..... Liszt.
11.—"Abide with me" ..... Hoffmann.
Elizabeth Wellemeyer.
12.—Elaine (4 hands) ..... Holst.

NOTE:—Through the courtesy of E. P. Schaefer, of Klemme, Iowa, the Kimball Piano will be used.

Seed Grain!

I have a few hundred bushels of seed wheat, seed barley, seed flax and timothy seed. W. R. BLOOM. tf.

Haskin Wins

The wrestling match scheduled for Saturday evening, between Mell Woodard and Myron Haskin, took place as advertised. Quite a large crowd witnessed the event. and the best of order prevailed. A preliminary tussle between the Terrible Swede and Rain In The Face, created a deal of fun. At 9 o'clock the main event began. The contestants were evenly matched as to size and form, Woodard showing the effects of previous training. The first fall was given to Haskin in 5½ minutes. The second went to Woodard in 7 minutes, and the last to Haskin in 13 minutes. Contests of this kind, where good order prevails, hurts no one, and was well worth the price of admission asked.

Sad Case of Editor Bailey.

The sad case of editor Bailey, if it be true, is one of the worst on record. "We know not what the truth may be, we tell the tale as 'twas told to me." And thus it is thusly:

Soon after the advent of the Garner Herald into the newspaper field of Hancock County Bailey began to feel paniky in the region of the third button of his vest. Then the Kanawha Record got his hook into the porpoise, and the paniky feeling become much worse, He took a trip to Wisconsin for his health, filled up on mineral water; all to no purpose. At the advice of a veterinary he stopped smoking; all to no purpose. He changed doctors and was examined by an x-ray machine, but he was so entirely filled with blubber that the machine could not penetrate it. His nervous system became deranged and as a last resort he was advised to smoke—but something mild. Horror of horrors! He has taken to cigarettes. In reply to the anxious inquiries of his friends, he said he was following his physician's instructions, was smoking 'em for his health, "and did not believe he would ever become a fiend." "As yet" we are informed, "he has not mastered the art of inhaling the smoke, and he says that he never will, but his friends sadly shake their heads and mutter, 'I never thought he'd come to that'. For thirty days he has substituted cigarettes for cigars, and he delies that he is growing stronger. He is able to smoke a cigarette down to the butt now." This is equivalent to saying that he is now able to drain his cup of bitterness to the dregs. The condition of affairs is directly chargable to the Herald and Record. Have mercy, gentlemen. have mercy.

Grand Display

Of all that is late, up-to-date and new in the line

OF ARTISTIC MILLINERY,

ALL THE LATEST DESIGNS IN

TRIMMED HATS

LADIES' AND MISSES
WALKING HATS, SAILORS, TAMS,
BABY BONNETS.

Miss Renziehausen's millinery store is creating a sensation among the ladies. The material used for fashioning the Spring headgear are extremely beautiful, and the variety is almost endless. Every conceivable color is represented, including the new pastel shades, which promises to be very popular. She believes in furnishing her patrons with up-to-date city styles—a practice which is all the more commendable from the fact that the prices are very low. The line of ready-to-wear hats is a large one, and the different styles shown very nobby and fetching in appearance. To have one of Miss Renziehausen's hats is to be well dressed, and above all the ladies can rely on getting the latest and most correct style.

We have Just Received

A fine new line of Pulley Belts—the latest thing out. Also Ladies Ties in all the new shades; Silk for Shirt Waists: Dress Trimmings.

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

LEADING MILLINER.

Farm Machinery.

DO NOT FORGET

That we handle a COMPLETE LINE of the BEST Farm Machinery manufactured. Before you buy, it will pay you to see us and get our prices. We handle

CASSADY GANG AND SULKY PLOWS,

Corn Cultivators, Stirring Plows, Cornplanters, harrows, Discs, Wagons, Buggies, Geneva Windmills, Milwaueee Binders and Mowers.

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE. . . . .

We are constantly adding new, fresh GROCERIES to our stock and would like to make you prices. If you want Hardware or Tinware, we can supply your wants.

LAU BROS.

$1 THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN $1

LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ALL POLITICAL PAPERS IN THE WEST

Always American——Always Republican

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN SUPPLIES ALL THE NEWS AND BEST CURRENT LITERATURE

Every Column is Bright, Clean and Packed with News

The Literature of its columns is equal to that of the best magazines. It is interesting to the children as well as the parents.

THE INTER OCEAN is a WESTERN NEWSPAPER, and while it brings to the family THE NEWS OF THE WORLD and gives its readers the best and ablest discussions of all questions of the day, it is in full sympathy with the ideas and aspirations of Western people and discusses literature and politics from the Western standpoint.

——$1.00—PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR—$1.00——

$1 THE DAILY AND SUNDAY EDITIONS OF THE INTER OCEAN ARE THE BEST EVER SEEN IN THE WEST. $1

THE INTER OCEAN'S NEWS IS EXCLUSIVE.

Price of Daily by mail ..... $4.00 per year
Price of Sunday by mail ..... $2.00 per year
Daily and Sunday by mail ..... $6.00 per year

The Klemme Times.

G. L. WELLEMEYER, Pub.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

The darkest hour of human misery comes just before the dawn of delivery.

Boxing bouts which have been held in the basement of the South Division High school, Chicago, under the supervision of Principal Smith, have found favor in the eyes of the Board of Education authorities. Superintendent Andrews not only indorses the exercise, but says that he believes that boxing is the best sport in which the students can partake.

Who are the ten greatest men in the nineteenth century? This is a favorite conundrum just now across the water, but we have seen only one attempt to solve it in print. It is by a Dublin, Ireland, editor, and names Lincoln, statesman; Napoleon, soldier; Darwin, scientist; Thackeray, novelist; Pasteur, medicine; Froebel, educator; Beethoven, musician; and Morse and Stephenson, first masters of electricity and steam.

Consular reform is brought perceptibly nearer than it ever was before by the action of congressional committees. Both in the Senate and in the House of Representatives a favorable report has been made upon bills dealing with the organization of the consular service. The bills differ in details, but are one in purpose. They aim to make the foreign service of the United States something like a profession, for which men may fit themselves with a reasonable assurance of finding employment, and from which, when their fitness has been proved, they may not be dislodged by political caprice or the restless ambition of some one who wants a place.

In Europe there are many young men whom fate has destined to be the rich men of the next century. For a long time it was supposed that Lord Belgrave, who inherited the wealth of the Duke of Westminster, would head the list, but since the duke's death it is reported that his fortune has been greatly overestimated. At present this young man is but 20 years of age, but it will not be many years before he will become one of the richest men in the world, according to accepted belief in England. At the same time he has succeeded to every rank in the British peerage from baron to duke, as well as to three of the finest estates in the united kingdom, and a racing stable that cannot be surpassed.

A recent review of the progress of the University of Illinois reveals the fact that there are six different colleges and four schools united under one head. These are the College of Agriculture, College of Literature and Arts, College of Science, College of Engineering, College of Law, College of Medicine, the School of Library Science, School of Pharmacy, School of Music and the Preparatory School. The following official figures indicate the remarkable growth of the institution in number of students, during the last thirteen years: 1887-88, 377; 1888-89, 429; 1889-90, 469; 1890-91, 510; 1891-92, 583; 1893-94, 714; 1894-95, 810; 1895-96, 855; 1896-97, 1,075; 1897-98, 1,585; 1898-99, 1,824; 1899-00, 2,250.

There is a general desire for a decision by the Supreme Court of the United States to determine the question whether the new island possessions are a part of the United States, or its property. It was thought that a suit brought by a New York firm of importers to recover duties paid on Puerto Rican goods might furnish a basis for the desired interpretation; but this suit has been halted by the refusal of the lower court to grant the injunction which was applied for. A case has now arisen at San Francisco, occasioned by the collection of tonnage dues on vessels from Hawaii, in the same manner as from foreign countries, which may afford an opportunity for the settlement of the broad constitutional question.

The free town library, one of the best educational gifts to the nineteenth century to the world, bids fair in the twentieth century to become still more than it is now a stimulant to intellectual progress. Collections of books for the scholar and the rich there have been from the earliest times; but a library belonging to the whole community, rich and poor, learned and ignorant, laborer and professional man, is purely a product of the last half century. Fifty years ago there were about a score in Massachusetts. Today all but seven of her 350 towns have a free library. In the whole country there are not less than 10,000 such libraries. But a mere collection of books, without a faithful librarian, however valuable, is like an undeveloped mine, practically of no use. The town librarian is, like the library itself, a product of the closing century, and has become a new intellectual leader in the community.

THE NEWS IN IOWA

WHERE THE SMALLPOX IS.

Larger Number of Cases at Present than in Many Years.

DES MOINES, April 20.—The local authorties all over the state seem impressed with the notion that the state board of health can help them in caring for the smallpox cases. As a matter of fact it cannot. It cannot compel a local health office to perform any act. It is authorized to make legislation for the management of infectious diseases when they appear, but it can only rely on local health authorities to enforce these. If the local authorities fail to do so, the remedy lies with the citizens, who may, if they choose, compel the authorities, by mandamus, to perform their duty. The number of cases of smallpox in the state now is said to be greater than in many years and they are widely scattered. The disease is in mild form, and few deaths have resulted. There are twenty-one cases in Oskaloosa and cases are reported, generally in considerable numbers, at Davenport, Fort Dodge, Lincoln township, Hamilton county, Grant township, Hardin county, Mariette, Liberty and Taylor townships, Marshall county, Marshalltown, Green Mountain, Saylor township, Polk county, Des Moines, Ruthven, St. Anthony, Grinnell, Highland township, Palo Alto county, Toledo and other places.

HE FAVORS ALLISON.

Walter Wellman Tells of McKinley's Preference.

DES MOINES, April 18.—Walter Wellman, the Washington correspondent of the Chicago Times-Herald, says that President McKinley has decided that he would like to have Senator Allison as his running mate in the campaign this year and announces that the president is waiting to hear from Allison in regard to his acceptance. Wellman speaks in glowing eulogy of Allison and says that Senators Spooner, Wolcott, Fairbanks and Representative Dolliver are on the list as possibilities. Senator Allison's term will expire in 1903. At the expiration of a term as vice-president in 1905, Senator Allison would be 76 years old. This would practically end his cereer. But the presidency is out of the question with Allison and it might be that he would accept the vice presidency to round out his career.

MOTHERS' CONGRESS.

Mrs. Roosevelt Will Probably Be at Des Moines.

DES MOINES, April 20.—Plans of the local committees for the coming session of the Mothers' Congress in this city, are progressing. Many arrangements have already been made for the convenience and comfort of the visitors who will be here for the congress, but there are many others yet to make. One of the most interesting topics which it is hoped to bring before the congress is a paper on the subject of "The Condition of Homes in Cuba," which Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt will be asked to deliver. Mrs. Roosevelt is at present in Cuba investigating the conditions of the country there, and if she does not think her investigations are too superficial to put them into form for the congress, she will probably report some of them at that time.

HULL WINS IN STORY.

Defeats Payne for the Congressional Nomination.

NEVADA, April 23.—The Story county primaries, held in accordance with the primary system in vogue in Story county, resulted in a decided victory for Captain J. A. T. Hull for congress. The total vote on congressman is as follows: J. A. T. Hull, 979; W. O. Payne, 561. The overwhelming victory of Captain Hull in Story county is conceded to assure his nomination without further contest.

Frances Shebeck Ends Life.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Frances Shebeck, who lived with her sister, Mrs. S. P. Ramsey, four miles west of Washington, took four ounces of carbolic acid. When her sister discovered her lying on the bed, she asked what she had done and the girl replied that she had taken carbolic acid and wanted to die. A physician was summoned, but nothing could be done to save her life and she died. She was a Bohemian girl about 18 years of age. No cause is known why the girl should commit such a deed.

Small Pox at Toledo.

TOLEDO, April 20.—Two cases of small pox have developed in Toledo. Editor Russell, of the Independent, and Neil Harrigan, a printer in the employ of the Toledo Chronicle, are the patients. It is thought that about ten or fifteen families have been exposed and they will probably be quarantined also.

His Head Blown Off.

CORNING, April 22.—Charles Ellis, aged 35, while blasting rock out of a well at Mt. Etna, had his head blown off by a premature explosion of powder.

IOWA POPULISTS.

Select Delegates to the National Convention at Sioux Falls.

DES MOINES, April 18.—The populist state convention met at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium yesterday and selected nineteen delegates to the national convention to be held at Sioux Falls, S. D., in May. The resolutions adopted reaffirm the national platform adopted at St. Louis in 1896; arraigns the "administration of Wm. McKinley as being recreant to every principle of the constitution, the declaration of independence and the pledges which were made to the people before its advent into power;" denounces the administration's policy toward the Philippines; says the party is unalterably opposed to imperialism and militarism; favors an income tax; extends sympathy to the Boers; voices the opposition of the party to polygamy and slavery, "fostered by President McKinley in the Sulu archepelago;" favors rigid legislation against trusts; pledges the support of the Iowa populists to W. J. Bryan, and denounces "the recent financial legislation known as the currency bill." Delegates were selected as follows: General J. B. Weaver of Colfax, W. H. Robb of Creston, Geo. E. Reiff of Woodbine, J. C. Stockton of Leon, J. E. Anderson of Forest City, Dr. H. A. Evans of Albia, E. H. Gillette of Des Moines, O. A. Clarke of Fremont county, S. B. Crane of Des Moines, John R. Clark of Albia, J. C. Baker of Emmetsburg, A. J. Blakely of Grinnell, Matt Ewart of Ewart, Matt Saddler of Mitchellville, S. W. Johnson, of Jefferson, C. F. Davis of Bloomfield, Geo. W. Wilcox of Jefferson, John Kent of Dallas county, R. B. Richmond of Dallas county.

CENTERVILLE'S BAD FIRE.

Business Property Worth $40,000 Burned.

OTTUMWA, April 21.—Centerville, the county seat of Appanoose county, was visited by a $40,000 fire which for a time threatened to consume the entire business portion of the city. The fire originated in an implement house on the south side of the square, but in what manner is unknown. The most of the buildings destroyed were old structures, else the loss would have been much greater. The facilities for coping with the flames were inadequate and the fire spread to the yards of the Lewis Lumber Company, which were also damaged to the extent of several thousand dollars.

Seek Bank Wrecker's Pardon.

SIOUX CITY, April 20.—A petition is being circulated asking President McKinley to pardon Frank M. Dorsey, of this city, convicted and sentenced to six years in prison for wrecking the First National bank of Ponca, Neb. Former Congressman G. W. E. Dorsey is in Washington, supposedly to secure clemency. As one judge of the federal court of appeals dissented from the opinion sustaining the sentence, execution of the sentence will be deferred.

He Was Anxious to Die.

RIVERTON, April 23.—Four miles below Riverton an unknown man about 25 years of age and fairly well dressed threw himself in front of an engine running fifty miles an hour. He was cut into small pieces. A note was found stating that his name was W. H. Taylor and he was from St. Louis. About $3 was found in his pockets.

BREVITIES.

A tornado did considerable damage in the north part of Hamburg wrecking Fred Johnson's sheds, corn cribs and wind mills. His stock was considerably injured by flying missiles and his house was removed from its foundation. The residence of Lark Miller and John Crane were complete wrecks, but no one was seriously injured. There was considerable damage done to other property in the destruction of small buildings, etc.

At the home of John Sterling, a farmer living two miles north of Bevington, a few days ago, hay was piled around the house and barn at 4 o'clock in the morning and set on fire. Mrs. Sterling and her children were awakened by the plunging of the horses in the barn and managed to save the house. The barns, cribs, haystacks and every outbuilding on the place was destroyed. Four horses and a number of hogs were burned to death. A month ago Mrs. Sterling applied for a divorce, after having Sterling arrested for beating her children by her former husband, John McMichael. The justice gave Sterling time to get bonds and dismissed him. He was not seen afterward. After the fire tracks were found leading from the house. Officers and citizens searched for Sterling without success. Later Thomas Casey, a farmer, discovered him in a hole in a strawstack on his farm. Casey ordered Sterling to come out and on his refusal to come, set fire to the stack. Sterling remained in the stack until the flames reached him and then cut his throat with a jack knife, plunging through the flames and falling at Casey's feet. The man was horribly burned and nearly bled to death before Casey could obtain medical assistance. The physicians say he will live.

CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Washington, April 16.—During almost the entire session the senate had under consideration the Alaskan civil code bill. The amendment providing for the mining of gold along the beach in the district was perfected, after a discussion lasting nearly four hours. The house joint resolution in favor of a constitutional amendment providing for the election of United States senators by the people, after an address by Butler of North Carolina, was referred to the committee on privileges and elections.

HOUSE.

The house to-day entered upon the consideration of the naval appropriation bill, with the prospect of a severe struggle ahead over the question of armor plate, building ships in government yards, and the provision in the bill for the coast and geodetic survey. The bill carries $14,000,000 more than any previous naval bill. Foss, the acting chairman, and Cummings, the ranking member of the minority of the committee, defended the bill. Kitchin of North Carolina, one of the members who signed the minority report, criticised what he termed the general extravagance of the bill.

SENATE.

Washington, April 17.—The principal event in congress to-day was the speech of Senator Hoar of Massachusetts, in which he reviewed the history of the Cuba and Philippine conquests, praising the former and severely criticizing that of the latter. The address was brilliantly written and rich in citation from history. He praised the Filipinos and pleaded for a return to safe American precedents.

HOUSE.

The second day's debate upon the naval appropriation bill in the house today was confined closely to the subject matter of the bill and was as a rule devoid of interesting features. General debate was closed today.

SENATE.

Washington, April 18.—Mason's resolution authorizing the secretary of the navy to have struck bronze medals for distribution among certain officers and men of the North Atlantic squadron, commemorating naval engagements between the forces of Spain and the United States in the waters of the West Indies and off the Cuban coast, and appropriating $25,000 for same, was passed. The Alaskan code was under consideration during the day.

HOUSE.

The debate on the naval appropriation bill under the five-minute rule to-day drifted into politics, and for the greater portion of the afternoon the members fought hammer and tongs across the political aisle. Williams of Mississippi and Grosvenor of Ohio were the leaders in the fight.

SENATE.

Washington, April 19.—The Foraker resolution providing for the administration of civil affairs in Porto Rico pending the appointment of permanent officials under the recently passed Porto Rico law, passed the senate today.

HOUSE.

The house spent practically the entire day debating a proposition in the naval bill designed to turn over to the navy the survey and charting of the waters of Cuba, Porto Rico and the Philippines. The bill carried an appropriation of $100,000 for this purpose. In the end an amendment by Cannon providing that the survey shall be performed by the coast and geodetic survey and appropriating only the regular $10,000 for ocean surveys, was adopted.

SENATE

Washington, April 20.—Bacon, of Georgia, offered two resolutions, one inquring of the secretary of war whether army officers were receiving or had received salaries for the performance of civil duties in addition to their regular pay, and the other inquiring with regard to officer's expenses. Both resolutions were objected to and went over. A resolution by Galligher directing the secretary of the treasury to furnish a statement of the sum derived from the war revenue act, regarding each subject of taxation to be stated separately, was agreed to. The senate had under consideration during the greater part of to-day's session the conference report on the Hawaiian civil government measure. Cullom made an extended explanation of the changes in the bill. The report was the subject of sharp criticism. Final action upon it was postponed.

HOUSE.

As a result of a protracted struggle the provision of the naval appropriation bill to enable the secretary of the treasury to contract for armor for the battleships Maine, Ohio and Missouri, now awaiting their armor equipment, at $545 per ton, the price asked for Krupp armor, is out of the bill, as is the provision to repeal the $300 limitation placed upon the price of armor by the current law.

METHUEN HAD TO RETIRE.

Attacked by a Force of Two Thousand Boers.

BOSHOF, Orange Free State, April 21.—At midday yesterday Methuen's field force at Swartzkopjesfontein was ordered to return to Boshof. Its convoy extended over six miles. The escort took up a position on the hill commanding the road just in the nick of time as a force of two thousand Boers suddenly appeared and opened a very heavy fire. The British, however, held them in check until the column reached this point in safety, when they retired. The British had several casualties. The Boers fought determinedly and must have suffered considerably, as they once advanced to within three hundred yards of the hill, whence a concealed detachment of British opened a heavy fusilade on them.

JAPAN BEGINS TO DISLIKE US.

Anti-American Feeling Based on the Conditions in Hawaii.

LONDON, April 23.—The Daily Mail publishes a letter from Yokohama describing the "growth of anti-American feeling" in Japan. The writer says: "This development is due to the harsh treatment the Japanese have received in Hawaii and to the belief that the United States will stop Japanese immigration to Hawaii. The feeling is calculated to lead to a deplorable war of tariffs and to retaliatory restrictions."

Nicaragua Bill Amended.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—The house committee on interstate and foreign commerce has made an important change in the Hepburn Nicaraguan canal bill, striking out the provision for "fortification." This was agreed to with a view of overcoming opposition and securing action. Mr. Hepburn, in charge of the bill, announces a definite arrangement has been reached by which the bill will be considered by the house on May 1 and 2.

Serious Situation in Ashanti.

ACCRA, Gold Coast Colony, West Africa, April 20.—Governor Hodgson wires from Kumassi that the other tribes are rising again, and he asks for assistance. The loyal Bekuis have been attacked by the Ashantis, and 500 have been killed. It is feared that this will compel them to join the rebellion. Evidently the matter is extremely serious and was minimized until it was too late.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

DES MOINES, April 23, 1900.

Plans for the completion of the state historical building were ordered by the council. The legislature appropriated $21,000 for the completion of the building. The third floor will be finished and the necessary furniture and fixtures will be bought by bids.

A number of cases of small pox have been reported from Fort Dodge and a letter has been received complaining of laxness on the part of the local authorities and asking the board to intervene.

The governor has received and indorsed over to the treasurer of state a warrant on the treasurer of the United States for $4,311.67, being the amount due the county of Delaware as indemnity for swamp lands erroneously sold by the government

The auditor of state has sent a letter to the Scott County Savings Bank of Davenport saying that branch banks cannot be operated under the banking laws of Iowa. The question was raised about six months ago when the Scott County Savings Bank opened a branch next door to the Davenport Savings Bank because of the strong rivalry existing between the two. The matter has hung fire in the auditor's office for some time, although the Davenport Savings has protested loudly. Finally it said it would start a branch itself if branch banks were in order. This called for the decision just rendered, that the Scott County Savings Bank must either capitalize its branch or close it.

Governor Shaw announces that he will go to Washington, D. C., to help push the claims of the Louisiana purchase states. He will be one of the 17 governors, representing the 17 states of the Louisiana purchase, who have been asked to join the delegation from these states and appear before the congressional committee to ask for an appropriation of $5,000,000 for the St. Louis world's fair to be held in 1903. The congressional committee will meet April 27, and the governors have all been notified of their invitations to be present through Secretary James Cox of the world's fair committee.

The executive committee of the State Agricultural society has selected the Fifty-first Iowa regiment band for the state fair this year.

Governor Shaw says he is entirely undecided whether he will sign or veto the valued policy insurance bill, now awaiting his consideration. He is informing himself, by careful investigation, as to the workings of the law in other states. He sent men to Missouri and Nebraska to investigate the workings of the law there, and is also having special investigations made of conditions in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan. He proposes to fully inform himself concerning the workings of such a statute in other states, and to be able fully to defend whatever position he takes in the matter. But thus far he has not decided what he will do. He will leave for Washington shortly, but it is not likely he will act in this matter till his return. All bills passed within the last three days of the session, as was this one, have an allowance of thirty days for executive consideration. This gives until May 6 for the inquiry.

Governor Shaw has named the members of three of the six commissions created by the legislature last winter—the library commission, which is to promote the general library interests of the state, the commission to locate the positions occupied by Iowa troops at the battle of Vicksburg and the Shiloh commission which carries an appropriation of $50,000 for the erection of monuments to mark the spots occupied by Iowa soldiers on the field at Shiloh. Captain W. H. Johnson, of Fort Dodge, president of the state library association; Mrs. D. W. Norris, of Grinnell; Mrs. H. M. Towner, of Corning, and Miss Jessie B. Waite, of Burlington, were appointed members of the library commission for terms of two, three, four and five years, as provided in the bill. The state librarian, superintendent of public instruction and president of the state university are ex-officio members. The law goes into effect July 1 and the commission will meet immediately after that.

The governor has signed the bill by Representative Miller of Fayette, requiring that teachers in the public schools shall be instructed in the rudiments of music. It is not necessary that they shall be singers or performers on any instrument, but they must understand the rudiments of the art of reading music. The governor seriously considered the advisability of vetoing the bill, but found that President Seerley of the state normal school among others, endorsed it very strongly. Finding a considerable sentiment among teachers themselves in favor of the measure, he concluded to allow it to become law.

The Vicksburg commission consists of one member of each of the Iowa regiments or batteries which fought on those fields, and three at large, making thirty-five; the Shiloh commission consists of one member from each regiment or battery, making eleven.

Treasurer of State Herriott reports that every cent of the Agricultural College endowment funds have been loaned out at 5 per cent. More than $200,000 was on hand when the legislature adjourned, but the law passed by it allowing the trustees of the college to loan the money at the market rate resulted in the quick disposition of the funds.

KING DON:

A STORY OF MILITARY LIFE IN INDIA.

.....BY MAVOR ALLAN.....

CHAPTER VI.—(Continued.)

They sat thus for a long time, speaking in broken tones of that time which had been fraught with such bitterness to both. She loved him for the perils he had passed through, and he loved her that she did pity them."

"My dearest," said Don at last, "there is only one thing I can ask you to do now to insure your happiness and—and your safety. Give me the right at once to shield you from harm, and to care for you as only your husband can."

"You mean—?" She faltered, while a faint color fluttered to her wan cheek.

"I mean let us be married without delay, darling." Don finished the sentence for her. "I cannot bear to think of your going home to England when Mrs. Franklin goes, nor yet of your being left here alone; and I may have orders to leave Pindi at any moment."

"Oh, Don, I could not marry you just yet," she said, her voice breaking in a tremulous sob. "It would be too cruel to my poor father!"

"Would it not be more cruel to me than to the dead, to live in constant fear of—of someone annoying you, or something happening to you, when I was not at hand to protect you?" he asked. And his voice quivered.

"Yes, yes!" she sighed. And involuntarily a memory of Prince Clement Sing flashed through her overwrought brain. How might not he take opportunity of harassing her now her father was gone, especially as he claimed to have the dead man's sanction to address her. And impulsively she told Don of the Prince's visit.

"But he went away in quite a friendly mood, saying if I ever wanted help I might count on him. It was a great relief. I was terribly afraid he might go away angry. He is so passionate and so powerful, I imagined all sorts of harm he might do."

Yet her tender heart recoiled from thinking of her own welfare, whilst her father's grave "lay so freshly dug."

"Dear Don," she said, putting her little hand tenderly in his, "perhaps you cannot understand my feeling; but I seem to feel his presence still, as if his spirit stood quite near me now, and I think it would hurt him to know I wanted to be happy without him so soon."

The hand she touched trembled.

"No; I don't understand that," he said, almost roughly. "I am afraid I can only think of the dead as dead and buried in their graves."

"No, no! don't say that!" she said, and she drew his hand to her lips and her hot tears fell upon it. "You who have proved so strong and true through all your trials, won't you take the solace of my belief that there is eternity to reward us for all our grief and parting? Dear Don, how else could we say, 'O, death, where is thy sting? O, grave, where is thy victory'?"

He arose and paced the length of the room twice before he came back and stood once more by her side.

"Lillie," he said, and she knew by the tone of his voice he had been struggling with some strong emotion, "come to me now, and teach me how to believe these things, while my heart is still fresh to your sorrow. Promise me, Lillie!"

He resumed his seat by her side and put out his hand to her appealingly.

She met his eyes, her own all shining with unshed tears.

"Don, dearest, if I went home to England with Mrs. Franklin for a few months, wouldn't you come and fetch me there? But to marry you now—oh, Don, I cannot!"

"Then heaven help me!" he answered bitterly.

Again he rose, and she saw by the workings of his face how the indomitable will of the strong man, which had never before brooked rebuff, struggled for supremacy, even over his love.

He came back to her, and when he spoke his voice was low and tense.

"Then it's all been in vain, Lillie. You love me, you say; but you cannot love me so much as I love you, for if you had asked me to do what I have asked you I would not have forsaken you."

She rose and flung herself in his arms.

"Oh, Don, my love, why do you speak so? What makes you so wild and strange? Don, Don, I have not forsaken you! You are all I now have in the whole world!"

His jealousy could not be but stayed by her passionate fervor; and, suddenly, at touch of those clinging arms, some of the old calm imperiousness of the Don of old came to his aid.

"My darling," he answered, drawing her nearer, "I want you, I need you—you do not know how much! Why would you defraud me of what is mine? If we part now, God knows how next we may ever meet."

Fateful words to haunt her in the long, long days to come.

But now, overcome by his mastery and pleading, she resisted no longer; and as she spoke the words of yielding he sought, he kissed the lips which had uttered them with a fierce, consuming joy.

CHAPTER VII.

The wedding was over. It had been a very simple, very quiet affair. Indeed, it had quite taken the little community of the garrison station by surprise, for Don's disposition was so naturally reserved. He had spoken little of his engagement, and only a few brother officers and a small number of Lillie's personal friends were in the secret.

The bridegroom had obtained "long leave," and with great reluctance had at last yielded to Lillie's appeal to spend the honeymoon in England.

He had given in on the one stipulation that Gadie Ha' should not be included in the program; and Lillie, with that touch of sympathy "which makes the whole world kin," understood the jealous pain it must bring to remember that Scottish home of his childhood which he had looked some day to call his own.

The winding up of her father's affairs, and the disposal of some of her own property, was indeed her only incentive for the homeward journey at all; for, with the bond of ever-deepening love, her life henceforth would be lived for Don alone.

It seemed a strange, commonplace ending to that gay existence of coquetry and ambition and almost heartless worldliness which once had constituted the sum total of her thoughts and actions.

As Lillie Gordon stood in her pretty bedroom, watching her maid pack away the simple white silk gown she had worn for the marriage ceremony, her thoughts leaped back to those days of long ago, and it seemed scarcely possible she could be the same Lillie who had held love so lightly in that bygone time.

The wedding had taken place at 5 o'clock, with no reception afterwards, owing to the bride's deep mourning.

The previous night Don had partaken of his farewell dinner as a bachelor with his jolly comrades of the Derbyshire mess, and now was absent making some last necessary arrangements at his quarters, as he and his bride were to leave by the night train for Bombay, where they would catch a hired troopship homeward bound.

There was a knock at the bedroom door, and Mrs. Franklin's sweet voice sought admittance.

The young widow was to stay on at the bungalow for a few weeks longer, as her child's health was in too precarious a state to undergo the long sea journey home, and she had gladly accepted Lillie's invitation to remain.

Lillie answered the knock herself. Despite the black crepe gown she now wore, the young bride looked radiant, with a subdued happiness that made all else forgotten but the joyous beauty of her blue eyes and love-lit face. The other woman, who had lost her dearest on earth, looked at her with a momentary pang of jealous grief. She little knew she was coming to chase the joy from those blue eyes forever.

"My love," Mrs. Franklin spoke apologetically, "I am so sorry to trouble you, but Prince Clement Sing has just arrived from Simla, and demands to see you. I explained to him you were busy, and asked if I could not deliver a message; but he insists on seeing you alone."

"Has he heard of our—our marriage?" queried Lillie, while a deeper color tinted her cheek.

"Yes. He evidently knew of it, for he spoke of you as Mrs. Gordon," answered the other lady, smiling. "I think, dear, perhaps it would be more diplomatic of you to go to him. To tell the truth, he was so emphatic about seeing you he quite frightened me."

"He will not frighten me," said Lillie, lightly. "Really, he is a very tiresome individual, and I hope I shall get rid of him before Don comes back, for I know Don cordially dislikes him."

She picked up an ivory fan from her dressing table and went, with a proud, firm step, down the broad staircase.

Her dignity as Don's wife seemed to have already added a subtle increase of matronly power to her slim, young figure.

Prince Clement Sing was standing in the middle of the big drawing-room, and the look on his face made her step falter in spite of herself—it was dark and almost lowering with suppressed fury. Then she recovered her self-possession with an effort, and went forward with a pretty obeisance and outstretched hand.

"This is an unexpected pleasure, Prince; and had you come a little later you would not have found me here. My husband and I start for Bombay tonight."

"I fear you will not count it a pleasure when you hear on what errand I have come," he answered grimly. "I only regret for your sake that I have come too late."

"May I ask what you mean?" she said, somewhat haughtily.

"I mean, madam, I know you sufficiently well to feel sure you would have hesitated to ally yourself to one whom you would feel it not worthy to breathe the same air with you if you knew what I know concerning him."

Lillie drew up her small person to its full height, and, in her indignation, laid aside the air of deference which usually marked her demeanor towards her royal visitor.

"Nothing you can say for or against Captain Gordon can have the slightest weight with me!" she said, with proud scorn.

She still stood, because the Prince also remained unseated; and as she spoke she put out her little hand to the chair-back and stayed herself by it, for she was trembling between annoyance and alarm.

"It is unchivalrous to contradict a lady," said Prince Clement, with a slow, cruel smile; "yet I find myself in that unfortunate position—obliged to repeat my statement, that I have it in my power to tell you what I know would entirely alter your sentiments towards the man you have unfortunately married."

"Then tell me nothing!" she cried, with a little burst of passion. "I decline to listen to you!"

She made a movement as if to sweep a proud curtsey and pass from the room; but, with a quick stride, the Prince covered the distance between them and laid a commanding hand on her arm.

"You shall listen to me! I heard of it too late to prevent this unholy marriage; but at least I will not be cheated of my revenge. I loved you—you flouted me; and now I can make you suffer, and you shall suffer!"

"She shrank beneath his iron touch, for, despite her calm exterior, her heart beat high with unknown terror in the clutch of this fanatic, with whom revenge was virtue.

"Then I ask your highness to say what you intend to say quickly, and allow me to retire," she said, with a brave coolness she was far from feeling. "I beg to remind you again that we are leaving Pindi in two hours' time, and I expect my husband to join me here every moment."

"Let him come!" returned the Prince—and he laughed a scathing little laugh. "Let him come and deny, if he can, the reason why your father's murderer has never been found!"

Her hands clung convulsively to the chair, and she staggered; but only for an instant. She lifted her blue eyes to his, full of imperious scorn.

"Will you kindly speak more plainly, Prince? If you compel me to listen to you, I at least deny your right to speak in riddles."

It was open warfare between them now; but, in the tortured excitement, she was growing reckless of conventionalities. If Don were only by her side to protect her! She felt she would have given the world to summon her kitmutgar—native footman—and drive Prince Clement Sing from her presence there and then.

"I will speak all too plainly," he answered, bowing low. "It was Captain Gordon himself who shot Captain Derment."

"You dare say this to me?"

The words came in panting breaths through her parched lips, her bosom heaved, and she stood like a lioness at bay.

"I dare, because it is the truth!" he hissed. "Ask himself. He is here to answer."

For the portiere had been driven aside, and within the threshold of the door stood Don, in all the bravery of full-dress uniform he had worn for his wedding, and which he had not yet had time to change.

In one hand he held by the silken drapery, the other hand was clutching the hilt of his sword, and on his face the smile of joyous welcome had frozen and left it ghastly pale.

(To be continued.)

A Change for the Better.

Lady Violet Greville, commenting on the emancipation of women, says that in the early days of Queen Victoria a married woman never took an airing on foot, even in the park, unless attended by her maid, and it is only within the last fifteen years that girls of good family could walk alone in certain quiet and respectable streets. There was once a time when to drive alone in a hansom would have subjected a lady to the imputation of being fast and immodest. Now there is scarcely anything women cannot do.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON V, APRIL 29—LUKE. CHAP. 7, VS. 18-28.

Golden Text—"He Hath Done All Things Well."—Jesus and John the Baptist—Seeking Help From the Right Source.

18. "And the disciples of John." They clung nobly to their teacher, and visited him in prison in spite of all dangers. It is a noble and charming picture. They came even from Galilee, where the very air was full of the miracles and teachings of Jesus, and "shewed him of all these things," his marvelous power, his loving teachings, his feasting with publicans and sinners, his growing popularity. The sending of a delegation of his disciples with the question as to whether Jesus was indeed the expected Messiah shows that the brave and true prophet and martyr was in the shadow of a great doubt.

19. "Calling unto him two of his disciples sent them to Jesus, saying, Art thou he that should come?" The Messiah of prophets had foretold. "Art thou the whom John had preached, who the Messiah?

21. "And in that same hour." Before the eyes of John's disciples. "He cured many." Not merely to show this proof to John, but because they needed curing. Jesus kept on doing his work. "Infirmities." Diseases. "Plagues." Strokes, blows of a scourge; hence "recognized in medical writings as acute," as the "diseases" were the chronic cases. "Evil spirits." As distinct from diseases. "Blind he gave sight." "More is expressed by this verb than simple giving. He gave as a free, gracious, joy-giving gift."—Vincent.

22. "The lame walk," etc. Note the great variety of cures, the many forms of disease relieved. There was nothing too hard for his power. Each disease was typical of some corresponding moral healing from the diseases of sin. All of them were expressions of his goodness and love. "To the poor the gospel is preached." "The language embraces the poor in heart life, all who suffer heart hunger, the meek, the broken-hearted, the captives, the bound."—Abbott.

23. "And blessed is he, whosoever shall not be offended in me." Shall find no occasion of stumbling in me, shall see how my work and method of founding the kingdom, however differing from preconceived opinions, is the true way for the Messiah, the only one in which his mission could be fulfilled, and the only one foretold by the prophets. Many, indeed, did stumble at the way Jesus represented the Messiahship. Note how Jesus relieved his despondency, and will relieve ours.

24. "When the messengers of John were departed." Jesus spoke his eulogy, not in the presence of John's disciples, but after they were gone, for the good of the people. He did not praise to his face and condemn behind his back. "He began to speak unto the people," in answer to their thoughts and secret questionings. They might imagine from John's message that the Baptist wavered in his faith, and that his imprisonment had shaken his constancy. Our Lord, therefore, reminds them of what John was. "What went ye out into the wilderness," where John had preached. "A reed shaken with the wind." The reed of Egypt and Palestine is a very tall cane, growing twelve feet high, with a magnificent panicle of blossom at the top, and so slender and yielding that it will lie perfectly flat under a gust of wind, and immediately resume its upright position.—Tristram. Did you go to see a fickle, undecided man, the sport of every influence that blew upon him?—Morison. "So far from being a reed, shaken by the wind of popular opinion, John was a rock, which stood unmoved though beaten by storms of suffering."—Wordsworth. This is one of the common aspersions which men are apt to cast on those who become popular, that they bend to the popular breeze; and it is one of their dangers.

25. "A man clothed in soft raiment." Luxurious or gorgeous clothing—a sign of an effeminate and voluptuous, or a sycophant, who would flatter for the hope of gain. Contrast this with the rigorous fare and simple garb of John as described in Matt. 3: 4. So the next accusation of the reformer, and his next danger, is that "he is making friends of the rich, and feathering his own nest." "Behold," etc. No such man as this was the wilderness prophet. If you wished to find such men, you would go to the palace of Herod, where they are gorgeously appareled.

26. "A prophet? Yea, . . . and much more than a prophet. (1) Because himself the object of prophecy; (2) because he pointed out the Messiah, whom others only foretold, and saw him whom kings and prophets desired to see; and (3) chiefest of all, because his position was nearest the threshold of the kingdom and, more than they all, helped to usher it in.

27. "This is he, of whom it is written." (In Mal. 3: 1.) "Behold, I send my messenger before thy face," etc. An allusion to one who went before an Eastern monarch to remove all obstacles out of his way. (See Lesson III., First Quarter.)

28. "There is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist," in character, in work, in nearness to God, in position, in privilege, in success. "He that is least in the kingdom of God is greater than he." The least of the greatest is greater than the greatest of the least.—Maldonatus. It does not mean greater in personal character, nor in eternal condition, but in present privilege, prerogative, station, as the least child is greater than the highest servant.—Abbott. He belongs to a higher dispensation, with larger influences of the Spirit, blessings beyond the comprehension of any in the previous dispensation. The least seed grown above ground is greater than the greatest still beneath the soil. So we may say that the child to-day has more knowledge, and stands farther in advance, in chemistry, geography, history, than the greatest sages of the past, who had far more genius and intellect

Must Drowning Men Recall Debts?

Little Sniffkins (who has been nearly drowned)—"It was simply marvelous. As I sank for the third time all the incidents of my past came vividly before me." Robertson (brutally)—"I say, old chap, did you remember that fiver I lent you last year?"—Sydney Town and Country Journal.

Last year the American people consumed 2,000,000 tons of sugar, of which 1,385,000 tons were made by the sugar trust.

Millions for Baseball.

A million of dollars are spent every year for baseball, but large as this is, it cannot equal the amount spent in search of health. We urge those who have spent much and lost hope to try Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It strengthens the stomach, makes digestion easy, and cures dyspepsia, constipation, biliousness and weak kidneys.

The Idaho prohibitionists want to send Miss Amanda Way to congress.

A Mother's Tears.

"I Would Cry Every Time I Washed My Baby."

"When he was 3 months old, first festers and then large boils broke out on my baby's neck. The sores spread down his back until it became a mass of raw flesh. When I washed and powdered him I would cry, realizing what pain he was in. His pitiful wailing was heart-rending. I had about given up hope of saving him when I was urged to give him Hood's Sarsaparilla, all other treatment having failed. I washed the sores with Hood's Medicated Soap, applied Hood's Olive Ointment and gave him Hood's Sarsaparilla. The child seemed to get better every day, and very soon the change was quite noticeable. The discharge grew less, inflammation went down, the skin took on a healthy color, and the raw flesh began to scale over and a thin skin formed as the scales dropped off. Less than two bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla, aided by Hood's Medicated Soap and Hood's Olive Ointment, accomplished this wonderful cure. I cannot praise these medicines half enough." MRS. GUERINOT, 37 Myrtle St., Rochester, N. Y.

The above testimonial is very much condensed from Mrs. Guerinot's letter. As many mothers will be interested in reading the full letter, we will send it to anyone who sends request of us on a postal card. Mention this paper.

PARALYSIS Locomotor Ataxia conquered at last. Doctors puzzled. Specialists amazed at recovery of patients thought incurable by DR. CHASE'S BLOOD AND NERVE FOOD. Write me about your case. Advice and proof of cures FREE. DR. CHASE, 224 N. 10th St., PHILADELPHIA, PA

WANTED!

..100,000 GOOD PEOPLE..

To see our agents and get one of our policies.

Fidelity Insurance Co. Des Moines, Ia.

..AGENTS WANTED..

A. L. Tullis, - Sec'y and Mgr.

J. THOMPSON & SONS LIMITED. MANUFACTURERS

WILL SCOUR IN ANY SOIL. THREE WHEEL SULKY PLOWS, CULTIVATORS, HARROWS.

GENUINE NORWEGIAN PLOW

BELOIT, WIS.

ALABASTINE

ALABASTINE is the original and only durable wall coating, entirely different from all kalsomines. Ready for use in white or fourteen beautiful tints by adding cold water.

LADIES naturally prefer ALABASTINE for walls and ceilings, because it is pure, clean, durable. Put up in dry powdered form, in five-pound packages, with full directions.

ALL kalsomines are cheap, temporary preparations made from whiting, chalks, clays, etc., and stuck on walls with decaying animal glue. ALABASTINE is not a kalsomine.

BEWARE of the dealer who says he can sell you the "same thing" as ALABASTINE or "something just as good." He is either not posted or is trying to deceive you.

AND IN OFFERING something he has bought cheap and tries to sell on ALABASTINE'S demands, he may not realize the damage you will suffer by a kalsomine on your walls.

SENSIBLE dealers will not buy a lawsuit. Dealers risk one by selling and consumers by using infringement. Alabastine Co. own right to make wall coating to mix with cold water.

THE INTERIOR WALLS of every church and school should be coated only with pure, durable ALABASTINE. It safeguards health. Hundreds of tons used yearly for this work.

IN BUYING ALABASTINE, customers should avoid getting cheap kalsomines under different names. Insist on having our goods in packages and properly labeled.

NUISANCE of wall paper is obviated by ALABASTINE. It can be used on plastered walls, wood ceilings, brick or canvas. A child can brush it on. It does not rub or scale off.

ESTABLISHED in favor. Shun all imitations. Ask paint dealer or druggist for tint card. Write us for interesting booklet, free. ALABASTINE CO., Grand Rapids, Mich.

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS.

See The Monarch

BICYCLES

The Best and Cheapest wheel on the market.

REPAIR YOUR WHEEL

Our Expert Tinner is able to put your old wheel in good repair quickly and cheaply.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

OUR SUMMER BILL OF FARE.

Young Onions, New Radishes, Fresh Lettuce,
Oranges, Bananas, Lemons,
Canned Fruit and Vegetables--all kinds,
Bread, Buns, Pies, Cakes, Cookies,
Confecionery, Cigars, Tobacco
SUMMER DRINKS SELECT GROCERIES,

Agent for the Ideal Steam Laundry, Mason City.

G. W. KLUCKHOHN, KLEMME.

WALL PAPER.

The largest stock and the very latest in Red, Green and Bronze colors.

PAINT.

We handle the Lion Brand, 1 gallon covers 300 square feet, two coats and it is guaranteed for five years. If it peals or cracks and comes off your building will be re-painted free of charge.

White Lead, Oils and Colors always kept in stock.

SHAFER & DOW.

General Merchandise Dealers,

KLEMME, IOWA.

Buy Your

Drugs, Paints, Wall Paper, Toilet Soap, Perfumery Books and Patent Medicines

At Amsden's Pharmacy

GARNER, IOWA.

FRED ARNOLD, PRES. C. H. WIEGMANN, V. P. F. A. ARNOLD, CASH.

STATE SAVINGS BANK,

OF KLEMME, IOWA.

CAPITAL $25 000 00, LOANS $40 000 00,

INSURANCE WRITTEN, LOANS NEGOTIATED, EXCHANGE BOUGHT AND SOLD.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits: Money Loaned on Real Estate: Foreign and Domestic Exchange Sold.....

DIRECTORS: FRED ARNOLD, C. H. WIEGMANN, H. W. GRUETZMACHER, CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, F. A. ARNOLD.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern
RAILROAD EXCURSIONS.

REDUCED RATES.

For the populist Convention at Sioux Falls, S. D. May 8th, the B C R & N will make reduced rates. Call on ticket agents for rates, limits, etc. Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., B., C. R. & N. Ry. Cedar Rapids Iowa. may 9.

VEBY LOW RATES.

The B C R & N Ry will make very low rates to Sioux Fall, S. D. for the A O U W meeting in June. Call on your ticket agent for rates, limits etc and see that your tickets read via this line. Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia.—jun12

GAING TO PARIS.

Then let us give you valuable information segarding your trip. We can render you good service and ticket you right through from all stations on our line via New York and any of the steamship lines. Call on agents of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway, or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

ANOTHER CHANCE.

On the first and third Tuesday of May and June, homeseekers' tickets will be on sale at rate of a Single Fare plus $2 for the round trip to the various parts of the country. For rates, limits territory, etc., call on nearest agent or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Playing Cards.

"The Cedar Rapids Route" Playing Cards are the finest quality and extra finish. For sale by agents of the B. C. R. &. N. Ry at 15 cts. per pack, two for 25 cts. $1.50 per dozen. Call for them at depot or send stamps, coin or money order to General Passenger Department, B., C. R. & N. Ry., Cedar Rapids, Ia. and cards will be sent dostage paid.

Reduced Rates to the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Reduced round trip rates are now in effect to the nation's great resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas, owned, controlled by the United States Government for the cure of a score of human ills. Beautiful winter, 200 hotels and boarding houses of all grades. Ask nearest ticket agent for particulars, or Mr. John G. Farmer, A. G. P. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia. For illustrated books of information address Bureau of Information, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

NEW CHAIR CAR SERVICE.

Between Watertown, Ellsworth and Chicago via. B. C. R. & N. Ry. Commencing Sunday Nov. 19th, a free reclining chair car will be placed on trains Nos. 608 and 605 between Watertown and Chicago by the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. This car leaves Watertown daily, except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. arriving at Chicago 7:59 the following morning. This car runs to and from Sioux Falls Sundays, thus giving daily chair car service between Ellsworth and Chicago. Passengers going east from Chicago will have ample time to make any transfers to connect with all morning eastern trains.

These trains are very fast, and, with this new additional service, passengers can feel assured of first class accommodations. JNO. G. FARMER,
Cedar Rapids, Ia.

EUROPEAN EXCURSION.

The B., C. R. & N. Ry. will start an excursion from the Northeast and Northern part of Iowa to the Christian Endeavor Convention in London, England, and to the Paris Exposition.

Many business men, professional men teachers and those who wish to visit their fatherland will gladly avail themselves of this opportunity. That teachers in our schools and colleges may have the advantage of this rare educational privelege, arrangements have been made with the fine Dominion and Allan Line of steamers. The steamers selected on these lines are the 'Cambroman' of the Dominion, and the 'Tunisian' of the Allan. Both are elegant new steamers and sail direct from Montreal to Liverpool.

The remarkably reasonable rate of $75.00, second cabin, from Montral to London and return, is charged. It is to be remembered that the second cabin on these steamers is equal to first cabin on some other lines, and that the very best people will travel this way. Those desiring to sail from New York can take the 'Furnessia of the Anchor Line On this steamer a rate of $119.84, first cabin, and $74.82, second cabin, from New York to London and return is charged. The 'Cambroman' and 'Furnessia' sail on June 23rd, and the 'Tunisian' on June 30th.

For about $14.00 additional a round trip ticket can be purchased by those wishing to visit the Exposition, from London to Paris and return. It will be necessary to apply at once in order to secure berths, as many will be going over.

Rev. D. W. Fahs, D. D. of Independence, who has had experience in excursion work, will have charge of the excursion. Those who contemplate going should address him at once at Independence, Iowa, for particulars.

JNO. G. FARMER, A. G. P. & T. A.
Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Porto Ricco is not very large, but the politicians of the Demacratic party are hoping it is big enough for a grave for free silver.

Cleanse the liver, purify the blood, invigorate the body by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pill always act promptly. J. L. Harr

When the Supreme Court decides that the Porto Rican legislation is constitutional, Mr. Bryan will have another reason for demanding the suppression of that body.

H. Clark, Chauncey, Ga., says DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him of piles that had afflicted him for twenty years. It is also a speedy cure for skin diseases. Aeware of dangerous counterfeits. J. L. Harr.

The activity of the free trade enemies of the shipping bill, who are spurred on to oppose it by the foreign shipping interests, increases as the chances of its early passage grows more and more favorable.

"I think DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the best pills in the world," says W. E. Lake, Happy Creek, Va. They remove all obstructions of the liver and bowels, act quickly and never gripe. J. L. Harr.

Oregon Republicans are for expansion, the Nicaraugua canal, the open door in China, and, very naturally, for the gold standard as the basis on which oriental countries should pay for their goods.

Otto Korb, Grand Chancellor, K. P. Booneville, Ind., says, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve soothes the most delicate skin and heals the most stubborn ulcer with certain and good results." Cures piles and skin diseases. Don't buy an imitation. J. L. Harr.

One of the most notable things in all the Republican State platforms this year is the hearty demand for the passage of the shipping bill, which has been favorably reported to each branch of congress.

J. I Carson, Prothonotary, Washington, Pa., says: "I have found Kodol Dyspep ia Cure an excellent remedy in case of stomach trouble, and have derived great benefit from its use." It digests what you eat and cannot fail to cure. J. L. Harr.

W. H. Shipman, Beardsley, Minn., under oath, says he suffered from dyspepsia for twenty five years. Doctors and dieting gave but little relief. Finally he used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and now eats what he likes and as much as he wants, and he feels like a new man. It digests what you eat. J. L. Harr.

The fact that as much has been paid to foreign ship owners during the past thirty-five years as has been collected at American custom houses is one that loudly calls for the passage of the shipping bill, which is designed to turn our foreign carrying over to American-built ships.

W. W. Mayhew, Merton, Wis., says: "I consider One Minute Cough Cure a myst wonderful medicine, quick and safe." It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, grippe whooping cough, pneumonia and all throat and lung diseases. Its early use prevents consumption. Children always like it and mothers endorse it J. L. Harr.

"No family can afford to be without One Minute Cough Cure. It will stop a cough and cure a cold quicker than any other medicine", writes C. W. Williams Sterling Run, Pa. It cures croup, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles and prevents consumption. Pleasant and harmless. J. L. Harr.

A Testimonial from Old England.

'I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best in the world for bronchitis says Mr. Wm. Savory, of Warrington, England. 'It has saved my wife's life she having been a martyr to bronchitis for over 6 years, being most of the time confined to her bed. She is now quite well." Sold by J. L. Harr.

Republican gains have been notable both in Kansas and Nebraska. This encouraging.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

QUICK RELIEF FROM PAIN.

All who use Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism are delighted with the quick relief from pain which it affords. When speaking of this Mr. D. N. Sinks of Troy, Ohio, says: "Some time ago I had a severe attack of rheumatism in my arm and shoulder. I tried numerous remedies but got no relief until I was recommended by Messrs. Geo. F. Parsons & Co., druggists of this place, to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. They recommended it so highly that I bought a bottle. I was soon relieved of all pain I have since recommended this liniment to many of my friends, who agree with me that it is the best remedy for muscular rheumatism in the market." For sale by J. L. Harr.

WAR TO THE DEATH.

PESTS OF THE POULTRY YARD MUST GO

American Lice Destroyer Kills More Mites, Lice and Other Vermin in a Day Than All Other Remedies Combined.

The war is on! The days of lice and vermin that have done so much to make the life of the poultryman miserable, and his business unprofitable are over. American Lice Destroyer is the proper amunition to use! This preparation is wonderful in its power, and vermin cannot exist twenty four hours after it is applied to the coop or fowls. Every poultryman needs it. It is cheap reliable and effective, one package being sufficient to protect 250 fowls from mites and lice for one year. When this Destroyer is used, profits at once increase. Lice and vermin do more to kill profits than all other causes combined. You know it. Don't go on losing money every week, but try American Lice Destroyer. You may have tried other things without success, but if this fails you can have your money back. We are in this fight to stay, and will back Destroyer against any number of mites or lice you may have. Don't fool away money with 'recipes' or home made makeshifts. Use scientific means. The American Lice Destroyer has been used by thousands of poultrymen; it has been on the market several years and has been tested thousands of times. We know it is all right, and if it doesn't do the work remember you get your money back. What more can you ask? If your druggist don't sell American Lice Destroyer, he's behind the age. In that case send for $1. box at once. Made only by American Mfg. Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and build up your health. Only 25c. Money back if not cured. Sold by Harr the druggist.

A Horrible Outbreak

"Of large sores on my little daughter's head developed into a case of scald head" writes C. D. Isbit of Morganton, Tenn., but Bucklen's Arnica Salve completely cured her. It's a guaranteed cure for Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers and Piles. Only 25c at Harr's the druggist.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma bronchitis, la grippe and all throat, chest and lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on J. L. Harr, the druggist, and get a free trial bottle. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed.

Spreads Like Wildfire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling', Abraham Hare a leading druggist, of Belleville, O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 yrs. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies. It builds up the entire system. Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, run down man or woman. Price 50c. Sold by J. L. Harr druggist.

AIELT RIEKENS,

PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER. GERMAN OR ENGLISH.

Will cry Sales and guarantee satisfaction
Fine Stock Sales a specialty.
Call on or address at

PAULSVILLE, IOWA

Kodol
Dyspepsia Cure
Digests what you eat.

It artificially digests the food and aids Nature in strengthening and reconstructing the exhausted digestive organs. It is the latest discovered digestant and tonic. No other preparation can approach it in efficiency. It instantly relieves and permanently cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Flatulence, Sour Stomach, Nausea, Sick Headache, Gastralgia, Cramps and all other results of imperfect digestion.

Price 50c. and $1. Large size contains 2½ times small size. Book all about dyspepsia mailed free

Prepared by E. C. DeWITT & CO., Chicago.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME V. KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, MAY 3, 1900 NUMBER 37

B. C. R. & N. TIME TABLE.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 708. B Pass.	7:55	p. m.
No. 796 A Stock	9:30	a. m.
No. 742. B Freight	3:45	p. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 701. B Pass.	1:32	p. m.
No. 741. B Way freight	9:30	a. m.

B—Daily except Sunday
A—Daily except Monday

☞"Freight trains shown above will carry passengers only when provided with tickets."

F. G. REESE, Local Agt.

WM. H. HUGHES
LAWYER.

Accounts and notes collected. Practice in all courts. Office in Schuler block.

GARNER, IOWA.

JAMES YOUNG
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER.

Will cry sales and guarantee satisfaction. 15 years experience. Dates and terms at office of Klemme TIMES.

Telephone or address
Garner, Iowa.

J. N. SPROLE,
REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND ABSTRACTS.
Titles examined and corrected
Taxes paid, etc.
GARNER - - - IOWA.

A. L. SPOONER.
Physician and Surgeon.
Office first door west of Shafer & Dow's Store. Residence just back of the German Reform Church. Office hours 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.
Klemme, Iowa.

A. SNYDER,
DRAYMAN.

Having purchased the Bartholomew dray line I solicit a share of your work. Prompt attention given to all work. Charges reasonable.

KLEMME, IOWA.

JOHN BAUMGARTNER.
PROPRIETOR OF
CITY BARBER SHOP.
AN EASY SHAVE. - -
A SATISFIED CUSTOMER
FIRST DOOR EAST OF LAU BROS.
KLEMME, IOWA.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN DAUBING
AND
PAINTING.
We understand our business and guarantee our work.
JOE MILLER,
PAINTER and DECORATOR.

Hello There!
Where are you going?
To Pietzke's Blacksmith Shop, for he's the man to go to for good work and at right prices. At the old stand.

Klemme, Iowa.

JOHN JOSTEN
PHOTOGRAPHER
Gallery Fitted For Finest Work
In Miniature and Cabinet Sizes. Enlarging, View and Copying.
PHOTO BUTTONS A SPECIALTY.
☞Give me a call
KLEMME - IOWA.

WHIPPING HIS WEIGHT.

The Champion Logger Overestimated His Fistic Ability.

In the logging camps of Michigan might makes right and the man who has whipped all comers in fair fights is king of his camp.

One of these, said a logger to a reporter, was very boastful of his exploits. He had been the victor in a dozen fights and no one cared to enter the lists with him, but every man in the camp hated the champion. Going into a saloon one day he announced: "I'm tired of these babies in camp. I ain't had a good fight in Michigan. I can whip my weight in dogs, wildcats or anything that breathes for $100."

A meek looking man took the bet and arrangements for the fight were made. It was to take place in a closed room one week from the time the bet was made.

The day came and the champion called, "Bring on your animile." The man who had bet against the king of the camp brought his antagonist in a large sack, which had been deposited behind the stove in the saloon where the match had been entered into, the weather just beginning to get cold. The gladiator entered the room, the sack was emptied and the people crowded at the window to see the contest. Out of the sack came three large hornet nests, the occupants of which had been revived by the heat.

They issued from the nests in swarms and lit all over the man. He fought them for a minute or two, then with a yell jumped through the window, carrying sash and glass with him, never stopping until he reached the river, into which he jumped.

"Said he could whip his weight in anything that breathed," remarked the meek little man as he pocketed the stakes, "but about five pounds of hornets knocked him out in the first round."—Washington Star.

A BEETLE THAT GNAWS SHELLS.

And It Does Other Things Calculated to Make Its Prey Tremble.

Of all the insects the beetles are the most interesting. There is one that carries a cannon, which a naval man would call a stern chaser, and is loaded with a fluid. When pursued, the beetle fires it, and the other insect, usually a carniverous beetle, is blinded by the discharge of fine acid spray. Hence its name of bombardier. The latest thing that has been learned about beetles is that Dytiscus marginalis cuts its way through the shells of snails and mollusks and eats the inhabitants.

W. B. Tegetmeier writes to the London Field and tells about the curiosity of naturalists at finding shells manifestly gnawed by some insect or other and the final discovery of Dytiscus marginalis at work on the shell. Then he tells some things about the Dytiscus family. Says he:

"I know of no more interesting animal in an aquarium than a Dytiscus, who soon acquires the habit of following the fingers for food and amuses himself at night, if the aquarium is open, by flying round and round the room, and occasionally misses the way, and, being unable to return, is found on the floor in the morning. There is one drawback to the habits of this creature. He is a bloodthirsty tyrant of the aquarium, requiring the whole place to himself, for if kept with tadpoles, frogs, fish or any other animals, he quickly destroys them, even if many score times his own size."

What hawks are to the other birds, cats are to other mammals, sharks are to other fish, the Dytiscus is to other insects.

BEAR SAWED THE LOGS.

Strange Tale of a Woodsman and the Effects of Mince Pie.

"I don't like to repeat a story about Sullivan county unless I know it is true," said Phil Kinney. Mr. Kinney never tells a story except with the most serious countenance, writes a correspondent of the New York Press.

"A farmer," he said, "from Forestburg was here recently, and he told me of an experience he had out in the woods, and I'll give up my dinner if I don't think he told the truth. You see, he is one of those honest old fellows who drink hard cider around home. He says plain cider doesn's hurt him, but when he comes here he winks at me and says, 'Put a little in my cider.'

"Well, sir, he was getting out railroad ties down where he lives. He uses in doing it one of those big, double handled cross cut saws.

"Says he: 'I was a-sawin away out thar in the snow, with my little fox terrier nosin round in the bushes after jacks, when he sudden like puts his tail twixt them slender legs o' his'n and digs out fer hum. I kinder looked round, but blessed ef I could set them eyes o' mine on enything out the ordinary. I kept on a-sawin till it gits time to eat my old woman's bits.

" 'I set down on a log an et away, an I sets the pail down when I was through, an I saved my mince pie fur a little later. I fell into a doze, an when I come to I waz half skairt outen my boots by a blasted big black bear sittin longside an eatin my mince pie. I knew better'n to try to get up 'fore he could swat me with his paw. So I sets still, a-shakin and a-shiverin. Purty soon I heard them whistles a-blowing for 1 o'clock down in Port Jervis. Then the funniest part o' the hull business commenced. That they're bear jes' wipes his nose in the snow an goes over an ketches hold that saw and went to work.

" 'By gosh! I wuz expectin that he would do some sort o' trouble to it, an it wuz the only saw I hed. But he didn't. He sawed off four or five logs jes' the right length, an then he saw the rest o' that tree wuz too small fer use as ties, an he looked round fer another tree. But there wuzn't none down, so he sets the saw up agin a tree an goes off.'

"I said to him then," continued Phil, " 'You better have a little more cider.' He took a big drink and then another. Then he says: 'Phil, I don't want you to laugh at me, but I went down there nex' day, an I cut down six trees, an I put two mince pies an the saw longside the first one an went an hid behind a tree. I waited till 2 o'clock, but that blasted bear never showed up.' "

Recommended.

A Boston lady who had been recommended to go west on account of the ill health of herself and family wrote to the postmaster of a small town asking for information of various kinds regarding the healthfulness, cost of living, state of morality and church privileges in his town. His reply caused her to remark that she "preferred death in Boston," for he wrote:

"Dere maddam, come on. This town is all rite. The general health can't be beat. If it wasn't for the little scraps of a Saturday night and when the cowboys come in to make us a little visit we'd have no need of a graveyard. Natural deths are unknown, and we ain't had but 14 funerals here in three months. Sowciety is away up. Free dances come off every night and on Sunday nights we have a grand free dance and sacred concert in the operry house. Don't go home till morning and joy rules the roost. All bad characters are lynched as soon as caught. One has just been caught, and I must shut up the postoffice and go up to what we call Lynchin hill and see the fun, so I can't rite no more at present. But you come on. Let me know when you'll git here, and I'll meet you at the depot with a brass band. Come rite on!"—Detroit Free Press.

Contented.

Hungry Higgins—Between you and me, I think these here jokes about our profession is almost worked to death.

Weary Watkins—Well, so long as it ain't us that's bein worked to death, what kick we got?—Indianapolis Journal.

Millions Given Away.

It is certainly gratifying to the public to know of one concern which is not afraid to be generous. The proprietors of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds, have given away over ten million trial bottles and have the satisfaction of knowing it has cured thousands of hopeless cases. Asthma bronchitis, la grippe and all throat, chest and lung diseases are surely cured by it. Call on J. L. Harr, the druggist, and get a free trial bottle. Regular size 50c and $1. Every bottle guaranteed.

Buff Plymouth Rocks.
Cockerels all sold. I have two pens from the best stock in the country. First pen stores 93½, eggs $2.50 per 15. Second pen, as even in color, all fine birds, eggs $1.25 per 15. Book your orders now for future delivery.
HENRY STRAW, Jeweler.
tf. Garner, Iowa.

TO CURE A COLD WHILE YOU SLEEP.
Take "Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

Having received a car load of furniture and undertaking goods, I am in shape to supply you with anything in the line of furniture etc.
G. F. SCHULER, Garner, Ia.

A CAR LOAD OF FURNITURE
JUST RECEIVED.
Call and see our new stock of
FURNITURE.
E. P. SCHAEFER,
Klemme, Iowa

POSITIONS SECURED!
We aid those who want Government positions. 85,000 places under Civil Service Rules. 8000 yearly appointments. Prepares by mail for all Government examinations. Fees cash or instalments. A thorough and scientific course in all departments. Requires spare time only. Salaries twice as much as private firms for the same kind of work. The hours of labor are short, duties light, positions for life. Take our course of study and we guarantee that you will pass the Civil Service Examinations. Write, inclosing stamp, for our catalogue describing course to
BUREAU OF CIVIL SERVICE INSTRUCTION, WASHINGTON, D. C.

It Costs you Nothing
To examine our Complete Stock of Building Material and be convinced that you cannot do better elsewhere.
NORTHERN LUMBER CO.
L. G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST. ....SCHOOL SUPPLIES.
WALL PAPER,
Paints, Oils, Alabastine, Window Shades and Everything used to Decorate and Beautify the Home.
WATCHES, CLOCKS and JEWELRY.
DRUGGISTS' SUNDRIES. J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

DAN. GROSVENOR SAYS:

"Peruna Is an Excellent Spring Catarrh Remedy—I am as Well as Ever."

Hon. Dan. A. Grosvenor, of the Famous Ohio Family.

Hon. Dan. A. Grosvenor, Deputy Auditor for the War Department, in a letter written from Washington, D. C., says:

"Allow me to express my gratitude to you for the benefit derived from one bottle of Peruna. One week has brought wonderful changes and I am now as well as ever. Besides being one of the very best spring tonics it is an excellent catarrh remedy." Very respectfully, Dan A. Grosvenor.

Hal P. Denton, Chief National Export Exposition, Philadelphia, Pa., writes: "I was completely run down from overwork and the responsibility naturally connected with the exploitation of a great international exposition. My physician recommended an extended vacation. When life seemed almost a burden I began taking Peruna, and with the use of the fifth bottle I found myself in a normal condition. I have since enjoyed the best of health."

Almost everybody needs a tonic in the spring. Something to brace the nerves, invigorate the brain, and cleanse the blood. That Peruna will do this is beyond all question. Everyone who has tried it has had the same experience as Mrs. D. W. Timberlake, of Lynchburg, Va., who, in a recent letter, made use of the following words: "I always take a dose of Peruna after business hours, as it is a great thing for the nerves. There is no better spring tonic, and I have used about all of them."

For a free book on "Summer Catarrh," address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

At 16 a girl declares she will marry only for love, and at 26 she proceeds to fall in love with a rich man.

Consumption is a germ disease. The germs are everywhere, but they cannot get hold of you unless you get your lungs ready for them by neglecting a cold or failing to properly cure a cough. The important merit of Morley's Honey Pectoral is, that while it cures quickly it cures thoroughly. Sold by agent in every town.

Leather money was in circulation in Russia as recently as the time of Peter the Great.

All goods are alike to PUTNAM FADELESS DYES, as they color all fibers at one boiling.

Every man makes the world richer or poorer by what he gives to it of himself.

$4.00 A DAY AND EXPENSES easily made by agents selling our goods—everybody needs them. Write today. Muco-Solvent Co., Chicago, Ill.

Russia's army boasts of female medical officers.

Do Your Feet Ache and Burn?

Shake into your shoes Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It makes tight or New Shoes feel Easy. Cures Corns, Bunions, Swollen, Hot and Sweating Feet. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

The night key always has the hardest work to do in the morning.

100,000 AGENTS WANTED.

Men and women, boys and girls, all over the United States. Big money, easy work. Valuable prizes in addition. Write C. H. Marshall & Co., Dep't 10, Chicago.

The average stock speculator is apt to discover that there is too much room at the top.

$25.00 A WEEK AND EXPENSES made by good agents, men or women, selling our goods—write at once. Muco-Solvent Co., Chicago, Ill.

The gate of success to many is usually hinged on a well-posted fence.

As a dressing and color restorer, PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM never fails to satisfy.

HINDERCORNS, the best cure for corns. 15cts.

"Johnnie, how would you divide thirteen apples among fourteen boys?" "Make 'em into apple sauce, sir!"

At Bosco Reale, on the slopes of Vesuvius, near Pompeii, excavations have brought up the most remarkable paintings of the Roman period yet discovered. In the grounds of the Del Priso villa a great peristle and four large rooms have been unearthed, the walls of which are covered by twenty large frescoes of rich coloring and careful execution. The figures are life size.

The daughter of Mrs. Mary Ellen Lease is now making political stump speeches.

According to a French newspaper, American ladies are making pets of Japanese mice, which cost $100 apiece

The most profound joy has more of gravity than gayety in it.

TALMAGE'S SERMON.

PREACHES ON MAY CHANGES OF RESIDENCE.

Timely Discourse in Which the Need of Patience and Equipoise Is Set Forth—Moving Into the Father's House.

[Copyright, 1900, by Louis Klopsch.]

Text, Philippians iv., 12: "I know both how to be abased, and I know how to abound."

Happy Paul! Could you really accommodate yourself to all circumstances in life? Could you go up without pride, and could you come down without exasperation?

We are at a season of the year when vast populations in all our cities are changing residence. Having been born in a house, and having all our lives lived in a house, we do not have full appreciation of what a house is. It is the growth of thousands of years. The human race first lived in clefts of rocks, beasts of the field moving out of the caverns to let the human race move in. The shepherds and the robbers still live in caverns of the earth. The troglodytes are a race which to this day prefer the caverns to a house. They are warm, they are large, they are very comfortable, they are less subject to violent changes of heat and cold. We come on along down in the history of the race, and we come to the lodge, which was a home built out of twisted tree branches. We come further on down in the history of the race, and we come to the tent, which was a home built with a round pole in the center, and skins of animals reaching out in all directions, mats on the floor for the people to sit on.

Time passed on, and the world, after much invention, came to build a house, which was a space surrounded by broad stones, against which the earth was heaped from the outside. The roof was made of chalk and gypsum, and coals and stones and ashes pounded together. After awhile the porch was born, after awhile the gate. Then hundreds of years passed on, and in the fourteenth century the modern chimney was constructed. The old Hebrews had openings in their houses from which the smoke might escape if it preferred, but there was no inducement offered for it to leave until the modern chimney. Wooden keys opened the door, or the keyhole was large enough to allow the finger to be inserted for the lifting of the latch or the sliding of it. There being no windows, the people were dependent for light upon latticework, over which a thin veil was drawn down in time of winter to keep out the elements. Window glass was, so late as two or three hundred years ago, in England and Scotland, so great a luxury that only the very wealthiest could afford it. A hand mill and an oven and a few leathern bottles and some rude pitchers and plates made up the entire equipment of the culinary department. But the home planted in the old cave or at the foot of a tent pole has grown and enlarged and spread abroad until we have the modern house with its branches and roots and vast girth and height and depth of comfort and accommodation.

Good Houses to Live In.

Architecture in other days busied itself chiefly in planning and building triumphal arches and basilicas and hippodromes and mausoleums and columns, while they allowed the people for residences to burrow like muskrats in the earth. St. Sophia's of Constantinople, St. Mark's of Venice, St. Peter's of Rome are only the Raphaeled walls against which lean the squalor and the pauperism of many nations. I rejoice that, while our modern architects give us grand capitols in which to legislate and grand courthouses in which to administer justice and grand churches in which to worship God, they also give much of their time to the planning of comfortable abodes for our tired population. I have not so much interest in the arch of Trajan an Beneventum as I have in the wish that all the people may have a comfortable shelter, nor have I so much interest in the temple of Jupiter Olympus at Athens as I have in the hope that every man may have an altar for the worship of the true God in his own house. And I have not so much interest in the science of ceramics, which goes crazy over a twisted vase, or a queer handled jug in use 3,000 years ago, or a pitcher out of which the ancient pharaohs poured their drunken debauch, as I have that every man have on his table a plate with plenty of healthful food and an appetite to attack it.

Thank God for your home—not merely the house you live in now, but the house you were born in and the many houses you have resided in since you began your earthly residence. When you go home today, count over the number of these houses in which you have resided, and you will be surprised. Once in awhile you will find a man who lives in the house where he was born and where his father was born and his grandfather was born and his great-grandfather was born, but that is not one out of a thousand cases. I have not been more perambulatory than most people, but I was amazed when I came to count up the number of residences I have occupied. The fact is, there is in this world no such thing as permanent residence.

In a private vehicle and not in a rail car, from which you can see but little, I rode from New York to Yonkers and Tarrytown, on the banks of the Hudson—the finest ride on the planet for a man who wants to see palatial residences in fascinating scenery. It was in the early spring and before the gentlemen of New York had gone out to their country residences. I rode into the grounds to admire the gardens, and the overseer of the place told me—and they all told me that all the houses had been sold or that they wanted to sell them, and there was literally no exception, although I called at many places, just admiring the gardens and the grounds and the palatial residences. Some wanted to sell or had sold because their wives did not want to reside in the summer time in those places while their husbands tarried in town in the night, always having some business on hand keeping them away.

Change of Residence.

From some houses the people had been shaken out by chills and fever, from some houses they had gone because death or misfortune had occurred, and all those palaces and mansions had either changed occupants or wanted to change. Take up the directory of any city of England or America and see how few people live where they lived 15 years ago. There is no such thing as permanent residence. I saw Monticello, in Virginia, President Jefferson's residence, and I saw on the same day Montpelier, which was either Madison's or Monroe's residence, and I saw also the white house, which was President Taylor's residence, and President Lincoln's residence, and President Garfield's residence. Was it a permanent residence in any case? I tell you that the race is nomadic and no sooner gets in one place than it wants to change for another place or is compelled to change for another place, and so the race invented the railroad and the steamboat in order more rapidly to get into some other place than that in which it was then. Aye, instead of being nomadic, it is immoral, moving on and moving on. We whip up our horses and hasten on until the hub of the front wheel shivers on the tombstone and tips us headlong into the grave, the only permanent earthly residence. But, bless God, even that stay is limited, for we shall have a resurrection.

A day this spring the streets will be filled with the furniture carts and the drays and the trucks. It will be a hard day for horses, because they will be overloaded. It will be a hard day for laborers, for they will overlift before they get the family furniture from one house to another. It will be a hard day for housekeepers to see their furniture scratched, and the crockery broken, and their carpets misfit, and their furniture dashed of the sudden showers. It will be a hard day for landlords. It will be a hard day for tenants. Especial grace is needed for moving day. Many a man's religion has suffered a fearful strain between the hour on the morning of the first of May, when he took his immature breakfast, and the hour at night when he rolled into his extemporized couch. The furniture broken sometimes will result in the breaking of the Ten Commandments. There is no more fearful pass than the hall of a house where two families meet, one moving out and the other moving in. The salutation is apt to be more vehement than complimentary. The grace that will be sufficient for the first of January and the first of February and the first of March and the first of April will not be sufficient for the first of May. Say your prayers that morning if you find nothing better to kneel down by than a coal scuttle, and say your prayers at night though your knee comes down on a paper of carpet tacks. You will want supernatural help if any of you move. Help in the morning to start out aright on the day's work. Help at night to repent. There will be enough of annoyance to make a Xantippe out of a Frances Ridley Havergal. I have again and again been in crises of moving day, and I have stood appalled and amazed and helpless in the shipwreck, taking as well as I could those things that floated ashore from the breakers, and I know how to comfort and how to warn, and how to encourage the people, so I preach this practical May day sermon. All these troubles will soon be gone, and the bruises will heal, and the stiffened joints will become supple, and your ruffled temper will be smoothed of its wrinkles, and order will take the place of disorder, and you will sit down in your new home seriously to contemplate.

Reverses of Fortune.

But there are others who will move out of large residences into smaller through the reversal of fortune. The property must be sold or the bailiff will sell it, or the income is less and you cannot pay the house rent. First of all, such persons should understand that our happiness is not dependent on the size of the house we live in. I have known people enjoy a small heaven in two rooms and other suffer a pandemonium in twenty. There is as much happiness in a small house as in a large house. There is as much satisfaction under the light of a tallow candle as under the glare of a chandelier, all the burners at full blaze. Who was the happier, John Bunyan in Bedford jail or Belshazzar in the saturnalia? Contentment is something you can neither rent nor purchase. It is not extrinsic; it is intrinsic. Are there fewer rooms in the house to which you move? You will have less to take care of. Is it to be stove instead of furnace? All the doctors say the modern modes of warming buildings are unhealthy. Is it less pier mirrors? Less temptation to your vanity. Is it old-fashioned toilet instead of water pipes all through the house? Less to freeze and burst when you cannot get a plumber. Is it less carriage? More room for robust exercise. Is it less social position? Fewer people who want to drag you down by their jealousies. Is it less fortune to leave in your last will and testament? Less to spoil your children. Is it less money for marketing? Less temptation to ruin the health of your family with pineapples and indigestible salads. Is it a little deaf? Not hearing so many disagreeables.

I meet you this springtime at the door of your new home, and while I help you lift the clothesbasket over the banisters and the carman is getting red in the face in trying to transport that article of furniture to some new destination I congratulate you. You are going to have a better time this year, some of you, than you ever had. You take God and the Christian religion in your home, and you will be grandly happy. God in the parlor—that will sanctify your sociabilities. God in the nursery—that will protect your children. God in the dining hall—that will make the plainest meal an imperial banquet. God in the morning—that will launch the day brightly from the drydocks. God in the evening—that will sail the day sweetly into the harbor.

And get joy, one and all of you, whether you move or do not move. Get joy out of the thought that we are soon all going to have a grand moving day. Do you want a picture of the new house into which you will move? Here it is, wrought with the hand of a master, "We know that, if our earthly house of this tabernacle were dissolved, we have a building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens." How much rent will we have to pay for it? We are going to own it. How much must we pay for it? How much cash down, and how much left on mortgage? Our Father is going to give it as a free gift. When are we going to move into it? We are moving now. On moving day heads of families are very apt to stay in the old house until they have seen everything off. They send ahead the children, and they send ahead the treasures and the valuables. Then, after awhile, they will come themselves. I remember very well in the country that in boyhood moving day was a jubilation.

Going to the Father's House.

On almost the first load we, the children, were sent on ahead to the new house, and we arrived with shout and laughter, and in an hour we had ranged through every room in the house, the barn and the granary. Toward night, and perhaps in the last wagon, father and mother would come, looking very tired, and we would come down to the foot of the lane to meet them and tell them of all the wonders we discovered in the new place, and then, the last wagon unloaded, the candles lighted, our neighbors who had helped us to move—for in those times neighbors helped each other—sat down with us at a table on which there was every luxury they could think of. Well, my dear Lord knows that some of us have been moving a good while. We have sent our children ahead, we have sent many of our valuables ahead, sent many treasures ahead. We cannot go yet. There is work for us to do, but after awhile it will be toward night, and we will be very tired, and then we will start for our new home, and those who have gone ahead of us they will see our approach, and they will come down the lane to meet us, and they will have much to tell us of what they have discovered in the "house of many mansions," and of how large the rooms are and of how bright the fountains. And then, the last load unloaded, the table will be spread and our celestial neighbors will come in to sit down with our reunited families, and the chalices will be full, not with the wine that sweats in the vat of earthly intoxication, but with "the new wine of the kingdom." And there for the first time we will realize what fools we were on earth when we feared to die, since death has turned out only to be the moving from a smaller house into a larger one, and the exchange of a pauper's hut for a prince's castle, and the going up stairs from a miserable kitchen to a glorious parlor. O house of God not made with hands, eternal in the heavens!

FOR WOMAN'S HEALTH

Earnest Letters from Women Relieved of Pain by Mrs. Pinkham.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Before I commenced to take your medicine I was in a terrible state, wishing myself dead a good many times. Every part of my body seemed to pain in some way. At time of menstruation my suffering was something terrible. I thought there was no cure for me, but after taking several bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound all my bad feelings were gone. I am now well and enjoying good health. I shall always praise your medicine."—MRS. AMOS FESCHLER, Box 226, Romeo, Mich.

Female Troubles Overcome

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I had female trouble, painful menses, and kidney complaint, also stomach trouble. About a year ago I happened to pick up a paper that contained an advertisement of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and when I read how it had helped others, I thought it might help me, and decided to give it a trial. I did so, and as a result am now feeling perfectly well. I wish to thank you for the benefit your medicine has been to me."—MRS. CLARA STIEBER, Diller, Neb.

No More Pain

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Your Vegetable Compound has been of much benefit to me. When my menses first appeared they were very irregular. They occurred too often and did not leave for a week or more. I always suffered at these times with terrible pains in my back and abdomen. Would be in bed for several days and would not be exactly rational at times. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and menses became regular and pains left me entirely."—MRS. E. F. CUSTER, Brule, Wis.

"Mrs. Strongarm is a strong advocate of women's rights, is she not?" "Oh, yes, if she had her way, man would not be eligible for anything more important than the vice-presidency."

Miss Bessie Shirley, of Salt Lake City, is no doubt the only woman who edits and owns a mining paper. She is but 19 years old, yet she established the paper herself, and has made a success of it.

Try Grain-O! Try Grain-O!

Ask you Grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it, like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. ¼ the price of coffee. 15 cents and 25 cents per package. Sold by all grocers.

Tastes like Coffee
Looks like Coffee

Insist that your grocer gives you GRAIN-O Accept no imitation.

TOWER'S TRADE MARK FISH BRAND

POMMEL SLICKER

The Best Saddle Coat.

Keeps both rider and saddle perfectly dry in the hardest storms. Substitutes will disappoint. Ask for 1897 Fish Brand Pommel Slicker—It is entirely new. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

ALABASTINE Is a durable and natural cement-base wall coating, in 5 lb. paper packages, made ready for use in white and fourteen beautiful tints by mixing with cold water. It is a cement that goes through a process of setting, hardens with age, and can be coated and recoated without washing off its old coats before renewing.

ALABASTINE Is entirely different from all the various kalsomines on the market, being durable and not stuck on the wall with glue. Alabastine customers should insist on having the goods in packages properly labeled. They should reject all imitations. There is nothing "just as good."

ALABASTINE

Prevents much sickness, particularly throat and lung difficulties, attributable to unsanitary coatings on walls. It has been recommended in a paper published by the Michigan State Board of Health on account of its sanitary features; which paper strongly condemned kalsomines. Alabastine can be used on either plastered walls, wood ceilings, brick or canvas, and any one can brush it on. It admits of radical changes from wall paper decorations, thus securing at reasonable expense the latest and best effects. Alabastine is manufactured by the Alabastine Company of Grand Rapids, Michigan.

Instructive and interesting booklet mailed free to all applicants.

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.
Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

Port Tampa is built on piles driven deep into the bottom of the bay.

Piso's Cure is the best medicine we ever used for all affections of the throat and lungs.—WM. O. ENDSLEY, Vanburen, Ind., Feb. 10, 1900.

Forty is the age of youth—50 is the youth of old age.—Victor Hugo.

Double Trouble

The complication of

SPRAINS
and BRUISES

is a very sore trouble, but doubly, or separately, as sprain or bruise, there is no remedy known the equal of

St. Jacobs Oil

for a

PROMPT, SURE CURE

Nervous Prostration,
I had nervous trouble for years, which at times completely prostrated me and made life not worth living. I tried many physicians and no end of nerve and other remedies without relief. Mr. M. J. Crews, merchant, Maloy, Iowa, persuaded me to try Morley's Sarsaparilla and Iron. The very first bottle went to the right spot, for I felt a complete change and now, after using six bottles in all I am perfectly well. MRS. LETTIE FISHER.
Sold by agent in every town.

China's minister at Washington uses an automobile.

AGENTS MAKE BIG MONEY handling our household articles. They sell on sight. Big prizes given. Write at once. C. H. Marshall & Co., Dep't 10, Chicago. Reference: Any Bank in Chicago.

The man of moderate means is more desirable as an acquaintance than the man of immoderate meanness.

FITS Permanently Cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Send for FREE $2.00 trial bottle and treatise. DR. R. H. KLINE, Ltd., 931 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

There are 90,000 trees in the city of Paris.

Send for Choice Recipes
by Walter Baker & Co., Ltd., Dorchester, Mass., mailed free. Mention this paper.

Artificial flowers, mixed with real ones, are used for table decorations.

BIG MONEY FOR AGENTS selling our household goods—everybody needs them—send for particulars. Muco-Solvent Co., Chicago, Ill.

A woman is well dressed with feathers on; a hen, with hers off.

The Maker's of Carter's Ink Say:
"We can't make any better ink than we do; we don't know how to. We can make poorer ink, but we won't." Carter's Ink is the best.

The South African war has resulted in an increased demand for glycerine.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Don't be too keenly critical. The worm has a habit of turning when you least expect it.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine
Carter's
Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE.

Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

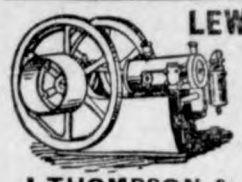
Hall's Catarrh Cure
Is taken internally. Price, 75c.

The American corn kitchen of Paris will be in charge of a colored woman, trained as a cook in Maryland.

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Book of testimonials and 10 DAYS' treatment FREE. DR. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Box E, Atlanta, Ga.

PENSIONS Get your Pension DOUBLE QUICK
Write CAPT. O'FARRELL, Pension Agent, 1425 New York Avenue. WASHINGTON, D.C.

WANTED SOLDIERS' HOMESTEADS
The addresses of all Federal Soldiers, their widows or heirs, who made a HOMESTEAD FILING on less than 160 acres on or before June 22, 1874, no matter whether FINAL PROOF was made or not I will buy Land Warrants. Address—
Comrade W. E. MOSES, Box 1335, Denver, Colorado.



LEWIS GAS ENGINES
Adapted for All Purposes
SIMPLE . . .
ECONOMICAL
DURABLE . .
Send for Catalogue and state your power needs.
J. THOMPSON & SONS MFG. CO.
Box 501. BELOIT, WIS.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 & 3.50 SHOES UNION MADE.

Worth $4 to $6 compared with other makes.
Indorsed by over 1,000,000 wearers.
The genuine have W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on bottom. Take no substitute claimed to be as good. Your dealer should keep them—if not, we will send a pair on receipt of price and 25c. extra for carriage. State kind of leather, size, and width, plain or cap toe. Cat. free.
W. L. DOUGLAS SHOE CO., Brockton, Mass.
WE USE FAST COLOR EYELETS

WALL PAPER
At Wholesale...

To Paper Hangers, Painters and Real Estate Men. Write to—
JENNINGS WALL PAPER CO.
(Exclusive Agents.)
821 Walnut St. - - Des Moines, Ia.

20 PER CENT SAVED ...ON...
BUGGIES.

Next 30 Days.

New, up-to-date styles Top Buggies, Surreys, Road Wagons, Spring Wagons, etc.
..Call or Write..
J. D. Keyes & Co. Des Moines Iowa.
Fifth, Vine and Wagner Streets.

IN 3 OR 4 YEARS
AN INDEPENDENCE ASSURED

If you take up your homes in Western Canada, the land of plenty. Illustrated pamphlets, giving experiences of farmers who have become wealthy in growing wheat, reports of delegates, etc., and full information as to reduced railway rates can be had on application to the Superintendent of Immigration, Department of Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to N. Bartholomew, 306 Fifth St., Des Moines, Iowa.

W. N. U., Des Moines, No. 18.—1900

XXXX COFFEE

is absolutely a Better Coffee than other Coffees sold for 5c. per lb. more.

Over 100 Premiums Free!!
WITH
McLAUGHLIN'S XXXX COFFEE

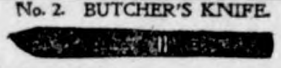
Complete premium list and instructions in every package. McLaughlin's XXXX Coffee is worth 5 cents per pound more than any other packaged coffee and costs no more. It is always uniform. Try this Coffee and you will never use any other. McLaughlin's XXXX Coffee sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages.

W. F. McLAUGHLIN & CO., Chicago, Ill.

No. 1. RAZOR.

This razor we know from the most practical experience to be the best. Read the following: "This is to certify that I have used the two razors offered by McLaughlin & Co. as premiums, and shave my best customers with them, and I guarantee them to be first-class razors and far superior to the razors given as premiums by other package coffee houses. AARON ETTELSON, Barber, Sherman House, Chicago. Attested to by L. NEWMAN VAN PELT, Notary Public for Cook County, State of Illinois. Dec. 12, 1899.
A razor sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 50 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 2. BUTCHER'S KNIFE.

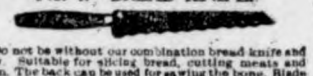


Very useful for kitchen use. Blade of the best quality steel, rosewood handle. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. stamp and 30 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 3. CARVING SET.

Knife and fork, genuine stag handles; length of blade eight inches, made of crucible steel. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 90 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 4. BREAD KNIFE.



Do not be without our combination bread knife and saw. Suitable for slicing bread, cutting meats and ham. The back can be used for sawing the bone. Blade is 9 inches long, made of crucible steel. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 14 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 5. Child's Knife and Fork Set.

Three handsome pieces of artistic workmanship. Handles rosewood, perfect in every respect, and packed in fancy lined box. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 6. SPOONS.

These are handsome teaspoons ornamented with a double design; embossed handles and made of first-class material. Come six in a package. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 7. HOUSE SCALE.

With scoop. A most practical scale for all purposes; handsomely enameled and striped. Weighs 24 lbs. by one. Occupies but little space and can be regulated by turning the brass screw on top. Sent by express, charges prepaid, on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 900 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers. When ordering be sure to give your nearest express office as well as your post-office.

No. 8. HAIR CLIPPER

Full nickle plated, cuts ¼ of an inch; concealed spring; two extra springs with each clipper. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 100 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 9. LADY'S PEN KNIFE.

Two blades made of fine steel; fancy pearl handle; highly polished. Sent postpaid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers

No. 10. Gentleman's Knife.

Made of fine quality steel; stag or ebony handle; steel lined; highly polished; small pen and large spear blade. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 35 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 11. JACK KNIFE.

Ebony or rose-wood handle; steel lined; highly polished; pen and spear blade. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 12. PARING KNIVES.

One complete set consisting of three different paring knives; best quality steel blade; enameled handle; no better paring knife made. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers

No. 13. EMERY KNIFE SHARPENER.

Has steel guard and wooden handle; emery fastened with steel running full length of sharpener. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 20 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers

No. 14. SHEARS.

Eight inches long; made of fine quality steel, evenly tempered and will give the best of satisfaction as a cutter. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 15. SCISSORS.

Six inches long, made of fine quality steel; evenly tempered and will give the best of satisfaction. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 16. HARMONICA.

Here is something that will please the young as well as the old folks. A beautiful, silver reed harp containing thirty-two holes; nickle covers; if properly played will sound like a church organ. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 17. FEATHER BOA.

These elegant boas are just what every lady needs. They are now the rage in Paris and New York. Made of the finest feathers. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 40 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers

No. 18. Lady's Belt Buckle.

Suitable for sash or belt, of filigree work, cluster center richly enameled in colors on gold. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 20 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 19. BAND RING.

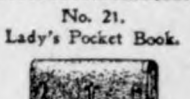
This is a handsome hand chased and raised gold wedding ring of very pretty and unique pattern; cannot be told from solid gold, will stand thorough acid test, it made on the same principle as the Boss filled watch case and is warranted for five years. Measure your size on the ring scale. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

NOT IN A TRUST

No. 20. Parisian Diamond Ring.

This swell glove ring is now all the rage. Set with a genuine Parisian diamond. This stone is an excellent imitation of the genuine diamond, and its brilliancy cannot be equalled by anything but the genuine diamond; settings are 14K gold and warranted for 2 years' wear. Measure your size on ring scale. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 21. Lady's Pocket Book.



Made of the very best real grain one piece leather with ornamental embossing. Has two regular and one card case compartments. Currency compartment leather lined. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers

No. 22. COIN PURSE.

Made of fine kid leather with solid nickle riveted frame and is full leather lined. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

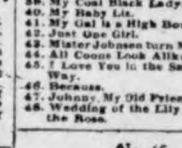
No. 23. HAT PINS.

These are very stylish pins, set with jewels very brilliant and showy; will not bend or break; two pins in set and a very useful addition to any lady's jewel case. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 10 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 24. Neck-Tie Pins.

Ladies or gentlemen cannot get too many pretty tie or stick pins. These illustrated here are the very latest; set with Parisian cut stones very brilliant and handsome; designs horse-shoe or cluster; made of the very best rolled plate settings and warranted. Either of these sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 26. Algerian Table Mat.



These can also be used for pillow covers. They are inlaid with gold tinsel; are made in very pretty designs and will be an ornament to any lady's parlor. Size 18x18 inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 35 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 27. ALGERIAN TABLE SPREAD.

This spread is simple and artistic and is made by the skilled workmen of Algeria. They come in very pretty designs and are inlaid with gold tinsels. These goods were first introduced at the World's Fair and have been the rage ever since, commanding fabulous prices. Size 6x6 inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 180 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers

No. 28. TRIPLICATE MIRROR.

Size of each mirror 8x8 inches. Handsomely encased and bound with nickle covers; length when opened is 11 inches; useful and ornamental at the same time. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 35 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 29. Dewey Combination Set.

For both ladies and gentlemen; consisting of a pair of handsomely chased and engraved, new style, link cuff buttons; three engraved beauty pins for shirt waists; one set of four collar buttons, consisting of one ball top button for the front, neck-tie holder for the back and two lever buttons for the sleeves; also a pair of plain cuff buttons for round cuffs. Warranted for one year. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 98 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 30. Tourists' Folding Curling Irons.

The most perfect folding curler made, the joints are fitted with springs which securely hold the handles in various positions; simple, durable and perfect in operation. Nickle plated, antique oak handles, especially adapted for heating over lamps, gas, etc. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 16 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 31. LADY'S APRON.

Made of fine quality of white lawn with wide strings and fancy lawn insertion; size 36x36 inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

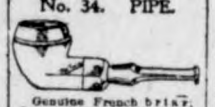
No. 32. CORSETS.

Extra fine, long jean corset, made of the very best material and modeled after the very latest patterns. Colors—white, grey and black. Sizes, 18 to 30 inches, waist measure. In ordering be sure to mention size and color. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 100 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 33. Gentlemen's Handkerchiefs.

Four hem-stitched with colored borders. Size 16x16 inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. stamp and 20 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 34. PIPE.



Genuine French briar; large size bull-dog shape, with vulcanite push stem. This stem has a double draft which divides the smoke and cools it; cannot possibly burn the tongue. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 30 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 35. Ladies' Handkerchiefs.

Six handkerchiefs with colored borders. Size 12x13 inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 30 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 36. Lady's Brooch.

The latest Parisian and Cluster Brooch, set with a very pretty colored center stone surrounded by Parisian diamonds, very handsome and brilliant. Made of the very best quality of rolled plate. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 18 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 37. DOLLS.

Fancy dressed dolls with movable arms and legs. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 40 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 38. PAPER DOLLS.

These dolls are by far the best ever gotten out and comprise eight dolls to the set. A set of these dolls could not be bought for less than 25c. They are in two parts, B. When ordering be sure to state which set you want. Sent on receipt of 2c. postage stamp and 10 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

Vocal Music.

This is absolutely and positively the latest, best and most popular collection of twenty-five pieces of music ever offered, and it is only by special arrangements and purchases of immense quantities, that we can give our friends the privilege of selecting from this strong and attractive list. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers

39. My Coal Black Lady.
40. My Baby Lit.
41. My Gal is a High Born Lady.
42. Just One Girl.
43. Mister Johnson turn Me Loose
44. All Coons Look Alike to Me.
45. I Love You in the Same Old Way.
46. Hermann.
47. Johnny, My Old Friend John.
48. Wedding of the Lily and the Rose.
49. The Picture That is Turned Toward the Wall.
50. Her Eyes Don't Shine Like Diamonds.
51. Honey You's My Lady Love.
52. Just as the Sun Went Down.
53. Think Once More Before We Part.
54. Simply Friends.
55. Nanie My Darling.
56 Back Among the Old Folks Once Again
57. Mammy, Mammy Come Tell Me that You Love Me.
58. Mammy's Little Pumpkin Colored Coons.
59. Darktown is out To-Night.
60. When You aint got no Money You Needn't Come Around.
61. Who's Dat Say Chicken in dis Crowd?
62. Honey that I Love So Well.
63. Zizzy Zi Zum Zum.
64. You Got To Play Ragtime.

No. 65. GOLD FACED CLOCK.

Height 8 inches; finely finished in French satin gold plating; has a fine American movement, constructed like a watch and guaranteed to be a good time-keeper. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 175 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers

No. 66. GENTLEMAN'S WATCH.

Has extra fine works, in solid nickle-silver case; genuine American movement. Balanced jeweled, handsome porcelain dial, stem wind and stem set; will last a lifetime and guaranteed to keep correct time. This watch is manufactured and guaranteed by one of the largest watch factories in the United States. This watch is far superior to every respect to watches offered as premiums by other package coffee houses. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 200 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers

No. 67. PATRIOTIC ALARM CLOCK.

Nickle-plated, runs thirty hours with one winding; beautiful, lithographed dial illustrating McKinley, Dewey and all the heroes of the late war. Made by one of the largest factories in the United States and guaranteed to keep good time. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 100 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 25. VEGETABLE SLICER.

For slicing apples, pears, bananas, potatoes, beets, cucumbers, turnips, radishes, cabbages, etc. Various novel and attractive designs are produced—perforated flutings, plain flutings, Saratoga chips, shoe strings, etc. Positively no waste, anybody can use it. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. stamp and 50 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

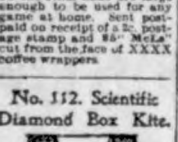
No. 110. NECKTIES.

Here is something every man likes. In the latest stylish patterns and made of the best silk, serge lined, assorted colors; come in the following designs: teck four-in-hand, string tie and bow tie. Be sure to mention which design you want. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 30 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 111. Elf Playing Cards.

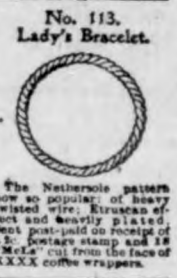
Made of fine linen stock, highly enameled and finished, size 2 13-16x1 15-16 inches. They are peculiarly adapted to Pallette or any game where the space within which to play is limited, and on the other hand are large enough to be used for any game at home. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 35 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 112. Scientific Diamond Box Kite.



Modeled after the Hargrave type. The most successful style of kite. Used by the United States Government in measuring phenomena at high elevations. Flies higher than any other kite. Directions enclosed with each kite. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 40 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 113. Lady's Bracelet.



The Nethersole pattern now so popular; of heavy twisted wire; Etruscan effect and heavily plated. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 18 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 114. Lady's or Gentleman's Umbrella.

This is a silver trimmed, seven rib, steel rod, Paragon frame, Congo handle umbrella; made of silk and linen twilled, with cane and tassel. When ordering be sure to mention whether a lady's or gentleman's is desired. Sent either by post or express prepaid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 170 "McLs" cut from face of XXXX coffee wrappers

No. 115. LADIES' GARTERS.

One pair in a box. Supporters made of silk face web, with nickel safety clasp, and nickle button and loop fasteners, all colors.

Band Garters made of silk face web, with fancy brocaded silk ribbon bows. When ordering state which of the two you want. Either sent post-paid on receipt of a two cent stamp and 25 cents cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

KOERNER BROS.....

CARRY A FULL LINE OF

Builders Hardware,

Tools, Hay Carriers and Tracks,
A fine line of Paints and Oils,
"Record" Bicycles.

GROCERIES, CHINAWARE, GLASSWARE

Every purchase you make of us invites you to another because of Fairness of Dealing, the quality of the Article, and the Lowness of prices.

H. W. SCHOPER,

FARM MACHINERY,

Buggies and Wagons, Corn Planters, Corn Plows, Champion Binders and Mowers.

TWINE.

BAISSEAU.

An Imported Percheron Stallion.

Weight abou 2000 pounds. A magnifficent horse in every way. You will make no mistake n you see him before promising elsewhere. He will be found at Terhufen's barn, Klemme, Wednesday's of each week.

$12 for colt to stand and suck.

BLACK DIAMOND.

Black Diamond is a standard bred COACH. Fine style and action. Light enough for carriage, heavy enough for hard work. Te see him is to appreciate the horse. Weight 1120. At Terhufen's barn, Klemme, Wednesday of each week. At Blackwell's barn, Garner, Saturday's. $10 for colt to stand and suck.

O. H. CUMMINGS, Klemme, Iowa.

CARY SAFE CO.

BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.

..Manufacturers..

FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES

VAULTS, LOCKS, ETC.

CONTRACTORS to UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

M. W. LYNCH, :: M. S. GILMAN

LYNCH & GILMAN,

STROUD, OKLAHOMA,

REAL ESTATE AND LOAN BROKERS.

WHY PAY RENT?
OWN YOUR OWN FARM!

It is the highth of folly for a man to pay exhorbitant rents when he can go to Oklahoma and buy a fine farm at from $5 per acre up. Well watered; near good markets; mild and healthful climate and crop failure unknown. Plenty of natural timber and coal. We have for sale a well selected list of choice improved and unimproved farms and would like to talk with you. Excursions 1st and 3rd Tuesday of each month. NOW is the time before the "SNAPS" are all taken. For rates, terms, excursions etc., call on or address, M. S. GILMAN, Klemme, Iowa, or M. W. LYNCH, ST. LOUIS HOTEL. STROUD, OKLAHOMA.

RAT-SHOP PRINTING

does not give better satisfaction than does our own.

Who spends most money with U?

THE KLEMME TIMES

By G. L. WELLEMEYER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme, Iowa, as second class matter

ELL CENTER.

Time to hang May baskets.

John Braund is working for O. H. Cummins.

Marshall Bros. tile factory is again in operation.

Mr. Glanville transacted important business here last Saturday.

James Fialla and wife visited their daughter Mrs. Ptacek, at Dunken, Saturday.

John Carothers and his best girl were visiting Ell Center friends last Sunday.

A. Kelley and son Ab., visited at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Lawhorn last Sunday.

Misses Larson and Marshall attended the teachers meeting at Garner last Saturday.

John Stork shipped a fine car load of cattle from Garner to the Chicago markets Sunday morning.

Ernest Braund and Tom Henderson report roads west of the Center school in fine shape for wheeling,

Quite a number of young people from this place tripped the light fantastic toe at Hanson's Saturday evening.

The Methodists have decided to hold their meetings in future in the Groesbeck school house instead of at Beulah.

Bert Grosebeck was hauling hogs to Klemme last week which netted him a handsome sum. The hog is king now days.

Misses Belt and Braund and Mrs. Allen were at Garner Saturday. The two former to attend the teachers meeting and the latter to attend the meeting of the W. R. C.

T. Gauley received a fine lot of fruit and ornamental trees from the Belmond nursery and another lot from Osage, which he has planted, and now his yard is a thing of beauty and a joy forever.

Arbor Day was very appropriately observed at the Center School Friday. About a dozen trees were set out and a fine program was rendered. The pupils went home feeling that it was a day profitably spent.

GARNER.

Mrs. Rev Hanscom is on the sicklist.

William Schneider has painted his store front red,

Ed. Bailey of the Britt Tribune was in town last Friday.

A number of our business buildings are being painted.

Court adjourned last Thursday until Wednesday of this week.

Miss Madie Barnes has returned from her Indiana visit.

Henry DeValley leaves in a few days for his new home in Kansas.

Dr. R. G. Hamilton of Ocheyedan, a former resident of Garner, is visiting old time friends here.

W. H. Hughes and W. S. Blackwell are at Des Moines in attendance at the democratic state convention.

Edward L. Smalley of Waverly, was in town the first of the week, in the interest of his candidacy for the dirtrict judgship.

Glen Twiford and Miss Grace Groves were married last Saturday, and left for Marshalltown where the bride's father is being treated in the hospital.

A change of time has taken place on the morning and evening passenger trains on the Milwaukee road. The morning train goes an hour earlier and the evening train an hour later.

John Ulrich has bought five acres just outside of the corporation west of town and is building a new house and out buildings on the property. This will furnish him with a nice home and enough to do to keep him out of mischief.

The piano-forte recital given at the Congregational church last Friday evening was well attended, standing room being at a premium. The music, both vocal and instrumental was well rendered and of a high character, being enjoyed and appreciated by the audience.

GERMANTOWN.

Will Terhufen will try farming again.

Mrs. F. C. Griewe was a Britt visitor Saturday.

Henry Stromer is having a new well put down.

Geo. Kluckhohn was in our midst on business last week.

Jake Nunweiler of Hayfield, was in our midst last Thursday.

Smith Bros. of Dows, were visiting at the Heginer home last week.

W. C. A. Gast will build an addition to his house in the near future.

Ed. Schuldt and wife spent Sunday at Hayfield with his mother.

John Tanner of Twin Lake, was calling on friends in German last Sunday.

Chas. Suckow the jeweler, of Klemme, was hustling up business in this vicinity last week.

Albert Riemers is up in the air, so-to-speak, all on account of the new baby girl at their home.

Ernest Upmeyer, one of the pioneer residents of German township, has quit farming and moved to Garner.

Father Ell has so far recovered as to be about again. He is visiting with his daughter, Mrs. G. W. Kluckhohn in Klemme, this week.

Mrs. F. H. Wellemeyer and daughters, Estella and Ruth were at Hayfield Sunday, to attend a meeting of the Womens' Foreign Missionary Society.

Ladies

We have just received an entirely new line of Shirt Waists and Wrappers---Sure to Please.

NEW PRINTS
CAMBRICS
PERCALES
FANCY WHITE
DRESS GOODS

Gentlemen,

Those neat, Nobby Hats you see were purchased of Shafer & Dow, who keep the biggest Stock and Newest Styles.

Yours to please.

Shafer & Dow

KLEMME.

SPRING SALE OF

CLOCKS

NOW GOING ON.

CLOCKS FROM $3.50 UP.

Notice!

Monday and Tuesday we are out of town canvassing for the Rogers Bros. Silverware. Balance of the week at the shop.

CHAS. F. H. SUCKOW.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

We have the SCREENS,
You have the Flies;
You get our SCREENS,
And live pleasant lives,

We have the LARGEST stock of LUMBER in the county----also sell Lime, Plaster, Brick, & Cement

J. H. Queal & Co.

C. G. BRACHER, Agent.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hogs wanted six days in the week. W. R. Bloom.

Go to Lau Bros for your Hardware.

Remember the band entertainment.

Go to Lau Bros. for your Groceries.

Choice seed potatoes at G. W. Kluckhohn's.

Ed Ell was at Mersrvey one day last week.

Louis Weline was over from Kanawha Friday.

J. W. Ramsay was down from Garner Monday.

Chas. F. H. Suckow was doing Garner Saturday.

A few of our foremost farmers are planting corn.

Highest prices for butter and eggs at Lau Bros.

Fresh garden seeds 8 packages for 25c at Harr's.

V. D. Merrill and Mr. Cook drove to Garner Monday.

Go to Lau Bros. for Machinery, wagons and buggies.

Geo. Nissen was calling on a friend at Garner Sunday.

Go to Lau Bros for pop, ginger ale and everything else.

Fred Arnold was transacting business at Garner Tuesday.

Buy your garden seeds of Lau Bros.—two packages for 5c.

Get your screen doors and windows of J. H. Queal & Co.

Get your made-to-order suits of Lau Bros–they guarantee a fit.

Chris Lau contemplates the building of an addition to his house.

Joe Miller is painting Gruetzmacher Bros. new house on Capital Hill.

Miss Maud Dunlap and Miss Emma Terhufen were at Garner Saturday.

S. W. Merten and Dr. Fotheringham were here on business last Friday.

A few settings of Buff Cochin eggs—pure bloods—75c per 15. H. E. Pietzke.

J. D. G. Houghten of Goodell, was doing the town in a business way Saturday.

John Lieuen of Belmond, was transacting business in town the first of the week.

Jake Nunweiler of Hayfield, was buying fat cattle in this vicinity yesterday.

Buy your wall paper and paint at Harr's. Better and cheaper than ever. Reliable.

Edward Haskell shipped a car load of fine cattle to Chicago Wednesday morning.

M. S. Gilman has gone to Chicago to renew his acquaintance with Admiral Dewey.

Mrs. Jesse Green returned last Saturday from a short visit with her parents at Eldora.

Mrs. Neff has had a neat, new porch built over the south front entrance to the house.

FOR SALE:—Residence property in Barz addition to Klemme. Inquire of H. S. Swarz.

E. B. Rathbun and son, from near Goodell were doing the town in a business way yesterday.

If you are thinking of investing in Oklahoma land, read the Lynch & Gilman advertisement.

John Cantwell, the Belmond nurseryman, was delivering his spring stock here Friday of last week.

Paul Shuhumskie of Garner, was looking after business matters in Klemme the fore part of the week.

Mrs. Chas. Williams, southeast of town, has been very ill, but under the care of Dr. Spooner is now improving.

Over 500 shade and ornamental trees have been planted on residence lots by our citizens during the past ten days.

Seed Grain!

I have a few hundred bushels of seed wheat, seed barley, seed flax and timothy seed. W. R. BLOOM. tf.

Mrs. E. P. Schaefer was at Belmond between trains Monday.

Wm. Koerner went to Chicago Wednesday to visit friends, and also to purchase new goods.

Note what Shafer & Dow have to say in their new advertisement about new spring goods.

H. J. Mayer, one of the hustling merchants of Goodell, was doing business in Klemme Tuesday.

M. R. Chambers drove down from Garner yesterday on business. He was accompanied by his little son.

Henry Pietzke has lately improved his property by putting down about eight rods of sidewalk on the south side.

Mrs. S. L. Sage came down Monday evening to help take care of the TIMES Junior, who has been quite sick.

Schlei Bros. shelled out nearly 3000 bushels of corn for Walt Bloom in two days. Not very good days for shelling either.

T. D. Rankins, of Belmond, was in this vicinity the first of the week looking for heavy draft horses for the eastern market.

W. H. Cook, the man who has made the Kimball organs and pianos famous, made several sales in this vicinity this week.

Isaac Sweigard was a passenger north Tuesday morning, on his way home to Garner, after a short visit with his son at Goodell.

Philip Ell is keeping step with the rest of the enterprising people of Klemme, and will this week have the main part of his house raised to two stories.

A. D. White and son Allie of Goodell, were on the northbound passenger Tuesday, enroute for Seattle, Wash., where they expect to put in a month seeing the sights.

L. Haefner of Kanawha, has a business propositiou in this issue concerning bicycles. If you are thinking of buying a wheel it might do you good to see him before you buy.

Seed Corn. A few bushels of choice seed corn of the early white and calico variety. See samples at Gruetzmacher Bros. Store F. H. WELLEMEYER'S.

W. R. Bloom drove over to Thornton Saturday. His elevator at that point has had a large share of the grain trade at that place, and Mr. Bloom is correspondingly happy.

The latest styles in trimmed hats at very low prices; children's straw, tams, mull and silk hats from 15c up; baby bonnets very cheap.

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

Owing to increased business the Creamery Co. were obliged to put on another team this week. The farmers are fast becoming aware of the fact that a creamery properly managed is a good thing for all parties concerned.

Just step in and examine that elegant new line of lap robes, and dusters; the new single and double light harness; summer working and driving gloves; fly nets of every description. Eggs taken same as cash.

F. GRUETZMACHER,

Bear in mind the band entertainment and be prepared to attend. Tell your friends about it. You should appreciate the effort the boys are making to improve and lend a helping hand. The dates will be announced in our next issue.

"Cresco" A corset that out-bests anyanything in Corsetdom. We have got it, and we want you to see it. The "Cresco cannot break at the waist line—Shafer & Dow sell them.

For Sale!—240 acre farm three miles east of Klemme, all under cultivation, buildings, etc. For prices and terms, call on or address, M. S. Gilman, Klemme, Iowa.

If you are desirous of buying wall paper from sample books call at Harr's. He has samples outside of the trust, and will sell cheaper than any other parties in Hancock County, as he buys for cash.

Agents on salary of $15.00 per week and expenses; the greatest agent seller ever produced; every stock and poultry raiser buys it on sight. Hustlers wanted. Refference. Address, with stamp, American Mfg. Co. Terre Haute, Ind.

Great opportunity offered to good, reliable men. Salary of $15 per week and expenses for man with rig to introduce our Poultry Mixture and Insect Destroyer in the country. Send stamp, American Mfg. Co., Terre Haute Ind.

L. E. Wanamaker of Garner, who visited with friends in this place several days last week, returned to Garner Friday. He started Tuesday of this week for the Sunny South for the summer in the hopes that the change of climate may improve his failing health.

The south bound freight broke a cross-bar and blew out a cylinder head, just after leaving Garner Tuesday morning. They pulled in a little late, and in a limping condition, but managed to go on and complete the run to Iowa Falls without further mishap. We did not learn what caused the accident.

A representative of the Burlington was here Monday getting information regarding crops, stock, real estate values, etc. to be used in a new advertising folder. If he could have stayed longer, he would have found enough material concerning the natural advantages of Klemme and vicinity to fill a book.

A short letter received from L. W. Fuller locates him at the hustling town of Stroud, Okl. He seems well pleased with the country, and has about completed the purchase of a farm. He has promised us a long letter for publication, giving a detailed description of his surroundings, which, we feel sure will be appreciated by our readers.

There are many reasons why a man might be discharged, but the poorest excuse we ever heard was that which caused one poor fellow to lose his job last week. He was told his style was not up to date and that he was too 'all fired' homely. Poor devil. We will stake our best hat that he lost his job because he would not put in 23 hours for a day, at $16 dollars a month and eat himself.

The little town of Goodell is having a real warm time. Mon a man opened wide an original package house and was kept very busy supplying the thirsty denizens of that hamlet. The temperance people are trying hard to close the thing up and will, if such a thing is possible. It is said that it is the same party that conducts a like institution at Belmond that operates the one at Goodell.

Tuesday morning of this week at 9 o'clock, in the Catholic church at Goodell, Father Eagen officiating occurred the marriage of Mr. Frank Costello to Miss Mamie Mamilton The groom is one of our prominent young farmers, industrious, honest and will, no doubt, make the journey through life happy for the bride he has won. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Hamilton, and a most excellent young lady. The happy couple left on the noon train for Estherville, where they will visit for a short time with relatives and friends, after which they will return and be at home to their friends, on their farm in Avery township. The TIMES joins with their many friends in wishing them the fullest measure of happiness and prosperity.

Grand Display

Of all that is late, up-to-date and new in the line

OF ARTISTIC MILLINERY,

ALL THE LATEST DESIGNS IN

TRIMMED HATS

LADIES' AND MISSES WALKING HATS, SAILORS, TAMS, BABY BONNETS.

Miss Renziehausen's millinery store is creating a sensation among the ladies. The material used for fashioning the Spring headgear are extremely beautiful, and the variety is almost endless. Every conceivable color is represented, including the new pastel shades, which promises to be very popular. She believes in furnishing her patrons with up-to-date city styles—a practice which is all the more commendable from the fact that the prices are very low. The line of ready-to-wear hats is a large one, and the different styles shown very nobby and fetching in appearance. To have one of Miss Renziehausen's hats is to be well dressed, and above all the ladies can rely on getting the latest and most correct style.

We have Just Received

A fine new line of Pulley Belts—the latest thing out. Also Ladies Ties in all the new shades; Silk for Shirt Waists: Dress Trimmings.

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

LEADING MILLINER.

Farm Machinery.

DO NOT FORGET

That we handle a COMPLETE LINE of the BEST Farm Machinery manufactured. Before you buy, it will pay you to see us and get our prices. We handle

CASSADY GANG AND SULKY PLOWS,

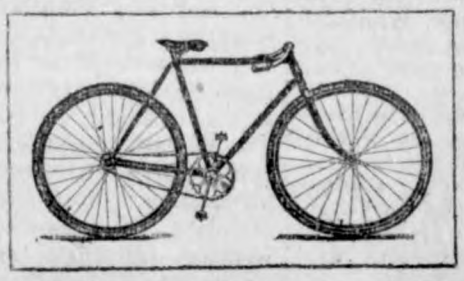
Corn Cultivators, Stirring Plows, Cornplanters, harrows, Discs, Wagons, Buggies, Geneva Windmils, Milwauece Binders and Mowers.

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE.....

We are constantly adding new, fresh GROCERIES to our stock and would like to make you prices. If you want Hardware or Tinware, we can supply your wants.

LAU BROS.

BICYCLES



OUR 1900 WHEELS ARE NOT FREAKS,

——But good, common sense machines, built of the best material that money can buy and codstructed in the most simple manner by skilled workmen. Good, strong, honest bicycles, as near

Fool Proof

as possible. We sell good, strong, honest, straight machines that are easy to ride and hard to break. Six makes of standard wheels always on hand. Old wheels bought and sold. Repairing done on short notice. A complete line of sundries always on hand.

KANAWHA, IOWA. L. HAEFNER.

The Klemme Times.

G. L. WELLEMEYER, Pub.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

DES MOINES, April 30, 1900.

Dairy Commissioner Norton says there is but a very small amount of bogus butter sold in Iowa and that under the present revenue laws there is little difficulty in absolutely knowing where it is sold. Last year, according to official revenue department statistics, there was imported to Iowa 79,000 pounds of oleomargarine; the same year there was made in this state approximately 90,000,000 pounds of regulation butter. Illinois leads in consumption of oleomargarine; no less than 18,000,000 pounds were used in that state, or about one-fifth of the entire product of the country.

The secretary of the executive council has completed computing the railroad assessments for the year 1900. Forty-five systems are included in the assessment, and it makes an aggregate of $45,899,325. The assessments are of special interest this year because of the publicity given them by State Treasurer Herriott, who says they are unequally adjusted and not in conformity with the laws of the state. The largest assessments are as follows: Chicago & Northwestern, $7,937,590; C., R. I. & P., $7,120,169; C., M. & St. Paul, $8,170,946; C., B. & Q., $4,913,794; B., C. R. & N., $4,264,628; Iowa Central, $1,720,186; Dubuque & Sioux City, $3,314,328; Chicago Great Western, $2,200,899; Keokuk & Western, $456,120; Wabash, $411,420.

Attorney General Remley has handed down an opinion to the state board of control construing the pension law passed by the last general assembly and relating to the pension of members of the Soldier's Home. The board of control always declined to use any part of the pension funds and they accumulated under the rules of the trustees requiring all above $6 to be sent to relatives or given to the state. The new law, the attorney general says, requires the pensioners to give one half of their pension money to their dependant relatives if they have any. The opinion was called out for the reason that a pensioner who had been sending his extra $2 to his children in the Davenport home to keep from giving it to the state, wanted to retain all of his pension, whereas the law, as the board read it and as the attorney general construes it, forces him to give half of it, or $2 additional, to his children, although they do not need it.

The question of paying the Iowa troops, at national guard rates, during the period of their service in the United States army, has been brought before the state auditor, and is now in a position which demands a ruling. For a long time some of the discharged troops have been claiming that they were entitled to national guard pay in addition to the United States army pay received from the government. A batch of claims have been filed with the auditor setting forth these claims on behalf of several members of Company M, of the Forty-ninth Iowa. The claims are filed by Elza C. Johnson, of Maquoketa, as attorney for the claimants. The names of the claimants are Arthur Larkey, John Nims, William L. Foster, Frank VanEmburg, James D. VanEmburg, George Hopius and Elza C. Johnson. Mr. Johnson was captain of Company M, Mr. Foster was quarter master sergeant, Mr. Larkey was a private and Mr. Nims a private and artificer.

Information of a definite character has been received in Des Moines to the effect that Smith McPherson, appointed to succeed Judge Woolson on the federal bench, has announced that he will appoint Senator W. C. McArthur of Burlington to be clerk of the district and circuit courts for the sourthern district to succeed E. R. Mason of Des Moines, clerk of the circuit court, and J. J. Steadman of Council Bluffs, clerk of the district court. Mr. McArthur has been advised of the fact that he has been appointed and is making his arrangements to remove to Des Moines. He has advertised his Burlington property for sale and has already disposed of some of his property there. Mr. McArthur will follow the precedent set by Judge Woolson of centralizing the business of the judiciary department of the district in Des Moines and will remove to this city. He will appoint deputies in Keokuk and Council Bluffs and will make the offices of Clerk Mason his principal office. It is understood that Judge McPherson will also remove to Des Moines as soon as he takes up his new duties.

The city council, sitting as a board of review, refused to grant a reduction in the assessment against the personal property of H. Hutsonpiller, a capitalist and retired banker of East Des Moines. Mr. Hutsonpiller, by his attorney, A. K. Stewart, filed a protest with the board on the ground that he had been assessed for $20,000 worth of United States government bonds, which is against the federal and state laws. The members of the board, backing up the action of Deputy Assessor Jacob Beck, acknowledged that the assessment of bonds as personal property is illegal, but announced their intention of compelling Mr. Hutsonpiller to prove that the bonds were actually his own, and that the transaction by which he came into possession of them was a business one purely, and not simply an attempt to evade the payment of taxes that justly belong to the city and county.

THE NEWS IN IOWA

PEOPLE'S PARTY.

Convention at Des Moines to Select National Delegates.

DES MOINES, April 25.—The people's party of Iowa held a state convention in Observatory hall yesterday to select delegates to the national convention, which is to be held at Cincinnati May 9. L. H. Weller, of Nashua, was chairman, and A. W. Ricker, of Lone Tree, secretary of the convention. As members of the national committee from Iowa, the convention elected L. H. Weller, A. W. Ricker and L. M. Morris. Delegates were selected as follows: L. H. Weller, Nashua; Chas. A. Lloyd, Muscatine; A. W. Ricker, Iowa City; J. O. Beebe, Burlington; F. A. J. Gray, Wilton; S. W. Coomber, Cedar Falls; Orville Potter, Fredericksburg; C. Wirth, Van Horn; J. R. Norman, Albia; S. E. Tucker, Albia; T. G. Wheeler, Des Moines; Andrew Macomber, Ord; C. A. Wickes, Davis City; J. F. Syp, Afton; A. M. Hutchinson, Council Bluffs; William Murray, Wiota; M. E. Smith, Fort Dodge; A. Norellus, Kiro; Fred Hunt, Alta, and W. W. Smith, Hartley. The convention adopted no platform except to reaffirm the national platforms of 1892 and 1896, and to add the following resolutions:

"We deplore the conditions of war existing in South Africa and the Philippines, where imperial governments are seeking to deprive the inhabitants of their right to liberty and self-government, and desire to express our sympathy with the defenders of home and liberty everywhere, whether the race be brown or white."

MEETING WAS A FARCE.

Iowa Railroad Commissioners Return From St. Louis.

DES MOINES, April 30.—The Iowa board of railroad commissioners has returned from its trip to St. Louis, and the members pronounce the joint meeting of commissioners from Illinois, Missouri and Iowa a fiasco. The three boards met pursuant to request at the Southern hotel in St. Louis, and had been together not more than ten minutes when the Illinois commissioners admitted that the meeting was called at the instigation of certain Illinois railroad interests, just as the Iowa commission had been led to believe before the members took the trip to St. Louis. It also developed that the Missouri board knew no more about the real inwardness of the call than the Iowa board knew when it accepted the invitation, and with a rather disgusted feeling all around the three commissions declared themselves adjourned sine die.

NEW RAILROAD INCORPORATED.

Thought to Be Revival of Duluth & New Orleans Project.

DES MOINES, April 28.—Articles of incorporation of the Des Moines & Northern Iowa railroad have been filed with the county recorder. The incorporators are Arthur Reynolds, of the Des Moines National bank; Nathan Coffin, of Dudley & Coffin, attorneys; J. H. Blair, of the Iowa Loan and Trust Company; J. H. Phillips, a real estate man; and I. K. Wilson, a building and loan and real estate man. The capital stock is placed at $50,000. The articles state that the object of the company is to build and operate a railroad from a point on the southern boundary of the state through the city of Des Moines and thence in a northerly direction to a point on the north state line. Persons who were interested in the Duluth & New Orleans project are interested in this project and one of their number filed the articles.

SUED FOR $50,000.

Standard Oil Company Defendant in a Big Suit.

DES MOINES, April 27.—Attorney F. S. Dunshee has filed in the district court a suit for $50,000 against the Standard Oil Company for alleged damages sustained by the Crystal Oil Company, of Des Moines, in which the plaintiff alleges that amount of damages was brought on by the destruction of the plaintiff's business. The suit is entitled F. S. Dunshee vs. the Standard Oil Company, Milton Storer, John D. Stewart, Lee Edington. In his petition, plaintiff states that the Standard Oil Company is the most wealthy, influential and potent corporation in this country or elsewhere, and possesses vast power and influence in the city of Des Moines.

MATT PARROTT'S FUNERAL.

Services Held in the Episcopal Church at Waterloo.

WATERLOO, April 26.—The funeral services of Former Lieut. Governor Matt Parrott were held at the Episcopal church yesterday afternoon. Prominent men from all parts of the state were in attendance. During the forenoon the body was viewed at the home of the deceased by hundreds of friends. The services were beautiful in the extreme. The procession was led by the Knights Templar in full regalia. The pastor, Rev. Maderia, spoke without manuscript and paid a glowing tribute to the deceased who had for many years been an officer in his church.

HON. MATT PARROTT DEAD.

The ex-Lieutenant Governor of Iowa Passes Away.

WATERLOO, April 24.—After an illness of several months, Hon. Matt Parrott, ex-lieutenant governor of Iowa, died at 10:50 o'clock Saturday night at the sanitarium in Battle Creek, Mich., of Bright's disease. Mr. Parrott was an old-time resident of Waterloo, where his influence has been wide-felt as a newspaper man and a progressive, public-spirited citizen. He was a man of the people, of unblemished character, genial, kind-hearted and ready to lend a hand to every good cause. He had long been a main-stay of the Episcopal church of Waterloo. While Mr. Parrott had been prominently in politics for years, he was first of all a newspaper man, understanding every department of the business, and training his sons to take up the work and carry it forward in his absence. A wife, who has been a companion and helper in every sense of the word, survives, also three sons, to all of whom Mr. Parrott was most devoted.

[Matt Parrott was born in Schoharie county, New York, May 11, 1837. At thirteen years of age he left school and entered a printer's office to learn the trade. He went to Troy in 1857 and in a couple of years drifted west and worked in newspaper offices in Chicago, Burlington and Davenport. In 1869 he associated himself with J. Smart in publishing the Iowa State Reporter of Waterloo, the paper he owned with his sons at the time of his death. He held the office of state binder from 1879 to 1885. At the expiration of that time he was elected state senator from Blackhawk and Grundy counties. In 1895 he was elected lieutenant governor with Gov. F. M. Drake.]

RULING AS TO INSURANCE.

Mutuals May Do More Than One Kind of Business.

DES MOINES, April 28.—The auditor of state has been in receipt of numerous requests from mutual insurance companies as to the plan by which they can legally carry on two distinct lines of business. Many of them want to conduct the fire and lightning insurance as one feature, and tornado and windstorm business as another. The question is whether this can be done, and if so, by what plan. The attorney general in his opinion holds that may be done, but only on a plan which will make the different classes of insurance pay their equitable proportions of the burden.

Meyer Escapes Jail Sentence.

SIOUX CITY, April 30.—Ernest Meyer, a German farmer of Woodbury county, who, March 10, stabbed and killed his brother-in-law, Chris Bauer, in a drunken rage, was sentenced to a fine of $500 and the cost of the trial. The man had been indicted for murder, but the jury only found him guilty of assault with intent to commit great bodily injury. Meyer is the son of a wealthy retired farmer of Davenport, Iowa.

Woman Fatally Scalded.

BELMOND, April 30.—Mrs. Van Ostren, wife of a prominent farmer living four miles west of Belmond, fell into a boiler of scalding water and was fatally scalded. She stumbled and fell head first into the boiler, which she was carrying.

Mayhew Found to Be Not Guilty.

BURLINGTON, April 28.—Mayhew, on trial for the murder of Lennie Fields with a penknife, was found not guilty. The charge was changed to manslaughter, under the evidence.

Drowned in a Tub of Water.

SIOUX CITY, April 27.—The 1-year-old son of William Metcalf, Hedges station, Morningside, fell into a tub of water and was drowned.

BREVITIES.

Judge Bishop, of Polk county, overruled the demurrer in the case of A. K. Campbell vs. the Polk county board of supervisors. The court held that inasmuch as the official notice was not published ten clear days previous to the date of the regular meeting of the board it was not acting within its jurisdiction. The proceedings in certiorari will now be heard.

A dispatch says that Paul Blake, one of the cleverest forgers who ever operated in the state, has been arrested in St. Louis and will be returned to Anamosa to answer for the crime of forgery. For two years the officers of Jones county have endeavored to locate Blake By forging the name of the Modern Remedy company's bookkeeper of Newanee, Ill., Blake succeeded in defrauding the banks of that section out of several thousand dollars.

Marshalltown dispatch: Rather than go to prison Stephen Triplett, who had pleaded guilty to the crime of incest, cut his throat with a razor in his cell in the county jail. Triplett had been a resident of Melbourne, in the southern part of the county. Seven years ago he married Mrs. Cutler, of Kansas, and at various times during the past five years had committed incest with his stepdaughter, Myrtle Cutler, who is now only 17 years old He pleaded guilty in the district court and was to have been sentenced in a few days.

CANADIAN CITY BURNED.

Only a Few Houses Remain Standing in Hull.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 27.—Five square miles of territory burned over; more than 2,200 dwellings, factories, mills, stores and other buildings destroyed, entailing a loss estimated to reach $20,000,000, and between 12,000 and 15,000 men, women and children homeless, is a summing up of the havoc wrought by the fire which has been raging at Hull and in Ottawa since 11 o'clock yesterday morning and at midnight was practically under control. Most of the lumber piles in Ottawa and Hull have disappeared and are now heaps of charred wood and ashes. Half a dozen churches and schools, a number of mills, the Hull waterworks, Hull court house and jail, postoffice, the convent, almost every business place and about 1,000 dwellings and shops in Hull have been destroyed. Indeed, practically nothing of Hull is left but a church and a few houses beyond it. The fire almost devastated the little settlement of St. Mary's village. The flames spread along the Richmond road, burning Martin & Warner's flour mill and extending almost to Skead's mill, some three miles beyond the city limits. At this time, 5 o'clock, there was almost a continuous line of fire from its starting place at Chaudiere street, Hull, to the St. Louis dam, and the experimental farm in one direction and through and beyond Hintonburg in another, a distance of nearly seven miles. In some places the fire was more than half a mile deep.

OTTAWA, Ont., April 28.—At 5 o'clock yesterday morning the fire which had been raging here and at Hull was under control. The total number of buildings destroyed is 3,800, entailing a loss of $20,000,000. Between twelve and fifteen thousand people are homeless. Four lives were lost. A summary of the situation at Ottawa and Hull follows: Ottawa, buildings destroyed, 2,000; Hull, buildings destroyed 1,800: total loss to both cities, $20,000,000; total insurance on both cities, $12,000,000. Some of the losses are: The Booth Lumber Company, $3,000,000; the Eddy company, $3,000,000; the McKay Milling Company, $500,000; the Hull Lumber Company, $700,000; Hull Electric Light Company, $250,000, and the Dominion Carbide Works, $150,000.

MUCH LIKE AN ULTIMATUM.

United States Insists on Immediate Payment.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 28.—The American note handed to the Tarkish minister of foreign affairs, Tewfik Pasha, on Tuesday, is couched in peremptory terms, demanding immediate payment of the indemnity several times promised to Minister Straus by the sultan. The note does not fix a time limit for an answer, but its tenor is not far from the character of an ultimatum. It has produced a great impression upon the porte, who, however, shows no disposition to modify the attitude hitherto maintained, namely, repudiating the responsibility and seeking to diminish the importance of the matter. It is presumed that the porte's reply will be in this sense, and hence it is feared the United States government will be obliged to take steps to enforce its demands.

The porte's reply to the latest collective note on the subject of duties has not been made, and the embassies are exchanging views in regard to the terms on which to consent to an increase of duty. It is thought that before the beginning of negotiations the embassies will invite the porte to abolish ransoms and measures introduced in violation of treaties.

TO DISFRANCHISE THE NEGROES.

Constitutional Convention in Virginia Becoming a Party Issue.

NEW YORK, April 30.—A Times special from Richmond, Va., says:

The question of calling a constitutional convention in Virginia primarily for the disfranchisement of negroes has been practically settled so far as the democrats are concerned. A majority of the delegates to the democratic state convention, which meets at Norfolk May 2, are instructed in favor of making the call for a convention a party issue. This matter is now the absorbing one in Virginia, and the demand for disfranchisement of negroes and other constitutional reforms has entirely overshadowed the original purpose for which the Norfolk meeting was called.

ROOSEVELT WILL NOT HAVE IT.

Positive Statement That He Will Not Run for Vice-President.

CHICAGO, April 28.—In an interview here Governor Roosevelt, of New York, said:

"I will not be a candidate for vice-president on the republican ticket. My statement is absolute. This is the third time I have made it, and three times ought to be out. I do not want to be vice-president. I prefer private life. I appreciate the importance of the office and the honor shown me by those who would like to see me occupy it. But beyond any shadow of doubt the place for me to render good service to the state and the party is the position I now hold. If the republicans of New York see fit to renominate me for governor I shall be glad."

CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Washington, April 23.—The day was spent in debating the right of M. S. Quay, of Pennsylvania to a seat in the senate. Chandler of New Hampshire, Kenney of Delaware and Penrose of Pennsylvania spoke for Quay while Platt of Connecticut and Quarles of Wisconsin, opposed him.

HOUSE.

Upon request of Hepburn, of Iowa, chairman of the interstate and foreign commerce commission, unanimous consent was given to set aside May 1 and 2 for the consideration of the Nicaragua canal bill. The post-office appropriation bill was then taken up under an arrangement to close general debate to-day.

SENATE.

Washington, April 24.—M. S. Quay to-day was refused a seat in the United States senate on the appointment of the governor of Pennsylvania by a vote of 33 to 32. The entire time of the senate to-day was devoted to debate upon the question, many of the greatest lawyers and orators in the body delivering speeches.

HOUSE.

The house adopted the Foraker emergency resolution to continue the present officers in Porto Rico in office until the appointments are made under the civil government act as amended by the committee on insular affairs. About twenty pages of the postoffice appropriation bill were disposed of.

SENATE.

Washington, April 25.—The agricultural appropriation bill was passed, carrying a little over $3,000,000. The Alaskan civil government bill was under consideration for an hour, but no progress was made. Conference report on Hawaiian government bill was agreed to.

HOUSE.

The house put its heel upon the pneumatic mail tube service now in operation in New York, Boston and Philadelphia, and if its action stands the whole service will be crushed out. The postoffice committee had recommended an increase of appropriation for this service from $225,000 to $725,000.

SENATE.

Washington, April 26.—Almost the entire session of the senate today was devoted to a consideration of the right of Nathan B. Scott of West Virginia to retain his seat in the senate. A vote was not taken.

HOUSE.

After four days of discussion the house today passed the postoffice appropriation bill.

SENATE.

Washington, April 27.—The senate to-day voted upon the resolution declaring Nathan B. Scott to be entitled to his seat from West Virginia. The number of votes in the negative was only three. The Alaskan and cotton claims bills took up the rest of the day.

HOUSE.

The house broke all records today by passing ninety-one private pension bills. Among them was one to pension the widow of Colonel John M. Stoltzenberg, late colonel of the First Nebraska U. V. I., at the rate of $40 a month.

SENATE.

Washington, April 28.—Pettigrew called up his resolution expressing sympathy with the Boers and asked for its immediate consideration. As no committee had reported the resolution to the senate, Lodge moved that it be referred to the committee on foreign affairs, and the motion carried, 31 to 11. As the vote showed the lack of a quorum the resolution retains its place subject to call at any time.

HOUSE.

The senate bill to create a commission to adjudicate the claims of citizens of the United States against Spain assumed by this country by the treaty of Paris was taken up. The bill developed considerable opposition and was finally recommitted to the committee on war claims with instructions to report back a bill to refer the claims to the court of claims. Bill conferring gold and silver medals upon the officers and men of the revenue cutter Hudson, which rescued the torpedo boat Winslow at Cardenas, Cuba, was passed.

LOSS WILL REACH MILLIONS.

Floods In and Around Dallas Increase in Severity.

DALLAS, Tex., April 30.—The floods show no signs of receding. Most of the Texas rivers are receding. A Ft. Worth telegram says the Trinity river has overflowed, doing much property damage. A 9-foot rise is sweeping down from the head-waters of the Trinity and threatens to cause a big overflow in the vicinity of Dallas and Ft. Worth by night. A bulletin from Waco says the list of dead there will reach ten or fifteen. The property damage there will exceed $150,000. The loss by flood and hurricane is estimated to reach $3,000,000 to $5,000,000 including the damage to railroads and the growing crops. The few reports received from southern and central Texas state that never before has such destruction been seen.

EX-PRESIDENT IS CAUGHT.

Senor Paterno Captured Near Trinidad, In the Philippines.

MANILA, April 30.—Major General Lloyd Wheaton reports that Senor Paterno, former president of the so-called Filipino cabinet, was captured in the mountains near Trinidad, in the province of Benguet, April 25. Paterno recently, through relatives in Manila, requested and received permission to enter American lines, but failed to appear. His relatives explained he had been sick a long time and was an invalid. He was brought to San Fernando on the litter ambulance by soldiers of the Forty-eighth regiment.

RUNDLE IS AT THABA N'CHU.

Joins French and Hamilton After an Uneventful March From DeWet's Dorp.

THABA N'CHU, April 29.—General Rundle's division has arrived here. The march from DeWet's Dorp was uneventful. Generals French and Hamilton are also here. The Boers are reported ten miles to the eastward. The mounted force came in contact with them and had a slight skirmish. The result of the junction of General French and General Rundle is the clearance of the country of Boers at this point.

DEEMS HIS DUTY DONE.

Sultan Will Do No More to Settle American Claim.

LONDON, April 27.—The Constantinople correspondent of the Daily Telegraph says:

"The porte considers that its offer to rebuild the American structures burned at Kharput will close the question. It bases this belief on news that Russia has intimated an intention to oppose any attempt on the part of the United States to enforce payment.

KING DON:

A STORY OF MILITARY LIFE IN INDIA.

.....BY MAVOR ALLAN.....

CHAPTER VIII.

"He is here to answer!"

As the Prince spoke those fateful words Lillie turned and would have flown to Don's side; but at sight of his face she stopped short, paralyzed with amazement or fear or anguish. Which was it? Had she followed the first impulse to fly to him and beg him to deny this vile slander, what might Don's answer not have been? But he saw her hesitation and that spasm of conflicting emotions which swept her face, and he strode forward, like a man who knows his doom pronounced and goes recklessly to meet it, realizing there is no escape.

"I have heard, and I will answer," came his deep, rich tones.

He spoke no other words of greeting to his untoward visitor. He looked neither at him nor his wife, but straight before him, as if he saw written there the self-denunciation he was fated to speak.

"It is true that I was with Captain Derwent at the time of death; that in a moment of passion I had pointed my revolver at his breast; but, as heaven is above us, I know it was not my shot, but a rebel bullet, which killed him."

"An accomplice, perhaps?" suggested the Prince, with a sneer.

Lillie had spoken no word. She stood as motionless as one turned to stone; and though he would not meet her eyes, Don felt them to be fixed upon him with an agony that was harder to bear than the fiercest words of accusation.

"Sir"—Don wheeled round now upon his adversary, and his voice grew harder and stronger—"what I did I tell you was done in a moment of passion—a moment I shall regret to my last hour. I do not know by what means you have got your information; but to accuse me of taking his life in cold blood I will not suffer—and I defy you to prove his death was by my hand!"

"I have no desire to prove it further," was the contemptuous reply of the Prince, whose calm complaisance now was as intense as was Don's hot passion. "I have not the shadow of a doubt I could do so if I chose. My faithful sepoy, who followed you when you left Pindi for the camp, and shadowed every step you took whilst you were there, could testify to each word of your last converse with Captain Derwent. He could tell how you declared you would kill both myself and Captain Derwent sooner than allow this lady to become my wife."

He bowed to the motionless Lillie.

"He could swear that, when Captain Derwent repeated his refusal to your own suit, you deliberately fired your revolver, and he fell at your feet, crying: 'For Lillie's sake, Gordon, have a care!' All that I could prove. Can you deny it?"

For one instant there was tense silence, then Don's voice came, strained and hard:

"If your sepoy could prove all this, why did he not come into camp and denounce me before the whole army? And for what purpose was he following me from Pindi, may I ask?"

"You may." And the Prince's smile was not a pleasant one to see. "You must know, Captain Gordon, where one of our royal house loves, it is not customary for another man to lift his eyes. My jealousy of you was roused, and my sepoy was sent to watch you and warn Captain Derwent of my displeasure. As for your first question, your movements were a secret with him alone until he had my sanction to divulge them. He will never receive that sanction, for now, with this unfortunate marriage, my interest in the subject has waned. You may rest assured you are free to pass as an honorable soldier for the rest of your natural life."

The supreme sarcasm of the Prince's words was lost upon the haggard man who faced him.

"Since you are so generous," said Don, with some calm scorn in his voice also, "I fail to see the object of such refined cruelty in bringing about this—this painful and untimely scene."

His tones broke a little in spite of himself. The sight of Lillie's immovable features was killing him.

"My object"—and now Prince Clement Sing laughed shortly and moved to the doorway—"my object was merely to bring home your guilt to you, and to humiliate yonder foolish creature, who might have been a princess, and has made herself the wife of a felon. I have the honor to bid you both adieu."

"Stay!" Don's voice shook with the frenzy of his passion. "I will allow no man, not even Prince Clement Sing, to call me by that name! Your sepoy shall be made to own it as a perjury!"

"Find him and prove that, by all means, if you can," was the sneering answer; "for who will believe that the shot to which you have confessed was not, as he says, the shot which caused Captain Derwent's death? I repeat, your ignoble secret is safe with me."

The Prince waited for no reply. For a long moment there was silence—a silence full of the bitterness of death.

Lillie still stood there motionless, it seemed almost without breath or being. She was not looking at Don any longer now. Her blue eyes were gazing into vacancy, with an expression of horror in them, as if they gazed in reality upon that ghastly scene the Prince had painted—her husband's revolver pointed at her father's breast. The silence and the anguish of it all grew more than Don could bear.

"Lillie!" he cried.

She made no movement. It was as if she had become unconscious of his presence or even life itself.

"Lillie! For mercy's sake, Lillie, look at me! Lillie! Lillie!"

He had gone to her side now and touched her cold hand, and at the touch she swayed a little and would have fallen senseless, but he caught her in his arms and laid her on the low divan. He threw himself on his knees beside her, and looked at her with his breath coming in hard, quick gasps.

Despair and shame overwhelmed him to suffocation, and paramount through it all came the proud fear for that self which had hitherto ever been first with him all his life long—the self for which he had often sacrificed the happiness of others or well-nigh forfeited honor, for which at last in a moment of frenzy he had even sold his soul.

He saw himself in that awful moment for what he was, and even with Captain Derwent's dead body at his feet he had failed to see himself.

Scorned and shamed before men, it brought near to him another tribunal, higher and all-powerful, at whose portals he must needs stand at the last day, and he bowed his head in the first real prayer that had ever rent his bleeding heart.

"My God, my God, be merciful!"

How would she for whom he had sinned look at him when those closed eyes opened? Would she not shrink from his touch as from some unclean thing? Would her love not fail before this blow he had dealt it, or was it that love possessed of a divine pity which would not turn even from the hand that struck it? He took the ivory fan which had dropped from her nerveless fingers and wafted it softly over her palid face.

Her long, thick lashes quivered, the white eyelids opened at last, and her blue eyes were looking into his.

He covered his face with his hands and bowed his head on the cushion beside her, for he could not dare to look at her now. She put out a trembling hand and touched his thick brown hair.

"Don," she whispered faintly, "tell me it is not true!"

"I cannot!" The hoarse reply pierced her very soul. Her hand dropped. She burst into sudden and passionate weeping. With a strong effort Don recovered his self-control, and spoke with labored intensity.

"It was not my shot that killed him—as God is my judge, I swear to you it was not; but, in a fit of anger, I fired, and it might have killed him. He insisted you were to marry that dark fellow, and he would not listen to me, and I lost my head. Lillie, Lillie! don't look like that! Don't! I cannot bear it!"

She had stayed her convulsive sobs, and her blue eyes were regarding him in a way that made his proud lips quiver.

"You did that, yet you came back to me and told me nothing of it, and you made me marry you!" The words broke from her in low, halting sentences, as if they choked her to utter them.

"Lillie, be merciful! It was my love for you that made me reckless. What good would it have done to tell you of our quarrel? For I never dreamt you would come to know of it."

"Oh, why did you make me marry you?" she wailed. And now she broke down once more and wept bitterly.

"Lillie!" he cried, beside himself with remorse and suffering, "you don't believe me guilty of his death? Don't tell me you doubt me!"

"I do not doubt you," she spoke at last; "but you have deceived me, and oh, Don, it has broken my heart!"

He looked at her wildly, and seemed to realize, with a new sense of desolation, that it was indeed true. He had shattered alike her faith in him and her love.

"Oh!" he cried out, "if you had loved me as I love you, you would understand and be pitiful!"

"I do love you," she answered brokenly—"you as you should be, as God meant you to be, not what you are."

"Don't!" he cried again. "Oh, if you only knew what a purgatory remorse has made my life ever since that fatal night, you would pity me and forgive!"

"I do forgive you," she said, after a silence that seemed an eternity to the man who hung upon her words; "but life can never be the same again—never, never!"

She staggered to her feet and flung back the long strands of her flaxen hair from her face with a despairing gesture. With a wild rush of memory it had dawned upon her that this was her wedding day, and that in an hour's time she was expected to leave her maiden home a happy bride.

Her wedding day! Was it indeed only a few hours since she laid her hand in Don's and vowed that him she would love and cherish and obey till death them did part?

She turned now and looked at him, with the misery of that remembrance writ large upon her face, and Don winced beneath that look as if she had struck him a blow.

"Oh, that we could undo this day!" she said.

He knew then the thing he dreaded had come upon him. He had lost her love, and he was yet to lose herself. And a fierce despair fell upon him. He strode towards her and took her in a passionate embrace.

"No, I will not let you say it!" he cried hoarsely, "for I could not live without you, Lillie!"

CHAPTER IX.

Bombay at last!

"Oh, the terrible strain of those nights and days since the garrison of Rawal Pindi had bidden the newly married pair "God speed," and that journey had begun which should have been one all-too-swiftly-passing stream of happiness, and held nothing but the long-drawn-out agony of tortured hours—hours spent together in closest companionship, yet in which they were kept apart by the widest gulfs.

Don thought there could well be nothing bitterer than that stage of the journey which was over. The forced inaction on board the trains, the fierce satisfaction of arranging every little detail for his wife's comfort, always with the knowledge that that right to do so would all too soon cease to be his; the constant strain to keep up appearances before servants and officials, the utter inability to break down the barrier of pain when they were alone.

Sometimes he told himself it had been better to speak that last goodby at Bombay and prolong the agony no longer; but as a drowning man clings to the rope of succor, he had not the courage to be the one to cut the cord which bound them. She had consented he should take her home, and he would go through with it to the bitter end. His thoughts never went beyond that end. After their farewell had been spoken, what mattered it wither he went?

And now they were on board the big steamer at last, and the May day was dying in a golden haze over land and sea. The pilot had long since gone ashore in the tug steamer, and the great Indian land of glory and death was sinking fast astern into the world of waters.

Lillie stood on the poop and looked her last upon it with a bursting heart. She had come hither a gay and happy girl, she was going hence a broken-hearted woman, a wife in name alone.

Don was below, conferring with the steward anent their luggage and cabins. She was free to let fall those salt tears she hid from him with proud, Spartanlike fortitude. If she suffered, she suffered in silence, and perhaps Don never guessed how deep that suffering was. He came up by and by, and found her still standing by the taffrail alone. She had checked her tears and recovered her habitual calm; but though she had drawn her veil down, through its thin texture Don saw how pale and worn her lovely face looked.

"You are tired," he said, compassionately. "Shall you go below at once?"

"I would rather stay here a while. I am not in the least sleepy."

(To be continued.)

She Used Smokeless Powder.

He—That's a peculiar ring you are wearing. Has it a history? She—Yes, it's a war relic. He—Indeed! Tell me about it, pray. She—Oh, there isn't much to tell. I won it in my first engagement.—Chicago News.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON VI, MAY 6 — MATT CHAP. II, VS. 20-30.

Golden Text—"Come Unto Me All Ye That Labour and Are Heavy Laden, and I Will Give You Rest." — Matt. 11:28.

20. "Then began he," for the first recorded time. He began to urge a new motive. "To upbraid." Not abuse, or scold, but rebuke, blame, including both "pitying grief and indignation." "Wherein . . . his mighty works." One of the six names given to miracles in the New Testament. It is commonly translated "miracles." "Because they repented not," even in the presence of the divine works whose object was to lead them to repentance.

21. "Woe unto thee." Not a wishing of woe to them, but a statement of the fact that woe must come to them, doing as they did. "Chorazin." The site of this city is uncertain, but it was probably at Keraseh, two miles from Tel Hum, the probable site of Capernaum, a little way from the Sea of Galalee. "Bethsaida" (house of fish) was probably situated on both sides of the Jordan.

22. "If the mighty works, which were done in you." None are recorded as done in Chorazin or Bethsaida, but Jesus did a large number of miracles that were not recorded. "Had been done in Tyre and Sidon." Two large and wealthy Gentile cities of Phoenicia, on the coast of the Mediterranean Sea, in the north of Palestine. They had all the abominations of heathen immorality. "Repented long ago in sackcloth and ashes." The Oriental expressions of the deepest sorrow.

23. "And thou, Capernaum (the place of Christ's residence, and the center of his miracles and teachings), which art," etc. The better reading is that of the R. V., "shalt thou be exalted unto heaven?" Do you expect, on account of your exalted privileges, whatever you do with them, that you will be high in the kingdom of heaven, honored and prospered, a capital city? Do you, the inhabitants, expect that you shall have the highest enjoyment and all the blessings of heaven, without regard to your character, because I have done so many wonderful works among you? "Shalt be brought down to hell." To Hades, the abode of the dead; that is, shalt be utterly destroyed. The woes came upon these cities. They are utterly destroyed. And the inhabitants must suffer the consequences of their sins. "Had been done in Sodam." One of the cities of the plain, whose very name is a synonym for the vilest sensuality and wickedness. Not ten righteous people could be found within its walls (Gen. 18: 16-29). "It would have remained," instead of being consumed by fire and brimstone, so that no one knows the place where it once existed.

24. "It shall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon—more tolerable for . . . Sodom (at the day of judgment)—than for you." All were to be punished for their sins, and their refusal to repent, and their rejection of salvation.

25. "Jesus answered" the unspoken thoughts of the people. If Tyre, Sidon, and Sodom would have repented under better influences, why were they not bestowed upon them? The words that follow are Jesus' reply to this mystery of providence: "I thank thee." Rather, "I assent to thee," "I cordially concur and approve." "O Father." And therefore loving and good, full of tender mercies. "Lord of heaven and earth." And therefore able to do all that love and goodness deem wise, and with a right to act according to his sovereign will. "Because thou hast hid these things." The mysteries of the divine providence referred to above. "From the wise and prudent," the understanding, the intellectual, because the solutions of these mysteries must be learned by faith, and by the heart, and by love quite as much as by the intellect. "And hast revealed them unto babes." Those who have the childlike spirit, ready to learn and to trust.

27. "All things are delivered unto me (by) my Father." Christ had control of all things, and could and would do what was best. "And no man." Rather, no one, neither man nor angel. "Knoweth the Son." Comprehends fully his nature and his work. "But the Father." Therefore Jesus must be divine. "Neither knoweth any man the Father, save the Son." He only understands fully the infinite love, the far-reaching plans, the holy nature of the Father. "And he to whomsoever the Son will reveal him." By his character, his teachings, and his wonderful works.

28. "Come unto me." To where he was, to his person, to his heart, to his character, to his teaching and training, to his care, to his method of living, to his kingdom. It is only there that the blessing can be found. It is a personal invitation. "All ye that labor." Those under the yoke. Struggling under heavy burdens, moving with difficulty and pain, as a ship is said to labor, when badly ballasted, in a stormy sea. "And are heavy laden." Heavy laden here means overstrained with too much load to be carried. "And I." The emphasis on the I. No other can give the needed rest. "Will give you rest." Not by taking away all burdens, but giving the right burden. There is no real rest without some burden.

29. "Take my yoke upon you." Emphasis on my. A yoke means three things: (1) It is a mark of obedience and submission. (2) It is the means of service. It enables one to do work. (3) It is service with another. Usually two are yoked together. "And learn of me." Both from my precepts and my exampie. Become my disciples, go to school to me as your teacher, not for a single lesson, but for all time. Do as I do, learn to be what I am. "For I am meek and lowly in heart." Humble, compassionate, long-suffering, even toward poor scholars, and hence a blessed teacher of whom to learn. "And ye shall find rest unto your souls." The first rest was given; this rest is wrought into the soul. It is the rest which we find, through battle to victory, through labor to success, through prayer to peaceful communion with God, through cares and burdens and sorrows to the perfect peace of perfect trust.

Helping the Poor.

Mrs. Dorcas—"You'd better take back this dollar bill, my dear, and let me have a twenty instead." Dorcas—"How's that?" Mrs. Dorcas—"I've changed my mind about visiting that poor family. I'm going to the charity bazaar."—Judge.

Rev. Charles M. Sheldon is going to start in his church at Topeka a "church brotherhood," having the features of the average fraternal order, with insurance.

British Aristocracy Blamed.

Many people attribute their recent reverses to degeneracy. The life of luxury does not produce vigor. Indigestible suppers, constant nerve strain and lack of exercise upset the stomach. The blood that makes heroes must come from healthy stomachs. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters purifies the blood and strengthens the stomach. It cures constipation, indigestion and dyspepsia.

The nearer we approach great men the clearer we see that they are men.

That Tired Feeling

Just as surely indicates that the blood is lacking in vitality and the elements of health as does the most obstinate humor that the vital fluid is full of impurities. Hood's Sarsaparilla cures that tired feeling by enriching and vitalizing the blood, creating a good appetite and invigorating every organ of the body.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

"I had that tired feeling all the time. Was as tired in the morning when I rose as I was when I went to bed. I took four bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla and it made me feel like a new man. I could work hard and not feel tired. I recommend Hood's to all who need a good medicine." A. P. CHARTER, Creston, Iowa.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is sold by all druggists. Get Hood's and only Hood's.

WHAT THE LAW DECIDES.

Possession adverse to the owner of minerals is held, in Murray vs. Allard (Tenn.) 39 L. R. A. 249, not to be held by one who uses the land merely for agricultural purposes.

Keeping a saloon open on Monday, July 5, is held, in people vs. Thielman (Mich.), 39 L. R. A. 218, to be prohibited by statutes requiring saloons to be closed on legal holidays and also designating July 4 as a holiday, but when it falls on Sunday making the next Monday a holiday.

The necessity of notice and proofs of loss of insured property, notwithstanding the death of the insured, is held, in Matthews vs. American Central Insurance company (N. Y.), 39 L. R. A. 433, to require the appointment of a temporary representative, if there is no one else who can take the required steps and the appointment of an executor or administrator cannot be secured with sufficient promptness.

The custody of a courthouse, which the sheriff, as the court's executive officer, has, is held, in Dahnke vs. people (Ill.), 39 L. R. A. 197, to be the custody and care of the building as a courthouse, while as real estate simply it is held to be in the care and custody of the county board and the assignment of rooms therein to the different judges rests with the judges themselves, over which matter the county board has no authority.

Half Rate Excursions.

The Minneapolis & St. Louis R. R. will sell Homeseeker's tickets at rate of one fare plus $2 for the round trip, on April 17, May 1st and 15th, June 5th and 19th to certain points in states named below: Alabama, Arkansas, British Columbia, Colorado, Florida, Georgia, Idaho, Indian Territory, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Louisiana, Manitoba, Michigan, Minnesota, Mississippi, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, New Mexico, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Carolina, South Dakota, Tennessee, Texas, Utah, Virginia, Washington, Wisconsin, Wyoming.

For rates, folders, etc., write any agent of the company or A. B. Cutts, G. P. A., Minneapolis, Minn.

Quackery gives birth to nothing.

Are You Using Allen's Foot-Ease?

It is the only cure for Swollen, Smarting, Burning, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

The Iron Mountain railroad pays $200,000 a year in taxes to Arizona.

Lane's Family Medicine.

Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

Insolence is not logic; epithets are the arguments of malice.

Chronic Sore Leg.

Mr. J. Richardson had a running sore on his leg for 20 years. Tried doctors and medicines without end or any permanent good. Mr. L. B. Nunnally, druggist, Hartford, Ia., recommended Morley's Sarsaparilla and Iron to cure the cause of the sore and make it heal from the inside. A few bottles cured my leg, and put me in better health than I have been for 20 years. Sold by agent in every town.

Japanese school boys are taken into the forests by their teachers, one day in the autumn, to engage in rabbit hunting.

See The Monarch

BICYCLES

The Best and Cheapest wheel on the market.

REPAIR YOUR WHEEL

Our Expert Tinner is able to put your old wheel in good repair quickly and cheaply.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

OUR SUMMER BILL OF FARE.

Young Onions, New Radishes, Fresh Lettuce,
Oranges, Bananas, Lemons,
Canned Fruit and Vegetables--all kinds,
Bread, Buns, Pies, Cakes, Cookies,
Confecionery, Cigars, Tobacco
SUMMER DRINKS SELECT GROCERIES,

Agent for the Ideal Steam Laundry, Mason City.

G. W. KLUCKHOHN, KLEMME.

$1 THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN $1

LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ALL POLITICAL PAPERS IN THE WEST

Always American——Always Republican

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN SUPPLIES ALL THE NEWS AND BEST CURRENT LITERATURE

Every Column is Bright, Clean and Packed with News

The Literature of its columns is equal to that of the best magazines. It is interesting to the children as well as the parents.

THE INTER OCEAN is a WESTERN NEWSPAPER, and while it brings to the family THE NEWS OF THE WORLD and gives its readers the best and ablest discussions of all questions of the day, it is in full sympathy with the ideas and aspirations of Western people and discusses literature and politics from the Western standpoint.

——$1.00—PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR—$1.00——

$1 THE DAILY AND SUNDAY EDITIONS OF THE INTER OCEAN ARE THE BEST EVER SEEN IN THE WEST. $1

THE INTER OCEAN'S NEWS IS EXCLUSIVE.

Price of Daily by mail ..... $4.00 per year
Price of Sunday by mail ..... $2 00 per year
Daily and Sunday by mail ..... $6.00 per year

Buy Your

Drugs, Paints, Wall Paper, Toilet Soap, Perfumery Books and Patent Medicines

At Amsden's Pharmacy

GARNER, IOWA.

FRED ARNOLD, PRES. C. H. WIEGMANN, V. P. F. A. ARNOLD, CASH.

STATE SAVINGS BANK,

OF KLEMME, IOWA.

CAPITAL $25 000 00, LOANS $40 000 00,

INSURANCE WRITTEN, LOANS NEGOTIATED, EXCHANGE BOUGHT AND SOLD.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits: Money Loaned on Real Estate: Foreign and Domestic Exchange Sold.....

DIRECTORS: FRED ARNOLD, C. H. WIEGMANN, H. W. GRUETZMACHER, CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, F. A. ARNOLD.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern
RAILROAD EXCURSIONS.

REDUCED RATES.

For the populist Convention at Sioux Falls, S. D. May 9th, the B C R & N will make reduced rates. Call on ticket agents for rates, limits, etc. Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. &. T. A., B., C. R. & N. Ry. Cedar Rapids Iowa.

may 9.

VEBY LOW RATES.

The B C R & N Ry will make very low rates to Sioux Fall, S. D. for the A O U W meeting in June. Call on your ticket agent for rates, limits etc and see that your tickets read via this line. Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia.—jun12

GAING TO PARIS.

Then let us give you valuable information segarding your trip. We can render you good service and ticket you right through from all stations on our line via New York and any of the steamship lines. Call on agents of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway, or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

ANOTHER CHANCE.

On the first and third Tuesday of May and June, homeseekers' tickets will be on sale at rate of a Single Fare plus $2 for the round trip to the variou parts of the country. For rates, limits territory, etc., call on nearest agent or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Playing Cards.

"The Cedar Rapids Route" Playing Cards are the finest quality and extra finish. For sale by agents of the B. C. R. &. N. Ry at 15 cts. per pack, two for 25 cts. $1.50 per dozen. Call for them at depot or send stamps, coin or money order to General Passenger Department, B., C. R. & N. Ry., Cedar Rapids, Ia. and cards will be sent dostage paid.

Reduced Rates to the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Reduced round trip rates are now in effect to the nation's great resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas, owned, controlled by the United States Government for the cure of a score of human ills. Beautiful winter, 200 hotels and boarding houses of all grades. Ask nearest ticket agent for particulars, or Mr. John G. Farmer, A. G. P. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia. For illustrated books of information address Bureau of Information, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

NEW CHAIR CAR SERVICE.

Between Watertown, Ellsworth and Chicago via. B. C. R. & N. Ry. Commencing Sunday Nov. 19th, a free reclining chair car will be placed on trains Nos. 608 and 605 between Watertown and Chicago by the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. This car leaves Watertown daily, except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. arriving at Chicago 7:59 the following morning. This car runs to and from Sioux Falls Sundays, thus giving daily chair car service between Ellsworth and Chicago. Passengers going east from Chicago will have ample time to make any transfers to connect with all morning eastern trains.

These trains are very fast, and, with this new additional service, passengers can feel assured of first class accommodations. JNO. G. FARMER,
Cedar Rapids, Ia.

EUROPEAN EXCURSION.

The B., C. R. & N. Ry. will start an excursion from the Northeast and Northern part of Ibwa to the Christian Endeavor Convention in London, England, and to the Paris Exposition.

Many business men, professional men teachers and those who wish to visit their fatherland will gladly avail themselves of this opportunity. That teachers in our schools and colleges may have the advantage of this rare educational privelege, arrangements have been made with the fine Dominion and Allan Line of steamers. The steamers selected on these lines are the 'Cambroman' of the Dominion, and the 'Tunisian' of the Allan. Both are elegant new steamers and sail direct from Montreal to Liverpool.

The remarkably reasonable rate of $75.00, second cabin, from Montral to London and return, is charged. It is to be remembered that the second cabin on these steamers is equal to first cabin on some other lines, and that the very best people will travel this way. Those desiring to sail from New York can take the 'Furnessia of the Anchor Line On this steamer a rate of $119 84, first cabin, and $74 82, second cabin, from New York to London and return is charged. The 'Cambroman' and 'Furnessia' sail on June 23rd, and the 'Tunisian' on June 30th.

For about $14.00 additional a round trip ticket can be purchased by those wishing to visit the Exposition, from London to Paris and return. It will be necessary to apply at once in order to secure berths, as many will be going over.

Rev. D. W. Fahs, D. D. of Independence, who has had experience in excursion work, will have charge of the excursion. Those who contemplate going should address him at once at Independence, Iowa, for particulars.

JNO. G. FARMER, A. G. P. & T. A.
Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Porto Ricco is not very large, but the politicians of the Democratic party are hoping it is big enough grave for free silver.

Cleanse the liver, purify the blood, invigorate the body by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pill always act promptly. J. L. Harr

When the Supreme Court decides that the Porto Rican legislation is constitutional, Mr. Bryan will have another reason for demanding the suppression of that body.

H. Clark, Chauncey, Ga., says DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him of piles that had afflicted him for twenty years. It is also a speedy cure for skin diseases. Aeware of dangerous counterfeits. J. L. Harr.

The activity of the free trade enemies of the shipping bill, who are spurred on to oppose it by the foreign shipping interests, increases as the chances of its early passage grows more and more favorable.

"I think DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the best pills in the world," says W. E. Lake, Happy Creek, Va. They remove all obstructions of the liver and bowels, act quickly and never gripe. J. L. Harr.

Oregon Republicans are for expansion, the Nicaraugua canal, the open door in China, and, very naturally, for the gold standard as the basis on which oriental countries should pay for their goods.

Otto Korb, Grand Chancellor, K. P. Boonevi le, Ind., says, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve soothes the most delicate skin and heals the most stubborn ulcer with certain and good results." Cures piles and skin diseases. Don't buy an imitation. J. L. Harr.

One of the most notable things in all the Republican State platforms this year is the hearty demand for the passage of the shipping bill, which has been favorably reported to each branch of congress.

J. I Carson, Prothonotary, Washington, Pa., says: "I have found Kodol Dyspep ia Cure an excellent remedy in case of stomach trouble, and have derived great benefit from its use." It digests what you eat and cannot fail to cure. J. L. Harr.

W. H. Shipman, Beardsley, Minn., under oath, says he suffered from dyspepsia for twenty five years. Doctors and dieting gave but little relief. Finally he used Kodol Dy-pepsia Cure and now eats what he likes and as much as he wants, and he feels like a new man. It digests what you eat. J. L. Harr.

The fact that as much has been paid to foreign ship owners during the past thirty-five years as has been collected at American custom houses is one that loudly calls for the passage of the shipping bill, which is designed to turn our foreign carrying over to American-built ships.

W. W. Mayhew, Merton, Wis., says: "I consider One Minute Cough Cure a myst wonderful medicine, quick and safe." It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, grippe whooping cough, pneumonia and all throat and lung diseases. Its early use prevents consumption. Children always like it and mothers endorse it J. L. Harr.

"No family can afford to be without One Minute Cough Cure. It will stop a cough and cure a cold quicker than any other medicine", writes C. W. Williams Sterling Run, Pa. It cures croup, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles and prevents consumption. Pleasant and harmle s. J. L. Harr.

A Testimonial from Old England.

'I consider Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the best in the world for bronchitis says Mr. Wm. Savory, of Warrington, England. 'It has saved my wife's life she having been a martyr to bronchitis for over 6 years, being most of the time confined to her bed. She is now quite well." Sold by J. L. Harr.

Republican gains have been notable both in Kansas and Nebraska. This encouraging.

The Best Remedy for Rheumatism.

QUICK RELIEF FROM PAIN.

All who use Chamberlain's Pain Balm for rheumatism are de ighted with the quick relief from pain which it affords. When speaking of this Mr D. N. Sinks of Troy, Ohio, says: "Some time ago I had a severe attack of rheumatism in my arm and shoulder. I tried numerous remedies but got no relief until I was recommended by Messrs. Geo. F. Parsons & Co., druggists of this place, to try Chamberlain's Pain Balm. They recommended it so highly that I bought a bottle. I was soon relieved of all pain I have since recommended this liniment to many of my friends, who agree with me that it is the best remedy for muscular rheumatism in the market." For sale by J. L. Harr.

1,000,000 DEATHS!
From Cholera During the Past Year.

The Germs of this Fatal Disease are Lurking Everywhere! Thousands of Dollars Saved by this Wonderful Discovery.

Hundreds of thousands of dollars has been lost in the poultry business on account of the devastation among the flocks, caused by cholera, roup, gape and ather fatal diseases. There have been many remedies advanced but none seem to be so successful as the American Poultry Mixture. This will cure chickens in the last stages of cholera or roup, and is excellent for gapes. Do your fowls suffer from violent diarrhea, dropping of the wings, stupor or excessive thirst? These are the first symptoms of cholera Cholera is a germ disease and being infectious spreads rapidly through the entire flock. Take time by the forelock; don't stop to exreriment with unreliable or untried remedies. Use this mixture at once and the sanitary measures they recommend in connection. Don't give the fouls up. Cholera is a terrible disease, but this remedy cures it every time. It is also guaranteed for roup, which can be told by hoarse breathing, swelled eyes, discharge at the nostrils resembling catarrh. Fifty dollars is offered for any case the mixture will not cure. If some of your fowls are diseased it will prevent the rest from catchingit. Try it. It is cheap, reliable and effective; a scientific preparation; goes more than three times as far as any other remedy: does more good than all of them combined. It is used and indorsed by the most experienced and largest breeders of plain and fancy poultry in all parts of the world. The manufacturers guarantee every package or refund purchase money. If your druggist don't sell American Poultry mixture, he's behind the age. In that case send $1.00 for sample box to American Manufacturing Co., Terre Haute, Indiana,

That Throbbing Headache

Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and build up your health. Only 25c. Money back if not cured. Sold by Harr the druggist.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN ONE NIGHT.

Or to quickly cure La Grippe take "Week-Break-a-cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

A Horrible Outbreak.

"Of large sores on my little daughter's head developed into a case of scald head" writes C D. Isbill of Morganton, Tenn., but Bucklin's Arnica Salve completely cured her. It's a guaranteed cure for Eczema Tetter, Salt Rheum, Pimples, Sores, Ulcers and Piles. Only 25c at Harr's, the druggist

Spreads Like Wildfire.

When things are "the best" they become "the best selling'. Abraham Hare a leading druggist, of Belleville O., writes: "Electric Bitters are the best selling bitters I have handled in 20 yrs. You know why? Most diseases begin in disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, blood and nerves. Electric Bitters tones up the stomach, regulates liver, kidneys and bowels, purifies the blood, strengthens the nerves, hence cures multitudes of maladies It builds up the entire system Puts new life and vigor into any weak, sickly, run down man or woman. Price 50c. Sold by J. L. Harr, druggist.

AIELT RIEKENS,

PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER. GERMAN OR ENGLISH.

Will cry Sales and guarante satisfaction
Fine Stock Sales a specialty.
Call on or address at

PAULSVILLE, IOWA

Kodol
Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you eat.

It artificially digests the food and aids Nature in strengthening and reconstructing the exhausted digestive organs. It is the latest discovered digestant and tonic. No other preparation can approach it in efficiency. It instantly relieves and permanently cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Flatulence, Sour Stomach, Nausea, Sick Headache, Gastralgia, Cramps and all other results of imperfect digestion.

Price 50c. and $1. Large size contains 2½ times small size. Book all about dyspepsia mailed free

Prepared by E. C. DeWITT & CO., Chicago

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME V. KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, MAY 10, 1900 NUMBER 38

B. C R. & N. TIME TABLE.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 708. B Pass.	7:55 p. m.
No. 796 A Stock	9:30 a m.
No. 742. B Freight	3:45 p. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 701. B Pass.	1:32 p. m.
No. 741. B Way freight	9:30 a. m.

B—Daily except Sunday
A—Daily except Monday

☞"Freight trains shown above will carry passengers only when provided with tickets."

F. G. REESE, Local Agt.

WM. H. HUGHES
LAWYER.

Accounts and notes collected. Practice in all courts. Office in Schuler block.

GARNER, IOWA.

JAMES YOUNG
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER.

Will cry sales and guarantee satisfaction, 15 years experience. Dates and terms at office of Klemme TIMES.

Telephone or address

Garner, Iowa.

J. N. SPROLE,
REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND ABSTRACTS.

Titles examined and corrected, Taxes paid, etc.

GARNER - - - IOWA.

A. L. SPOONER.
Physician and Surgeon.

Office first door west of Shafer & Dow's Store. Residence just back of the German Reform Church. Office hours 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.

Klemme, Iowa.

A. SNYDER,
DRAYMAN.

Having purchased the Bartholomew dray line I solicit a share of your work. Prompt attention given to all work: Charges reasonable.

KLEMME, IOWA.

JOHN BAUMGARTNER.
PROPRIETOR OF
CITY BARBER SHOP.
AN EASY SHAVE. - -
A SATISFIED CUSTOMER
FIRST DOOR EAST OF LAU BROS.
KLEMME, IOWA.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE BETWN
DAUBING AND PAINTING.

We understand our business and guarantee our work.

JOE MILLER,
PAINTER and DECORATOR.

Hello There!
Where are you going?

To Pietzke's Blacksmith Shop, for he's the man to go to for good work and at right prices. At the old stand.

Klemme, Iowa.

JOHN JOSTEN
PHOTOGRAPHER
Gallery Fitted For Finest Work

In Miniature and Cabinet Sizes. Enlarging, View and Copying.
PHOTO BUTTONS A SPECIALTY.
☞Give me a call
KLEMME - IOWA.

Republican County Convention.

The republican voters of Hancock county will meet in delegate convention at Garner, Iowa, on Saturday, June 2nd, 1900 at 1 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of selecting delegates to a state convention to be called, and also to select delegates to a judicial convention to be called and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

The basis of representation in said convention will be one delegate for each township and one for each twenty votes or major fraction thereof cast for L. M. Shaw for governor at the general election held November 7, 1899. The townships will be entitled to representation as follows:

Amsterdam	7	Ell	5
Avery	7	Erin	5
Britt	21	Garfield	3
Bingham	5	German	4
Boone	4	Magor	8
Corwith Precinct 2		Madison	5
Concord	12	Orthel	5
Crystal	6	Twin Lakes	4
Ellington	7.

It is recommended that the different townships hold their caucuses on Saturday, May 26, 1900.

F. E. BLACKSTONE,
Chairman.

COUNTY ATTORNEY.

I hereby announce mysely a candidate for County Attorney, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the primaries.

J. E. WICHMAN.

COUNTY RECORDER.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for renomination to the office of County Recorder of Hancock county, Iowa, subject to the Republican Primaries of 1900.

OLE PETERLON.

COUNTY AUDITOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-nomination to the office of County Auditor subject to the decision of the Republican Primaries.

E. F. BRUMMUND:

CLERK OF DISTRICT COURT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-nomination to the office of Clerk of the District Court of Hancock county, Iowa, subect to the Republican Primaries of 1900.

L. D. WOMELDORF.

Ordinance No. 14

An Ordinance Providing for the Bnildiug of Sidewalk, viz:

Be it ordained by the town council of the Incorporated Town of Klemme, Iowa.

SEC. I. That a side walk four feet wide be built on South side of one acre and South side of two rod alleyway west of railroad, all in south one-fifth of south-west quarter of south-east quarter in section No. (30) thirty, township No. (95) ninty-five, range No. (23) twenty-three, thence east across railroad right of way and on south side of block 12 in Barz addition to Klemme, Iowa, ending at a point in line with the east line of Block No. (2,) two, Original Town of Klemme, Iowa. Also on east side of blocks (2) two, (4) four and (7) seven, Original Town of Klemme, Iowa, and each lot thereof.

SEC. II. That said side walk in front of said blocks and each lot thereof, be made of inch boards, four (4) feet long, laid cross wise on (3) three stringers of two (2) by fours (4's). The owners of all lots abutting thereon to-wit: All lots fronting on said walks so ordered built, are required to build said sidewalks within thirty days from the publication of this ordinance, and on failure so to do, the same will be built by the street commissioner, and the costs thereof will be assessed and taxed against said lots as provided in Ordinance No. [5] five.

SEC. III. This ordinance shall take effect and be in force from and after its publication in the Klemme TIMES.

Passed, adopted and approved this 7th day of May, 1900.

HENRY TERHUFEN.
E. P. DOW, CLERK. Mayor.

"Is is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I reccommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy," says druggist Sawtelle, of Hartford, Conn. "A lady customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale on my show case, said to me, "I really believe that remedy saved my life the past summer while at the shore,' and she became so enthusiastic over its merits that I at oncemade up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once ta the floor I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my ttore smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever. At Harr's,

NEW CHAIR CAR SERVICE.

Between Watertown, Ellsworth and Chicago via. B. C. R. & N. Ry. Commencing Sunday Nov. 19th, a free reclining chair car will be placed on trains Nos. 608 and 605 between Watertown and Chicago by the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. This car leaves. Watertown daily, except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. arriving at Chicago 7:59 the following morning. This car runs to and from Sioux Falls Sundays, thus giving daily chair car service between Ellsworth and Chicago. Passengers going east from Chicago will have ample time to make any transfers to connect with all morning eastern trains.

These trains are very fast, and, with this new additional service, passengers can feel assured of first class accommodations. JNO. G. FARMER,
Cedar Rapids, Ia.

TORTURED A WITNESS.

Intense suffering was endured by witness T L Martin of Dixie, Ky., before he gave this evidence. "I coughed every night until my throat was nearly raw; then tried Dr. Kings New Discovery which gave instant relief. I have used it in my family for nearly 4 years and recommend it as the greatest remedy for coughs colds and all throat, chest and lung troubles. It will stop the worst cough and not onlyprevents but absolutely cures consumption. Price 50c and $1. Harr's.

VEBY LOW RATES.

The B C R & N Ry will make very low rates to Sioux Fall, S. D. for the A O U W meeting in June. Call on your ticket agent for rates, limits etc and see that your tickets read via this line. Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia.—jun12

A KEEN CLEAR BRAIN.

Your Best feelings, your social position or business success depends largely upon your stomach and lfver. Dr. King's New Life Pills give increased strength, a keen clear brain, high ambition. A 25c box will make you feel like a new being. At Harr's,

Republican gains have been notable both in Kansas and Nebraska. This encouraging.

Ladies

We have just received an entirely new line of Shirt Waists and Wrappers---Sure to Please.

NEW PRINTS
CAMBRICS
PERCALES
FANCY WHITE
DRESS GOODS

Gentlemen,

Those neat, Nobby Hats you see were purchased of Shafer & Dow, who Keep the biggest Stock and Newest Styles.

Yours to please.

Shafer & Dow

KLEMME.

Our Millinery Department

is a success. Our low Prices and Correct Styles are the Keystone to our success.

We have just received a shipment of Mens' Summer Suits and Extra Pants.

E. P. SCHAEFER,
Klemme, Iowa

POSITIONS SECURED!

We aid those who want Government positions. 85,000 places under Civil Service Rules. 8000 yearly appointments. Prepares by mail for all Government examinations. Fees cash or instalments. A thorough and scientific course in all departments. Requires spare time only, Salaries twice as much as private firms for the same kind of work. The hours of labor are short, duties light, positions for life. Take our course of study and we guarantee that you will pass the Civil Service Examinations. Write, inclosing stamp, for our catalogue describing course to

BUREAU OF CIVIL SERVICE INSTRUCTION, WASHINGTON, D. C.

It Costs you Nothing

To examine our Complete Stock of Building Material and be convinced that you cannot do better elsewhere.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO.
L. G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST. ....SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

WALL PAPER,

Paints, Oils, Alabastine, Window Shades and Everything used to Decorate and Beautify the Home.

WATCHES, CLOCKS and JEWELRY.

DRUGGISTS' SUNDRIES. J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

BISHOPS TAKEN TO TASK.

The Laity Would Limit Their Emoluments.

SHARP CRITICISMS WERE MADE

They Are Charged with Refusing Their Services Where Needed and Blamed for Lack of Increase in Members—Committees Appointed.

Chicago, May 7.—The day's exercises of the Methodist quadrennial conference began in the Auditorium with devotions led by the Rev. Fayette L. Thompson. The prayer of the day was by the presiding bishop. The song service was led by the Rev. H. J. Cozine, percentor of the conference.

The business session began with Bishop J. M. Walden presiding. The calling of the roll of conferences was resumed. Questions were brought up and debated on the floor.

In the afternoon committee meetings were held as follows: Book Concern at Studebaker building; missions, audience room of First Methodist church; education, audience room of Wabash Avenue Methodist church; church extension, lecture room of First church; Sunday schools, 57 Washington street; Freedmen's Aid, Wabash Avenue church.

The conference dropped suddenly into the midst of the stirring questions that are to come before it, when, among the memorials presented there came from Clayton W. Wilson of Iowa a resolution denying to bishops and other general conference officers some of the emoluments they have been receiving in their offices. The question came to debate and final settlement on the floor, and the resolution was almost unanimously adopted. The bishops, who have no voice in the conference debates, sat on the platform and heard in silence criticisms and defenses of themselves as the delegates discussd the issue. The resolution as finally adopted was as follows: "Resolved, That no bishop or general conference officer should receive anything above actual expenses for his services in the dedication and reopening of churches, attending commencements of our educational institutions, and such other like services as he may render the church." Upon this question the house divided, the majority being in favor of placing this safeguard over the highest officers of the church. Those who objected took the ground that it was an uncalled-for reflection on the bishops and officers. Criticisms of the bishops did not become personal, but ministers in the audience testified that they could not get the services of a bishop in their conferences because of the miscellaneous duties which occupied the bishop. Mr. Wilson included in his motion also a provision that the book committee should compensate the officers of the church liberally. This part was soon withdrawn and the discussion was on the other point. Dr. J. M. Buckley of New York was the first speaker. He said: "For a bishop to refuse a call to attend a church dedication unless he is paid a certain sum I declare before high heaven and in the presence of this great conference is a prostitution of a most high calling." Dr. Buckley, as editor of the New York Christian Advocate, is a "conference officer." He explained that he did not expect perquisites. He said that there were honest perquisites, and upon hearing the word "honest" repeated ironically he turned upon the speaker and insisted that in the ministerial profession there are honest perquisites. He then discussed marriage fees.

Ira S. Locke of Portland, Me., made one of the most radical speeches. "In twenty-five years," he said, "there has been a bishop in our conference just four times, outside of attendance at annual conferences. Why are we not increasing in numbers? Because our bishops have miscellaeous duties." J. H. Potts, editor of the Michigan Christian Advocate, an independent Methodist paper, said he had recently been severely criticised by one of the bishops for allowing a letter to appear in his paper calling attention to this state of affairs. He had letters, he said, showing that the editors of the official papers had refused to print such criticisms. Excitement during this discussion reached the highest point manifested so far in the conference. There were speakers who said it was known that the bishops had received emoluments. From the bishops' standpoint nothing was heard after the session was over. Bishop Merrill then expressed himself in an interview as follows: "The expenses of the bishops in traveling to dedications and commencements at denominational colleges should be paid out of the general church treasury. By this plan weaker churches and organizations would have no cause to complain that they are neglected by the general superintendents. The small church needs the help of the bishop in its dedication more than a larger one. Extra fees that I may have had have hardly more than balanced extra expenses."

Presiding Elder Frank Hardin of the Rock River conference took the position that the bishops and book agents are not the real sinners. The ministers, he said, who offer these "bribes" to the bishops and officers should be looked after.

The condition of the official papers of the church will be thoroughly investigated by a committee appointed in the morning at the general session. The conference expressed itself on the Sunday question by adopting a resolution recognizing with gratitude the action of the president of the United States in directing that American exhibits at the Paris exposition be closed on Sunday. The investigation into the condition of theological seminaries undoubtedly will bring out a fight between the conservatives and progressives, centered about Prof. H. C. Mitchell of Boston university, who is being objected to because of his leaning toward higher criticism

The storm centers during this conference, as in previous conferences, are the committees on episcopacy, book concern, Epworth league and itinerancy.

Various standing committees were organized during the afternoon as follows:

On Itinerancy—Chairman, Dr. S. F. Upham; secretary, H. T. Decker.

On State of Church—Chairman, ex-Gov. R. E. Pattison; secretary, the Rev. E. J. Gray.

On Revisals—Chairman, Dr. J. E. C. Sawyer, Troy, N. Y.; secretary, Charles A. Goss, northern Nebraska.

On Temperance—Chairman, Prof. Samuel J. Dickey of Michigan; secretary, T. W. Bashford, Ohio.

On Episcopacy—Chairman, Dr. J. M. Buckley, New York; secretary, J. W. E. Bowen, Georgia.

On Epworth League—Chairman, Royal S. Copeland, Michigan; secretary, J. Irving Penn, Atlanta.

On Temporal Economy—Chairman, Dr. J. M. King, New York; secretary, Prof. Solon C. Bronson, Evanston.

The Sunday School Union and Tract society held an anniversary meeting in Studebaker Hall. The evening was devoted to addresses on the Sunday school and on tracts, which proved far from dry.

BIG TANKS BLOWN UP.

Thousands of Gallons of Blazing Varnish Hurled Skyward.

New York, May 7.—Explosion after explosion followed the breaking out of a fire in the extensive Standard varnish works at Elm Park, Staten island, shortly after midnight this morning. Vast tanks of varnish were blown to pieces, and the blazing material, hurled high into the air, made a pyrotechnic display that was wonderful to behold. The damage was $150,000. After a hard fight of four hours the firemen saved the main plant of the works.

The flames started from an unknown cause. There was an explosion that shook buildings for a radius of a mile. The flames spread rapidly. Fire engines from Port Richmond were soon on the scene, and a general alarm was sent in, calling all of the apparatus from the north shore of Staten island. Within an hour four of the big tanks had blown up. Each of these tanks contained 5,... gallons of material. The firemen were driven back again and again, but kept up their efforts to save the buildings of the plant. These are of brick, one-story high and cover several acres.

Fire tugs from the Standard Oil works at Bayonne were early ordered to the scene, but they could not approach the main blaze, and they were compelled to confine their efforts to keeping burning oils from floating down the slips to points where ships and boats were tied up.

Time and again the oils were carried to the tugs, which had to turn their hose upon each other to save themselves. To have let the fire escape down the slips would have not only endangered the docks and boats along the Staten island shore, but under the influence of the current the blaze might have been carried across the coal docks and oil works in Bayonne.

Eight of the new tanks blew up within two hours. Each explosion threw the burning contents in every direction and repeatedly endangered the lives of the firemen and sent the fire among the buildings.

The flames upon the water finally communicated to and destroyed the docks and some of the smaller buildings out near the water's edge in the vicinity of the varnish works.

Victoria Aids Fire Sufferers.

London, May 7.—Queen Victoria has contributed 500 guineas and the prince of Wales 250 guineas to the Mansion House Ottawa fire relief fund. Another Ottawa fire-relief fund was opened at Glasgow, and about £2,000 was subscribed in a few hours.

Snow at Ashtabula, Ohio.

Ashtabula, Ohio, May 7.—Snow has fallen and ice formed in this section of Ohio. Fruit growers, however, state positively that the peach crop is not injured seriously.

HE WINS NOTABLE FIGHT.

Judge Haney the Probable Republican Candidate for Governor.

Chicago, May 5.—Judge Haney has won the gubernatorial contest in Cook county. He had 338 delegates certain this morning and his managers claim 400 or more when they go to Peoria. Three hundred are enough to secure the nomination.

The Lorimer-Smyth machine won the county fight, controlling 742 of 1,115 delegates. They agreed in caucus at 5 o'clock this morning to postpone the county convention until after the state convention. A fight of extermination against Pease-Hertz-Busse-Raymond-Carter and their allies will be carried on until after the state and county conventions are held.

JUDGE HANECY.

Advices from state leaders at 4 o'clock stated that Judge Hanecy will be nominated even if he brings no more than 300 Cook county delegates to Peoria. Congressman Henry S. Boutell was renominated in the Sixth district at a convention held at North Side Turner hall this morning. George Struckman and Stacy W. Osgood nominated for the state legislature from the seventh senatorial district.

FIRE MEMORIAL IS DEDICATED

Chapel Marks the Site of the Bazaar Disaster in Paris.

Paris, May 5.—The chapel on the Rue Jean Goujon, built in memory of the victims of the charity bazaar fire, was dedicated this morning by Cardinal Richard, archbishop of Paris. The ceremony was deeply impressivee. Just two years ago today the terrible fire broke out in the crowded bazaar, causing one of the most terrible tragedies Paris has ever known. On the spot where the catastrophe took place now stands a handsome little chapel, whose dome is surmounted by a golden statue of St. John. The building only holds between 300 and 400 persons. Thus very few were admitted this morning. The family of each victim of the fire received two tickets. Several hundreds of people waited in the narrow street to see the heavily veiled mourners enter the little echapel. The mourners were followed by nuns, who took the places during the service of those who had been praying in the chapel since early morning.

AUSTRIAN EMPEROR IN BERLIN

Great Crowds Cheer the Monarch's Entry Into the Capital.

Berlin, May 5.—Magnificent weather greeted the entrance of the Austrian emperor into the German capital city today. Not a cloud was in the sky and the immense crowds enjoyed the splendid weather, which brought out into the streets every one who could manage to go sight-seeing.

The spectacle was one of imposing splendor. Opposite the beautiful Brandenburg gate, with its five entrances, had been erected a picturesque arch of triumph. Here the mayor and city dignitaries awaited the emperor. At 9:30 Prince Henry passed down Unter den Linden and was heartily cheered.

Gold Democrats Routed.

Des Moines, Iowa, May 5.—The advocates of 16 to 1 routed all opposition in the Democratic state convention here. A strong pro silver platform was adopted and the delegates to Kansas City were instructed for Bryan and to vote as a unit on all propositions: The following were elected delegates: For delegates at large to the Kansas City convention—Cato Sells of Vinton, Charles A. Walsh of Ottumwa, John S. Murphy of Dubuque, George Baker of Davenport. Alternates—Edward B. Evans of Des Moines, Avan Wagenen of Sioux City, L. T. Genung of Mills county, Daniel P. Stubbs of Fairfield.

Dr. Vincent's Violent Death.

Detroit, Mich., May 7.—Dr. Edward E. Vincent was run down and killed by a trolley car while trying to cross the tracks on his bicycle. So tightly was his body pinned under the framework of the forward car truck that a lifting jack was required to release it. His wife, daughter of Dr. George Harding of Chicago, called at the morgue, but was not permitted to see the body. Dr. Vincent's father is living in Springfield, Ill., and his brother is Judge Vincent of Chicago. In 1893 Dr. Vincent was surgeon to the expedition of Lieutenant Peary and was with him in the arctic regions for two years.

Try Grain-o! Try Grain-o!

Ask your grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it, like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. One-fourth the price of coffee. 15c. and 25c. per package. Sold by all grocers.

Biography shows a man as he really is and autobiography shows him as he thinks he is.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.
The Kind You Have Always Bought.

The proper size for a lazy individual is exercise.

Many causes induce gray hair, but PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM brings back the youthful color.
HINDERCORNS, the best cure for corns. 15cts.

Love is a disease of which the physicians know nothing.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

History has to repeat itself because people are so forgetful.

Are You Using Allen's Foot-Ease?

It is the only cure for Swollen, Smarting, Burning, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

The woman that puts paint on her face fools about as many men as the one that pads out her hips.

A Book of Choice Recipes
Sent free by Walter Baker & Co. Ltd., Dorchester, Mass. Mention this paper.

Too many people want to paddle their own canoe by proxy.

The average man makes a different kind of a fool of himself each day.

The secret of feminine diplomacy is to know how and when to tell a secret.

A bill to punish wife-beaters was defeated in the Virginia legislature. One of its opponents, Representative Powell, of Brunswick county, declared that in his district the wives needed restraint, as many of them regularly chastise their husbands, and keep clubs and whips in easy reach, just for that purpose.

DR. HARTMAN'S ADVICE

Is Sought by Female Sufferers from Ocean to Ocean.

Mrs. F. W. Goulder, 1306 4th ave., Rock Island, Ill., writes:

"I was afflicted for five or six years with catarrhal difficulties and was growing worse all the time. I began taking your Peruna with a marked improvement from the first. Independent of curing that, the Peruna has greatly improved my general health."

"Every bottle of Peruna is worth its weight in gold; especially to me, for I owe my present good health to Peruna."

All over the country there are women who have been invalids for many years, suffering with female derangements which the family doctor cannot cure.

What a boon to such women is Dr. Hartman's free advice! So famous has his skill made him that hardly a hamlet or town in the country but knows his name. He cures tens of thousands, and he offers to every woman who will write to him her symptoms and a history of her trouble free advice and treatment.

The medicines he prescribes can be obtained at any drug store, and the cost is within the reach of any woman. He describes minutely and carefully just what she shall do and get to make a healthy, robust woman of herself.

The Doctor has written a book especially for this class of women, entitled "Health and Beauty." This book contains many facts of interest to women, and will be sent free to any address by Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O.

Gained 45 Pounds

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I was very thin and my friends thought I was in consumption.

"Had continual headaches, backache and falling of uterus, and my eyes were affected.

"Every one noticed how poorly I looked and I was advised to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"One bottle relieved me, and after taking eight bottles am now a healthy woman; have gained in weight from 95 pounds to 140; everyone asks what makes me so stout."—MRS. A. TOLLE, 1946 Hilton St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. Pinkham has fifty thousand such letters from grateful women.

The famous gardens of Versailles have cost £8,000,000.

Piso's Cure cannot be too highly spoken of as a cough cure.—J. W. O'BRIEN, 322 Third Ave., N., Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 6, 1900.

But few men have self-confidence enough to argue with a pretty woman.

Sweat and fruit acids will not discolor goods dyed with PUTNAM FADELESS DYES.

A Liverpool physician has discovered the bacillus of pink-eye in horses.

$20.00 A WEEK AND EXPENSES to agents selling our household goods. Sell on sight. Write C. H. Marshall & Co., Chicago.

Every woman knows more than a man does, so she thinks.

Hall's Catarrh Cure
Is a constitutional cure. Price, 75c.

Character is determined by what we say no to.

Do Your Feet Ache and Burn?

Shake into your shoes Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It makes tight or New Shoes feel Easy. Cures Corns, Bunions, Swollen, Hot and Sweating Feet. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

A man is never in serious trouble till all his enemies are dead.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Book of testimonials and 10 DAYS' treatment FREE. DR. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Box E, Atlanta, Ga.

PENSION JOHN W. MORRIS, Washington, D.C. Successfully Prosecutes Claims. Late Principal Examiner U.S. Pension Bureau. 3 yrs in civil war, 15 adjudicating claims, atty since.

J. THOMPSON & SONS LIMITED. MANUFACTURERS GENUINE NORWEGIAN PLOW. WILL SCOUR IN ANY SOIL. THREE WHEEL SULKY PLOWS, CULTIVATORS, HARROWS. BELOIT, WIS.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 & 3.50 SHOES UNION MADE.

Worth $4 to $6 compared with other makes. Indorsed by over 1,000,000 wearers. The genuine have W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on bottom. Take no substitute claimed to be as good. Your dealer should keep them—if not, we will send a pair on receipt of price and 25c. extra for carriage. State kind of leather, size, and width, plain or cap toe. Cat. free. W. L. DOUGLAS SHOE CO., Brockton, Mass.

WE USE FAST COLOR EYELETS

IN 3 OR 4 YEARS AN INDEPENDENCE ASSURED

160 ACRE FARMS IN WESTERN CANADA FREE

If you take up your homes in Western Canada, the land of plenty. Illustrated pamphlets, giving experiences of farmers who have become wealthy in growing wheat, reports of delegates, etc., and full information as to reduced railway rates can be had on application to the Superintendent of Immigration, Department of Interior, Ottawa, Canada, or to N. Bartholomew, 306 Fifth St., Des Moines, Iowa.

W. N. U., Des Moines, No. 19.—1900

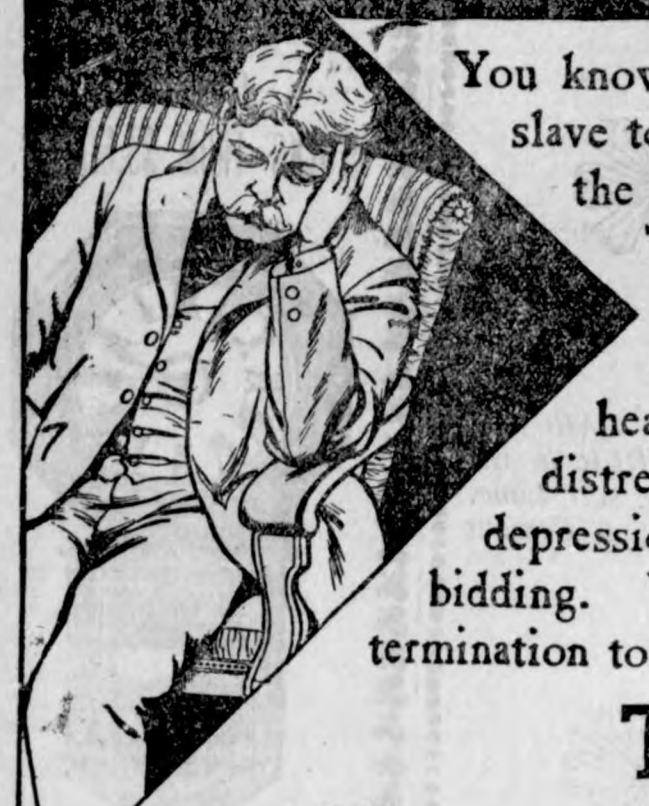
DON'T PAY THREE PROFITS

No. 199 BUGGY $37.20.

If you are going to pay for a carriage why not pay the least you can for the best vehicle? Get all you can in material and workmanship—pay as little as you can for handling and extras. You save the jobber's commission and the retailer's profit when you buy direct from the factory. You pay the cost of making with one moderate profit added. We are not agents but manufacturers and dealers in buggies, carriages, surreys phaetons, wagons, harness. Everything guaranteed. With our illustrated catalogue you can order easily and safely. If what you order does not suit, send it back and we will pay the freight both ways. First, get the catalogue. You are welcome to a copy.

BROWN CARRIAGE COMPANY, DEPT. X, - - - DES MOINES, IOWA

OVERWORK



You know all about it. You are a perfect slave to your work. It's rush through the day and worry through the night. There's no time to eat and no time to sleep. Already you have nervous dyspepsia, nervous sick headache, and neuralgia. Your food distresses you. You suffer from terrible depression. The outlook is dark and forbidding. You feel sure there is but one termination to this—

That's Nervous Prostration

And nervous prostration is something you don't want, that's certain. Then don't have it. A perfect Sarsaparilla prevents this distressing and dangerous disease, and it cures it, also. It keeps you up when especially pressed with work. It cures dyspepsia, and it builds up exhausted nerve tissue. But it must be a perfect Sarsaparilla to do this. So far as we can learn, there isn't but one in the world, and

That's AYER'S

"The only Sarsaparilla made under the personal supervision of three graduates: a graduate in pharmacy, a graduate in chemistry, and a graduate in medicine."

$1.00 a bottle. All Druggists.

"I first used Ayer's Sarsaparilla in the fall of 1848. I came out of the Mexican War run down in health and badly used up. It did me so much good then that I have always taken it every spring as a blood-purifying medicine. I attribute my robust health at 78 to the use of your Sarsaparilla every spring." —S. T. Jones, Wichita, Kans., March 29, 1900.

BILE IN THE BLOOD

No matter how pleasant your surroundings, health, good health, is the foundation for enjoyment. Bowel trouble causes more aches and pains than all other diseases together, and when you get a good dose of bilious bile coursing through the blood life's a hell on earth. Millions of people are doctoring for chronic ailments that started with bad bowels, and they will never get better till the bowels are right. You know how it is—you neglect—get irregular—first suffer with a slight headache—bad taste in the mouth mornings, and general "all gone" feeling during the day—keep on going from bad to worse untill the suffering becomes awful, life loses its charms, and there is many a one that has been driven to suicidal relief. Educate your bowels with CASCARETS. Don't neglect the slightest irregularity. See that you have one natural, easy movement each day. CASCARETS tone the bowels—make them strong—and after you have used them once you will wonder why it is that you have ever been without them. You will find all your other disorders commence to get better at once, and soon you will be well by taking—

THE IDEAL LAXATIVE

Cascarets

CANDY CATHARTIC

BEST FOR THE BOWELS

10c. 25c. 50c.

ALL DRUGGISTS

To any needy mortal suffering from bowel troubles and too poor to buy CASCARETS we will send a box free. Address Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago or New York, mentioning advertisement and paper. 421

DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION

State Convention Nominates Delegates to Kansas City.

Des Moines, May 4.—The democratic state convention to elect delegates to the national convention in Kansas City was called to order in the auditorium by Chairman G. A. Hoffman, of the state central committee. The entire quota of delegates, 1,066, were in attendance and nearly every prominent democrat in the state was present. After invocation by Dr. H. O. Breeden, of Des Moines, J. B. Sullivan was introduced as temporary chairman. Mr. Sullivan delivered an exhaustive address which was greeted with applause by the convention, which was distinctly Bryan and free silver in its aspect. Mr. Sullivan greeted the convention as being the representative of a party that never faltered, congratulated them on past achievements and assured them these would continue in the future. He argued eloquently for the reaffirmation of the Chicago platform, with the silver issue as the leading issue. He denounced trusts and combinations and urged legislation against them. While discussing trusts, he quoted a large number of statistics, showing difference in prices under the different financial systems. He was confident democracy could handle the question. The speaker spoke against the policy of the administration of carrying on the war in the orient, denouncing it as imperialism. He said the flag should go to protect, but with it should go the constitution to insure. Mr. Sullivan advocated free trade and severely denounced the Porto Rican tariff bill and criticized congress and the president for enacting the law which made it possible. In closing the speaker paid a very high tribute to Bryan, urging that Iowa support him in the coming presidential election.

Mayor Douglas Deremore, of Waukon, was permanent chairman. He said:

"To be called upon to preside over a convention of the great democratic party of Iowa is indeed an honor for which I am truly grateful. Accept my sincere thanks for the preference shown me. I wish to speak of South Africa. Liberty is dear to the Boers. Worse than trusts and combinations is the combination in which the queen of England and the president of the United States are the chief conspirators. It is a combination that William Bryan will demolish. Bryan will never hobnob with royalty."

The following were chosen delegates at large: Cato Sells, Vinton; Chas. A. Walsh, Ottumwa; John S. Murphy, Dubuque; Geo. T. Baker, Davenport. The alternates at large: A. Van Wagenen, Sioux City; L. T. Genung, Hastings; E. B. Evans, Des Moines; D. P. Stubbs, Fairfield.

The following district delegates were chosen:

First, W. T. Keele, Lee, and H. L. Troop, Henny; Second, Alf Herst, Jackson, and J. G. VanLint, Muscatine; Third, A. M. Potter, Bremer, and J. H. Howell, Wright; Fourth, W. J. Reinke, Cerro Gordo, and A. J. Anders, Fayette; Fifth, Thos. Emmett, Grundy, and E. C. Holt, Jones; Sixth, Thomas Kelly, Keokuk, and Dr. Gurrell, Painesville; Seventh, A. L. Dabney, Madison, and J. S. Cunningham, Marion; Eighth, W. T. Davis, Fremont, and Walter Duvey, Lucas; Ninth, E. H. Bickford, Adair, and J. W. Kelly, Pottawattamie; Tenth, Chas. Bullock, Crawford, and E. J. Murtaah, Kossuth; Eleventh, J. M. Parsons, Lyon, and Wm. Mulvaney, Cherokee.

The platform is as follows:

The democracy of Iowa invite the co-operation of all friends of civil and personal liberty, and of equal rights, and who are in favor of the maintenance of constitutional government as founded by the fathers, and make the following declaration of principles in support thereof:

1.—We reaffirm our unqualified allegiance to the principles set forth in the democratic national platform adopted at Chicago in 1896, and recognizing William J. Bryan as the greatest living exponent of said principles we demand his nomination as the standard bearer of democracy.

2.—We are opposed to the single gold standard and denounce the action of congress in attempting to establish it, and in retiring the greenback currency in circulation and in surrendering the sovereign power of the government over to the money power of the country and the placing of this power in the hands of banking corporations.

3.—We denounce trusts and combinations in restraint of trade and the protective policy of the republican party upon which they are founded and demand legislation that will relieve the people from their burdens promptly, thoroughly and effectively.

4.—We deplore the adoption of the recent Porto Rican measure which the people and the press of all parties have branded as a violation of American pledges and of the constitution and as a stain upon American honor and we heartily commend the action of the house of representatives of the Twenty-eighth general assembly of the state of Iowa in adopting by unanimous vote a resolution opposing the Porto Rican tariff.

5.—We consider the imperialistic policy of this administration as fraught with danger to the best interests of our country and destructive to the principles of liberty guaranteed by the constitution and condemn its course toward the Philippine islands as un-American and contrary to the principles that our fathers maintained against the tyranny of Great Britain during the war of the revolution.

6.—We, as citizens of a republic, extend our sympathy to the citizens of the South African republics in the gallant fight they are making for the right of self-government, for life, liberty and home.

7.—We favor the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people.

The new state central committee is as follows: First district, N. C. Roberts, Lee county, new member; Second, C. G. Hipwell, Scott county, holdover; Third, E. M. Carr, Delaware county, re-elected; Fourth, D. A. Lyons, Howard county, new member; Fifth, A. E. Jackson, Tama county, holdover; Sixth, S. F. McConnell, Davis county, holdover; Seventh, G. A. Huffman, Polk county, re-elected; Eighth, W. R. Hart, Ringgold county; Ninth, E. H. Bickford, Adair county, holdover; Tenth, J. B. Romans, Crawford county, re-elected; Eleventh, F. T. Ward, Plymouth county, holdover.

The committee reorganized by electing George A. Huffman chairman to succeed himself; A. E. Jackson, of Tama, secretary; J. B. Romans of Denison, treasurer.

CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Washington, April 30.—Again today the question of expressing sympathy for the Boers was thrust upon the attention of the senate. This time it came up on a motion to proceed to the consideration of the resolution introduced by Pettigrew of South Dakota, which was before the senate last Saturday. The motion was defeated, 29 to 20.

HOUSE.

The house to-day passed the Lacey bill to enlarge the powers of the department of agriculture and to prohibit interstate commerce in game killed in violation of local laws. It authorizes the secretary of agriculture to provide for the introduction and restoration of game, song and insect destroying wild birds. It gives him the power to prevent the introduction of undesirable foreign birds and animals and prevent the killing of game in violation of state laws for concealed shipment to states where it can be sold in the open markets.

SENATE.

Washington, May 1.—After having been under consideration more than two months, the Alaskan civil code bill was passed by the senate to-day. Carter withdrew the amendment regarding alien location of mining claims and all other points in dispute. The army appropriation bill carrying supplies for the military establishment of more than $14,000,000 was taken up. The bill had not been completed when the senate adjourned.

HOUSE.

The house today took up the Nicaragua canal bill. The entire day was spent in debate, and a vote will be taken tomorrow before adjournment.

SENATE

Washington, May 2.—Callinger, in an address declared the criticism by the United Veteran's Union of the government's pension policy to be unjust. An effort to bring up the Clark case failed. Mason made an address on his pure food bill. Consideration of the army appropriation bill was resumed. Pettigrew bitterly denounced the government for keeping the volunteers in service after their time had expired.

HOUSE.

The house to-day at the conclusion of the most stormy debate of the present session of congress, passed the Nicaragua canal bill by the overwhelming vote of 225 to 35. All attempts to retain in the bill the language of the original bill for the fortification of the canal and still further strengthen the language on that line were balked and the victory of Mr. Hepburn and the committee was complete. During the debate Cannon said that Hepburn's name had been mentioned as among the men who were promoting this bill in order to delay the canal. Hepburn declared if Cannon fathered the rumor he lied. Cannon declared Hepburn was trying to muddy the waters and escape, but Hepburn declared he was responsible for his utterances.

SENATE.

Washington, May 3.—The senate today adopted the motion of Hoar to take up the resolution of the committee on elections declaring that Clark of Montana was not duly elected to the senate and then postpone consideration of the question for a week. The army appropriation bill, after a rather spirited debate, was passed without division. The day closed with the passage of a number of private pension bills.

HOUSE.

The house, without division, passed the "free homes" bill, which has been pending before congress for a number of years. The bill provides that the government shall issue patents to actual bona fide settlers on agricultural lands of Indian reservations opened to settlement.

SENATE

Washington, May 4.—To-day's session of the senate was rendered especially notable by the passage, after a debate lasting only three hours, of the army reorganization bill. In military circles the measure is regarded as one of the most important of the present session. It practically revolutionizes the present staff arrangements of the army. The fortifications appropriation bill was passed as reported to the senate. It carries $7,773,128, an increase of $340,140 over the house measure.

HOUSE.

The house made fair progress today with the sundry civil appropriation bill, completing seventy-three of the 132 pages of the bill.

BRITISH PRESSING ADVANTAGE.

Troops Pushing Rapidly Forward to Head the Boers Off.

London, May 7.—Lord Roberts is evidently losing no time in following up the substantial advantage gained by the occupation of Brandfort, and his whole force is apparently moving on Winburg. The place mentioned in Lord Roberts's dispatch to the war office as "Nealwelket" cannot be found on the maps, and it is likely it is a cable error for "Near Vet Knop," in which General Ian Hamilton seems to be midway between Hout Nek and Winburg, and has thus got between Winburg and General Olivier's command from Wepener, which is occupying Thaba Patchoa, between Thaba N'Chu, Ladybrand and Winburg. The country is rough and suited for Boer tactics, so the British are liable to be considerably harrassed before they capture the stronghold.

SHIVELY AS BRYAN'S MATE.

Announces His Candidacy After Meeting Nebraska Leader.

South Bend, Ind., May 6.—Benjamin F. Shively, lifetime friend of Wm. J. Bryan and democratic nominee for governor of Indiana in 1896, announced his candidacy for vice president after a nine-hour secret conference with the Nebraskan here. The manner of his entrance into the race gives his candidacy the stamp of Bryan approval, and it is confidently predicted that if he needs assistance from the free silver leaders it will not be lacking.

FILIPINOS WIN AGAIN.

Kill Four and Wound Sixteen Americans at the Island of Panay.

Manila, May 4.—A dispatch from Iloilo reports that a desperate fight took place at Leanbano, in the center of the island of Panay. It appears a reconnoitering party of the twenty-sixth infantry were surrounded and four Americans killed and sixteen wounded and left on the field. The remainder of the soldiers had a narrow escape. Reinforcements were sent to Iloilo as soon as the news of the affair was received, whereupon the Filipinos retreated to their mountain stronghold.

General Otis Starts for Home.

Manila, May 6.—The United States transport Meade sailed for the United States at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon, with Major General Otis and two aides-de-camp on board. The warships in port fired a major general's salute as the steamer raised its anchor.

KOERNER BROS.....

CARRY A FULL LINE OF

Builders Hardware,

Tools, Hay Carriers and Tracks,
A fine line of Paints and Oils,
"Record" Bicycles.

GROCERIES, CHINAWARE, GLASSWARE

Every purchase you make of us invites you to another because of Fairness of Dealing, the quality of the Article, and the Lowness of prices.

BAISSEAU.

An Imported Percheron Stallion.

Weight abou 2000 pounds. A magnifficent horse in every way. You will make no mistake n you see him before promising elsewhere. He will be found at Terhufen's barn, Klemme, Wednesday's of each week.

$12 for colt to stand and suck.

BLACK DIAMOND.

THREE YEAR OLD COLT.

Black Diamond is a standard bred COACH. Fine style and action. Light enough for carriage, heavy enough for hard work. Te see him is to appreciate the horse. Weight 1120. At Terhufen's barn, Klemme, Wednesday of each week. At Blackwell's barn, Garner, Saturday's. $10 for colt to stand and suck.

O. H. CUMMINGS, Klemme, Iowa.

THE KLEMME TIMES

By G. L. WELLEMEYER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme, Iowa, as second class matter

GARNER.

Garner now has a Sunday mail.

Mrs Frank Cassill is improving after a long illness.

Bert Rhodes is home from Iowa Falls where he has been attending school.

Thos. A. Way of Britt, was transacting business at the hub Wednesday.

Capt. E. C. Collins is in Desmoines attending the republican state convention.

R. W. Allred returned Monday from California, and his health is improved

Rev. Martin, a traveling Evangelist is holding meetings at the German M. E. Church.

There was a temperance meeting at Bell Hall Friday night, but not a very good attendance.

Court adjourned Monday until the 15, at which time the business of the term will be concluded.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Gleason have moved to Dubuque, where he has purchased an interest in a barber shop.

Rev. Albertson, of the M. E. church was at Inwood, Iowa the, first of the week officiating at a funeral in his brother's family.

The court house lawn is now all covered with green and looks very beautiful. Everything will be ready to go in and hold court whenever Britt gets through with the dog-in-the-manger policy. What a mangy set they are to be sure.

We have the SCREENS,
You have the Flies;
You get our SCREENS,
And live pleasant lives,

We have the LARGEST stock of LUMBER in the county----also sell Lime, Plaster, Brick, & Cement

J. H.
Queal & Co.

C. G. BRACHER, Agent.

SPRING SALE OF

CLOCKS

NOW GOING ON.

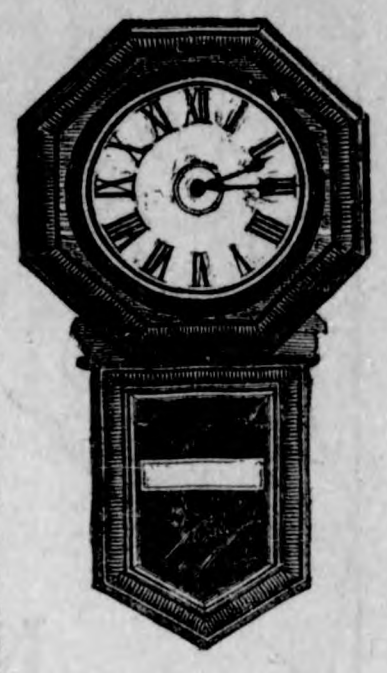
CLOCKS FROM $3.50 UP.



Notice!

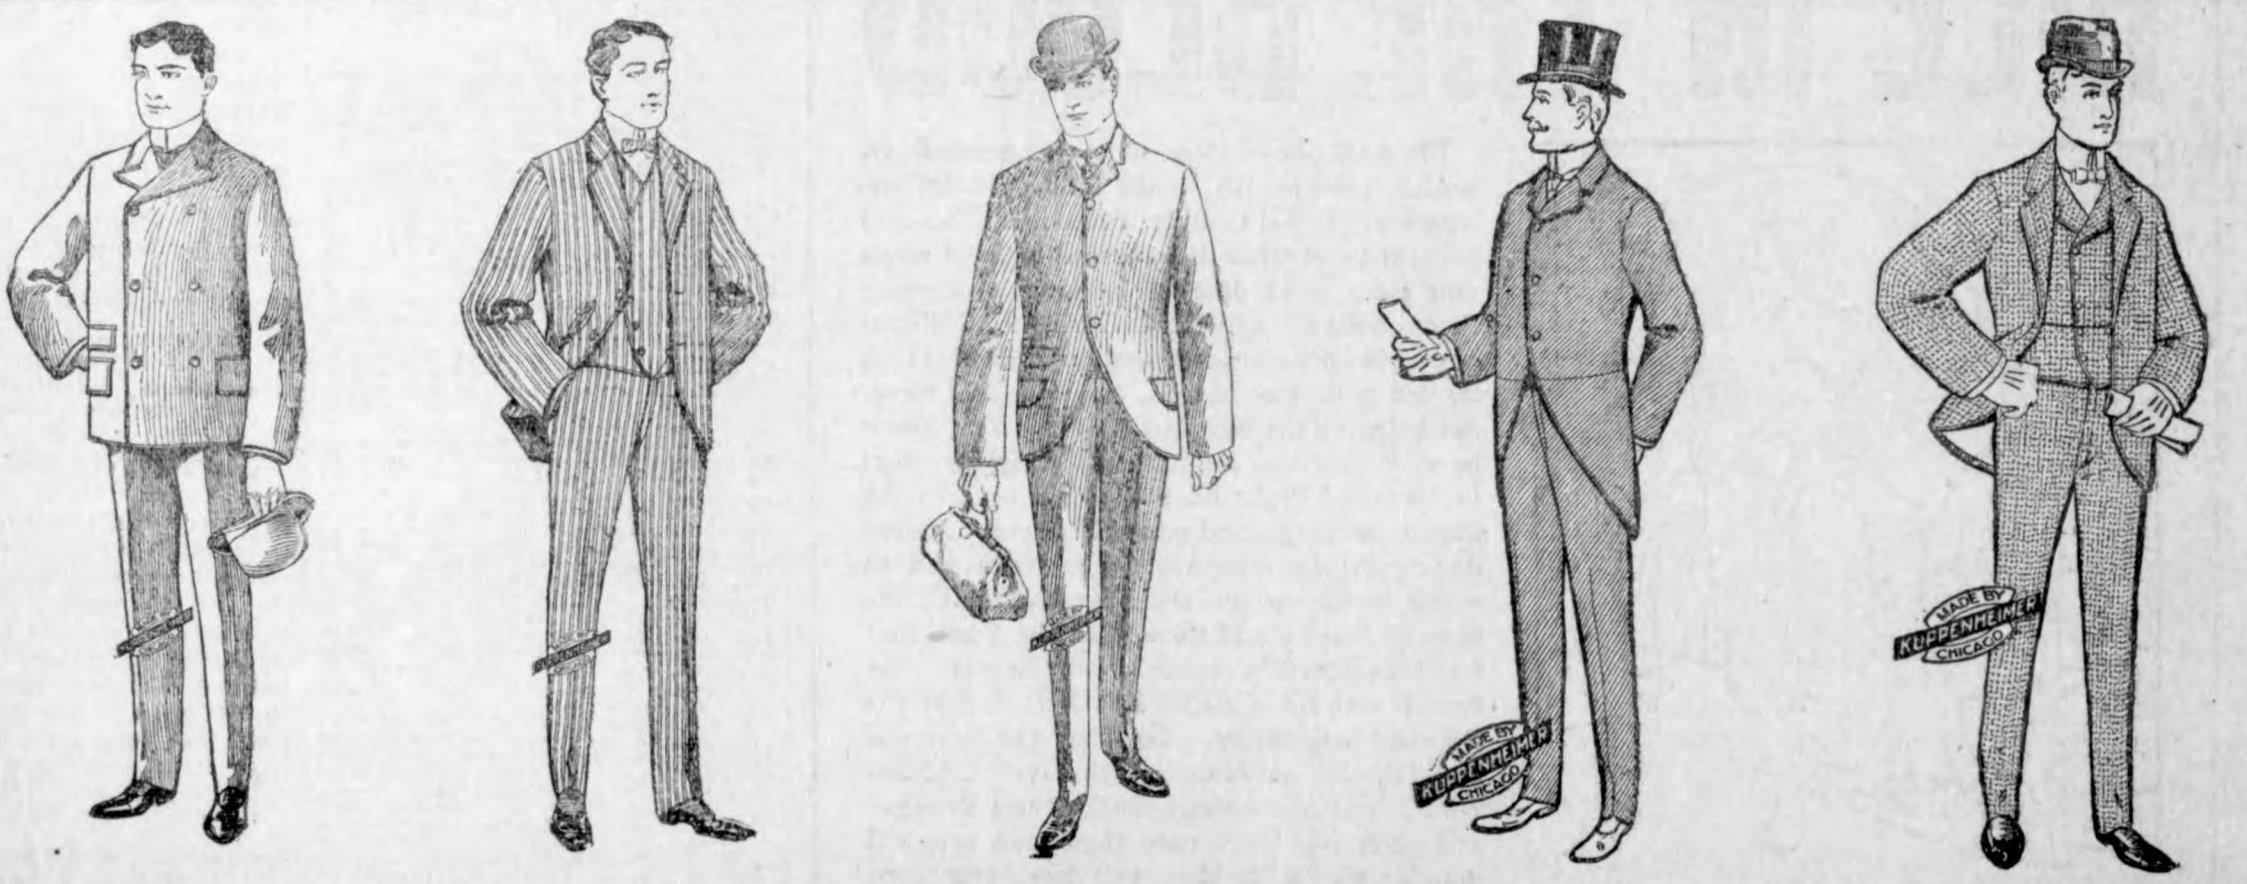
Monday and Tuesday we are out of town canvassing for the Rogers Bros. Silverware. Balance of the week at the shop.

CHAS. F. H. SUCKOW.

KATTER'S GARNER, IOWA. KATTER'S

GREAT CLOTHING SALE IS ON!

We wish to call your attention to the superiority of the Clothing we handle and we know that if you once try our clothing you will come again. This is not a Sale to dispose of shelf-worn, shoddy stock, but a RED LETTER SALE of the finest and best in the market, manufactured from the latest style fabrics, cut in style to suit.



The above are a few of the latest styles for men. We also carry a complete line of Furnishing goods. Suits from $5 to $20; your choice of any suit in the store for $15. Pants from $1.25 to $6.50; your choice for $5. We are selling Carpets at wholesale; this is not idle talk but truth. When you come to Garner come in, we will do you good Remember, that we have a splendid line of Dress Goods. Everything in Groceries and Provisions. $1 goes farther at our store than any other. Bring in your produce.

FRED KATTER, GARNER.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hogs wanted six days in the week. W. R. Bloom.

Rooms to rent—LAU BROS.

Choice seed potatoe s at G. W. Kluckhohn's.

E. P. Schaefer has a change in his advertisement.

Wm. Koerner returned yesterday from his Chicago trip.

Get your screen doors and windows of J. H. Queal & Co.

Isaac Sweigard was down from Garner last Saturbay on busines.

Owing to sickness and a rush of work we are one day late this week.

Joe Fotheringham was in this vicinity on professional business Tuesday.

A few settings of Buff Cochin eggs—pure bloods—75c per 15. H. E. Pietzke.

Buy your wall paper and paint at Harr's. Better and cheaper than ever. Reliable.

The heavy rainfall on Monday night was just what was needed for the growing crops.

FOR SALE:—Residence property in Barz addition to Klemme. Inquire of H. S. Swarz.

The Klemme hotel is to be beautified by the application of new paint, inside and out.

Mrs. S. Sage was down from Garner yesterday to visit a few hours with the editor's family.

A good second hand upright piano for sale.

E. P. SCHAEFER.

Mesdames Henry Gruetzmacher and E. P. Schaefer were at Belmond between trains yesterday.

Frank and Herman Stromer, John and Julius Henschen rode to Kanawha on their wheels last Sunday.

C. M. Best, a real estate dealer from Gary, S. D., visited with his sister, Mrs. Chas. Bracher, Tuesday.

Quite a number from here will see the Boston Bloomers play ball at Garner with Samvel A. Schneider's invincibles.

Herman Schneider of Garner, was in Klemme last Friday and Saturday, taking orders for the Cassill weather strip. He was successful, having sold nineteen.

Seed Corn. A few bushels of choice seed corn of the early white and calico variety. See samples at Gruetzmacher Bros. Store F. H. WELLEMEYER'S.

The latest styles in trimmed hats at very low prices; children's straw, tams, mull and silk hats from 15c up; baby bonnets very cheap.

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

Rev. Peterson started Monday morning for Kansas, the land of sun flowers and sockless men, for a couple of weeks visit with his parents, whom he has not seen for many years. No doubt he will have an ehjoyable time.

Great opportunity offered to good, reliable men. Salary of $15 per week and expenses for man with rig to introduce our Poultry Mixture and Insect Destroyer in the country. Send stamp, American Mfg. Co., Terre Haute Ind.

The city dads met in regular session Monday evening with all members present. Minutes of previous meetings were read and approved. A petition for a side walk, signed by H. E. Pietzke, C. C. Suckow, and E. P. Dow was presented and upon motion was accepted. Ordinance No. 14 was then passed by a full vote. No further business coming up the meeting adjourned.

Employment for the Summer

is now the question for many men; it is time to decide; you can make money selling our complete assortment of fruit and ornamental stock for fall delivery. Write for terms. Address:—The Jewel Nursery Co., Lake City, Minn. Established in '68. One thousand acres

Just step in and examine that elegant new line of lap robes, and dusters; the new single and double light harness; summer working and driving gloves; fly nets of every description. Eggs taken same as cash.

F. GRUETZMACHER,

The ladies of the English M. E. Church are nearly $12 richer from the proceeds of their supper Tuesday night. Those who did not go missed a charming supper and we hope they feel a little twinge of conscience because they stayed at home.

Mrs. Ridder, mother of Ridder Bros. of this place, and with whom she has made her home for some time, started last Friday for Fenton, where she will visit with her daughter. Adolph accompanied her as far as Garner and assisted her in changing cars.

The Epworth League elected officers for the ensuing year, at their last regular meeting as follows: Mrs. A. Kirkwood Pres. Mrs. Hawley, Vice Pres. First Vice President, John Baumgartner; Third V. P., A. Gibbs; Secretary, Clarice Gibbs; Treasurer Ed. Ell.

One of the out of town young men who habitually become intoxicated with the sweet smiles of one of our fair maids, should fasten his horse more securely or start home earlier. Last Sunday the horse got tired waiting and went home, leaving Mr y. m. to walk.

In another column you will notice that J. E. Wichman, Ole Peterson, E. F. Brummund and L. D. Womeldorf have announced themselves candidates for reelection to the office which they now hold. We will have more to say about these gentlemen in future, and to their credit, for a more capable lot never blistered a chair in the court house.

On page five of this issue you cannot fail to notice the large advertisement of Fred Katter of Garner, We have the assurance that there are many money saving bargains on his shelves and that this clothing sale will be a profit sharing with all customers. Mr. Katter does what he advertises, and you cannot fully appreciate what he is offering, unles you call and see for your self. See the opposite page for particulars.

A commission merchant from New York, one who largely handles the product of our western creameries makes the statement that Iowa leads in everything, having more creameries, makes more gilt edge butter than any other state in the union. His trip west is to contract the entire output of all the creameries he can reach. He frankly acknowledges that Illinois is not near up to us. He further states that the creamery properly managed any place in Iowa cannot help but be a succsss.

Wm. Terhufen don't like turkeys any more. In fact never did think much of them. Now the reason is plain. A few days ago he purchased a new top buggy of Ridder Bros., and it was a dandy. The finish was so perfect that one might use the mirrored surface for a looking glass and that is just what the gobler did, and seeing his seemin enemy reflected from the highly polished surface of the box, put on his war paint and pecked off the buggy paint, completely ruining the beautiful finish of the buggy. "Darn it all."

Inasmuch as the mind of the average parson ruus only seven days we reproduce the following which we used last year when the base ball season opened up. "The devil was the first coacher. He first coached Eve to take first. Adam stole second. When Isaac met Rebecca at the well she was walking with a pitcher: Sampson struck out many times when he beat the Philistines; Moses made his first run when he slew the Egyptians. Cain made a base hit when he killed Able. Abraham made a sacrafice. The prodigal son made a home run. Moses shut out the Egyptians at the Red sea. The game was called when the flood came on account of the wet grounds and Noah had all the rain checks."

On next Thursday evening the Klemme band will produce that thrilling, startling, war drama, entitled "Old Glory in Cuba." The play is a good one, and the parts have been well assigned. The object of this entertainment is to secure money to purchase new music and new instruments. Since the band reorganized last fall no one has been asked to help them in any way and we would like to see the hall filled to its utmost capacity. If you give the band a good house, in future they may feel more like donating their services on occasions. We can assure all who attend, that they will not fail to be pleased with the entertainment. Admission: Children 15c; General admission 25c, reserved seats 35c. See bills for particulars. The following is the cast of character.

Robert Adams.....Am. Gibbs.
Hiram Lawton.....Chas. G. Bracher.
Flip Fowler,.....Edward Ell.
Don Alvo Carenza....J. Baumgartner.
John Norton.....Fred Henschen.
James Braton }
Policeman... } .....Chas. Schroder.
Jailer..... .....George Nissen.
May Norton...Miss Emma Termufen.
Molly Mayland....Miss Maud Dunlap.
Bridget McDougal..Katie O'Hoolihan
Spaniards and soldiers.

ELL CENTER.

The roads are muddy again.

The click of the corn planter is heard in the land.

The Quintus children are recovering from the mumps.

The books for the school library have arrived and are fine.

Miss Braund was on the sick-list last week but is better now.

Marshall Bros. have put a neat fence around their school house.

Charley Gilbert was seen going west Sunday evening as usual.

J. B. Allen and wife of Forest City visited at J. W. Allen's last Sunday.

Walace Carr and Lafe Schneider were visiting old friends in East Ell last Sunday.

Pack peddlars are more of a nuisance than a benefit in this neck-o'-the-woods. Here Shep!

Miss Tillie Cramer, who teaches in the Gilbert district spent Sunday with home folks at Garner.

John Braund is working for Joe Lawhorn instead of O. W. Cummings as stated last week.

Minnie and Martha Gilbert have recovered from the measles so far as to be able to attend school.

Rev. Paterson was greated with a large and attentive audience at the Grosbeck school house last Sunday. The League was also well attended.

David Flower had the misfortune to have his leg broken in two places last week while driving a broncho. Dr. Fraser of Garner reduced the fractures. His many friends hope for his speedy recovery.

A couple of worthless curs killed some of J. W. Allen's poultry last Saturday and came nearly killing some sheep. Afterwards they attacked Baack's sheep but were driven away before doing any damage. If the owners place any value on them they had better keep them at home or be prepared to pay heavy damages.

GERMANTOWN.

F. W. Lenz has Contractor Larson and his men at work remodeling his farm house.

Mrs. Chas. Bredlow, who has been very sick with lung fever and pneumonia, is some better at this writing although not yet out of danger.

The township trustees of Ell and German township held a joint meeting in Klemme, Monday to discuss the work on the township line for this year.

The farmers of German township will meet at the Center school house Saturday evening, May 12, for the purpose of discussing the road tax question and other business.

Basket Social. There will be a basket social at the Center School, German township, Friday evening, May 18, by the Bredlow and Center schools. Proceeds for library fund. All are invited. Ladies all to bring baskets, gentlemen—p o c k e t-books. A short program will given before the sale of baskets.

Grand Display

Of all that is late, up-to-date and new in the line

OF ARTISTIC MILLINERY,

ALL THE LATEST DESIGNS IN

TRIMMED HATS

LADIES' AND MISSES WALKING HATS, SAILORS, TAMS, BABY BONNETS.

We have Just Received

A fine new line of Pulley Belts—the latest thing out. Also Ladies Ties in all the new shades; Silk for Shirt Waists: Dress Trimmings.

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

LEADING MILLINER.

Farm Machinery.

DO NOT FORGET

That we handle a COMPLETE LINE of the BEST Farm Machinery manufactured. Before you buy, it will pay you to see us and get our prices. We handle

CASSADY GANG AND SULKY PLOWS,

Corn Cultivators, Stirring Plows, Cornplanters, harrows, Discs, Wagons, Buggies, Geneva Windmils, Milwaueee Binders and Mowers.

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE. . . . .

We are constantly adding new, fresh GROCERIES to our stock and would like to make you prices. If you want Hardware or Tinware, we can supply your wants.

LAU BROS.

M. W. LYNCH, :: M. S. GILMAN

LYNCH & GILMAN,

STROUD, OKLAHOMA,

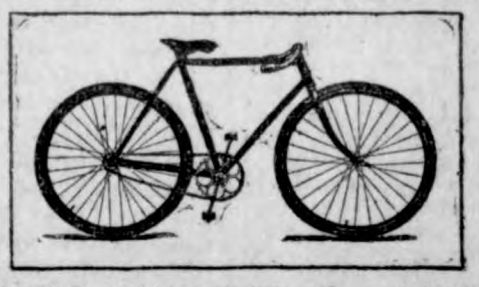
REAL ESTATE AND LOAN BROKERS.

WHY PAY RENT?

OWN YOUR OWN FARM!

It is the highth of folly for a man to pay exhorbitant rents when he can go to Oklahoma and buy a fine farm at from $5 per acre up. Well watered; near good markets; mild and healthful climate and crop failure unknown. Plenty of natural timber and coal. We have for sale a well selected list of choice improved and unimproved farms and would like to talk with you. Excursions 1st and 3rd Tuesday of each month. NOW is the time before the "SNAPS" are all taken. For rates, terms, excursions etc., call on or address, M. S. GILMAN, Klemme, Iowa, or M. W. LYNCH, ST. LOUIS HOTEL, STROUD, OKLAHOMA.

BICYCLES



OUR 1900 WHEELS ARE NOT FREAKS,

——But good, common sense machines, built of the best material that money can buy and codstructed in the most simple manner by skilled workmen. Good, strong, honest bicycles, as near

Fool Proof

as possible. We sell good, strong, honest, straight machines that are easy to ride and hard to break. Six makes of standard wheels always on hand. Old wheels bought and sold. Repairing done on short notice. A complete line of sundries always on hand.

KANAWHA, IOWA. L. HAEFNER.

The Klemme Times.

G. L. WELLEMEYER, Pub.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

DES MOINES, May 6, 1900.

James G. Berryhill claims just at present to be the owner of the biggest flower garden in the United States west of Pennsylvania. It extends over about 200 acres of ground, is situated on the Norwalk road about five miles southwest of the city, and just at this time is a solid mass of blossoms. Mr. Berryhill owns the second largest fruit ranch in Iowa. On this ground are planted 4,000 apple trees, 3,000 plum trees and 2,000 cherry trees, every one of which is in bloom. The great orchard is on the east slope of a ravine running back from the 'Coon river and up which the Great Western and Keokuk & Western tracks extend to the prairie south of the city. From the character of the ground a view of the entire orchard can be had from the bluffs across the ravine and the impression is of a solid bed of white and pink blossoms extending up the hillside and back on the level ground. The trees are so close together and the blossoms so thick that the branches of the trees and the ground underneath are not distinguishable.

At a meeting of the army post location committee at the Iliad, Dr. Lewis Schooler, chairman of the committee, appointed a committee on finance. Upon this committee is to devolve the work of raising funds with which to purchase the site. The committee will be permitted to devise its own ways and means. Indications are it will resort to the popular subscription plan. J. G. Rounds, of the Citizens' National bank, is chairman of the committee.

Advices from Washington say the senate will soon take action on the bill adopted by the house creating a new district court in Iowa, and there is no doubt that the action will be favorable and speedy, as the necessity for more court facilities is recognized. The passage of this bill in the house was unanimous and without question. It provides that the counties of Clarke, Lucas, Union, Adair, Fremont, Adams, Page, Taylor, Ringgold, Wayne and Appanoose shall constitute the southern district of Iowa. A term of a circuit court for this district will be held at Creston on the third Monday of May and fourth Monday of September, each term to continue as long as necessary.

The Interstate Oratorical Association, in which the leading colleges of ten states, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, Iowa and Missouri are represented, will hold its next annual contest under the auspices of Des Moines college in this city early in May, 1901. The annual convention of the interstate association, held at Denver recently, elected F. D. Nelson, of the junior class of Des Moines college, vice-president for 1901. As the vice-presidency carries with it both the location and general management of the contest, the students and friends of Des Moines college are more than pleased to secure the privilege of entertaining the next interstate contest.

The board of control has completed its list of county and private insane asylums or poor houses which maintain insane persons. It found that there are four private hospitals, at Dubuque, Davenport, Council Bluffs and Iowa City. Fifty-six county institutions, or poor houses, in which insane are maintained, are reported. This is ten more than were reported a year ago. As soon as possible the territory will be divided among the three members of the board and they will begin making the inspections.

Governor Shaw has vetoed the valued policy insurance bill, passed in the closing days of the late legislature. He takes his full share of responsibility for vetoing a measure which received 77 votes in the house and 32 in the senate—enough to have passed it over his veto in the lower, and nearly enough to have done so in the upper house. The bill is sent to the secretary of state without approval, and accompanied by a lengthy statement of his reasons for opposing it. The governor has made an investigation of the workings of valued policy laws in other states. He concludes that they do not accomplish the desired object, to protect the insurer; that on the other hand their tendency is to increase the cost of insurance and to drive out many companies that do not care to do business under such a law. The Iowa bill simply provides that in case of loss of buildings by fire the amount of the insurance carried shall represent the value of the property. It applies only to real estate and not to stocks of goods and other personal property, of which the value is too fluctuating. The governor repeats the argument that the tendency of such a law is to encourage incendiarism. The property owner who can get excessive insurance sees a premium placed on the crime of arson. The governor says he would sign the bill if assured that it could be repealed when proven disastrous; but the almost impossibility of repealing such a measure is pointed out. He has learned of but one state where such a measure has been repealed. This being the case he fears that it would be dangerous, and yet could not be repealed in Iowa.

THE NEWS IN IOWA

GETS $16,000 DAMAGES.

Des Moines Electric Company Held Responsible for a Lineman's Death.

DES MOINES, May 5.—H. B. Knowlton, administrator of the estate of Charles Downs, gets $15,000 of the $25,000 he demanded of the Des Moines Edison Electric Light Company for the death of the lineman, the jury having rendered a verdict for the plaintiff for that amount. Downs, a lineman in the employ of the Mutual Telephone Company, was killed by a live wire November 9, 1899. He was working for the Mutual near Hillside avenue. There is a net work of wires at this place belonging to the Edison company. The prosecution alleged that Downs had no way of determining that the wires were live and in discharging his duties for his own company came in contact with an Edison wire and was instantly killed. Suit was brought to recover $25,000 on the grounds of carelessness on the part of the defendant.

IOWA COLLEGE BRANCHES OUT.

Fine Buildings to Be Erected for the Engineering Department.

AMES, May 6.—Iowa College is to have a new engineering building and the state architect is busy preparing the specifications. The plans call for a four-story structure, entirely fireproof to cost $150,000, exclusive of the equipment. The functions of the engineering department are of especial value to industry. Other colleges have work done of this kind, but only in a half hearted way. Iowa College is the first big school to take it up with a fixed purpose and a definite plan. The department's experiments with paving brick, for example, have been of vast service to manufacturers and the public generally has been benefited by securing cheaper and more durable pavement for streets. Mining and other industries have also been considerably advanced by the work of the department.

MOTHERS' CONGRESS.

Interest in Meeting at Des Moines is Becoming General.

DES MOINES, May 5.—Interest in the Mothers' Congress is growing daily, and Des Moines is making every preparation for the suitable entertainment of its expected guests, the various clubs vieing with each other in well directed efforts. Affiliated bodies embracing the P. E. O.'s, W. R. C., W. C. T. U. and various women's clubs whose work is germane to that of the congress may send delegates on payment of $5 annually, or 25 cents per member. It is thought that a sufficient number of homes can be secured to entertain all of the visitors, as well as the delegates to the convention, as many homes which are not opened for hospitality will be offered as boarding places at moderate rates.

Serious Fire at Turin.

CASTANA, May 4.—The entire business district of Turin, seven miles southwest of Castana, was destroyed by fire. The loss will exceed $10,000. The insurance is about $5,000. The fire, which originated in a mysterious manner in the general merchandise store of H. C. Chrisman, was well under way when discovered. The town has no fire protection, and the efforts of the citizens, who were quickly on the scene, were as impotent as they were energetic. The business houses of the place were practically all within the one block which was swept away.

Saloon Keepers Mulcted.

SIOUX CITY, May 5.—Two Sioux City saloon keepers, John Mandersheid and John Arendorf, were mulcted for damages to the extent of $6,000 by a Monona county jury for selling liquor to the husbuand of Mrs. John Faivre against her orders and to such an extent that he suffered serious injuries therefrom. A year ago last winter Mrs. Faivre notified Sioux City saloon men that they must not sell her husband liquor because of his excessive use of it. They disobeyed her instructions, and one night Faivre went home intoxicated, freezing his hands and feet on the way, so that amputation was necessary.

Child Loses Three Toes.

CLINTON, May 4.—A sad accident befell the 2-year-old daughter of Joseph Noerpel, who lives near Bellevue. Mrs. Noerpel was in Bellevue doing some trading and the children were at home in the care of a son about 15 years old. A sister of the child, aged 4, was handling an ax and she accidentally let it fall upon the child's foot, severing three toes. The boy hitched up a team and was taking the little sufferer to town, when they met the mother returning home.

Safe Blown Open.

CLINTON, May 4.—The postoffice safe at Mechanicsville was blown open by burglars and $200 stolen. The explosion failed to arouse any one and the robbers escaped, leaving no trace.

PEST IN RAILROAD CAMP.

Small Pox Breaks Out Among Laborers on Creston-Murray Line.

DES MOINES, May 4.—Small pox has broken out in the railroad camps along the double tracking between Creston and Murray now in course of construction. Several of the camps have been quarantined and it is feared railroad work in that vicinity will be seriously impeded. A number of cases are reported in one of the camps just east of Creston and it is under close quarantine. Arrangements are being made by the health officers to take the afflicted to fever hospitals as soon as symptoms of the disease manifest themselves. A representative of the "Q" construction department said to a reporter: "I do not think the disease will interfere with the work on the double tracking. The cases are of a mild form and do not seem to be so accutely contagious as is usual in the case of small pox. But one or two have been stricken with the plague so far, and it is thought that by rigid measures looking to sanitation the spread of the disease can be prevented."

Alleged Swindler Locked Up.

SIOUX CITY, May 6.—Samuel Pickett, the alleged theatrical swindler, who was arrested a few weeks ago in St. Louis, has been held to the grand jury for the federal court in Sioux City charged with using the United States mail for the purpose of fraud. It is said that he wrote letters to men to work for him as treasurer of his company and demanded from $100 to $300 cash security. In each case these dupes lost their money, and two of them came to Sioux City to testify against Picket. Picket claims he lost more than they did, and that he was not inclined to be dishonest, but simply in hard luck. He is locked up in jail to await the further action of the court.

Essex is Acquitted.

CHARITON, May 7.—Charles Essex, charged with wrecking the Burlington fast mail last fall, was acquitted on the second trial at Chariton. He was immediately arrested on a federal warrant charging him with obstructing the United States mail and taken to Des Moines.

Woman Burned to Death.

DUBUQUE, May 6.—An overturned lamp set fire to the home of Mrs. Wolfhous. In trying to rescue her 4-year-old child the mother was probably fatally burned. The baby was badly injured.

BREVITIES.

Mark Mullinix, wife and baby, of Rock Branch, were returning from Pierson, a few days ago, when their team took fright at a corn sheller and ran away. All were thrown out. Mrs. Mullinix was injured internally and is in a critical condition.

The 3-year-old daughter of Fred Bishop, near Pocahontas, while playing on a straw stack, fell off and in some manner he head was caught between the rails of a worm fence, where she hung until discovered by her father. A doctor was summoned, but all attempts to bring her back to life were unsuccessful.

Four boys of the Bedford schools played truant a few days ago with disastrous results. They took a gun along and went to the woods. As a result, one of the boys, by the name of Perry, now lies at the point of death with a bullet in the abdominal cavity. Just how it happened is not clear, except that the gun was discharged accidentally.

What is supposed to have been a murder was perpetrated a few nights ago at the home of Johathan Carr, a well-to-do farmer residing seven miles northwest of Ottumwa. Carr's body was found at the foot of an outside cellar doorway with his neck and jaw broken and a deep hole in the side of the head. Thus far there is no clew to the perpetrators of the crime. Carr lived alone.

Des Moines dispatch: Sixteen thousand dollars to local and national religious and charitable institutions form the bequests of the will of the late W. B. Bentley. The local Y. M. C. A. comes in for $5,000; Congregationalism in Iowa $1,000; foreign missions are richer by $5,000, and American missions receive $5,000 from the fortune of the man who was such an ardent worker and contributor to them while alive.

Thieves entered Weishaar & Fasig Co.'s dry goods store at Waterloo and secured about $2,000 worth of silks. When the store was opened in the morning for work, a light was burning in the rear, the dust curtain was cut from the shelves of silk and the goods along the west side of the store, under the counter and on the shelves, had been thoroughly inspected and scattered. The silk counter, however, had been the center of operation. The thieves were evidently not amateurs either as judges or theives of silk. Nothing was taken but the best black and brown pure goods in complete bolts.

UNDER CONSTITUTION.

Federal Judge Holds Porto Rico is Under Constitution.

ST. PAUL, May 5.—United States District Judge Lochren has decided that the ratification of the treaty of peace between the United States and Spain made Porto Rico American territory and subject to the constitution of the United States without any further act of congress. The decision was given in the case of Raphael Oritz, a Porto Rican who is seeking release from the state prison at Stillwater on the ground that his trial for murder by a military court was unlawful, because as an American citizen he was entitled to a trial by jury. His application for a writ of habeas corpus is denied, however, on the ground that the island was in a state of war before the ratification of the treaty, when the murder was committed, and that therefore the military court had jurisdiction.

After reviewing the facts in the case and stating that the trial took place between the date of signing the treaty of peace and the exchange of ratifications the court said that according to the decisions of the supreme court of the United States a military commission was without jurisdiction to try a civilian in United States territory in time of peace.

He considered Porto Rico territory of the United States and subject to the constitution the minute it came under the control of this government. Unless the constitution extended to Porto Rico in advance of action by congress, congress would have no power to legislate for the island at all, because it has no authority to legislate for any except territory to which the constitution has extended.

He called attention to a number of decisions of the supreme court and the opinions of eminent jurists on this point. But the constitution did not extend to the inhabitants until after the ratification of the treaty.

BRITISH CROSS THE VET.

Lord Roberts's Advance Now 18 Miles North of Brandfort.

LONDON, May 5.—The mounted infantry with Lord Roberts, among which are the Canadians, have picketed their horses on the south bank of the Vet river, eighteen miles north of Brandfort. The head of Lord Roberts's columns has thus advanced thirty-two miles from Karee Siding in two days, or fifty-three miles north of Bloemfontein. Little powder was spent. The British work was hard marching, the Boers retiring out of the reach of the British shells.

General French's cavalry are sweeping the country northward. The expectation is that the infantry advance will be continued toward Kroonstadt immediately. Although no prisoners were taken and no hot pursuit attempted, the news greatly cheers London. Nevertheless, it has not been attended with the fine rapture that attended the first successes of Lord Roberts. General Hunter's crossing the Vaal at Windsortown brings the relief of Mafeking, 195 miles beyond, almost within a calculable interval. It is now regarded as quite possible that Mafeking may be succored before the queen's birthday.

LONDON, May 5.—The news of the occupation of Brandfort is generally considered the most important communication received from the front since the capture of General Cronje and the relief of Ladysmith. The fact that the position gives the key to one of the main roads leading to the Drakensburg passes, which possibly may be the means of co-operation with General Buller later on, provides an advance base of supplies and at the same time menaces the Boers now southeast of Bloemfontein, is obviously the reason for the importance attached to the intelligence. The Boer army which was at Brandfort, commanded by General Delarey, is presumably retiring on Winburg, which will possibly be the next immediate objective of the Brandfort, thirty-five miles nearer the Transvaal capital, is now Lord Roberts's headquarters.

S. B. DOLE TO GOVERN HAWAII.

Former President is Appointed First Governor of New Territory.

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The president has appointed Sanford B. Dole to be governor and Henry E. Coope to be secretary of the Territory of Hawaii. Mr. Dole was formerly president of the provisional republic of Hawaii, organized by the men who overthrew the native dynasty to govern the islands until annexation to the United States could be effected. He was the choice of the conservative element in the island for the governorship, and was regarded with especial favor by the president because of his administrative abilities proved during his term as president of the island republic.

Twenty-Five Boers Captured.

ALIWAL NORTH, Cape Colony, May 5.—Smithfield was occupied by Hart's brigade. Out of a hundred and fifty Boers in the town, twenty-five were captured and the rest decamped. Ladybrand until recently was full of the Boer wounded. They have now removed to Ficksbury.

CALL DOWN FOR CHADWICK.

He Receives a Severe Reprimand From Secretary Long.

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Secretary Long has made public the correspondence which has taken place between the navy department and Captain Chadwick respecting the published interview in which the captain is reported as severely reflecting upon Rear Admiral Schley. The secretary's letter was written and forwarded only after the secretary had had a conference on the subject with the president. The department's action in the case is a severe reprimand, and it is noteworthy that its letter has been made public, a fact which in itself adds to the weight of the punishment administered.

TWO HUNDRED VICTIMS.

Explosion in a Mine Results in Appalling Loss of Life.

SALT LAKE, Utah, May 2.—A special to the Tribune from Scofield, Utah, says: "By an explosion in mine No. 4, of the Pleasant Valley Coal Company, certainly 200 men, probably more, have lost their lives. At this hour 137 bodies have been recovered and the work of rescue is still proceeding and will continue until all the bodies are brought to the surface. There are willing hands at work and as fast as bodies are reached they are brought down to the boarding houses and other company buildings, where they are dressed and prepared for the coroner's inquest. These buildings are numerous, and in each are from ten to thirty-five bodies. Many hundreds of men have volunteered their services, and as one set or force is tired or worn out others take their places. While the stench of smoke and powder is sickening, resembling much that of a dissecting room, there are brave hearted and brawny men of muscle who have been continually at work since the explosion

SALT LAKE, Utah, May 3.—The reports from Scofield up to 11 o'clock last night say it is now known that 178 are dead from the explosion and that the estimate of loss will increase rather than decrease.

W. C. Wilson was one of those fortunate ones on the lower level of number one who escaped. He tells a story as follows:

"There was a low, rumbling noise heard in the distance, followed by a sort of wave that can hardly be described, but that is known to all who have been in an explosion, and I have been in several. I said to my partner that if gas was known to exist in the mine, I should say an explosion had occurred. I advised that we run to the tunnel, and with me came six men working in that section. In the main tunnel we met a driver and asked him if he had noticed the strange occurrence. He replied that he had almost been knocked off the bar by the rush of air. I was then convinced that it was indeed an explosion, and advised my comrades to hasten with me to the month. We met two others further on, and they proceeded with us. We were none too soon, for the after damp reached us some three or four minutes before we reached the open air, almost suffocating us."

CHOLERA HORROR ADDED.

The Famine in India Takes on a New Terror.

LONDON, May 7.—The report that cholera is strengthening its deadly hold on famine stricken India brings the pitiful condition of that country more than ever to view. About 93,500,000 persons, for this is the population of the district affected, are sweltering their squalid existences away amid pestilence and misery that show no signs of abating. Hundreds of thousands of good British gold, good German marks and good American corn have been thrown into the country, but judging from the latest advices, all this charity is but a drop in the ocean. The famine and its attendant complications appear to exceed in virulence any two previous visitations. The native states are dotted with heaps of dead and dying, and the roads are crowded with ghastly bands seeking to escape from the stricken territory, but who, for lack of food and water, mostly succumb in the attempt. One of the most hopeless features in the whole affair is contained in the statement of a special correspondent at Simla, who writes:

"Ten times the total relief could be laid out in a single district without fully relieving its distress. All we can hope for is a succession of good years to put the people on their legs again."

M'LEAN IS OUT FOR BRYAN.

Ohio Democrats Believe That Dewey's Candidacy is to Be Abandoned.

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio, May 7.—John R. McLean, brother-in-law of Admiral Dewey, has abandoned the admiral in his candidacy for the democratic nomination for president and has jumped onto the front seat in the Bryan band wagon. This declaration was made here by W. S. Thomas, chairman of the democratic central committee, and was called forth by the requests Mr. McLean sent to the meeting at Columbus of the democratic state central committee to fix the time and decide upon a place for holding the state convention.

KING DON:

A STORY OF MILITARY LIFE IN INDIA.

.....BY MAVOR ALLAN.....

CHAPTER IX.—(Continued.)

He fetched a camp stool and placed it for her under the shelter of the mainsail, and she took it with a little tremulous word of thanks. She did not beg him to sit by her, as once she would so naturally have done, and apparently Don dreaded a tete-a-tete likewise, for he made no offer to do so.

"Are you a good sailor?" he asked presently, stopping before her in his short walk to and fro.

"Yes, I think so—at least, I stood the passage out very well."

"The captain is rather afraid we are in for rough seas. There's too much wind, and he fears a storm before morning."

"I don't think I dread it much, so long as there is no lightning or thunder," she answered. "Do you?"

"I?" he queried. "Oh, I don't care a straw on my own account whatever happens."

She shivered in his clasp.

"Oh!" she cried, more to herself than to him, "how could we ever live together after this?"

He felt her shiver, and the awful bitterness of this retribution for his sin seemed greater far than he could bear.

"Lillie, be merciful, and my devotion to you shall be my atonement." He was fighting for his love now as one to whom the loss of it meant life itself.

And Lillie? Her love and her grief were tearing her heart asunder. She withdrew herself from his arms in silence, and he let her go, while a flush of pain and humiliation swept his face. He knew so well then what would come next.

"We must part," came her verdict at last, in a low and broken whisper. "Some day perhaps I may learn to forget, and I will come back to you; but not yet. Oh, I could not bear you to be with me yet—I could not, I could not!"

Her voice broke in a bitter sob, and as Don heard it the last remnant of hope died out in his storm-tossed heart.

"I will not be a burden to you," he said, with great bitterness. "A bullet can end it all and make you free. Nothing matters now."

There was no longer passion in his voice, only the reckless heaviness of despair. He turned and walked towards the doorway, and his firm step never faltered.

"Don!" Her sweet voice pierced that terrible moment of silence which followed on his wild words with an agony that overwhelmed and stayed him. "Don, what are you saying? Do you forget our lives are not our own? We are bought with a price, and one day we shall have to give account for what we have done. For we must all appear before the judgment seat of Christ."

Ah, there was a time when the thoughtless Lillie had been the last to remember that solemn warning. The great trouble had brought home to her its awful truth, and Don was only to learn it, too, across the sea of suffering and self-sacrifice. The yearning appeal touched him now simply through the intensity of her love, and he stopped short and faced her once more.

"Lillie, I will agree to part, as you wish; but I ask you, for our own sakes, for society's sake, to let our wretched secret be our own. Try to dissemble a little, if you can, and keep up the farce of our happy marriege." He laughed a little, bitter laugh. "When once we reach England, I promise to leave you free and never trouble you more; but if you humiliate me further here, God knows my will may give away."

"Oh, my love!" she cried out, piteously, "don't speak to me so! It breaks my heart!"

At the endearment he stood a moment irresolute, then strode back to her side and stretched out his hands.

"Lillie," he said hoarsely, "it is madness to talk of ever parting. We cannot live without each other!"

She put up a little hand to stay him coming nearer.

"Don't, don't! We can make no atonement for sin without sacrifice. My poor father——"

He looked with her, his face twitching with passion.

"Then at Southampton we part," he said.

In speechless agony she looked a mute affirmation. And for answer Don laughed—the bitter laugh of an overwrought mind, and hurried out to prepare for the wedding journey. Did ever bridegroom haste on such mission with so heavy a heart?

Her lips quivered. It was the first approach to those other wild words he had last spoken on her wedding day. Grief held her silent now. Some invalid soldiers were joining the sailors in the forecastle bunks in lusty singing, and the plaintive words came floating aft:

We've wandered mony a weary fit
Sin' auld lang syne.

Don had stooped over to replace the wrap that was dropping from her shoulders, and as his hand for an instant came in contact with her neck she felt it tremble. The sun was going down in a coppery mist of crimson and gold. It fell aslant Don's face, and she saw it was palid and drawn. He turned from her now, and, lighting a cigar, stood by the taffrail looking away from her. Moments—long moments—which seemed to her to grow into hours, passed, and he stood there still without moving. Only now and then the cigar sent up a pale wreath of smoke upon the freshening breeze. A lurid glow where the sun had gone down streamed out far and wide upon the horizon; then the glow faded, the fiery purple tints passed from cloud and wave, and suddenly it was night. With a shiver Lillie rose and stepped to Don's side.

"I am going below now," she said, coldly. "Good night."

The cold formality which had become already habitual to both seemed for the moment beyond Don to assume, for he took her hand, but did not release it.

"The storm is coming," he said. "Look!" Sea birds darted screaming along the crests of the waves, the vessel pitched and rolled helplessly in the trough of the billows, and over all the sky hung like a black pall. Don spoke again, and now more tenderness had crept into his voice.

"I wish for your sake the squall was over. You must try and go to sleep."

She shook her head.

"I don't feel like sleeping," she answered. She would have withdrawn her hand, but Don's clasp upon it tightened.

"Shall I come and sit with you for a while?" he asked gently.

"Oh, no!" The words broke from her abruptly, almost with shrinking dismay, and Don let her hand go, his proud lip quivering.

"Lillie!" he spoke hoarsely, "don't—don't turn from me like this! It is more than I can bear! Won't you—won't you kiss me good-night this once?"

She drew back swiftly. Love and pride were struggling fiercely in her breast; but pride dominated.

"All that is over now," she said, with haughty bitterness. She turned to leave him.

"Lillie!" he cried again, and at the passion in his voice she stood still, trembling, "don't say it is all over. I have tried to endure this and I cannot. Let my love atone. Be pitiful, forget my wrong, and take me back into your heart!"

She looked at him, and for an instant their eyes met—Don's wild in despairing entreaty, Lillie's blinded with sudden tears.

"How can I ever forget what has broken my heart?" she said bitterly.

She rushed from his side then and down to her cabin; but Don stood on where she had left him, seeing nothing, feeling nothing but the blackness of his own despair. Love had driven him to break down the barrier and speak the anguish that was dragging his soul down to the very abyss of reckless remorse; but now she had repulsed him nothing mattered. She had shrunk from him as from some unclean thing, and death was more welcome than life.

Blinded by the salt spray and deafened by the roar of the elements, he leaned on at the taffrail when all others had gone below and he alone stood there on deck. For suddenly, with awful swiftness, the full fury of the storm had burst. The sea had become a sheet of boiling foam. The wind raged and shook the gallant vessel, which ever and anon rose with a long, steady lift to breast the watery precipice, while cleaving the darkness came flash after flash of lightning and the dull roll of thunder, rising louder and nearer above the wild roar of wind and wave.

And still through it all Don leant on, clinging to the taffrail unmoved, careless, almost expectant every moment might be his last.

It was in a slight lull of the tempest's fury Lillie stole back on deck. The rain had been descending in hammering torrents, but now it came and went in gusts. The thunder was rolling away fainter and fainter; only the sea raged sullenly on. The wind lifted up its unwearied voice and the good ship plowed on its way.

The pitiful yielding to self-reproach had followed swiftly on Lillie's cold and bitter leave-taking of Don, and now love was battling for victory to speak some little word of wifely tenderness, despite that ever-haunting remembrance of the dark Afridi nullah where her father's blood had been shed.

Clinging to the companion rail she strove to peer through the darkness towards the spot where they had parted. Yes, he stood there still. But as she paused irresolute, looking at that figure on the taffrail so apparently unmoved, an awful fear clutched her heart. Creeping stealthily towards him on hands and feet, under the shadow of the bulwarks, was the snake-like form of a swarthy seaman, an Indian knife gripped between his teeth; and a hoarse cry—a cry that rang above the storm from stem to stern of the great ship—burst from Lillie's parched lips. The cry was one word: "Don!"

Her husband started and turned. Too late!

Through the darkness flashed a gleam of steel, and the Indian's knife, uplifted to plunge with deadly aim in his unconscious victim's back, was buried in Don's breast. For an instant waged a fierce, unequal hand-to-hand struggle. With the rolling ship the two figures swayed madly to and fro.

(To be continued.)

COLOR SENSE OF SAVAGES.

Peoples Among Whom it Is Little Developed.

In his lecture on "The Sense of Primitive Man," delivered at the Royal Institution, Dr. W. H. R. Rivers spoke about primitive color vision. He devoted his introductory remarks to the importance of the color sense in the study of the relation between language and ideas, and referred to the deficiency in color sense which Dr. Gladstone and, later, Geiger, held to exist among the ancients, and to the theory of an evolution of color sense in man within historical times. He then gave some account of the vocabularies employed for colors by several savage races. The simplest he found was among the Australian natives in the Seven Rivers district, a number of whom had only three terms;; natives from the Fitzroy River showed much the same characteristics. The next simplest was that of Kiwai, on the Fly River, where there was no name for blue apart from black. The last two he mentioned were those of Murray Island and Mabung, which were more extensive. In these four vocabularies four stages might be seen in the evolution of color language exactly as deduced by Geiger, red being the most definite, and the colors at the other end of the spectrum the least so. It was noteworthy, too, that the order of these peoples in respect to culture was the same as in regard to development of words for colors. The Eskimo, Dr. Rivers observed, differed radically from the language of the tropical peoples he had examined in possessing an extremely well-developed color vocabulary. He next discussed the epithets used for color in Homer, and concluded that the features of his color language were essentially of the same nature as those found among primitive peoples of the present day. Speaking of the objective examination of color sense in the Torres Straits, he said the people showed no confusion between red and green. The investigation of their color names, he thought, showed that to them blue must be a duller and darker color than it was to us, and, indeed, the tintometer had afforded evidence of a distinct quantitative deficiency in their perception of blue, though the results were far from proving blindness to blue. Dr. Rivers then discussed some of the objections that had been urged against the theory of a historical evolution of color sense, coming to the conclusion that it was not to be lightly put aside, though it could not be regarded as fully demonstrated. Finally he considered some of the factors that determined the special characteristics of primitive color language, giving some instances from widely separated parts of the world, in which names of colors seemed to be derived from the same natural objects.—London Times.

Her Cure.

He—"I understand you have been attending an ambulance class. Can you tell me what is the best thing to do for a broken heart?" She—"Oh, yes. Bind up the fractured portions with a gold ring, bathe them with orange-blossom water and apply plenty of raw rice. Guaranteed to be well in a month."

VET RIVER IS REACHED.

Lord Roberts' Infantry Is Miles Beyond Brandfort.

POLE-CAREW AT THE FRONT.

Gen. Hunter Reports That He Has Crossed the Vaal River Unopposed at Windsorton — British Fire Upon Boer Laager.

London, May 7.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

"Brandfort, May 5.—The mounted infantry have gone on to the Vet river. The rest of the force will march there tomorrow. The railway has been repaired to Brandfort.

"Hunter reports very satisfactory news—that the passage of the Vaal river has been carried out at Windsorton without opposition."

The official news of the taking of Brandfort was conveyed in the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

"Brandfort, May 4.—We occupied Brandfort without much opposition, and without, I hope, many casualties. The first brigade of mounted infantry covered the left flank and the Fourteenth brigade of the Seventh division the right flank. Supported by the Fifteenth brigade, Pole-Carew's division advanced directly on Brandfort. The Boer army, under command of Gen. Delarey, retired in a northeasterly direction."

Warrenton, Cape Colony, May 7.—A British six-inch wire gun opened unexpectedly on the Boer laager at a distance of seven and a half miles, throwing 100-pound shells with wonderful accuracy and causing a hasty retreat of the burghers. The bombardment continued Friday at all points by howitzers and field guns, supported by two companies of the Munster regiment, the Boers being driven from shelter and their guns being put out of action.

Wisconsin Forest Fires.

Wausau, Wis., May 7.—The forest fire which has been raging in the woods surrounding this city during the last week is daily becoming more alarming, and rain is anxiously looked for to check the destruction of valuable standing timber. The farmers residing near the fire have their household goods packed up and each night have some member keeping watch so that a timely escape can be made if the fire reaches their houses. The village of Hatley, ten miles east, was saved from destruction by the fire department of Wausau. The fire which threatened the village of Mosinee is now under control, as is also the fire in the swamps between Mosinee and Marathon City.

Wedding Didn't Take Place.

Warren, O., May 7.—Plans were made for the marriage at noon of John Y. Hower of Bluffton, Ind., and Mrs. Mary Wanamaker of Warren. At the appointed hour Hower announced that the wedding would not occur and departed for Indiana. He is 59 years old and Mrs. Wanamaker younger. They were acquainted in youth, but each married, and they did not see each other again until a year ago.

To Meet Suez Canal Rates.

San Francisco, May 5.—The oriental agents of the various transpacific steamship companies have agreed in conference to act jointly in the future in making rates against the Suez canal, agents in China acting as one body and the agents in Japan as another. The object will be to always meet all rates, but not to cut them more than enough to get the business. No agreement has yet been reached in regard to incoming cargoes.

No More Plague at Honolulu.

San Francisco, May 5.—The steamer Coptic, wnich has arrived from the Orient via Honolulu, is in quarantine. Last Friday, when the vessel sailed from Honolulu, there has been no new cases of plague for twenty-five days, and the quarantine that has been on the port since the middle of last December was to have been raised last Monday by the Honolulu board of health, provided no more cases of plague appeared.

Five Tons of Whale on Beach.

Atlantic iCty, N. J., May 7.—During a heavy sea a dark-brown whale came ashore at North Brigantine, a few miles north of this place. The mammal was discovered lashing the waves on the water's edge by the government life-saving crew. The whale measures thirty-five feet in length, and weighs at least five tons. It came ashore alive, but died later in the day. No one as yet has taken charge of the dead monster.

Robbers Get Gems.

Chicago, May 7.—Gems and jewels amounting to $2,000 were secured by porch climbers who entered the home of Morris M. Munster, No. 3754 Wabash avenue.

There are now upwards of 400 rural mail carriers in the United States, and during the year just closed they carried close to 10,000,000 pieces of mail.

Few College Students Die.

The death rate in colleges is extremely low. The strict attention to the physique is given as the reason. Others, as well, may have health and strength. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is recommended most highly for the blood, nerves and stomach disorders, and it cures constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia, sluggish liver or weak kidneys.

Power is ever stealing from the many to the few.

Cures Talk

Great Fame of a Great Medicine Won by Actual Merit.

The fame of Hood's Sarsaparilla has been won by the good it has done to those who were suffering from disease. Its cures have excited wonder and admiration. It has caused thousands to rejoice in the enjoyment of good health, and it will do you the same good it has done others. It will expel from your blood all impurities; will give you a good appetite and make you strong and vigorous. It is just the medicine to help you now, when your system is in need of a tonic and invigorator.

Scrofula—"I had scrofula sores all over my back and face. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, used Hood's Medicated Soap and Hood's Olive Ointment, and was cured." OTHO B. MOORE, Mount Hope, Wis.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is America's Greatest Medicine.

Cures Colds, Coughs, Sore Throat, Croup, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Asthma. A certain cure for Consumption in first stages, and a sure relief in advanced stages. Use at once. You will see the excellent effect after taking the first dose. Sold by dealers everywhere. Large bottles 25 cents and 50 cents.

PARALYSIS Locomotor Ataxia conquered at last. Doctors puzzled. Specialists amazed at recovery of patients thought incurable by DR. CHASE'S BLOOD AND NERVE FOOD. Write me about your case. Advice and proof of cures FREE. DR. CHASE, 224 N. 10th St., PHILADELPHIA, PA

ALABASTINE

ALABASTINE is the original and only durable wall coating, entirely different from all kalsomines. Ready for use in white or fourteen beautiful tints by adding cold water.

LADIES naturally prefer ALABASTINE for walls and ceilings, because it is pure, clean, durable. Put up in dry powdered form, in five-pound packages, with full directions.

ALL kalsomines are cheap, temporary preparations made from whiting, chalks, clays, etc., and stuck on walls with decaying animal glue. ALABASTINE is not a kalsomine.

BEWARE of the dealer who says he can sell you the "same thing" as ALABASTINE or "something just as good." He is either not posted or is trying to deceive you.

AND IN OFFERING something he has bought cheap and tries to sell on ALABASTINE'S demands, he may not realize the damage you will suffer by a kalsomine on your walls.

SENSIBLE dealers will not buy a lawsuit. Dealers risk one by selling and consumers by using infringement. Alabastine Co. own right to make wall coating to mix with cold water.

THE INTERIOR WALLS of every church and school should be coated only with pure, durable ALABASTINE. It safeguards health. Hundreds of tons used yearly for this work.

IN BUYING ALABASTINE, customers should avoid getting cheap kalsomines under different names. Insist on having our goods in packages and properly labeled.

NUISANCE of wall paper is obviated by ALABASTINE. It can be used on plastered walls, wood ceilings, brick or canvas. A child can brush it on. It does not rub or scale off.

ESTABLISHED in favor. Shun all imitations. Ask paint dealer or druggist for tint card. Write us for interesting booklet, free. ALABASTINE CO., Grand Rapids, Mich.

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS.

See The Monarch

BICYCLES

The Best and Cheapest wheel on the market.

REPAIR YOUR WHEEL

Our Expert Tinner is able to put your old wheel in good repair quickly and cheaply.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

OUR SUMMER BILL OF FARE.

Young Onions, New Radishes, Fresh Lettuce,
Oranges, Bananas, Lemons,
Canned Fruit and Vegetables--all kinds,
Bread, Buns, Pies, Cakes, Cookies,
Confecionery, Cigars, Tobacco
SUMMER DRINKS SELECT GROCERIES,

Agent for the Ideal Steam Laundry, Mason City.
G. W. KLUCKHOHN, KLEMME.

Buy Your

Drugs, Paints, Wall Paper, Toilet Soap, Perfumery Books and Patent Medicines

At Amsden's Pharmacy

GARNER, IOWA.

FRED ARNOLD, PRES. C. H. WIEGMANN, V. P. F. A. ARNOLD, CASH.

STATE SAVINGS BANK,

OF KLEMME, IOWA.

CAPITAL $25 000 00, LOANS $40 000 00,

INSURANCE WRITTEN, LOANS NEGOTIATED, EXCHANGE BOUGHT AND SOLD.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits: Money Loaned on Real Estate: Foreign and Domestic Exchange Sold.....

DIRECTORS: FRED ARNOLD, C. H. WIEGMANN, H. W. GRUETZMACHER, CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, F. A. ARNOLD.

CARY SAFE CO.

BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.

..Manufacturers..

FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES

VAULTS, LOCKS, ETC.

CONTRACTORS to UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

H. W. SCHOPER,

FARM MACHINERY,

Buggies and Wagons, Corn Planters, Corn Plows, Champion Binders and Mowers.

TWINE.

W. W. Mayhew, Merton, Wis., says: "I consider One Minute Cough Cure a myst wonderful medicine, quick and safe." It is the only harmless remedy that gives immediate results. It cures coughs, colds, croup, bronchitis, grippe whooping cough, pneumonia and all throat and lung diseases. Its early use prevents consumption. Children always like it and mothers endorse it J. L. Harr.

The Submarine torpedo boat Holland, which has been at Washington for several months, appears to be diving its way into the good graces of Congress. If it could be utilized to get a good view of the undercurrents of politics, it would be a boon to some men in both branches of Congress.

W. H. Shipman, Beardsley, Minn., under oath, says he suffered from dyspepsia for twenty-five years. Doctors and dieting gave but little relief. Finally he used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure and now eats what he likes and as much as he wants, and he feels like a new man. It digests what you eat. J. L. Harr.

The fact that as much has been paid to foreign ship owners during the past thirty-five years as has been collected at American custom houses is one that loudly calls for the passage of the shipping bill, which is designed to turn our foreign carrying over to American-built ships.

One of the most notable things in all the Republican State platforms this year is the hearty demand for the passage of the shipping bill, which has been favorably reported to each branch of congress.

J. I. Carson, Prothonotary, Washington, Pa., says: "I have found Kodol Dyspep-ia Cure an excellent remedy in case of stomach trouble, and have derived great benefit from its use." It digests what you eat and cannot fail to cure. J. L. Harr.

Oregon Republicans are for expansion, the Nicaraugua canal, the open door in China, and, very naturally, for the gold standard as the basis on which oriental countries should pay for their goods.

Otto Korb, Grand Chancellor, K. P. Booneville, Ind., says, DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve soothes the most delicate skin and heals the most stubborn ulcer with certain and good results." Cures piles and skin diseases. Don't buy an imitation. J. L. Harr.

The activity of the free trade enemies of the shipping bill, who are spurred on to oppose it by the foreign shipping interests, increases as the chances of its early passage grows more and more favorable.

"I think DeWitt's Little Early Risers are the best pills in the world," says W. E. Lake, Happy Creek, Va. They remove all obstructions of the liver and bowels, act quickly and never gripe. J. L. Harr.

When the Supreme Court decides that the Porto Rican legislation is constitutional, Mr. Bryan will have another reason for demanding the suppression of that body.

H. Clark, Chauncey, Ga., says DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve cured him of piles that had afflicted him for twenty years. It is also a speedy cure for skin diseases. Aeware of dangerous counterfeits. J. L. Harr.

Porto Ricco is not very large, but the politicians of the Demacratic party are hoping it is big enough grave for free silver.

Cleanse the liver, purify the blood, invigorate the body by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers. These famous little pill always act promptly. J. L. Harr

ANOTHER CHANCE.

On the first and third Tuesday of May and June, homeseekers' tickets will be on sale at rate of a Single Fare plus $2 for the round trip to the various parts of the country. For rates, limits territory, etc., call on nearest agent or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

"No family can afford to be without One Minute Cough Cure. It will stop a cough and cure a cold quicker than any other medicine", writes C. W. Williams Sterling Run, Pa. It cures croup, bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles and prevents consumption. Pleasant and harmless. J. L. Harr.

GAING TO PARIS.

Then let us give you valuable information segarding your trip. We can render you good service and ticket you right through from all stations on our line via New York and any of the steamship lines. Call on agents of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway, or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern

RAILROAD EXCURSIONS.

Playing Cards.

"The Cedar Rapids Route" Playing Cards are the finest quality and extra finish. For sale by agents of the B. C. R. & N. Ry at 15 cts. per pack, two for 25 cts. $1.50 per dozen. Call for them at depot or send stamps, coin or money order to General Passenger Department, B., C. R. & N. Ry., Cedar Rapids, Ia. and cards will be sent dostage paid.

BEWARE OF A COUGH.

A cough is not a disease but a symptom. Consumption & bronchitis, which are the most dangerous and fatal diseases, have for teeir first indication a persistant cough, and if properly treated as soon as this cough appears are easily cured. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven wonderfully successful, and gained its wide reputation and extensive sale by its success in curing the diseases which cause coughing. If it is not beneficial it will not cost you a cent. For sale by Harr.

Reduced Rates to the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Reduced round trip rates are now in effect to the nation's great resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas, owned, controlled by the United States Government for the cure of a score of human ills. Beautiful winter, 200 hotels and boarding houses of all grades. Ask nearest ticket agent for particulars, or Mr. John G. Farmer, A. G. P. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia. For illustrated books of information address Bureau of Information, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

A FAST BICYCLE RIDER,

Will ofted receive cuts, sprains, or bruises from accidents. Bucklin's Arnica salve will kill the pain and heal the injury. It's tha cyclist's friend. Cures Chafing, chapped hands, sore lips, burne, ulcers and piles. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c at Harr's.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN ONE NIGHT.

Or to quickly cure La Grippe take "Week-Break-a-cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

A WOMAN'S AWFUL PERIL.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis.' from her doctor, after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse, Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful Stomach and Kidney remedy. Cures Dysaepsia, loss of apetite. Try it. Only 50c—guaranteed—At Harr's.

Buff Plymouth Rocks.

Gockerels all sold. I have two pens from the best stock in the country. First pen stores 93½, eggs $2.50 per 15. Second pen, as even in color, all fine birds, eggs $1.25 per 15. Book your orders now for future delivery.

HENRY STRAW, Jeweler.
tf. Garner, Iowa.

TO CURE A COLD WHILE YOU SLEEP.

Take "Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

Having received a car load of furniture and undertaking goods, I am in shape to supply you with anything in the line of furniture etc.

G. F. SCHULER, Garner, Ia.

Seed Grain!

I have a few hundred bushels of seed wheat, seed barley, seed flax and timothy seed. W. R. BLOOM. tf.

For Sale!—240 acre farm three miles east of Klemme, all under cultivation, buildings, etc. For prices and terms, call on or address, M. S. Gilman, Klemme, Iowa.

If you are desirous of buying wall paper from sample books call at Harr's. He has samples outside of the trust, and will sell cheaper than any other parties in Hancock County, as he buys for cash.

Agents on salary of $15.00 per week and expenses; the greatest agent seller ever produced; every stock and poultry raiser buys it on sight. Hustlers wanted. Refference. Address, with stamp, American Mfg. Co. Terre Haute, Ind.

Contented.

Hungry Higgins—Between you and me, I think these here jokes about our profession is almost worked to death.

Weary Watkins—Well, so long as it ain't us that's bein worked to death, what kick we got?—Indianapolis Journal.

FOUND A GOLD MINE!

It Was in His Poultry Yard.

Man in Iowa Uses a Compound that Makes His Hens Lay Double the Usual Number Summer and Winter. Secret of His SUCCESS.

People in the neighborhood of Creston Iowa, are amazed at the number of eggs that this man drives to market with. When asked what was the cause of his hens being so prolific, he stated it was all in a certain compound he was using, that kept his hens in good condition und furnished them with the proper stimulus to egg production. American Houltry mixture is the name of it, and is made by American Mfg. Co. Terre Haute, Ind. Every man in the poultry business is interested in the health of his hens and their laying capacity. In the eggs lie his profits. This mixture is guaranteed to increase the production of eggs 100 per cent or money refunded. It will do more than three times as much as the same amount of any other compound. It is concentrated in form and the result of years of practical experience in the poultry business. There is absolutely no doubt as to what it will do, and you are invited to try it at the expense of the company. Send $1.00 for sample package and if it doesn't do the work you get your money back. This is fair and is made to induce practical poultrymen to give it a trial. It is also a sure preventive of such diseases as the terrible cholera and roup which create such havoc in all parts of the country. It acts directly on the craw and gizzard and is a thorough scientific preparation.

The manufacturers guarantee every package or refund purchase money. If your druggist don't sell American Poultry Mixture, he's behind the age. In that case order direct from American Manufacturing Co., Terre Haute, Ind.

EUROPEAN EXCURSION.

The B., C. R. & N. Ry. will start an excursion from the Northeast and Northern part of Iowa to the Christian Endeavor Convention in London, England, and to the Paris Exposition.

Many business men, professional men teachers and those who wish to visit their fatherland will gladly avail themselves of this opportunity. That teachers in our schools and colleges may have the advantage of this rare educational privelege, arrangements have been made with the fine Dominion and Allan Line of steamers. The steamers selected on these lines are the 'Cambroman' of the Dominion, and the 'Tunisian' of the Allan. Both are elegant new steamers and sail direct from Montreal to Liverpool.

The remarkably reasonable rate of $75.00, second cabin, from Montral to London and return, is charged. It is to be remembered that the second cabin on these steamers is equal to first cabin on some other lines, and that the very best people will travel this way. Those desiring to sail from New York can take the 'Furnessia of the Anchor Line On this steamer a rate of $119.84, first cabin, and $74.82, second cabin, from New York to London and return is charged. The 'Cambroman' and 'Furnessia' sail on June 23rd, and the 'Tunisian' on June 30th.

For about $14.00 additional a round trip ticket can be purchased by those wishing to visit the Exposition, from London to Paris and return. It will be necessary to apply at once in order to secure berths, as many will be going over.

Rev. D. W. Fahs, D. D. of Independence, who has had experience in excursion work, will have charge of the excursion. Those who contemplate going should address him at once at Independence, Iowa, for particulars

JNO. G. FARMER, A. G. P. & T. A.
Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

AIELT RIEKENS,

PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER. GERMAN OR ENGLISH.

Will cry Sales and guarante satisfaction
Fine Stock Sales a specialty.
Call on or address at

PAULSVILLE, IOWA

Kodol

Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you eat.

It artificially digests the food and aids Nature in strengthening and reconstructing the exhausted digestive organs. It is the latest discovered digestant and tonic. No other preparation can approach it in efficiency. It instantly relieves and permanently cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Flatulence, Sour Stomach, Nausea, Sick Headache, Gastralgia, Cramps and all other results of imperfect digestion.

Price 50c. and $1. Large size contains 2½ times small size. Book all about dyspepsia mailed free

Prepared by E. C. DeWITT & CO., Chicago.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME V. KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, MAY 31, 1900 NUMBER 41

Our Millinery Department

is a success. Our low Prices and Correct Styles are the Keystone to our success.

We have just received a shipment of Mens' Summer Suits and Extra Pants.

E. P. SCHAEFER,

Klemme, Iowa

POSITIONS SECURED!

We aid those who want Government positions. 85,000 places under Civil Service Rules. 8000 yearly appointments. Prepares by mail for all Government examinations. Fees cash or instalments. A thorough and scientific course in all departments. Requires spare time only, Salaries twice as much as private firms for the same kind of work. The hours of labor are short, duties light, positions for life. Take our course of study and we guarantee that you will pass the Civil Service Examinations. Write, inclosing stamp, for our catalogue describing course to

BUREAU OF CIVIL SERVICE INSTRUCTION, WASHINGTON, D. C.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO

FOR SCREEN DOORS

LUMBER,

LIME, STUCCO, AND CEMENT.

EVERYTHING IN BUILDING MATERIAL.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO.

L. G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

::::SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

WALL PAPER,

Paints, Oils, Alabastine, Window Shades and Everything used to Decorate and Beautify the Home.

WATCHES, CLOCKS and JEWELRY.

DRUGGISTS' SUNDRIES.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

Memorial Day.

Decoration Day was appropriately observed every where the flag of the United states proclaims dominion; business was practically suspended and the people united in paying tribute to the memory of the soldiers whc have answered the last roll call. The sweetest flowers of the land will be strewn over the last resting places by loving hands and tender hearts, and tears will be dropped on the sod of green which marks their resting place. Slowly but surely the men who wore the blue in the stormy days of '61-'65, and fought for the honor of the glorious Stars and Stripes are leaving these scenes of activity, and soon there will be none left to pay tribute to their former comrads in arms. But the beautiful custom will never die. A new generation of the boys who wore the blue and fought for the honor and glory of that flag are here and now that they have comrades who gave up their lives while in the service of their country, they have taken up with loving hands the wor'k of their fathers. The begininng of the end has come. To-day the men who fought a third of a century ago did not take nearly the part in the exercises they did a year ago. The young men who served their flag in the Spanish-American war have taken the lead in this work and, in a few years the rapidiy thinning ranks of the old veterans will be but a memory, but we have abundant evidence that the work they organized to do will continue;the flag they taught us to honor be held in the same high esteeme and reverence.

Death of Mrs. H. Wille.

It was impossible in our last issue to give more than a short notice of the death of Mrs. Wille, being unable to get the facts relating thereto. For the past five years her health has been poor, and at no time during that period could it be said that she has not suffered more or less. She was a victim of that dread disease consumption, and although clung to life with wonderful vitality, Tuesday morning at 6:15 o'clock she gave up the struggle and quietly passed into the great beyond, bidding a last farewell to the members of the family around her bed side.

Mrs. H. Wille was born in Germany November 28, 1857, and was aged 42 years, 5 months and 23 days. In 1978 she was united in marriage with Henry Wille and in 1883 came to Iowa. For nearly twelve years they have lived in this vicinity, the last six years on the farm which they purchased, a few miles east of Klemme. She was an earnest, christian, a consistant member of the German Reformed church, a kind and loving wife and mother. The remains were laid to rest in the church cemetery. The sorrowing family have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement.

A Hot One.

A young Chicago drummer was taking a vacation with his uncle in Garner was suddenly called upon to ask the blessing, and not being accustomed to it, promptly tackled the difficulty in the following style: We acknowledge the receipt of your favor of this date. Allow us to express our gratitude for this expression of your good will. Trusting that our house may merit your confidence and that we may receive good orders from you this fall, we are, yours truly, amen."

The Mower Test.

Last Saturday afternoon H. W. Schoper conducted the test of the draw-cut Champion mower and demonstrated beyond the shadow of a doubt, that this machine would do all that was claimed for it. A cedar post was set deep in the ground, just in front of E. P. Schaefers store and where the earth is packed almost as hard as stone. Wm. Schlei's big team was hitched to one of the regular 5-foot cut machines, and on a slow trot, with the mower in gear for cutting, was driven against the post, the guards sinking deep into the wood. The only damage noticeable was one guard slightly bent. A large crowd of the representative farmers witnessed the test, and twenty-three of them signed the following testimonial.

"We the undersigned, farmers and citizens of Hancock county, Iowa, have this day witnessed a test of the Champion draw-cut mower, by hitching a team to the mower and then driving against a post with the machine in gear and rigged for cutting grass, and we are pleased to say that the wheels did not lift from the ground when the cutter-bar came in contact with the post, but were drawn into the ground. We also saw the adjustment for lining up the cutter-bar which is a complete success, and adds one half to the value of the machine.

A. H. Burke,	D. Webner,
Fred Wilkins,	H. C. Lau,
Wm. Henderson'	Andrew Schwarz
Louis Sampson,	Lionel Fuller,
Honry Freie,	T. Kroll,
U. G. Orris,	Dr. H. Harvey,
B Schroeder,	M. S. Gilman,
J. Gruetzmacher,	Ed Griffin,
W. Strattman,	Alb. Riemer,
O. E. Carlson,	W. A. Schli,
F, Bock,

"Old Glory In Cuba."

Last week we gave but brief mention of the band entertainment, prefering to wait until after the engagement at Garner last Saturday night. That both dates were a success financially is an assured fact. We believe that if the play would have been presented at Garner on Friday night instead of Saturday night, the seating capacity of the opera house would have been taxed to the uttermost. The many kind words from the patrons at Garner is proof that the efforts of our people to entertain was duly appreciated. The band, at their meeting Monday passed a resolution, extending a vote of thanks to Misses Dunlap and Terhufen, and Messers Bracher and Gibbs, for their untiring efforts in making the play a success. Taking everything into consideration and allowing the verdict of the people to decide, it was a grand success.

Small in size and great in results are DeWitts Little Early Risers, the famous little pills that cleanse the liver and bowels. They do not gripe.—Harr.

The Boer delegates ar growing unpopular. They refuse to let themselves be drawn into the nets by the wary leaders both parties have been industriously spreading for them.

All who suffer from piles will be glad to learn that DeWitt's Witch Hazel salve will give them instant and permanent relief. It will cure eczema and all skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits.—Harr.

It is hard to tell which shows the most indifference to the feelings of the administration—the Cuban carpet bagger or the Sublime Porte.

The Chinese ask "how is your liver" instead of "how do you do," for when the liver is active the health is good. DeWitts Little Early Risers are famous little pills for the liver and bowels. —Harr.

Just why the Senate should refuse the Boer delegates the privilege of the floor is hard to understand.

Ivy poisoning, poison wounds and all other accidental injuries may be quickly cured bo using DeWitts Witch Hazel salve. It is also a certain cure for piles and all skin disesses, Take no ocher.—Harr.

Now that athletes are going into politics and a prize fighter wants to go to congress, why not select a sprinter for governor of Kentucky.

Reports show that over fifteen hundred lives have been saved through the use of One Miuute Cough Cure. Most of these were cases of grippe, croup, asthma, whooping cough, bronchitis and pneumonia. Its early use prevents consumption,—Harr.

There is a woman under arrest in New York, who has eloped twice, been divorced thre times and has five husbands. And she doesn't come from Utah.

Unless food is digested quickly it will ferment and irritate the stomach. After each meal take a teasdoonful of Kodol Dyspepsia cure. It digests what you eat and will allow you to eat all you need of what you like, It never fails to cure tee worst case of dyspepsia. It is pleasant to take.—Harr.

Neglect is the short step so many take from a cough or cold to consumption. The early use of One Minute Cough cure prevents consumption. It is the only harmles remedy that gives immediote results. It will cure all throat and lung troubles. Children all like it and mothers endorse it.—Harr.

Paris has not yet announced that she does tot seek to equal the Chicago Worlds Fair, but it seems that she will have to do so sooner or later.

Starvation never yet cured dyspepsia. Persons with dyspepsia are already half starved. They need plenty of wholesome food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat so the body can be nourished while the wor nout organs are being reconstructed, It is the only preparation known that will instantly relieve and completely cure stomach troubles. Try it if you are suffering from indigestion. It will certainly do you good.—Harr.

AIELT RIEKENS,

PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER. GERMAN OR ENGLISH

Will cry Sales and guarantee satisfaction
Fine Stock Sales a specialty.
Call on or address at

PAULSVILLE, IOWA

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern
RAILROAD EXCURSIONS.

ONE FARE RATE.

A round trib rate of a single fare has been named by the B C R & N Ry from all Iowa points on its line to Davenport Iowa, for the State Encampment G A R in June. Dates of sale June 11, 12. 13, 14, with return limit to and including June 16. jun13.

¶¶

ONE FARE RATE.

A rate of ONE FARE for the round trip to Des Moines has been named by the B. C. R. & N. Ry. from all stations in Iowa account Prohibition convention June 12-13. Tickets on sale June 11-12, good to return until and including June 14. Call on B. C. R. & N. agents for tickets, Jun. 12.

¶¶

TAKE A VACATION.

Special excursion to Colorado and Utah on June 20, July 9-17 and Aug 1. On above dates round trip excursion tickets, limited for return to Oct 31, will be sold to Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Salt Lake City, and Ogden at the low rate of a SINGLE FARE plus $2. Call on any agent of the B. C. R. & N. Ry. for tickets and full information or address, Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. aug. 1

A Battle of Hearts.

She was bending over a new book as he came in. She laid it down and rose to greet him.

"You were so interested in your book," he said, reproachfully, "that I fear you forgot I had told you I would be here at 4."

"Could I forget?" she laughed. "No; while I waited I tried to make time pass quickly with a book."

He smiled as one to whom such things were due and seated himself where he could face her. She was looking her best that afternoon. She was aware of that fact, and for one who loathed affectation her pose was suspiciously like it. But he only thought how well she would carry the family name and the family diamonds.

"I came this afternoon," he said, "for a special purpose. I hoped last night when I asked if I might see you alone today you would understand why I asked."

His manner was quite confident, and the slight tenderness in it gave the impression that he knew all was well with him. She had her eyes fixed on the floor, so he did not see the smile she was trying to hide. He was so sure of her answer that while she felt he deserved a refusal, yet she felt a little sorry for him. He was distinctly good to look at, bright and clever as possible, irreproachable in family and position, the only child, and his mother was quite willing she should have those magnificent diamonds.

She lifted her eyes to him.

"I came to ask you to be my wife." He spoke impressively, and yet with the tone of one who is trying not to overwhelm another.

Perhaps she was nervous, but she undoubtedly smothered a giggle. He evidently thought it a sob, for he came to her side and leaned over her chair.

"I did not mean to agitate you, my darling." He was trying to take her hand. "Don't keep me in suspense longer than is necessary."

"You are kind," she said, politely; "but I don't think I care about accepting your offer."

He stared.

"You are flippant; this is hardly a ne for joking."

He sprang angrily to her feet.

Sh. ng! Joking! Because I refuse

"Jok. d you think it so impossible you? Di ' decline such an honor?"

that I coul a dark crimson.

He pushed considerable reason to

"You gave me ot decline."

think you would she cried. "Do you

"How dare you!" ely led you on?"

mean that I deliber it, if you are

"Something very like believe——" in earnest. But I will no I am very

"That I am in earnest? test idea much so. I have not the slig ou on.

of marrying you. I never led my

You bored me to death. Was om fault if your conceit kept you fr

seeing my smothered yawns?"

She had dealt him the cruelest blow—hurt his vanity. A man can stand anything better than that. He was silent a minute; then gave a harsh laugh.

"And you are the woman I wanted to make my wife!"

"Don't take that tone to me," she said quickly. "I am not to blame."

"You knew why I was coming this evening. You might have spared me this."

He leaned on the mantel and dropped his face in his hands. She was distinctly embarrassed and ashamed, as he could see out of the corner of his eye.

"You never cared for me," she said, and her voice shook a little. "You were always so busy telling me about yourself and your doings." Her indignation was getting the better of her sympathies. "You had no time to think about me. Why, you don't even know the color of my eyes. I suppose you felt it was time you married, and your mother approved of me, and so you condescended to honor me with your hand, thinking I would be grateful."

He was looking at her, but she refused to meet his gaze. He was so surprised that he grew pale. His voice was constrained as he answered her:

"You are wrong about my not being interested in what you do or say. I have been thinking of you, and you only, since I first met you. I beg your pardon for acting like a cad. I have been spoiled all my life. My friends and relatives are largely to blame for my conduct. You did me good, for in your quiet way you let me see sometimes what a fool you thought me. I ought to have seen that I bored you. I tried to please you, and I was only making you despise me."

He had never looked so manly or so handsome, and her heart warmed to him. I said he was clever, and he saw her indignation vanishing. His self-possession returned.

"I love you, my little girl," he said, tenderly. "Forgive me for seeming indifferent. I never was." There was no confidence now in his tone, only entreaty. "Can I hope to win you in time if I try to be what you would have me?"

Where was her anger? She tried in vain to find it. Was a pleading voice to undo all her stern determination?

"Look at me, please," he begged. "Let me see those blue eyes once more before you send me away. You see you wronged me when you said I did not know their color. They always remind me of violets. Must I go without a word? Are you not going to speak to me? At least you will say good afternoon?"

Nothing could have been better than his hurt tone.

She rose slowly, and gave him her hand, still refusing to lift her eyes.

"Good-by," she said, in a would-be firm voice. There was a twinkle in his eyes that perhaps it was just as well she missed, but he said nothing, only took her other hand and lifted both to his lips. Twice he did this; then, sighing deeply, let them go and turned to the door. As he reached the threshold he turned for a last look. She was glancing at him, and she buried her face in her hands as she cried, "Come back."—New Orleans Times-Democrat.

MEN'S MEANNESS

Crops Out When They Occupy the Same Steamer Stateroom.

"There's one place above all others where a man exhibits his meanness," said the traveler, 'and that's aboard an ocean liner and toward the man who is obliged to occupy the same stateroom with him. You are mad to begin with that you have to bunk in with somebody. If he get's the lower berth he's done you a mortal injury. If he's seasick you have a contempt for him; if he is not, you are a bit envious. I've crossed the Atlantic nine times and always shared a stateroom, and I was never more than on speaking terms with my roommate. You can be all right toward everybody else aboard, but he's your enemy. The case is worse when it's a pair of old travelers, as each is posted as to his rights and privileges, and is zealous in enforcing them. When I crossed to London last year I had a Chicago man for a chum. No doubt he was an all round good fellow, but it was his sixth or seventh trip, and he'd got posted as to when and how to exhibit his meanness. I found him in the stateroom when I came aboard. We recognized each other as veterans, but a few words must be uttered for decency's sake. 'Name's Jones,' says I, as I chucked away my steamer trunk. 'Name's Brown,' says he, as he hanged on his hat. We didn't speak again for four days. Then we got a heavy gale and a big sea, and as I was lying in my bunk he came in for some cigars and growled: 'Got it?' 'No; have you?' 'No. Hoped you had!' 'Ditto!' An hour before we landed I handed him a paper on which was written down my own feelings concerning him. I called him a crank, a curmudgeon, a beast, a heathen, and lots of other things, and expressed the fervent hope that it might never occur that the same hotel would give us both shelter in Europe. As I handed out my paper he extended one. He had written down his feelings toward me, and I pledge you my word if the two papers weren't alike to a word! I met him in Paris six weeks later on, and we rushed to greet each other like old friends, and for two weeks we walked about like two brothers, and were grieved when the parting came. That was on land, you know, and we weren't bunkmates. I'm going over again next month, but I'm making no promises of better behavior. Whether my roommate is a minister from Boston or a cattle raiser from Arizona I shall probably do all I can to make his position uncomfortable, and I am sure he will do as much for me."—Washington Post.

Pilot Butte.

Standing out on the level plain near the line of the Union Pacific railroad, in Wyoming, is a fantastically-shaped mound of rock and earth of the size of a small mountain. It is one of the most celebrated of several such monumental evidences of nature's curious turns in that country.—Detroit Free Press.

M'KINLEY IN OLD VIRGINIA.

Presidential Party Attends Memorial Exercises.

Fredericksburg, Va., May 26.—Fair weather favored the presidential party in their visit to the memorial services of the Army of the Potomac here. The special carried all the members of the cabinet except Secretary Wilson. There also were in the party Gen. Nelson A. Miles; his chief aid, Col. Michler; Gen. Joseph Wheeler, former Adjt.-Gen. Ruggles, who was colonel of the president's old regiment during the war, and the marine band. The address of welcome was delivered by St. George R. Fitzhugh and the response was made by Gen. Martin T. E. McMahon. The oration of the day was then delivered by Gen. Daniel E. Sickles. The exercises were followed by a luncheon served in the opera house to the members of the society, the ladies and invited guests. This was over by two o'clock, after which the president held a brief reception at the residence of St. George R. Fitzhugh, before the party proceeded to the national cemetery for the ceremonies incident to the corner stone laying of the 5th corps monument. The corner stone of the monument was laid by Gen. Daniel E. Butterfield. He had prepared for the occasion a handsome silver trowel appropriately inscribed, and after the ceremony this was presented to the Masonic lodge of Fredericksburg.

BOER ENVOYS ARE GUESTS.

Given a Dinner in Washington—Congressmen Make Speeches.

Washington, D. C., May 26.—Representative William Alden Smith of Michigan gave a dinner at the Hotel Gordon to the Boer commisisoners. The guests of honor were Messrs. Fischer, Wessels and Wolmarans, commissioners; Mr. De Bruyn, secretary. Among the others present were Senators Burrows, Quarles, Gallinger and Pritchard; Representatives Hitt, Cooper (Wis.), Fowler, Clarke, Foss, S. W. Smith, Corliss, Weeks, Grosvenor, Fordney, Hopkins, Hill, Littlefield, Heatwole, McCleary, Wright, Hawley, Crumpacker, Sheldon, Sperry, Mercer, Hamilton, Watson, and Messrs. P. L. Wessels, a brother of one of the commissioners; Van der Hooght of Baltimore, and Webster Davis, Glick, Dunn, Hosford and Charles of Washington. At the end of the dinner the commissioners were each in turn called upon by Mr. Smith and made brief addresses. Their remarks were in line with what they have heretofore said as to their mission here. Fischer said that they came to the whole people of the United States and not to any party.

THREE MEN KILLED AT AKRON

Accident to Work Train on Suburban Electric Line.

Akron, Ohio, May 26.—Three men were killed and a number of others seriously injured as a result of an accident to a work train on the Akron and Cuyahoga Falls Rapid Transit (electric) suburban line. The brakes on two cars, loaded with gravel and carrying about a dozen workmen, became disabled at the top of a steep grade. The care rushed down the incline at a terrific speed. Nine of the workmen jumped from the cars as they sped along, and were seriously injured. The dead: Jack McMahon, Michael Penders, K. Welker. Among those badly injured are Noah Updegraff and Jack Haley. The names of the other injured have not yet been learned.

At Odds Over Meat Exclusion.

Frankfort-on-Main, May 26.—The butchers of southern Germany are irreconcilable as regards the meat inspection bill which has just passed the reichstag. Immediately the measure was enacted the Wurttemberg Fleischertag, or Meat Dealers' association, was convened and the organization resolved to ally itself with the No-Compromise union which has been formed to combat the exclusion of foreign meats.

Murder at a Primary.

Rising Sun, Ind., May 26.—Edward Carver killed William Patterson in a political quarrel at the Republican primary at Florence. Patterson was shot through the head. Carver, who was a candidate for sheriff, has fled to Kentucky. Only two men witnessed the killing, and neither will talk. If Carver is caught the extradition question between Kentucky and Indiana doubtless will be raised.

Tiffany Paris Exhibit Sold.

Paris, May 26.—Tiffany's valuable exhibit at the exposition was bought yesterday by an American. His name, which is kept secret by Mr. Tiffany, is said by others to be J. Pierpont Morgan. He is to make a gift of his purchase to the American Museum of Natural History. The exhibit is to remain during the exposition.

Liabilities Are $13,000,000.

New York, May 26.—The gross liabilities of Price, McCormick & Co., the cotton firm that failed yesterday, are estimated at $13,000,000, nearly all of which are said to be well secured. No statement of assets has been made

RIOTS CONTINUE IN ST. LOUIS.

Mob Fires Into a Car, Seriously Wounding a Police Officer.

St. Louis, May 28.—As a car on the Jefferson avenue line running south approached Sullivan avenue a mob of men and boys blocked the line and opened fire on the occupants of the car. The officers on the car responded, and fully 100 shots were exchanged. Peter Well, a patrolman riding on the car, was shot in the left armpit and badly wounded. Two of the strikers in the crowd were wounded, but their companions hurried them away to avoid arrest or identification. A riot call was sent to the fifth district police station, but when a squad of officers arrived at the scene the crowd had dispersed and no arrests were made. The differences between the management of the St. Louis and Suburban Railway campany and the union men in its employ were satisfactorily adjusted this afternoon, and all danger of another strike has been averted, at least for the present.

HOPES TO FREE CAPT. CARTER

Chicago Lawyer Plans to Get Ex-Army Officer Out of Prison.

Leavenworth Kas., May 26.—Frank B. Blair of Chicago, one of the attorneys for Capt. Oberlin M. Carter, the army engineer in prison at Fort Leavenworth, is in town to hold a conference with the prisoner relative to the efforts that are being made to have some process instituted that will get him out of prison. Just what Mr. Blair intends to use he refuses to make known beyond saying that half a dozen leading attorneys of the country are hard at work devising ways and means for the release of the engineer and that he has strong hopes of success. Capt. Carter has said repeatedly that he did not and would not accept a pardon, because that would be construed as an admission of his guilt. He still declares his innocence and expresses confidence in his early release.

Life Sentence for Dynamiters.

Toronto, Ont., May 28.—It only took a Canadian jury twelve minutes' consideration to-day to find Dullman, Notin and Walsh guilty of the attempted destruction of the Welland canal by dynamite. They were each sentenced to penal servitude for life. The judge was so satisfied with the crown's evidence that his charge was to a considerable extent against the prisoners, who on hearing their sentences seemed stunned and dazed. It is known that one of the accused gave very valuable information to the government and he will doubtless be quietly and secretly liberated very soon. The condemned men will go to the penitentiary at Kingston, Ont.

Priest Jumps Into Niagara.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., May 28.—John J. O'Donnell, a priest of the Roman Catholic church, committeed suicide by jumping into the whirlpool rapids. He threw his hat and cane upon the platform, raised his right hand, shouted "Good-by!" and jumped in. His head could be seen above the water for 200 feet down the rapids and then it was lost to sight. O'Donnell was formerly assistant pastor of the Church of the Sacred Heart in New York, but had been for a year an inmate of a private asylum for the insane at Buffalo.

Girl Leaves Cell and Weds.

Chicago, May 28.—To prevent the sending of his sweetheart to a reformatory Albert Isham obtained a marriage license and the two were married in the Harrison street police station. Margaret Guilfoyle was arrested a few days ago on complaint of her mother in St. Louis, who said she had run away from home. Miss Guilfoyle is within a few days of being 18 years old.

On the Trail of Aguinaldo.

Manila, May 28.—Maj. Peyton C. March, with a battalion of the Thirty-third infantry, and Col. Luther R. Hare, with another part of the Thirty-third regiment, while scouring the country northeast of Benguer, report that they have struck the trail of a pary of Filipinos, traveling in the mountains, and believe they are escorting Aguinaldo.

Forest Fires in Michigan.

Menominee, Mich., May 28.—Forest fires are raging in Ingalls township. Seven sections of land owned by James B. Goodman & Co. of Chicago have been burned over and the flames are still spreading. The fire covers an area of nine miles.

Catalina Mountains on Fire.

Tucson, Ari., May 28.—The fire on Catalina mountains still rages and a timber tract fifteen miles in length and ten miles wide has burned. Men are at work trying to stop the fire.

Three Prisoners Break Jail.

Mount Sterling, Ill., May 28.—Three prisoners broke jail here. They were Dale, McCoy and Willie Hile. The sheriff and deputies started in pursuit, but have not located them.

Large ocean going vessels can go up the St. Lawrence river as far as Montreal, over 1,000 miles from the Atlantic ocean.

Sleep Changes the Verdict.

A jury recently agreed upon a verdict, sealed it and went home. After sleeping over it they disagreed. This shows the power of sleep to strengthen the mind. Those who are troubled with insomnia or stomach disorders should try Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It puts the stomach in good condition and induces sound sleep.

It always makes a man bitter to have his sweetheart sour on him.

Morning Tiredness

Is a serious complaint. It's a warning that should be heeded. It is different from an honest tired feeling. It is a sure sign of poor blood. You can cure it by making your blood rich and pure with Hood's Sarsaparilla. That is what other people do—thousands of them. Take a few bottles of this good medicine now and you will not only get rid of that weak, languid, exhausted feeling, but it will make you feel well all through the summer.

Tired Feeling—"I had that tired feeling and did not have life or ambition to accomplish my usual amount of household work. Hood's Sarsaparilla gave me relief and also cured a scrofula tendency." MRS. R. MERRITT, Dowagiac, Mich.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the Best Medicine Money Can Buy.

Most things people are compelled to take, have been "picked over."

Wonderful Eight.

Cures cholera, diarrhoea, colic, cramps, lameness, sprains, lumbago, swellings, pains in the head or body, neuralgia, rheumatism and toothache, all pain, internal or external cured quicker with Morley's Wonderful Eight than any other remedy. Sold by agent in every town.

A big man always feels small after he has been taken in.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.

Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

Lord Roberts weighs a little more than 100 pounds.

WESTFIELD, MASS., Nov. 27, 1899.
THE GENESEE PURE FOOD CO., Le Roy, N. Y.

Gentlemen:—Having used your GRAIN-O for the past three months, I thought I would write and let you know how much good it has done me. When I was away on my vacation last summer, the people I visited asked me to try some GRAIN-O, and I drank some, but I didn't like it at all, but the more I drank it the better I liked it, and now I wouldn't drink anything else. I never weighed over 106 pounds, and last winter I was down to 103 pounds; now I weigh just 120, and I never felt better in my life. It gives me an awful appetite, and makes me strong. It is doing me more good than anything I ever took, and I would recommend it to everybody. Very truly, MRS. GEO. B. BROWN.

The bachelors in the state of New York outnumber the spinsters by 120,000.

Piso's Cure for Consumption is an infallible medicine for coughs and colds.—N. W. SAMUEL, Ocean Grove, N. J., Feb. 17, 1900.

The best people in the world some times make mistakes.

Are You Using Allen's Foot-Ease?

It is the only cure for Swollen, Smarting, Burning, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

The average cyclist gets there with both feet.

MUST NOT IMITATE CURE.

Joseph W. Burgess of the firm of Burgess & Van Horn, chemists, and Harry Lay and W. T. Fuge, barbers, were arraigned in the criminal court at Kansas City, May 2, on the charge of refilling bottles which originally contained Coke's dandruff cure with a spurious article and passing it off for the genuine. They pleaded not guilty and were released on bonds of $500 each to appear for trial May 24.

It is understood that other arrests will follow and that the cases now pending will be vigorously prosecuted.

The most of our troubles are two-thirds anticipation and one-third realization.

$5.00 A DAY! We pay $5.00 a day to Man or Woman with rig to introduce our goods in the country. Write International Mfg. Co., Parsons, Kans.

Try Grain-O! Try Grain-O!

Ask you Grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee.

The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it, like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. ¼ the price of coffee.

15 cents and 25 cents per package. Sold by all grocers.

Tastes like Coffee
Looks like Coffee

Insist that your grocer gives you GRAIN-O Accept no imitation.

Luxuriant hair with its youthful color assured by using PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM.
HINDERCORNS, the best cure for corns. 15cts.

Trying to keep up appearance keeps many a big man down.

Do your clothes look yellow? If so, use Maple City Soap. It will make them white again. Sold by all grocers.

The apartment house that doesn't pay is a flat failure.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

A married woman says that male is only a mistake in spelling mule.

Husband,

If you have a weak, nervous, debilitated wife, do not scold or become impatient with her. Give her kind treatment, loving words and Morley's Liver and Kidney Cordial to renovate, regulate and strengthen her system, and our word for it she will soon be your healthy, happy best half. Price $1. Sold by agent in every town.

There is probably nothing quite so sure as consequences.

If You Have Dandruff
please try Coke Dandruff Cure. Money refunded if it fails. At Druggist's, $1.00.

The weather is as uncertain as a woman's age between 30 and 40.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES do not spot, streak or give your goods an unevenly dyed appearance.

The penman's business is flourishing.

Binder Twine at Low Prices.
If you want a special inside price on binder twine, either Sisal, Standard or Manila, cut this notice out and mail to SEARS, ROEBUCK & Co. (Binder Twine Department), Chicago, stating about how much twine you will require and how soon you will want it, and they will save you money by quoting you a price that will either secure your order or compel the party who supplies you to sell to you at a lower price than he otherwise would.

One way to obtain credit is by not needing it.

You Will Never Know what good ink is unless you use Carter's. It costs no more than poor ink. All dealers.

India has a greater variety of plants than any other country in the world and Charming Summer Resorts.

GOOD FISHING

Those in search of health or recreation can do no better than to take an outing at one of the following popular resorts on the Minneapolis & St. Louis R. R. Waterville, Minn., Lake Tetonka. Splendid pike, crappie and bass fishing and boating. Maple Point Hotel or Tetonka Park Hotel provide the best of accommodations. Waconia, Minn., Clear Lake. The Coney Island Hotels are famous for good accommodations. Lake Minnetonka is best reached by the Minneapolis & St. Louis R. R. There are numerous first-class hotels at Deephaven, Cottagewood, Excelsior, Lake Park, etc. Frequent trains and reduced rate tickets on sale. For further information call on agents or write to A. B. Cutts, G. P. & T. A., M. & St. L. R. R. Minneapolis.

A woman can do anything with the aid of a hairpin—except sharpen a lead pencil.

FITS Permanently Cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Send for FREE $2.00 trial bottle and treatise. DR. R. H. KLINE, Ltd., 931 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Mrs. McKinley confesses to having crocheted 4,000 pairs of slippers.

Two bars of Maple City Soap will do as much washing as three of any rosin-filled soap and do it better and easier. All grocers.

It's peculiar that pointed remarks are apt to be blunt.

The Pinkham Remedies

For disorders of the feminine organs have gained their great renown and enormous sale because of the permanent good they have done and are doing for the women of this country.

If all ailing or suffering women could be made to understand how absolutely true are the statements about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, their sufferings would end.

Mrs. Pinkham counsels women free of charge. Her address is Lynn, Mass. The advice she gives is practical and honest. You can write freely to her; she is a woman.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

DES MOINES, May 28, 1900.

Articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state by the city water company of Cedar Rapids, with capital stock of $770,000.

The imperial council of the Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, in session at Washington, authorized the establishment of a temple at Des Moines, which shall have exclusive jurisdiction over the nine counties of Boone, Story, Marshall, Dallas, Polk, Jasper, Madison, Warren and Marion. The organization of Des Moines temple was the result of a compromise, the older temples strenuously objecting to a new temple in Iowa. After due deliberation, however, it was unanimously and harmoniously agreed that the Des Moines temple should be authorized, with exclusive jurisdiction over the nine counties above named.

The supreme court has decided that there will be no rehearing in the saloon case of West vs. Ill, in which the old consent petitions of Des Moines were held invalid. When this case was handed down, at the last term of court, the ruling was that saloon consent petitions secured and filed prior to October 1, 1897, were invalidated under the code of 1897, and were without force or effect. This was the decision that closed the Des Moines saloons, as well as a good many others in the state. At that time an application was filed, on behalf of the saloon men, for a rehearing, and was submitted some time ago. The supreme court has just ruled on it, and held against allowing a hearing. This is the end of the case, and there is no further chance of setting aside the decision.

The state board of control is preparing the list and amounts to be paid the patients at Mount Pleasant asylum. This money was provided for by the last legislature. It was embezzled by Dr. Gilman while superintendent of the institution.

Although Manager Foster, of the old opera houses, has joined the theatrical trust with a view of preventing W. P. Chase of the Auditorium from securing attractions for his house, Mr. Chase had already perfected arrangements by which he will secure the very best companies on the road. Maurice Barrymore and a big company are filling the house and the diminutive and popular Arthur Dunn and another big company will appear next week.

One of the most interesting topics taken up at the mothers' congress has been the subjects which relate to the home. This is so apparent that the Chautauqua committee having in charge the home department have decided to devote the hour assigned them during the fornoon of the assembly, July 10-24, to practical demonstrations and discussions of many of the things touched upon at the congress.

As a direct result of the meeting of the Mothers' Congress, the Iowa State Congress of Mothers has been organized, with fifty-eight affiliated clubs represented. The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Isaac L. Hillis, state regent, representing the national congress. A constitution was adopted, modelled after that of the national congress. No by-laws were adopted, but the executive committee will prepare these. It is expected that the number of affiliated Iowa clubs will soon be greatly increased. The officers elected are: President, Mrs. Isaac L. Hillis, Des Moines; vice-president, Mrs. Julia Clark Hallam, Sioux City; recording secretary, Mrs. Rose Jerrell, Oskaloosa; corresponding seeretary, Mrs. E. S. Burgin, Des Moines; auditor, Mrs. R. A. Romans, Denison.

There is now said to be little doubt but that the Des Moines saloon cases will go to the supreme court. The coming canvass of the petition on June 4 will resemble the events of the last canvass to a certain extent. "We expect to be heard fully before the board," said Judge Spurrier, "and if we are not granted the privilege which is one of the first accorded under citizenship, we will at once take it up to the district court, as we did before. I suppose there are at least fifteen grounds on which the operation of saloons in Des Moines can be prevented, but if we are given a hearing and are then shown that we are in error, we will be satisfied. An appeal will certainly be taken from an adverse decision, but it will not interfere with the running of the saloons."

At a meeting of the state executive committee of the Iowa branch of the National Equal Suffrage Association plans were mapped out for a most vigorous campaign in the equal suffrage cause. Seven members of the committee were present, including Mrs. Belden, the state president. The meeting was a vigorous one, and it was decided to continue the fight for equal suffrage by the most thorough organization. The work of the suffragists before the legislature last winter was discussed. The members present were not cast down over the defeat of the joint resolution in favor of an equal suffrage amendment. In fact, in the opinion of Mrs. Romans, of the national committee, the effect in the end would be beneficial and compel more thorough and effective organization. A state convention of the equal suffragists has been determined on next October. It will be held either in Des Moines or Waterloo. One of the most important steps taken by the executive committee was a plan for more thorough organization of the counties of Iowa than has ever been attempted in any state.

CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Washington, May 21.—A pyrotechnic discussion of the status of the Boer commissioners now in Washington was precipitated in the senate to-day by a resolution offered by Allen of Nebraska, extending to the commissioners the privilege of the floor of the senate during their sojourn in the national capital. The resolution was defeated by a vote of 36 to 21, but not until after a sharp controversy between the author and Mr. Davis, chairman of the committee on foreign relations. The postoffice appropriation bill was passed finally, the amendment to appropriate $225,000 to carry out existing contracts for the pneumatic tube service being agreed to.

HOUSE.

The house today, under suspension of the rules, passed two important bills reported by the committee on labor—one to extend the eight-hour law to all laborers employed under contract on government work and the other to prohibit interstate traffic in prison-made goods by bringing them under the jurisdiction of the police powers of the state. The former bill is designed to carry the law of 1892 to its logical conclusion.

SENATE.

Washington, May 22.—Spooner of Wisconsin made a notable speech in favor of his bill providing that upon the suppression of the insurrection in the Philippines the government of the islands shall devolve upon the president until such time as congress might direct otherwise. Carter of Montana presented the credentials of Senator Clark of that state. They will lie on the table for the present. Mr. Wellington of Maryland presented the resolution adopted by the meeting held in this city on Sunday evening last to welcome the envoys from the South African republics. He gave notice that on Monday he would speak on the subject.

HOUSE.

The house devoted the entire day to the Alaskan civil government bill. Slow progress was made, only twenty-four pages being disposed of.

SENATE.

Washington, May 23.—Morgan's resolution calling upon the secretary of the navy for information relative to the cost of transportation of troops and supplies to the Philippines was agreed to. The resolution offered by Bacon of Georgia directing the committee on relations with Cuba to make an investigation regarding the receipts and expenditure of money in Cuba, was called up. Platt said congress could not well interfere with the investigation the president had instituted, and no guilty man would escape. Hale regretted that we had taught the Cubans the "lesson in fraud," and added that unless congress took drastic action the time would never come when the last United States soldier would be withdrawn from Cuba. Spooner said if he thought that he would be ashamed of his government's action.

HOUSE.

The house today passed without division the extradition bill framed by the judiciary committee, but only after a debate in which considerable political rancor was aroused. The house also adopted the resolution to allow the committee on ways and means to sit during the recess of congress for the purpose of framing a bill for the reduction of the war revenues and a resolution for a sine die adjournment June 7.

SENATE.

Washington, May 24.—Bacon of Georgia delivered an extended reply to the speech of Platt of Connecticut, delivered yesterday. His speech was largely supplemental to that which he delivered several days ago, demanding an investigation of Cuban financial affairs. His resolution, to which there is little or no opposition, under the rules went to the committee on contingent expenses. The remainder of the session was occupied by Spooner of Wisconsin in concluding his speech on the Philippine question. The debate which he aroused took a turn decidedly political. He charged the anti-imperialists with creating an issue that was not legitimate. Many of his statements were controverted by Allen of Nebraska and Pettigrew of South Dakota, and the controversy at times became almost personal.

HOUSE.

The house practically devoted eight hours to the consideration of the Alaska civil government bill, but progress was slow. An amendment adopted authorized the secretary of war to issue permits to excavate or dredge for gold below low-water mark on the beach at Cape Nome. The secretary has heretofore issued permits, but the bill as it passed the senate cancelled them.

SENATE.

Washington, May 25.—Discussion of the Spooner Philippine bill was continued in the senate to-day by Morgan of Alabama. On the general question of the ownership and government by the United States of the Philippine islands he was in accord with Senators Lodge and Spooner, but he regarded the pending measure as unwise and dangerous legislation, because of the great power placed in the hands of the president. He was satisfied, however, that the measure would not be passed by this congress, and declared that it was being used as a foil to thrust aside the Nicaragua canal bill. Carter of Montana presented the certificate of Gov. Smith appointing Martin Maginnis senator to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Clark.

HOUSE.

The house devoted two hours today to consideration of the Alaskan civil government bill without completing it. The session from noon until adjournment was devoted under the rule to private pension bills, and 190 were passed.

SENATE.

Washington, May 26.—The senate agreed to the resolution for an investigation by the committee on Cuban affairs of the Cuban postal and other irregularities, authorizing the committee to visit Cuba if necessary to pursue the inquiry. Beyond this the proceedings were of slight interest, some time being given to the sundry civil appropriation bill, without completing, and to the District of Columbia business.

HOUSE.

The house practically completed consideration of the Alaska civil government bill. Cooper, of Wisconsin, chairman of the committee on insular affairs, presented a favorable report on the resolution calling upon the postmaster general for information regarding the reports of E. G. Rathbone, director of posts in Cuba. Adopted. Another resolution from the same committee, introduced by Jones, of Virginia, calling upon the secretary of war for a report in detail of the payments made and to whom, from the revenue of Cuba and Porto Rico, was also adopted.

NEELEY GOT $450,000.

Embezzlements Aggregating That Amount Charged Against Him.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Embezzlements aggregating nearly $450,000, it is alleged, are now laid at the door of Charles F. W. Neely, late chief financial agent of the postal service in Cuba, who is at present a prisoner in Ludlow street jail in this city. In addition to the sum of $45,300.26 which he is accused of having stolen outright from the Cuban postal funds, and upon which charge he was re-arrested here yesterday, government officials accuse him of fraudently securing $400,000 by the sale of Cuban stamps which had been ordered destroyed.

LORD ROBERTS IS CHECKED.

Infantry Unable to Cross Rhenoster for Few Days.

LONDON, May 25.—Lord Roberts's infantry advance is delayed at the Rhenoster river for a day or two by the depth of the stream, which is not fordable. The banks, which are precipitous, are forty feet high. A pontoon and temporary bridge constructions are under way.

A Warning.

Pain or soreness in the back must never be slighted. Kidney diseases creep on us with only that one warning. Delay is folly when by timely use of Morley's Liver and Kidney Cordial, the great System renovator, all danger can be avoided. This remedy is a positive cure for Kidney and Urinary Troubles. Sold by agent in every town.

A very hot iron should never be used for flannels or woolens.

Do Your Feet Ache and Burn?

Shake into your shoes Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder for the feet. It makes tight or New Shoes feel Easy. Cures Corns, Bunions, Swollen, Hot and Sweating Feet. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

The man who trades with the Indians soon discovers that they are redskins.

Send for Choice Recipes
by Walter Baker & Co., Ltd. Dorchester, Mass. mailed free. Mention this paper.

One hundred years ago Australia had about 1,000,000 aborigines. Now they have dwindled to less than 100,000.

Hall's Catarrh Cure
Is taken internally. Price, 75c.

The more snags a dentist runs up against the more successful he is.

NONE SUCH

Nothing hobbles the muscles and unfits for work like

SORENESS
and
STIFFNESS

Nothing relaxes them and makes a speedy perfect cure like

St. Jacobs Oil

A kid glove manufacturer is rough-on-rats.

W. N. U., Des Moines., No. 22—1900

SEND US YOUR NAME

On a postal card, MENTION THIS PAPER, and we will send you ABSOLUTELY FREE any one or all of our five Catalogues QUOTING TO YOU DIRECT our goods at WHOLESALE DISCOUNTS.

CATALOGUES:
No. 1—Cameras & Photo Goods.
No. 2—Bicycles & Sundries.
No. 3—Talking Machines, Records, &c.
No. 4—Guns, Ammunition, Etc.
No. 5—Sporting & Athletic Goods.

YOU WILL FIND US THE LOWEST PRICED HOUSE IN BUSINESS
Compare our discounts with others and see for yourself.

W. P. CHASE CO., 616-618-620 Locust Street, 415-417 Seventh Street, DES MOINES, IOWA.

NEW FIRST-CLASS
500 Cameras
FOR 3½x3½, 4x5 and 5x7 PICTURES
AT HALF REGULAR PRICES $2.50 to $11.00

All Guaranteed. Money refunded if not as represented. Send for free Illustrated Catalogue D.

BE SURE TO SEND FOR CATALOGUE D.

SWEET, WALLACH & CO., 86 Wabash Ave., CHICAGO

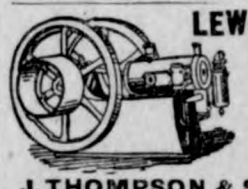
AN OPPORTUNITY TO VISIT THE EAST

Pleasantly and economically is afforded by the tourist tickets on sale via the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Ry. on and after June 1st.

Chautauqua Lake, Niagara Falls, the St. Lawrence River, White Mountains and the Atlantic Coast Resorts

are among the more important points reached. Summer edition of "Book of Trains" showing specimen tours will be of interest in arranging for your trip. Sent free on application to F. M. BYRON, G. W. A., 144 Van Buren Street, Chicago.

THE NEW TWENTY-SIX HOUR BOSTON TRAIN
Is now in service.



LEWIS GAS ENGINES
Adapted for All Purposes
SIMPLE . . .
ECONOMICAL
DURABLE . .
Send for Catalogue and state your power needs.
J. THOMPSON & SONS MFG. CO.
Box 501. BELOIT, WIS.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine
Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE.

Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS.

Six Month's Treatment for $1

DR. W. H. COPELAND

The Most Eminent Physician and Specialist on

CATARRH

and Kindred Ailments, Dyspepsia, Deafness and Lung Troubles in the World,

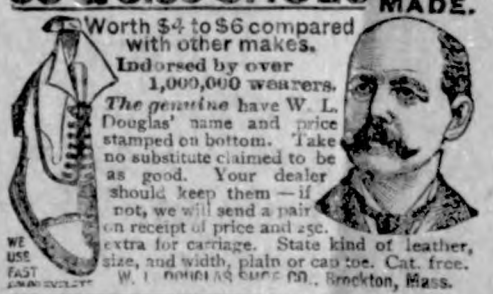
Can be consulted personally only in Chicago. He is the founder of the Copeland practice in all the large cities of the United States. Has arranged through the machinery of his vast system to treat

SUFFERERS WITH CATARRH

six months at your home, without the loss of time and expense of a visit to Chicago, although you are just as much in touch with the restoring power and magnetic influence of Dr. Copeland as though your hand was grasped in his. Drop all other treatments for your Catarrh. Send a short description of your case with application. Inclose $1, which will cover the entire charge for six months' treatment, including all medicines and advice. Address

W. H. COPELAND, M. D.
210 State St. CHICAGO, ILL.

W. L. DOUGLAS $3 & 3.50 SHOES UNION MADE.



Worth $4 to $6 compared with other makes.
Indorsed by over 1,000,000 wearers.
The genuine have W. L. Douglas' name and price stamped on bottom. Take no substitute claimed to be as good. Your dealer should keep them—if not, we will send a pair on receipt of price and 25c. extra for carriage. State kind of leather, size, and width, plain or cap toe. Cat. free.
W. L. DOUGLAS SHOE CO., Brockton, Mass.

DROPSY NEW DISCOVERY; gives quick relief and cures worst cases. Book of testimonials and 10 DAYS' treatment FREE. DR. H. H. GREEN'S SONS, Box B, Atlanta, Ga.

PENSIONS Get your Pension DOUBLE QUICK
Write CAPT. O'FARRELL, Pension Agent, 1425 New York Avenue, WASHINGTON, D. C.

KOERENR BROS.....

Woven Wire Fencing,
Poultry Netting, Barbed Wire,
Nails, Staples, Hay Tools,
Cargenter Tools, Bicycles,
Bicycle Repairs, Paints,
Oils, Brushes, Putty,
Glass, Roofing, Spouting
Etc. Etc.

KLEMME, IOWA.

BAISSEAU.

An Imported Percheron Stallion.

Weight abou 2000 pounds. A magnifficent horse in every way. You will make no mistake n you see him before promising elsewhere. He will be found at Terhufen's barn, Klemme, Wednesday's of each week.

$12 for colt to stand and suck.

BLACK DIAMOND.

THREE YEAR OLD COLT.

Black Diamond is a standard bred COACH. Fine style and action. Light enough for carriage, heavy enough for hard work. Te see him is to appreciate the horse. Weight 1120. At Terhufen's barn, Klemme, Wednesday of each week. At Blackwell's barn, Garner, Saturday's. $10 for colt to stand and suck.

O. H. CUMMINGS, Klemme, Iowa.

Republican County Convention.

The republican voters of Hancock county will meet in delegate convention at Garner, Iowa, on Saturday, June 2nd, 1900 at 1 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of selecting delegates to a state convention to be called, and also to select delegates to a judicial convention to be called and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

The basis of representation in said convention will be one delegate for each township and one for each twenvotes or major fraction thereof tfor L. M. Shaw for governor at general election held November 7, 9. The townships will be eutitled to representation as follows:

Amsterdam	7	Ell	5
Avery	7	Erin	5
Britt	21	Garfield	3
Bingham	5	German	4
Boone	4	Magor	8
Corwith Precinct	2	Madison	5
Concord	12	Orthel	5
Crystal	6	Twin Lakes	4
Ellington	7.

It is recommended that the different townships hold their caucuses on Saturday, May 26, 1900.

F. E. BLACKSTONE,
Chairman.

COUNTY ATTORNEY.

I hereby announce mysely a candidate for County Attorney, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the primaries.

J. E. WICHMAN.

COUNTY RECORDER.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for renomination to the office of County Recorder of Hancock county, Iowa, subject to the Republican Primaries of 1900.

OLE PETERLON.

COUNTY AUDITOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-nomination to the office of County Auditor subject to the decision of the Republican Primaries.

E. F. BRUMMUND:

CLERK OF DISTRICT COURT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-nomination to the office of Clerk of the District Court of Hancock county, Iowa, subect to the Republican Primaries of 1900.

L. D. WOMELDORF.

We have the SCREENS,
You have the Flies;
You get our SCREENS,
And live pleasant lives,

We have the LARGEST stock of LUMBER in the county----also sell Lime, Plaster, Brick, & Cement

J. H.
Queal & Co.

C. G. BRACHER, Agent.

SPRING SALE OF

CLOCKS

NOW GOING ON.

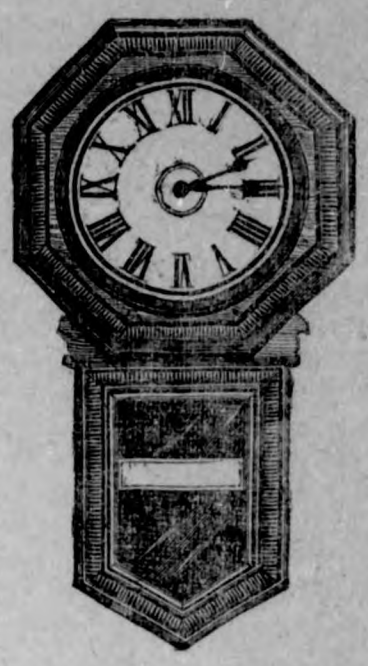
CLOCKS FROM $3.50 UP.



Notice!

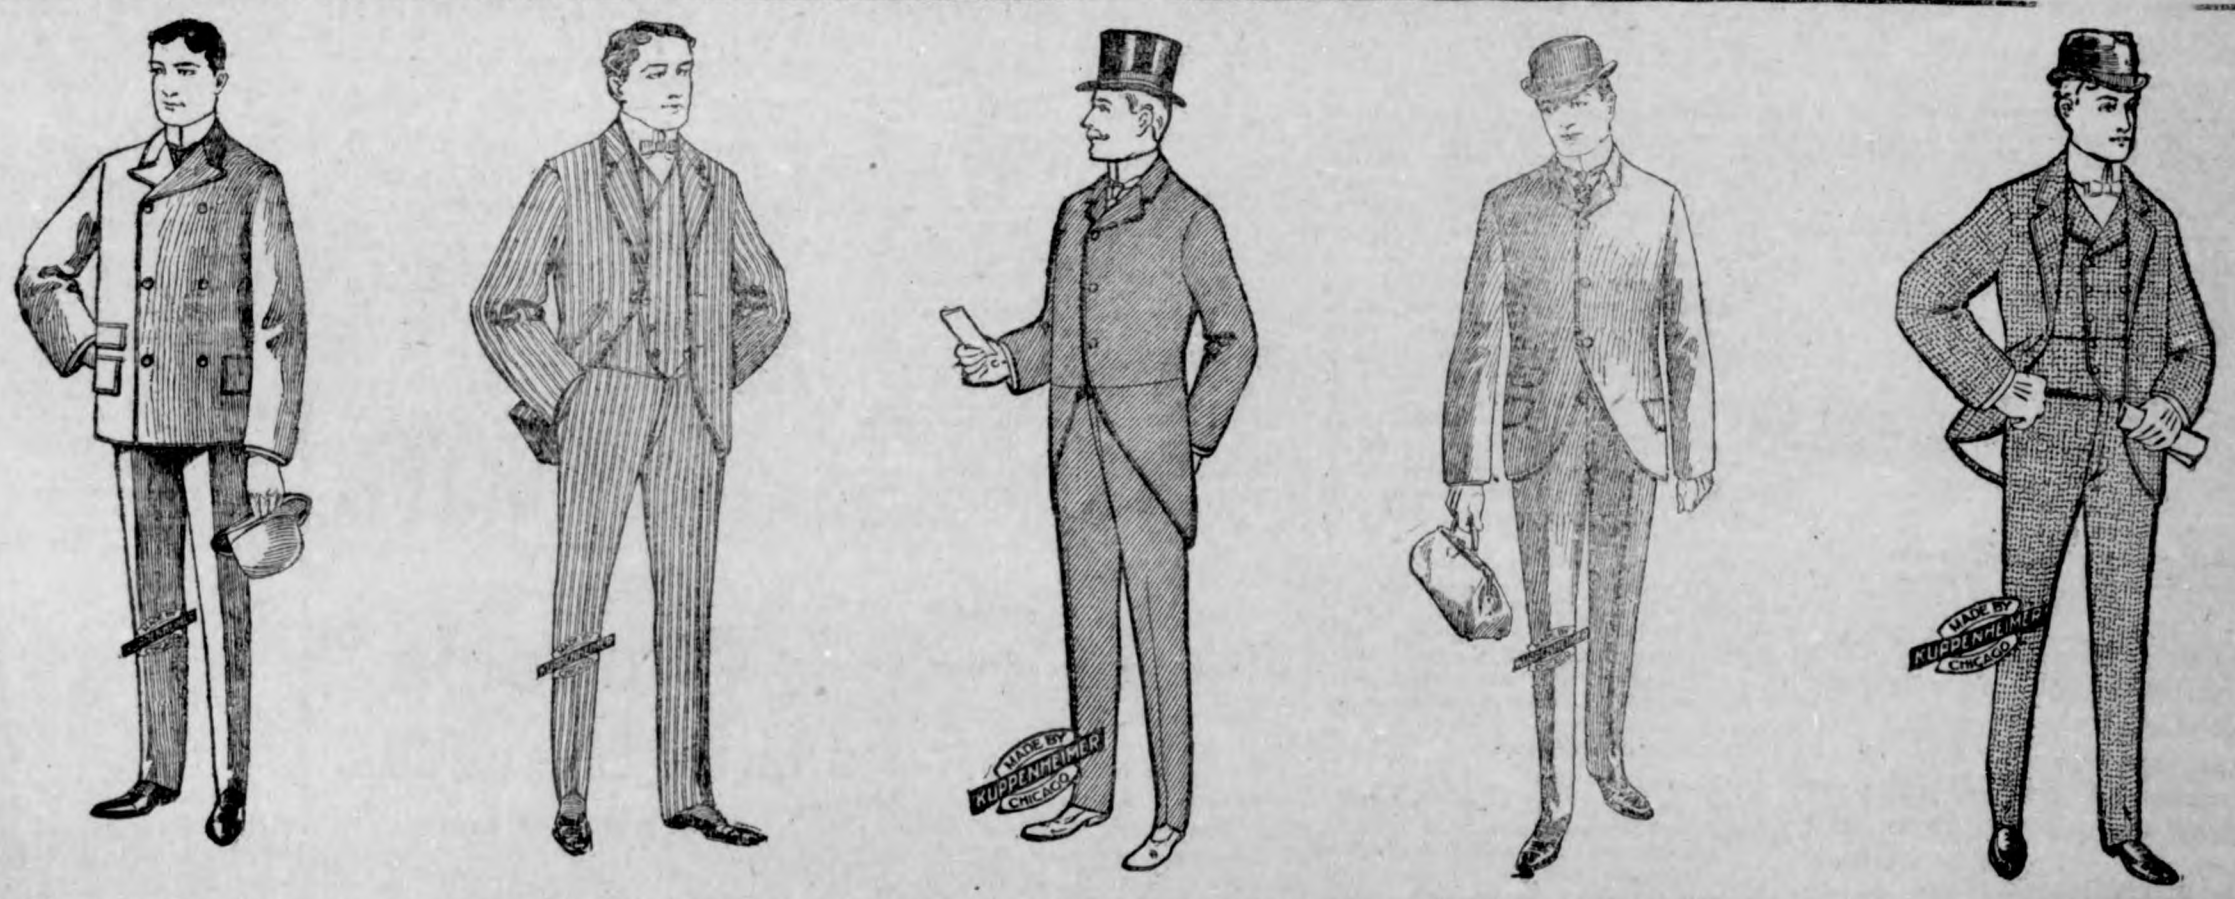
Monday and Tuesday we are out of town canvassing for the Rogers Bros. Silverware. Balance o the week at the shop.

CHAS. F. H. SUCKOW.

KATTER'S GARNER, IOWA, KATTER'S

GREAT CLOTHIN SALE IS ON!

We wish to call your attention to the superiority of the Clothing we hand and we know that if you once try our clothing you will come again. This is not a le to dispose of shelf-worn, shoddy stock, but a RED LETTER SALE of the finest and best in the market, manufactured from the latest style fabrics, cut in style to suit



The above are a few of the latest styles for men. We also carry a complete line of Furnishing goods. Suits from $5 to $20; your choice of any suit in the store for $15. Pants from $1.25 to $6.50; your choice for $5. We are selling Carpets at wholesale; this is not idle talk but truth. When you come to Garner come in, we will do you good Remember, that we have a splendid line of Dress Goods. Everything in Groceries and Provisions. $1 goes farther at our store than any other. Bring in your produce.

FRED KATTER, GARNER.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hogs wanted six days in the week. W. R. Bloom.

Rooms to rent—LAU BROS.

Choice seed potatoes at G. W. Kluckhohn's.

Choice flax seed for sale at Aug. Lau & Son.

Men's and boy's crash suits at Shafer & Dow.

Get your screen doors and windows of J. H. Queal & Co.

A good second hand upright piano for sale.
E. P. SCHAEFER.

A few settings of Buff Cochin eggs—pure bloods—75c per 15. H. E. Pietzke.

Quite a number from here attended the play at Garner last Saturday evening.

Rev. A. M. Brenner went to Dubuque Monday evening, returning Wednesday.

The people of Goodell will be entertained Saturday evening by "Old Glory in Cuba."

FOR SALE:—Residence property in Barz addition to Klemme. Inquire of H. S Swarz.

Garner has raised about $400 with which to make the eagle scream on the glorious 4th.

Frank Paul and wife of Clear Lake, were over Sunday visitors at the home of H. E. Pietzke.

Mrs. H. Terhufen and daughter Emma attended the Decoration Day exercises at Garner yesterday.

O. H Cummings has purchased the lumber for a commodious barn, 60x60, which will be built some time in June.

W. W. Lawrence has just completed the painting of the Ell Center school house and like all of his work it is well done.

Our street commissioner is putting in some good work on our main streets. Mr. Ell is the right man in the right place.

R. M. Cameron, of Belmond, was transacting business in Klemme today. Mr. Cameron owns a fine farm south-west of town.

N. E. Johndal, special agent for the American Mutual Insurance company, of Des Moines, was doing business in Klemme, yesterday.

Valentine Josten, one of the prosperous farmers of German township, is improving his residence by the building of a neat addition.

Mrs. G. W. Elder came up from Goodell Monday morning, to visit her daughter, Mrs. John Zook, and make the acquaintance of that new grandson.

Tuesday evening of next week the Epworth League of the English M. E. church will serve ice cream and cake, at the church. All are cordially invited.

The latest styles in trimmed hats at very low prices; children's straw, tams, mull and silk hats from 15c up; baby bonnets very cheap.
MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

For Sale!—240 acre farm three miles east of Klemme, all under cultivation, buildings, etc. For prices and terms, call on or address, M. S. Gilman, Klemme, Iowa.

Ordinance No. 14 has caused nearly a half mile of new side walk to be built in north Klemme. That's the stuff. A town cannot have too much good side walk.

From all reports received at this office we are led to believe that the German Medicine company fleeced many of our farmers and town people out of hundreds of hard earned dollars.—Titonka Topic.

Just step in and examine that elegant new line of lap robes, and dusters; the new single and double light harness; summer working and driving gloves; fly nets of every description. Eggs taken same as cash.
F. GRUETZMACHER,

Sheriff Garten was in Klemme on business Tuesday,

Joe Miller made business trip to Garner yesterday.

H. W. Schoper was at Kanawha on businers Monday.

John Suckow is painting the German Methodist church.

E. P. Schaefer is transacting business in Chicago this week.

A. B. Shafer and family were at Garner yesterday—Decoration Day.

Miss Blanchard, of Chicago, a sister of Mrs. J. L. Harr, is here on a visit.

Collector E. P. Hudson came over from Britt on business the first of the week.

Wm. Lau and Jake Kauffman went to Clear Lake Wednesday on a fishing expedition.

Mesdames Hall and Schaefer, of Goodell, were pleasant callers at this sanctum last Friday.

Miss Sadie Kluckhohn visited over Sunday with friends at Garner, the guest of Miss Sylvia Sage.

J. F. Elder and Wm. Allabin, were up from Goodell Saturday, in the interest of the Champion Harvester Co.

F. M. Hanson came over from Kanawha to spend Sunday with Klemme friends, returning on on Monday morning.

Mrs. C. W. Paulus and children, of Mason City, and Miss Emma Bracher of Lamont, visited their brother, Chas. G. Bracher, this week.

Gruetzmacher Bros. have a change in their advertisement this week, calling attention to their line of buggies. bicycles and corn cultivators.

Some of our young men and boys were playing ball within the town limits last Sunday. It has been requested that these Sunday games be discontinued, out of respect for the Sabbath, if possible, forcibly if necessary.

Miss E. Renziehouser informs us that for a short time she will make a big cut in price on all lines of goods in her store. It will surprise you with big values for little money. Come and see.

Found at last! A high grade liquid paint that is equal to lead and oil in wearing quality, and superior in covering qualities. and will weigh more to the gallon than any mixed paint on the market. For sale by J. L. Harr.

When Joe Miller paints your house or barn, it will be a finished job; if he agrees to do your work this week he will not wait until fall to begin the painting. He was foreman in McCormick's painting department for seven years and knows all about paint. Therefore—he is the best man to do your work.

Will Lawrence took a tumble while painting on the Nissen barn yesterday. The hook of swinging scaffold slipped and came down with a crash and Will followed as rapidly as the state of the atmosphere would permit. His wrist is badly sprained and he is now enjoying a forced vacation.

Good Corset News-----

Every woman in this community knows from experience the annoyance and expense of having to wear a corset that breaks at the waist. The "Cresco," by a smoothly adjusted disconnection at the front waist line, has forever done away with this expensive weakness.

Glad to have you call and inspect the "Cresco," have its strong points explained to you. Wear it and it wins you; once won you'l wear no other.—At Shafer & Dow.

Ell Center Etchings.

John Braund has a new bike.

John Carothers is helping H. Rice with his farm work.

Charley Gilbert has a very lame arm caused by being vaccinated.

Miss Larson spent Sunday at the home of her parents north of Britt.

Mr. Badker and son Frank, were visiting old friends here Sunday.

Fred Sycameyer delivered a choice lot of hogs at Klemme last Saturday.

Ira Robbins spent severa hours Sunday with his uncle, John Christie, at Garner.

Nearly every farmer is breaking up every available piece of prairie and sowing to flax.

Cleve Flowers has started out into the world to seek his fortune. We hope he will be successful.

The Memorial exercises a t Garner were well attended. We were glad to see so many from Ell Center present.

Wm. Lawrence and Lew Lewis added the finishing touches to the Center School House and it now has a neat appearance.

Peter Gilbert and Josten Bros. a not complaining of the hard times since they sold that fine bunch of fat porkers last week.

Most of the lovers of a good play attended "Old Glory in Cuba" at Garner Saturday evening. They report a good time.

The magic lantern show at the Pleasant Mound school house on Saturday evening was not burdened with too large a crowd.

Harry Burmans team took a lively spin around the farm on Tuesday, resulting in a badly used up horse and a worthless harness.

William Marshall, who has been away for some time has returned home and will be content to remain in this garden of Eden for a time at least.

The Beulah and the Pleasant Mound school buildings now present a handsome appea r a n c e, since Joe Miller treated them to a coat or white paint.

Marshall Bros, secently returned from a fishing excursion to Clear Lake. It is reported that the fish caught could be counted on the index finger.

Harry Rice has a new cultivator that has one virtue which, if possessed by some of the sleek tongued fakirs that are traveling over the country, they would be more kindly received—it has no tongue.

Republican Primaries.

The Republican County primary election for the purpose of nominating County Auditor, Recorder, Clerk District Court, County Attorney, Supervisor of district number one and Supervisor of district number four, will be held in the different town ships of the county on Saturday June 30th, 1900.

The names of all candidates for the above offices, who have paid their assessments will be placed on the ticket at a meeting to be held in Britt, Iowa, on Wednesday Juue 20, 1900, at 1 o'clock p. m., under the direction of the chairman and secretary of the county central committee.

The rules governing the primaries will be substantially the same as those previously adopted.
C. R. WOOD, Sec.
F. E. BLACKSTONE, Chairman.

EGGS—Black Breasted Game—pure stock—Great fighters—$1.50 per 15 eggs. Inquire at this office.

Employment for the Summer is now the question for many men; it is time to decide; you can make money selling our complete assortment of fruit and ornamental stock for fall delivery. Write for terms. Address:—The Jewel Nursery Co., Lake City, Minn. Established in '68. One thousand acres

Grand Display

Of all that is late, up-to-date and new in the line

OF ARTISTIC MILLINERY,

ALL THE LATEST DESIGNS IN

TRIMMED HATS

LADIES' AND MISSES WALKING HATS, SAILORS, TAMS, BABY BONNETS.

We have Just Received

A fine new line of Pulley Belts—the latest thing out. Also Ladies Ties in all the new shades; Silk for Shirt Waists: Dress Trimmings.

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

LEADING MILLINER.

Farm Machinery.

DO NOT FORGET

That we handle a COMPLETE LINE of the BEST Farm Machinery manufactured. Before you buy, it will pay you to see us and get our prices. We handle

CASSADY GANG AND SULKY PLOWS,

Corn Cultivators, Stirring Plows, Cornplanters, harrows, Discs, Wagons, Buggies, Geneva Windmils, Milwaueee Binders and Mowers.

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE. . . . .

We are constantly adding new, fresh GROCERIES to our stock and would like to make you prices. If you want Hardware or Tinware, we can supply your wants.

LAU BROS.

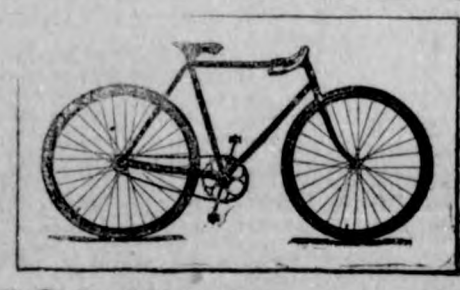
M. W. LYNCH, :: M. S. GILMAN

LYNCH & GILMAN,
STROUD, OKLAHOMA,
REAL ESTATE AND LOAN BROKERS.

WHY PAY RENT?
OWN YOUR OWN FARM!

It is the highth of folly for a man to pay exhorbitant rents when he can go to Oklahoma and buy a fine farm at from $5 per acre up. Well watered; near good markets; mild and healthful climate and crop failure unknown. Plenty of natural timber and coal. We have for sale a well selected list of choice improved and unimproved farms and would like to talk with you. Excursions 1st and 3rd Tuesday of each month. NOW is the time before the "SNAPS" are all taken. For rates, terms, excursions etc., call on or address, M. S. GILMAN, Klemme, Iowa, or M. W. LYNCH, ST. LOUIS HOTEL, STROUD, OKLAHOMA.

BICYCLES



OUR 1900 WHEELS ARE NOT FREAKS,

——But good, common sense machines, built of the best material that money can buy and codstructed in the most simple manner by skilled workmen. Good, strong, honest bicycles, as near

Fool Proof

as possible. We sell good, strong, honest, straight machines that are easy to ride and hard to break. Six makes of standard wheels always on hand. Old wheels bought and sold. Repairing done on short notice. A complete line of sundries always on hand.

KANAWHA, IOWA. L. HAEFNER.

The Klemme Times.

G. L. WELLEMEYER, Pub.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

Kansas has sent twenty cars of corn to famine sufferers in India. Some southern state should contribute a staff of black mammies to make it into corn dodgers.

After all, it seems only natural that the fire fiend, raging upon the grounds of the Paris exposition, should select the water palace as the one place which it was his business to destroy.

Kansas City hotel men are preparing to give every convention delegate a bed by putting five beds in each room. At $5 a day for each of these beds this seems to be a game of high five.

Trades unions hitherto have been but little known in Paris. It now is announced that the 3,000 assistants employed in the three great shops, the Bon Marche, Louvre and Samaritaine, are meditating the organization of an association of this kind.

Too much business pressure seems to be responsible for the fact that Chicago's gang of porch-climbers succeeds in evading apture. The police, according to a recent victim of the burglars, are always too busy to attend to such cases and the porch-climbers are engaged in so flourishing a trade that they have no time to bother with policemen.

James J. Corbett is anxious to become a congressman from New York city, and his friends declare that he will be elected. Mr. Corbett might not shine in legislative halls, but it should be a difficult affair to tear him from his seat if once in the chair. He is a larger man than either Senator Clark or Mat Quay, and his science should enable him to whip any sergeant-at-arms that ever trod the aisles.

There has been provided a machine for automatically cleaning shoes. The foot is inserted into a properly arranged opening and the railing of the machine is firmly grasped. A small motor actuates rotary brushes that remove the mud. The foot is next placed in the blacking arrangement proper, which acts as the dauber, and the third set of brushes is devoted to polishing. A needle on a machine indicates the various stages in the operation.

The members of the International Commercial Congress held in Philadelphia were told by Mr. W. C. Barker, as the result of his observations among European manufactories, that time seems to be regarded as of comparatively little value abroad, while in America the maxim that "time is money" is practically applied. Mr. Barker found that in a large agricultural machinery manufactory in Europe the only trip hammer in use was worked by hand, the weight being drawn up with ropes and pulley, and allowed to drop. The American power-hammer strikes 100 and more blows in a minute.

Recent observations tending to show that ants possess a sense of hearing have been described in this column. Professor Metcalf of the Woman's College, Baltimore, adds some intersting testimony on the subject in a letter to Science. One of his students discovered that a colony of black ants was thrown into a state of great excitement by sounds of one particular pitch. Other sounds did not affect them, but when the peculiar note was struck, either on a violin or with a whistle, the ants would become excited, and if the sounds were continued would grow frantic, some of them falling into a water moat surrounding their nest. Ants of other species paid no attention to the sounds.

Although the inhabitants of the earth are not perceptibly affected by the wandering motion of the North Pole, yet it is a phenomenon of unceasing interest to astronomers, and on January 1st a new plan for investigating it went into effect. The motion, which is suggestive of the wabbling of a top, is extremely slight when the vast size of the earth is taken into account. Since 1890 the North Pole has never been more than 35 feet away from the place it should occupy if the earth's axis of revolution never varied in direction. But the motion is erratic, and its cause is obscure. The new plan of observation provides four observing stations, all close to the 39th degree of north latitude, and all within 500 feet of the same parallel. These are at Midzusawa, Japan; Carloforte, Sardinia! Gaithersburg, Maryland, and Ukiah, California. Precisely similar observations with exactly the same kind of zenith telescopes will be made at each station on carefully selected stars. Any change in the direction of the pole reveals itself by a shift of the stars.

THE NEWS IN IOWA

MIDLAND CHAUTAUQUA.

Date Changed to July 10-24—Fine Array of Talent.

DES MOINES, May 25.—Owing to the fact that the best talent could not be secured for June, the executive committee of the Des Moines Midland Chautauqua have changed the date to July 10-24. This will be more desirable for those who expect to camp on the assembly's beautiful grounds in the north part of the city. The management claim that they have secured the greatest array of talent ever secured for a western Chautauqua. Among the more prominent are Dr. N. Dwight Hillis, Dr. R. S. McArthur, Dr. Leon H. Vincent and Father Cleary. Congressmen Dolliver and Champ Clark will hold a joint debate upon imperialism. Other attractions are: Russell Palmer, liquid air; Judge H. M. Towner, Dr. Anna B. Shaw, Mrs. Ballington Booth, Mrs. Eva Schontz, Mrs. Stoutenborough, Mrs. Peck, Mrs. Solomon, Madam Cecilia Eppenhousen Bailey, the Kentucky nightengale; the Arion Ladies' Quartette, the Apollo Male Quartette, Metropolitan Jubilee Singers, Edison's American Vitagraph. The Woman's Club will have a number of important speakers in addition.

SMALLPOX AT LORIMOR.

Several Cases of the Disease Reported From Union County.

DES MOINES, May 25.—The state board of health has been notified of several cases of smallpox at Lorimor, Union county. The disease is supposed to have been brought to the town from Fraser. A strict quarantine has been established and the local authorities feel confident that they have the disease well under control and will prevent it from spreading. The smallpox is reported to be in the light form prevalent throught the state and was thought at first to be chicken pox.

GET LONG SENTENCES.

Daley and Brewer Each Get Twenty-three Years.

WINTERSET, May 26.—Judge Applegate, of the district court, sentenced Daley and Brewer, convicted of assault and robbery. Daley got an aggregate sentence of twenty-eight years at hard labor in the Fort Madison penitentiary and Brewer got twenty-three. They left at once for Fort Madison. They were both found guilty on four indictments, and Daley on two indictments for which Brewer was acquitted.

Ritchie Appeals to Courts.

OTTUMWA, May 25.—Sam Ritchie, accused of being the king bee of a gang of burglars who robbed the Eldon bank in 1897 and who was recently captured in Baltimore, has instituted habeas corpus proceedings. Chief of police, H. C. Williams and Dick Dodd, the latter a gambler of Ottumwa who confessed to complicity in the robbery but escaped by turning state's evidence at former trials of other members of the gang, have gone to Baltimore for the purpose of positively identifying the captive.

Boy Run Over by a Wagon.

INDIANOLA, May 26.—A very sad accident occurred here, which resulted in the death of the 9-year-old son of U. G. Weston. Mr. Weston is a laborer at the new Presbyterian church and his little boy got on a load of dirt to ride and before going a block fell under the wagon and the hind wheel passed over his stomach. He lived only about an honr.

Mulcted for Taxes.

POCAHONTAS, May 28.—The land and loan company of Rolfe gave to the assessor $37,000 as monies and credits and were raised by the town board to $400,000. The assessment has been compromised at $96,000 and paying $5,000 back taxes. Several other cases from that town of the same nature are in court, but will probably not be reached this term.

Five Baby Wolves.

DES MOINES, May 26.—Five baby wolves are on exhibition in the window of a Sixth avenue meat market. They are about the size of full grown cats, have sharp noses and ears, and are very lively though harmless creatures. They were captured in the 'Coon river bottoms at a small town a few miles west of Des Moines.

Brakeman Killed.

TAMA, May 25.—Roland J. Alexander, of Tama, fell from the top of a freight train in Dayton Hollow and sustained a dislocation of the neck, killing him instantly. He was a brakeman and had traded runs with another man, in order to come home for a few days' vacation, and met his death on the trip.

Killed in Philippines.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, May 26.—A letter has been received by friends in Council Bluffs from Wilbur Sparrow of the Twelfth United State infantry, now stationed near Grand Isle, Luzon, announcing the death of his comrade and neighbor, Gus Schultz.

STATE FIELD MEET.

State University Wins the State Cup, Grinnell Second.

DES MOINES, May 26.—At the state field meet yesterday the State University won the state cup with 51 points as against 27 for Grinnell, 22½ for Ames, 21½ for Drake, 7 for Penn and 7 for Cornell. But one record was broken, the pole vault, the new record being 10 feet, 6 inches, against the old record of 10 feet, 2 inches. Firsts were won as follows: One hundred yard dash, Snider, Grinnell; half mile bicycle, Banschbaugh, S. U. I.; half mile run, Brown, S. U. I.; 16-pound shot-put, Warner, S. U. I.; running broad jump, Palmer, Ames; 120-yard hurdles, Crouch, Grinnell; two mile bicycle, Choate, S. U. I.; 440-yard dash, Brown, S. U. I.; 16-pound hammer throw, Lowe, Drake; 220-yard hurdles, Crouch, Grinnell; mile run, Wilson, Ames; hop, step and jump, Rayner, Cornell; discus throw, Smith, Drake; pole vault, Chapman, Drake; running high jump, White, Penn; one-half mile relay race, S. U. I.

The Givin Murder Case.

OSKALOOSA, May 27.—Henry Fields, a colored miner, employed at Hocking, is charged with the murder of Waddie Edgar, also colored, who was shot and killed in the depot at Givin during trouble between a party of white men and another party of colored men, who had come to Givin for the purpose of playing base ball. At the inquest two witnesses said that they saw Fields fire the fatal shot. Their testimony was to the effect that the murderer hid behind the depot and extended his arm and hand that held the gun around the corner. Fields has been in the Hocking district but a short time, and is said to be a much traveled man, having been in every mining camp of any consequence in the south and west and has a bad reputation. Fields has disappeared. It is possible that a reward will be offered for his capture.

Mills County Fruit Prospects.

GLENWOOD, May 27.—The indications now are that Mills county will have a large apple crop. There is at this time the most enouraging prospect since 1893. Should the season continue favorable, Glenwood will no doubt give the largest apple carnival ever known. All horticulturists are rejoicing that the period of scanty rainfall has passed, and that now with suffient moisture, their labors will be rewarded with handsome returns. All grain and grass crops are promising well. "Queen Mills" will be able from present indications, to give a good account this fall.

Two Drown in Iowa River.

CEDAR FALLS, May 25.—Henry Hacroft and Samuel Schrader, 23 and 24 years of age, both of Ackley, were drowned while fishing in the Iowa river. The bodies were recovered. Both were to have been married soon.

Loses Her Lover and Reason.

BELMOND, May 25.—Phœbe Reeves, aged 16, the daughter of a wealthy farmer, attempted to elope with John McIlrath, a bartender, but was captured, and then she became a raving maniac. McIlrath is in jail.

BREVITIES.

A dispatch says the United States senate has passed the house bill for the redivision of the southern district of Iowa, creating a new seat of the federal court at Creston. The bill had already passed the house and with the approval of the president will become a law.

Burlington dispatch: William Penrod, Jr., stabbed his father, William Penrod, Sr., near the home of Sam Farrington, a son-in-law of the elder Penrod, just south of the Spring Creek school house. The cut inflicted by young Penrod on his father is in the left breast and is about four inches long. The blade of the knife struck a rib, and this no doubt saved the man's life.

It is announced that another member of the notorious gang of Chicago safe robbers who went through Bradley's bank at Eldon to the tune of $7,000, has been captured in the person of Sam Richie, the saloon keeper and leader of the gang, who is under arrest in Baltimore. Sheriff Sluttes left for that place, armed with requisition papers to bring him back. On the night of February 1st, 1897, Bradley's bank, situated then in the first floor of the Eldon hotel, was blown to pieces, and the vault looted. The scheme was hatched by Chas. Stevens, then city marshal of Eldon, and through Dick Dodd, an Ottumwa gambler, he secured the services of Richie and his men to do his work. The men implicated, as noted by the confessions of both Dodd and Stevens, all have now been caught, with the exception of "Indian Joe" Menard, who was in Limbo once in Chicago, but was released on $5,000 and skipped. Stevens was given three years and released only a month ago. Bob Durkin was caught in New York and is now serving three years. "Buck" Murry, brains of the gang, the expert safe cracker, was caught in Vermont, and is now serving a nine-year sentence at Fort Madison. Dodd was not prosecuted, as he went on the stand and told his story. The robbery was one of the most daring ever committed in Iowa. Ritchie will probably get the limit, as there is no doubt of his guilt.

NEWS IN GENERAL

THEIR MISSION A FAILURE.

America Will Not Comply With Request of Boers.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—The Boer peace commissioners were received by Secretary Hay yesterday. After the interview the commissioners declined to say anything as to what had happened. The secretary of state, after consulting with the president, was more communicative and gave out a statement in which he states that the Boer delegates submitted at much length and with great energy and eloquence the merits of the controversy in South Africa and the desire of the Boer republics that the United States should intervene in the interest of peace and use its influence to that end with the British government. Secretary Hay, in reply, reviewed at length the president's attempt at intervention at the request of the two South African republics, made through the United States consul at Pretoria, last March, to which Lord Salisbury had replied that his government could not accept the intervention of any power. He further said the president desired that the war be brought to a speedy close, but having done his full duty he feels that no course is open to him except to persist in his policy of impartial neutrality.

GOOD TACTICS OE BOERS.

They Continue to Retire, But Always Take Guns With Them.

LONDON, May 27.—Lord Roberts, with two divisions of infantry, was thirty-five miles from the Vaal river, on Thursday noon, with his right wing under General Hamilton, even nearer the river, and General French, with two brigades of cavalry, well in advance and scouring the district west of the railway. The press correspondents continue to describe the Dutch retreat in contemptuous terms as the rush of a disorderly, panic-stricken rabble. Probably from an Aldershot point of view it lacks the perfection of drill which Sir Redvers Buller admired after the battle of Spion Kop, but it is effective in one respect, that the guns are always carried back out of danger and few stragglers are left behind. The Dutch burghers are discouraged, without doubt, but they are not running like hares nor have they been transformed into a rabble, as the newspaper paragraphers are foolish enough to assert. They succeeded in taking back all the guns which were mounted at the Rhenoster river, and this was good work when both flanks of their position had been turned.

WILLIAM S. TAYLOR AS CHIEF.

Kentuckian to Manage Life Insurance Society in Indianapolis.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 27.—William S. Taylor, ousted from the Kentucky governorship, has engaged in business in this city. This will take him out of politics, except that he may attend the republican national convention at Philadelphia as one of Kentucky's delegates at large, to which position he was elected by the recent state convention. William Boswell & Co., managers of the Provident Savings Life Assurance Society, have engaged Mr. Taylor as executive manager of the company, with headquarters in this city. Whether the office will be moved is a question to be decided in the future. Mr. Taylor is evasive as to whether he will ever resume his residence in Kentucky.

THE ARMY OF THE POTOMAC.

Presidential Party Attends Memorial Services at Fredericksburg, Va.

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. May 26.—On the very gronnd over which the old Fifth corps charged at Fredericksburg, President McKinley and his cabinet and General Miles yesterday witnessed the laying of the corner stone in a shaft which will perpetuate in bronze and granite the hereoism of the Army of the Potomac. The monument was the personal gift of General Daniel Butterfield to the National Memorial Association. General Butterfield himself was present and assisted in the ceremony, but owing to ill health the commital of the monument to the secretary of war was made by Colonel Hill, one of the Veterans of the Fifth corps. The ceremony was with due Masonic rites, and at its completion the secretary of war accepted the gift in the name of the American people.

BRITISH HORSE REVERSED.

Twenty-seven English Killed at Schroeper's Nek.

PRETORIA, May 25.—An official bulletin says:

"Sixty of the British cavalry came in collision May 20 with eighty of the Swaziland commando at Schroeper's Nek. The fighting lasted an hour. The British lost twenty-seven killed, twenty-five wounded and eleven prisoners. Twenty-five horses, two Maxims and a quantity of ammunition were also captured. The federals lost one killed and one wounded."

ROBERTS IS ADVANCING.

His Forces Crossed the Vaal River May 24.

LONDON, May 29.—The war office has received the following from Roberts, dated at Wolv Hoek, Orange Free State:

"The advanced portion of this force crossed the Vaal river on the queen's birthday, near Paris. Hamilton's column is at Boschbank. Our scouts are now at Viljoon's Drift (on the frontier north of Wolv Hoek.) Located mines are uninjured and work is going on as usual. There is no enemy on this side of the river. Hunter reported from Vryberg, May 24."

PRETORIA, May 27.—An official bulletin says: "The British have crossed the Vaal at Grobler drift, near Parys. The high level bridge at Vereeninging has been blown up by the federals. General Dutoit advises that the burghers are coming forward in force, determined to fight to the end. After retaking Heilbron, the federals followed the British as far as Wolve hoek."

GIVES PORTE A NOTE.

Lloyd Griscom Hands Turkey a Note Demanding Settlement.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 24.—The United States legation having vainly waited for four weeks for a reply to the note of April 24, regarding the American indemnity claims, Lloyd C. Griscom, United States charge d' affairs, handed Tewfik Pasha, minister of foreign affairs, a new note, couched in more precise terms, and insisting upon prompt settlement. The note produced a great impression, as the porte thought the matter was postponed, if not abandoned. It is believed the United States will not wait so long this time for an answer, America's indulgence thus far not having made a satisfactory impression upon the porte.

WARNING SENT TO CHINA.

Notified by United States That "Boxers" Must Be Suppressed.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The United States government has taken a hand in the suppression of the "Boxers" in China. Minister Conger has been instructed by the state department to inform the Chinese government that this government expects it to stamp out the society promptly and thoroughly, and to provide proper guaranties for the maintenance of peace and order and the protection of the life and property of Americans in China, all now threatened by the operations of the "Boxers." There is no indication in the instructions as to the course that will be pursued by the United States in case the Chinese government fails to observe the warning conveyed in this communication. Mr. Conger is acting on parallel lines with the representatives of every European power at the Chinese court, but has not joined in any concert of action.

LONDON, May 27.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says advices from Szuchuan, province of Hu Peh, report that the "Boxers" have destroyed two villages and massacred many converts of the French missionary stations. The general commanding at Shi Nan Fu, it is added, sent a regiment to the scene of the disturbances. The soldiers were ambushed by the malcontents and lost twenty-six men killed. Reinforcements have been dispatched from Ichang.

KRUGER HAS NOT SUED.

Report That He Has Sued for Peace Entirely Unfounded.

LONDON, May 25.—The Associated Press is able to say that no news from Kruger, direct or indirect, has recently been received by Salisbury or any department of the British government, nor, it may be added, is there any communication from him dealing with the question of the cessation of hostilities expected by them in the immediate future. The proximity of peace, according to the government point of view, will remain a matter of military progress. How soon the latter may bring about the former is still too suppositious for serious forecast on the part of any government official. The concensus of opinion, as gleaned by the Associated Press at the government office, is that the Boer delegates will exhaust every effort in the United States before Kruger sues directly, though Salisbury himself does not believe the Boers will accomplish much in the United States.

THE DEADLOCK IS BROKEN.

Methodists Elect Bishops on the Seventeenth Ballot.

CHICAGO, May 23.—Dr. D. H. Moore and Dr. J. W. Hamilton were yesterday elected bishops of the Methodist church by the general conference in this city, on the seventeenth ballot, the vote being Moore 535, and Hamilton 510. The various changes recommended by the commission on revision were adopted, the question of admission of women to the annual conferences being decided in favor of the women, thus settling the question which has been agitating the church for a generation.

IDAHO IS REPUBLICAN

SENATOR SHOUP THINKS IT WILL BE SO THIS YEAR.

Farmers and Miners Received Much Better Prices Under Republican Administration—Benefit of Protection to Wool—Big Bank Deposits.

"Idaho will, I hope, reverse its electoral vote for President this year," said United States Senator George L. Shoup, of that state to-day.

"Instead of being counted, as in 1896, in the Fusion column, I hope that I shall find Idaho recorded in the electoral college for the re-election of President McKinley.

"There is every reason," continued the senator, "why Idaho should go Republican. Our state has never known such prosperity as it has experienced during the present administration. The good times have been felt both by the miners and farmers. Protection to American industries has given the American market to American manufacturers, with the result that there has been an increased demand for lead, zinc and copper, all of which are products of Idaho. Not only has the demand been greater for these minerals, but the prices have been very much more satisfactory.

"Lead forms a very interesting object lesson in Idaho. Under the Republican administration of President Harrison the price paid for lead in our state ranged from $4.20 to $4.30. In the same month in 1893 lead sold at $3.80. In 1894 it was down to $3.20, and in 1895 it touched as low as $2.30. With such an experience as that I cannot understand why it is that our state went for Bryan in 1896.

"President McKinley assumed office in March, 1897. Two months later the price paid for lead in Idaho was $3.12½. In 1898 it was $3.50, last year the value of lead had increased to $4.10, and this year it has touched $4.70, exceeding even the good prices that were realized when the McKinley tariff was in effect under President Harrison. This comparison affords an object lesson, and there should not be a single mine owner or miner in the state of Idaho recording his vote next November for anybody except President McKinley and the other Republican candidates.

"Stock growers in our state," continued Senator Shoup, "also realize the benefit derived from protection. When American wool was protected by the McKinley tariff sheep in our state were worth from $2.25 up to $2.50 per head. Just as soon as the Democrats began to tinker with the tariff and prepare to pass the Wilson bill, down went the price of sheep until they were worth only $1.41 each in 1895, and $1.27 in 1896, just one-half their value in 1893.

"Let us turn that picture to the wall and have another look at the protective tariff view. In 1897 sheep in Idaho were worth 45 cents a head more than in 1896. In 1898 they were worth 92 cents a head more than in 1896. In 1899 they were worth $1.38 more than in 1896, and this year, according to the department of agriculture's figures, the average price of each sheep in Idaho was $2.80 on January 1, as compared with $1.27 in 1896. The increase in their value within that period has been 120 per cent, and they are now worth more per head by 30 cents than they were on the 1st day of January, 1893, before President Cleveland assumed office.

"There is another strong contrast that I can make about our sheep values," said the senator. "It is this: In 1892 there were 527,000 sheep in Idaho, and they were worth $1,265,000. In 1896 there were over a million sheep in Idaho, twice as many as in 1892, and their value was only $17,000 more.

"Now, for one more comparison: In 1897, just before this administration came into power, there were 1,376,000 sheep in Idaho, and their value was $2,346,283. At the beginning of this year there were just twice as many sheep in the state, and their value had increased up to $7,445,000, showing a gain of more than 200 per cent in value, while the increase in quantity was only 100 per cent.

"Can you imagine that any stock grower in any part of the country would be indiscreet enough to vote the Democratic ticket with such facts as those staring him in the face? Take the price of our wool—it sold at 13 cents per pound in Idaho in 1891 and 1892. In the Cleveland years it sold anywhere from 6 to 6½ cents. Under this administration we have, of course, got back to 13 cent wool again. The amount of money paid to farmers in Idaho for their wool in 1895 was $418,539, the amount they are getting this year will exceed $2,300,000, an increase of 400 per cent. Every sheep in Idaho from yearlings up, could be marketed to-day at $3.25 per head. Wool is being sold at 18 cents to 25 cents per pound. Cattle have advanced $10 per head, and horses are worth $5.00 to $10.00 per head more than a year ago. I think Idaho will go Republican."

DISCONCERTED DEMOCRATS

Attempting to Make Party Capital Out of the Shipping Bill.

The Democratic leaders in Congress have been making elaborate preparations to make the shipping bill a campaign issue. They have attempted to terrorize the Republicans into the abandonment of the bill at the present session at least. It is not known how much the foriegn shipping lobby is willing to contribute to the Democratic campaign fund if the bill's consideration is deferred until the short session. Postponement, say the foreign shipping lobby, means the bill's defeat.

A $200,000,000 a year business is the stake. If Democratic threats of filibustering are effective enough to induce Republicans to postpone the consideration of the shipping bill the foreign shipping lobby, their free trade allies and Democratic dupes will each have carried their point.

Democratic success up to this time is the more amazing, as their own disorganization on this question is disclosed. It would be imagined that they would be united in opposition to the bill, if intending to make a campaign issue of it. Just the reverse is the case. They are about evenly divided for and against it. This is shown by the two minority reports that have been filed by the Democratic members of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee. The first report filed was signed by Messrs. William Astor Chanler, of New York; John H. Small, of North Carolina, and Joseph E. Ransdell, of Louisiana. Their report advocates government aid and opposes free ships. Their suggested amendments to the bill are not of a character to seriously minimize its effectiveness.

The other four Democratic members of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee who signed the other report, are Messrs. John F. Fitzgerald, of Massachusetts; Marion DeVries, of California; Thomas Speight, of Mississippi, and Wm. D. Daly, of New Jersey. Their report opposes subsidies and in effect advocates free ships. Their report, said to have been written by an attorney of the foreign steamship lines, is largely an attack upon the only American steamship line engaged in the transatlantic trade.

The odium attaching to the Democrats who are fighting the battle of the foreign shipping lobby in Congress, and who advocate the purchase of ships built abroad, instead of their construction in the United States, presents them in a very sorry figure. They will be infinitely more busy in defending their own attitude on this question than they can be in assailing that of the Republicans and a large contingent of their own party associates. The Democratic leaders had made desperate efforts to prevent a public disclosure of their differences, but the courage of nearly one-half of the minority made further concealment of their condition impossible. The Democratic members of the committee who advocate government aid by independently filing their report in advance of the submission of the other minority report, forced the signers of the latter to lamely limp last into the public eye. Their hopeless division shows how utterly impossible it will be for them to make a successful campaign issue of the shipping question.

If Democrats attack a government aided shipping, Democrats who have the best of the argument may be quoted in answer. Republican amunition with which to refute Democratic attacks of this character need not be used—it is furnished by the more honest and courageous of the Democrats themselves.

This is a situation which seems almost providential for the united Republicans. They seem to be assured of the votes of a large contingent—possibly one-half—of the Democrats in the House in favor of the Ship Subsidy Bill, if it is brought up for passage now. Such an opportunity has not been presented in a generation, and may never again occur so favorable.

The same situation exists in the Senate. The Democrats there are unable to prepare, much less to present, a minority report in opposition to the Ship Subsidy Bill. It is well and publicly known that a number of Democrats will speak and vote for the bill. What the Democratic leaders desire to avoid, at all hazards, is the effect it will have upon their party followers that will surely result from the discussion in the Senate of the Ship Subsidy Bill at this session, to disclose a substantial contingent of their own party associates in advocacy and voting for that bill.

If Republicans can be coerced, intimidated or cajoled into postponing the consideration of the Ship Subsidy Bill at the present session, the Democrats may be able to conceal their own weakness in divided opposition to the Ship Subsidy Bill in the Senate. A little incident has clearly demonstrated this, and shown the desperation of the Democratic leaders.

The Chairman of the Democratic National Committee, in his rage at the filing of the Chanler-Small-Ransdell report, sent for these gentlemen and began to angrily upbraid them as traitors to their party, so the report goes, and he told them that by their ill-timed exhibition of independence and honesty they had sacrificed a splendid issue upon which the Democrats could have attacked the Republicans in the coming campaign. The Democratic Chairman, so it is said, was rendered almost speechless when he was very emphatically told by Messrs. Chanler, Small and Ransdell that he had no authority to denounce their action, that the Democratic party had not declared itself on this subject in its last national platform, and that in any event they were decidedly opposed to the dragging of the shipping question into partisan politics. They told him that the shipping question was a business proposition, a commercial question, and of great and pressing national importance; that they so considered it, and that they were quite ready to defend their position at any time.

In these very favorable circumstances for the Republicans to defer action on the Ship Subsidy Bill until the Democratic National Convention can be whipped into adopting an expression in its next national platform opposing government aid for the upbuilding of American shipping, will make it infinitely more difficult than ever for courageous and patriotic Democrats to support the measure. It means to gravely imperil, if not actually defeat, its final passage.

The prestige of Democratic success in compelling the Republicans to defer action at this session on the Ship Subsidy Bill—since postponement will be regarded the country over as a Democratic, free-trade, foreign-shipping, victory—will make it all the easier for them to defeat action at the next sesion, and all the harder for Republicans to secure favorable action.

The opportunity of a generation is within the grasp of the Republican leaders in Congress if they have the courage to grasp it by passing the shipping bill before adjournment at this session.

THE SHEEP INDUSTRY.

How It Has Gained in Value Under Republican Protection.

An examination of the sheep industry in every state in the Union shows similar results, advancing values under the Republican policy of protection, and lower values under free trade and its evil influences. Note the following figures of the department of agriculture relating to Idaho:

SHEEP IN IDAHO.

Year.	Number.	Value.	Per Head.
1891	501,978	$1,154,549	$2 30
1892	527,077	1,204,985	2 40
1893	764,262	1,910,655	2 50
1894	779,547	1,753,981	*2 25
1895	919,865	1,299,770	*1 41
1896 1,011,852		1,281,726	*1 27
1897 1,376,119		2,346,283	1 71
1898 1,651,343		3,612,313	2 19
1899 2,311,880		6,132,262	2 65
1900 2,658,662		7,444,254	2 80

*Democratic and low tariff years.

There was an increase of 20 cents a head in the value of Idaho's sheep between 1891 and 1893. There was a decline of $1.23 in the following Democratic years up to 1897. And since President McKinley was elected, with a Republican congress that assured protection to the American wool grower, the value of each sheep in Idaho has increased by $1.53. With over a million sheep in Idaho in 1896, their total value was but $77,000 more than the half million sheep were worth there in 1892. With not quite three times as many sheep at the beginning of this year as there were in 1895, this farm stock has increased nearly six times in value. Western farmers should study these facts and decide, before November, if they want any more free trade destroying the value of their flocks. Idaho is simply an example of conditions in every state where sheep are grown.

An Easy Choice.

In November the voters will have an opportunity to choose between Sioux Falls, Cincinnati and Kansas City Populism on the one hand and Philadelphia Republicanism on the other. It ought not require a great amount of time for them to make up their minds.

A Sign of Prosperity.

There were nearly 7,000,000 more telegraph messages sent over United States wires in 1899 than in 1895. That indicates better business conditions last year because people had business to do and could better afford to pay telegraph tolls than two-cent postage.

The Tammany Trust.

The Tammany ice trust which bears so heavily upon New York's poor is but another of Mr. Croker's numerous collection agencies.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON X, JUNE 3—MATTHEW 9: 35 TO 10: 8.

Golden Text—"It Is Not Ye That Speak but the Spirit of Your Father Which Speaketh in You"—Matt. 10: 20—Twelve Sent Forth.

35. "Jesus went about all the cities and villages." This was his third evangelizing tour. He did not remain in one place till all were converted and made perfect, but having gathered the harvest that was ripened in one place, he left those fields to ripen further while he gathered the harvest that was already ripe in other places. (1) "Teaching in their synagogues," where he could best reach the people on the Sabbah. He taught divine truths, and unfolded the Scriptures to them with new and deeper meanings. Teaching, religious education, is one essential element in the progress of the kingdom both as to numbers and quality. (2) "Preaching the gospel of the kingdom." Heralding, proclaiming far and wide the good news of the kingdom, that it was at hand, how to enter it, what it would do for all who came into it. (3) "Healing every sickness," positive disease, severe, dangerous, even violent. The Greek word, nosos, is akin to the Latin, noceo, to hurt. "Every disease." Greek, malakia, weakness, debility; from malakos, soft, weak; hence it refers rather to chronic cases.

36. "When he say the multitudes." Many more than any one person could reach or help. "He was moved with compassion." Thus the Father "so loved the world." Infinite love and compassion is the keynote of the gospel, the motive for missionary work and all deeds of helpfulness. "Because they fainted." R. V., "were distressed." The word originally meant flayed, rent, mangled, applied to sheep fleeced and torn by wild beasts. So these people were mangled by disease and by sin as by wild beasts. "Were scattered abroad." Not dispersed, but thrown down, prostrated by disease, by weariness, by sin, by hunger of soul, as soldiers are prostrated on the ground by their enemies. "As sheep having no shepherd." Those who should have been their shepherds, who professed to be such, were no true shepherds, but hirelings, who ate the sheep they should feed.

37. "Then saith he unto his disciples." To all who accepted him as well as to the twelve. "The harvest truly is plenteous." Not merely "those who will actually be saved, but men in general, who, unless gathered and saved, will perish like wheat that is not reaped."—Broadus. The fields were "white already to harvest" (John 4: 35). Never was this so true as it is of the world to-day. "But the laborers." Those who were willing and were qualified to gather in this harvest. "Are few," compared with the greatness of the work.

38. "Pray ye therefore." You who are in training for the work, you who are to be laborers in the harvest, and realize the greatness of the need and the difficulty of the work. It is instructive to note that the laborers themselves, and those who ought to be laborers, were the ones instructed to pray for more laborers. "That he will send forth." "The word is stronger: thrust out, force them out, as from urgent necessity."—Vincent. "Laborers into his harvest." Note, God gathers his harvest by human instrumentality.

1. "Called unto him his twelve disciples." Whom he had chosen some time before, just previous to the Sermon on the Mount. The number was according to the twelve tribes of Israel. In V. 2 they are called "the twelve apostles." Apostle means "one sent forth" on a mission, "a messenger." "Our word missionary, derived from the Latin, likewise signifies 'one sent.'"—Broadus. Disciples are learners, scholars, those who go to school, as here to Christ, the great Teacher. It was needful that these twelve should be both apostles and disciples.

2. "Simon . . . called Peter (the rock), and Andrew," were brothers, and among the five disciples of Jesus (John 1: 35-45). "James . . . and John were also brothers, and named by Jesus, Boanerges, sons of thunder, probably describing "their fiery, vehement temperament."—Gould, in Int. Crit. Com. Yet John so controlled this temperament that he was "the disciple whom Jesus loved," and had the deepest insight into Jesus' heart. These first four called were fishermen.

3. "Bartholomew" is undoubtedly the Nathaniel of John 1: 45. "James" is the modernized form of Jacob. "Lebbaeus" is the same as "Thaddeus," and as Judas (Jude) the son of James (R. V.), in Luke 6: 16.

4. "Simon the Canaanite" means not "of Canaan," nor "of Cana," but "the Zealot," "a party of fanatic nationalists among the Jews, leaders of the national revolt against the foreign yoke."—Gould. "Judas Iscariot," i. e., man of Kerioth, a town of Judah. Hence he was the only one of the disciples who was not a Galilean.

5. "Go not into the way of the Gentiles." Do not take any road that leads to the surrounding nations, as for instance the cities of Tyre and Sidon. "City of the Samaritans." Though nearer than the Gentiles. The time had not come for this more distant work, but it would come later.

6. "Go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel." These belonged to the flock of God, but had wandered far away and were lost. They were best acquainted with these people. Our own town and city is the best base of operations. Begin at home and then reach out into "the wide, wide world."

7. They were to "preach, saying, The kingdom of Heaven is at hand." The gospel Jesus himself preached in the beginning. The King had come. He brought pardon and peace and salvation from sin, and all that characterized the kingdom. Everything good was waiting for them at their very doors.

8. "Heal the sick." (See on Lesson IX., First Quarter.) Only by visible help for the body that costs us something is it possible to prove that our efforts for men's souls are sincere. Sickness and demon possession were fruits of sin, object lessons of sin. Jesus came to undo the work of the devil. By healing sick bodies through his disciples, he proved his power and willingness to heal sick souls, cleanse leprous hearts, raise the dead in sin, cast out all the devils of iniquity. "Freely ye have received." Jesus had charged nothing for what he had done. He came from heaven freely, he gave his life freely, he brought salvation to the disciples freely. "Freely give," of that which cost you nothing. Be like your Master, filled with his spirit of love. The very power of doing these kind deeds was a free gift; therefore they were to give freely, to take nothing for their work.

Powder Kept in Cold Storage.

A new use for refrigerating machinery has been found in the contemplated cooling of magazines of warships so as to prevent explosion danger from over-heating. Experiments with that end in view have been made for some time, but it is only recently, with plans proposed by Rear Admiral O'Neil, U. S. N., that any fair measure of success is said to have been attained. It does not seem unlikely, therefore, that in war vessels yet to be built magazine refrigerating apparatus will be one additional adjunct to the already long list of marine auxiliary machinery.—Cassier's Magazine.

Rose Leaves Instead of Rice

The opening of the door to permit the departure of a bride and groom has heretofore been the signal for a general pelting with rice—a Chinese custom, conveying wishes for good health and prosperity. But this custom has been so abused with vulgarity, often producing injurious results, that it is being discarded at the weddings of careful people, and showering the bride with rose leaves or loose flowers has been instituted. These flowers are then again picked up and kept as souvenirs by the guests.—Mrs. Burton Kingsland in the March Ladies' Home Journal.

Horses His Penchant.

The sultan has about 2,000 horses in his stables, and among these are specimens of nearly every breed in the world. His finest horses are of Arabian blood, and his favorite mount is a beautiful Arabian bay. He often takes rides in the grounds of his palace. The sultan is a good shot, and can break a dozen vases with a revolver while galloping past them on horseback. He has always been particular as to the horses of his army, and each of the regiments which accompany him to mosque is mounted on Arabian horses of one color.

An ardent wooer in Seattle entertained his sweetheart with rapturous love letters. He wrote himself out in three months, and then ceased visiting as well as writing. In one of his letters he sent to her "tons of love and bushels of kisses;" but this did not satisfy her. She sued for breach of promise and the jury awarded her $6,000.

Lock Jaw.

Ed H. Hardin, China Springs, Tex., says: "One large does of Morley's Wonderful Eight cured my mare of lock-jaw. It was a wonderful cure and saved me a $65.00 animal." Sold by agent in every town.

The revenue officers frequently go on a still hunt.

Those who use Maple City Self Washing Soap will usually have no other kind, because it does better work and does it easier. Sold by all grocers.

The man who is a loafer is a dead loss to himself.

Lane's Family Medicine.

Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

Of nearly 1,000 dealers in olemargarine in Philadelphia, only thirty-one have both federal and state licences.

IN THE LAKE COUNTRY

of Northern Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota and Michigan, there are hundreds of the most charming Summer Resorts awaiting the arrival of thousands of tourists from the South and East.

Among the list of near by places are Fox Lake, Delavan, Lauderdale, Waukesha, Oconomowoc, Palmyra, The Dells at Kilbourn, Elkhart and Madison, while a little further off are Minocqua, Star Lake, Frontenac, White Bear, Minnetonka and Marquette on Lake Superior.

For pamphlet of "Summer Homes for 1900," or for copy of our handsomely illustrated Summer book, entitled "In The Lake Country," apply to nearest ticket agent or address with four cents in postage, Geo. H. Heafford, General Passenger Agent, Old Colony Building, Chicago, Ill.

An earthquake in San Jacinto, Cal., caused the sinking of San Jacinto mountain about 150 feet. The suken part comprises an area of 600 acres.

FERTILE COLORADO.

The Denver & Rio Grande railroad has just published a second edition of "THE FERTILE LANDS OF COLORADO," which gives a concise description of the vast area of agricultural, horticultural and grazing lands located on its line in the state of Colorado and the Territory of New Mexico, and full information as to the stock interests, the sugar beet industry and farming by irrigation. It is a truthful representation of the numerous and wonderful products of the soil in that portion of the country and is of especial interest to all who are interested in agrieulture or kindred pursuits.

Copies of this book will be sent free on application to S. K. Hooper, G.P.A., D. & R. G. R. R., Denver, Colo., or any official of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad.

Buggies Wagons

Corn Cultivators

And Bicycles: Do not fail to see us before buying. We have the largest stock of the best goods ever brought to this city

Groceries, Hardware.

First class Tinshop.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

OUR SUMMER BILL OF FARE.

Young Onions, New Radishes, Fresh Lettuce,
Oranges, Bananas, Lemons,
Canned Fruit and Vegetables--all kinds,
Bread, Buns, Pies, Cakes, Cookies,
Confecionery, Cigars, Tobacco
SUMMER DRINKS SELECT GROCERIES,

Agent for the Ideal Steam Laundry, Mason City.
G. W. KLUCKHOHN, KLEMME.

Buy Your

Drugs, Paints, Wall Paper, Toilet Soap, Perfumery
Books and Patent Medicines

At Amsden's Pharmacy

GARNER, IOWA.

FRED ARNOLD, PRES. C. H. WIEGMANN, V. P. F. A. ARNOLD, CASH.

STATE SAVINGS BANK,

OF KLEMME, IOWA.

CAPITAL $25 000 00, LOANS $40 000 00,

INSURANCE WRITTEN, LOANS NEGOTIATED, EXCHANGE BOUGHT AND SOLD.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits: Money Loaned on Real Estate: Foreign and Domestic Exchange Sold.....

DIRECTORS: FRED ARNOLD, C. H. WIEGMANN, H. W. GRUETZMACHER, CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, F. A. ARNOLD.

CARY SAFE CO.

BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.

..Manufacturers..

FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES

VAULTS, LOCKS, ETC.

CONTRACTORS to UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

H. W. SCHOPER,

FARM MACHINERY,

Buggies and Wagons, Corn Planters, Corn Plows, Champion Binders and Mowers.

TWINE.

THE KLEMME TIMES

By G. L. WELLEMEYER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme, Iowa, as second class matter

TO CURE A COLD WHILE YOU SLEEP.

Take "Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets," J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

Having received a car load of furniture and undertaking goods, I am in shape to supply you with anything in the line of furniture etc.

G. F. SCHULER, Garner, Ia.

Seed Grain!

I have a few hundred bushels of seed wheat, seed barley, seed flax and timothy seed. W. R. BLOOM. tf.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN ONE NIGHT.

Or to quickly cure La Grippe take "Week-Break-a-cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

GAING TO PARIS.

Then let us give you valuable information segarding your trip. We can render you good service and ticket you right through from all stations on our line via New York and any of the steamship lines. Call on agents of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway, or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

J. I Carson, Prothonotary, Washington, Pa., says: "I have found Kodol Dyspep ia Cure an excellent remedy in ca-e of stomach troub.e, and have derived great benefit from its use." It digests what you eat and cannot fail to cure. J. L. Harr

ANOTHER CHANCE.

On the first and third Tuesday of May and June, homeseekers' tickets will be on sale at rate of a Single Fare plus $2 for the round trip to the various parts of the country. For rates, limits territory, etc., call on nearest agent or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

A FAST BICYCLE RIDER,

Will ofted receive cuts, sprains, or bruises from accidents. Bucklin's Arnica salve will kill the pain and heal the injury. It's tha cyclist's friend. Cures Chafing, chapped hands, sore lips, burnc, ulcers and piles. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c at Harr's.

VEBY LOW RATES.

The B C R & N Ry will make very low rates to Sioux Fall, S. D. for the A O U W meeting in June. Call on your ticket agent for rates, limits etc and see that your tickets read via this line. Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia.—jun12

BEWARE OF A COUGH.

A cough is not a disease but a symptom. Consumption & bronchitis, which are the most dangerous and fatal diseases, have for teeir first indication a persistant cough, and if properly treated as soon as this cough appears are easily cured. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven wonderfully successful, and gained its wide reputation and extensive sale by its success in curing the diseases which cause cough ing. If it is not beneficial it will not cost you a cent. For sale by Harr.

Reduced Rates to the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Reduced round trip rates are now in effect to the nation's great resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas, owned, controlled by the United States Government for the cure of a score of human ills. Beautiful winter, 200 hotels and boarding houses of all grades. Ask nearest ticket agent for particulars, or Mr. John G. Farmer, A. G. P. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia. For illustrated books of information address Bureau of Information, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

A WOMAN'S AWFUL PERIL.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I, B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis.' from her doctor, after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse, Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her. It's a wonderful Stomach and Kidney remedy. Cures Dysaepsia, loss of apetite. Try it. Only 50c—guaranteed—At Harr's.

NEW CHAIR CARSERVICE.

Between Watertown, Ellsworth and Chicago via. B. C. R. & N. Ry. Commencing Sunday Nov. 19th, a free reclining chair car will be placed on trains Nos. 608 and 605 between Watertown and Chicago by the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. This car leaves Watertown daily, except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. arriving at Chicago 7:59 the following morning. This car runs to and from Sioux Falls Sundays, thus giving daily chair car service between Ellsworth and Chicago. Passengers going east from Chicago will have ample time to make any transfers to connect with all morning eastern trains.

These trains are very fast, and, with this new additional service, passengers can feel assured of first class accommodations. JNO. G. FARMER,
Cedar Rapids, Ia.

A KEEN CLEAR BRAIN.

Your Best feelings, your social position or business success depends largely upon your stomach and liver. Dr. King's New Life Pills give increased strength, a keen clear brain, high ambition. A 25c box will make you feel like a new being. At Harr's,

Republican gains have been notable both in Kansas and Nebraska. This encouraging.

TORTURED A WITNESS.

Intense suffering was endured by witness T L Martin of Dixie, Ky., before he gave this evidence. "I coughed every night until my throat was nearly raw; then tried Dr. Kings New Discovery which gave instant relief. I have used it in my family for nearly 4 years and recommend it as the greatest remedy for coughs colds and all throat, chest and lung troubles. It will stop the worst cough and not only prevents but absolutely cures consumption. Price 50c and $1. Harr's.

As is its custom, the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway has arranged for reduced rates to a large number of important places for the coming summer, among which we mention the following most prominent:

North Manchester, Ind.—Annual Meeting German Baptist (Cunkers) May 29:June 8.

St. Louis, Mo.——Annual Meeting General Assembly of the Presdyterian church, May 17-31.

Washington, D. C.-Annual Meeting Imperial Council, Ancient Arrabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, May 22-24.

Siouq Ealls, S. D.—National Gathering Supreme and Superior Lodges of the Ancient Order of United Workmen June 9-20.

Philadelphia, Penn.——Republican National Convention June 19.

Charleston, S. C.—Annual meeting of the National Educational Association July 7-13.

Cincinnatti, O—Baptist Young People's Union of America July 12-15.

Chicago Ill.—National Encampment G. A. R. August 27-Sept. 1.

Detroit, Mich.—Biennial Conclave Knights of Pythias, Bug. 27-Sept. 1.

St. Paul, Minn. Biennial Convention National Republican League of the United States, July 17-19.

Summer tourist tickets will be on sale May 15, to resorts in different parts of the country, and important information can be obtained by calling on any ticket agent or writing to the undersigned. Send for copy of booklet entitled "Okoboji Outing."—Jno. G. Farmer, A G P & T A, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. iul31.

Ladies

We have just received an entirely new line of Shirt Waists and Wrappers---Sure to Please.

NEW PRINTS
CAMBRICS
PERCALES
FANCY WHITE
DRESS GOODS

Gentlemen,

Those neat, Nobby Hats you see were purchased of Shafer & Dow, who Keep the biggest Stock and Newest Styles.

Yours to please.

Shafer & Dow

KLEMME.

B. C R. & N. TIME TABLE.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 708. B Pass.	7:55	p. m.
No. 796 A Stock	9:50	a m.
No. 742, B Freight	3:45	p. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 701. B Pass. -	1:32	p. m.
No. 741. B Way freight	9:50	a. m.

B—Daily except Sunday
A—Daily except Monday

☞"Freight trains shown above will carry passengers only when provided with tickets."

F. G. REESE, Local Agt.

WM. H. HUGHES
LAWYER.

Accounts and notes collected. Practice in all courts. Office in Schuler block.

GARNER IOWA.

JAMES YOUNG
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER.

Will cry sales and guarantee satisfaction, 15 years experience. Dates and terms at office of Klemme TIMES.
Telephone or address
Garner Iowa.

J. N. SPROLE,
REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND ABSTRACTS.
Titles examined and corrected, Taxes paid, etc.
GARNER - - - IOWA.

A. L. SPOONER.
Physician and Surgeon.
Office first door west of Shafer & Dow's Store. Residence just back of the German Reform Church. Office hours 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.
Klemme, Iowa.

A. SNYDER,
DRAYMAN.

Having purchased the Bartholomew dray line I solicit a share of your work. Prompt attention given to all work: Charges reasonable.

KLEMME, IOWA.

JOHN BAUMGARTNER.
PROPRIETOR OF
CITY BARBER SHOP.
AN EASY SHAVE. - -
A SATISFIED CUSTOMER
FIRST DOOR EAST OF LAU BROS.
KLEMME, IOWA.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN DAUBING
AND
PAINTING.
We understand our business and guarantee our work.
JOE MILLER,
PAINTER and DEGORATOR.

Hello There!
Where are you going?

To Pietzke's Blacksmith Shop, for he's the man to go to for good work and at right prices. At the old stand.

Klemme, Iowa.

JOHN JOSTEN
PHOTOGRAPHER
Gallery Fitted For Finest Work
In Miniature and Cabinet Sizes. Enlarging, View and Copying.
PHOTO BUTTONS A SPECIALTY.
☞Give me a call
KLEMME - IOWA.

"Is is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I reccommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy," says druggist Sawtelle, of Hartford, Conn. "A lady customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale on my show case, said to me, "I really believe that remedy saved my life the past summer while at the shore,' and she became so enthusiastic over its merits that I at oncemade up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once ta the floor I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my ttore smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever. At Harr's,

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME V. KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, JUNE 7 1900 NUMBER 42

Our Millinery Department

is a success. Our low Prices and Correct Styles are the Keystone to our success.

.....
.....

We have just received a shipment of Mens' Summer Suits and Extra Pants.

E. P. SCHAEFER,

Klemme, Iowa

NORTHERN LUMBER CO

FOR SCREEN DOORS

LUMBER,

LIME, STUCCO, AND CEMENT.

EVERYTHING IN BUILDING MATERIAL.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO.

L. G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

J. J SUCKOW, PAINTER, and PAPER HANGER.

First Class work in every way, and our specialty is Paper Hanging and decorating. See me before you contract your work.

Address, KLEMME, IOWA.

AIELT RIEKENS, PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER. GERMAN OR ENGLISH

Will cry Sales and guarantee satisfaction
Fine Stock Sales a specialty.
Call on or address at

PAULSVILLE, IOWA

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

....SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

WALL PAPER,

Paints, Oils, Alabastine, Window Shades and Everything used to Decorate and Beautify the Home.

WATCHES, CLOCKS and JEWELRY.

DRUGGISTS' SUNDRIES.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

Republican Primaries.

The Republican County primary election for the purpose of nominating County Auditor, Recorder, Clerk District Court, County Attorney, Supervisor of district number one and Supervisor of district number four, will be held in the different townships of the county on Saturday June 30th, 1900.

The names of all candidates for the above offices, who have paid their assessments will be placed on the ticket at a meeting to be held in Britt, Iowa, on Wednesday Juue 20, 1900, at 1 o'clock p. m., under the direction of the chairman and secretary of the county central committee.

The rules governing the primaries will be substantially the same as those previously adopted.

C. R. WOOD, Sec.
F. E. BLACKSTONE, Chairman.

It Will Be Dolliver.

It is evident from present indications that J. P. Dolliver will occupy second place on the National ticket this fall, and without doubt will be nominated by acclamation. Allison, Gear, Henderson and all the Iowa congressmen are strong supporters and he has, apparantly, the field alone.

School Picnic.

The Klemme schools have arranged for a grand holiday and picnic on Friday June 15. All are cordially invited. Parents are especially asked to attend. Those who can furnish teams will please report to Miss Stewart. It has not been decided as ta place, but in all probabilities they will go to the grove on the banks of the Iowa, east from Goodell. Nothing is better for the children than a day in the woods.

Old Landmark Gone.

Contractor Larson, with his force of men went to the Old Amsterdam, Tuesday morning, where he has the contract to remodel the old Willey house. It is an interesting building, and has weathered the storms of the summers and winters for nearly forty years. The lumber with which it was built was taken out of the natural timber of Upper Grove, and turned into lumber at Hiams mill. The sills are of black walnut, the frame work of oak, and nearly all of the finish work inside of hard wood. For many years this was a haven of rest for weary travelers, and to this day you occasionally hear of the excellence of Mrs. Willey's cooking and the proficiency with which "Russell" could explain away grievances in language to plain to be misunderstood—and woe unto the man who differed with him when aroused. The old barn, too, will be remodeled. Mr. Cooper the present owner, will, with the aid of Mr. Larson, transpose thes old landmarks into more modern buildings, and a more pleasant place to live would indeed be hard to find. But few of these spots remain, that mark the time when all of his part of Iowa was a wide expanse of prairie, and the Buffalo and the Indians went their way unmolested—now it is the garden spot of the universe.

New Teachers.

The school board met Tuesday and Miss Emma Terhufen, J. J. Suckow and Mrs. Hawley were elected teachers for the ensuing year. Miss Dunlap was a most successful teacher, and the change is made through no fault found with her work. We believe that the last three months under the supervision of Miss Stewart has been satisfactory. We have ever advocated the hiring a man for principal of our schools, and we believe that Mr. Suckow, backed by the nnanimous support of the directors, and the co-operation of the patrons, will give Klemme the best school she ever had. Miss Terhufen is recognized as one of our best teachers and will ably handle the work in her department. The many friends of Mrs. Hawley will be pleased to learn that she is to have charge of their little ones for the coming year. She is the right teacher in the right place. Now let us pull together for the good of the school.

Silver Wedding.

Nearly one hundred invited guests called at "Wild Rose Farm," in German township, last Saturday, to assist Rev. and Mrs. F. H. Wellemeyer in celebrating the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage. It was a joyous occasion, and the only one we ever missed to which we were invited, and sickness in our own home is all that kept us away. We have only a meagre report at this writing, but understand tha the fatted calf was slaughtered, the prodigal had never strayed, and seemed to have taken on a new lease of life. The feasting began early, and the long table fairly groaned beneath the weight of good things. Thirty-six were seated at a time and three times thirty-six people did their utmost to deplete the larder, and after all were satisfied there remained many basketsfull. On that well remembered day, June 3,1875, Rev. H. R. Fiegenbaum pronounced the words that united in marriage Miss Mary Klaus, and F. H. Wellemeyer. And on this occasion he was again the master of ceremonies. The years intervening have been filled with richest blessings. A large number af the relatives and nearest friends were present, and will join with us in wishing them a continued life of health, happiness and prosperity.

City Dads Meet.

Regular meeting of town Council June 4th. 1900. Councilmen all prsent except Schoper.

The following bills were allowed.

F. M. Schwarz,	2.50
Klemme Times,	5.60
Gruetzmacher Bros,	14.63
Phillip Ell,	12.50
Keorner Bros.	.80
J.J. Suckow,	2.00
Aug. Lau	2.00
H. E. Peitzke,	4.00
Arthur Gibbs,	2 00
Lew Lewis	2.00
H. W. Gruetzmacher	2.00
Geo. Kluckhohn	2.00
Henry Terhufen	5.00
E. P. Dow	4.00

The bond of Philip Ell was accepted. Adjourned.

E. P. Dow, Clerk,
H. TERHUFEN, Mayor.

None in Klemme?

Man born in the mountains of Kentucky is of feud days and and full of virus. He fisheth, fiddleth, cusseth and fighteth all the days of his miserable life.

He shunneth water as a mad dog and drinketh much mean whisky.

When he desireth to raise h—l he planteth a neighbor, and lo, he reapeth twenty fold. He riseth even from the cradle to seek the scalp of his grand sires enemy, and bringeth home in his carcas the ammunition of his wife's neighbor's wife's cousin's father-in-law, who avengeth the deed.

Yes, verily his life is uncertain and he knows not the hour when he may be jerked hence.

He goeth forth on a journey half shot and cometh back on a shutter, shot.

He riseth in the night to let the cat out, and it taketh nine doctors three days to pick the buckshot out of him.

He goeth forth in joy and gladness and ccmeth back in scraps and fragments.

A cyclone bloweth him into the bosom of his neighbors wife and his neighbor's wife's husband bloweth him into Abraham's bosom before he hath time to explain.

He emptieth a demijohn into himself and a shotgun into his enemy, and his enemy's son lieth in wait for him on election day and lo! the coroner ploweth up a forty acre field to bury the remains of that man.

woe, woe is Kentucky, for her eyes are red with bad whisky, and her soul is stained with the blood of innocent moonshiners. —Ex.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern RAILROAD EXCURSIONS.

ONE FARE RATE.

A round trib rate of a single fare has been named by the B C R & N Ry from all Iowa points on its line to Davenport Iowa, for the State Encampment G A R in June. Dates of sale June 11, 12. 13, 14, with return limit to and including June 16. jun13

¶

ONE FARE RATE.

A rate of ONE FARE for the round trip to Des Moines has been named by the B. C. R. & N. Ry. from all stations in Iowa account Prohibition convention June 12-13. Tickets on sale June 11-12, good to return until and including June 14. Call on B. C, R. & N. agents for tickets, Jun. 12.

¶

TAKE A VACATION.

Special excursion to Colorado and Utah on June 20, July 9-17 and Aug 1. On above dates round trip excursion tickets, limited for return to Oct 31, will be sold to Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Salt Lake City, and Ogden at the low rate of a SINGLE FARE plus $2. Call on any agent of the B. C. R. & N. Ry. for tickets and full information or address, Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. aug. 1 t

The Klemme Times.

G. L. WELLEMEYER, Pub.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

The Croton dam strike cost the state of New York $100,000. The walking delegates may sooner or later arouse the latent indignation of the patient taxpayer.

Coffee, the drink more highly regarded today than any other, was first used in Abyssinia in 1875. A Greek first introduced it to England and made himself famous by the act.

A man was arrested for making a silly speech in the national house of representatives the other day, but that was because he made it from the gallery, instead of the floor of the house.

The death of Cross, the Liverpool animal dealer, removes the most extensive procurer of wild animals of modern times. He was the first to introduce rare beasts into European menageries.

The shear trust, organized two years ago with good financial backing, has given up the ghost, its stockholders losing almost every dollar. It is evident that in this case at least the shearers were among the shorn.

The path in front of a bicycle is cleared of substances which would puncture the tires by a new attachment, comprising clamps for suspending a small circular brush in front of the forward wheel, with driving wheels to revolve the brush rapidly on the ground.

The cypress in ancient times was considered a sacred tree and idols were made of cypress wood. The Pacifice coast Indians used it as an emblem of purification. The Dakotan Indians had a superstition concerning the cedar tree. They imagined that thunder was a manifestation of the storm god Wa-Kan-Da, thunder birds, as his messengers, producing the noise designated as thunder. These birds lived in cedar trees, and hence the cedar tree became an object of worship and the cedar pole an emblem of the highest value.

A great many of the census enumerators have given up their jobs in more or less disgust. When the announcement was made that the population canvassers would be appointed on a certain date there were several thousand more applications at the office next day than there were places for. Politics was considered very little in the selection of the men, and everything looked promising. When the final work of preparation was begun it resembled clear sailing until the canvassers found out something about the task that confronted them. One of them in resigning to Chief Agent Beaston of Philadelphia said: "What do you think I am? I have to ask twenty-two questions for 2½ cents. That's a good job, nit! You can have it."

It is predicted in London that unless conditions change American flour will soon compel the closing of the mills of England. In France American flour is able to pay the high tariff duties and profitably compete with French-milled flour. It is claimed that American millers can grind the wheat into flour cheaper than British or French millers. A comparison of the ordinary flour mills of European countries with those of the United States carries out this assertion. Long ago in this country the old-fashioned grist mill gave place to the merchant mill and the roller process took the place of the grinding process. Water power and steam engines of the most efficient and economical character are being used as motive power. In fact, in America the milling industry has been reduced to the most economical methods.

The number and variety of knives and forks that now grace a well-equipped and formal dinner table may well dismay one unused to such a variegated display of cutlery and silver. There are forks for the oysters, for the fish and for the roast, and forks as well for anything else that may be served. There are also knives to correspond to the forks that may be needed. These implements that social convention decrees to be necessary to convey food to the mouth are usually laid out in formidable rows on either side of the plate. The other evening a simple western maiden at her first eastern dinner surveyed her supply of knives and forks with growing trepidation. Her common sense told her that they were laid out in the regular order in which it was intended that they should be used, but nothing in her experience had taught her which was the right end of the row to start in with. Finally, in despair, she sought help from her next-door neighbor, a prominent physician. "Say, Doc," she questioned anxiously, as she pointed at the offending objects, "do you eat out or in?"

THE NEWS IN IOWA

CHARGES AGAINST JONES.

Grave Allegations Against the Clerk of the Supreme Court.

DES MOINES, June 1.—Charges of misappropriation of state fees have been made against C. T. Jones, clerk of the supreme court. State Treasurer Herriott is the originator of the charges, which Mr. Jones' friends insist are grounded in personal ill-will toward the clerk. It is charged that Mr. Jones has appropriated to his own use something like $4,300 of fees collected for transcripts of supreme court opinions. The law provides that these transcripts, when furnished by the clerk, shall be charged for at the rate of 10 cents per 100 words, and that the proceeds shall be turned into the state treasury and fully accounted for. Mr. Jones admits that he has not turned the fees into the treasury, but explains that he has failed to do so simply because the state appropriation for clerical expenses was not large enough to pay for making the opinion record, and the revenues from the sales of copies have been used to pay for keeping this record. He claims that the amount he has received during the four years and three months involved exceeds the expenses he has borne by only about $1,500, and that the legislative committee on retrenchment and reform, after fully investigating, agreed to wipe off the old score, but told him not to do it again. In order that it should not be necessary, the committee increased his clerk hire allowance $600 annually. Mr. Herriot demands that the entire amount which has been collected for these fees be turned over and accounted to the state, and he has insisted that no other basis of settlement would be satisfactory to him.

KIME'S STARTLING CLAIM.

Fort Dodge Physician Says He Can Cure Consumption.

FORT DODGE, June 3.—That consumption is a curable disease is the rather startling assertion of Dr. J. W. Kime, of Fort Dodge, the results of whose investigation with the tubercle bacilli are now commanding the attention of the bacteriologists of the country. Dr. Kime has been conducting a series of experiments for the cure of tuberculosis for many years, and the conclusions at which he has arrived, together with his methods of treatment, are about to be given to the scientific world. The novel feature of the claim is the method of treatment of tuberculosis patients, by means of which Dr. Kime claims that all consumptives not entirely prostrated by the terrible disease can hope to be ridden of the germ pest and restored to health and vigor. The treatment or tonic consists of sunshine—condensed sunshine—applied to the body or diseased portions by means of a reflector, and the treatment is known by the name of "phototherapy."

Salix People Excited.

SIOUX CITY, June 1.—The little town of Salix, a few miles from Sioux City, received a severe shock Decoration day, when C. E. Schmidt, station agent for the Sioux City & Pacific railway company, ran out in front of the memorial parade and shouted: "To hell with America!" The marshal of the day. Hon. E. H. Smith, at once went after the man, who ran away and for some time eluded his pursuers. Later he concluded to give himself up. He was taken to the postoffice, and there he made a public apology and begged the forgiveness of the people. There was some talk of tar and feathers, but the cooler heads prevailed and the apology was accepted, but an effort will be made to have him removed from his position at Salix.

Bankruptcy Ruling.

CLINTON, June 1.—Judge Shiras, of the United States court, has sustained E. S. James, referee in bankruptcy in the Christiansen bankruptcy case. Mr. James held that where creditors had received partial payments on accounts within four months of the time of going into bankruptcy, they must return such payments or be ruled out of any rights in the assets of the bankrupt. He held further that goods sold within such time could not be used as offsets against payments received. The ruling was the first made upon that point and was regarded as an important one.

Severe Storm at Clear Lake.

CLEAR LAKE, June 2.—A severe rain storm destroyed all the bridges on Willow creek in this vicinity. Considerable live stock was killed by lightning. Rain fell in a steady sheet for about four hours. The lake rose eight inches. The creek rose four feet. The damage to crops is considerable. The estimated damage to property and live stock is $2,000.

Richest Man in Iowa Dying.

DUBUQUE. May 31.—H. L. Stout, the richest man in Iowa, is dying. He lies in his elegant home knowing that the end is not far off. His illness is due to old age. Being 86 years old, physicians declare it is but a day or two before death will come. Mr. Stout is worth $10,000.000 at the least.

GRIFFIN'S TITLE CLEAR.

Decision Of Interior Department in a Celebrated Land Case.

PRIMGHAR, June 3.—The secretary of the interior has made several important decisions in what is known as forfeited S. C. & St. P. railroad lands. Among these is the celebrated case of James Griffin vs. the heirs of Elias F. Drake, involving an 80-acre tract in the heart of the city of Sheldon, and estimated to be worth from $50,000 to $60,000. "Jimmy" Griffin, as he is familiarly called, was a poor man, working on the railroad in 1882, at which time he became satisfied that the land in question was unearned railroad land and took his family and located upon the land and claimed it as a United States homestead. The secretary's decision awards the land to James Griffin. He has had to fight his way through on this land ever since he made his claim in 1882, in various local courts.

SAFE BLOWERS AT WORK.

Burglars Get $1,600 From a Sheldahl Bank.

SHELDAHL, June 2.—About 2 o'clock a. m. burglars blew up the safe of the Sheldahl Savings bank with dynamite and stole about $1,600 in currency, making their escape. The bank had fortunately just sent $1,000 by express to the Central State bank at Des Moines, saving that amount. The bank loses nothing, having been fully insured in a bankers' casualty company. The bank is owned by wealthy farmers of the vicinity and the president is W. D. Schaal, cashier, R. F. Graeber. There is no clue to the burglars.

KEANE FOR ARCHBISHOP.

Claim Made That His Appointment is Assured.

DUBUQUE, June 3.—Archbishop Keane, archbishop of Damascus and late rector of the Catholic university in Washington, has been appointed to succeed Archbishop Hennessy as metropolitan of Dubuque. The bill creating him archbishop of Dubuque has been sent to Archbishop Keane, and Rome is awaiting the latter's acceptance or declination. The above statements are based upon information contained in a letter received by a local priest from a correspondent in Rome, who stands close to the authorities.

Granger Gets No Divorce.

DES MOINES, June 1.—The Granger divorce suit is at an end. Without hearing the arguments, Judge Bishop refused to grant H. T. Granger a divorce, on the grounds that he was entirely to blame in the domestic troubles prior to the date of the reconciliation. After that date the court is inclined to believe that both were in error, but says that if Granger had not lost his love and affection for his wife prior to that time the later troubles would not have followed.

Fort Dodge Boy Swallows Paint.

FORT DODGE, June 1.—Ray Phillips, a 3-year-old boy, was poisoned by drinking paint mixed with kerosene. His mother was painting and the child drank the oil the brushes were soaked in. A doctor was called and the stomach pump applied, but it was too late. The mouth and organs were blistered He cannot live.

BREVITIES.

Dr. Stetson, of the Des Moines Baptist college, is the latest candidate in the field for the office of secretary of state. Dr. Stetson is a prominent educator of the state and while not a politician, has an acquaintance that will make him a formidable candidate. He has lived in Iowa for twelve years past in Des Moines, first as pastor of the Baptist church for two years, and later being elected to the presidency of the college, which position he has held for ten years. He is a native of Maine, but lived for many years in Indiana before coming to Iowa and was for some time a member of the board of trustees of the State University of that state.

A delegation of Dubuque business men and representatives of the Dubuque press visited the Allamakee iron mines, located near Waukon. The object of the visit was to ascertain if ore really does exist there in as large quantities as reported. The Dubuque men say they were not disappointed in their researches and that the reports of the find have not been exaggerated. From one of the quarries 130 tons have been taken out and sold. The ore has an average depth of sixty feet, and at no place has it been necessary to strip the earth more than a few feet. The Waukon Iron Company has purchased an area of 360 acres, which it is believed contains at least fifteen millions tons of ore. It is believed by many that the ore lies on a flat lead limestone, and if this is the case every hill is a mass of ore, for all over the surface it crops out, and pits have been dug on the surrounding hills. The Waukon Iron Company is desirous of interesting Dubuque capital in the construction of a blasting furnace at Dubuque, and for this purpose have been in communication with the Business Men's League for some time past.

NEWS IN GENERAL

HARD FIGHTING POSSIBLE.

Not Entirely Certain Boers Are Ready to Give Up.

LONDON, June 2.—Lord Roberts continues silent regarding Pretoria, probably because he cannot wire of events from his own knowledge. Lorenzo Marquez, where all of the news from the Boer side is re-handled, cables that communication with Pretoria is now suspended. According to last reports a peace party appeared to be in the ascendant, and as soon as President Kruger and his cabinet left Pretoria to organize a new capital, the citizens' committee persuaded the commandants of the forts to withdraw some of the troops from the defenses, perhaps with the view of keeping order in the town. If messengers were sent to the British or if the British, being two hours' march from Pretoria on Wednesday, entered it then or at any time prior to Friday noon, Lord Roberts would certainly have telegraphed this fact. Hence it looks as though there was a Boer force between Pretoria and Johannesburg. These soldiers trekking back toward Pretoria, some of them fresh from the fight with General Ian Hamilton, would have brought a new element into the situation and would probably overrule the peace committee, taking the direction of affairs out of their hands. If this has happened, the British may, as the Daily Chronicle says, see some "hard fighting before the British flag flies over Pretoria, for even if the Boers held only three forts standing close together on the hills south of the town they would be in a position to stand a siege." The Boers, according to a special dispatch from Lorenzo Marquez, have re-entered the northeastern territory of the Free State and are engaged with the British near Ventersburg and Harrismith.

SWEEPING CUTS IN CUBA.

Director Bristow Lays Ax Heavily Upon Salaries in Postal Department.

HAVANA, June 2.—Acting Director of Posts Bristow has issued an order more sweeping than any of its predecessors, an order practically completing the reorganization of postal headquarters. The latest financial reductions aggregate $23,300, making a total reduction of expenditures at headquarters of more than $42,000. The special agents, eleven in number, who have been getting $3,200 each, are cut down to six, and their clerical force is correspondingly diminished, the salary of the chief clerk of the bureau being reduced from $1,800 to $1,600. The bureau of transportation loses the services of one $1,200 clerk, the transtation bureau loses one $1,400 clerk, the salary of the chief clerk being reduced $200, and the bureau of dead letters is treated in the same way, losing a clerk, while the salary of its chief clerk is reduced. P. H. Bristow, chief clerk of the department, had his salary reduced from $4,000 to $2,500.

FOREIGNERS ARE MURDERED.

"Boxers" Attack a Party of Thirty Trying to Leave Country and Kill Four.

TIEN TSIN, June 4.—The French consulate has received information from the priests at Pae Fu that thirty foreigners, including six ladies and a child, who were attempting to escape from Pao Ting Fu to Tiensen in boats were attacked by over 700 "Boxers" armed with rifles and spears. Many foreigners were wounded, four killed outright, but the fate of the remainder of the party is unknown. Having but little ammunition, however, it is considered impossible they could hold out against their assailants.

Conger Reports Arrival of Troops.

WASHINGTON, June 2.—Minister Conger at Peking reports to the state department that the arrival of the 350 guards for the legations of Russia, France, Great Britain, Italy, Japan and the United States has had the effect of improving the situation. He says that Peking is much quieter, but that the "Boxers" are still active in the surrounding country.

Correspondents Liberated.

LONDON, June 2.—In reply to inquiry, United States Consul Hay, at Pretoria, has cabled to the United States embassy that Lord Rossyln was liberated Wednesday, but was allowed te remain at Pretoria. Lord Cecil Manners was also liberated. They were both acting as newspaper correspondents.

Boer Sympathy in Old Mexico.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 2.—El Correo Espanole, the organ of the Spanish colony here, says regarding England's policy of annexing the Boer republics:

"Poor Boers, the world has applauded your heroism, but has not moved a finger to prevent the spoliation of which you are the victims. The nineteenth century goes out dishonorable."

Brabant Found The Boers.

LONDON, June 1.—Roberts reports as follows:

"Brabant reports that on May 28 two of his patrols, consisting of two officers and forty men, were cut off by the enemy and taken prisoners."

SITUATION IN CHINA.

Minister Conger Appeals to State Department for Protection.

WASHINGTON, June 1.—Such advices as have reached here indicate that the situation in China has assumed a very critical phase, and one calculated to tax the entire resources of the Chinese government. The state department has been in close communication with Mr. Conger, our minister at Pekin, and the navy is doing its share, having placed the flagship Newark as far up the Pei Ho river as the Taku forts, which is the nearest point to Pekin that the ship can reach. The operations of the "Boxers" are increasing in magnitude. Their demonstations are no longer local, and they appear to be governed in the movements by some well settled design. They have murdered nine Methodist ministers in one province, at the town of Pachow, and have closed in on Pekin. Meanwhile, the Chinese army is suspected of disloyalty, this belief being strengthened by wholesale desertions of the army to the "Boxers." Minister Conger has appealed to the state department for the protection of a marine guard for his legation. The department has promptly cabled him an authorization to call upon the nearest United States vessels for assistance. The embarrassing feature of the situation is the cutting of the communication by rail between Taku and Tien Tsin and the capital, for the "Boxers" have burned the railroad bridges, and there are probably only two courses open to the marines who wish to reach Pekin—a long overland march, through a hostile country, away from supports, or a tedious voyage up the swift and shallow Pei Ho in shore boats in tow of steam launches. According to report, the Chinese government has done every thing in its power to meet the demands of the diplomatic body at Pekin for the dispersion of the "Boxers," but it appears that the uprising is far more serious than was at first apprehended, and even the resident ministers at Pekin are inclined to admit that the task is not an easy one for the Chinese government.

PRETORIA WILL SURRENDER.

Boers Will Make Their Last Stand at Machadodorp.

CAPETOWN, June 3.—A dispatch to the Argus of this city from Delagoa bay says:

"Pretoria will surrender. President Kruger, according to this correspondent, is said to be at Middleburg, and. he adds, it is expected that the last stand of the Boers will be made at Machadodorp."

LONDON, June 3.—A cablegram from Lord Roberts, dated Johannesburg, has been received by the war office. It says:

"The occupation of Johannesburg passed off quite satisfactorily, thanks to the excellent arrangements made by Dr. Kraus, the Transvaal commandant here, and order prevailed throughout the town.

"Dr. Kraus met me on my entrance to Johannesburg and rode by my side to the government offices, where he introduced me to the heads of the several departments, all of whom acceded to my request that they would continue to carry on their respective duties until they could be relieved of them.

"Johannesburg is very empty, but a good crowd of people assembled in the main square by the time the British flag was being hoisted. A royal salute was fired and three cheers for the queen were given."

FOREIGN TROOPS IN PEKING.

Large Contingents Went From Tien Tsin to the Capital.

TIEN TSIN, June 1.—A special train started for Peking yesterday with the following forces: Americans, seven officers and fifty-six men; British, three officers and seventy-two men; Italians, three officers and thirty-nine men; French, three officers and seventy-two men; Russians, four officers and seventy-two men; Japanese, two officers and twenty-four men. The foreign contingent also took with them five quick firing guns.

ROBERTS IN JOHANNESBURG.

Entered the City With His Forces May 31.

LONDON, June 1.—The following dispatch from Lord Roberts has been received at the war office:

"JOHANNESBURG, May 31.—Her majesty's forces are now in possession of Johannesburg and the British flag floats over the government buildings."

Taylor to Try Again.

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31.—W. S. Taylor, recent claimant for the governorship of Kentucky, who is now at the Martinsville mineral springs, has announced that he will make the race again this fall on an anti-Goebel and anti-Goebel election law platform. The announcement was made at the conclusion of a four hours' conference attended by several leading republicans of Kentucky.

Warrant Out for Taylor.

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 1.—Circuit Clerk Ford received an order from Judge Cantril directing him to issue a bench warrant for the arrest of former Governor Taylor. The warrant was based on an indictment charging Taylor with being an accessory to the murder of Goebel. The warrant was issued and placed in the hands of Deputy Sheriff Suter.

GUILTY OR INNOCENT?

By AMY BRAZIER.

CHAPTER I.

Mrs. Saville of the Court is not a pleasant woman. People are generally rather afraid of her, and, like many unpleasant people, she usually gets her own way. Her present idea is to marry her only son, Sebastian, to her niece, Barbara Saville, an arrangement perfectly agreeable to every one except Barbara herself—Barbara, with her rare, witching Irish beauty, the beauty of a fair skin and blue eyes, with very dark lashes and dark hair, a face at once charming and provoking.

But Barbara's sweet-cut mouth is a little bit too firm for her aunt, and Sebastian has felt his cold blood grow warm beneath the disdainful smile of his cousin.

Sebastian is not a pleasant looking man—tall and dark, with a heavy, cynical face and eyes that look cruel.

In the whole of Leinster there is not such a pretty girl as Barbara Saville. She lives at the Court with her aunt, and has done so for several years. Latterly Mrs. Saville has put on the screw a little, for Barbara is twenty, and it is time Sebastian married and settled down; but Barbara tip-tilts her pretty chin and tosses her dusky head, and says that to live at the Court all her life would kill her.

It is, indeed, a gloomy spot, falling into decay, surrounded by dark, neglected woods, and a dark, sullen river running through the park.

Mrs Saville's husband has lived hard in his day, driven a coach with eight horses, and generally made havoc of his patrimony. Card playing ended what his eight horses had begun, and his only son, Sebastian, is a poor man. Barbara is an only child, too. Her father has an appointment in Tasmania, and Barbara is supposed to have a fortune. Mr. Saville had sent her home to be educated in England, and then to live at the Court, where the charming family arrangement of a marriage between the cousins was an open secret.

The time is November, when all day long the trees drip moisture, and the fields are soaking and sodden, while the long struggling street of Portraven is one sea of mud.

It is worse than usual today, for a cattle fair is going on, and the fair takes place in the street. The footpaths are crowded with cattle, and droves of panting, terrified sheep are huddled into groups. Young horses led by halters are being paraded up and down, and the footpaths being unavailable, pedestrians are forced to fight their way in the middle of the street, ankle deep in mud, amidst the confusion of carts and horses, and animals of all sorts and kinds.

Walking briskly through the crowd with an air of being thoroughly used to it, comes Barbara Saville, dressed in a short skirt of Donegal tweed, with a Norfolk jacket and a tweed cap on her dark hair. She carries a walking stick, and her bright face wears a half-amused, half-contemptuous expression as she looks at the hurrying crowd. She has reached the market square, and here the fair is at its height, and bargains are going on briskly. Barbara looks pityingly at the scared, timid cattle driven to and fro with such roughness. And strange contrast, just beside the drove of cattle, heedless of the turmoil around, stand a little group, a preacher, with uncovered head, preaching the Gospel of Christ to the heedless multitude. It is a strange scene, and Barbara's face grows thoughtful. The rough faces of toil-hardened men and women, the patient cattle standing by, and those most humble creatures the subdued donkeys, more used to blows than kindness.

Then through the crowd comes a young man, and he is head and shoulders over every one. His hair is gold—real gold—and waves in short, crisp waves. His fair moustache covers a sweet, firm mouth, and the eyes that look at Barbara's are purple as pansies, and full of light now as they meet the sudden, glad recognition in hers.

"Barbara," says the young giant, "what are you doing in this crowd?"

Barbara's face is a study of pleased surprise.

"I only walked in from the Court to post my letter to father," she replies. And her dark eyes smile brightly as she holds out her hand to him.

"I'll take care of you," returns George Bouverie; "these fellows are so rough you might get hurt."

And Barbara has no objection.

Her eyes dance. What does it matter that the November sky is heavy and gray? There is sunshine in the two glad young hearts, and they laugh and they talk together, and make fun over their little adventures in the fair, like the pair of children they are.

They leave the town and walk together along the country road. Sodden leaves, brown and decaying, lie in little heaps. It is a day calculated to make any one depressed; but Barbara's cheeks are softly flushed; her eyes are like stars.

"Barbara, when may I speak to your aunt?"

George Bouverie's tone has grown serious suddenly, his face takes a tender expression.

Hers flushes crimson.

"Wait till I hear from father, George," she whispers. "You don't know Aunt Julia—she would freeze me with a look; but if father says yes, then she can't say anything."

"But, my darling, how can I wait?" urges the young man.

Barbara sighs.

"Aunt Julia would write out horrid things to father," she says. And her fingers just touch the rough tweed sleeve beside her.

He laughs.

"Oh, yes; she could say a lot against me, I know. I am in debt, and of course that's against a fellow; and I did run a couple of horses at the Curragh, and lost a lot, too; and my dear old mother will go about pouring out her woes to Mrs. Saville, and making me out to be a black sheep; but I'm not that, Barbara. I've you to work for now, and I'll chuck the whole thing up. I'll have one more plunge, and then, if I win, and the luck's bound to come my way now, I'll pay up all round and marry you, my darling, with a clean page."

So hopefully he speaks, who could doubt him? Certainly not Barbara.

"You are my good angel, sweetheart," goes on the man, bending his fair head. "I know I've made a mess of my life; but it will be all different now. You won't mind being a poor man's life, will you, darling?"

"I shouldn't mind anything with you, George," she whispers, her beautiful face aglow with feeling.

"That's my brave little woman! I've not got much, you know, Barbara. The Grange comes to me at the mother's death, and she allows me two hundred a year. I wish now I had got a profession"—a wistful expression of regret softening his eyes as he speaks.

The only son of his mother, and she was a widow.

Ah, what a story those simple words contain! George Bouverie is his mother's idol, and sorely she moans over her darling's shortcomings. Her views are not his views, and she regards with horror his increasing infatuation for horse racing, a taste that is a crime in the eyes of Mrs. Bouverie.

To please her, George sold his racehorse, but took to betting, a fact that need not be known to any one but himself.

Only to Barbara he has poured out his remorse and regrets over himself and his backslidings. To please her he will give up everything, and Barbara is content.

"I wish I could ask you in to lunch," she says naively, as they reach the gloomy entrance gates of the Court, heavily shadowed with giant cypress trees, and dank moss grows on the pillars and the stone griffins surmounting them.

George smiles.

"Aunt Julia wouldn't be pleased to see me, I fancy," he says, looking down at her. "I know she wants that sour Sebastian to marry you—she told my mother so."

Their hands meet in a lingering pressure when Sebastian himself appears upon the scene, his face dark as night, his eyes furious.

"Morning, Bouverie," he begins, with a curt nod; and turns to Barbara. "My mother is looking for you, Barbara. Have you forgotten we have an engagement this afternoon?"

Barbara lifts her lovely eyes with unconcealed scorn.

"My dear Sebastian, you know I told your mother I could not stand a 10-mile drive to drink tepid tea at Lady Barry's. Not even your company, Sebastian, could compensate for such an infliction."

Sebastian Saville may and does hate young Bouverie; but the instincts of hospitality cannot be ignored.

"Won't you come in and have a bit of lunch, Bouverie?" he says. And George, who realizes that it means another hour of Barbara's society, accepts.

Together the three walk up the long avenue, where gnarled oaks meet overhead, and in the woods at either side the moss grows deep and soft.

George swings along with his springy step, and Sebastian looks with envy at the young man's splendid figure. He is tall himself, too, but awkward, and his face is forbidding.

Barbara walks between the two men, and Sebastian notices the heightened color in her cheeks, the radiant light in her eyes. She does not know that he can read her secret in her face, and the knowledge fills him with anger. Barbara is to be his wife; no idle flirtation must come between them; she is to be all his. Her beauty pleases him, and he knows what Barbara is ignorant of—that she will be an heiress.

Barbara's father wished her to be brought up simply, with no knowledge of the world's goods to fall to her lot. So whatever George Bouverie may possess in the way of faults, he is no fortune hunter—he loves Barbara for her own self.

CHAPTER II.

Mrs. Saville is a peculiar looking woman. She is seated in the long drawing room when Barbara enters with her two cavaliers, and she greets George rather coldly, turning immediately to Barbara.

"You are late, dear. You must dress immediately after luncheon; it is such a long drive to Barrystown."

"Need I go?" asks Barbara, looking bored.

"My dear, I wish it," Mrs. Saville says decidedly, and turns to George. "How is your dear mother? She looked but poorly, latterly."

"I think she is all right," George replies, standing on the faded hearthrug in his careless grace.

Altogether the Court and its inmates are gloomy—all except Barbara, whose clear young voice rings through the rooms.

Luncheon is announced, and Mrs. Saville rises and puts her jewelled hand on the arm of George Bouverie.

"You and I will lead the way," she says, with a slow, unpleasant smile. "Those two young people like to take care of each other."

As they pass across the great vaulted stone hall Mrs Saville looks up at the golden-haired young man at her side and whispers:

"You must not covet forbidden fruit, Mr. Bouverie; and I think, for your own sake, it would be well not to come too often to the Court. Your mother knows my wishes for Barbara."

The blood surges to the very roots of his hair.

"I understand you, Mrs. Saville," he says, in a very low voice; "but has not Barbara a right to choose?" There is a passionate pride in the whispered words.

"Barbara must be kept out of temptation," Mrs. Saville rejoins as they enter the dining room.

But George Bouverie's eyes are full of triumph, for has not Barbara made her choice already? He flashes a glance at her as they take their places, and Barbara's shy, lovely eyes meet his for a brief second.

Everything at the Court is damp and mouldy. The great dining room has the atmosphere of a vault. A very small fire burns in the grate, and a seedy-looking butler shambles round the table with his satellite, a beardless youth imported from the stables, breathing hard and walking round on tiptoe with awful and elaborate carefulness.

The dining table is large; but there is very little on it—an alarming expanse of tablecloth and not much else. Sebastian, fixing his eyeglass firmly, gravely carves a minute portion off a joint, so small it will hardly go round. The butler very carefully pours out a very minute portion of sherry into George Bouverie's glass, while the scared lad from the stables travels laboriously round with vegetables.

George does not care about luncheon, so the scantiness of the repast does not affect him. Barbara is sitting opposite, and he can feast his eyes on the beauty of her face; while Sebastian's unfriendly expression affects him not at all.

Luncheon over, Mrs. Saville makes an apology for deserting her guest, for the carriage has been ordered early, the drive to Barrystown is long.

"It will only be au revoir," George says gaily, "I promised my mother to take her to the Barry's affair this afternoon. A chrysanthemum show, I believe."

It is distinctly annoying, for this very handsome young man will completely monopolize Barbara.

"You will be rather late, Mr. Bouverie," responds Mrs. Saville icily.

"Oh, not at all," George says pleasantly; while, with a nod and smile, Barbara runs off to dress for the party. "I'll just hop across country and be at the Grange in half an hour," George says gaily. "I wouldn't disappoint the mother for the world."

(To be continued.)

Want Favored Stations.

Army officers stationed in this country are all anxious to receive details to the military schools in the different states. Several of these details have been recently made. As they are all under the control of the president, it generally takes some little influence to obtain one.

CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Washington, May 28.—In the course of a speech in favor of the adoption of a resolution expressing sympathy for the Boers, Wellington of Maryland referred to a secret understanding existing between the United States and Great Britain. When Lodge of Massachusetts demanded proof that such an understanding existed, Wellington said that, in the circumstances, it was difficult to present tangible proof, but he believed the proof could be found in the secret archives of the state department. Lodge declared that such an understanding was not possible.

SENATE.

Washington, May 29.—A resolution offered by Pettigrew calling upon the secretary of the interior for all communications, reports and charges he has received relative to the management of the Crow Creek Indian reservation, South Dakota, was passed. The Teller resolution expressing sympathy with the Boers was then laid before the senate and Bacon addressed the senate. The pending resolution was, in his opinion, conservative, proper and not in any way violating international law. The resolution was referred to the committee on foreign relations by a vote of 40 to 26. A few minutes before adjournment the senate added to the sundry civil appropriation bill an amendment appropriating $5,000,000 for the Louisiana purchase exposition to be held in St. Louis in 1903, on condition that $10,000,000 in addition is raised by the exposition authorities.

HOUSE.

The house to-day, by a vote of 107 to 124, refused to accept the senate amendment to the naval appropriation bill relating to armor plate and adopted a modified proposition reading as follows:

"The secretary of the navy is hereby authorized to procure by contract armor of the best quality for any or all vessels above referred to, provided such contracts can be made at a price which in his judgment is reasonable and equitable; but in case he is unable to make contracts for armor under the above conditions, he is hereby authorized, in his discretion, to procure a site for and to ereot thereon a factory for the manufacture of armor, and the sum of $4,000,000 is hereby appropriated toward the erection of said factory."

HOUSE.

Washington, May 30.—The house passed 190 private pension bills.

SENATE.

Washington, May 31.—At the conclusion of a session lasting eight hours, the senate this evening passed the sundry civil appropriaion bill which has been under consideration for nearly a week. The amendment providing for an appropriaton of $5,000,000 for the Louisana purchase exposition to be held at St. Louis was continued in the bill.

HOUSE.

The house to-day under a special order and after an exceedingly hot debate in which the leaders on both sides charged each other with playing to the political galleries, entered upon the consideration of the resolution reported from the judiciary committee proposing a constitutional amendment to lodge in congress the power to "define, regulate, control, prohibit or dissolve trusts, monopolies or combinations." The democrats charged that the proposed constitutional amendment was objectionable in every way; that it was a mere political pretext; that it was unnecessary and was proposed at the end of the session for political purposes in the coming campaign. The republicans repudiated the charge of bad faith.

SENATE.

Washington, June 1.—Perkins of California presented a memorial from the people of that state, asking that the government provide for some releif for the people of India. Hale of Maine severely arraigned Great Britain for spending millions in crushing liberty in South Africa while her people were dying of starvation in India. The conference report on the naval appropriation bill brought forth a heated political debate, the senate finally insisting upon its armor plate proposition. The military academy appropriation bill was passed.

HOUSE.

The house to-day, after a lively debate extending over two days, defeated the joint resolution proposing a constitutional amendment empowering congress to regulate trusts. It requires a two-thirds vote under the constitution to adopt an amendment to the constitution. The vote stood: Ayes 154, nays 131. Five democrats voted with the republicans and two republicans voted with the democrats.

SENATE

Washington, June 2.—After an extended debate the senate to-day passed the bill providing for the extradition of persons who have committed certain crimes in Cuba from the United States to the island. As amended, the bill provides that the alleged criminal shall be punished under the laws of Cuba as administered by Cuban courts. The last of the appropriation bills—the general deficiency—was passed, as was also the emergency river and harbor bill, providing for numerous surveys and for certain other public works.

HOUSE.

Only one vote was cast in the house against the Littlefield anti-trust bill to amend the Sherman act of 1890 to make it more enective in the prosecution of trusts and combinations, their agents, officers or attorneys. Mann (rep.) of Illinois cast the negative vote. The bill according to the statements of the republican leaders, goes to the limit of the authority of congress under the constitution. All the democratic minority amendments except one were defeated. That was an amendment declaring that nothing in the act should be construed to apply to trades or labor organizations.

NEWS FROM GEN. ROBERTS.

Reports Heavy Fighting North of Johannesburg.

LORENZO, Marquez, June 2.—Kruger yesterday was still at Machadorp (about half way between Pretoria and the Portuguese frontier, on the railroad between the Transvaal capital and Delagoa bay). The Boer commands, totalling ten thousand, Thursday held all positions and hills around Pretoria. Another large command was at Bronkhursts Spruit (about forty miles from Pretoria on a railroad to Delagoa bay).

LONDON, June 3.—Lord Roberts reports to the war office as follows:

JOHANNESBURG, May 31.—French's report of his operations during May 28 and 29 reached me today. He was opposed throughout his march but managed to drive off the enemy from strong positions they successfully held, with very little loss, and is now holding the place which I directed him to take, north of Johannesburg. Two officers were wounded and two men killed and twenty-seven wounded.

COLVILLE FOUND FIGHTING.

Strong Opposition Kept Him Busy All the Way to Hellbrun.

LONDON, June 4.—The war office has received the following dispatch from Lord Roberts:

"Johannesburg, June 1.—Sir Henry Colville, in reporting the arrival of the Highland brigade at Hellbrun, May 29, states that he was opposed more or less the whole way from Ventersburg. Eighty men were killed and four officers and thirty-two men were wounded. Colville says the Lancashire battery of field artillery did excellent work. Grant's naval guns were most valuable and the troops behaved in a most soldierly manner throughout the trying march. Rundle telegraphs that his casualties were thirty-two killed and 150 men wounded."

The first accident insurance company was organized in England in 1845. The first in this country was established in 1863.

Electricity in Capsules

is made from cheap chemicals, and when added to a certain quantity of water will furnish electricity enough to light a house or drive an automobile. But this is nothing compared to the strengthening power contained in a bottle of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It cures indigestion, dyspepsia, biliousness, liver and kidney troubles.

Trees make a fresh start by turning over new leaves.

Better Blood Better Health

If you don't feel well today you can be made to feel better by making your blood better. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the great pure blood maker. That is how it cures that tired feeling, pimples, sores, salt rheum, scrofula and catarrh. Get a bottle of this great medicine and begin taking it at once and see how quickly it will bring your blood up to the Good Health point.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is America's Greatest Blood Medicine.

Two cats on a back yard fence can improvise a nocturne that Chopin never dreamed of.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

Three dangerous courses—the course of time, the course of true love and the race course.

Keep looking young and save your hair, its color and beauty with PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM.

HINDERCORNS, the best cure for corns. 15cts.

Printers should be cultured—they are men of letters.

Indigestion is a bad companion. Get rid of it by chewing a bar of Adams' Pepsin Tutti Frutti after each meal.

Onions speak louder than words to the deaf and dumb.

Try Maple City Self Washing Soap for washing woolens or lace curtains. It is unequalled for washing ladies' shirt waists.

Lots of women dress shabbily in the morning because no one is around to see.

Ladies Can Wear Shoes.

One size smaller after using Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder. It makes tight or new shoes easy. Cures swollen, hot, sweating, aching feet, ingrowing nails, corns and bunions. All druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE by mail. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N.Y.

A woman's view of society depends on whether she is inside or outside.

Piso's Cure is the best medicine we ever used for all affections of the throat and lungs.—WM. O. ENDSLEY, Vanburen, Ind., Feb. 10, 1900.

Two tablespoonfuls of fluid equal one ounce.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.

Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

Each package of PUTNAM FADELESS DYES colors either Silk, Wool or Cotton perfectly.

The man who thinks he knows everything should go to a night school.

Six Month's Treatment for $1

DR. W. H. COPELAND

The Most Eminent Physician and Specialist on

CATARRH

and Kindred Ailments, Dyspepsia, Deafness and Lung Troubles in the World,

Can be consulted personally only in Chicago. He is the founder of the Copeland practice in all the large cities of the United States. Has arranged through the machinery of his vast system to treat

SUFFERERS WITH CATARRH

six months at your home, without the loss of time and expense of a visit to Chicago, although you are just as much in touch with the restoring power and magnetic influence of Dr. Copeland as though your hand was grasped in his. Drop all other treatments for your Catarrh. Send a short description of your case with application. Inclose $1, which will cover the entire charge for six months' treatment, including all medicines and advice. Address

W. H. COPELAND, M. D.

210 State St. CHICAGO, ILL.

Save the Labels

and write for list of premiums we offer free for them.

HIRES

Rootbeer

The favorite summer drink

B. C. R. & N. TIME TABLE.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 708, B Pass.	7:55	p. m.
No. 796 A Stock	9:50	a m.
No. 742, B Freight	3:45	p. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 701. B Pass.	1:32	p. m.
No. 741. B Way freight	9:50	a. m.

B—Daily except Sunday
A—Daily except Monday

☞"Freight trains shown above will carry passengers only when provided with tickets."

F. G. REESE, Local Agt.

WM. H. HUGHES
LAWYER.

Accounts and notes collected. Practice in all courts. Office in Schuler block.

GARNER IOWA.

JAMES YOUNG
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER.

Will cry sales and guarantee satisfaction, 15 years experience. Dates and terms at office of Klemme TIMES.

Telephone or address
Garner Iowa.

J. N. SPROLE,
REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND ABSTRACTS.

Titles examined and corrected. Taxes paid, etc.

GARNER - - - IOWA.

A. L. SPOONER.
Physician and Surgeon.

Office first door west of Shafer & Dow's Store. Residence just back of the German Reform Church. Office hours 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.

Klemme, Iowa.

A. SNYDER,
DRAYMAN.

Having purchased the Bartholomew dray line I solicit a share of your work. Prompt attention given to a wor : Charges reasonable.

KLEMME, IOWA.

Ladies

We have just received an entirely new line of Shirt Waists and Wrappers---Sure to Please.

NEW PRINTS
CAMBRICS
PERCALES
FANCY WHITE
DRESS GOODS

Gentlemen,

Those neat, Nobby Hats you see were purchased of Shafer & Dow, who keep the biggest Stock and Newest Styles.

Yours to please.

Shafer & Dow

KLEMME.

THE KLEMME TIMES
By G. L. WELLEMEYER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme, Iowa, as second class matter

Republican County Convention.

The republican voters of Hancock county will meet in delegate convention at Garner, Iowa, on Saturday, June 2nd, 1900 at 1 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of selecting delegates to a state convention to be called, and also to select delegates to a judicial convention to be called and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

The basis of representation in said con ention will be one delegate for eac township and one for each twenvotes or major fraction thereof tfor L. M. Shaw for governor at general election held November 7, 9. The townships will be entitled to representation as follows:

Amsterdam	7	Ell	5
Avery	7	Erin	5
Britt	21	Garfield	3
Bingham	5	German	4
Boone	4	Magor	8
Corwith Precinct	2	Madison	5
Concord	12	Orthel	5
Crystal	6	Twin Lakes	4
Ellington	7

It is recommended that the different townships hold their caucuses on Saturday, May 26, 1900.

F. E. BLACKSTONE,
Chairman.

COUNTY ATTORNEY.

I hereby announce mysely a candidate for County Attorney, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the primaries.

J. E. WICHMAN.

COUNTY RECORDER.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for renomination to the office of County Recorder of Hancock county. Iowa, subject to the Republican Primaries of 1900.

OLE PETERLON.

COUNTY AUDITOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-nomination to the office of County Auditor subject to the decision of the Republican Primaries.

E. F. BRUMMUND:

CLERK OF DISTRICT COURT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-nomination to the office of Clerk of the District Court of Hancock county, Iowa, subect to the Republican Primaries of 1900.

L. D. WOMELDORF.

Small in size and great in results are DeWitts Little Early Risers, the famous little pills that cleanse the liver and bowels. They do not gripe.—Harr.

The Boer delegates ar growing unpopular. They refuse to let themselves be drawn into the nets by the wary leaders both parties have been industriously spreading for them.

All who suffer from piles will be glad to learn that DeWitt's Witch Hazel salve will give them instant and permanent relief. It will cure eczema and all skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits.—Harr.

It is hard to tell which shows the most indifference to the feelings of the administration—the Cuban carpet bagger or the Sublime Porte.

The Chinese ask "how is your liver" instead of "how do you do," for when the liver is active the health is good. DeWitts Little Early Risers are famous little pills for the liver and bowels. --Harr.

Just why the Senate should refuse the Boer delegates the privilege of the floor is hard to understand.

Ivy poisoning, poison wounds and all other accidental injuries may be quickly cured bo using DeWitts Witch Hazel salve. It is also a certain cure for piles and all skin disesses, Take no ocher.—Harr.

Now that athletes are going into politics and a prize fighter wants to go to congress, why not select a sprinter for governor of Kentucky.

Reports show that over fifteen hundred lives have been saved through the use of One Miuute Cough Cure. Most of these were cases of grippe, croup, asthma, whooping cough, bronchitis and pneumonia. Its early use prevents consumption,---Harr.

There is a woman under arrest in New York, who has eloped twice, been divorced thre times and has five husbands. And she doesn't come from Utah.

Unless food is digested quickly it will ferment and irritate the stomach. After each meal take a teasdoonful of Kodol Dyspepsia cure. It digests what you eat and will allow you to eat all you need of what you like, It never fails to cure tee worst case of dyspepsia. It is pleasant to take.---Harr.

It will pay you

BANKRUPT SALE

TAKE A DAY OFF.

It will pay you

And come to Garner, Saturday, June 16 and attend the most unique and phenominal DRESS GOODS SALE ever held in Northern Iowa.

ERWIN BROS'

IN THE ASPLIN BUILDING, GARNER, IOWA,

will on the above date make one great cleaning sale where they will put up at auction

40 OF THE CHOICEST DRESS PATTERNS

In skirt and dress lengths in the whole stock. The regular price on these goods range from 40c to $2.00 per yard. Remember, these are not left-over patterns, but the

CHOICEST OF THE WHOLE STOCK.

They go at Auction Sale, Saturday, June 9th.

THE BIG EVENT OF THE SEASON.

Don't miss it or it will be a source of regret the rest of your life.

Think of it:

Forty elegant Dress Patterns And You Make The Price.

☞To customers buying the above we will furnish linings and trimmings at half price Remember the day and date.

Auction Every SATURDAY.

100 Pairs of Men's and Boys' Soes will be Sold at Auction Saturday, June 9, 1900

DON'T BLAME US IF YOU DON'T GET THE BARGAINS

ERWIN BROS.

ASPLIN'S BLOCK, GARNER, IOWA.

Neglect is the short step so many take from a cough or cold to consumption. The early use of One Minute Cough cure prevents consumption. It is the only harmles remedy that gives immediote results. It will cura all throat and lung troubles. Children all like it and mothers endorse it.---Harr.

Paris has not yet announced that she does tot seek to equal the Chicago Worlds Fair, but it seems that she will have to do so sooner or later.

Starvation never yet cured dyspepsia. Persons with dyspepsia are already half starved. They need plenty of wholesome food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat so the body can be nourished while the wor nout organs are being reconstructed, It is the only preparation known that will instantly relieve and completely cure stomach troubles. Try it if you are suffering from indigestion. It will certainly do you good.---Harr.

"Is is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I reccommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhea Remedy," says druggist Sawtelle, of Hartford, Conn. "A lady customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale on my show case, said to me, "I really believe that remedy saved my life the past summer while at the shore,' and she became so enthusiastic over its merits that I at oncemade up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once ta the floor I gave him a dose of this remedy which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my ttore smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever. At Harr's.

Republican gains have been notable both in Kansas and Nebraska. This encouraging.

A KEEN CLEAR BRAIN.

Your Best feelings, your social position or business success depends largely upon your stomach and liver. Dr. King's New Life Pills give increased strength, a keen clear brain, high ambition. A 25c box will make you feel like a new being. At Harr's,

TORTURED A WITNESS.

Intense suffering was endured by witness T L Martin of Dixie, Ky., before he gave this evidence. "I coughed every night until my throat was nearly raw; then tried Dr. Kings New Discovery which gave instant relief. I have used it in my family for nearly 4 years and recommend it as the greatest remedy for coughs colds and all throat. chest and lung troubles. It will stop the worst cough and not onlyprevents but absolutely cures consumption. Price 50c and $1. Harr's.

As is its custom, the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway has arranged for reduced rates to a large number of important places for the coming summer, among which we mention the following most prominent:

North Manchester, Ind.—Annual Meeting German Baptist (Cunkers) May 29:June 8.

St. Louis, Mo.——Annual Meeting General Assembly of the Presdyterian church, May 17-31.

Washington, D. C.-Annual Meeting Imperial Council, Ancient Arrabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, May 22-24.

Sioux Ealls, S. D.—National Gathering Supreme and Superior Lodges of the Ancient Order of United Workmen June 9-20.

Philadelphia, Penn.——Republican National Convention June 19.

Charleston, S. C.—Annual meeting of the National Educational Association July 7-13.

Cincinnatti, O—Baptist Young People's Union of America July 12-15.

Chicago Ill.—National Encampment G. A. R. August 27-Sept. 1.

Detroit, Mich.—Biennial Conclave Knights of Pythias, Aug. 27-Sept. 1.

St. Paul, Minn. Biennial Convention National Republican League of the United States, July 17-19.

Summer tourist tickets will be on sale May 15, to resorts in different parts of the country, and important information can be obtained by calling on any ticket agent or writing to the undersigned. Send for copy of booklet entitled "Okoboji Outing."—Jno. G. Farmer, A G P & T A, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. jul31.

JOHN BAUMGARTNER.
PROPRIETOR OF
CITY BARBER SHOP.
AN EASY SHAVE. - -
A SATISFIED CUSTOMER
FIRST DOOR EAST OF LAU BROS.
KLEMME, IOWA.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN DAUBING
AND
PAINTING.
We understand our business and guarantee our work.
JOE MILLER,
PAINTER and DEGORATOR.

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.
Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hogs wanted six days in the week. W. R. Bloom.

Rooms to rent—LAU BROS.

W. R. Bloom is painting his coal sheds.

Choice seed potatoes at G. W. Kluckhohn's.

Choice flax seed for sale at Aug. Lau & Son.

Men's and boy's crash suits at Shafer & Dow.

L. Keiser was at Garner on business Tuesday.

Mr. Flenor and family drove down from Garner Sunday.

The Klemme band will play for the Galt people on the 4th.

The Epworth Leaguers cleared $9 at their social Tuesday night.

Lyman Hawley is relaying the creamery drain tile this week.

Chris Lau stepped on himslf yesterday, fell and sprained his wrist,

A good second hand upright piano for sale.

E. P. SCHAEFER.

Aug. Lau & Son shipped two cars of hogs to Chicago Sunday morning.

A few settings of Buff Cochin eggs—pure bloods—75c per 15. H. E. Pietzke.

J. L. Harr and family were viewing the sights at Kanawha last Sunday.

Mrs. S. L. Sage and daughter Avis of Garner, spent Sunday at the editors home.

Mr. and Mrs. Juo. Baumgartner visited over Sunday with his parents at Grrner.

FOR SALE:—Residence property in Barz addition to Klemme. Inquire of H. S Swarz.

Joe Nissen, who has been attending school at Sioux City is expected home this week.

J. H. Queal & Co. call your attention to a few of their specialties in their adv. this week.

Mrs. H. F. Wellemeyer came down from Garner Tuesday for a short visit at ye editors home.

Mrs. Philip Ell went over to Meservey Tuesday to visit her son, editor C. P. Ell, of the Messenger.

John Suckow is, putting new paint on H. E. Pietzke's house, and is also changing the looks of the German M. E. Church.

Chas. F. H. Suckow has a closing out sale advertisement in this issue. If you are in need of anything in his line give him a call.

The ice cream social at the E. M. E. church Tuesday evening was well patronized and the Epworth League has a nice little sum to their credit.

Johu Newberger returned last Tuesday from a visit with friends in Butler county. He reports crop prospects much better here than in the counties south of us.

Otto Pringnitz, one of the prosperous young farmers from near Goodell, went to Sioux Falls Tuesday to look over the country with a view of purchasing a farm.

The latest styles in trimmed hats at very low prices; children's straw, tams, mull and silk hats from 15c up; baby bonnets very cheap.

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

EGGS—Black Breasted Game—pure stock—Great fighters—$1.50 per 15 eggs. Inquire at this office.

For Sale!—240 acre farm three miles east of Klemme, all under cultivation, buildings, etc. For prices and terms, call on or address, M. S. Gilman, Klemme, Iowa.

Miss E. Renziehouser informs us that for a short time she will make a big cut in price on all lines of goods in her store. It will surprise you with big values for little money. Come and see.

Found at last! A high grade liquid paint that is equal to lead and oil in wearing quality, and superior in covering qualities. and will weigh more to the galon than any mixed paint on the market. For sale by J. L. Harr,

Joe Miller is painting Henry Freie's farm home. When completed Joe sys it will be one of the neatest appearing farm residences in the country. and we believe it.

Mrs. H. E. Pietzke and two children. and Mr. Pietzke's mother went by train to Luverne Saturday, and H. E. drove over, for a visit at the home of J. W. Buetner. They returned Sunday evening.

The play was given at Goodell last Friday evening to a small audience. While the band is no money ahead, they realized enough to pay ell expenses and have a good time. The comdany have disbanded for the season.

The grade in front of the hotel is being cut down to a level, and the low spot in front of the bank filled in. Now when the right time comes a foot of gravel will put our streets in excellent condition.

Mrs. Lew. Lewis was taken suddenly very sick, Tuesday, with neuralgia of the stomach and for a time her chances for recovery was very uncertain. To-day we learn that she is better, but very weak.

Increase of business and lack of room has compelled Koerner Bros to build two additions to their store. A wareroom on the east and a tinshop on the north. This firm are enjoying a good trade, and we are glad of it.

You are invited to examine the Cresco—have its virtues explained to you. There's comfort and economy in a Cresco—Cannot break at the waist. A complete line of them will be found in our corset stock.—Shafer & Daw.

The Klemme band has been engaged to furnish the music for a grand celebration at Galt, in Wright county. They will find the Klemme band composed of gentlemen, and that they will in every way fulfill their contract.

The infant daughter of Mrs. C. W. Paulus of Mason City, on Sunday last swallowed a quantity of Kerosene, and but for prompt work of the doctoor would have died. Mrs. Paulus is a sister of Chas. Bracher of this place.

It has been decided that the school picnic will be held in the Wesenberg grove near Goodell. Now stop your meanness and go. It may not be much fun for old, fosilized grunters like us, but we can do something to add to the pleasure of the little ones.

FLY NETS:—Good nets, poor nets, indifferent nets; nets that will keep the flies off and nets that wont; nets that are too nice and some not pretty enough; nets that costs lots of money and those that we almost give away. We have the finest line ever put on the market at prices that will make them go.

F. GRUETZMACHER.

Garner is making grand preparations for the 4th, and without doubt, no town in the county will be prepared to show you as much fun, and a general day of enjoyment, as will Garner. A large sum of money has been pledged, attractions of all kinds in the way of sports with many liberal prizes in athletic contests. If you want to enjoy the day, go to Garner,

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Shafer started Tuesday on a pleasure trip and will be away about three weeks. Their objective point is Walker, Vernon county Mo., via. Cedar Rapids, Burlington, Hanibal, Mo., and St. Louis. Walker is in the extreme southwest corner of the state, and Mr. Shafer may venture into Texas. They will visit with Mrs. Shafers brother, whom they have not seen for a number of years.

Klemme has organized a base ball club and is looking for the scalps of neighboring towns. A good game of base ball is worth a good deal as an advertisement to any town. We have no enclosed grounds here so that an admission fee can be charged. If the club should ask for a donation from the business men, how many would respond favorably? Just ask yourself that question? The nine have dropped $9 into the treasury, how much will you drop in.

Ell Center Etchings.

Fred Ax has added a durable coat of paint to his barn.

Miss Jessie Karr visited at the Braund home last Friday.

John Carothers has purchased a new buggy—girls, be ready.

D. S. Flowers is able to be out again with the aid of crutches.

Ax's young people took an outing at Clear Lake Last Monday.

Mr. Palmby was shearing sheep for J. W. Allen last Friday.

Several of the young people took in the sights at Clear Lake last Sunday.

Joe Lawhorn was trying his hand with the paint brush last week; he painted his buggy.

Steve Day, our efficient road supervisor, put in last week very profitably working the roads.

Wm. Hall of Newmarket Iowa, is visiting the parental mansion this week. He is a son-in-law of J. W. Allen.

Nick Ell, our new cream hauler now comes three times every week and then he is unable to haul all the cream.

A great many from here went to Garner last Sunday to hear Rev Hanscom's baccalaureate address to the graduating class of 1900.

Edward Haskens and son Art, hauled some fine hogs to young Chicago last Monday. Of course we mean Klemme, that is where they all go to get the top price.

Memorial Day was very appropriately observed here last Wednesday. The flag floated at half-mast, the children contributed beautiful wreaths and flowers to decorate the soldiers' graves, and nearly every one turned out to honor the nations brave defenders.

Employment for the Summer is now the question for many men; it is time to decide; you can make money selling our complete assortment of fruit and ornamental stock for fall delivery. Write for terms. Address:—The Jewel Nursery Co., Lake City, Minn. Established in '68. One thousand acres

Grand Display

Of all that is late, up-to-date and new in the line

OF ARTISTIC MILLINERY,

ALL THE LATEST DESIGNS IN

TRIMMED HATS

LADIES' AND MISSES WALKING HATS, SAILORS, TAMS, BABY BONNETS.

We have Just Received

A fine new line of Pulley Belts—the latest thing out. Also Ladies Ties in all the new shades; Silk for Shirt Waists: Dress Trimmings.

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

LEADING MILLINER.

M. W. LYNCH, :: M. S. GILMAN

LYNCH & GILMAN,

STROUD, OKLAHOMA,

REAL ESTATE AND LOAN BROKERS.

WHY PAY RENT?

OWN YOUR OWN FARM!

It is the highth of folly for a man to pay exhorbitant rents when he can go to Oklahoma and buy a fine farm at from $5 per acre up. Well watered; near good markets; mild and healthful climate and crop failure unknown. Plenty of natural timber and coal. We have for sale a well selected list of choice improved and unimproved farms and would like to talk with you. Excursions 1st and 3rd Tuesday of each month. NOW is the time before the "SNAPS" are all taken. For rates, terms, excursions etc., call on or address, M. S. GILMAN, Klemme, Iowa, or M. W. LYNCH, ST. LOUIS HOTEL, STROUD, OKLAHOMA.

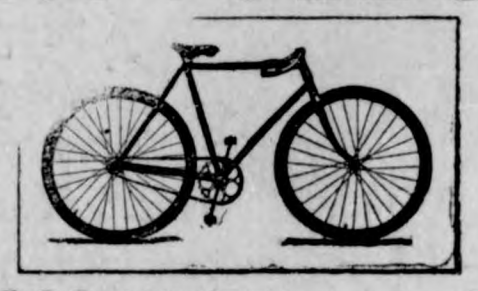
BICYCLES



OUR 1900 WHEELS ARE NOT FREAKS,

——But good, common sense machines, built of the best material that money can buy and codstructed in the most simple manner by skilled workmen. Good, strong, honest bicycles, as near

Fool Proof

as possible. We sell good, strong, honest, straight machines that are easy to ride and hard to break. Six makes of standard wheels always on hand. Old wheels bought and sold. Repairing done on short notice. A complete line of sundries always on hand.

KANAWHA, IOWA. L. HAEFNER.

On page five of this issue you will find the large display adv. of Irwin Bros., of Garner. A personal acquaintance with the firm enables us to conscientiously recommend them as reliable that they will do as they advertise. If you are in need of any thing in their line you will do your self good by making them a visit on the above dates.

A WOMAN'S AWFUL PERIL.

"There is only one chance to save your life and that is through an operation" were the startling words heard by Mrs. I. B. Hunt of Lime Ridge, Wis. from her doctor, after he had vainly tried to cure her of a frightful case of stomach trouble and yellow jaundice. Gall stones had formed and she constantly grew worse. Then she began to use Electric Bitters which wholly cured her It's a wonderful Stomach and Kidney remedy. Cures Dysaepsia, loss of apetite. Try it. Only 50c—guaranteed—At Harr's.

TO CURE A COLD WHILE YOU SLEEP

Take "Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

Hello There!

Where are you going?

To Pietzke's Blacksmith Shop, for he's the man to go to for good work and at right prices. At the old stand.

Klemme, Iowa.

JOHN JOSTEN

PHOTOGRAPHER

Gallery Fitted For Finest Work

In Miniature and Cabinet Sizes. Enlarging, View and Copying.

PHOTO BUTTONS A SPECIALTY.

☞Give me a call

KLEMME - IOWA.

VERY LOW RATES.

The B[illegible]y will make very low rates to Sioux Fall, S. D. for the A O U W meeting in June. Call on your ticket agent for rates, limits etc and see that your tickets read via this line. Juo. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia.—jun12

BATHHOUSE JOHN.

Has a Chance to Win Immortal Fame on the Stage.

Chicago correspondence New York Sun: Alderman John J. Coughlin, "Bathhouse John," may go on the vaudeville stage. The First ward alderman has just returned from a trip to New York. To Mayor Harrison last night he whispered the cause of his trip to New York. "Yes," he confided, "$5,000 a week at Koster and Bial's, if I'll sing 'Dear Midnight of Live' for seven nights and then let their artists sing my copyrighted version, cold 5,000 plunks. I tell you dat song of mine beats anything from operas of that fellow Wagner, or anything in 'Rush the Can' or something like that, the one that has the intermesso." "Will I accept the offer?" said the alderman, when questioned. "Oh, I can't tell yet; flattering, though. I'll think it over for a few dayss before Koster and Bial get me to do any lifting of box office receipts for them." "Jawn, singin' on stage!" said "Hinky Dink" Kenna, his colleague in First ward. "Aw, cut it out!"

Large Canadian Families.

A newspaper of Quebec lately told of the marriage of a Montreal widower with twelve to a Quebec widow with eleven children, and this brought out from a correspondent a bigger story. It is that some years ago Louis Lemieux, of St. Henri, father of twelve children, married Mme. Letourneau, mother of twelve. They were well-to-do people and united their progeny under one roof. The registrar of the district attests the truth of the statement and says that he was the notary and friend of the couple, and "at the wedding dinner I saw the twenty-four children seated at the bridal table and happy at being united in one family. All remained together under the parental roof for some years, and never was the peace and harmony of this patriarchal dwelling distrubed by troubles between parents or children." He tells how, one by one, the twenty-four children married, "to create other families," and to-day the old couple live in comfort and respect in the village of St. Henri.

They Never Do.

"There is such a thing as somnambulism, of course?" queried the anxious-looking young man as he appeared at the lawyer's office. "Certainly," was the reply. "But do somnambulists ever write letters?" "Never heard of it." "A somnambulist wouldn't write 250 love letters in a year, would he, and each and every one of them asking the girl to marry him and threatening suicide if she didn't?" "Never." "Then there's no help for me, and you may see the girl and settle the breach of promise suit on the best terms you can."—Washington Post.

Frenchman's Submarine Boat.

To enable travelers to cross the channel without suffering from seasickness, a Frenchman has designed a submarine boat to be propelled by cable traction, the motive power being electricty. The boat will accommodate 240 passengers, and perform the journey in one hour. Should the cables become fixed in going over the drums, the boat can be detached so that it may rise to the surface and continue the journey like an ordinary vessel.

"Oh, we had the loveliest arrangement at our church society last week! Every woman contributed to the missionary cause £5, which she earned herself by hard work." "How did you get yours?" "From my husband." "I shouldn't call that earning it yourself by hard work." "You don't know my husband."

Even if we are made of dust it is no sign others should walk over us.

An excellent plan to shut off long winded orators has been adopted by a tribe in Central Africa. In public debates every speaker is compelled to stand on one leg while he is talking, and he must bring his address to a close when he has become too tired to thus stand.

The Rev. Elijah Kellogg, author of "The Elm Island" and other stories for boys, celebrated his eighty-seventh birthday anniversary at his home in Harpswell, Me., Thursday. He is in excellent health, attends to his farm chores every day, and preaches two sermons every Sunday.

Here are the five national tickets nominated up to date: Bryan and Towne, populist; Barker and Donnelly, middle-of-the-roaders; Harriman and Hays, socialist-labor; Debs and Harriman, socialist-democrat; Swallow and Wooley, Christian.

In Asiatic Turkey there is a body of religionists who call themselves Yezidees, or devil worshipers. Believing that Satan is destined to be restored to heaven, they wish to keep on good terms with him, as they may need his friendly offices.

Mrs. Mary Dow Peavy, of South Boston, celebrated her 105th birthday on May 16. She enjoys good health and her memory is just as clear as it was when she was a young woman. Each morning the papers are read to her, and she has followed the war in South Africa from the beginning.

A kind-hearted clergyman was lately compelled to dismiss a gardener, who used to purloin his fruit and vegetables. For the sake of his wife and family, he gave a letter of recommendation, and this is how he worded it: "I hereby certify that A. B. has been my gardener for over two years, and that during that time he got more out of my garden than any man I ever employed."

A man with a mustache should not eat soup in public.

BOUND TO SEE THE SHOW.

Even Though the Pass Was Stamped on His Shirt Bosom.

It is a difficult job to suppress the theatrical pass fiend. Tim Murphy, the comedian, says it can't be done. Last spring, when Mr. Murphy was playing "The Carpetbagger," in an interior town, a hotel waiter asked him for two "complimentaries," and as the actor's generosity toward waiters, bootblacks and hotel employes is proverbial he received them. The recipient lost no time in selling the passes to a drummer and pocketing $1 for his enterprise. A few weeks ago "The Carpetbager" revisited the town and the same waiter again asked for a ticket. This time he said one would do. "Do you want to see the play yourself?" inquired the elongated comedian. "Yes, sir, if you please." "If I give you a pass will you use it—yourself?" "You bet I will," was the emphatic reply. "Come here, then," said the actor. Drawing a pencil from his pocket he wrote across the polished shirt front of the waiter: "Pass this man tonight—if he is sober," and dated the line. "Show that at the box office window," he added, "and they'll give you a seat coupon. At 8 o'clock the waiter presented himself at the box office, and pointing toward his wishbone, inquired: "Is this ticket good?" "Certainly," replied the ticket seller. "Give me a coupon, please." "All right, but I'll have to punch that ticket if it is a 'complimentary.'" "What! Punch a hole through my shirt?" "Yes, sir, or else I must stamp it. Those are my instructions." For a minute the pass fiend hesitated; then he returned to the attack. "Go ahead," he said. "But I'm afraid it will spoil your shirt. This is purple ink and it is indelible." "I don't care. I want to see the show." A rubber stamp was pressed against the linen and the waiter approached the door, holding up the coupon for inspection. "Ticket, please; I can't let you in on that," politely remarked the doorkeeper. "Well, here is my ticket," replied the deadhead. "I'm wearing it tonight. "I'm sorry, sir, but all tickets must go into the box here, so that we can count up the house. "Thunderation!" ejaculated the pass fiend. "Do you really mean it?" "Yes, sir." There was only a moment of wavering. The orchestra was playing the overture. He pulled off a "dickey," handed it over and went in. "It was a darned good show," he said as he came out, "but," he added, sadly, "it cost me 15 cents after all."—Utica Observer.

FORTUNE TELLER

Cursed the Judge and Court Officers for Her Conviction.

Camden (N. J.) special New York World: Cold chills crept up and down the back of Judge Armstrong and the officials in the Quarter Sessions court this afternoon as Rebecca Peters called down bitter curses upon them all. There seemed to be a "spell" in the court, until finally an officer plucked up courage enough to take the woman across the "Bridge of Sighs" to the county jail. She was unable to pay a fine of $100 for telling fortunes. Mrs. Peters is the woman who was charged by Miss Jennie Kuhn with failing to return $37 which she had obtained upon a promise to return Miss Kuhn's lover to her. Mrs. Peters advised Miss Kuhn to skin a cat, boil the carcass, bathe in the water, then take a walk around a block without her usual apparel. Miss Kuhn, finding that the charm failed to have the promised result, demanded the return of her $37, whereupon, it is alleged, the soothsayer violently ejected her from the house. In sentencing her Judge Armstrong said that it was only the fact that it was her first offense that saved her from imprisonment. The judge warned superstitious people to beware of such frauds as Mrs. Peters, and declared that many dupes in Camden encouraged people of the woman's class to conduct the fortune-telling business. He warned soothsayers that the court would deal severely with them if they should be brought before it.

Lost Eyes Washing Face.

Occasionally a man, if he is extremely careless and awkward, will jab his finger into his eye when washing his face; but one has to go a long way to find a man who, having lost one eye by such clumsiness, pushes in the other. A grocer's assistant in London, 41 years old, while washing his face, put his finger into his right eye. The eyeball became inflamed and was taken out. This was in 1896. Four years later he ran a fingernail into the other eye in the same manner, causing an even more serious wound. The surgeons, who seemed to have had no hesitation about talking out the other eye, wanted to save this one if possible, and so they postponed the operation to see if sight even in a small degree couldn't be retained. There was an element of luck in the matter for the grocer, for he was insured in an accident company, and the corporation agreed to pay the claim at once without waiting to see if the eye eventually could be saved.—New York Press.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON XI, JUNE 10—MARK 6: 14-29.

Golden Text—"Be Not Drunk With Wine, Wherein Is Excess, But Be Filled With the Spirit"—Eph. 5: 18—Salome Before Herod.

14. "And king Herod." Antipas, the son of Herod the Great, who, thirty years before, murdered the innocents at Bethlehem. "Heard of him." Of Jesus. The reports are described in our last lesson. Herod Antipas had one of his capitals at Tiberias, on the Sea of Galilee. "And he said" to his officers (Matthew) "That John the Baptist (whom he had murdered) was risen from the dead," and thus was far more dangerous and terrible in his faithfulness than before when he reproved the king. "Therefore mighty works do shew forth themselves in him." Better as R. V., "do these powers work in him."

15. "Others said," to explain the great works of Jesus. Perhaps they said it to quiet Herod's conscience. "That it is Elias." Greek for Elijah. Referring to the expectation that Elijah would return to the earth (Mal. 4: 5).—Int. Crit. Com. "That it is a prophet." A new prophet rather than Elijah; or one like the old prophets, who worked miracles in the far-away past of their history.

16. "But . . . Herod . . . said." Impelled to this opinion by his guilty conscience. The memory of his crime doubtless haunted him, as Banquo's ghost haunted Macbeth with its silent horror.

17. "For Herod himself." Influenced by personal reasons, not urged by others (John. See Lesson V. of this Quarter). "Bound him in prison." At Macherus, according to Jesephus (Ant., VIII., 5: 2). "For Herodias' sake, his brother Philip's wife." The crime of the guilty pair was one of manifold malignity and double-dyed turpitude.

18. "For John had said." Better "said." Imperfect, implying that he said it repeatedly. Herod probably invited John to preach before the court. "It is not lawful for thee," etc. (1) Because he had put away his lawful wife. (2) He had persuaded Herodias to forsake her husband, Herod's brother Philip, for the sake of his rank and wealth. (3) He had married Herodias, his niece and sister-in-law, contrary to the law (Lev. 18: 12-14).

19. "Therefore Herodias had a quarrel against him," R. V., "set herself against him," was angry at him. She regarded him as her enemy. "In Cleopatra, the paramour of Mark Antony, Shakespeare has depicted the type of Herodias in all its features of mingled attractiveness and abandonment."—Stalker. Cleopatra bore a son to Herod the Great, father of Herod Antipas, and this son, Herod Philip II., married Salome, the daughter of Herodias. "And would have killed him." To stop his mouth. She would kill the physician who only could cure her disease. "Infirm of purpose, give me the daggers."

20. "For Herod feared John." As Queen Mary feared John Knox, and Ahab feared Elijah, though urged on by Jezebel. "And observed him," in the old Latin sense of "guarded him," preserved him, kept him safe from the attempts of Herodias to kill him. "And when he heard him." "All the verbs here are in the imperfect tense, describing actions continued or repeated from time to time." "He did many things." His conscience being touched, he tried to make a compromise with it by doing a variety of good things from which he would otherwise have abstained.—Morison. "Heard him gladly." He was fascinated by the prophet.

21. "When a convenient day was come," for Herodias' purpose. "Made a supper," or banquet feast. The supper was the chief meal of the day, taken toward or at evening, and often prolonged into the night. "To his lords," the nobles and state officers. "High captains." Greek, "commanders of a thousand." The highest officers of the army. "Chief estates," "chief men," "of Galilee."

22. "The daughter of the said Herodias:" or, of Herodias herself, even of the queen; a note of indignation. Not a common dancing girl, but her own daughter, was put to this degrading task, for the accomplishment of her malignant purpose.—Schaff. Her name, according to Josephus, was Salome, a daughter by Philip, Herod's brother. "Came in ("in ravishing attire of Eastern clime"), and danced," usually with the accompaniment of tambourines or bells attached to the fingers, and with songs. "And pleased Herod." The scheme succeeded. He was enraptured with her faultless grace and skill, "fascinated by the novel spectacle of a high-born and charming girl going through the voluptuous movements of an Oriental dance."—Broadus.

23. "Whatsoever thou shalt ask," etc., a wild and reckless promise that could have been made only by one who had lost his wits by drunkenness.

24. "Said unto her mother, What shall I ask?" Which of all the beautiful things offered her,—"palaces, jewels, gorgeous apparel,—all that a girl's heart could desire." The mother said, "The head of John the Baptist." By what argument could she persuade her daughter to ask such a gift instead of riches, palaces, and jewels? Prof. Stalker puts these words in her mother's mouth: "Little fool, you know not what you ask: what would all these things be to you and me, unqueened and outcast, as we may be any day if John the Baptist lives." Ask that, and you can have the others; without that, all other things will be apples of Sodom.

26. "And the king was exceeding sorry." Not penitent, but anxious and troubled. It was so different from what he expected. It was a gift burdened with danger and remorse, a Pandora's box of evils, but with no hope included. "Yet for his oath's sake." It should be oaths', not oath's, which is a printer's or editor's error. The word is plural in the original (see R. V.).—Morison. Herod had placed himself in a dilemma compelling him to choose one of two evils,—to break a rash, wicked oath, or to commit murder. "And . . . which sat with him." Probably if the oaths had been secret, he would not have hesitated to break them. The guests having no responsibility could easily sneer at his weakness if he broke his promise.

27. "The king sent an executioner." Probably to another part of the castle.

28. "The damsel gave it to her mother." Herodias seemed to have triumphed after a year of waiting. But she gained little. She lost what she hoped to gain, for she died an exile. Nor could "all the perfumes of Arabia" wash away the stain of blood from her guilty soul.

29. "His disciples . . . took up his corpse, and laid it in a tomb," and then went and told Jesus (Matthew).

MISERABLE

You're not feeling just right this spring, are you? Somehow, you haven't your old-time strength, cannot take hold of things with your usual push and energy. You just drag around, fairly well one day, not so well the next. You are wretched, disconsolate, discouraged; you are miserable.

That's Nerve Poverty

To be rich in nerve power you should take a good spring medicine, something that will give you pure and rich blood. A perfect Sarsaparilla will do this every time; not a cheap Sarsaparilla, not one that promises you a great deal of bulk for your money; but a highly concentrated Sarsaparilla, one that has more cure in it than any other Sarsaparilla in the world.

That's AYER'S

"The only Sarsaparilla made under the personal supervision of three graduates: a graduate in pharmacy, a graduate in chemistry, and a graduate in medicine."

$1.00 a bottle. All druggists.

"For thirty-five years I have used Ayer's Sarsaparilla. There are many other kinds on the market, but I have great faith in that word "Ayer's."—N. Musesick, St. Anthony, Iowa.

Not the cheapest but the best Buggy our factory can build for the money. $34.47 buys the buggy here illustrated, fully equipped, with heavy rubber or drill top. End springs. Painting, gear, dark Brewster green, body black, with very fine finish. Kerotel leather trimmed. The best hickory screwed rim wheels, 1-inch tread. Full length Brussels carpet. Boot, storm apron, whip socket, full drop back, toe nail, nickel line rail, leather trimmed shafts. We have vehicles from $8.68 up, including Road Carts, Road Wagons, Surreys, Phaetons, Traps, Spring Wagons and Business Rigs. Shipped C. O. D. east of the Rocky Mountains on receipt of $5, subject to examination. Send 2c to pay postage on our free Buggy and Harness Catalogue.

T. M. ROBERTS' SUPPLY HOUSE Minneapolis, Minn.

PENSION JOHN W. MORRIS Washington, D. C. Successfully Prosecutes Claims Late Principal Examiner U.S. Pension Bureau 3 yrs in civil war, 15 adjudicating claims, atty since

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

DES MOINES, June 4, 1900.

The dedication of the new Auditorium as a playhouse under the management of W. P. Chase was a decided success. Maurice Barrymore and his company and a long list of vaudeville stars received an enthusiastic welcome and the audience was well pleased with the excellent program. Arthur Dunn and a big company of vaudeville artists appear next week.

Treasurer Herriott has discovered that counties appear to be ignorant of the tax ferret law passed at the recent session of the legislature, and which, under a publication clause, is now in force. The treasurer has just been informed by a county auditor that one county at least has made a tax collection contract in which it is agreed that the collectors shall receive 50 per cent of all collections. The law specifically provides that not to exceed 15 per cent of collections shall be paid to the collectors. The county authorities have been notified that they are entering into an illegal contract, and it is presumed the same information will be needed by other counties before the tax ferrets are suppressed.

The executive office has received another United States warrant for swamp land indemnity funds. The check just received is for $1,979.41, belonging to the following counties: Hardin, $581.53; Howard, $528.68; Wapello, $869.20. The funds have been turned over to the state treasurer, who will pay them directly to the counties which are entitled to them.

The Cheshire law for the taxation of express company property requires the distribution by the state of the taxes levied to the assessment districts. This increases the work of the state auditor about ten fold. The list of the districts, alone, covers 125 pages of typewritten legal cap single space. The reports are not all in yet and the work of making this assessment will be taken up as soon as they are. The telephone and telegraph assessment this year does not come off till in July.

John Cownie, of the state board of control, has returned from Clarinda, where he had been for three or four days looking after the contracts for the improvements which are to be made at the asylumn there. The general assembly gave a total of $11,000 with which to enlargen the kitchen, convert a large well into a cistern, cover a system of reservoirs with T-beams and brick arches, and build a new cow barn. When the appropriation was made it was suggested the amount would be ample to cover the different improvements desired to be made. The board advertised for bids and when these were received it was found that the lowest made a total of $14,022 for the work. This was altogether too high and there was a good deal of uncertainty as to what course should be taken. Various plans were discussed, and finally it was decided to make a few changes in the plans for the work, and endeavor to bring it within the appropriation. This was the mattter which took Mr. Cownie to Clarinda. As a result of his visit the necessary changes were made and the contract was closed at the figures allowed by the appropriation. The firm of Welch & Lueder secured the contract and work will begin at once on it.

Wesley Greene, secretary of the horticultural society, has prepared a summary of the reports of the fruit crop. Considering one hundred an average crop, the per cents are: Apples, 81 per cent; pears, 43 per cent; plums, 77 per cent; cherries, 58 per cent; peaches, 50 per cent; grapes, 42 per cent; red raspberries, 36 per cent; black raspberries, 40 per cent; blackberries, 31 per cent; strawberries, 35 per cent.

Chintz bugs are becoming the terror of gardeners around Des Moines. Wm. Marshall, a North Des Moines farmer, said: "The pests are as thick as locusts in my meadow, and I fear they will tackle the vegetables. Some of them seem awfully anxious to get at the little sweet corn, and if they do light on it they will not leave a stem alive. The insects are not content to eat part of a field, but go after the whole business, and I hope something will happen to drive them away." Another gardener said he was troubled with them already, as they were eating the tops of tender vegetables, but he thought they had not come to stay.

TO PROMOTE MILES.

Senate Votes for Promotion of Generals Miles and Corbin.

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Major General Miles and Adjutant General Corbin may yet win their fight for promotion. Unexpected action in their favor was taken by the senate Saturday. It came in the shape of voting amendments to the military academy appropriation bill. These revive for all time the rank of lieutenant general for the senior major general, while the bestowal of the rank of major general upon the adjutant general is limited to the incumbent, General Corbin. The amendments read:

"That the senior major general commanding the army shall have the rank, pay and allowances of a lieutenant general, and his personal staff shall have the rank, pay and allowances authorized for the staff of a lieutenant general."

"That the adjutant general of the army shall have the rank, pay and allowances of a major general of the army of the United States, and upon retirement shall receive the retired pay of that rank."

GREATER PART

Of Pocket Knives Used in This Country Are Made Here.

Of the millions of pocketknives annually sold in this country probably 75 per cent of the jackknives and other heavy varieties are now made here, and this proportion is increasing; while taking the total sales, more than 50 per cent of the knives in value are now made here, and this proportion is also increasing. Fine penknives are imported from England and Germany, the cheapest jackknives, cheaper and poorer than any made here, come from Germany. Pocketknives have been made in this country for many years and there are now here some scores of factories for their production. The newest branch of the manufacture here is that of fine penknives, which have been made in this country only about forty years, and have come into their present large and extended use only within about twenty years. There are penknives of English make that have been made continuously under the same names for more than a hundred years; so that the making of such knives in this country is something comparatively modern. The American penknife, if not now actually the best in the world, is at least the equal, in quality, style and finish of any product anywhere. Pocketknives are made in almost endless variety. One American concern makes 700 different sorts, which vary in kind, shape, size, number of blades, kind of handle, style and size of bolster, and so on. The best pocketknives have hand-forged blades. Great as is the variety of pocketknives made here, a still greater variety is made in Europe, where the industry has been longer established and patterns and designs have accumulated, and the greater number of the old knives, containing corkscrews and various other implements still come from there. A fine penknife of the best quality and handsomely mounted is still more or less of a luxury; it might cost at retail anywhere from $1 to $3 or $4. One-bladed jackknives can be bought at wholesale for 75 cents a dozen; fine penknives run up to $30 a dozen.—New York Sun.

In ancient times the Spartans so detested inebriety that it was their custom to occasionaly induce slaves to drink until they became ihtoxicated, and then arouse general contempt for their condition by exhibiting them in public places.

FREE GOVERNMENT LANDS.

There are still thousands of acres of government lands in the states of Washington and Oregon, also prairie and timber lands near railroad or water communication, that can be bought for $5 per acre and upwards. Finest climate in the United States. No failure of crops. If you wish to raise grain or the finest stock on earth, you will find locations in these two states where you can do this to perfection. Take your choice. I have no lands for sale, but if you want information where it is best to locate, call on me when in St. Paul or write me at corner Third and Rosabel streets, St. Paul, Minn.

R. E. WERKMAN.

In a card game a good deal depends on good playing—and good playing depends on a good deal.

Cheap Binder Twine,

Our readers will do well to write T. M. Roberts' Supply House, Minneapolis, Minn., before buying. See offer in another part of this paper. The firm is thoroughly reliable.

One cup of butter weighs one-half pound.

Are You Using Allen's Foot-Ease?

It is the only cure for Swollen, Smarting, Burning, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

To be true to others we have but to be true to ourselves.

Binder Twine at Low Prices.

If you want a special inside price on binder twine, either Sisal, Standard or Manila, cut this notice out and mail to SEARS, ROEBUCK & Co. (Binder Twine Department), Chicago, stating about how much twine you will require and how soon you will want it, and they will save you money by quoting you a price that will either secure your order or compel the party who supplies you to sell to you at a lower price than he otherwise would.

Good listeners are quite as necessary as good talkers.

A Book of Choice Recipes

Sent free by Walter Baker & Co. Ltd., Dorchester, Mass. Mention this paper.

Our foothold in society does not depend upon the size of our feet.

Lane's Family Medicine.

Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

A return shows that during 1899 41,232 natives emigrated from Ireland, nearly 9,000 more than the preceeding year.

The best cure for remorse is never to look back.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is a constitutional cure. Price, 75c.

Denying a fault on y makes it that much worse.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

The weather man is generally way up in the clouds.

A SENATOR'S LETTER.

Peruna as a Nerve and Catarrh Tonic the Talk of the World.

Hon. W. V. Sullivan, U. S. Senator from Mississippi.

Hon. W. V. Sullivan, United States Senator from Mississippi, in a letter recently written to Dr. Hartman from Oxford, Miss., says the following:

"For some time I have been a sufferer from catarrh in its most incipient stage, so much so that I became alarmed as to my general health. But, hearing of Pe-ru-na as a good remedy, I gave it a fair trial and soon began to improve. Its effects were distinctly beneficial, removing the annoying symptoms, and was particularly good as a tonic.

"I take pleasure in recommending your great national catarrh cure, Peru-na, as the best I have ever tried."

"W. V. Sullivan."

Peruna cures catarrh wherever located. Peruna has no substitutes—no rivals. Insist upon having Peruna. Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, O., for a free book on catarrh.

Some men believe in drowning care in the flowing bowl.

Try Grain-o! Try Grain-o!

Ask your grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it, like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. One-fourth the price of coffee. 15c. and 25c. per package. Sold by all grocers.

Don't regard it as a burden to be obliging.

If you want your clothes to be clean and white, use Maple City Soap as directed on the wrapper. All grocers sell it.

Two cups of granulated sugar weigh one pound.

Falling of the Hair is caused by dandruff. Coke Dandruff Cure will stop it or money refunded. $1.00.

A man's hair usually turns gray five years before a woman's.

GOOD FISHING

and Charming Summer Resorts.

Those in search of health or recreation can do no better than to take an outing at one of the following popular resorts on the Minneapolis & St. Louis R. R. Waterville, Minn., Lake Tetonka. Splendid pike, crappie and bass fishing and boating. Maple Point Hotel or Tetonka Park Hotel provide the best of accommodations. Waconia, Minn., Clear Lake. The Coney Island Hotels are famous for good accommodations. Lake Minnetonka is best reached by the Minneapolis & St. Louis R. R. There are numerous first-class hotels at Deephaven, Cottagewood, Excelsior, Lake Park, etc. Frequent trains and reduced rate tickets on sale. For further information call on agents or write to A. B. Cutts, G. P. & T. A., M. & St. L. R. R. Minneapolis.

Man soon wearies of the worship of humanity.

Maple City Self Washing Soap, not only saves the wear on your clothes, because less rubbing is required, but it saves fully half the labor. All grocers sell it.

Neatness is one of feminity's chief requisites.

Weary Women

Rest and help for weary women are found in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It makes women strong and healthy to bear their burdens, and overcomes those ills to which women are subject because they are women.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

is known from coast to coast. It has cured more sick women than any other medicine. Its friends are everywhere and they are constantly writing thankful letters which appear in this paper.

If you are puzzled write for Mrs. Pinkham's advice. Her address is Lynn, Mass. She will charge you nothing and she has restored a million women to health.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

J. THOMPSON & SONS LIMITED

WILL SCOUR IN ANY SOIL.

MANUFACTURERS GENUINE NORWEGIAN PLOW

THREE WHEEL SULKY PLOWS, CULTIVATORS, HARROWS.

BELOIT, WIS.

W. N. U., Des Moines., No. 23—1900

Bicycle CATALOGUE Free!

Send us a postal card and we will send you a Bicycle Catalogue Free. This catalogue prices new $15.00 Bicycles, 1900 model, at $7.47; new $20.00 bicycles at $11.47; new $30.00 bicycles at $16.47; new $35.00 bicycles at $17.57 and a bicycle as good as you can buy for $50.00 or at any price, we sell at $22.47. Bicycle repairs and everything in this line in this catalogue. Send postal card at once for this bike cat[illegible]ue. It will save you money on bicycles and repairs. Also gun and fishing tackle catalogue free. Ask f[illegible]ich.

T. M. ROBERTS' SUPPLY HOUSE, MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

BILE BLOAT

Puffs under the eyes; red nose; pimple-blotched, greasy face don't mean hard drinking always as much as it shows that there is BILE IN THE BLOOD. It is true, drinking and over-eating overloads the stomach, but failure to assist nature in regularly disposing of the partially digested lumps of food that are dumped into the bowels and allowed to rot there, is what causes all the trouble. CASCARETS will help nature help you, and will keep the system from filling with poisons, will clean out the sores that tell of the system's rottenness. Bloated by bile the figure becomes unshapely, the breath foul, eyes and skin yellow; in fact the whole body kind of fills up with filth. Every time you neglect to help nature you lay the foundation for just such troubles. CASCARETS will carry the poisons out of the system and will regulate you naturally and easily and without gripe or pain. Start to-night—one tablet—keep it up for a week and help the liver clean up the bowels, and you will feel right, your blood will be rich, face look clean, eyes bright. Get a 10c box of CASCARETS, take as directed. If you are not cured or satisfied you get your money back. Bile bloat is quickly and permanently

CURED BY

Cascarets

CANDY CATHARTIC

BEST FOR THE BOWELS

10c. 25c. 50c.

ALL DRUGGISTS

To any needy mortal suffering from bowel troubles and too poor to buy CASCARETS we will send a box free. Address Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago or New York, mentioning advertisement and paper. 420

New Binding Twine, 9 7/8c Lb.

We received the following telegram from our buyer which explains itself: "Purchased three hundred seventy-five thousand (375,000) pounds NEW STANDARD BINDING TWINE. Price enables us to sell at nine seven-eighths (9⅞). Twine will arrive promptly. I congratulate you." This new binding twine will be placed on sale by us May 25th, and will be sold by us until this lot is gone at 9⅞ cents for Standard and 11¼ cents for Manila Mixed. In ordering this twine, ORDER AS No. 57 NEW STANDARD TWINE AT 9 7-8 CENTS AND No. 77 MANILA MIXED AT 11 7-8 CENTS.

The only reason that we could possibly obtain this twine was that a party needed spot cash. We had no expectation of being able to get any twine at anything like this price, for if you will just think of it a minute, IT IS 1-8 OF A CENT LESS THAN OUR FARMER FRIENDS PAID TO THE PENITENTIARY PEOPLE A FEW WEEKS AGO. We always believe, when we get a bargain, in dividing it with our friends and customers, feeling that when they know that we are always willing to treat them right and give them the benefit of our one basis on which we do business, namely large sales and small profits, that they will appreciate it, and in the end we will make more by favoring them with something of this kind than we would by charging them the regular market value. Consequently we divide this profit with you and will simply say that when this twine is out you can rest assured that we will try to make you as low prices as possible, but, nevertheless, we would suggest that you get your order in at once for any part that you may want of this lot. We will be able to ship by May 29th, as the twine reaches us by fast freight. The above telegram was received May 22. Send for agricultural implement catalogue.

T. M. ROBERTS' SUPPLY HOUSE, 717-719-721 NICOLLET AVENUE, 718-720-722 FIRST AVENUE S., MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

Buggies Wagons

Corn Cultivators

And Bicycles: Do not fail to see us before buying. We have the largest stock of the best goods ever brought to this city

Groceries, Hardware.

First class Tinshop.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

OUR SUMMER BILL OF FARE.

Young Onions, New Radishes, Fresh Lettuce,
Oranges, Bananas, Lemons,
Canned Fruit and Vegetables--all kinds,
Bread, Buns, Pies, Cakes, Cookies,
Confecionery, Cigars, Tobacco
SUMMER DRINKS SELECT GROCERIES,

Agent for the Ideal Steam Laundry, Mason City.

G. W. KLUCKHOHN, KLEMME.

Buy Your

Drugs, Paints, Wall Paper, Toilet Soap, Perfumery Books and Patent Medicines

At Amsden's Pharmacy

GARNER, IOWA.

FRED ARNOLD, PRES. C. H. WIEGMANN, V. P. F. A. ARNOLD, CASH.

STATE SAVINGS BANK,

OF KLEMME, IOWA.

CAPITAL $25 000 00, LOANS $40 000 00,

INSURANCE WRITTEN, LOANS NEGOTIATED, EXCHANGE BOUGHT AND SOLD.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits: Money Loaned on Real Estate: Foreign and Domestic Exchange Sold.....

DIRECTORS: FRED ARNOLD, C. H. WIEGMANN, H. W. GRUETZMACHER, CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, F. A. ARNOLD.

CARY SAFE CO.

BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.

..Manufacturers..

FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES

VAULTS, LOCKS, ETC.

CONTRACTORS to UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

H. W. SCHOPER,

FARM MACHINERY,

Buggies and Wagons, Corn Planters, Corn Plows, Champion Binders and Mowers.

TWINE.

Having received a car load of furniture and undertaking goods, I am in shape to supply you with anything in the line of furniture etc.

G. F. SCHULER, Garner, Ia.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN ONE NIGHT.

Or to quickly cure La Grippe take "Week-Break-a-cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

GAING TO PARIS.

Then let us give you valuable information segarding your trip. We can render you good service and ticket you right through from all stations on our line via New York and any of the steam-hip lines. Call on agents of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway, or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

ANOTHER CHANCE.

On the first and third Tuesday of May and June, homeseekers' tickets will be on sale at rate of a Single Fare plus $2 for the round trip to the various parts of the country. For rates, limits territory, etc., call on nearest agent or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

A FAST BICYCLE RIDER,

Will often receive cuts, sprains, or bruises from accidents. Bucklin's Arnica salve will kill the pain and heal the injury. It's tha cyclist's friend. Cures Chafing, chapped hands, sore lips, burne, ulcers and piles. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c at Harr's.

BEWARE OF A COUGH.

A cough is not a disease but a symptom. Consumption & bronchitis, which are the most dangerous and fatal diseases, have for teeir first indication a persistant cough, and if properly treated as soon as this cough appears are easily cured. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has proven wonderfully successful, and gained its wide reputation and extensive sale by its success in curing the diseases which cause coughing. If it is not beneficial it will not cost you a cent. For sale by Harr.

Reduced Rates to the Hot Springs of Arkansas,

Via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Reduced round trip rates are now in effect to the nation's great resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas, owned, controlled by the United States Government for the cure of a score of human ills. Beautiful winter, 200 hotels and boarding houses of all grades. Ask nearest ticket agent for particulars, or Mr. John G. Farmer, A. G. P. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia. For illustrated books of information address Bureau of Information, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

NEW CHAIR CAR SERVICE.

Between Watertown, Ellsworth and Chicago via. B. C. R. & N. Ry. Commencing Sunday Nov. 19th, a free reclining chair car will be placed on trains Nos. 608 and 605 between Watertown and Chicago by the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. This car leaves Watertown daily, except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. arriving at Chicago 7:59 the following morning. This car runs to and from Sioux Falls Sundays, thus giving daily chair car service between Ellsworth and Chicago. Passengers going east from Chicago will have ample time to make any transfers to connect with all morning eastern trains.

These trains are very fast, and, with this new additional service passengers can feel assured of first class accommodations. JNO. G. FARMER,

Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Kodol

Dyspepsia Cure

Digests what you eat.

It artificially digests the food and aids Nature in strengthening and reconstructing the exhausted digestive organs. It is the latest discovered digestant and tonic. No other preparation can approach it in efficiency. It instantly relieves and permanently cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Heartburn, Flatulence, Sour Stomach, Nausea, Sick Headache, Gastralgia, Cramps and all other results of imperfect digestion.

Price 50c. and $1. Large size contains 2½ times small size. Book all about dyspepsia mailed free

Prepared by E. C. DeWITT & CO., Chicago.

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE

PATENTS

TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.

Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.

Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.

A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.

MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York

Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

OUR SPECIALTY IS

LUMBER

WE ALSO SELL

Brick, Lime, Cement, Paroid Roofing, American Field Fence Screen Doors and Windows.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

Farm Machinery.

DO NOT FORGET

That we handle a COMPLETE LINE of the BEST Farm Machinery manufactured. Before you buy, it will pay you to see us and get our prices. We handle

CASSADY GANG AND SULKY PLOWS,

Corn Cultivators, Stirring Plows, Cornplanters, Harrows, Discs, Wagons, Buggies, Geneva Windmils, Milwaueee Binders and Mowers.

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE.....

We are constantly adding new, fresh GROCERIES to our stock and would like to make you prices. If you want Hardware or Tinware, we can supply your wants.

LAU BROS.

GRAND CLOSING OUT SALE OF

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry

I AM GOING TO CLOSE Out my entire stock of Watches, Clocks and Jewelry at Cost Price. If U want a bargain come and see me. CHAS. F. H. Suckow, Watchmaker and Jeweler, Klemme, Iowa.

KOERENR BROS.....

Woven Wire Fencing,
Poultry Netting, Barbed Wire,
Nails, Staples, Hay Tools,
Carpenter Tools, Bicycles,
Bicycle Repairs, Paints,
Oils, Brushes, Putty,
Glass, Roofing, Spouting
Etc. Etc.

KLEMME, IOWA.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME V. KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, JUNE 14 1900 NUMBER 43

Our Millinery Department

is a success. Our low Prices and Correct Styles are the Keystone to our success.

.....

We have just received a shipment of Mens' Summer Suits and Extra Pants.

E. P. SCHAEFER,

Klemme, Iowa

NORTHERN LUMBER CO

FOR SCREEN DOORS

LUMBER,

LIME, STUCCO, AND CEMENT.

EVERYTHING IN BUILDING MATERIAL.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO.

L G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

J. J SUCKOW,

PAINTER, and PAPER HANGER.

First Class work in every way, and our specialty is Paper Hanging and decorating. See me before you contract your work.

Address, KLEMME, IOWA.

AIELT RIEKENS,

PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER. GERMAN OR ENGLISH

Will cry Sales and guarante satisfaction
Fine Stock Sales a specialty.
Call on or address at

PAULSVILLE, IOWA

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

....SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

WALL PAPER,

Paints, Oils, Alabastine, Window Shades and Everything used to Decorate and Beautify the Home.

WATCHES, CLOCKS and JEWELRY.

DRUGGISTS' SUNDRIES.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

Republican Primaries.

The Republican County primary election for the purpose of nominating County Auditor, Recorder, Clerk District Court, County Attorney, Supervisor of district number one and Supervisor of district number four, will be held in the different town ships of the county on Saturday June 30th, 1900.

The names of all candidates for the above offices, who have paid their assessments will be placed on the ticket at a meeting to be held in Britt, Iowa, on Wednesday Juue 20, 1900, at 1 o'clock p. m., under the direction of the chairman and secretary of the county central committee.

The rules governing the primaries will be substantially the same as those previously adopted.

C. R. WOOD, Sec.
F. E. BLACKSTONE, Chairman.

Ell Center Etchings.

Bill Guth returned from Sioux Cith Monday morning,

Miss Larson is enjoying a visit from a sister this week.

Jonathan had a valuable calf killed by the lightning Saturday evening.

Wm. Guth has his house and and barn painted and is putting up a neat fence around his yard.

The Gilbert school closed last Friday and Miss Cramer returned to her home for a well earned vacation.

Last Saturday was little Clifford Rice's birthday and his grandpa gave him a fine young horse as a present.

Mr. Palmby had a valuable team killed by lightning Saturday evening. Two other horses were injured but will recover.

The Ell Center school closed with a picnic last Friday. After the usual exercises, ice cream was served which pleased the little ones very much.

J. W. Allen and wife started for Davenport Tuesday evening where they will attend the G. A. R. encampment. Mr. Allen will review the old camp ground wher he received his discharge thirty-three years ago.

There was a surprise party at J. W. Allen's last Tuesday evening in honor of Miss Belt. After playing numerous games, light refreshments were served, and soon after the guests departed, leaving behind a good time, also some very nice presents.

Garner Gleanings.

From the Signal.

H. Hanisch and family start for Paris tomorrow.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Abbey returned from Cedar Rapids last Saturday afternoon.

Miss Frankie Gove, who has been attending school at Mt Carroll, Ill., arrived in Garner last Friday.

Wm. Schneider left yesterday morning for Ft. Dodge, having been summoned on the Grand Jury in the U. S. District Court.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Lovell are enjoying a family reunion, all of their children being at home.

Mr. Miller came in from the coast Wednesday, while Vernor with his wife and little daughter came Thursday.

For Sale!—240 acre farm three miles east of Klemme, all under cultivation, buildings, etc. For prices and terms, call on or address, M. S. Gilman, Klemme, Iowa.

Miss E. Renziehouser informs us that for a short time she will make a big cut in price on all lines of goods in her store. It will surprise you with big values for little money. Come and see.

Sweet Sixteen.

Howard Kauffman and Buelah Rice, two high school scholars of the Belmond schools, eloped on June 8, and have thus far eluded all pursuit. They first went to Clarion where they attended the graduation exercises, registered at the hotel as man and wife. They left there at 8 o'clock the next morning and nothing has been heard of them since. Their parents are well to do people of Belmond.

Celebrate at Garner.

We have been reliably informed that arrangements are being completed for the Grandest celebration ever held in Hancock county. More money has been raised than on any previous occasion. Klemme will be well represented. If you want to have a big time go to Garner.

Employment for the Summer is now the question for many men; it is time to decide; you can make money selling our complete assortment of fruit and ornamental stock for fall delivery. Write for terms. Address:—The Jewel Nursery Co., Lake City, Minn. Established in '68. One thousand acres

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE.

It speaks well for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy when druggists use it in their own families in preference to any other. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the past five years with complete satisfaction to myself nnd customers," says Druggist J. Goldsmith, Van Etten, N. Y. "I have always used it in my own family both for ordinary coughs and colds and for the cough following la grippe, and find it very efficacious." For sale

Reduced Rates to the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Reduced round trip rates are now in effect to the nation's great resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas, owned, controlled by the United States Government for the cure of a score of human ills. Beautiful winter, 200 hotels and boarding houses of all grades. Ask nearest ticket agent for particulars, or Mr. John G. Farmer, A. G. P. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia. For illustrated books of information address Bureau of Information, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

Mr. W. S. Whedon, Cashier of the First National Bank of Winterset, Iowa, in a recent letter gives some experience with a carpenter in his employ that will be of value to other mechanics. He say: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhoea I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought one bottle of it from the druggist here and informed me that one dose cured him, and he is again at his work."—For sale by Harr.

The following is the program for the School Picnic.

Song, America—School.
Recitation,—Celma Schroeder.
Recitation,—Marie Lawrence.
Recitation,—Floy Schafer.
Song,—Forty Little Urchins.
Recitation,—Martha Hawley.
Recitation,—Madeline Richter.
Recitation, with Pantomime, Miss Maude Dunlap.
Recitation,—Little Niggers, Leo Ell,
Song—Marching Through Georgia.
Recitation—Mental Arithmetic Bessie Lawrence.
Select Reading—Miss Steward,
Recitation—Blanche Peitzke,
Song—Little Leaves.
Memory Gems,
Reading,—Mabel Smith
Reading.—Miss Hawley.
Recitation,—Willie's Breeches, Albert Krouse
Song—Columbia—School.
Reading—Anna Gibbs,
Song—The Cobbler,
Dialogue—Do you Love Butter,
Recitation—Miss Steward,
Song—All for Baby,
Dialogue—Vacation Time
Recitation—Picnic— Verner Lewis,
Song—Jowa, School.
Address—Rev. Paterson.

A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT.

Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculus escape from death, says; "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in Consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery which wholly cured me. Hundreds have used it on my advice and all say it never fails to to cure Throat Chest and lung troublees." Regular size 50c and $100. Trial bottles free at Harr's.

TAKE A VACATION.

Special excursion to Colorado and Utah on June 20, July 9-17 and Aug 1. On above dates round trip excursion tickets, limited for return to Oct 31, will be sold to Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Salt Lake City, and Ogden at the low rate of a SINGLE FARE plus $2. Call on any agent of the B. C. R. & N. Ry. for tickets and full information or address, Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. aug. 1

A WEALTH OF BEAUTY.

Is often hidden by unsightly pimples eczema, tetter, erysipelas, salt rheum, etc, Bucklen's Arnica Salve will glorify the face by curing all skin eruptions, also cuts, bruises, felons, ulcers, and worst forms of piles. Only 25cts a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by Harr.

ANOTHER CHANCE.

On the first and third Tuesday of May and June, homeseekers' tickets will be on sale at rate of a Single Fare plus $2 for the round trip to the variou parts of the country. For rates, limits territory, etc., call on nearest agent or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

A MONSTER DEVIL FISH.

Destroying its victim, is a type of Constipation. The power of this malady is felt on organs, nerves, muscles and brain. But Dr. King's New Life Pills are a safe and certain cure. Best in the world for stomach, liver, Kidney and bowels. Only 25cts, at Harr's.

GLORIOUS NEWS.

Comes from Dr. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Electric Bitters has cured Ers, Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face and the best doctors could give no help, but now her health is excellent. Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys, and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength, Only 50cts. Sold by Harr.

LIKE MANY OTHERS

Clara Kopp Wrote for Mrs. Pinkham's Advice and Tells what it did for Her.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have seen so many letters from ladies who were cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies that I thought I would ask your advice in regard to my condition. I have been doctoring for four years and have taken different patent medicines, but received very little benefit. I am troubled with backache, in fact my whole body aches, stomach feels sore, by spells get short of breath and am very nervous. Menstruation is very irregular with severe bearing down pains, cramps and backache. I hope to hear from you at once."—CLARA KOPP, Rockport, Ind., Sept. 27, 1898.

"I think it is my duty to write a letter to you in regard to what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I wrote you some time ago, describing my symptoms and asking your advice, which you very kindly gave. I am now healthy and cannot begin to praise your remedy enough. I would say to all suffering women, 'Take Mrs. Pinkham's advice, for a woman best understands a woman's sufferings, and Mrs. Pinkham, from her vast experience in treating female ills, can give you advice that you can get from no other source.'"—CLARA KOPP, Rockport, Ind., April 13, 1899.

A soldier in the Philippines from Kansas writes home: "I don't see how any fellow over here can go back on a girl at home, for we have learned how to appreciate any white girl, the like of which we never see here, and when I think of breaking my promise to—well, I guess nit!"

The songs in the night the young father hears are not the ones referred to by David.

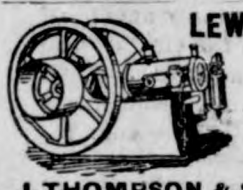
Go to your grocer to-day and get a 15c. package of

Grain-O

It takes the place of coffee at ¼ the cost.

Made from pure grains it is nourishing and healthful.

Insist that your grocer gives you GRAIN-O. Accept no imitation.



LEWIS GAS ENGINES

Adapted for All Purposes

SIMPLE . . .
ECONOMICAL
DURABLE . .

Send for Catalogue and state your power needs.

J. THOMPSON & SONS MFG. CO.
Box 501. BELOIT, WIS.

PENSIONS Get your Pension DOUBLE QUICK

Write CAPT. O'FARRELL, Pension Agent, 1425 New York Avenue. WASHINGTON, D. C.

Binder Twine Farmers wanted as agents AUGUST POST, MOULTON, IOWA.

20 PER CENT SAVED ...ON...

BUGGIES.

Next 30 Days.

New, up-to-date styles Top Buggies, Surreys, Road Wagons, Spring Wagons, etc.
. . .Call or Write. . .

J. D. Keyes & Co. Des Moines Iowa.
Fifth, Vine and Wagner Streets.

The trouble with the trusts is that the trustees will not trust the people.

Insist on having Maple City Soap if you want the best. If your dealer does not keep it he will get it for you. All grocers.

The sea of matrimony swamps many a courtship.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES do not stain the hands or spot the kettle.

If some people don't watch out, Gabriel's horn will not wake them up.

A Warning.

Pain or soreness in the back must never be slighted. Kidney diseases creep on us with only that one warning. Delay is folly when by the timely use of Morley's Liver and Kidney Cordial, the great System Renovator, all danger can be avoided. This remedy is a positive cure for Kidney and Urinary Troubles. Ask your Druggist.

Those who enjoy the moon's rays are not necessarily Lunatics.

The charm of beauty is beautiful hair. Secure it with PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM.
HINDERCORNS, the best cure for corns. 15cts.

The so-called leaders of the people are dealers in their own wares for the sake of the profits.

Piso's Cure cannot be too highly spoken of as a cough cure.—J. W. O'BRIEN, 322 Third Ave., N., Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 6, 1900.

Books and papers are printed by machinery, but it requires brains to write them and read them.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Electric flatirons are now used in large laundries.

Hall's Catarrh Cure
Is taken internally. Price, 75c.

A sure exterminator for roaches is powdered borax.

Binder Twine at Low Prices.
If you want a special inside price on binder twine, either Sisal, Standard or Manila, cut this notice out and mail to SEARS, ROEBUCK & Co. (Binder Twine Department), Chicago, stating about how much twine you will require and how soon you will want it, and they will save you money by quoting you a price that will either secure your order or compel the party who supplies you to sell to you at a lower price than he otherwise would.

How few kind words we ever think to say to one another.

Children love to take Morley's Little Liver Pills, FOR BILIOUS PEOPLE, because they are small, look and taste like candy and do not gripe nor sicken them. Sugar-coated. One a dose.

In Prussia habitual drunkards may be legally put in charge of guardians.

Keep Your Hair On
by using Coke Dandruff Cure. Money refunded if it fails. $1.00 a bottle.

The man who does not admire a sweet girl is evidently mud-dled.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.
Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

Some people talk fair and act unfair.

Good Housekeepers
Use Maple City Self Washing Soap because it gives the best results. All grocers.

Brave is the girl who can wear her last summer's hat.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE.

Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

W. N. U., Des Moines., No. 24—1900

NEW FIRST-CLASS

500 Cameras

FOR 3½x3½, 4x5 and 5x7 PICTURES

AT HALF REGULAR PRICES $2.50 to $11.00

All Guaranteed. Money refunded if not as represented. Send for free Illustrated Catalogue D.

BE SURE TO SEND FOR CATALOGUE D.

SWEET, WALLACH & CO., 86 Wabash Ave., CHICAGO

GUILTY OR INNOCENT?

By AMY BRAZIER.

CHAPTER II.—(Continued.)

Poor little Mrs. Bouverie, having given up all idea of attending the chrysanthemum party at Lady Barry's is considerably surprised when, at about 3 o'clock, her son dashes into the drawing room with speed and exclaims:

"The dogcart will be round in five minutes. Jump into your bonnet, mother mine, and we'll trot over to Barrystown."

Mrs. Bouverie stands up, with a look of pleasure and gratification on her sweet old face. Any little attention from George touches her heart.

"How good of you, my dear boy, to think of me! So sweet of you, George!" she says, reaching upon tiptoe to kiss his brown cheek, pride and love in her eyes.

George had refused to go to the party at Barrystown. He had made an excuse, and his mother thinks, that, seeing her disappointment, he has regretted his decision and changed his mind.

"But are you sure, dear, you don't mind?" she asks, her sweet eyes on his face. "It is good of you to give up your afternoon to take the old woman out."

"Of course, I like going!" George replies, half shame-facedly. "Trot off, mother, and put on your toggery; I've got to change, too."

Twenty minutes later a very spruce and well-groomed young man, with a little tiny old lady with a bonnet with violets in it sitting perched beside him, spins down the avenue and out of the gates of the Grange at a pace little short of terrific. Mrs. Bouverie is frightened, but has every confidence in her son as a whip.

"He is very fresh, dear, isn't he?" she ventures to ask, as the chestnut performs various frantic evolutions.

"Your aren't frightened, little mother, are you?" George says. "We must hurry along, you know, for we've a good bit to go; but there's nothing to be afraid of."

The chestnut is a rare good goer, and steadies to his work presently; but it is dark when they reach Barrystown.

"So good of you to come so far, dear Mrs. Bouverie," Lady Barry says, in a high-pitched, harsh voice; "and you have brought your son. How very delightful! I know it is hard to get young men to do anything but hunt."

The rooms are full. George Bouverie's golden head rises out of the crowd. How handsome he looks! Mrs. Saville, seated on a sofa amidst a bevy of friends, remarks witheringly that it is a pity poor dear Mrs. Bouverie has such a bad, unprincipled son.

"He is breaking his mother's heart," she adds, lowering her voice. "Poor thing! she told me herself that she has never known happiness since he took to gambling. His father, you know——" And here she lowered her voice still more, and shakes her head till the osprey in her headgear shakes like a field of barley when the wind passes over it.

It won't be Mrs. Saville's fault if George Bouverie's failings are not magnified into crimes.

George is looking for Barbara. Perhaps she is in the tearoom, and thither he wends his way; and then to the conservatory, which is off the drawing room, and lit with lamps to display the beauty of blossoms there.

Yes, Barbara is there, and Sebastian is at her side. Barbara's cheeks are flushed, and her eyes are sparkling with anger. Sebastian looks moved, too, out of his usual cynical calm. Barbara's face as George appears is a revelation, and the man's heart throbs.

"You have come," the girl says softly, turning her back on her cousin and looking up from beneath the brim of a black velvet picture hat trimmed with ostrich tips. "I thought you weren't coming."

"Sebastian's face is white, and his eyes gleam. How dare Barbara treat him like that?

"Will you come back to my mother now?" he says pointedly to her. "You have seen all the chrysanthemums."

"I am going to show them to Mr. Bouverie," Barbara says, with a smile that after all is forced. "If you are tired of them, Sebastian, Mr. Bouverie will take care of me."

Without a word Sebastian Saville walks off, and then all Barbara's careless, easy manner vanishes; her lips tremble, and if the lashes hide her eyes it is because she is striving to conceal the tears.

"He was cruel to me," she falters. "George, I am afraid of him."

They are alone, and he takes both her hands in his in a close clasp.

"Let us announce our engagement, Barbara, and give me the right to champion you."

"Not yet," she whispers. "We must wait, George, till I hear from father."

"But that will be weeks and weeks, Barbara," he urges. "How am I to wait and see Sebastian Saville persecuting you?"

"A faint smile curves her lips. "It is foolish of me, George, but I feel afraid of him, he is so cold, so cruel."

"Does he make love to you, Barbara?"

Two troubled eyes look up at him for a second.

"Yes," she whispers, very low.

George Bouverie is young and passionate.

"It is my right," he exclaims, "to let Sebastian know that you are mine, that you have given your love to me."

And, woman-like, Barbara loves the masterful tones of his voice.

"I will tell my aunt myself," she says, "but she will be dreadfully angry, George. I know quite well Aunt Julia means me to marry Sebastian. She said so over and over, long before——"

Her quick blush finishes her sentence.

"Before you cared for me," George whispers softly.

The lovers do not look at the chrysanthemums after all, but into each other's eyes, for they have entered a paradise that opens to mortals in the days when the heart is young.

CHAPTER III.

Mrs. Saville is standing in her own room dressed for dinner. Her dress is ruby velvet, very long, and a small lace cap rests on her white hair. On the hearthrug stands Barbara, in a simple white frock, a primrose sash round her slim waist. There is an expression of resolution on her pretty face, but the eyes are wistful and appealing.

Mrs. Saville is putting on her bracelets. Even in her old age she is a vain woman, and casts sundry glances at a face that owes much to art.

Barbara turns round suddenly, her heart beating wildly beneath the white, lace-trimmed bodice of her gown.

"Aunt Julia, I want to tell you something."

The agitation in the young voice does not escape Mrs. Saville. She crosses the room suddenly, and lays two jeweled hands on Barbara's shoulders.

"My dear, are you going to be my daughter? Is that what you are going to tell me, Barbara?"

Barbara turns rather white, but the beautiful blue eyes are brave enough as she looks up at her aunt.

"No, Aunt Julia. I told Sabastian today—this afternoon at Barrystown—that I could not marry him, because I am engaged to George Bouverie."

It is out at last, the wondeful secret, and the girlish face is covered with confusion.

"Engaged to George Bouverie?" Mrs. Saville echoes the words wildly. "I am surprised, Barbara! Since when, may I ask?"

"About a month ago," Barbara replies. "George wanted to speak to you, but I wished him to wait till I heard from father. He ought to know first," with a pleading look.

Mrs. Saville is very angry. A leaden look comes over her face, and her pale full eyes scintillate with passion; yet she only gives a short, unpleasant laugh.

"My dear child, do you think your father will sanction such an engagement for a moment? I have no power over you, Barbara—engage yourself as much as you please; but I do not for one moment think your father will allow you to marry a young man who possesses nothing but debts. As for Mr. Bouverie, he may be very disinterested; but it is far more probable he imagines you have money. But I may as well tell you at once you will have no fortune if you marry contrary to your father's wishes."

"We could not help caring for each other," falters Barbara.

"My dear, with that I have nothing to do. I am sorry for Sebastian. He has loved you for years, and it has been the dream of his life to make you his wife, but of course all that is at an end. Come, Barbara, I feel sure dinner is ready, and Sebastian will not like to be kept waiting"—laying her hand on Barbara's arm. And together they pass through countless long, draughty corridors, Mrs. Saville sweeping along in her velvet gown, inwardly furious at Barbara having dared to become engaged without her knowledge; for Barbara's fortune had been destined to build up the Court and restore the Saville family to prosperity.

Barbara, feeling as if she were in deep disgrace, walks beside the massive figure of her aunt, to confront Sebastian with lowering brow and furious eyes. He and his mother exchange glances as they take their places and tonight Barbara is strictly left out in the cold as far as conversation goes. She does not care—her thoughts are full of happiness.

But in the evening Sabastian joins her as, sitting at the piano, she plays dreamy music while Mrs. Saville slumbers peacefully.

Sabastian's fingers closed on Barbara's wrist with a clasp that is painful.

"Do you think I shall ever give you up to him?" he asks, fixing her with his strange, powerful gaze. "We Savilles know how to keep our own!"

"I am a Saville, too!' 'retorts Barbara, shaking off his hand, "and you have no right to speak to me like that, Sebastian!"

"Have I not?" he whispers. "I have the right of every man to try and win the woman he loves, and I will make you love me yet, Barbara!"

"Never!' 'the girl exclaims, passionately. "And I think you are cruel and cowardly."

"Cruel and cowardly? You shall unsay those words!" he breathes out fiercely, his face close to her scarlet cheek. "Barbara, your beauty maddens me! I have looked upon you as mine for so long, and your father wishes you to marry me. He wrote to me himself."

She lifts her dark head with pride.

"And am I to have no voice in the matter? Sebastian, you need not say any more; I have made my choice."

"And so have I!" he says, with a ring of suppressed passion in his voice as he rises to his feet. "Don't think for one moment, Barbara, that I will give you up"—moving away across the room.

The days that follow are unhappy enough. Barbara finds her engagement ignored, and she herself undergoes a sort of domestic boycotting.

George arrives at the Court one afternoon and holds a short interview with Mrs. Saville. That lady gives him to understand pretty plainly that, without the consent of Barbara's father, the name even of engagement is not to be mentioned.

"Barbara is under my charge, Mr. Bouverie, and her father would never forgive me if she made an undesirable marriage. I may as well tell you at once he has other views for his daughter!"

George is furious; but what is the use of being angry? He and Barbara are treated as a pair of children, allowed to play at being engaged if they choose, with the distinct understanding that it can never come to anything.

"Of course I cannot prevent my niece promising to marry you," Mrs. Saville says, with great frankness, turning her heavy, expressionless face on George. "She is quite at liberty to engage herself to any one she chooses; but I feel sure, Mr. Bouverie, you will have the good sense and taste to agree with me that, under the circumstances, it would be better for you not to visit at the Court until Barbara can hear from her father. You have written to him, I presume?"

Yes, George has written, and colors up as he thinks of his letter, which he had found so hard to write, for he had so little to offer Barbara but his love.

A kind of smile passes over Mrs. Saville's face.

"I suppose you have explained to Mr. Saville how you intend to support a wife?" she asks, with a degree of sarcasm.

"I have two hundred a year," says poor George, "and in course of time the Grange comes to me."

"Ah, yes, but I fear Mr. Saville may not take quite such a hopeful view as you do."

Which is undeniable, and Gerge feels that he can say nothing in reply.

Mrs. Saville writes herself to Tasmania by the next mail. Barbara watches her aunt as she sits at her writing table, her pen racing over the foreign notepaper, covering page after page abusing George, thinks Barbara indignantly. The letter is posted, and, greatest trial of all, Barbara's love affair is quietly ignored.

George does not come any more to the Court. In honor he feels bound not to do so. And Mrs. Buverie, coached by Mrs. Saville, also thinks it better not to ask Barbara to the Grange; so the lovers are forced to meet each other how and where they can.

These stolen interviews are truly delightful, and the young people build lovely castles in the air, and count the days till the letter can come from Tasmania, never doubting that the answer will be anything but favorable.

(To be continued.)

When church people call for a donation for a poor family a woman is hard pressed if she can't find some prize she won at a card party to give away.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

DES MOINES, June 10, 1900.

Dr. J. A. Kennedy, secretary of the state board of health, expresses the opinion that the small pox epidemic in the state is gradually dying out. He says reports of cases are becoming fewer, and some of the most badly infected places are being relieved of the pest. For example, Fraser, the town where the health authorities have been so generally blamed for negligence in detecting the disease and quarantining against it, reports no new cases and believes it has the disease cornered. M. L. Bledsoe, clerk of Dodge township, Boone county, where Fraser is located, says there are but eight families now quarantined, and these are quarantined only for exposure. There have been no deaths at Fraser from the disease except one infant.

Hon. Charles Aldrich, of the state historical department, has returned from Lehigh, Hamilton county, well pleased with the result of his historical researches. While at Lehigh, Mr. Aldrich opened four large-sized mounds and excavated thoroughly, bringing to light an immense quantity of ashes, charcoal, decayed bones and some fragments of pottery. The latter are very valuable, and will be added to the already large and fine collection, numbering 3,000 pieces, owned by the state. Mr. Aldrich also superintended the opening of a great bone bed in that vicinity, where several flint implements were discovered. One of these implements is a very beautiful polished stone "gouge," used by mound builders no doubt to carry on "scooping" processes of all kinds. Two superb stone axes were found in this bone bed and a handsome flint knife. Mr. Aldrich says everything about his discoveries indicates a high state of intelligence among the former residents of that part of the state. There is every indication that there was a large community there in a former day, the mounds being unusually large. One recently taken down was from ten to twelve feet in height and proportionate in diameter. There are also lines of old forts to be discerned in the excavations.

The executive council after hearing the arguments of the building and loan men decided that it would approve no articles which provided for more than two kinds of stock, the ordinary installment stock with payments once a quarter and full paid stock. Governor Shaw said: "It is the unanimous opinion of the council that we do not pass upon the legality of other classes of stock, the prepaid, etc. We only say we will not approve articles with that class in them. You can refuse to retire it and take the question into the courts. If you get a decision in your favor the articles can be amended. Pending an opinion from the supreme court we cannot fly in the face of our legal adviser, Attorney General Remley." The building and loan people seemed to consider this fair dealing on the part of the council. Before the adjournment of the session the governor said that the new articles must provide the same rights for existing stockholders that they gave new members. The building and loan men present seem confident that few of the associations will survive the new law unless they get relief in the courts. They have a new grievance in the opinion of the attorney general that prepaid stock must be withdrawn. One of them said the associations would not have income enough to take care of the stock if they did withdraw it before the first of the year.

A corporation has been organized in this state the purpose of which is to maintain a society of single men and women willing to co-operatively raise an endowment of $500 for each member, payable at the time of marriage or at the expiration of five years. It is called the Endowment League and is established at Sigourney, Keokuk county. Articles of incorporation have been filed with the secretary of state. All unmarried females over fifteen and unmarried males over seventeen are eligible to membership. Its capital stock is thirty shares of $100 each, fully subscribed and one-half paid in. G. L. Bartow is president, A. C. Bartow secretary, and G. F. Utterback treasurer. There are a number of such organizations in the east and they are said to be good investments. This is the first to be organized in Iowa.

The state board of control is making the discovery that prices are high this year. It is said by contractors that building operations in progress or in contemplation in Iowa will not begin to develop the proportions which they would naturally develop this year, because of the high prices which prevail on building material. The legislature appropriated with unusual liberality for the improvements which have to be made at the state institutions, but the board of control is finding that it is likely to be difficult, if not impossible, to make the amounts at its command meet the demands.

"The 1900 crop of corn in Iowa is going to be a record breaker," said J. R. Sage, director of the Iowa weather and crop service. "Men who have studied the conditions report to us that at no time in ten years has the corn at this time of the year looked so clean and appeared to be in such perfect condition. Its color is fine, the stalks are firm and sturdy, and the promise of a magnificent crop is excellent. I believe there will be a considerable increase in the acreage of corn in the state; it may amount to two per cent. That does not sound like much, but it means a great deal when you remember that the acreage last year was something over 8,000,000."

Wonderful Eight.

Cures cholera, diarrhoea, colic, cramps, lameness, sprains, lumbago, swellings, neuralgia, rheumatism and toothache. All pain, internal or external, cured quicker with Morley's Wonderful Eight than any other remedy. Ask your druggist.

A native Eskimo has been ordained as a Swedish minister in Chicago.

YOU NEED A DAILY PAPER.

This is a presidential year, and every citizen needs a daily paper. The Des Moines Daily News is sent postpaid to any address for $1 a year, 75 cents for six months, 50 cents for three months. All the news condensed for the busy reader; daily markets by telegraph; interesting literary matter for the family. Address, The NEWS, Des Moines, Iowa.

If you cannot collect money collect your thoughts.

Lane's Family Medicine.

Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

We read of real joys and oft' get the imitation.

Ladies Can Wear Shoes.

One size smaller after using Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder. It makes tight or new shoes easy. Cures swollen, hot, sweating, aching feet, ingrowing nails, corns and bunions. All druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE by mail. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Forget yourself and others will think of you.

...EXECUTIVE AND FINANCE COMMITTEES...
Leslie M. Shaw, Governor of Iowa.
Geo. L. Dobson, Secretary of State.
Geo. L. Pearsall, Cashier Citizens National Bank, Des Moines, Ia.
D. G. Edmundson, Pres. Security Loan & Trust Co. Des Moines, Ia.
N. E. Coffin, of Dudley & Coffin, Attorneys, Des Moines, Ia.
P. M. Starnes, Secretary, Des Moines, Ia.

National Life and Trust Co.

CAPITAL STOCK $100,000.00.

DO YOU WANT...

To own a ten-year gold bond—to pay for it in installments—to have your own unpaid installments cancelled at your death, and one-third more cash than you have paid given your family or estate—an investment which will be as safe as Iowa farm mortgages can make, held in trust by the state of Iowa and which will be guaranteed to you or your estate?

IF YOU DO...

—Apply for a—
10-YEAR ACCUMULATIVE GOLD BOND
From the National Life & Trust Co.,
Des Moines, Ia.
An absolutely new contract in the field, and one which it will pay you to examine.

OFFICERS.
G. L. Dobson.....President
D. G. Edmundson....Vice-President
Calvin Manning.....2nd Vice-Pres
Geo. E. Pearsall.....Treasurer
P. M. Starnes.....Secretary
N. E. Coffin.....Counsel

DIRECTORS.
Leslie M. Shaw.....Gov. of Iowa
Geo. L. Dobson.....Sec'y of State
Geo. L. Pearsall....Cashier Citizens National Bank.
D. G. Edmundson.....President Security Loan and Trust Co.
N. E. Coffin.....of Dudley & Coffin, Attorneys.
P. M. Starnes.....Secretary
Dr. S. J. Patterson.....Cashier Dunlap Bank, Dunlap.
Lewis Haas.....Cashier Woodbine Saving Bank, Woodbine.
A. S. Shultz.....Des Moines

A careful consideration will reveal THE BEST PLAN YET DEVISED for accumulative investment, Free from all Speculation, depending only on the assured's own reasonable persistance to accumulate a capital. This is a company destined to become one of the great financial institutions of the country. A casual glance at the Directorate and Management of this company is sufficient to assure the most skeptical mind of its future and absolute stability. INSURANCE MEN looking for an engagement with a company that has a future and a contract that is meeting with a hearty reception in the market, will do well to address the Home Office at Des Moines, Iowa.

A GUARANTEED Ten-Year Endowment GOLD BOND in this Company Stands for:
Organization against Individual Effort.
Combined Capital against Separate Small Sums
Accumulated Profits against Interest Only.
Conservatism against Speculation.
Security against Uncertain Risks.

A fur cap trimmed with lace is like a hot plum pudding with ice cream sauce.

Milk is man's first drink, but it's only a matter of time till he comes to his bier.

Over $5,000,000 of Mrs. Hetty Green's enormous fortune is invested within a hundred yards of New York's city hall.

Over 100 Premiums Free!!

WITH

McLAUGHLIN'S XXXX COFFEE

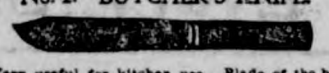
Complete premium list and instructions in every package. McLaughlin's XXXX Coffee is worth 5 cents per pound more than any other packaged coffee and costs no more. It is always uniform. Try this Coffee and you will never use any other. McLaughlin's XXXX Coffee sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages.

W. F. McLAUGHLIN & CO., Chicago, Ill.

No. 1. RAZOR.

This razor we know from the most practical experience to be the best. Read the following:
"This is to certify that I have used the two razors offered by McLaughlin & Co. as premiums, and shave my best customers with them, and I guarantee them to be first-class razors and far superior to the razors given as premiums by other package coffee houses.
AARON ETTELSON,
Barber, Sherman House, Chicago.
Attested to by I. NEWMAN VAN FELT,
Notary Public for Cook County,
Dec. 12, 1899. State of Illinois.
A razor sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 50 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 2. BUTCHER'S KNIFE.

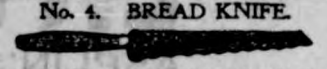


Very useful for kitchen use. Blade of the best quality steel, rosewood handle. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. stamp and 20 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 3. CARVING SET.

Knife and fork, genuine stag handles; length of blade eight inches, made of crucible steel. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 90 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 4. BREAD KNIFE.



Do not be without our combination bread knife and saw. Suitable for slicing bread, cutting meats and ham. The back can be used for sawing the bone. Blade is 9 inches long, made of crucible steel. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 14 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 5. Child's Knife and Fork Set.

Three handsome pieces of artistic workmanship. Handles are heavily embossed, perfect in every respect, and packed in fancy lined box. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. stamp and 25 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 6. SPOONS.

These are handsome teaspoons ornamented with a double design; embossed handles and made of first-class material. Come six in a package. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 30 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

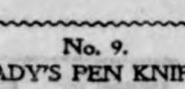
No. 7. HOUSE SCALE.

With scoop. A most practical scale for all purposes; handsomely enameled and striped. Weighs 24 lbs. by oss. Occupies but little space and can be regulated by turning the brass screw on top. Sent by express, charges prepaid, on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 200 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers. When ordering be sure to give your nearest express office as well as your post-office.

No. 8. HAIR CLIPPER

Full nickle plated, cuts ⅛ of an inch; concealed spring; two extra springs with each clipper. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 100 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 9. LADY'S PEN KNIFE.



Two blades made of fine steel; fancy pearl handle; highly polished. Sent postpaid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 10. Gentleman's Knife.

Made of fine quality steel; stag or ebony handle; steel lined; highly polished; small pen and large spear blade. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 35 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 11. JACK KNIFE.

Ebony or rosewood handle; steel lined; highly polished; pen and spear blade. Sent postpaid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLa" cut from face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 12. PARING KNIVES.

One complete set consisting of three different paring knives; best quality steel blade; enameled handle; no better paring knife made; sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 13. EMERY KNIFE SHARPENER.

Has steel guard and wooden handle; emery fastened with steel, running full length of sharpener. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 20 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 14. SHEARS.

Eight inches long; made of fine quality steel, evenly tempered and will give the best of satisfaction as a cutter. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 15. SCISSORS.

Six inches long, made of fine quality steel; evenly tempered and will give the best of satisfaction. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 16. HARMONICA.

Here is something that will please the young as well as the old folks. A beautiful, silver reed harp containing thirty-two holes; nickle covers; if properly played will sound like a church organ. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 17. FEATHER BOA.

These elegant boas are just what every lady needs. They are now the rage in Paris and New York. Made of the finest feathers. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 40 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 18. Lady's Belt Buckle.

Suitable for sash or belt, of filigree work, cluster center richly enameled in colors on gold. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 20 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 19. BAND RING.

This is a handsome hand chased and raised gold wedding ring of very pretty and unique pattern; cannot be told from solid gold; will stand thorough acid test, is made on the same principle as the Boss filled watch case and is warranted for five years. Measure your size on the ring scale. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

NOT IN A TRUST

No. 20. Parisian Diamond Ring.

This swell glove ring is now all the rage. Set with a genuine Parisian diamond. This stone is an excellent imitation of the genuine diamond, and its brilliancy cannot be equalled by anything but the genuine diamond; settings are 14K gold and warranted for 2 years' wear. Measure your size on ring scale. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 21. Lady's Pocket Book.

Made of the very best seal grain one piece leather with ornamental embossing. Has two regular and one card case compartments. Currency compartment leather lined. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 22. COIN PURSE.

Made of fine kid leather with solid nickle riveted frame and is full leather lined. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 23. HAT PINS.

These are very stylish pins, set with jewels very brilliant and showy; will not bend or break; two pins in set and a very useful addition to any lady's jewel case. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 10 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 24. Neck-Tie Pins.

Ladies or gentlemen cannot get too many pretty tie or stick pins. These illustrated here are the very latest; set with Parisian cut stones very brilliant and handsome; designs horse-shoe or cluster; made of the very best rolled plate settings and warranted. Either of these sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

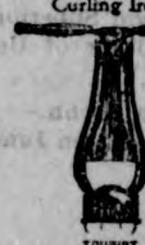
No. 28. TRIPLICATE MIRROR.

Size of each mirror 3x4 inches. Handsomely encased and bound with nickle covers; length when opened is 11 inches; useful and ornamental at the same time. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 35 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 29. Dewey Combination Set.

For both ladies and gentlemen; consisting of a pair of handsomely chased and engraved, new style, link cuff buttons; three engraved beauty pins for shirt waists; one set of four collar buttons, consisting of one ball top button for the front, neck-tie holder for the back and two lever buttons for the sleeves; also a pair of plain cuff buttons for round cuffs. Warranted for one year. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 85 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 30. Tourists' Folding Curling Irons.



The most perfect folding curler made, the joints are fitted with springs which securely hold the handles in various positions; simple, durable and perfect in operation. Nickle plated, antique oak handles, especially adapted for heating over lamps, gas, etc. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 31. LADY'S APRON.

Made of fine quality of white lawn with wide strings and fancy lawn insertion; size 36x36 inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 32. CORSETS.

Extra fine, long jean corset made of the very best material and modeled after the very latest patterns. Colors—white, grey and black. Sizes, 18 to 30 inches, waist measure. In ordering be sure to mention size and color. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 100 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 33. Gentlemen's Handkerchiefs.

Four hem-stitched with colored borders. Size 16½x16½. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. stamp and 20 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 34. PIPE.

Genuine French briar, large size bull-dog shape, with vulcanite posh stem. This stem has a double draft which divides the smoke and cools it; cannot possibly burn the tongue. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 30 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 35. Ladies' Handkerchiefs.

Six handkerchiefs with colored borders. Size 12x12 inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 20 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 36. Lady's Brooch.

The latest Parisian and Cluster Brooch; set with a very pretty colored center stone surrounded by Parisian diamonds, very handsome and brilliant. Made of the very best quality of rolled plate. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 37. DOLLS.

Fancy dressed dolls with movable arms and legs. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 30 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 38. PAPER DOLLS.

These dolls are by far the best ever gotten out and comprise eight dolls to the set. A set of these dolls could not be bought for less than 25c. They are in two sets, A and B. When ordering be sure to state which set you want. Sent on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 10 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

Vocal Music.

This is absolutely and positively the latest, best and most popular collection of twenty-five pieces of music ever offered, and it is only by special arrangements, and purchases of immense quantities, that we can give our friends the privilege of selecting from this strong and attractive list. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

39. My Coal Black Lady.
40. My Baby Lie.
41. My Gal is a High Born Lady.
42. Just One Girl.
43. Mister Johnson turn Me Loose
44. All Coons Look Alike to Me.
45. I Love You in the Same Old Way.
46. Because.
47. Johnny, My Old Friend John.
48. Wedding of the Lily and the Rose.
49. The Picture That is Turned Toward the Wall.
50. Her Eyes Don't Shine Like Diamonds.
51. Honey, You's My Lady Love.
52. Just as the Sun Went Down.
53. Think Once More Before We Part.
54. Simply Friends.
55. Mamie My Darling.
56. Back Among the Old Folks Once Again.
57. Mammy, Mammy Come Tell Me that You Love Me.
58. Mammy's Little Pumpkin Colored Coons.
59. Darktown is out To-Night.
60. When You Ain't got no Money You Needn't Come Around.
61. Who's Dat Say Chicken in dis Crowd?
62. Honey that I Love So Well.
63. Zizzy Zi Zum Zum.
64. You Got To Play Ragtime.

No. 65. GOLD FACED CLOCK.

Height 6 inches; finely finished in French satin gold plating; has a fine American movement, constructed like a watch and guaranteed to be a good "time-keeper." Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 115 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 66. GENTLEMAN'S WATCH.

Has extra fine works, in solid nickle-silver case; genuine American movement. Balanced jeweled, handsome porcelain dial, stem wind and stem set; will last a lifetime and guaranteed to keep correct time. This watch is manufactured and guaranteed by one of the largest watch factories in the United States. This watch is far superior in every respect to watches offered as premiums by other package coffee houses. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 160 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 67. PATRIOTIC ALARM CLOCK.

Nickle-plated, runs thirty hours with one winding; beautiful, lithographed dial illustrating McKinley, Dewey and all the heroes of the late war. Made by one of the largest factories in the United States and guaranteed to keep good time. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 160 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 110. NECKTIES.

Here is something every man likes. In the latest stylish patterns and made of the best silk, serge lined, assorted colors; come in the following designs: teck, four-in-hand, string tie and bow tie. Be sure to mention which design you want. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 30 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

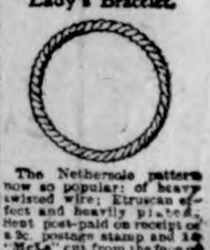
No. 111. Elf Playing Cards.

Made of fine linen stock, highly enameled and finished, size 2 15-16x1 15-16 inches. They are peculiarly adapted to patience or any game where the space within which to play is limited, and on the other hand are large enough to be used for any game at home. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 112. Scientific Diamond Box Kite.

Modeled after the Hargrave type. The most successful style of kite. Used by the United States Government in measuring phenomena at high elevations. Flies higher than any other kite. Directions enclosed with each kite. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 40 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 113. Lady's Bracelet.



The Nethersole pattern now so popular; of heavy twisted wire; Etruscan effect and heavily plated. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 114. Lady's or Gentleman's Umbrella.

This is a silver trimmed, seven rib, steel rod. Paragon frame. Congo handle umbrella made of silk and linen twilled, with cord and tassel. When ordering be sure to mention whether a lady's or gentleman's is desired. Sent either by post or express prepaid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 110 "McLa" cut from face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 115. LADIES' GARTERS.

One pair in a box. Supporters made of silk face web, with nickel safety tip top, and nickle button and loop fasteners, all colors.

Hand Garters made of silk face web, with fancy buckle and silk ribbon bows. When ordering state which of those you want. Either sent postpaid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 26. Algerian Table Mat.

These can also be used for pillow covers. They are inlaid with gold tinsel; are made in very pretty designs and will be an ornament to any lady's parlor. Size 14x14 inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 27. ALGERIAN TABLE SPREAD.

This spread is simple and artistic and is made by the skilled workmen of Algeria. They come in very pretty designs and are inlaid with gold tinsel. These goods were first introduced at the World's Fair and have been the rage ever since, commanding fabulous prices. Size 40x40 inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 150 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 25. VEGETABLE SLICER.

For slicing apples, pears, bananas, potatoes, beets, cucumbers, turnips, radishes, cabbages, etc. Various novel and attractive designs are produced—perforated flutings, plain flutings, Saratoga chips, shoe strings, etc. Positively no waste, anybody can use it. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. stamp and 50 "McLa" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

B. C R. & N. TIME TABLE.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 708. B Pass.	7:55	p. m.
No. 796 A Stock	9:50	a m.
No. 742, B Freight	3:45	p. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 701. B Pass. -	1:32	p. m.
No. 741. B Way freight	9:50	a. m.

B—Daily except Sunday
A—Daily except Monday

☞"Freight trains shown above will carry passengers only when provided with tickets."

F. G. REESE, Local Agt.

WM. H. HUGHES
LAWYER.

Accounts and notes collected. Practice in all courts. Office in Schuler block.

GARNER IOWA.

JAMES YOUNG
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER.

Will cry sales and guarantee satisfaction, 15 years experience. Dates and terms at office of Klemme TIMES.

Telephone or address

Garner Iowa.

J. N. SPROLE,
REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND ABSTRACTS.

Titles examined and corrected. Taxes paid, etc.

GARNER - - - IOWA.

A. L. SPOONER.
Physician and Surgeon.

Office first door west of Shafer & Dow's Store. Residence just back of the German Reform Church. Office hours 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.

Klemme, Iowa.

A. SNYDER,
DRAYMAN.

Having purchased the Bartholomew dray line I solicit a share of your work. Prompt attention given to all work: Charges reasonable.

KLEMME, IOWA.

Ladies

We have just received an entirely new line of Shirt Waists and Wrappers---Sure to Please.

NEW PRINTS
CAMBRICS
PERCALES
FANCY WHITE
DRESS GOODS

Gentlemen,

Those neat, Nobby Hats you see were purchased of Shafer & Dow, who keep the biggest Stock and Newest Styles.

Yours to please.

Shafer & Dow

KLEMME.

THE KLEMME TIMES
By G. L. WELLEMEYER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme, Iowa, as second class matter

Republican County Convention.

The republican voters of Hancock county will meet in delegate convention at Garner, Iowa, on Saturday, June 2nd, 1900 at 1 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of selecting delegates to a state convention to be called, and also to select delegates to a judicial convention to be called and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

The basis of representation in said con ention will be one delegate for eac township and one for each twenvotes or major fraction thereof tfor L. M. Shaw for governor at general election held November 7, 9. The townships will be entitled to representation as follows:

Amsterdam	7	Ell	5
Avery	7	Erin	5
Britt	21	Garfield	3
Bingham	5	German	4
Boone	4	Magor	8
Corwith Precinct	2	Madison	5
Concord	12	Orthel	5
Crystal	6	Twin Lakes	4
Ellington	7.

It is recommended that the different townships hold their caucuses on Saturday, May 26, 1900.

F. E. BLACKSTONE,
Chairman.

COUNTY ATTORNEY.

I hereby announce mysely a candidate for County Attorney, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the primaries.

J. E. WICHMAN.

COUNTY RECORDER.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for renomination to the office of County Recorder of Hancock county, Iowa, subject to the Republican Primaries of 1900.

OLE PETERLON.

COUNTY AUDITOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-nomination to the office of County Auditor subject to the decision of the Republican Primaries.

E. F. BRUMMUND:

CLERK OF DISTRICT COURT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-nomination to the office of Clerk of the District Court of Hancock county, Iowa, subect to the Republican Primaries of 1900.

L. D. WOMELDORF.

Small in size and great in results are DeWitts Little Early Risers, the famous little pills that cleanse the liver and bowels. They do not gripe.—Harr.

The Boer delegates ar growing unpopular. They refuse to let themselves be drawn into the nets by the wary leaders both parties have been industriously spreading for them.

All who suffer from piles will be glad to learn that DeWitt's Witch Hazel salve will give them instant and permanent relief. It will cure eczema and all skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits.—Harr.

It is hard to tell which shows the most indifference to the feelings of the administration—the Cuban carpet bagger or the Sublime Porte.

The Chinese ask "how is your liver" instead of "how do you do," for when the liver is active the health is good. DeWitts Little Early Risers are famous little pills for the liver and bowels.—Harr.

Just why the Senate should refuse the Boer delegates the privilege of the floor is hard to understand.

Ivy poisoning, poison wounds and all other accidental injuries may be quickly cured bo using DeWitts Witch Hazel salve. It is also a certain cure for piles and all skin disesses, Take no ocher.—Harr.

Now that athletes are going into politics and a prize fighter wants to go to congress, why not select a sprinter for governor of Kentucky.

Reports show that over fifteen hundred lives have been saved through the use of One Miute Cough Cure. Most of these were cases of grippe, croup, asthma, whooping cough, bronchitis and pneumonia. Its early use prevents consumption,—Harr.

There is a woman under arrest in New York, who has eloped twice, been divorced thre times and has five husbands. And she doesn't come from Utah.

Unless food is digested quickly it will ferment and irritate the stomach. After each meal take a teasdoonful of Kodol Dyspepsia cure. It digests what you eat and will allow you to eat all you need of what you like, It never fails to cure tee worst case of dyspepsia. It is pleasant to take.—Harr.

It will pay you

BANKRUPT SALE

It will pay you

TAKE A DAY OFF.

And come to Garner, Saturday, June 16 and attend the most unique and phenominal DRESS GOODS SALE ever held in Northern Iowa.

ERWIN BROS'

IN THE ASPLIN BUILDING, GARNER, IOWA,

will on the above date make one great cleaning sale where they will put up at auction

40 OF THE CHOICEST DRESS PATTERNS

In skirt and dress lengths in the whole stock. The regular price on these goods range from 40c to $2.00 per yard. Remember, these are not left-over patterns, but the

CHOICEST OF THE WHOLE STOCK.

They go at Auction Sale, Saturday, June 9th.

THE BIG EVENT OF THE SEASON.

Don't miss it or it will be a source of regret the rest of your life.

Think of it:

Forty elegant Dress Patterns And You Make The Price.

☞To customers buying the above we will furnish linings and trimmings at half price Remember the day and date.

Auction Every SATURDAY.

100 Pairs of Men's and Boys' Soes will be Sold at Auction Saturday, June 9, 1900

DON'T BLAME US IF YOU DON'T GET THE BARGAINS

ERWIN BROS.

ASPLIN'S BLOCK, GARNER, IOWA.

Neglect is the short step so many take from a cough or cold to consumption. The early use of One Minute Cough cure prevents consumption. It is the only harmles remedy that gives immediote results. It will cure all throat and lung troubles. Children all like it and mothers endorse it.—Harr.

Starvation never yet cured dyspepsia. Persons with dyspepsia are already half starved. They need plenty of wholesome food. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure digests what you eat so the body can be nourished while the worn out organs are being reconstructed, It is the only preparation known that will instantly relieve and completely cure stomach troubles. Try it if you are suffering from indigestion. It will certainly do you good.—Harr.

NEW CHAIR CAR SERVICE.

Between Watertown, Ellsworth and Chicago via. B. C. R. & N. Ry. Commencing Sunday Nov. 19th, a free reclining chair car will be placed on trains Nos. 608 and 605 between Watertown and Chicago by the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. This car leaves Watertown daily, except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. arriving at Chicago 7:59 the following morning. This car runs to and from Sioux Falls Sundays, thus giving daily chair car service between Ellsworth and Chicago. Passengers going east from Chicago will have ample time to make any transfers to connect with all morning eastern trains.

These trains are very fast, and, with this new additional service, passengers can feel assured of first class accommodations. JNO. G. FARMER,
Cedar Rapids, Ia.

TO CURE A COLD WHILE YOU SLEEP.

Take "Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

GAING TO PARIS.

Then let us give you valuable information segarding your trip. We can render you good service and ticket you right through from all stations on our line via New York and any of the steamship lines. Call on agents of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway, or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN ONE NIGHT.

Or to quickly cure La Grippe take "Week-Break-a-cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

As is its custom, the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway has arranged for reduced rates to a large number of important places for the coming summer, among which we mention the following most prominent:

North Manchester, Ind.—Annual Meeting German Baptist (Cunkers) May 29:June 8.

St. Louis, Mo.——Annual Meeting General Assembly of the Presdyterian church, May 17-31.

Washington, D. C.-Annual Meeting Imperial Council, Ancient Arrabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, May 22-24.

Siouq Falls, S. D.—National Gathering Supreme and Superior Lodges of the Ancient Order of United Workmen June 9-20.

Philadelphia, Penn.——Republican National Convention June 19.

Charleston, S. C.—Annual meeting of the National Educational Association July 7-13.

Cincinnatti, O—Baptist Young People's Union of America July 12-15.

Chicago Ill.—National Encampment G. A. R. August 27-Sept. 1.

Detroit, Mich.—Biennial Conclave Knights of Pythias, Aug. 27-Sept. 1.

St. Paul, Minn. Biennial Convention National Republican League of the United States, July 17-19.

Summer tourist tickets will be on sale May 15, to resorts in different parts of the country, and important information can be obtained by calling on any ticket agent or writing to the undersigned. Send for copy of booklet entitled "Okoboji Outing."—Jno. G. Farmer, A G P & T A, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. jul31.

JOHN BAUMGARTNER.
PROPRIETOR OF
CITY BARBER SHOP.
AN EASY SHAVE. - -
A SATISFIED CUSTOMER
FIRST DOOR EAST OF LAU BROS.
KLEMME, IOWA.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN
DAUBING AND PAINTING.
We understand our business and guarantee our work.
JOE MILLER,
PAINTER and DEGORATOR.

MONEY To PATENT Good Ideas may be secured by our aid. Address, THE PATENT RECORD, Baltimore, Md.
Subscriptions to The Patent Record $1.00 per annum

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hogs wanted six days in the week. W. R. Bloom.

A GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY ACCEPTED.

A few weeks ago the Champion people raised a great cry that the "mower test' which was held, in the streets of Klemme, could not be duplicated by any other machine on the market.

The McCormick people have issued a circular describing a competive test in which we fiud thefollowing: "The Champion people drove their cutter-bar against a tree several times. After each test, however, they stopped to "line up" their bar. The adjustible device of their machine proved so weak that it would not hold the bar in line in striking an obstruction." The McCormick mower was put to the same test and shcwed none of the weak points exhibited by its competitor, and after the test drove to the ball ground and gave a demonstration of its grass cutting qualities, while the other machine went to the agency for repairs. The people were so pleased with the work of the McCormick, that fourteen of the representative farmers present willingly and voluntarily signed the following:

"We witnessed the test of the mowers at Wheatfield as advertised by the Champion Company. We were surprised to see the McCormick representatives on hand with their mowers to convince us that the "McCormick machines" are capable of standing any test that the "Champion" may propose. We are convinced that the McCormick mower can stand rougher usage and will last longer than the Champion mower exhibited to-day. The "McCormick" has less side-draft and less neck-weight, as was demonstrated to us to-day by use of scales. We can truthfully say that the McCormick mower wheels will not raise from the ground when the cutter-bar strikes an obstruction, and the bar can be adjusted more substantially than any other we have seen. Grue zmacher Bros. sell the McCormick machines, and the proof of the above may be seen at their store.

$200 for races at Britt July 4th.

M. A. Fell was down from the hub on business Tuesday.

If you want to enjoy yourself attend the picnic tomorrow,

Mrs. Henry Schroeder is enjoying a visit from her sister.

Rev. Father Nagle will deliver the address at Britt July 4th.

Oscar Carlson made an overland trip to Rockford last week.

Klemme will send a big delegation over to Britt on the 4th.

Rev. Paterson was transacting business at Dows the first of the week.

Misses Terhufen and Blanchard drove to Garner last Saturday.

G. W. Kluckhohn, wife and daughter drove to Kanawha today.

John R. Cline has been rusticating in this vicinity the past week.

Britt will have one of the biggest celebrations this year ever held in northern Iowa.

Rev. Welner, of Goodell was in Klemme Tuesday evening, the guest of C. G. Bracher.

Henry Pietzke and family drove to Garner yesterday for a short visit with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Schuldt went to Estherville yesterday for a visit with their daughter.

Children's Day was appropriately observed at the English M. E. Church last Sunday.

M. R. Day went to Davenport, Tuesday, to help swell the crowd at the reunion of veteran coffee-coolers.

The Senior Signal editor will hereafter attend church oftener than four times a year. Now Brackett, let up.

A new side walk has been put down east of the bank, and a new crossing between the hotel and the shoe store.

Mrs. Chas. Bracher went to Germania Tuesday, and will visit for several weeks with her parents and friends.

John Suckow has just finished the painting of Henry Pietzke's house and it is one of the neatest in north Klemme.

That was a beautiful proposition that the Garner committee made our band—car-fare and eat themselves. They'll go—to Galt.

Miss Nellie Brenner visited a few days last week with friends and relatives at Rockford. Her sister Millie returned with her.

R. G. Pritchard, a grain and live stock commission merchant, of Chicago, visited with his cousin, W. R. Bloom, Tuesday.

It is about time for the editor of the Democrat to furnish one of his soul stirring editorials on the Sultan of Sulu and his many wives.

Garner is growing metropolitan. Editors Bush and Brackett are quarreling as to who has the largest circulation in Garner and vicinity

The heavy wind Saturday last moevd Will Guth's barn several inches off the foundation and racked it out of shape. It is insured.

FOR SALE:—A good six-room house with one acre of ground, trees and small fruit, nicely located, easy terms. Inquire of H. C. LAU, Klemme, Iowa.

Last Thursday afternoon Mrs. Henry Gruetzmacher entertained the ladies of the W. F. S. After the usual business of the society light refreshments were served.

The Deere and Sandwich hay loaders are the best in the market. Go to Gruetzmacher Bros. if you need hay tools of any kind —McCormick and Standard mowers are the best.

It will not be surprising if we have to chronicle the death of somebody's darling baby, unless the council passes an ordinance prohibiting the riding of bicycles on the sidewalk.

Joe Nissen and John Day, two of Klemme's best young men, returned Saturday from Sioux City, where they have been attending Morning Side College.

Dr. Brackett of the Garner Democrat, expects to start for Stevens Point, Wisconsin, next neek, for his health. Probably a few baths will do him good.

H. J. Stillie and G. I. Schaper went to Chicago Tuesday morning with cattle. Mr. Schaper will visit with relatives at Dixon and Pearl City before his return.

If you happen to see any of your neighbors nursing their arm, just walk up to them, grab them by the "fin" and shake it good and hard. If you don't get killed it will be because the new small pox preventative injected into the arm by Dr. Richter has not yet taken hold.

Found at last! A high grade liquid paint that is equal to lead and oil in wearing quality, and superior in covering qualities, and will weigh more to the gallon than any mixed paint on the market. For sale by J. L. Harr,

The heavy wind Saturday pushed the large lumber sheds of J. H. Queal & Co. off from the foundation. This made it necessary to re-pile the lumber and a force of men began work yesterday at noon.

Wm. Lau and family, H. W. Schoper and family and Henry Freie and family, went picnicing to Clear Lake yesterday. We hope they will have a good time, catch lots of fish, and on their return remember the editor.

Oscar Carlson, Myron Haskin, Wm. Guth, Wm. Myers, H. E. Pietzke and L. G. Schultz, went to Sioux City on the excursion last Sunday. They report an immense crowd, and thoroughly enjoyed the trip.

Four cars of cattle and two of hogs were billed from this station for Chicago markets Tuesday morning. Nunweiler of Hayfield had two cars each of cattle and hogs, and Herman Stillie and G. I. Schaper, each a car of fine steers.

During the storm Saturday night, lightning struck the barn of M. Palmby, and killed two of his best horses. However, like the careful farmer that he is, he had his stock insured in the old reliable Hawkeye and their local agent, G. W. Kluckhohn, satisfactorily adjusted the claim and Mr. Palmby will receive $140. It is a good thing to be insured in a reliable company,

A freak of nature who manages the Kanawha ball team, in sending our club a challenge, used a postal card. Thinking that a one-cent stamp not enough he placed a two-cent stamp on the card to insure its safe delivery. This is an example, only equaled by the Scandinavian who called at the post office for an expected letter: "You got letter har for me?" "Name, if you please?" inquires the post mistress. "Py jimminy, da nam been on letter!"

We have received hundreds of propositions from foreign advertisers, and they have gone into the waste basket. This is with two exceptions, and now we find it were better had we passed up these also. We have two medicine contracts and they too, will be hung on the dead hook unless they pay full rate hereafter. We have also a few dead-beat subscribers and we propose to cut them off the list and begin suit to recover, and publish a full account of the case. We have bills to pay and we can't do it and have several hundred dollars in some one else pocket. Now darn your skin, come in and pay up and save trouble.

Britt will celebrate the 4th.

Rooms to rent—LAU BROS.

Choice flax seed for sale at Aug. Lau & Son.

Men's and boy's crash suits at Shafer & Dow.

FOR SALE:—Residence property in Barz addition to Klemme. Inquire of H. S. Swarz.

A few settings of Buff Cochin eggs—pure bloods—75c per 15. H. E. Pietzke.

A good second hand upright piano for sale.

E. P. SCHAEFER.

Aug. Lau & Son shipped two cars of hogs to Chicago Sunday morning.

MID-SEASON SALE.

PARISIAN PATTERN RODUCTIONS.

OF FINEST MILLINERY.

We are bound to reduce our stock and from now on Price cuts no Figure. The goods must go regardless of cost or profit.

RIBBONS at YOUR OWN PRICE

☐This is not a Cleaning out sale of old odds and ends, but a sacrifice sale of everything In the store.

IT BEGINS TO-DAY

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

M. W. LYNCH, :: M. S. GILMAN

LYNCH & GILMAN,

STROUD, OKLAHOMA,

REAL ESTATE AND LOAN BROKERS.

WHY PAY RENT?

OWN YOUR OWN FARM!

It is the highth of folly for a man to pay exhorbitant rents when he can go to Oklahoma and buy a fine farm at from $5 per acre up. Well watered; near good markets; mild and healthful climate and crop failure unknown. Plenty of natural timber and coal. We have for sale a well selected list of choice improved and unimproved farms and would like to talk with you. Excursions 1st and 3rd Tuesday of each month. NOW is the time before the "SNAPS" are all taken. For rates, terms, excursions etc., call on or address, M. S. GILMAN, Klemme, Iowa, or

M. W. LYNCH, ST. LOUIS HOTEL,
STROUD, OKLAHOMA.

BICYCLES

OUR 1900 WHEELS ARE NOT FREAKS,

——But good, common sense machines, built of the best material that money can buy and codstructed in the most simple manner by skilled workmen. Good, strong, honest bicycles, as near

Fool Proof

as possible. We sell good, strong, honest, straight machines that are easy to ride and hard to break. Six makes of standard wheels always on hand. Old wheels bought and sold. Repairing done on short notice. A complete line of sundries always on hand.

KANAWHA, IOWA. L. HAEFNER.

EGGS—Black Breasted Game —pure stock—Great fighters— $1.50 per 15 eggs. Inquire at this office.

FLY NETS:—Good nets, poor nets, indifferent nets; nets that will keep the flies off and nets that wont; nets that are too nice and some not pretty enough; nets that costs lots of money and those that we almost give away. We have the finest line ever put on the market at prices that will make them go.

F. GRUETZMACHER.

On page five of this issue you will find the large display adv. of Irwin Bros., of Garner. A personal acquaintance with the firm enables us to conscientiously recommend them as reliable that they will do as they advertise. If you are in need of anything in their line you will do your self good by making them visit on the above dates.

Hello There!

Where are you going?

To Pietzke's Blacksmith Shop, for he's the man to go to for good work and at right prices. At the old stand.

Klemme, Iowa.

JOHN JOSTEN

PHOTOGRAPHER

Gallery Fitted For Finest Work

In Miniature and Cabinet Sizes. Enlarging, View and Copying.

PHOTO BUTTONS A SPECIALTY.

☞Give me a call

KLEMME - IOWA.

VERY LOW RATES.

The B C R & N Ry will make very low rates to Sioux Fall, S. D. for the A O U W meeting in June. Call on your ticket agent for rates, limits etc and see that your tickets read via this line. Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia.—jun12

The Klemme Times.

G. L. WELLEMEYER, Pub.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

Some girls who profess to be highly educated have merely been immersed in a weak solution of accomplishments.

A new island has recently sprung up near the northwest coast of Borneo, opposite the town of Labuan. Its formation is connected with the earthquake which was observed on Sept. 21, last year, near Hudat (British North Borneo).

Minnesota alone produces approximately about 80,000,000 bushels of wheat, or about one thirty-seventh of the total production of the world. Of this she is able to export two-thirds. Of the Dakotas, not having begun to reach their limit of productiveness, North Dakota raised in 1898 55,000,000 bushels, and South Dakota 42,000,000. Oregon produced 24,000,000 bushels.

The Associated Jewish Charities of Chicago have taken a laudable step in abolishing henceforth all balls, fairs and charity bazaars as methods of swelling their fund. They have resolved to give of their means according to their ability, and promise that their already magnificent philanthropies shall not suffer by the change. Gentiles may well ask themselves if their own "entertainments" are not sometimes repulsive rather than attractive.

Since logs cut on timber lands leased by the government of Ontario must henceforth be manufactured within that province, many Michigan lumber mills are being removed to Canada. The millmen seem to take the matter calmly. Other philosophers and all statesmen should do the same. Canada is only doing as, under like conditions, the United States would probably do, and if we were to be generous we might even congratulate her on finding a new way to increase her trade and population.

A popular color for canary-birds in England at present is a reddish yellow, or deep orange. This color, it is said, can be produced artificially by dieting the birds on a number of different substances, the chief of which is cayenne pepper mixed with molasses. Dealers are able to produce particularly desirable shades by varying the quantity of pepper and by adding occasionally a little turmeric or madder. Each dealer has his own formula, which he keeps secret. The plumage of the birds thus treated is apt to fade, and they are kept as much as possible out of the light.

The play of "Robinson Crusoe" is now given in one of the Paris theaters with four animals in the cast of actors. These are a goat, a monkey, a paroquet, and chief of all, a dog who enacts the part of Robinson's faithful companion, "Toby." The dog's real name is Faro, and a writer in La Nature says he will respond to that name only when in the street or at his master's home, but on the stage he answers promptly to the call, "Toby." When Robinson shoots a bird, "Toby" runs and picks it up, climbs up a ladder into Robinson's hut, and gives the bird to "Friday," who acts as cook.

The opposite of rest is not work, it is restlessness, an one of the popular "quick-lunch counters" is its exponent. The modern time-saving young man, says a keen satirist, gives his order before removing hat or coat, thus economizing fifteen seconds. When his order arrives, he gets his fork into it as it appears over his shoulder, and cleans the plate before the sauce appears, which thus has to be eaten by itself. Cups of coffee go down in two swallows. Little piles of cakes are cut in quarters and disappear in four mouthfuls; and the really accomplished luncher assimilates his last quarter of cakes, wiggles into his coat and pays his check at the desk at the same moment. The next he is half a block away in pursuit of a receding trolley!

At the Royal Technical school in Charlottenburg, Germany, Prof. Josse has recently tested, with remarkable results, a method of increasing the efficiency of steam engines, which was invented by two Germans some ten years ago, but has only now been effectively applied. The principle depends upon the employment of the exhaust steam from an ordinary compound engine to evaporate another liquid having a lower boiling point than water. The liquid used is sulphurous acid. The heat of the exhaust steam is sufficient to liberate sulphur dioxide gas, and this, passing into the cylinder of an auxiliary engine, acts the part of steam. It is afterwards condensed and goes back to the vaporizer. The result is said to be that to every indicated horse power developed in the main engine about half a horse power is added by the auxiliary engine, without increasing the consumption of fuel.

THE NEWS IN IOWA

ARMOUR & CO. SUED FOR $175,000.

Sioux City Meat Contract Case Remanded to District Court.

SIOUX CITY, June 9.—The big $175,000 damage suit brought by the Ralya Market Company, of Sioux City, against Armour & Co., of Chicago, the great meat packing concern, is again to the fore. Judge Shiras, of the federal court, has remanded it to the district court of Woodbury county for further proceedings, and the bandying of causes involving large amounts may be said to have fairly begun. This suit was brought under a contract made by the Ralya company with Armour & Co., May 24, 1899, in which the Chicago firm agreed to furnish the Sioux City meat dealers with certain meats at certain prices. Armour & Co. broke the agreement about August 1 by refusing to supply pork loins at 5¾ cents, the contract price, as the product had in the meantime gone up to between 9 and 10 cents a pound. The contention of Armour & Co. was that they intended the contract to cover only the Ralya Market Company's retail business, whereas the Ralya company demanded product to fill a large number of jobbing orders which it had secured. The market company was incorporated for doing a wholesale as well as a retail trade, and its articles were officially filed, and it claims that Armour & Co. therefore had no grounds for limiting delivery of pork to merely retail trade. It therefore sued for $175,000 damages as loss of profits under its contract.

BAD WRECK ON IOWA RAILROAD.

Milwaukee Dining Car Derailed and Overturned, and Five Persons Injured.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, June 9.—As the fast Chicago train No. 2 on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul, was running through Persia, Ia., thirty-one miles east of Council Bluffs, the rear coach, a diner, was derailed and turned entirely over. Five occupants of the wrecked car were seriously injured and ten sustained slight wounds. The seriously injured are: J. E. Boyer of Panora, Ia., skull fractured, expected to die; Captain J. B. Nips of Kansas City, injured internally; J. Morize, traveling auditor of the road, of Cedar Rapids, injured internally, seriously hurt about the head; Dining Car Conductor, H. M. Kellogg of Manila, Ia., cut about head; Porter J. Roth, cut about head and body; Porter Frank H. White, cut about head and face, leg broken. The wreck was due to the spreading of the rails caused by the intense heat. The injured were brought to Council Bluffs on a special train.

BIG STRIKE AT MASON CITY.

Railroad Laborers Go Out for Higher Wages.

MASON CITY, June 8.—All of the men working on the construction gangs of the Iowa & Minnesota division of the Northwestern, about 300 in number, have gone out on a strike for higher wages. The men had been getting from $1.50 to $1.75, but had for some time been dissatisfied and by a prearrangement of forces they walked out in a body and refused to resume work until the raise of 25 cents a day which they ask for is granted. The work on the new yards and depots was progressing rapidly and the track was about to enter the city from the south. How long this will block work is uncertain, but it will have the effect of a serious set back unless the men can be persuaded to go back to work.

Died to End Grief.

THOMPSON, June 10.—Mrs. Ole Hanson Fugleberg, who resides five miles northeast of Thompson, committed suicide by hanging. She was discovered by her husband about an hour later, her lifeless body swinging at the end of a rope, which she had made fast to a rafter in the granary. Mr. Fugleberg at once called his two sons, and with their assistance cut the body down, thinking that perhaps life was not yet extinct, but the woman was cold in death. She was 61 years of age. Despondency, caused by the loss of a daughter a few weeks ago, is supposed to have caused her to commit the rash act.

Fire at Cedar Rapids.

CEDAR RAPIDS, June 11.—Fire started in a barn by a small boy playing with matches, and, fanned by a strong wind, quickly spread to the fine flats of Miss Carrie Barto and a small cottage near by. It looked for a time as though there would be a disastrous conflagration on account of the wind. The losses will aggregate $10,000 or $12,000. Only partially insured.

Found Dead in a Hog Pen.

GRUNDY CENTRE, June 9.—John P. Suttman, ex-county recorder of Grundy county, was found dead in his hog pen, the hogs having rooted him into the mud and were eating his body when found. He was cleaning out the pen, and it is supposed dropped dead while at work. The cause of death is not known.

DOLLIVER'S BOOM UNDER WAY.

Iowa Congressman Looked Upon as Sure Nominee for Vice-President.

WASHINGTON, June 6.—The Cook county republican club, of Chicago, will escort to the national convention the republican candidate for vice-president. E. M. Craig, president of the club, wired to Congressman Dolliver of Iowa, tendering to him the support of that organization for vice-president, and requesting the privilege of escorting him to the convention with a special train, and the old Iowa State band on board to furnish the music. Mr. Craig said that the club special would go by way of Detroit, Buffalo, Niagara Falls, Scranton and Trenton. Mr. Dolliver was too modest to accept the offer, but Congressman Lorimer of Chicago, who received a copy of the message, wired back for the club to go ahead with its arrangements. Mr. Lorimer did not act without knowledge of what is likely to happen at Philadelphia. Mr. Dolliver is now the administration candidate for vice-president. The enthusiasm with which his name has been accepted in congress and throughout the country has been watched by president McKinley and other leaders, and the president has today suggested to some of those who are urging Dolliver's nomination that they keep his name to the front, as there is no man in the field more acceptible to him, as the head of the ticket, for second place. Senator Hanna has also sent word along the line that Dolliver is the man, and the Dolliver boom has taken the lead over all the others. Senators Allison and Gear, Speaker Henderson, and all the Iowa congressmen, are enthusiastic in their support of their colleague and his prospects for the nomination.

SUSPENSION IS REPEALED.

Des Moines Criminal Taken Back to The Penitentiary.

DES MOINES, June 8.—Ollie Blair, who was granted a suspension of sentence from the governor March 14, has been taken back to the penitentiary at Ft. Madison because of a violation of the conditions of the suspension. After Blair was ordered back to the penitentiary an attempt was made to declare him insane but the case has been dismissed. If indications of insanity develop at Ft. Madison the prisoners will be removed to Clarinda, where there is a department for criminal insane. Blair was sentenced for eight years in May, 1896, after being convicted of breaking an entry into a railroad car. For the past week he has been closely watched by the pardon clerk and was found to be drinking and keeping bad company, two direct violations of the terms of suspension.

Des Moines Saloons Open.

DES MOINES, June 11.—After being closed for three months the Des Moines saloons are again open. The temperance people made a last effort to keep them closed, but the district court refused to interfere.

BREVITIES.

Willis Airhart, a switchman in the Northwestern yards at Boone, was recently caught between an engine and bad order car and crushed so badly about the hips that he died a few minutes after being taken to the surgeon's office. He leaves a family.

Creston dispatch: Switchman Will Sandall was instantly killed in the Burlington yards by being run over by a switch engine. He was a member of the night force and had just gone to work. The first move the switch engine made resulted in his death, he missing the foot board. The entire engine passed over him, badly mangling him. He was a young man recently married.

At Fort Dodge recently Mrs. M. M. Tabar, while engaged in washing clothes, received burns from which she may lose the use of her arm and may lose her life. She was removing the steaming clothes from the boiler when she was seized with an epileptic fit. She fell across the stove and her arm fell into the seething water of the boiler. It was fully two minutes before her family found her in this position. Her body and arms were horribly burned and the hand and forearm literally parboiled. Opiates were administered to the agonized woman to relieve her sufferings.

Hon. A. J. Holmes, of Boone, formerly congressman from the Tenth Iowa district, has been declared insane and sent to the state hospital at Clarinda. The insanity commissoners found that the case was more serious than they had expected and the only question remaining for them was the determination of whether or not any relief might be obtained at the hospital for the insane. Dr. DeTar advised that the only hope rested with the hospital, and the board made an order for the transfer of Major Holmes to the hospital at Clarinda. The mental blight and misfortune of Major Holmes is the result of two causes: financial trouble and continued ill health.

NEWS IN GENERAL

WAR HAS ONLY JUST BEGUN.

Declaration of President Kruger at Machadorp.

LONDON, June 8.—The executive offices of the Transvaal government are in a railway car which is shunted on a switch at Machadorp Station. President Kruger caused the interior of the coach to be reconstructed some time ago with a view to contingencies that have now arrived. A correspondent of the Daily Express, who went from Lorenzo Marquez to see President Kruger, was received by him. The president sat smoking a long pipe. He looked worried, but his bearing was quiet and determined. He did not make the least objection to being interviewed.

"Yes," said President Kruger, "it is quite true that the British have occupied Pretoria. This, however, does not end the war. The burghers are fully determined to fight to the last. They will never surrender so long as five hundred armed men remain in the country. I feel deeply encouraged by the fine work Steyn and DeWet are doing in the Free State."

The correspondent suggested that the war was over, inasmuch as the capital had been taken.

"The capital!" exclaimed Mr. Kruger with energy. "What is a capital? It does not consist of any particular collection of bricks and mortar. The capital of the republic, the seat of government, is here in this car. There is no magic about any special site. Our country is invaded, it is true, but it is not conquered. The government is still effective."

HENDERSON'S LITTLE SPEECH.

Words With Which He Declared The House Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, June 9.—In the following little speech Speaker Henderson declared the house adjourned sine die.

"Gentlemen of the House of Representatives: We will in a few moments have completed our session's work. It has been a session of earnest, patriotic effort, of unremitting toil. This house has demonstrated that men may meet on great fields of contest and part as friends. This body has considered many great, novel national questions. That ferver which enters into debate on the eve of a great national conflict has been present; but, guided by intelligence and manly courage.

"At the opening of this session I took the chair with that fear and apprehension which every conscientious man should feel. I appealed to you for support and kindly aid. Not for one moment have you forgotten that appeal, but your sustaining influence has made it possible to consider these mighty problems of the hour and never allowed the legislator and the gentleman to sink below the high level of manhood.

"In parting, I wish you from my heart a pleasant vacation and that you may all return to the duties of the next session, refreshed in body and in mind.

"And, now, in pursuance of the concurrent resolution adopted by the two houses of congress, I declare this session adjourned without day."

OFFICIALLY RECOGNIZED.

Empress Issues Edict Showing Hand on Boxer Question.

TIEN TSIN, June 10.—In view of the conclusive confirmation of the imperial connivance in the Boxer movement, furnished by an edict just published denouncing General Neih Si Chong, for killing some rioters, the strongest possible action of the powers, it is asserted here, can alone remedy the situation, which has assumed the gravest aspect. The edict is couched in such terms that it leaves no doubt of the deep sympathy of the throne with the Boxers, who are described as "good citizens." Besides denouncing Nieh for killing the Boxers, the edict orders him to return with troops to Leopai, eighty miles from the scene of disturbances. It is claimed here the first step of the powers for the perservation of foreign life and property ought to be assumption of control of the railroad to Peking.

TO ACT WITH POWERS.

Minister Conger So Instructed by the President.

WASHINGTON, June 11.—Minister Conger cabled that an audience had at last been secured with the dowager empress to consider the situation and asked for instructions. His message was taken to the cabinet meeting by Secretary Hay, and under instructions from the president a reply was framed and dispatched at once. Minister Conger is given authority to act concurrently with the diplomatic representatives of the other powers hereafter. It is intimated to him that the traditional policy of the American government to act independently must be observed wherever it is practicable, but he may himself be the judge of when emergencies require a slight departure from the rule.

United States Consulate Hit.

LONDON, June 9.—A dispatch from Pretoria says the only shell which took effect in town the day prior to the occupation of Pretoria hit the United States consulate.

IRISH YEOMANRY CAPTURED.

Lord Roberts Reports Surrender of the Thirteenth Regiment.

LONDON, June 6.—Following is the text of the dispatch from Lord Roberts announcing the disaster to the Thirteenth battalion of the Imperi l Yeomany, which numbered between 400 and 500 officers and men:

"Pretoria Station, June 5.—I regret to report that the Thirteenth Imperial Yeomanry had to surrender to a very superior force of the enemy, on May 31, near Lindley. On receiving information of the battalion being attacked, I ordered Methuen to proceed with all speed to its assistance.

"Methuen was then on the march, on the Heilbron side of Kroonstad, and, half an hour after the receipt of my telegram on June 1, he started off. By 10 a. m. of the following day he had marched forty-four miles in twenty-five hours, but he was too late to rescue Colonel Sprague's yeomanry.

"Methuen attacked the Boers, who were between 2,000 and 3,000 strong, and after a running fight of five hours completely routed the enemy.

"It is a very regrettable circumstance; but I trust it will not be very long before the Irish yeomanry are released from captivity."

BRITISH ARE IN PRETORIA

City Surrendered, But Few Prisoners Were Taken.

LONDON, June 6.—The war office has received the following from Lord Roberts:

"PRETORIA, June 5.—Just before dark yesterday the enemy were beaten back from nearly all the positions they had been holding, and Ian Hamilton's mounted infantry followed them to within two thousand yards of Pretoria, through which they retreated hastily. De Lisle then sent an officer with a flag of truce into the town, demanding its surrender in my name. Shortly before midnight I was awakened by two officials of the South African republic, Sandberg, military secretary to Commandant General Botha, and a general officer of the Boer army, who brought me a letter from Botha, proposing an armistice for the purpose of settling terms of surrender.

"I replied that I would gladly meet the commandant general the next morning, but that I was not prepared to discuss any terms, as the surrender of the town must be unconditional. I asked for a reply by daybreak, as I had ordered the troops to march on the town as soon as it was light.

"In his reply, Botha told me he had decided not to defend Pretoria and he trusted women, children and property would be protected. At 1 o'clock a. m. today, while on the line of march, I was met by three of the principal officials with a flag of truce stating their desire to surrender the town.

"It was arranged that Pretoria should be taken possession of by her majesty's troops at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

"Mrs. Botha and Mrs. Kruger are both in Pretoria. Some few of the British prisoners have been taken away, but the majority are still at Waterval. Over 100 of the officers are in Pretoria. The few I have seen are looking well."

BRYAN SPEAKS FOR BOERS.

Took Part in Sympathy Meeting Held in Omaha.

OMAHA, Neb., June 10.—Envoy C. H. Wessels of the Orange Free State was given a big official reception by Omaha yesterday. It was marked as being of a wholly non-partisan character. Governor Poynter, populist, presided over the mass meeting; Mayor Moores, republican, welcomed the envoy for the city; Captain H. E. Palmer, chairman of the republican state central committee, was secretary of the meeting, and read a number of communications; T. J. Mahoney, a Cleveland democrat, made a stirring speech, and W. J. Bryan was present and on call from the audience expressed his spmpathy for the struggling republics. At the conclusion of Mr. Wessels' speech bedlam broke loose, in the calls for Bryan, who said:

"I trust that the day will never come when a nation fighting for liberty will look in vain to the American people for sympathy and aid. There are men among us who say that because England sympathized with us during the Spanish-American war we ought to say nothing against such a friendly nation. I deny that such sympathy binds us to act for England. We did not need the sympathy of England during the Spanish-American war. We need the sympathy of no nation. We have received nothing that obliges us to remain passive and helpless while liberty is being crushed. We should not be unmindful of our duties to the people of this world struggling for their liberty—we, the greatest nation on earth, founded on liberty. We must keep inspired with that love and reverence for the blessed name of liberty till every American citizen goes down on his knees and asks the God of battles to bring victory to the Boers."

ROBERTS'S ARMY CUT OFF.

Boers Sever Telegraph Wires North of Kroonstad.

LONDON, June 10.—General Forestier-Walker cables the war office from Capetown under date of June 8 as follows:

"Kelly-Kenny at Bloemfontein reports the telegraph has been cut at Roodeval, north of Kroonstad, by body of Boers, estimated at two thousand strong, with six field guns. He is sending strong reinforcements to Kroonstad and I am reinforcing him from Cape Colony. I hope the interruption is only temporary."

AMAZING FIGURES

PROPORTION OF OUR IMPORTS AND EXPORTS

From and To Europe Carried in American Ships—Foreign Attack Centered On Only American Line in That Trade.

In an open letter addressed to Gen. Charles H. Grosvenor, Chairman of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee, Alexander R. Smith of New York, a former member of the New York Commerce Commission, answers an attack on the Ship Subsidy Bill, which has been favorably reported to each branch of Congress. Mr. Smith openly charges that the foreign shipping interests aided by the free traders and other enemies of American shipping, are striving with might and main to destroy the one American line now engaging in our trade with Eu-

In his letter, Mr. Smith says in part:

"Mr. Peabody's assertion that 'the cream of the subsidy is designed to fall to those vessels of the International Steamship Company,' is not only erroneous, but seems purposely designed to prejudice the public against that line—the only line, by the way, engaged in our trade with Europe under the American flag. This line has been singled out for the most virulent, malignant and frequent attacks ever since the shipping bill has been before the public. It has been asserted, but without a word of truth, that it is controlled by the Standard Oil and the Pennsylvania Railroad companies.

"That line has been pictured as part of a monopolistic trust, whereas it is battling, single handed and alone, against the most powerful steamship lines in the world. These other lines—all under foreign flags—are backed up with unlimited wealth and the support of their several governments to whatever extent may be necessary to enable them to successfully compete for the transatlantic trade.

"The American line in question is struggling at considerable pecuniary loss to succeed and to still further increase its tonnage under the Stars and Stripes in the face of this concentrated and united opposition. In doing so it has been subjected to the unbridled abuse of every free trader, every free trade newspaper, every enemy of American shipping, and every defender of foreign shipping, in the United States.

"If the stockholders of this line are ready to invest still further in American ships, in the hope of ultimately earning a profit, and are ready to subject themselves to the fiercest and most concentrated competition of the most wealthy and powerful ships in all the world under foreign flags, the American people will applaud and commend them.

"The deadly purpose of this opposition is manifest, when we study the statistics of the United States for the last fiscal year. Of the total foreign trade of the United States, 67.07 per cent is with Europe—more than two-thirds of our total foreign trade is with Europe. Of our imports from Europe, valed at $353,884,534, only $15,430,242, or 4.35 per cent, was carried in American vessels. Of this, the ships of the American line carried imports valued at $14,813,033. Of our exports to Europe, valued at $936, 602,093, but $27,558,076, or 1.30 per cent, was carried in American vessels, the ships of the American line carrying exports to Europe valued at $25,077,749.

"The value of the imports and exports carried in the ships of this line was $39,890,782, out of a total of $160,612,206 carried in all of the American ships engaging in our entire foreign trade. The ships of this American line carried within a fraction of 25 per cent of all of the imports and exports of the United States that were carried in American ships. If, therefore, the four steamships of the American line—which rendered such exceptional and invaluable auxiliary naval service to our government during the war with Spain—can be driven out of our trade with Europe, the proportion of our carrying under the American flag in our trade with Europe will drop from the present 2.15 per cent of the total to but 0.2 (two tenths of one) per cent. That is to say, the foreign ships now monopolize 97.85 per cent of our carrying with Europe, and are striving with all the power and influence at their command to increase their proportion of our carrying to 99.8, leaving for the stray American vessel that will dare to venture into that trade, the carrying of 0.2 of our imports and exports! By driving these ships out of our foreign trade, the proportion of the entire foreign trade of the United States carried in American vessels, would be reduced from 8.9 to just 7 per cent, leaving for foreign ships the carrying of 93 per cent of our imports and exports, and the estimated $200,000,000 in freight earnings that are taken from the United States each year.

"No wonder," concluded Mr. Smith in discussing this portion of his reply, "the foreign steamship lines, and all other friends of foreign shipping, and every enemy of American shipping, concentrates his opposition on the American line—the single heroic carrier of the American flag in our transatlantic trade."

CUBAN TARIFF CHANGES.

Reduced Rate for Railroad Material if Imported Within a Year.

The War Department has again revised the schedules of the Cuban tariff, to go into effect June 15th. It is hoped that this will increase the imports from the United States, as we now have less than half the trade of the island.

A previous reduction of the duty on food stuffs and live stock has not lessened the cost of food by the consumer, so that no changes are made in the revision in the food duties except to reduce the duty on flour from $1.30 to a dollar a barrel, and on salt cod and stock fish from $2 to $1.

In view of the necessity for the construction and reconstrutcion of railroads in Cuba, and upon the assurance given by the various companies that if material for the construction and equipment could be imported at a reduced rate they will at once begin to import large quantities, a special provision has been inserted in the tariff which allows railroad companies to import these supplies into the island for a period of twelve months from the date of promulgation at a rate of 10 per cent ad valorem.

Some few changes have been made in the free list, one or two fresh additions being made and one or two articles being taken out and put on the dutiable list.

Crude petroleum is taken from the free list and the original duty of $1.40 per 100 pounds restored. Petroleum and other mineral oils, rectified or refined, intended for illumination or lubrication, per 100 pounds, $2.80.

Business Good Everywhere.

Business continues to be good all over the western and southern sections of the country, as shown by Bradstreet's returns of bank clearings:

Section.	Four Months. 1900.	1899.
Western	$ 985,023,011	$ 867,416,591
Northwestern	2,781,986,862	2,615,938,607
Southwestern	883,289,239	796,782,963
Southern	954,741,350	900,408,426
Far Western	565,959,643	486,436,337

In every one of these sections the bank clearings have been larger this year, up to the end of April, than in the corresponding months of 1899, when the volume of business transacted in the country broke all previous records. Prosperity is still with us.

Farm Products Higher.

Comparing prices on May 1, 1900, with May 1, 1899, there has been an increase in the following products of the farm:

Corn, sheep, hogs, prime, horses, hogs, carcasses, muttons, carcasses, milk, beef, pork, bacon, hams, lard, butter, coffee, beans, lemons, raisins, hides, cotton, wool, hemp, jute, flax, tobacco, hay, cottonseed.

Cowboys for McKinley.

Geo. B. Hendricks, of the San Angelo country, Texas, says that the cattlemen in his section are almost a unit for the re-election of President McKinley. He says the cowmen are satisfied with their present prosperity and do not care to see the existing confidence among the people disturbed by the election of any other man as president.

Packed and Pledged.

The Declaration of Independence was signed on the Fourth of July, 1776, but the chances are that the Democratic party will not have the courage to sign a Declaration of Independence on the Fourth of July, 1900, as the convention is already packed and pledged to by-gone issues.

Receipts at Manila.

Manila's customs receipts last March amounted to $515,575,as compared with $243,468 in March, 1899. Under Spanish rule the largest March receipts were $299,442, in 1897; so that their record has been beaten by $216,000 for that month under American administration.

A Mix-Up.

It is quite likely that the Sioux Falls convention named a stalking horse for the Vice Presidency. The second place on the Kansas City ticket will eventually go to a Democrat, thus giving that party representation.

Which Was Which?

If the present Popocratic party were to undergo an operation for appendicitis, it would take a skilled political anatomist to tell after the operation which was the appendix and which was the, the, corpus delicti.

Must Hide His Head.

The gallant Colonel who was going around the country a short time ago looking for General Prosperity will have to hide from that enemy to his ambitious plans.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON XII, JUNE 14—JOHN 6: 5-14.

Golden Text—"Give Us This Day Our Daily Bread"—Matt. 6: 11—The Feeding of the Multitude—Fields White to the Harvest.

After the martyrdom of John, Jesus and his disciples left Galilee for a time. The excitement on account of Herod's murder of the prophet might end in a political revolt, which was entirely contrary to the plans and principles of Jesus in inaugurating his kingdom, and yet he might be involved in it, or seem to be, if he remained. Hence, he crossed over the Jordan into the realm of Herod Philip, and went up among the hills overlooking the plain of Butaiha, a wild pasture land belonging to Bethsaida on the southeast, and there in retirement he conversed with his disciples. The "sat" of v. 3 implies teaching, for that was the usual posture of teachers.

The people noticed the sailing of Jesus over the Sea of Galilee, and could watch the course of the boat nearly all the way to Bethsaida. The great roads to Jerusalem passed near the head of the lake. These were thronged with pilgrims going up to the Passover, who thus had leisure to stop and see and hear the great prophet. Pilgrims from every part of Galilee were also going to Jerusalem. They had broken away from their homes and business and had time to go out of their way to see and hear him whose fame had gone out over the whole region. They flocked from all directions, some over the sea, some by the land route along the northern shore, the numbers increasing from every city and village on the way; for at this time the western and northern shores were populous with towns and villas. Therefore, when Jesus looked up from his teaching on the hillside, he (v. 5) "saw a great company come unto him." They came because of the miracles (v. 2) of Jesus, signs, as John calls them,—signs of God's presence, and power, and love; signs or evidences of Jesus' divine mission, and the truths that he taught.

"Jesus . . . saith unto Philip," toward evening, "when the day began to wear away" (Luke 9:12). By combining all the accounts the conversation at this time would be about as follows:—

Jesus (speaking to Philip, whose home was at Bethsaida, and who therefore was acquainted with the region and the people).—"Whence shall we buy bread, that these may eat?" (John).

9. "Five barley loaves." Or round, flat cakes like large crackers. Barley was the poorest food of the people. The lad probably brought them for his own lunch, possibly to find a market for them. "Two small fishes." "The Greek (opsaria) is a diminutive: it properly means what was eaten along with the bread, and specially refers to the small and generally dried or pickled fish eaten with bread, like our 'sardines,' or the 'caviar' of Russia, the pickled herrings of Holland and Germany. Millions were caught in the lake. We know that both the salting and pickling of them was a special industry among its fishermen."—Edersheim. "What are they among so many?" Five crackers and two sardines for five thousand hungry men, besides women and children!

Scene V. "Gathering up the Fragments.—Vs. 12-14. 12. "When they were filled." Every person had all he wanted. "Gather up the fragments." The broken pieces that would be fit for food at another time. "That nothing be lost." Be wasted. The gathering of the fragments was an object lesson of precious truth and completed the proof of the miracle, for more remained than there was to begin with.

13. "Filled twelve baskets." "They were small hand-baskets specially provided for the Jews to carry Levitically clean food while traveling in Samaria or other heathen districts."—Vincent. "They were made of rushes, reeds, twigs, or ropes."—Dr. Davis. "Wicker baskets." "Their sizes were probably variable, but the word is used for a Boetian measure of capacity equal to two gallons."—Prof. A. Macalister, in Scribner's New Dictionary of the Bible.

14. "This is of a truth that prophet." The Messiah. The miracle was convincing and they sought immediately to hail him as their king. But Jesus sent them home and went up into the mountain alone to pray.

Social Memory.

Henry Fawcett, says Sir Edward Russell, had an extraordinary memory for persons. One night Sir Edward was in the house of commons, to hear a debate under the gallery. A friend introduced him to Mr. Fawcett, who, learning why he was there, said: "Oh, then, you can look after my old father and tell him who the people are. He is going under the gallery, too." Three or four years later, Sir Edward was presented to Mr. Fawcett, who was then chief guest at a political dinner, and said to him in the usual conventional mumble: "I once had the pleasure of being introduced to you, Mr. Fawcett, but it's a long time ago." "I remember," said he, "you very kindly looked after my father under the gallery at the house." And this was the memory of a man totally blind.—Youths' Companion.

Runaway Yearned for Pie.

Frank Starba, 15 years old, told Justice Sabath that he had run away from his home, "just for fun." "And you had lots of fun, I suppose?" said his honor. "No, sir; I did not." "Well, where did you eat during your stay from home?" "I didn't eat." "And still you wouldn't go home? How would a nice hot roast chicken or turkey with cranberry sauce go?" asked his honor. Frank made no reply, but he seemed restless. "And some nice hot apple pie, and—" But his honor got no further. The boy, unable to control himself any longer, burst into tears, and, throwing his arms about the neck of his mother, he declared he wanted to go home. "I thought I'd bring him about," said his honor. "The plan never fails."—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

CONGRESS.

SENATE.

Washington, June 4.—The senate passed a bill which provides for the deposit of moneys by the government in such banks on the islands as will deposit with the government as security United States bonds to the full amount of the deposits. Pettigrew delivered an address criticising the Philippine policy of the administration.

HOUSE.

The house today agreed to the senate amendment to the sundry civil bill, appropriating $5,000,000 for the Louisiana purchase exposition at St. Louis. The house also agreed to the senate item for the Mississippi river, with an amendment reducing the appropriation to $2,250,000 and adding a provision for the preparation of a comprehensive report on the levee system by the Mississippi river commission.

SENATE.

Washington, June 5.—The day was spent in bitter political debate and in fruitless conferences on uncompleted bills.

HOUSE.

There were riotous scenes in the house this afternoon during a clash between Lentz of Ohio and Hull of Iowa, growing out of a bitter attack on General Corbin by the former, and the matter culminated when Lentz intimated that Corbin had appointed sons of the congressmen in the army to help along his promotion. Hull admitted he had a son in the army, and aroused his side to cheers when he proclaimed he thanked God he had sons who could fight for their country. "I thank God," said he, "that I am not one of those anonymous creatures who are unable to perpetuate their species." Cheer after cheer greeted the shot, and when Lentz replied if he had a son he would be able to support himself, the hall of the house was sibilant with hisses. The confusion was riotous and order was restored with great difficulty. The house voted to non-concur in the senate amendments for the promotion of Generals Miles and Corbin.

SENATE.

Washington, June 6.—The senate adopted a compromise proposition on armor plate, authorzing "the secretary of the navy to procure contract armor of the best quality for all vessels, provided such contract can be made at a price which is now, in his judgment, reasonable and equitable, but in case he is unable to make a contract he is authorized to procure a site and erect thereon a factory for the manufacture of armor, the sum of $4,000,000 being hereby appropriated for the same."

HOUSE.

When the house to-night at 10:30 took a recess until 10 o'clock to-morrow morning the two chambers of the national legislature were in a desperate struggle over the item in the naval appropriation bill relating to ocean surveys. The final adjournment of congress is postponed until it is over. The house concurred in the senate provision regarding armor plate. The house conferees failed to abide by their instructions on the ocean survey item and the house rejected their report by an overwhelming majority. The speaker then took the almost unprecedented course of appointing new conferees on the part of the house, who are not members of the naval committee.

SENATE.

Washington, June 7.—Among minor bills passed was one to pay for corn seized by troops during the civil war.

HOUSE.

The house agreed to the senate amendments remaining in controversy in the naval bill and adjournment sine die was taken at 5 o'clock. For three days Lentz of Ohio has blocked all business requiring unanimous consent because the majority refused to allow the testimony in the Coeur d' Alene investigation to be printed.

CAN'T SAVE FOREIGNERS

Chinese Viceroy Declares That He Is Powerless.

LONDON, June 11.—The situation in China appears distinctly graver. The destruction of a Russian chapel at Tung Tingan has provided Russia with the desired pretext to land more troops.

A dispatch from St. Petersburg that the government is resolved, if the dangerous situation in China continues, to take immediate military action to repress the anti-foreign movement, may be regarded as a semi-official utterance, meaning that if there is any hesitancy on the part of the powers Russia will act alone.

All reports agree that the Boxer movement is spreading. The report is confirmed that the French agents at Mong Tse and Yu Nan Fu have been compelled to retire, and this shows that the ferment has reached southwestern China and has provoked France into taking active steps.

Sir Claude MacDonald, British minister at Peking, has wired the British consul at Shanghai confirming the reported outrages and the fact that the throne and government have been actuated by a secret sympathy with the Boxer movement, which the government has ample power to suppress if it so desired. His dispatch, however, is in no way of an alarmist nature.

The latest Tien Tsin dispatch saying that the dowager empress has appointed anti-foreign generals with the pretended mission to suppress the Boxers, makes it impossible to doubt that the time has arrived for energetic action.

FURTHER HARD FIGHTING.

Two Hundred Killed in a Battle With the Boxers.

LONDON, June 8.—A special from Shanghai, says the dowager empress has ordered Fen Neih Si Chong, with 3,000 men, to protect the railroad at Peking. A severe fight, it is added, has occurred with the Boxers, whose ranks include many soldiers from other generals' commands. When the battle ended 200 dead were left on the field. The dispatch goes on to say:

"One hundred and eight British marines, with a machine gun, are about to force a passage from Tien Tsin to Peking. Altogether about 900 British have been landed from the fleet, a greater number than have landed from the combined vessels of the other powers. This evidence of Great Britain's intention to assert her position strongly gives great satisfaction here."

Boers Offered to Surrender.

LONDON, June 10.—A special from Durban says the Boers at Laings Nek after a fierce fight Thursday, June 7, offered to surrender conditionally, but Buller replied that surrender must be unconditional.

Another Filipino Leader Captured.

MANILA, June 9.—Gen. Pio del Pilar, the Filipino leader, has been captured near Manila.

It is recorded that a Scottish innkeeper once said of the late Duke of Argyll: "His grace is in a verra deeficult poseetion whatever. His pride of intellect will not let him associate with men of his ain birth, and his pride of birth will no' let him associate with men of his ain intellect."

"Knave!" said the autocrat, "how camest thou to be a fool?" "Sire," responded the jester, "I began life among the wise men."

Revolution in Water Travel.

Experiments have proven that vessels, fitted with propellers which imitate the fish's fin, develop remarkable power. It will cause a revolution in water travel. Men gradually learn that Nature's ways are best. One cause of the remarkable success of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the fact that it is a sure cure for constipation, indigestion, dyspepsia and biliousness.

Because a frog jumps is no sign that he is a hopperator.

Straight Road To Health

Is by the way of purifying the blood. Germs and impurities in the blood cause disease and sickness. Expelling these impurities removes the disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla does this and it does more. It makes the blood rich by increasing and vitalizing the red globules and giving it power to transmit to the organs, nerves and muscles the nutriment contained in digested food.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the Best Medicine Money Can Buy.

The bible was the best selling book of the past year. The American Bible Society put out 1,406,801 copies.

Husband.

If you have a weak, nervous, debiliated wife, do not scold or become impatient with her. Give her kind treatment, loving words and Morley's Liver and Kidney Cordial, to renovate, regulate and strengthen her system, and she will soon be your healthy, happy best half. Price $1. Sold by agent in every town.

Sometimes a noble failure serves the world as faithfully as a distinguished success.—Lowden.

Happiness cannot be bought, but one of the great hindrances to its attainment can be removed by Adams' Pepsin Tutti Frutti.

There is no eating the nut for the man who is too lazy to get through the shell.

Gold Medal Prize Treatise, 25 Cts.

The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation, 365 pages, with engravings, 25 cts., paper cover; cloth, full gilt, $1, by mail. A book for every man, young, middle-aged or old. A million copies sold. Address The Peabody Medical Institute, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., the oldest and best institute in America. Prospectus Vade Mecum free. Six cts. for postage. Write to-day for these books. They are the keys to health, vigor, success and happiness.

A barefooted Scottish boy applied for work at a manufactory; he was told he must "get shoes to wear." In two months he earned the shoes, and applied again, but "he was ragged." In six months he came well clad; but "you must read and write." For fifteen months longer he studied at evening school. The boy became foreman of the establishment.

Carter's Ink Is Used Exclusively by the schools of New York, Boston and many other places, and they won't use any other.

Ex-Governor George W. Peck, of Wisconsin, author of "Peck's Bad Boy," was running a little country weekly in the pineries in the early 'sixties. It was an unimportant sheet save for one column of jokes which Peck wrote each week. This department caught the eye of "Brick" Pomeroy, who was then printing his Democrat in La Crosse, Wis., and one day he wrote to Peck, asking him whether he would be willing to go down to La Crosse and work for the Democrat at twenty-five dollars a week. Three days later Mr. Pomeroy got this telegram: "I accept your offer quicker than instantly. For heaven's sake don't withdraw it."

Are You Using Allen's Foot-Ease?

It is the only cure for Swollen, Smarting, Burning, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

Never salt beef in cooking because it extracts the juices and toughens the fibre.

As a labor saver Maple City Self Washing Soap has no equal, and it does not injure the clothes. Ask your dealer for it and try it according to directions. All good grocers sell it.

FITS Permanently Cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Send for FREE $2.00 trial bottle and treatise. DR. R. H. KLINE, Ltd., 931 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Calm seas make careless sailors.

Send for Choice Recipes by Walter Baker & Co., Ltd., Dorchester, Mass., mailed free. Mention this paper.

Pride is increased by ignorance; those assume the most who know the least.

Lock Jaw.

E. H. Hardin, China Springs, Tex., says: "One large dose of Morley's Wonderful Eight cured my mare of lock-jaw. It was a wonderful cure and saved me a $65.00 animal." Sold by agent in every town.

Probably the dog didn't want to go into the ark because he had a bark of his own.

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS.

Buggies Wagons

Corn Cultivators

And Bicycles: Do not fail to see us before buying. We have the largest stock of the best goods ever brought to this city

Groceries, Hardware.

First class Tinshop.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

OUR SUMMER BILL OF FARE.

Young Onions, New Radishes, Fresh Lettuce,
Oranges, Bananas, Lemons,
Canned Fruit and Vegetables--all kinds,
Bread, Buns, Pies, Cakes, Cookies,
Confecionery, Cigars, Tobacco
SUMMER DRINKS SELECT GROCERIES,

Agent for the Ideal Steam Laundry, Mason City.
G. W. KLUCKHOHN, KLEMME.

Buy Your

Drugs, Paints, Wall Paper, Toilet Soap, Perfumery Books and Patent Medicines

At Amsden's Pharmacy

GARNER, IOWA.

FRED ARNOLD, PRES. C. H. WIEGMANN, V. P. F. A. ARNOLD, CASH.

STATE SAVINGS BANK,
OF KLEMME, IOWA.

CAPITAL $25 000 00, LOANS $40 000 00,

INSURANCE WRITTEN, LOANS NEGOTIATED, EXCHANGE BOUGHT AND SOLD.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits: Money Loaned on Real Estate: Foreign and Domestic Exchange Sold.....

DIRECTORS: FRED ARNOLD, C. H. WIEGMANN, H. W. GRUETZMACHER, CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, F. A. ARNOLD.

CARY SAFE CO.
BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.
..Manufacturers..
FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES
VAULTS, LOCKS, ETC.
CONTRACTORS to UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

H. W. SCHOPER,

FARM MACHINERY,

Buggies and Wagons, Corn Planters, Corn Plows, Champion Binders and Mowers.

TWINE.

ELEVATION FRIGHT.

Some Persons Are Impelled to Jump Off High Places.

At a great height many persons would no more think of looking down upon the surface of the earth than they would of thrusting a hand into a blazing fire. An irresistible impulse comes over them to jump, and this impulse is stronger when the feet are close to the edge of the roof of a high building.

Dr. Edward Lanning, the American physician who practiced his profession in Paris for 10 or 11 years, says he has seen more cases of "elevation fright" in the French capital than he has in any other city he has ever been in.

"I do not know," said he, "that it is any peculiarity of the French character, but I have frequently been called in cases where death has resulted in a leap from a tall building or tower—not that I could do any good, but simply to see whether I could determine from previous family history whether the victim was insane or not.

"About two years ago I was visited by a sailor, an Alsatian, who told me he experienced the peculiar sensation of terror when at an elevation and that he was unable to take a berth on any vessel where his duties would require him to go aloft farther than 12 or 15 feet from the deck. He consented to go with me to a tall building and go on the roof so I could observe his condition when he looked over the edge into space. I took two assistants with me as a precaution.

"One of them brought a rope at the sailor's request. He said he would not dare venture to the edge of the roof unless he had one end of the rope around his waist and felt that the other end was securely held. I acceded to that and told him to go as close to the edge as he pleased.

"We were very high—up 125 feet, I should say. The sailor walked cautiously toward the eaves, and I walked alongside of him. He looked over and jumped back and then walked forward again. I observed that the pupil of his eye had become dilated, and in a few minutes the perspiration ran down his face in streams. His pulse bounded and his muscles twitched. He stood quietly, without tugging at the rope, but told me if he did not know that he was being held he certainly could not resist the desire to leap into space.

"He got down on his hands and knees and tried to become accustomed to looking over the roof's edge, but said he could not. He wanted to draw himself forward and plunge over head first. I finally took him down stairs, when he recovered his equanimity. He came to see me a year afterward and said he had tried his best to cure himself of what he considered a weakness, but was unable to do so. The man was perfectly sane and apparently cool and collected when on terra firma, but at 75 or 100 feet he became an abject coward.

"Some time after I was not surprised when I received a letter from one of my colleagues telling me that the sailor had cast himself from a balloon in which he ascended with an aeronaut near Dieppe and had been dashed to pieces."—New York Mail and Express.

An Obliging Irish Railroad.

At Westport, on asking why the train did not start, seeing that it was a quarter of an hour after the time named for its doing so, the answer I received was, "The engine's gone cold"—doubtless during a warm conversation between the driver and some of his friends—and a lady who was in the same compartment with me, and overheard the remark, told me that on the previous day a station master had said to the driver of a locomotive as he steamed in and drew up at the platform, "Where's your train?" The man had come without it. I suppose these casualties cause inconvenience sometimes, but they contribute diversion to irresponsible travel. Moreover, one sometimes reaps advantage from a free and easy system of locomotion.

When going from Galway to Recess by the new light railway, I wanted at Oughterard to look at the river, but feared I should not be able to do so in the time allowed for our halt. "Sure, we'll wait for you," said a porter, and they did. In Ireland people like waiting. What they do object to is being hurried. They dislike "tedious haste." — Blackwood's Magazine.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

OUR SPECIALTY IS

LUMBER

WE ALSO SELL

Brick, Lime, Cement, Paroid Roofing, American Field Fence Screen Doors and Windows.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

Farm Machinery.
DO NOT FORGET

That we handle a COMPLETE LINE of the BEST Farm Machinery manufactured. Before you buy, it will pay you to see us and get our prices. We handle

CASSADY GANG AND SULKY PLOWS,

Corn Cultivators, Stirring Plows, Cornplanters, harrows, Discs, Wagons, Buggies, Geneva Windmils, Milwaueee Binders and Mowers.

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE. . . . .

We are constantly adding new, fresh GROCERIES to our stock and would like to make you prices. If you want Hardware or Tinware, we can supply your wants.

LAU BROS.

GRAND CLOSING OUT SALE OF

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry

I AM GOING TO CLOSE Out my entire stock of Watches, Clocks and Jewelry at Cost Price. If U want a bargain come and see me. CHAS. F. H. Suckow, Watchmaker and Jeweler, Klemme, Iowa.

KOERENR BROS.....

Woven Wire Fencing, Poultry Netting, Barbed Wire, Nails, Staples, Hay Tools, Carpenter Tools, Bicycles, Bicycle Repairs, Paints, Oils, Brushes, Putty, Glass, Rooting, Spouting Etc. Etc.

KLEMME, IOWA.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME V. KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, JUNE 21 1900 BER 44

Hello There!
Where are you going?

To Pietzke's Blacksmith Shop, for he's the man to go to for good work and at right prices. At the old stand.

Klemme, Iowa.

JOHN JOSTEN
PHOTOGRAPHER
Gallery Fitted For Finest Work
In Miniature and Cabinet Sizes.
Enlarging, View and Copying.
PHOTO BUTTONS A SPECIALTY.
☞ Give me a call
KLEMME - IOWA.

JOHN BAUMGARTNER.
PROPRIETOR OF
CITY BARBER SHOP.
AN EASY SHAVE. - -
A SATISFIED CUSTOMER
FIRST DOOR EAST OF LAU BROS.
KLEMME, IOWA.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN DAUBING
AND
PAINTING.
We understand our business and guarantee our work.
JOE MILLER,
PAINTER and DEGORATOR.

J. J SUCKOW,
PAINTER, and
PAPER HANGER.
First Class work in every way, and our specialty is Paper Hanging and decorating. See me before you contract your work.
Address, KLEMME, IOWA.

AIELT RIEKENS,
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER. GERMAN OR ENGLISH
Will cry Sales and guarantee satisfaction
Fine Stock Sales a specialty.
Call on or address at
PAULSVILLE, IOWA

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED
ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured.
Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

PATENTS
Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained and all Patent business conducted for MODERATE FEES.
OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U. S. PATENT OFFICE and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.
Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.
A PAMPHLET, "How to Obtain Patents," with cost of same in the U. S. and foreign countries sent free. Address,
C. A. SNOW & CO.
OPP PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

A REMINISCENCE.

How Two Prisoners Used Their Brains to Save Their Heads.

The following is an incident of reconstruction days. Captain Rube Clark and his lieutenant, Reynolds, guerrillas, were cast into prison, sentenced to be shot. Clark had powerful friends, who were confident of his release, but Reynolds, from Memphis, was without hope of succor. The prison at Knoxville was a strong iron cage in a big room, whose window had no sign of a glass, and through the long winter Clark and Reynolds were confined there. For several months they suffered the agonies of the damned. At last, as the time for Reynolds' execution approached, it was noticed that he was going crazy. Clark declares to this day that Reynolds did not touch a morsel of food for three weeks. He would moan and sigh and twirl his thumbs after the manner of a crazy person, recognize no one and laugh insanely in Clark's face whenever he tried to console him. Clark was sure of his insanity. Army surgeons and local physicians passed upon the case, and Reynolds was finally discharged as a lunatic.

Clark's friends finally secured his release and hurried him out of Knoxville. Two entered a carriage with him—two of his old soldiers—and drove toward the mountains as hard as possible in the dead of night. Reaching a house in a dense forest, they stopped and asked him to follow them to a back room. The halls were darkened, and in the room there was only the light of a candle. On the bed in the corner lay a man, moaning, sighing, twirling his thumbs and giving other evidences of insanity. Clark recognized Reynolds.

"Poor, poor fellow," he said, leaning over the lieutenant to stroke his forehead. A tear came in his eye as he looked at the wreck of his faithful officer.

One of the soldiers shut the door, locked it and approached the bedside.

"It's all right, Reynolds; this is the captain," he whispered.

Reynolds tore off the blanket, sprang up with a glad cry, and threw his arms around Clark's neck.

"Great God, captain, didn't I do it well?" he said.

They made all possible haste and soon reached New Orleans, where Clark felt that Reynolds would be comparatively safe. One night as they left the opera and had reached a lamp in the street an officer touched Clark on the shoulder.

"I want you," he said. "Make no fuss about it, but come quietly."

Clark pinched Reynolds' arm and signified that he must fly. The lieutenant needed no second warning. Then Clark asked the officer what he was wanted for.

"Hanging," said the latter. "I have been on your trail for three weeks."

"But maybe you have the wrong man. My name is Reuben Clark."

The officer took from his hip pocket a photograph of Reynolds and examined it and Clark under the lamp. Instantly he saw his mistake and began to swear.

"That is a likeness of my friend who has just left us," said Clark coolly. "His name is"—

"Reynolds!" shouted the officer. I've got the wrong man!"

Well, Reynolds was never caught. He is living in Memphis today, I believe, and has grown rich. Clark is rich, too, but that long term in the iron cage affected his mind, and he is the most absentminded man in America.—New York Press.

Why the Boiler Maker Called.

"Do you know," said Mr. Gratebar, "that for a long time I couldn't imagine what brought our neighbor, Mr. Anthony Hammerby, in to see us so often. Mr. Hammerby was a retired boiler maker. He had been a journeyman boiler maker and then a boss, and having made a modest fortune he had retired to enjoy it. He lived only two or three doors from us, and he used to come in often evenings. He seemed particularly to like to hear the children play on the piano, and if they didn't play he would always ask to have them. I used to wonder at this, because I never had any idea that Mr. Hammerby was especially fond of music, and one day I asked him about it.

"'Well, you see,' said Mr. Hammerby, 'I suppose that every man has a feeling of affection for the trade or profession that he was brought up in. I know that I have that feeling for my own, and when I hear your children play duets on the piano with the hard pedal on all the time, it makes me think of the dear old boiler factory.'"—New

A WEALTH OF BEAUTY.
Is often hidden by unsightly pimples eczema, tetter, erysipelas, salt rheum, etc, Bucklen's Arnica Salve will glorify the face by curing all skin eruptions, also cuts, bruises, felons, ulcers, and worst forms of piles. Only 25cts a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by Harr.

A MONSTER DEVIL FISH.
Destroying its victim, is a type of Constipation. The power of this malady is felt on organs, nerves, muscles and brain. But Dr. King's New Life Pills are a safe and certain cure. Best in the world for stomach, liver, Kidney and bowels. Only 25cts, at Harr's.

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE.
It speaks well for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy when druggists use it in their own families in preference to any other. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the past five years with complete satisfaction to myself and customers," says Druggist J. Goldsmith, Van Etten, N. Y, "I have always used it in my own family both for ordinary coughs and colds and for the cough following la grippe, and find it very efficacious." For sale

TAKE A VACATION,
Special excursion to Colorado and Utah on June 20, July 9-17 and Aug 1. On above dates round trip excursion tickets, limited for return to Oct 31, will be sold to Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Salt Lake City, and Ogden at the low rate of a SINGLE FARE plus $2. Call on any agent of the B. C. R. & N. Ry. for tickets and full information or address, Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. aug. 1

A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT.
Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculus escape from death, says; "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in Consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery which wholly cured me. Hundreds have used it on my advice and all say it never fails to to cure Throat Chest and lung troublees." Regular size 50c and $100. Trial bottles free at Harr's.

GLORIOUS NEWS.
Comes from Dr. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Electric Bitters has cured Ers, Brewer of scrofula, which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face and the best doctors could give no help, but now her health is excellent. Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys, and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50cts. Sold by Harr.

Mr. W. S. Whedon, Cashier of the First National Bank of Winterset, Iowa, in a recent letter gives some experience with a carpenter in his employ that will be of value to other mechanics. He say: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhoea I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought one bottle of it from the druggist here and informed me that one dose cured him, and he is again at his work."—For sale by Harr.

E. P. SCHAEFER,
Klemme, Iowa

NORTHERN LUMBER CO FOR SCREEN DOORS
LUMBER,
LIME, STUCCO, AND CEMENT.
EVERYTHING IN BUILDING MATERIAL.
NORTHERN LUMBER CO.
L. G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST. ....SCHOOL SUPPLIES.
WALL PAPER,
Paints, Oils, Alabastine, Window Shades and Everything used to Decorate and Beautify the Home.
WATCHES, CLOCKS and JEWELRY.
DRUGGISTS' SUNDRIES. J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

NO REMEDY EQUALS PERUNA, SO THE WOMEN ALL SAY.

Miss Susan Wymar.

Miss Susan Wymar, teacher in the Richmond school, Chicago, Ill., writes the following letter to Dr. Hartman regarding Pe-ru-na. She says: "Only those who have suffered as I have, can know what a blessing it is to be able to find relief in Pe-ru-na. This has been my experience. A friend in need is a friend indeed, and every bottle of Pe-ru-na I ever bought proved a good friend to me."—Susan Wymar.

Mrs. Margaretha Dauben, 1214 North Superior St., Racine City, Wis., writes: "I feel so well and good and happy now that pen cannot describe it. Pe-ru-na is everything to me. I have taken several bottles of Pe-ru-na for female complaint. I am in the change of life and it does me good." Pe-ru-na has no equal in all of the irregularities and emergenices peculiar to women caused by pelvic catarrh.

Address Dr. Hartman, Columbus, O., for a free book for women only.

For the last thirty years in Denmark the party of the left has had a majority in the chamber, while the king has retained in power a ministry of the right.

COPELAND

CATARRH

TREATMENT

The Treatment that Cures.

6 Months for $1.00

It is the difficult, stubborn long-standing cases of Catarrh that I am particularly pleased to treat. Most all of such cases I cure. After you have tried a lot of other treatments and received no benefit, write to DR. W. H. COPELAND, the most eminent physician and specialist on Catarrh and Kindred Ailments in the world, and get cured. Send a short description of your case. Inclose $1 with your application, and you will receive 6 months' treatment for your Catarrh. Address,

DR. W. H. COPELAND,
210 State Street,
CHICAGO, ILL.

A man is never poorer for the questions he asks.

YOU NEED A DAILY PAPER.

This is a presidential year, and every citizen needs a daily paper. The Des Moines Daily News is sent postpaid to any address for $1 a year, 75 cents for six months, 50 cents for three months. All the news condensed for the busy reader; daily markets by telegraph; interesting literary matter for the family. Address, The NEWS, Des Moines, Iowa.

The government of China supports rather than condemns the Boxers, and not one has been arrested yet.

Maple City Self Washing Soap works perfectly in hard water. It bleaches white clothes and will not fade fast colors.

The Grenelle artisian well at Paris is nearly 2,000 feet and flows 743,000 gallons of water daily.

$20.00 A WEEK AND EXPENSES to agents selling our household goods. Sell on sight. Write C. H. Marshall & Co., Chicago.

The saddest truth is less severe than the merriest one.

Lane's Family Medicine.

Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

The harm of a creed is in converting it from a staff to a club.

Age tends to kill the hair and turn it gray. PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM renews color and life.

HINDERCORNS, the best cure for corns. 15cts.

A single fact outweighs a thousand claims.

Have you ever experienced the joyful sensation of a good appetite? You will if you chew Adams' Pepsin Tutti Frutti.

A short prayer will get to heaven quicker than a long one.

Diseases of the Scalp should not be neglected. Coke Dandruff Cure will clean the head and cure the disease.

Taste for the beautiful makes you appreciate such.

Gold Medal Prize Treatise, 25 Cts.

The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation, 365 pages, with engravings, 25 cts., paper cover; cloth, full gilt, $1, by mail. A book for every man, young, middle-aged or old. A million copies sold. Address The Peabody Medical Institute, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., the oldest and best institute in America. Prospectus Vade Mecum free. Six cts. for postage. Write to-day for these books. They are the keys to health, vigor, success and happiness.

Consistency is the gem of business philosophy.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

The human race is but a contest for dollars.

Are You Using Allen's Foot-Ease?

It is the only cure for Swollen, Smarting, Burning, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

Some people have not sympathy enough to have heartburn.

Suppressions neglected result in blood poisoning and quick consumption. Ladies need a reliable monthly regulating medicine. Kidd Drug Co., Elgin, Ill., guarantee "Dr. Le Due's Female Regulator" to bring on menses and keep it regular. $2 or 3 for $5, sent per mail. Retail and wholesale of Hurlbut & McArthur, Des Moines, Iowa.

He who loves folly may well listen to flattery.

Every ten industrious men usually support a schemer.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

900 DROPS

CASTORIA

A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of

INFANTS & CHILDREN

Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral. NOT NARCOTIC.

Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER

Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna +
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed +
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda +
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor.

A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.

Fac Simile Signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

NEW YORK.

At 6 months old

35 DOSES 35 CENTS

EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

GUILTY OR INNOCENT? xx

By AMY BRAZIER.

CHAPTER III.—(Continued.)

Only George does not tell Barbara of a grim shadow that haunts him night and day—a shadow so grim and black even his love for Barbara cannot make him forget it, a trouble so dark he dare not face his mother's gentle eyes—a trouble he locks in his own heart, while day by day the end comes nearer. Even if he told Barbara she would not understand. Racing debts and promissory notes would be Greek and Latin to her. But by degrees George becomes graver and quieter; his sunny smile is forced sometimes, and his light-hearted gaiety seems to have deserted him. And then Mrs. Bouverie falls ill—so ill that any shock or worry might be fatal—and George sits and looks at her with a lump in his throat and wet eyes. And now his heart is breaking with his own troubles, a sea of debt is engulfing him. In a month a bill for one hundred pounds falls due, and he has nothing to meet it with, his own allowance anticipated long ago, and the mother who might have helped him lying too ill to care now.

"No excitement," the doctors say. "The least shock would prove fatal."

No wonder George Bouverie looks miserable, and his face has a drawn, gray look. Dishonor is an ugly word, and that is what it will mean. The man who had helped him into the mess will not help him out of it. He has left the country, and George has to bear it all alone.

How to get a hundred pounds? That is the problem that haunts George Bouverie with a sick agony of uneasiness that will not be quieted. It is always there—the certainty of ruin—and the shame of it is horrible.

Money, borrowed to pay his racing debts. It seemed so easy at the time, and three months seemed such a long way off. He would be sure to have a run of luck and be able to pay. But the man who had lent him his name has gone, and George has no means of procuring a hundred pounds. With a sinking heart, he remembers with a blush that scorches his cheek that his mother's income is very slender. She had given nearly all to him, saying, in her sweet, lovable way:

"What can an old woman like me want? A young man must have pocket money."

"If she had only been harder on me when I was a little chap," groans George now, realizing too late that his own way has not been a good way Even Barbara cannot comfort him now.

The winter has worn itself away and March has come—March that has more of the shy witching of April than the usual boisterous month that proverbially enters as a lion.

Still no answer from Tasmania. Does Mr. Saville also mean to ignore the engagement? It were hard to say, but it looks like it.

Mrs. Bouverie slowly creeps back from the borders of the shadow land, and George keeps his misery to himself, while the day of reckoning draws nearer and nearer.

Today the lovers have met. Barbara has ridden over on her bicycle to ask for Mrs. Bouverie, and George walks with her down the avenue. Barbara cannot fail to notice his dejected manner, the look of trouble that blots the sunshine from his face.

They stand together in the sunshine and the light falls on their young faces, and out across the lawn the sunbeams touch the daffodils.

Barbara looks at them with a smile.

"I always think of Wordsworth's lines," she says, and quotes them softly:

"The waves beside them danced; but they
Outdid the sparkling waves in glee.
A poet could not but be gay.
In such a jocund company.
I gazed and gazed, but little thought
What wealth the show to me had brought."

George only sighs.

She slips her hand into his as he wheels her bicycle beside her.

"Poor George, it must have been such an anxious time for you; but your mother is better, really better, now."

"Yes," he says, moodily, looking with unseeing eyes at the nodding, dancing daffodils, and drawing another long sigh. Then his eyes rest on her face, with a sudden agony of regret she can not fathom.

"Barbara, my darling, I am not worthy of you!" he exclaims, in a voice that speaks of desperation.

She lifts sweet, smiling eyes.

"You must not say that, George; but, dear, why do you look so unhappy?"

"I can't help it!" he bursts out. "Barbara, I am a most unlucky fellow. Dear, it would be better for you if you never saw me again."

She looks half frightened, but her hand creeps closer into his palm.

"There isn't any fresh trouble, is there?" she asks, noting all at once the haggard look in his face.

Then he tells her suddenly and abruptly, almost roughly, making the worst of it almost in his self-reproach and misery, sparing himself nothing, pouring it all out in a whirlwind of despair.

"Now you know the sort of man you have promised to marry!" he says, with sudden fierceness. "A gambler, and a gambler who cannot meet his engagements! No Bouverie ever disgraced himself like that before. You had better say good-by to me, Barbara. Your aunt was right—I am not fit match for you!"

Barbara's cheeks are pale enough now.

George leans the bicycle against a tree, and leads her across the grass to a wood, where the green moss grows in feathery tufts like sofa pillows, and where here and there the celandine is lifting its sparkling, spring-like face, the birds filling the air with song. All the world appears full of hope and promise; hope seems everywhere but in the heart of George Bouverie.

Barbara's eyes are slowly filling with tears, but what is that in woman's love that makes her then more tender to the erring and more lenient to the failures, so ready to forgive?

She and George have seated themselves on a fallen tree, and she is the comforter. His hand is held to her bosom, her face, full of love and pity, is upturned, with the tears quivering on her lashes.

"I feel as if I could shoot myself!" George cries passionately. "Sweetheart, I have only brought sorrow on you."

Barbara looks at him bravely.

"George, when I promised to marry you, it was to be for better, for worse. It is the same as if we were married now. I am glad you have told me your trouble. It is very dreadful; I hardly understand what it means; but, my dearest, I will help you to bear it."

How sweet are her words, how earnest the pure and lovely face!

George only groans.

Barbara does not know of the mire of difficulties that so nearly submerge him.

He turns his haggard gaze on her.

"Nothing can help me, unless I get a hundred pounds; and what I feel most is what this will mean to my poor mother."

He might have thought of this before, but Barbara does not say so; only leans her cheek against his shoulder, and looks away at the golden sea of daffodils that flutter so gaily in the March sunshine.

"I would rather release you," George says huskily. "I shall have to go abroad or somewhere."

"I will go with you," Barbara says, in a sweet, unsteady voice. "You cannot give me up, George, for I won't be given up unless you do not care for me any longer."

"I must love you till I die!" cries poor George, love and remorse making him well-nigh desperate.

But even Barbara cannot raise his spirits. Nothing can lift the gloom from his face. A trouble like this takes the life out of a man. The girl puts her arm about his neck and draws his grave, unhappy face down to hers.

"George, after this you will never bet on those horrid horses again? Once this trouble passes away—and it will pass, dear—you will be brave. I think, George—— Oh, I don't know how to say it! But do you remember the preacher in the square? He said God will help people to resist temptation even in the little things of everyday life."

"That is rubbish!" George returns, answering her caress. "My old mother talks that sort of nonsense. I don't believe she buys a new bonnet without asking for guidance as to the color of the ribbon." He laughs a mirthless laugh. "It stands to reason, darling. I don't look on a mess like mine as what mother calls a chastening of the Lord. I have brought it all on myself, worse luck! and I don't expect a miracle to get me out of the hold. My Barbara, my own love, you've lost your heart to a worthless sort of chap. Even Sebastian Saville—but, no! I would hang myself if I were his wife!"

The misery seems darkening every moment. That awful promissory note, given to pay that wretched racing debt, is ever in his mind. Not even Barbara's love can help him now!

He stands up, a tall, splendid figure, in tweed knickerbockers; so goodly to look upon, so wretched and unhappy, as his haggard face shows.

"I have only about a fortnight," he says, as together they walk back to where Barbara left her bicycle. "After that, oh, my darling, what am I to do?"

Barbara's heart echoes the cry. Her face is as sad as his as she wheels away in the sunlight; and George, thrusting his hands in his pockets and sinking his head on his chest, walks slowly back to the house.

CHAPTER IV.

Mr. Saville's answer has come. It is not in the least what Barbara expected. It is a very short letter, and out of it falls a cheque for two hundred pounds. And there is nothing about her engagement at all, except a casual allusion to the danger of flirtations that can end in nothing. And Barbara is to come out to Tasmania at once, by the next steamer that sails after she receives the letter. The two hundred pounds is to purchase an outfit and defray the expenses of the voyage.

Mrs. Saville also receives a letter, which is possibly more lengthy, and may contain more information than the communication to Barbara, in which her father only says he is lonely and wants her to manage his household for him.

Mrs. Saville looks keenly at her niece as she sees her reading the letter, while the color forsakes her face. And Sebastian watches Barbara, too.

"Father wants me to go out to him," Barbara says, lifting her great, troubled eyes. In her heart she knows that this command is only to separate her from George.

Mrs. Saville folds up her own letter.

"Yes, so your father says. He thinks you are old enough now to be at the head of his house; but we will miss you, dear. And I see he expects you to start at once. He mentions the steamer that some friends of his are going out by. Every thing will be dreadfully hurried. We must go to London in a day or so and get your things."

Barbara sits white and miserable. To leave George, that is her one thought—to put thousands of miles between them! The thought is intolerable; but not till breakfast is over, and Sebastian, with another incomprehensible look, has lounged out of the room, does Barbara speak. Then she looks at her aunt.

"Aunt Julia, does father say nothing about George? You know we are engaged."

Mrs. Saville smiles rather provokingly.

"I do not think your father has any objection to your considering yourself engaged. He hardly mentions the subject.

Barbara's color rises. She is to be treated as a child, then, who has set its heart on possessing the moon, and every one knows it is nonsense!

"I will go out to father as he wishes," she says, proudly, "but when I am of age I will marry George Bouverie; so there will only be a year to wait, and then nobody can make any objection.

"I was not aware that any one had objected," Mrs. Saville returns. "I have not tried to prevent your engaging yourself to any one.

Barbara's lip quivers. This tacit ignoring of her engagement is hard to bear.

Mrs. Saville, who has no sympathy with her, proceeds to discuss Barbara's clothes.

"You will want some gowns," she says. "I am sure I do not know what kind of things you will want. I believe it is a nice climate; but I fancy some one told me there is always east wind, and that is so trying.

But Barbara can take no interest in her clothes.

"I have plenty of things. I shall only get a deck chair," she says, almost crossly, for this banishment to the other side of the world is very hard to endure. Besides, her nerves are on the rack on account of George Bouverie's troubles.

"Your father has sent you a check for your expenses," Mrs. Saville says presently. And Barbara says "Yes," and no more.

Mrs. Saville gathers up her letters and rises from the table.

"I must go and tell Mason to commence packing. Really, it is hardly fair to make you start at a minute's notice; but the steamer your father names sails in a few days, and we have to meet these people who are to take care of you."

Barbara bursts into tears. She is stung to a pitch of excitement, and can only realize the one awful fact—she must say good-by to George and leave him in his trouble.

"My dear, there is nothing to cry for," Mrs. Saville says, crossing the room in her trailing garments, and leaving it as Sebastian enters.

(To be Continued.)

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

When answering advertisements please mention this paper.

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

DES MOINES, June 18, 1900.

The keys of the new auditorium of Drake University were formally turned over by ex-Governor Drake to the treasurer of the university, J. B. Burton, of Des Moines, a few days ago. The exercises which marked the formal dedication were among the best of commencement week at the university. There was an immense audience, almost exhausting the seating capacity of the new auditorium, estimated at nearly twelve hundred persons. Ex-Governor Drake sat upon the platform, conspicuous among the distinguished speakers and visitors of the day.

At the fourteenth annual meeting of the Iowa Bankers' Association, J. E. Markley declared in an address that "the bankruptcy law is inimical to the interests of bankers. It was not designed to benefit bankers. There is no provision for any banker becoming a voluntary bankrupt. The law does not hold the banker in the same tender regard as others debtors. The insolvent banker who incurs new debts is to-day regarded as a criminal and may be punished by imprisonment. The insolvent tradesman may incur debts with impunity."

The state association of Swine Breeders and the national association of Expert Judges held a profitable meeting in Des Moines. Both conventions will meet in Des Moines during the month of June next year. The national association elected officers as follows: President, A. M. Caldwell, New Holland, Ill.; secretary, W. M. Lambing, West Liberty, Ia. The state association will not elect officers until next fall, when they convene at this place in regular fall session. At the meeting of the state association a number of valuable papers were read, short discussions following each number. Hon. John Cownie delivered the address of welcome. He was followed by some of the representative breeders of the state and the nation, who discussed topics of interest to the members of both associations.

The Iowa Bankers' Association, at its recent session, elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, E. B. Huxford, cashier Cherokee State bank, Cherokee; vice-president, C. B. Mills, president State Security bank, Davenport, Secretary, J. M. Dinwiddie, cashier Cedar Rapids Savings bank, Cedar Rapids; treasurer, L. F. Potter, cashier First National bank, Oakland.

Another piece of good fortune has come to Drake university. At the recent meeting of the board of trustees Ex-Governor Drake announced that Dr. E. J. Toof of New Haven had forwarded him $25,000 with which to endow a chair in Drake university to be known as the E. J. and Mary Toof chair. The gift was secured through the personal influence of Ex-Governor Drake, who has been a life-long friend of Dr. Toof and was associated with him when he lived in Fort Madison. It is thought the money can go into the general endowment fund but for the present a part of it will be applied on the chair of Old Testament and New Testament history.

Some time ago State Dairy Commissioner Norton asked the attorney general for an opinion as to whether wholesale dealers in milk should be regarded as milk dealers under the law and as such subjected to the regular license fee. Mr. Remley has advised the dairy department that any person selling milk in cities of ten thousand population or over, whether by wholesale or retail, must comply with the law governing the industry, and is therefore subject to the same license fee exacted of retail dealers.

The cannon which was sent to Des Moines by the war department some time ago, consigned to Mayor MacVicar, has been turned over to Curator Aldrich, hauled to the historical grounds and placed in position for the time being immediately in front of the new building. It is of bronze and is said to be a valuable old piece.

The proceedings in the liquor contempt cases have been certified up to the supreme court, and a decision will probably be rendered upon them in October. These are the cases in which Judge Prouty recently held that charges of contempt could not be prosecuted against liquor men against whom injunctions had been secured prior to the adoption of the new code. The attorney general is interested in the appeal from the decision of the Polk county court on account of its far reaching influence in affecting the thousands of such cases in the state.

George A. Newman, of Cedar Falls, has been appointed assistant adjutant general for the department of Iowa, Grand Army of the Republic. He succeeds L. M. Black, of Ireton, who has been adjutant for the past year under Commander Bailey. Mr. Newman has been secretary of the state senate for several sessions and is a very popular gentleman. He was commander of the department one year, and is thoroughly familiar with its workings. The encampment cut off the clerk hire of the office, so that all its work will devolve upon him and keep him busy.

Work has been begun on replacing the slate roof of the state house—that is that portion of it which the recent wind storm tore off. Sheets were torn off on the northwest, southwest and southeast corners and the splintered slate scattered all over the ground. The repairs will cost about $500.

The cathedral at Ulm, Wurtemburg, has the highest church spire in the world. It is 530 feet above the street level.

VEILED WAR NOW EXISTS.

Members of Foreign Legation Imprisoned at Peking.

LONDON, June 16.—This is the situation in China as it appears to the Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Express:

"It is really a state of veiled war. The members of the foreign legations in Peking are virtually prisoners, and the Chinese troops are only restrained from attacking them by fear of the legation guards.

"Meanwhile, the ministers are altogether unable to communicate with the officers commanding the relief column, which is making an enforced and isolated halt between Tien Tsin and Peking. The walls of the capital are guarded by 100,000 imperial troops. The gates are heavily defended with modern guns. General Tung, acting under orders from the empress dowager, says no more foreign troops shall enter the sacred city.

"On Monday the ministers sent a demand to the tsung-li-yamen that the gates be opened, declaring that otherwise the foreign troops would enter forcibly. To this no reply was given. A second message went unanswered or had not been answered when the latest news left Peking.

"Sir Claude MacDonald's latest message says that the legations are capable of sustaining an effective defense unless attacked in force."

RUSSIA IS DETERMINED.

Evidently Insists on the Dismemberment of China.

LONDON, June 15.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says:

"A report has reached here that the British, American and Japanese ministers favor the restoration of Emperor Kwang Su, but that the French and Russian ministers insist upon the powers taking charge of China. It is further reported that the respective divisions of the country have already been assigned. The belief is that the withdrawal of the British ships from Yang-Tse-Kiang is an indication of Great Britain's disclaimer of the 'sphere theory.'

"Later reports from Tien Tsin confirm the news of the burning of the Japanese legation, but the rumor that a minister has been murdered is not confirmed. Fifteen hundred Russians with four guns have arrived outside of Peking. This makes 4,000 Russians who have landed.

"It is regarded as certain that the Japanese government will take active steps concerning the murder of the chancellor of the Japanese legation."

KAISER WINS HIS POINT.

Bundesrath Passes Navy Bill to Increase Germany's Navy.

BERLIN, June 15.—The bundesrath has approved the navy bill and the measures providing means to carry out the projected plans as already passed by the reichstag. Emperor William, who is said to be delighted at the result, has signed the bill, and the Reichsanzeiger will immediately publish it, thus making it law. It is reported that the kaiser, when news that the bill had passed was wired him, exclaimed: "Now we know where we stand. At last there is solid bottom under one's feet."

Chairman Jones' Opinion.

CHICAGO, June 16.—The following statement by Chairman Jones, of the democratic national committee, was published by the Tribune:

"I believe that Colonel William J. Bryan will carry every state he carried in 1896, and moreover will carry Kentucky and Maryland. He has a splendid chance in Indiana, Ohio and New York. The great fight will be in New York and Ohio, and we have gained in both states since the last national campaign. The Pacific coast is stronger today for Colonel Bryan than in 1896. Kansas and Colorado will be carried, and the situation in the two Dakotas is most encouraging."

Kraals Full of Skeletons.

LONDON, June 17.—Reports just received here from the White House-Harrison expedition to Abyssinia, which safely returned to Mombasa, on the east coast of Africa, June 10, show that the explorers found the districts around Lakes Rudolph and Stephanie deserted, the inhabitants having either died or left the country. It is added that the kraals were discovered to be full of skeletons.

Will Fight to the Finish.

ST. LOUIS, June 18.—Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, announced that negotiations between the St. Louis Transit Company and the strikers' union, looking to a settlement of the strike on the basis proposed by the union in mass meeting Friday, were off, and that the fight will now be waged to the end.

Street Cars Running at St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, June 16.—The police department has withdrawn from all the cars and power houses of the St. Louis Transit company and returned to their regular beats. The Transit company continues to augment its force of non-union employes and its transportation facilities at a ratio that promises to see the system in full swing before many more days have passed.

Japanese Are Aroused.

YOKOHAMA, June 16.—The murder of the Japanese chancellor of the legation at Peking by the Chinese imperial troops has aroused keen feeling in Japan. The press urges the government to exact ample reparation. Eight warships are to be sent to Taku.

"They say that Dr. Doce is losing his practice." "No wonder. He hasn't begun to prescribe a trip to the Paris Exposition."

The Typewriter Invention.

A statistician has proven that the invention of the typewriter has given employment to 500,000 people, but he fails to state how many cases of weak stomach it has induced. All people of sedentary occupation need Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. It helps nature to bear the strain which ensues from confinement.

A favorite expression—"I love you best of all."

Ladies Can Wear Shoes.

One size smaller after using Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder. It makes tight or new shoes easy. Cures swollen, hot, sweating, aching feet, ingrowing nails, corns and bunions. All druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE by mail. Address Allen S Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

Marine men say they would like to be the ice man.

A Book of Choice Recipes

Sent free by Walter Baker & Co. Ltd., Dorchester, Mass. Mention this paper.

Soft silk sashes fringed at the ends are very rich.

FREE GOVERNMENT LANDS.

There are still thousands of acres of government lands in the states of Washington and Oregon, also prairie and timber lands near railroad or water communication, that can be bought for $5 per acre and upwards. Finest climate in the United States. No failure of crops. If you wish to raise grain or the finest stock on earth, you will find locations in these two states where you can do this to perfection. Take your choice. I have no lands for sale, but if you want information where it is best to locate, call on me when in St. Paul or write me at corner Third and Rosabel streets, St. Paul, Minn.

R. E. WERKMAN.

Wood pulp paper is used in military clothing.

A creed may be either a compass or a straightjacket.

Beautiful Fine Linen

Is best preserved by the use of Maple City Self Washing Soap. All grocers.

A new bible has been published in London in which the New Testament precedes the Old.

There Is a Class of People

Who are injured by the use of coffee Recently there has been placed in all the grocery stores a new preparation called GRAIN-O, made of pure grains, that takes the place of coffee. The most delicate stomach receives it without distress, and but few can tell it from coffee. It does not cost over one-fourth as much. Children may drink it with great benefit. 15 cents and 25 cents per package. Try it. Ask for GRAIN-O.

An Ellsworth (Maine) man recently found in his garden a petrified potato.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is a constitutional cure. Price, 75c.

The queen's footmen wear wigs which have eight rolls of curls.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES produce the fastest and brightest colors of any known dye stuff.

A mule seldom does harm, because he is always watched.

I do not believe Piso's Cure for Consumption has an equal for coughs and colds.—JOHN F BOYER, Trinity Springs, Ind., Feb. 15, 1900.

A dash of black is considered smart on hats, gowns, and corsages.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.

Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

Washing a pig will not make it stop liking mud.

Washing Day Made Easy

By using Maple City Self Washing Soap. Try it once and you will use no other. All good grocers sell it.

Unstrong—"Did he prove to be a strong candidate?" "No, the second assessment broke him."

The Turn of Life

This is a critical period in the life of every woman and no mistakes should be made.

The one recognized and reliable help for women who are approaching and passing through this wonderful change is

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

That the utmost reliance can be placed upon this great medicine is testified to by an army of grateful women who have been helped by it.

Mrs. Pinkham, who has the greatest and most successful experience in the world to qualify her, will advise you free of charge. Her address is Lynn, Mass. Write to her.

Fine Ranch

Property For Sale

800 Acres in the best part of North Dakota. Good buildings protected by timber; 600 acres of unfailing hay land; large lake; part of land can be broken and cropped for feed. Ranch will accommodate 500 head of stock. For maps and particulars write immediately to

This Offer is Limited in Time and Must Be Taken Advantage of at Once.

C. A. GRETTUM
RUGBY, N. DAK.

BABY'S BAWLS

MAM-M-MA!!
DON'T YOU HEAR BABY CRY?

Do you forget that summer's coming with all its dangers to the little ones—all troubles bred in the bowels.

The summer's heat kills babies and little children because their little insides are not in good, clean, strong condition.

Winter has filled the system with bile. Belching, vomiting up of sour food, rash, flushed skin, colic, restlessness, diarrhoea or constipation, all testify that the bowels are out of order.

If you want the little ones to face the coming dangers without anxious fear for their lives, see that the baby's bowels are gently, soothingly, but positively cleaned out in the spring time, and made strong and healthy before hot weather sets in.

The only safe laxative for children, pleasant to take (they ask for more) is CASCARETS. Nursing mothers make their milk mildly purgative for the baby by eating a CASCARET now and then. Mama eats a CASCARET, baby gets the benefit. Try it! Send for a 10c box of CASCARETS to-day and you will find that, as we guarantee, all irregularities of the little and big childrens insides are

CURED BY

Cascarets

CANDY CATHARTIC

BEST FOR THE BOWELS

10c. 25c. 50c.

ALL DRUGGISTS

To any needy mortal suffering from bowel troubles and too poor to buy CASCARETS we will send a box free. Address Sterling Remedy Company, Chicago or New York, mentioning advertisement and paper.

B. C R. & N. TIME TABLE.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 708. B Pass.	7:55	p. m.
No. 796 A Stock	9:50	a m.
No. 742. B Freight	3:45	p. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 701. B Pass. -	1:32	p. m.
No. 741. B Way freight	9:50	a. m.

B—Daily except Sunday
A—Daily except Monday

☞"Freight trains shown above will carry passengers only when provided with tickets."

F. G. REESE, Local Agt.

WM. H. HUGHES
LAWYER.

Accounts and notes collected. Practice in all courts. Office in Schuler block.

GARNER IOWA.

JAMES YOUNG
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER.

Will cry sales and guarantee satisfaction, 15 years experience. Dates and terms at office of Klemme TIMES.

Telephone or address

Garner Iowa.

J. N. SPROLE,
REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND ABSTRACTS.

Titles examined and corrected, Taxes paid, etc.

GARNER - - - IOWA.

A. L. SPOONER.
Physician and Surgeon.

Office first door west of Shafer & Dow's Store. Residence just back of the German Reform Church. Office hours 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.

Klemme, Iowa.

A. SNYDER,
DRAYMAN.

Having purchased the Bartholomew dray line I solicit a share of your work. Prompt attention given to all work: Charges reasonable.

KLEMME, IOWA.

Ladies

We have just received an entirely new line of Shirt Waists and Wrappers---Sure to Please.

NEW PRINTS
CAMBRICS
PERCALES
FANCY WHITE
DRESS GOODS

Gentlemen,

Those neat, Nobby Hats you see were purchased of Shafer & Dow, who keep the biggest Stock and Newest Styles.

Yours to please.

Shafer & Dow

KLEMME.

THE KLEMME TIMES
By G. L. WELLEMEYER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme, Iowa, as second class matter

Republican County Convention.

The republican voters of Hancock county will meet in delegate convention at Garner, Iowa, on Saturday, June 2nd, 1900 at 1 o'clock p. m. for the purpose of selecting delegates to a state convention to be called, and also to select delegates to a judicial convention to be called and to transact such other business as may properly come before the convention.

The basis of representation in said con ention will be one delegate for eac township and one for each twenvotes or major fraction thereof 1for L. M. Shaw for governor at general election held November 7, 9. The townships will be entitled to representation as follows:

Amsterdam	7	Ell	5
Avery	7	Erin	5
Britt	21	Garfield	3
Bingham	5	German	4
Boone	4	Magor	8
Corwith Precinct 2		Madison	5
Concord	12	Orthel	5
Crystal	6	Twin Lakes	4
Ellington	7.

It is recommended that the different townships hold their caucuses on Saturday, May 26, 1900.

F. E. BLACKSTONE,
Chairman.

COUNTY ATTORNEY.

I hereby announce mysely a candidate for County Attorney, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the primaries.

J. E. WICHMAN.

COUNTY RECORDER.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for renomination to the office of County Recorder of Hancock county, Iowa, subject to the Republican Primaries of 1900.

OLE PETERLON.

COUNTY AUDITOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-nomination to the office of County Auditor subject to the decision of the Republican Primaries.

E. F. BRUMMUND:

CLERK OF DISTRICT COURT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-nomination to the office of Clerk of the District Court of Hancock county, Iowa, subect to the Republican Primaries of 1900.

L. D. WOMELDORF.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern
RAILROAD EXCURSIONS.

ANOTHER CHANCE.

On the first and third Tuesday of May and June, homeseekers' tickets will be on sale at rate of a Single Fare plus $2 for the round trip to the variou parts of the country. For rates, limits territory, etc., call on nearest agent or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

VERY LOW RATES.

The B C R & N Ry will make very low rates to Sioux Fall, S. D. for the A O U W meeting in June. Call on your ticket agent for rates, limits etc and see that your tickets read via this line. Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia.—jun12

GAING TO PARIS.

Then let us give you valuable information segarding your trip. We can render you good service and ticket you right through from all stations on our line via New York and any of the steamship lines. Call on agents of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway, or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Reduced Rates to the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Reduced round trip rates are now in effect to the nation's great resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas, owned, controlled by the United States Government for the cure of a score of human ills. Beautiful winter, 200 hotels and boarding houses of all grades. Ask nearest ticket agent for particulars, or Mr. John G. Farmer, A. G. P. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia. For illustrated books of information address Bureau of Information, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

NEW CHAIR CAR SERVICE.

Between Watertown, Ellsworth and Chicago via. B. C. R. & N. Ry. Commencing Sunday Nov. 19th, a free reclining chair car will be placed on trains Nos. 608 and 605 between Watertown and Chicago by the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. This car leaves Watertown daily, except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. arriving at Chicago 7:59 the following morning. This car runs to and from Sioux Falls Sundays, thus giving daily chair car service between Ellsworth and Chicago. Passengers going east from Chicago will have ample time to make any transfers to connect with all morning eastern trains.

These trains are very fast, and, with this new additional service, passengers can feel assured of first class accommodations. JNO. G. FARMER,
Cedar Rapids, Ia.

As is its custom, the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway has arranged for reduced rates to a large number of important places for the coming summer, among which we mention the following most prominent:

North Manchester, Ind.—Annual Meeting German Baptist (Cunkers) May 29:June 8.

St. Louis, Mo.——Annual Meeting General Assembly of the Presdyterian church, May 17-31.

Washington, D. C.-Annual Meeting Imperial Council, Ancient Arrabic Order, Nobles of the Mystic Shrine, May 22-24.

Siouq Ealls, S. D.—National Gathering Supreme and Superior Lodges of the Ancient Order of United Workmen June 9-20.

Philadelphia, Penn.——Republican National Convention June 19.

Charleston, S. C.—Annual meeting of the National Educational Association July 7-13.

Cincinnatti, O—Baptist Young People's Union of America July 12-15.

Chicago Ill.—National Encampment G. A. R. August 27-Sept. 1.

Detroit, Mich.—Biennial Conclave Knights of Pythias, Bug. 27-Sept. 1.

St. Paul, Minn. Biennial Convention National Republican League of the United States, July 17-19.

Summer tourist tickets will be on sale May 15, to resorts in different parts of the country, and important information can be obtained by calling on any ticket agent or writing to the undersigned. Send for copy of booklet entitled "Okoboji Outing."—Jno. G. Farmer, A G P & T A, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. jul31.

TO CURE A COLD WHILE YOU SLEEP.

Take "Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

For the Prohibition National Convention at Chicago, June 27-28 the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway will sell round trip tickets from all points at very favorable rates. Call on any agent of the company for full information.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN ONE NIGHT.

Or to quickly cure La Grippe take "Week-Break-a-cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

Home Seekers Excursion Tickets will be ot sale the first and third Tuesdays of each month at all staeions of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway Company to various parts of the country at a low rate. Call on any agent of the Cedar Rapids Route or address, Jno. G. Farmer' A G P & T A., B C R & N Ry., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. dec18.

FONRH OF JULY RATES.

On July 3 and 4 the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway will sell excursion tickets at low rates to points within 200 miles of selling station, good returning until July 5 inclusive. Apply to any agent of the Cedar Rapids Route,

Senator Fairbanks of Indiana, who wrote the report, which he afterwards submitted to the Senate, recommending the passage of the bill to extradite Meeley, also of Indiana. It is a strong argument in support of the administration's policy of probing the Cuban scandal to the bottom, and doing it promptly.

The protective United States furnished last year 19.25 per cent. of all the steel produced in the world and 34.56 percent of all the pig iron. Free trade Great Britain produced only 18.44 per cent of the steel and 23.61 per cent of the pigiron.

It is fortunate that president McKinley had an opportunity to explain to the Boer envoys that the United States was the only country that had interceded with England on their behalf, although the Boer government had appealed to all nations. There is no doubt that the envoys now here have found that misrepresentation had been made them in regard to the sentiment in this country, and they cannot fail to have noticed the difference between the statsmanship and bearing of our Presinent and Secretary of State as compared with that of the Lentzes and Sulzers with whom they were thrown into contact.

MID-SEASON SALE.

PARISIAN PATTERN PRODUCTIONS.

OF FINEST MILLINERY.

We are bound to reduce our stock and from now on Price cuts no Figure. The goods must go regardless of cost or profit.

RIBBONS at YOUR OWN PRICE

This is not a Cleaning cut sale of old odds and ends, but a sacrifice sale of everything in the store.

IT BEGINS TO-DAY

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

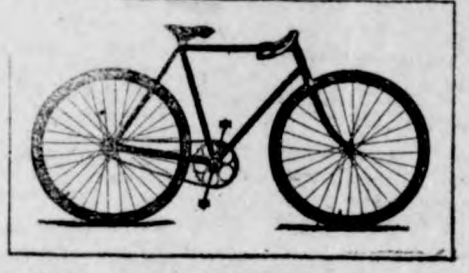
M. W. LYNCH, :: M. S. GILMAN

LYNCH & GILMAN,
STROUD, OKLAHOMA,
REAL ESTATE AND LOAN BROKER.

WHY PAY RENT?
OWN YOUR OWN FARM!

It is the highth of folly for a man to pay exhorbitant rents when he can go to Oklahoma and buy a fine farm at from $5 per acre up. Well watered; near good markets; mild and healthful climate and crop failure unknown. Plenty of natural timber and coal. We have for sale a well selected list of choice improved and unimproved farms and would like to talk with you. Excursions 1st and 3rd Tuesday of each month. NOW is the time before the "SNAPS" are all taken. For rates, terms, excursions etc., call on or address, M. S. GILMAN, Klemme, Iowa, or M. W. LYNCH, ST. LOUIS HOTEL, STROUD, OKLAHOMA.

BICYCLES



OUR 1900 WHEELS ARE NOT FREAKS,

——But good, common sense machines, built of the best material that money can buy and codstructed in the most simple manner by skilled workmen. Good, strong, honest bicycles, as near

Fool Proof

as possible. We sell good, strong, honest, straight machines that are easy to ride and hard to break. Six makes of standard wheels always on hand. Old wheels bought and sold. Repairing done on short notice. A complete line of sundries always on hand.

KANAWHA, IOWA. L. HAEFNER.

$1 THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN $1

LARGEST CIRCULATION OF ALL POLITICAL PAPERS IN THE WEST

Always American——Always Republican

THE WEEKLY INTER OCEAN SUPPLIES ALL THE NEWS AND BEST CURRENT LITERATURE

Every Column is Bright, Clean and Packed with News

The Literature of its columns is equal to that of the best magazines. It is interesting to the children as well as the parents.

THE INTER OCEAN is a WESTERN NEWSPAPER, and while it brings to the family THE NEWS OF THE WORLD and gives its readers the best and ablest discussions of all questions of the day, it is in full sympathy with the ideas and aspirations of Western people and discusses literature and politics from the Western standpoint.

——$1.00—PRICE ONE DOLLAR PER YEAR—$1.00——

$1 THE DAILY AND SUNDAY EDITIONS OF THE INTER OCEAN ARE THE BEST EVER SEEN IN THE WEST. $1

THE INTER OCEAN'S NEWS IS EXCLUSIVE.

Price of Daily by mail ..... $4.00 per year
Price of Sunday by mail ..... $2 00 per year
Daily and Sunday by mail ..... $6.00 per year

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hogs wanted six days in the week. W. R. Bloom.

Republican Primaries.

The Republican County primary election for the purpose of nominating County Auditor, Recorder, Clerk District Court, County Attorney, Supervisor of district number one and Supervisor of district number four, will be held in the different townships of the county on Saturday June 30th, 1900.

The names of all candidates for the above offices, who have paid their assessments will be placed on the ticket at a meeting to be held in Britt, Iowa, on Wednesday Juue 20, 1900, at 1 o'clock p. m., under the direction of the chairman and secretary of the county central committee.

The rules governing the primaries will be substantially the same as those previously adopted.

C. R. WOOD, Sec.
F. E. BLACKSTONE, Chairman.

Britt will celebrate the 4th.

Rooms to rent—LAU BROS.

Choice flax seed for sale at Aug. Lau & Son.

Men's and boy's crash suits at Shafer & Dow.

R. M. Day and Aug. Lau are hob-nobbing with the Populists in Dakota this week.

FOR SALE:—Residence property in Barz addition to Klemme. Inquire of H. S. Swarz.

A few settings of Buff Cochin eggs—pure bloods—75c per 15. H. E. Pietzke.

A good second hand upright piano for sale.

E. P. SCHAEFER.

Aug. Lau & Son shipped two cars of hogs to Chicago Sunday morning.

FOR SALE:—A good six-room house with one acre of ground, trees and small fruit, nicely located, easy terms. Inquire of H. C. LAU, Klemme, Iowa.

For Sale!—240 acre farm three miles east of Klemme, all under cultivation, buildings, etc. For prices and terms, call on or address, M. S. Gilman, Klemme, Iowa.

The Deere and Sandwich hay loaders are the best in the market. Go to Gruetzmacher Bros. if you need hay tools of any kind—McCormick and Standard mowers are the best.

Found at last! A high grade liquid paint that is equal to lead and oil in wearing quality, and superior in covering qualities. and will weigh more to the gallon than any mixed paint on the market. For sale by J. L. Harr,

FLY NETS:—Good nets, poor nets, indifferent nets; nets that will keep the flies off and nets that wont; nets that are too nice and some not pretty enough; nets that costs lots of money and those that we almost give away. We have the finest line ever put on the market at prices that will make them go.

F. GRUETZMACHER.

A FAMOUS CORSET.

"Cresco" is the name of this corset and we control the sale of it for this section. Costs no more than old style corsets, and it cannot break at the waist line. One trial will convince you of its superior merits. Shafer & Dow.

John Hartfelder went to Estherville on business Monday.

R. M. Brisco was a pleasant caller at our sanctum Tuesday.

Sheriff Gartin was transacting business in Klemme yesterday.

J. L. Harr and family visited with relatives at Belmond last Sunday.

Aug. Wellmann, Garner's popular liveryman, was in town on business Monday.

Hank Church and wife are the proud parents of a fine baby boy dating from Tuesday.

W. R. Bloom made a business trip to Cedar Rapids the first of the week returning Tuesday.

The "coffee coolers' who went to the encampment at Davenport last week arrive home safely on Friday.

Mrs. Lewis, who has been so very ill for several weeks, is improving daily and we hope will soon be about again.

Ben Kaste and sitser Miss May of Charles City, arrived in Klemme Wednesday, for a visit with relatives.

Miss Dunlap returned to her home in Belmond Saturday, having completed her years' work as teacher in the Klemme school

Mrs. O. S. Dow and her mother, Mrs. Groom, and Miss Ada Dow of Garner, visited with relatives in Klemme the first of the week.

We were in error last week in saying that G. I. Schaper went to Chicago with cattle. It was Wm. who went, and his cattle brought a good price.

The supreme court has decided that our neighbors chickens are wild fowl when off of the owners premises. We'll have chicken for dinner next Sunday.

The German M. E. district campmeeting begins to-day in G. P. Merten's grove, northwest of here about seven miles. A number of ministers from abroad will be present.

Messers Wm. Lau, Schoper and Julius Henschen were fishing at Clear Lake Tuesday. Although they had only fair success, they did not forget to leave a few fine bass at our disposal. Thanks.

There will be a hot time in our town next Tuesday afternoon. Garner's famous balltossers will shut out Klemme without a run. Our neighbors from the north want a practice game before the 4th, and their manager has picked out Klemme as an easy mark. "Don't count your chickens, ect."

A fond parent with her darling on her knee was astonished at the answer she received to some of her questions. "My child, where do good girls go when they die?" "To heaven of course." "My child, where do bad girls go?" "To the depot to see the traveling men come in."

We learn through one who is qualified to speak knowingly that the much talked of railroad from Des Moines to Britt and north, is but the scheme of a certain real estate dealer, to enhance the value of his many farms along the line of survey—in fact' only two streaks of rust on his fertile brain for revenue only.

Employment for the Summer is now the question for many men; it is time to decide; you can make money selling our complete assortment of fruit and ornamental stock for fall delivery. Write for terms. Address:—The Jewel Nursery Co., Lake City, Minn. Established in '68. One thousand acres

All of the liars are not dead. An artist at Goodeli painted a dog so natural that he had hydrophobia during hot weather. One at Britt painted a bottle of beer so natural that the cork flew out just as he was finishing it. Another at Garner, painted a picture of his first baby so natural that it cried and his wife spanked it before she discovered her mistake.

H. J. Klemme of Belmond, was looking after his business interests here Monday. Some of the business men talked with him about ground for a park and we are assured that Mr. Klemme is anxious to do his part towards the enterprise. Let not this matter be set aside until we have received a definite proposition for consideration.

The kids who eloped from Belmond about a week ago were apprehended and taken in charge by officers about 40 miles south of Des Moines. There is an object lesson for the mothers who allow their daughters to go out in "sassiety" before they know enough to keep their nose clean. Think of it. Sweet sixteen and ruined; the subject of ribald jesting, of slurs and insinuations, an outcast. Christian people will cry unclean, the unbelieving do worse. Charity, where is thy virtue? There should be pity rather than blame.

BRACKETT AT STONY POINT.

ELL CENTER.

Will Lawrence was a business caller here last Saturday.

Wm. Henderson was called to Ohio on business last week.

Delos Clapper of Aredale visited his best girl here Sunday.

Koerner Bros put in a durable fence for Wm. Guth last week.

Misses Ford and Christie of Garner, visited friends here last week.

Mrs. Allen is trying her luck with a large wooden hen—200 egg size.

Miss Hubbard closed her term of school in the Groesbeck district last Friday.

Children's day was very appropriately observed at Pleasant Mound last Sunday.

Miss Josie Carothers of Garner, is visiting her friend, Maggie Moore, this week.

Strawberries and new potatoes for an important item in the bill of fare now-a-days.

Henry Schwarz has built an addition to his barn on the Barz place which he is farming.

Frank Glanville who resides in the southern part of the state is visiting his parents here.

Mrs. Isaac Ptacek of Duncan, visitend her parents, Mr. and Mrs James Fialla, last Thursday.

Mrs. James Brozik was on the sick list last week but is better at this writing, under Dr. Spooner's care.

The school board met at the Center school house Saturday A great many claims were presented and allowed.

John Walker's new windmill on a 75-foot tower looms up in great shape. H. W. Schoper sold the mill and built the tower.

Rev. Bell will expound the Gospel to saints and sinners at the Gilbert school house next Sabbath. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

The campaigh has begun and every republican voter in the state should read a good republican daily. The Cedar Rapids Republican needs no introduction. It has stood for years as the foremost exponent of republican principles, and is conceded to be the republican paper in Iowa. It is known throughout the state as containing the ablest editorial page and its telegraph service is the best that can be procured. During the present campaign the Republican is making the following low rate. The daily 3 months $1—Semi-weekly 3 months 50c. Address, Republican, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Miss Myra Fuller and Aggie Monaghen, with their respective schools, gave a closing picnic Friday afternoon, June 15, in the grove south of town from which all report an enjoyable time. The program rendered by the pupils was much appreciated by the audience, the children performing their parts with the ease and ability of much larger pupils, showing the careful instruction given by their teachers. After the literary exercises a picnic dinner made the enjoyable event complete. Ice cream was served in the afternoon. Several kodak pictures were taken of the schools. We are sorry to state that Miss Fuller is going away, and the term of school just finished will be the last she will teach in this county. She is one of our best teachers and we regret her departure from her chosen vocation in this vicinity.

A Picnic in the Woods.

The English M. E. S. S., the Klemme Public schools, and Miss Terkufen's school joined forces, and assembled in the beautiful grove near Goodell last Friday, June 15, for the purpose of having a picnic. The day was all that could be desired.

Everyone knows that "Picnic in the woods" for the little folks is a good thing, and this fact was demonstrated by the attendance and well filled baskets. An elaborate program was prepared by the teachers and pupils of the Klemme school. Each one acquitted themselves with marked credit. The patriotic songs were well rendered, and by the enthusiastic way the children entered into the spirit of the music showed they were loyal little Americans, and true lovers of Uncle Sam. The primary pupils sang their little motion songs well, and received hearty applaus from their appreciative audience. The pupils in each department showed careful and earnest training. Mrs. Hawley, Miss Dunlap and Miss Steward, each gave readings and recitations which were well received.

After the rendition of part of the program, dinner was announced and it is needless to say every one did ample justice to the repast. Such an abundance of food spread for hungry folks to devour! How every one laughed, talked and enjoyed this part of the program. All faces, young and old were beaming with pleasure and delight. After the feast when uothing but remnants remained, a social hour or two was engaged in; the little ones skipped, ran, played games, heliooed until the echo resounded through forest and dale. After finishing the literary part of the program the happy ones dispersed to their different homes feeling it was good to have been there.

Parents, give your children another outing again soon.

* * *

CHAMPION DEFEATS THE McCORMICK

The Champion Wins at Every Point in a Public Contest at Arlington Heights, Ill., Thursday, June 14.

The Other Companies Were Also Challenged by the McCormick—Only the Champion Accepted.

Cook County Herald:—

We had a lively time in our villiage Thursday, June 14. The McCormick Harvester Company, through their Agent here, issued the following challenge, taking the precaution to mail a copy to the Champion company by registered letter.

CHAMPION BLUFF CALLED.

I hereby challenge the Champion Company or their local agent at Arlington Heights, also all competitors, to drive the cutter bar against a post and test the neck weight while doing so. Also to back the mower rapidly against a fixed obstruction.

I further challenge the Champion to lock bars, and cut grass the same height at the in and outer end of the bar, whether the bar is raised or lowered.

After submitting the mowers to the above test. I hereby challenge the Champion people to drive the same mower into the field and cut grass without further adjustment.

This challenge is gotten out in ample time to allow all competitors to go into the test, which is contrary to the Champion method, giving but a few minutes in which to prepare.

A. BLUM, Local Agent,

The McCormick Co. was represented in the test by F. Hewetol, special test expert, Mr. Ardery, special artist of the Chicago office and a number of other employes.

The Champion mower appeared on the street first and was soon followed by the McCormick. The McCormick men at the beginning of the test objected to Champion machine ,claiming it was specially prepared for the occasion, and the Champion men made the same charge against the Mccormick machine. The controversy was finally ended by thh champion men offering to allow the Mccormick men to select any champion draw cut mower out of the car of champion machines standing on the side track. This was done, and the Mccormick men were then obliged to substitute regular parts on their mower for special parrs which they had prepared. The Mccormick machine led off in the test by driving their cutter bar against a telegraph pole. The champion men objected to the test, as it was obvious the team did not pull the bar against the pole with any force, The champion was then driven into the post, and went in harder than the Mccormick, owing to the fact that they had a much heavier and stronger team. The wheels on the champion did not lift from the ground. The crowd present, about three hundred, were not satisfied with the Mccormick test of their mower in driving against a pole, but the Mccormick people refused to repeat the experiment and to go as hard as the champion had. The champion men then offered to allow the Mccormick men to drive the ceampion mower, and the champion driver to drive the Mccormick machine. This they refused ta permit. Then the Champion men suggested that the same team and driver be used on both mowers, team and drivers to be selected by the farmers present. This they refused to do. After a good deal of talk by all of the machine men present the champion people gave up their efforts to get the Mccormick people to drive into the post with any force, and then invited them to give an exhibition of lining up their cutter-bar. The champion men lined up their bar repeatedly until the crowd was satisfied. They then asked the Mc cormick to do the same which they refused to do, claiming it was not necessary, The champion endeavored to hold them to the point, but they wanted to lock bars, and this was the next test. Two heavy teams were procured and the mowers placed in opposite directions about four feet apart; a heavy chain was then attached to the outer shoe of each mower, and at the word both drivers lashed their horses. The champion team proved to be heavier and stronger than the Mc cormick team and dragged the Mc cormick mower and team backward over the enclosure twice, both drivers making the most frantic efforts to hold their own. Finally the champion team settled down to a steady pull, which resulted in the in the Mc cormick mower wheels raising, tipping the machine partly over, throwing the driver off the seat, (concluded next week.

The Klemme Times.

G. L. WELLEMEYER, Pub.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

The Illinois bride who barred all men from the wedding ceremony save the two necessary to the rite, may be expected to develop father-in-law antipathies.

It is said that every thread of a spider's web is made up of about 5,000 separate fibers. If a pound of this thread were required it would occupy 28,000 spiders a full year to furnish it.

If the example of the St. Louis man who committed suicide because he could not collect a debt due him should be generally followed, the mortality would be something terrible.

A case of leprosy in its worst form has been discovered in London. No hospital or home for incurables will take the patient in and no means of isolating him from contact with other persons has been found yet.

A Baltimore man has come forward with a proposition to establish a Boer colony in Maryland, and as a guarantee of good faith agrees to be one of twenty-five business men who shall raise a fund of $25,000 to organize and prosecute some plan whereby the Afrikanders may be brought to this country.

A fine example of man's triumphs over adverse natural conditions is to be seen in the Sahara. That region has long been identified with utter sterility and barrenness. Yet through the simple expedient of irrigation by artesian wells, more than twelve million acres of it have already been made abundantly fertile.

The right of petition is not a "glittering generality" when it expresses itself on paper a mile long. Residents of Australian gold fields to the number of twenty-eight thousand have signed a petition to the queen, praying to be delivered from certain grievances. Merit in such a case cannot be measured with a yardstick, but the dimensions of the document will be sure to count.

Probably the most novel regiment ever raised is that which has been recently formed at Wellington, New Zealand. The ladies of Wellington have formed themselves into a corps which has been given the appropriate title of New Zealand Amazons. They are girls of fine physique, being much above the average in height. The regiment is drilled according to military schedule, and their maneuvers have attracted considerable attention in the whole of the colony.

The filtration of the water supply of cities by means of sand filter-beds, or mechanical contrivances, has rapidly advanced in this country during the past ten years; but it is far more general in Great Britain than here. Mr. Allen Hazen, an authority on sanitary engineering, avers that the fact is fully established that the death rate from typhoid fever is materially lowered by the filtration of the water supply. In Great Britain, cities containing an aggregate population of more than 10,000,000 people use a sand-filtered water supply, and the result, it is claimed, is shown in London's freedom from typhoid. In this country only one-tenth of the towns and cities have filtered water.

The application of scientific irrigation methods has recently given a new development to rice culture in southwestern Louisiana, as explained in a bulletin of the department of agriculture. Rice requires wet lands, but on such lands harvesting machinery cannot be used. The difficulty has been met by flooding the dry prairie lands during the growth of the rice, and then draining them, by a system of pumps, canals and levees, when the crop is nearly ripe. On the drained lands it is possible to use reapers to harvest the rice; thus the cheap labor employed in foreign rice growing countries can be met by American machinery.

From Guam Capt. Leary reports that the evaporating plant is in excellent condition; that the steam saw mill has been erected and is ready to work, and that the telephone system between Piti and Agana is completed and is in successful operation. Officers of the Yosemite are engaged in topographical survey of the island. He sends the following financial statement, says the Army and Navy Journal: Amount in treasury July 1, 1899 (Mexican) $2,171.51; receipts (July 1 to Jan. 1, 1900), $9,415.25; expenditures (July 1 to Jan. 1, 1900), $6,767.69; amount in treasury Jan. 1, 1900, $4,819.07. The population of Guam is 8,661; 3,128 males over seven years of age, 3,680 women and 1,853 children.

THE NEWS IN IOWA

IOWA PROHIBITIONISTS.

State Convention at Des Moines Selects Delegates and State Candidates.

DES MOINES, June 14.—The delegates of the prohibition party at the state convention selected delegates-at-large as follows: Rev. Dr. E. L. Eaton, O. D. Ellett, Malcom Smith, J. H. Campbell, D. S. Dunlevey, Mrs. A. E. McMurray, A. U. Coates.

State officers were nominated as follows: For secretary of state, S. O. Pillsbury of Wright county; for treasurer of state, Dr. W. L. Ransom of Dallas county; for auditor of state, C. H. Lockin, of Cherokee county; for supreme judge, J. A. Harvey of Dallas county; for attorney general, J. P. Furgeson of Cedar county; for railroad commissioner, Sherwood Dixon, of Marion county. The electors-at-large are H. A. Buchanan of Marshal county and James Scull of Jasper county.

District delegates and electors were also chosen. The resolutions adopted acknowledge God as the author of civil government; express the belief that it is the first duty of the state to forever prohibit the manufacture of intoxicating liquors as a beverage; commend congress for the passage of the anti-canteen law, and Secretary Long of the navy for his faithful enforcement of it, but declare the people have been outraged by the absurd construction put upon it by the attorney-general in which, against all possible appeals, the president remains silent and acquiescent. The resolutions also affirm the former position of the party in favor of equal suffrage. A resolution was passed instructing the delegates to the Chicago convention to present the name of Rev. Dr. Eaton of Des Moines as a candidate for vice-president.

A $21,000,000 TRUST DEED.

Made to Iowa Loan and Trust Company for Railroad Building.

DES MOINES, June 16.—The Iowa Loan and Trust Company has become trustee for the Gulf & Manitoba railroad, which is a Minnesota corporation organized for the purpose of building a railroad from Duluth to the south, and has been granted a trust deed for $21,000,000 to cover an issue of bonds which will be issued for the purpose of building the road. The Gulf & Manitoba road was incorporated some three or four years ago, and includes among its incorporators Frank Campbell, Samuel Compton and other Des Moines men. Little was done with the road in the past, but it is said now that it will be pushed. A corps of engineers is said to be in the field in various parts of Iowa and Minnesota, surveying the most suitable route for the road from Duluth to Kansas City, which are the proposed terminals of the road. Under the trust deed some bonds have already been issued and disposed of for the purpose of commencing operations on the road and bearing the first expense. The trust company will handle the bonds and will find a market for them if the road assumes the appearance of a reality in the future.

BLISS OUT OF THE RACE.

The Iowa Man's Chances Are Improving Daily.

NEW YORK, June 16.—General Grosvenor, of Ohio, who is in town, says about the vice-presidency that there will be no stampeding in the convention for Roosevelt.

"Who do I think will be Mr. McKinley's running mate? I favor Dolliver's nomination. I hear that Mr. Bliss is out of it. That is his own wish and it will be respected."

Senator Marcus A. Hanna, who has been running things here up to date, has been talking Senator Allison of Iowa and Cornelius N. Bliss of New York. He now says that both men are out of the question.

Death Causes Death.

BURLINGTON, June 14.—Grief-stricken over the death of her lover, Miss Cassie Jones, a highly respected young lady of Burlington, swallowed the contents of an eight-ounce bottle of carbolic acid, calmly undressed herself and went to bed to die. Miss Jones suffered terribly from the burns and the internal effects of the poison, and in spite of the efforts of the physician, she died. The cause of Miss Jones' suicide is directly traceable to the death of her lover, David Heaton, which had just occurred.

Masked Men Rob a Train.

DUBUQUE, June 16.—Six men, one masked, went through the Milwaukee train crew at Bellevue. Four covered the crew and one went through the caboose, securing a small sum from two bridge carpenters. Three suspects are under arrest.

Col. Hepburn by Acclamation.

CRESTON, June 15.—Congressman Hepburn was renominated by acclamation by the republican congressional convention of the Eighth district. Resolutions were adopted approving Hepburn's work on the canal bill and endorsing Dolliver for vice-president.

BIG AUDITORIUM BURNED

Des Moines Sustains Great Loss In Destruction of Building.

DES MOINES, June 19.—The new auditorium took fire at an early hour Sunday morning and before the flames could be subdued the big structure was gutted, the roof fell in and the walls were badly damaged, parts of them falling out. The loss in the building reaches probably $25,000, which is covered by insurance, and the loss to W. P. Chase, who had recently fitted the auditorium for an opera house, is total, and amounts to about $2,500. It is believed that the insurance money will be sufficient to rebuild the structure, and that the work of reconstructing it will begin at once.

SECURITIES MUST BE VALID.

Attorney General Holds Insurance Securities Shall Not Be Fictitious.

DES MOINES, June 15.—Attorney General Remley, in an opinion transmitted to the auditor of state, holds that insurance companies must maintain the legal reserve with the auditor in the form of fully valid securities. They cannot lawfully withdraw securities on reinsurance and they cannot maintain securities at the auditor's office which have been partially or in whole liquidated. It has been the custom of some companies, it is said, to receive payments on notes and mortgages in the possession of the auditor, maintaining the full face of the paper in claiming securities on deposit. The attorney general says that it is an illegal way to do the business and that the persons paying on notes not in the possession of the company lay themselves liable to collection a second time by the state for the protection of policy holders, if that course becomes necessary. The opinion is of vast importance to every insurance company of this character.

MAYOR BRINGS SUIT.

Mayor Phillips, of Ottumwa, Wants $5,600 Damages.

OTTUMWA, June 18.—Mayor Phillips thinks his wife's affections are worth in the neighborhood of $5,000, and by his attorneys, Blake & Hall, has filed a petition in the Poweshiek county district court at Montezuma, asking judgment against George M. Spooner, of Grinnell, for that amount, and alleging as a cause of action that Spooner did debauch his wife, thereby alienating her affection from the mayor, her lawful husband.

M. B. DAVIS FOR COMMANDER.

Iowa G. A. R. Encampment Elects Officers.

DAVENPORT, June 15.—The twenty-sixth annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic, department of Iowa, had 1,200 soldiers in the parade. The following officers were elected: Commander, M. B. Davis, of Sioux City; senior vice commander, T. E. McCardy, Hazelton; junior vice commander, Lawrence Schoonover, Anamosa; medical director, L. D. McCoy, Algona; chaplain, Rev. P. B. West. The next encampment will be held at Dubuque.

Fifty-first is on Top.

CEDAR RAPIDS, June 18.—At the school of instruction in small arms practice at the state range, the team of the Fifty-first Iowa took first prize for total scores, and Corporal Charles Harless of Troope A, was given an improved Remington rifle for the best individual work. The team of the Fifty-first made a total score of 908, the Fifty-second followed with 897, Forty-ninth, 868; and Fiftieth, 800.

Society Belle Commits Suicide.

OTTUMWA, June 18.—At Moulton, May Fields, a society belle, took chloroform and then drowned herself in a pond. Her lover was drowned at the same spot one year ago.

BREVITIES.

Speaker Henderson arrived home a few days ago and was given a warm reception by the people, without regard to party. He expressed entire satisfaction with the work of congress. He will remain in Dubuque most of the time until the campaign opens.

Two Northwestern passenger trains collided, head end, at the tile works in East Des Moines a few nights ago. The engines are a wreck, one engineer was fatally hurt and three other persons were injured: Governor L. M. Shaw, slight gash on temple and arm lacerated; Mrs. B. F. Jones, of Ames, hurt in eye, not serious; W. F. Knight, conductor, Des Moines, shoulder dislocated; Thomas Smith, engineer, Boone, fatally hurt, died at 11:45 p. m. Governor Shaw was going to Mount Vernon to attend a meeting of the trustees. He was not seriously injured. His temple was cut when he fell forward, hitting the seat in front. He walked to Dr. Priestley's office and then went home and went to bed. Engineer Smith lived at Boone, where he had a wife and family. His legs were crushed and his abdomen torn open. The regular passenger left the station on time, but it is understood the special bringing the mail from Ames had orders to make Des Moines before the passenger left

NEWS IN GENERAL

THE SITUATION IN SOUTH AFRICA.

British Occupation of Another Important Town Announced.

LONDON, June 16.—The war office issues the following dispatch from Lord Roberts, at Pretoria:

"Klerksdorp surrendered June 9 to an armed party sent on by Gen. Hunter. Gen. Kitchener reports that the Boers attacked a reconstruction train early this morning a few miles north of Rhenoster river. He sent out mounted troops and drove off the enemy before they could do damage. One man was killed and eleven wounded, including two officers. A messenger from Klerksdorp reports that Gen. Cronje, who commanded there, determined to surrender as soon as he knew for certain that Pretoria was in our possession. His example has been copied by many in the neighborhood.

LONDON, June 18.—The war office has received the following from Lord Roberts:

"Rustenburg was occupied yesterday by Baden-Powell. The column starts from this place to-morrow to meet Baden-Powell and repair the telegraph between Pretoria and Rustenburg. Hunter is moving from Potchefstroom. His advance brigade expects to reach Johannesburg June 19. Buller, I hope, is at Standerton. Heidelburg will be occupied from this place shortly, and then Orange River colony will be completely cut from the Transvaal. Baden-Powell reports the district through which he passed as settling down satisfactorily. Over one thousand stand of arms were surrendered and Hans Eloff and Piet Kruger, son of the president, were to make a submission to him yesterday, having been previously disarmed on their farms. Botha's army has retired, and is believed to be at Middleburg. His rear guard was surprised and entirely routed by Ian Hamilton's mounted infantry."

The war office has received the following from Buller:

"LAINGS NEK, June 15.—Now that Natal is clear of the enemy, I wish to call attention to the disgraceful way in which private property was treated in part of the colony they occupied. Their wilful and needless damage was visible. Everywhere houses, when not completely wrecked, have been desecrated with filthy ingenuity. That this has been done with the consent of the leaders is proved by the fact that while in Charleston every house was wrecked in Volksrust, two miles off, but in the Transvaal every house was infact."

YELLOW JACK AMONG TROOPS.

Scourge Breaks Out at Quemados, in the Vicinity of Havana.

HAVANA, June 17.—Yellow fever has broken out at Quemados, eight miles from Havana, where United States troops are stationed. Thus far there have been fourteen cases, three of which proved fatal. At present only six are under treatment, and all are expected to recover. Two soldiers who married Cuban women were attacked, but they recovered. A sergeant of the signal service died. Major Frank Edmunds and Mrs. Edmunds were both stricken. Captain Ives of the signal service is in the detention hospital under suspicion, but it is likely that his disorder is nothing more serious than malaria. Havana City is exceptionally clear, only three cases being under treatment, which is less than was the case during any month of the winter. General Lee is taking every precaution to prevent troops in barracks contracting the disease. Dr. Harvard believes that the fever at Quemados is under check. It had been several years since there was an outbreak there.

BULLER FORCES A NEK.

Enemy Makes a Hard Fight and British Losses are Heavy.

LONDON, June 13.—The war office posts the following dispatch from Gen. Buller:

Headquarters in Natal, June 11.—We forced Almonds Nek today. It is not on the map but is the latest defile to Charleston flats. The enemy was in considerable force, with several guns in position. Brunt of fighting fell upon the Second Dorsets, who carried the position at the point of the bayonet, and the Third Cavalry brigade, who were heavily attacked on our right from a very broken country round Ikelini mountains. I hope our casualties are less than 100, which considering the extreme length of the position, is much less than I expected. The whole attack was directed by Hildyard, whose dispositions were extremely good. The artillery, the Tenth brigade, and the Third Cavalry brigade did most of the work."

ST. LOUIS STRIKE ABOUT ENDED.

To Submit Question of Reinstatement of Employes to Arbitration.

ST. LOUIS, June 16.—By practically a unanimous vote the local union of street railway employes of the transit company out on a strike decided to submit the matter of re-instatement of employes to arbitration. By the same vote the executive committee of the union was empowered to negotiate with the company to make final settlement without referring the matter back to the union. This action was brought about through the influence of Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor.

WOULDN'T TAKE SECOND PLACE.

Admiral Dewey Says He is Not a Candidate for Vice-President.

WASHINGTON, June 16.—Admiral Dewey, when seen by an Associated Press representative and asked whether he would define his position relative to the vice-presidential nomination, replied with his usual frankness:

"I never contemplated being a candidate for vice-president. I am not a candidate for nomination to that office and would not accept the nomination if offered. My position is unchanged. I stand where I have stood for the past three months."

Thus it will be seen that the admiral had no second string to his bow when he made the announcement that he was a candidate for president if the people of the country wished him to be.

M'LEAN SENDS CASH FOR BRYAN.

Gives $25,000 to Campaign Fund and Will Try for Foraker's Seat.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 17.—It is learned that John R. McLean has sent his personal check for $25,000 to W. J. Bryan, to be used in the campaign. The check was sent as an evidence of good will, and the information is positive, coming only second-handed from Mr. McLean. It was also learned that immediately upon his return from Europe Mr. McLean will try to secure the nomination of McLean democrats to the legislature, to be elected a year from next November. This is with an idea of carrying the legislature for the democrats and being elected senator as Mr. Foraker's successor.

A MINISTER KILLED.

German Minister at Pekin Killed by Boxers.

LONDON, June 17.—A Hong Kong dispatch says all Pekin legations are destroyed and that the German minister, Baron Von Ketteler, has been killed.

SHANGHAI, June 17.—Advices from Tien Tsin report that large incendiary fires occurred in the eastern part of the city, where three English and three American churches were burned, besides the residences of many foreigners. Telegraphic communication is interrupted, the poles having been burned, and there is no hope of immediate repairs being made.

LONDON, June 18.—There is no confirmation of the destruction of the legations in Peking and the killing of the German minister, Baron von Ketteler, nor the later reports of fighting between the British and the Chinese. Dispatches from Shanghai state that Admiral Seymour's force is in a tight place between Lang Fang and Yung Sun, with enormous masses of soldiery in front, while the Boxers with more soldiery are cutting the railway in the rear. The column is reported short of provisions and water. The Kiang Nan arsenal outside of Shanghai is sending vast quantities of munitions north.

According to a special from Vienna, it is stated in diplomatic circles there that the question of intervention is under discussion by the powers. It is proposed that Japan shall act as mandatory of the powers and re-establish order in Peking and elsewhere. This, it is said, emanated from England and it is supported by Germany and Austria, but it is doubtful if Russia and France will agree to the proposition. St. Petersburg reports that communication between Kal-Gan and Peking has been interrupted. There is great excitement at Kal-Gan, where a missionary has been attacked.

NEW YORK, June 19.—A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from Tien Tsin says: "Boxers control Tien Tsin and the native city officials have been burned at the stake. A great panic prevails among the Chinese."

BRYAN IS RENOMINATED.

He Has Secured Sufficient Instructed Delegates.

CHICAGO, June 15.—By the action of the democratic state conventions in California, Missouri, Kentucky, Georgia and Vermont, Hon. W. J. Bryan is assured of the nomination for the presidency on the democratic ticket. The instructions given delegates by those five states carry Bryan's vote, it is believed, considerably over the two-thirds necessary to nominate him.

Chicago Misses Two Millions.

CHICAGO, Ill., June 19.—Chicago's federal census rolls will stop just short of 2,000,000 names, according to the men who counted the noses. Estimates built on approximate returns of the men, women and children catalogued in the thirty-five wards during the last fortnight varied when the count virtually was finished, between 1,900,000 and 1,950,000.

Turkish Indemnity Problem.

CONSTANTINOPLE, June 16.—The United States legation has not yet received a reply to its note regarding the indemnity question handed to the porte May 21, and Mr. Griscom, United States charge d'affaires, is making verbal representations to the government and pressing for a solution of the matter,

PLANS FOR THE PLATFORM.

Indications That Declaration as to Trusts

WILL BRING OUT SOME DEBATES

As There Is Considerable Difference of Opinion on the Subject—The Delaware Contest—H. Clay Evans Turned Down—Different Booms for Vice-President.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 18.—Plans for making the national republican platform are all under way. The declaration of principles will be by no means so cut and dried a character a has been frequently anticipated. On the contrary, there is a prospect of several nice little fights. Senator Fairbanks has collected the declarations on the trust question from a number of state platforms and has formulated a plank which was submitted to the platform conference in Washington last Saturday. It adopts the constitutional amendment idea somewhat vaguely, but nevertheless is a declaration against the trusts. Senator Foraker has also prepared the draft of a plank which declares a constitutional amendment unnecessary, and pledges the party to suppress unlawful and dangerous combines of capital through the medium of direct legislative amendments to the Sherman anti-trust law. On the form of the trust amendment there is likely to be a repetition of the fight at St. Louis four years ago. There the compromise idea of dodging the issue had to be met and beaten. The timid men in the party councils were afraid to make an unequivocal declaration for the gold standard. The same fight will be gone over now. There are those who are afraid that a radical declaration against the trusts will turn the solid business element against the party, and this element is pronounced for a straddle on the question. On the other hand, many of the delegates from the west, particularly, will declare the election of President McKinley will be endangered unless the party puts itself on record as flatly against trusts as it did for the gold standard.

After three days of almost continuous session the national committee at last begins to see daylight on the list of contests. The only one of the lot which appears to have a bearing on national politics is that between Congressman Brownlow and Commissioner Evans over the Tennessee delegation. Brownlow was victorious and Evans was turned down by a significant vote. The national committee held three long sessions, but with all its hard work was not able to straighten out the Delaware tangle. This has been referred back to the subcommittee with instructions to again endeavor to bring the factions to a basis of agreement, and will receive final action today.

There are vice-presidential booms for Dolliver, Scott, Long and all the other candidates. Dolliver seems to be well to the front in these preliminary struggles for prestige.

Delegates in a Wreck.

Chicago, June 18.—Hours behind time, a special train with 400 California delegates to the Philadelphia convention aboard crashed into a freight train at Thirty-ninth street on the Pittsburg, Fort Wayne & Chicago railway. The politicians were thrown into a panic, and whist and hearts were supplanted by yells and leaps. However, T. H. Gould, engineer, had applied the brakes in time to prevent fatalities, and the passenger train remained on its track. Gould was cut in the face by flying particles of glass, but Fireman Gaskins was uninjured. Both trainmen live at Fort Wayne, Ind.

Missouri Prohibitionists.

Mexico, Mo., June 18.—The state prohibition convention nominated a full ticket here, headed by C. E. Stokes of Mexico for governor. Resolutions were passed condemning both state and national administrations. John G. Woolley of Chicago addressed the convention at night.

Prohibition Candidate.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 18.—It is announced here by prominent prohibitionists that Felix T. McWhirter of Indianapolis will be a candidate for the vice-presidency before the national convention at Chicago provided an eastern man is chosen for first place.

Chicagoans Drown in Bayou.

Scranton, Miss., June 18.—Sullivan Converse of Chicago, traveling shoe salesman, and his father were drowned while bathing in the bayou Chicot. The son was seized with cramps and his father attempted to rescue him. Neither being able to swim, both sank in full view of Sullivan's brother. Sullivan was one of the volunteer seamen on the battleship Oregon during the war with Spain. His mother, Mrs. Ida Converse, is well known in literary circles as a newspaper correspondent.

FILIPINO LEADER SURRENDERS

With Him Are Eight Officers and 124 Men and Equipment.

Manila, June 18.—Gen. Macilibus, who has been persistently active in the Pangsansin district, has surrendered to Col. Emerson H. Liscum at Tarlac, with eight officers and 124 men, all armed with rifles. Senor Pedro Haterno, former president of the so-called Filipino cabinet, has been released temporarily, and he is now conferring with Senor Felipe Buencamino, former minister of agriculture and commerce, with reference to the latter's peace platform. Two hundred men of the Eighteenth infantry, who are sick, are returning by the transport Hancock, in charge of Capt. Lewis. Upon information furnished by Major Wheeler, to the effect that Gen. Lacuna intended to attack Papaya, province of Neuva Ecija, Gen. Funston, with staff officers, Capt. Koehler and troop G of the Fourth cavalry, and half a company of the Thirty-fourth infantry, marched to Papaya. Gen. Lacuna was found, with 200 men, occupying a position on a ridge two miles south of the town. Gen. Funston attacked him, sixty Americans charging the enemy under a hot fire. The insurgents fled. On attempting to make a stand later, Capt. Koehler, with a detachment of troops, charged and scattered them. Twenty-two of the insurgents were killed. One American was killed and one wounded.

Dr. Swensson Is President.

Burlington, Iowa, June 18.—The general synod of the Swedish Lutheran church convened here with delegates representing 150,000 church members in the United States. President Norelius of Vasa, Minn., delivered his annual address, stating that the work of the year had been excellent and that the membership had increased. The election of president of Augustana college, Rock Island, resulted in the choice of the Rev. C. A. Swensson, D. D., Ph. D., now president of Bethany college, Linsborg, Kan. The report of Augustana college showed the debt had been reduced $10,000 and the income increased $30,000 a year.

Printers' Union Delegates.

Indianapolis, Ind., June 18.—The work of the canvassing board of the International Typographical union has been completed. For agent of the union printers' home William Kennedy of Chicago received 13,245 votes and J. A. Onyun of Peoria, Ill., 7,962. Frank Morrison of Chicago received the highest vote for delegate to the American Federation of Labor and Eugene F. O'Rourke of Boston the next highest, and they were declared elected. J. G. Cain of the New York Photo-Engravers' union was chosen to represent the allied crafts in the American Federation of labor.

Ordered to Close Saloons.

Mount Vernon, Ill., June 18.—Judge P. A. Pierce of Carmi arrived here and heard arguments in the habeas corpus case of J. J. Manion and Crom Bayliss, who for a week conducted saloons without licenses, claiming the ordinance invalid which submitted the question to a popular vote. Judge Pierce sustained the validity of the ordinance, holding the submission of the question was not a delegation of authority by the city council. Manion and Bayliss closed their saloons after the decision.

Made Bald by Lightning.

Upper Sandusky, Ohio, June 18.—Albert Dawson, son of Thomas Dawson, who lives near Marsailles, was in an outbuilding during a storm, when the place was struck by lightning. He said the room was ablaze at the time, and a few seconds later he became unconscious. When he recovered he was minus all of the hair upon his head, but otherwise was not injured.

Japan's Naval Programme.

Victoria, B. C., June 16.—From Japan comes news that, in view of the proposed immense augmentation of the naval forces of other powers, the Japanese naval authorities are about to enter upon a new naval program. As only 5,000,000 yen will be devoted yearly to the navy, men like Admiral Inouye recommend the construction of torpedo boat destroyers. This class of boats cost about 500,000 yen, so that thirty destroyers can be built for the price of one battle ship. It is anticipated that the new program will authorize the construction of torpedo boat destroyers only.

Three Escape Gallows.

St. Louis, June 16.—On May 2, the State Supreme Court sentenced six murderers to be hanged on June 15. They were: John A. Holloway, Osage county; Ernest Clevenger, Clay county; Robert Cushenberry, Clinton county; Jack Bradford, Pemiscot county; David Miller, Holt county, and Sam Waters, New Madrid county. Of this number, David Miller's sentence was commuted to fifty years in the penitentiary, Robert Cushenberry has been granted a stay of execution until June 25, and Jack Bradford was respited until Aug. 14.

WORK OF CONGRESS.

IMPORTANT BILLS PASSED DURING LAST SESSION.

Gold Standard Law the First in Importance—Governments of Hawaii, Porto Rico and Alaska—Free Homes Bill—Pension Act Amended—Anti-Trust Law Amended.

The last session of congress passed 132 public acts, which had been approved by the president, up to and including the month of May. Many of these were of general public interest and were carefully considered by both houses.

An act to define and fix the standard of value, to maintain the parity of all forms of money issued or coined by the United States, to refund the public debt, and for other purposes, was the first bill passed through the house of representatives and became a law on March 14 last.

This bill is the most important of all that have become law during the present session. It places the finances of the country firmly on the gold standard. No public official can hereafter disparage any dollar issued by the United States until the senate and house, with approval of the president, shall concur in amending this statute.

The bill also provides for the refunding of the national debt amounting to $850,000,000 into 2 per cent bonds. Since the passage of the act this refunding process has been constantly going on, and has reached about $280,000,000. As the old bonds bore interest at the rate of 3, 4 and 5 per cent, the national saving of interest on the bonds already refunded amounts to considerably more than $5,000,000. This saving will nearly equal the entire interest on the $200,000,000 borrowed to pay the expense of the Spanish war.

Should we succeed in refunding the entire indebtedness of eight hundred and fifty millions at the low rate of 2 per cent interest the national saving in interest would not only pay the interest on the Spanish war loan, but also the interest on the two hundred and sixty-two million dollars of bonds issued by the last administration in time of peace.

Under the minor provisions of the bill there has been a great increase of national banks of limited capital in the smaller towns, particularly of the western and southern states.

Bills providing for the government of the Hawaiian islands and of Porto Rico, after long consideration, have finally become laws, while the bill for the government of Alaska has been passed.

The feature of the Porto Rican bill, which occasioned most discussion, is the most liberal toward that island of any ever incorporated into law. It provides a slight tariff on the products of that country coming to the United States, and also on products shipped from the United States to Porto Rico, excepting necessaries of life, all of which is turned over to the treasury of Porto Rico for a period of two years, or until local taxation can be provided by the new government. At the end of two years trade between Porto Rico and the United States becomes absolutely free.

Not only this, congress has appropriated all the revenue derived from goods imported into the United States from Porto Rico since the occupation, and amounting to more than $2,000,000, for the benefit of the people of these islands. All tariff collected at Porto Rican ports is also to be used for that purpose. This was a boon to that people justified by the circumstances, and unparalleled for generosity toward any people.

This congress has also passed the Free Homes bill, giving free homesteads on the public lands to actual bona fide settlers. This was a measure pledged by the platform of all parties.

An amendment to the pension act of 1890, and known as the Grand Army bill, has also become a law.

A law of much importance passed at this session is that allowing the free transportation in bond of all goods shipped through the United States from a foreign country to another foreign country. This will be of great benefit to the shipping interests of the country.

An anti-trust law amendment to the Sherman law of 1890, as effective and far reaching as the constitution will permit, has also passed the house of representatives.

The appropriation bills have been carefully scrutinized, and although the agregate is large they are free from all questionable items. The growth of the country and the continued disorder in the Philippine islands are solely accountable for the increase in these annual bills.

It was not deemed practicable to reduce the revenues during the present session, but, should the present rate of surplus continue, the committee on ways and means, having obtained leave to sit during the recess, will bring in a bill and press its passage at the beginning of the next session.

Meanwhile the treasury department has used about twenty-eight millions in refunding operations and will use twenty-five millions more in the 2 per cents already called in, thus practically disposing of the accumulated surplus for the year.

This congress has also done much in killing proposed legislation of a bad or questionable character.

A FEW PERTINENT REMARKS.

Hawaii was the first necessary and share of the trans-Pacific trade. We got Hawaii, although Grover Cleveland once hauled down our flag there. Then we got Manila. Now we are getting the commerce.

* * *

Scythes costs farmers 40 cents a dozen more last year than in 1896. Corn was worth 10 cents a bushel more, so that the farmer who paid an extra 3 or 4 cents for a scythe was still 6 or 7 cents to the good, when paying for it out of one bushel of corn.

* * *

Barley was worth only 32 and 33 cents a bushel on the farm in the Democratic years of 1895 and 1896. It was worth 40 and 41 cents in the Republican years of 1898 and 1899. Protection meant a gain of about $3 an acre to the farmer who grows barley.

* * *

Under the Democratic free trade Wilson bill we imported about 3,000,000 pounds of foreign hops each year. In 1899 we imported only 1,319,000 pounds.

* * *

Wages have been higher in the United States since the formation of the large business combines than ever they were before.

* * *

The Boer incident in the United States was closed a few weeks before the Boer war.

* * *

State Examiner Harry B. Henderson of Wyoming shows that the total number of accounts in the banks of his state has increased from 2,414 in 1896 to 4,307 at the end of 1899. Gross deposits increased by $236,090 within the last year.

* * *

The announcement of Mr. Towne that he is not a Populist would seem to corroborate the claims of the Cincinnati people that theirs is the only genuine Pop ticket in the field.

* * *

The Republican party will not shield dishonesty on the part of public servants. The men who have disgraced themselves and their country in Cuba will be prosecuted and punished. It is the Democratic party that permits its "Honest" Dick Tates and other looters of state funds to enjoy their swag in foreign climes.

* * *

The Democratic demagogues who sought to utilize the St. Louis street car strike for political purposes have been roundly denounced by the Democratic governor of Missouri. Like Gov. Steunenberg of Idaho, Gov. Stevens has destroyed all his chances as a vice presidential candidate at Kansas City.

* * *

When Shakespeare spoke of "the stuff dreams are made of" he supplied an excellent description of the predictions of Chairman James K. Jones.

* * *

The Cubans will perceive the difference between American and Spanish procedure when the rascals are locked up.

* * *

It turns out that the real victim of the Porto Rican tariff is the sugar trust. It was the sugar trust that helped the Democratic party make a tariff law, and it is but natural it should have the sympathy of the Democratic party, now that it is a victim of Republican legislation.

HOT SHOT.

In its chase for campaign material the Democratic party is putting up a very fair imitation of the dog catcher.

The southern newspapers have been quick to resent the latest slander on that section at the hands of Mr. Tillman.

The Hon. Clark Howells, editor of the Atlanta Constitution, is trying very hard to remain in the Democratic party, but he resents the course of the Pettigrews toward our troops in the Philippines.

Heretofore the grand jury has been regarded as an important part of the machinery of justice, but the Kentucky Democrats have demonstrated that it can be used for the purpose of intimidation and political theft.

We infer from the tenor of the debate that the enterprising press agent of the Philippine rebellion, Agoncillo, is keeping up a spirited correspondence with the Democratic United States Senators.

The Virginia people have voted in favor of negro disfranchisement. This will do away with the inconvenience of counting them out.

Perhaps the Kansas City hotel keepers would have produced less fault finding had they made it sixteen delegates to one room.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

A REVIEW OF THE LAST TWELVE LESSONS.

"Thy Kingdom Come, Thy Will Be Done on Earth as It Is in Heaven"—Matt. 6:10—Instructions for Teachers—How to Review.

Reviewing.—Dr. Trumbull tells us that "Two classes of persons, however, ought to attend Sunday school whenever they can do so; they include all who can learn anything from the Bible, and all who can teach its truths to those who need to learn them. The only persons who would fairly seem to have no place in the Sunday school are those who can neither teach nor learn." This is equally true of those who should carefully review the quarter's lessons. There are many ways of reviewing, but some things should characterize them all. (1) They should give a general view of the whole subject studied, and not merely a succession of details. (2) In our lessons this year the review should extend over the whole life of Christ up to the time the quarter closes. (3) It should be made as attractive as possible. In some schools the reviews have been the most attractive sessions of the quarter. (4) There should be considerable variety. (5) There should be a drill on the main points.

Variety in reviews.—(1) General reviews by the school as a whole. (2) Choral reviews, where there is the singing of an appropriate verse or two by the school, or by solos, or quartette, after each subject, or division of the review. (3) Class reviews. (4) Picture reviews. (5) Blackboard reviews. (6) Word picture reviews. (7) Stereopticon reviews. (8) Home gathering reviews. (9) Map reviews. (10) Character reviews. (11) Moral teachings reviews. (12) Several of these united, and many other ways.

General Review.—By means of the diagram in the review lesson of the last quarter, have the scholars see clearly the life of Christ up to the end of the first quarter of the third year of his ministry. Show them the relation of the incidents of the past quarter to the whole life and work of Jesus. In connection with this exercise, have the geography class, naming the places referred to in the lessons, together with the events that took place in them, and the persons connected with them; not only those belonging to these lessons, but all those related to the places. These should be pointed out on the map, and may also be written upon the blackboard.

The blackboard review should also be a part of the general review. With the general review we can also have a Moral Teachings Review. Let the scholars name the virtues, and duties, and promises inculcated in the quarter's lessons. This may be arranged beforehand, and classes may agree on those which seem most important. And as each one is named and written on the blackboard let the school, or the quartette, sing some appropriate verse of a hymn which will deepen the impression. The stereopticon can be used with advantage in a general review. Class reviews can be conducted with the same subjects and methods as have been described above, if there is no general review. But they can enjoy other methods, which are not so well adapted to a review by the whole school.

The picture review will be interesting in a class by means of W. A. Wilde & Co.'s beautiful half-tone pictures, the colored Detroit pictures, unmounted photographs, the Perry pictures used in day schools, and the stereoscopic pictures.

The portrait gallery in which the principal persons are named, and a character sketch given of each one, noting the qualities to be sought after and those to be avoided.

Not Enough to Go Around.

A young married lady had just acquired a new coach and a new footman to match. "John," she said one day, "we will drive out to make a few calls. But I shan't get out of the carriage; you will, therefore, take the cards that are on my dressing-table and leave one at each house we stop at." "Very good, ma'am," answered John, and he ran upstairs to fetch the cards. After they had driven about a considerable time, and cards had been left at a large number of houses, the lady remarked: "Now we must call on the Dales, the Framptons, and Clarkes." "We can't do it," here broke in the footman, in alarm; "I've only the ace of spades and the ten of clubs left!"—Scottish American.

Unusual in Weddings.

Miss Helena Biel, of Bayonne, daughter of Henry Biel, and Heinrich Anton Weise, of 9 Straight street, Paterson, were married in Mechanics' hall, Stapleton, Staten Island, in the presence of about 200 persons on Wednesday night. They are members of a religious sect which does not have clergymen perform the marriage ceremony, always calling in a magistrate. City Magistrate John Croak of New Brighton, attended by Henry Brown, a court attache, acting as clerk, took his place on a platform at the end of the room at 7 o'clock. The assemblage sang a hymn and Magistrate Croak read the marriage ceremony. Supper was then served.

Buggies Wagons

Corn Cultivators

And Bicycles: Do not fail to see us before buying. We have the largest stock of the best goods ever brought to this city

Groceries, Hardware.

First class Tinshop.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

OUR SUMMER BILL OF FARE.

Young Onions, New Radishes, Fresh Lettuce,
Oranges, Bananas, Lemons,
Canned Fruit and Vegetables--all kinds,
Bread, Buns, Pies, Cakes, Cookies,
Confecionery, Cigars, Tobacco
SUMMER DRINKS SELECT GROCERIES,

Agent for the Ideal Steam Laundry, Mason City.
G. W. KLUCKHOHN, KLEMME.

Buy Your

Drugs, Paints, Wall Paper, Toilet Soap, Perfumery Books and Patent Medicines

At Amsden's Pharmacy

GARNER, IOWA.

FRED ARNOLD, PRES. C. H. WIEGMANN, V. P. F. A. ARNOLD, CASH.

STATE SAVINGS BANK,
OF KLEMME, IOWA.

CAPITAL $25 000 00, LOANS $40 000 00,

INSURANCE WRITTEN, LOANS NEGOTIATED, EXCHANGE BOUGHT AND SOLD.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits: Money Loaned on Real Estate: Foreign and Domestic Exchange Sold.....

DIRECTORS: FRED ARNOLD, C. H. WIEGMANN, H. W. GRUETZMACHER, CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, F. A. ARNOLD.

CARY SAFE CO.

BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.

..Manufacturers..

FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES

VAULTS, LOCKS, ETC.

CONTRACTORS to UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

H. W. SCHOPER,

FARM MACHINERY,

Buggies and Wagons, Corn Planters, Corn Plows, Champion Binders and Mowers.

TWINE.

WOMEN DISLIKE STINGY MEN.

Especially When the Latter Invite Them to a Restaurant.

If there is one object of dislike to a woman, it is a stingy man. Now, by this we do not mean that the fair sex are anxious for a man to spend more than he can afford, but they do feel that it is due to them when they are invited out to have the privilege of seleting what they want from a menu without being prompted by their host to select what he prefers.

The man doesn't have to say, "You must take this, or you mustn't take that." A woman is quick to recognize the saving keynote when he says: "What will you have? I think I will have a sandwich," and though she may loathe sandwiches she feels it her duty to say, "Well, then, I will have one too." Some mean men know that they can easily bulldoze a woman this way, and it would serve them just right if their guest were to say, "Well, for my part, I prefer terrapin, some fresh mushrooms, a canape Lorenzo and some Nesselrode pudding."

Oh, no, we never do say that. We are guided by the inflection in the man's voice and take whatever he wants us to, whether we like it or not. Now, we don't object one bit to a man being economical. It is a praiseworthy trait, but for goodness sake don't have him practice it when he takes a woman out to luncheon, dinner or supper. If he really can't afford anything she might ask for, he has no right to invite her. Let him do the elegant less frequently and do it right when he is about it.

The woman of the world will perhaps order a more extravagant meal than he would desire, but she won't break him if he entertains her but once in decent style, instead of three or four times in poverty stricken fashion that makes his guest want to pass her purse across the table to him to help him out of his difficulty. There is no pleasure in eating under such circumstances, and a woman would feel much more pleased with a man if no such suggestion were made and she thus escaped an exhibition of his meanness. Let it be said right here that the really poor man is not the one to get into such a predicament. He knows he can't, and he stays out of trouble by not inviting you to a swell restaurant and then looking pained if you order something beyond what he had expected. It is the man who wants to make a show of being a "thoroughbred" who too often proves conclusively by some episode of this sort that he is not.

"My boy will know how to order when he grows up," said a young mother the other day, "if I have to write out the menu for him every time he takes a young lady out. There won't be any 'what will you have' about it, but he will select a dainty little meal that will relieve her from the embarrassment of selection, but won't be made up of the cheapest things in sight, and will, therefore, give her a chance, if she does not care for his choice, to make a change in one or more dishes without feeling that she is an up to date Jack Sheppard who has lured an unhappy victim into a restaurant just to rob him."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A French Chef Wanted.

There was an interesting episode one day in a well known Washington cafe. The proprietor has a French chef in his employ, and the result is that the menu cards can be guaranteed to puzzle any American.

Two gentlemen sat at a table. One was from the west, and his French education had been neglected. The other had but recently come to Washington from Paris. After reading the menu the westerner said to the waiter: "I can't read French. Bring me a good dinner."

Meantime the Frenchman was trying to figure out the words. "Pardon, monseer," he said, "eet ees not ze Francais. Eet ees not ze Eenglish. I know not what eet ees. Zere ees ze soup. Zat ees French for ze rat. I want not ze rat soup. Eet ees horreeble."

The proprietor heard it, and upon investigation found that his guest was correct. There is a new French chef, who understands the French language.—Washington Star.

Two Men In One.

A member of the Royal Chemical society, London, has recently demonstrated to the Society For Psychical Research a proof that man possesses two distinct consciousnesses.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

OUR SPECIALTY IS

LUMBER

WE ALSO SELL

Brick, Lime, Cement, Paroid Roofing, American Field Fence Screen Doors and Windows.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

Farm Machinery.

DO NOT FORGET

That we handle a COMPLETE LINE of the BEST Farm Machinery manufactured. Before you buy, it will pay you to see us and get our prices. We handle

CASSADY GANG AND SULKY PLOWS,

Corn Cultivators, Stirring Plows, Cornplanters, harrows, Discs, Wagons, Buggies, Geneva Windmils, Milwaueee Binders and Mowers.

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE.....

We are constantly adding new, fresh GROCERIES to our stock and would like to make you prices. If you want Hardware or Tinware, we can supply your wants.

LAU BROS.

GRAND CLOSING OUT SALE OF

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry

I AM GOING TO CLOSE Out my entire stock of Watches, Clocks and Jewelry at Cost Price. If U want a bargain come and see me. CHAS. F. H. Suckow, Watchmaker and Jeweler, Klemme, Iowa.

KOERENR BROS.....

Woven Wire Fencing, Poultry Netting, Barbed Wire, Nails, Staples, Hay Tools, Carpenter Tools, Bicycles, Bicycle Repairs, Paints, Oils, Brushes, Putty, Glass, Roofing, Spouting Etc. Etc.

KLEMME, IOWA.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME V. KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, JUNE 28 1900 NUMBER 45

Hello There!
Where are you going?

To Pietzke's Blacksmith Shop, for he's the man to go to for good work and at right prices. At the old stand.

Klemme, Iowa.

JOHN JOSTEN
PHOTOGRAPHER
Gallery Fitted For Finest Work
In Miniature and Cabinet Sizes.
Enlarging, View and Copying.
PHOTO BUTTONS A SPECIALTY.
☞Give me a call
KLEMME - IOWA.

JOHN BAUMGARTNER.
PROPRIETOR OF
CITY BARBER SHOP.
AN EASY SHAVE. - -
A SATISFIED CUSTOMER
FIRST DOOR EAST OF LAU BROS.
KLEMME, IOWA.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN DAUBING
AND
PAINTING.
We understand our business and guarantee our work.
JOE MILLER,
PAINTER and DEGORATOR.

J. J SUCKOW,
PAINTER, and
PAPER HANGER.
First Class work in every way, and our specialty is Paper Hanging and decorating. See me before you contract your work.
Address, KLEMME, IOWA.

AIELT RIEKENS,
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER. GERMAN OR ENGLISH
Will cry Sales and guarantee satisfaction
Fine Stock Sales a specialty.
Call on or address at
PAULSVILLE, IOWA

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED
ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured.
Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

PATENTS
Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained and all Patent business conducted for MODERATE FEES.
OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U. S. PATENT OFFICE and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.
Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.
A PAMPHLET, "How to Obtain Patents," with cost of same in the U. S. and foreign countries sent free. Address,
C. A. SNOW & CO.
OPP PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

CHAMPION DEFEATS THE McCORMICK

The Champion Wins at Every Point in a Public Contest at Arlington Heights, Ill., Thursday, June 14.

The Other Companies Were Also Challenged by the McCormick—Only the Champion Accepted.

Cook County Herald:—

(continuen from last week.)

The driver fortunately landed on his feet and continued to whip his team, the Champion driver remaining firmly in his seat. The teams pulled and hauled at the mowers until one of the McCormick horses was thrown from hi feet and dragged probably 100 feet. This stopped the test, as the McCormick team was tangled up in their harness and badly winded. On examination of the two mowers by the farmers present after this test, which was more of an abuse than a test of machines, the McCormick was found to be disabled, the shoe having been broken in two, and the tilting lever and other connections torn from the machine. The Champion mower showed no breakage, though the draft rod on the machine was bent. The McCormick challenge provided that the next test should be a grass cutting test, and the Champion men insisted on going into that next. This the McCormick men refused to do, claiming that their machine was so disabled that it would not be a fair test. The Champion men read the challenge to the crowd, and the crowd demanded that the test go ahead according to the McCormicks challenge, and this meant that they had to go into the grass with the machine as it was. In the grass cutting contest the McCormick machine was so badly handicapped that it could do practically nothing, stopping repeatedly and choking up every few feet, the Champion cutting smoothly past it on every round, being able to do so on account of its having suffered no serious inconvenience in the rough usage it had received. We do not know what particular advantage there is in a test of this character, Both machines will undoubtedly cut grass under the proper conditions, and it seems to us that a test of this kind is accompanied by a good deal of danger to the participants, and is certainly severe treatment for the horses, but as the McCormick company issued the challenge we suppose the Champion company thought they aught to accept it. The Champion people seem to have carried the point, as it was the verdict of practically all the farmers present—and in fact everybody who saw the test—that the McCormick had been badly outdone at all points covered in the challenge. We noticed nine Champion machines hauled out of town after the test was over, and we understand that several others who had given orders for McCormick machines refused to take them after having seen this contest, which is unfortunate at least as far as the local agent is concerned. The test raised considerable excitement in our otherwise quiet village, and it will probably be a long time before there will be as much commotion raised as was witnessed on our streets last Thursday,

ELL CENTER.

O, how the mosquitoes do bite.

William Henderson has returned from his Ohio trip.

M. Palmby transacted business at the county hub Monday.

Joe Weeks and wife attended the campmeeting at Merten's grove.

There are no sick folks here now they all attended the medicine show at Garner last week.

Charley Stowe had the misfortune to have a couple of horses cut on the barb wire last week.

Gauley's young folks attended a social at the home of their Sunday school teacher, Mr. Sprole of Garner.

Prof. Philo the Census enumerator was around quizzing the people about such things as Uncle Sam wishes to know.

Several of the young folks from around here attended the dance at Myron Haskins Friday night. They report a good time.

There were no services at Pleasant Mound Tueday nor will be next Friday they expect to remain until after next Sabbath.

Some of the people around here spent Sunday at Clear Lake. Those we learned of were Harry Rice, and family, Paul Quintus and family.

Peter Gilbert and F. Gauley two of Ell township's up to date dairy men have erected milk houses to better faciliate the handling of the milk.

The kids of this place showed the old men of this place how to play ball last Sunday. We have no objections to a ball game at the proper time but surely some other day should be chosen.

Wallace Carr spent several days last week painting his large barn on his farm. If more of the land lords would follow Mr. Carr's example the farms would be more attractive to the people.

Ray Burman and Miss Braund returned from Butler county Sunday evening where they have been visiting friends. Miss Belt who went down with them remained at Dumont to visit her sister.

Rev. Bell was greeted with a large audience at the Gilbert school house Sunday who listened so attentively he decided to preach again next Sabbath when an expression of the house will be taken to see whether they will continue or not let the good work go on.

TAKE A VACATION.

Special excursion to Colorado and Utah on June 20, July 9-17 and Aug 1. On above dates round trip excursion tickets, limited for return to Oct 31, will be sold to Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Salt Lake City, and Ogden at the low rate of a SINGLE FARE plus $2. Call on any agent of the B. C. R. & N. Ry. for tickets and full information or address, Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. aug. 1

GLORIOUS NEWS.

Comes from Dr. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Electric Bitters has cured Ers, Brewer of scrofula. which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face and the best doctors could give no help, but now her health is excellent. Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys, and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50cts. Sold by Harr.

Mr. W. S. Whedon, Cashier of the First National Bank of Winterset, Iowa, in a recent letter gives some experience with a carpenter in his employ that will be of value to other mechanics. He say: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhoea I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy had cured me. He bonght one bottle of it from the druggist here and informed me that one dose cured him, and he is again at his work."—For sale by Harr.

E. P. SCHAEFER, KLEMME.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO FOR SCREEN DOORS
LUMBER,
LIME, STUCCO, AND CEMENT.
EVERYTHING IN BUILDING MATERIAL.
NORTHERN LUMBER CO.
L. G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST. ....SCHOOL SUPPLIES.
WALL PAPER,
Paints, Oils, Alabastine, Window Shades and Everything used to Decorate and Beautify the Home.
WATCHES, CLOCKS and JEWELRY.
DRUGGISTS' SUNDRIES. J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

THE REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

Full Text of Declaration of Principles.

M'KINLEY'S ACTS INDORSED.

The Party Renews Its Allegiance to the Principle of the Gold Standard and Favors New Monetary Legislation—Asserts Adherence to Monroe Doctrine.

Philadelphia, June 22.—The text in full of the republican national platform adopted at the convention is as follows:

The republicans of the United States, through their chosen representatives, met in national convention, looking back upon an unsurpassed record of achievement and looking forward into a great field of duty and opportunity and appealing to the judgment of their countrymen, make these declarations:

The expectation in which the American people, turning from the democratic party, intrusted power four years ago to a republican chief magistrate and a republican congress, has been met and satisfied. When the people then assembled at the polls after a term of democratic legislation and administration business was dead, industry was paralyzed and the national credit disastrously impaired. The country's capital was hidden away and its labor distressed and unemployed.

The democrats had no other plan with which to improve the ruinous conditions which they had themselves produced than to coin silver at the ratio of 16 to 1. The republican party, denouncing this plan as sure to produce conditions even worse than those from which relief was sought, promised to restore prosperity by means of two legislative measures—a protective tariff and a law making gold the standard of value.

The people, by great majorities, issued to the republican party a commission to enact these laws. This commission has been executed, and the republican promise is redeemed. Prosperity more general and more abundant than we have ever known has followed these enactments. There is no longer controversy as to the value of any government obligations. Every American dollar is a gold dollar or its assured equivalent, and American credit stands higher than that of any nation. Capital is fully employed and everywhere labor is profitably occupied.

No single fact can more strikingly tell the story of what republican government means to the country than this—that while during the whole period of 107 years from 1790 to 1897 there was an excess of exports over imports of only $383,028,497, there has been in the short three years of the present republican administration an excess of exports over imports in the enormous sum of $1,483,537,094.

And while the American people, sustained by this republican legislation, have been achieving these splendid triumphs in their business and commerce, they have conducted and in victory concluded a war for liberty and human rights.

No thought of national aggrandizement tarnished the high purpose with which American standards were unfurled. It was a war unsought and patiently resisted, but when it came the American government was ready. Its fleets were cleared for action; its armies were in the field and the quick and signal triumph of its forces on land and sea bore equal tribute to the courage of American soldiers and sailors and to the skill and foresight of republican statesmanship. To ten millions of the human race there was given "a new birth of freedom," and to the American people a new and noble responsibility.

We indorse the administration of William McKinley. Its acts have been established in wisdom and patriotism, and at home and abroad it has distinctly elevated and extended the influence of the American nation. Walking untried paths and facing unforeseen responsibilities, President McKinley has been in every situation the true American patriot and the upright statesman, clear in vision, strong in judgment, firm in action, always inspiring, and deserving the confidence of his countrymen.

In asking the American people to indorse this republican record and to renew their commission to the republican party, we remind them of the fact that the menace to their prosperity has always resided in democratic principles, and no less in the general incapacity of the democratic party to conduct public affairs.

The prime essential of business prosperity is public confidence in the good sense of the government and in its ability to deal intelligently with each new problem of administration and legislation. That confidence the democratic party has never earned. It is hopelessly inadequate and the country's prosperity, when democratic success at the polls is announced, halts and ceases in mere anticipation of democratic blunders and failures.

We renew allegiance to the principle of the gold standard and declare our confidence in the wisdom of the legislation of the Fifty-sixth congress, by which the parity of all our money and the stability of our currency on a gold basis has been secured.

We recognize that interest rates are a potent factor in production and business activity, and for the purpose of further equalizing and of further lowering the rates of interest, we favor such monetary legislation as will enable the varying needs of the season and of all sections to be promptly met in order that trade may be evenly sustained, labor steadily employed and commerce enlarged.

The volume of money in circulation was never so great per capita as it is today.

We declare our steadfast opposition to the free and unlimited coinage of silver. No measure to that end could be considered which was without the support of the leading commercial countries of the world.

However firmly republican legislation may seem to have secured the country against the peril of base and discredited currency, the election of a democratic president could not fail to impair the countrys' credit and to bring once more into question the intention of the American people to maintain upon the gold standard the parity of their money circulation. The democratic party must be convinced that the American people will never tolerate the Chicago platform.

We recognize the necessity and propriety of the honest co-operation of capital to meet new business conditions and especially to extend our rapidly increasing foreign trade, but we condemn all conspiracies and combinations intended to restrict business, to create monopolies, to limit production or to control prices, and favor such legislation as will effectually restrain and prevent all such abuses, protect and promote competition and secure the rights of producers, laborers, and all who are engaged in industry and commerce.

We renew our faith in the policy of protection to American labor. In that policy our industries have been established, diversified and maintained. By protecting the home market the competition has been stimulated and production cheapened. Opportunity to the inventive genius of our people has been secured and wages in every department of labor maintained at high rates, higher now than ever before, always distinguishing our working people in their better conditions of life from those of any competing country. Enjoying the blessings of American common schools, secure in the right of self-government and protected in the occupancy of their own markets, their constantly increasing knowledge and skill have enabled them finally to enter the markets of the world.

We favor the associated policy of reciprocity, so directed as to open our markets on favorable terms for what we do not ourselves produce in return for free foreign markets.

In the further interest of American workmen, we favor a more effective restriction of the immigration of cheap labor from foreign lands, the extension of opportunities of education for working children, the raising of the age limit for child labor, the protection of free labor, as against contract convict labor, and an effective system of labor insurance.

Our present dependence upon foreign shipping for nine-tenths of our foreign carrying is a great loss to the industry of this country. It is also a serious danger to our trade, for its sudden withdrawal in the event of European war would seriously cripple our expanding foreign commerce. The national defense and naval efficiency of this country, moreover, supply a compelling reason for legislation which will enable us to recover our former place among the trade-carrying fleets of the world.

The nation owes a debt of profound gratitude to the soldiers and sailors who have fought its battles, and it is the government's duty to provide for the survivors and for the widows and orphans of those who have fallen in the country's wars. The pension laws, founded in this just sentiment, should be liberal, and should be liberally administered, and preference should be given wherever practicable with respect to employment in the public service to soldiers and sailors and to their widows and orphans.

We commend the policy of the republican party in maintaining the efficiency of the civil service. The administration has acted wisely in its effort to secure for public service in Cuba, Porto Rico, Hawaii, and the Philippine islands only those whose fitness has been determined by training and experience. We believe that employment in the public service in these territories should be confined as far as practicable to their inhabitants.

It was the plain purpose of the fifteenth amendment to the constitution to prevent discrimination on account of race or color in regulating the elective franchise. Devices of state governments, whether by statutory or constitutional enactment, to avoid the purpose of this amendment are revolutionary and should be condemned.

Public movements looking to a permanent improvement of the roads and highways of the country meet with our cordial approval and we recommend this subject to the earnest consideration of the people and of the legislatures of the several states.

We favor the extension of the rural free delivery service wherever its extension may be justified.

In further pursuance of the constant policy of the republican party to provide free homes on the public domain, we recommend adequate national legislation to reclaim the arid lands of the United States, reserving control of the distribution of water for irrigation to the respective states and territories.

We favor home rule for and the early admission to statehood of the territories of New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma.

The Dingley act, amended to provide sufficient revenue for the conduct of the war, has so well performed its work that it has been possible to reduce the war debt in the sum of $40,000,000. So ample are the government's revenues, and so great is the public confidence in the integrity of its obligations, that its newly funded 2 per cent bonds sell at a premium. The country is now justified in expecting, and it will be the policy of the republican party to bring about, a reduction of the war taxes.

We favor the construction, ownership, control and protection of an isthmian canal by the government of the United States.

New markets are necessary for the increasing surplus of our farm products. Every effort should be made to open and obtain new markets, especially in the orient, and the administration is warmly to be commended for its successful effort to commit all trading and colonizing nations to the policy of the open door in China.

In the interest of our expanding commerce, we recommend that congress create a department of commerce and industries in the charge of a secretary with a seat in the cabinet. The United States consular system should be reorganized under the supervision of this new department, upon such a basis of appointment and tenure as will render it still more serviceable to the nation's increasing trade.

The American government must protect the person and property of every citizen wherever they are wrongfully violated or placed in peril.

We congratulate the women of America upon their splendid record of public service in the Volunteer Aid association, and as nurses in camp and hospital, during the recent campaigns of our armies in the Eastern and Western Indies, and we appreciate their faithful co-operation in all works of education and industry.

President McKinley has conducted the foreign affairs of the United States with distinguished credit to the American people. In releasing us from the vexatious conditions of a European alliance for the government of Samoa, his course is especially to be commended. By securing to our undivided control the most important island of the Samoan group and the best harbor in the southern Pacific, every American interest has been safeguarded.

We approve the annexation of the Hawaiian islands to the United States.

We commend the part taken by our government in the peace conference at The Hague.

We assert our steadfast adherence to the policy announced in the Monroe doctrine.

The provisions of The Hague convention were wisely regarded when President McKinley tendered his friendly offices in the interest of peace between Great Britain and the South African Republic. While the American government must continue the policy prescribed by Washington, affirmed by every succeeding president and imposed upon us by The Hague treaty, of non-intervention in European controversies, the American people earnestly hope that a way may soon be found, honorably alike to both contending parties, to terminate the strife between them.

In accepting by the treaty of Paris the just responsibility of our victories in the Spanish war, the president and senate won the undoubted approval of the American people. No other course was possible than to destroy Spains' sovereignty throughout the West Indies and in the Philippine islands. That course created our responsibility before the world and with the unorganized population whom our intervention had freed from Spain, to provide for the maintenance of law and order, and for the establishment of good government and for the performance of international obligations.

Our authority could not be less than our responsibility, and wherever sovereign rights were extended it became the high duty of the government to maintain its authority, to put down armed insurrection and to confer the blessings of liberty and civilization upon all the rescued peoples. The largest measure of self-government consistent with their welfare and our duties shall be secured to them by law.

To Cuba independence and self-government were assured in the same voice by which war was declared, and to the letter. This pledge shall be performed.

The republican party, upon its history and upon this declaration of its principles and policies, confidently invokes the considerate and approving judgment of the American people.

GUILTY OR INNOCENT?

By AMY BRAZIER.

CHAPTER IV.—(Continued.)

He casts one quick look at Barbara's bent head and sees the tears dropping through her fingers,noticing her shoulders heaving with these sobs that will not be controlled.

She is cut up at leaving Bouverie, thinks Sebastian, who just touches her bent, dusky head with his fingers.

"Come out into the garden, Barbara; the servants are coming into the room to take away the things. Come."

His voice is kind,and Barbara,yearning for sympathy, goes.

"So you are going to be transported," Sebastian says, as she walks meekly at his side down a garden path bordered by thousands of mauve and white crocuses.

"Sebastian, you know it is not nonsense!" Barbara says, tragically. "Father says nothing, and your mother says play at being engaged if you like; but it is true—quite true. And father need not take me to Tasmania, for it will not make any difference!" —speaking vehemently in her excitement.

Sebastian stoops his dark head.

"You don't expect me to side with Bouverie? Barbara, you do not think I could do that?"

"You would if you were generous enough," breathes Barbara, her wet eyes seeing the crocus border blurred like a rain-bow mist. "Sebastian, you are my cousin, and I haven't a friend in the world!"

The man's dark face is inscrutable.

"I wouldn't give my faith to George Bouverie if I were you," he says slowly. "Barbara, I cannot be a hypocrite. I love you, but you shall not trade on my affection to help you to marry another man; for if I can help it you shall be no man's wife but mine."

The tears that had been welling up in Barbara's eyes are checked suddenly; a look of resolution comes over her troubled face.

"I will tell father everything, and he will understand," she says, almost hopefully. "After all, I think I am glad I am going; and it cannot make any real difference—we can wait."

"Yes, I dare say you will have plenty of waiting," Sebastian says, with cunning familiarity and an evil smile.

Barbara gives him one look from her tear-filled eyes—a look of anger and reproach—and without a word leaves him and walks back to the house.

Mrs. Saville does not think it necessary to inform Barbara that in the autumn Sebastian is to follow her across the sea. She pins great faith on distance and change of scene. In all human probability the silly love affair between Barbara and George Bouverie will die a natural death, and very few people marry their first lovers.

Sebastian will have a very good chance when he goes out to Tasmania, and the honeymoon can be the return journey. It is really a charming arrangement. Mrs. Saville feels quite pleased, and it is a great blessing that Barbara is taking it all so quietly.

By and by she comes into the morning room, where Mrs. Saville is writing lists and letters at a great rate. Barbara has on a pale gray coat and skirt, with a white silk waist and a great bunch of violets in her buttonhole. She looks pale, but the grave mouth is firm.

"I am going to Portraven, Aunt Julia. I am going to meet George to say Good-by to him," she says, with an air of decision, as if opposition were to be expected.

But Mrs. Saville makes no objection. A parting scene between the lovers is inevitable, and the sooner it is over the better. Still Barbara lingers.

"Aunt Julia, I know quite well why father has sent for me. It is to try and make me forget George; but it will be no use. We are promised to each other. I cannot help it—I can never care for anyone else."

Her aunt looks at her, sees the rising agitation, and smiles.

"My dear Barbara, I have never attempted to dissuade you from engaging yourself to Mr. Bouverie if you choose, neither can I prevent you meeting him in Portraven and saying good-by. You are old enough to know your own mind. I do not for one moment suppose your father will regard an engagement of that sort as serious—in fact, I know he will not. You see, dear, I am quite candid, and I foresee that some day you will be very glad to have escaped matrimony with a very worthless young man."

"He is not worthless."

Barbara looks splendid in her indignation as she nobly champions her lover. Then she leaves the room,and walks away down the gloomy, damp avenue, and out on the road beneath the budding trees. Her step is light, and her dark-lashed eyes are full of hope.

Not very far from the Court entrance gates a young man, with a couple of dogs at his heels, is sauntering along. George Bouverie looks, if possible, more anxious and unhappy than ever. His face hardly brightens as Barbara joins him, looking fresh as the spring morning herself.

For a second she looks up at him, and her heart swells as she realizes that it will be a long, long time perhaps before they meet again. "She will yearn for the touch of a vanished hand," she will long with a sick longing for the sound of his merry voice, the sight of his face.

"George," she whispers—and her voice is trembling—"my father has sent for me, and I am going to Tasmania."

"Going to Tasmania?"

In the face of his other hideous trouble, he hardly takes it in, and echoes her words mechanically.

"Yes," Barbara says, almost in her usual tones, "I am to sail immediately, and we have got to say goodby."

Still George stares at her with his heavy eyes, that look as if they had long been strangers to sleep, and he seems as if he could not find anything to say.

But at last words come.

"My darling, my darling, it is better for you to go away, after all."

He is white as chalk as he gazes down at her; but Barbara is quite him, and he is dimly conscious of a smile that is quivering and dancing in her eyes.

"George, I have something to say to you," Barbara says, and clasps both her hands upon his arm. "Come."

They walk down the road together. It is their last interview. How shall they crowd in all the vows and promises—the promises that are made when young hearts seem breaking?

It is over at last—the girl's face very tear-stained, and the man's pale with feeling.

"You have promised me," she is saying. "Swear it, George—you will never bet on a race again, for my sake, for my sake!"

"God helping me, I never will!" he says solemnly, his golden head bent over hers.

CHAPTER V.

When Barbara returns to the Court, with pale cheeks and without her bunch of violets, that repose in George Bouverie's pocketbook as a farewell souvenir, it is to find a scene of confusion and a group in the hall, consisting of the servants, and they are surrounding a central figure, which turns out to be Mrs. Saville lying on the floor.

A loose stair-rod has precipitated her down the stairs,with the result of a broken ankle.

The accident effectually puts a stop to the trip to London. When—with the aid of the coachman, Sebastian, and the cook—she has been conveyed up stairs, she turns to Barbara with a moan.

"I shall be tied here for weeks! I am suffering horribly! You must go to London with Sebastian."

"Don't worry about me, Aunt Julia," Barbara says, pitying the pain that is shown in the twitching face. "I can travel alone."

"Nonsense! As if Sebastian would allow such a thing! You can go straight to your Uncle Henry's, and Sebastian will see you safely on board. My foot is fearfully painful! I hope the doctor has been sent for."

"Yes. Sebastian rode off for him at once."

"Then you may go down stairs and send Mason to me. What a figure you look, Barbara! I suppose you have been having a scene with that young Bouverie?"

Barbara says nothing. Her aunt is in pain, and pain makes most people irritable; so she leaves the room, and prepares to continue her own packing, folding away her possessions with a strange sense of unreality, wondering idly what manner of life she will be living when her gowns see the light of day again.

It is all over at last! The lovers manage a last farewell, and then Barbara is gone, whirled away on the first part of the long voyage, to begin a life that to her will only be a time of probation till George Bouverie shall come and claim her.

Within a week Sebastian is home again, having seen Barbara safely on board and started for Tasmania.

"She is a most extraordinary girl," he says, sitting by his mother's bedside, and giving her a report of his proceedings. "Just fancy! She would not buy a single thing for the voyage except a deck chair, a rug and some lavender water; and she insisted on traveling second class, though her father's friends were going first, and seemed greatly annoyed. They will, through Barbara's obstinacy, be unable to be of the slightest use to her during the voyage."

"What can she mean?" ejaculates Mrs. Saville, looking very grim and grey as she reclines on her pillows.

Sebastian shrugs his shoulders.

"Who can assign any reason for the vagaries of a woman's mind? That fool Bouverie came to the railway station, and they stared into each other's eyes like a couple of lunatics. I thought Barbara was going to have hysterics. Well, she has seen the last of him. If rumor is right, he has about come to the end of his tether. He looks bad enough, and it strikes me his expression spells ruin more than grief at losing a 'sweetheart.' "

"It is a good thing Barbara has gone," Mrs. Saville remarks. "By the time you go out to Tasmania she will have forgotten Bouverie and be very glad to see you."

"I hope so," says Sebastian drily, "considering she is to have all the accumulated savings of her father and her mother's fortune as well." Then his face changes suddenly. "And if she hadn't a penny I should marry her all the same. She is the only woman I ever wanted for my wife"—rising and leaving the room.

And while the great steamer containing Barabra in her second-class quarters ploughs her way through the grey billows, George Bouverie once more looks out into the world, with hope shining in his eyes and a look of relief on his handsome face.

Today, that before sunset is to be a day of tragedy, is as other days with the scent of coming spring in the air. Mrs. Bouverie has been moved to the sofa, and lies like a fragile lily, with her white hair and meek, quiet eyes.

George is beside her, and her delicate, blue-veined hands are lying in his broad, sunburnt palm. They have had a long talk, mother and son—one of those rare talks that have brought heart very near to heart. The mother's lips are tremulous, her eyes tearful. They have been talking about Barbara, and if the young man has given his all to the woman he hopes to makes his wife, there is no jealousy in the heart that has loved him since the moment he was born.

"You don't know what she is, mother," he is saying. "I cannot tell you all, but she is an angel. I don't think there is any one like her. Barbara has saved me," he whispers very low, his sunny head bent. "I am going to be a good man, mother, for her sake, to fit myself to be her husband; and, God helping me, she will never have cause to blush for me again."

For a moment it seems to Mrs. Bouverie that there is bitterness in the thought of the easy victory won by a girl's love, the promises made that all her prayers and tears could not gain; but it is only for a moment. The mother-love crushes down every ungenerous thought, and it is a very tender, smiling face that lifted from the silk-frilled pillows.

"My boy, my son, you have made me very happy."

George stoops and kisses her.

"Some day you will know how Barbara has saved me. Mother dear, I must not tire and worry you when you are so weak. I am going to turn over a new leaf and take to farming. Oh, you don't know all I am going to do!" —laughing as he speaks, a laugh that is a little tremulous because he feels like one who has been reprieved.

George goes off to Portraven, still with that tremulous joy and relief in his heart, and feels very humble and thankful.

George goes to the bank, cashes a small cheque—a cheque that now he feels ashamed of because the money has been won from a bookmaker. However, it is the last time, he says to himself, pocketing the gold and leaving the bank. As he runs down the steps he comes face to face with Sebastian Saville. The two men nod to each other in the manner of those who foster a mutual dislike.

Afterwards they meet at the postoffice, where George is dispatching a telegram. In fact, he is transmitting the sum of one hundred pounds through the postoffice by telegram. A little pile of yellow gold is handed in the office window. Sebastian stares, and George turns first crimson, then white, and his hands shake. He feels the eyes of Sebastian Saville on him, and his confusion increases.

Again the two men exchange hostile glances. George finishes his business and swings out of the postoffice. Mr. Saville buys some postage stamps, and goes out into the sunny street again.

(To be continued.)

A lazy man's burdens are heaviest on his mind; put your interest in your work and your work will soon be to your interest.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

DES MOINES, June 24, 1900.

There will be no lack of music at the Chautauqua this year, two quartettes having been engaged, the Arion quartette from Chicago and the Apollo quartette from Columbns, O. One of the most interesting and pleasing features of the Chautauqua will be the appearance on the platform of Maud Ballington Booth. Mrs. Booth is exclusively under the management of the Interstate Lecture Bureau and she will make only fifteen lectures this year. It has been arranged that Hon. J. P. Dolliver shall meet Hon. Champ Clark, of Missouri, on the lecture platform on some occasion during the Chautauqua and the debate between the two, who are ranked away up among the foremost platform orators of the day, will be an occasion worth hearing. Experiments with the newest great discovery, that of liquid air, will be a feature that will interest every man, woman and child who attends. The exhibition is made with liquid air manufactured by Prof. Charles E. Tripler, the inventor, and is under the personal management of Russell Palmer.

Herbert T. Granger, the plaintiff in the sensational Granger divorce case on trial for two weeks before Judge Bishop in the district court the latter part of last month, is no longer a member of the firm of Guernsey & Granger. Mr. Guernsey has bought Mr. Granger's interest in the firm. Mr. Granger has left the city for good, it is asserted. It is understood that he will locate in some western town.

The people of central Iowa will shortly have another opportunity to see a big show which is always sure of a warm reception. Ringling Brothers' great combined circus, menagerie and hippodrome will exhibit at Des Moines Monday, July 2. The show has not been here since 1896, and there is a very general desire to see it again and compare it with the admirable exhibitions given in Des Moines by Ringling Brothers in former years. Since the last visit of the show it has been greatly enlarged—so much so, in fact, that it is now recognized as the largest arenic institution in the United States. In New England, where the show has recently been exhibiting, it created a sensation, and in Boston the leading newspapers declared that the performances surpassed anything in the arenic line ever seen in the Hub. The performances to be given in Des Moines are identically the same as those given in the great eastern cities and many novelties are being presented this season for the first time. This is particularly true of the trained animal displays, which embrace O'Brien's 61-horse act, Sander's elephant brass band and Lockhart's elephant comedians. There is also a new military spectacle and a new parade. Des Moines will certainly give the show a cordial reception. Reduced rates have been secured on all railroads.

At a meeting of the board of trustees of Des Moines College the most important matter considered was the gift of $25,000 offered to the college on the condition that the trustees raise $60,000 to $100,000 more. After long and careful deliberation as to the man to put into the emergency to take charge of this canvass, Rev. W. M. Walker, pastor of the First Baptist Church, of Des Moines, was unanimously chosen. He appeared in person and consented to do the work in connection with such brethren as he may choose and in such manner as not in any way to conflict with his duties as pastor of his present charge. Prof. J. P. Stephenson was chosen dean of the faculty ad interim and the choosing of a new president to succeed Dr. H. L. Stetson will be held in abeyance for a few months while this canvass is being made.

Spurrier & Maxwell, attorneys for A. K. Campbell and Dr. E. L. Eaton, of Des Moines, have filed a petition in the district court of Polk county attacking the sufficiency of the saloon consent petition passed upon by the board of supervisors June 8, and under which the saloons are now operating. The petition charges that the consent is insufficient as to the number of signers; that the persons making affidavit to the signatures are not of good moral character; that the petition was not properly canvassed; that many of the signatures are not genuine, and that many signatures were secured by fraud. None of the charges are specific, and the entire petition does not cover a page of legal cap paper. At the trial, which takes place in September, in order to establish the case claimed, it will be necessary to prove that the petition does not contain a sufficient number of signers, or that the reputation of the persons witnessing the signature is not of a character that will warrant placing credence in their affidavits to the effect that the signatures are correct.

The Union Terminal Railway Company of Sioux City, has signified its intention to incorporate with the state, costing $2,003.50 in fees. Its capital is $2,500,000. Its incorporators are: John Cadwalider, Charles C. Harrison, Sidney L. Wright, John W. Hamer, William A. Blackford, Lawrason Riggs, Edwin S. Dixon, Adam S. Still. These are all Pennsylvania men. The company provides in its articles for power to build three lines of road, all from Sioux City, one east to the limit of Woodbury county, one westerly to the Big Sioux, and one north to the Iowa state line.

McKinley Congratulates Roosevelt.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—The president sent the following congratulatory telegram to Governor Roosevelt:

"Executive Mansion, Washington, June 21.—Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, Philadelphia, Pa.: Your unanimous nomination is a high and deserved honor. I extend my heartiest congratulations. WILLIAM MCKINLEY."

THE REPORT OF A MAN OF EXPERIENCE.

What He Found in Western Canada to Induce Him to Settle There.

Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., Feb. 20th, 1900.

To Whom it May Concern:—Especially to those who are desirous of obtaining health and wealth for themselves and families, I wish to state a few facts in regard to the Canadian North-west, where I went, leaving Sault Ste. Marie on May 2nd, 1899, for the purpose of seeking a better home for my family in the future. I got a special rate ticket for Ft. McLeod, Alberta. Through Manitoba and part of Assiniboia the farmers were busy employed ploughing and seeding. I found the farmers very kind and friendly, willing to talk and assist in giving me the particulars of the country. At McLeod I spent a few days looking over some ranchers' stock, which I was surprised to see looking so well; they were in better condition than any stock I ever saw in Michigan, even those that had been stabled, and most of these had never seen the inside of a shed or received any feed from the hands of man. But as I was also looking for mixed farm land I found McLeod no place for me, it is only fit for ranching purposes.

Retracing my way back to Winnipeg, I stopped off at Lethbridge, where I found some of the greatest horse ranches I ever had the pleasure of looking at. It is a fine level country, and lots of water and good grazing. At Medicine Hat, which is located in a valley, there were lots of sheep, cattle and horses in the surrounding country and all looking well.

On July 14th I went to Regina, there I began to see mixed farming lands in abundance, and the crops looking remarkably well, and as long as daylight lasted I saw the same all along the line and on the 15th day of July I arrived in Winnipeg, just in time for the exhibition. There I met with one of the most beautiful pictures of the world's records, for as soon as I entered the grounds my eyes met with all kinds of machinery, all in motion, and the cattle, grain and produce of the country was far beyond my expectation, in fact it was beyond any industrial exhibition or agricultural fair I ever visited and I have seen a good many.

From Regina to Prince Albert, a distance of 250 miles, it is all good for mixed farming, and well settled, with some thriving little towns. In some places the grain, just coming into head, would take a man to the waist, and the wild fruit along the line was good, rich and in great quantities, from Saskatoon on the south branch of the Saskatchewan river, to Prince Albert on the north branch of the same river, is one of the best farming districts without any doubt that ever laid face to the sun, and everything to be found there, that is necessary to make life comfortable, all that is required is labor. There is lots of wood, good water, and abundant hay land, and the climate is excellent.

Prince Albert is a flourishing little place, situated on the north Saskatchewan river, having a population of about 1,800, with good street and sidewalks and churches of nearly every denomination, three school houses, and another one to be built at once, also a brewery and a creamery. Here I stayed for about four months, working at my trade of bricklaying, and met with farmers and ranchers with whom I made it my special business to talk in regard to the prospects. I also visited several farmers for some distance out in the country while crops were in full bloom, and I may say that I never saw better crops in all my travels than I saw along the valley towards Stoney Creek and Carrot River. In the market garden there is grown currants, both red and black, and as fine a sample of roots and vegetables as ever went on a market. The soil in and around this district cannot be beaten for anything you may wish to grow, and besides the season is long, giving time for everything to mature. The cattle were looking as good as I saw anywhere, good pasture and hay land, and plenty of water wherever you go. The country is dotted all around like islands with timber fit for fuel and building purposes and within a day's walk of lumbering woods, where lumbering and tie making is carried on in winter. Both large and small game is plentiful. There are two good saw mills in this district, with a good supply of all grades of lumber all the year round and also two good brickyards with an excellent quality of brick. There is no scarcity of building material and at a reasonable price. Clothing and living are no higher than I find in Michigan, and furthermore I wish to say that there is a great demand for laboring men all the year round and good wages ranging from $1.75 to $2.00 per day, and from $25.00 to $35.00 per month with board.

I wish to say that I am perfectly satisfied with the country and I intend to return to Prince Albert early in the spring of 1900. Any reasonable man can go there and in from five to ten years make a good and comfortable home for himself and family, and if any person into whose hand this letter should fall, desires more information, please write to me and I will freely give them my best opinion. I am writing this for the benefit of those who may want to make a better home for themselves and families or friends.

Trusting that this statement may be useful to you in the publication of your next pamphlet and be the means of guiding at least some of those who are in search of a home, I remain

Your humble servant,

(Signed) WILLIAM PAYNE.

The above letter was written to Mr. J. Griere, Canadian Government Agent at Saginaw, Michigan. Information as to lands, etc., can be had from him or Mr. M. V. McInnes, No. 2 Merrill Block, Detroit, Michigan.

Men are to women an evil they could not be induced to dispense with.

Don't Get Bald.

Use Coke Dandruff Cure regularly and your hair will not fall out. All druggists.

Courage is fully one-half the battle of life.

Uncle Sam uses the best of everything. Uncle Sam uses Carter's Ink. He knows.

Persons who are good listeners are usually good talkers.

Ladies Can Wear Shoes.

One size smaller after using Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder. It makes tight or new shoes easy. Cures swollen, hot, sweating, aching feet, ingrowing nails, corns and bunions. All druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE by mail. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N.Y.

The dressmaker has many trying times.

Faded hair recovers its youthful color and softness by the use of PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM.
HINDERCORNS, the best cure for corns. 15cts.

Fires, fights and free lunches are crowd attractive.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.

Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

The person who likes to hear himself talk should buy a phonograph.

Hint to Housekeepers

To preserve shirt waists, etc., use Maple City Self Washing Soap. All grocers sell it.

A bad temper is not conducive to beauty.

Some people are so stingy they fear to speak loud, as it might wear on their voice.

If you have a grudge against your neighbor, buy his small boy a drum.

We refund 10c for every package of PUTNAM FADELESS DYE that fails to give satisfaction. Monroe Drug Co., Unionville, Mo.

Some men are born with black eyes and some have to fight for them.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Lower rents—those in the knees of the small boy's trousers.

Send for Choice Recipes

by Walter Baker & Co., Ltd., Dorchester, Mass., mailed free. Mention this paper.

The ice cream dispenser is now raking in the coin.

Don't Spoil Your Clothes

By using inferior soaps. Maple City Self Washing Soap is absolutely pure and is guaranteed not to injure the finest fabrics. All grocers sell it.

The child who respects his parents will respect the laws of the land.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is taken internally. Price, 75c.

It is better to be a nobody than a rascally somebody.

FITS Permanently Cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Send for FREE $2.00 trial bottle and treatise. DR. R. H. KLINE, Ltd., 931 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Some girls seem to want to marry a man for fear that some other girl will

Lock Jaw.

E. H. Hardin, China Springs, Tex., says: "One large dose of Morley's Wonderful Eight cured my mare of lock-jaw. It was a wonderful cure and saved me a $65.00 animal." Sold by agent in every town.

Denmark claims that every one of its citizens can read and write.

THE NATIONAL CONVENTIONS.

Prohibition, at Chicago, June 27, 28, 1900. Tickets on sale June 26, 27.

Democratic, at Kansas City, July 4, 1900. Tickets on sale July 2, 4.

The road to take to attend these conventions is the Chicago Great Western railway, the popular "Maple Leaf Route," with its vestibuled trains, free chair cars, satisfactory dining car service, and its unsurpassed sleeping car accommodations.

Only one fare for the round trip.

For further particulars apply to any agent of the Chicago Great Western, or address F. H. Lord, G. P. & T. A., 113 Adams street, Chicago.

J. Pierpont Morgan and William K. Vanderbuilt are devotees of the game of solitaire.

Lane's Family Medicine.

Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

A doctor never cares to know his patients well.

Save Your Back

By using Maple City Self Washing Soap—it does the work with half the labor.

A fool praises himself, but a wise man turns the job over to a friend.

A Warning.

Pain or soreness in the back must never be slighted. Kidney diseases creep on us with only that one warning. Delay is folly when by the timely use of Morley's Liver and Kidney Cordial, the great System Renovator, all danger can be avoided. This remedy is a positive cure for Kidney and Urinary Troubles. Ask your druggist.

A little bird on a hat is worth two that tell tales.

MEDICAL BOOK FREE.

"Know Thyself," a Book For Men Only, sent Free, postpaid, sealed, to any male reader mentioning this paper; 6c for postage. The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation, the Gold Medal Prize Treatise, the best Medical Book of this or any age. 370 pp., with engravings and prescriptions. Only 25c paper covers. Library Edition, full gilt, $1.00. Address The Peabody Medical Institute, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., the oldest and best in this country. Write today for these books; keys to health and vigor.

When a boy thinks he knows more than his father it is about time for him to begin to pay board.

YOU NEED A DAILY PAPER.

This is a presidential year, and every citizen needs a daily paper. The Des Moines Daily News is sent postpaid to any address for $1 a year, 75 cents for six months, 50 cents for three months. All the news condensed for the busy reader; daily markets by telegraph; interesting literary matter for the family. Address, The NEWS Des Moines, Iowa.

There is a growing admiration for the woman who doesn't know the king from a two spot.

Mrs. Pinkham

The one thing that qualifies a person to give advice on any subject is experience — experience creates knowledge.

No other person has so wide an experience with female ills nor such a record of success as Mrs. Pinkham has had.

Over a hundred thousand cases come before her each year. Some personally, others by mail. And this has been going on for 20 years, day after day and day after day.

Twenty years of constant success — think of the knowledge thus gained! Surely women are wise in seeking advice from a woman with such an experience, especially when it is free.

If you are ill get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound at once—then write Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass.

Try Grain-O! Try Grain-O!

Ask you Grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee.

The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it, like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. ¼ the price of coffee.

15 cents and 25 cents per package.

Sold by all grocers.

Tastes like Coffee
Looks like Coffee

Insist that your grocer gives you GRAIN-O
Accept no imitation.

SEND US YOUR NAME

On a postal card, MENTION THIS PAPER, and we will send you ABSOLUTELY FREE any one or all of our five Catalogues QUOTING TO YOU DIRECT our goods at WHOLESALE DISCOUNTS.

CATALOGUES:
No. 1—Cameras & Photo Goods.
No. 2—Bicycles & Sundries.
No. 3—Talking Machines, Records, &c.
No. 4—Guns, Ammunition, Etc.
No. 5—Sporting & Athletic Goods.

YOU WILL FIND US THE LOWEST PRICED HOUSE IN BUSINESS

Compare our discounts with others and see for yourself.

W. P. CHASE CO., 616-618-620 Locust Street, 415-417 Seventh Street, DES MOINES, IOWA.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE.

Price 25 Cents | Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

PENSIONS Get your Pension DOUBLE QUICK

Write CAPT. O'FARRELL, Pension Agent, 1425 New York Avenue. WASHINGTON, D. C.

$25,000 TO BE GIVEN AWAY

for closest estimate of the 1900 census of the United States.

If you subscribe for

FARM NEWS

the greatest of America's farm journals, 50 cents a year, you may guess at the census and will receive a certificate to share, if you win, in $25,000, in 1000 prizes. Awards based on the 1900 census of the U. S. and territories. The plan is copyrighted by the Press Publishing Association, and has been approved by Postoffice Department. We send certificates corresponding to your guesses.

If you get up a club of six or more, giving each a guess, you can also have as many free guesses as you send subscribers.

If you wish to record a number of guesses before the contest closes we will send ten Postal Due Bills each good for a year's subscription for $5.00 and give 20 guesses free.

SPECIAL—Until FOURTH OF JULY Three Free Guesses with 2 year's subscription at $1.00.

First Prize -	$15,000	Fourteenth -	$ 25
Second Prize - -	5,000	Fifteenth Prize	20
Third Prize - - -	1,000	Sixteenth Prize -	25
Fourth Prize - - -	500	Seventeenth Prize	20
Fifth Prize - - -	300	Eighteenth Prize	15
Sixth Prize - - -	200	Nineteenth Prize	15
Seventh Prize - - -	100	Twentieth Prize	15
Eighth Prize - - -	90	180 Prizes of $5.00	900
Ninth Prize - - -	80	100 Prizes of $1.00	600
Tenth Prize - - - -	75	100 Prizes of $2.50	250
Eleventh Prize - - -	60	200 Prizes of $2.00	400
Twelfth Prize - - -	50	400 Prizes of $1.00	400
Thirteenth Prize - -	40	1000	$25,000

If two or more tie, prizes will be divided equally.

The Press Publishing Association has deposited $25,000 in the Central Savings Bank of Detroit, and cannot be withdrawn till prizes are paid.

Send subscriptions, guesses and money to

FARM NEWS CENSUS DEPT., Springfield, Ohio.

$15.77

$15.77 freight paid to ANY POINT EAST OF ROCKY MOUNTAINS.

ONLY 97 CENTS DOWN. Cut this ad. out and send to us with 97 cents, state whether ladies' or gents' bicycle is wanted, size of frame, and we will send you this High Grade 1900 Model $50.00 World Winner BICYCLE by freight C. O. D., subject to examination. Examine it at your freight office and if you find it a genuine 1900 model high grade $50.00 World Winner, the grandest bargain you ever saw or heard of and you are convinced it is worth $10.00 to $15.00 more than any wheel advertised by other houses up to $25.00, pay your freight agent or banker the balance, $14.80. The World Winner is covered by a BINDING GUARANTEE. Frame is 22 or 24 inch, made from best seamless tubing, finest one-piece hanger, finest full ball bearings, Mason arch crown, enameled black or maroon, highly nickel finished, Delhi padded saddle, adjustable handle bars, best Doyle pedals, high grade guaranteed single tubing, pneumatic tires, fine leather bag, complete with tools and repair outfit. Order today. Bicycle catalogue free.

T. M. Roberts' Supply House, Minneapolis, Minn.

SEND NO MONEY. We ask no money until you have examined the machine and convinced yourself it is such a machine as was never before offered at anything like the price. OUR OFFER. Mention No. 92 if you have any use for a sewing machine. Don't send one cent of money, but write your name plainly and in full, name of postoffice and nearest railroad station, and we will send this drop head 5-drawer Cabinet Blue Ribbon Sewing Machine to your railroad station, PREPAYING ALL FREIGHT CHARGES ourselves; go there and examine it, call in any expert to examine it, compare it with machines that others sell at $40 to $60, and if every one pronounces it in every way the equal of such machines, the most wonderful bargain you ever heard of, pay freight agent our special introductory price, $16.27. If it is not perfectly satisfactory in every way, you will be under no obligations to take it. $16.27, freight and collection charges paid by us to any town east of Rocky Mountains for the No. 92 machine in our new Grand Five Drawer Drop Head Cabinet Blue Ribbon; it eclipses all previous attempts at Sewing Machine values. Guaranteed 20 Years.

$16.27

T. M. ROBERTS' SUPPLY HOUSE, Minneapolis, Minn.

W. N. U., Des Moines., No. 26—1900

When answering advertisements please mention this paper.

14TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION,

THURSDAY, JULY 12, 1900.

FREE BAND CONCERT During the afternoon by the Celebrated CARPENTER HARP ORCHESTRA.

EXCURSION RATES: One fare for the round trip from all stations from Eagle Grove and Thornton on the M. C. & Ft. D. Ry. One and one-third fare for the round trip from all stations within 50 miles on Iowa Central, and Burlington R. R.

Ice Cream Booth will be conducted by the cemetery association for the benefit of the cemetery.

GRAND BALL in Opera House in the evening. Music by the celebrated carpenter Harp Orchestra.

BASE BALL. All about base ball in our next issue.

TO MAKE THIS A DAY OF BUSINESS COMBINED WITH PLEASURE WE OFFER YOU THE FOLLOWING BENEFIT SALE.

Bargain Number 1.

Lawns worth 6c per yd. 3c
Prints worth 7 and 8c per yd 4c.
White goods per yd 5c.
White goods worth up to 20c yd 9c.
12½ and 15c Fine Dress Percales per yard 8c,
Piques and Organdies worth up to 30c yard 14c.

Bargain No. 2.

Silks worth 60c yard 33c.
$1. Silks, stripes and plaids yd 49c
Silks including black Brocades and colored Faille yd 79c

Bargain No. 3.

500 yards 25 to 35c wide Oriental laces per yard 9c

Bargain No. 4.

150 corsets worth up to 75c each 39c.
75 corsets worth up to $1.25 each 78c
75 Ladies Home Made Wrappers at 82c each.

Bargain No. 5.

12½ and 15c plaid dress goods yd 9c
25 to 35c dress goods yd 19c
50 to 60c dress goods yd 39c
Fine high grade dress goods, blacks and colors, worth up to $1 35 yd 79c

Bargain No. 6.

50c colored table linen yd 26c.
Glace 10c toweling yd 5c
Ladies tailor made suits $7.98, 9.98 and 10.98.—Every suit a bargain.

Bargain No. 7.

Ladies and childrens vests ea 3c up.
Ladies and childrens muslin underwear at mid-summer sale prices,

BARGAIN NO 8.

Ladies umbrellas and parasols, black and colors worth up to $1.75 each $1.14

BARGAIN NO. 10.

Ladies' gents, boys and girls straw hats and caps, worth up to $1,00 at 5 10, 15, 25, 40 and 50c.
Mens and boys shirts, many worth as much as $1.25, each 39c.

BARGAIN 11,

Ladies 10 to 25c belts each 5 to 12c,
25c summer veiling yd 10c.
Childrens 20 and 25c silk mits ea 9c.

BARGAIN 12.

Since our anniversary comes on the 12th we make bargain 12 the biggest and best bargain of the day.

Childrens and misses low shoes 48c
Ladies low shoes worth up to 1.50 pair 98c.
Ladies low shoes worth up to $2.00 pair $1.18
Ladies fine shoes worth up to $3.50 pair $1.98.
Gents fine shoes worth up to $3.50 pair $1.98.
All shoes not in sale, a cash discount of 20 per cent will be given.

LUCKY 14.

Ask to see our 14th anniversary bargain.

UNLUCKY 13.

GROCERIES.

15c canned goods each 9c. 50 and 60 cent Japan tea lb 40. Good coffee per pound 13c. Solid steel tea spoons 7c.

FREE:—With each sack of flour you buy on this day you will get a can of baking powder or glass dish, free.

REMEMBER: ☞Doors open at 7:30 o'clock a. m. ☞No sale goods taken back or exchanged. ☞No premiums given on Sale Day. ☞Produce taken same as cash. ☞Complaint must be made to cashier. ☞No goods sold on approval. ☞All goods must be settled for at time of purchase. We will not be responsible for goods after delivery. Thirty clerks engaged for this sale and you will be well served. You will have a good time if you come—you will miss it if you do not.

E. L. TIEDE,

BELMOND, IOWA.

Buy Your

Drugs, Paints, Wall Paper, Toilet Soap, Perfumery Books and Patent Medicines

At Amsden's Pharmacy

GARNER, IOWA.

Buggies Wagons

Corn [illegible] vators

And Bicycles: Do not fail to see us before buying. We have the largest stock of the best goods ever brought to this city

Groceries, Hardware.

First class Tinshop.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

COUNTY ATTORNEY.

I hereby announce mysely a candidate for County Attorney, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the primaries.

J. E. WICHMAN.

COUNTY RECORDER.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for renomination to the office of County Recorder of Hancock county, Iowa, subject to the Republican Primaries of 1900.

OLE PETERLON.

COUNTY AUDITOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-nomination to the office of County Auditor subject to the decision of the Republican Primaries.

E. F. BRUMMUND.

CLERK OF DISTRICT COURT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-nomination to the office of Clerk of the District Court of Hancock county, Iowa, subect to the Republican Primaries of 1900.

L. D. WOMELDORF.

Cresco.

A Corset that cannot break at the waist line must be more satisfactory to the wearer than the breakable sorts. Try a Cresco Corset—contentment is sure to follow. New stock always in and size range complete.

Shafer & Dow.

TO CURE A COLD WHILE YOU SLEEP.

Take "Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

CARY SAFE CO.

BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.

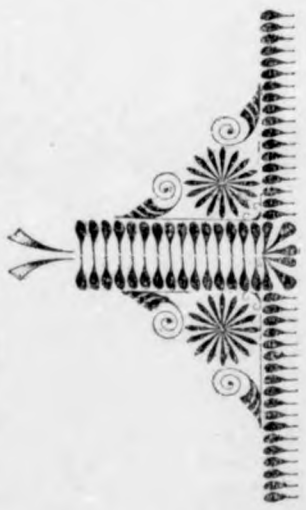
..Manufacturers..

FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES

VAULTS, LOCKS, ETC.

CONTRACTORS to UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

KOERENR BROS.....



Woven Wire Fencing,
Poultry Netting, Barbed Wire,
Nails, Staples, Hay Tools,
Carpenter Tools, Bicycles,
Bicycle Repairs, Paints,
Oils, Brushes, Putty,
Glass, Roofing, Spouting
Etc. Etc.

KLEMME, IOWA.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hogs wanted six days in the week. W. R. Bloom.

It is McKinley and Rosevelt fo r 1900.

Editor Hall was up from Goodell Tuesday.

Mrs. W. R. Bloom was a Garvisitor Tuesday.

"Excuse me for living" said the base ball umpire.

A. B. Shafer made a business trip to Mason City Tuesday.

W. R. Bloom was transacting business at Thornton Wednesday

A good second hand upright piano for sale.

E. P. SCHAEFER.

Attorney Blackstone was doing Klemme in a business way Thursday.

Sheriff H. A. Deuer, of Belmond, was in Klemme on official business to-day.

Geo. Bartholomew and family and Chas. Bracher drove to Clear Lake Sunday.

FOR SALE:—Residence property in Barz addition to Klemme. Inquire of H. S. Swarz.

Note the new advertisements of Shafer & Dow and G. W. Kluckhohn in this is sue..

Miss Blanchard, a sister of Mrs. J. L. Harr was a south bound passenger Thursday.

No coffee sold after 4 o'clock Saturday, June 30, on book case given away on that date at Shafer & Dow's.

Mrs. C. G. Bracher and daughter Veta returned Tuesday from a two-weeks' visit with relatives at Germania.

A new precedent has been es tablished, where a transient what-is-it sets himself up to know more than five men.

M. Palmby's loss by lightening in a recent storm has been fully and satisfactorily settled, the total loss being adjusted at $200.

We are a little late this week because of much work, and we glad of it—not because we are late with the paper but because we have plenty to do.

The republican primary of German township for the nomination of county officers will be held at the Center school house on Saturday, June 30 from 3 to 9 o'clock p. m. and for the nomination of candidates for township officers if the voters present at the opening of the primary so determine. F. W. LENZ, Com.

Light air and sunlight are important factors in keeping the family and the house in a healthy condition. Nothing could be worse than the habit some people have of keeping the house in darkness from early morning until night. The house should be flooded with light and air for several hours each day.—July Ladies' Home Journal.

Our mothers at seventeen, while they were absorbing as much history, philosophy or foreign languages as was good for them, were learning at the same time half unconsciously how to cook, to sew, to bring up children, to control servants, to take care of the sick—In a word to be unselfish, skillful homemakers. If love came to them, as it comes to most women at that age, it found them in the shelter of their homes, guided by the wisdom of those who loved them best.—July Ladies' Home Journal.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Shafer returned Saturday from their southern trip. Mr. Shafer will tell you "torable fish stories, entertainingly.

Miss Thelma Hagelin, who for several months was head trimmer in E. P. Schaefer's millinery department, left for her home in Chicago Wednesday.

FOR SALE:—A good six-room house with one acre of ground, trees and small fruit, nicely located, easy terms. Inquire of H. C. LAU, Klemme, Iowa.

The Campmeeting almost depoulated Klemme the latter part of last week, and especially Sunday. It is estimated that fully 1000 people attended Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Harr, and daughter, accompanied by Miss Freeguard and Miss Mamlin, all of Belmond, were the guest of J. L. Harr and family Sunday.

During the storm Tuesday night, lightening struck and killed a fine two-year-old steer for Henry Kielmeier, who lives on the Peter Josten farm. He is fortunate in having insurance in the Hawkeye.

For Sale!—240 acre farm three miles east of Klemme, all under cultivation, buildings, etc. For prices and terms, call on or address, M. S. Gilman, Klemme, Iowa.

The Deere and Sandwich hay loaders are the best in the market. Go to Gruetzmacher Bros. if you need hay tools of any kind —McCormick and Standard mowers are the best.

Mrs. Henry Freie celebrated he 39th birthday by enviting friends and neighbors to a social party at their home last Saturday evening. An ellegant supper was served, and all went home feeling that the evening had been happily spent.

Miss May Lovering, who has for the last three months assisted Miss E. Renzenhouser in her millinery establishment, departed for her home in Minneapolis Wednesday morning. Miss Lovering made many friends while here, who regret to lose her.

The Goodell ladies come up to the ball game Tuesday in full force, and did all they could to cheer Klemme ou to victory. Their presence and hearty cheers were much appreciated. Goodell has just a little the nicest lot of young ladies we have seen for many moons.

FLY NETS:—Good nets, poor nets, indifferent nets; nets that will keep the flies off and nets that wont; nets that are too nice and some not pretty enough; nets that costs lots of money and those that we almost give away. We have the finest line ever put on the market at prices that will make them go.

F. GRUETZMACHER.

The Republican Primary of Ell township for the nomination of county officers will be held at the council room, Klemme, Saturday, June 30, from 2:00 o'clock to 8:00 o'clock p. m., and for the nomination of township officers if the voters preseut at the opening of the primary should so determine. Chas. Gruetzmacher.

E. L. Tiede, Belmond's merchant prince, who spends more money for advertising and sells more goods than any two stores in Wright county, will hold his 14th anniversary bargain sale on July 12th. Read carefully his large half-page advertisement in this issue, and note the genuine bargains. What he says he will do he will do. Excursion rates on all roads.

The German Reform Churches of Ell Township and Klemme held a picnic Tuesday afternoon and evening in the grove near the Ell township church. A fine program was rendered, after which games of all kinds were indulged in. A picnic supper was indulged in and the large crowd thoroughly enjoyed the day.

Came into our possession on June 25, two broncho pony mares branded U on hip,—one buckskin or cream color and one roan, about 10 or 12 years old. Owner may recover proper same by calling at the farm of J. Wenz, 3½ miles south-west of Klemme, paying damages and paying for this notice, Address,

Henke & Wenz, Klemme.

The campaigh has begun and every republican voter in the state should read a good republican daily. The Cedar Rapids Republican needs no introduction. It has stood for years as the foremost exponent of republican principles, and is conceded to be the republican paper in Iowa. It is known throughout the state as containing the ablest editorial page and its telegraph service is the best that can be procured. During the present campaign the Republican is making the following low rate. The daily 3 months $1—Semiy-week-

Little Wayne Harr, Wednesday afternoon assisted by his little sister Mildred entertained about twenty-six of his little friends at an afternoon party. Games and nother amusements, occupied the afternoon, and the peals of laughter that greeted one as they passed by, made one's heart glad. At about six o'clock, light refreshments were served on a long table, on the lawn, and the little ones did full justice to it. It was a happy afternoon for the little folks and one to be remembered by those who were fortunate enough to present.

Garner 8 Klemme 6.

The Garner ball team, accompanied by the usual number of fans, came as per schedule and carried away the honors as above. In the first inning the visitors scored one run, two in the third, three in the fourth, and one in the sixth and seventh The home team went down in one two three order, and failed to score until 4th inning They scored one in the fourth, twice in the sixth and three times in the eighth. Comment is useless Wild throws to first, passed balls at the initial plate and gross ignorance or maliciousness of the umpire, who persisted in giving the home team the "throw down" on every close decision lost the game. Druyea Bros. were at the points for the home team. While frequent hits were made off of Jim Duryea. with proper support the game was easy, in spite of the fact that at critical times, scores were cut off at home and third by the exceedingly modest umpire. Virgil Williams, the colored twirler of the Garner team pitched a good game. Samuel Schneider, the the pyrotechnic pitcher also took a turn and aside from the fact that he could not find the plate, has several strike-outs to his credit. Considering that this was Klemme's first game, the result might easily have been worse, and the opinion in general is that we were lucky to escape as easily as we did.

Men's and boy's crash suits at Shafer & Dow.

Do You Eat?

Well, try some of our Viena Sausage and Kraut, Red Salmon, Jams. Whole Wheat Biscuits, Pickles, Just what you want

THIS HOT WEATHER

We have just received

a full line of Negligee Shirts, Fancy Suspenders, Summer Underwear, Pants, Overalls, etc.

Highest Market Price

For Butter and Eggs.

Shafer & Dow.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

OUR SPECIALTY IS

LUMBER

WE ALSO SELL

Brick, Lime, Cement, Paroid Roofing, American Field Fence Screen Doors and Windows.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

Farm Machinery.

DO NOT FORGET

That we handle a COMPLETE LINE of the BEST Farm Machinery manufactured. Before you buy, it will pay you to see us and get our prices. We handle

CASSADY GANG AND SULKY PLOWS,

Corn Cultivators, Stirring Plows, Cornplanters, harrows, Discs, Wagons, Buggies, Geneva Windmils, Milwaueee Binders and Mowers.

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE.....

We are constantly adding new, fresh GROCERIES to our stock and would like to make you prices. If you want Hardware or Tinware, we can supply your wants.

LAU BROS.

GRAND CLOSING OUT SALE OF

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry

I AM GOING TO CLOSE Out my entire stock of Watches, Clocks and Jewelry at Cost Price. If U want a bargain come and see me. CHAS. F. H. Suckow, Watchmaker and Jeweler, Klemme, Iowa.

The Klemme Times.

G. L. WELLEMEYER, Pub.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

A report on the bubonic plague has been issued by the government of Bombay, which states that the observations of the medical staff go to show that 70 per cent of the seizures terminate fatally; also that bacteriology, so far, has not resulted in the discovery of any cure for the disease.

Photographic observations of the recent total eclipse of the sun will certainly prove far more satisfactory and valuable than any hitherto obtained. On no previous occasion has the scientific outfit for picture-making been anything like so complete,and the publication of prints from the negatives secured by the Smithsonian institution with the aid of its gigantic camera, set up at Wadesboro, N. C., in the track of the moon's shadow, is awaited with eagerness by astronomers.

An official report from Rome shows us how the citizens of the various countries compare with each other in the matter of letter-writing. England leads the van, with fifty-nine missives per head per annum; Switzerland follows with forty-one. Then come Germany with thirty-three, Denmark with thirty-one, Austria with twenty-seven, Holland with twenty-three, Belgium with twenty-one, and France with nineteen.

Bishop Potter pays a high tribute to the character and qualities of the rank and file of our army in Manila. He says, in effect, that no one who has seen our soldiers in the Philippines, and has noted their splendid physique, their attention to duty, and the high average of intelligence existing among them, can fail to have an increased pride in our army and a profound faith in their capability to do whatever is required of them. He saw our soldiers in many places, under all varieties of circumstances, during his stay in Manila, but not one among them who reflected discredit upon himself or his country.

How is this for a bridal trip? asks the Washington Evening Star. A young couple went to Flagstaff, Ariz., bought a couple of big wagons and teams of mules, hired a couple of teamsters and a good cook and started south for Phoenix. The principal wagon was roofed with canvas and the trip is described as ideal. No flies or mosquitoes, good hunting, and the "light of love" combining with that from moon and stars. Upon arrival at Phoenix the wagons were sold at an advance, and the couple proceeded by rail to Los Angeles in search of new adventures. They may return via Japan and India.

Reports from the far northwest show that there may be some surprises in the clean-up in the various mining camps. The Klondike is sure to yield many more millions than last season, because of the labor saving machinery, such as devices for rapid thawing of the frozen earth and for bringing the earth to the surface. At Atlin, it is asserted on good authority, the bench claims will yield from $8 to $12 a cubic yard, and the Spruce Creek bench claims will produce $18,000,000. Most of the owners of claims on Spruce and other creeks have put in hydraulic machinery and in this way they have worked a large amount of ground.

The marriage of the Crown Prince of Japan to his cousin seems to have been a mixture of Japanese and European ceremonies. Thus, the bride and bridegroom were married in the ancient court dress, and afterwards donned western costume, and there was a wedding breakfast with wedding cake. The actual marriage ceremony in Japan is very simple. Its distinguishing feature is what is termed the San-san Ku-do—that is, literally, "three times, nine times," because both the bridegroom and the bride drink three times out of each of three wine-cups of different sizes, making nine times in all, or, rather, they do not drink, but only lift the cups to their lips. The "wine" is sake, a mild alcoholic liquor.

The British government appears to be responsible for the famine in India, or at least to have made the famine possible, through the very beneficence of its rule. Before the British occupation, incessant wars and terrible epidemics kept the country thinly populated, so that the natural products of the soil were usually sufficient to feed the inhabitants. But British rule has established peace and diminished the ravages of plague. The consequence has been such an increase of population that India is one of the most crowded countries in the world. The productivity of the soil has nearly reached its limit. Nevertheless, the British government is not to be blamed, unless we adopt the monstrous doctrine that wholesale massacre is a blessing.

THE NEWS IN IOWA

A DUSTY CLAIMANT.

Phea-Pa-Ba Sues the Indian Agent for Eight Thousand Dollars.

CEDAR RAPIDS, June 23.—Phe-Pa-Ha, a Tama Indian, whose name has been translated into English to read plain Jim Peters, has begun suit in the federal court against W. G. Malin, United States Indian agent at Tama, and G. W. Nellis, superintendent of the United States boarding school at Toledo, claiming $8,000 for false arrest and imprisonment. This case is kindred to the Lelah-Puck-a-Chee abduction case, in which the government agents attempted to separate an Indian groom and bride after they had been wed according to the ceremonies as sanctioned by the great sachem. On May 27, 1899, Jim says, Malin as agent unlawfully and maliciously swore to and filed an information before Reedy, justice of the peace at Toledo, falsely accusing him of enticing away a tribal Indian child under 15 years of age from the reservation, said child being a pupil of the United States boarding school, under the false and illegal claim that he was its guardian by virtue of letters from the Tama district court, the defendants well knowing the plaintiff was not amenable to the laws of Iowa. In this instance Jim says he was deprived of his liberty for six days.

FELL ON A PITCHFORK.

Accidental Death of Roy Petersmier, of Fonda.

FORT DODGE, June 25.—Roy Petersmier, a boy living near Fonda, was accidentally killed by falling on the tines of a pitchfork. He was playing with another child, sliding off a hay stack, against which a pitchfork was leaning, tines upward. Young Petersmier struck the fork in sliding from the stack, one tine entering the side near the lower rib and the other under the arm. The boy managed to draw out the tines and crawled off a little distance from the stack. The cries of the other child summoned the father, who arrived just in time to see his son expire.

Sioux City Saloonkeepers Fined.

SIOUX CITY, June 24.—The police court room of Sioux City looked much like a liquor dealers' convention when nineteen saloonkeepers were arraigned on the charge of unlawful assembly for having kept their places of business open the Sunday of the big excursion crowds. They had been arrested at the instance of the ministers of the city, and representatives of the ministers were on hand, wearing blue temperance badges. Each saloonkeeper was fined $50, and as a result of the wholesale mulcting the city treasury will be enriched to the extent of $950. The ministers say they have the upper hand and propose to make the saloon men observe the Sabbath. Those who refused to plead guilty will be proceeded against under the injunction statutes.

May Result in Murder.

SIOUX CITY, June 22.—An assault that may result in murder was committed on Frank Kelly down in the packing house district. He was stabbed several times, once badly, in the head, and from this wound death is likely to come. The police have made two arrests, two brothers, John and W. A. Condron, having been taken into custody to answer for the assault. Kelly recently came from Chicago to work in one of the packing houses. He was almost an entire stranger, and had no enemies as far as is known. When assaulted, however, he was in the company of Frank Bent, against whom the Condrons had a grievance, because he owed them money. They demanded the money of Bent and a fight followed, in which Kelly was injured. Bent was also slightly hurt.

Congressman Hull Renominated.

DES MOINES, June 23.—The Seventh district republican convention nominated Capt. John A. T. Hull for congress, to succeed himself. This is the sixth nomination accorded Captain Hull. No other candidate's name was placed before the convention, and the nomination was unanimous on the first ballot.

Endowment for Cornell.

MT. VERNON, June 22.—Attorney Edgar C. Brackett, a member of the state senate of New York, has made a donation of $30,000 to Cornell college. It is understood that a chair has been endowed, but the character of the new department has not been given out. Mr. Brackett is a graduate of Cornell, class of '72.

Incendiary Fire at Creston.

CRESTON, June 22.—Saling's livery barn, Harvey's confectionery and Humphrey's grocery were burned. Loss is $10,000; insurance, $6,000. It was of incendiary origin. One horse was cremated. The families of Geo. Stickland, Mrs. Turner and Jas. Saling lost their household goods and had narrow escapes.

Some people talk fair and act unfair.

FOR SHELDAHL ROBBERY.

Des Moines Man in Custody Charged With the Crime.

DES MOINES, June 23.—J. W. Crowley, a Frenchman who has been living in Des Moines for a month with his wife, and working for a business college, has been arrested, charged with being one of the men who participated in the Sheldahl bank robbery. He attempted to secure his release from custody by means of a writ of habeas corpus, but was refused the writ by Judge Homes. He afterward gave bond in the sum of $1,000 and was released pending his preliminary hearing. When application for the writ was made the court issued an order to have him brought into court for the purpose of hearing the application. It was based on a claim of illegal arrest, but the officers, including Chief Mathis, testified that he had been properly arrested on a warrant and held under commitment for his preliminary hearing, which has been postponed in order to permit the state to get in its witnesses.

BREVITIES.

E. R. Vanvolenburgh, of Muscatine, an old soldier who fought in the Fourteenth Iowa Volunteer Infantry, while on his way fishing, fell from a street car, receiving injuries from which he died.

One day last week the people of Ottumwa voted to accept the proposition of Andrew Carnegie to give $50,000 for the erection of a free public library, providing $5,000 a year was pledged to support it. The vote was light, but was carried by the women by a majority of 240.

The contract for the iron work of the new auditorium, now being rebuilt, has been let to the Des Moines Bridge and Iron Works. The contract of the iron work was taken by the Crellin company for $750, while it originally cost $1,100. The work will be done in Des Moines and will be hustled with the true spirit of energy which has prevailed in the city of late.

At Sioux City recently, during a terrific thunder storm, lightning killed a boy named Clarence Whisler and set fire to a barn in which were a number of valuable breeding horses, all of which were burned. Young Whisler had gone into the barn to seek shelter from the storm and while there he was killed by the lightning stroke that set the barn ablaze. The horses burned were valued at $15,000; one of them, Grand Sultan, was alone considered worth $8,000, being a high grade trotting stallion with a mark of 2:10¼. The horses were the property of W. P. Keefe.

Ira Husted, of Cedar Rapids, was recently arrested on a charge of making and passing counterfeit money. He waived the preliminary examination and was held to await the action of the federal grand jury. Husted formerly lived at Belle Plaine and has been the most persistent violator of the liquor laws that the state has known. He has spent at least two-thirds of the last twenty years in jail. Some time ago he came to Cedar Rapids and has been living in one of the most aristocratic parts of the town. When arrested, counterfeit money was found on his person and a search of his rooms disclosed the presence of metal and a complete counterfeiting outfit with the exception of the dies.

Clear Lake dispatch: Lewis Burns, the sixteen-year old son of Thomas Burns, living at Wheelerwood, a small town north of Clear Lake, met his death in a gravel pit on the out-skirts of town. He had gone with a wagon and team to get a load of gravel, when, while he was shovelling down in the pit, the walls, without the slightest warning, gave way and completely buried him. Half an hour later his mother wondered at his absence and went in search of him. She was horrified on approaching the pit to see the team and partly filled wagon standing on the edge but no trace of the boy. She immediately went for aid and he was discovered under eight feet of dirt and gravel, his boby still warm but life extinct.

Des Moines dispatch: The big plant of the Des Moines and Liverpool Packing Company, which has been closed for the last two years, will be put in operation within the next few months. The preliminary negotiations have been concluded and Harry West, who has been manager of the house since it was opened by the Des Moines and Liverpool company, has gone east to close a contract with parties who will interest themselves with him for the organization of a stock company to operate the house. Up to the time the house was closed all but $10,000 of the capital stock of the company was held by John Whitworth, of Liverpool, England. Mr. Whitworth was one of the largest meat brokers in Europe and besides finding a market for the product of the house abroad, he handled the output of a number of other American houses. Three years ago he died and the property went to his seven heirs. They were not all in favor of continuing the house in operation, despite the fact that the business had always been a profitable one, and the result was that it was closed.

REPUBLICANS ARE AT WORK.

Great Convention at Philadelphia in Session.

10,000 CHEER MR. M'KINLEY

When Hanna Says the Second Battle Is Approaching—Gov. Roosevelt Received an Ovation as He Entered the Big Convention Hall.

As soon as the temporary organization was effected the Republican national convention took an adjournment to noon.

Philadelphia, June 19.—The first session of the Republican national convention—the twelfth in the history of the party—began in Exposition hall at 12:35 o'clock. It was a purely perfunctory proceeding today. The party managers stopped caucusing at the downtown hotels long enough to run up to the hall and effect a temporary organization and then returned to the conference rooms to resume the wire-pulling over the second place on the ticket. The feature of the first session was the speech made by Senator Wolcott of Colorado, who acted as temporary chairman. Ten thousand people attended the formal opening of the convention. The splendid hall was well filled and the scene was one to remember. A surpliced clergyman read a lengthy prayer in a silence which was truly remarkable in so vast an audience. Then Secretary Dick read the call, which consumed some time, for no one made the customary motion to dispense with the same. Facing the speaker's platform were nearly one thousand delegates and as many alternates, representing the Republicans of every state and territory in the Union, including Hawaii and Alaska. Seated in tiers surrounding the inner circle was the crowd of sightseers. The arrangements were perfect. On all sides was heard unstinted praise for the Quaker City managing committee.

Chairman Hanna made a speech congratulating the delegates on the occasion. He said it was fitting that the Republican party should meet in Philadelphia, the "cradle of liberty" and a "veritable hive of industry." These phrases caught the local crowd, and the applause was loud and long. The chairman reminded the delegates of their duty. Then a twinkle came in Hanna's eye. "We are here," he said, "to prepare for another struggle, led to battle by that splendid leader, William McKinley."

Magic of McKinley's Name.

Senator Hanna paused and stepped back to watch the effect of the name. Like a thunder-clap the storm of applause broke out all over the hall. The delegates rose to their feet as one man and roared their delight. The demonstration which greeted President McKinley's name was repeated when Temporary Chairman Wolcott referred to the chief executive.

A blind man could have seen then and there how inevitable is President McKinley's renomination. The vice presidential matter is by no means so simple. Senator Wolcott, in his brilliant speech, declared that had Vice President Hobart lived, the work of this convention would have been plainly outlined. Now the nomination is hovering over the heads of Long, Dolliver and Roosevelt. Dolliver is gazing at it longingly; Long is calmly waiting for developments; Roosevelt would have none of it in his sober judgment, but his best friends fear what he will do if the convention stampedes for him.

It was an orderly crowd that filled the big auditorium. A Philadelphia peace pervaded the assemblage, and there was no unseemly pushing and hauling among the ticket holders. The band in the gallery played soothing music, too, and the outlook for a quiet day was good. There was dignified applause, however, when the well-known party leaders entered the building.

Roosevelt Gets Ovation.

Gov. Roosevelt slipped into the hall in an unostentatious manner and walked straight to his seat with the New York delegation. There was a round of applause, but nothing in the nature of a tumultuous outburst. The fact is there has been so much Roosevelt talk in Philadelphia the last three days that it has somewhat palled on the average person. It is to his credit that Governor Roosevelt himself is sincerely wearied of the continual hawking of his name here and there, day and night.

Chairman Walcott's Speech.

Chairman Wolcott's address was in part as follows:

"Four years ago the Republican party at St. Louis named a ticket which commanded the confidence and support of the American people. It bore the names of two eminent Americans, each endeared by years of loyal service to his country and his party. No whisper of personal attack intruded upon the national issues which determined the contest. There was a double safeguard for the country's welfare. Every true American knew that if in the dispensation of Providence our leader should be called from his high place, there stood beside him a statesman devoted and stanch, in whose hands the vast and weighty affairs of our country could be well and safely intrusted. Had Garret Augustus Hobart been spared to us until today the work of this convention would have been limited to a cordial and unanimous indorsement of the leaders of 1896.

"The campaign four years ago was fought on the currency question. The Populistic Democracy insisted that the United States alone should embark on the free coinage of silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting the concurrence of any other nation. The Republican party insisted that the question of bimetallism was international, and that until it should be settled under agreement with the leading commercial nations of the world, gold should continue to be the standard of value in these United States. Upon that issue we triumphed. In accordance with the pledge of the party an honest effort was made to reach some international solution of the question. The effort failed of accomplishment. The mints of the countries of Europe were open for the coinage of gold alone.

"The logic of recent events, together with the attempt of the Democracy to drag down the question from its international character, to associate it with every vagary of Populism and Socialism, and to drive this country to an alliance with Mexico and China, as an exclusively silver-using country, has impelled our people to this settlement of this problem, and the recent action of congress has eliminated the danger which its further agitation menaced.

"The provisions of the bill secure to the people a needed increase in the volume of the currency, prevent the future depletion of the gold in the treasury, and encourage a more extended use of our bonds by the national banks of the country. But, above, all, the success attending its passage has demonstrated that our own people and the nations of Europe have faith in the permanence of our institutions and our financial integrity. Our debt is funded at 2 per cent per annum, and millions of our interest charge saved annually. The world has never witnessed so triumphant a financial success as has followed the passage of the currency law, and our 2 per cent bonds, held the world over, already command a substantial premium."

As to the Philippines.

Speaking more in detail of the Philippines, Mr. Wolcott said:

"The future of nations, like the future of man, is hid from mortal vision, and no more than man may a nation choose its own duties. When this war ended and we faced our victory in all its completeness, we found eight millions of people living upon uncounted islands delivered into our hands. Abandonment of them would be confession that while the oppression of Spain of a million and a half of Cubans demanded our armed interference, greater barbarity and cruelty to millions of Filipinos, less able to protect themselves, was a subject of no concern to us. No civilized nation in the world, no Christian nation, could have turned these people back to Spain. Our commissioners, when they insisted upon our retention of the Philippines, voiced the sentiments and wishes of the American people, and this nation has assumed with open eyes and with full realization of the difficulties which may be encountered the grave responsibilities imposed upon us by the treaty of Paris. We are told that the islands are rich in all the products of the tropics, in mineral wealth, and in the possibilities of their future development. So much the better. But if they were as barren as the Libyan desert we would have taken them just the same.

"We haven't been there long, but long enough to reach two conclusions: One is, that the first thing we intend doing is to suppress the Tagal insurrection and to establish law and order throughout the archipelago. That is the first thing we shall do. And the last, the very last thing we intend doing is to consider, even for a moment, the question of giving up or of abandoning these islands."

In conclusion the speaker said:

"Whatever may be in store for us in the new and unbeaten track upon which we are entering, we shall not be found "with the unlit lamp and the ungirt loin." Our way is new, but it is not dark. In the readjustment of world conditions, where we must take our place with the other great nations of the earth, we shall move with caution, but not with fear. We seek only to lift up men to better things, to bless and not to destroy. The fathers of the republic accepted with courage such responsibilities as devolved upon them. The same heavens bend over us, and the same power that shielded them will guard and protect us, for what we seek is to build still more firmly, always upon foundations of probity and of virtue, the glorious edifice of the republic."

M'KINLEY AND ROOSEVELT.

Republican Convention Names Its National Ticket.

WILD SCENES AT NOMINATIONS

Foraker Presents the Name of the President to Succeed Himself—Enthusiastically Seconded by Many States—No Negative Vote Against Either Candidate

Convention Hall, Philadelphia, Pa., June 21.—President William McKinley was unanimously renominated at 1 p. m. today by the Republican national convention, after a solemn roll call in which every state and territory cast its full delegate vote for Ohio's favorite son.

Gov. Roosevelt was nominated for vice president by just as positive vote and another scene of enthusiasm was enacted fully equal in intensity to that which followed the nomination of the head of the ticket.

Scene of Spirited Enthusiasm.

The official announcements of Senator Lodge were followed by a scene seldom witnessed, and in point of enthusiasm never surpassed by any national gathering of the party. The demonstrations bore all the details of a stampede, with waving standards of states, and a procession of delegates, which were repeated in all their exciting details, and for over fifteen minutes reigned a tumult of the wildest character. Gov. Roosevelt, the choice for vice president, seconded the motion in an oratorical effort, which captured the convention as had no other speech of the session.

PRESIDENT M'KINLEY.

Senator Foraker was the first to place Mr. McKinley's name before the convention and his speech was one of the greatest oratoriacl efforts that well known speaker has ever made. He was repeatedly interrupted by the wild plaudits of his audience and at the conclusion of his address there was a wave of applause that required ten minutes to subside. Senator Foraker was followed by Gov. Roosevelt, John W. Yerkes of Kentucky, George Knight of California, and Gov. Mount of Indiana. Then the delegates became restive and responding to the vociferous demands Senator Lodge ordered the roll call, which resulted in every vote being cast for Mr. McKinley.

Gov. Roosevelt Is Named.

Then came the call for nominations for vice president and Col. Lafe Young of Iowa advanced to the platform. He withdrew the name of Dolliver and in a ringing speech placed Gov. Roosevelt's name before the convention. The scenes attending the nomination of President McKinley were re-enacted with equal enthusiasm. At 1:15 p. m. Gov. Roosevelt announces that the nomination is so spontaneous he can not decline. He will in a brief statement accept the nomination for vice-president.

It was 10:38 a. m. when Senator Lodge ascended the platform and rapped for order. The great auditorium was filled to overflowing and had been the scene of numerous demonstrations in honor of Roosevelt, Quay and Hanna, who all arrived shortly after ten o'clock. Senator Lodge pounded for order and comparative quiet finally prevailed.

Prayer of Archbishop Ryan.

Archbishop Ryan then offered a prayer. At its close the gavel fell to make quiet for the more practical work of the convention.

The chair laid the amendment to the rules offered yesterday by Mr. Quay as the unfinished business before the convention and Mr. Quay withdrew the resolution.

"Under the rule, nominations for the office of president of the United States are now in order," was the next amendment of Chairman Lodge. "The state of Alabama is recognized," was the quick statement from the chair.

A tall and swarthy Alabamian stood on his chair and by prearrangement, answered: "Alabama yields to Ohio."

This was the signal for the recognition of Senator Foraker, who was to make the speech nominating Mr. McKinley as the Republican candidate for president. Then the cheers began and a wild scene ensued.

Speech of Senator Foraker.

Amid a tumult of applause Senator Foraker went to the platform and when quiet was restored began to speak, first thanking Alabama for their courtesy in yielding, but attributing that fact to the overwhelming popularity of the candidate. As Mr. Foraker continued he was repeatedly interrupted with cheers. His announcement that the nomination of McKinley was equal to an election in November brought vociferous cheers. He paid glowing tribute to the president. Concluding as follows:

"No man in all the nation is so well qualified for this trust as the great leader under whom the work has been so far conducted. He has the head, he has the heart, he has the special knowledge and the special experience that qualify him beyond all others. And, Mr. Chairman, he has also the stainless reputation and character and has led the blameless life that endears him to his countrymen and gives to him the confidence, the respect, the admiration, the love and the affection of the whole American people. He is an ideal man, representing the highest type of American citizenship, an ideal candidate and an ideal president. With our banner in his hands it will be carried to triumphant victory in November next.

"In the name of all these considerations, and not alone on behalf of his beloved state of Ohio, but on behalf of every other state and territory here represented, and in the name of all Republicans everywhere throughout our jurisdiction, I nominate to be our next candidate for the presidency, William McKinley."

Senator Foraker spoke with a vigor, eloquence and magnetism characteristic of the man. His review of the achievements of the McKinley administration was brilliant and epigrammatic. When he referred to the passage of the financial legislation during the last session of congress, upon the recommendation of the president, the convention cheered the sentiment enthusiastically. In concluding his reference to the financial legislation Senator Foraker said:

"The wild cry of sixteen to one, so full of terror in 1896, has been put everlastingly to sleep in the catacombs of American politics."

Great Demonstration Follows.

Senator Foraker concluded at 11:12 a. m., and the convention arose and cheered enthusiastically, all waving fans. The demonstration grew exciting, when Senator Hanna seized one of the plumes and waved it from the stage. The greatest demonstration was when the state banners were carried to the stage.

After the demonstration had lasted for eleven minutes Chairman Lodge rapped for order. At 11:28 Gov. Roosevelt was recognized. There was another enthusiastic demonstration when he took the platform.

There he stood, face grimly set, without a smile. He made no acknowledgments, no salutations to the plaudits, but, like a hero receiving his due, calmly awaited the subsidence of the inmult. At last he raised his hand and at his bidding the demonstration came to an end.

He wore a black cutaway coat, dark striped trousers, a turn-down collar, and blue necktie. The delegate's badge on the red, white and blue ribbon was the only bit of color he wore.

As the governor faced about on the platform a man with a camera planted the instrument directly in front of him. As Mr. Roosevelt saw it he said, sharply, "Take that away; take that away," and the sergeant-at-arms rushed the man and his apparatus out of the aisle.

Then Gov. Roosevelt began his speech, speaking in a clear, full voice.

Gov. Roosevelt's Speech.

His sentences were delivered in a manner that denoted a careful study of each word. His argumentative style kept the audience en rapport with him, for he was given the closest attention by the vast audience, in fact, very much more attention than had any other speaker.

"It was not a great war. It did not have to be," he said, speaking of the war with Spain, and then waited for the ripple of laughter which followed the declaration. "We have done so well that our opponents use it as an argument for turning us out," he said, smiling, and showing his teeth, and his audience responded with cheers and laughter. His allusions to the ice trust called forth the heartiest applause, with cries from the galleries of "Hit 'em again," and "That's right, Teddy."

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

"I pity the Democratic orator in New York who mentions trusts," he declared with uplifted hands, and the audience howled with laughter and shook the floor with applause.

Talks of Philippine War.

"The insurrection in the Philippines goes on because the insurrectionary allies of the Tagals in the island of Luzon," declared the governor, "have given the insurrection their moral if not material support." Then he declared with brilliant emphasis that the success of the Republican party in November meant peace in the Philippines, while the success of the opposition meant a prolongation of the struggle.

"Is America a weakling that she should shrink from the work of a great world power? The giant of the west, like the gladiator of old, looks into the future with hope, with expectancy, which the love of all institutions has made dear to us."

In conclusion, Gov. Roosevelt declared the Republican party and the American people challenged the future, and they were eager for the labor laid out for them as if by Providence. He finished speaking at 11:49.

John W. Yerkes of Kentucky made a seconding speech. At its conclusion from all parts of the hall came the cry, "Vote, vote, vote." The delegates and spectators were becoming uneasy. They wanted action, not oratory.

Disregarding the call for a vote, Chairman Lodge recognized George Knight, head of the California delegation.

As he appeared upon the platform and addressed the convention, his first sentence, ringing through the great building like a trumphet call, caught the fancy of the assemblage, and he was cheered enthusiastically.

Gov. Mount of Indiana, seconded McKinley.

Loud Demands for a Vote.

The restive listeners broke in with many demonstrations and calls of "vote" and Chairman Lodge was kept busy with his gavel trying to maintain sufficient order for the speaker to be heard. As he closed the convention again demanded a vote and the chairman announced that the roll of states would be called for the vote on the nomination for president. At 12:37 the vote began.

The roll was called and each state voted for McKinley all the way down the roll.

Senator Lodge announced that President McKinley had been nominated unanimously.

After the nomination there was a parade with a huge elephant, which caused more amusement than applause. Around the elephant's neck were entwined garlands of flowers. Laughter and applause were mingled as the great emblem was borne about. The demonstration in honor of the president's nomination lasted five minutes and then the chairman called for order for the further event in store. Col. Lafayette Young of Iowa at 12:56 took the platform to nominate Gov. Roosevelt for vice president. He withdrew the name of Dolliver and offered that of Roosevelt in an eloquent speech.

The responses came thick and fast and the nomination was made by acclamation. This practically ended the convention's work.

At 3:15 p. m. the convention adjourned sine die.

McKinley's Congratulations.

Washington, June 23.—At 4 o'clock the president sent the following congratulatory telegram to Governor Roosevelt:

"Executive Mansion, Washington, D. C., June 22.—The Hon. Theodore Roosevelt, Philadelphia, Pa.: Your unanimous nomination is a high and deserved honor. I extend my heartiest congratulations.

"WILLIAM M'KINLEY."

Although no definite time has been fixed for the notification committee to wait upon the president and formally notify him of his nomination, it is known that the president has indicated that it would be entirely satisfactory to him if the committee would visit him at Canton on July 12. He and Mrs. McKinley expect to leave here for Canton not later than July 1, and it is not improbable that they may leave in time to reach Canton on June 30. According to present plans, they will remain there through the month of July.

It is understood to be the president's purpose not to make any speeches during his absence from Washington.

Departure of Delegates.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 23.—Philadelphia is already practically evacuated. The ebb tide began as early as midnight on Wednesday, and it was preceded by dribbling departures as early as Wednesday afternoon. Nearly all the others left later.

AMNESTY FOR REBELS.

McKinley's Proclamation Formally Announced by MacArthur.

MANILA, June 21.—General MacArthur has formally announced President McKinley's order of amnesty. Buencamino Paterno and other prominent Filipino leaders are greatly pleased, as they believe that, under the amnesty, they can bring about the surrender of Aguinaldo, who they declare is ready and willing to consider the peace platform adopted by the Filipino leaders with a few insignificant exceptions. The proclamation gives free pardon to all Filipinos who have participated in the rebellion against the United States, the only condition being that they take the oath of allegiance and acknowledgement of the sovereignty of the United States government. It excludes no one, except those who have violated the rules of war. The proclamation will go into effect immediately.

PEACE TERMS ARRANGED.

Prominent Filipinos Draw Up a Schedule of Terms.

MANILA, June 22.—Two hundred Filipinos met yesterday in Manila to determine honorable and decorous methods for securing peace. The results were submitted to General MacArthur, who accepted them. The leaders of the meeting will use their influence to induce Aguinaldo to accept the arrangements. If they are successful, as they hope to be, they believe Aguinaldo will issue orders in conjunction with amnesty for a cessation of hostilities. The meeting, which was the first of the kind since the days of the Filipino congress, was composed of the distinctly revolutionary element. Thirty political prisoners were released from jail in order to attend. The terms follow:

First—Amnesty.

Second—The return by the Americans to the Filipinos of confiscated property.

Third—Employment of the revolutionary generals in the navy.

Fourth—The application of the Filipino revenues to succor needy Filipino soldiers.

Fifth—A guarantee to the Filipinos of the exercise of personal rights accorded to Americans by their constitution.

Sixth—Establishment of civil government at Manila and in the provinces.

Seventh—Expulsion of the friars.

COUNT MURAVIEFF DEAD.

Russian Minister of Foreign Affairs Suddenly Passes Away.

ST. PETERSBURG, June 23.—Count Michael Muravieff, Russian minister of foreign affairs, died suddenly Thursday. He had just finished his morning cup of coffee and had ordered his lunch, when he fell in an apoplectic fit and expired in a few minutes.

Count Muravieff secured for his name immortal memory by his proposals for universal peace, which resulted in the peace conference of the nations that met at The Hague on the call of the czar a year ago. He was a great politician, but he was greater as a seer in diplomacy, and the trains of influence which his proposals set at work will never lose their power.

ABLE TO PRESERVE THE PEACE.

Chinese Viceroy Confident of Protecting the Missionaries.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Mr. Wu, the Chinese minister, called on Secretary Hay at the state department and informed him that he had received a dispatch from the viceroy of the three great provinces of the Yang Tse Kiang, saying that he felt himself perfectly able to keep the peace and insure the safety of the foreign missionaries and that in connection with his colleague, Viceroy Huu-Nan, he is able to answer for the preservation of peace and order in all the great southern provinces of China.

WHEAT FAILURE A CALAMITY.

Crop Situation in Minnesota and Dakotas the Worst Ever Known.

CHICAGO, June 23.—The Times-Herald publishes a crop report prepared by Snow, the crop expert, who has just completed a two weeks' trip through the states of Minnesota, North and South Dakota. He declares the situation a national calamity and claims the wheat failure the worst ever known. He estimates the Dakotas as promising only 20,000,000 each and Minnesota 35,000,000 bushels, a total of 75,000,000, against 200,000,000 last year and 225,000,000 bushels in 1898.

TIEN TSIN BEING BOMBARDED.

American Consulate and Other Foreign Property Being Destroyed.

WASHINGTON, June 22.—Acting Secretay of the Navy Hackett received a cable yesterday afternoon from Admiral Kempff, dated Che Foo, June 21, saying that Tien Tsin is being bombarded and that much of the American consulate as well as the foreign concessions are being destroyed. A relief party is en route to Tien Tsin, including 130 American marines under Major Watler.

When the railway across Siberia is completed, it will be easy for a person to go from London to Japan in thirteen days.

World to End this Year.

This is the recent decision of one of the societies of the world, and while there are few people who believe this prediction, there are thousands of others who not only believe, but know that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will cure dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation or liver and kidney troubles. A trial will certainly convince.

In Munster, Germany, is a high school 1,100 years old.

Dizzy? Then your liver isn't acting well. You suffer from biliousness, constipation. Ayer's Pills act directly on the liver. For 60 years the Standard Family Pill. Small doses cure. 25c. All druggists.

Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Then use
BUCKINGHAM'S DYE for the Whiskers
50 CTS. OF DRUGGISTS, OR R. P. HALL & CO., NASHUA, N. H.

PARAGRAPHS.

When Senator Hoar, of Massachusetts, was recently asked what he had been reading of late, he replied: "For serious work, 'David Harum;' for light reading and amusement, I've been going through Gibbon again."

During the jubilation over the relief of Mafeking, (says the Londoner), a humorous policeman was asked in the thick of the crowd by a harassed pedestrian to tell him the nearest way to Charing-Cross hospital. "Call for 'three cheers for Kruger,'" responded the genial guardian of the peace, "and you'll be there in no time."

Not long ago the New York state newspaper men gave a banquet at Stanwix hall in Albany, and among the guests of honor were ex-Governor David B. Hill and Governor Theodore Roosevelt. The latter entered the hall first, wearing an evening suit and his famous brown "sombrero," made famous by the Rough Riders. It was a combination costume at once original and picturesque. Among the last of the guests to arrive was Mr. Hill, conventionally attired, even to his silk hat. "Ah!" exclaimed Colonel Roosevelt, in his peculiar staccato manner, as he grasped Mr. Hill's hand, "now we have a real Albany swell. Governor Hill is the only man here tonight with a silk hat." "I've got a slouch myself," returned Mr. Hill, softly, "but I left it at home. I've given up wearing it since I went out of the advertising business."

Husband.

If you have a weak, nervous, debilitated wife, do not scold or become impatient with her. Give her kind treatment, loving words and Morley's Liver and Kidney Cordial, to renovate, regulate and strengthen her system, and she will soon be your healthy, happy best half. Price $1. Sold by agent in every town.

A woman's voice is one of the best evidences of culture.

If you want "good digestion to wait upon your appetite" you should always chew a bar of Adams' Pepsin Tutti Frutti.

A man's will is not as strong as a woman's won't.

I am sure Piso's Cure for Consumption saved my life three years ago.—Mrs. THOS. ROBBINS, Maple Street, Norwich, N. Y., Feb. 17, 1900.

Not half the people know what real work is like.

Are You Using Allen's Foot-Ease?

It is the only cure for Swollen, Smarting, Burning, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

To be a woman is fully as desirable as to be a man.

Wonderful Eight.

Cures cholera, diarrhœa, Colic, cramps, lameness, sprains, lumbago, swellings, neuralgia, rheumatism and toothache. All pain, internal or external cured quicker with Morley's Wonderful Eight than any other remedy. Ask your druggist.

A bat is able to find its way without the use of its eyes. A blind bat has been known to avoid wires and other obstructions as easily as though it had perfect sight.

"Virtuama" Tablets, guaranteed by Kidd Drug Co., Elgin, Ill., to cure weak men and women. Sure restorative. Gives new blood and life. You feel it tingling. If you are not what you used to be, try it. Postpones the feelngs, appearances and decline of years. Per mail $2 or 3 for $5. Retail and wholesale of Hurlbut & McArthur, Des Moines, Iowa.

A new dye is in use in a South Norwalk, Conn., hat factory. The workmen have threatened to strike because it turns their whiskers to a lavender tint.

PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION

B. C R. & N. TIME TABLE.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 708. B Pass.	7:55	p. m.
No. 796 A Stock	9:50	a m.
No. 742, B Freight	3:45	p. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 701. B Pass. -	1:32	p. m.
No. 741. B Way freight	9:50	a. m.

B—Daily except Sunday
A—Daily except Monday

☞"Freight trains shown above will carry passengers only when provided with tickets."

F. G. REESE, Local Agt.

WM. H. HUGHES
LAWYER.

Accounts and notes collected. Practice in all courts. Office in Schuler block.

GARNER IOWA.

JAMES YOUNG
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER.

Will cry sales and guarantee satisfaction, 15 years experience. Dates and terms at office of Klemme TIMES.
Telephone or address
Garner Iowa.

J. N. SPROLE,
REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND ABSTRACTS.
Titles examined and corrected
Taxes paid, etc.
GARNER - - - IOWA.

A. L. SPOONER.
Physician and Surgeon.
Office first door west of Shafer & Dow's Store. Residence just back of the German Reform Church.
Office hours 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.
Klemme, Iowa.

A. SNYDER,
DRAYMAN.

Having purchased the Bartholomew dray line I solicit a share of your work. Prompt attention given to all work: Charges reasonable.

KLEMME, IOWA.

FIRE WORKS.

We have a full line of 4th of July Supplies, and if you want to Make the Eagle scream Propper, Get your goods of

G. W. Kluckhohn.

A FREE PATTERN
(her own selection) to every subscriber. Beautiful colored lithographed plates and illustrations. Original, latest, artistic, exquisite and strictly up-to-date designs.

McCALL'S MAGAZINE 50¢ A YEAR

Dressmaking economies, fancy work, household hints, short stories, current topics, etc. Subscribe to-day. Only 50c. yearly. Lady agents wanted. Send for terms.

For ladies, misses, girls and little children. That certain stylish "chic" effect not attained by the use of any other patterns. Have no equal for style and perfect fit.

McCALL BAZAR PATTERNS 10¢ AND 15¢

Easily put together. Only 10 and 15 cents each—none higher. Sold in nearly every city and town, or by mail. Ask for them. Absolutely very latest up-to-date styles.

THE McCALL COMPANY,
138-146 West 14th Street, - - - - New York City, N. Y.

THE KLEMME TIMES

By G. L. WELLEMEYER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme, Iowa, as second class matter

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern
RAILROAD EXCURSIONS.

ANOTHER CHANCE.

On the first and third Tuesday of May and June, homeseekers' tickets will be on sale at rate of a Single Fare plus $2 for the round trip to the variou parts of the country. For rates, limits territory, etc., call on nearest agent or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

VEBY LOW RATES.

The B C R & N Ry will make very low rates to Sioux Fall, S. D. for the A O U W meeting in June. Call on your ticket agent for rates, limits etc and see that your tickets read via this line. Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia.—jun12

GAING TO PARIS.

Then let us give you valuable information segarding your trip. We can render you good service and ticket you right through from all stations on our line via New York and any of the steamship lines. Call on agents of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway, or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

For the Prohibition National Convention at Chicago, June 27-28 the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway will sell round trip tickets from all points at very favorable rates. Call on any agent of the company for full information.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN ONE NIGHT.

Or to quickly cure La Grippe take "Week-Break-a-cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

Home Seekers Excursion Tickets will be ot sale the first and third Tuesdays of each month at all staeions of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway Company to various parts of the country at a low rate. Call on any agent of the Cedar Rapids Route or address, Jno. G. Farmer' A G P & T A., B C R & N Ry., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. dec18.

FONRH OF JULY RATES.

On July 3 and 4 the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway will sell excursion tickets at low rates to points within 200 miles of selling station, good returning until July 5 inclusive. Apply to any agent of the Cedar Rapids Route,

Reduced Rates to the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Reduced round trip rates are now in effect to the nation's great resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas, owned, controlled by the United States Government for the cure of a score of human ills. Beautiful winter, 200 hotels and boarding houses of all grades. Ask nearest ticket agent for particulars, or Mr. John G. Farmer, A. G. P. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia. For illustrated books of information address Bureau of Information, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

NEW CHAIR CAR SERVICE.

Between Watertown, Ellsworth and Chicago via. B. C. R. & N. Ry. Commencing Sunday Nov. 19th, a free reclining chair car will be placed on trains Nos. 608 and 605 between Watertown and Chicago by the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. This car leaves Watertown daily, except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. arriving at Chicago 7:59 the following morning. This car runs to and from Sioux Falls Sundays, thus giving daily chair car service between Ellsworth and Chicago. Passengers going east from Chicago will have ample time to make any transfers to connect with all morning eastern trains.

These trains are very fast, and, with this new additional service, passengers can feel assured of first class accommodations. JNO. G. FARMER,
Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Employment for the Summer is now the question for many men; it is time to decide; you can make money selling our complete assortment of fruit and ornamental stock for fall delivery. Write for terms. Address:—The Jewel Nursery Co., Lake City, Minn. Established in '68. One thousand acres

As is its custom, the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway has arranged for reduced rates to a large number of important places for the coming summer, among which we mention the following most prominent:

Charleston, S. C.—Annual meeting of the National Educational Association July 7-13.

Cincinnatti, O—Baptist Young People's Union of America July 12-15.

Chicago Ill.—National Encampment G. A. R. August 27-Sept. 1.

Detroit, Mich.—Biennial Conclave Knights of Pythias, Aug. 27-Sept. 1.

Summer tourist tickets will be on sale May 15, to resorts in different parts of the country, and important information can be obtained by calling on any ticket agent or writing to the undersigned. Send for copy of booklet entitled "Okoboji Outing."—Jno. G. Farmer, A G P & T A, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. jul31.

The Burlington Cedar Rapids and Northern Railway will seil round trip excursion tickets to Cincinnatti, Ohio, at very favorable rates for the B Y P U convention July 12-15. Call on any agent of the of the Cedar Rapids Route for rates, limits, etc.

For the Chatauqua Assembly at Spirit Lake, Iowa, July 6-19, the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. has authorized reduced round trip rates from points within 200 miles; call on any agent of the company for full Particulars.

Low Rate Round Trip Excursion Tickets will be on sale via the Burlington Cenar Rapids and Northern Railway to Kansas City, Mo.. account National Democratic convention July 4th, For rates, limits etc., call on agent of the company,

AWEALTH OF BEAUTY.

Is often hidden by unsightly pimples eczema, tetter, erysipelas. salt rheum, etc, Bucklen's Arnica Salve will glorify the face bv curing all skin eruptions, also cuts, bruises, felons, ulcers, and worst forms of piles. Only 25cts a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by Harr.

A MONSTER DEVIL FISH.

Destroying its victim, is a type of Constipation. The power of this malady is felt on organs, nerves, muscles and brain. But Dr. King's New Life Pills are a safe and certain cure. Best in the world for stomach, liver, Kidney and bowels. Only 25cts, at Harr's.

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE.

It speaks well for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy when druggists use it in their own families in preference to any other. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the past five years with complete satisfaction to myself nnd customers," says Druggist J. Goldsmith, Van Etten, N. Y. "I have always used it in my own family both for ordinary coughs and colds and for the cough following la grippe, and find it very efficacious." For sale

A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT.

Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculus escape from death, says; "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in Consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery which wholly cured me. Hundreds have used it on my advice and all say it never fails to to cure Throat Chest and lung troublees." Regular size 50c and $100. Trial bottles free at Harr's.

Military Balloon Photographs.

Military ballooning is, of course, in its infancy, and the present Boer war is practically the first opportunity of testing its efficacy. Each balloon is furnished with nearly a dozen cameras in order to obtain panoramic views of the country, which are of great value to the invading army.

Artificial Sponges.

Artificial sponges are now made in Germany from a mixture of pure cellulose with zinc chloride and sodium chloride. These sponges will absorb water in the same way as the genuine article, and when allowed to dry they become just as firm in substance.

Bark Clothing.

The Indians in the interior of Bolivia wear shirts and hats made of the bark of a tree, which is soaked in water to soften the fiber, and then beaten to make it pliable.

Only Male Jaws at That.

The muscles of the human jaw exert a force of 534 pounds, and those of mastiffs, wolves, etc., far more.

MID-SEASON SALE.

PARISIAN PATTERN PRODUCTIONS.

OF FINEST MILLINERY.

We are bound to reduce our stock and from now on Price cuts no Figure. The goods must go regardless of cost or profit.

RIBBONS at YOUR OWN PRICE

This is not a Cleaning out sale of old odds and ends, but a sacriffice sale of everything In the store.

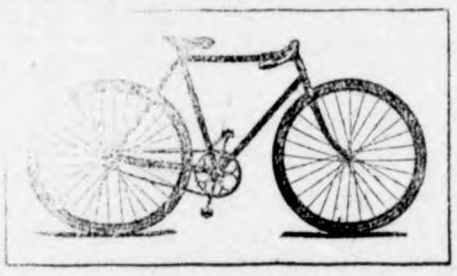
IT BEGINS TO-DAY

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

M. W. LYNCH, :: M. S. GILMAN
LYNCH & GILMAN,
STROUD, OKLAHOMA,
REAL ESTATE AND LOAN BROKER .
WHY PAY RENT?
OWN YOUR OWN FARM!

It is the highth of folly for a man to pay exhorbitant rents when he can go to Oklahoma and buy a fine farm at from $5 per acre up. Well watered; near good markets; mild and healthful climate and crop failure unknown. Plenty of natural timber and coal. We have for sale a well selected list of choice improved and unimproved farms and would like to talk with you. Excursions 1st and 3rd Tuesday of each month. NOW is the time before the "SNAPS" are all taken. For rates, terms, excursions etc., call on or address, M. S. GILMAN, Klemme, Iowa, or
M. W. LYNCH, ST. LOUIS HOTEL,
STROUD, OKLAHOMA.

BICYCLES



OUR 1900 WHEELS ARE NOT FREAKS,

——But good, common sense machines, built of the best material that money can buy and codstructed in the most simple manner by skilled workmen. Good, strong, honest bicycles, as near

Fool Proof

as possible. We sell good, strong, honest, straight machines that are easy to ride and hard to break. Six makes of standard wheels always on hand. Old wheels bought and sold. Repairing done on short notice. A complete line of sundries always on hand.

KANAWHA, IOWA. L. HAEFNER.

H. W. SCHOPER,

FARM MACHINERY,

Buggies and Wagons, Corn Planters, Corn Plows, Champion Binders and Mowers.

TWINE.

FRED ARNOLD, PRES. C. H. WIEGMANN, V. P. F. A. ARNOLD, CASH.

STATE SAVINGS BANK,
OF KLEMME, IOWA.

CAPITAL $25 000 00, LOANS $40 000 00,

INSURANCE WRITTEN, LOANS NEGOTIATED, EXCHANGE BOUGHT AND SOLD.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits: Money Loaned on Real Estate: Foreign and Domestic Exchange Sold.....

DIRECTORS: FRED ARNOLD, C. H. WIEGMANN, H. W. GRUETZMACHER, CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, F. A. ARNOLD.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME V. KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, JULY 5 1900 NUMBER 46

Hello There!
Where are you going?

To Pietzke's Blacksmith Shop, for he's the man to go to for good work and at right prices. At the old stand.

Klemme, Iowa.

JOHN JOSTEN
PHOTOGRAPHER
Gallery Fitted For Finest Work
In Miniature and Cabinet Sizes.
Enlarging, View and Copying.
PHOTO BUTTONS A SPECIALTY.
☞Give me a call
KLEMME - IOWA.

JOHN BAUMGARTNER.
PROPRIETOR OF
CITY BARBER SHOP.
AN EASY SHAVE. - -
A SATISFIED CUSTOMER
FIRST DOOR EAST OF LAU BROS.
KLEMME, IOWA.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN DAUBING
AND
PAINTING.
We understand our business and guarantee our work.
JOE MILLER,
PAINTER and DEGORATOR.

J. J SUCKOW,
PAINTER, and
PAPER HANGER.
First Class work in every way, and our specialty is Paper Hanging and decorating. See me before you contract your work.
Address, KLEMME, IOWA.

AIELT RIEKENS,
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER. GERMAN OR ENGLISH
Will cry Sales and guarante satisfaction
Fine Stock Sales a specialty.
Call on or address at
PAULSVILLE, IOWA

50 YEARS' EXPERIENCE
PATENTS
TRADE MARKS
DESIGNS
COPYRIGHTS &C.
Anyone sending a sketch and description may quickly ascertain our opinion free whether an invention is probably patentable. Communications strictly confidential. Handbook on Patents sent free. Oldest agency for securing patents.
Patents taken through Munn & Co. receive special notice, without charge, in the Scientific American.
A handsomely illustrated weekly. Largest circulation of any scientific journal. Terms, $3 a year; four months, $1. Sold by all newsdealers.
MUNN & Co. 361 Broadway, New York
Branch Office, 625 F St., Washington, D. C.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED
ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"
Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured.
Letters strictly confidential. Address,
E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

PATENTS
Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained and all Patent business conducted for MODERATE FEES.
OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U. S. PATENT OFFICE and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.
Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.
A PAMPHLET, "How to Obtain Patents," with cost of same in the U. S. and foreign countries sent free. Address,
C. A. SNOW & CO.
OPP PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

TAKE A VACATION.

Special excursion to Colorado and Utah on June 20, July 9-17 and Aug 1. On above dates round trip excursion tickets, limited for return to Oct 31, will be sold to Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Salt Lake City, and Ogden at the low rate of a SINGLE FARE plus $2. Call on any agent of the B. C. R. & N. Ry. for tickets and full information or address, Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. aug. 1

GLORIOUS NEWS.

Comes from Dr. B. Cargile, of Washita, I. T. He writes: "Electric Bitters has cured Ers, Brewer of scrofula. which had caused her great suffering for years. Terrible sores would break out on her head and face and the best doctors could give no help, but now her health is excellent. Electric Bitters is the best blood purifier known. It's the supreme remedy for eczema, tetter, salt rheum, ulcers boils and running sores. It stimulates liver, kidneys, and bowels, expels poisons, helps digestion, builds up the strength. Only 50cts. Sold by Harr.

Mr. W. S. Whedon, Cashier of the First National Bank of Winterset, Iowa, in a recent letter gives some experience with a carpenter in his employ that will be of value to other mechanics. He say: "I had a carpenter working for me who was obliged to stop work for several days on account of being troubled with diarrhoea I mentioned to him that I had been similarly troubled and that Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarhoea Remedy had cured me. He bought one bottle of it from the druggist here and informed me that one dose cured him, and he is again at his work."—For sale by Harr.

Our movements of gold to and from foreign countries has been practically the same during the eleven mouths of this fiscal year ending with may; both the exports and imports of gold each exceeded $40,000,000.

The Cuban custom receipts for the first four months of this year were over five million of dollars.

President McKinley is meeting the trouble in China with that promptness, decision and good judgment which characterized his actions in our war with Spain.

The nomination Theodore Rosevelt for Vice-President has been well received everywhere and especially so in Washington.

After several days of jangling the democrats have nominated W. J. Bryan for President.

The Republican County Primary election last Saturday was very quiet.

Noah Shaw, Bash Nissen and Ed. Reamer came down from Keister, Minn., to celebrate with friends in Klemme.

If reports are true Kanawha and Belmond did not need any rain on the 4th to be classed as "wet" towns.

Now that we have celebrated loyally, let us begin to talk of voting loyally. It is Mckinley vs. Bryan same as before. Will the result be the same?

STATEMENT

OF the condition of State Savings Bank, organized under the laws of Iowa, located at Klemme, in the county of Hancock at the close of business on the 30th day of June A. D. 1900, made to the Auditor of State as required by law,

ASSETS.

Amount of bills, bonds and other evidences of debt discounted or purchased actually owned by the bank (carried out.)			$ 41 469 70
Amount of cash on hand described as follows;
Gold coin	$210 00
Silver coin and bullion	481 75
Legal tender and national bank notes and subsidiary coin	2 188 70
Drafts and checks on other solvent banks and other cash items not dishonored, on hand and belonging to the bank	127 94	3 008 39
Amount subject to be brawn at sight on deposit with solvent banks or bankers (specifying names and location of banks:)
Nortwestern Nat'l Bank Chicago, Ill.	2 626 62
First National Bank, Garner, Iowa	12 814 19
Internal revenue stamps	- -		33 20
		15 440 81
Overdrafts	- -		29 44
Value of real prop'ty (owned by b'nk)	1 200
Value of personal prop'ty "	740 87	1 940 87
Total Assets			$ 61 922 41

LIABILITIES

Am't of Capital actually p'd up in cash			25 000 00
Total am't due depositors, as follows:
Amount sight deposits - -	17 775 37
Amount time deposits - -	15 372 34	33 147 71
Other profits on hand (after deducting taxes and expenses), - -	3 774 70	3 774 70
Total Liabilities			61 922 41

Amount of all liabilities to the bank on part of its directors:

As borrowers 1 866 61
As endorsers 241 88 2 108 49.

State of Iowa, Hancock County, ss.

We, Fred Arnold, President, and F. A. Arnold Cashier, of the bank above named, do solemnly swear that the foregoing statement is full, true and correct, to the best of our knowledge and belief, that the assets therein set forth are bona fida the property of said bank in its corporate capacity; and that no part of the same has been loaned or advanced to said Bank for the purpose of being exhibited as a portion of its assets.

FRED ARNOLD President.
F. A. ARNOLD, Cashier.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence by Fred Arnold and F. A. Arnold, this 6th day of July, 1900, [SEAL] CHAS. W. KNOOP, Notary Public.

Attested by Chas. Gruetzmacher; H. W. Gruetzmacher, directors.

E. P. SCHAEFER, KLEMME.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO FOR SCREEN DOORS
LUMBER,
LIME, STUCCO, AND CEMENT.
EVERYTHING IN BUILDING MATERIAL.
NORTHERN LUMBER CO.
L. G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST. ....SCHOOL SUPPLIES.
WALL PAPER,
Paints, Oils, Alabastine, Window Shades and Everything used to Decorate and Beautify the Home.
WATCHES, CLOCKS and JEWELRY.
DRUGGISTS' SUNDRIES.
J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

The Klemme Times.

G. L. WELLEMEYER, Pub.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

DES MOINES, July 2, 1900.

A few weeks ago there was a surplus in the state treasury of Iowa of about $2,00,000. This has been depleted by two months of state institution warrants and other outgo not met by the income during the summer months from tax collections, and is now about $875,000. This, it is expected, will continue to go down until September when the annual collection of taxes will mean a considerable increase.

Iowa soldiers will return the confederate flag captured by them in 1865, from the state house in Columbia, S. C. This flag is a garrison flag and is now in the possession of the Iowa State Historical Society at Iowa City. Col. H. H. Rood, of Vinton, is a member of the trustees of this society, and is also president of the Crocker Brigade. Soldiers from this brigade captured the flag. The society has planned to turn the confederate flag over to the brigade through Colonel Rood at its meeting in Keokuk, in October. This is with the expectation that it will be returned by the brigade to the confederate veterans from whom it was captured, or to the state of South Carolina. About 1891 a confederate general came to Iowa and returned a flag that was captured from one of the Iowa regiments during the war, much to the delight of the veterans here. The return of the confederate flag will be a return compliment.

Chairman Weaver, of the republican state central committee, has assured Sidney A. Foster, J. G. Rounds and I. Friedlich, of the executive committee of the Auditorium company, that the republican convention of August 1 will come to Des Moines, as agreed. Weaver attaches one condition to his promise. He spoke for the committee, and assured the local managers that if the progress on the rebuilding of the auditorium has reached such a point by July 20, as to insure the completion by August 1, no change will be made in the convention plans. If on that date the indications are that the work cannot be finished in time, the committee will take steps to take the convention to Cedar Rapids or elsewhere. Mr. Weaver himself expressed perfect confidence in the ability of Des Moines to fulfill its part of the agreement, and said he has no doubt the convention will be held here. The executive committee has determined to work at least two shifts of men on the auditorium, with the purpose of getting it done by August 1 without fail.

WAR'S VICTIMS NEGLECTED.

Exposures on Mismanagement in South Africa Stir British.

LONDON, June 29.—The exposures regarding the hospitals in South Africa have made a great sensation in Britain. They began with three columns of restrained language in the Times from W. A. Burdett-Courts, conservative member for parliament for Westminster. His disclosures have been widely reproduced and they are supplemented with denunciatory telegrams and interviews with survivors and army medical men. The Archbishop of Cape Town, in an address before the society of Good Hope in the Cape government house, expressed great dissatisfaction at the way in which the sick and wounded were treated. He declared that the warm clothing that was absolutely necessary was freely offered, but was rarely if ever distributed by the army doctors, that the sick slept on the bare ground, and that even in Cape Town the way in which the hospitals were mismanaged made one's blood boil.

SEVEN HURT BY EXPLOSION.

Accident in Standard Starch Factory at Kankakee, Ill.

KANKAKEE, Ill., June 29.—Six girls and one man, employes of the Standard Starch Company, were injured by an explosion of starch dust in the packing room of the factory. Doors were blown from their hinges and windows wrecked. Flames appeared on three floors, but were quickly put out. The flesh on the injured employes was burned so badly that it hung in shreds, and in some cases the hair was entirely burned off.

Rules Against the Ice Trust.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 2.—The first round in the legal battle between the state and the so-called ice trust was won by the people. Judge Chester handed down an elaborate opinion deciding that the two writs of prohibition by which the president, Chas. N. Morse, and the American Ice company each tried to avoid examination before Referee Nussbaum, and the order by which the corporation endeavored to set aside the appointment of the referee could not prevail.

Della Fox's Mind Restored.

NEW YORK, June 29.—Della Fox, who has been under treatment in the River Crest sanitarium for several weeks, left the institution at noon yesterday. The physician in charge says that her mind has been restored and that her physical health is excellent. It is said that Miss Fox will return to the stage in the fall.

THE NEWS IN IOWA

A BOLD HOLDUP.

Station Agent at Charles City Held Up and Robbed of $64.

CHARLES CITY, June 29.—A bold holdup was perpetrated at the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul passenger depot in this city and the night operator and agent, J. G. Kreycha, robbed of $64.83 in cash. The robbery occurred shortly after midnight. The operator was preparing to send the money away and had it in bills and silver on the table in front of him while preparing the envelope for it when he was startled by a step behind him. He turned about only to face a revolver in the hand of a masked man, and held uncomfortably close to his head. With an oath the masked robber commanded the operator to stand to one side and throw up his hands. The request was complied with and the robber while keeping the operator covered with his gun reached out onto the table and slipped all the money into his pocket. He then backed out of the depot and disappeared in the darkness. Kreycha at once ran to the telephone and informed the central office of the crime. The alarm was spread and in a short time a crowd of citizens had gathered at the depot, but they could do nothing toward detecting the thief.

DOUBLE TRAGEDY AT ALBIA.

Colored Man Shoots His Wife and Himself.

OTTUMWA, June 30.—Richard Bell, a colored man of Albia, shot and killed his wife and then committed suicide at the home of his wife's father. Domestic troubles which have been brewing for some time were the cause of the tragedy. The woman had filed a suit for divorce, which was to have been heard at the coming term of court. It is supposed that Bell was trying to fix matters up with her. Mrs. Bell spent the night at the home of her father, Oliver Marshall. Bell went there and, calling her out of the house, shot her, death resulting instantly. The murderer then turned the revolver on himself and sent a bullet through his heart.

Locked Up Under a Serious Charge.

SIOUX CITY, July 2.—Homer Robb, alias Homer Chase, is locked up on the charge of conspiracy to rob and murder. His arrest is the result of an investigation which the police have been conducting since the Sunday of the big excursion into Sioux City, June 10. On that day Chris Schroeder, a tailor in the employ of Barrett Bros., at Dunlap, was taken by two strangers onto a sand bar in the Missouri river at a point north of the city. Schroeder was intoxicated. There the strangers stripped him of his clothes and robbed him of $40. They carried away his clothing and left the unconscious man to the mercy of the waters. He awoke the next morning, reached shore and managed to find his way to a farm house, where he got some clothes. Robb denies his guilt.

Fears For Iowa Man in China.

SIOUX CITY, June 29.—Grave fears are entertained by the family of Chrys Miller, manager of the Brice railway in China, and for the syndicate which proposed to build a street railway in Tien Tsin this year, the first in China, that he has been killed. No word has been received from him for an alarming length of time, and hopes that he had left the city to avoid danger have been shattered. The family, consisting of his wife and six small children, are now in Sioux City.

Publisher Asks for a Receiver.

DES MOINES, June 30.—Samuel F. Stewart, of Evanston, Ill., a stockholder in the Homestead company, publishers of the Iowa Homstead, has filed a petition in the federal court for a receiver for the Homestead company, alleging that James M. Pierce, president of the company, has issued stock to himself to control the company and is about to do so in violation of the rights of Stewart. The latter asks for an injunction to prevent Pierce from voting this stock.

Train Strikes a Handcar.

COUNCIL BLUFFS, July 1.—A passenger train on the Omaha & St. Louis railroad struck a handcar near Mineola, throwing the occupants clear of the right of way, and probably fatally injuring A. D. Fengler. E. H. Miller was badly bruised about the body and had several ribs broken, but is expected to recover. J. A. Sumner was also on the car and received serious injuries.

Death Resulted From Accident.

CEDAR RAPIDS, June 28.—The coroner's jury, after investigating the death of Express Messenger William J. Finley, returned a verdict finding that he came to his death by the accidental discharge of his revolver, while in the performance of his duties. While there were some suspicious things connected with his death, at the same time no motive could be found for suicide.

JONES CASE IS TAKEN UP

Investigation of Charges Made by Treasurer Herriott.

DES MOINES, July 2.—Jesse Miller has filed with the governor his report concerning the conduct of the office of the clerk of the supreme court. The commission was made because of charges by Treasurer Herriott that fees belonging to the state were not turned into the state treasury. Mr. Miller states he had free access to all the books in the clerk's office and that amounts received from all classes of fees are easily ascertainable therefrom. He finds that all but the following classes were turned into the treasury:

Money received for copies of supreme court decisions furnished West Publishing Co. of St. Paul.

Money received for copies furnished attorneys.

A portion of the money received for certificates of admission of attorneys to the bar.

Money received for making examinations of judgment docket as to judgments.

Money received for making transcripts of cases appealed to the supreme court of the United States.

The report states that copies were furnished the West Publishing Co. at 25 cents a page and that the amount received by the clerk from January, 1895, to January, 1900, was $3.196.66.

The copies were furnished during the April term, 1900, by special contract with Miss Fannie Jones, the arrangements being made by Chief Justice Granger.

An investigation of how the present custom originated shows that ever since 1879 the West Publishing Co.'s business has been a personal matter with the clerk. The supreme court in 1885 over-ruled an application from Blank Bros., law book publishers of New York, asking that the West Publishing Co. be denied the right to make copies of the opinions.

$1,249.45 has been received by Mr. Jones for copies furnished attorneys. It is found that former clerks turned these fees over to the state.

From January, 1895, to the present time 812 students have been admitted to the bar and the clerk has accounted for $405.50 of the fees. A small number paid no fee but it is believed they belonged to the class admitted on motion and of whom none was required; $49.70 was received by the clerk for examinations as to whether there were judgements agasnst certain persons.

The report goes into a lengthy statement regarding the affairs of the office but is not sensational in character. The business with the West Publishing Co., is that of which most has been said and in it Mr. Jones is backed by the precedent of his office. The report resolves the matter into a question of law as to whether the clerk can make personal contracts and the chief justice of the supreme court evidently believes he can.

The governor has not yet decided what action he will take.

Speaker Henderson Renominated.

WATERLOO, June 29.—At the Third congressional district republican convention held yesterday Col. D. B. Henderson was unanimously and enthusiastically renominated as representative in the lower house of the national congress. The convention was largely attended and was in every respect a gala occasion.

Suicide Near Ocheyedan.

SIBLEY, June 29.—Joseph Galland, six miles north of Ocheyedan, killed himself by shooting. He had moved from Mansfield, Ohio, coming west for his health. His age was 98.

BREVITIES.

William and Ross Busby, of Oskaloosa, aged 22 and 19 years, were killed by lightning while in a barn. The bodies were partly cremated.

New York dispatch: Rev. Dr. Brown wires from Che Foo that 148 persons have arrived there, including thirteen missionaries from Peking and twelve from Tien Tsin. Among the latter is Mrs. Frances O. Wilson, sent out by the Des Moines branch of the Methodist Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.

It is asserted that over one-half the right-of-way has been secured for the new Des Moines & Northern Iowa railroad, which is to be built from Des Moines northward into Minnesota, connecting with some point on the Great Northern railway. The survey has been completed from Boone to Britt, and agents of the company are following up the survey closing contracts for the right-of-way.

Bussey was visited by a serious conflagration, in which $30,000 worth of property was destroyed. The fire started at 1:30 a. m. and burned several hours. Nine buildings and the stocks they contained were destroyed. The methods of fighting the fire were inadequate, but the citizens worked heroically. Already the debris is being cleared away, and the store rooms will be rebuilt at once.

NEWS IN GENERAL

APPALLING CATASTROPHE

Scores of Lives Lost in Costly Dock Fire at Hoboken, N. J.

NEW YORK, July 1.—Almost $10,000,000 worth of property was destroyed, many lives were lost, many persons were injured and at least 1,500 lives were imperilled by a fire that started among cotton bales under Pier 3 of the North German Lloyd Steamship Company, in Hoboken, N. J., at 4 o'clock yesterday afternoon. In less than fifteen minutes the flames covered an area a quarter of a mile in length, extending outward from the actual shore line to the bulkheads, from 600 to 1,000 feet away, and had caught four great ocean liners and a dozen or more smaller harbor craft in its grasp.

Stories in regard to the loss of life are conflicting, the number being variously estimated at from fifty to 200. Up to midnight ten bodies had been recovered, but they were all burned and blackened so that identification was impossible. The hospitals in New York, Hoboken and Jersey City are crowded with the injured.

The flames started so suddenly and gained such headway that the people on the piers and on the numerous vessels docked were unable to reach the street. There were great gangs of workmen on the piers, and these, together with a number of people who were at the docks on business and visiting the ships, scattered in all directions. As all means of exit were cut off by the flames, they were forced to jump overboard, and it is believed a great number of people were drowned.

At the docks of the North German Lloyd were the Saale, a single screw passenger steamship of 4,965 gross tons; the Bremen, a twin-screw passenger and freight steamship of 10,526 tons, and the Main, a twin-screw freight and passenger steamship of 10,200 gross tons. They all caught fire and were burned to the water's edge. The Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse, which had just come in, was the only one of the big vessels at the dock that escaped, and it was slightly scorched. Then by a shift in the wind the flames were sent in the direction of the dock of the Hamburg-American line, at which the steamship Phœnicia was docked. The flames got a good hold on the Phœnicia and she was towed out into mid-stream ablaze, and was badly damaged, but not destroyed.

Men working in the holds of the steamships were shut in by walls of flame and it was impossible to reach them. It probably never will be known how many men perished in the ships, as the flames were so fierce they would leave but few if any remnants of the human body.

The loss of the North German Lloyd docks alone is placed at $2,000,000. The value of the great quantity of cotton, oil and various other merchandise on the docks has not been estimated at this time. The loss to the North German Lloyd Steamship Company alone will probably come close to $10,000,000.

ALL LIKELY TO BE ACQUITTED.

Probability of Convictions in Cuban Custom Fraud Cases.

HAVANA, July 2.—In the opinion of Havana lawyers generally the accused officials in the custom house fraud cases now on trial are likely to be acquitted. Apparently everything has been done to assist them against the prosecution, and it is openly asserted that the fiscal himself is determined that no one shall be convicted. As giving color to this assertion, it is pointed out that he has called Senor Manduley as a witness. Manduley is the attorney who came from Santiago at the request of Gov.-Gen. Wood to act as temporary fiscal in connection with the cases, owing to the difficulty of finding a competent prosecutor in Havana who was not related to one or more of the prisoners. For months it has been known that every effort was being made to secure the release of all. All belong to the best families of Cuba, many of them being members of the leading clubs, and some related even to the chief justice.

No Crime to Kill an American.

HAVANA, June 29.—A Cuban policeman who recently killed an American named Welsh and against whom the evidence was apparently complete, in the opinion of army officers and others who saw the whole affair, has just been acquitted by the judges in circumstances so extraordinary that Gov. Gen. Wood will order an investigation. The Americans in Havana are very indignant over what they claim is a studied attempt to show the Cubans that it is no crime to kill an American.

Battleship Oregon Ashore.

LONDON, June 30.—The Shanghai correspondent to the Times, says:

"The battleship Oregon went ashore in a fog off Hoo Kle island, thirty-five miles north of Che Foo. Messrs. Jardine, Mathieson & Co. are sending her assistance."

WOOLLEY AND METCALF.

Ticket Named by National Prohibition Convention.

CHICAGO, June 29.—The prohibition national convention adjourned sine die yesterday, after having placed in nomination for president John G. Woolley of Illinois, and for vice president Henry B. Metcalf of Rhode Island. The nominations in each instance were made on first ballot. Only two candidates for the presidential nomination were balloted for—Mr. Woolley and Rev. Samuel C. Swallow of Pennsylvania—Hale Johnson withdrawing his name at the last moment and throwing his strength to Mr. Woolley. For vice president, three candidates were balloted for—H. B. Metcalf, Thomas R. Caskardon of West Virginia and Rev. E. L. Eaton of Iowa—Mr. Metcalf receiving an overwhelming majority of the votes cast.

URGE SPEEDY SETTLEMENT.

British Columbians Think Alaskan Boundary Dispute Should End.

LONDON, June 30.—British Columbia has sent representatives to London to warn the imperial government that the unsettled Alaskan boundary question is still pregnant with danger. Robert Ward of the British Columbia board of trade in Victoria, who has come to urge the necessity for action at the congress of chambers of commerce of the British empire, now in session here, said to a correspondent:

"The temporary agreement between the United States and Great Britain is wholly unsatisfactory to British subjects, on the ground that it is a source of constant irritation. While we believe that all points of difference are capable of adjustment by arbitration, the temporizing policy which seems to recommend itself to the home government is fraught with serious possibilities. The gold fields and the extension of the British trade which is certain to follow in its wake make an early final settlement of the matter of the most vital importance."

POWERS TO SEND 80.000 MEN.

An Agreement Reported for Maintenance of Status Quo.

PARIS, July 1.—A representative of the Associated Press was informed that as a result of negotiations between the powers, an agreement has been arrived at which provides for the maintenance of the status quo, as regards spheres of influence and commercial agreements, and also respecting the nature of the guarantees and compensations which will be demanded from China. According to the understanding, the international army of occupation will consist of 80,000 men. Russia and Japan will provide 12,000 each, Great Britain will provide 10,000 men, France 8,000 and Germany, America and the other powers 5,000 each. The Russian army corps in Siberia, which has just been mobilized, will only cross the Chinese frontier in the event of the crisis becoming aggravated.

PREPARE FOR PROLONGED WAR.

Extensive Preparations Are Being Made in South Africa.

LONDON, June 30.—Outside of minor conflicts in the Orange River colony showing continued Boer activity in Senekal district, telegrams from South Africa merely indicate preparations for final operations and a tedious prolonged war. A Capetown dispatch reports an attempt by Boers to blow up the artillery barracks and magazine at Pretoria. An artilleryman who frustrated the attempt by withdrawing a lighted fuse, was killed by a Boer, whom the soldiers afterwards attempted to lynch. British authorities are deporting large numbers of Hollanders to Holland to be dealt with by their own government for not observing the state of neutrality declared by the Netherlands. Capetown reports that Kruger is still at Machadodorp, "afraid to move for fear the bridges are undermined."

INDIAN UPRISING IS THREATENED.

One Thousand Redskins Ready to Start on Warpath.

MINNEAPOLIS, June 30.—A Times special from Rat Portage, Ontario, says: There is a threatened uprising of Indians on the Rainy river, Ontario. One thousand Indians are gathered at the mouth of Rainy river. Leech lake Indians are said to be among them, inciting them to murder and pillage the settlers, who are sending out their women and children. One hundred and fifty reached Rat Portage on the Kelnora. The Indians are gathering at Rainy lake, the largest and most secret gathering ever known. Indian agents say they know of no grievance. Great alarm is felt by the settlers.

Yale Wins the 'Varsity Race.

NEW LONDON, June 29.—Yale won the 'varsity race yesterday by 6⅔ lengths. Time, 21:11. This victory makes thirteen out of the twenty-two races for Yale which have been rowed between the two big universities in the last quarter of a century.

Boers in Orange River Colony.

LONDON, June 30.—Active Boer guerilla operations are reported from half a dozen points in Orange river colony.

INDIA'S FREE COINAGE

ABOLISHED IN FAVOR OF THE GOLD STANDARD.

Policy Carried Out Under Unfavorable Conditions, But the Country Is Swamped with Gold and Currency Has Increased —Effect of the Change Beneficial.

Consul General R. F. Pattison, who is at Calcutta, has reported as follows to the state department regarding the course taken by the government of India in the past seven years on the question of the free coinage of silver:

In 1893 the mints of India, that had previously been open to the free coinage of silver, were closed, except to such coinage as was required by the government to supply the currency for the business of the country; and since that time the exchange value of the rupee has fluctuated greatly, although it has been the policy of the government to establish its fixed value at 1s. 4d. (32 cents), which it has now practically accomplished.

Strong objections were made to stereotyping the rupee at 1s. 4d., on the ground that the normal value of trade required a rupee at a lower sterling value. It was further urged that a rupee appreciated to 1s. 4d. would check exports, and especially would exercise an evil influence on the opium trade with China—a silver currency country.

The policy of the government has been carried out under the most adverse conditions, the plague covering many districts, and the failure of rains last year causing a distressing and disastrous famine in large areas; besides, the cotton spinning and weaving industry has been in a more or less critical condition the past year. In spite of these conditions, the total value of trade during the ten months ending December 31, compared with preceding years, has been, in round numbers:

	Imports.	Exports.	Total trade.
1897-1898	...$244,500,000	$279,500,000	$524,000,000
1898-1899	... 222,000,000	325,000,000	547,000,000
1899-1900	... 251,000,000	324,500,000	575,500,000

It was in its effect on the export trade that the enhancement of the value of the rupee was chiefly dreaded; but the figures do not justify the fears expressed, although there has been a serious decline in the export of wheat and of rice, owing—as regards the latter especially, which would otherwise have been exported—to its being required for the famine districts of India.

But the statistics for opium do not support the allegation that the enhancement of the rupee and the fall in the exchange of China on India would check the opium trade. The demand has been brisker, and the average price higher the past year.

The measure passed the 15th of last September to make gold a legal tender in India was the outcome of the Indian currency committee's report, but the government was subjected to considerable pressure to defer action when the report appeared. It was contended in making the sovereign legal tender, gold would be hoarded and would fail to reach the government depositories, so that its gradual accumulation would be arrested, and the government would be driven into borrowing for its stock of gold; but the measure was passed, and the result is known. Instead of gold ceasing to reach the government depositories, they have been nearly swamped with it, and the difficulty has arisen from its plethora—not from its scarcity.

The amount of currency reserve on April 1, 1899, was about $10,000,000, and on March 7, 1900, it was about $35,000,000. The amount that had accumulated in London was about $4,500,000, making an aggregate of about $39,500,000.

In a country like India, where it has been the custom of the native population to hoard silver, it will take longer to adjust itself to a gold standard; but it will be seen that the government is accumulating gold, and it is gradually going into circulation, now being a legal tender.

By the action of the government, India has become a gold standard, and will gradually become a gold currency country, as the exchange value of the rupee is now fixed at the rate of fifteen rupees to the sovereign ($4.86), or, in other words, rupees are interchangeable at that rate at the government depositories, and, with normal conditions of trade, that rate will probably be maintained.

India, which has been such a vast reservoir for silver, now being out of the list of silver standard countries, must have an important influence in deciding the fiscal policy of other countries, for her absorption of such ceased, though the rupee will continue to be the currency for the smaller transactions, its exchange value being fixed by the government.

Factory Products Selling.

American manufactured goods to the value of $40,000,000 were shipped to foreign countries last April. That is a record breaker.

THE SOUTH AND SHIPPING.

National Aid for Its Restoration to the Seas.

The rapid growth of manufacturing in the South, and its beneficial effect upon other industries, are arousing in the minds of the people new thoughts and hopes for the future of their great section of the Union. One of the most reliable authorities on Southern progress and development is R. H. Edmonds, the well-known Baltimore publisher, who keeps in constant personal touch with the up-to-date sentiment of the leading manufacturers, bankers, and influential men of the South. It is his repeated declaration and as a result of his own observations that the

SOUTHERN BUSINESS MEN are almost a unit in favor of national aid in the re-establishment of our ships upon the seas. He finds the sentiment among men representative of Southern industrial and commercial progress quite at variance with that disclosed by their representatives and senators in congress. The latter seem to represent a theoretical opposition to the utilization of modern methods for the advancement of industrial prosperity that has kept back Southern development for fully a generation. In the foreign trade of the United States, as conducted between Southern and foreign ports, one of the

RAREST SIGHTS IS THE AMERICAN FLAG

floating from the sterns of the ships conducting that trade. That the demand has grown in the South for national legislation for the upbuilding of our merchant marine seems to Mr. Edmonds to be logical. He sees in the realization of the growing hopes of his people in this respect much of permanent benefit to the section he represents. He has made an especial study of ante-bellum sentiment on the subject of American maritime development, and was surprised to find that, as far back as the sentiment in favor of safeguarding and promoting our merchant marine commended the thoughtful attention of the most advanced of Southern statesmen and business men. In an address before the Cotton Spinners' association at Charlotte, North Carolina, recently, Mr. Edmonds stated that in 1845 John C. Calhoun presided at a convention in Memphis at which the subject was discussed. In 1851 a report was made at a Virginia convention in favor of facilitating the mails through the establishment of steamship lines running between Hampton Roads and European ports. Another convention in Memphis held in 1853 favored

SIXTY YEARS AGO

GOVERNMENT ENCOURAGEMENT AND PROTECTION

in the establishment of steamship lines between Southern and European ports. The Charleston convention of 1854 urged congress to encourage the establishment of mail steamships, even to the extent of granting state bounties in the form of rebates to shippers employing American vessels. In 1856 Louisiana's legislature passed an act paying $5 per ton bounty on all ships exceeding 100 tons burden built in the state. A report made to the legislature of Alabama as far back as 1838 showed that her citizens contributed $1,800,000 a year to get their cotton to Europe, and contained the query: "If this amount must be paid, why should it not be paid to our own citizens?" No wonder a score of years later Alabama's legislature passed an act granting a bounty of $4 per ton on all steamers built within that state.

AT CHARLESTON IN 1839

Robert Y. Hayne discussed the subject before a commercial convention held in that city, in which he said that southern and southwestern states were producing nearly three-quarters of the domestic exports of the Union, although importing not to exceed one-tenth of the foreign merchandise entering the United States, and that foreign commerce was "causing cities of other states to flourish while Southern cities were falling into decay." Lieutenant M. F. Maury, famous for his invaluable aids to mariners upon the oceans, was impressed with the

IMMENSE BENEFITS SOUTHERN STATES

would derive from the establishment of steamship lines between Southern and European ports. For many years he urged the investment of Southern capital in such lines, showing the great and growing power her rich foreign commerce was giving to New York, and deploring the fact that the South was missing its opportunities to share therein. He saw for Norfolk, Virginia, possibilities of development which have never been realized, but which it seems possible are likely of fulfillment through the growing scarcity of European coal and the inevitable dependence of the world in the future for the greater part of its coal supplies upon the United States. In

OUR TRADE WITH OTHER AMERICAN REPUBLICS

Maury saw advantages even greater than those possible through our commercial intercourse with Europe, and he was never done urging upon the people of the South the wisdom of generously encouraging American maritime development through the establishment of steamship lines to the West Indies, Central and South America. He advocated a ship canal across the American isthmus and predicted enormously beneficial results to our trade and shipping to follow.

Away back in 1858 the assembly of Virginia incorporated a

$50,000,000 STEAMSHIP LINE

under the name of the Atlantic Steam Ferry company, but which failed to carry out its designs because of the sectional differences between the North and South. The scheme involved the immediate construction of four ships of the Great Eastern class, to regularly run between Southern and European ports. Their great value as auxiliaries to our military resources were then clearly pointed out, as well as their usefulness as nurseries for American seamen who would be ready to respond to their country's call if needed. No wonder, in these circumstances, Mr. Edmonds in his speech made it very clear that the revival of our foreign-going shipping is

NOT A SECTIONAL OR PARTISAN QUESTION,

but is a purely industrial, commercial and auxiliary naval question. He said: "Originating, as the South is already doing, about $400,000,000 worth of foreign exports a year, shipped almost exclusively in vessels that fly the British, German, and other foreign flags, the South may well be deeply concerned in the upbuilding of a merchant marine, because of the magnitude of its present export trade." This trade he expected would rapidly multiply, and he predicted a cotton crop in the not distant future of 100,000,000 bales.

It is not surprising to find that

BOTH OF THE GREAT POLITICAL PARTIES

are now vying with each other in their espousal of an American merchant marine. That the representative men in both parties have formally and finally rejected the suggestion of "free ships"—which means the purchase of British instead of American built ships for our maritime needs—may be taken as an indication of both the conservatism and progressiveness which augurs well for early effective and permanent legislation in behalf of our too long neglected shipping upon the seas. It is this unanimity of sentiment that is converging upon a demand for such legislation that will have become so insistent and imperative as to compel such legislation at the next session of congress.

BIG FOREIGN TRADE.

That of Fiscal Year Just Ending Larger Than Any Other on Record.

The foreign commerce of the United States in the fiscal year which ends with this month will by far exceed that of any preceding year. Its exports will surpass those of any earlier year by more than $150,000,000, and its exports of manufactures will exceed those of any preceding year by more than $75,000,000. Its imports, owing to the demands of the manufacturers of the country for foreign raw material for use in their industries will also be large. Raw silk, unmanufactured fibers, crude rubber, hides and skins, pig tin for use in tin plate establishments, cabinet woods and the finer grades of cotton and the coarser grades of wool all show a large increase.

It is in the export side, however, that the year makes its greatest record. The total exports for the eleven months of the year amount to $1,286,214,534, and should the June figures prove as large as those of May, it would bring the total up to $1,400,000,000, or $173,000,000 greater than the banner year 1899.

Montana's Prosperity.

Montana has not been behind hand in securing its share of prosperity under the present administration, as the following exhibit of its bank deposits and depositors shows:

Bank Deposits.

Banks.	July 18, 1894.	June 30, 1899.
National	$3,212,059	$6,427,340
State and private..	851,377	2,333,483
Total	$4,063,436	$8,760,823

Depositors.

Banks.	July 18, 1894.	June 30, 1899.
National	5,705	9,028
State and private...	1,658	4,193
	7,363	13,221

Average Deposit.

Banks.	July 18, 1894.	June 30, 1899.
National	$563	$712
State and private.....	515	557

Idaho Farm Products.

Idaho fruit sold at the Chicago market in 1896 for just enough money to pay the freight. This year it has been sold at $1.00 per crate of twenty-five pounds, the freight being $1.00 per 100 pounds. Hay sold in Idaho at $2.50 per ton in 1896. This year it has sold at $5 per ton. Hogs sold there for 3 cents per pound in 1896. Within the last few months similar hogs have sold for 4½ cents per pound.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON II, JULY 8 — JOHN 6: 22-40.

"Jesus Said Unto Them, I am the Bread of Life" — John 6:35 — The Feeding of the Multitude — The Manna.

22. "The day following" the miracle of the loaves (Lesson XII., Second Quarter), and the storm on the Sea of Galilee (last lesson). "The people (multitude) which stood on the other side of the sea." The other side from Gennesaret, where Jesus and his disciples landed in the early morning (Mark 6: 53). Those who remained in the vicinity of Bethsaida, and the place where the miracle was wrought, or went back to that place. "Saw that there was none other boat there," etc. This explains why they expected to find Jesus on that side of the sea.

23. "Howbeit there came other boats." Show how these people were able to cross the sea. If this had not been said, some one would have suggested that there was a contradiction. "Tiberias." The principal city on the west coast. "After that the Lord had given thanks." Showing the deep impression this solemn act made in connection with the miracle. The multitude fed not only on bread, but on bread blessed from heaven.

24. "They also took shipping boats." The boats that came from Tiberias.

25. "Rabbi," Master, teacher. "When camest thou hither?" "When means, too, how, and may have in it a trace of why." —Maclaren.

26. "Jesus answered," not their question, but their needs. "Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles." Gr. and R. V., "signs." They were not attracted by the miracles as signs of God's love, as types and proofs that Jesus was the Messiah, as invitations to trust and love him. "But because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled." The verb means "were satisfied as a beast is with fodder." —Whitelaw.

27. "Labour not." Work not; the same word as "work" in vs. 28-30 below. "For the meat which perisheth." The food for the body.

27. "But for that meat (food) which endureth unto everlasting life." Use all the energies of your nature in the wise way, and for the wisest purpose. "The Son of man." The Messiah, the type and representative of the human race. "Him hath God the Father sealed." To seal anything is to attest by some sign or mark that it is genuine, that it comes from the person who sealed it with his endorsement.

28. "What shall (or must) we do." The questions is suggested by the command to labor in v. 27. "That we might work the works of God?" The works required by God, in order that we may obtain that bread of which he had been speaking. No one can eat for another.

29. "This is the work of God." What God bids you do in this matter. "That ye believe on him whom he hath sent." There is no multiplicity of separate acts, but the one great essential underlying all good works—a committing of body and soul to our Lord, who gives the new heart and right spirit, out of which flow the works of God as naturally as waters flow from a fountain or good fruit grows on good trees. His word is truth; his commands are right; his example perfect.

30. "What sign." The usual word for "miracle" in John. "Shewest thou then, that we may see, and believe." True faith must always have a foundation.

31. "Our fathers did eat manna in the desert (see Ex. 16). "As it is written." "Moses proved that he was sent from God by giving the people bread from heaven to eat; now what do you do that is greater than this to prove that you are the greater prophet.

32. Then Jesus said." To prove his claims and to show them that they thought only of bodily feeding, while the feeding of the body by Jesus was but a type of a richer, nobler supply, far more difficult to bestow. "Moses gave you not." Better as R. V., "It was not Moses that gave." He was not the source of the manna. "But my Father giveth you." The same God who gave you the manna, but holding a much closer relation to Jesus than to Moses. "The true bread." That which fulfils absolutely, ideally, the highest conception of sustaining food.—Westcott. "From heaven." The manna came from heaven, as God himself said (Ex. 16: 4).

33. "For the bread of God is he (better in R. V., "that") which cometh down from heaven." "Christ does not identify himself with the bread till the next answer."—Westcott.

Fourth Question. 34. "Lord (sir), evermore give us this bread." They probably had vague ideas of what this bread was and may have thought of some miraculous supply, like that furnished the day before, or like the tree of life in Eden; though some may have felt the power of spiritual hunger and longed for spiritual food.

35. "Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of life." 1. By his death and atonement Jesus brings spiritual life to men. He wakens the spiritual faculties and senses that were dead to the higher immortal interests. He sends the Holy Spirit, who imparts and sustains life.

"He that cometh to me . . . he that believeth on me." Coming and believing are the ways in which this living bread is received.

36. "Ye . . . believe not." You have not eaten this bread and therefore have not had the experience I speak of.

37. "All that the Father giveth me." This is the divine side of our salvation. "And him that cometh to me." This is the human side, so that no one may stay away because he imagines that the Father had not given him to Jesus. There is a welcome for all.

38. "For I came down from heaven, not to do mine own will," etc. Here Christ gives a reason why none need fear that they will be cast out, and fail of salvation if they seek it. For he came down from heaven for this very purpose—not for his own pleasure, but to carry out the will of God, which will is revealed in the next verse.

39. "This is the Father's will," etc. No power in earth or hell could destroy those who trusted him. He would rescue them even from the power of death. The divine will, instead of being a hindrance, was the assurance of salvation.

40. "May have everlasting life." He would give eternal life to all who would receive it, and would sustain it forever and ever. Compare the tree of life in the New Jerusalem.

AN INNOVATION.

A Church Fair in Oklahoma—Everything "Perfectly Square."

"Brethren and sisters," said the Rev. Jack Jonks, the well-known Oklahoma divine, relates the New York World, "I am requested to announce that the ladies of the church will give a fair and festival at Tilligan's hall next Thursday evening, to which everybody is invited. I will further say that everything will be square and above-board on that occasion. I have been moved to insist upon this innovation because of the numerous kicks which have been registered since the last event of this character. Certain of the brethren, especially those who have but recently become members of the church and have not yet forgotten their worldly wisdom, have been complaining that there was no reciprocity in the various catch-penny devices and games of chance at the last festival, and they are emphatic in their proclamation that, while they do not object to running up against any legitimate hazard for the good of the cause, they decline to participate in any more lead-pipe cinches. I will therefore add that at the coming festival the grab-bag, fish-pond, weighing-machine and kindred devices for replenishing the treasury will be under the direct supervision of Curly Conroy, the gentlemanly and accomplished dealer of faro at the Blue Ruin fortune parlors. In kindly agreeing to superintend these devices, Mr Conroy pledges his professional honor that every visitor who puts down his scads will at least have some show for his money, and that his part of the evening's entertainment will be conducted in the same unprejudiced and impartial way that characterizes his work at the Blue Ruin. The usual collection will now be taken."

What Will Become of China?

None can foresee the outcome of the quarrel between foreign powers over the division of China. It is interesting to watch the going to pieces of this race. Many people are also going to pieces because of dyspepsia, constipation and stomach diseases. Good health can be retained if we use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Every young man should learn to paddle his own canoe—but he should learn to swim first.

Washing Day Will Have No Terrors

If you use Maple City Self Washing Soap. It preserves the clothes—try it and be convinced—your grocer has it.

Unless a man keeps moving the world will soon throw him down.

Ladies Can Wear Shoes.

One size smaller after using Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder. It makes tight or new shoes easy. Cures swollen, hot, sweating, aching feet, ingrowing nails, corns and bunions. All druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE by mail. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N.Y.

Rainbows in the eyes indicate love in the heart.

Lane's Family Medicine.

Moves the bowels each day. In order to be healthy this is necessary. Acts gently on the liver and kidneys. Cures sick headache. Price 25 and 50c.

Siam's crown prince is a student at Harrow, England. He is popular with his school fellows.

TO WOMEN WHO DOUBT.

Every Suffering Woman Should Read this Letter and be Convinced that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Does Cure Female Weakness.

"I have been troubled with female weakness in its worst form for about ten years. I had leucorrhœa and was so weak that I could not do my housework. I also had falling of the womb and inflammation of the womb and ovaries and at menstrual periods I suffered terribly. At times my back would ache very hard. I could not lift anything or do any heavy work; was not able to stand on my feet. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for doctors but they did me no good. After a time I concluded to try your medicine and I can truly say it does all that you claim for it to do.

Ten bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and seven packages of Sanative Wash have made a new woman of me. I have had no womb trouble since taking the fifth bottle. I weigh more than I have in years; can do all my own housework, sleep well, have a good appetite and now feel that life is worth living. I owe all to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I feel that it has saved my life and would not be without it for anything. I am always glad to recommend your medicine to all my sex, for I know if they follow your directions they will be cured."—Mrs. Annie Thompson, South Hot Springs, Ark.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS

14TH ANNIVERSARY CELEBRATION,

THURSDAY, JULY 12, 1900.

FREE BAND CONCERT During the afternoon by the Celebrated CARPENTER HARP ORCHESTRA.

EXCURSION RATES: One fare for the round trip from all stations from Eagle Grove and Thornton on the M. C. & Ft. D. Ry. One and one-third fare for the round trip from all stations within 50 miles on Iowa Central, and Burlington R. R.

Ice Cream Booth will be conducted by the cemetery association for the benefit of the cemetery.

GRAND BALL in Opera House in the evening. Music by the celebrated carpenter Harp Orchestra.

BASE BALL. All about base ball in our next issue.

TO MAKE THIS A DAY OF BUSINESS COMBINED WITH PLEASURE WE OFFER YOU THE FOLLOWING BENEFIT SALE.

Bargain Number 1.

Lawns worth 6c per yd. 3c
Prints worth 7 and 8c per yd 4c.
White goods per yd 5c.
White goods worth up to 20c yd 9c.
12½ and 15c Fine Dress Percales per yard 8c,
Piques and Organdies worth up to 30c yard 14c.

Bargain No. 2.

Silks worth 60c yard 33c.
$1. Silks, stripes and plaids yd 49c
Silks including black Brocades and colored Faille yd 79c

Bargain No. 3.

500 yards 25 to 35c wide Oriental laces per yard 9c

Bargain No. 4.

150 corsets worth up to 75c each 39c.
75 corsets worth up to $1.25 each 78c
75 Ladies Home Made Wrappers at 82c each.

Bargain No. 5.

12½ and 15c plaid dress goods yd 9c
25 to 35c dress goods yd 19c
50 to 60c dress goods yd 39c
Fine high grade dress goods, blacks and colors, worth up to $1 35 yd 79c

Bargain No. 6.

50c colored table linen yd 26c.
Glace 10c toweling yd 5c
Ladies tailor made suits $7.98, 9.98 and 10.98.—Every suit a bargain.

Bargain No. 7.

Ladies and childrens vests ea 3c up.
Ladies and childrens muslin underwear at mid-summer sale prices,

BARGAIN NO 8.

Ladies umbrellas and parasols, black and colors worth up to $1.75 each $1.14

BARGAIN NO. 10.

Ladies' gents, boys and girls straw hats and caps, worth up to $1,00 at 5 10, 15, 25, 40 and 50c.
Mens and boys shirts, many worth as much as $1.25, each 39c.

BARGAIN 11,

Ladies 10 to 25c belts each 5 to 12c,
25c summer veiling yd 10c.
Childrens 20 and 25c silk mits ea 9c.

BARGAIN 12.

Since our anniversary comes on the 12th we make bargain 12 the biggest and best bargain of the day.

Childrens and misses low shoes 48c
Ladies low shoes worth up to 1.50 pair 98c.
Ladies low shoes worth up to $2.00 pair $1.18
Ladies fine shoes worth up to $3.50 pair $1.98.
Gents fine shoes worth up to $3.50 pair $1.98.
All shoes not in sale, a cash discount of 20 per cent will be given.

LUCKY 14.

Ask to see our 14th anniversary bargain.

UNLUCKY 13.

GROCERIES.

15c canned goods each 9c. 50 and 60 cent Japan tea 1b 40. Good coffee per pound 13c. Solid steel tea spoons 7c.

FREE:—With each sack of flour you buy on this day you will get a can of baking powder or glass dish, free.

REMEMBER: ☞Doors open at 7:30 o'clock a. m. ☞No sale goods taken back or exchanged. ☞No premiums given on Sale Day. ☞Produce taken same as cash. ☞Complaint must be made to cashier. ☞No goods sold on approval. ☞All goods must be settled for at time of purchase. We will not be responsible for goods after delivery. Thirty clerks engaged for this sale and you will be well served. You will have a good time if you come—you will miss it if you do not.

E. L. TIEDE,

BELMOND, IOWA.

Buy Your

Drugs, Paints, Wall Paper, Toilet Soap, Perfumery Books and Patent Medicines

At Amsden's Pharmacy

GARNER, IOWA.

Buggies Wagons

Corn ultivators

And Bicycles: Do not fail to see us before buying. We have the largest stock of the best goods ever brought to this city

Groceries, Hardware.

First class Tinshop.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

COUNTY ATTORNEY.

I hereby announce mysely a candidate for County Attorney, subject to the decision of the Republican voters at the primaries.

J. E. WICHMAN.

COUNTY RECORDER.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for renomination to the office of County Recorder of Hancock county, Iowa, subject to the Republican Primaries of 1900.

OLE PETERLON.

COUNTY AUDITOR.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-nomination to the office of County Auditor subject to the decision of the Republican Primaries.

E. F. BRUMMUND:

CLERK OF DISTRICT COURT.

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-nomination to the office of Clerk of the District Court of Hancock county, Iowa, subect to the Republican Primaries of 1900.

L. D. WOMELDORF.

Cresco.

A Corset that cannot break at the waist line must be more satisfactory to the wearer than the breakable sorts. Try a Cresco Corset—contentment is sure to follow. New stock always in and size range complete.

Shafer & Dow.

TO CURE A COLD WHILE YOU SLEEP.

Take "Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

CARY SAFE CO.

BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.

..Manufacturers..

FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES

VAULTS, LOCKS, ETC.

CONTRACTORS to UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

KOERENR BROS.....

Woven Wire Fencing,
Poultry Netting, Barbed Wire,
Nails, Staples, Hay Tools,
Carpenter Tools, Bicycles,
Bicycle Repairs, Paints,
Oils, Brushes, Putty,
Glass, Rooting, Spouting
Etc. Etc.

KLEMME, IOWA.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hogs wanted six days in the week. W. R. Bloom.

W. R. Bloom and family spent the 4th at Belmond.

Editor Hall was up from Goodell Tuesday ou business.

R. M. Brisco of Goodell was doing business in town Monday.

FOR SALE:—Residence property in Barz addition to Klemme. Inquire of H. S. Swarz.

Mrs. Thomas Hamilton and daughter Mrs. Costello, are visiting friends in South Dakota.

H. W. Gruetzmacher and wife and Ben Kaste and sister May, spent the 4th with relatives at Charles City.

Water is a good thing in its way but it makes some Klemme people awful mad to be given a shower bath.

The majority of our people were at Garner Wednesday and all report a large crowd and a general good time.

FOR SALE:—A good six-room house with one acre of ground, trees and small fruit, nicely located, easy terms. Inquire of H. C. LAU, Klemme, Iowa.

Jacob Bock and wife mourn the death of their baby boy, whose life went out Tuesday evening. The funeral occurred Wednesday.

We have but little news to offer our readers this week, and if you will forgive us this time we will do better in future. Like the majority of patriotic citizens we have been celebrating.

For Sale!—240 acre farm three miles east of Klemme, all under cultivation, buildings, etc. For prices and terms, call on or address, M. S. Gilman, Klemme, Iowa.

E. P. Dow is enjoying a much needed vacation from business cares, visiting relatives at Akron Iowa. He expects to be away about two weeks.

Last Friday the Meservey base ball club came to Klemme for a friendly bout with our boys and were defeated by a score of 19 to 9. The Meservey boys are gentlemen, the umpire was fair, and the game devoid of wrangling. A return game will be played at Meservey in the near future.

As a sequel to the 4th, about forty of our citizens indulged in a sham battle, last evening with, Roman candles for weapons. It was a fierce, battle royal, and nearly a thousand shots were fired on either side, and the flag of truce was not recognized until all amunition was exhausted. Up to the hour of going to press no fatal results have been reported and the wounded will all recover.

Came into our possession on June 25, two broncho pony mares branded U on hip,—one buckskin or cream color and one roan, about 10 or 12 years old. Owner may recover proper same by calling at the farm of J. Wenz, 3½ miles south-west of Klemme, paying damages and paying for this notice, Address,

Henke & Wenz, Klemme.

FLY NETS:—Good nets, poor nets, indifferent nets; nets that will keep the flies off and nets that wont; nets that are too nice and some not pretty enough; nets that costs lots of money and those that we almost give away. We have the finest line ever put on the market at prices that will make them go.

F. GRUETZMACHER.

ELL CENTER.

W. Merten transacted business here Saiurday.

Peter Gilbert visited at Chapin last week, the guest of relatives.

Joe Weeks and wife have returned from the Algona campmeeting.

The majority of the farmers will plow their corn for the last time this week.

A great many wil take advantage of the cheap rates and take in the show at Iowa Falls Saturday.

Several school ma'ams were around looking for schools last week. We did not learn what success they had.

The attendance at the meetings in the Gilbert school house are steadily increasing which speaks well for the community.

For Ringling Bros. Circus at Iowa Falls, Iowa, July 7, The B. C. R. & N. Ry will sell excursion tiskets from points within 50 miles at greatly reduced rates.

Joe Lawhern's are enjoying a visit from their cousin George Kelly and wife of Wisconsin. Mr. Lawhorn and wife accompanied them to Franklin county where they will visit old friends and relatives. He returned Sunday.

The band and base ball club went the town of Galt, as per arrangement, and are loud in their praises of the treatment received at the hands of the the good people of that place. The band boys were highly complimented for the excellence of their music. In the afternoon the ball gamewith Clarion resulted in favor of Klemme, the score being 10 to 5. Until the beginning of the seventh inning it was a splendid game, the runs being a tie, 4 to 4. A few long hits by the Klemme boys and a few costly errors gave our club the advantage which resulted as above. A feature of the game was the excellent work of Frank Kluckhohn in the pitchers box, and Joe Nissen, catcher. Wm. Schlei with his four-horse team deserves great credit for the safe conveyance of the band to and from Galt.

Base Ball.

Manager Duff has arbanged a rare treat for July 18. The Albert Lea and Waseca ball clubs are both professional teams. They have played a game at Albert Lea and a game at Waseca and each club has a victory to its credit. The games were very close, each club is backed by local sentiment and enthusiasm that is the all absorbing topic in the respective towns. $1500 has passed back and forth on the games played and on July 18th an excursion train will bring the clubs to Britt to play off the rubber for a purse of $200. To say that this game of ball will be an interesting one puts it mild. The Waseca club will bring several hundred people—the Albert Lea people the same. The traveling men are all talking about the games that have been played and intend to see the Britt game. A large amount of money will be wagered. All the towns within a radius of 50 miles are interested and their people will be here. There will be two or more bands of music and a grand day of sport is confidently looked forward to. Britt will respond with her old time enthusiasm and if you want a good time you should not fail to be present.—Britt News.

AWRENCE, INFANT PRODIGY.

Attracted the Attention of Garrick, Foote, Burke and Sheridan.

Raphael, with genius at his back, did not come to maturity so quickly, nor did Rubens, triumphant at Antwerp, hold popular applause so long; for Lawrence kept his admiring public to the last, and was something of a wonder both as man and boy, says the Century. His whole career was brilliant, yet not through intrinsic force; his art was successful without being great; he was honored and praised down to his grave, and yet he possessed not genius. There are men who achieve popular success without genius. Lawrence was one of them. The father was a man of some birth and education, but what is called "the poetic temperament," and never got on very well in the world. He was at different times a barrister without a brief, an actor without a part, a keeper of the White Lion inn at Devizes without guests enough to make it pay. When young Lawrence was 3 years old his father made a change of base and moved into the Black Bear inn. It was here that the boy was placed upon a table to recite Shakespeare for the guests. Here, also, he developed a wonderful gift of making portraits in pastel of the passing public. A guest could have a portrait painted while he waited, and the speed of the artist was not less wonderful than his age. The duchess of Devonshire and Lord and Lady Kenyon were among his early sitters, and the record is preserved that Lady Kenyon's likeness was drawn in profile, because, as the child artist declared, "her face was not straight." In a short time he had attracted the attention of Garrick, Foote, Wilkes, Burke, Sheridan and Johnson, and his father began traveling with him about the neighboring country and exhibiting him as one of the wonders of the age.

HOW COLOR AFFECTS INDUSTRY

One Reason Why American Machinery Is Not More Popular.

A gentleman who has traveled much and has a very large interest in American export trade said, in conversation the other day, that the principal drawback to a wider extension of American commerce in certain parts of the world is that manufacturers in the United States do not sufficiently study the wants, the customs and the tastes of their prospective customers. "For example," he said, "a certain American firm sent some electrical goods, which were decorated in green, to Japan. They did not sell any. No Japanese would bring such things into his house; it would mean an invitation to the evil deities. Green is an evil color in Japan. What a Japanese wants is red things. Upon this simple matter of color rests the failure of that manufacturer to succeed in export trade." A German employer of labor said: "I like American machines so far as their performance of their work is concerned, but they demoralize my men. They come here in sober colors of paint and with no bright parts. The men who attend the machines do not have any brass to keep clean or any surfaces to rub, and they get lazy. The German workman needs to be kept busy with things of this sort." Here, now, are some practical instances of what the American manufacturer must learn before he can attain the widest success in the new field of foreign trade. Do not send to Germanay catalogues in the English language or to Japan things decorated in green, or to the isthmus of Panama anything with blue spots in it. It looks as if we need in this country a commercial kindergarten in which such information as the above may be taught to those of a curious and inquiring mind for their everlasting benefit and profit.

A Remarkable Tribute of Respect.

Mrs. Julia Ward Howe received a remarkable tribute of respect a few days ago at a gathering of Unitarian women in All Souls' church, New York. Mrs. Howe, 80 years old, but still in her prime in wit and charm, grew tired before her speech was finished, and was unable to pitch her voice so that the women in the rear could hear. "Can Mrs. Howe raise her voice?" came a call from the back. "No," replied Mrs. Howe, frankly. "I said yesterday I should not kill myself, even for this august body. You can't expect an old lady of 80 to explode in one gigantic effort." There was a ripple of laughter at this, and then the women in the back seats rose, making their way toward the front, where seats and platform were already crowded. They deliberately sat down on the floor, where they stayed throughout Mrs. Howe's address. Gray-haired women mingled with young girls in this humble position. Mrs. Howe's address was on "The Progress of the Century in Manners." There was a general call for Mrs. Howe to recite "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," which she did amid great applause.

Do You Eat?

Well, try some of our Viena Sausage and Kraut, Red Salmon, Jams. Whole Wheat Biscuits, Pickles, Just what you want

THIS HOT WEATHER

We have just received

a full line of Negligee Shirts, Fancy Suspenders, Summer Underwear, Pants, Overalls, etc.

Highest Market Price

For Butter and Eggs.

Shafer & Dow.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

OUR SPECIALTY IS

LUMBER

WE ALSO SELL

Brick, Lime, Cement, Paroid Roofing, American Field Fence Screen Doors and Windows.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

Farm Machinery.

DO NOT FORGET

That we handle a COMPLETE LINE of the BEST Farm Machinery manufactured. Before you buy, it will pay you to see us and get our prices. We handle

CASSADY GANG AND SULKY PLOWS,

Corn Cultivators, Stirring Plows, Cornplanters, harrows, Discs, Wagons, Buggies, Geneva Windmils, Milwaueee Binders and Mowers.

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE. . . . .

We are constantly adding new, fresh GROCERIES to our stock and would like to make you prices. If you want Hardware or Tinware, we can supply your wants.

LAU BROS.

GRAND CLOSING OUT SALE OF

Watches, Clocks and Jewelry

I AM GOING TO CLOSE Out my entire stock of Watches, Clocks and Jewelry at Cost Price. If U want a bargain come and see me. CHAS. F. H. Suckow, Watchmaker and Jeweler, Klemme, Iowa.

NATIONAL PROHIBITIONISTS.

In the Midst of Convention Work at Chicago.

SINGLE PLATFORM IS ADOPTED

It Declares for Prohibition, Together with a Resolution Favoring Suffrage and Indorsing the Young Men's Prohibition League—Presidential Aspirants

Chicago, June 29.—Mrs. Francis E. Beauchamp of Kentucky started a revolt in the national prohibition convention which defeated her purpose to have a suffrage plank included in the platform. In a speech advocating a suffrage clause she charged that a picture of Frances E. Willard had been purposely removed from the hall by the enemies of woman's rights. This charge was met by hisses from all sides and brought a dozen delegates to their feet protesting against the insinuation. When quiet was restored the chairman explained that the picture in question had not been removed, but had fallen down, and asked Mrs. Beauchamp to take back her statement.

After considerable discussion the single platform of prohibition was adopted, together with a resolution favoring suffrage and indorsing the Young Men's Prohibition league.

Army Canteen Denounced.

The platform is a lengthy document and arraigns both the democratic and republican parties. Both are accused of being insincere on the trust question and of advocating methods in favor of the liquor traffic. The clause in reference to the army canteen reads as follows:

"We charge upon President McKinley, who was elected to his high office by appeals to Christian sentiment and patriotism almost unprecedented and by a combination of moral influences never before seen in this country, that, by his conspicuous example as a wine drinker at public banquets and as a wine-serving host in the White House, he has done more to encourage the liquor business, to demoralize the temperance habits of young men, and to bring Christian practices and requirements into disrepute, than any other president this republic has had. We further charge upon President McKinley responsibility for the army canteen, with all its dire brood of disease, immorality, sin and death, in this country, in Cuba, in Porto Rico and the Philippines; and we insist that by his attitude concerning the canteen, and his apparent contempt for the vast number of petitions protesting against it, he has outraged and insulted the moral sentiment of this country in such a manner and to such a degree as calls for its righteous uprising and an indignant and effective rebuke.

"We challenge the denial of the fact that our executive as commander in chief of the military forces of the United States, at any time prior to or since March 2, 1899, could have closed every army saloon, called a canteen, by executive order, as President Hayes did before him, and should have closed them for the same reasons which actuated President Hayes; we assert that the act of congress, passed March 2, 1899, forbidding the sale of liquors 'in any post, exchange or canteen' by any 'officer or private soldier,' or by 'any other person,' 'on any premises used for military purposes by the United States,' was and is as explicit an act of prohibition as the English language can frame. We declare our solemn belief that the attorney general of the United States in his interpretation of that law, and the secretary of war in his acceptance of that interpretation and his refusal to enforce the law, were and are guilty of treasonable nullification thereof, and that President McKinley, through his assent to and indorsement of such interpretation and refusal on the part of the officials appointed by and responsible to him, shares responsibility in the guilt."

Convention Officers Elected.

The committee on permanent organization reported the following officers, who were elected:

Chairman—Samuel J. Dickey, Michigan.

Secretary—Colonel R. S. Chever, Tennessee.

Assistant secretaries—L. W. Elliott, California; Alonzo E. Wilson, Illinois; Mrs. Francis Beauchamp, Kentucky; Herbert E. Griffith, Massachusetts, and J. A. Hartman, New York.

A new national committee was also elected.

Opening Session.

Chicago, June 27.—When the national convention of the Prohibition party was called to order at 10:30 this morning the First Regiment armory presented a scene of brilliant color. More than a quarter of the national delegates were women, the color of their gowns on the convention floor, coupled with the hundreds of flags carried by the delegates and which were kept in almost continual motion, blending with the elaborate decorations of the hall to furnish a gay picture.

Samuel J. Dickie of Michigan, one of the distinguished leaders of prohibition for many years, was named by National Chairman Stewart as temporary chairman. Mr. Stewart said in his opening address:

"It affords me great pleasure, in calling this convention to order, to congratulate you on this great gathering. The Prohibition party is not dead. It is not asleep. It is wide awake and full of life. Slowly but surely has the realization come to us all that this year affords the greatest opportunity in the history of the party. I have said often that if we had the spirit of 1888 or 1892, along with the opportunity 1900 brings to us, we could poll a million votes. I have said that in the past, doubting whether or not we could succeed in raising the party to the zeal and enthusiasm of those years. This convention proves beyond doubt that the task is not an impossible one."

A demonstration in favor of Rev. S. C. Swallow, presidential candidate, occurred as the prohibition parade entered the convention hall. One division was led by the Pennsylvania delegation. Nine lithographs of Swallow were carried slowly down the aisle, and delegates rose in almost every delegation and cheered. There was no tumult when Hale Johnson came in. The opening of the convention found John G. Woolley's managers more confident than ever. "I think he will be nominated on the first ballot," said Chairman Stewart of the national committee.

JOHN G. WOOLLEY.

It was an enthusiastic convention from the start. Everybody that had no flag had a fan. Both were waved with little provocation. Chairman Stewart woke up the fan-wielders when in his first sentence to the convention he said: "The Prohibition party is not dead."

REV. S. C. SWALLOW.

Here most of the flags and fans went up. "It is not even sleeping," said Stewart, and the rest followed.

At noon the convention adjourned until the committee on credentials reported. No contests were expected before the committee went into session. Tomorow vening a grand mass meeting will be held by the convention delegates, when the nominees for national offices will be given a grand send-off.

Empire State Aground.

Sturgeon Bay, Wis., June 29.—The steamer Empire State, bound from Green Bay to Buffalo, with a cargo of oats, ran ashore during the fog last night near Sugar Creek, about twenty-two miles south of here, in Green Bay. Assistance has gone from here, and it is thought the steamer can be released without much trouble.

Storm Damage in Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 30.—A brilliant and destructive electrical storm centered in this section, doing thousands of dollars worth of damage. In Lower Allegheny the Orthodox Greek church and the engine house next door were struck by lightning, and many roofs in the vicinity were torn off by the wind.

Salt River Valley Suffers.

Phoenix, Ariz., June 29.—The prolonged drought in Salt River Valley has done many thousands of dollars' worth of damage and threatens the grain and fruit crops not now harvested. Cattle are in bad condition, and many ranchers are disposing of their stock as quickly as possible.

GUILTY OR INNOCENT?

By AMY BRAZIER.

CHAPTER V.—(Continued.)

Something must have happened. People are running. There is a little crowd round the bank, and a policeman is pushing his way through. What can it be? Sebastian joins the crowd, and the people fall back and make way. Mr. Saville is a magistrate, and every one stands aside to let him pass.

In the bank itself a small, eager crowd are peering over the counter at a strange scene within. The bank manager is stooping over a prostrate figure—the body of the cashier, limp and insensible.

That there has been an outrage is plain to the commonest understanding. The floor is strewn with papers, and a stool is overturned. There must have been a desperate struggle before the young man was overpowered. The place is a regular wreck. At first the general opinion is that the cashier is dead—murdered, most probably. There is a heavy, faint odor of some drug.

Mr. Kelly, the bank manager, lifts an ashen face.

"It must have been very quickly done! I had not left the bank ten minutes! I was at my lunch, and when I got back I found Grey like this!"

"Has any one gone for a doctor?"

Mr. Saville puts the question as he stands looking down on the livid, insensible face of the bank clerk.

"Give him air; open his collar," he says, and glances around on the scene of confusion—the money lying on the floor, the books, the——

Sebastian stoops suddenly and picks up a cheque off the floor. George Bouvere is scrawled across the back of it. Without a word he hands the cheque to the bank manager, remarking:

"Mr. Bouvere may be able to throw some light on this. I met him coming out of the bank about a quarter of an hour ago. He can at least say if everything was right then."

"Where is Mr. Bouverie now?"

"Gone home, I fancy. He was wiring off a large sum of money at the postoffice when I met him."

Mr. Kelly turns white as his eyes meet those of Sebastian.

"I do not know if anything has been taken," he says very low, still chafing away at the limp hands of Mr. Grey. Then the doctor hurries in and makes an examination.

"The man is not dead; he has been chloroformed."

This is the verdict, and the news goes out to the little knot of people outside. Not only has the cashier been chloroformed, but the bank has been robbed. So far has been ascertained by a hastly examination.

It is a very clever robbery, evidently well planned and carried out successfully during the time the manager was at his lunch. Nothing further can be known till Mr. Grey recovers consciousness. The cashier, who is a very uninteresting young man, becomes all at once an object of excitement and discussion, and through the length and breadth of Portraven the news goes like wildfire.

CHAPTER VI.

"It was a very near thing indeed," the doctor says, when at last he succeeds in restoring Mr. Grey. "This young man has a weak heart, and very little more would have finished him."

As it is, the cashier lies limp and livid from the effects of chloform, by whom administered it were hard to say.

Sebastian Saville watches eagerly, hungrily, while Mr. Grey's dazed senses come back, and he casts terrified glances round.

"There, now you are all right," says the bank manager nervously and impatiently.

He is anxious to find out if the cashier can give any account of the assault upon him, any clue to the perpetrator of the outrage.

A couple of policemen stand by. Mr. Grey's eyes turn towards them almost apprehensively.

He must have got a terrible shock to be so unnerved and shaken.

"Now, Mr. Grey, try and give us some account of this mystery. You must know something," Mr. Saville says. "Every moment's delay gives the thief time to get off. It seems from the hasty inspection made by Mr. Kelly that over a hundred pounds have been taken."

The injured man's lips writhe, and a damp sweat stands out on his forehead; he lifts two shaking hands.

"He tried to murder me!" he gasps almost inarticulately. "I was all alone, and he sprang over the counter!"

"Who?" asks Mr. Saville, with desperate earnestness. "Quick! do you know who it was?"

The cashier's face turns ashen; he has not yet recovered by any means. His eyes rove anxiously round.

Mr. Grey, you are losing time," the manager says. "It is of the greatest importance that your statement should be made perfectly clear."

"I will tell all I know," the young man whispers with difficulty. "You had gone to your lunch, Mr. Kelly. It was very quiet, about two o'clock, a time very few people are about. I was writing in the ledger when the bank door opened and a man came in. He had a small bag in his hand. He presented a cheque for payment; it was for five pounds. He said he would have it in gold, and I turned to get it for him. This is God's truth, Mr. Kelly. In a second he sprang over the counter, seized me by the collar, choking me. We struggled desperately, but I could not call out—I was choking. And then he stuffed a handkerchief soaked with chloroform in my mouth. He held it there. I do not know any more."

He shivers as he speaks and covers his ghastly face with his hands.

Sebastian Saville bends forward.

"Who was the man?" He asks the question intently, earnestly—

Mr. Grey lifts his head.

"It was George Bouverie."

"I knew it," Mr. Saville says quietly. "I saw him coming out of the bank, and immediately after dispatch money by telegraph. It was a bold robbery indeed. Now, Mr. Kelly, what are you going to do?"

Mr. Kelly's face looks grey with terror.

"I cannot believe it!" he exclaims. "George Bouverie! The thing seems to me impossible, Mr. Grey!"—fixing stern eyes upon the drooping figure of the cashier. "Do you swear that Mr. Bouverie drugged you and robbed the bank? Before God, is this the truth?"

"Yes, it is the truth; I am prepared to swear it!" The cashier's tones are steady enough now. He looks Mr. Kelly straight in the face. "I did not know the bank was robbed; I only know for certain that George Bouverie attacked and drugged me."

"He has been financially embarrassed," Mr. Saville says. "He has been in desperate straights for money!"

"I know," admits Mr. Kelly reluctantly, remembering a passionate request from young Bouverie to be allowed to overdraw his account. But, still, from money difficulties to a bank robbery was a wide and awful gulf.

Mr. Grey is examined and cross-examined; he sticks to his statement in an unshaken manner.

"This is terrible!" groans Mr. Kelly. "To think young Bouverie should sink to an act of burglary! It will kill his mother!"

Mr. Saville prepares to depart.

"It is sad indeed; but that young man is steeped to the lips in turf transactions more or less discreditable. I suppose you will have a warrant made out immediately?"

He lowers his eyes to conceal the look of triumph. Branded as a criminal, Barbara can no longer think of George Bouverie!

The bank manager sighs and passes his hand across his forehead.

"I suppose it will have to be done," he says slowly; "but, Mr. Grey, I could almost believe you the victim of a hallucination!"

Sebastian laughs.

"Hallucination can not chloroform a man or rob a bank."

"I mean," said Mr. Kelly, "that he might have been mistaken—he might have fancied it was Bouverie."

Mr. Saville holds out the cheque he had picked up on the floor of the bank.

"This is conclusive evidence. This is the identical cheque Mr. Grey was giving gold for at the moment he was attacked. I cannot see the slightest loophole for doubt. I myself can swear to having met George Bouverie running hastily down the steps of the bank, carrying a small bag, and ten minutes after saw him handing in a pile of gold at the postoffice. Let him account for that money being in his possession."

Mr. Grey sits white and listless, nervously clasping and unclasping his hands.

"I feel ill," he says, looking at the doctor, who has turned his back and stands in pale consternation.

George Bouverie a thief! Impossible! The doctor has known him since he was born, and now to hear that he has sunk so low is appalling! He feels stunned; yet, he remembers the young man's altered look of care that sat so oddly on the young face. During those anxious weeks of Mrs. Bouverie's illness he had noticed George, often finding him sitting moody and depressed.

"Poor, poor lad; if he had only made a clean breast of it to me!" says kindly old Doctor Carter to himself, "I would have helped him only too gladly."

But facts are facts, and, within an hour two constables are driving rapidly towards the Grange on an outside car, and one of them holds a warrant for the arrest of George Bouverie. The warrant is signed by two magistrates, one of whom is Sebastian Saville, who never in all his life signed his name with such alacrity before, for the downfall of his enemy is complete!

CHAPTER VII.

The evening sunlight is slanting across the lawn, making a glory of the dancing daffodils; and the birds are holding a concert that commenced with the dawn this morning. Such a tender, loving spring evening.

The sun shines in at the windows of the Grange, and one shaft rests lovingly on the fair head of George Bouverie.

Mrs. Bouverie looks at the sunshine and at the face of her handsome son, and smiles as she gazes. Her own eyes are very sweet and patient.

She is very happy this evening. Between her and George stands a tea-table, and George is laughing and pouring out the tea, desperately particular as to sugar and cream, waiting on his mother with gentle courtesy.

Her pale cheeks have taken a pink tinge, soft as the blush on a girlish face. She wears lilac ribbons in her filmy lace cap, and lace ruffles fall over her slender hands.

In upon this homelike scene stalks a trouble dark and horrible.

The maid, with a pale face, opens the door and stands trembling, looking from her mistress to the face of the young man who is so calmly helping himself to a second cup of tea.

"Well, Mary, what is it?" he asks, gaily tossing a lump of sugar to a fox terrier sitting at his feet.

"Oh, Mr. George, I don't know!" stammers the girl. "It is something dreadful, sir. There is a sergeant and a constable in the hall!"

George lays down his cup, but no idea of the truth rises in his mind.

"The bank robbed? That is odd! But I am not a magistrate. What do they want me for?" he says. "I'll just step out and ask the sergeant what it means."

But before he can leave the room there is the sound of a little confusion in the hall, and Doctor Carter, with a grave, desperate face, hurries in and goes straight to Mrs. Bouverie.

"My dear old friend, there is some monstrous mistake! There, don't get frightened, the whole thing is impossible—a travesty of justice, that's what it is, a driveling idiot making a statement like a lunatic! You'll set them right in ten minutes, George, won't you?"—a shade of anxiety creeping into his voice.

"What is it?" asks Mrs. Bouverie, sitting up, pale and trembling. "Doctor Carter, what is it all about?"

He pats the trembling hands he holds.

"My dear lady, leave it to George. It is all nonsense—the blundering Saville and that fool of a bank clerk!"

"But I don't understand! What has my son to do with it?" asks Mrs. Bouverie, getting frightened.

"Sure, I'm telling you!" cries the doctor, his natural tongue getting the upper hand, "It seems some one drugged the clerk and robbed the bank and the fool, dazed with chloroform, has saddled the crime on George!"

"On me?" George exclaims, a flush of indignation dyeing his forehead. "How dare any one say such a thing?"

"They have dared!" retorts the doctor furiously. "Mrs. Bouverie, George can explain everything; you mustn't excite yourself. George, my boy, you were at the bank this morning?"

"Yes; I cashed a cheque," George says, his face growing stern.

"Yes; afterwards Saville saw you wiring off a hundred pounds—your money, of course; but you've just got to tell them that. And, look here——"

Doctor Carter stops short at the look that has come over the face of George Bouverie—a stricken, conscious look.

"A hundred pounds! Oh, George, what does it mean?" cries his mother, weeping now in her fear.

George gives one look at her, and then his eyes meet the troubled, inquiring gaze of the doctor.

"My boy, my boy, surely you'll set it right?" the old man stammers.

George Bouverie's face is as white as death. He touches Doctor Carter on the arm. "I will go and speak to the sergeant," he says, in a hard, cold voice.

(To be continued.)

Swapping War Stories.

Senator Shoup and Gen. Eppa Hunton were swapping war stories the other day, and the talk ran upon great losses in a single battle. "My regiment," said Gen. Hunton, "had been reduced from its full complement to 200 men when it participated in Pickett's charge at Gettysburg. How many men of that regiment do you think came out of that charge alive?" Senator Shoup could not guess. "Only ten," said Gen. Hunton.

SEYMOUR IS RELIEVED.

Relief Column Failed to Reach Peking and is Terribly Cut Up.

CHE FOO, June 29.—Admiral Seymour's expedition has been relieved, having failed to connect with Peking. There is no news from Peking. The Russian colonel, Schtelle, commanding the combined forces of 10,000 men, is supposed to be proceeding to Peking. Admiral Seymour's expedition is returning to Tien Tsin. His force has suffered greatly. It is estimated that from 40,000 to 60,000 Chinese troops are now before Peking. Boxers from all sections are swarming there.

PUSHING ON TO PEKING.

Relieving Column Has No Rest After Rescuing Seymour.

LONDON, June 29.—The casualties of the international force attacking Tien Tsin were: American killed, 3; wounded, 2; British killed, 2; wounded, 1; Germans killed, 15; wounded, 27; Russians killed, 10; wounded, 37. The gun fire of the Americans and British is described as "beautiful." After the relieving force pushed on to relieve Admiral Seymour, Chinese regulars under General Nieh, says a dispatch from Shanghai, again attacked Tien Tsin fiercely and bombarded the foreign settlement with a terrific fire.

Railway communication from Taku to Tien Tsin has been restored, and the force is advancing toward Peking Fighting was in progress Wednesday in the vicinity of Tse Chulin. Large preparations are being made to support and reinforce the Peking relieving column. Twenty thousand troops of all arms, largely Japanese, have now been landed. The fate of the members of the legation is still a mystery. If they are alive and unharmed at Peking, the Chinese government deserves some credit, Shanghai correspondents think for restraining the fanatical mob.

WERE SAFE JUNE 25.

An Imperial Decree Says the Ministers Were in Pekin at that Time.

LONDON, June 30.—There is absolutely no authentic word as to the whereabouts of the members of the legations, although abundant reports from Chinese sources say that they were safe a few days ago. The Daily Mail's Shanghai correspondent says:

"An imperial decree has been sent to all the viceroys advising them that the foreign ministers were safe in Peking on June 25, and affirming that the government would protect them. This is authentic and reliable. I received it through a high Chinese official having means of communication from Peking to Shanghai by courier to Pao Ting Fu, and thence by telegraph."

There is no doubt that the Chinese government fully recognizes what the safety of the ministers implies at the present time, and for this reason there is less uneasiness about them.

CONGER IN PERIL.

Seymour Reaches Tien Tsin But Ministers Are Not With Him.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—The navy department has received the following from Admiral Kempff at Che Foo:

"The Peking relief expedition is now in Tien Tsin with two hundred sick and wounded. The ministers and the Peking party are not with them No news from them."

BERLIN, June 30.—The German consul cables under date of June 28 from Che Foo that nothing is known there concerning the foreign ministers; that the railroad between Taku and Tien Tsin is threatened; that the bombardment of Tien Tsin still continues; that three residents had been killed or wounded.

CONGER IS AT PEKIN.

Given Twenty-Four Hours to Leave But Refused.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 2.—The navy department has received the following from Admiral Kempff, at Che Foo:

"The ministers at Pekin were given twenty-four hours to leave on the nineteenth. They refused and are still there. The Pekin relief forces got half way. They were attacked by imperial troops on the eighteenth. McCall was in command. Four were killed and twenty-five wounded. McCall and Ensign Taussig were wounded but not seriously."

Americans Take the Prize.

PARIS, June 30.—The greatest surprise in exposition circles since the fair opened came when it was announced that the American silk exhibit will be awarded the gold medal over the French exhibit. This announcement of the triumph of the silk manufacturers of the United States, who competed with the French weavers in the home of the silk industry, gives an uncomfortable shock to Paris.

Train Robber in Nebraska.

OMAHA, June 29.—A masked robber started through a Pullman car on the Burlington train after leaving York, Nebraska, soon after midnight. He got two watches and $70, but took alarm, pulled the air-brake and left the train before completing his work.

HIS DYING REQUEST.

The Reason Why He Wanted Her to Go First.

It was quite a wildly excited throng which had gathered in the market place, says the New York Journal. A crowd with its brutal, its animal nature all aroused and with no trace in the flushed faces of its members of human charity or pity. Mounted men in uniform strove to keep the throng in check, but they and their horses were thrust aside as the mass of curious seekers after sensations pushed and elbowed their way forward. There was the honest peasant jostling without regard for politeness or policy the wealthy landlord, the grave-digger in his rude habiliments, brushing against the satin jacket of a noble, the maid servant and the countess all jumbled together, all concentrating their efforts to gaze on the awful scene before them, to sup full of horrors during the fearful tragedy which was about to be enacted before their very eyes. In the center of the great square a huge scaffold had been reared, that terrible implement of an outraged justice, with the horrible noose hanging limp and loose and the ghastly black cap flung carelessly down on the rude boards which formed the flooring. All about this awful object the eager crowd swayed and a dull, angry cry went up as the masked hangman mounted the platform.

Just behind him came the culprits, a man and a woman, guarded by a score of lusty retainers. They were man and wife, both accused of murder! The tumult ceased, as if by magic, and a deathly silence fell. There was a universal craning of necks in the throng, for an untoward incident had occurred. The man had broken down and knelt trembling before the awful masked figure. He was pleading, pleading amid sobs that the woman, the weak, shrinking woman, should die first. The hangman's face grew stern and cold and the throng gazed on the unwonted sight in amazement. They were spellbound.

"Why do you ask this thing of me?" asked the dealer of death.

"Yes, why?" This came in a roar from the mob.

The doomed man flushed painfully. He began to speak.

"It is not cowardice," he faltered, "which makes me ask this. Nor is it my innate love for the conventional which causes me to crave you to allow this lady to 'go first;' but only a desire, a burning desire to have, for once in that life, which you are about to cut short, to have——"

He almost broke down.

"—— to have the last word!"

There is something wrong with the small boy who can wait patiently for his dinner.

Each package of PUTNAM FADELESS DYE colors more goods than any other dye and colors them better, too.

Egypt, where some sort of plague is almost constantly in existence, was at one time free from the evil for two centuries.

YOU NEED A DAILY PAPER.

This is a presidential year, and every citizen needs a daily paper. The Des Moines Daily News is sent postpaid to any address for $1 a year, 75 cents for six months, 50 cents for three months. All the news condensed for the busy reader; daily markets by telegraph; interesting literary matter for the family. Address, The NEWS Des Moines, Iowa.

One frequently sees money-bags, but it never bags at the knee.

FREE GOVERNMENT LANDS.

There are still thousands of acres of government lands in the states of Washington and Oregon, also prairie and timber lands near railroad or water communication, that can be bought for $5 per acre and upwards. Finest climate in the United States. No failure of crops. If you wish to raise grain or the finest stock on earth, you will find locations in these two states where you can do this to perfection. Take your choice. I have no lands for sale, but if you want information where it is best to locate, call on me when in St. Paul or write me at corner Third and Rosabel streets, St. Paul, Minn.

R. E. WERKMAN.

He who is not true to himself is a traitor to heaven.

Important to Mothers.

Examine carefully every bottle of CASTORIA, a safe and sure remedy for infants and children, and see that it

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over 30 Years.

The Kind You Have Always Bought.

The women who are born to command always get married.

A vigorous growth and the original color given to the hair by PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM.

HINDERCORNS, the best cure for corns. 15cts.

Never say die. Expire sounds much better.

To Make Clothes Sweet and Clean

Use Maple City Self Washing Soap. It makes washing day easy. All grocers.

You can seldom judge a man by his actions away from home.

The girl who doesn't wish to see callers must expect to be found out.

Save Money, Time and Labor

By using Maple City Self Washing Soap. Your grocer sells it.

Many a man dresses more expensively than the men to whom he owes money.

A Colonel in the British South African Army says that Adams' Tutti Frutti was a blessing to his men while marching.

Never make pleasure an excuse for neglecting your business.

No Man Likes to Be Bald,

The best way to prevent it is to use Coke Dandruff Cure. All druggists at $1.00.

A miss-take often leads to the divorce court.

Piso's Cure for Consumption is an infallible medicine for coughs and colds.—N. W. SAMUEL, Ocean Grove, N. J., Feb. 17, 1900.

An empty purse is responsible for some matrimony failures.

Try Grain-o! Try Grain-o!

Ask your grocer to-day to show you a package of GRAIN-O, the new food drink that takes the place of coffee. The children may drink it without injury as well as the adult. All who try it, like it. GRAIN-O has that rich seal brown of Mocha or Java, but it is made from pure grains, and the most delicate stomach receives it without distress. One-fourth the price of coffee. 15c. and 25c. per package. Sold by all grocers.

We are made great or small by our own acts.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is a constitutional cure. Price, 75c.

The one new thing under the sun each day is the date.

Look at yourself! Is your face covered with pimples? Your skin rough and blotchy? It's your liver! Ayer's Pills are liver pills. They cure constipation, biliousness, and dyspepsia. 25c. All druggists.

Want your moustache or beard a beautiful brown or rich black? Then use BUCKINGHAM'S DYE for the Whiskers

50 CTS. OF DRUGGISTS, OR R. P. HALL & CO., NASHUA, N. H.

GOOD FISHING

and Charming Summer Resorts.

Those in search of health or recreation can do no better than to take an outing at one of the following popular resorts on the Minneapolis & St. Louis R. R. Waterville, Minn., Lake Tetonka. Splendid pike, crappie and bass fishing and boating. Maple Point Hotel or Tetonka Park Hotel provide the best of accommodations. Waconia, Minn., Clear Lake. The Coney Island Hotels are famous for good accommodations. Lake Minnetonka is best reached by the Minneapolis & St. Louis R. R. There are numerous first-class hotels at Deephaven, Cottagewood, Excelsior, Lake Park, etc. Frequent trains and reduced rate tickets on sale. For further information call on agents or write to A. B. Cutts, G. P. & T. A., M. & St. L. R. R. Minneapolis.

Everyone thinks he works for a man who is mighty unappreciative.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

No matter how homely a man is you can always say he has a striking face.

MEDICAL BOOK FREE.

"Know Thyself," a Book For Men Only, sent Free, postpaid, sealed, to any male reader mentioning this paper; 6c for postage. The Science of Life, or Self-Preservation, the Gold Medal Prize Treatise, the best Medical Book of this or any age. 370 pp., with engravings and prescriptions. Only 25c paper covers. Library Edition, full gilt, $1.00. Address The Peabody Medical Institute, No. 4 Bulfinch St., Boston, Mass., the oldest and best in this country. Write today for these books; keys to health and vigor.

Few women ever feel really comfortable in a new gown.

A Book of Choice Recipes

Sent free by Walter Baker & Co. Ltd., Dorchester, Mass. Mention this paper.

Seventeen Irish regiments are at the front in South Africa.

Are You Using Allen's Foot-Ease?

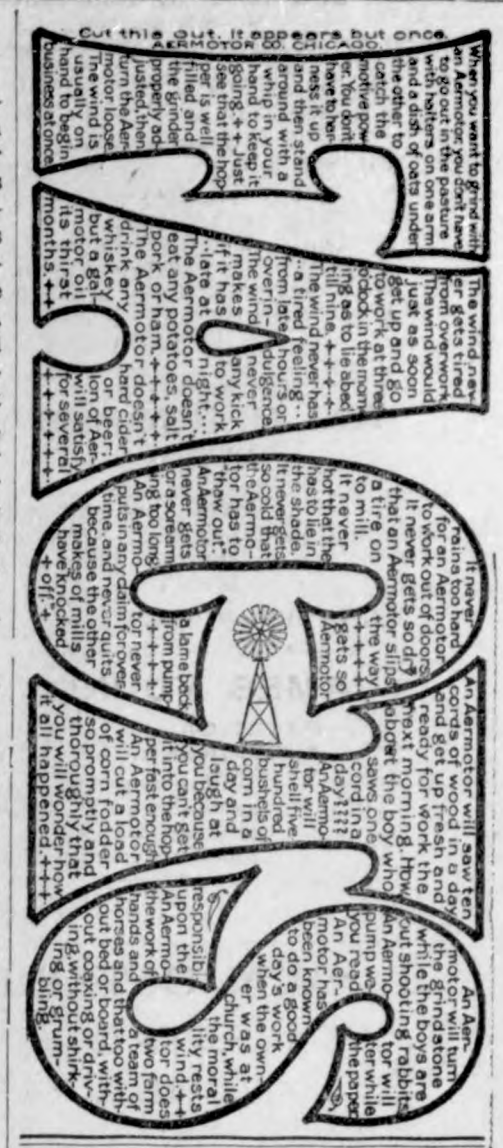
It is the only cure for Swollen, Smarting, Burning, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

If the girls who chew gum in the street cars only knew how ugly it makes them look, they wouldn't do it.

Coughing Leads to Consumption.

Kemp's Balsam will stop the cough at once. Go to your druggist to-day and get a sample bottle free. Sold in 25 and 50 cent bottles. Go at once; delays are dangerous.

Eve may have had her troubles, but Adam never brought his friends home to dinner unexpectedly.



When you want to grind with an Aermotor you don't have to go out in the pasture with halters on one arm and a dish of oats under the other to catch the motive power. You don't have to harness it up and then stand around with a whip in your hand to keep it going. Just see that the hopper is well filled and the grinder properly adjusted, then turn the Aermotor loose. The wind is usually on hand to begin business at once.
The wind never gets tired. It never sleeps. The wind never has to be oiled. The wind never gets sick. The wind never strikes. The wind never loafs. The wind never lies. The wind never kicks. The wind never makes any excuses. The wind never demands higher wages. The wind never gets drunk. The wind never has the headache. The wind never has the blues. The wind never has a tired feeling. The wind never has to be coaxed. The wind never has to be cursed. The wind never has to be kicked. The wind never has to be spanked. The wind never has to be fed. The wind never has to be watered. The wind never has to be curried. The wind never has to be combed. The wind never has to be shod. The wind never has to be doctored. The wind never has to be turned out to pasture. The wind never has to be stabled. The wind never has to be housed. The wind never has to be clothed. The wind never has to be hitched. The wind never has to be unhitched. The wind never has to be driven. The wind never has to be led. The wind never has to be ridden. The wind never has to be watched. The wind never has to be petted. The wind never has to be scolded. The wind never has to be whipped. The wind never has to be spurred. The wind never has to be reined. The wind never has to be backed. The wind never has to be broken. The wind never has to be shod. The wind never has to be doctored. The wind never has to be turned out to pasture. The wind never has to be stabled. The wind never has to be housed. The wind never has to be clothed. The wind never has to be hitched. The wind never has to be unhitched. The wind never has to be driven. The wind never has to be led. The wind never has to be ridden. The wind never has to be watched. The wind never has to be petted. The wind never has to be scolded. The wind never has to be whipped. The wind never has to be spurred. The wind never has to be reined. The wind never has to be backed. The wind never has to be broken.
The Aermotor gets tired. It never sleeps. It never has to be oiled. It never has to be fed. It never has to be watered. It never has to be curried. It never has to be combed. It never has to be shod. It never has to be doctored. It never has to be turned out to pasture. It never has to be stabled. It never has to be housed. It never has to be clothed. It never has to be hitched. It never has to be unhitched. It never has to be driven. It never has to be led. It never has to be ridden. It never has to be watched. It never has to be petted. It never has to be scolded. It never has to be whipped. It never has to be spurred. It never has to be reined. It never has to be backed. It never has to be broken.
The Aermotor will run in a gale. It will run in a storm. It will run in a hurricane. It will run in a cyclone. It will run in a tornado. It will run in a typhoon. It will run in a monsoon. It will run in a simoon. It will run in a zephyr. It will run in a breeze. It will run in a calm. It will run in a dead calm. It will run in a dead calm forever. It will run in any calm forever. It never gets tired. It never sleeps. It never has to be oiled. It never has to be fed. It never has to be watered. It never has to be curried. It never has to be combed. It never has to be shod. It never has to be doctored. It never has to be turned out to pasture. It never has to be stabled. It never has to be housed. It never has to be clothed. It never has to be hitched. It never has to be unhitched. It never has to be driven. It never has to be led. It never has to be ridden. It never has to be watched. It never has to be petted. It never has to be scolded. It never has to be whipped. It never has to be spurred. It never has to be reined. It never has to be backed. It never has to be broken.
An Aermotor will run ten years without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run twenty years without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year and a day and a night and a half and a week without needing repairs. An Aermotor will run forever and a day and a night and a half and a week and a month and a year

B. C R. & N. TIME TABLE.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 708. B Pass.	7:55	p. m.
No. 796 A Stock	9:50	a m.
No. 742, B Freight	3:45	p. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 701. B Pass.	1:32	p. m.
No. 741. B Way freight	9:50	a. m.

B—Daily except Sunday
A—Daily except Monday

☞"Freight trains shown above will carry passengers only when provided with tickets."

F. G. REESE, Local Agt.

WM. H. HUGHES
LAWYER.

Accounts and notes collected. Practice in all courts. Office in Schuler block.

GARNER IOWA.

JAMES YOUNG
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER.

Will cry sales and guarantee satisfaction, 15 years experience. Dates and terms at office of Klemme TIMES.
Telephone or address

Garner Iowa.

J. N. SPROLE,
REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND ABSTRACTS.
Titles examined and corrected, Taxes paid, etc.

GARNER - - - IOWA.

A. L. SPOONER.
Physician and Surgeon.

Office first door west of Shafer & Dow's Store. Residence just back of the German Reform Church.
Office hours 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.
Klemme, Iowa.

A. SNYDER,
DRAYMAN.

Having purchased the Bartholomew dray line I solicit a share of your work. Prompt attention given to all work: Charges reasonable.

KLEMME, IOWA.

FIRE WORKS.

We have a full line of 4th of July Supplies, and if you want to Make the Eagle scream Propper, Get your goods of

G. W. Kluckhohn.

A FREE PATTERN
(her own selection) to every subscriber. Beautiful colored lithographed plates and illustrations. Original, latest, artistic, exquisite and strictly up-to-date designs.

McCALL'S MAGAZINE 50¢ A YEAR

Dressmaking economies, fancy work, household hints, short stories, current topics, etc. Subscribe to-day. Only 50c. yearly. Lady agents wanted. Send for terms.

For ladies, misses, girls and little children. That certain stylish "chic" effect not attained by the use of any other patterns. Have no equal for style and perfect fit.

McCALL BAZAR PATTERNS 10¢ AND 15¢

Easily put together. Only 10 and 15 cents each—none higher. Sold in nearly every city and town, or by mail. Ask for them. Absolutely very latest up-to-date styles.

THE McCALL COMPANY,
138-146 West 14th Street, - - - - New York City, N. Y.

THE KLEMME TIMES
By G. L. WELLEMEYER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme, Iowa, as second class matter

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern
RAILROAD EXCURSIONS.

ANOTHER CHANCE.

On the first and third Tuesday of May and June, homeseekers' tickets will be on sale at rate of a Single Fare plus $2 for the round trip to the variou parts of the country. For rates, limits territory, etc., call on nearest agent or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

VEBY LOW RATES.

The B C R & N Ry will make very low rates to Sioux Fall, S. D. for the A O U W meeting in June. Call on your ticket agent for rates, limits etc and see that your tickets read via this line. Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia.—jun12

GAING TO PARIS.

Then let us give you valuable information segarding your trip. We can render you good service and ticket you right through from all stations on our line via New York and any of the steamship lines. Call on agents of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway, or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

For the Prohibition National Convention at Chicago, June 27-28 the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway will sell round trip tickets from all points at very favorable rates. Call on any agent of the company for full information.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN ONE NIGHT.

Or to quickly cure La Grippe take "Week-Break-a-cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

Home Seekers Excursion Tickets will be ot sale the first and third Tuesdays of each month at all staeions of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway Company to various parts of the country at a low rate. Call on any agent of the Cedar Rapids Route or address, Jno. G. Farmer' A G P & T A., B C R & N Ry., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. dec18.

FONRH OF JULY RATES.

On July 3 and 4 the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway will sell excursion tickets at low rates to points within 200 miles of selling station, good returning until July 5 inclusive. Apply to any agent of the Cedar Rapids Route,

Reduced Rates to the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Reduced round trip rates are now in effect to the nation's great resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas, owned, controlled by the United States Government for the cure of a score of human ills. Beautiful winter, 200 hotels and boarding houses of all grades. Ask nearest ticket agent for particulars, or Mr. John G. Farmer, A. G. P. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia. For illustrated books of information address Bureau of Information, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

NEW CHAIR CAR SERVICE.

Between Watertown, Ellsworth and Chicago via. B. C. R. & N. Ry. Commencing Sunday Nov. 19th, a free reclining chair car will be placed on trains Nos. 608 and 605 between Watertown and Chicago by the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. This car leaves Watertown daily, except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. arriving at Chicago 7:59 the following morning. This car runs to and from Sioux Falls Sundays, thus giving daily chair car service between Ellsworth and Chicago. Passengers going east from Chicago will have ample time to make any transfers to connect with all morning eastern trains.

These trains are very fast, and, with this new additional service, passengers can feel assured of first class accommodations. JNO. G. FARMER,
Cedar Rapids, Ia.

Employment for the Summer
is now the question for many men; it is time to decide; you can make money selling our complete assortment of fruit and ornamental stock for fall delivery. Write for terms. Address:—The Jewel Nursery Co., Lake City, Minn. Established in '68. One thousand acres

As is its custom, the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway has arranged for reduced rates to a large number of important places for the coming summer, among which we mention the following most prominent:

Charleston, S. C.—Annual meeting of the National Educational Association July 7-13.

Cincinnatti, O—Baptist Young People's Union of America July 12-15.

Chicago Ill.—National Encampment G. A. R. August 27-Sept. 1.

Detroit, Mich.—Biennial Conclave Knights of Pythias, Bug. 27-Sept. 1.

Summer tourist tickets will be on sale May 15, to resorts in different parts of the country, and important information can be obtained by calling on any ticket agent or writing to the undersigned. Send for copy of booklet entitled "Okoboji Outing."—Jno. G. Farmer, A G P & T A, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. iul31.

The Burlington Cedar Rapids and Northern Railway will sell round trip excursion tickets to Cincinnatti, Ohio, at very favorable rates for the B Y P U convention July 12-15. Call on any agent of the of the Cedar Rapids Route for rates, limits. etc.

For the Chatauqua Assembly at Spirit Lake, Iowa, July 6-19, the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. has authorized reduced round trip rates from points within 200 miles; call on any agent of the company for full Particulars.

Low Rate Round Trip Excursion Tickets will be on sale via the Burlington Cenar Rapids and Northern Railway to Kansas City, Mo., account National Democratic convention July 4th, For rates, limits etc., call on agent of the company,

AWEALTH OF BEAUTY.

Is often hidden by unsightly pimples eczema, tetter, erysipelas, salt rheum, etc., Bucklen's Arnica Salve will glorify the face by curing all skin eruptions, also cuts, bruises, felons, ulcers, and worst forms of piles. Only 25cts a box. Cure guaranteed. Sold by Harr.

A MONSTER DEVIL FISH.

Destroying its victim, is a type of Constipation. The power of this malady is felt on organs, nerves, muscles and brain. But Dr. King's New Life Pills are a safe and certain cure. Best in the world for stomach, liver, Kidney and bowels. Only 25cts, at Harr's.

A GOOD COUGH MEDICINE.

It speaks well for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy when druggists use it in their own families in preference to any other. "I have sold Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for the past five years with complete satisfaction to myself nnd customers," says Druggist J. Goldsmith, Van Etten, N. Y. "I have always used it in my own family both for ordinary coughs and colds and for the cough following la grippe, and find it very efficacious." For sale

A LIFE AND DEATH FIGHT.

Mr. W. A. Hines of Manchester, Ia., writing of his almost miraculus escape from death, says; "Exposure after measles induced serious lung trouble, which ended in Consumption. I had frequent hemorrhages and coughed night and day. All my doctors said I must soon die. Then I began to use Dr. King's New Discovery which wholly cured me. Hundreds have used it on my advice and all say it never fails to to cure Throat Chest and lung troublees." Regular size 50c and $100. Trial bottles free at Harr's.

Military Balloon Photographs.

Military ballooning is, of course, in its infancy, and the present Boer war is practically the first opportunity of testing its efficacy. Each balloon is furnished with nearly a dozen cameras in order to obtain panoramic views of the country, which are of great value to the invading army.

Artificial Sponges.

Artificial sponges are now made in Germany from a mixture of pure cellulose with zinc chloride and sodium chloride. These sponges will absorb water in the same way as the genuine article, and when allowed to dry they become just as firm in substance.

Bark Clothing.

The Indians in the interior of Bolivia wear shirts and hats made of the bark of a tree, which is soaked in water to soften the fiber, and then beaten to make it pliable.

Only Male Jaws at That.

The muscles of the human jaw exert a force of 534 pounds, and those of mastiffs, wolves, etc., far more.

MID-SEASON SALE.

PARISIAN PATTERN PRODUCTIONS.

OF FINEST MILLINERY.

We are bound to reduce our stock and from now on Price cuts no Figure. The goods must go regardless of cost or profit.

RIBBONS at YOUR OWN PRICE

This is not a Cleaning out sale of old odds and ends, but a sacriffice sale of everything In the store.

IT BEGINS TO-DAY

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

M. W. LYNCH, :: M. S. GILMAN
LYNCH & GILMAN,
STROUD, OKLAHOMA,
REAL ESTATE AND LOAN BROKER.
WHY PAY RENT?
OWN YOUR OWN FARM!

It is the highth of folly for a man to pay exhorbitant rents when he can go to Oklahoma and buy a fine farm at from $5 per acre up. Well watered; near good markets; mild and healthful climate and crop failure unknown. Plenty of natural timber and coal. We have for sale a well selected list of choice improved and unimproved farms and would like to talk with you. Excursions 1st and 3rd Tuesday of each month. NOW is the time before the "SNAPS" are all taken. For rates, terms, excursions etc., call on or address, M. S. GILMAN, Klemme, Iowa, or
M. W. LYNCH, ST. LOUIS HOTEL,
STROUD, OKLAHOMA.

BICYCLES

OUR 1900 WHEELS ARE NOT FREAKS,

——But good, common sense machines, built of the best material that money can buy and codstructed in the most simple manner by skilled workmen. Good, strong, honest bicycles, as near

Fool Proof

as possible. We sell good, strong, honest, straight machines that are easy to ride and hard to break. Six makes of standard wheels always on hand. Old wheels bought and sold. Repairing done on short notice. A complete line of sundries always on hand.

KANAWHA, IOWA. L. HAEFNER.

H. W. SCHOPER,

FARM MACHINERY;

Buggies and Wagons, Corn Planters, Corn Plows, Champion Binders and Mowers.

TWINE.

FRED ARNOLD, PRES. C. H. WIEGMANN, V. P. F. A. ARNOLD, CASH.

STATE SAVINGS BANK,
OF KLEMME, IOWA.

CAPITAL $25 000 00, LOANS $40 000 00,

INSURANCE WRITTEN, LOANS NEGOTIATED, EXCHANGE BOUGHT AND SOLD.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits: Money Loaned on Real Estate: Foreign and Domestic Exchange Sold.....

DIRECTORS: FRED ARNOLD, C. H. WIEGMANN, H. W. GRUETZMACHER, CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, F. A. ARNOLD.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME V. KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, JULY 12 1900 NUMBER 50

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern
RAILROAD EXCURSIONS.

GAING TO PARIS.

Then tet us give you valuable information segarding your trip. We can render you good service and ticket you right through from all stations on our line via New York and any of the steamship lines. Call on agents of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway, or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Home Seekers Excursion Tickets will be ot sale the first and third Tuesdays of each month at all staeions of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway Company to various parts of the country at a low rate. Call on any agent of the Cedar Rapids Route or address, Jno. G. Farmer' A G P & T A., B C R & N Ry., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. dec18.

Reduced Rates to the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Reduced round trip rates are now in effect to the nation's great resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas, owned, controlled by the United States Government for the cure of a score of human ills. Beautiful winter, 200 hotels and boarding houses of all grades. Ask nearest ticket agent for particulars, or Mr. John G. Farmer, A. G. P. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia. For illustrated books of information address Bureau of Information, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

A low rate has been named by the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway for the Nation Republican League of the United States at St. Paul, Minn., July 17-19. Call on agents for full information.

The Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern Railway has named a rate of one fare plus $2.00 to Denver and return for the annual meeting of the Y. P. C. U. at that point July 25-30. For full particulars call on any agent of the "Cedar Rapids Route. jul30.

A Round trip rate of one fare plus $2.00 has been named by the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern railway for the Bienial Conclave, Knights of Pythias at Detroit, Mich., August 29 to September 1. Call on any agent for information. aug31.

The Burlington Cedar Rapids and Northern Railway will sell round trip excursion tickets to Cincinnatti, Ohio, at very favorable rates for the B Y P U convention July 12-15. Call on any agent of the of the Cedar Rapids Route for rates, limits. etc.

For the Chatauqua Assembly at Spirit Lake, Iowa, July 6-19, the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. has authorized reduced round trip rates from points within 200 miles; call on any agent of the company for full Particulars.

NEW CHAIR CAR SERVICE.

Between Watertown, Ellsworth and Chicago via. B. C. R. & N. Ry. Commencing Sunday Nov. 19th, a free reclining chair car will be placed on trains Nos. 608 and 605 between Watertown and Chicago by the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. This car leaves Watertown daily, except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. arriving at Chicago 7:59 the following morning. This car runs to and from Sioux Falls Sundays, thus giving daily chair car service between Ellsworth and Chicago. Passengers going east from Chicago will have ample time to make any transfers to connect with all morning eastern trains.

These trains are very fast, and, with this new additional service, passengers can feel assured of first class accommodations. JNO. G. FARMER,
Cedar Rapids, Ia.

As is its custom, the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway has arranged for reduced rates to a large number of important places for the coming summer, among which we mention the following most prominent:

Charleston, S. C.—Annual meeting of the National Educational Association July 7-13.

Cincinnatti, O—Baptist Young People's Union of America July 12-15.

Chicago Ill.—National Encampment G. A. R. August 27-Sept. 1.

Detroit, Mich.—Biennial Conclave Knights of Pythias, Bug. 27-Sept. 1.

Summer tourist tickets will be on sale May 15, to resorts in different parts of the country, and important information can be obtained by calling on any ticket agent or writing to the undersigned. Send for copy of booklet entitled "Okoboji Outing."—Jno. G. Farmer, A G P & T A, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. iul31.

TAKE A VACATION.

Special excursion to Colorado and Utah on June 20, July 9-17 and Aug 1. On above dates round trip excursion tickets, limited for return to Oct 31, will be sold to Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Salt Lake City, and Ogden at the low rate of a SINGLE FARE plus $2. Call on any agent of the B. C. R. & N. Ry. for tickets and full information or address, Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. aug. 1

Belmond boasts of a saloon which must be peculliar to that town alone. It has been in operation for the past two months and its proprietor is arrested and fined $100 monthly, which is used for the improvement of the city's sidewalks. Nothing but beer is allowed to be sold and it is argued that beer will be sold there whether legally or otherwise and the supporters of the saloon say the city might as well derive some benefit and legalize the traffic. It is reported that the sales on July 4th were $1800 and that a car load or the "amber" was sold. Ther were several towns in this county that celebrated the same way, but unlike Belmond they get no revenue from the sales.

The Oregon election has made clear to the Democrats that the battle ground of this campaign will center in New York, for without the electorial vote of that state the Democracy cannot win. It therefore behooves the Republican party to strengthen its position by nominating a state ticket which will command the support of the party, as well as receive the votes of the independents. The name of Patent Commissioner, Duell, has been proposed for governor, as one likely to help the Republican party in this emergency. His work in the Patent Office is deserving of recognition.

Five Regiments of the U. S. regulars now in Cuba and one in Porto Rico are to be ordered homt at once preparatory to being sent to the Philippines. According to war department officials, about 12,000 regulars are to be sent to the Philippines as rapidly as possible, for the double purpose of allowing the volunteers to come home and to be prepared for any exigency that may arise in connection with the Chinese situation.

A Strasburg engineer has invented a substitute for gutta percha. In ordinary temperature the mass is hard like pitch, and while not being brittle is firm against presure. It does not break when hammered, even at the freezing point. The plates were subjected to the action of sea water with good results.

One of the most successful farmers whom we know has for years made it a rule to limit the days work on his farm to ten hours, and this includes the milking and doing all the chores as well as the work in the field, He has fine crops, contented hired men and time to enjoy himself socially and improve himself intellectually.

A railway will be built between Cape Nome and Port Clarence Alaska. The rails and narrow gage locomotives and freight cars have already arrived at Seattle.

Penny-in-the-slot machines for holding directories, are now extensively used in cities.

WHITE MAT TURNED YELLOW.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M. A. Hogartp of Lexingtoa Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly, His malady was Yelloy Jaundice, He was treated by the best doctors but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by Harr.

A few years ago, China was easily defeated by Japan, But it was only the Chinese government that was fighting then. Now it is the Chinese people, well led, well armed and wildly and fanatically enthusiastic. Such a horde under Attila swept over Europe some centuries ago. Will battleships and machine guns prevent a repetition?

The leach from Lone Tree has adopted new methods. Toe last time she solicited orders in this town she met with poor success, and yesterday there came a lot of printing for parties where no orders had been given. It was promptly refused, and now we will see whether this firm can bulldose our people into taking the goods. It is not hard to lell what the result will be.

All hail the woman with a short skirt. She is one of the truly emancipated—emancipated from the dictates of the goddess of dress. For years the womtn with the trailing skirt has been first assistant to the street cleaning departmehts of the citys, picking up microbes and carrying them home to husband and children. For years she has grasped her skirts in one hand and her purse' handkerchief and parasol in the other and gone sailing down the street half reefed and rndderless. Pleading for her rights she has been an abject, but lovely slave to fashion, trailing behind her the evidence of her serfdom. Welcome to the short skirted woman. Let her sisters follow her glorious example and cut off thein skirts —but not too short."—ex.

BOSTON IDEA OF HUMOR.

Mrs. Gray—He isn't compelled to visit such places.

Fuddy—Billington is always boasting of the intelligence of his dog Boxer.

Mrs. Greene—Yes, young Stoughton does frequent drinking saloons, but I don't think he does it because he likes it.

Uncle George—You seem to have no trouble eating that bread and milk, Johnny, although you said this morning you'd rather starve than eat it.

Duddy—Doubtless the dog seems intelligent in the Billington household, but I should think Billington would be the last person on earth to admit such a thing.

Little Johnny—Uncle George, I am surprised at you. You ought to know that one's opinions change with a change in the point of view. When I said this morning that I wasn't hungry.

It is ever a cause for alarm lest the infant in his predilection for putting things in his mouth will put something into it that will do him a serious injury. But just think of the things that are likely to come out of that mouth when baby gets to man's estate.

Mrs. Greene—No, I suppose not, except in a conventional sort of a way. But, as I said, I don't think he enjoys entering saloons. I happened to see him the other day as he went into one and afterward when he came out. When he went in he looked terribly glum, showing that he was doing what was not agreeable, but when he came out he was as cheerful as you please, showing of course, that he was glad to make his escape from the place.

Bargains in Summer Goods. Call and see our Bargain Table.
E. P. SCHAEFER.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO
FOR SCREEN DOORS
LUMBER,
LIME, STUCCO, AND CEMENT.
EVERYTHING IN BUILDING MATERIAL.
NORTHERN LUMBER CO.
L. G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

FOR FINE PRINTING
COME TO
THE TIMES OFFICE.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST. ....SCHOOL SUPPLIES.
WALL PAPER,
Paints, Oils, Alabastine, Window Shades and Everything used to Decorate and Beautify the Home.
WATCHES, CLOCKS and JEWELRY.
DRUGGISTS' SUNDRIES. J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

The Klemme Times.

G. L. WELLEMEYER, Pub.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

TORNADO DESTROYS VILLAGE

Steamboat Rock, Iowa, Reported Wiped Out.

HEAVIEST STORM OF SEASON.

Storms in Other Western Towns—Man at Fargoville, Wis., Struck by Lightning—Great Damage to Crops—Losses to Stock and Buildings.

Marshalltown, Ia., July 9.—Report reaches here that a tornado and cloudburst destroyed the village of Steamboat Rock. The report is partly verified by the fact that the Iowa river has risen five feet here within an hour. A cloudburst between St. Anthony and Zearing, twenty-two miles west of this city, washed out nearly a mile of track on the Story City branch of the Iowa Central railroad and caused great damage to crops. The heaviest storm of the season struck this city.

Elroy, Wis., July 9.—A terrific rain and hail storm, accompanied by a high wind, passed over this city. Hail stones were picked up which measured twelve inches in circumference and weighed over eight ounces. Corn was whipped to pieces and small grains were cut to pieces and buried. The Baraboo river is rising and a flood is threatened.

Berlin, Wis., July 9.—About the worst rain and wind storm Berlin ever had passed over the city. Many roofs were blown off, including Wright's mill, Truesdell's tannery and the grand stand at the fair grounds. Several business blocks in Huron street and Broadway also lost roofs, and the entire front of the Owen livery was blown out. Jim Quaddy and a companion, who were taking shelter under the grand stand at the fair grounds, were badly injured. Mike Decker of Fargoville, was killed by lightning.

Oshkosh, Wis., July 9.—A rain, hail and windstorm that caused a drop of 22 degrees in about that number of minutes and caused thousands of dollars' damage to crops and property, struck here. In the city smokestacks were blown down at the factory of the Morgan company, the Conlee company, the Wakefield mills and the Oshkosh Furniture company. A. Streich & Bros.' factory was unroofed. A portion of the city hall cupola was blown away. Ament's circus tent was blown down and one man seriously hurt.

Cedar Falls, Iowa, July 9.—A heavy wind and rain storm damaged the small grain this afternoon, laying it flat on the ground.

Waukau, Wis., July 9.—The southwestern part of Winnebago county, particularly the townships of Nepeuskun and Utica, was visited by a tornado lasting thirty minutes. The large new barn of Morrissey brothers was leveled to the ground and Lawrence Morrissey, one of the owners, was hurled through the air 100 feet, sustaining serious injuries. Barns of Henry Henshaw, W. K. Scribner and J. L. Flannigan were completely wrecked. John and Joseph Deyoe are missing. Losses on the stock will amount to thousands of dollars.

SIX PERSONS ARE INJURED.

Roof Over Pittsburg Union Station Entrance Collapses.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 6.—The roof over the covered walk at the western entrance to the union station collapsed at 9:45 and injured six persons. The framework for a distance of 125 feet fell on the pavement and completely buried the Fort Wayne and Pittsburg & Birmingham traction tracks.

The accident occurred just as the passengers who had come to the city on the Cincinnati and Cleveland express from the east were leaving the station and a number of persons had narrow escapes from being buried underneath the splintered timbers. The injured are:

William Bell, aged 14 years; back injured and suffering badly from shock.

Patrick Garou, aged 12; cut about the face and head.

August Mafredda, 13 years; cut on the head and right leg, badly bruised.

Michael Dersman, laborer; scalp wound.

Michael Millinick, laborer; head and back injured.

Andrew Sadlick, laborer; foot crushed.

Fighting for Boer Cattle.

Pretoria, July 7.—The pan-intertribal fight, in which 1,500 natives are engaged, is going on north of the Boers' position for the possession of the Boers' cattle.

THE NEWS IN IOWA

LIQUOR CACHED IN THE SAND.

The Ministers of Boone Make an Important Discovery.

BOONE, July 6.—Raiders consisting of six Boone ministers, under the leadership of Rev. Mr. Wilcox and accompanied by Deputy Sheriff Holmes, went down the river to near the new Northwestern bridge, where they made a big "catch" of intoxicants. The ministers went dressed in overalls and prepared for business. Two loads of the stuff were hauled uptown and stored in the courthouse. After returning to the river fresh tracks were found, and upon digging in the sand several cases and kegs of beer were found. The party then went to a small tumble-down sort of a house. In a hole under the floor several more cases were found. These, with the plunder, were sent to the courthouse, where they now lie in state. The claim is that the liquor was sold in violation of the law.

WOMEN CANNOT VOTE.

Decision of Judge Eichelberger in Ottumwa Library Case.

OTTUMWA, July 5.—Judge Eichelberger has rendered his decision in the case recently brought by some Ottumwa citizens through Messrs. Cornell and Leech by which they sought to restrain the city council and city officers from accepting the library proposition as adopted, on the ground that the election was illegal because women voted unconstitutionally. The opinion holds that women had no right to vote in the library election because although the statute gives them that right the constitution does not recognize as voters any except male adult citizens. This election, Judge Eichelberger thinks, was an "election authorized by law," and therefore recognized by the constitution. As women are not recognized by the constitution as electors, they had, therefore, no right to vote in this election.

HERRIOTT TURNED DOWN.

Fails to Have Executive Council Investigate Jones Case.

DES MOINES, July 9.—The Jones case, concerning the alleged retention for his private use of fees due the state by C. T. Jones, clerk of the supreme court, caused a heated controversy in the executive council. An effort on the part of State Treasurer John Herriott to have the council take action on the matter, and name a committee to make an examination of the books and records of the office of the clerk, was defeated by the remaining members of the council. A resolution providing for such an examination was turned down by Governor Shaw, Secretary of State Dobson and Auditor Merriam, and instead, a substitute resolution was adopted, leaving the case in the hands of the governor.

BAD FIRE AT IOWA CITY.

Two Fine Residences Destroyed by the Flames.

IOWA CITY, July 8.—Fire destroyed the fine residence and barn of Dr. J. C. Shrader and the residence of John F. Tanner. E. F. Brockway was living in the Shrader house and his horses and carriages occupied the barn, which was situated about twenty feet south of the extreme end of the house. The fire started in some manner in the barn and within a few moments was a roaring sheet of flame, a strong south wind driving the flames to the south and to the Tanner residence adjoining. The residence of President MacLean was endangered, but a stream of water was kept on the building, preventing the fire from securing a foothold. A conservative estimate places the loss at $15,000, partly covered by insurance.

Des Moines to Have Automobiles.

DES MOINES, July 8.—During the past week Chicago parties have been in Des Moines conferring with local parties relative to the establishment of a company in this city to operate a line of automobiles. The plan as presented is to organize with a capital stock of about $50,000, of which a portion is to be placed in Des Moines and the balance taken by Chicago parties interested in similiar companies in other cities and to put from thirty to fifty machines in service in Des Moines.

Estate of Late Archbishop Hennessy.

DUBUQUE, July 4.—The executors have filed an inventory of the late Archbishop Hennessy's personality. This includes $35,000 cash, 156 shares of stock in five local banks, sixty shares in the Hotel Julien, fourteen shares in the Dubuque Steam Supply Company, forty-five shares in the Chicago Great Western railway company and the library. The real estate, which constitutes the bulk of the estate, was not inventoried.

A BIG HORSE MEET.

Manbsck Says Races This Year Will Bring Some Stars.

DES MOINES, July 6.—John Manbeck, one of Des Moines' progressive horsemen, says that the prospect is bright for a big race meeting the last week of this month. It will open July 23 and last three or four days. Horsemen are writing from all parts of the country for particulars. An Alabama firm has contracted for several stalls at the mile track for its stable of fast steppers, and the Terre Haute, Detroit, Omaha, Red Oak, Hedrick and other horsemen are all anxious for the meet. By the cutting off of several meets and the possible cancelling of the Davenport races the chances of getting an immense number of fast horses for the Des Moines races is exceptionally good.

MRS. J. B. ROMANS DEAD.

Succumbed to Burns Received in Gasoline Explosion.

DENISON, July 9.—Mrs. J. B. Romans, wife of the member of the democratic state central committee for the Tenth district, died Saturday morning from the effects of severe burns received in a gasoline accident on Thursday. The accident was caused by the careless handling of gasoline, which caught fire, and in the excitement a dish full of the blazing fluid was thrown all over Mrs. Romans, and in a moment she was a mass of flames. Her clothing was burned off her and her entire body was scorched. At first it was thought that Mrs. Romans would recover, but in spite of every effort, the effects of the shock were too great for her system.

A TWISTER AT STEAMBOAT ROCK

Condsiderable Damage Was Done, But No Lives Were Lost.

WEBSTER CITY, July 9.—A cyclone following a northeasterly direction passed over Steamboat Rock, a small station on the Iowa Central railroad in Hardin county. It was a genuine twister, but most of its fury was high in the air. Several barns, windmills, etc., were destroyed, but fortunately no lives were lost. The cyclone was followed by heavy hail, causing much damage to crops in its path. Hail stones two inches in diameter fell.

Two Drownings Near Davenport.

DAVENPORT, July 9.—Two drownings occurred near here. One was a man who jumped from the government bridge into the Mississippi, leaving his coat and vest on the bridge, in the pockets of which were letters from the commandant of the Rock Island arsenal to Samuel Kern, of Moline, telling him that there was no work for him at the government arsenal. The body was seen floating down the river, but sank and was not recovered. The other was Fred Ita, twelve years old, drowned while bathing at Willard's landing. His body was not recovered

Indications of Foul Play.

CLINTON, July 9.—The body of an unknown man was found in the weed, near the railway tracks below the city. Nothing to identify the man was found upon his person. It is surmised that the man is the victim of foul play, as his nose is mashed and a hole is made in the back of the head as though he had been struck by sharp instrument.

A Brakeman Crushed.

FORT DODGE, July 9.—A fatal accident occurred at Ackley, in which Brakeman Ripley was the victim. He was engaged in making a coupling in the Illinois Central yards, and, slipping in some unaccountable way, he was caught between the draw bars and crushed, dying shortly afterward His home was in Waterloo.

Mower Cuts Off Boy's Feet.

FORT DODGE, July 8.—While playing in the streets of the town of Garner the little son of Mat Becker, a prominent citizen, had both feet cut clean off above the ankles by a man who was mowing weeds. The child's life is despaired of.

Singmaster & Sons' Barn Burned.

SIGOURNEY, July 4.—A big barn at Keota belonging to Singmaster & Sons, one of the largest horse importing firms in the United States, was struck by lightning and burned to the ground. Several fine imported stallins were burned.

BREVITIES.

It is said that Sioux City business men are planning to hold a big cowboy, rough rider tournament this fall, instead of the usual carnival. The tournament will cover a period of about four days, and cowboys and rough riders will be invited from every state west of the Mississippi.

One day last week N. J. Leytem, mayor of Cascade died suddenly. He had taken a prominent part in the celebration of the Fourth, and, returning home, became ill and died while the doctor was writing a prescription. He was sixty-five years old, and had resided in Cascade fifty years.

STEVENSON NOMINATED.

The Former Vice-President Will Make the Race Again.

Kansas City, July 6.—The democratic national ticket was completed today by the nomination of Adlai E. Stevenson for vice president. The nomination was made on the first ballot, state after state joining in the wild scramble to record their support of the winning candidate. It was not accompanied by any such frantic demonstration of approval as had marked the proceedings at previous stages, although the result followed a spirited and, at times, highly dramatic contest between the advocates of Stevenson, Towne, Hill and the lesser candidates. The distinct triumph of the day in the way of a poular ovation was that accorded to Senator Hill, and in its spontaniety and enthusiasm was one of the most notable features the convention has produced. It was accompanied, too, by a remarkable scene when Hill earnestly protested to his friends against being placed in nomination, and then, finding his protest in vain, when he strode to the platform, and, in tones which left no doubt of their sincerity, besought the convention not to make him the nominee.

The proceedings today moved with greater briskness than on the two preceding days, for there was none of the tedious waits for platform and committee. The aspect of the vast auditorium was truly democratic when the session began. Anticipating the close of the convention, the general public was admitted freely, and as a result great crowds emptied into the body of the hall, not only filling every available seat in the area and aisles, but also overflowing into the arena reserved for delegates, while some more adventurous individuals scaled the iron girders and looked down from a dizzy height on the 30,000 people packed below. The crowd practically took possession of the proceedings, and at times the chairman and his officials were so powerless to proceed that they gave up to the multitude until the various demonstrations spent themselves.

Woman Leads Towne Demonstration.

On the call for nominations, Alabama yielded to Minnesota, and the latter state presented its young champion of silver republicanism and democracy—Charles A. Towne. The mention of his name was the signal for a flattering demonstration in his honor, men and women joining in the outburst.

Far off in a corner of the auditorium a young woman could be seen frantically waving in one hand a lithograph of the Minnesotan and in the other the Stars and Stripes. On the floor, the Nebraska, Minnesota and one or two other delegations joined in the demonstration, but it was noticeable that it did not evoke any widespread enthusiasm among those who were about to do the voting. Gradually other delegations began to rise, some of the New Yorkers getting to their feet, and for a moment it looked as though the convention might be carried off its feet. But against this was heard a counter-storm of protestation and discordant hisses. For ten minutes the demonstration for Towne lasted, with varying degrees of intensity.

Meantime attention was being directed to an excited group, massed in front of the New York section, with Hill as the vortex of a struggling throng of delegates. They pressed forward from all quarters of the hall, urging him to permit his name to be placed before the convention. The face of the New Yorker was a study, as the demands upon him came from all sides. He sat in the front row of the delegates, with ex-Senator Murphy on his right and Judge Van Wyck on his immediate left. A second seat away was Mr. Croker. Hill protested vociferously. Judge Van Wyck said he could not refuse. Murphy and Croker pleaded with him to obey the will of the convention and accept. While the pleadings continued, the call of Delaware was heard above the roar, and Delaware yielded her place to New York. At this the bulky form of Senator Grady, the silver-tongued orator of New York, pushed through the densely packed aisles up the platform. There was a hush through the hall to hear what New York had to offer.

"In behalf of the united democracy of New York," shouted Grady, "I present as a candidate for vice president the name of David Bennett Hill."

Electrical Effect of Hill's Name.

The effect was electrical, and a tidal wave of enthusiastic approval swept over the convention. Delegates stood on chairs and waved frantically, not in a few scattered groups, but in solid phalanxes. Flags and standards were again mingled in triumphant procession, while a roar as from Niagara pulsated through the great structure. Grady stood there proudly waiting for the storm to subside. But as he waited, the audience observed a strange pantomime. They saw Hill leave the New York delegation and push through the throng up to the platform. They could hear his appeal to Grady to withdraw, while Grady's answer was apparent from the shake of his head and his advance to the front of the platform to continue his nominating speech. When the demonstration had subsided, Grady completed his speech, placing Hill before the convention. But as he stepped from the platform, the man who had just been placed in nomination took his place. The senator looked out sternly, even savagely, on the shouting thousands. When he could be heard, he made due acknowlment of the honor done him.

"But I cannot, I must not, be the nominee of this convention," he declared with explosive emphasis.

He was frequently interrupted with enthusiastic shouts of approval, but when he left the platform the delegates were firmly convinced from his words and manner that he was sincerely desirous of having his name withheld. It is probably this alone which prevented a nomination by acclamation then and there, for the tempestuous spirit manifested showed that the convention was on the point of being carried off its feet.

Stevenson Favorite After Hill.

It was soon apparent that with Hill out Stevenson was a strong favorite State after state seconded his nomination—Georgia, Indiana, Virginia, Iowa Kentucky, Illinois. Some of the devoted friends of Hill still maintained their allegiance to him and the delegations after Florida and some others seconded his nomination. A number of favorite sons were also placed in nomination, Maryland bringing forward Governor John Walter Smith, Washington naming James Hamilton Lewis; North Carolina naming Colonel Julian Carr, and Ohio presenting the name of A. W. Patrick. It was after 2 o'clock when the seconding speeches many of them wearisome, were concluded, and the balloting began. As the roll was about to be called Mr. Lewis appeared on the platform and in a few well chosen words withdrew from the contest.

The vote was followed with intense interest, for when Alabama announced three for Stevenson and nineteen for Hill, it looked as though a close and exciting contest was to occur.

But it was soon evident that Stevenson had a strong lead. At the close of the call he had 559½ votes, which, however, was not enough to nominate, the requisite two-thirds being 624. Hill had received 200 votes and Towne 88½. But before the announcement of the result, a strong lunged delegate from Tennessee stood on his chair and announced:

"Tennessee changes her 24 votes from Hill to Stevenson."

Other Votes Changed.

That started the tide irresistibly toward Stevenson. From every quarter of the hall came demands for recognition. Alabama changed to Stevenson, so did California. North Carolina changed from Carr to Stevenson. Even New York finally and reluctantly announced its change from Hill to Stevenson. That ended it. Stevenson's nomination was assured, although for some time longer the various states continued to record their changes from Towne and other candidates to Stevenson. In the end the nomination was made unanimous. Its announcement was greeted with enthusiastic approval and again state standards and banners were borne about the building in tribute to the party nominee.

THIS IS A MAN'S METHOD.

His Way of Making a Carpet Bargain While His Wife Was Away.

"I want both my upper and lower halls recarpeted," was the remark Charles J. Jones of East Walnut Hills made to a well-known carpet man; "and I'm going to move out of the house until you finish the work! I'll leave the choice and color to you! My wife is out of town, you see, and I want to surprise her upon her return. There is only one condition to this bargain: I must ask you, as we are old friends, to give me a small figure in the carpet." "All right!" said the carpet man. And Charles Janes stayed away from home for two days, while the carpet man's hirelings banged away with their hammers, and he hugged himself as he thought of the surprise that was in store for his wife when she returned. Last Thursday the carpet man called Jones up by telephone and announced that the carpet was laid. "It's dark green!" said the carpet man. "I'm glad of that!" answered Jones. "And as small a figure as is consistent with the carpet!" roared the carpet man. "I'm gladder than ever!" said Jones. That evening he visited his home, and was satisfied that the carpet was a peach. The next morning he met the carpet man. "How much do I owe you?" inquired Jones. "It is $98.65," said the carpet dealer. "What!" yelled Jones. "Where's the small figure you and I agreed on?" "Why, on th' border of th' carpet!" said the amazed dealer. "It's a mornin' glory vine with pink an' white flowers! You've got a bargain at that figure!"—Philadelphia Inquirer.

WAGERS TO AVOID.

Bets That Are Sure Things to One Side as Indicated Here.

Bets to be avoided by those who are cock-sure they can do all things are those relating to athletic feats. It would seem that a good runner could easily give fifty yards in a hundred to a man who was doing the fifty by hopping on one leg. But few runners, if any, can afford to give that amount of start to any man who is at all strong on his legs. For the first five yards or so they go at practically the same pace, so that to run ninety-five yards while his opponent is hopping forty-five he has to go more than twice as fast, and it is a weak man indeed who cannot hop fifty yards in ten seconds. An ordinary wooden match is easily broken in the fingers, but although there are many who will bet they can do it, none succeed in accomplishing the task if the match is laid across the nail of the middle finger of either hand and pressed upon the first and third fingers of that hand, despite its seeming so easy at first sight. No one can crush an egg placed lengthwise between his clasped hands—that is, if the egg be sound, and has the ordinary shell of a hen's egg. It is safe to bet a man that he cannot get out of a chair without bending his body forward, or putting his feet under it, if he is sitting on it, not at the edge of it. Another equally certain wager is that a man cannot stand at the side of a room with both his feet touching the wainscoting lengthwise. It is safe to bet any man, save one who is blind, that he cannot stand for five minutes without moving if he is blindfolded.—New York Times.

When a person is in bed, and asleep the heart beats ten strokes less in a minute than when the person is in an upright position and awake.

Seventeen Irish regiments are at the front in South Africa.

One Woman's Letter

SAYS

"I doctored with two of the best doctors in the city for two years and had no relief until I used the Pinkham remedies.

"My trouble was ulceration of the uterus. I suffered terribly, could not sleep nights and thought sometimes that death would be such a relief.

"To-day I am a well woman, able to do my own work, and have not a pain.

"I used four bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and three packages of Sanative Wash and cannot praise the medicines enough."—MRS. ELIZA THOMAS, 634 Pine St., Easton, Pa.

Mrs. Pinkham advises suffering women without charge.

Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

ABSOLUTE SECURITY.

Genuine

Carter's Little Liver Pills.

Must Bear Signature of

Brent Good

See Fac-Simile Wrapper Below.

Very small and as easy to take as sugar.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS.

FOR HEADACHE.
FOR DIZZINESS.
FOR BILIOUSNESS.
FOR TORPID LIVER.
FOR CONSTIPATION.
FOR SALLOW SKIN.
FOR THE COMPLEXION

Price 25 Cents | GENUINE MUST HAVE SIGNATURE. Purely Vegetable. Brent Good

CURE SICK HEADACHE.

PENSIONS Get your Pension DOUBLE QUICK

Write CAPT. O'FARRELL, Pension Agent, 1425 New York Avenue. WASHINGTON, D. C.

MONEY FOR SOLDIERS' HEIRS

Heirs of Union Soldiers who made homesteads of less than 160 acres before June 22, 1874 (no matter if abandoned), if the additional homestead right was not sold or used, should address, with full particulars, HENRY N. COPP, Washington, D. C.

6-MONTHS-$1

A DEATH BLOW TO INJURIOUS PATENT MEDICINES AND FAKE SPECIALISTS.

To protect the people against injurious patent medicines and "Would Be" specialists, some of whom are trading on his reputation,

DR. W. H. COPELAND

the founder of the Copeland System and the greatest living specialist on diseases of Nose, Throat, Ears, Lungs and Stomach will treat your

CATARRH

and furnish you all the necessary medicines Six Months for $1. Send the $1 with your application to

210 STATE STREET

CHICAGO, ILLINOIS.

THE ONLY PLACE IN THE U. S. where DR. COPELAND can be Consulted Personally.

W. N. U., Des Moines, No. 28.—1900.

PISO'S CURE FOR CONSUMPTION. CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. 25 CTS.

GUILTY OR INNOCENT?

By AMY BRAZIER.

CHAPTER VII.—(Continued.)

The doctor, in answer to his unspoken appeal, goes with him to the hall.

"Are they going to arrest me?" George whispers hoarsely, looking grey and haggard.

"Yes, they've got a warrant! George, you are innocent, aren't you?"

"Yes, I am innocent," he returns, in a dull sort of way. "My poor mother, you'll stand to her, doctor?"

"George! oh, my son!" His mother's arms are round him. She has heard every word. Her voice is full of agony—an agony that is like a sword in her heart.

"Mother, my poor mother!" The man's face works as he holds her to him tight.

"God bless my soul!" shouts the doctor, "what are we coming to when a man like Saville can act on a trumped-up pack of rubbish? My dear Mrs. Bouverie, don't let this worry you, it is all a wretched mistake! George, man, say you can set it right!"

There was no shame in the eyes of George Bouverie. A kind of proud light leaps into them for a moment; then he puts his mother gently into the doctor's arms, saying softly:

"Whatever happens, believe I am innocent." Then he turns to the sergeant. "Now, then, I am ready to go with you."

Mrs. Bouverie does not see the crowning act of disgrace as her son walks out of his own home a prisoner into the goodly light of the setting sun. She has fainted, and lies back with closed eyes, unconscious of the young golden head, that, for the first time in his life, George bows with sname.

He gets up on the car, with white lips and a stony face. His eyes are fixed and show no wavering. And, before night falls, all Portraven stands at its doors discussing the bank robbery and the arrest of Mr. Bouverie; while the cashier lies in his lodgings, and turns his face to the wall, a limp heap of shuddering humanity.

His landlady hurries to tell him that Mr. Bouverie has been taken. Mr. Grey only shivers and buries his chattering teeth and leaden face in the bedclothes.

It is Doctor Carter who, with tears in his eyes, breaks to Mrs. Bouverie the terrible intelligence that her son has been brought before the magistrates and committed for trial on the charge of robbery and murderous assault.

"He never did it," sobs the old man; "but it looks very black against him. Poor lad! He wouldn't say where he got the money he was wiring off to that scoundrel, the bookmaker, and that went dead against him; and that fellow Grey stuck to his story. He swore it was George who attacked him—he swore it through thick and thin. On the face of evidence like that the magistrates had nothing to do but send the case for trial; but I can't believe it of George—I can't indeed!"

Yet the doctor is wavering. Facts are stubborn things and honorable men have become thieves and criminals before now. Mrs. Bouverie lies worn out with grief and anxiety.

"Would I had died for thee, my son!" she moans, as David did, and can take no comfort. Her boy, her idol, sent to prison, condemned already in the eyes of the world. Yet her faith has never wavered. George said he was innocent, and God in His own good time will make that innocence clear.

"Then there was that awkward bit of evidence about the chloroform," the doctor goes on, examining and sifting every bit of evidence. "Dale, that chemist, swore that George had bought that chloroform for the destruction of a diseased cat."

"That was true." Mrs. Bouverie lifts her heavy, tear-wet eyes for a second.

"Yes; but George couldn't say he had used the chloroform, and that told against him. Saville jumped at that point."

"My poor cat died. She was a pet, and she was caught in a trap. To spare my feelings, George said he would give her chloroform. She was dead before he got back from Portraven, and afterwards he said he had thrown the bottle away. Oh, Doctor Carter, you know my boy is innocent! These hideous doubts must be dissolved! I feel so weak, so heartbroken, so friendless!" sobs the poor lady; "and my poor George was so happy just before this happened—engaed to Barbara Saville, and looking forward to going out to Tasmania."

The doctor draws a long whistle.

"That accounts for the milk in the cocoanut—that sour-visaged Saville means to marry the girl himself. It is as plain as daylight now. That is why he is so dead against George!"

Mrs. Bouverie clasps her trembling hands and bows her grief-stained face.

"George in prison! Doctor Carter, God only knows my agony! My poor, poor boy, weak as he may have been, but criminal never!"

Doctor Carter tries to comfort and console her.

"There, there, let it come to a trial; I have secured Jarvis for George. If any man can ferret out the truth he can, and we've not long to wait. The assizes are in a week or two. By the by, did you hear that Philip Saville is dead in Tasmania? He was killed—kicked by a horse; and that poor girl Barbara will only have to turn round and come home again. I met Sebastian on his way to send her a telegram."

"Poor child, poor Barbara! and she was to have married George!" sighs Mrs. Bouverie.

"So she will, so she will," Doctor Carter says abruptly. In his heart he thinks: "That poor lad will get his five years as sure as God made little apples; and Barbara isn't likely to stick to a man with the taint of prison on him!"

CHAPTER VIII.

The assizes are going on, and the county town is full of barristers and attorneys; and all interest is centered on the Portraven bank robbery case, for the man to be tried is a gentleman, a member of one of the oldest families in the county.

Mrs. Bouverie is staying in the same hotel as the judge who is to try her son. She will stay near George to the last; and Doctor Carter, fuming and fussy, has taken up his quarters at the Royal Arms too. He is beginning to lose heart. The evidence is so dead against George, and the great counsel engaged can wring nothing from the silent lips of the prisoner. With a sad, stern face of George confronts him, but refuses to speak—refuses to account for the money that had been in his possession that day. He will make no defense whatever, beyond declaring his innocence. His counsel is in despair. Without doubt the jury will bring in a verdict of guilty.

Worn out with great anxiety, Mrs. Bouverie lies on a sofa in a private room of the hotel. In the garden below the windows great bunches of lilacs scent the air, and the light breeze rustles the golden sprays of laburnum; but the mother's eyes see them not. She can only think of her boy within the cold, gray walls of the jail waiting for his trial. Mr. Saville is in the town too, with a look of satisfaction on his face; also Mr. Grey, the cashier, who, they say, has never recovered from the shock of the assault on him. He starts at every shadow, and looks a miserable, haunted individual.

In vain Dr. Carter tries to persuade Mrs. Bouverie not to attend the trial. It will only be needlessly distressing, he urges. And his inmost conviction is that George will be found guilty. Mrs. Bouverie is firm. "My place is beside my son," she says, struggling for calmness.

So the warm spring days go by, with the world flooded with sunshine, and every field and tree in its new dress of vivid green, everything bright and beautiful; only the stern, unhappy face of the man awaiting trial, while mother prays to Him who pities this sorrowful sighing of the prisoners, taking her trouble to the foot of the cross and laying it there. Oh, the shame, the misery, and the pity of it all!

And the day dawns for the trial of the bank robbery. Dr. Carter makes one more desperate effort.

Mrs. Bouverie, you are not strong enough to stand this. I promise to send you word every half-hour as the case goes on. Besides, it would only distress poor George to see you."

"Dr. Carter, you mean well, but I must go. I will be very brave," Mrs. Bouverie says, looking at the doctor's kindly face with eyes that are dim with tears and want of sleep.

"It will kill her, poor soul!" Dr. Carter says, half aloud.

Crowds are flocking to the courthouse. It is an exciting case. The counsel retained for George is in the depths of despair. He cannot see the chance of an acquittal unless some wonderful evidence turns up, which is not likely, at the eleventh hour.

Mr. Grey, the cashier, is prepared to identify George Bouverie as the man who attacked and drugged him.

The case is not very exciting after all. In vain Mr. Jarvis cross-examines Mr. Grey; he sticks to his statement without wavering. Limp and ghastly looking he is, but firm; and yet he never once looks at the pale, set face of the man in the dock, who holds his golden head up bravely. Once once, when the judge says:

"Edward Grey, look at the prisoner in the dock. Do you swear that is the man who attacked you in the Portraven bank?

"Then only the witness looks for a second into the steady eyes of George Bouverie—eyes that look true as steel.

"That is the man," he says with such conviction that George Bouverie's counsel groans.

Mrs. Bouverie sits immovable, her hands in her lap, a small, pitiful figure crushed to the earth with a sorrow that is so terrible and so strange.

Mr. Saville, with an assumed air of reluctance, steps into the witness box, but every word he utters tells dead against the prisoner. It is he who brings to light George Bouverie's financial difficulties and racing proclivities, and the jury prick their ears, and into their twelve intelligent faces comes a look that shows they have found out the reason why. There is not one of the 12 good men and true who has the faintest doubts of their verdict when Mr. Sebastian Saville still with the manner of one having done an unpleasant duty, steps down from the witness table.

George gives him one look—a look of deep and bitter anger and contempt.

Mr. Dale, the chemist, adds his quota to the mass of evidence, and the chloroform is accounted for.

The crowd of persons listening to the case come to the conclusion that George Bouverie must be a very wicked young man indeed, in spite of his noble figure and kingly head. He is nothing better than a common thief. And public sympathy goes with the bank clerk, whose nervous system has been shattered.

Truly it had been a bold robbery in deed, and an example should be made. To walk boldly into the bank, choosing a moment when there was no one present but the cashier, and to immediately chloroform him and make off with a hundred pounds was the act of a villain!

Dr. Carter's face grew longer and longer as the case proceeds. Mr. Jarvis makes but a lame defense. Mrs. Bouverie turns an agonized face on the doctor, and whispers, with white lips:

"It is going against him, and yet he is innocent."

Dr. Carter is trembling visibly.

"Let me take you away, Mrs. Bouverie. My dear lady, be guided by me. I'll let you know the instant it is over."

But she shakes her head, her poor sad eyes seeing only the figure in the dock, the man with the handsome miserable face, that gets paler and more desperate as the case goes on. He glances at his mother once, with a world of sorrowful pity in his gaze and his self-control deserts him for a moment.

The judge is summing up, and every sentence, every clear, cutting word tells against the prisoner. It is a scathing speech, in which the jury are entreated to lay aside any thoughts of the prisoner's position, of his youth, only to remember that a hideous crime has been committed; and he begs them to do their duty fearlessly, conscientiously before God, and faithfully between the Crown and the prisoner at the bar.

Sebastian Saville draws a long breath as the judge sits down. George Bouverie is as good as condemned; there is not a chance of an acquittal now. The jury file out of the box.

(To be continued.)

Breaking Horses in South Africa.

The way in which horses are broke to saddle in South Africa is one which I have never seen practiced in any other country, says a writer. It is charmingly simple, and has its good points as well as its bad ones. It consists of tying the head of the neophyte close up to that of a steady horse by means of a cord connecting the respective headstalls worn by these animals. After they have both been saddled and bridled, the 'schoolmaster" is first mounted, and then another man gets on the young one, who is powerless to buck, rear, or run away, on account of his head being fixed. Besides this, the fact of his being alongside another horse gives him confidence, and, no matter how wild he may be, he will learn in a short time to carry his burden and regulate his pace according to that of his companion. As he settles down quietly to work, the connecting cord may be gradually loosened out until at last it can be taken off altogether.

Funny Man's Wife.

"Here's the clockmaker come to fix our sitting room clock," said the funny man's wife; "won't you go up and get it for him?" "Why, it isn't upstairs is it?" replied he lazily. "Of course it is. Where did you think it was?" "Oh, I thought it had run down."—Philadelphia Press.

The man who cuts the pages of the book with his fingers does not understand why it is wrong to eat with his knife.

Japan Anxious.

Japan is alarmed over the emigration of many of her residents to this country, who are lured here by misrepresentation. This is like the misrepresentation which delude people into believing that any other medicine is equal to Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for stomach disorders. It will cure indigestion, constipation and dyspepsia.

The girl who wonders if she is in love is not in love.

Soldiers' Homestead Claims.

The friends of the veterans of the Civil War are complaining of the unfortunate delay of the General Land Office in acting on the applications for soldiers' additional homestead rights. Senators and Representatives in Congress who are friendly to the old soldiers should inquire into this matter.

Fires, fights and free lunches are crowd attractive.

Ladies Can Wear Shoes.

One size smaller after using Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder. It makes tight or new shoes easy. Cures swollen, hot, sweating, aching feet, ingrowing nails, corns and bunions. All druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE by mail. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

A woman's voice is one of the best evidences of culture.

The favorite for restoring life and color to the hair is PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM.
HINDERCORNS, the best cure for corns. 15cts.

The educated soul pays the penalty of ignorance—the same as others.

Hall's Catarrh Cure
Is taken internally. Price, 75c.

Cats resemble poets—they indulge in mewses.

Carter's Ink Is Used by the greatest railway systems of the United States. They would not use it if it wasn't the best.

Docked horses should be wholesaled as they cannot be re-tailed.

The river's current is a matter of course.

Putnam Fadeless Dyes are fast to sunlight, washing and rubbing. Sold by all druggists.

There are a thousand little things to one big thing in our every day lives.

DON'T DRINK too much water when cycling. Adams' Pepsin Tutti Frutti is an excellent substitute.

Help others and it will help you to forget your own troubles.

Don't Spoil Your Hands.

And your temper by using inferior soaps. Maple City Self Washing Soap is pure. Try it. All grocers.

A woman is more likely to forget her birthday than to leave the pickles at home when she goes to a picnic.

Piso's Cure is the best medicine we ever used for all affections of the throat and lungs.—WM. O. ENDSLEY, Vanburen, Ind., Feb. 10, 1900.

A man is supposed to have a right to do the best he can.

Dr. T. DeWitt Talmage is reported as having as great a success as a preacher in London as he ever had at the height of his fame in this country.

Russ' Bleaching Blue makes brown muslin white in a day. All grocers sell the genuine Russ. Refuse imitations.

Only a very small man ever attempts to belittle others.

Get Your Money's Worth.

It is hard to appreciate the full worth of Morley's Wonderful Eight until you have used it in a score of the emergencies that come in every household. Dr. T. E. Barnhart, of Claiborne Parish, La., says: "Permit me to say I have tried Morley's Wonderful Eight and found it a good medicine in pleurisy and pneumonia. Nothing equals it in relieving pain." Price 25 cents. Ask your druggist.

TO GUARD QUEEN VICTORIA.

Horses of Royal Stable Taught Not to Fear Automobiles.

Few lives in this world are watched with such care as Queen Victoria's, and those of the members of the royal family. This is an old saying, but it is particularly true in the case of what might be called automobilism, which as yet is only a hobby in England. Still steps have just been taken to protect her majesty from any danger while driving through the use of automobiles. All the horses in the royal stable have been drilled in the presence of an automobile. The horses in the three stable yards at Windsor were first led and then driven around a stationary car. Then the car was propelled around the horses. Finally the car was moved between the horses in a dangerous way as they stood near each other. The automobilist finally made the car as objectionable as possible. The horses were very amenable as they had already been schooled to such noises as the playing of bands, the noise of cannon and railroad trains and the cheering of crowds. The well bred horses proved to be the best sensitive to the novelty, a pure bred stallion showing the least fear of all.—New York Sun.

Kindness in ourselves is the principle that blunts the sting of unkindness in another.—Landor.

B. C R. & N. TIME TABLE.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 708. B Pass.	7:55	p. m.
No. 796 A Stock	9:50	a m.
No. 742. B Freight	3:45	p. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 701. B Pass.	1:32	p. m.
No. 741. B Way freight	9:50	a. m.

B—Daily except Sunday
A—Daily except Monday
☞"Freight trains shown above will carry passengers only when provided with tickets."
F. G. REESE, Local Agt.

WM. H. HUGHES
LAWYER.
Accounts and notes collected. Practice in all courts. Office in Schuler block.
GARNER IOWA.

JAMES YOUNG
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER.
Will cry sales and guarantee satisfaction, 15 years experience. Dates and terms at office of Klemme TIMES.
Telephone or address
Garner Iowa.

J. N. SPROLE,
REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND ABSTRACTS.
Titles examined and corrected, Taxes paid, etc.
GARNER - - - IOWA.

A. L. SPOONER.
Physician and Surgeon.
Office first door west of Shafer & Dow's Store. Residence just back of the German Reform Church. Office hours 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.
Klemme, Iowa.

A. SNYDER,
DRAYMAN.
Having purchased the Bartholomew dray line I solicit a share of your work. Prompt attention given to all work: Charges reasonable.
KLEMME, IOWA.

J. J SUCKOW,
PAINTER, and PAPER HANGER.
First Class work in every way, and our specialty is Paper Hanging and decorating. See me before you contract your work.
Address, KLEMME, IOWA.

AIELT RIEKENS,
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER. GERMAN OR ENGLISH
Will cry Sales and guarante satisfaction
Fine Stock Sales a specialty.
Call on or address at
PAULSVILLE, IOWA

JOHN JOSTEN
PHOTOGRAPHER
Gallery Fitted For Finest Work
In Miniature and Cabinet Sizes. Enlarging, View and Copying.
PHOTO BUTTONS A SPECIALTY.
☞Give me a call
KLEMME - IOWA.

JOHN BAUMGARTNER.
PROPRIETOR OF
CITY BARBER SHOP.
AN EASY SHAVE. - -
A SATISFIED CUSTOMER
FIRST DOOR EAST OF LAU BROS.
KLEMME, IOWA.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE
BETWEEN
DAUBING AND PAINTING.
We understand our business and guarantee our work.
JOE MILLER,
PAINTER AND DECORATOR.

THE KLEMME TIMES
By G. L. WELLEMEYER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme, Iowa, as second class matter

The total gross earnings of railroads were $228.000,000 larger last year than in 1895.

Sheep are worth more than twice as much this year in Utah as they were worth in 1895.

If a prosperous condition in and along all lines of trade is what the demos mean by imperialism then we want to be an imperialist.

Every corn-fed steer in Nebraska is now worth $12 to $16 more than in 1896. Farmers in that state will hardly vote for Democratic times again.

American credit stands higher than that of any other nation. It was not so when the lst democratic president was trying to borrow money in England.

Even the dormant conscience of modern Democracy forbids the party leaders to appeal to the shaeds of Jefferson and Jackson for endorsement of their present vagaries.

No National ticket ever nominated gave more general satisfaction to its party and more trouble to its opponents than the one named by the Philadelphia convention.

During the fiscal year just closed our foreign commerce far exceeded that of any previous year, while American vessels carried a smaller proportion of it than ever before.

The American claim to unrestricted facilities of trade in China was based on treaty rights which were about to be ignored when our claim was made and secured.

The sentiment in favor of the passage of the subsidy bill grows stronger and stronger all cver the country as the statistics of our foreign trade for the fiscal year just ended are studied.

Under this administration, our farmers, merchants and manufacturers have been assured that the markets of China would be always open to them in equal competition with other nations.

Why do not the anti-imperialists nominate Grover Cleveland, whose well-known sentiments agree very closely with their position. What with the discontent of larg bodies of voters with both Bryan and McKinley, Grover would poll an enormous vote and might even win the office. which Admiral Dewey says is so easy to fill.

Nebraska hogs sold in Omaha, May 31st, at $4.50 per head more than on the same date four years ago, yet the World Herald, Mr. Bryan's personal organ, which is published in Omaha, asserted very vigorously during the 1896 campaign that the prices of no farm products could advance without the free and unlimited coinage of silver.

Secretary Gage, of the Treasury Department has been caliing in, from the national banks, public funds, for the purpose of redeeming the old 2 per cent bonds that were outstanding to the amount of $25,000,000. In order to do this, the Secretary decided to withdraw that sum at twenty-day intervals of $5,000,000 each.

An argument that the opposition find hard to down is the fact that there seems to be a greater demand for labor than there are men to accomplish it. Four years ago the "tramp problem" was something awful to contemplate. The answer to both condition may be found in the harvest field, in the shops and in the mills. Plenty of work, contented workmen receiving higher wages for their work. Grover aud Clover may be all good enough in theory, but for practical purposes give us a continuation of McKinley and prosperity.

Since the 4th of March 1897, Congress has authorized the construction of forty-nine ships with a total displacement of 245,484 tons. This includes eight battle ships of the first class; six armored cruisers of the first class; four monitors and nine protected cruisers. Their have been completed and placed in completed and placed in commission in the same time, a total of thirty-two vessels, with an aggregate displacement of 52,681 tons. This is an unexampled record, and it could only have been accomplished by a republican administration.

No, Old Subscriber, you are wrong. Admiral Dewey did not have a private wire to the convention hall at Kansas City.

IT SAVED HIS LEG.

P. A. Danforth of LaGrange, Ga., suffered for six months with a frightful running sore on his leg; but writes that Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured it in five days. For ulcers, wounds, piles, it is the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25. Sold by Harr.

After all, what real difference did it make what the platform had to say about silver? With Bryan as candidate, all words were mere superfluities.

APPETITE OF A GOAT,

Is envied by all whose Stomach and Liver are out of order. But such should know that Dr.King's New Life Pills give a splendid appetite, sound digestion and a regular bodily habit that insures perfect health and great energy. Only 25c. Sold by Harr.

The event at Kansas City settles once for all any question of Bryan's honesty in regard to silver. He is clearly not a demagogue, but he is a fanatic, Unfortunately for him, people who do not believe in silver, will probably think fanaticism in regard to silver is worse than demagogy, even if it is more respectable.

WAS IT A MIRACLE.

"The marvelous cure of Mrs. Rena J. Stout of consumption has created intense excitemen in Cammack, Ind." writes Marion Staurt. a leading druggist of Muncie, Ind. She anly weighed 90 pounds when the doctor in yorktown said she must soon die. Then she began to use Dr. Kings New Discovery and gained 37 pounds in wright ond was completely cured. It has cured thousands of hopeless cases and is positively guaranteed to cure throat, chest and lung diseases. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free. Harr's.

The Kaiser has abandoned his holiday. Lord Salisbury is working over time. Joe Chamberlain stays at his desk. The Czar is working like a dap laborer over the details of moving troops. Even the Mikado cannot get away to the sea shore. You see, none of these leaders of nations have any front marches on which they can sit and let the world wag.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamborlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days time the child had fully recovered and is now vigerous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail. Mrs. Curtis Baker, Bookwalter, Ohio. Sold by Harr.

Goods Worth $1.50 FREE
also our magazine. Send for information at once.
RECREATION POINTERS, Kansas City, Mo.

FRED ARNOLD, PRES. C. H. WIEGMANN, V. P. F. A. ARNOLD, CASH.

STATE SAVINGS BANK,
OF KLEMME, IOWA.

CAPITAL $25 000 00, LOANS $40 000 00.

INSURANCE WRITTEN, LOANS NEGOTIATED, EXCHANGE BOUGHT AND SOLD.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits: Money Loaned on Real Estate: Foreign and Domestic Exchange Sold.....

DIRECTORS: FRED ARNOLD, C. H. WIEGMANN, H. W. GRUETZMACHER, CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, F. A. ARNOLD.

CARY SAFE CO.
BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.
..Manufacturers..
FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES
VAULTS, LOCKS, ETC.
CONTRACTORS to UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

KOERENR BROS.....
Woven Wire Fencing, Poultry Netting, Barbed Wire, Nails, Staples, Hay Tools, Carpenter Tools, Bicycles, Bicycle Repairs, Paints, Oils, Brushes, Putty, Glass, Roofing, Spouting Etc. Etc.
KLEMME, IOWA.

Buy Your
Drugs, Paints, Wall Paper, Toilet Soap, Perfumery Books and Patent Medicines
At Amsden's Pharmacy
GARNER, IOWA.

Buggies Wagons
Corn Cultivators
And Bicycles: Do not fail to see us before buying. We have the largest stock of the best goods ever brought to this city
Groceries, Hardware.
First class Tinshop.
GRUETZMACHER BROS.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hogs wanted six days in the week. W. R. Bloom.

John Baumgartner Sr. was in Klemme Tuesday.

W. R. Bloom was transacting business at Garner Tuesday.

H. Lau sold a hayloader to F. Arnold that works to perfection.

Ben'j Kaste has accepted a position in E. P. Schaefers store.

Webster Sage of the Garner Herald, was calling on Klemme friends Sunday.

FOR SALE:—Residence property in Barz addition to Klemme. Inquire of H. S. Swarz.

We wonder if our best young men think Sunday ball playing is just the proper thing.

The Am. M. E. Ladies' Aid Society will meet with Mrs. A, Snyder Friday, July 13.

G. A. Griswold of Garner, formerly editor of this paper was a pleasant caller Tuesday.

G. W. Kluckhohn has a few words to say about his fine, fresh groceries in his adv. this week.

John Cantwell, the Belmond nurseryman was doing Klemme in a business way Wednesday,

Otto Schultz, extra agent for the C. & N. W. R'y, spent the 4th with his brother in Klemme.

Fred Greiman, a prosperous farmer living near Garner, was in Klemme the fore part of the week.

Joe Miller has found out that it requires not a little speed to beat some of our young ladies in a race.

The Hancock county Teachers institute convenes at Britt next week. A number from here will attend.

Miss Emma Terhufen and Miss Clarice Gibbs went to Britt the first of the week, to visit with friends.

Fifty excursion tickets were sold to Klemme people Saturday, bound for Iowa Falls to see the elephant.

Julius Henschen and Jake Cauffman returned to-day from Goodell, where they have been blasting rock.

J. J. Suckow has just completed the painting of the Mother Lau home It is a creditable piece of work.

A. Schwaz and H. L. Schuldt are the happy possessers of new Milwaukee binders, purchased of Henry Lau.

Lew Hensceen, the efficient tinner for F. L. Haines & Co., Garner, was repairing a furnace for W. R. Bloom Monday.

Frank Hanson and Miss Adna Barta, and Mr. Jenssen and wife of Kanawha, were the guests of J. L. Harr and wife Sunday.

H. F. Ludeke came into our den Monbay and dropped a dollar into the editors cash box.

W. E. Farman, formerly a successful merchant of Goodell, is now on the road for a Mason City wholesale grocery house.

Howard Africa and Frank Gates, and Misses Williams and Sage, drove down from Garner Sunday and were guests at the home of ye editor.

Harvesting occupies the attention of the farmers. From all accounts the crops will compare favorably with other years, and the quality better.

E. P. Schaefer call your attention in his advertisement to his bargain counter. Many remnants of exceptional values for a little money are offered.

FOR SALE:—A good six-room house with one acre of ground, trees and small fruit, nicely located, easy terms. Inquire of H. C. LAU, Klemme, Iowa.

For Sale!—240 acre farm three miles east of Klemme, all under cultivation, buildings, etc. For prices and terms, call on or address, M. S. Gilman, Klemme, Iowa.

Dr. Brackett of the Democrat, Garner, has returned from his Wisconsin trip and judging by conversation, had a very enjoyable time. His good wife was with him and on their return, were accompanied by two nieces who will spend the summer with them in Garner.

FLY NETS:—Good nets, poor nets, indifferent nets; nets that will keep the flies off and nets that wont; nets that are too nice and some not pretty enough; nets that costs lots of money and those that we almost give away. We have the finest line ever put on the market at prices that will make them go.

F. GRUETZMACHER.

The following is a sample of the way our census enumerators receive answers to some of the questions: "Do you speak English?" is the question. and this is the answer: "Say, what kind of a spiel is this you're uncorkin' on me, anyhow? Me speak the English languish? Well, my boy, if you think I'm talkin' Choctaw to you now, you're up against one of the emptiest prop ositions that ever came down the pike Say, if the man that invented the English languish could hear me spiel on my larnix he'd holler for help, and that's on josh, neither. You don't have to have no translator to get my meanin' into your headpiece. do ye, huh? me talkin' English! Old man. if I'm throwin' anything else into you rite now you give me a map of it on roller will you?

Chas. F. H. Suckow has a new adv. this issue.

ELL CENTER.

Clarence Pomplun spent the 4th at Swaledale.

Miss Emma Badker visited friends here last week.

Tom Haskens bought a new McCormick harvester of Gruetzmacher Bros.

Haying and harvesting is the order of the day with most of the farmers.

Cade Thornton of Kossouth County, was shaking hands with old friends the 4th.

O. H. Cummings has his new barn nearly completed. Frank Flint is helping him.

Misses Lizzie and Laura Flint spent the latter part of last week with friends in Garner.

Harry Rice has purchased a new family carriage and it is as good as there is going.

Elmer Holmes and wife of Ellington, visited their cousin Ernest Braund last Sunday.

Miss Olive Braund is visiting friends in Clear Lake this week, a guest at the Joseph Karr home.

Valentine Josten Sr. treated himself to a fine new phaeton, such as you read about but seldom see.

Charlie Gilberts, Bert Glanville and Miss Rose Glanville took in the show at Mason City last week Tuesday.

John Braund, Wm. Tembe, T. Henderson, M. Haskens and R. Nesbet took in the big show at Iowa Falls Saturday.

The people of Pleasant Mound have renewed their patriotism by painting the flag pole on the schoolhouse. Joe Miller did the job and you can bet it was well done.

Hanson Bros. purchased a new threshing machine from parties at Clear Lake. They had the misfortuue to break through a bridge and it took nearly all of Saturday night to get out.

Nearly every one from here celebrated at Garner, some of them taking prominent part in the parade. Artel Haskens was an easy winner in the horse race aud Greiman Bros. won in the township bicycle race.

Rev. Paterson preached to a crowded house at Pleasant Mound Sunday with renewed vigor and the audience listened with reverence. It seems that the campmeeting was good for both minister and audience.

• STRANGER THAN FICTION •

This is the time of the year when the reptile and the liar disport themselves before the public, and none can stop them.

Thus it comes that a tarantula and a horned toad engaged in a deadly duel in the northern panhandle of Texas. The horned toad was dining peaceably upon a nest of ants when the terantula appeared. The toad was the first to take offense, says the veracious correspondent. He ran at the terantula with open mouth. The big spider leaped into the air about a foot and descended upon the toad's head, biting him over the eye. A little distance from the ant bed a small cactus was growing. The toad ran to it and began sucking the juice from the leaves, Then he returned to the conflict with renewed energy. The terantula lost a limb in the onset. Again the upward leap was made and another wound was made on the eyelid of the toad. The wounded ran again to to the cactus and and drank agoin of the juice, etc., etc., etc., until the toad faded away in fragments and the terantula limped off on one leg.

:‖:

And thus it comes that a small boy in Iowa saw a large rattlesnake. The rattlesnake saw the boy and attempted to escape through a hole in the ground. The boy placed his foot on the snake as it entered and fastened a slip noose on its tail. The snake drew out of the hole and fastened its fangs in the boy's wrist. The boy's father, with great presence of mind, tied a string around his son's wrist, stopped the circulation of the poison and saved the boy,

:‖:

An thus it comes that Mrs. Bastedo of Syracuse, while visiting Mrs. Parker, on a farm near Genoa, started out to gather raspberries. Long afterward she was found by a searching party backed up against a fence corner in a thirty-acre lot. In front of her was coiled an immense snake. Each man picked up a club and started for the snake. It heard them coming and made for Mrs, Bastedo. Quick as a flash it coiled around her and tried to strike her face. She caught it by the throat and sawed its head off on the barbed wire fence.

:‖:

And thus it comes that a family in Boone county was awakened the other night by a loud knocking at the door. Thinking that some neighbor was in trouble, the man of the house dressed hurriedly to admit the visitor. Seeing nothing but the impenetrable darkness, he was about to close the door, when the pounding recommenced against a panel near his feat Procuring a light, he found hi visitor to be an old rattlesnake that had been on the farm since his grandfather's time. On closer examination he discovered that the snake was making signs with its tail towards a field not far distant. The farmer aroused his sons, went to the spot indicated, and found that the cattle had broken the fence down and were playing havoc with the melon patch. The snake had alarmed the household by striking its rattlers, twenty-eight in number, against the door.

:‖:

And thus it comes that a blacksnake 15 feet long, near Athens, noticed a washed-out culvert just as the Atlanta express was due. With cool ness it crawled rapidly to a clothes-line, reached for a red petticoat, hurried to the track, coiled its tail, stood upright, and waved the garment in its mouth as a danger signal as the engine was rounding a curve less than half a mile distant. The engineer put on the air brakes and brought the locomotive to a stop just in time to prevent what might have been a terrible disaster.

:‖:

And thus it comes that all the actors and narrators of these thrilling tales are old residents and church members and intend to vote for prosperity, sound money and expansion in Nov.

A GOOD COUGH REMEDY

Many thousands have been restored to health and happiness by the use of Chamberlains cough remedy. If afflicted with any throat or lung trouble give it a trial for it is certain to prove beneficial, Coughs that have resisted all other treatment for years have yielded to this remedy and perfect healah been restorod. Cases that seemed hopeless, that the climate of famous health resorts failed to benefit have been permanently cured by its use. Sold by Harr.

Do You Eat?

Well, try some of our Viena Sausage and Kraut, Red Salmon, Jams. Whole Wheat Biscuits, Pickles, Just what you want

THIS HOT WEATHER

We have just received

a full line of Negligee Shirts, Fancy Suspenders, Summer Underwear, Pants, Overalls, etc.

Highest Market Price

For Butter and Eggs.

Shafer & Dow.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

OUR SPECIALTY IS

LUMBER

WE ALSO SELL

Brick, Lime, Cement, Paroid Roofing, American Field Fence Screen Doors and Windows.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

Farm Machinery.

DO NOT FORGET

That we handle a COMPLETE LINE of the BEST Farm Machinery manufactured. Before you buy, it will pay you to see us and get our prices. We handle

CASSADY GANG AND SULKY PLOWS,

Corn Cultivators, Stirring Plows, Cornplanters, harrows, Discs, Wagons, Buggies, Geneva Windmils, Milwaueee Binders and Mowers.

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE. . . . . .

We are constantly adding new, fresh GROCERIES to our stock and would like to make you prices. If you want Hardware or Tinware, we can supply your wants.

LAU BROS.

THE EXCLUSIVE

GROCERY STORE . . . .

Is where you should go to get FRESH GOODS. Our large line of staple goods is constantly changing by reason of our heavy sales. New, FRESH goods every day. Seasonable fresh fruit for canning or table use. Ice Cream, Bakers' Goods, soft drinks.

Agent for the Ideal Steam Laundry, Mason City

G. W. KLUCKHOHN, KLEMME.

AS THE WORD ELGIN

stands for all that is best in watches, so does Seth Thomas stand for perfection in Clocks---the best made.

For sale by

CHAS. F. H. SUCKOW

BRYAN FOR PRESIDENT

He Had No Opposition in the Democratic Convention.

Kansas City, July 5.—W. J. Bryan of Nebraska was tonight unanimously placed in nomination for president of the United States by the democratic national convention. The nomination came as the culmination of a frenzied demonstration in honor of the party leader, lasting twenty-seven minutes and giving utterance to all the pent-up emotions of the vast multitude.

When the call of states began Alabama yielded its place to Nebraska and Oldham of that state made the initial speech placing Mr. Bryan in nomination. This was the signal for the demonstration of the day and in a common purpose the great concourse joined in a tribute of enthusiastic devotion to the party leader.

When the demonstration had spent itself the speeches seconding the nomination of Mr. Bryan were in order. These occupied some time, numerous party leaders being heard.

Senator Hill of New York was accorded a splendid reception, the entire audience rising and cheering, with the single exception of the little group of Tammany leaders, who sat silent throughout the cheering for their New York associate. When it came to voting, state after state recorded its vote in behalf of the Nebraska candidate, and he was given the unanimous vote of all the states and territories. The convention managers had already agreed that this was sufficient work for the day, and the vice presidential nomination was allowed to go over until tomorrow.

Details of the Proceedings.

As Mr. Davis concluded his address, pledging support to the democratic party, at the democratic national convention, this afternoon, the band struck up "Hail to the Chief," and he held an impromptu reception on the platform.

Sergeant-at-Arms Martin then announced:

"The next business before the convention is the nomination of a candidate for the presidency of the United States. The secretary will call the roll of states."

So the secretary read the names of the members of the committee apointed by the chair to confer with the silver republicans and populists, in accordance with the resolution introduced by George Fred Williams of Massachusetts at the morning session. They are:

George Fred Williams of Massachusetts; J. G. Berry, Arkansas; W. H. Thompson, Nebraska; Charles Thomas, Colorado; J. S. Rose, Wisconsin; Thomas H. Martin, Virginia; J. J. McGuyre, California; B. R. Tillman, South Carolina; Carter H. Harrison, Illinois.

"Alabama," the secretary shouted, commencing the call of the roll.

"The state of Alabama," said the chairman of the delegation of that state, "yields to Nebraska the privilege of naming the next president of the United States."

W. D. Oldham of Nebraska, who was to present the name of Mr. Bryan, expressed his appreciation of the favor extended by Alabama in surrendering its time to the state of Mr. Bryan.

Mr. Oldham Nominates Bryan.

Thereupon he began his address and received the closest attention of the convention. He said:

Mr. Chairman: More than a hundred years ago the continental congress of America adopted a declaration which had been drafted by the founder of the democratic party, and the joyous tones of the old liberty bell which greeted the act announced to a waiting world that a nation had been born.

With hearts unchilled by the selfish sentiments of cold commercialism, you have responded patriotically to each sentiment contained in democracy's first platform as it was read to you at the opening of this convention, and in view of the radical departure which the party in power had made from the principles set forth in that historic document it is meet that we—true believers in the republic of old—should, when choosing a field and forming our lines for the bloodless battle of ballots now impending, say in the language of one of the loved patriots of long ago: "Read this declaration at the head of the army and every sword shall be drawn from its scabbard, and a solemn vow taken to maintain it or to perish on the bed of honor."

Much of the history of this republic shall be either made or marred by the action of this convention. You, as representatives of the only party which is co-existent with the nation itself; the only party which ever had within its own ranks sufficient constructive statesmanship to create a nation in which each citizen becomes a sovereign, have, true to the traditions you bear, in your platform set out in simple language, with a decided American accent, a plan for the people's redemption from each sacrilege and schism taught by the republican party. The plan contains nothing but the approved precepts of the elders and doctors of your faith. If, on a platform, you place a candidate whose devoted and unblemished life shall stand as a pledge to the plain people that he, in good faith, will carry out the solemn covenants made therein, then the hour of our ultimate triumph is at hand.

There is no greater honor reserved for a citizen of these United States than to become the standard bearer of the democratic party. It at once enrolls his name on the scroll of the immortals who are not born to die, and encircles him with a halo of the glory of all the illustrious achievements which that unconquered and unconquerable organization has emblazoned on every page of our nation's history. It entrusts to his keeping the fame of that long line of statesmen and patriots who have knelt for a blessing at democracy's shrine:

"O, bright are the names of those heroes and sages
That shine like stars through the dimness of ages,
Whose deeds are inscribed on the pages of story,
Forever to live in the sunlight of glory."

This high distinction must not be unworthily bestowed. It must follow as a reward for noble actions bravely done, for unrequited, tireless toil, for sacrifices made and strength displayed, for trusts discharged and pledges kept. We must seek a leader whose public and private life most nearly exemplifies his party's highest ideals; who stands unqualifiedly pledged to every issue we declare; who will carry the standard we place in his hands, even as the Black Douglas carried the sacred casket that enclosed the heart of Bruce.

He must not declare for free trade with Porto Rico, and then at the persuasive suggestion of the sugar and tobacco trust sign a bill for a tariff on the products of that island.

He must not denounce a policy as one of "criminal aggression" and then at the demand of a power behind the throne pursue the policy he has denounced.

He must not, while professing opposition to combines and conspiracies against trade, send his emissaries to the trust baron castles to beg, like Lazarus at Dives' gates, for subscriptions to his campaign. He must not lend the moral support of his administration to a monarchy in its effort to destroy a republic But he must ever sympathize with a people struggling for the right of self-government.

Instead of the republican policy of monometallism, he must offer the free and unlimited coinage of the money metals of the constitution, the gold that polished the winged sandals of Hermes, and the silver that glitters in the bow of Diana.

Instead of a panic-breeding, credit currency, controlled by the bank trust, he must offer government paper controlled by the people.

He must be able to distinguish between democratic expansion and republican imperialism. The first is a natural growth by the addition of contiguous American territory, into every foot of which is carried the constitution, the flag and the decalogue, and over the shoulders of every inhabitant of the added territory is thrown a purple robe of sovereign citizenship. It is a growth that has added eighteen stars to the field of blue in the "banner of the free" to symbolize the states that have been carved from territory, annexed to the domain of this nation, by the wisdom and statesmanship of the democratic party; this is an expansion that is bounded on the north by the constitution of the United States, on the east by the Monroe doctrine, on the south by the Declaration of Independence, and on the west by the ten commandments.

How different this from the bandit policy of the republican imperialism, with its standing army, and bayonet rule of conquered provinces; its government of sullen subjects against their will, by force and fraud; its denial to them of the protection of either the constitution or the command which says: "Thou shalt not steal"—a policy that would send our Uncle Sam off his American range with a cowboy hat, a rope and a branding iron, to rustle and brand, over all the lesser islands of the orient, while hypocritically chanting the long-meter doxology.

Democratic skies are tinged with a rosier hue today, than when we met in convention four years ago. Then a financial cataclysm had spread over the country, and although its every inducing cause was easily traced to the errors and follies of the republican party, yet we were in power when it came, and were wrongly held responsible for the wreck of shattered fortunes which followed in its wake. Torn asunder by dissensions within, and disasters without, our party faced a gloomy and foreboding future which seemed to augur its dissolution. The problem then was to select a standard bearer bold enough to cover the rear of a retreat, and save the party from destruction, if not from defeat.

While discord with her flaming torch confused the counsels there, from out the sunset realm a champion came and bade defiance to the oncoming host. With the strength of youth, and the wisdom of age, with knightly mien and matchless speech, he towered above his peers and all who saw him then with one accord did hail him "Chief," and gave our party's banner to his hand. Slowly despair gave way to hope; confidence took the place where timorous fear had been; the broken and shattered columns formed again, and behind him singing came 6,500,000 valiant men to that unequal fight.

And the story of how well he fought, how fearlessly he fell, and how dearly the enemy's victory was bought, has all gone out into history now.

Back from his "First Battle" he came, a baffled but unconquered hero of the rights of man. Conscious of the rectitude of his purpose, and cheered by the belief "that no issue is ever settled until it is settled right," he cheerfully acquiesced in the result of that campaign, and girded his loins for the next great contest between the dollar and the man.

For four years he has waged an unceasing warfare against the people's enemy; for four years he has held up the party's standard and his voice has cheered the hosts of democracy in every state and territory. When the trusts began to increase under the protection of a republican administration, he was the first to point out the danger and prescribe a remedy.

When the alarums of a war for humanity roused the heroic spirit of our land, he offered his sword to his country's cause on the day that war was declared.

When later he saw the administration departing from the ancient landmarks of our institutions, in its enchanted dream of empire and militarism, he was the first to raise a warning voice, and resigning his commission on the day the treaty of peace was signed, he threw himself into the contest for the rescue of the republic.

Realizing that imperialism, like the fabled Artseus, was born of earth, and that contended with upon the selfish worldly plane of greed and gold it was of giant strength, and if thrown down would rise again refreshed from contact with its mother element, he, like the mighty Hercules, raised it above the sordid sphere from which its strength was drawn and on a plane of lofty patriotism he strangled it.

With the issues now clearly drawn, no doubt remains as to the name of our candidate. On that question we are a reunited democracy.

Already worthy allies differing from us rather in name than faith, have shouted for our gallant leader again, and every state and territory has instructed its delegates to this convention to vote for him here. So it only remains for Nebraska to pronounce the name that has been thundered forth from the foot of Bunker Hill, and echoed back from Sierra's sunset slope, and that reverberates among the pine-clad, snow-capped hills of the north, and rises up from the slumbering, flower-scented Savannahs of the south; and that name is the name of William Jennings Bryan, her best loved son.

Mr. Oldham caught the fancy of the convention by his statement that the government of this country is "bounded on the north by the constitution, on the east by the Monroe doctrine, on the south by the Declaration of Independence and on the west by the Ten Commandments."

As he approached the close of his address he raised both hands high over his head and spoke slowly and with an energy that caused his voice to penetrate into every corner of the hall.

The Answering Cheer.

"And-that-man-is-William Jennings Bryan," he concluded, bringing his hands lower with each word until the last had been uttered, when he brought them up with a sweep, but quicker than his motion was the answering cheer that swept across the convention. It was a simultaneous roar from all parts of the hall. Up went the delegates upon their chairs, over their heads went the flags, and above them all soared and rang the cheers for Bryan. The band loyally permormed its share, but the noise of its creation was but a drop in the torrent. The men from the state of Nebraska flung up a large banner bearing the likeness of Mr. Bryan.

Round the hall started the Nebraska men with their huge banner, and catching up their state emblem the other delegations took up the march, waving flags and hats and cheering at the top of their voices without cessation, save for the breath necessary to a fresh outburst.

The two women delegates from Utah joined in the parade, one of them carrying a small silk banner of white, upon which was inscribed "Greetings to William J. Bryan from the Democratic Women of Utah."

It was a demonstration fully equal in fervor to anything that had preceded. Twenty-seven minutes had elapsed from the instant Mr. Oldham had mentioned the word "Bryan" until the cheering had subsided and the convention was in order again.

Perkins' Seconding Speech.

Arkansas yielded to Texas and Mr. Perkins began a speech seconding Mr. Bryan. He said:

The democracy of Texas comes to this convention desiring one thing only—the election of William J. Bryan to the presidency in November. To them this seems the one thing of supreme importance. But today the issues for the campaign of 1900 are made up. The platform adopted at Philadelphia and Kansas City cannot change them. To meet and act upon the issues which exist, and which are coming, requires true greatness. For that, genuine, true, open, honest, courageous manhood is the only foundation. Without it there may be superiority, but no greatness. We know the man we advocate. He came and mingled with my people. They have studied him—watched him in the various relations of life. They found that he was endowed with manhood in a high degree. Had they not, no Texas vote would have been for him. They are old-fashioned, and make this the first, but not the only test. They found also that, in intellectual culture; in the profound knowledge of the theory of government, and of the details of its administration; in love for his people and patriotic devotion to his country, this man was the peer of the greatest statesman of the best days of the republic. They do not indulge in hero worship. The hero's claim to greatness rests upon past achievements. He may or may not deserve the honor. Besides, Texans follow not those who flaunt their own deeds before the eyes of the world, and strut the platform for applause. But the manly man, who comes forth to fight the present and coming battles of the people, him they honor, and him they trust.

The hour has come when such an one is needed. For now, the theory of the republic is called in question. Individual liberty and local self-government are gravely challenged. Not so much by words as by deeds.

On all issues the republican party has committed itself and the government to un-American combinations of power. For these it stands, and against them is William J. Bryan. He favors a tariff for revenue only, so adjusted as to burden and injure none. It favors a high protective tariff, so laid as to burden the millions and benefit the few. He favors fair dealing and individual freedom in commerce. It favors governmental encouragement of trusts and combinations of capital, that controls the markets of the world and lessens the employment of labor. He favored intervention in behalf of humanity and liberty in the Cuban war for independence. Its opposition and protests were heard until our volunteer boys shouldered arms and followed the flag to the Spanish war, and were only silenced forever when over the seas from Manila and Santiago came the shouts of victory and the acclaim of a people freed from tyranny. He went to the front as an ordinary volunteer soldier, with those who deserved the best the nation could furnish.

It negligently permitted unscrupulous dealers to supply the army in the field in a disgraceful way and to fatten upon the blood of those who died for liberty.

He, with the soldiers and sailors, silently served his country. It permitted the bureaucrats, dwelling in ease and comfort of the navy department at home to wag their tongues and pens, in an attempt to dim the glory of him who sunk the Spanish fleet off Santiago harbor.

He favored honest, straightforward dealings with the people of the Philippine islands, such as was used by the great admiral while he held the chief command. It blundered and blustered and bullied, until it showed the world the spectacle of the great American nation engaged in a conflict with a lot of misguided and half-armed natives who courted a soldier's death, because they classed us with the blood-stained tyrant, Spain.

He has continued to demand in the name of right and justice, that they should be told that we tender them the blessings of peace and freedom. It has answered this demand by continuing its policy, and by cabling home the sad and silent death rolls of the boys in blue.

He has always advocated reliance upon the local constabulary in time of peace, and upon the volunteer soldiers in time of war. It, following the lead of the military-ridden countries of the old world, has demanded a large increase in the standing army.

He insists that the letter and spirit of our proclamation of intervention in behalf of the Cubans must be honestly and faithfully kept. It has tarnished the glory of that proclamation by commissioning, in some instances, small politicians to teach that people self-government, who have even fallen so low as to filch postage stamps.

He declares that freedom follows the flag.

It declares that trade follows the flag.

Thus the issues culminate.

Bryan, and the republic.

McKinley and a governmental trust.

Let those who love their country choose. For me, and for the unwavering democracy of the state of Texas, which I have the honor to represent, we do now and will in November, stand for William J. Bryan, for the constitution, and follow the flag, the emblem of liberty.

On motion, Mr. Bryan was nominated by acclamation. A scene of wild confusion and enthusiasm ensued. The delegates rose from their seats and cheered repeatedly. Then they began a grand march around the hall. The state standards were held aloft in the air, and the cheering delegates marched up and down and around the aisles. The spectators in the galleries joined in the cheering. Cries of "Bryan—he's all right" rent the air.

When order was finally restored, a motion to adjourn until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning was put and carried.

Hill Receives an Ovation.

Ex-Senator White of California then took the platform. He was heard distinctly, his big voice filling the hall, and at each of the telling points in his address applause broke forth.

Colorado gave way to Illinois and Judge Thompson took the platform, while the audience again cried for "Hill."

Judge Thompson did not take the ten minutes allotted him and when he finished Connecticut yielded for David B. Hill. Even as the state yielded the convention took up the cry which had been on its tongue for two days. Flags waved and the delegates rose and cheered with the audience. The men in New York wearing the Tammany badges were the only delegates who kept their seats. When the vast audience was seated, he began to speak, slowly, but clearly, and the attention given him was remarkable. The vast hall was almost perfectly silent. His laudation of Bryan was received with applause and cheers and when he said Bryan "will have the suport of a united party" the convention went wild.

"His integrity has never been questioned," asserted Mr. Hill and the audience yelled "That's so."

His explanation of his position on the platform and his acquiescence with the will of the majority called for heartier applause than had been evident before.

"This nomination will meet the approval of the east," he said, and enthused his auditors. In closing, he said:

"New York expects to join with you with her thirty-six electoral votes," and then, as he stepped down from the platform, the convention became a bedlam again.

"Hill for vice president," was one of the cries raised, and delegates all over were on their feet, except the five rows of Tammany men.

When order was restored, the secretary of the convention proceeded with the call of the states. Tenent Lomax of Alabama briefly seconded the nomination.

W. B. Moore of North Carolina followed.

Senator Daniel of Virginia followed, in a speech strongly eulogizing Mr. Bryan.

In quick succession followed John H. Atwood of Kansas, J. L. Fuqua of Louisiana, Blair Lee of Maryland and Thomas E. Barkworth of Michigan.

Ohio's Seconding Speech.

There were no more seconding speeches until Ohio was reached, when W. C. Baker took the platform. He was followed by Former Governor Pattison of Pennsylvania and Governor McMillin of Tennessee.

F. W. Maloney spoke for Vermont. Then came L. G. Dohmrich for Wisconsin.

Charles Slater of the District of Columbia spoke for a minute.

John H. Wise spoke for the Hawaiian delegation.

Mrs. Cohen of Utah made the conroll of states on the ballot for presidential nomination, the shouts of approval of the unanimity of the vote seemed to increase until the convention fairly palpitated with enthusiasm.

The announcement of Chairman Richardson that Mr. Bryan had been nominated for president of the United States unanimously, was received with great applause, but it did not compare with previous demonstrations during the day.

Chairman Richardson then announced that the convention had adjourned until 10:30 tomorrow.

DEMOCRATIC PLATFORM.

Kansas City, Mo., July 7.—Following is the platform unanimously adopted by the democratic national convention:

"We, the representatives of the Democratic party of the United States, assembled in national convention on the anniversary of the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, do reaffirm our faith in that immortal proclamation of the inalienable rights of men and our allegiance to the constitution framed in harmony therewith by the fathers of the republic. We hold with the United States Supreme court that the Declaration of Independence is the spirit of our government of which the constitution is the form and letter.

Imperialism Characterized.

"We assert that no nation can long endure half republic and half empire, and we warn the American people that imperialism abroad will lead quickly and inevitably to despotism at home."

The Porto Rico law is denounced, the Cuban policy of the administration is condemned and independence for the Filipinos is promised.

Opposes Expansion by Force.

"We are not opposed to territorial expansion when it takes in desirable territory which can be erected into states in the union and whose people are willing and fit to become American citizens. We favor trade expansion by every peaceful and legitimate means, but we are unalterably opposed to the seizing or purchasing of distant islands to be governed outside the constitution and whose people can never become citizens.

"We are in favor of extending the republic's influence among the nations, but believe that influence should be extended, not by force and violence, but through the persuasive power of a high and honorable example.

Imperialism to the Front.

"The importance of other questions now pending before the American people is in nowise diminished, and the Democratic party takes no backward step from its position on them, but the burning issue of imperialism growing out of the Spanish war involves the very existence of the republic and the destruction of our free institutions. We regard it as the paramount issue of the campaign.

Insists on Monroe Doctrine.

"The declaration in the Republican platform adopted at the Philadelphia convention, held in June, 1900, that the Republican party 'steadfastly adheres to the policy announced in the Monroe doctrine' is manifestly insincere and deceptive. This profession is contradicted by the avowed policy of that party in opposition to the spirit of the Monroe doctrine to acquire and hold sovereignty over large areas of territory and large numbers of people in the eastern hemisphere. We insist on the strict maintenance of the Monroe doctrine, and in all its integrity, both in letter and in spirit, as necessary to prevent the extension of European authority on this continent and as essential to our supremacy in American affairs. At the same time we declare that no American people shall ever be held by force in unwilling subjection to European authority.

Militarism Is Defined.

"We oppose militarism. It means conquest abroad and intimidation at home. It means the strong army which has ever been fatal to free institutions. It is what millions of our citizens have fled from in Europe. It will impose upon our peace-loving people a large standing army and unnecessary burden of taxation and a constant menace to their liberties. A small standing army and a well-disciplined state militia are amply sufficient in time of peace. This republic has no place for a vast military service and conscription. When the nation is in danger the volunteer soldier is his country's best defender. The national guard of the United States should ever be cherished in the patriotic hearts of a free people. Such organizations are ever an element of strength and safety. For the first time in our history, and coeval with the Philippine conquest, has there been a wholesale departure from our time-honored and approved system of volunteer organization. We denounce it as un-American, un-democratic and un-republican, and as a subversion of teh ancient and fixed principles of a free people."

After pronouncing trusts to be intolerable and condemning the Dingley law the text of the platform continues:

Reaffirms 16 to 1.

"We reaffirm and indorse the principles of the national Democratic platform adopted at Chicago in 1896, and we reiterate the demand of that platform for an American financial system, made by the American people for themselves, which shall restore and maintain a bimetallic price level, and as part of such system the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of silver and gold at the present legal ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation.

Wants National Bank Notes Retired.

"We denounce the currency bill enacted at the last session of Congress as a step forward in the Republican policy which aims to discredit the sovereign right of the national government to issue all money, whether coin of paper, and to bestow upon national banks the power to issue and control the volume of paper money for their own benefit. A permanent national bank currency, secured by government bonds, must have a permanent debt to rest upon, and if the bank currency is to increase with population and business, the debt must also increase. The republican currency scheme is therefore a scheme for fastening upon the taxpayers a perpetual and growing debt for the benefit of the banks. We are opposed to this private corporation paper circulated as money, but without legal-tender qualities, and demand the retirement of the national bank notes as fast as government paper or silver certificates can be substituted for them.

"We favor an amendment to the federal constitution providing for the election of United States senators by direct vote of the people, and we favor direct legislation wherever practicable.

Arbitration is urged as the means for settling industrial disturbances, and a department of labor, with a seat in the cabinet, is advocated.

Liberal pensions are promised to soldiers.

The construction of the Nicaraguan canal by the United States is demanded, and the Hay-Pauncefote treaty denounced.

Statehood is held out for New Mexico, Arizona and Oklahoma.

Sympathy is expressed for the Boers in their struggle for liberty and independence, and the reduction and repeal of present war taxes are demanded.

The Boer plank is as follows:

Jefferson said: "Peace, commerce and friendship with all nations; entangling alliances with none." We approve this wholesome doctrine and earnestly protest against the republican departure which has involved us in so-called politics, including the diplomacy of Europe and the intrigue and land-grabbing of Asia, and we especially condemn the ill-concealed republican alliance with England, which must mean discrimination against other friendly nations and which has already stifled the nation's voice while liberty is being strangled in Africa.

Believing in the principles of self-government and rejecting as did our forefathers, the claim of monarchy, we view with indignation the purpose of England to overwhelm with force the South African republics. Speaking, as we do, for the entire American nation, except its republican office-holders, and for all free men everywhere, we extend our sympathies to the heroic burghers in their unequal struggle to maintain their liberty and independence.

EMPEROR SUICIDED.

Prince Tuan Compels Him and the Empress to Take Poison.

SHANGHAI, July 6.—Emperor Kwang Su committed suicide by taking opium under compulsion of Prince Tuan on June 19. The empress dowrger also took poison but was still alive though reported insane from the effects of the drug. The above has been reported to the German consular staff.

LONDON, July 6,—A dispatch received from Shanghai dated July 4 announced that the British legation at Peking with 1,600 refugees, was still safe when the message was sent.

PARIS, July 6.—The French consul at Che Foo telegraphs that a Chinaman who left Peking June 25 reports that all the ministers and residents were then assembled at the British legation, and the German, French and Japanese legations were guarded by their own detachments. The other legations, the custom house and missions had been burned. The foreign troops had lost six men killed and six wounded, including the commander of the British detachment.

LONDON, July 6.—The oft repeated story of the massacre of all the whites in Peking is being retold with a circumstantiality that almost convinces those who have hitherto refused to credit the sickening tales. The only hopeful feature of the evil news is the fact that it comes from Chinese sources at Shanghai, but it is realized that even if the tragedy has not yet been enacted, it cannot long be delayed unless help comes from unknown sources. Even the holding of Tien Tsin against the overwhelming hordes now seems to be a very remote possibility, while the safety of the other treaty ports is seriously threatened.

THE WORST IS EXPECTED.

Small Hope for Foreigners Even if Not Already Dead.

LONDON, July 7.—In response to the inquiries cabled to Shanghai in regard to the situation at Pekin, the following was received from an authorative quarter:

SHANGHAI, July 5.—"Prepare to hear the worst."

TIEN TSIN, July 7.—Those best informed in Tien Tsin consider the position of the foreigners in Pekin as almost hopeless. It is hopeless to attempt to try to deliver them with the force available. The commanders are willing to resort to desperate means, but to attempt a forced march from Tien Tsin with the forces at hand means certain destruction to the army, besides the slaughter of civilians left at Tien Tsin. Enough soldiers must be had necessary to defeat the Chinese army, maintain communication with a base of supplies and guard the hospitals enroute. A water supply is an important problem in the country furnishing none except river wells, which are being poisoned. The Chinese are committing terrible atrocities upon the wounded. They are mutilating all the dead which fall into their hands.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

DES MOINES, July 9, 1900.

Hon. Smith McPherson, judge of the federal court of the southern district of Iowa, was in the city a few days ago for the first time since taking his oath of office. While in the city he announced the appointment of Miss Grace Woolson as his private secretary and also confirmed the announcement of the appointment of William Hampton as court bailiff. He will not remove to Des Moines, as it has been rumored, but will make his permanent headquarters at Red Oak.

In an opinion recently submitted to the executive council by Attorney General Remley it was held that building and loan associations have no right to contract an indebtedness, other than the stock authorized to be issued in accordance to law. This is a question that has been causing trouble to the executive council. In amending their articles of incorporation many of the building and loan, and savings and loan associations have been insistent in demanding from the council that they be allowed to provide for indebtedness other than the stock. In some instances, they have asked that the limit of indebtedness which they should be allowed to contract, should be placed at as high a figure as 75 per cent of the stock. The council opposed this as illegal, and to settle the question finally asked for an opinion. Mr. Remley's opinion leaves no doubt on the subject. He comes out in flat-footed terms and opposes the legality of the method of contracting indebtedness such as the companies propose.

Harry West has returned from New York, where he went to meet the parties with whom he is negotiating for the organization of a company which will operate the packing house properties in Des Moines. Mr. West said: "As a result of my trip I can say confidently that the packing houses will be opened this fall and operated during the winter season to their capacity. The company will be composed of experienced packing house men who have been engaged in the business for years, know the markets and have an outlet for their product and who will have sufficient capital to carry on the business. Further than this I cannot give out a great deal of information at this time. One of the gentlemen who will be interested in the project, and who will be at the head of the institution, is now effecting a settlement of his affairs to come to Des Moines to give the business his personal attention, and until he closes this matter he does not want to be known in the packing house deal."

The probabilities are that practically all of the brick for the top or surface course of about seven miles of brick paving to be laid in Council Bluffs this year and next spring, will be furnished by Des Moines brick makers. The first order has been placed with the Capital City Brick and Pipe company for all the bevel edged brick it can supply this season and the company expects to deliver about 3,000,000 brick before cold weather sets in. It is expected that other orders equally as large will be placed with the Flint and Iowa companies and that the delivery will be commenced in ten day or two weeks.

The work will necessitate the use of several times as many brick as have already been ordered and it is considered almost certain that the orders for the balance will be placed here in a short time. Altogether the order is one of the largest ever placed with Des Moines brick makers and will keep the plants fairly busy for the balance of the season, though it will not tax their capacities and the manufacturers are out for more orders in other cities in which paving will be done this year.

The big orders come at an opportune time. The paving brick industry, because of litigation and the large amount of work that has been completed in the past three or four years, has been unusually dull during the past two seasons and the yards have been running largely on orders for builders. But this season the building brick trade has not been as good as it was last year and the indications were, up to the time the Council Bluffs orders were placed, that some of the yards would have to run short time or close down until stocks on hand were disposed of.

General Byers has received a message from the quartermaster general at Washington to the effect that the state will receive back the tentage with which the volunteers were furnished when they entered the United States service in 1898. The tentage has already been ordered shipped to Des Moines from the depots at St. Louis, Chicago, and St. Asapeth, Va. This will insure the guard good tent tentage at the encampments, and is regarded as an important accession to the quartermaster's stores of the state.

BLOODY PRICE PAID BY ENGLAND

Total Death Losses in South Africa Campaign Are Nearly 30,000.

LONDON, July 5.—The war office has issued a report of the British casualties in South Africa since the beginning of the war. The total losses, exclusive of sick and wounded, have been 29,706, of which the killed in action were 254 officers and 21,403 non commissioned officers and men; died of wounds, 70 officers and 610 non-commissioned officers and men; missing and prisoners, 65 officers and 2,624 non-commissioned officers and men, died of disease, 133 officers and 4,204 non-commissioned officers and men invalided home, 844 officers and 18,431 non-commissioned officers and men.

Bad Soap Ruins Clothes

But Maple City Self Washing Soap preserves them, whitens them and sweetens them. Try it. All grocers.

One pleasant companion is worth a shipload of commonplace fellow travelers.

FITS Permanently Cured. No fits or nervousness after first day's use of Dr. Kline's Great Nerve Restorer. Send for FREE $2.00 trial bottle and treatise. DR. R. H. KLINE, Ltd., 931 Arch St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Understanding is the path that leads to forgiveness.

Eat What You Like,

When you take Morley's Liver and Kidney Cordial, for then dyspepsia, indigestion, heartburn, foul breath, dizziness, and the long train of similar troubles will disappear, and your cleansed and awakened system will demand food. Sound digestion and sound appetite go together, and both follow the use of this time tried remedy. Ask your druggist.

Reason is a man s guide, but princip·l is his safeguard

Are You Using Allen's Foot-Ease?

It is the only cure for Swollen, Smarting, Burning, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

It isn't the bravest soldier boy who shoots the biggest firecrackers.

Stung by a Centipede.

Mrs. Thos. Saunders, Bluffton, Tex. was stung by a centipede. A doctor was sent for, but before he arrived some sensible friend wet a piece of brown paper with Morley's Wonderful Eight and applied it to the wound. The doctor said his services were not needed, for the poison was neutralized or killed by the Wonderful Eight. Mrs. S. did not suffer from the wound. Sold by agent in every town.

The dearest child is the one too young to know that there is more to a circus than the parade.

Ask your grocer for Russ' Bleaching Blue, do not be deceived by fraudulent imitations, see that the name Russ appears on all packages.

Get angry occasionally if you must—but keep your mouth shut.

Maple City Self Washing Soap

Is guaranteed pure and will not injure the finest fabrics. Please try it. All grocers.

Why should a clock be arrested for striking the hour.

Cure that Dandruff

by using Coke Dandruff Cure. We guarantee it to cure or refund the money.

The person who likes to hear himself talk should buy a phonograph.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

To be a woman is fully as desirable as to be a man.

AN OPPORTUNITY TO VISIT THE EAST

Pleasantly and economically is afforded by the tourist tickets on sale via the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Ry. on and after June 1st.

Chautauqua Lake, Niagara Falls, the St. Lawrence River, White Mountains and the Atlantic Coast Resorts

are among the more important points reached. Summer edition of "Book of Trains" showing specimen tours will be of interest in arranging for your trip. Sent free on application to F. M. BYRON, G. W. A., 144 Van Buren Street, Chicago.

THE NEW TWENTY-SIX HOUR BOSTON TRAIN

Is now in service.

Over 100 Premiums Free!!

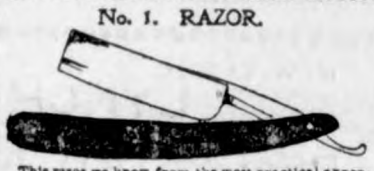
WITH

McLAUGHLIN'S XXXX COFFEE

Complete premium list and instructions in every package. McLaughlin's XXXX Coffee is worth 5 cents per pound more than any other packaged coffee and costs no more. It is always uniform. Try this Coffee and you will never use any other. McLaughlin's XXXX Coffee sold only in 1 lb. sealed packages.

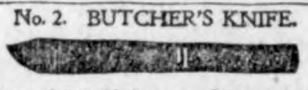
W. F. McLAUGHLIN & CO., Chicago, Ill.

No. 1. RAZOR.



This razor we know from the most practical experience to be the best. Read the following: "This is to certify that I have used the two razors offered by McLaughlin & Co. as premiums, and shave my best customers with them, and I guarantee them to be first-class razors and far superior to the razors given as premiums by other package coffee houses. AARON ETTELSON, Barber, Sherman House, Chicago. Attested to by I. NEWMAN VAN PELT, Notary Public for Cook County, State of Illinois. Dec. 13, 1899. A razor sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 50 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 2. BUTCHER'S KNIFE.

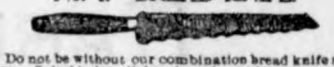


Very useful for kitchen use. Blade of the best quality steel, rosewood handle. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. stamp and 20 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 3. CARVING SET.

Knife and fork, genuine stag handles; length of blade eight inches, made of crucible steel. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 90 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 4. BREAD KNIFE.



Do not be without our combination bread knife and saw. Suitable for slicing bread, cutting meats and ham. The back can be used for sawing the bone. Blade is 9 inches long, made of crucible steel. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 14 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 5. Child's Knife and Fork Set.

Three handsome pieces of artistic workmanship. Handles are heavily embossed, perfect in every respect, and packed in fancy lined box. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. stamp and 35 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 6. SPOONS.

These are handsome teaspoons ornamented with a double design; embossed handles and made of first-class material. Come six in a package. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 30 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 7. HOUSE SCALE.

With scoop. A most practical scale for all purposes; handsomely enameled and striped. Weighs 24 lbs. by ozs. Occupies but little space and can be regulated by turning the brass screw on top. Sent by express, charges prepaid, on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 200 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers. When ordering be sure to give your nearest express office as well as your post-office.

No. 8. HAIR CLIPPER

Full nickle plated, cuts ⅛ of an inch; concealed spring; two extra springs with each clipper. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 100 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 9. LADY'S PEN KNIFE.

Two blades made of fine steel; fancy pearl handle; highly polished. Sent postpaid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from one face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 10. Gentleman's Knife.

Made of fine quality steel; stag or ebony handle; steel lined; highly polished; small pen and large spear blade. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 35 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 11. JACK KNIFE.

Ebony or rosewood handle; steel lined; highly polished; pen and spear blade. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 12. PARING KNIVES.

One complete set consisting of three different paring knives; best quality steel blade; enameled handle; no better paring knife made; Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 35 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 13. EMERY KNIFE SHARPENER.

Has steel guard and wooden handle; emery fastened with steel running full length of sharpener. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 20 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 14. SHEARS.

Eight inches long; made of fine quality steel, evenly tempered and will give the best of satisfaction as a cutter. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 15. SCISSORS.

Six inches long, made of fine quality steel; evenly tempered and will give the best of satisfaction. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 16. HARMONICA.

Here is something that will please the young as well as the old folks. A beautiful, silver reed harp containing thirty-two holes; nickle covers; if properly played will sound like a church organ. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 17. FEATHER BOA.

These elegant boas are just what every lady needs. They are now the rage in Paris and New York. Made of the finest feathers. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 40 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 18. Lady's Belt Buckle.

Suitable for sash or belt, of filigree work, cluster center richly enameled in colors on gold. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 20 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 19. BAND RING.

This is a handsome hand chased and raised gold wedding ring of very pretty and unique pattern; cannot be told from solid gold; will stand thorough acid test, is made on the same principle as the lines filled watch case and is warranted for five years. Measure your size on the ring scale. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 18 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

NOT IN A TRUST

No. 20. Parisian Diamond Ring.

This swell glove ring is now all the rage. Set with a genuine Parisian diamond. This stone is an excellent imitation of the genuine diamond, and its brilliancy cannot be equalled by anything but the genuine diamond; settings are 14K gold and warranted for 2 years' wear. Measure your size on ring scale. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 21. Lady's Pocket Book.

Made of the very best seal grain one piece leather with ornamental embossing. Has two regular and one card case compartments. Currency compartment leather lined. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 22. COIN PURSE.

Made of fine kid leather with solid nickle riveted frame and is full leather lined. Sent post paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 23. HAT PINS.

These are very stylish pins, set with jewels very brilliant and showy; will not bend or break; two pins in set and a very useful addition to any lady's jewel case. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 10 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 24. Neck-Tie Pins.

Ladies or gentlemen cannot get too many pretty tie or stick pins. These illustrated here are the very latest; set with Parisian cut stones very brilliant and handsome; designs horse-shoe or cluster; made of the very best rolled plate settings and warranted. Either of these sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 28. TRIPLICATE MIRROR.

Size of each mirror 8x4 inches. Handsomely encased and bound with nickle covers; length when opened is 11 inches; useful and ornamental at the same time. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 35 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 29. Dewey Combination Set.

For both ladies and gentlemen; consisting of a pair of handsomely chased and engraved, new style, link cuff buttons; three engraved beauty pins for shirt waists; one set of four collar buttons, consisting of one ball top button for the front, neck-tie holder for the back and two lever buttons for the sleeves; also a pair of plain cuff buttons for round cuffs. Warranted for one year. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 30. Tourists' Folding Curling Irons.

The most perfect folding curler made. the joints are fitted with springs which securely hold the handles in various positions; simple, durable and perfect in operation. Nickle plated, antique oak handles, especially adapted for heating over lamps, gas, etc. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 35 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 31. LADY'S APRON.

Made of fine quality of white lawn with wide strings and fancy lawn insertion; size 30x36 inches. sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 32. CORSETS.

Extra fine, long jean corset made of the very best material and modeled after the very latest patterns. Colors—white, grey and black. Sizes, 18 to 30 inches, waist measure. In ordering be sure to mention size and color. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 100 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 33. Gentlemen's Handkerchiefs.

Four hem-stitched with colored borders. Size 18½x18½. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. stamp and 20 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 34. PIPE.

Genuine French briar, large size bull-dog shape, with vulcanite push stem. This stem has a double draft which divides the smoke and cools it; cannot possibly burn the tongue. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 30 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 35. Ladies' Handkerchiefs.

Six handkerchiefs with colored borders. Size 12x13 inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 20 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 36. Lady's Brooch.

The latest Parisian and Cluster Brooch; set with a very pretty colored center stone surrounded by Parisian diamonds, very handsome and brilliant. Made of the very best quality of rolled plate. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 18 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 37. DOLLS.

Fancy dressed dolls with movable arms and legs. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 50 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 38. PAPER DOLLS.

These dolls are by far the best ever gotten out and comprise eight dolls to the set. A set of these dolls could not be bought for less than 75c. They are in two sets, A and B. When ordering be sure to state which set you want. Sent on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 50 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

Vocal Music.

This is absolutely and positively the latest, best and most popular collection of twenty-five pieces of music ever offered, and it is only by special arrangements, and purchases of immense quantities, that we can give our friends the privilege of selecting from this strong and attractive list. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

39. My Coal Black Lady.
40. My Baby Liz.
41. My Gal is a High Born Lady.
42. Just One Girl.
43. Mister Johnson turn Me Loose
44. All Coons Look Alike to Me.
45. I Love You in the Same Old Way.
46. Because.
47. Johnny, My Old Friend John.
48. Wedding of the Lily and the Rose.
49. The Picture That is Turned Toward the Wall.
50. Her Eyes Don't Shine Like Diamonds.
51. Honey You's My Lady Love.
52. Just as the Sun Went Down.
53. Think Once More Before We Part.
54. Simply Friends.
55. Mamie My Darling.
56 Back Among the Old Folks Once Again.
57. Mammy, Mammy Come Tell Me that You Love Me.
58. Mammy's Little Pumpkin Colored Coons.
59. Darktown is out To-Night.
60. When You aint got no Money You Needn't Come Around.
61. Who's Dat Say Chicken in dis Crowd?
62. Honey that I Love So Well.
63. Zizzy Zi Zum Zum.
64. You Got To Play Ragtime.

No. 65. GOLD FACED CLOCK.

Height 6 inches; finely finished in French satin gold plating; has a fine American movement, constructed like a watch and guaranteed to be a good time keeper. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 118 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 66. GENTLEMAN'S WATCH.

Has extra fine works, in solid nickle-silver case; genuine American movement. Balanced jeweled, handsome porcelain dial, stem wind and stem set; will last a lifetime and guaranteed to keep correct time. This watch is manufactured and guaranteed by one of the largest watch factories in the United States. This watch is far superior in every respect to watches offered as premiums by other package coffee houses. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 200 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 67. PATRIOTIC ALARM CLOCK.

Nickle-plated, runs thirty hours with one winding; beautiful lithographed dial illustrating McKinley, Dewey and all the heroes of the late war. Made by one of the largest factories in the United States and guaranteed to keep good time. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 100 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 110. NECKTIES.

Here is something every man likes. In the latest stylish patterns and made of the best silk; serge lined, assorted colors; come in the following designs: teck, four-in-hand, string tie and bow tie. Be sure to mention which design you want. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 30 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 111. Elf Playing Cards.

Made of fine linen stock, highly enameled and finished, size 2 13-16x1 15-16 inches. They are peculiarly adapted to patience or any game where the space within which to play is limited, and on the other hand are large enough to be used for any game at home. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 112. Scientific Diamond Box Kite.

Modeled after the Hargrave type. The most successful style of kite. Used by the United States Government in measuring phenomena at high elevations. Flies higher than any other kite. Directions enclosed with each kite. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 40 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 113. Lady's Bracelet.

The Nethersole pattern, now so popular; of heavy twisted wire; Etruscan effect and heavily plated. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 15 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 114. Lady's or Gentleman's Umbrella.

This is a silver trimmed, seven rib, steel rod, Paragon frame, Congo handle umbrella; made of silk and linen twilled, with case and tassel. When ordering be sure to mention whether a lady's or gentleman's is desired. Sent either by post or express prepaid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 170 "McLs" cut from face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 115. LADIES' GARTERS.

One pair in a box. Supporters made of silk face web, with nickel safety pin top, and nickle button and loop fasteners, all colors.

Band Garters made of silk face web, with fancy buckle and silk ribbon bows. When ordering state which of these you want. Either sent postpaid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 26. Algerian Table Mat.

These can also be used for pillow covers. They are inlaid with gold tinsel; are made in very pretty designs and will be an ornament to any lady's parlor. Size 9x18 inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 35 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 27. ALGERIAN TABLE SPREAD.

This spread is simple and artistic and is made by the skilled workmen of Algeria. They come in very pretty designs and are inlaid with gold tinsels. These goods were first introduced at the World's Fair and have been the rage ever since, commanding fabulous prices. Size 40x40 inches. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 50 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 28. VEGETABLE SLICER.

For slicing apples, pears, bananas, potatoes, beets, cucumbers, turnips, radishes, cabbages, etc. Various novel and attractive designs are produced—perforated flutings, plain flutings, banana chips, shoe strings, etc. Positively no waste, anybody can use it. Sent post-paid on receipt of a 2c. stamp and 50 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

No. 115. LADIES' GARTERS.

One pair in a box. Supporters made of silk face web, with nickel safety pin top, and nickle button and loop fasteners, all colors.

Band Garters made of silk face web, with fancy buckle and silk ribbon bows. When ordering state which of these you want. Either sent postpaid on receipt of a 2c. postage stamp and 25 "McLs" cut from the face of XXXX coffee wrappers.

We Have Sold MORE STEEL RANGES in the last year than all other dealers combined. The reason for this is that we sell The BEST RANGE sold in Minneapolis, as we can get thousands of people using it to testify, and sell it for less money than other dealers ask for an inferior make of Range. These Ranges are no experiment with us, as we have sold this one make for more than 10 years and our customers who have used them the longest are loudest in their praise. We will Guarantee them in every manner, shape and form, we do not ask for any loop hole, if they do not work perfectly we will take them back and refund purchase price. Hotel RANGES a Specialty. Stove catalogue free.

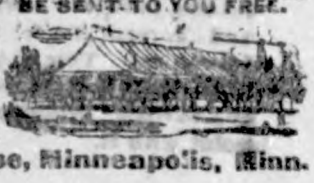
No. 125—4-hole RANGE oven 14x20	$14.10
No. 135—4-hole Range, oven 14x20, high shelf.	17.00
No. 128—4-hole Range, oven 14x20, high closet	19.00
No. 134—6-hole Range, oven 20x20, plain top..	19.75
No. 136—6-hole Range, oven 20x20, high shelf	21.75
No. 138—6-hole Range, oven 20x20, high closet	23.75
No. 143—6-hole Range, reservoir, plain top...	24.75
No. 148—6-hole Range, reservoir, high shelf..	27.75
No. 148—6-hole Range, reservoir, high closet.	30.00

T. M. ROBERTS' SUPPLY HOUSE, MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

TENTS.

New tents complete with poles and pins from $2.00 up. We have all kinds of tents, including barn tents, all kinds of FISHING OUTFITS AND ALL KINDS OF SPORTING GOODS. It will pay you to send us two cents and have us mail you FREE our complete gun catalogue. The Gun Catalogue, containing 116 pages, and the Lowest Wholesale Prices on guns, ammunition of all kinds, including fishing rods, poles, baseball goods tents and all kinds of camping outfits. We sell more guns, ammunition and tents than ALL THE REST OF THE HOUSES IN THE NORTHWEST COMBINED. Why, simply because we make the price on them. If you have not one of our gun catalogue, send for it at once.

SEND 2cts. AND GUN AND TENT CATALOGUE WILL BE SENT TO YOU FREE.



T. M. Roberts' Supply House, Minneapolis, Minn.

PETROLEUM

As an Exterminator of Mosquitoes and Malaria.

Now that the greater part of the medical profession has agreed on the high probability, if not the practical certainty, that the germs of malaria cannot find their way into the human system without the aid of one of the numerous families of mosquitoes, the Anopheles, devices for warding off the attacks of the always hated insects have become matters of the deepest interest. Even if, as was formerly supposed, the creatures were mere summer nuisances, relentless destroyers of comfort and temper, means of escaping from their persistent attentions would be hailed with the sincerest joy in most parts of the world, but since they have been accused and almost convicted of being the sole carriers of the infection to which no small fraction of the sum total of human illness and death is due, the announcement that their extermination over considerable areas is neither expensive nor difficult can hardly fail to receive eager attention. Just this announcement is made by two Italian doctors who have been conducting prolonged experiments in the town of Sassari. Their work consisted in ascertaining the different places in and around the town—drains, cisterns, puddles and the like—where mosquitoes passed through the larval stage, and then, by the use of petroleum, applied twice a month, rendering such of these places as could not be abolished uninhabitable for the insects. The products of overlooked breeding places were next destroyed—in shops with chlorine and in dwelling houses with any of the well known cullicides. From the highly successful results attained it was concluded that the town was not in exceptionally unfavorable surroundings, not in the midst of extensive swamps, that is, can always be freed from mosquitoes. The estimated cost for town of 50,000 inhabitants is from $200 to $300 a year, including the wages of the staff needed to carry out the measures prescribed.—New York Times.

BLOW-LINE FISHING.

Offers Advantages Not Possessed by "Invisible" Line Methods.

"Some fishermen dislike a heavy line," says an old fisherman, "believing that it is more easily seen, and consequently alarming to the fish. I am convinced that this is an erroneous impression, however, as if a proper length of leader be used and the fly correctly handled it is impossible for the fish to see the line, not to mention the enormous advantage in accuracy and distance obtainable in the cast, particularly in a wind. A line which has never to my knowledge been used locally is known as the blow line. I should have tried it long since for lake fishing were it not for the difficulty in obtaining one and my failing to remember this fact until too late each year. The line is constructed of very loosely woven silk, and is very light and porous. The fisherman proceeds to that shore of the lake from which the wind blows, armed with a very long, stiff pole (not rod), some live grasshoppers, willow or May flies and a small hook attached to a long gossamer leader. The bait is impaled on the hook and the pole given a quick jerk upward, throwing the line directly overhead, where the wind catches it and blows line, bait and all well out into the lake, where the bait struggles in an enticing manner. I believe the method to be a deadly one, and hope to try it some day, if my memory improves."

Chicken Lawsuit in Kansas.

As a result of a quarrel over some chickens which refused to lay eggs, two residents of Coffeyville, Kan., have become involved in a remarkable lawsuit. Janson Brophy, the plaintiff, avers that his neighbor, Needham Weeks, presented him ten hens and two roosters in February last and assured him that the hens would lay upward of sixty eggs a week. Brophy fed and cared for the chickens for ten weeks, "devoting most of his time to them, to the detriment of other interests," but the hens failed to lay any eggs. The plaintiff alleges that he was unlawfully deceived by the defendant and seeks to recover $100 damages for his wasted labor and for his expenditures for chicken feed.

Magnet Removes a Drill.

In boring a deep well in Germany the hardened end of a steel drill broke off at a depth of 1,000 feet. As it was clearly impossible to drill out the hard steel, it was necessary either to remove it or abandon the boring. It was removed in a highly ingenious way. A soft iron bar, five feet long and two and one-half inches in diameter, was wrapped with a single layer of India rubber covered wire, thus making it an electromagnet. The bar, with wires leading to it, was lowered into the hole and current from a small dynamo turned on. This magnetised the bar, which was then carefully drawn up to the surface, bringing the steel drill-point with it.

FORECAST OF FASHIONS.

The new piques are attractive both in quality and coloring, and in the shades of blue, old rose, brown, tan and pink are notably fine. They are shown in dots, stripes and checks, in bright colors or in black and white, and are, therefore, appropriate and becoming to young and old.

Linen and cotton are combined with many handsome silk gowns. A pretty corn-colored silk bodice has collars and cuffs of white linen, with applications of black velvet. Embroidered cream batiste is very dainty with silk or cotton gowns of contrasting shades. It is much worn as yokes.

A pretty little corset cover is made of half inch moire ribbon in pale blue and lace the same width. The ribbon and insertion are set in on the bias in the back, meeting in a center seam. The front is also bias and is gathered in at the waist with a narrow blue ribbon set under a band of insertion.

On some of the English waists there is a variety of new sleeves. There is a flaring cuff, slashed on either side, which comes down almost to the wrist, and inside this is a pretty little undersleeve of fine tucked muslin and lace insertion. There is a band made of three tucks on either side of a strip of the insertion. The sleeve is short and droops well over the hand.

Among the many charms that are seen is a bangle that may be worn in many ways. It is a little old-fashioned doll with the stiffest of arms and legs and the face of the bauble to represent the crudely marked white china face of the children used to play with. The charm doll is about an inch long, with a ring in its head and a more senseless charm it is hard to find.

FUNNYGRAPHS.

"I see the telephone wire is down between your house and Griggsby's, Jones." "Yes; his wife and mine have been exchanging cutting remarks again."

"There can be no happiness before death," said the sage. "Right!" cried the frivolous young Greek. "I'll never be happy till that rich old uncle of mine is dead."

Bachelor—You always say yes, whatever your wife may propose, but you never do what she wants you to do? Benedict—O, that does not matter, as long as I do not contradict her?

Mrs. Naggin—Cheer up! Don't be so grumpy. It's so strange you men will get that way, while we women are invariably happy and hopeful. Mr. Naggin—Why shouldn't you be? You haven't any wives to bother you.

"Is your husband ill?" asked the visitor. "Yes. He went out in a horseless carriage for the first time. I told him to be careful, but—well, he's feeling all broke up to-day." "One of his old bilious attacks?" "No, not one of the old ones; this was an automobilious attack."

"The trouble about Nero," remarked Senator Sorghum, "was that the people around him didn't know how to manage him. All that was needed was a little tact and diplomacy." "What would you have suggested?" "I would probably have gotten the capitalists together and made arrangements to present him with a block of stock in every insurance company in Rome. Then he wouldn't have had the heart to set fire to the town."

REVISING GOLDEN RULE.

"Who is that neighbor who uses our telephone so much?" "Oh, she's the woman that made such a row about the poles going down in her alley."—Indianapolis Journal.

Biggs—"That man Dobbs is going around telling lies about you." Boggs—"I don't mind that, but if he begins to tell the truth I'll break his neck."—Boston Transcript.

Mrs. Bunt—"The new tenants next door are not a bit neighborly." Mr. Bunt—"No; I notice they keep their confounded piano going almost constantly."—Philadelphia North American.

He—"Do you mean to tell me our new neighbors have been next door to us for a whole week, and you don't know yet what sort of people they are?" She—"Yes, but I'll be able to tell you when you come home this evening. This is their first wash day."—Philadelphia Press.

Once upon a time there was a boy whose neighbors were all sordid. These neighbors would not suffer the boy to destroy their property, no matter what the occasion. So the boy grew up without ever having achieved any Halloween pranks to speak of. 'Alas!" cried the boy, when he had become an obscure and unimportant man, "we are what circumstances make us!" This fable teaches us to be kind to children.—Detroit Journal.

HIGH LIGHTS.

Moonlight nights are too bright for burglars and for lovers.

MISS ANTHONY'S ARGUMENT.

Cause of Disrespect Shown to School Teachers.

Miss Susan B. Anthony, the veteran woman suffragist, has always had a lively wit, and there is more than one example in her recent life, by Mrs. Ida Husted Harper, of her nimble use of it in the behalf of her sex. During her experience as a schoolteacher Miss Anthony got her first practical insight into society's injustice to woman as a worker. Repeatedly she would take a school, which a male teacher had been obliged to give up because of inefficiency, and although she made a thorough success would receive only one-fourth of his salary. Her first opportunity of calling attention to the injury done the teaching profession by slighting its women members came during the state convention in 1853. Two-thirds of the teachers in attendance were women, but not one of them spoke, nor was their presence recognized in any way by the men. Toward the close of the second day the question under discussion was "Why the profession of teacher was not as much respected as that of doctor, lawyer, or minister." Miss Anthony, having listened for some time, rose, but only succeeded in gaining a hearing after half an hour's heated debate as to whether she should be permitted to address the meeting. She had remained standing, fearing to lose her chance, with her heart beating a tattoo, and permission being granted she said: "It seems to me you fail to comprehend the cause of the disrespect of which you complain. Do you not see that so long as society says that woman has not brains enough to be a doctor, lawyer, or minister, but has plenty to be a teacher, every man of you who condescends to teach tacitly admits before Israel and the sun that he has no more brains than a woman?" As may be imagined, this little bomb was disconcerting to men and women alike.—Youth's Companion.

INTERESTS DRUNKARDS.

Vaccination May Enable Us to Drink Rum.

It seems that the advance of medical science may yet allow a man to be vaccinated for the "rum habit" so that he will be immune. Not immune in the way that a "Keeley graduate" is—with a lost desire for drink—but in such a manner that he will be able to drink enough to kill an ordinary man and not suffer any ill effects. Dr. Reynold Webb Wilcox, in writing of "Recent Advances in Medical Science" in the International Monthly, says: "The work of Ehrlich showed that the antitoxins may be produced in the blood by successively increased doses of ricin and abrin. Maramaldi applied the same line of reasoning to alcohol. Increasing doses of ordinary alcohol, well diluted, were administered to dogs through an oesophageal tube until tolerance was established for a larger than an ordinary lethal dose. The blood serum of these animals was employed in the experimentation. His conclusions were: (1) It is possible to confer a real immunity on dogs by administering progressively increasing doses of this poison, ultimately reaching very large doses without producing functional disturbances or organic degenerations. (2) The serum of such a dog rendered immune to alcohol, contains a special antitoxin, capable of neutralizing the toxic action of a dose of alcohol one-fourth larger than the minimum fatal dose. (3) Normal blood serum does not possess the power of augmenting the organic resistance to alcohol, much less does it explain the curative action in acute poisoning."—New York Press.

Greatest Maker of Violins.

Antonius Stradivari was considered to be the most famous maker of violins that ever lived. He was descended from an old family at Cremona, where he was born in 1644. During his entire career he made between 600 and 700 violins, for none of which did he ever receive more than $25. Now a genuine Strad will sell for $10,000, and one is in possession of the city of Genoa (presented to the city by Paganini, one of the most famous violin players on record), for which the city authorities have been offered as much as $150,000, but they refuse to sell. A violin is said to have been made by him when he was 92 years of age, but his best instruments were made from about 1700 to 1725. Stradivari died at Cremona in 1737, aged 93.—London Answers.

Damage by Fleas.

A Wiesbaden landlord brought an action in the Oberlandergericht (the Court of Appeals), for damages caused to his property by fleas, alleged to have been introduced into the building by the tenant's Newfoundland dog. No less an expert was called by the court than Prof. Teschenberg, of the Univesity of Halle. He said that it was impossible at that late date (the German court had been too long in calling up the case) to determine what kind of a flea had invaded the premises, and therefore it could not be proved that the dog was the cause of the nuisance.

MID-SEASON SALE.

PARISIAN PATTERN PRODUCTIONS.

OF FINEST MILLINERY.

We are bound to reduce our stock and from now on Price cuts no Figure. The goods must go regardless of cost or profit.

RIBBONS at YOUR OWN PRICE

This i s not a Cleaning out sale of old odds and ends, but a sacriffice sale of everything In the store.

IT BEGINS TO-DAY

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

M. W. LYNCH, :: M. S. GILMAN

LYNCH & GILMAN,

STROUD, OKLAHOMA,

REAL ESTATE AND LOAN BROKERE.

WHY PAY RENT?

OWN YOUR OWN FARM!

It is the highth of folly for a man to pay exhorbitant rents when he can go to Oklahoma and buy a fine farm at from $5 per acre up. Well watered; near good markets; mild and healthful climate and crop failure unknown. Plenty of natural timber and coal. We have for sale a well selected list of choice improved and unimproved farms and would like to talk with you. Excursions 1st and 3rd Tuesday of each month. NOW is the time before the "SNAPS" are all taken. For rates terms, excursions etc., call on or address, M. S. GILMAN, Klemme, Iowa, or M. W. LYNCH, ST. LOUIS HOTEL, STROUD, OKLAHOMA.

H. W. SCHOPER,

FARM MACHINERY,

Buggies and Wagons, Corn Planters, Corn Plows, Champion Binders and Mowers.

TWINE.

Dream of Wealth Came True.

St. Joseph (Mich.) Cor. Chicago Record: Miss Lulu Auguire of Muskegon, formerly of this city, a few nights ago dreamed she had fallen heir to a large sum of money. She has since received word from relatives in California that an uncle has died, leaving her and her sister $150,000, to be divided equally between them. The uncle was John Marti of San Jose, Cal. Miss Auguire is an orphan, and for the last two years has picked berries here for a living.

Half the misery in this world comes from our having too little courage or too much.

Some women live on excitement and some live on getting up excitement for others.

The pessimist likes torrid weather because he knows that optimists are getting their share.

As a man grows older he gets just as contradictory and obstinate as he was when he was young.

An intellectual woman is one who won't take care of any other woman's poodle while the other woman goes away on a summer trip.—Chicago Record.

Monument to Dwight L. Moody.

The monument to Dwight L. Mood, at Round Top, Northfield, Mass., will be of the best Milford granite, and will stand four feet above its foundations Its simplicity is in accordance with the wishes of Mr. Moody, who did not believe in elaborate monuments, either for himself or others. It is being built under the direction of W. H. Moody, the evangelist's son, and the scriptural quotation which it bears is said to have been one of the greatest favorites of Mr. Moody. On it are the words: "He that doeth the will of God abideth forever."

Hello There!

Where are you going?

To Pietzke's Blacksmith Shop, for he's the man to go to for good work and at right prices. At the old stand.

Klemme, Iowa.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN ONE NIGHT.

Or to quickly cure La Grippe take "Week-Break-a-cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

TO CURE A COLD WHILE YOU SLEEP.

Take "Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

PATENTS DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE
Notice in "Inventive Age"
Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address, E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained and all Patent business conducted for MODERATE FEES.
OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U. S. PATENT OFFICE and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.
Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured.
A PAMPHLET, "How to Obtain Patents," with cost of same in the U. S. and foreign countries sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.

OPP. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME V. KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, JULY 19 1900 NUMBER 50

IMPERIALISM.

Imperialism may serve as a campaign scarecrow, but before the harvest of votes is garnered next November, the people will recognize that it is but a thing of straw.

Imperialism presupposes an empire, and the magnificent domain over which our lovely banner flies is imperial in its beauty, in its products and in its extent. Such a wealth of hill, mountain, plain and prairie, such an abundance of crystal lakes and such a network of commerce-bearing rivers were never before bestowed upon any people. Every State is an empire; every country is a principality, for which, as true Americans, we are proud, and for which, as Christians, recognizing God as the God of nations, we should be deeply grateful.

This domain has been given to us by a power that is higher than any party or policy, though the Repub. party was called into being in order to protest and battle against the division of this mighty empire, which Democracy declared, in the press, in its platforms and on the bloody battlefields, should be divided. To this extent the charge of imperialism can with truth be made against the Republican party. Abraham Lincoln was the embodiment of that imperial idea, and a martyr to the cause of one flag, one country, and one imperial destiny.

Imperialism, if it means anything the Democracy would have the people believe, implies an emperor, a dynasty, a throne, a crown and a scepter.

This feature of imperialism, by no stretch of partisan misrepresentation, can ever be charged against our honored President and candidate for Presidency. He was the choice of the people; he was honestly elected in a constitutional manner and has been so loath to oppose the will of the people, as expressed by legislation enacted by congress, that in four years of his Administration he has vetoed but four bills. He will serve his two terms as many other good Presidents, both Democratic and Republican, have done, and then will give way to his successor, chosen as he was chosen, by the free votes of a sovereign people.

The partisan accusation of imperialism, when translated into plain everyday English, in the light of the history made during the brilliant administration of President McKinley, is simply this: The Republicans declare that it is their policy not to blindly abandon the islands transferred frow Spanish to American sovereignty by the treaty of Paris. The Democracy, so far as it has a policy, would have the master nation builder of the world abandon its plain duty, furl our triumphant flag and hunt an easy future rather than a working future. Porto Rico, recognizing the fact that she can not stand alone, does not wish to become an independent power, and the only thing possible is for the United States to continue its sovereignty, which is Republican, or to invite Spain to re-enter the Western Hemisphere and commence anew her policy of misrule, of robbery and extortion from which we have delivered Cuba. To plant the customs of the seventeenth century in the dawn of the twentieth century is Democratic. This is the logical conclusion when the Democratic cry of the Democratic platform is analyzed.

The same is as true of the Philippines as of Porto Rico. Will the Democrats dare to fix a date for the evacuation of either? They are under the flag of the Republic, and there they will remain. This means work and thought and statesmanship for the people of the United States, but it means blessing and liberty, justice and opportunity for the islands placed under our care by solemn treaty obligations that were approved by the Senate of the United States, and urged by Mr. Bryan. Methods of administration and of government are legitimate objects of party differences. But annexation is a fact. It is for all purposes as much an accomplished fact as is the abolition of slavery, another Republican measure for which that party was hated and misrepresented.

The people will learn that imperialism, as employed by the Democrats, means that they would have the country shirk its duty, turn its back on destiny, count all bloodshed as lost, furl the flag and withdraw its protection from people who need it to-day more than ever before in all their history.

The charge of imperialism, when properly translated means duty. And the party of Lincoln, of Grant, of Harrison, and of McKinley, is willing to be charged with doing its duty no matter how hard the duty may be. Stripped of all glamor, the Democrats have entered upon a flag-furling campaign. They condemn expansion, yet welcome Hawaii, because its one vote alone enables them to again attempt to overthrow the stable currency of the country. They decry "imperialism," yet shout themselves hoarse over an Hawaiian "prince." They are welcome to all the votes and glory they can make out of such duplicity and treachery, which will nasuate but never deceive the true American people.

The Supreme court of the United States is still doing business at the same old stand.

It is rather a pity that the Hon. Billy Sulzer could not be a Vice-President. The office would compel keeping his mouth shut.

Four years ago the Democratic party favored an income tax. This year it didn't. There are too many Democratic millionaires now.

Bets of 4 to 1 that McKinley will be re-elected President have already been made. A New York Republican, who had $10,000 to wager, at 3 to 1, found no enthusiastic Democratic takers.

The Democratic party is no longer drawing inspiration from the memories of Jefferson and Jackson. These names are not to be appealed to in conducting an anti-expansion campaign.

Ex-President Cleveland is still disgusted with the Democratic party because of its 16 to 1 plank. What he thinks of his former partner, Adlai Stevenson, for running on that plank is not recorded.

The Nebraska Colonel-Orator's ideas concerning the Philippines are about as clear as his ideas about finance, both being more seaviceable for campaign purposes than as a working basis for government

It may be assumed with a good degree of confidence that this campaign will not be as profitable for Mr. Bryan as was the last. The people will be slow to part with their good money to hear hard luck stories.

Foreign governments pay to their merchant ships over 26,000,000 in subsidies and bounties and as result these foreign ships monopolize the carrying of 62 percent of our foreign carrying and draw from the United States $200,000,000 a year in payment. Republicans propose to remedy this by subsidizing Americans ships to compete with the subsidized foreigners, but this the Democrats oppose, having nothing to propose in its stead but the purchase of foreign (chiefly British) ships with which to build up an Americans merchant marine.

DEATH OF SENATOR JOHN H. GEAR

United States Senator John H. Gear of Iowa, died at Washington, Saturday morning, June 14, at 4 o'clock a. m., of heart failure. The story of the life of Senator Gear, says the Cedar Rapids Republican, is the simple tale of a brave and good man who did his duty, and died in doing it. It is difficult to measure at this time the good that was crowded into the years of public and private life. Every where in the state he will be missed. No man in puplic life in Iowa lived nearer the people than Senator Gear. he was their friends at all times aud under all circumstances. The last years of his life at Washington, as a senator from Iowa, were filled with acts of kindness and courtesy towards his constituents. They all felt free to write to him for aid, and that aid was always given freely and promptley, To this hundreds will testify. Only a day or two ago a citizen of Cedar Rapids received a letter from Senator Gear stating that the favor asked of him had been looked after and the thing he desired would be accomplished in a few days.

It was concerning a pension for an old soldier. The matter had been under way for months, but seemed to have come to a standstill. The senator was appealed to and within a week the man received notice from the proper department that his pension had been granted.

This is only one among a thousand of the deeds of the dead senator. Such instances of prompt and efficient help to the humble and lowly and deserving can be found all over the state.

For this trait of his character alone Senator Gear will live and be remembered in Iowa.

Nor did the senator ever forget a face or a name. He possessed that valuable faculty of always knowing you after he had once met you.

"Old Business" as he was familiar known both within and beyond the state of Iowa, had perhaps more personal acquaintance in the state than any other man

The announcement of death will touch and saddeu many, many hearts whose hands have grasped his own in days gone by.

In every county in the state of Iowa hundreds will say "I knew him well," and many will be the eyes of the pioneers and of the younger generation that will glisten with the tears of grief at his departure.

The citizens of Iowa knew him so well that it is not for any one to tell them of him. They knew him as a sterling man of fine judgement and great common sense and of such genuine and interesting character that his friends were devotees. It may be said, in fact, he won through personal friendships.

He served long and well and his lease of public preferment survives the measure of his great, good life, the memory of which is added that rich legacy inherited by the grateful people of our state from its distinguished public servants.

Bargains in Summer Goods. Call and see our Bargain Table.
E. P. SCHAEFER.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO
FOR SCREEN DOORS
LUMBER,
LI E, STUCCO, AND CEMENT.
EVERYTHING IN BUILDING MATERIAL.
NORTHERN LUMBER CO.
L. G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

FOR FINE PRINTING
COME TO
THE TIMES OFFICE.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST. ....SCHOOL SUPPLIES.
WALL PAPER,
Paints, Oils, Alabastine, Window Shades and Everything used to Decorate and Beautify the Home.
WATCHES, CLOCKS and JEWELRY.
DRUGGISTS' SUNDRIES. J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

BANDIT ESCAPES IN FIGHT.

Wounds Officer in Pistol Battle on Roof in St. Louis.

ADMITS HAND IN HOLD-UP.

Decoy Telegram Results in His Capture by Detectives—Prisoner Confesses to Details of Crime Near Wickliffe, Ky.—Outlaws Not All Caught.

St. Louis, Mo. July 16.—After a running fight with revolvers over housetops in Finney avenue in the aristocratic west end residence district between Charles M. Murray, chief of the Illinois Central railway detectives, and two men, supposed to have robbed the train near Wickliffe, Ky., George W. Barnes was arrested here. John Nelson, the other man wanted, escaped. Forty shots were exchanged before the fugitive escaped. Blood spots along the sidewalk indicate that he was wounded. Murray was hit in the arm and thumb. He was removed to the Mullanphy hospital, where his wounds are pronounced serious but not necessarily fatal. Throughout the encounter Nelson displayed wonderful nerve. When trapped in his house he refused to surrender and jumped from a third-story window into his back yard, not knowing that detectives were concealed there. He alighted uninjured and got to his feet in time to draw his revolver on an approaching detective. Both fired at the same time. Nelson then turned and fled, firing and receiving the fire of the other detectives, who pressed close upon him. He ran through an alley and then to the railway tracks, where he disappeared.

Barnes was taken in his home by means of a decoy telegram. He went quietly with the officers and this afternoon confessed that he was one of the men who participated in the robbery of the train. He implicated Nelson, who escaped, and one Dyer, who came here from San Francisco. The robbers secured about $10,000. Barnes made no statement as to what became of the money. He says the plot was hatched in St. Louis. Barnes admitted he went to the scene of the robbery on an Illinois Central train and was joined there by Nelson and Dyer. When the train which they had decided to rob approached they flagged it. He covered the fireman with a revolver, while Nelson and Dyer went through the express car. Mrs. Barnes and Mrs. Nelson will be subjected to a further investigation by Chief Desmond. It developed that Nelson and Barnes are cousins.

Robber Saved Messenger's Life.

G. F. Hickox, an express messenger, who was in the car that was robbed, called at the Four Courts at noon and partially identified Barnes. He told a story about his life having been saved by one of the robbers and stated that he felt under obligations to the bandit. Hickox said Barnes resembled the man who interfered and saved his life, but he could not identify him positively. Mrs. Barnes called on Chief Desmond. She told him her husband had left the city Tuesday, July 3, and returned Thursday night. She did not know where he had been, she said. Mike Conley, alias Doyle, who confessed to Chief of Police Mahoney at Cairo, Ill., that he was one of the three men who held up the train at Wickliffe, said he met the others at St. Louis, where the robbery was planned. He had known the men about one year. A couple of weeks ago they wrote him to meet them in St. Louis, where they arranged the details of the plot. Since then he has been in Carbondale, Ill., and other places. His description of one of his partners fits that of Barnes, who is tall and thin.

Fugitives on a River Boat.

Right after the robbery Special Agent Murray and his men went to work on the case. At Cairo, when Conley was arrested, the detectives ascertained that Barnes and Nelson had taken a catboat on the river near Cairo and were making their way up the stream. The deserted the boat at St. Genevieve and boarded the Iron Mountain train for St. Louis, arriving in the city Thursday night.

Memphis, Tenn., July 14.—A report from Fulton, Ky., states that two more alleged Illinois Central train robbers have been captured.

Says He Robbed Safe.

O. P. Dillon, an operator employed by the Illinois Central Railroad Company, in Storm Lake, Iowa, disappeared three days after the robbery of the American Express Company's safe two weeks ago, and who was arrested early today, confessed to Assistant General Manager Robert M. E. Cowie of the express company that he broke into the express office and took $1,000 worth of blank express orders, money and other valuables from the safe.

Shingle Storehouses Burn.

St. Paul, Minn., July 16.—Fire destroyed five large and three small buildings formerly occupied by the Chicago Great Western railway as repair shops at South Park, just outside this city, and in addition destroyed about 300 carloads of shingles, causing a total loss estimated at $200,000. The buildings had been used as a storehouse by the Coast Shingle company.

President Has Quiet Day.

Canton, O., July 16.—The President had a quiet and restful day. He took his usual drive and spent much time enjoying the cool breezes that swept over his porch. There were no official and no political visitors and only a few calls. Colonel Webb C. Hayes has joined the family at the house for a visit.

GOLD DEMOCRATS SHUT OUT.

W. D. Bynum Explains the Obstacles in New York.

Washington, July 12.—"The gold Democrats will not put a ticket in the field this year," said W. D. Bynum, of Indiana, chairman of the gold Democratic executive committee in 1896. "We can not get our electors on the official ballot in New York because no votes were cast for the party candidate for governor in 1898, and the state law requires that a certain number of votes shall have been cast for state officers in the preceding election before the nominees of any party can go on the official ballot in the pending contest. Our party organization in New York was abandoned two years ago. The only way we can have our candidates for electors put on the official ballot is by petition of a certain number of voters in each county, an exceedingly difficult thing to do in the present case, as the members of the gold Democratic party have affiliated themselves with one or the other of the old parties on the new issue. New York is the one state where our ticket might do the Republicans some good, and if we can not get on the official ballot there is little use in nominating a national ticket. The new Australian ballot laws in other states also operate against independent movements."

Root Talks of Cuba's Future.

Washington, July 16.—Secretary Root in discussing the coming constitutional convention in Cuba expressed himself quite positively on the question of annexation. He said: "My own experience in Cuba leads me to believe that the desire for independence is both strong and general among the people. I do not think they want annexation, even supposing that we want them. Under the congressional declaration we are in honor bound to give them independence first. If subsequently they wish annexation, that is a matter for them to determine, but it should be determined when they are in a position absolutely independent of us. Even then, as I have suggested, it is a case where it takes two to make a bargain."

DAILY MARKET REPORT.

Chicago Board of Trade.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
Wheat—
July ..	79⅛	79⅛	77⅞	77⅞
Aug ..	79⅞	79⅞	78¼	78⅝
Sept ..	80¾	80¾	79	79¼
Corn—
July ..	44¼	44¼	43¼	43⅜
Aug ..	44⅝	44⅝	43⅜	43⅝
Sept ..	45	45	43¾	43⅞
Oats—
July ..	24	24	23⅝	23
Aug ..	24⅜	24½	23⅞	24
Sept ..	24¾	24¾	24¼	24⅜
Pork—
July ..	.....	.....	.....	12.45
Sept ..	12.67½	12.67½	12.60	12.62½
Lard—
July ..	6.87½	6.87½	6.85	6.85
Sept ..	6.92½	6.92½	6.90	6.92½
Oct ...	6.92½	6.97½	6.92½	6.95
Short ribs—
July ..	6.95	6.95	6.90	6.90
Sept ..	7.02½	7.02½	6.97½	7.00
Oct ...	6.95	7.00	6.95	7.00

Hopetoun Goes to Australia.

London, July 16.—The Earl of Hopetoun, present Lord Chamberlain of the Queen's household, and for some time Governor of Victoria, has been appointed Governor General of the new Commonwealth of Australia.

A Factory Destroyed.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 16.—The Garland Chain works at Rankin, Pa., were destroyed by fire. Loss $100,000. The fire was caused by the explosion of a tank of chemicals.

Brings No Tidings of Peary.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 16.—The bark Calcium, Capt. Smith, from Ivigtut, Greenland, has arrived here with a cargo of cryolite. The bark was expected to bring tidings from Lieut. Peary, who is in the arctic regions in quest of the north pole, but there was much disappointment felt by the crowd which was waiting for the bark at the wharf when Capt. Smith announced that he had no news from the explorer.

Ibsen Is Seriously Ill.

New York, July 14.—A dispatch from Christiania announces the serious illness of Henrik Ibsen, who is suffering from erysipelas.

BRITISH LOSS VERY HEAVY.

Details of Disaster to Lincolnshire Regiment Creep In.

TWO THIRDS OF MEN MISSING.

Attack of Boers at Daspoortfort on Wednesday a Masterly Effort—English Expend All Ammunition and Then Wait Assault with Bayonets.

Pretoria, July 16.—Col. Mahon, reenforced by Gen. French's brigade, took all the position held by the Boers in the neighborhood of Reitfontein. A number of Boer dead were found. The British casualties were trifling.

Details are now at hand regarding the disaster to the Lincolnshire regiment on Wednesday. It appears that five companies were ordered Tuesday to proceed and hold the pass through Magalesburg in the neighborhood of Daspoortfort. They arrived at the pass in the afternoon, where three companies with two guns took up a position and camped for the night, leaving two companies on a plain south of the pass. The eastern hill was rugged, rocky and inaccessible, but further east apparently approachable from the main ridge. At daybreak yesterday the Boers appeared on the eastern kopje and opened a heavy fire. Confusion ensued. The colonel ordered the men to take up a position on a kopje west of the gap.

Under Hot Fire All Day.

From this point a hot fire ensued during the entire day. Two guns, under the escort of the Scotts Greys, placed in advance of the main body, were captured after a stout resistance. Nearly every man was killed or wounded. A Maxim gun was brought into action early in the day. The fire was too hot, and the men were finally forced to retire. A sergeant, aided by seven volunteers, saved the gun. There was a continuous fire all along the line, the Lincolnshire regiment men vigorously replying. About 3 o'clock in the afternoon the Boers appeared to the left of the position occupied by the British. An officer and fifteen men attempted to charge them. Fourteen men were killed or wounded as a result of the charge. Three companies were practically surrounded, but they kept up a steady fire unwaveringly until toward nightfall, when their ammunition had been expended.

Waiting with Fixed Bayonets.

The latest arrival from the scene says that at the moment of his escape the men were taking a good position under cover and with fixed bayonets were awaiting the approach of the Boers. It is understood upon good authority that the Boers have employed armed natives. Two of the natives leaped from cover, when a small party from the Lincolnshire regiment stepped up and demanded their surrender. A soldier stepped forward and shot both of the natives dead. One officer, who succeeded in making his escape, had an encounter with an armed native. It is feared that the losses of the natives were numerous. About thirty of the British struggled back to camp today. According to all accounts a great force is being assembled to prevent further progress of the Boers. Commandant Grobler, who commanded the federals at Nitral Nek, had four guns.

Clery Camps at Witpoort.

Witpoort, Transvaal, July 16.—Gen. Clery's column, which has moved easterly, is now camped here. During the march the mounted infantry engaged 200 Boers, shelling a ridge occupied by the burghers. It is anticipated that this movement will clear the country from Standerton to Heidelberg, as the troops found but one remaining laager, from which the Boers retired hurriedly.

TELL OF THE FIRST HEARING.

Witnesses Recount Jester's Actions When Arraigned.

New London, Mo., July 14.—The fourth day of the Jester trial began this morning. Several witnesses who were present at Jester's preliminary hearing at Wichita nearly 30 years ago testified to his strange conduct at the time of being arraigned. Charles Hazelhurst, who was the first witness called to the stand, testified that Jester was struck dumb in court, and that the session had to be adjourned until he could recover his composure. Azel Gates, the father of the murdered man, corroborated Hazelhurst's testimony, and said Jester's conduct was so peculiar as to create laughter in the courtroom. Attorney Cullen of the defense then asked Mr. Gates if he was furnishing the money for the prosecution, whereupon Attorney Forrest of Chicago said: "The means for the prosecution are furnished by John W. Gates of Chicago, and we are proud of it."

Moonlight nights are too bright for burglars and for lovers.

CATTLE DIE BY THOUSANDS.

Herds in the Arizona Deserts Suffer from the Drought.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 14.—Reports from the drought-stricken section of Arizona are to the effect that every water hole and most of the wells have gone dry. In consequence cattle are dying by the thousands and their shrunken frames dot the desert country of Pima, Pinal, Santa Cruz, Yuma, Cochise, and parts of Maricopa counties. The loss to owners of herds can not be computed, as in their present gaunt condition no market can be found. Rarely in the history of the territory has the water in the Gila and Salt rivers been so scarce. Not a drop is reported in the Gila, and there is none in the San Pedro from Benson to its confluence with the Salt river above Phoenix. At Casa Grande the immense reservoir is dry, the supply having long since been exhausted. Crops of alfalfa, barley, and wheat between Florence and Casa Grande, as well as on the Indian reservation at Sacton, where the Pimas dwell, are beyond hope. Added to this all, is the destruction of timber by the forest fires, which continues to rage in the Santa Catalina mountains.

REACH 135,000,000 BUSHELS.

Figure on the Crop in the Three Spring Wheat States.

Minneapolis, Minn., July 16.—H. F. Jones, in a conservative review of the crop situation in the northwest printed in the Journal after personal inspection of the fields, predicts that the yield of wheat in the three spring wheat states of Minnesota and North and South Dakota will at the very least reach 135,000,000 bushels, as against 210,000,000 bushels last year, and that with favorable weather during the ensuing four weeks the yield will reach 150,000,000 bushels. This is the highest estimate yet made. Mr. Jones maintains that the soaking rains of the first days of July have worked wonders in the filling out of the wheat. The detailed estimate by states is as follows: Minnesota, 75,000,000; North Dakota, 30,000,000; South Dakota, 30,000,000; total, 135,000,000. This shows that the pessimistic estimates of a 75,000,000-bushel crop in the northwest were never warranted, even in the most critical drought period.

Schreffler Case Falls Flat.

Joliet, July 14.—In the Schreffler trial, Mrs. Edit Zentarski, the prosecuting witness, completely broke down. It was thought her testimony would almost convict Schreffler by itself, but during the cross-examination the witness confessed that she did not know the full nature of the charges against her brother-in-law. None of her evidence was damaging. Attorney Reynolds, for the defense, moved for a dismissal of the case, and Justice Petty will announce his decision today. If he does not grant it, the defense will put Schreffler on the stand, and his version of the case is expected to gain a discharge.

Capt. Healy Tried Suicide.

Seattle, Wash., July 16.—The United States revenue cutter McCulloch returned from Nome minus its commander, Capt. M. A. Healy. The latter is confined in the marine haspital at Port Townsend. Returning from Dutch Harbor Capt. Healy attempted to take his own life by cutting the arteries of his right arm. The officers of the McCulloch declined to discuss the affair saying the whole matter had been laid before the department at Washington.

May End "Hello" Girls' Job.

Sioux City, Iowa, July 16.—E. A. Clark, manager of the Sioux City exchange of the Iowa Telephone company, is the inventor and patentee of an automatic switch-board which will do away with central offices, and the announcement was made in this city that the Clark Automatic Switchboard company had been incorporated at Providence, R. I., with a capital stock of $1,500,000 for the manufacture of the switchboards.

Sweetheart Sees Him Slain.

Dana, Ind., July 16.—Melvin Ingram was killed by Tot Darnall in a quarrel over Ethel Sims, to whom both were paying attentions. Ingram and Miss Sims went buggy riding and they were overtaken by Darnall, who dared Ingram to fight, with the girl as a witness. Ingram got out and was struck with a knife, and as he started to run Darnall followed, cutting him six times. Darnall escaped arrest.

Found Guilty of Contempt.

Lincoln, Neb., July 16.—For publishing in the Omaha Bee an article which the Supreme court holds was written with the intention of influencing the court's decision, in the Omaha fire and police commission case, Editor Rosewater was found guilty of contempt. He was assessed the costs of the case as penalty.

Consul Hay About to Leave.

Cape Town, July 13.—United States Consul Adelbert S. Hay of Pretoria, is about to return to the United States.

CHINESE MUST ANSWER AT ONCE.

Hay's Demands Will be Backed Up by Uncle Sam.

Washington, July 14.—Chinese Minister Wu has undertaken to get through a cipher cable message from Secretary Hay to Minister Conger at Peking, and have the answer brought back if Conger is alive. The message was prepared by Hay, and its contents are unknown to anyone save him. It was sent to Shanghai with explicit instructions from Wu to spare no effort or expense to get it into the hands of Conger. China must answer the demand made by Secretary Hay. Communication must be established between Washington and Peking. "If the Chinese minister," says Secretary Hay, "can get a five hundred word dispatch, then certainly I should be able to get five words from Minister Conger, if what Minister Wu says is true, that Conger is alive." The authorities are not pleased with the action of the Chinese government in sending to its representatives throughout the world a long dispatch in which an effort is made to shift responsibility for the occurrences at Peking, but in which not a word is said about the legations or the ministers. Before the receipt of this imperial edict there was a disposition to believe that the ministers had not been heard from for the reason that the Chinese government itself was unable to get information through the lines of rebellious Boxers surrounding Peking. That excuse now no longer exists. The world has learned that whoever is in power at Peking—be it the empress dowager or Prince Tuan—is able to communicate with the Chinese representatives abroad and the United States and other powers will feel that they have a right to expect and to demand that their representatives, if they are still alive, be allowed to communicate with their governments. They will also expect to be quickly informed if the ministers and other foreigners in Peknig have been murdered.

EXPECT MUCH FROM CHAFFEE.

Friends Sure That He Will Do Quick Work in China.

Washington, July 14.—The plans of the war department for feeding the army in China are being gradually formulated. It has been decided that all troops destined for Nagasaki, with a probability of service in China, shall carry sixty days' rations, which will be landed with them. Transportation for this amount of stores will be furnished at once, so that the American contingent will be able to make a prompt move forward, should it become necessary to act in semi-independence with the allied forces. A great deal of impatience is expressed at the department in the slow movement of the allies, and personal friends of General Chaffee feel confident that if he is given a free hand from Washington he will inaugurate a decided movement immediately on his arrival, in the event that this has not been anticipated by Colonel Liscum, although the latter is handicapped by a very meager force. Manila will be utilized as a base for all supplies, and the commissary department has enough material there to meet any immediate demands from the Chinese contingent. A transport will be put in service for a regular weekly run with supplies between Manila and Taku, seven days distant, which will form the base on Chinese soil.

CATTLE DIE OF THIRST.

Large Rivers Go Dry in California and Unestimated Losses Result.

Los Angeles, Cal., July 15.—Reports from the drouth stricken sections of Arizona are to the effect that every water hole and most of the wells have gone dry. In consequence cattle are dying by the thousands, and their shrunken frames dot the desert country of Pima, Pinal, Santa Cruz, Yuma, Cochise and parts of Maricopa counties. The loss to owners of herds cannot be computed, as in their present gaunt condition no market can be found. Rarely in the history of the terirtory has the water in the Gila and Salt rivers been so scarce. Not a drop is reported in the Gila and there is none in the San Pedro from Benson to its confluence with the Salt river above Phoenix. At Casa Grande the immense reservoir is dry, the supply having long since been exhausted. Crops of alfafa, barley and wheat between Florence and Casa Grande, as well as on the Indian reservation at Sacton, where the Pimas dwell, are beyond hope. Added to this, is the destruction of timber by the forest fires which continue to rage in the Santa Catalina mountains.

FIGHTING IN SOUTH AFRICA.

Boers Continue to Give British Army Something to Think About.

London, July 11.—Late news from South Africa reports the Boers ineffectually atacked General Buller's escort between Sanderton and Heidelberg Saturday as he was returning from a visit to Lord Roberts. The Boers atacked the Ficksburg garrison at midnight Tuesday, but were driven off after forty-five minutes of fighting. General Brabant, July 5, occupied Dernberg, between Senekal and Winburg, which serves as a base for bands assailing the convoys. Colonel Mahon, of Hutton's mounted troops, July 6 and 7, engaged 3,000 Boers east of Broukerspruit and drove them off. The British casualties numbered thirty-three. Commandant Limmer tried to recapture Rustenberg, July 5, but was driven back. The Capetown corespondent of the Standard says, under date of July 9: "The postoffice uthorities have issued a notice that civil mails have been suspended for Johannesburg. This, with the fact that telegrams for Pretoria are refused, causes uneasiness."

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

DES MOINES, July 15, 1900.

There is no longer doubt but the new Auditorium will be ready for the republican state convention, August 1. The big building, which was almost completely destroyed by fire June 17, is now under roof. Rebuilding the walls and putting on the big roof has consumed exactly eighteen working days and the contractors in charge of the record claim the record for Iowa for fast work.

The returns to the state treasurer for taxation of state property this year show the biggest increase in personal property and new buildings in Iowa for years. Estimates from the reports by counties which are almost complete at this date show that there will be an increase in the total valuation of $60,000,000. Of this, $40,000,000 is shown in personal property and the remaining $20,000,000 in new buildings. The assessment, of course, is made upon one-fourth the amount of total valuation, making the real increase in taxes upon one-fourth of $60,000,000, or $15,000,000. The increase in new buildings is perhaps more significant than any other feature of the increase. It is attributed to the railroad boom in various parts of the state during the past two years, and the improvements which have bedanem 123456..6.. have been made in many of the smaller towns. For the increase is not confined to the large counties, many of the smaller ones averaging up with the more thickly populated ones.

The adjutant general's office has returns from a recent election in Company L of Council Bluffs of the Fifty-first Iowa. James E. Mather has been elected first lieutenant and Charles P. Jameson second lieutenant.

Secretary Wesley Greene of the State Horticultural society has completed figures on the percentage of the fruit crop to date, as shown by the returns up to date. According to his figures the crop outlook at the present time is as follows: Summer apples 83, fall apples 73, winter apples 63, pears 30, peaches 50, American plums 80, European plums 43, Japanese plums 39, grapes 66, blackberries 74, red raspberries 50, black raspberries 69.

Clerk Jones of the state supreme court filed with the governor a statement of his position with reference to the controversy over some $4,000 in fees, which he collected as an individual and put to his personal account. It is claimed that he owes these fees to the state, and the governor, on his own and the authority of the executive council, is engaged in investigating the question. Mr. Jones asked to be heard in his own behalf and has filed his statement. He says, in his written document, that he will account to the state for every penny that a tribunal may decide that he owes. He contends that he owns the fees he has collected and placed to his personal acount, and argues and insists that he owes the state nothing. But he is willing to abide by the decision of a competent authority. This is taken to mean that he so strongly believes that he has a right to the fees which have been earned and enjoyed by the clerks of the court from time immmemorial that he would prefer to submit the matter to the courts to decide.

M'KINLEY NOTIFIED.

Senator Lodge Delivers the Address at Canton.

Canton, O., July 13.—Yesterday morning at 11 o'clock President McKinley was officially notified that he had been nominated for the presidency of the United States by the republican party. The committee arrived from Cleveland by special train and were escorted to the McKinley residence immediately afterward by the same executive committee that performed the service in 1896. President McKnley was found on the platform and received the committee in his usual cordial manner. Senator Lodge delivered the address of notification for the committee and was followed by President McKinley in a speech of acceptance.

REMEY ARRIVES IN TAKU.

Foreigners at Tien Tsin Said to be Hard Pressed.

Washington, July 12.—The war department has received the following from Admiral Remey: "Che Foo, July 10.—Arrived here yesterday with two battalions of Ninth infantry and one battalion of marines. Colonel Mead landed today and will proceed to Tien Tsin. The allied forces at Tien Tsin are engaged in maintaining defenses. Ordered Solace here to take sick and wounded to Yokohama hospital. The Oregon will proceed soon to dock at Kure, towed by a chartered steamer and convoyed by the Nashville. Just learned from Admiral Seymour that foreigners in Tien Tsin are hard pressed."

Missionaries Saved.

New York, July 14.—A dispatch to the Journal and Advertiser from Che Foo July 9, says: Great joy reigns in Che Foo, inspired by the safe arrival of every white missionary and every native preacher in the Tien Tsin district hitherto unaccounted for. The steamer Shin Fing of Chinese registry but officered by American and English brought in the refugees. They report that more than 5,000 refugees to Tien Tsin and Taku have been rescued from certain death by the allied forces of the powers.

RED TIN-HORSE

Proved an Attractive Morsel for a Three-Pound Bass.

"Did you ever feel real sorry for a fish?" said a grey-bearded old fisherman as he sat on a log at the edge of a stream and sleepily watched the red and blue cork riding the little waves of the current. "No, I can't say that I have," responded his companion, who was fishing a few yards further down stream. "Everything is fish that gets on my hook, and I don't believe I have ever been sorry for one yet." "Well, you haven't fished long as I have. Maybe your time is coming. Some queer things happen around rivers and lakes, and when you have been as intimate with the finny tribe as many years as I have been you will very likely have seen the fish that you felt sorry for. About twenty years ago I was camping out once on a little lake in Minnesota with my family and a few intimate friends. One day I was just getting ready to push my boat out into the lake for a morning fish. My little boy was sitting near the edge of the water playing with some toys in his lap. His mother was not far away, and anyhow the water was so shallow there that he could have been given only a little wetting if he had fallen in. The boy was most too young to fish, but he knew fish all right and had shown very little liking for them, much to our surprise. Among other trinkets the little fellow had in his lap was a red tin horse about two or three inches long. He was holding this up in the sunlight, waving it about and talking to it. Bright things are extremely attractive to some kinds of fish, you know. Suddenly there was a swish and a swirl in the water just below the boy's feet and a three-pound bass jumped out of the water and landed in the boy's lap. The fish had sprung to swallow the red horse. The fish lay gasping in the child's lap, and the boy looked half scared to death. 'Grab him, Bobby, grab him, quick!' I screamed out at the top of my voice, But evidently Bobby did not hear or he was too badly frightened or too mad to obey me, but the next instant he picked up the fish in his hands, spanked it twice and threw it back in the water."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Boil Milk and Water.

Milk is an admirable food, containing all the elements of nutrition in a form capable of ready assimilation. Contrary to the universal opinion, however, milk is not always well adapted to the use of the sick. A very active condition of the digestive organs is required for the proper conversion of milk, and the digestive fluids of the sick do not come up to this standard. Moreover, the facility with which milk absorbs gases and develops poisonous ptomaines must be borne in mind. It is in this way a ready source of infection, even when drawn from a healthy cow, and there is little doubt that much of the milk in use is not obtained always from healthy animals. Heat is the most satisfactory of all sterilizers, and when milk is boiled it is probably safe. The boiling also renders it more digestible. The first action of gastric juice upon raw milk is similar to that produced by heat, but it requires a very active solvent. Water is also a familiar source of disease, and all that is used for potable purposes should be previously boiled.

Bride of 97 Years.

Probably the oldest bride in the United States is Mrs. Charlotte Brainerd of Tyre, who was married last week to Samuel Decker, aged 75 years, says a Seneca Falls,: N. Y., dispatch. The bride is 97 years of age. She has not been ten miles from home during the past fifty years. She has never seen a train of cars. She first met Decker at a kissing party forty years ago. He then asked her to marry him, but she refused. She says she feels as "young as a cricket."

Damage by Fleas.

A Wiesbaden landlord brought an action in the Oberlandergericht (the Court of Appeals), for damages caused to his property by fleas, alleged to have been introduced into the building by the tenant's Newfoundland dog. No less an expert was called by the court than Prof. Teschenberg, of the Univesity of Halle. He said that it was impossible at that late date (the German court had been too long in calling up the case) to determine what kind of a flea had invaded the premises, and therefore it could not be proved that the dog was the cause of the nuisance.

Penance for yesterday alone will not please God for today.

PISO'S CURE FOR
CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS.
Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists.
CONSUMPTION
25 CTS. 25 CTS.

The big wheel at the Paris exposition is 348 feet in diameter, and its cars seat 1,600 passengers. The Ferris wheel was only 250 feet in diameter.

The Trust Problem

To a thoughtful mind is one of serious import, for it creeps upon society before you are aware of its existence, in this respect much resembling the various disorders which attack the stomach, such as constipation, indigestion and dyspepsia. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the one reliable remedy for all such ailments.

A lean woman and a fat one nearly always envy each other.

There is no need to borrow trouble; it usually comes without asking.

Don't Spoil Your Hands.

And your temper by using inferior soaps. Maple City Self Washing Soap is pure. Try it. All grocers.

Dreamy eyes are usually wide awake when the possessor is wrathy.

A merry laugh makes all who hear it better and brighter.

When a small boy loses his appetite, it is in order to call a doctor.

A true kiss is the resultant effect of a combustion of love and happiness.

Are You Using Allen's Foot-Ease?

It is the only cure for Swollen, Smarting, Burning, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

The gondolas at Venice are rapidly disappearing, giving place to fussy little electric launches.

The average man seems to join a lodge for no other reasin than to furnish a good excuse when he wants to be out nights.

Everybody thinks that if a neighbor's dog bit him, he would kill the dog, but he wouldn't.

Russ' Bleaching Blue makes Brown muslin white in a day. All grocers sell the genuine Russ. Refuse imitations. Sold by all grocers.

Few people would be conceited if they could only see themselves as others see them.

QUAKER REFLECTIONS.

The lawyer who attends to his own business is a sort of legal tender.

In the eyes of the bibulous the fellow who carries a corkscrew is never a bore.

The somnambulist who tumbles from a roof is an illustration of one way to fall asleep.

No, Maude, dear, people who are regarded as the salt of the earth are not to be found in the cellars.

It is a source of consolation to the married man to know that there are lots of bald-headed bachelors.

Some men seem to think that when their wives begin to spoon it means that they are expected to fork over.

The reason a woman can never hold the mirror up to nature is because she is too busy looking in it herself.

Nell—They say she is two-faced. Bell—Yes; I've seen her in the morning before she had a chance to make up.

First Doctor—That sick man is a conundrum to me. Second Doctor—What did you do? First Doctor—I gave him up.

Blobbs—So Bjones has married his deceased wife's sister. Slobbs—Yes; he didn't want to take chances with a new mother-in-law.—Philadelphia Record.

APHORISMS.

Be a philosopher; but, amidst all your philosophy, be still a man.—Hume.

There is no friendship, no love, like that of parent for child.—H. W. Beecher.

To persevere in one's duty and be silent is the best answer to calumny.—George Washington.

Good humor and generosity carry the day with the popular heart all the world over.—Alexander Smith.

To improve the golden moment of opportunity, and catch the good that is within our reach, is the great art of life.—Johnson.

A Sad Fate.

Dora (at the seaside)—"Aren't you engaged yet?"

Clara (disconsolately)—"Indeed, I'm not, and I won't ever be if I stay in this foggy place."

"Why not?"

"I can't keep my bangs in curl long enough for a man to propose."

Thoughtful.

Nervous Lady—"Have you kill'ed many snakes around here this summer?"

Farmer Hayseed—"No, I allers leaves 'em for summer boarders to kill. You'll find plenty o' sport, mum."

An Irish grocer advertises "quart pails of all sizes for sale cheap."

A young man who can't earn his salt is usually much "too fresh."

If you wish to have beautiful, clear white clothes ask for Russ' Bleaching Blue. Refuse imitations. Sold by all grocers.

As a healer of domestic wounds the jeweler is superior to the physician.

The man with a hoe is getting his work in—in the weeds.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

Honey bees are winged merchants; they keep stores and cell their honey.

It pays to do right but one should I s'pose they air too t wash their Care, worry and anxiety whiten the hair too early. Renew it with PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM.

HINDERCORNS, the best cure for corns. 15cts.

Love is not only a sentiment; it is an art.

The poor shoemaker manages to hang on to the last.

Indigestion is a bad companion. Get rid of it by chewing a bar of Adams' Pepsin Tutti Frutti after each meal.

The advice of some people should be acompanied with printed directions for taking.

A wise old lawyer says a cross-examination should be a good-natured one.

When a poor Chinaman, located in the Chinese section of San Francisco, is about to die, his acquaintances hustle him off to the undertaker's shop, so that no time may be lost in preparing him for the grave.

Wedding festivals usually continue for three days in Cairo, Egypt, and dancing, feasting and jollification are unceasing during that time. It is deemed impolite for guests to depart until the close of the third day.

Piso's Cure cannot be too highly spoken of as a cough cure.—J. W. O'BRIEN, 322 Third Ave., N., Minneapolis, Minn., Jan. 6, 1900.

At a Wild West show in Terre Haute one of the sharpshooters accidentally fired into the audience with a short cartridge. The scattering shot wounded seventeen persons, one of whom will lose his eyesight.

A man resembles a wolf; he can change his coat but not his disposition.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is a constitutional cure. Price, 75c.

A mad dog never takes a drink. Some men get mad if they are refused a drink.

Fretting is a perpetual confession of weakness.

Some women give more thought to the selection of a gown than of a husband.

Ladies' Shirt Waists

Are best preserved by using Maple City Self Washing Soap. All grocers.

In Mexico children who have their lessons well prepared are allowed to smoke.

Ladies Can Wear Shoes.

One size smaller after using Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder. It makes tight or new shoes easy. Cures swollen, hot, sweating, aching feet, ingrowing nails, corns and bunions. All druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE by mail. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N.Y.

Ill-gotten gains are never enough to furnish an easy pillow.

Are You Troubled with Dandruff?

If so, get a bottle of Coke Dandruff Cure. All druggists and barbers. $1.00.

Officers regard the quarrels of privates as rank affairs.

It requires no experience to dye with PUTNAM FADELESS DYES. Simply boiling your goods in the dye is all that's necessary.

A man who lacks sense, bitterly objects to it in others.

Good Temper Is a Jewel.

Preserve it, as well as your clothes, by using Maple City Self Washing Soap.

It is hard to find a man who thinks he is worse than he really is.

The Pinkham Record

Is a proud and peerless record. It is a record of cure, of constant conquest over obstinate ills of women; ills that deal out despair; suffering that many women think is woman's natural heritage; disorders and displacements that drive out hope.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

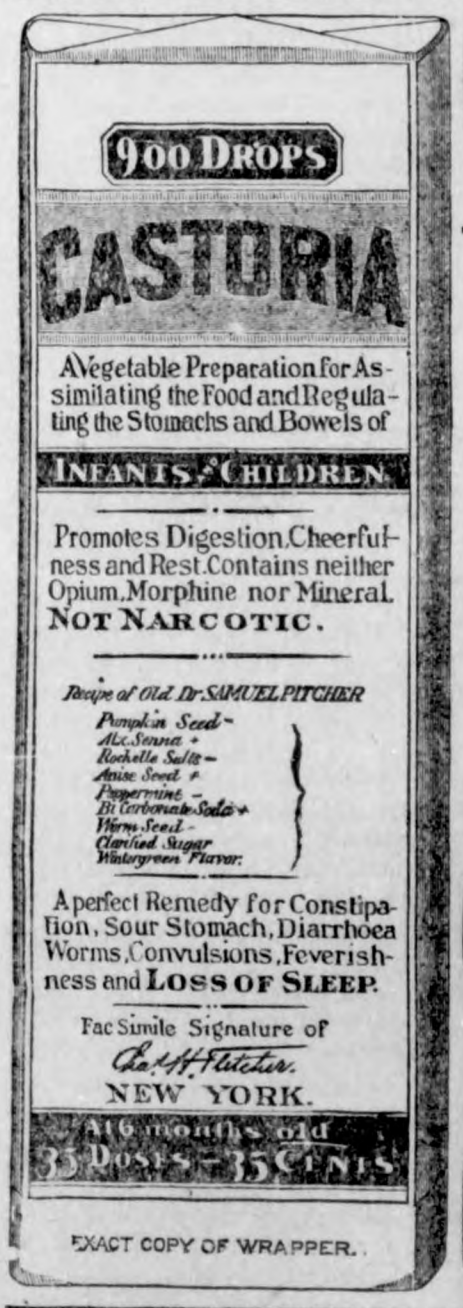
cures these troubles of women, and robs menstruation of its terrors.

No woman need be without the safest and surest advice, for Mrs. Pinkham counsels women free of charge. Her address is Lynn, Mass.

Can any woman afford to ignore the medicine and the advice that has cured a million women?

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

W. N. U., Des Moines, No. 29.—1900.



EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children.

The Kind You Have Always Bought

Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.

In Use For Over Thirty Years

CASTORIA

THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

IRON BEDS AT 4½ CENTS per lb. WE DO NOT SELL Iron Beds by the lb., but this is what our $2.50 Iron Bed would cost per lb. if sold that way. We offer big values in all kinds of furniture. Send for our mammoth new Furniture Catalogue containing Wholesale Prices on all Kinds of Furniture. Three piece Hardwood Chamber Suits, $12.50. Oak Suits for $14.25. Iron Beds from $2.50 up. Full size Couches upholstered in Velour or Corduroy, $5.00. Thousands of these Couches have been sold by us and every one satisfactory. We have a COMPLETE LINE of Extension Tables, Book Cases, Library Tables, Chiffoniers, Cupboards, Sideboards, Wardrobes, Dining Room Furniture, in fact ANY ARTICLE needed to furnish your home. Send for free Furniture Catalogue, size 9½x12½, containing 160 pages. We can save you at least 25 per cent on your purchases.

T. M. ROBERTS' SUPPLY HOUSE, - MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

FINE COFFEE, OLD RIO, 10 lbs. 97 CENTS. 50 lbs. $4.85. Fine Old Santos Coffee, 10 lbs. 97c. We can save you big money on Coffee. We bought this before the advance, several carloads of it, and are giving our customers the benefit of it. Send for our SPECIAL 32-PAGE PRICE LIST giving prices on groceries and thousands of other articles. Postal card will bring this price list. ALL GOODS at Wholesale Prices to Consumers, handled by REGISTERED PHARMACISTS. All kinds of Patent Medicines at wholesale prices to consumers. We will send you this catalogue free for the asking, and it will save you MORE MONEY than any investment you can make, as no goods are sold at the profit that drugs are. 50-PENNY WIRE NAILS, $2.37. THIS IS A SPECIAL BARGAIN CONSIDERING PRESENT MARKET VALUE. For other prices see 32-page free price list. We have an overstock of above sizes. Bargains in Barbed Wire. Price list free.

T. M. ROBERTS' SUPPLY HOUSE, MINNEAPOLIS, MINN.

B. C R. & N. TIME TABLE.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 708.	B Pass.	7:55	p. m.
No. 796	A Stock	9:50	a m.
No. 742,	B Freight	3:45	p. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 701.	B Pass.	1:32	p. m.
No. 741.	B Way freight	9:50	a. m.

B—Daily except Sunday
A—Daily except Monday

☞"Freight trains shown above will carry passengers only when provided with tickets."

F. G. REESE, Local Agt.

WM. H. HUGHES
LAWYER.

Accounts and notes collected. Practice in all courts. Office in Schuler block.

GARNER IOWA.

JAMES YOUNG
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER.

Will cry sales and guarantee satisfaction, 15 years experience. Dates and terms at office of Klemme TIMES.
Telephone or address
Garner Iowa.

J. N. SPROLE,
REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND ABSTRACTS.
Titles examined and corrected, Taxes paid, etc.
GARNER - - - IOWA.

A. L. SPOONER.
Physician and Surgeon.
Office first door west of Shafer & Dow's Store. Residence just back of the German Reform Church. Office hours 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.
Klemme, Iowa.

A. SNYDER,
DRAYMAN.

Having purchased the Bartholomew dray line I solicit a share of your work. Prompt attention given to all work: Charges reasonable.

KLEMME, IOWA.

J. J SUCKOW,
PAINTER, and PAPER HANGER.
First Class work in every way, and our specialty is Paper Hanging and decorating. See me before you contract your work.
Address, KLEMME, IOWA.

AIELT RIEKENS,
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER. GERMAN OR ENGLISH
Will cry Sales and guarante satisfaction
Fine Stock Sales a specialty.
Call on or address at
PAULSVILLE, IOWA

JOHN JOSTEN
PHOTOGRAPHER
Gallery Fitted For Finest Work
In Miniature and Cabinet Sizes.
Enlarging, View and Copying.
PHOTO BUTTONS A SPECIALTY.
☞Give me a call
KLEMME - IOWA.

JOHN BAUMGARTNER.
PROPRIETOR OF
CITY BARBER SHOP.
AN EASY SHAVE. - -
A SATISFIED CUSTOMER
FIRST DOOR EAST OF LAU BROS.
KLEMME, IOWA.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE
BETWEEN
DAUBING AND PAINTING.
We understand our business and guarantee our work.
JOE MILLER,
PAINTER and DEGORATOR.

THE KLEMME TIMES
By G. L. WELLEMEYER.

PUBLISHED EVERY THURSDAY.

Entered at the Post Office at Klemme, Iowa, as second class matter

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern
RAILROAD EXCURSIONS.

GAING TO PARIS.

Then let us give you valuable information segarding your trip. We can render you good service and ticket you right through from all stations on our line via New York and any of the steamship lines. Call on agents of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway, or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

Home Seekers Excursion Tickets will be ot sale the first and third Tuesdays of each month at all staeions of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway Company to various parts of the country at a low rate. Call on any agent of the Cedar Rapids Route or address, Jno. G. Farmer' A G P & T A., B C R & N Ry., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. dec18.

Reduced Rates to the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Reduced round trip rates are now in effect to the nation's great resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas, owned, controlled by the United States Government for the cure of a score of human ills. Beautiful winter, 200 hotels and boarding houses of all grades. Ask nearest ticket agent for particulars, or Mr. John G. Farmer, A. G. P. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia. For illustrated books of information address Bureau of Information, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

A low rate has been named by the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway for the Nation Republican League of the United States at St. Paul, Minn., July 17-19. Call on agents for full information.

The Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern Railway has named a rate of one fare plus $2.00 to Denver and return for the annual meeting of the Y. P. C. U. at that point July 25-30. For full particulars call on any agent of the "Cedar Rapids Route. jul30.

A Round trip rate of one fare plus $2.00 has been named by the Burlington, Cedar Rapids and Northern railway for the Bienial Conclave, Knights of Pythias at Detroit, Mich., August 29 to September 1. Call on any agent for information. aug31.

NEW CHAIR CAR SERVICE.

Between Watertown, Ellsworth and Chicago via. B. C. R. & N. Ry. Commencing Sunday Nov. 19th, a free reclining chair car will be placed on trains Nos. 608 and 605 between Watertown and Chicago by the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. This car leaves Watertown daily, except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. arriving at Chicago 7:59 the following morning. This car runs to and from Sioux Falls Sundays, thus giving daily chair car service between Ellsworth and Chicago. Passengers going east from Chicago will have ample time to make any transfers to connect with all morning eastern trains.

These trains are very fast, and, with this new additional service, passengers can feel assured of first class accommodations. JNO. G. FARMER,
Cedar Rapids, Ia.

As is its custom, the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway has arranged for reduced rates to a large number of important places for the coming summer, among which we mention the following most prominent:

Charleston, S. C.—Annual meeting of the National Educational Association July 7-13.

Cincinnatti, O—Baptist Young People's Union of America July 12-15.

Chicago Ill.—National Encampment G. A. R. August 27-Sept. 1.

Detroit, Mich.—Biennial Conclave Knights of Pythias, Aug. 27-Sept. 1.

Summer tourist tickets will be on sale May 15, to resorts in different parts of the country, and important information can be obtained by calling on any ticket agent or writing to the undersigned. Send for copy of booklet entitled "Okoboji Outing."—Jno. G. Farmer, A G P & T A, Cedar Rapids, Iowa. iul31.

WHITE MAT TURNED YELLOW.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M, A. Hogartp of Lexingtoa Ky., when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly, His malady was Yelloy Jaun dice, He was treated by the best doctors but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by Harr.

TAKE A VACATION.

Special excursion to Colorado and Utah on June 20, July 9-17 and Aug 1. On above dates round trip excursion tickets, limited for return to Oct 31, will be sold to Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Salt Lake City, and Ogden at the low rate of a SINGLE FARE plus $2. Call on any agent of the B. C. R. & N. Ry. for tickets and full information or address, Jno. G. Farmer, A. G. P. & T. A., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. aug. 1

For the Iowa Firement's Anual Tournament at Cedar Rapids, Iowa. Aug. 7-10, the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway will sell round trip tickets at ONE FARE from all points in Iowa.

For full particulars call on nearest agent.

REDUCDD RATES to Burlington, Iowa, via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Nothern For Biennial Saengerfest Aug. 9-12.

Call on agents for rates, limit, etc.

Account National Encampment G. A. R. August 27-Sept. 1. Good service, fast time and courteous emlpoyes.

For rates, limit, etc., call on nearest agent.

Special Summer Excursion Rates to Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Glenwood Springs, Colo.; Salt Lake City and Ogden, Utah; Sheriden Wyo. Hot Springs, Custer, Deadwood, Spearfish, So. Dak. via the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Nothern Railway. Dates of Sale July 3, 9 and 17; August 1, 7 and 21; for tickets good to return not later than Oct. 31, 1900.

For rates, routes, etc. call on any agent of the "Cedar Rapids Route."

IT SAVED HIS LEG.

P. A. Danforth of LaGrange, Ga., suffered for six months with a frightful running sore on his leg; but writes that Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured it in five days. For ulcers, wounds, piles, it is the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25. Sold by Harr.

APPETITE OF A GOAT,

Is envied by all whose Stomach and Liver are out of order. But such should know that Dr. King's New Life Pills give a splendid appetite, sound digestion and a regular bodily habit that insures perfect health and great energy. Only 25c. Sold by Harr.

WAS IT A MIRACLE.

"The marvelous cure of Mrs. Rena J. Stout of consumption has created intense excitemen in Cammack, Ind." writes Marion Staurt a leading druggist of Muncie, Ind. She anly weighed 90 pounds when the doctor in yorktown said she must soon die. Then she began to use Dr. Kings New Discovery and gained 37 pounds in wright ond was completely cured. It has cured thousands of hopeless cases and is positively guaranteed to cure throat, chest and lung diseases. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free. Harr's.

The boy, Coin Harvey, will find that the present campaign can get along without an edition of his great work on how to get rich by multiplcation.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days time the child had fully recovered and is now vigerous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail. Mrs. Curtis Baker, Bookwalter, Ohio. Sold by Harr.

Goods Worth $1.50 FREE
also our magazine. Send for information at once.
RECREATION POINTERS, Kansas City, Mo.

FRED ARNOLD, PRES. C. H. WIEGMANN, V. P. F. A. ARNOLD, CASH.

STATE SAVINGS BANK,
OF KLEMME, IOWA.

CAPITAL $25 000 00, LOANS $40 000 00,

INSURANCE WRITTEN, LOANS NEGOTIATED, EXCHANGE BOUGHT AND SOLD.

Interest Paid on Time Deposits: Money Loaned on Real Estate: Foreign and Domestic Exchange Sold.....

DIRECTORS: FRED ARNOLD, C. H. WIEGMANN, H. W. GRUETZMACHER, CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, F. A. ARNOLD.

CARY SAFE CO.
BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.
..Manufacturers..
FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES
VAULTS, LOCKS, ETC.
CONTRACTORS to UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

KOERENR BROS.....
Woven Wire Fencing,
Poultry Netting, Barbed Wire,
Nails, Staples, Hay Tools,
Carpenter Tools, Bicycles,
Bicycle Repairs, Paints,
Oils, Brushes, Putty,
Glass, Roofing, Spouting
Etc. Etc.
KLEMME, IOWA.

Buy Your
Drugs, Paints, Wall Paper, Toilet Soap, Perfumery Books and Patent Medicines
At Amsden's Pharmacy
GARNER, IOWA.

Buggies Wagons
Corn Cultivators
And Bicycles: Do not fail to see us before buying. We have the largest stock of the best goods ever brought to this city
Groceries, Hardware.
First class Tinshop.
GRUETZMACHER BROS.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hogs wanted six days in the week. W. R. Bloom.

E. P. Schaefer went to Garner on business Wednesday.

H. C. Byers was down from Garner on business this morning

J. C. Forest, of Garner, was transacting business in Klemme to-day.

For Sale:— Residence property in Barz addition to Klemme. Inquire of H. S. Schwarz.

Geo. Carson of Garner was in Klemme in the interest of the Champion Harvester Co., the first of the week.

Cap. Collins Come down from Garner Saturday, and was an over Sunday. visitor at the Gibbs' home.

A new Avery separator was unloaded here by G. G. Shaffer, of Meservey, for Messers Bredlow Bros. and Fred Klinge.

FOR SALE:—A good six-room house with one acre of ground, trees and small fruit, nicely located, easy terms. Inquire of H. C. LAU, Klemme, Iowa.

W. R. Bloom is putting in a new U. S. Standard Six ton Scales at his elevator. John Zook was the master michanic that engineered the work.

Geo. Schoper has accepted a position on the Times, and is succeeding fairly well in mixing up our cases. We hope in time to remedy this evil.

This morning lightning struck and killed a valuable horse for U. G. Orris. Fortunately he is insured in the "Anchor" and the actual loss will be slight.

For Sale!—240 acre farm three miles east of Klemme, all under cultivation, buildings, etc. For prices and terms, call on or address, M. S. Gilman, Klemme, Iowa.

W. R. Bloom has just received a fine new six-horse power Fairbanks-Morse gasoline engine for use in his elevator. It is a fine machine and far ahead of equine power.

Miss Maud Dnnlap came up from Belmond Saturday for an over Sunday visit with friends, and on Nonday went to Britt to attend the Institute for teachers.

Misses Gibbs, Terhufen, Lenz and Koerner, and J. J. Suckow, are the teachers from this vicinity in attendance at the Hancock County Teachers Institute, in session at Britt.

Hans Nissen and family came to-day for a short visit with his mother and brothers. Mr. Nissen has been taking a course at Morningside college, Sioux City which will take him three more years to complete.

The heavy rain which began on last Saturday afternoon and lasted until Monday evening was of immense value to the growing crops. In some parts the heavy crops of small grain was weighted down, but the per cent of the losses will be light, compared to the benefit to the growing corn. Never were the prospects better for an abundant crop.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Steenblock who live south-east of Klemme, a few miles, are having almost more than their share of misfortune. On last Sunday evening their oldest boy died, and on Tuesday evening their baby boy. As near as we can learn the cause of their death was trichina in pork. The sympathy of all is extended to the sorrowing parents in their hour of affliction.

Through a most unfortunate accident, the little year and a half old baby of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Gast got hold of a can of concentrated lye, and before it was discovered had succeded in getting a quautity of the deadly stuff in its mouth. Its hands and mouth is terribly burned and latest advices are that it may not recover. Dr. Spooner was called and is doing all that is possible for the little sufferer.

At the regular meeting of the town council Monday evening all the members were present except Suckow. Minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The bond of Oscar E. Carlson was accepted. On motion a ressolution was passed accepting Barz' deed of alley west of B. C. R. & N. R'y. The following bills were allowed. C. G. Bracher.....$1.50.
G. L. Wellemeyer.....$5.00
Adjourned until Monday evening, July 23.

Wednesday morning, in company with G. W. Kluckhohn, O. E. Carlson and Lewis Kaste, we drove over to Britt to see the great game of ball between Albert Lea and Waseca. It was a game worth seeing, and without doubt the finest exhibition of fast ball playing ever witnessed in this county, resulting in a score of 2 to 4 in favor of Waseca. Fully 1500 people witnessed the game.

A Kansas editor has figured it out that if a man grew as fast in proportion as a silk worm he would be bigger than an elephant in a mouth. If he could navigate as fast in proportion as the common house fly he would cross the Atlantic and get back in the time that it takes him to eat his dinner. If he had as many eyes in proportion as the butterfly he would have 40,000, to say nothing of the extra pair in his head for sky lights, If he could spring as far accordingly as the spider he could jump over the tallest tree in California and it wouldn't bother him in the least. Man isn't the whole thing after all

Only a few weeks ago the papers were filled with accounts of "trainloads of farmers leaving Iowa and other states" to gain new homes on the cheap lands of the Dakotas. Now those farmers are confronted with wheat fields ruined by the drouth, the loss of their first years crop, and the probability that they will have to be tided through this winter by the contribution of friends and acquaintances in other states. Many of those who left Iowa sold good farms in this state and went to the plains merely because they could get three or four times the number of acres with the money they received for their Iowa farms. They wanted a change and they will receive it, for all the plain states suffer from drouths periodically, notwithstanding they produce good crops when the seasons are favorable. But there is still another bad feature about farming life in the Dakotas—they are too far north to grow corn profitably and therefore the farmers of those states are compelled to confine themselves to the growing of small grain and grazing on wild grass will then be at an end and continuous cropping in small grain will result in the failure of those crops just as it does in all states.

The failure of the Democrats to denounce the annexation of Hawaii was doubtless due to the fact that the vote of Hawaii alone enabled them to revive the 16 to 1 corpse.

One of the widest known industries in Klemme is and has been the music business conducted by Messers Schaefer and Cook, they having sold instruments in a dozen or twenty neighboring towns during the last ten years. If you wish to know of the different makes of pianos and organs and the prices thereof or desire to have a catalogue mailed to you of pianos or organs, just drop a postal card in the office, stating which you want and about what price you wish to invest and receive a free catalogue, with prices and terms, No charge they say, for books or figures.

ELL CENTER.

The toot of the thresher will soon be heard.

Mrs. Guilford visited Mrs. Allen last week.

The noise of the binder is heard in the land.

Peter Josten's house has a very neat appearance since it is painted.

Edward Haskins and family took an outing at Clear Lake las Thursday.

Ernest Braund has a new champion binder he purchasd it of Mr. Byers of Garner.

Miss. Hamilton closed a very successful term of school in the Beulah district last Friday.

Miss Rose Glaubelle is helping Mrs. Delbert Slaght with her house work during the latter's illness.

Miss Larson closed her school last Friday and returned to her home she will not return having secured a school nearer home.

J. W. Allen sold John Tytchoot a fine sheep for nearly $6 besides selling nearly $2 worth of wool; under Cleveland's administration ⅔ of that would have been a good price. How the Dinglely bill does hurt the farmers.

There was a party at Harry Rices Weduesday evening being given on behalf of Miss. Larson before she returns to Britt, Ia. Mrs. Rice, assisted by the Misses Christie and Ford spared no pains in making the occasion a very pleasant one. After enjoying themselves with the numerous games Mr. Rice informed them that he was a natural born preacher and if they would come to tte house he would preach to them. They did so and there he preached a sermon in withthout words which probably had reference to the feeding of the multitude for after all had eaten of the of the good things set before them there was enough and plenty to sprre. Before returning home guests preseuted Miss. Larson with a beautiful and costly present as a taken of friendship. Soon after, the guests departed for their homes thanking their host and hostess, who had so kindly entertained them. and also wishing Miss Larson a happy future whereever she may be.

E. P. Schaefer and W. H. Cook are again campaigning in the interest of the music department and have added several new makes to their line of musical instrumeuts; notably the "many toned Crown" upon which by pressing the different (4) pedals. the piano can be made to imitate a great variety of musical instruments besides the piano tone which, in the Crown piano, is exceedingly refined and musical. Messers Schaefer and Cook propose to extend the music business somewhat so as to include a wider commercial scope and qualities; in fact to have their stock embrace every grade of instruments, including grades that could only be handled profitably in prosperous times such as we are having at present.

A GOOD COUGH REMEDY

Many thousands have been restored to health and happiness by the use of Chamberlains cough remedy. If afflicted with any throat or lung trouble give it a trial for it is certain to prove beneficial, Coughs that have resisted all other treatment for years have yielded to this remedy and perfect healah been restorod. Cases that seemed hopeless, that the climate of famous health resorts failed to benefit have been permancntly cured by its use. Sold by Harr.

When the returns are counted next November the Democrats would do well to put their handsome minority in the cold storage warehouse owned and operated by the Tammany Ice Trust

Do You Eat?

Well, try some of our Viena Sausage and Kraut, Red Salmon, Jams. Whole Wheat Biscuits, Pickles, Just what you want

THIS HOT WEATHER

We have just received

a full line of Negligee Shirts, Fancy Suspenders, Summer Underwear, Pants, Overalls, etc.

Highest Market Price

For Butter and Eggs.

Shafer & Dow.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

OUR SPECIALTY IS

LUMBER

WE ALSO SELL

Brick, Lime, Cement, Paroid Roofing, American Field Fence Screen Doors and Windows.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

Farm Machinery.

DO NOT FORGET

That we handle a COMPLETE LINE of the BEST Farm Machinery manufactured. Before you buy, it will pay you to see us and get our prices. We handle

CASSADY GANG AND SULKY PLOWS,

Corn Cultivators, Stirring Plows, Cornplanters, harrows, Discs, Wagons, Buggies, Geneva Windmils, Milwaueee Binders and Mowers.

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE. . . . .

We are constantly adding new, fresh GROCERIES to our stock and would like to make you prices. If you want Hardware or Tinware, we can supply your wants.

LAU BROS.

THE EXCLUSIVE

GROCERY STORE . . . .

Is where you should go to get FRESH GOODS. Our large line of staple goods is constantly changing by reason of our heavy sales. New, FRESH goods every day. Seasonable fresh fruit for canning or table use. Ice Cream, Bakers' Goods, soft drinks.

Agent for the Ideal Steam Laundry, Mason City

G. W. KLUCKHOHN, KLEMME.

AS THE WORD ELGIN

stands for all that is best in watches, so does Seth Thomas stand for perfection in Clocks---the best made.

For sale by

CHAS. F. H. SUCKOW

The Klemme Times.

G. L. WELLEMEYER, Pub.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

As an evidence of blind credulity the action of the South Chicago workmen who have accepted the story that in this age and generation men are locked in a mill and forced to labor against their will is assuredly unsurpassed. They would believe anything, even the weird tales of witches and hobgoblins.

Youth and age seem to be on even terms in politics. Mr. Morgan of Alabama and Mr. Gear of Iowa have just been re-elected to the Senate, although both of them have passed their threescore years and ten by half a decade. Mr. Beveridge of Indiana, on the other hand, is hardly more than half the age of either of them, and yet he is not the youngest man in the upper house.

Mrs. Mary Bryan Cobb, W. J. Bryan's great-grandmother, is alive, and has just celebrated her ninety-seventh birthday. She is the eldest of the surviving daughters of the revolution, her father having been Major Daniel Gano, a colonial artillery commander, and her grandfather was the famous "fighting chaplain," the Rev. John Gano, who was brigade chaplain of the revolutionary struggle. Her husband was a hero of the war of 1812.

The iron-handed suppression of the bread riots in Milan, just two years ago, together with the severe punishment meted out to the deputies and others convicted of participation in them, has borne its inevitable fruit in the increased return of Socialists to the Italian chamber at the recent elections. The Socialist party has increased from seventy to ninety, and in a chamber of 508 members ninety is a very formidable proportions.

What is the duration of a wink? The time occupied by the several phases of the movement has been measured, and it is found that the mean duration of the descent of the lid is from seventy-five to ninety-one thousandths of a second. The interval while the eye is shut was in one case only fifteen-hundredths of a second. The rising of the lid occupied seventeen-hundredths of a second. A specially arranged photographic apparatus was used. The colloquial phrase that something is done "quicker than a wink" is therefore expressive to a degree that may be stated in fractions of a second.

While laughing at a joke, George McCabe was seized with a coughing fit and choked to death in New York. McCabe went into a restaurant at No. 114 Park Row one evening last week and ordered a beef stew. He found a collar button in the dish and showed it to the cashier. "Well, do you want a shirt, with collar and cuffs attached, with a ten-cent stew?" was the cashier's rejoinder. McCabe began to laugh, then suddenly coughed, choked and fell to the floor unconscious. He was dead in a few minutes. Dr. Smith, of the Hudson street hospital, said McCabe probably died of heart disease.

If the ideas of A. N. Arckae,a Syrian, should be adopted, the picturesque cowboy of the western prairies would give way to the still more picturesque Syrian horseman. Mr. Arckae has evolved the plan in his journey across the country. The other day he was at the Union station at Denver, waiting for an east-bound train to take him back to New York, after a visit in the interest of business to San Francisco. "The problem of finding suitable occupation for my people who are coming to the United States has been long a serious one to me," said Mr. Arckae, "and it struck me when I saw the great cattle ranges over which the herds roamed, that the Syrian, who is by nature a horseman, is exactly suited to the work done by the cowboys."

A Scotsman from the Balmoral estate recently came to this country with his wife, where he found a situation which necessitated his becoming a naturalized American. In company with his wife, he attended the court to go through the necessary formality. "You must renounce allegiance to all foreign princes, potentates and sovereigns, and especially Queen Victoria," said the official. Sandie's jaw dropped, for he was loyal to, and an extenant of the queen. "Dinna dae it, Sandie!" cried his wife. "Remember the black silk dress her majesty gave me!" Sandie scratched his head in perplexity. "An' the braw kilt ye had frae her Sandie!" screamed his wife. Sandie thought of the situation. Fifty shillings a week! "Your ain cousin, only six times removed, was piper tae her, Sandie!" shrieked Elepsth. Sandie eyed the Bible on the official's desk. "An' she pinned the Victoria cross on your ain faither's breast, Sandie," wailed the wife. "No!" roared Sandie, his mind made up; "I'll no forswear the auld leddy; I maun find another job!"

THE NEWS IN IOWA

SENAAOR GEAR IS DEAD.

Succumbed to Heart Trouble at His Washington Home.

WASHINGTON, July 15.—United States Senator Gear, of Iowa, died in his apartments in the Portland house yesterday morning, of heart trouble. He was in usual health up to 2:30, when he had an attack. Doctors were immediately summoned, but could do nothing for him. While Senator Gear had been in ill health for a year or more, his death was entirely unexpected.

The senator retired about eleven o'clock in his usual heatlh. Shortly before 2 o'clock the senator summoned his confidential secretary, Col. R. Root, and informed him that he was troubled with congestion of the chest. Mrs. Gear was called and she and Col. Root applied some simple remedies which seemed to relieve the senator's suffering. At 2.30 the senator complained of serious difficulty in breathing. His condition became critical and the family physician, Dr. Davis, was summoned. An examination convinced Dr. Davis that this distinguished patient was suffering from heart trouble, and, calling Col. Root aside, informed him that Senator Gear could last scarcely an hour. He died at 4:28 in the 75th year of his age.

HOLD UP A TOWN.

Running Fight With Burglars at State Center.

State Center, July 14.—Burglars were caught at 4 o'clock yesterday morning robbing the general store of Nelson & Whithill and the local bank. The citizens were at once aroused and came pouring onto the streets armed in every conceivable manner. The burglars thoroughly alarmed as to their safety desisted from their attempts to blow open the safe and looked to their escape. Every avenue was cut off and the robbers opened a fierce fusilade of shots upon the city officers and the posse which had gathered. Fighting their way out the burglars reached the open street and took refuge behind buildings and retreated, keeping up a fire of shots which made it dangerous to leave the cover of fences and walls. Ben Whithill, one of the proprietors of the general store, was severely wounded in the l. g at the first stand made by the citizens around the store. Armed men pursued the robbers and two were finally captured after a running fight which lasted two hours. The other two men escaped to the woods and have not yet been captured. The men caught by the posse gave their names as McCabe and Murray. They refuse to discuss the affair or to reveal the identity of the other two men.

CHARGED WITH SERIOUS CRIME.

Young Married Man Arrested on Accusations of Seduction.

Marshalltown, July 14.—Deputy Sheriff Hutson brought from Green Mountain F. D. Rusie, whom he arrested on a warrant issued before Justice Burritt. Rusie, who is a young married man, twenty-four years of age, is charged with seduction. The information was filed by W. G. McAfee, the prisoner's father-in-law, and Mrytle McAfee, the fifteen-year-old sister of his wife, is the alleged victim. Rusie was held under bonds of $1,000 to appear for preliminary trial. So far he has been unable to furnish security and is in jail.

Costly Drainage Ditch.

Sioux City, July 14.—It will cost Woodbury county land owners in the southern part of the county about $10,472 to construct their portion of the big Woodbury-Monona county drainage ditch which was ordered built some time ago. This entire amount will be apportioned to the land lying in one township, some of the land paying as much as $2.50 per acre and some as little as 10 cents per acre. The cost estimated by the commissioners since the contracts were let is much lower than that prepared by them when the work was first contemplated, the work of excavation having been contracted for at an unusually low price.

Proved Himself a Hero.

Fort Dodge, July 14.—Ed Early, flagman at the Farley street crossing of the Ilinois Central, proved himself a hero to the admiring public of Fort Dodge by risking his own life to save the lives of four others. A lady with four little ones was driving a carriage up the hill to cross the tracks and neither saw the on-coming express train nor the frantic signals of the young flagman. Just as the horses had set foot on the track, with the roaring engine not a half dozen paces away, Ed Early sprang into the almost certain jaws of death, seized the horse by the bridle and forced it back upon its haunches, just as the train flew by, grazing his back.

Lacey Renominated.

Ottumwa, July 12.—Major John F. Lacey was unanimously renominated for congress by the Sixth district republicans at Albia yesterday. The resolutions endorse Lacey's record.

Fell Sixty Feet and Lives.

Fort Dodge, July 14.—Earl Sieber, a thirteen-year-old lad, while clamoring around on the roof of the manufacturing company's new plant, slipped and fell to the ground, sixty feet below. The little fellow was stunned by the fall, but was taken home and after a time restored to consciousness. The only injuries he sustained were a broken wrist and a badly bruised body.

ENDS HIS LIFE WITH DYNAMITE.

Carpenter Winds Up a Debauch by Blowing Off His Head.

Fort Dodge, July 12.—C. Johnson, a carpenter and mason, blew off his head at Pomeroy with dynamite. The tragedy occurred in the Roman Catholic cemetery, about half a mile from town. He had been drinking for several days, and it is thought he was afraid to go home. He bought a stick of dynamite and went out to the cemetery, where the deed was done. Evidently he put the dynamite in his mouth. His head was blown into atoms and one hand, the one with which he probably lighted the match, was also blown off. He was unmarried and leaves two brothers.

MURDERED BY TRAMPS.

Livie Matthews May Have Been the Victim of Hoboes.

Clinton, July 12.—The remains of the young man found along the Northwestern track near Blairstown have been identified as the body of Livie Matthews of Chicago, who visited here last week. The body is now at the morgue in Clinton. It is said that the young man was murdered by six tramps, who got into a freight car with him and a friend from West Cedar Rapids. The report is that the tramps attacked the boys, struck Matthews on the head and threw him off the train. The friend escaped unhurt, but has disappeared

New Telephone Switchboard Invented.

E. A. Clark, manager of the Sioux City Exchange of the Iowa Telephone company, is he inventor and patentee of an automatic switchboard, which will do away with the necessity of central offices, and the announcement was made in Sioux City that the Clark Automatic Switchboard company has been incorporated at Providence, R. I., with a capital stock of $1,500,000, for the manufacture of the switchboards. This invention is declared to be one of the most important improvements ever discovered in conection with the great telephone facilities of the country. Under he workings of the automatic his own connections and there will switchboard the telephone user makes be no more "Hello" girls.

Arsenic in the Bread.

Remsen, July 14.—At a gathering at Mrs. D. Franks, five miles south of town, fifteen persons were suddenly taken ill. Upon the arrival of physicians it was found their symptoms resembled those of strychnine poisoning. Doubts were entertained for the recovery of a number of the victims at first, but at the present writing it is thought there will be no fatalities. Upon chemical diagnosis of the water and food partaken of, it was found that the bread contained a great quantity of arsenic. Whether the poison was put into the bread accidentally or intentionally, is not known.

Horse Thieves at Clinton.

Vinton, July 13.—The third case of horse stealing within a month occurred near here when the barn of A. L Hanwell was entered and a horse taken belonging to a friend from Independence who was visiting at the place. With the horse also went a set of harness. The same thieves are supposed to have taken an animal belonging to Prof. Tobin, thus making up their team. At the barn of J. W. Read they secured a light wagon.

Trouble for Sioux City Saloons.

Sioux City, July 13.—Unless the saloonkeepers of the city take out their screens and wine rooms, the Anti-Saloon league, of which the ministers of the city are the most prominent and active members, will bring injunction suits. A few weeks ago the league gave notice that the screens must go, but the liquor men have been slow in complying with the order, and the injunction statutes probably will be resorted to.

Sioux City Girl Heir to Small Fortune.

Sioux City, July 15.—Miss Jennie Throckmorton will not have to work in a box factory any longer in order to support herself and widowed mother. She is now on her way to Denver to make good her title to a small fortune of something more than $15,000, which she gets as the result of the death of an uncle, G. H. Throckmorton. Miss Throckmorton is about twenty years of age.

Farmer Accidentally Killed.

Rowan, July 15.—O. J. Suntken, a farmer living one and a half miles north of Alexander, accidentally fell off a load of hay and his head struck on the edge of a watering ank and broke his neck. He died imemdiately. He was quite a well-to-do farmer and owned a farm of 240 acres. He leaves a wife and four children.

Sale of Fort Dodge & Omaha Road.

Fort Dodge, July 11.—J. F. Merry, of the Illinois Central, is here perfecting arrangements for the sale of the Fort Dodge & Omaha railroad to the Dubuque & Sioux City and its subsequent lease to the Illinois Central. This will round up the Illinois Central's Iowa system

Seriously Injured From a Fall.

Fort Dodge, July 15.—Chas. Hansen, a laborer at the Blandon Gypsum mill, fell from one of the company's trestle works upon a pile of stones twenty feet below. Several ribs were broken and the spinal column injured in such a manner as to paralyze the entire lower part of his body. He will probably die.

Alleged Counterfeiter.

Dunlap, July 12.—United States Detective Stephen A. Connell of Minneapolis, Minn., arrested James S. Magden, alias J. S. Stone, here on the charge of counterfeiting United States treasury notes by raising the denomination of various bills.

NEWS IN GENERAL

BOERS ACHIEVE SUCCESS

Succeed in Capturing Nitral's Nek From British.

London, July 13.—Under date of July 12 Lord Roberts sends the following dispatch to the war office:

"The enemy having failed in their attack upon our right rear, as mentioned in my telegram of July 9, made a determined attack upon our right flank yesterday and, I regret to say, succeeded in capturing Nitral's Nek, which was garrisoned by a squadron of Scott's Greys, with two guns of Battery F, Royal Artillery, and five companies of the Lincolnshire regiment. The enemy attacked in superior numbers at dawn and, seizing the hills commanding the Nek, brought a heavy gun-fire to bear upon the small garrison. Nitral's Nek is about eighteen miles from here near where the road crosses Crocodile river. It was held by us in order to maintain road and telegraphic communication with Rustenburg."

Lord Roberts' dispatch, reporting still another unfortunate occurrence, throws a serious light upon the state of affairs in South Africa. There has been some comment recently regarding the virtual absence of progress by the immediate army under the command of Lord Roberts, but few could have been found to believe that the scattered Boers were able to inflict such a defeat so near Pretoria. Instead of the surrender of all of the remaining Boers being imminent, as recent telegrams had hinted, it seems they have been making a concerted attempt to surround or recapture Pretoria with so much success that in the region which was supposed to be pacified and in which no attack was expected they succeeded in inflicting a serious defeat and capturing two guns and some 200 men. It is evident that General Botha has a considerable force, seeing that he is able to press Lord Roberts' lines at a half dozen points around Pretoria, from the Springs to the southeast of the city, northward to Middleburg, and Durdeport, and thence southward to Nitral's Nek and Krugersdorp.

London, July 14.—Lord Roberts has sent nothing further concerning the Nitral's Nek affair. Pretoria dispatches, however, show that the Lincolnshires lost half of their officers, including Colonel Roberts, who was wounded and taken prisoner. Stragglers continue to arrive at the camp, but few details can be gathered. The Boer report of the engagement places the British casualties at over 200.

EXRECT TROUBLE WITH INDIANS.

Settlers in Minnesota Arm Themselves and Prepare for Outbreak.

Solway, Minn., July 14.—The danger of an outbreak by the Blanket Indians on Red Lake is increasing. The Indian police from the agency have gone over to the point where the Blankets are holding their war dance and it is expected trouble will ensue. Bulletins in Chippewa have been posted, warning all friendly Indians and whites to remain away from the point or suffer the consequences. Twenty mounted men left Solway and proceeded to the agency to take instructions from Indian Agent Mercer. The men are all well armed and carry extra ammunition which will be distributed among the settlers. A petition will be sent to Governor Lind tomorrow asking that a detachment of state troops be sent to Red Lake at once. The Indians keep up their war dances and their shouts can be heard for three miles at frequent intervals. They discharge their rifles in the air. It is said that a large body of reds from the northern part of the state had joined with the Blankets and small bands of Indians are joining the main body hourly. It is estimated that the entire force numbers over 300 at present. The squaws and papooses have been sent north and only the young bucks remain at the point. The white settlers at the point are preparing for an attack. The Indians at the agency have assured the whites of their support, but it is thought that many of them are going over to the Blanketers. Nothing has been heard from Captain Mercer since his departure for the lake and fears are entertained for his safety.

BRYAN TO BE NOTIFIED AUGUST 8

Plans, if They Hold Good, Have Been Made by Chairman Jones.

Chicago, July 13.—Bryan and Stevenson will be officially notified of their nomination at Indianapolis, August 8, if the plan made by the democratic managers today holds good. Mayor Taggart of Indianapolis, the new national committeeman from Indiana, paid a flying visit to Chicago and is said to have convinced Chairman Jones that the democrats will be able to carry Indiana if the notification ceremonies are held in the Hoosier capital.

Germans Eating Dog Meat.

Washington, July 12.—"On account of the high price of other meat, not only horse meat, but also dog meat, is used by the people as an article of food in Germany," says Consul General Guenther at Frankfort, in a report to the state department. The new meat inspection bill, says the consul general, does not adequately protect the consumer against bad meats, but excludes many first-class products from the country. The consumption of horse meat, he says, is on the increase.

ALL FOREIGNERS DEAD.

Chinese Story of the Attack on the British and Russian Legations.

LONDON, July 13.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Daily Mail says the following story regarding the position in Peking emanates from Chinese official sources:

"The two remaining legations, the British and Russian, were attacked in force on the evening of July 6, Prince Tuan being in command. The attackers were divided. Prince Tuan commanded the center, the right wing was led by Prince Tsal Yin, and the left wing by Prince Yin Ly. The reserves were under Prince Tsin Yu. The attack commenced with artillery fighting, which was severe, and lasted until 7 o'clock in the morning, by which time both legations were destroyed and all the foreigners were dead, while the streets around the legations were full of the dead bodies of both foreigners and Chinese. Upon hearing of the attack Prince Ching and General Wang Wen Sho went with troops to the assistance of the foreigners, but they were outnumbered and defeated. Both Prince Ching and General Wang Wen Shao were killed. Prince Tuan, in celebration of the victory, distributed 100.000 taels and huge quantities of rice to the Boxers."

COULD NOT CONTROL MOBS.

Prince Tuan Declares Legations Were Protected to the Last.

London, July 12.—The Shanghai correspondent of the Press gives the text of a long edict of Prince Tuan, dated June 29. The Express considers that the edict proves that Prince Tuan's party is making no attempt to disguise the fact that the worst that could be anticipated has happened. The edict contains the following paragraphs:

"The anger of our people knew no bounds. They could not be restrained. The task of guarding the legations, which before was difficult was made impossible."

Elsewhere, referring to the desire to protect the legations still unharmed, it says:

"It is impossible for us to continue this protection, let it be represented to the powers that we must be held blameless, for the anger of our people grows with the rising of each sun that sees more and yet more foreigners and soldiers come to overrun and lay waste our country and slay our people."

The correspondent says the edict is intended to pave the way for a final lifting of the veil over the recent history of Peking.

Paris, July 13.—The Temps announces that it is position to affirm that no European telegram has been received from Peking since that of Sir Robert Hart's dispatch of June 24, declaring the situation desperate. The Temps says if it is proved that the legations are safe they could communicate with Europe. If they cannot it is because the Chinese have juggled the date of the massacre that took place as announced on the 30th or the 1st.

HARD FIGHTING IN TIEN TSIN

Battle in Progress Several Days Without Decisive Results.

London, July 11.—The latest news from Tien Tsin is contained in a news agency message, dated July 6, reporting a renewed Chinese attack that morning with twelve guns. The allied forces replied with guns landed from the British cruiser Terrible and a mixed force of 1,000 men, who made a sortie under cover of the fire of the naval brigade and attacked the Chinese, who retired after seven hours of fighting. Earlier dispatches record severe fighting, notably on the 2nd and 3rd, when the Chinese developed unexpected strength and did considerable damage with artillery. At the bridge near the French settlement there was hard fighting at close quarters, the Russians with a Gattling gun finally compelling the Chinese to retire, though they suffered heavily. The operations were in no way decisive, later messages showing the Chinese were still full of fight. About 500 men have been wounded.

GERMAN TREATY CLOSED.

Secretary Hay and Ambassador Holleben Sign Reciprocity Arrangement.

Washington, July 12.—The long expected reciprocity arrangement between the United States and Germany has been effected. Secretary Hay and the German ambassador have subscribed to the convention, and President McKinley will issue his proclamation putting the new duties in force in the course of a few days. The arrangement is generally similar in terms to the first arrangement made with France, and abates duties on still wines, argois, paintings and statuary from Germany entering the United States. It does not require the approval of the senate, being drawn under section 4 of the Dingley act.

ROBBERS MAKE BIG HAUL.

Hold Up a Train in Kentucky and Get Over $10,000.

Paducah, Ky., July 12.—The Illinois Central fast train from New Orleans to Chicago was held up and robbed two miles south of Wickliffe. The train was flagged, and when stopped, six bandits, after knocking the fireman in the head with a revolver, and injuring him badly, cut off the engine and express car, and ran a mile and a half down the road. They blew the express safe, securing all the valuables. They left the engine and car and crossed into Missouri. They dropped a package containing seven hundred dollars, but got away with ten thousand. The passengers were not molested.

GUILTY OR INNOCENT?

By AMY BRAZIER.

CHAPTER VIII.—(Continued.)

Dr. Carter, terribly agitated, lays his hand on Mrs. Bouverie's.

"We may prepare for the very worst. After the judge's charge they will bring him in guilty. My poor friend, it will be more than you can bear. Come with me now."

The mother's head is bowed, her lips form a faint "No." Then with an effort she raises herself and looks steadily at her son, who must know himself that his cause has been lost.

His counsel sits with bent head and moody face. There is a mystery in the Portraven bank robbery that even he cannot fathom, unless, indeed, the prisoner is the hardened criminal so aptly described by the judge as he thundered out to the jury the sin of one law for the rich and another for the poor.

There is not long to wait. The jury come back to their box with their minds made up.

"Guilty!"

Every one expected it, but yet a thrill as of horror shudders over the crowd as the wind sighs and waves over a field of corn—a wave of feeling that makes itself felt. Then, for the first time, despair, dark and terrible, whitens the prisoner's face. He hears his mother's broken utterance of his name, and his eyes turn to her with a passion of regret; then he nerves himself to receive his sentence.

Even Sebastian Saville turns cold as he listens.

The judge is a stern judge, and determined not to let the prisoner's position stand in the way of being made an example of. Five years' penal servitude is the least he can give—five years in which this hardened sinner will have time to repent. Before he pronounces the sentence he delivers a homily on the sin of gambling, the yearly increasing sin of betting on every race. He points out how, in this case, it has brought the prisoner at the bar to temptation and sin, and finally to the awful position in which he now stands. And then the dreadful sentence—five years' penal servitude; and George Bouverie, white as death, like a man going to the scaffold, goes from the dock out of the sight of his fellow men.

His mother's eyes, dry with an agony that is tearless, gaze after him.

"Will they let me see him?" she says a little wildly.

"My son, my darling!"

Ay, were he the sinner the trial has proved him to be, he is hers still, the mother-love is his in spite of all.

"I will try and arrange an interview," Dr. Carter says huskily. "My poor friend, nothing I can say can comfort you. There, there, try and fight off the faintness; let me take you into the air."

Sympathetic voices whisper, "She is his mother," as the doctor pushes his way out through the crowd, half carrying Mrs. Bouverie, who feels as if her heart were breaking.

They had told her not to hope, that the Crown was sure of a conviction, but the hope had not died till the words five years' penal servitude fell on her ears. Up to that moment the mother had believed in some proof of George's innocence being produced.

It is all over now. He has been led away a free man no longer, to live out a hideous nightmare of days and weeks and years, crushed, ruined and disgraced; and he had said he was innocent!

* * *

It is the same evening; but the glad, oright morning has turned to rain, and the drops race down the window panes. Sebastian Saville sits opposite his mother at the other end of the long dinner table. His face bears an expression of satisfaction. They are discussing the all-absorbing topic of the bank robbery.

"The judge charged dead against him," Sebastian says, filling his wine glass. "The jury was not ten minutes out of their box."

Mrs. Saville, as usual, regally attired in satin and lace, smiles half disagreeably.

"It is very fortunate it was all over before Barbara's return. She will hardly care for going on with her farce of an engagement now."

"Hardly!" sneers Mr. Saville, leaning back in luxurious contentment. "Even Barbara wouldn't be mad enough to wish to marry a convict!" Then he stands up and strolls over to the window. "What a wet night! I suggest we try and forget the Bouverie episode. What do you say to our taking Barbara to London, or abroad, or somewhere? She'll get over it soon enough."

"A very good suggestion," Mrs. Saville returns. "I am sorry for Mrs. Bouverie, of course, but for her unprincipled son I have no pity. It will rest with yourself, Sebastian, to win Barbara. I think a tour on the continent would be the best plan. Being in mourning, we could not go to any gaieties, and the Court would be depressing just now for Barbara."

While mother and son are amicably arranging over Barbara's future, Barbara herself is sitting on board a homeward bound steamer, her face full of hope as every throb of the screw brings her a moment nearer to seeing George again. Her father's death had been a shock, but hardly in one sense a grief; for she had not seen him since her childhood and retained only a very faint memory of an austere, silent man who seldom spoke to her. She has been told that she is rich, that her father's will has left her everything completely and unconditionally. She may marry whom she chooses. The news of so much wealth had come as a surprise on Barbara; she can hardly realize it yet.

In her deep mourning she sits on a deck, with grave, steady eyes looking over the tossing waves, and thinking of George. What a surprise it will be to him to find he is to have a rich wife!

"I will help him to use this money wisely and well," muses Barbara, little dreaming that behind prison bars the man she loves is living through the first awful days of his sentence—days when despair clutches at the heart, when the terrible realization of the horror of the life breaks down the manhood, when even trust in the mercy of God seems but a mockery.

CHAPTER IX.

"Have you quite made up your mind to resign?"

Mr. Kelly, the bank manager, puts the question to the cashier, who has asked for an interview, and has announced his intention of resigning his post at the bank.

In answer to Mr. Kelly's question, Mr. Grey lifts his eyes from the contemplation of the carpet.

"Yes, sir, I have made up my mind. I have never been the same since that day. Every time the bank door opens my heart beats. It has affected my health, Mr. Kelly—indeed it has!"

"In that case you had better go," says the manager. "What do you think of doing?"

"I have a brother in America; he will get me work," Mr. Grey says, rather evasively. "And, Mr. Kelly, I never told you that I am a married man. My wife was beneath me in position, and I kept it secret. It is chiefly to please her I am going to America."

"Well, I hope you will get on," replies Mr. Kelly, "but you have a good berth here, and would be likely to get a raise."

"I know all that; but my wife is extravagant; I give her all my salary. Oh, you don't know what an anxiety it all is!" explains the cashier, glancing round with his frightened gaze.

"You don't look well, Mr. Grey, and I am sorry your marriage is an unhappy one. Perhaps you are wise to emigrate, after all."

The interview is ended, and Mr. Grey goes back to his work, a crushed, depressed looking figure. He is nervous and starting at every sound. He has never been the same since the attack made on him at the time of the robbery; the shock left him a perfect wreck.

A carriage rolls down the street and passes the bank. Mr. Grey sees it driving by as he looks over the wire blind of the bank window. It is the carriage from the Court, with two men on the box in faded claret livery, and in it are seated Mrs. Saville and her son, en route for London, to meet Barbara on her return from Tasmania. The Court is to be half shut up, and the few servants remaining in charge are to be left on board wages, for it is not Mrs. Saville's intention to return until the marriage between Barbara and Sebastian has taken place.

Three days later Barbara herself stands before her aunt, with blazing blue eyes looking out from the whiteness of her face. She has landed only this morning, and Sebastian met her, and brought her straight to the hotel where his mother is staying.

Mrs. Saville, with heartless callousness, has told her niece of the bank robbery, and the crime and punishment of George Bouverie.

Anger and pity swell the girl's heart to bursting. George in prison! Words seem to choke her. She cannot speak, but stands with her hands locked together, staring at her aunt.

Sebastian regards her critically.

"My dear Barbara, Bouverie was always a bad lot," he says calmly. "Tolerably good looking, I grant you, but quite unprincipled. He was bound to come to grief."

Barbara turns slowly.

"You are not speaking the truth, and you know it!" she cries, with sudden passion. "If I had only known, if I had only known!"—her eyes wide and full of pain.

Mrs. Saville, in her sable draperies, sweeps across the room.

"My dear child, try and be thankful that you have escaped without having your name mentioned with such a man. Not a soul knows of any foolish nonsense between you."

"It was no nonsense!" Barbara says firmly. "I was engaged to George Bouverie when I left home, I am engaged to him still!"

There is pride and determination in the young face.

Mrs. Saville gives a short laugh.

"You will have plenty of time, dear, to test your constancy and his. Five years is a good slice out of a life, and they say convict life has a degrading influence. Where are you going, Barbara?"—as, with one wounded, indignant look, Barbara moves towards the door.

"I am going to save George," the girl says, her voice rising with a kind of triumphant ring. "I shall cross over to Dublin tonight. No, Sebastian, do not say one word. I am going to prove George Bouverie's innocence."

"I fear you are attempting an impossible feat," snears Sebastian, a dull flush spreading over his face.

Barbara, with her hand on the door, lifts her glorious eyes.

"He is innocent. It was I who lent him the money. I forced him to take it, and it was for my sake he kept silence. Oh, I see it all now!" she cries, with a little irrepressible sob. "If I had been there it could never have happened! The hundred pounds was mine, only he was too honorable to make my name public!"—a loving, tender look sweeping over her face.

(To be continued.)

HEALTH AND GOOD LOOKS.

Something Useful May Be Learned from an Actress' Experience.

One of the most admired of American actresses, both for her grace and comeliness, has been divulging some of the secrets by which she has preserved her beauty. "Vigilance," she says, "is the first requisite. I am ever on the alert and when I discover traces of fatigue or any other beauty-destroying symptoms in my face or figure I set about remedying it at once. I don't attempt to be anything but a professional woman during the theatrical season. I don't receive and I don't go to other people's houses. I simply haven't time, and I don't make it. My mode of life is very simple. I sleep nine or ten hours as a rule—never less than eight. I eat regularly and heartily, and avoid everything that would be apt to give me indigestion. Indigestion is a powerful foe to beauty, a greater foe than age, as great even as worry. I walk every day, rain or shine, and I wear a corded corset waist and stout flat-heeled boots. I try not to worry, no matter what happens, and I never tire myself unnecessarily. My method is so very simple few women would care to try it. It has no balms or diets, and I don't even go in for fancy baths. A warm bath at night and a cold bath in the morning are good enough for me. On Sundays I don't have to go to the theater, but I don't devote it to lolling or receiving visitors. I have my usual amount of exercise and then devote most of the day to manicure and hairdresser. When one's hair is five feet long and very thick it is not an easy task to have it shampooed. How do I keep the same weight all the time? Why, by vigilance and determination. If I gain a pound I immediately stop drinking water at meals and give up sugar for a while. If the bones in my neck begin to show I eat bananas and cream and put an extra spoonful of oil in my salad. It's so simple, but, of course, it precludes much pleasure."

As to the Teeth.

Sound teeth not only add to one's comfort, but they prevent disease. Many diseases of the eye, ear, and cavities of the head are traceable to unsound teeth, and there is not a disease to which the body is liable that is not aggravated by an unhealthy condition of the teeth. Eye diseases are especially common as the results of poor teeth. These affections may vary from a simple dimness of sight to total blindness, the symptoms, however, usually disappearing when the teeth are attended to. Poor teeth are, moreover, a common cause of indigestion, for good digestion can take place only when the food is thoroughly masticated, and this demands sound and healthy teeth. Proper care of teeth during childhood often means prevention of much trouble later in life.—Philadelphia Times.

IRISH IN AMERICA.

They May Be Said to Have a Genious for Politics.

Industrially the foreign element in America has been very important, says Ainslee's Magazine. More than ninety per cent of the immigrants who have come and are coming to this country are industrious and sober. They come to better their fortunes, and they set about doing it with great energy. The railroads and great public works in this country used to be built by Irish laborers. I am speaking in general terms. Without them we would not have been able to make the great progress which justifies us in believing that our growth in wealth during the past thirty years is more marvelous than anything the world has previously seen. But the Irish have found other occupations, in which they can gratify their gregarious instincts, develop their wonderful talent for political organization, and in large and small ways enjoy the independence to spend and to accumulate which was denied to them for so long at home. They have therefore settled in great measure in the cities and taken up the occupations that in such places are open to them. These occupations range all the way from street sweeping to millionaire financiering, and include cab driving, car driving, being porters, barkeepers, clerks, merchants, doctors, lawyers and editors. As professional politicians they have had no peers in the history of the world. They may be said to have a genius for politics. And the Irish who had not flocked to the cities are doing remarkably well. They are farmers all over the country, and their success in the North Atlantic division of the country, on farms that were no longer profitable under native management, has been most notable. As husbandmen they are frugal without being niggardly. Their remarkable political strength is due to the fact that they have kept together when it came to voting more consistently than any other people. Thackeray says somewhere, his observation being of the Irish in London, that there never was an Irishman so poor that he did not have another Irishman who looked to him for enjoyment and support. This was a tribute to their loyalty, their friendliness and generosity.

Favors Late Suppers.

A London doctor in an interview recently spoke strongly against the theory that late suppers are injurious. He declares, in fact, that many persons who remain thin and weakly in spite of all precautions in regard to diet, etc., owe the fact largely to habitual abstemiousness at night. He says physiology teaches us that in sleeping as in waking there is a perpetual waste going on in the tissues of the body, and it seems but logical that nourishment should be continuous as well. The digestion of the food taken at dinner time or in the early evening is finished as a usual thing before or by bedtime; yet the activity of the processes of assimilation, etc., progresses for hours afterward. And when one retires with an empty stomach the result of this activity is sleeplessness and an undue wasting of the system.

Shirking a Disagreeable Job.

The last time Quanah Parker, the ruler of the Comanches, was in Washington the commissioner of Indian affairs tried to teach him that the thing to do was to discard six of his wives and cleave to the seventh, registering her as his permanent spouse. Quanah listened solmenly to the lecture and then began to ask questions through the interpreter. He does not often admit that he can talk English. He asked if it was intended that he should tell the discarded squaws that they must go. The commissioner said that was the intention. Quanah pondered a few moments and then, turning to the commissioner, blurted forth: "You tell um!"

Ghetto Pet Is Killed.

Dick, the prize donkey of the ghetto, is dead, says the Chicago Inter Ocean. He had courted death for years past on the railroad tracks at the Sixteenth street crossing and had many escapes. Yesterday the prediction of many came true. Dick was struck by a Calumet and Chicago Terminal train and killed instantly. The donkey was a general pet in the ghetto, and for years had been owned by Mrs. Mary Toomey, a widow of No. 108 West Fifteenth street. The long-eared animal was known to the residents for miles around, and it became noted long ago for its hatred for policemen or anybody wearing brass buttons and a club.

Hotel Bric-a-Brac Sold.

The contents of Willard's hotel, Washington, are being sold at auction, and that venerable and historic structure will be torn down this summer and replaced with a new $2,000,000 building, with modern conveniences. It is expected to be one of the finest hotels in the world.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON IV, JULY 22—MATTHEW 16: 13-26

Golden Text—"If Any Man Will Come After Me, Let Him Deny Himself, and Take Up His Cross, and Follow Me"—Matt. 16: 24.

13. "When Jesus came." The place from which he came is not stated, but it would naturally be through Bethsaida (Mark 8: 22) on his way northward along the road that runs east of the Jordan to "the coasts." Parts, district, "the region belonging to a city, the country around it."—Thayer. Mark says "to the villages of Cesarea Philippi" (see "Place" above). "He asked his disciples," after he had been praying alone (Luke). As usual, the great epoch, the new work, began in prayer. His object seems to have been to draw out the faith of his disciples, and to reveal to them more fully his nature and his redeeming work.

14. "Some say . . . John the Baptist," returned to life. Among these was Herod (Matt. 14: 1, 2). "Some, Elias." Greek form of Elijah, who had wrought some great miracles, and had turned the tide of the nation from heathen worship to the true God, and was the promised forerunner of the Messiah (Mal. 4: 5, 6). "And others, Jeremias." The Greek form of Jeremiah. "Jeremiah is placed first, because in the Jewish canon he was placed first among the Old Testament prophets." "Or one of the prophets," i. e., "that one of the old prophets is risen again" (Luke 9: 19).

15. "But whom (R. V., "who") say ye that I am?" Observe "ye," plural, and by position in the Greek exceedingly emphatic—in contrast with the discordant popular opinions. What have you learned about me and my work during the two or three years you have known me?

16. "And Simon Peter answered." "The question is addressed to all, and Peter answers as their spokesman, just as he does in many other cases."—Broadus. "Thou art the Christ." The expected Messiah for whom the people were looking and hoping.

17. "Blessed art thou." Because thou hast opened thy heart to the truth; because thou hast broken from the bondage of Jewish prejudice and worldly vision; because thou hast such firm confidence in such a Saviour. "Simon Barjona," i. e., son of Jonah. Bar is Aramaic (the Syriac Hebrew then in use) for "son." Jonah should begin with a capital J, as in the R. V. "For flesh and blood (man) hath not revealed" this unto you. It has not its origin in the mere human knowledge, in the workings of the human mind. "But my Father which is in heaven." God flashed forth the truth, and Peter did not close his eyes that he might not see.

18. "Thou art Peter." Greek, Petros, a stone, a piece of rock, as in Homer of Ajax throwing a stone at Hector (Iliad, VII.), and now attention is called to its meaning. "Upon this rock." Petra, the feminine Petros, denoting rock, bedrock, as distinguished from a stone or piece of rock.

"And the gates of hell." Gates of hades, which is composed of the Greek a not, and idein to see, and signifies the invisible land, the realm of the dead.

19. "I will give unto thee." As one of the chiefest of the apostles, the first among "The keys of the kingdom of heaven." The keys are the means by which one enters a house, a city, or a treasury. The kingdom of heaven, not the abode of the blest, but the kingdom of God on earth, is represented under the figure of a city with gates, or of a large house with gates for entrance, and doors of treasure room. "Whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth." That is, forbid or declare forbidden. "Shalt loose on earth." That is, allow, declare to be permitted. "Shall be bound in heaven."

20. "Then charged he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was . . . the Christ." Omit "Jesus," or, that he, Jesus, was the Christ. Why not proclaim this glorious truth from the house-tops?

21. "From that time." The disciples were now strong enough in their conviction that Jesus was the Messiah to have their errors concerning his nature and kingdom corrected.

22. "Then Peter took him" one side to speak to him privately. "And began to rebuke him." Only began, for he was interrupted. His was a mingled motive of love and self-assurance that he was right. "Saying, Be it far from thee, Lord." The plan of redemption outlined by Jesus was so contrary to all Peter's expectations and hopes, so completely opposite to his picture of the Messiah king and his reign, that it seemed inconceivable to Peter.

23. "But he turned." Turned round to the disciples (Mark 8: 33). "And said unto Peter." Publicly before them all. "Get thee behind me, Satan." Satan means "adversary," the great "enemy" of all good, used in the Saviour's time as a proper name. "Thou art an offence." A stumbling block instead of a foundation stone; a hindrance, by placing before him the very temptation which Satan had presented to him in the wilderness. "For thou savourest" (mindest "partakest of the quality of") "not the things that be of God." God's wise plan for his kingdom. "But those that be of men." The natural, human view of the Messiah, a worldly kingdom, riches, honor, glory and triumph.

24. "If any man will (would, wishes to) come after me." Be his follower, his disciple; and seek to attain his character and his reward. "Let him deny himself." Renounce self as master and accept Christ as master.

25. "For whosoever will save his life." Wishes, wills to save it, by doing wrong, by avoiding hard duties and self-denial, by gaining worldly good at the expense of religion and righteousness. "Shall lose it." Shall utterly fail, shall lose even the earthly rewards he seeks, and his eternal blessedness. Life if the same word as soul in the next verse. It is the man himself, and all that in his eyes makes life worth living. "And whosoever will lose his life." The lower life, the things that seem to worldly men to make life worth living.

26. "For what is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world (which he never does), and lose his own soul?" All that makes it possible for him to use or enjoy the world he has gained. What good do worldly things do to one who is sick, or suffers the stings of conscience, or destroys the character which enjoy the world he has gained.

OPPOSES BRYAN.

James H. Eckles Tells Why He Is Against the Democratic Leader.

Former Comptroller of the Currency Under President Cleveland Speaks Plainly.

Says Bryan Is Unfitted for the Presidency and Misconstrues Currency Laws.

Favors McKinley's Policies and Will Do All in His Power to Elect Him

Chicago, July 13.—James H. Eckles, who was comptroller of the currency under President Cleveland, and is now one of the most successful business men in Chicago, the head of one of its largest financial institutions, has announced that he will oppose Bryan with all his might. In the course of an interview in the Times-Herald he says:

"I did not support Mr. Bryan in 1896, and I don't intend to now. I shall oppose his election this year with all the vigor and ability I possess. I do not feel that I could stand to my convictions by remaining merely passive and contenting myself with simply voting against him.

Bryan the Issue.

"No issue set forth in any platform, no matter how cunningly devised and arranged, in this campaign can be made paramount to the issue of Mr. Bryan himself, his erroneous views of public questions, his numerous vagaries and his demonstrated desire to find popularity and votes in a never absent appeal to class prejudices and supposed race hatreds.

"I am still a democrat, if believing in democratic principles correctly interpreted and properly enforced as an agency for good constitutes true democracy; but I am not one if the utterances of the platform adopted at Chicago four years since, and just reaffirmed and reemphasized at Kansas City are the rightful expression of what modern democracy stands for.

Isms of Populism.

"The many isms of populism were abhorrent four years since to my sense of what was safe and sound in the operations of government and the general well being of the people, because I viewed them as being fundamentally wrong, and, being so, neither lapse of time nor errors of the party in power reconcile me to their adoption or make it possible that I should support a candidate who not only approves of them, but is their best embodiment and most vigorous champion.

"I have not read all of Mr. Bryan's utterances during the past four years, but I have taken note of enough of them to know that his views have not changed on any important question since 1896, and his determination to stir up class strife is not less manifest. Throughout all his addresses, public and private, is shown uniformly an apparent pleasure in preaching the desirability of discord between employe and employer, class and class. No appeal ever comes from him which is not tinged with advice to those who must work to distrust those who must employ.

Harmful to Labor.

"All this is not only un-American, but it is unjust, unfair and harmful most of all to the laborer, for whose well being beyond all others it is necessary that complete harmony between capital and labor and not continual antagonism should exist. The interests of labor are never in such great jeopardy as when intrusted to a man who has the gift of oratory coupled with unbounded political ambition and no business judgment or training.

"No man is fitted for the presidency who day in and day out proclaims, in the midst of a demonstrated better condition of affairs, the reverse to be true in order to foment a discontent, which will gain to himself and party a political advantage.

Ignorant or Blind.

"Mr. Bryan, without the statesmanship to analyze the conditions as they exist and find a remedy therefor gives utterance to nothing that would improve them, but only to that which would make them worse and cause greater injury to the great mass of the people, whose fate he constantly bewails. I do not believe in the public value of any man who is, under any and all circumstances, a faultfinder and mere protester against all existing order of things.

Effect on Gold Basis.

"If elected president the public must be prepared to see Mr. Bryan as chief executive and those associated with him as cabinet counselors construe every law bearing upon the currency and the powers of the treasury department in such a manner as to nullify as best they can its provisions in so far as they bear upon the question of the maintenance of the gold standard.

"He can and will keep the country in a state of fermentation and uncertainty in an attempt to bring about the larger use of silver as a redemptive money. The experiment is too dangerous a one to be entered upon by any on the grounds that the gold standard is so fixed in law that it cannot be disturbed, no matter who may be president or secretary of the treasury. The law ought to be executed with a construction favorable to it to fully carry out its provisions and not in a manner antagonistic to them.

Bryan and Recent War.

"It will hardly do for any sound money man to support Mr. Bryan because of a supposed better position he occupies than Mr. McKinley on the question of colonial possessions, despite his worse position on the question of the monetary standard, the supreme court, the enforcement of law, and the right of private contract. Mr. Bryan's position can hardly be a satisfactory one on an analysis of anything growing out of the Spanish war.

"He and his friends, in order to put the administration to a political disadvantage, urged on the declaration of war with Spain, and when it was over Mr. Bryan, personally at Washington, through personal advice and solicitation, brought into line a sufficient number of democratic senators to ratify the treaty of Paris despite the fact that it provided for the purchase and taking sovereign possession of Porto Rico and the Philippines, without any provision for giving them any home government whatsoever. The evils and burdens of the present moment growing out of the Spanish war are to be laid as much at the door of Mr. Bryan and his party as at that of Mr. McKinley and his. The whole thing reflects credit upon neither.

Policy on Philippines.

"I imagine that self-government will come quite as readily through the administration of Mr. McKinley as through that of Mr. Bryan. It will not come under either until the Philippines are fitted for it, property rights safe and personal ones protected. I hardly believe Mr. Bryan could do more than send a commission there, as the president has done, in order to take steps looking to supplanting the military government with a civil one.

"The country will not sanction the immediate abandonment of these islands to disorder and pillage. When a time comes that there is safety in a constituted home government, only remaining within the sphere of the influence of the United States, and public sentiment is to this end, it can be put down that Mr. McKinley's administration will readily grant it, for I believe it is generally admitted that no one is more ready to put himself in touch with public sentiment than the president or act in accordance therewith with more alacrity.

Denies Bryan's Democracy.

"There is no democratic doctrine presented this year and no democratic candidate. Mr. Bryan was first named by the populists because he best stood for populistic doctrines. He was only indorsed by the convention at Kansas City, called under alleged democratic auspices, because Bryanism, populism and democracy as now made up are synonymous terms.

"The combined forces of the elements of discontent of the country having gathered in one fold and found without a dissenting voice a candidate so many sided as to respond with an equal degree of satisfaction to each one's peculiar ism, it seems to me the part of wisdom to meet them in another election and again demonstrate that the electorate of this country in every critical time always stands ready to do that which is wise, putting down the wrong thing and putting up the right.

To Vote for McKinley.

"I am going to vote for President McKinley and do whatever I consistently can to aid in his election, not because I favor all his policies or approve of all of his political acts, but because under all existing conditions I believe the affairs of the country will be better off in his hands than in those of Mr. Bryan.

"I hope some time to see the democratic party recreated, advocating democratic candidates and democratic principles, but it cannot be more than a disturbing force in the country's daily history until it rids itself of a leadership which has brought it to its present low estate and ceases making itself the lying-in asylum of those elements of discontent which, if once intrusted with governmental power, would work injury at home and loss of standing abroad."

DANGER OF LETHARGY.

Republicans Are Urged by Chairman Weaver to Exert More Energy.

Des Moines, Ia., July 16. — "I notice that in the discussion of the coming campaign the leaders of both sides seem to agree that the fight will be in the west," commented H. O. Weaver, chairman of the republican state committee, "but they leave Iowa out of the list of states wherein they think the battle will be fought. Now, this is a fine tribute to the state, to the good sense and stability of her people, but it is fraught with some danger, especially to some of our congressmen. If the campaign is managed on the theory that it is unnecessary to pay any attention to Iowa, we shall have some vain regrets after election. Not that I think the state is close, but Iowa republicans are often afflicted with the disease of over-confidence and we never made as good a showing as we should in the state, except in 1896, because republicans always felt so sure of success that many of them were inactive and many even failed to vote.

"I see signs of an epidemic of this disease in Iowa. Everyone is saying that 'the fight was settled in our favor at Kansas City, when the democrats came out for their real issue, 16 to 1 and the Chicago platform, nominated Bryan and turned down Towne.' Republicans seem to think that the only thing for them to do is to wait patiently for the formality of the election to be attended to by others. In 1896 they were thoroughly frightened and they went to work and never let up till they polled a vote of 289,283 for McKinley. This was more than 60,000 above the highest republican vote polled in the state before, that of McFarland for secretary of state in 1894. Harrison in 1892 had 219,000. Note how the republican vote has fallen since then. In 1897 Shaw had 224,000 for governor and the next year, when the election of congressmen should have carried the vote away up, Dobson, for secretary of state, had 236,000 votes. In 1899 Gov. Shaw succeeded in bringing the republican vote up to 239,000, still 50,000 short of the vote of 1896. Every county in the state but four, Clarke, Monroe, Monona and Palo Alto, showed republican losses in 1899 compared with 1896. The total republican gains were 141, while the democrats gained 589 in seven counties, namely: Benton, Bremer, Cedar, Chickasaw, Muscatine, Osceola and Scott."

"And what have the democrats been doing all this time, Mr. Weaver?"

"They have been doing better than we have in getting their vote out," replied the chairman, "though last year we beat them a little. In 1892 Grover Cleveland had 196,000, to which should be added for comparison the 20,000 populist votes cast that year. In 1894 the democratic vote was 149,980 and the populist vote 34,907. In 1896 Bryan had 223,741, and the next year Fred White, the democratic nominee, for governor, had 19,883, a falling-off of only 13 per cent. At the same time the republican falling-off was 22 per cent. of the vote of 1896. In 1898 the democratic vote in Iowa was 173,000 and in 1899 Fred White again for governor had 183,326, a reduction of 18 per cent. from the vote of 1896. The republican vote of that year shows a reduction of a trifle less, 17 per cent., from McKinley's vote.

"Taking the congressional districts, it is well known that the First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth and Seventh districts showed republican losses last year, as compared with 1898. The Second district gave a republican majority of only forty-five last year.

"It will be well for the republicans of the state to think of these things. It would be almost as bad to have the republican vote of the state run down so we would have only a small majority as it would to lose a congressman or two, and both may happen if the republicans do not do their duty. I have no doubt we shall elect all our eleven congressmen, but it will be done by every republican doing his share. It must not be forgotten that the democrats are better organized in Iowa this year than they have been for several years, much better than in 1896. They have had their headquarters open and in active operation in Des Moines for several months and have been scouring the state for funds."

SCRAPS.

A man of many callings—the huckster.

A son of Li Hung Chang is to enter the Harvard Law school next fall.

More than half the champagne sold in France in 1898 went to England.

United States courts in New Mexico cost the government about $75,000 a year.

Munster, Germany, has a high school which has been in existence 1,100 years.

In the United States the annual consumption of borax is about 12,000 tons a year.

Hamburg is a great market for wild animals, largely from Africa, that city having an important trade with the dark continent.

Railroad accidents in the United Kingdom during the year caused the death of thirty-four persons and injury to 891 persons.

In coining such modern words as "telegram," "photography," etc., the Japanese have recourse to the Chinese language, as we do to the Greek.

After many weary months of darkness, Signor Crispi, Italy's aged statesman, is able to see, owing to the removal of a cataract from each eye.

The pen name of the queen of Roumania, "Carmen Sylva," is to be the name of a new town which has just been founded on the Danube delta.

The electric lamp was born in 1802, when Sir Humphrey Davy produced electric light by passing a current of electricity from a battery of 2,000 cells over charcoal points.

At a certain church in Rome may be seen a nail which is claimed to be the very one used in nailing Christ to the cross. Nails in imitation of the nail are sold for a small sum.

On Woodland avenue, opposite the university, there lives a man who has sixteen children, and until within the last five years he made all their shoes himself.—Philadelphia Record.

Benjamin I. Silliman of New York is the oldest living graduate of Yale, of which his father and grandfather were also graduates. Mr. Silliman is 95 years old, but still practices law.

Oklahoma City is a thriving city of upward of 15,000 people, with growing industries, and has just begun the erection of a free library with the gift of $25,000 from Andrew Carnegie.

MEN AND WOMEN.

"Fritz" Heinze of Butte City, Mont., finds himself, at 31, in control of mining properties valued at from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Senator Tillman said recently, "I have two colored men in charge of my plantation—men who think the world of me, and to whom I would trust everything I own."

Alfred Beit, who is the financial king of South Africa, and one of the richest men in the world, was quoted recently in London as saying that the end of the war was not yet even in sight.

Secretary Long is looking forward with pleasure to his summer vacation at his old home in Buckfield, Me. Last year he spent some of his time in manufacturing three rustic chairs. He cut the wood and fashioned the chairs himself.

BITS OF BY PLAY.

"Men's shirt collars? Yes, ma'am. What size, please?" (Nonplussed at first, but presently remembering her husband's age.) "Size 48 will be about right, I think."—Chicago Tribune.

MID-SEASON SALE.

PARISIAN PATTERN PRODUCTIONS.

OF FINEST MILLINERY.

We are bound to reduce our stock and from now on Price cuts no Figure. The goods must go regardless of cost or profit.

RIBBONS at YOUR OWN PRICE

This is not a Cleaning out sale of old odds and ends, but a sacriffice sale of everything in the store.

IT BEGINS TO-DAY

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

M. W. LYNCH, :: M. S. GILMAN

LYNCH & GILMAN,

STROUD, OKLAHOMA,

REAL ESTATE AND LOAN BROKERE.

WHY PAY RENT?

OWN YOUR OWN FARM!

It is the highth of folly for a man to pay exhorbitant rents when he can go to Oklahoma and buy a fine farm at $1 acre up. Well watered; near good markets; mild and beautiful climate and crop failure unknown. Plenty of timber and coal. We have for sale a well selected list of improved and unimproved farms and would like to talk with you. excursions 1st and 3rd Tuesday of each month. NOW before the "SNAPS" are all taken. For rates terms, excursions etc., call on or address, M. S. GILMAN, Klemme, Iowa, or M. W. LYNCH, ST. LOUIS HOTEL, STROUD, OKLAHOMA.

H. W. SCHOPER,

FARM MACHINERY,

Buggies and Wagons, Corn Planters, Corn Plows, Champion Binders and Mowers.

TWINE.

EARGAIN DAY BRIEFS.

Tess—Isn't she a peculiar girl? She wouldn't look at him when he was rich, but now, after he's lost all his money, she accepts him. Jess—Oh, well, you know how crazy every woman is to get anything that's reduced.—Philadelphia Press.

In the rush at the bargain counter a woman faints. The other women regard her interestedly, but with noticeable aversion. "How extremely mannish!" they exclaim, and shrug their shoulders, and proceed with their shopping. For after all it is the thoroughly womanly woman who commands the esteem of her own sex.—Detroit Journal.

"Went home on Thursday night and found my wife ill. Symptoms alarming. Dosed her best I could. On Friday morning she was no better. Felt worried. Wife dull and stupid. No life to her. Started for doctor. Struck by happy thought. Turned back. Cure complete." "What was it?" "Simple as pie. Just said, 'Too bad you have to be sick on bargain day, my dear.' She bounced up. 'What!' she cried. 'How stupid of one to forget!' In five minutes she was up and dressed and frizzing her hair." "Wouldn't it have been cheaper to have fetched the doctor?" "By Jove, I guess it would!"—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

PHILOSOPHICAL PESSIMISMS.

There are race horses, horse races and owners.

Every cloud has a silver lining; the trick is to detach it.

All play and no work makes Jack as dull a boy as all work and no play.

It's a long lane that has no turning, but some turn so much they waste space.

Hello There!

Where are you going?

To Pietzke's Blacksmith Shop, for he's the man to go to for good work and at right prices. At the old stand.

Klemme, Iowa.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN ONE NIGHT.

Or to quickly cure La Grippe take "Week-Break-a-cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

TO CURE A COLD WHILE YOU SLEEP.

Take "Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

PATENTS

DESIGNS TRADE-MARKS AND COPYRIGHTS OBTAINED

ADVICE AS TO PATENTABILITY FREE

Notice in "Inventive Age"

Book "How to obtain Patents"

Charges moderate. No fee till patent is secured. Letters strictly confidential. Address, E. G. SIGGERS, Patent Lawyer, Washington, D. C.

PATENTS

Caveats, and Trade-Marks obtained and all Patent business conducted for MODERATE FEES. OUR OFFICE IS OPPOSITE U. S. PATENT OFFICE and we can secure patent in less time than those remote from Washington.

Send model, drawing or photo., with description. We advise, if patentable or not, free of charge. Our fee not due till patent is secured. A PAMPHLET, "How to Obtain Patents," with cost of same in the U. S. and foreign countries sent free. Address,

C. A. SNOW & CO.

OPP. PATENT OFFICE, WASHINGTON, D. C.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME VI. KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, SEPT. 20 1900 NUMBER 8

Dollars for 50 Cts

$12,000!

GREAT CLOSING OUT SALE!

The Entire Stock Of

Dry Goods and Notions, Clothing, Cloaks, Underwear, Boots and Shoes, etc.

Bought of the Erwin Bros., now in the "Asplin Store" in Garner, Iowa, to be sold regardless of value.

NOW IS THE TIME

TO BUY YOUR

Winter Supplies At Half Price.

WHEELER LAND CO.,

Of Moorhead, Minnesota

STATEMENT.

Of the condition of State Savings Bank organized under the laws of Iowa, located at Klemme, in the county of Hancock at the close of business on the 5th day of Sept. A. D. 1900, made to the Auditor of State as required by law,

ASSETS.

Amount of bills, bonds and other evidences of debt discounted or purchased actually owned by the bank (carried out). . . . $		39 697 40
Amount of cash on hand, described as follows:
Gold coin.....$	115 00
Silver coin and bullion.....	395 75
Legal tender and national bank notes and subsidiary coin,.....	2 428 65
Drafts and checks on other solvent banks and other cash items not dishonored, on hand and belonging to the bank.	65 67	3 005 07
Amount subject to be drawn at sight on deposit with solvent banks or bankers (specifying names and locations of banks):
N. W. National Bank, Chicago.....	2 271 64
First National Bank, Garner Ia.....	15 670 25	17 941 89
Overdrafts.	None.
Revenue stamps on hand - -		44 41
Value of real property (owned by the bank)	1 200 00
Value of personal property [owned by the bank)	740 87	1 940 87
Total Assets		$ 62 629 64

LIABILITIES.

Amount of capital stock actually paid up in cash		25 000 00
Total amount due depositors as follows:
Amount sight deposits - - -	19 019 80
Amount time deposits - - -	14 566 75	33 586 55
Other profits on hand (after deducting taxes and expenses - - -	4 043 09	4 043 09
Total Liabilities,		62 629 64
Amount of all liabilities to the bank on part of its directors:
As borrowers - -	1 987 17
As endorsers - -	423 88	2 411 05

State of Iowa Hancock County, ss

We, Fred Arnold President, and F. A. Arnold Cashier, of the Bank above named, do solmnly swear that the foregoing statement is full, true and correct, to the best of our knowledge and belief, that the assets therein set forth are bona fide the property of said Bank in its corporate capacity; and that no part of the same has been loaned or advanced to said Bank for the purpose of being exhibited as a portion of its assets.

FRED ARNOLD, President.
F. A. ARNOLD. Cashier.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence by Fred Arnold and F. A. Ardold, this 14th day of Sept., 1900, [SEAL] CHAS. W. KNOOP, Notary Public. Attested by:
H. W. Gruetzmacher,; Charles Gruetzmacher, Directors.

SCIENTIFIC JOTTINGS.

It is said that successful trials of a telephonic apparatus without wire have been had in Italy. The instruments were installed on moving trains. The details of the experiments and apparatus are meager.

One hospital in New York has adopted a camera to record minutely the action of patients, and many moving pictures have been taken, showing the movements in walking of persons afflicted with locomotor ataxia. They are produced slowly on the screen, so that physicians are enabled to study the symptoms carefully. Moving pictures have been taken in Vienna showing operations being performed by great surgeons.

Barometric readings reduced to true atmospheric pressure are now required by the weather bureau, the approximate corrections for gravity being applied to all barometric readings. This correction applies to all mercurial barometers and is nearly constant at any one station. The corrected reading is a standard measure of atmospheric pressure and can be compared to similar corrected readings made at any place in the world.

Several of the largest abandoned copper mines in eastern Maine will again be operated. The Maine copper mines were in successful operation in 1879 and showed good profits while copper was quoted at 14 cents. The mines could also be operated on a paying basis with copper at 12 cents, but the crash came when the Wisconsin mines put down the price of copper to eight cents. Now that copper is so high, it will be very profitable to mine it.

A central station for the production of acetylene gas is being tested at Ta-ta-Tovaros, Hungary, a city of 12,000 inhabitants. Five miles of pipe covers the city and furnishes gas to 158 street lights and 250 burners in houses. The generating station is located over 600 feet from the nearest house. The gas is produced in four generators by the fall of the carbide into the water. The gas for each group, on leaving the generators, passes into a cooler and then into a purifier, and finally into two gasometers of 106 cubic feet capacity. The generating plant requires the services of only two men, and the total cost of the installation was $30,000, of which $19,000 went for the pipe system.

TOLD BY FIGURES.

At Wardbury, Norway, the longest day lasts from May 21 to July 22 without interruption.

Nine men constitute a jury in Mexico, and a majority gives the verdict. If the jury is unanimous there is no appeal.

The bank of England destroys about 350,000 of its notes every week, to replace them with freshly printed ones. One evening in each week is set apart for the making of this expensive bonfire.

The year 47 B. C. was the longest year on record. By order of Julius Caesar it contained 445 days. The additional days were put in to make the seasons conform as nearly as possible with the solar year.

Russia's czar has an income of $1,000 per hour, the sultan $850, the emperor of Austria $500, the kaiser $450, the king of Italy $330, Queen Victoria the same, the French president $250, the king of the Belgians $85, and the president of the United States $7.50 per hour.

Paris has the largest library in the world. It contains upward of 2,000,000 printed books and 160,000 manuscripts. The British museum contains about 1,500,000 volumes, and the Imperial library at St. Petersburg about the same number. These are the largest libraries in the world.

Greatest density of population in the world is claimed for the city of Bombay, and is disputed by Agra only. The population of Bombay amounts to 760 persons per acre in certain areas, and in these sections the street area occupies only one-fourth of the whole. If the entire population massed in the streets for any purpose, the density would equal 3,040 persons per acre.

An average waltz takes a dancer over about three-quarters of a mile; a square dance makes him cover half a mile. A girl with a well-filled program travels thus in one evening: Twelve waltzes, nine miles; four other dances at half a mile apiece, which is hardly a fairly big estimate, two miles more; the intermission stroll and the trips to the dressing room to renovate her gown and complexion, half a mile; grand total, eleven and a half miles.

FALL AND WINTER OPEN-ING

SEPTEMBER, 21st and 22nd.

We will display on above dates the largest assortment of Pattern and Trimmed Hats ever shown in Klemme. Every Lady is invited to call and be convinced of low prices. Don't forget the dates.

E. P. SCHAEFER.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO

FOR SCREEN DOORS

LUMBER,

LIME, STUCCO, AND CEMENT.

EVERYTHING IN BUILDING MATERIAL.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO.

L. G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

FOR

FINE PRINTING

COME TO

THE TIMES OFFICE.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

::::SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

WALL PAPER,

Paints, Oils, Alabastine, Window Shades and Everything used to Decorate and Beautify the Home.

WATCHES, CLOCKS and JEWELRY.

DRUGGISTS' SUNDRIES.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

The Klemme Times.

G. L. WELLEMEYER, Pub.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

Elmer B. Adams, who presides over the United States Court for the Eastern District of Missouri, is believed to be the wealthiest federal Judge in the country, his fortune being estimated at $500,000.

The abandoned farms in Rhode Island number 349, according to the state's official catalogue, but from that fact it must not be inferred that Rhode Island, as a whole, is in serious danger of going out of tillage. Estimating each abandoned farm at 100 acres, the 349 amount to but about 4 per cent of the state's area.

The shirt waist man is not new. Present consideration of him has brought to light an ordinance of Lincoln's Inn, 400 years old. "Urbanus Sylvan," in the last Cornhill, writes: "In 1505 there is a resolution of the bench that any one at the clerk's commons shall be decorously clad, and not with his shirt in facie populi ultra diploidem, i. e., sticking out in public view beyond his doublet."

A professor of geology has found near Montclair, N. J., fossil specimens of a fish supposed to be millions of years old. The fish belongs to the order of ganoids, of which there are only a few modern representatives. Housekeepers who think their fisherman is not furnishing wares as fresh as they desire can at least comfort themselves with the knowledge that his ice-box contains nothing as old as this.

There is a popular impression that microbes and germs of all kinds are killed by intense cold. Recent experiments in the laboratory of Professor Dewar, the man who solidified hydrogen, shows that this impression is erroneous. Many forms of bacteria were subjected to the tremendous cold of liquid air for an entire week without interruption, yet afterward they developed as vigorously as they would have done if they had not undergone so frosty an experience.

Norma Diorn is a girl who lives with her father near the headquarters of the Guadaloupe in Texas, and has recently been rewarded for bravery with a handsome silver-mounted revolver, presented by the Texas Cattle association. Her achievement was the lassoing of a mountain lion and dragging it to its death, as it was in the act of attacking her father's cattle, on the borders of the ranch. As she had no weapon on her person, she was forced to depend upon her lariat.

According to the Journal of German Engineers, the French railroad trains, instead of the English, hold the first place for speed, schedule time being the basis for comparison. A regular train between Paris and Amiens makes the distance, 82 miles, without stop, in an hour and a quarter, or at the rate of 65 miles an hour. The fastest regular train in Great Britain makes 60 miles an hour, for a distance of only 33 miles, between Perth and Forfax. In Germany a greater speed than 56 miles an hour is prohibited, but the fastest regular train makes only 52 miles, between Wittenberg and Hamburg.

Vertical penmanship, adopted so widely in the public schools a few years ago, seems to be going out of fashion. It is said to be slow to write and not favored in commercial life. The return to the Spencerian system emphasizes the project to erect a memorial library to Platt Spencer in Geneva, O. Here, in a little log house, the great penman taught many branches, especially the beautiful handwriting which young and old came from afar to learn. Until the age of 8, Spencer had never seen writing paper, but he had already traced his characters in the sand of the river's edge and on the bark of trees. His life was full of hardships, but many a man reared in luxury may well envy the inscription, "Poet, penman, educator, reformer, benefactor," engraved on his tomb by a grateful pupil.

A writer in the New York Sun gives figures to show that the problem of procuring a sufficient number of railroad ties causes the corporations increasing perplexity. A mile of standard single-track railroad requires about 4,500 ties, and the average life of a tie is estimated at about five years. The annual requirement of the Pennsylvania railroad for the part of the system east of Pittsburg is nearly 2,700,000 ties. The tie supply of all the railways of the country represents an aggregate impressive at once to the business instinct and to the imagination. Under the best conditions, and making no allowance for fire and other accidents, a plot of 2,000 acres and a period of 30 years are required to produce 1,000,000 ties. Every line of railroad thus becomes an argument in favor of preserving our forests from destruction.

Iowa News

A Jefferson dispatch says: "B. I. Sallinger, supreme court reporter, has announced himself a candidate for omination to succeed Mr. Dolliver for congress in the Tenth district. There are now ten candidates."

Papers have been filed at Chariton in a $25,000 damage suit against J. M. Harrison and Joe Ballou, railroad detectives for the Q, Eli Manning, sheriff of Lucas county, and the C., B. & Q. railroad for false imprisonement and degradation of character. Charles I. Essex is the plaintiff, and the suit grew out of a trial for attempted train wrecking last March. An attempt was made to wreck the Burlington fast mail No. 8, and Essex was arrested and charged with the crime. The first trial resulted in his conviction, but he secured a new trial and was acquitted, as he was also in the federal court on the charge of obstructing the mails, and he now seeks redress in a damage suit.

An indictment for murder has been returned against Frank Peyton, the dope fiend and all-around crook who confessed in St. Louis recently that he helped kill Contractor John E. Robson in Sioux City last December while robbing the latter's office. Peyton will be brought to Sioux City immediately and will be tried at the present term of court. His crime aroused wide interest because of its brutality, the mystery surrounding it and the efforts made to find the murderer. Two different innocent men were arrested for the crime and after trial released. Peyton's first confession, in which he partially admitted a part in the murder, came as a startling surprise August 11.

Emery Wood shot and killed his father, Axon Wood, at their home in Greenfield township, Jones county, nine miles south of Anamosa. The boy was prompted in the deed by the action of his father, who held a loaded revolver in his hand and was chasing his wife about their home. Death was instantaneous, the father falling with the cocked revolver pointed at his son. No preliminary hearing as yet has been held, but the lad, who is 18 years of age, tells a straightforward story and his assertions are corroborated by the circumstances and appearances about the home; also by the people and neighbors living in the vicinity of the patricide. The father for many years has been subject to violent fits of temper, although he was not addicted to the use of intoxicants.

At Des Moines a few days ago Mattie Mash, colored, shot and perhaps fatally wounded William Foster, a colored attorney. Immediately after the shooting the Mash woman jumped into a buggy and lashed the horse in desperate efforts to escape capture. Sergeant Morris and Fire Chief Burnett, in the chief's buggy, started after her, and at the corner of Seventh street and Grand avenue they collided with a buggy containing Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Putnam and Mrs. M. A. Hays. The occupants of the buggy were thrown to the pavement and the two ladies injured severely, but it is not thought fatally. Officer Livingstone continued the chase and captured the woman near Twelfth street and Grand avenue. The woman charges that Foster had accomplished her ruin under promise of marriage, and declined to keep his promise.

A dispatch from Marshalltown says the canning season in Marshall county is practicaly over. It has been a busy and prosperous one. For the past five weeks the Marshall Canning company of that city has employed 200 hands night and day, putting up 50,000 cans of corn every twenty-four hours. The season's pack will be at least 1,000,000 cans. A larger business than usual has also been done by the Hawkeye Canning company of the same city, in both corn and tomatoes, while at Gilman, in the southern part of the county, a phenomenal season's run has been made, breaking all previous records. The Gilman concern is one of the most extensive in the state, and its product is almost invariably sold entire before a single can is sealed. Marshall county canned corn is in active demand in nearly all parts of the world.

A mysterious case of poisoning happened at Delta recently which has ended in the arrest of the wife of the dead man on the charge of murder. The facts have just leaked out. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kuhn of Delta drove to What Cheer, where they purchased four bottles of beer, two of which were drank on the road home. Just before reaching Delta Kuhn gave a scream and said that he had been poisoned and would die unless immediately helped. He was driven rapidly to Delta, where he was taken to the office of a physician, but expired in a few minutes. His last words were addressed to his wife and were: "You have poisoned me." A coroner's jury was empanelled the next morning and the evidence of physicians who had made a post mortem examination was taken. Mrs. Kuhn was arrested and placed in jail, charged with murder. It is said there is a man in the plot.

CUMMINS WITHDRAWS.

Announces He Will Not be a Candidate for Senator.

Des Moines, Sept. 7.—Hon. A. B. Cummins has concluded not to be a candidate for United States senator in opposition to Senator Dolliver. He has made the following statement:

"To My Republican Friends: Immediately after the appointment of Mr. Dolliver to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Senator Gear, I was besieged by reporters, wanting to know whether I would be a candidate for the office before the republican caucus of the general assembly. Thinking that it was possible for me to defer a decision upon the question until near the time of the meeting of the legislature, I replied, in substance, that I might be a candidate, and it is now generally believed that I will contest Mr. Dolliver's election.

"My experience in the short period since the appointment has convinced me that it is not practicable to postpone my conclusion. I am warned by events that have already occurred that if there is to be a contest between Mr. Dolliver and myself, it must begin now, indeed, that it has already begun. Under these conditions my decision is easily made, and I desire to say to the men who have so loyally and unselfishly supported me, that I am not a candidate. I cannot say this to all of you by a personal communication, and therefore adopt the only other means that can be used for the purpose.

"Many things have combined to impel me to the conclusion just announced. I had hoped that following the appointment there would be a period of absolute peace and quiet upon the subject, and that we might forget, for a time at least, that there had been a controversy between Senator Gear and myself. The hope was not well founded, and I am not willing that my ambition shall disturb the party in the slightest degree during the important campaign now in progress. I am told that if it is understood that I am a candidate it will affect the vote upon the constitutional amendment to be submitted at the coming election, and I cannot permit my senatorial aspirations to become an obstacle in the way of a measure so wise and salutary.

"A final reason, influential in my determination, is that my business imperatively demands my time and strength, and I cannot carry on a controversy that will consume both, during the long interval that must elapse between the present time and the meeting of the general asssmbly.

"With unbounded gratitude for your unwavering, unequaled devotion in the long though unsuccessful fight. I am, yours faithfully,

"A. B. CUMMINS."

A. S. Phinney, an Illinois Central brakeman, was perhaps fatally injured at Le Mars, although he was alive at last accounts. Phinney was at work on a construction train on the Central, when an Omaha passenger train approached. The Illinois Central train suddenly stopped preparatory to backing away, and the jerk of the sudden stop threw Phinney off a gravel car and under the wheels. Both legs were severed.

The great double-track bridge being built by the Chicago & Northwestern railway fourteen miles west of Ames across the Des Moines river and which is now nearing completion, is the largest double-track bridge in the United States. The cost of the steel work is estimated at $450,000 and the foundation is placed at $150,000, bringing the total cost of the bridge up to $600,000. This bridge is being built for the purpose of shortening the road from Boone to Ogden, which now embraces two of the steepest grades on the Northwestern line, which have been the cause of many wrecks and much loss of life. The new line, besides doing away with these heavy grades, eliminates several curves in the road, enabling the Northwestern to shorten its time. It is estimated that the new bridge and short line will cost $1,000,000.

A Fort Dodge dispatch says Fort Dodge's prospects for securing a sugar beet factory were never so excellent as the present. President Theiden of the Minnesota Sugar company, whose mammoth plant is at St. Louis Park, Minn., spent last week in the city and his talks with local capitalists gave great encoragement to the promoters of the Fort Dodge beet sugar company. Mr. Theiden says that the soil of northern Iowa is ideal for the cullture of the sugar beet, and so well pleased is he with the crop's prospects in Webster, Hamilton and Wright counties that he has decided that the harvest shall begin on September 20. "I have made a close examination of the beets of Webster county," said Mr. Theiden, "and the result is most gratifying. The beets here are of excellent size and shape, showing careful cultivation, and will no doubt give equally gratifying returns when their sugar analysis is made. The beets grown near Badger are especially worthy of notice. They will be shipped to St. Louis Park as soon as harvested and there converted into sugar. The growers will be more than pleased with the results." About 300 acres are in sugar beet cultivation there, and as the farmers are finding that the work of caring for the beets is far less than they at first supposed, the acreage will be increased many fold next year.

3,000 DROWNED.

Awful Story of Disaster on the Gulf Coast.

Governor Sayers Estimates Loss of Life at Galveston and Vicinity at Three Thousand.

New York, Sept. 10.—The World today prints the following:

"Austin, Texas, Sept. 9.—Information has just reached me that about 3,000 lives have been lost at Galveston, with enormous destruction of property.

"No information from other points.

(Signed) "Joseph D. Sayers,
"Governor."

Dallas, Tex., Sept. 9.—The following telegram has just been received from Houston by the News:

"Relief train just returned, it could not get closer than six miles of Virginia Point, where the prairie was covered with lumber, debris, pianos, trunks and dead bodies.

"Two hundred corpses were counted from the train.

"A large steamer is stranded this side of Virginia Point, as though thrown up by a tidal wave.

"Nothing can be seen of Galveston.

"Two men were picked up who floated across to the mainland, who say they estimate the loss of life up to the time they left at 2,000."

The above message is addressed to Superintendent Felton, Dallas, and comes from Mr. Vaughan, manager of the Western Union office at Houston.

Houston, Tex., Sept. 9.—The West Indian storm which reached the gulf coast yesterday morning wrought awful havoc in Texas.

Reports are conflicting, but it is known that an appalling disaster has befallen the city of Galveston, where, it is reported, a thousand or more lives have been blotted out and a tremendous property damage incurred.

Meager reports from Sabine Pass and Port Arthur also indicate a heavy loss of life, but these reports cannot be confirmed at this hour.

The first news to reach this city from the stricken city of Galveston was received tonight. James C. Timmins, who resides in Houston, and who is the general superintendent of the National Compress company, arrived in the city at 8 o'clock tonight from Galveston. He was one of the first to reach here with tidings of the great disaster which has befallen the city, and the magnitude of that disaster remains to be told. After remaining throughout the hurricane on Saturday he departed from Galveston on a schooner and came across the bay to Morgan's Point, where he caught a train for Houston.

The hurricane, Mr. Timmins said, was the worst ever known.

The estimate made by the citizens of Galveston was that 4,000 houses, most of them residences, have been destroyed, and at least 1,000 people have been drowned, killed or are missing.

Some business houses were also destroyed, but most of them stood, though badly damaged.

The city, Mr. Timmins avers, is a complete wreck so far as he could see from the water front and from the Tremont hotel. Water was blown over the island by the hurricane, the wind blowing at the rate of eighty miles an hour straight from the gulf and forcing the sea water before it in big waves. The gale was a steady one, the heart of it striking the city about 5 o'clock yesterday evening, and continued without intermission until midnight last night, when it abated somewhat, although it continued to blow all night.

Of his own knowledge Mr. Timmins knew of only one house succumbing with fatal results, though he heard of many residences being carried with with inmates.

It was reported that the orphan asylum and both the hospitals were destroyed, and if this proves true the loss of life will be great, as these institutions were generally crowded, and as they were substantial buildings the chances are that many had taken refuge in them.

The water extended across the island. Mr. Timmins said it was three feet deep in the rotunda of the Tremont hotel and was six feet deep in Market street.

Along the water front the damage was very great.

The roof had been blown from all the elevators and the sheds along the wharves were either wrecked or had lost their sides and were of no protection to the contents. Most of the small sailing craft were wrecked and were either piled up on the harves or floating bottom side up in the bay.

Houston, Tex., Sept. 10.—It is one great appalling story of disaster and death at every town on the gulf coast. From New Orleans to El Paso reports are coming in of loss of life and destruction of property. No one can estimate the loss of life and property until something like order can be brought out of the chaos. At New Orleans, where the storm did not approach the magnitude displayed at Galveston, the property loss is estimated at $100,000. It is rumored that Sabine Pass was completely destroyed.

Missionaries Saved the Legations.

London, Sept. 10.—A dispatch to the Morning Post from Peking, dated August 23, says that Mr. Conger, the American minister, has written that without the assistance of the American missionaries the defense of the legations would have been impossible.

MUST MAKE REPARATION.

The United States Government Makes Known Its Position.

Washington, Sept. 6.—The president and his cabinet propose to the central government of China three things:

1. Reparation by indemnity for the injuries to foreign citizens and property.

2. Guarantee against the recurrence of such evils and of order and protection throughout the various provinces of the empire.

3. The foreign troops to remain on Chinese soil by stipulation and not merely as invaders.

A member of the cabinet expresses himself as follows: "We no longer have any doubt that responsibility for the attacks upon the legation in Peking must be placed upon the empress dowager and her government. We have received information through official channels which settles this point beyond peradventure."

WILL FIGHT TO A FINISH.

Boer Commander Declares He Will Never Surrender to British.

London, Sept. 10.—The Cape Town correspondent of the Manchester Guardian states that General De Wet has informed friends that he will fight to the end. His sons have been killed in the war and his wife has died of a broken heart.

Official returns to September 1 show that the Boers have captured during the war 281 officers and 7,288 men, of whom 235 officers and 6,195 men have escaped or been released. One officer and eighty-five men died in captivity. The number of British remaining in the hands of the Boers is 1,052.

GERMANY WILL STAY IN

Decides That It Is Necessary for Her Troops to Remain in Peking.

Washington, Sept. 7.—The attitude of the German government in the Russian proposal to withdraw the troops from Peking has been made known to the United States, and is to the effect that Germany considers it necessary to retain her forces in Peking.

The answer in substance states that Germany, while anxious to avoid any friction between the powers, regards the conditions at Peking such as to require the continued presence of German forces there.

Almost at the same time a message was received from the United States ambassador at Paris, General Porter, saying that the attitude of the French government is favorable to the position taken by Russia.

FARTHEST NORTH.

Prince Luigi, an Italian, Beats the Record of Nansen.

London, Sept. 8.—Dr. Nansen has been outdone. Prince Luigi of Savoy, Duke of Abruzzi and first cousin of King Victor Emanuel of Italy, is returning from his polar expedition, in which he has broken all records. This news comes in a telegram from Christiania, which says that word has been received from Tromsoe to this effect, with the added information that Prince Luigi and his ship reached 86 degrees 33 minutes north latitude, which is 19 minutes farther north than the point attained by Nansen. The ship was caught in the ice, where it remained fast for eleven months. Great suffering was endured by the members of the expedition, three of whom died. Of these one was a Norwegian and two were Italians. When the duke's ship passed Hammerfest the news of King Humbert's assassination was conveyed to him, but he did not stop at that place or communicate with the shore. The Stella Polare was injured by the ice

Need $80,000,000 for Navy.

Washington, Sept. 10.—From present indications the estimates to be submitted to congress for the support and increase of the navy will be the largest presented in the history of the new naval establishment. Chiefs of the naval bureaus are preparing estimates for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1902. The estimates of the navy department for the present fiscal year amounted to $74,245,500. Though congress failed to appropriate the entire amount asked for, the chiefs of bureaus have determined to make another effort to obtain the sum they deem necessary.

The indications are that the estimates to be submitted to Secretary Long will reach $80,000,000.

Turkey Getting Her Navy Ready.

Washington, Sept. 10.—Turkey evidently intends to be prepared to resist any attempt which may be made by foreign governments to collect indemnities by force. Consul General C. M. Dickinson at Constantinople has cabled to the state department announcing that the sublime porte has awarded a contract for the construction of two torpedo boats to a ship building firm at Genoa.

The department has also been informed that the Turkish naval department has completed the plans and specifications for the cruiser which is to be built in the United Staes.

Great Britain Applauds Germany.

London, Sept. 7.—Germany's polite refusal to withdraw from Peking is commented upon with keen satisfaction in London and the hope is expressed that Lord Salisbury will show similar firmness. The British reply has not yet been formulated. Lord Salisbury desires to consult with his colleagues and has notified the foreign office of his intention to return to London from the continent early next week.

In the Desert...

A Story Illustrating the Horrors of War

By H. B. WELSH....

CHAPTER VII.—(Continued.)

"You are a spy," said the Khalifa, looking from under bent brows at Cleland, as the dervishes paused, "and spies have but one fate with me!" He turned to the two dervishes. "Take him out and hang him behind the zareba."

"Surely you will at least allow me to say a word in my own defense?" exclaimed Cleland. Life is dear to all, and though Paul Cleland was ready to die in just warfare, as all brave, loyal British subjects are, yet this condemnation to the most ignominious and ignoble of deaths, wholly undeserved as it was, sent a chill of horror through him. "I am no spy, and it is my misfortune that I am here tonight. If you will allow me to explain how I came to be so I shall be under debt of gratitude to your Excellency."

The Khalifa again waved his hand. Then, as well as he could on account of his imperfect knowledge of the language, Cleland briefly related what had passed since he lost himself in the jungle, only keeping back, of course, all mention of Rayburn's treachery.

The Khalifa listened in silence. When Cleland had finished he turned to the dervishes and said something in a low voice; then turning again to Cleland, he bowed.

"They will take you where you can rest to-night, and bring you something to eat and drink. In the morning we shall talk again of this."

Cleland would have thanked him; but, with one wave of his hand, the Khalifa peremptorily stopped him.

He had again to follow his fierce-looking guides. They led him into a small hut, whose sole furniture consisted of a mat on the floor and a goat's skin; then, disappearing, returned with some dried apricots and dates and a little water. These they left on the floor, and then, without another word, withdrew. Cleland tried to swallow the water; but his mouth was so parched with the heat and dust that it was some time before he could do so.

He got no sleep that night. The hut was dirty, dark, and hot as an oven; it was, moreover, swarming with flies.

He felt faint with exhaustion and feverish with heat. He hardly dared think of what fate might lie before him; but he was able to commit himself to the God in whom he trusted with all his heart, and that brought peace and comfort to his mind.

He was summoned early the next morning to the Khalifa, who lay in the same position on his mat, as if he had never moved from it.

"You may not be a spy," he said, "but you are an infidel. Ours is the only true religion. Great is God, and Mohammed is His prophet! Behold what great things we have already accomplished through Him. Renounce your faith, become a Moslem and one of us, and I promise you your life shall be spared!"

"Not for anything that you can give me shall I renouce my faith," answered Cleland quietly, but without hesitation. "I shall choose death—even the most ignominious of deaths rather! You must choose another price, Excellency."

"None other, by the beard of the prophet!" exclaimed the Khalifa, his deep tones vibrating with wrath. "On no other condition shall your worthless life be spared but that. If you refuse, by the great name, you shall hang on the nearest tree!"

Cleland bowed gravely.

"If it must be, it must be, Khalifa. I can die, even a criminal's death, like a man, I hope; but I cannot renounce my faith like a traitor!"

"Take him away!" cried the Khalifa, wrathfully.

The two dervishes came forward and led him away, to what fate Cleland could not tell.

CHAPTER VIII.

Adrienne Breynton sat alone in her dainty boudoir. It was July now, and the dead season in Cairo. Shepheard's was deserted. No longer gay English and American tourists made the ball rooms and the verandas ring with their chatter and laughter.

Adrienne's beautiful face was paler than usual. She looked like one who had received a heavy blow. So, indeed, she had. Adrienne did not conceal the truth from herself.

Only a week ago the Anglo-Egyptian troops, flushed and triumphant with their victory at Atbara, had marched into Cairo to the sound of victorious music, blaring trumpets and screaming pipes. The colonel, Adrienne's brother, had come to her for congratulation, and had found her like a ghost, pale and wan.

"You are ill, Adrienne," he said, anxiously, when the first greetings were over. "This climate is beginning to tell upon you. You must take a trip home, and remain there during the summer months."

Adrienne shook her head, her lips quivering.

"It is nothing, Ned; I have been a little upset, that is all. We women, who stay at home and don't share all the excitement and glory of the enterprise, are apt to get a little depressed and anxious over the results of it. And war is a terrible thing at best. There are always some brave fellows left behind when you march away with the glory of triumph from the battlefield."

"Ay, that is true," said the colonel, sighing a little; "but it is a glorious death, Addy—no brave fellow could desire a better. A thousand times better than to be taken prisoner; that's the fate a man dreads. And that reminds me there's one poor fellow whose fate may have been that for all we know. I mean poor Cleland."

"Yes?" said Adrienne, quickly. She passed her hand over her lips. "I—I heard something about him, Ned. Tell me what you know."

"Little enough," said the colonel; "I wish we knew more. We didn't miss him until we reached a place called Hudi, that was a day before the battle; then we found he had disappeared. His boys told a cock-and-bull story of his having been attacked by a hyena, and instantly after disappearing. They thought the spirit of the animal had carried him off. But Rayburn had a still queerer story to tell. It seems he had been up very late the night before, and had gone out for a stroll down by the river. As he approached he saw a boat shoot swiftly down. There were two men in it, and one he was sure was an Englishman, though he did not recognize him. He shouted, but no answer was returned, and the next minute the boat had disappeared from view. As soon as the news got abroad about Cleland's disappearance he related what he had seen; but of course he gave us no clue. Vanburgh, however, told me some time after that Rayburn had hinted to him he—Rayburn—had reason to think Cleland was rather a queer customer, and that he had several times spoken of the injustice of the English in forcing their rule upon the Soudanese, who had previously been well enough satisfied with that of their own Khalifa."

"It is a falsehood!" cried Adrienne, suddenly. She turned towards her brother a face pale as death, in which her dark eyes burned like two coals. "Ned, you do not believe such a manifest lie?"

The colonel looked at his sister in surprise.

"I can't say I do, Addy. I always found Cleland a straight fellow enough, and he had no reason to join us if he felt like that. The truth is, I had a kind of idea Rayburn didn't like Cleland—was jealous of him, in fact; but we can only hope the poor fellow will turn up all right. He did not get into Mahmoud's clutches, anyhow, that is certain; and if the Khalifa has got hold of him we shall find him in the next campaign—when we fall on the Khalifa's traces—if he is still living."

Adrienne drew in her breath a little pantingly; her hand went swiftly to her side. Her brother looked at her anxiously.

"I'll tell you what it is, Addy—you must see a doctor. There's a lady doctor, they say, staying now with Mr. Crombie, the Scotch clergyman, you know. She is on her way to Madagascar as a medical missionary. Why not see her? She comes from Edinburgh, I believe. Will you allow me to send for her?"

Adrienne shook her head, saying she was all right; but the colonel was not satisfied.

That very day he invited Mr. Crombie, his wife and the Scotch lady doctor to dine with his sister and himself in the evening and Adrienne found herself later on awaiting her guests in her elegant little drawing room.

When the servant announced them—"Mr. and Mrs. Crombie and Doctor Crawford"—she went forward to receive them with her usual gracious sweetness; but her eyes dwelt longest on the face of the lady doctor, and during the evening she found them again and again wandering to that pale, pure face, with the expression of strange, deep peace stamped forever upon it.

It was Margaret Crawford, indeed—Margaret, whom two years of devoted work, of unselfish living for others, had enabled to crush down that old pain that still lived in her heart.

Only a few weeks ago she had applied for and obtained the post of medical missionary in Madagascar, rendered vacant by the death of the holder of it. Mr. Crombie was an old acquaintance of Edinburgh days, and he had begged Margaret to stay a few weeks with him on her way.

And something—ah, that longing that years could not kill to see once more a beloved face, to hear once more a dear voice, now lost to her forever—had impelled Margaret to yield.

"She looks a noble woman," thought Adrienne to herself; "but there is a story of suffering behind that face, I am sure. She makes me think of the words, somehow, "Perfect through suffering."

At dinner of course the principal topic of conversation was the late campaign. Presently Cleland's name was mentioned.

"Ah, yes, poor fellow! I heard something of that," said Mr. Crombie. "I'm afraid he must have fallen into the hands of the enemy." He turned suddenly to Margaret. "By the by, did you ever meet Dr. Paul Cleland in Edinburgh, Doctor Crawford? I fancy you must have done so."

Adrienne's eyes had fixed themselves on Margaret's face.

She saw the strange expression that leaped into those dark gray eyes—one of mingled pain, apprehension and dread.

"Yes, I met him," she answered, in her soft tones, with their slightly Scotch accent. "What about him?"

The colonel briefly rehearsed all that there was to tell. Adrienne, glancing surreptitiously at Margaret, could see the expression of terrible anguish slowly gathering in the girl's eyes, and to herself Adrienne said: "She loves him! Oh, how blind I have been! He had never eyes for any woman but those that told of friendship—no, not even for me, although I tried hard to persuade myself he had. And now I can understand why—he loved her, and for some reason they were parted."

So these two women sat through the two hours of dinner, each living through a lifetime of agony, while outwardly they had to preserve the calm and self-possessed demeanor that social conventionalism demands of the well-bred.

In the drawing room Adrienne found herself alone for a little with Margaret, and, feeling she might never have another opportunity, she made a desperate attempt to plunge into the subject.

"I know Dr. Cleland very well," she said quite suddenly, taking a seat near her companion, but her own face was partly in shadow. "We were, in fact, very good friends. It seems to me a terrible thing that nothing should be done to rescue him, if that is possible. I feel sure he has been betrayed into the hands of the enemy."

Margaret's dark eyes looked long and strangely into the beautiful face. After a long pause she spoke.

"Is there nothing we could do, Mrs. Breynton?"

Adrienne started. The words had seemed to her like an echo of her own thoughts. At that moment there was the sound of a step upon the stairs.

"We cannot talk of it now," said Adrienne hurriedly; "but you are his friend, Doctor Crawford?"

"I am his friend," Margaret murmured, in a low voice.

"Then, will you come and see me to-morrow evening? said Ardienne, bending a little nearer. "I—I feel as if I should like you to be my friend, Doctor Crawford, too. I have not many out here. Will you?"

She stretched out her hand—a beautiful white hand, flashing with diamonds. Margaret extended hers—one almost as white, but a stronger, more helpful hand—such a hand as one tossing on a feverish pillow might have desired to have upon his burning head. No rings glittered on it.

So the two women so strangely met, each carrying a sad secret in her heart on which the name of the same man was written, clasped hands in a friendship that was only to be sealed—if either had known it—by death itself.

The next morning a hurried message came for Mrs. Breyton. It was from the hospital, and from the principal doctor there.

"Major Rayburn was brought in here last night," the message ran, "and is sinking fast today. He calls for you continually. It is a case of acute typhoid. If you are not afraid come at once; no time to be lost."

Adrienne went.

She hardly recognized Philip Rayburn's in the ghastly face whose hollow eyes sought hers as she approached him.

At sight of it all Adrienne's anger and bitterness seemed to fade away. She was in that presence which stills forever all angry earthly passions and enmities.

(To be continued.)

A World Unto Themselves.

The people of the southern Appalachian mountains number about 2,000,000, their descent being from the Scotch-Irish, French Huguenots, English, and Germans. They have long been in these mountains since long before the revolution. They love their homes, and mingle but little with the outside world.

DOWAGER STILL DEFIANT

Peace Commissioners Are Violent Reactionary Manchus.

London, Sept. 6.—The Chinese minister here has communicated to the foreign office an imperial edict, dated Tai Yuan Fu, appointing commissioners to negotiate terms of peace in association with Li Hung Chang. Grave dissatisfaction is felt at the names of the commissioners. Earl Li had asked that Viceroys Liu Kun Ty and Chang Chih Tung and Prince Ching should be nominated with him. The court has ignored his suggestion for the nomination of the reforming Yang Tse viceroys and appointed instead Prince Ching, Yung Li and Hsu Tung. The two last named are violent reactionary Manchus.

Little hope can be entertained of successful negotiations with a board thus constituted, and it is hoped that the powers will decline to treat with the two Manchu nobles. It is clear that the southern viceroys are to be proscribed and persecuted for declining to join in the recent anti-foreign movement, and unless pressure can be brought to bear in their favor by the powers their lives and liberty may be in danger.

This revelation of the persistent anti-foreign policy of the Chinese government makes the Russian proposal seem more than ever impolitic. So far from being frightened into repentance, the empress dowager and her faction are steadily engaged in carrying on the crusade against alien influence.

Some more striking measures may be required to produce the requisite impression, whereas, if the troops should withdraw from Peking, Chinese insolence and audacity will receive a fresh impetus and reform will be indefinitely postponed.

It is possible that the replies of Germany, Austria and Italy to the Russian proposal may take the form of a statement of the conditions under which those powers will be prepared to conclude peace with China, with reasons against withdrawing from Peking until the terms are arranged.

STORM REACHES FLORIDA.

Hurricane Does Considerable Damage in Vicinity of Miami.

Kingston, Jamaica, Sept. 8.—A terrific storm has swept over this island. The rivers are all flooded and great damage has been done to the banana plantations. Miles of the railroad track have been washed away. The torrential rains, which were a feature of the storm, continue. The losses will amount to thousands of pounds.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 8.—The tropical hurricane which has done considerable damage on the island of Jamaica and Cuba struck the Florida coast Wednesday, the wind at one time reaching a velocity of nearly 100 miles an hour. It is feared that the crews of at least two vessels were swept overboard about thirty miles south of here. No damage was done at Miami. Telegraph wires were blown down and this part of the country was shut off from the outside world from Wednesday night until last evening. The barkentine Culbeon, Captain Richter of St. John, N. B., is ashore five miles south of Casyfoot light, about thirty-five miles south of Miami. Nothing has been heard of her crew. The Culbeon encountered the hurricane Wednesday morning. Three miles south of the Culbeon is a deserted lumber-laden barge, which stranded during the night of the 5th. The crew, it is feared, was swept overboard during the storm.

SLAUGHTER OF BOXERS.

2,000 Reported Killed by Troops of Gen. Yuon Shi Kia.

London, Sept. 8.—It is reported that 2,000 Boxers have been killed and wounded in the conflicts with the troops of General Yuan Shi Kia, military governor of Shan Tung.

A Hong Kong dispatch reports from Wu Chau that serious disaffection exists at Lun Chau. Three hundred robbers besieged the residence of a wealthy Chinaman at Tai Ping Fu. The prefect of Wu Chau, with 100 soldiers, went to his assistance, but has been compelled to telegraph for 400 re-enforcements.

SUSPECTED CASES OF PLAGUE.

At Glasgow One Hundred Cases Are Under Observation.

Glasgow, Sept. 8.—It is officially announced that there are thirteen suspected cases of plague and 100 under observation. The authorities believe the spread of the plague to be checked. Three Norwegian sailors belonging to the trawler Hern of Bergen have become ill at Aberdeen, showing symptoms of bubonic plague. The health officer of that port expresses hope, however, that the outbreak will prove not to be the plague.

Buller Still Fighting.

London, Sept. 8.—Roberts reports from Belfast, on the 5th:

"Ian Hamilton traversed Dulstroom yesterday with slight opposition. Buller engaged the enemy's left this morning. Hamilton is endeavoring to turn the enemy's right. The Boers with two guns and Pom-Pom this morning attacked 125 Canadian mounted infantry guarding the railway between Pan and Wonders Fontain. Mahon proceeded to their assistance, but the little garrison had beaten off the enemy before he arrived. It was a very creditable performance. Wounded, Major Handers and Lieut. Moodde, slightly; two men Six missing."

The wife who occasionally blows up her husband must be a sort of domestic magazine.

NOTES FROM THE CAPITAL

Des Moines, September 10, 1900.

In his decision in the Teamsters' Union-Weitz litigation, in which the former is suing to recover the difference between a sum paid Ed Ryan for services rendered and the amount due according to a scale of wages agreed upon between the union and the contractors last May, Justice Halloran holds that the union is not entitled to recover for the reason that the character of the contract is contrary to public policy. He also contends that the point is applicable to all unions and that they are clearly violating section 5060 of the code, which says:

"Any corporation organized under the laws of the state for the transaction or conduct of any kind of business in this state, or any partnership, association or individual creating into or becoming a member of, or a party to any pool, trust, agreement, contract, partnership, association or individual to regulate or fix the price of any articles of merchandise, or to fix the limit, the amount or quantity of any article, commodity or merchandise to be manufactured, mined, produced or sold in this state shall be guilty of a conspiracy."

In fact the construction put upon the term "commodity," which the American and English Encyclopedia of Law interprets as anything which is a benefit, "such as labor interest, etc.," Mr. Halloran is of the opinion that unions are maintained contrary to the spirit of the code and against public policy and in direct violation of the statutes, which say, "any organization which has for its object the control of any commodity is guilty of a conspiracy and punishable by law." That labor is a commodity Mr. Halloran says he does not believe any one will dispute and that unions have for their object the maintenance of labor is another fact no one will take issue upon.

The eleventh annual convention of the Iowa State Epworth League will be held in Des Moines, October 25-28. The best program ever arranged for a state convention has been prepared, including among the principal speakers Bishop Isaac W. Joyce of Minneapolis, president of the league; Dr. J. F. Berry of Chicago, general secretary; Dr. W. P. Thirkield of Cincinnati, Mrs. Lucy Ryder Meyer of Chicago, Miss Nellie Sanborn of Des Moines and Dr. C. B. Spencer, editor of the Central Christian Advocate, St. Louis. The leading professors in the Methodist colleges of Iowa, and many prominent laymen as well, will also have good places on the program. It is expected that about six hundred leaguers will be in attendance at this convention, and the Des Moines committees are making preparations to properly entertain the crowd. The chairman of the entertainment committee is Mr. A. E. Read, 504 Eighth street, Des Moines. The convention will be in charge of the state president, Mr. W. E. Tackaberry, of Sioux City. Programs and credential blanks for the event will be mailed soon by the state secretary, C. B Roberts of Adel, to every league chapter in Iowa. It is planned to make the convention a grand closing century rally of the young people of Iowa Methodism.

The semi-annual apportionment of interest of the permanent school fund has been made by the state auditor and the apportionment warrants are being mailed out. The apportionment is on a basis of sixteen and thirty-one one hundredths cents for each youth in the county. The total amount of permanent school fund on the first day of January, 1900, upon which the apportionment is computed, was $4,748,004.16.

A deal has been closed between the Des Moines and Northern Iowa and New York contractors for the construction of the road and work will commence as soon as the frost is out of the ground next spring. The road will be built by Des Moines men and by Des Moines capital. Just at present the incorporators are arranging for a sale of the bonds.

A meeting of the various temperance societies and the representatives of about twenty of the churches of the city was held in the parlors of the Y. M. C. A. building for the purpose of discussing plans for procuring funds to carry the fight against the saloons through the courts. Considerable enthusiasm was manifested, and the leaders of the movement are confident of making the liquor cases come up for hearing. It is proposed to raise money by securing the pledges of 1,000 people to give 25 cents a month for four months, and in this way secure a fund large enough to carry the case to the supreme court if necessary.

A suit for $333.60 as lobbyist at the last session of the legislature has been commenced against several of the insurance companies which were interested in the passage of the stipulated premium law. The suit has been commenced by W. B. Danes against the Southwestern Mutual of Marshalltown and the Chicago Life, the Midland Life and the Federal Life. The plaintiff claims that he was hired by H. S. Halbert of the Marshalltown company to see the members of the legislature in regard to the proposed bill, and explain matters to them so they would understand it fully.

Lind for Governor of Minnesota.

St. Paul, Sept. 7.—The democrats in this city and the populists in Minneapolis, in their state conventions, nominated John Lind for governor.

B. C R. & N. TIME TABLE.

GOING SOUTH.

No. 708. B Pass.	7:55	p. m.
No. 796 A Stock	9:50	a m.
No. 742, B Freight	3:45	p. m.

GOING NORTH.

No. 701. B Pass. -	1:32	p. m.
No. 741. B Way freight	9:50	a. m.

B—Daily except Sunday
A—Daily except Monday

☞"Freight trains shown above will carry passengers only when provided with tickets."

F. G. REESE, Local Agt.

WM. H. HUGHES
LAWYER.

Accounts and notes collected. Practice in all courts. Office in Schuler block.

GARNER IOWA.

JAMES YOUNG
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER.

Will cry sales and guarantee satisfaction, 15 years experience. Dates and terms at office of Klemme TIMES.

Telephone or address

Garner Iowa.

J. N. SPROLE,
REAL ESTATE, LOANS AND ABSTRACTS.

Titles examined and corrected Taxes paid, etc.

GARNER - - - IOWA.

A. L. SPOONER.
Physician and Surgeon.

Office first door west of Shafer & Dow's Store. Residence just back of the German Reform Church. Office hours 9 to 12 and 1 to 5.

Klemme, Iowa.

A. SNYDER,
DRAYMAN.

Having purchased the Bartholomew dray line I solicit a share of your work. Prompt attention given to all work: Charges reasonable.

KLEMME, IOWA.

Hello There!
Where are you going?

To Pietzke's Blacksmith Shop, for he's the man to go to for good work and at right prices. At the old stand.

Klemme, Iowa.

AIELT RIEKENS,
PRACTICAL AUCTIONEER. GERMAN OR ENGLISH

Will cry Sales and guarantee satisfaction Fine Stock Sales a specialty. Call on or address at

PAULSVILLE, IOWA

JOHN JOSTEN
PHOTOGRAPHER
Gallery Fitted For Finest Work
In Miniature and Cabinet Sizes. Enlarging, View and Copying.
PHOTO BUTTONS A SPECIALTY.
☞Give me a call
KLEMME - IOWA.

JOHN BAUMGARTNER.
PROPRIETOR OF
CITY BARBER SHOP.
AN EASY SHAVE. - -
A SATISFIED CUSTOMER
FIRST DOOR EAST OF LAU BROS.
KLEMME, IOWA.

THERE IS A DIFFERENCE BETWEEN
DAUBING AND PAINTING.
We understand our business and guarantee our work.
JOE MILLER,
PAINTER and DECORATOR.

DANGER IN IOWA.

Chairman Weaver Gives Warning to Republican Voters.

What a Ten or Twenty Per Cent. Loss of Vote Will Do.

Such a Falling Off Would Elect Several Democrats to Congress from Iowa.

Urgent Necessity of Keeping Up Iowa's Republican Majority, Which Sustains the Credit of the State.

Des Moines, Ia., Sept. 10.—"Did you ever take the trouble to calculate what would be the effect in the congressional districts of Iowa of a falling off in the republican vote of ten to twenty per cent.?" asked Chairman Weaver, of the republican state committee, as he took down a copy of the official register giving the vote by congressional districts in 1896 and 1898.

"The only serious danger which confronts us as a party and as a campaign committee in Iowa this year is the apparent overconfidence of republican voters. They seem to think that it doesn't matter much whether they vote or not, that everything will be all right anyway. I think I can show these men the danger of the course they are pursuing and convince them that it is necessary for every man to have his vote counted this fall if he expects to be satisfied with the results.

"Let us take the First congressional district. In 1896 the republican vote was 21,944 and the plurality 3,295. A falling off of 20 per cent. from that vote would give the district to the democrats by a large majority, for the full democratic vote will be polled this fall. In 1898 the republican vote was 17,817 and the plurality 3,249. Twenty per cent. loss from that vote would give the democrats a comfortable margin. They are counting on just this thing happening, and that is the reason why they are claiming that they will carry the First district. That district is made up very largely of strong republican counties, offset by some democratic strongholds. The democrats will all vote. The republicans up in the country are expected by the democrats to stay at home. Democratic expectations are based upon republican carelessness and a close organization on the part of the democrats. This they have throughout the state this year very much better than they have ever had before. Secretary Walsh, of the democratic national committee, boasts that he is in personal communication with 32,000 precinct workers in Iowa.

"Take the Second district. In 1896 the republican vote was 23,202, a plurality of 3,320. In 1898 the republican vote was 18,790 and the plurality 1,282. Even a ten per cent. loss here would defeat Capt. Rumple, the republican nominee.

"It will be said that the Third district is safe because in 1896 it gave Col. Henderson a majority of 10,423 and in 1898 a majority of 6,941. But it has not always been so in this district. In 1890 Col. Henderson carried the district by a plurality of 198 and in 1892 by 1,459. If there is a heavy falling off in the republican vote in that district this year it will encourage the democrats to make another fight on Col. Henderson and he will have to stay at home two years from now and defend his seat in congress. The same may be said of the Fourth and Fifth districts. They have good safe majorities now, but both of them have in recent years been carried by the democrats and if the republicans relax their hold for a single year, it will be necessary to make another big fight to hold those districts.

"In the Sixth district Maj. Lacey was elected in 1896 by a plurality of 1,201. His vote was 21,970. In 1898 he had a plurality of 1,417 over Gen. Weaver, the republican vote that year being 19,738. It does not require much figuring to show that a ten per cent. loss in the republican vote in that district this year would land a democrat in congress. The democrats are making a special effort to carry the Sixth district. Col. Hepburn had 24,783 votes in the Eighth district in 1896, but his majority was only 827. In 1898 his vote was 22,327 and his majority 2,605. That is another district which democrats are claiming and will make a great effort to carry. If ten per cent. of the republicans in that district were to refrain from voting Col. Hepburn will be defeated. The same would be true in the Ninth district, where the republican vote in 1896 was 24,904 and the majority 2,245. Two years later Smith McPherson, with 21,976 votes, had a majority of 3,818. The district is now considered safely republican, but if there should be a slump in the republican vote this year it would be again placed in the doubtful column. The Seventh, Tenth and Eleventh districts have always been republican by large majorities in recent years. But there is no surer way to disrupt the politics of a district and make trouble for the party than for the republicans to show a lack of interest in the election of their congressman and allow his majority to reach low-water mark.

"The records of the county votes here show that in many counties the republican county ticket has been elected by a small majority and that if five or ten per cent., that is one republican in ten or twenty, stays at home and does not vote the republican county ticket will be defeated and the party organization will thereby be demoralized and the democrats will be intrenched in a position of advantage for the future.

"It is just as necessary to roll up a big majority in Iowa this year as it ever was. Iowa is now considered a sure republican state. Is there any republican who desires to participate in casting a cloud upon that title by reducing the majority to such a point that the democrats will be encouraged to claim that Iowa is veering around toward the democracy and may, by strenuous efforts on the part of the democrats, become a democratic state? It will be much easier and much more satisfactory for republicans to retain their hold by bringing out their full strength this fall than by permitting the state to slump and make a misleading record. Iowa's position in favor of sound money and protection has been worth millions of dollars to the credit of the state. Iowa farmers and business men can borrow money on better terms than any other state west of the Mississippi. This is because the policy of repudiation and national dishonor has never found any sympathy in Iowa. But let it appear that there is any chance of a reversal of this judgment, that free silver is gaining ground in Iowa, and the situation will be very different. Capitalists will look askance at Iowa securities."

THE FARMERS' PROSPERITY.

How Farm Products Have Gone Up in Price Under Republican Policies.

Chicago, Sept. 10.—The best showing of the change in the condition of the American farmer between the first nomination of Mr. McKinley and his renomination is a simple statement of the prices ruling for farm staples at each date. It is an argument against the abandonment of republican policies which cannot be met. The following table shows the current market price of different staple crops on June 1, 1896, and June 1, 1900, the quotations given being Chicago market quotations except in case of cotton and hops, which are New York quotations:

Farm Products and Grade Quoted.	June 1, 1896.	June 1, 1900.	Advance Per c't.
Corn, No. 2—No. 2 in store, per bu.....	$ 27¼	$ 37½	37
Wheat, No. 3—No. 3 in store, per bu...	57	64½	13
Oats—No. 2 in store, per bu.....	17⅝	21¾	23
Rye—No. 2 in store, per bu.....	33	53	61
Barley — Fair to good malting, per bu	28	40	43
Potatoes — Choice Burbank, per bu..	28	40	43
Hay—No. 1 Timothy, per ton.....	9 25	11 50	24
Flaxseed—No. 1 N. W., per bu.....	82	1 80	119
Butter — Creamery firsts, per lb.....	14¼	18	26
Cheese—Full cream, choice, per lb.....	6¾	8⅛	20
Live Hogs—Heavy packing, 100 lbs...	3 25	5 12½	58
Live Cattle—Butcher steers, 100 lbs..	3 55	3 32½	22
Sheep — Westerns, per 100 lbs.....	3 25	4 97½	53
Clover seed—Prime contract, per 100 lbs	7 40	7 50	1
Cotton — Middling uplands, per lb....	7½	99	20
Broom corn — Self-working, fair to good, per ton.....	32 50	180 00	454
Hops—N. Y. state, choice, per lb.....	7	12	72
Millet seed — German, per 100 lbs...	80	1 20	50
Eggs—Firsts, strictly fresh, per doz..	9¾	10½	8
Wool—Tub washed, per lb.....	16½	29	76

WISDOM OF CURRENT FICTION.

The most thankless task in the world is explaining a joke to a person who has not seen it.—Woman and Artist.

"Speaking sharp seldom does so much good," sapiently remarked Mrs. Bateman, "except to them as speaks."—The Farringdons.

In the dissolution of sentimental partnerships it is seldom that both partners can withdraw their funds at precisely the same time.—The Touchstone.

The world of commerce and speculation is as aloof from the scholar and the recluse as the rings of Saturn or the sun of Aldebaran.—The Waters of Edera.

Millinery Opening!

New Styles Up-To-Date, Latest Effects, Popular Shades.

Latest in Velvets in the new shades, Panne Silk Velvets, Panne Satins, also the New Plisse Satins.

We have positively the finest array of Fine Goods ever shown in Klemme.

MISS LOVERING

Will be at the head of the Trimming Department, and this is a guarantee of absolute satisfaction.

Our Opening Dates Are

FRIDAY and SATURDAY,

Sept. 21st. " Sept. 22nd.

Do not fail to call in and see our New Goods.

MISS E. RENZIEHAUSEN.

FREE LUNCH.....

On next Wednesday and Thursday, September 26-27, we will have on exhibition at our store, a large line of Peninsular Stoves and Ranges. There will be an opportunity to see these stoves in use and if you want a stove, now is the time to investigate.

PENINSULAR

Remember the Date.

GRUETZMACHER BROS.

Klemme, Iowa.

NEWS OF THE WEEK.

Hogs wanted six days in the week. W. R. Bloom.

A little muddy.

E P. Schaefer has a new Adv. this week.

Michigan pears and peach es at Lau Bros.

Chas P. Ell, was over from Meservey Saturday.

Mrs. Ahalt has returned from her visit to Oklahoma.

Buy your new PIANO of W. C. Amsden. See his ad.

A. C. Ripley was transacting business in Klemme to-day.

G. A. Griswold was transac ting business in Klemme to-day.

C. D. Fenton was up from the town of Goodell on business Tuesday.

Some of the local matter in this issue is carried over from last week.

John Christie Jr., was down from Garner on business the first of the week.

Mrs. Kelley has been seriously ill for several days, but is better at this writing.

A New York poultry car pick-up about 200 dozen that were delivered at the car to-day.

Sheriff Gartin was down last Monday looking after jurymen for the September term of court.

For the very latest in Fall Styles of Millinery go to Miss E. Renziehausen. Call and see them.

Eight cars of cattle from the Linden ranch, were shipped to Chicago from this station, Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ridner are the proud parents of a nine pound baby girl. We smoke nothing but havana's, Fred.

The ladies of the English M. E. Church will serve supper in the city hall Wednesday evening Go and get a square meal

Asa Gibbs, Fred Ax, S. J. Carlson, and Wm. Schaper have purchased McCormick corn harvesters of Gruetzmacher Bros.

For. Rent: House and 2 acres of ground three miles east of Klemme; inquire of M. S. Gilman, Klemme Iowa.

The wrestling bout at Kanawha last Saturday evening, between Haskin and Woodcroft, resulted in a victory for Haskin.

For Sale!—240 acre farm three miles east of Klemme, all under cultivation, buildings, etc. For prices and terms, call on or address, M S. Gilman, Klemme, Iowa.

R. M. Cameron, of Belmond, was transacting business in this place Tuesday. Mr. Cameron owns a large farm in German township.

Oscar Carlson will leave for Boon to-morrow to be gone a month. Mel W oodard and Alfred Carlson will look after the business while he is away.

On the first page we publish the regular quarterly statement of the State Savings Bank. You can not fail to notice the prosperous condition and that it is one of the substantial institutions of Klemme, and has the confidence of its patrons.

EXCURSION RATES TO KEOKUK.

For the annual meeting, Grand Lodge, Grand Encampment and Rebeckah Assembly I. O. O. F. of Iowa, at Keokuk, Ia., October 16-19, the B. C. R. & N. Ry. will sell excursion tickets at reduced rates. Call on agents Cedar Rapids Route for rates, time of trains etc.

Joe Nissen and John Day left for Sioux City, Tuesday morning, to again take up their work as students at Morning Side college.

A spark from the engine set fire to some wheat stacks for H. Griewe, in German township, Monday, and four stacks were destroyed.

Mrs. C. S Stearns, of Akron, Iowa, has moved her effects to Klemme and will make this her future home. Mrs. Stearns is an aunt of E. P. Dow.

Mr. and Mrs Wm. Baumgartner and child, of Canton S. D. and Mrs. John Baumgartner Sr of Garner, are here visiting with J. E. Baumgartner.

Mr. and Mrs Hockley. who have been visiting friends and relatives in Klemme and vicinity for the past two weeks, returned to their home at Washington, Penn., yesterday.

Miss E. Renziehausen has in this issue the announcement of her Fall Millenery Opening. We are informed that her styles are more varried and beautiful than ever, and the prices tend lower.

For the National Convention of the Christian Church at Kansas City, Mo., October 11-18, the B. C. R. & N. Ry. will sell round trip tickets at reduced rates. For rates, time of trains, etc., call on agents of the "Cedar Rapids Route."

At the county convention yesterday, J. E. Wichman was allowed to select his own delegates to the state convention. This unanimous endorsement by his home county cannot help but be very gratifying to Mr. Wichman.

The dance last Friday evening was well attended and a good time generally is reported. A noticeable feature was the entire absence of the hoodlum element. The music was good and the best of order prevailed throughout the evening. Another dance is booked for the near future.

At the caucus held at the City Hall, Saturday evening, five delegates were selected to attend the county convention held at Garner yesterday. Resolutions were passed endorsing the action of Governor Shaw in the appointment of J. P. Dolliver U.S. Senator.

The Wheeler Land Co., of Moorhead, Minn., are closing out, at Garner, the entire stock of dry goods, clothing, cloaks, underwear, boots and shoes, purchased of Erwin Bros., and are making some wonderful reductions. When in Garner, call and see them. See their adv. on first page.

Gruetzmacher Bros. announce that on September 26-27 they will have on exhibition a large number of the Peninsular Steel Ranges, and will demonstrate by practical use the superiority of of these stoves over all others. Good things to eat will be served at all hours during the two days and it will be free to all. Read their advertisement on the opposite page.

Last week Wednesday the editor of this great moral illuminator, was so unfortunate as to jab a rusty nail into his foot about two inches and has not been able nor could we secure assistance to issue a paper for last week. We have so far recovered that we can hobble about and will be able to print as usual this week. If there should happen to be a few delinquents come in and pay up we would appreciate it.

SCHOOL NOTES.

Arthur Carson was absent last Wednesday.

Anna Willert visited the school last Friday.

The total enrollment of the school is 67.

Esther Bloom was on the sick list last Friday.

Mabel Smith and Floy Shafer were absent Tuesday.

Mrs. Pavey and Mr. Ridenour of the Garrison school, visited the primary and grammar rooms Thursday of last week.

Missess Ione Bartholomew and Sadie Kluckhohn will act as reporters, and items for this department should be given to them.

GERMAN TOWNSHIP.

Wm. Gast Jr. took in the excursion to Dakota last Sunday.

Many of our people are attending the fair these days.

Geo. Schaper was unfortunate enough to lose a horse Sunday. It was only thirty-five years of age. Another pioneer gone.

Louis Sampson and wife and Ernest Schuldt and wife, last week attended the Minnesota state fair. They were well pleased with their trip.

Miss Minnie Haes was married last Thursday to a young man from Wisconsin. whose name we were unable to obtain. The ceremony was performed at the Ell township Reformed church, Rev. Garttaman officiating.

Yesterday occurred the marriage of C. L. Blumer to Miss Mary Placke. These young people are well known to most of our readers. Mr. Blumer is one of our industrious young farmers, and the bride is a splendid young woman. In the evening a large number of their friends assembled at their home and an enjoyable time is reported. At a late hour refreshments were served. The TIMES joins with their many friends in wishing them long life, happiness and prosperity.

ELL CENTER NEWS.

Joe Keorner took in the excursion to Dakota Sunday.

Charley Lewis is helping Harry Rice with his corn cutting.

Several of the young folks are attending the county fair this week.

O. H. Cummings is putting in a new board fence around his pasture.

Eric Josten was in Klemme Saturday and brought out a new Sulky plow.

James Brozik has sold his farm to Joe Stork, consideration being $35 per acre.

Ike Ptacek has rented one of A. Kelley's farms for next year, the one Fred Gates farmed this year.

Charlie Gilbert has quit working for Joe Weeks and is fall-plowing on the farm he has rented.

A great deal of corn is being cut this year for fodder. Farmers are fast learning the value of this feed which has formerly been wasted.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Allen returned from Chicago on Wednesday last after attending the Encampment. They spent several days visiting relatives and seeing the sights of Chicago. They report a pleasant and agreeable trip.

T. Gauley invited a number of their friends to spend the evening with them last Thursday. The evening was greatly enjoyed by all present. Mr. and Mrs. Alloway were presented with a beautiful parlor lamp and also a nice set of glass ware.

TREE....

of bargains in shoes of all kinds. Ladies' Oxfords at prices never heard of before.

SHIRT WAISTS
SHIRT WAISTS

Wrappers, Summer Underwear marked way down to make room for winter stock. Look over our Remnant Basket.

Shafer & Dow.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

OUR SPECIALTY IS

LUMBER

WE ALSO SELL

Brick, Lime, Cement, Paroid Roofing, American Field Fence Screen Doors and Windows.

J. H. QUEAL & CO.

Farm Machinery.

DO NOT FORGET

That we handle a COMPLETE LINE of the BEST Farm Machinery manufactured. Before you buy, it will pay you to see us and get our prices. We handle

CASSADY GANG AND SULKY PLOWS,

Corn Cultivators, Stirring Plows, Cornplanters, harrows, Discs, Wagons, Buggies, Geneva Windmils, Milwaueee Binders and Mowers.

GROCERIES AND HARDWARE. . . . .

We are constantly adding new, fresh GROCERIES to our stock and would like to make you prices. If you want Hardware or Tinware, we can supply your wants.

LAU BROS.

THE EXCLUSIVE

GROCERY STORE . . . .

Is where you should go to get FRESH GOODS. Our large line of staple goods is constantly changing by reason of our heavy sales. New, FRESH goods every day. Seasonable fresh fruit for canning or table use. Ice Cream, Bakers' Goods, soft drinks.

Agent for the Ideal Steam Laundry, Mason City

G. W. KLUCKHOHN, KLEMME.

When you talk about there being better clocks than Seth Thomas

Every potato slyly winks its eye.
Every Cabbage shakes its head.
Every beet gets red in the face.
Every onion feels stronger.
Every oat field feels shocked.
Rye strokes its beard.
The corn sticks up its ears.
Every foot of land kicks.

CHAS. F. H. SUCKOW.

GULF SWEPT BY A GALE.

Lives Are Lost Along the Southern Coast.

GOVERNMENT MEN ARE LOST.

Vessels Wrecked Off Florida and Two Crews Missing—Jetties Are Damaged Along the Mississippi — Damage in Jamaica.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 10.—The storm which has been expected for several days broke, and all the southern coast of Louisiana has been swept. The sea water has been backed up to the Mississippi river levees on the east bank. Dr. R. H. Burford and Superintendent Quinn, government officers at Fort St. Philip, went down the river in a catboat on Thursday evening, and Friday evening late the boat was found floating bottom up. They were unquestionably drowned. The damage to crops from sea water is large. The wires on the east bank of the river to Port Eads went down at 6 o'clock this evening.

Hurricane in Florida.

Miami, Fla., Sept. 10.—The tropical hurricane which has done considerable damage on the islands of Jamaica and Cuba struck the Florida coast. The wind at one time reached a velocity of nearly 100 miles an hour. It is feared that the crews of at least two vessels were swept overboard about thirty miles south of here. No damage was done at Miami. The barkentine Culboon, Capt. Richter, of St. Johns, N. B., laden with 330,000 feet of lumber, is ashore five miles south of Casyfoot light, about thirty-five miles south of Miami. Nothing has been heard of the crew. Three miles south of the Culboon is a deserted lumber-laden bark, which stranded dpring the night of the 5th. The crew, it is feared, was swept overboard during the storm.

Gale at West Palm Beach.

West Palm Beach, Fla., Sept. 10.—Considerable damage has been done in this section by the tropical hurricane which struck here. The gale continues. The bulkhead of the immense Palm Beach pier was swept from its foundations and washed several hundred feet to the north. A number of small boats which were anchored in the inland lakes were torn from their moorings and sunk.

Damage in Jamaica.

Kingston, Sept. 10.—A terrific storm swept over this island. The rivers are all flooded and great damage has been done to the banana plantations. Miles of the railroad track have been washed away. The torrential rains which were a feature of the storm continue. The losses will amount to thousands of pounds.

Sad Blow to Mill Workers.

Pittsburg, Sept. 8.—The Fifth Avenue Savings and Loan association of McKeesport, Pa., is insolvent, and the Mercantile Trust company of this city has been appointed temporary receiver. An alleged discrepancy of $32,000 has been discovered in the accounts of a former secretary, but no proceedings have been instituted.

The cash value of the association is $467,690.04, and the failure is the largest in the history of building and loan associations in the state. Nearly 1,700 mill workers had deposited all their savings in the concern, expecting to buy homes.

Indian Chief Stoned to Death.

Nort Yakima, Wash., Sept. 8.—Chief Illowahe, an old "medicine man" and chief of the Yakima tribe, has been stoned to death in his tent by an Indian named John. Illowahe had been called on by John to save his sick child. The old doctor went through the usual formalities, yet the child died. The father went to the medicine man's tent and stoned him to death.

John was next in line to the chieftainship and had long desired the death of Illowahe.

Normal School Plans Up.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 10.—The board of trustees of the Western Illinois Normal school met here and discussed plans for a new building. There are two plans submitted, each of which would cost at least $300,000.

There is but $75,000 available for building purposes under the appropriation, but the bid calls for a building to accommodate 500 students.

Bulgaria Yields a Point.

Sofia, Sept. 10.—In retaliation for the expulsion of Bulgarians from Roumania the government here passed severe restrictive measures against Roumanians. Roumania, however, successfully protested against these measures and they were repealed. The relations between the two countries are somewhat improved.

Delegates from Britain.

London, Sept. 8.—The trades union congress, in session at Huddersfield, has selected John Weir of Dunfermline, Scotland, and Peter Nolan of London as delegates to the coming convention at Louisville.

FOREST FIRES IN MAINE.

Flames Destroying Miles of Timber and Threatening Cities.

Bangor, Me., Sept. 10.—After two months of drought innumerable forest fires are sweeping through eastern Maine, destroying miles of timber lands, while the people in the small mountain towns are all out ready to save their homes and property. The fires are making the greatest havoc in Hancock and Penobscot counties. At Oldtown the fire department and citizens have been on duty all day, while the wind sweeps great sheets of flames across the river and into the village. In Hancock county 800 men are working day and night fighting the flames. Another fire is raging near Washington Junction, and a report received from there tonight says that the towns of Franklin and Hancock are in imminent danger of destruction. The fire has spread towards the city of Ellsworth and is now within half a mile of Senator Hale's residence and still drawing nearer. The senator has hired a large number of men to attempt to save his buildings. At Ellsworth the fire department is staying up, with apparatus ready to start at a moment's notice. Fire is burning near Cherryfield, in Washington county. At South Brooksville a fire is bearing down upon Ames Point, and the property there, which is owned by Prof. Ames of Tufts college, is in imminent danger.

Power Company Blamed.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 10.—Coroner Lloyd has rendered a verdict, finding the Seckner Contracting company responsible for the death of Patrolmen John P. Looney and Nicholas Beckman, who were killed several days ago by electric shocks while using the police telephones. The coroner said he found that the Seckner company's power wire, which had crossed with the telephone line, was improperly placed, causing the death of the officers named.

Fourteen other officers who were severely shocked and burned at the same time are recovering.

Deer Stop Colorado Trains.

Glenwood Springs, Colo., Sept. 10.—Great droves of deer are crossing the tracks between Grand Junction and Glenwood Springs, and at times seriously interfere with the passing trains. There are from 10,000 to 20,000 animals in one large drove, and when this was passing the road was blocked for nearly two hours. As winter approaches they collect in immense herds and start for winter pastures and salt licks several hundred miles to the south.

Fall Kills C. J. Gilbert.

Evanston, Ill., Sept. 10.—Charles Judson Gilbert, one of the oldest residents of Evanston, died at the Evanston hospital from injuries received by falling down a basement stairs. Mr. Gilbert was born in Lima, N. Y., in 1829. When a young man he went to St. Louis and started in the grain commission buisiness. While there he was in partnership with E. O. Stannard, who afterwards was governor of iMssouri.

Plague Situation Improves.

Glasgow, Sept. 10.—The plague situation in the city is improving. Nine suspected cases were discharged last night. The disease is certainly abating and the authorities have it under thorough control. A peculiar case was reported this forenoon from the industrial suburb of Riverside. The medical man who made the report certified that the patient was suffering from "pneumonic plague," not from bubonic.

Ninth Cavalry at Nagasaki.

Washington, D. C., Sept. 10.—The war department has been informed of the arrival of the transport Warren at Nagasaki with two battalions of the Ninth cavalry and recruits aboard. The health of the troops is reported to be excellent. The Warren will proceed to Manila.

The department also is advised of the arrival of the animal transport Aztec at Kobe with horses for the Third cavalry aboard.

Farmer Digs Up an Aerolite.

Bowling Green, O., Sept. 10.—Isaac Ward, a farmer living several miles northeast of here, has in his possession a large bowlder which fell a few days ago in one of his fields. It was found by some of his men cutting corn in a back field, and was dug up and drawn to Mr. Ward's yard with a team of horses. It is about two and a half feet long and two feet through and is much heavier than stone.

Double Tragedy in Brooklyn.

New York, Sept. 10.—John Rieder, a veteran of the civil war, killed his wife and himself at their home in Brooklyn. He was 69 years old, and his wife was 20 years younger. Jealousy was the cause of the double tragedy.

School Official Is Dead.

Duluth, Minn., Sept. 9.—James Hannan, one of the assistant superintendents of schools of Chicago, died here where he had come in the hope of recovering health. The cause of death was anaemia.

NEW YORK MURDER MYSTERY.

Police Think the Victim Was Possibly Crucified.

New York, Sept. 8.—The North River tide yesterday brought to the shores of New York another murder mystery. The victim's name is believed to have been August Eichen. The body, with gashed throat and lacerated hands, bumped against the pier at the foot of Twentieth street. The fact that both hands are punctured as with a sharp spike adds to the mystery. To the police it looks as if the man had been crucified. One hour after the body was discovered it was in the morgue, and Central office detives were at work trying to trace the crime to its author. The police have little doubt that Eichen, if that is his name, was murdered. They have no doubt, either, that he made a fierce fight for his life. The gashed hands indicate that. In the right vest pocket was a small slip of paper that had been folded to the size of a postage stamp. On this paper in capitals are the letters "L. F. I. K." Under these letters are the capitals "B. K. N. K." The police are puzzled at the strange characteristics. They believe these letters signify something that "Eichen" was expected to do by a society. It was suggested last night that the man might have been an anarchist, who had fallen a victim to disobedience to his order. The police also have an idea that "Eichen" met his successful rival in love and was murdered.

SAY HEIRESS IS DRUGGED.

Judge Lent Will Investigate Treatment of Georgianna Wendell.

New York, Sept. 8.—Three times Judge Smith Lent of Westchester county has issued orders for the production of Miss Georgianna Wendell and her guardians in court. Three times the lawyers have deferred his orders. Finding that his writ was worthless, since no one paid any attention to it, he determined yesterday to visit the place where Miss Wendell was secreted. The woman's brother says she is insane and must be kept under restraint. Other relatives and friends declare that she is of sound mind and is being held a prisoner by those who wish to get her part of the $40,000,000 estate left by her mother. Mr. Digney, Miss Wendell's counsel, in a bitter speech yesterday denounced those who are holding Miss Wendell. "I have positive proof," he said, "that this woman is being systematically poisoned, kicked and cuffed around and beaten unmercifully, and kept in a room where even a breath of fresh air is refused her. Your Honor, I can show you affidavits proving that Dr. Egbert Guernsy is administering drugs that are doing her a great deal of harm."

Judge Lent said that, in company with Morris S. Thompson, one of the lawyers for John Wendell, he would visit Miss Wendell today.

DAILY MARKET REPORT.

Chicago Board of Trade.

	Open.	High.	Low.	Close.
Wheat—
Sept.. ..	73	73¼	72⅞	73
Oct.	73½	73¾	73⅛	73⅝
Nov	74¼	74½	74	74¼
Corn—
Sept	39⅜	39⅝	39⅜	39½
Oct.	39	38⅜	38⅛	38⅝
Nov	35⅞	36	35⅞	36
Oats—
Sept	21	21⅛	21	21⅛
Oct.	21¼	21⅜	21¼	21⅜
Nov	21⅝	....	....	21⅝
Pork—
Sept	....	....	....	10.95
Oct. 10.97½		11.02½	10.85	11.02½
Jan. 11.05		11.20	11.05	11.20
Lard—
Sept.	6.67½	6.70	6.65	6.70
Oct.	6.70	6.72½	6.65	6.72½
Jan.	6.45	6.50	6.45	6.50
S. Ribs—
Sept.	7.27½	7.40	7.27½	7.37½
Oct.	7.12½	7.20	7.10	7.12½
Jan.	5.85	5.92½	5.82½	5.92½

BRYAN IN CHICAGO.

Democratic Leader in Conference with Campaign Chairman.

Chicago, Sept. 8.—W. J. Bryan arrived this evening from his West Virginian campaign trip. He immediately went into consultation with Chairman Jones. To the latter he expressed himself as encouraged at the outlook in Maryland and West Virginia. At Wheeling, last night, he was greeted with red fire, booming of cannon and blowing of whistles. The demonstration was greater than any in that city during the campaign of 1896. In his speech last night, the Democratic leader treated extensively on the peace ratification treaty and his attitude at the time.

Wisconsin Nearly Built.

Washington, Sept. 8.—The next battle ship that the United States government will include in its list of serviceable vessels in the Wisconsin. After more than three years since its keel was laid the big ship has been ordered to leave the yards of the Union Iron Works at San Francisco early next week for Puget Sound, where it will be docked and scraped before making its first trial run.

RUSSIA HAS NOT YIELDED.

Chinese Crisis Presents No New Feature.

MARCH IN FORBIDDEN CITY

In Which the Germans Paired with the Americans—Count Waldersee's Command Is Large—More Troops Sail from Bremerhaven for China.

London, Sept. 10.—The Chinese crisis presents no new feature. Nothing appears to be certain. Regarding Russian action, various statements are made in Vienna and Berlin, with an assumed air of authority, but the balance of opinion leans to the belief that Russia is still inclined to adhere to her decision to quit Pekin, whatever the other powers may do. The studiously moderate tone of Emperor William's speech at Stettin is much remarked. There was nothing of the mailed fist or of revenge in his utterances.

The Tientsin correspondent of the Standard, wiring on Aug. 30, says:

"The Germans paired with the Americans in the march through the Forbidden City. The British naval brigade and the marines of the legation guards left Pekin today."

Berlin, Sept. 10.—The Militaer Wochenblatt gives the following list of the troops Count Waldersee will command when he reaches China:

German, 22,000, with sixty-two guns; French, 17,000, with seventy-six guns; Japanese, 16,000, with fifty-eight guns; Prussian, 15,000, with twenty-two guns; American, 10,000, with forty-eight guns; British, 7,300, with twelve guns; Italian and Austrian, 2,400, with four guns—a total of 90,000 men, with 282 guns.

Bremerhaven, Sept. 10.—Three transports, conveying troops to China, sailed from here. The departing soldiers received enthusiastic farewells from the assembled crowds.

London, Sept. 10.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says Li Hung Chang has made a request for an American escort to accompany him on his journey to Pekin, and that United States Consul Goodnow is considering his request.

ALL SLAIN BY BOXERS.

Massacre of American Missionaries at Tenchengfu Confirmed.

Shanghai, Sept. 8.—It has now been definitely ascertained that the following Americans have been murdered at Fenchengfu: The Rev. C. W. Price, Mrs. Price and their children; E. R. Atwater, Nip and two children. At Taikuhsien: The Rev. D. H. Clapp and Mrs. Clapp, G. L. Williams, F. W. Davis, the Misses R. Bird and M. L. Partridge, A. P. Lundgren, Mrs. Lundgren, and Miss A. Eldren of the China Inland mission also shared the same fate.

On August 25 eighteen missionaries were besieged in the Catholic chapel at Chentingfu, in the province of Chili. The Boxers also hold five others at Hainan, near Paotingfu. United States Consul Goodnow of this city had an intervnew today with Li Hung Chang, for the purpose of inducing him to effect the deliverance of these people.

The Primitive Expedition.

New York, Sept. 8.—A dispatch to the Tribune from London says:

The report that a punitive expedition is starting from Tientsin for Paotingfu is probably correct, but the further statement that an allied column is setting out for Sianfu, the present residence of the empress, nearly 300 miles from Pekin, is certainly fictitious.

Li Hung Chang's secretary, according to a message from Hongkong, has arrived at that place and reports that Earl Li leaves Shanghai for Pekin tomorrow. Whether he will be escorted by a Japanese or Russian cruiser seems doubtful. Probably the task will be more congenial to the latter.

Waldersee at Colombo.

Colombo, Sept. 8.—Count von Waldersee, commander in chief of the allied troops in China, arrived here this morning. After spending a few hours ashore the count resumed his voyage.

Mr. Wu Quits Cape May.

Cape May, N. J., Sept. 8.—Wu Ting Fang, the Chinese minister to the United States, who has been spending a few days with his family at this place, left for Washington today.

Exploding Big Gun Kills Four.

Vienna, Sept. 10.—During the Austrian military maneuvers on the border of Galicia and Bohemia a big gun exploded, killing four men outright and fatally wounded eighteen others.

Yates Center, Kas., Sept. 10.—E. A. Runyon, a banker, was arrected, charged with the embezzlement of $12,000. The arrest was made on a warrant sworn to by County Treasurer J. S. Culver, in behalf of the officers of the Citizens' State bank, of which Runyon was cashier.

Statisticians in Germany estimate that there are nine cities each of which has more than 400,000 German inhabitants. Berlin, according to the figures, has 1,650,000; Vienna, 1,146,000; Hamburg, 626,000; New York, 583,000; Amsterdam, 513,000; Brussels, 458,000; Munich, 411,000; Chicago, 407,000; Leipzig, 400,000.

Rare Philippine Jewels.

The rarest corals in the world are to be found in the Philippines. As precious as this jewel is, there is still a rarer one, and that is health. It may be possessed by any one who will use Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for indigestion, dyspepsia, belching, heartburn or sleeplessness. Try it.

The oftener a man fails the greater the applause when he finally succeeds.

Best for the Bowels.

No matter what ails you, headache to a cancer, you will never get well until your bowels are put right. CASCARETS help nature, cure you without a gripe or pain, produce easy natural movements, cost you just 10 cents to start getting your health back. CASCARETS Candy Cathartic, the genuine, put up in metal boxes, every tablet has C. C. C. stamped on it. Beware of imitations.

A boy is always willing to go over to a neighbor's to borrow the icecream freezer.

Have you ever experienced the joyful sensation of a good appetite? You will if you chew Adams' Pepsin Tutti Frutti.

Society is a fashionable game in which diamonds are wagered against hearts.

Hall's Catarrh Cure

Is a constitutional cure. Price, 75c.

The pensive maiden sometimes becomes the expensive wife.

Luxuriant hair with its youthful color assured by using PARKER'S HAIR BALSAM.
HINDERCORNS, the best cure for corns. 15cts.

The burglar who breaks into a shoe store is always after booty.

To be thrice happy, use Russ' Bleaching Blue, don't be deceived by fraudulent imitations. Sold by all grocers.

A woman's mirror will tell her what none of her friends will.

Are You Using Allen's Foot-Ease?

It is the only cure for Swollen, Smarting, Burning, Sweating Feet, Corns and Bunions. Ask for Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder to be shaken into the shoes. At all Druggists and Shoe Stores, 25c. Sample sent FREE. Address Allen S. Olmsted, LeRoy, N. Y.

The man who is driven to desperation usually assists in the driving.

HO! FOR OKLAHOMA!

5,000,000 acres new lands to open to settlement. Subscribe for THE KIOWA CHIEF, devoted to information about these lands. One year, $1.00. Single copy, 10c. Subscribers receive free illustrated book on Oklahoma. Morgan's Manual (210 page Settlers' Guide) with fine sectional map, $1.00. Map 25c. All above, $1.75. Address, Dick T. Morgan, Perry, O. T.

TOWER'S FISH BRAND
POMMEL SLICKER
The Best Saddle Coat.
Keeps both rider and saddle perfectly dry in the hardest storms. Substitutes will disappoint. Ask for 1897 Fish Brand Pommel Slicker—it is entirely new. If not for sale in your town, write for catalogue to A. J. TOWER, Boston, Mass.

25 CTS. PISO'S CURE FOR CURES WHERE ALL ELSE FAILS. Best Cough Syrup. Tastes Good. Use in time. Sold by druggists. CONSUMPTION 25 CTS

A Cultivated Taste.

The taste for olive oil, like the taste for the olive itself, must be cultivated, and while there are many cooks who make no use whatever of this oil, there are others who depend largely upon it for frying purposes and for the French salad dressing, for which nothing is more acceptable for the "green things" which go to make up our summer salads. The oil which runs spontaneously from the pulp of the olives, called virgin oil, is the best and least colored, and is ready for immediate use, says the Pittsburg Dispatch. The oil which is obtained by the press is more or less turbid and slightly colored, and has to be stored for some time to deposit its impurities and become clear. Olive oil differs much in appearance and quality, according to its chemical composition. Some is colorless like water and very liquid; other qualities are yellowish, greenish to green, and more or less thick.

For the nations round the Mediterranean olive oil has, since prehistoric times, been the principal culinary fat, as well as fat food; it was burned in their lamps and illuminated the shrines of their saints, as it does those of the saints of the Russians of the present day. It may not be amiss to state just here that among the ancient Greeks, barbarous as was their code of war, it was considered an unpardonable offense to cut down the olive trees in an enemy's country, and the simple word deudrotomein, the feller of trees, conveyed, in their apprehension, the idea of the most barbarous forms of devastation.

Importance of Cheerfulness.

"Laugh and grow fat," is a proverb that is worthy of being made a part of one's creed for daily living. Proverbs are merely epitomes of human experience, and that particular saying commends itself to the observant mind. A laugh is complex in its workings, but direct in its result. It has a physical movement, causing the arteries to dilate and the flow of blood to hasten, thus promoting an increase of vital processes and a mental action through stimulating the blood vessels of the brain, says the New York Tribune.

DOTTED PINK MUSLIN.

In combination; black taffeta belt, black ribbon on the bodice; skirt laid in tucks.

To Remove Stains.

To remove grass stains soak and rub the spots in water and cream of tartar.

Sprinkle salt on a wine stain and pour hot water through it until it is gone.

Fruit stains may usually be removed by pouring boiling water through the stain.

For mildew, wet the spot with lemon juice and expose to the sunlight. Or soak in water with chloride of lime, one tablespoonful to a gallon.

AN AUTUMN WAIST.

OF LIGHT-WEIGHT FLANNEL, CUT WITH VERY SLIGHT FULLNESS AT THE BELT, FINISHED WITH TUCKS.

THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

LESSON XII. SEPT. 16, LUKE XII., 13-33.

Golden Text: What Shall It Profit a Man, if He Gain the Whole World, and Lose His Own Soul?—Mark 8: 36 —Life's Great Gifts.

13. "One of the company." Not a disciple, but one of the hearers who had listened untouched by the solemn discourse of Jesus (Luke 12: 1-12). "Said unto him." Perhaps interrupting the discourse. "Speak to my brother." He does not ask Jesus to arbitrate between him and his brother, but to give a decision against his brother. "That he divide the inheritance with me." In the East there is comparatively little wealth in the easily convertible form of coin, and investments so familiar among ourselves are absolutely unknown, but a man's property is estimated very much as in the days of Abraham, by the number of his flocks and herds, and of his household goods, as changes of raiment.

14. "And he said unto him, Man." As in Rom. 2: 1, 3, the form "O man" was one which expressed grave censure and indignation. Was it for this that men came to him, instead of seeking for the kingdom of God? "Who made (appointed) me a judge." A public officer of a worldly kingdom, whose business was to examine and decide the cases that came before him. "Or a divider," i. e., umpire, arbitrator, one who separates into parts, to carry out and execute the decision.—Professor Kendrick.

15. "And he said unto them." The crowds of people he was addressing when the man interrupted him. "Take heed." Look out. Have your eyes fully open to this man, and to the danger which besets you all as it has him. Jesus points him out as an example. "Beware of covetousness." Guard yourselves from covetousness, R. V., "Keep yourselves from all covetousness," that is, from all forms of covetousness. "For a man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he posseseth," i. e., "it does not follow, because a man has abundance, that his life consists in wealth. Life depends for its value upon the use we make of possessions."—Int. Crit. Com.

16. "The ground of a certain rich man." This man is represented as rich, not because successful covetousness is worse than unsuccessful covetousness, but because the rich are more exposed to this sin, and to show that even if one gains all that his covetousness desires, still it is folly. "Brought forth plentifully." His crime was not dishonesty, though we do not know how he acquired his land. The great harvests were innocent gains.

17. "And he thought within himself." "He dialogued with himself." "What shall I do." A common perplexity of the wealthy. He did not know how to invest his surplus.—Abbott. He does not seem to have thought of using it for God and humanity. "No room where to bestow my fruits." All the products of his land.

18. "I will pull down my barns." He was planning for a long life, and larger worldly resources. In modern times the parable would have spoken of investments, trusts, bonds, stocks and real estate.

18. "I will say to my soul." His conscious self, the seat of activity, desires, enjoyment, including his higher nature. He would feed even this on husks. "Much goods laid up for many years." He counted on a long life, and imagined that his "much goods" could satisfy his soul. "Take thine ease, eat, drink and be merry." "More energetically in the four words of the original: rest, eat, drink, enjoy."—Farrar. Such was his conception of life!

20. "But God said." By whom his days were controlled. "Thou fool." Literally, fool, senseless, unthinking one: So different from what the shrewd man thought he was. "This night." Instead of his proposed "many years." "Thy soul shall be required of thee." Greek, they are demanding back from thee thy soul. "Then whose shall those things be." It would make little difference to him whose they were, since they were not his, and could no longer minister to his pleasure.

21. "So is he." A complete fool, a miserable failure; one who has transformed the possible riches of heaven into coals of fire. "Layeth up treasure for himself." Not in heaven, not in humanity, not in character. "And is not rich toward God." Rich in those things which God loves, and which bring him near to God.

22. "Therefore." As the conclusion from the parable and the incident that led to it. "Take no thought." This translation has troubled many a tender conscience. Take thought, in this passage, was a truthful rendering when the A. V. was made, since thought was then used as equivalent to "anxiety" or "solicitude." So Shakespeare (Hamlet). "For your life, what ye shall eat." To support life. "Make not your physical and temporal wants the special and great objects of thought and care." Do not let them burden you so that you cannot give your time and thought and money to better things.

23. "The life is more than meat." (1) Life is the greater gift, which none but God can give. He will not give you the greater gift and withhold the lesser.

Cut in Ocean Rates.

New York correspondence Pittsburg Dispatch: If any proof were needed that the Paris exposition is not increasing ocean travel from America, it was afforded today by the announcement of a cut in rates by the White Star and Cunard lines. These companies have reduced their charge for passage to Europe to their regular winter schedule two months earlier than usual. In other words, one will be able to go to Europe in August and September at the same cost for tickets as is paid in the winter, when rates are always lower. The understanding is that the other ocean lines will cut their rates, too. The matter was the subject of general conversation about Bowling Green today. Travel has been less this summer than it was three or four years ago, when the White Star is said to have had its best year. There is a great deal of secrecy maintained by the steamship companies about the business they have been doing, but it seems as if there is no doubt that the rates all around for passenger accommodation eastward on the Atlantic will be cut for August and September.

Elephants have only eight teeth—two below and two above on each side. The elephant's baby teeth fall out when the animal is about fourteen years old, and a new set grows.

Wise is the young attorney who peruses old books.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.
For children teething, softens the gums, reduces inflammation, allays pain, cures wind colic. 25c a bottle.

A woman always knows more than her neighbor and she knows that she knows it.

Ten Greatest American Railroads.

A table showing the mileage controlled by the principal railroad companies of this country on July, 1900, has been compiled by the Railway Age. The ten largest systems are as follows:

New York Central	10,430
Pennsylvania	10,392
Canadian Pacific	10,018
Southern Pacific	9,362
Chicago and Northwestern	8,463
Chicago, Burlington and Quincy	8,001
Southern Railway	7,887
Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe	7,880
Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul	6,437
Union Pacific	5,584

—From the New York Sun.

The less a man boasts the more true worth he possesses.

Ladies who take pride in beautiful, clear white clothes should use Russ' Bleaching Blue. Refuse imitations. Sold by all grocers.

Good nature is a glow worm that sheds light in the darkest places.

Dyspepsia, Indigestion and all stomach troubles positively cured by Tabers' Pepsin Compound. Sample bottle sent by mail free. Write Dr. Taber, Peoria, Ill.

It isn't wise to rush the growler in dog days.

Piso's Cure for Consumption is an infallible medicine for coughs and colds.—N. W. SAMUEL, Ocean Grove, N. J., Feb. 17, 1900.

A high churchman — the steeple climber.

PUTNAM FADELESS DYES produce the fastest and brightest colors of any known dye stuff.

A hen may be made to lay perpetually by hitting her on the head with a stout club.

Ladies Can Wear Shoes
One size smaller after using Allen's Foot-Ease, a powder. It makes tight or new shoes easy. Cures swollen, hot, sweating, aching feet, ingrowing nails, corns and bunions. All druggists and shoe stores, 25c. Trial package FREE by mail. Address Allen S. Olmsted, Le Roy, N. Y.

A lovers' quarrel is the sauce that seasons the courtship.

Women Think About This

In addressing Mrs. Pinkham you are communicating with

A Woman

A woman whose experience in treating female ills is greater than that of any living person, male or female.

She has fifty thousand such testimonial letters as we are constantly publishing showing that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is daily relieving hundreds of suffering women.

Every woman knows some woman Mrs. Pinkham has restored to health.

Mrs. Pinkham makes no statements she cannot prove. Her advice is free.

Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

The whole art of government consists in the art of being honest.

The average woman's maiden aim is to change her maiden name.

TOE-GUM Cures Corns 15c; all Druggists. (If it fails—it is free.)

STUDENTS WANTED for fall season. Special offer tools and position with each scholarship. Iowa Barber College, 819 Grand Ave., Des Moines, Iowa.

Baby's Bath Tub Finished in White Enamel recommended by Physicians and Trained Nurses. Send for circular. CRANE BROS. Linenoid Mfrs., Westfield, Mass.

If afflicted with sore eyes, use Thompson's Eye Water

W. N. U., Des Moines, No. 37.—1900

900 DROPS
CASTORIA
A Vegetable Preparation for Assimilating the Food and Regulating the Stomachs and Bowels of
INFANTS & CHILDREN
Promotes Digestion, Cheerfulness and Rest. Contains neither Opium, Morphine nor Mineral.
NOT NARCOTIC.
Recipe of Old Dr SAMUEL PITCHER
Pumpkin Seed -
Alx. Senna +
Rochelle Salts -
Anise Seed +
Peppermint -
Bi Carbonate Soda +
Worm Seed -
Clarified Sugar
Wintergreen Flavor.
A perfect Remedy for Constipation, Sour Stomach, Diarrhoea, Worms, Convulsions, Feverishness and LOSS OF SLEEP.
Fac Simile Signature of
Chas. H. Fletcher.
NEW YORK.
At 6 months old
35 DOSES - 35 CENTS
EXACT COPY OF WRAPPER.

CASTORIA
For Infants and Children.
The Kind You Have Always Bought
Bears the Signature of Chas. H. Fletcher.
In Use For Over Thirty Years
CASTORIA
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.

The Mother of Disease
IS THE STOMACH

More diseases originate in the stomach than anywhere else. Cure the ailments of the stomach and nearly all of the others will vanish. It is the source of health as well as disease. Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Bowel Troubles, Headache, Kidney and Liver Complaints, all spring more or less directly from the stomach. The grandest Stomach Remedy in the world is

Taber's Pepsin Compound

It cleans out the fermenting matter from the stomach and bowels, sweetens the breath, keeps the bowels moving freely and naturally, stimulates the Liver and Kidneys to healthy action, tones up the whole system and brings renewed energy and eagerness for work. We know it will help you. Here is our guaranty with every bottle:

If, after using half of the contents of this bottle of Taber's Pepsin Compound, you can truthfully say you have derived no benefit from it, and will sign your name and address below, the druggist from whom you purchased it will refund your money in full.

Taber's Pepsin Compound is for sale by druggists at 50c. and $1.00 per bottle, or will be sent on receipt of price. If you wish to try it before buying, send postal card for free sample bottle to DR. TABER MANUFACTURING COMPANY, Peoria, Illinois.

Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern
RAILROAD EXCURSIONS.

Home Seekers Excursion Tickets will be ot sale the first and third Tuesdays of each month at all staeions of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway Company to various parts of the country at a low rate. Call on any agent of the Cedar Rapids Route or address, Jno. G. Farmer' A G P & T A., B C R & N Ry., Cedar Rapids, Iowa. dec18.

GAING TO PARIS.

Then let us give you valuable information segarding your trip. We can render you good service and ticket you right through from all stations on our line via New York and any of the steamship lines. Call on agents of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway, or address Jno. G. Farmer, Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

During last May an infant child of our neighbor was suffering from cholera infantum. The doctors had given up all hopes of recovery. I took a bottle of Chamborlain's Colic, Cholera and diarrhoea remedy to the house, telling them I felt sure it would do good if used according to directions. In two days time the child had fully recovered and is now vigerous and healthy. I have recommended this remedy frequently and have never known it to fail. Mrs. Curtis Baker, Bookwalter, Ohio. Sold by Harr.

Special Summer Excursion Rates to Denver, Colorado Springs, Pueblo, Glenwood Springs, Colo.; Salt Lake City and Ogden, Utah; Sheriden Wyo. Hot Springs, Custer, Deadwood, Spearfish, So. Dak. via the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Nothern Railway. Dates of Sale July 3, 9 and 17; August 1, 7 and 21; for tickets good to return not later than Oct. 31, 1900.

For rates, routes, etc. call on any agent of the "Cedar Rapids Route."

Reduced Rates to the Hot Springs of Arkansas.

Via Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Reduced round trip rates are now in effect to the nation's great resort, the Hot Springs of Arkansas, owned, controlled by the United States Government for the cure of a score of human ills. Beautiful winter, 200 hotels and boarding houses of all grades. Ask nearest ticket agent for particulars, or Mr. John G. Farmer, A. G. P. A., Cedar Rapids, Ia. For illustrated books of information address Bureau of Information, Hot Springs, Arkansas.

ONE FARE PLUS $2.

For the Farmers' National Congress at Colorado Springs, Colorado. August 21-31 the B., C. R & N. Ry. will sell a round trip ticket to Colorado Spring, Denver at ONE FARE plus $2. Call on any agents of the Cedar Rapids Route for fall particulars.

WHITE MAT TURNED YELLOW.

Great consternation was felt by the friends of M, A. Hogartp of Lexingtoa Ky.. when they saw he was turning yellow. His skin slowly changed color, also his eyes, and he suffered terribly, His malady was Yelloy Jaundice, He was treated by the best doctors but without benefit. Then he was advised to try Electric Bitters, the wonderful Stomach and Liver remedy and he writes: "After taking two bottles I was wholly cured." A trial proves its matchless merit for all stomach, liver and kidney troubles. Only 50c. Sold by Harr.

NEW CHAIR CAR SERVICE.

Between Watertown, Ellsworth and Chicago via. B. C. R. & N. Ry. Commencing Sunday Nov. 19th, a free reclining chair car will be placed on trains Nos. 608 and 605 between Watertown and Chicago by the Burlington Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry. This car leaves Watertown daily, except Sunday at 11:15 a. m. arriving at Chicago 7:59 the following morning. This car runs to and from Sioux Falls Sundays, thus giving daily chair car service between Ellsworth and Chicago. Passengers going east from Chicago will have ample time to make any transfers to connect with all morning eastern trains.

These trains are very fast, and, with this new additional service, passengers can feel assured of first class accommodations. JNO. G. FARMER, Cedar Rapids, Ia

IT HELPED WIN BATTLES.

Twenty-nine officers and men wrote from the front to say that forscratches, bruises, cuts, wounds sore feet and Stiff joints, Bucklen's Arnica Salve is the best in the world. Same for Burns Skin Eruption and Piles. 25 cts a box Cure guaranteed. Sold oy J. L. Harr, druggist.

A MINISTER'S GODO WORK,

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured, says Rev. A. Power, of Emporia, Kan. "My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for some days and gave him no relief, them called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I said his bowels were in a terrible fix, tnat they had been running off so long that it was almost bloody flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said, 'no.' I went home and brought him my bottle and give him one dose; told him to take another dose in fifteen or twenty minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured." For sale by Harr.

HALF RATE TO CEDAR RAPIDS.

For the Democratic State Convention at Cedar Rapids Iowa. Aug. 16, the B. C. R. & N. Ry has authorized a rate of One Fare For The Round Trip. Call on agents for dates of sale, limit, etc.

New Lines of the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern Ry.

The prosperity of the tows on the Burlington, Cedar Rapids & Northern railway is every where evident. The railway company regards the well being of the towns on its lines as inseperable from the well being of the Co., and considers it a pleasant and profitable duty to aid them in any proper manner. The company, as it were, becomes an interested citizen in every one of its cities and towns. The patrons all speak of the management in the highest terms. There is no cold barrier of "dignity" between its patrons and any officer of the company. This mutual sympathy and assistance accounts for much of the prosperity of its cities and towns.

The company is fully abreast with the expansion of the age, as its extension will show. The line from Worthington, Nobles county, Minnesota, has just been completed, making four bright young centers of business—Reading, Wilmont, Lismore and Kenneth. All in as rich a country as is found in the corn-belt of the northwest.

The line from Germania in a northeasterly direction throug Kossouth and Winnebago counties, Iowa, Faribault, Freeqorn, Steele and Rice Counties Minnesota, is now under vigerous construction. The laying of steel commenced July 20th, and is intended to reach Faribault this fall. Freeborn and Steele are the richest dairy counties in the United states. Indeed the whole line runs through a remarkable rich country. New towns are being located and platted. Rake, in Winnebago county, Iowa, is now on the market. Walters, in Faribault County, Minnesota will soon be open for business. These two towns are well within the dairy districts and have a bright future These towns need men of every calling. Reach out from the overcrowdod old towns and become a pioneer in a new, growing business center, where your experience and ability will receive a commensurate reward. Carve out an estate for yourself where the raw Materials are at hand. Address Thos. H. Brown, Sioux Falls, South Dakota, Gen'l Townsite Agent New Lines B. C. R. & N Ry.

Through the months of June and July our baby was teething and took a running off of the bowels and sickness of the stomach," says O. P. M. Holliday of Deming, Ind. "His bowels would move from five to eight times a day I had a bottle of Chamberlin's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remady in the house and gave him four drops in a teaspoonful of water and he got beter at once." Sold by Harr.

SPECIAL SUMMER EXCURSION rates to Denver Colorado Springs, pueblo, Glenwood Springs, colo.; Salt Lake city and ogden, Utah: Sheridan, wyo.: Hot Springs, custer, Deadwood, Spear fish, so. Dak., via the Burlington, cedar Rapids & Northern Railway. Dates of sale: August 21, September 4-18, for tickets good to return not later than October 31, 1900. Fore rates rou routes, ete call on any agent of the "cedar Rapids Route."

That Throbbing Headache
Would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved thair matchless merit for Sick and Nervous Headaches They made pure blood and build up your health Onley 25 cents' Money back if not cured. Sold by J. L. Harr Druggist.

PREVENTED A TRAGEDY.

Timely information give Mrs. George Long, of new Straitsvill, Ohio, saued two lives. A frightful cough had long kept her awake every night. She had tried many remedies and doctors but steadily grew worse until urged to try Dr. King's New Discovery one bottle wholly cured her and she writes, this marvelous medicine also cured Mr. Long of a severe attack of Penumonia Such cures are positive proof of its power to cure all throat, chest and lungs troubles, ONLY 50c and $1.00. Guaranteed. Trial bottle free at Harr drug store

STORY OF A SLAVE.

To be bond hand and foot for years by the chains of disease is the worst from of slavery George D. williams of manchester, Mich., says; "My wife has been so helpless for five years that she could not turn over in bed alone After using two bottles of Electric Bitters she is wonderfully improved and able to do her own work." This supreme remedy for female diseases qtickly cures nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, headache, backache, fainting and dizzy spells. It is a godsend to weak sickly, run down people. Cure guaranteed. Only 50c. Sold by J. L. Harr, druggist.

TO CURE A COLD WHILE YOU SLEEP

Take "Weeks' Break-Up-A-Cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

TO BREAK UP A COLD IN ONE NIGHT

Or to quickly cure La Grippe take "Week-Break-a-cold Tablets." J. L. Harr will cheerfully refund the purchase price if it fails to cure. Price 25 cents.

LIVE STOCK VALUES.

How Prosperity Under McKinley Has Stimulated the Live Stock Market.

Washington, Sept. 10.—After lands and improvements the greatest item of wealth of the American farmer is his live stock, and the value of such farm stock is a perfect barometer of his financial condition. Practically the highest point ever reached was at the close of 1892, the last year of the Harrison administration, when the valuation was $2,483,506,681, the country being prosperous, labor fully employed and wages good. The lowest point reached in the past 20 years was at the close of 1896, when mills were closed, fires drawn, labor idle, capital in hiding and business confidence destroyed by four years of democratic administration. In four years the shrinkage of this form of farm wealth had amounted to 33 per cent., making $828,091,000 the price which the owners of live stock paid for the democratic experiment of 1892. In the three years of industrial activity which followed the election of McKinley the value of live stock has kept pace upward with the increased earning and spending capacity of American labor, and on January 1, 1900, it had advanced to $2,288,375,413, or a rise of $632,960,000, or 38 per cent., from the depths of the depression. The figures in detail, as shown in the official reports of the department of agriculture, are as follows:

VALUE OF LIVE STOCK.

	Jan. 1, 1897. Total.	Jan. 1, 1900. Total.
Horses	$452,649,396	$603,969,042
Mules	92,302,090	111,717,092
Cows	369,239,993	514,812,106
Cattle	507,929,421	689,485,260
Sheep	67,020,942	122,665,913
Hogs	166,272,770	245,725,000
	$1,655,414,612	$2,288,375,413

MEN AND WOMEN.

"Fritz" Heinze of Butte City, Mont., finds himself, at 31, in control of mining properties valued at from $30,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Senator Tillman said recently, "I have two colored men in charge of my plantation—men who think the world of me, and to whom I would trust everything I own."

Alfred Beit, who is the financial king of South Africa, and one of the richest men in the world, was quoted recently in London as saying that the end of the war was not yet even in sight.

Secretary Long is looking forward with pleasure to his summer vacation at his old home in Buckfield, Me. Last year he spent some of his time in manufacturing three rustic chairs. He cut the wood and fashioned the chairs himself.

BITS OF BY PLAY.

"Men's shirt collars? Yes, ma'am. What size, please?" (Nonplussed at first, but presently remembering her husband's age.) "Size 48 will be about right, I think."—Chicago Tribune.

STATE SAVINGS BANK.
Capital $25,000.

Transacts a General Banking Business, and respectfully solicits your patronage—Interest paid on Time Deposits—Foreign and Demestic Exchange Sold—Real Estate Loans Negotiated—Insurance Written—Taxes Paid.....

DIRECTORS: FRED ARNOLD, C. H. WIEGMANN, H. W. GRUETZMACHER, CHAS. GRUETZMACHER, F. A. ARNOLD.

FRED ARNOLD, PRES. C. H. WIEGMANN, V. P. F. A. ARNOLD, CASH.

CARY SAFE CO.
BUFFALO, N. Y., U. S. A.

..Manufacturers..

FIRE AND BURGLAR PROOF SAFES

VAULTS, LOCKS, ETC.

CONTRACTORS to UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT.

KOERNER BROS.....

Woven Wire Fencing, Poultry Netting, Barbed Wire, Nails, Staples, Hay Tools, Carpenter Tools, Bicycles, Bicycle Repairs, Paints, Oils, Brushes, Putty, Glass, Roofing, Spouting Etc. Etc.

KLEMME, IOWA.

BEFORE YOU BUY A NEW PIANO

Get our prices on any make you may want. We can sell you a strictly HIGH GRADE initrument for LESS MONEY than you can buy elsewhere.

GARNER, IOWA. W. C! AMSDEN, PIANO DEALER.

M. W. LYNCH, :: M. S. GILMAN
LYNCH & GILMAN,
STROUD, OKLAHOMA,
REAL ESTATE AND LOAN BROKERE.
WHY PAY RENT?
OWN YOUR OWN FARM!

It is the highth of folly for a man to pay exhorbitant rents when he can go to Oklahoma and buy a fine farm at [illegible] acre up. Well watered; near good markets; mild and [illegible] climate and crop failure unknown. Plenty of natural [illegible] and coal. We have for sale a well selected list of cho[illegible] ed and unimproved farms and would like to talk with [illegible] cursions 1st and 3rd Tuesday of each month. NOW [illegible] before the "SNAPS" are all taken. For rates terms, excursions etc., call on or address, M. S. GILMAN, Klemme, Iowa, or M. W. LYNCH, ST. LOUIS HOTEL, STROUD, OKLAHOMA.

H. W. SCHOPER,
FARM MACHINERY,

Buggies and Wagons, Corn Planters, Corn Plows, Champion Binders and Mowers.

TWINE.

The Klemme Times.

VOLUME VI. KLEMME, IOWA, THURSDAY, SEPT. 27 1900 NUMBER 9

Dollars for 50 Cts

$12,000!

GREAT CLOSING OUT SALE!

The Entire Stock Of

Dry Goods and Notions, Clothing, Cloaks, Underwear, Boots and Shoes, etc.

Bought of the Erwin Bros., now in the "Asplin Store" in Garner, Iowa, to be sold regardless of value.

NOW IS THE TIME

TO BUY YOUR

Winter Supplies At Half Price.

WHEELER LAND CO.,

Of Moorhead, Minnesota

STATEMENT.

Of the condition of State Savings Bank organized under the laws of Iowa, located at Klemme, in the county of Hancock at the close of business on the 5th day of Sept. A. D. 1900, made to the Auditor of State as required by law,

ASSETS.

Amount of bills, bonds and other evidences of debt discounted or purchased actually owned by the bank (carried out), . . . $		39 697 40
Amount of cash on hand, described as follows:
Gold coin.....$	115 00
Silver coin and bullion.....	395 75
Legal tender and national bank notes and subsidiary coin,.....	2 428 65
Drafts and checks on other solvent banks and other cash items not dishonored, on hand and belonging to the bank.	65 67	3 005 07
Amount subject to be drawn at sight on deposit with solvent banks or bankers (specifying names and locations of banks):
N. W. National Bank, Chicago.....	2 271 64
First National Bank, Garner Ia.....	15 670 25	17 941 89
Overdrafts.	None.
Revenue stamps on hand - -		44 41
Value of real property (owned by the bank)	1 200 00
Value of personal property (owned by the bank)	740 87	1 940 87
Total Assets		$ 62 629 64

LIABILITIES.

Amount of capital stock actually paid up in cash		25 000 00
Total amount due depositors as follows:
Amount sight deposits - - -	19 019 80
Amount time deposits - - -	14 566 75	33 586 55
Other profits on hand (after deducting taxes and expenses - - -	4 043 09	4 043 09
Total Liabilities,		62 629 64
Amount of all liabilities to the bank on part of its directors:
As borrowers - -	1 987 17
As endorsers - -	423 88	2 411 05

State of Iowa Hancock County, ss

We, Fred Arnold President, and F. A. Arnold Cashier, of the Bank above named, do solmnly swear that the foregoing statement is full, true and correct, to the best of our knowledge and belief, that the assets therein set forth are bona fide the property of said Bank in its corporate capacity; and that no part of the same has been loaned or advanced to said Bank for the purpose of being exhibited as a portion of its assets.

FRED ARNOLD, President.
F. A. ARNOLD. Cashier.

Sworn to before me and subscribed in my presence by Fred Arnold and F. A. Ardold, this 14th day of Sept., 1900, [SEAL] CHAS. W. KNOOP, Notary Public. Attested by:
H. W. Gruetzmacher,; Charles Gruetzmacher, Directors

Schools in Germany.

The college man, says, Prof. Hugo Munsterberg, who specializes in political economy or philosophy or chemistry from his freshman year, knows, in his special field, far more than any one of us know; but if we take a composite picture of all seniors the boy who leaves the gymnasium is not at a disadvantage in the comparisons of intellectual physiognomy, while he is, of course, far less mature, according to his much lower age. If any man in Dartmouth or Amherst takes his bachelor's degree with that knowledge in mathematics, history, geography, literature, Latin, Greek, French or physics which we had on leaving school he is sure to graduate with honors. Our going to the university can thus be compared merely with the entrance into the post-graduate courses. Our three highest gymnasium classes alone correspond to the college, and whoever compares the German university with the college instead of the graduate school is either misled by the age of the student or by the external forms of student life and instruction.—Atlantic Magazine.

Mrs. Gould's Courage.

Here is what a smart woman says: "Mr. Tip—I don't believe there is a woman in the land who does not rejoice at the verdict in Mrs. Howard Gould's favor in the case brought by the so-called modiste against her, and I do believe that every woman who has had any experience to speak of with New York dressmakers is thankful from the depths of her soul to Mrs. Gould for the stand she took in the matter. With her it was an affair of principle, not money, as every one knows. Most women, rather than be hauled up in court, would have paid the money and thrown the bodice in the fire, or done anything to get it out of sight. But not Mrs. Gould. She had the courage of her convictions. If more women were as brave it would be far better for them."—New York Press.

Conservatory for Liverpool.

The new Gladstone conservatory, erected by Mr. Henry Yates Thompson in Stanley park, Liverpool, at a cost of £8,000, from the design of Mr. Bailie Mackenzie of Edinburgh, has been formally opened. The conservatory is 120 feet long and 50 feet wide. Near the door is a bronze bust of Mr. Gladstone inscribed "William Ewart Gladstone, born in Rodney street, December 29, 1809. Buried in Westminster Abbey May 28, 1898. Four times First Minister of the Crown." Below is the following passage from a speech Mr. Gladstone delivered in St. George's hall on December 4, 1898: "I may myself have seen the wild roses blooming on the very ground which is now the center of the borough of Bootle."

Saved by a Poor Shirt.

George Kreis, 224 West 45th street, owes his life to the frailty of the material in a shirt he wore yesterday. He was adjusting some machinery in the railway pattern shop at 4023 Wentworth avenue, when the sleeve of the garment became entangled in the rapidly revolving shaft. He was whirled toward the ceiling, and spectators expected to see him crushed to pieces, but the sleeve gave way and he fell to the ground, receiving some bad cuts and bruises.—Chicago Record.

They Used Him.

"Spare me!" cried the captive, "and I will be your slave for life. I am a cook by trade, and can make any dish you desire." "Well," replied the cannibal king, "you do look as if you would make a good hash. I think we can use you." This reply, somewhat ambiguous, left the captive in doubt, but alas! not for long.—Philadelphia Press.

GEMS OF WISDOM.

Few men have virtue to withstand the highest bidder.—George Washington.

With the day the light, with the road the strength to tread.—Samuel Johnson.

You never saw a shadow in the dark. There must be light near by or there is no shadow. Get out of the shadow; move over into the light.—Moody.

That inexhaustible good nature, which is the most precious gift of heaven, spreading itself like oil over the troubled sea of thought, and keeping the mind smooth and equable in the roughest weather.—Washington Irving.

Cloaks
Capes
Jackets
and Furs.

They are now in. Call and see them. Our Millinery department is complete.

E. P. SCHAEFER.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO. FOR SCREEN DOORS

LUMBER.

LIME, STUCCO, AND CEMENT.

EVERYTHING IN BUILDING MATERIAL.

NORTHERN LUMBER CO.

L. G. SCHULTZ, Agent.

FOR

FINE PRINTING

COME TO

THE TIMES OFFICE.

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST. ....SCHOOL SUPPLIES.

WALL PAPER,

Paints, Oils, Alabastine, Window Shades and Everything used to Decorate and Beautify the Home.

WATCHES, CLOCKS and JEWELRY.

DRUGGISTS' SUNDRIES

J. L. HARR, DRUGGIST.

Klemme Times.

KLEMME PUBLISHING CO., Pubs.

KLEMME, - - - IOWA.

You cannot dream yourself into a character; you must hammer and forge yourself one.

Berlin had nearly a million visitors last year, while Vienna had only 387,000 and Hamburg 278,960.

Love is the wondrous angel of life that rolls away all the stones of sorrow and suffering from the pathway of duty.

It takes a lifetime of experience to teach us that we are our own best friend; that we are our own worst enemy we never learn.

Nothing simplifies life like obedience. We sometimes think we are beset by problems, that life is a very difficult and complicated affair. It is not really so. All life is simply doing or bearing the will of God. There is never more than one duty for one moment.

The pressure of trade competition during the last decade has prompted Great Britain to utilize an extraordinary method of impressing foreign traders with her superiority. The new scheme is to scatter broadcast over the commercial world British experts in matters of trade to lecture on British manufactures in every important commercial center of the globe.

A high official in Porto Rico says that eighteen months ago there were known to be three thousand cases of smallpox on the island; in the past eight months not a single death from the disease has been reported to the board of health. What has wrought the change? The answer may be read in the fact that the names of nearly eight hundred thousand persons are recorded on the vaccination list of the board.

According to reports of a French geological exploring expedition in western Algeria, that country possesses a petroleum bearing basin rich in oil, and resembling in its geological structure the petroleum beds of Galicia and Baku. Our consul at Marseilles, Mr. Skinner, reports that several companies have already made application to the French government for permission to drive wells in this newly discovered petroleum district.

Not long ago an Arizona rancher posted the following notice on a cottonwood tree, not far from his place of abode. "My wife Sarrah has left my ranch when I didn't Do a thing to her, and I want it distinkly understood that any Man as takes her in and Keers for her on my account will get himself Pumped so Full of Led that some tenderfoot will locate him for a mineral claim. A word to the wise is sufficient and orter work on fools."

The duel in Italy has been very deadly of late. It is estimated that during the past year 2,400 duels were fought in the kingdom, which yielded a crop of 480 deaths. The Chinese way of "getting even" is more civilized on the whole. The enraged inhabitant of the celestial empire is as likely as not to commit suicide on his enemy's doorstep, in order to do him as great an injury as possible. And a suicide under those circumstances in China really does throw the foe into a terrible flunk, owing to the supposed bad luck such an incident brings to the householder.

According to recent experiments by Stanilas Tetard, a widely known French agriculturist, wheat and other cereals can be protected against the ravages of crows, which are particularly fond of the grain when its sprouts are just pushing above the ground, by treating the seeds before they are sown with a mixture of coal-tar, petroleum and phenic acid. This treatment, which delays the growth of the seed for a day or two, but causes no damage, imparts an odor which is insufferable to the crows, but which disappears after the sprouts have attained a larger growth, when they are no longer subject to attack.

It is known that many deep sea animals are phosphorescent in a high degree, and Mr. C. C. Nutting, discussing this phenomenon in the American Naturalist, maintains that the quantity of light emitted by such animals is so great as to supply over definite areas the sea bottom a sufficient illumination to render visible the colors of the animals themselves. Some cephalopods are furnished with apparatus which reflects the light from their phosphorescent bodies upon the sea over which they float. This apparatus is spoken of as a bull's-eye lantern for use through the abyssal dark-

August Sehr was killed near Sibley by the explosion of the boiler of his steam thresher as he was running the machine on the highway.

It is now announced, as the most recent development in the army post situation at Des Moines, that five sites will be recommended to the representatives of the government to choose from. The choice will probably not be made before March, 1901.

The Atwaters mentioned in the press reports from China as being murdered were Oskaloosa people and well known there. The father, Ernest Atwater, was a son of the late President Atwater of Penn college. The news has just been confirmed in Oskaloosa by letters. The father, mother and two daughters were murdered near Foo Chow on August 15.

The bondsmen of A. I. Breckenridge have settled with the Perpetual Building and Loan association of Waterloo by the payment of $1,000 each, which is equivalent to the payment of $4,000. They were sued for $6,000. Breckenridge was the secretary of the association and is now serving a sentence in the penitentiary for embezzling the funds of the concern.

J. H. McCable and T. J. Murray, indicted for safe blowing and burglary, and who later entered pleas of guilty to the charges, were sentenced by Judge Caswell in the Marshall county district court to ten years each in the Fort Madison penitentiary. McCable and Murray, with two others, attempted to blow open the safe in the general store of Nelson & Whitehill in State Center.

Maid, wife, widow, and not yet 16, years old, was the story of the short but eventful life of Florence Tripp of Sioux City until a few days ago. Now she has added another interesting chapter by marrying the brother of her first husband. The little girl's two marriages have occurred within nine months' time. She was wedded to Gideon Tripp last spring; a few months later he died, but his widow soon fell in love with her brother-in-law and a few days ago she married him.

Letter Carrier Frank C. Robinson of Ottumwa was found hanging in the water closet of the Linseed Oil Mill at that place dead. He had taken the strap from the mail pouch, buckled it around his neck and taken a second one, passed it through the loop, buckled it over the rafter and jumped off the seat. His valuables were found on his person, including a gold watch and some small change. He was a man of the best of habits, and when seen a few hours before he did the deed seemed to be in his usual health and spirits.

The trustees of Iowa college have elected as successor to President George A. Gates, Dr. Frank K. Sanders, who is now professor of biblical literature in Yale university. Professor Sanders is a graduate of Ripon college of Ripon, Wis. He afterward received his doctor's degree at Yale. For the past fourteen years he has occupied the chair mentioned in that university. In extending the call the trustees have acted only after many months of careful investigation. While not absolutely assured of the fact the trustees are reasonably certain that Dr. Sanders will accept.

Advices from Ferguson, a small town of about 600 inhabitants, twelve miles south of Marshalltown on the Milwaukee state that a cyclone struck that place a little past 8 o'clock on the evening of the 25th, overturning barns, blowing cars off the tracks, and one death at least is known, and there are probably others. The little daughter of John Lovelady, landlord of the Ferguson hotel, was killed by the wind, and her father badly injured. The telegraph operator, James Miller, and the station agent, William Robinson, were also severely injured by the destruction of the depot. A number of freight cars standing on the sidetracks were blown over and demolished, and the damage seemed to be principally in the vicinity of the depot and the hotel.

A dispatch from Marshalltown says: To brood for seven years over the tragic death of a loved daughter and at last become incurably insane and forced to spend his last days in a mad house is the sad fate of Henry Weise, a German farmer, who for many years has resided near Reinbeck, in Tama county. Thus is written another chapter in the history of one of the most mysterious and brutal murders ever committed in Iowa. To be sure an arrest was made. A Mrs. Bennett, who resided about a mile from the scene of the murder, was suspected for certain reasons. During her first trial one of the jurors broke down and a new trial had to be had. This resulted in Mrs. Bennett's acquittal. Since then suspicion seems to have pointed its finger at no one and the crime has gone unpunished. The remains of poor Anna Wiese were laid to rest in the village cemetery and sorrowing friends erected a plain but enduring monument at the grave which bears the simple story of the tragedy. Some day, perhaps, the veil that has hidden the perpetrator of this crime for so many years may be lifted.

Ottumwa has accepted Andrew Carnegie's proposition of $50,000 for a free public library. The election on the issue gave a majority of almost 500 in favor of the measure, 252 of which were cast by male voters. The women were also permitted to vote and this increased the total majority to almost 500. The measure lost last June when the judge of the district court held that women were not entitled to vote. The vote in June gave a majority of 81 against the measure.

An altercation took place on the street in front of the Farmers and Merchants bank in Newton, between Dr. M. R. Hammer of that place and Oscar Wheatcraft of Buena Vista township, Jasper county. Hammer stabbed Wheatcraft several times, twice in the abdomen, which, it is feared, will prove fatal. Trouble has been existing between the parties for some time. As yet it cannot be learned as to which was the aggressor. Wheatcraft is spoken of as being a quiet, inoffensive person.

Joseph Arnheim of Kansas City, prominently known as a heavy dealer in horses and mules, was arrested at Random Lake, Wis., upon the charge of having defrauded Kansas City and Iowa horse commission firms of about $25,000. The losses in Kansas City will aggregate at least $10,000, it is said. Commission firms in Clarinda and Shenandoah are said to have been victimized. Arnheim had maintained offices at Red Oak for the past year. Arnheim's method, as stated by Mr. Wolcott, was to obtain standing with a firm with whom he had done large business in buying stock, and then make a draft for a shipment which never came to hand.

John Anderson, a prominent stock buyer of Atlantic, was instantly killed at a railway crossing a mile east of town. His body was terribly mangled and thrown a hundred feet. Walter Roberts, another buyer, who was in the carriage with him, miraculously escaped with some bad injuries, though no bones were broken. He was thrown to the side of the track with great force. The train stopped and brought the body of Anderson and Mr. Roberts into town. An inquest was held. The statement of Mr. Roberts was that the train did not whistle for the crossing. Three witnesses to the accident also gave the same testimony.

Colonel Harry V. Horton, who promoted the giving of horse shows at Davenport and Waterloo, in addition to other cities in Iowa, disappeared from South Bend, Ind., a few days ago, where he succeeded in victimizing numerous creditors. The same day the police authorities at Davenport and Waterloo furnished the Indiana officials with a detailed story of Horton's peculations in those cities, where his methods of operation were similar to those practiced in South Bend, which he left with a large sum of money in his possession. The men who were swindled will unite in offering a reward for Horton, alias Hatch, who is also wanted in the Iowa cities named.

The fall festival at the Iowa State college at Ames was a success. Excursion trains from all parts of the state came heavily loaded, and by noon over 8,000 people were in attendance, which equals the first festival held two years ago. The weather, though threatening for three days previous, was perfect and the entire program was carried through. A large tent was erected on the campus in which the following prominent men spoke to the crowds: Senator Harriman of Hampton, C. G. McCarthy of Des Moines and Judge Stevens of Boone. After the speaking the crowd was entertained by drills by the college battalion and a foot ball game between the 'varsity team and a picked eleven from the alumni.

An incendiary fire was discovered burning fiercely in the Ed Nugent building at Oskaloosa about 1 o'clock a few night ago. Hoseman Sam Jones of the fire department entered the building with chemical tanks and controlled the fire. He found that the fire had been started from a box of kindling, shavings and excelsior that had been saturated with oil. The flaming box was carried to the street where it continued to burn. As the fire company was leaving the building it was discovered fire was also burning in another part of the building and had been started in a large roll of paper. Mr. Nugent, owner of the buiing, was quite badly burned in getting the paper out of the corner where it was blazing. The building was occupied as a grocery store by J. S. Farr. He left the store about 10 o'clock that night and had gone to his father's home in the country. He returned to find the money drawer had been rifled and that money to the amount of $26.01 was missing.

Amateur bank robbers created great excitement in the village of Clare, fourteen miles northwest of Fort Dodge, by an attempt to rob the State bank of Clare. They secured entrance to the bank and sought to blow open the vault by punching out the rivets in the dial on the valut door. These crevices were filled with a powerful explosive and touched off. The result surprised the robbers as much as the people of Clare. The dial and a portion of the vault door were blown through the front window of the bank, across the seventy foot street and through a window of a hotel. The noise awakened every one in town and frightened the robbers, who made good their escape, but without a penny of the expected booty. The thieves overlooked a small safe outside that might have been easily entered and which contained $2,000 in gold. The vault and building were badly damaged. No clew.

AMERICA'S PLEDGE KEPT

Troops Ordered Sent from China to the Philippines.

Washington, Sept. 26.—The United States government yesterday took the first step towards the redemption of its pledge made to the Russian government August 28 last by cablegram instructions to General Chaffee to reduce the American forces in China to the proportions of a legation guard. Nearly a month ago the Russian government was told through M. de Wollant, its charge here, that if the Russian forces and ministry were withdrawn from Peking, "we shall give instructions to the commander of the American forces in China to withdraw our forces from Peking, after due conference with the other commanders as to the time and manner of withdrawal."

That time has now come, and yesterday's action marks the beginning of the disappearance of the American army from China, for although some military forces are to remain, it will not be of the character of an army, but, under the conditions laid down in the order to General Chaffee, and especially under its official designation as a "legation guard," will be rather of the nature of a civil guard. This small force will not be included in any military operations which may be conducted by the allied armies and so will not fall subject to the direction of Field Marshal Count von Waldersee, the commander-in-chief. It is believed that the 1,400 men selected will be quite sufficient to protect the American legation against any force that could be brought against it. It is estimated that about a week will be required to bring the 3,500 soldiers away from Peking, but as the start cannot be made immediately, it will be at least about the end of the first week in October before the movement can be completed.

AMERICA'S ANSWER MADE PUBLIC

Replies to Russia, Germany and China in Answer to Inquiries.

Washington, Sept. 24.—The state department has made public the text of the replies made by it to Germany, Russia and China in answer to inquiries from them as to the attitude of the United States toward various phases of the Chinese problem. The forecasts of the notes made in the press appear to have been accurate, for, although nowhere in the text is reference made to the withdrawal of United States troops from China, the official statement issued by the navy department in advance of publication of the notes bears out the prediction that the government finally has decided upon such a material reduction of its military force as will amount to withdrawal of the trmy as an offensive instrument. This statement from the navy department, moreover, is full of significance of a purpose on the part of the government to see to it that if there is any subsequence attempt at territorial aggression on the part of any of the powers who already have declared themselves as willing to abide by the expressed determination of the United States to refrain from seizing upon Chinese territory, then the United States is to lose no right or privilege which it now enjoys by such action.

The notes to the powers are brief. The Russian and Chinese answers, being in the form of diplomatic memoranda, are short to a degree rarely seen in diplomatic exchange. But in both cases being completely responsive and favorable to the inquiries, they will escape criticism on that score. The answer to the German note is carefully prepared so as to soften the unqualified refusal of the United States government to make the punishment of the Chinese ringleaders a condition precedent to negotations. Also it is noted that in the expression of a purpose to insist upon the ultimate and proper punishment of these offenders, the state department goes far beyond the German declaration on the subject. The announcement that the department intends immediately to begin, through Mr. Conger, conferences with Ching and Li Hung Chang, although distinctly marking the fact that these are only preliminary to final negotations, will have the effect to force the other powers to an immediate determination of their policies in this matter.

GEN. PALMER DEAD.

Aged Soldier and Statesman Dies Suddenly of Heart Trouble.

Springfield, Ill., Sept. 26.—Ex-United States Senator and ex-Governor John M. Palmer died at his residence in this city yesterday morning. Heart failure was the cause of death. General Palmer was honorary pall-bearer at General McClernand's funeral last Saturday, and was on the street viewing the illuminations at a late hour Monday night, apparently well. He was 83 years of age. General Palmer was the candidate of the gold democrats for president in 1896.

Three Regiments Ordered Out.

Harrisburg, Pa., Sept. 23.—Three regiments of infantry, a battery and a troop of cavalry were ordered out at midnight by Governor Stone to assist Sheriff Toole in maintaining order in the Schuylkill mining region. This action was taken after a conference between the governor, Adjutant General Stewart and General Gorbin, on the urgent solicitation of the sheriff and borough council of Shenandoah and many prominent residents of that locality. General Gorbin has been placed in command of the provisional brigade and started with his staff on a special train for Shenandoah.

TRICKED BY CHINESE.

They Desert the Pei Tang Forts Upon Which Allies Were Firing.

Taku, Sept. 24.—Four thousand Russians, three thousand German and 1,000 French troops with a detachment of Austrian marincrs began an attack upon Pei Tang forts at daylight. The attack was answered briskly, and bombarding continued until noon, but it was noticed that the forts did not reply after 10 o'clock. Allies sent forward at noon to discover the reason of cessation of firing from the forts found them deserted, there being only four dead Chinamen within the walls. The allies were much chagrined, as they believed they had the place completely surrounded, making escape impossible, yet over 3,000 men got away in broad daylight. Russian artillery fire had proved effective and the forts were badly damaged. The British and Italian commanders had decided to join in the attack but their troops had not arrived in time. The entire line between Tien Tsin and Taku shows re-inforcements were heading for the forts. Three members of the allied forces were killed and fifty were wounded through explosion of mines laid along their line of march

AGUINALDO NOT FOR PEACE.

Filipino Insurgent Leader Declines Buencamino's Proposals.

Manila, Sept. 25.—Senor Buencamino has received from Aguinaldo an answer regarding his peace proposals. Aguinaldo declines to consider them and declares that he is unwilling to agree to a compromise.

An insurgent proclamation, signed last month by Aguinaldo, directing that American prisoners be set at liberty, that good treatment be accorded to captives and that $40 per paid to each American surrendering, has reached Manila. Few prisoners were released under the proclamation. Two, who have just arrived from the Cailess district, report that the insurgents in that locality are in "better spirits" than they had displayed at any time before since April.

The insurgent demonstrations last week prove to have been more extended than was at first reported. From Cagayan and Isabella provinces and the northwestern districts of Luzon come accounts of insurgent operations and American precautionary measures. Merchants in the province of Albay are getting their hemp to Manila as rapidly as possible, fearing that otherwise it will be burned by the insurgents.

THE ANTHRACITE STRIKE.

Alleged Indications That the Miners Are Weakening.

Philadelphia, Sept. 24.—At the end of the first week of the strike in the anthractic coal fields of Pennylvania there are not wanting signs of a desire on the part of some of the strikers to return to their work. This sentiment is generally confined so far as reported to the English speaking element among the mine workers. Experience has shown that these men are the most conservative, the foreigners being impulsive and hot tempered in strike times. Notwithstanding the serious outbreak necessitating the sending of troops to Shenandoah everything is reported quite in the entire coal region. The persistence of corporations and individual mine owners in asserting that they will consider grievances of their employes individually but will never under any circumstances treat with the United Mine Workers has undoubtedly had its effect and it would not be surprising if many mines that have been closed up since the strike began, will resume operations at least partially, this week.

WILL ACCOUNT FOR 4,000.

Not Over That Many Identified Dead at Galveston.

Galveston, Tex., Sept. 26.—The Galveston News' list of dead from the storm of September 8 represents a total of 3,858 names. The indications are that not more than 4,000 people will be actually accounted for. The News has made a diligent effort to get as complete a list of the dead as far as possible. It is reasonable to assume that 800 or 1,000 people were lost whose names are not obtainable, which would make the total death list on Galveston island about 5,000. The News is of the opinion that the death list on the island is slightly below rather than above 5,000. This statement is made, notwithstanding the fact that there are close observers at Galveston who are still estimating the death list on the island as high as 7,000.

60,000 MEN WILL WORK.

Signing of Scale Between Iron Industries and Workmen.

Cincinnati, Sept. 25.—The conference committee of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers and of the manufacturers has signed the wage scale that will be effective until July, 1901. As soon as the scale was signed messages were sent in all directions ordering fires built at once. All mills will start as soon as possible. This decision means employment to over 60,000 workingmen, who have been idle since June, awaiting the adjustment of their wage scale. The wage conference committee of the Amalgamated Association of Iron and Steel Workers has had five different conferences with their manufacturers, at New York, Detroit, Indianapolis, Youngstown and this city. While neither side got what they wanted, both sides felt relieved when the scale was signed.

Martinez de Campos Dead.

Madrid, Sept. 25.—Marshal Arsenio Martinez de Campos, the greatest Spanish general of his time, died Sunday morning at Zarauz, near San Sebastian.

In the Desert...

A Story Illustrating the Horrors of War

By H. B. WELSH....

CHAPTER VII.—(Continued.)

"You have come?" he said, pantingly, his voice so weak she could hardly hear what he said. "It is good—brave—of you. If you knew all you would shrink from me——with loathing."

"No, no!" she said quickly. "None of us have a right to do that to another, Major Rayburn. If you have wronged me in any way, and are sorry for it, I forgive you freely, as I hope to be forgiven."

"God bless you for these words!" he said, weakly; "I have never known an hour's happiness since I vowed that, if you would not be mine, you should never be another man's. I am bad enough, God knows; but not so bad as that."

And then, weakly and pantingly, he told her all.

"I knew where the Khalifa was," he said. "I had a black boy who had deserted from his camp in my boy, and he told me. I felt confident Cleland would take that direction, and sooner or later fall into their clutches. And I believe he has done so. I believe he is still there, unless he is—dead."

He paused. Adrienne lifted her head to speak, but he went on rapidly:

"I have more to tell you. Wait! It is about myself. I wish to tell you that you may tell Doctor Margaret Crawford, who is in Cairo just now.

"I joined the army under a false name. My real name is, strangely enough, the same as that of the man I counted my enemy. It is Paul Story Clelland. We spell it with two 'l's.' We were not connected in any way with the other Clelands. It is a common enough name in Scotland.

"Dr. Margaret Crawford's father believed that he had done me a great wrong—he had altered a cheque of my father's which I went to cash. But I had committed a greater crime. I had forged my father's name to it! The shock killed my father. I left home, changed my name, joined the army, and worked my way upwards from the ranks.

"That is all. Will you tell Doctor Crawford? It is possible her father may have told her."

"I will tell her," whispered Adrienne. Her lips were as white as death. With a woman's intuition she had guessed the whole truth; the dying confession had been to her as a revelation.

"Will you also say once more—that you forgive me?" asked the dying man. His voice was almost gone now.

Adrienne bent her head for a moment; then suddenly she laid her hand on the fingers that were so restlessly toying with the white fringe of the coverlet.

"I forgive you," she said, slowly, and may God in His great mercy also grant you forgiveness. We all have need of that forgiveness, and of His great help."

A straange sound left the dying man's lips. It startled Adrienne, who beckoned to the nurse who had just entered the room. Ere the nurse had reached his bedside all was over. Paul Clelland, so long known as Philip Rayburn, had gone into the presence of the only Judge who dare temper justice with mercy.

CHAPTER IX.

"Yield, you Christian dog! Become a Moslem, or, by Allah, you die! Look out there and see the end of those who have refused to bow to Islam or yield to the power of the Khalifa!"

Paul Cleland staggered feebly to the door of the miserable hut, in whose black and filthy depths he had spent the last few days, and looked out on the scene pointed out to him by his grim gaoler. It was one that might make the boldest shudder.

It was Metemmeh—the corpse of a town. The mud houses were mere shells—broken beams, tattered curtains fluttering in the breeze, shattered roofs, through which the rain poured. Facing Cleland and his guardian stood a strange construction of wood—two upright posts with a crossbar between. Below lay some brown palm-fibre rope, and mixed with it a decaying mass of human bones.

For what Cleland was looking upon was a gallows.

He was weak—almost too weak to walk. For three months of starvation, torture, suspense—three months passed in dark and loathsome huts, black as the mouth of a pit, close and foul as the black hole of Calcutta, with hardly any water to drink, and only the loathsome food offered him—are sufficient to reduce any man to the lowest ebb. Sometimes Cleland almost prayed for death; then, again, the love of life, common to every human being, came back to him with full force, and he told himself that while there was life there was hope—hope of rescue or of escape.

How often in those days and nights of misery and physical suffering did the memory of Margaret's pale, sweet face come to comfort and to strengthen him!

He turned now to his gaoler—no other than Osman Azrak himself—after his first involuntary shudder and shook his head.

"I have already given you my answer, and that scores of times. I shall not renounce my faith to escape death!"

"Then, by the sword of the prophet, you have chosen your own fate!" exclaimed the fierce fanatic. He turned away from Cleland and uttered a peculiar call.

In answer to it half a dozen black-bearded, fierce-eyed dervishes sprang as it were from the earth itself—in reality, out of some of the trenches near at hand—and came to his side. Osman uttered his instructions in low, rapid tones, and two of the tallest and strongest, coming forward, laid each a hand under Cleland's arm, and led him forword towards that awful black thing facing him.

Then he knew that the end had come at last. Without preparation he was to be hurled out of life into the great Unknown beyond. In five minutes more he would be beyond all hope of rescue or escape—he would be in eternity.

Only those who have seen death thus suddenly near at hand know how dear life is to all. "The weariest and most loathed worldly life" becomes the most precious of all possessions, because to lose it is to lose all that we have ever been familiar with.

Thus Cleland felt for a moment; but it was only for a moment. The next he was ready to meet death like a man and a Christian.

One thought of Margaret—rare, pale Margaret, soon to be separated from him more completely than ever she had been by the "unplumbed, salt, estranging sea"—who might never even hear of his death; one passionate, mute farewell—"Good-by, my love, my one, first and last love. We shall meet some day, some day, Margaret"—and then his thoughts were turned to the solemn moment before him.

"My God, I commit myself into Thy hands. Thou wilt keep me, for I have trusted in Thee." The wordless prayer in his heart might so have been translated.

They were at the gallows now. One of the dervishes held Cleland, while the other skilfully threw a long strand of brown rope into a noose. It was finished; he was just about to throw it over Cleland's neck, when——

A wild shriek broke on the sultry air, the sound of galloping horses accompanied it; and Cleland, looking up, saw many-colored flags and banners floating on the air. At the same moment Osman's voice was heard calling something in Arabic. At the sound the dervish who held the rope dropped it, and turned from Cleland with a scowl.

The next moment Osman himself approached.

"It is the will of Allah you should be spared just now," he said, addressing Cleland. Then to the dervishes: "Take him back to the hut."

But Cleland, unable to stand any longer from sheer weakness, had dropped on the ground. They lifted him up and carried him to the hut, where he was chained to a huge stone. Presently he recovered himself a little, and was able to get up to his feet.

Then he was conscious of a great noise outside—braying of donkeys, stamping of horses' feet, the shrill cries of Arabs, the sound of camels' heavy tread. It lasted for about ten minutes, then suddenly ceased, and perfect silence succeeded it and

It reigned so long that Cleland felt vaguely uneasy. He moved at last slowly across the hut, and, by pushing away some of the brushwood, was able to look out.

The place was deserted! There was not a tent, a donkey, a camel, or an Arab to be seen. He was alone—alone and chained up like a dog, with little or no hope of being able to release himself.

Even if he could, what then? He knew he was at Metemmeh, in the heart of the desert, without food or drink. Even if he were free could he ever find his way to the British camp? He had no idea as to where they were; he had not even heard that they were again on the move.

Despair came to Cleland. It would have been better if they had killed him at once. Swift death was to be preferred to this fearful thought of dying inch by inch.

Still, he must do something rather than lie down in inaction and despair. He would try to file away his chain that bound him.

* * * * *

It was five days later when the Anglo-Egyptian troops marched through Metemmeh on their southward way.

"A town of the dead! But, good heavens! what is that, Reid?" exclaimed Colonel Beauchamp, as he rode by the side of one of his subalterns, pointing to the hut. "I could almost fancy there seems to me something like a man lying there on the sand!"

A moment later the command "Halt!" was given; the moving mass of camels and men came to a dead stop. The colonel and his subaltern dismounted and ran up to the hut.

True enough, there was a man in British attire, lying there on his face. They turned him over; the colonel uttered a startled exclamation!"

"Oh, God! it's Paul Cleland!"

He was to all appearances dead. They raised him up, poured brandy-and-water down his throat, and had at last the satisfaction of hearing him sigh faintly.

(To be continued.)

THE CAPTAIN SWORE

And He Wasn't the Only One Who Cussed.

